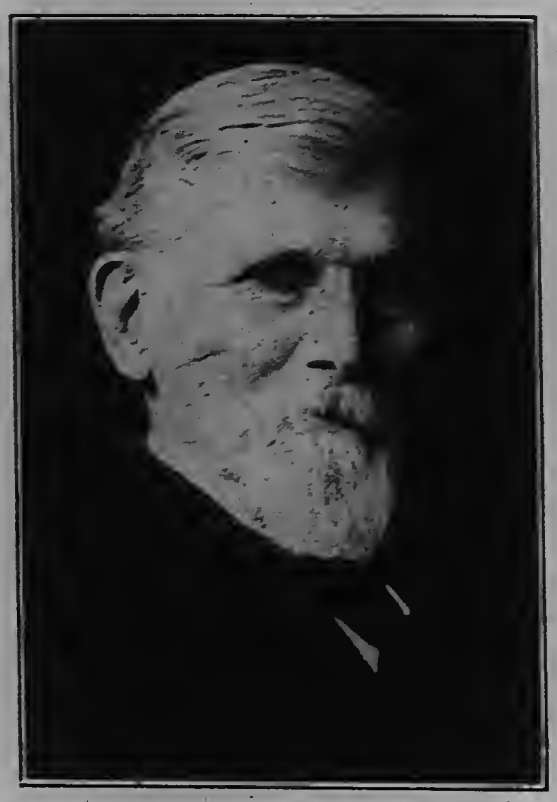
And what use are we going to make in the future of this colossal and unprecedented wealth of nearly $200,000,000,000? Will we use it for the high ends of blessing and blessing humanity in all the lands of earth? or will we spend it in ministering to our own selfish appetites and pleasures? This is a question of the most tremendous significance. It involves the fate of our free institutions and the very life of the American Republic. Some years ago when some alarmists were fearing about the Mongolian menace to our western territory, Bishop Candler strikingly said, The yellow peril is not in the over-crowded populations of the Orient, but in the hoarded gold piled up in our banks and treasury vaults. He was right. And what he said then is even more true to-day. Money, wrongly used, will corrupt and destroy a nation as well as an individual. Only a lofty task large enough to engage the vast energies and resources of this mighty republic can save its citizenship from the fatal consequences of opulence, ease, and self-indulgence—the disintegrating forces that undermined and wrecked the empires of the past. And where can such a task be found except in undertaking to Christianize the whole wide world?

HAS RESIGNED FROM THE VANDERBILT BOARD.

While in Jackson, Miss., last week attending the Millsaps Commencement, we were gratified to learn that Major Millsaps had some time ago tendered his resignation as a member of the Vanderbilt Board of Trust. He held the view that he had been placed upon that Board to serve the Church, and that since the Church no longer had any interest in Vanderbilt University it was his duty to terminate his connection with it. This action is in harmony with our brief editorial utterance in last week's issue of the Advocate concerning Dr. Mims' statement recently made in Atlanta, though it ante-dated considerably what we had to say on the subject.



Major R. W. Millsaps.

Major Millsaps is an A. B. graduate of old Asbury College (now Depauw University) and of the famous Harvard Law School. He has had a great career, and in intellectual reach and ability he is not surpassed by any layman in the Church. He has given to Millsaps College more than a half million dollars, was largely instrumental in securing the establishment of the Methodist Orphanage in Jackson (to which he was a generous donor), and had lately given something like $50,000 toward the construction of the beautiful Galloway Memorial Church in the Capital City of Mississippi. He and Bishop Galloway were devoted and lifelong friends and always sustained toward each other the most intimate and confidential relations. Ever since the Vanderbilt trustees, in June 1911, disclosed clearly their purpose to eject the Church from Vanderbilt University, Major Millsaps' splendid loyalty to Southern Methodism has been one of the most outstanding features of the great existing contest. But, in our opinion, in nothing that he has done has he shown more wisdom than in now resigning from the Vanderbilt Board and in refusing to allow the misrepresentations men who dominate that body to pervert his great influence and use it as a means of drawing students away from our own schools.

The complete detachment of the Church from Vanderbilt is now urgently and imperatively demanded in order to safeguard the interests and protect the honor of our denomination, and for this every loyal Southern Methodist should resolutely and aggressively stand. Appeals to sympathy and local interests should not be allowed to sway us in a matter of such vast importance. If such considerations are permitted to govern in one Conference, they will also be invoked in others, and as a result practically everything that the Vanderbilt men want in the way of securing trustees and the appointment of professors and students will be secured. We should love our Church more than we do any man or set of men, and be true and brave and firm in conserving its welfare.

Mr. J. R. Pepper, of Memphis, Tenn.

We have just been informed that Mr. Pepper some weeks ago notified Dr. Kirkland that he would not serve any longer as a trustee of Vanderbilt University. Of Mr. Pepper's standing and usefulness as a layman we do not need to write. His reputation is more than national and his influence for good is scarcely surpassed by that of any man in Southern Methodism, either clerical or lay. His action in this instance is in perfect keeping with his unbroken record of high-minded conscientiousness and unswerving loyalty to his Church.

PERSONAL AND OTHER NOTES.

A correspondent writes: "The work generally is prospering in the Alexandria (La.) District. Some revivals of great power have been held this year."

Mrs. L. P. Brown, of Meridian, Miss., and Mrs. H. C. Williamson, of Memphis, Tenn., are visiting their brother, Mr. J. B. Streater, and their sister, Mrs. F. Attneave, at Black Hawk, Miss.

Bishop J. C. Kilgo orders his Advocate to be sent to Charlotte, N. C., instead of Durham, N. C.

The former city will hereafter be the Bishop's home. Let his correspondents take note of this change of his address.

Rev. J. L. Nabors reports that the work is progressing favorably in the Potts Camp (Miss.) charge. He keeps busy and has the happy faculty of influencing others to lend him a helping hand in the Master's service.

Rev. J. G. Johnson, of Black Hawk, Miss., who some weeks ago was called to the bedside of his father in New Mexico, was expected to return home last Saturday. His father's condition is reported to be much improved.

Rev. J. M. Morse, our pastor at Brookhaven, Miss., began a revival meeting in his church at that place on Sunday, June 6. He is doing the preaching himself, and the music is in charge of Rev. S. E. Kirby, of Little Rock, Ark.

Rev. R. I. Collins, of Courtland, Miss., has our thanks for a club of 5 subscriptions, forwarded on June 5. He adds: "I am expecting a good year in this part of the Lord's vineyard." Every year is "a good year" with Brother Collins.

According to the press dispatches, Bishop James Atkins delighted the brethren of the Shreveport District with his presence and ministry at the late session of their District Conference, held at South Mansfield, La., last week.

In a note to the Editor Rev. H. W. May stated that a revival meeting was in progress at Opelousas, La., last week with a good prospect of success. He said that the pastor, Rev. G. A. Morgan, was being assisted by Rev. A. L. Harper.

On Tuesday morning, June 1, at the First Methodist Church of this city Mr. F. D. Gibbs and Miss Iris Rosa Newton, both of Monroe, La., were married, Dr. J. M. Henry, brother-in-law of the groom, officiating. After the ceremony the couple left for a short stay at Pass Christian, Miss.

The corner-stone of our new church in De Ridder, La., will be laid on June 29, by Rev. H. W. May, the presiding elder of the Alexandria District, and Dr. J. M. Henry, of Ruston. Rev. W. S. Henry, our energetic pastor at De Ridder, is to be congratulated on the progress that is being made in carrying forward this commendable enterprise.

We are grateful to the following friends, to whom acknowledgment has not been made elsewhere, for two or more subscriptions sent in within the past few days: Rev. J. H. Smith, Carrollton, Miss., 4; Rev. M. B. Sharbrough, Columbia, Miss., 5; Dr. H. G. Henderson, Sardis, Miss., 2; Rev. W. E. Harrison, Magee, Miss., 4; Rev. W. N. Dodds, Verona, Miss., 2.

Under date of June 12, Rev. S. A. Brown, of Okolona, Miss., writes as follows: "We will begin a revival meeting here to-morrow. Rev. W. G. Henry, pastor of the Galloway Memorial Church of Jackson, Miss., will be with us after Monday and do the preaching. The work is moving along smoothly here and I think that we are making some progress."

Col. J. M. Johnson, of Acona, Miss., who has been seriously ill for several weeks, continues to improve slowly. He is now able to sit up a part of the day, but is still feeble and suffers a good deal—possibly as a result of a terrible and well-nigh mortal wound that he received during the Civil War. He had as visitors last Thursday his brother, Dr. W. T. Johnson, and his brother-in-law, Mr. R. T. Jones, of Greenwood, Miss.

In a note to our office, Rev. J. I. Hoffpauir, presiding elder of the Lafayette (La.) District, says: "The work in this district has been going steadily forward ever since the Annual Conference. New churches have been built and gracious revivals, resulting in many conversions, have been held at a number of places. Our preachers are faithful and are actively endeavoring to promote all the interests of the Kingdom."

Rev. W. D. Bennett, of Waterford, Miss., in a business note to our office, reports encouragingly concerning his work. He has been considerably hindered by the illness of Sister Bennett who has been indisposed since the middle of February, but has missed only two appointments. He has seven Sunday schools in his charge. The people have been very kind and attentive. The indications point to a year of prosperity and progress.

Rev. R. S. Walton, of Bunkie, La., sends us 4 subscriptions to the Advocate, and in his business letter appends the following note: "We have just closed at Marksville, La., a successful series of revival services. Dr. C. K. Dickey, the pastor of our church at Somerset, Ky., assisted me. He is a man of God and impressed all who heard him with that fact. Ten persons were received into the Church and the congregation as a whole was spiritually revived."

We are requested to make the following announcement: "The Caseyville (Miss.) Camp Meeting will begin on July 16 and close on July 25. The preaching will be done under a large tabernacle. There will be lodging houses and restaurants on the ground. Ministers will be entertained free. The services will be in charge of Rev. George W. Ridout, of Taylor University. For further information write W. W. Godbold, president, R. F. D. No. 7, Wesson, Miss."

The two official visitors from the North Mississippi Conference, Rev. L. M. Lipscomb and Rev. W. M. Young, both attended the recent Commencement of Millsaps College. Among the other ministers from outside the city of Jackson who were present we noted the following: Rev. W. S. Shipman, Rev. V. C. Curtis, Rev. G. W. Bachman, Rev. D. W. Babb, Rev. T. H. Dorsey, Dr. E. H. Mounger, Dr. I. W. Cooper, Dr. W. H. La Prade, and Rev. N. B. Harmon.

Dr. H. G. Henderson, of Sardis, Miss., President of the North Mississippi Conference Epworth League Board, writes: "The recent League Conference at Grenada, Miss., was well attended and was full of the genuine Epworth League spirit and enthusiasm. The addresses of Dr. E. H. Rawlings and Rev. Marvin Culbreth were captivating. The next session will be held in Water Valley. The Secretary, Miss Mabel Fullmer, will furnish the Advocate with a fuller report."

We have on our table a copy of Messenger No. 3, the Bulletin of the Haynesville (La.) Circuit, of which Rev. W. W. Perry is the consecrated and wide-awake pastor. From it we glean the following: 56 members have been received into the Church this year. The Sunday school enrollment has been increased from 326 to 400. There are 68 New Orleans and 2 Nashville Advocates taken. Brother Perry is sparing no effort to carry forward all the interests of the Church in his field.

According to the Lincoln County Times (Brookhaven, Miss.) Dr. Stonewall Anderson's recent Commencement Sermon at Whitworth College "produced a profound impression"; Rev. H. B. Watkins' discourse before the Y. W. C. A. at the evening hour of the same day was "eloquent, edifying, and spiritual," and Dr. E. H. Mounger's address before the Alumnae Association was "masterful." Evidently Dr. Cooper made no mistake in the selection of his Commencement speakers this year.

Rev. H. W. May, of Alexandria, La., writing under date of June 10, says: "I am pleased to inform you, and through the Advocate my friends, that my daughter, Annie Laurie, is fast recovering from a very critical double operation, which was performed in the Alexandria Sanitarium some days ago." We are very glad indeed to receive this encouraging message. Brother May expects to have a family reunion on June 20, his birthday. We trust that the occasion will in every respect be a happy one.

While in Jackson, Miss., last week, whither he came to preach the Commencement Sermon of Millsaps College, Bishop Mouzon was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Shands. Ex-Governor and Mrs. G. D. Shands, of New Orleans, were also guests in the home of their son, Dr. Shands, and we noted their presence in the chapel several times during the closing exercises of the College. Both Bishop Mouzon and Ex-Governor Shands were born and reared in South Carolina and are Wofford College men.

That noble veteran of the North Mississippi Conference, Rev. John Ritchey, in renewing his subscription, takes time to say a few commendatory things concerning the New Orleans Advocate. We know of no man whose good opinion we had rather have than that of Brother Ritchey, who as a preacher ranks with the best and whose long record has ever been above criticism. May the Heavenly Father continue to bless his labors; and may his path shine more and more unto the perfect day!

Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Lewis, of Carriere, Miss., will have the sympathy and prayers of their many friends in the sore bereavement which has come to them in the loss of their little daughter, Lou Ella. This sad occurrence took place on June 1. Dr. W. H. Huntley handed us the notice which appears elsewhere while we were in Jackson last week, but the forms for the last issue of the Advocate were closed earlier than usual in order that the Editor might be present at the Commencement exercises of Millsaps College, of which institution he is a trustee.

Bishop W. B. Murrah attended the recent Commencement exercises of Millsaps College, at Jackson, Miss. He is the President of the Board of Trustees of that institution. The Bishop was looking well and was given a hearty welcome by his host of friends in Jackson. His introduction of Bishop Mouzon, who preached the Baccalaureate sermon on Sunday and his remarks in representing the Board of Trustees on Commencement Day were up to his usual high standard. No man in the episcopal college has a clearer head or a truer heart than this distinguished Mississippian.

Rev. W. W. Drake, pastor of the Carrollton Avenue Church of this city, received on Sunday, June 13, a telegram calling him to the bedside of his mother, Mrs. A. G. Drake, who was stated to be critically ill at the home of her brother at Turin, Ga. Brother Drake left New Orleans that evening for Georgia, but before he could reach Turin his mother had died. We deeply sympathize with him and the other stricken relatives in their sore bereavement and pray that the Holy Spirit may graciously comfort and sustain them. We trust that some one will at an early date furnish the Advocate with a fitting memoir of the deceased.

From the Scott County Register of June 2, we take the following note: "Mr. J. C. Ellis, Jr., of Homewood, Miss., preached his second sermon at High Hill last Sunday, and it was enjoyed by all who attended. He is a splendid young man and we feel sure that there is a bright future in store for him. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Ida Marie Ellis, Miss Allie Boyles and Chester Boyles, another young preacher. They were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Crout." Young Brother Ellis is a son of Rev. J. C. Ellis, of Homewood, an esteemed and useful member of the Mississippi Conference, and is only eighteen years of age.

We quote the following from a recent issue of the Fayette (Miss.) Chronicle: "Rev. M. F. Adams, pastor of the Methodist Church here, left Monday morning for Lumberton, Miss., where he was to be married to Miss Era Jenkins, an accomplished and charming young woman of that city. The marriage was to be solemnized by his father, Rev. T. W. Adams, presiding elder of the Port Gibson District." It was the plan of the bride and groom to leave immediately after the performance of the wedding ceremony for Durham, N. C., to attend the Commencement exercises of Trinity College, which institution Mr. Adams attended. The Advocate extends to the happy couple congratulations and all good wishes.

While passing through Durant, Miss., en route home last Thursday evening, it was the Editor's pleasure to look in on the meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Durant District which was being held at that place. Miss Elle Willingham, the accomplished District Secretary, was presiding, and excellent addresses were delivered by Mrs. J. W. Conger of Vaiden and Mrs. T. W. Woodward of Starkville. It was also our great pleasure to meet our friend, Mrs. Vic T. Hoyle, the resourceful and statesmanlike Conference President, and many others whom we have long known and esteemed. Particularly did we enjoy our brief season of fellowship with Brothers Shipman and Broyles.

Major R. W. Millsaps, of Jackson, Miss., who recently was confined to his bed for about two weeks by a severe attack of illness is, we are glad to state, now able to be up and around. He went to Gulport, Miss., the latter part of last week to spend a few days at The Great Southern Hotel which is situated on the beach, where one can enjoy the invigorating sea breezes. Later in the season he expects to go to Battle Creek, Michigan. Major Millsaps celebrated his 82d birthday on Sunday, May 30. Referring to his unusual mental vigor and his progressive, forward-looking spirit, a few days since, Dr. Dunbar Rowland, the accomplished head of the Mississippi Historical Department, said to the Editor, "He is far and away the youngest old man that I know."

The following dispatch was sent from Bew Springs, Miss., to the Memphis Commercial Appeal on June 10: "Mr. M. G. Dubard, prominent as a planter and churchman, suffered a serious accident here yesterday about 9:30 o'clock. He was in the act of mounting his horse, when the animal became frightened and he was thrown to the ground, sustaining a painful fracture of one of his legs just below the hip. He was hurried to Memphis and placed in St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment. Mr. Dubard has long been prominent in church circles and his many friends throughout North Mississippi will be grieved to hear of his misfortunes." We sincerely regret to learn of this unfortunate occurrence, and we earnestly pray that this honored and useful layman may have a speedy and complete recovery.

A PARSONAGE HOME BEREAVED.

Dear Dr. Meek: Little Lou Ella, baby daughter of our Brother and Sister, J. M. Lewis, died at Carriere on Tuesday afternoon, June 1. Summer sickness extending over three weeks ended in death, despite all efforts of love and medical skill. Friends of these devoted parents will go into the fellowship of tender, prayerful sympathy on this announcement of their loss. Lou Ella was a lovely little girl, scarce two and a half years old. Sweet and smiling always, a bubbling fountain of happy innocence—only those who have met such sorrow may realize the measure of emptiness and grief bearing now upon that parsonage home. W. H. HUNTLEY.

Biloxi, Miss.

DR. H. B. BARTLETT
National Dental Parlors
Cor. Canal & Camp Sts.
ENTRANCE 108 CAMP
Phone Main 293
NEW ORLEANS
Vitalized Air for Painless Extraction
Crown and Bridge Specialist
The Largest and Best Equipped Dental Parlors South.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE
DIRECT TRAINS TO
New York
Cincinnati
Birmingham
PULLMAN SLEEPERS, DINING CARS.
— The Scenic Route —
TICKET OFFICE:
211 ST. CHARLES STREET.
Depot, Terminal Station, Canal St.
Phone, Main 2929.

—THE—
Louisiana & Arkansas
RAILWAY
L&A RAILWAY
Announces the sale by its Ticket Agents at—
Alexandria, Shreveport, Winnfield, Minden, Sibley, Cotton Valley, Trout, Jena, and Jonesville, Louisiana.
—OF—
INTERCHANGEABLE THOUSAND MILE BOOKS
Good on All Roads in Louisiana.
Save Money by buying one of these Books.
B. S. ATKINSON,
General Passenger Agent.

FRECKLES
Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With The Othine Prescription
This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.
Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.
Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

BOHNE & WILT, Booksellers and Stationers, 1328 Dryades St., New Orleans, La. Baseball Goods, Religious Articles, Fishing Tackle, Periodicals, School Books.

Obituaries.

Obituaries not over 200 words in length will be published free of charge. All over 200 words will be charged at the rate of 1 cent a word. Count the words and send the amount necessary with the obituary. That will save trouble all around. Otherwise the obituaries will be edited down to 200 words.

Mrs EMMA GOODE (nee Whiteside) was born on July 16, 1893, and died on May 21, 1915, at the age of 22 years 9 months and 6 days. She was converted when quite young and joined the M. E. Church, South, living a consistent member until her death. May the dear Lord bless the bereaved parents, husband, brothers and sisters and help them so to live that when death comes to them they shall go to be with her in that land, where there will be no more partings, nor sorrow, nor tears. We shall there see her shining face, clasp her loving hand and be with her forever and with Him "in whose presence is fullness of joy." She has fought a good fight and has gone home to wear the crown of righteousness prepared for her by our blessed Lord.

HER AUNT.

Our beloved grandfather, ALFRED F. JONES, born on March 2, 1833, was called by our Savior to receive his reward on Oct. 20, 1914. He was converted and joined the Methodist Church when quite a small child, and lived a noble, Christian life till the day of his death. He was married to Mary Jane Carter of Americus, Miss., who was also a noble Christian and a great help to him in his Christian life. He was a great worker among the young people. He spent the last days of his earthly pilgrimage praying for and exhorting them to flee from the wrath to come. The loss seems almost unbearable; but when we remember that our loss is his eternal gain we are encouraged to live the life of an humble Christian with the hope of meeting him in heaven. He leaves eight children, thirty-nine grandchildren and eight great-grand children, I shall not say to mourn him, for we have the assurance that we shall meet him by and by. A devoted granddaughter,

EDITH MIZELLE.

Mrs. LOUISA GARDNER BROWN was born in Simpson County, Miss., in 1849, and died in that county on April 30, 1915. When only a girl she professed faith in Christ and united with the Church, remaining a consistent member to her death. She was an old-fashioned mother. All of her children have homes and children of their own, but their interests were as dear to her heart as when they were infants. It was while attending a sick daughter that death claimed her. She loved the Church and its ministry. She was happy when the Church prospered and grieved when it languished. She was stanch in her stand for the right. Death came suddenly, but it was not unexpected, for others of her family had died, as she did, of heart failure. For the few minutes that she lived after she was stricken she was conscious and prayed to the last. The funeral service was conducted in God's out-of-doors, under the tall pines near the family cemetery. After the usual service, friends and neighbors bore her body to its last resting place beside her husband.

Her pastor,
W. E. HARRISON.

On the afternoon of May 10, 1915, Brother R. L. PARRISH died suddenly at his home in Marshall County, Miss. His death was quite a shock to his household and community. Brother Parrish was born in Marshall County in the year 1851, at the home where his life was destined to end sixty-four years later. In early manhood Brother Parrish moved to Sardis, Miss., where he lived for a number of years. There he made many friends, and in after years often spoke of the happy days spent there. While living in Sardis Brother Parrish became a member of the Old School Presbyterian Church. He was received into this Church by the Rev. Mr. Crozier in the year 1877. Here his membership remained until his death. He was a consistent member of the Church, and loved all things that led to godliness. His life was such as to command the confidence and respect of all who knew him. By his gentle life, we have the evidence that he has gone to rest. He has left a number of brothers and sisters to mourn their loss. May the Heavenly Father sustain them and lead them through the present period of gloom.

W. W. BRUNER.

MARY JANE HARRISON was born on March 4, 1849, and died on April 26, 1915. She was happily married to Mr. G. P. Tankersley on April 5, 1865. This union was blessed with four children, two sons and two daughters, all of whom are still living. She joined the M. E. Church, South, in 1873, remaining a true and faithful member. Her husband preceded her to the glory world on May 24, 1907, and after her husband's death her health slowly declined, but the tender ministrations of her children brightened the path which led to the inevitable end. Sister Tankersley was one of the sweetest Christian characters I have ever met. She could always find a bright side when everything looked dark to others. She will be mourned by all who knew her and the Church will miss her never-tiring hands. She was ever among the first to greet and minister to a new pastor. So conscious was she of approaching death that she prepared the minds of her loved ones for the final separation. May the faith of the bereaved be made strong in God in this dark hour of sorrow! We laid her body away in Paradise Cemetery to await the resurrection morn.

T. G. ADAIR, Pastor.

LAURA VIRGINIA LEWIS was born June 18, 1885, was converted at the age of nine years and united with the Methodist Church, South, at Greenleaf, Miss., the Church of her father and mother. She was the youngest child of W. B. and M. J. Lewis. On April 27, 1902, she was married to Thomas P. Langston. On May 19, 1915, the spirit of our friend took its flight to the heavenly home. Sister Langston leaves an aged mother, her husband and three children—three little girls—three brothers and two sisters, to mourn her going away. The family, the Church and the community feel keenly the loss of the loved one who was of so much real worth to each in the divinely appointed sphere of labor to which she was called. God makes no mistakes. The cycle of any human life is complete, be it long or short—if only the supreme purpose for which life is given be, under God, fulfilled. From early childhood our now glorified friend felt the call of the Spirit of God in her soul, her life; and in glad response she gave her best love and service to God, the Church and humanity. On the altar of love and service she sacrificed. The baptismal prayer for the infant life was answered; and "being steadfast in faith and joyful through hope," she passed the waves of life's troubled sea and entered into the haven of rest. The dying love-gift to Sister Randolph from her baby sister was the little motherless girls. So our Brother and Sister Randolph are in charge of the three sweet children to nurture and train for the kingdom of heaven. The funeral service was conducted by the writer, assisted by the pastor, in the presence of a large and tearful congregation at Greenleaf Church.

T. W. DYE.

RESOLUTIONS OF APPRECIATION.

Whereas, it has pleased the Supreme Head of our Church and the author and finisher of our faith to remove from us to a higher and more intimate circle our beloved and sweet spirited brother, Rev. Irvin Roberts, and,

Whereas, he served his Church and country for many years faithfully, earnestly and consistently, being capably and diligently pastoral, ready for the call of the Church at all times, and

Whereas, as a local preacher he was devout and humble; justice, kindness, and humility being his constant virtues, so that we have lost a beloved brother and officer of the Church; therefore, be it resolved,

1. That his Church and this Quarterly Conference feel keenly the loss of one whose life was the exemplification of Christianity and the embodiment of civic virtue—quiet and gentle, yet a rebuke to evil and an inspiration toward that Christlike life for which our Methodist Church stands.

2. That these resolutions be spread on our Quarterly Conference Record Book, that a copy be sent to the bereaved wife and children, with whom we mourn, and that a copy be sent to the New Orleans Christian Advocate for publication.

Signed: M. P. Davis, R. M. Spalding, J. Q. Rouse, Committee.
Vancleave, Miss., May 14, 1915.

Our Foreign Advertising is in Charge of Jacobs & Co., Clinton, S. C.,
SOLICITING OFFICES:
New York—118 E. 28th St.....E. L. Gould
Chicago—549 Advertising Bldg....W. B. Ptoenher
Detroit—Hotel Tuller.....C. L. Wyman
St. Louis—1500 Central Natl. Bank Bldg.....M. E. Gunman
Nashville—161 8th Ave. N.....J. M. Patton, Jr.
Atlanta—Wesley Memorial Bldg....J. B. Keough
Asheville, N. C.—121 S. Main St.....G. H. Lyons
Philadelphia—1421 Arch St.....A. Daniel
Richmond, Va.—Murphy Hotel....J. W. Lyons

MYERS
PRINTING & ADVERTISING CO.
A "buy" word for PRINTING and STATIONERY
MYERS PRINTING & ADVERTISING CO. NEW ORLEANS
Samples of Printing and Stationery sent on request
512 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS

That velvety quality in ice-cream comes from the action of the Automatic Twin Scrapers and Famous Wheel Dasher which are found only in the

LIGHTNING FREEZER
Saves Ice and Salt, Too
Your dealer can supply you with Lightning Freezers
Recipes for Frozen Desserts, by Mrs. Rorer, sent free
NORTH BROS. MFG. CO., Philadelphia

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
A toilet preparation of merit. Helps to eradicate dandruff.
For Restoring Color and Beauty to Gray or Faded Hair.
50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.
HINDERCORNS Removes Corns, Callouses, etc., stops all pain, ensures comfort to the feet, makes walking easy. 15c. by mail or at Druggists. Hiscox Chemical Works, Patchogue, N. Y.

WERLEIN PIANOS
For seventy-three years the choice of churches, schools and thousands of families throughout the South. Get your piano from Werlein's, too.
PHILIP WERLEIN, LIMITED,
New Orleans, La.

WHEN WRITING OUR ADVERSISERS PLEASE MENTION THIS PUBLICATION

From the Field.

Plain Dealing, La.

We have just closed a very successful meeting at this place, Rev. W. T. Woodward, pastor of our Church at Sicily Island, La., did most of the preaching. He is a strong and forceful speaker, his messages carrying conviction of truth and the awfulness of sin. His doctrinal sermons were irrefutable and conclusive. Our church was greatly strengthened both numerically and spiritually. Any one desiring good help will do well to secure the service of Brother Woodward. We are expecting the greatest year of our quadrennium at this appointment. The Lord has blessed us and made our hearts glad, and we are resolved to be both diligent and faithful. Our people have been kind and generous and we shall regret to leave then after this (our fourth) year. We have a splendid parsonage with satisfactory surroundings. I shall make an effort right away to increase the circulation of your most excellent paper. Fraternally yours,

T. J. EMBREE.

Glenn Allan, Miss.

Dear Dr. Meek: I thought perhaps some of my friends in the North Mississippi Conference would like to read a report from our work at Glen Allan; hence will ask permission to occupy a little space in your good paper for this report. We arrived at the parsonage on Dec. 19, 1914. The weather was bitter cold, but the good ladies of Glen Allan had nice warm fires and a good warm supper awaiting us. We found enough provisions in the pantry to last for several weeks and everything in fine trim around the parsonage. We found a very handsome parsonage here; it is practically new and is said to be as nice as any in the North Mississippi Conference. The location is ideal; it faces Lake Washington, and affords as beautiful a piece of scenery from the front as one could wish to see. We found a very fine people here, and they know how to make a young preacher feel at home in their midst. They are constantly showering the parsonage with good things. This is our first appointment and of course our beginning was somewhat slow and awkward; but we feel that God has wonderfully blessed our feeble efforts. We have had ten accessions to the Church and have organized one Sunday school. We now have a Sunday school at all three of our churches, and all are doing good work. We have observed Children's Day at all the churches, and realized $13.92 from these collections. We are doing some good work for the Orphanage, have been sending in our monthly contributions, and in addition to that our good ladies at Glen Allan have sent the Orphanage a very fine box of clothing, containing about 50 or 60 garments and some cloth not made up. I helped to pack this box, and it was certainly a very valuable box.

The spiritual state of the Church is good and growing. We have just closed a great revival at Glen Allan, an account of which has already been given through your paper. We have a good mid-week prayer meeting, and also a cottage prayer meeting for the young people. We have some very strong Christian characters among our young people. It would make your heart rejoice to hear them pray. It was certainly gratifying to the pastor to see how well one of our good Christian girls conducted the cottage prayer meeting last Friday night, and we have numbers of just such Christian characters among our girls. We also have some good workers among our young men. With the spiritual fires burning on our altars, we hope to have a greater ingathering of souls before the year closes.

A. T. McILWAIN, P. C.

Foxworth, Miss.

We are getting on well on the Buford charge. We have started our missionary rallies, holding the first one at Sandy Hook. Brother J. W. Hart, our charge lay leader planned the occasion and we had a profitable day, the good people of Angie, La., joining with us. We had fine essays written and read by five young girls and boys, which were spiritual and impressive. We are hoping to have more of our young people take part in like exercises. We are planning to hold mission rallies at every church on the charge, the next one to be held at Angie. Our congregations are large and attentive and the prayer meeting at Foxworth is well attended. The gentle breezes of thoughtfulness and kindness continue to blow toward the parsonage, bringing us many good things to eat, such as milk, butter, chickens, eggs, sweet potatoes, rice, sugar, fruit, flour and many other like things in token of the love of the people for their pastor and his family. May God's richest blessing abide and rest on these good and thoughtful people.—W. H. Lane, P. C.

ALEXANDRIA DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

The Alexandria District Conference will convene in Bunkie, La., July 6, at 8 o'clock p.m., and continue through the 9th. Rev. P. M. Brown will preach the opening sermon.

The following committees have been appointed:

License to Preach—G. E. Cameron, L. E. Crooks, R. S. Walker.

Admission on Trial — A. S. J. Neill, B. H. Sheppard, J. W. Booth.

Deacon's orders—F. N. Freeman, R. Randell, H. B. Perritt.

Elder's Orders—J. M. Alford, W. S. Henry, T. I. Beck.

Our college presidents and editor of the Advocate are invited to attend.

H. W. MAY,
Presiding Elder.

L&N Louisville & Nashville R. R.
THE DIRECT LINE NORTH AND EAST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED STEEL SLEEPERS
DINING CARS, OBSERVATION CARS, CHAIR CARS
Phone M. 4093. TICKET OFFICE 201 ST. CHARLES STREET

"EXPOSITION LINE"
SOUTHERN PACIFIC SUNSET ROUTE
ONE FARE FOR THE ROUND TRIP
$57.50 TO
California AND THE Expositions
TICKETS ON SALE DAILY
Limited to return within 90 days. Stopover all points enroute. Shortest and quickest route. Two through Steel Trains daily. Oil burning Locomotives. Electric Block Signals. Observation Cars.
Best Dining Car in America
For full information and illustrated catalogue, ask any Southern Pacific Agent or write
W. H. STAKELUM, Div. Pass. Agent, Lake Charles, La.
J. H. R. PARSONS, Gen. Pass. Agent, New Orleans, La.

THE TEXAS AND P PACIFIC RAILWAY
Make Your Vacation Count!
Two or Three Weeks at
MINERAL WELLS
would almost make a new man of you, and a jolly, pleasant three weeks they would be, too! Low Round Trip Rates Every Day.
CITY TICKET OFFICE, 207 St. Charles Street.

EDENBORN LINE
LOUISIANA RAILWAY & NAVIGATION CO.
THE SHORT LINE :: THE POPULAR ROUTE
BETWEEN
New Orleans :: Baton Rouge : : Alexandria : Shreveport
TICKETS ON SALE TO ALL POINTS NORTHWEST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS
Secure Reservations at City Ticket Office
709 GRAVIER STREET, ST. CHARLES HOTEL

Some time when you are tired drinking just ordinary Coffee and feel like drinking "A REAL GOOD CUP OF COFFEE," try a pound of
GUATEMALA BLEND
Just Phone Main 2196 and it will be delivered direct to your residence
GUATEMALA AMERICAN COFFEE CO.
617 CAMP STREET. PHONE MAIN 2196.

You Look Prematurely Old
Because of those ugly, grizzly gray hairs. Use "LA CREOLE" HAIR DRESSING. Price $1.00, retail.

Sunday School

NORTH MISSISSIPPI NOTES.

Rev. R. H. B. Gladney, Sardis, Miss.

Durant has more than one man that is doing excellent work. You can get ideas and plans that are worth something from Dr. R. C. Elmore.

Ruleville proposes to be the first school in the Winona district to come up to the Standard of Efficiency. Brother Parker, the snperintendent, is hard at it. His school is the biggest thing in the town.

Report the results of your attendance at Sunday school on Jnne 13, and then report again on Jnly 11. Report the resnlts of Decision Day. Report everything yon are doing that you have not done before.

Tupelo has challenged the State to beat her in Snnday school work. The city that surpasses Tnpelo in Intelligent, constant work for the building up of the kingdom will have to be up early and keep at it a long time.

One good place to practice the golden rule, is to send all money belonging to the Sunday School Board to Rev. V. C. Curtis, Lexington, Miss. It hnrts at least two people when money is withheld and mayhe two hundred.

The work at Drew is prospering. What has been done, is but the promise of the great things that will be accomplished in the future. Brother Park is organizing his Sunday school forces and is leading them to the highest and best.

Brother Gregory, the man in charge at Tyro, knows how to work a fellow as the following schedule will show: Tyro, Saturday night; three services at Mount Vernon Sunday morning; one at Luxahoma at half past three, and one at Fredonia at eight. The people in all these schools are eager to get hold of the best. Gregory has been at work in that field.

The Winona and Holly Springs districts mean to hold conferences for Bible Study and Sunday School Methods early in the summer. Some one man will have to get behind these conferences and push them. No telling the amount of good that can he accomplished by calling out our own superintendents and teachers and training them in the work.

THE MISSIONARY CONFERENCE AT SHANNON, MISS.

Dr. Meek: The Woman's Missionary Conference of the Aberdeen District which met at Shannon, Miss., June 3-4, was largely attended, and was spoken of as a fine occasion, much beyond the ordinary.

Mrs. J. H. Haughton, of Prairie, presided with grace and great satisfaction. At the first evening meeting the Conference President, Mrs. Vic Thompson Hoyle, delivered a captivating address of exceptional merit concerning the recent meeting of the Woman's Missionary Council at Little Rock, Ark. A local Missionary Drill was presented at this same hour by the Shannon children. A great congregation was present and special songs were rendered by the choir.

The entire delegation appeared to be in a fine mood for service and to enjoy the many good features of the rich program of the meetings.

Most cordial hospitality prevailed and all guests were furnished "auto" conveyance to and from the trains.

Rev. J. W. Bell, the presiding elder of the district, was present and gave valnable assistance with his prayers and wise counsel.

Rev. and Mrs. S. A. Brown, of Okolona, were also present, to the gratification of many of the Shannon people.

The address of Miss Golding, concerning the Methodist Orphanage at Jackson, Miss., was much enjoyed, and dnring her remarks (made by reqnest) concerning her call to the foreign missionary work, great tenderness prevailed, and the presence of Him who said, "Go teach, and lo, I am with you," was evident.

The Shannon people greatly enjoyed the coming and brief sojourn of the fine delegation, and attended the meetings in goodly numbers. The Church was well filled at every service.

"The Co-operative Home at Corinth" was represented hy Miss Daniel, who is the Deaconess Manager of that institution. Religious influences constantly prevail at that home and a fine work is being wrought to the honor of the Corinth people and the general management. Miss Daniel does other Christian work also, and has heen teaching a great Sunday school class at the South Side Mission Church. Pastor Felts of the First Methodist Church at Corinth is in full sympathy with this work and the Corinth people have aided with their money.

Mrs. Woodward, of Starkville, addressed the special meeting for children on Friday at 11 a. m. This gifted daughter of the late Rev. R. G. Porter, evinces at times in pnblic address, the high qualifications which her father possessed for speaking to children, and renders a great service in the woman's missionary work, and in dealing with the children of the Starkville Church.

The choir service at Shannon was highly complimented and some nice things were said of the work of the Woman's Missionary Society at that place.

A collection was taken for incidental purposes on Friday, and to make snre of good Apostolic and Methodist succession, a collection in pledges was also called for, amounting to $340, which was assumed in this way by the different societies, the largest sum heing given hy the delegation from Tupelo.

The All-day Meeting" for the first Friday in August was assigned to Amory, and Nettleton secured the next annual meeting.

The final Lord's Prayer Benediction Service was delightfully charming, a veritable baptism of the Divine presence being visited upon the entire company' as the delegation joined hands, after brief testimonials, and sang "Blessed Be The Tie That Binds."

Signed: Mrs. A. H. WILLIAMS,
Mrs. T. C. LAUDERDALE,
for Committee.

Religious Papers Look Into Pellagra Remedy.

J. B. Keough, a special investigator appointed by the Religious Press Advertising Syndicate to look into the merits of Baughn's Pellagra Treatment of Jasper, Ala., reports that there is no doubt this new treatment cures pellagra. He says he has satisfied himself that the company has cured hundreds of cases of pellagra and that in the few cases where the medicine has been taken too late to effect a cure, the money has been refunded.

This company has issued an important book on the treatment of pellagra in which they show that they can cure pellagra and also agree to refund every cent in case they do not cure the disease. If you have pellagra, why suffer longer when this real cure is at hand. Write for the booklet today. Address American Compounding Co., Box 587-X, Jasper, Ala.—Advertisement.

EAT HARRIS' JERSEY ICE CREAM

The CREAM OF QUALITY. Quick Auto Delivery

1300, 1302 DRYADES ST.

Phones Jackson 1080. 1081

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONF.

Columbus Dist.—Third Round.

Macon, June 20, 21.
Columhus, First Church, a. m., June 26, 27.
Columbus, Central Church, p. m., June 27, 28.
Macon Circult, at Salem, a. m., July 3, 4.
West Point, p. m., July 4, 5.
Artesla, at Sessums, July 10, 11.
Cedar Bluff, at Pearsons, July 17, 18.
Brooksville, at New Bethel, July 20.
Shuqualak, at Center Valley, July 24, 25.
Cochrane, at Panola, July 27.
Crawford, July 29.
Starkville, August 1, 2.
Longview, at Bevills Hill, August 7, 8.
Columhus Circuit, at Flint Hill, August 14, 15.
Mayhew, at Lehanon, August 21, 22.
Sturgis, at Pleasant Hill, August 24.
Mashulaville, at———, August 28, 29.

W. W. WOOLLARD, P. E.

Holly Springs Dist.—Third Round.

Grenada, June 6, 7.
Taylor, at Andrew's Chapel, June 12, 13.
Water Valley, N. Main, at Wyatt's Chapel, June 19.
Water Valley, First Church, June 20, 28.
Holly Springs, June 21.
Duck Hill, at Bethel, June 26.
Grenada Circuit, at Holcomh, June 27, 28.
Red Banks, at Mahon, July 3.
Oxford, July 4, 19.
Mt. Pleasant, at Marshall Institute, July 10. 11.
Waterford, at Soul's Chapel, July 16.
Ahheville, at Cambridge, July 17, 18.
Lamar, at Rice Chapel, July 23.
Ashland, at Union Hill, July 24, 25.
Potts Camp, at Cornersville, July 31, August 1.
Parls, at Shady Grove, August 14, 15.
Pine Valley, at Banner, August 15, 16.
Coffeeville, at Gray Rock, August 17.
Toccopola, at Liherty, August 21.
Randolph, at Hunter's Chapel, August 22, 23.
Byhalla, at Emory, August 28, 29.

R. A. TUCKER, P. E.

Corinth Dist.—Third Round.

Booneville Circult, at Blackland, June 12.
Booneville, June 13, 14.
Kossuth Circult, at Wesley Chapel, June 19, 20.
Corinth Circuit, at Gaines Chapel, June 26.
Corinth, First Church, June 27, 28.
Corinth, Southside, June 27-29.
Rienzi, at Clausell Hill, July 1.
luka Circuit, at Bethel, July 3.
luka, July 4, 5.
Marietta, at Ozark, July 9.
Wheelers, at Asbury, July 10, 11.
Sherman, at Liberty, July 17.
Guntown and Baldwyn, at Pleasant Valley, July 18, 19.
Mooresville, at Andrews Chapel, July 23.
Mantachle, at Center Star, Jnly 24, 25.
New Albany Circuit, at Union Hill, July 31, August 1.
New Albany, July 30, August 1.
Hickory Flat, at Palestine, August 6.
Myrtle, at Pleasant Hill, August 7.
Ripley and Blue Mountain, at Blue Mountain, August 8, 9.
Dumas, at Wyatts Chapel, August 10.
Chalybeate, at Ebenezer, August 14, 15.
Ripley Circuit, at Falkner, August 15, 16.
Belmont, at New Hope, August 20.
Tishomingo, at Paradise, August 21, 22.

J. H. MITCHELL, P. E.

Durant Dist.—Third Round.
(In part)

Sallis, at Schrock, June 19, 20.
Lexington Circuit, at Salem, June 26, 27.
Black Hawk, at Shutes School House, July 3, 4.
Lexington, p. m., July 7, 8.
To dedicate White Hall Church, 11 a. m., July 9.
Noxapater, at Pleasant Hill, July 10.
High Point, at Rural Hill, July 11.
McCool, at Chapel Hill, July 17, 18.
Matheston, at Double Springs, July 31, August 1.

W. S. SHIPMAN, P. E.

Aberdeen Dist.—Third Round.

Houston, June 14.
Okolona, June 20, 21.
Palestine, July 3, 4.
Pontotoc, July 5.
Shannon, at Troy, July 7.
Houlka, at Concord, July 8.
Nettleton, at Evergreen, July 10, 11.
Calhoun City, at Big Creek, July 16.
Vardaman, at Atlanta, July 17, 18.
Amory and Nettleton, at Nettleton, July 25, 26.
Aberdeen, August 1, 2.
Greenwood Springs, at Pleasant Grove, August 7, 8.
Smithville, at Paine Memorial, August 12.
Okolona Circuit, at Boone Chapel, August 14, 15.
Tremonte, at Mount Olive, August 21, 22.
Fulton, at New Salem, August 26.
Verona, at Plantersville, August 25-29.
Prairie, at Strong, September 4, 5.
Tupelo, September 6.
Montpelier, at Fosters Chapel, Septemher 11, 12.
Buena Vista, September 13.

JNO. W. BELL, P. E.

Greenville Dist.—Third Round.

Greenville, June 19, 20.
Leland and Hollandale, at Leland, June 20, 21.
Coahoma and Lyons, at Coahoma, June 26, 27.
Lula and Dubhs, at Duhhs, June 27, 28.
Rosedale and Hillhouse, at Rosedale, July 4, 5.
Glen Allan, at Leota, July 7.
Cleveland, July 10, 11.
Shaw and Merigold, at Shaw, July 11, 12.
Arcola, at Winterville, July 18, 19.
Benoit and Beulah, at Beulah, July 25, 26.
Clarksdale, August 1, 2.
Tunica and Robinsonville, at Hollywood, August 7, 8.
Jonestown and Belen, at Dundee, August 8, 9.
Boyle, at New Salem, August 14, 15.
Shelby, at Duncan, August 22, 23.
Gunnison, August 28, 29.
Friars Point, August 29, 30.

H. S. SPRAGINS, P. E.

Bethel College

FOR WOMEN

Chartered 1855.

OFFERS to a limited number of girls splendid advantages at a very moderate cost. Delightfully situated. Seven acres of wooded campus. Distinctly Christian and homelike in atmosphere. Opportunity to hear notable musical attractions. Autumn trip to Mammoth Cave. Easily accessible. Seventy miles north of Nashville. Preparatory and College work, leading to B. S. and A. B. degrees with Junior College Arts Diploma. Music, Art, Expression and Domestic Science. All kinds of Athletics.

For full information, catalogue, and beautiful view book, address

President W. S. Peterson,
Box E, Hopkinsville, Ky.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Brookhaven Dist.—Third Round.

Gallman, at Old Crystal Springs, July 3, 4.
Crystal Springs, July 4, 5.
Fernwood, at Knoxo, July 9.
Magnolia, July 11, 12.
Bogue Chitto and Norfield, at Bogue Chitto, July 18, 19.
Buford, at Sandy Hook, July 24, 25.
Monticello, at Oma, August 1, 2.
Summit and E. McComb, at Pizgah, August 14, 15.
McComb-Centenary, August 15, 16.
Adams, at Johnson Station, August 17.
Meadville, at McCalls, August 18.
Scotland, at New Hope, August 21, 22.
Bayou Pierre, at Tabernacle, August 26.
Pleasant Grove, at Tilton, August 28, 29.
Tylertown, at Tylertown, September 4, 5.
Topisaw, at Holmesville, September 8.
Barlow, at ———, September 11, 12.
Hazlehurst, September 17, 19.
Brookhaven, September 19, 20.
Wesson, at ———, September 22.
South McComb, at Muddy Springs, September 25, 26.

ROBT. SELBY, P. E.
Brookhaven, Miss.

Newton Dist.—Third Round.

Bay Springs, at Holders, June 19.
Bay Springs, at Bay Springs, June 20.
Philadelphia Ct., at Hesters, June 26, 27.
Decatur and Union, at Union, June 27, 28.
Suqualena, at Good Hope, June 29.
North Bend, at Henry's, July 3.
Philadelphia, July 4, 5.
Rose Hill, at Hopewell, Sat., July 10.
Garlandsville, at Spring Hill, Sunday, July 11.
Newton and Montrose, at Montrose, July 17, 18.
Shiloh, at Thomasville, Tues., July 20.
Johns, at Puckett, Wed., July 21.
Trenton, at Boykin, Thur., July 22.
Raleigh, at Raleigh, Frl., July 23.
Laurel, Fourteenth Ave., Sat., July 24.
Laurel, 2nd Ave., July 25.
Laurel, First Church, July 25, 26.
Homewood, at High Hill, Sat., July 31.
Forest and Morton, at Forest, August 1, 2.
McDonald, at Hope, August 7, 8.
Leake, at High Hill, Mon., August 9.
Carthage, at Freeny, August 10.
Walnut Grove, at Oak Grove, August 11.
Chunky, at Chunky, August 14, 15.
Lena, at Forkville, Wed., August 18.
Clarkesburg, at Pulaski, August 19.
Harperville, at Conehatta, August 21, 22.
Choctaw Indian Mission, at Jackson's, Tues., August 24.

C. F. EMERY, P. E.

Seashore Dist.—Third Round.

Bay St. Louis, July 3, 4.
Columbia, Monday, July 5.
Hub, at Paine's, Tuesday, July 6.
Twenty-ninth Street and Lyman, at Nugent, July 10, 11.
Saucier, at S., Friday, July 23.
Biloxi, July 24, 25.
Americus, Tuesday, July 27.
Coalville, at White Plains, July 31, August 1.
Mississippi City and Handsboro, Wednesday, August 4.
Wiggins and Bond, August 7, 8.
Mentorum, Monday, August 9.
Brooklyn, at Stillmore, August 14, 15.
Vancleave, at New Chapel, August 21, 22.
Carriere and Picayune, Wednesday, August 25.
Longbeach, August 28, 29.
Gulfport, First Church, Wednesday, September 1.
Wolf River, at Beulah, September 4, 5.

W. H. HUNTLEY, P. E.
Biloxi, Miss.

Port Gibson Dist.—Third Round.

Nebo, at Nebo, June 19, 20.
Woodville Ct., at Grange Hall, June 26, 27.
Woodville Station, June 27, 28.
Port Gibson, July 3, 4.
Oak Ridge, at Porter's C., July 10, 11.
Vicksburg, Crawford Street, July 11, 12.
Centreville, at Macedonia, July 18.
Gloster and Liberty, at W., July 21.
Vicksburg, Gibson Memorial, at Red Bone, July 24, 25.
Rocky Springs, at H. R., Thursday, July 29.
Utica, at Cayuga, July 31, August 1.
Hermanville, at Pisgah, Thursday, August 5.
Harriston, at Hamburg, August 7, 8.
Washington, at Washington, Friday, August 13.
Natchez, August 14, 15.
Angullla, at Sunflower C., August 21, 22.

Seashore Camp Grounds

BILOXI, MISSISSIPPI

No lovelier place for an outing than Seashore Campground. Excellent board at the Campground, or near, at $1 a day. Twenty-five miles of trolley along the beach. Excursion to Ship Island at little cost. The prettiest trolley ride in America. Salt baths, safe and delightful. Boats at reasonable rates. Bathing privileges free. The fishing is great. Come and see!

Divinity School, June 22 (8 o'clock p. m.) to July 1, noon

Lecturers: Rev. George L. Robinson, D.D., Professor, American School of Archeology at Jerusalem; Rev. Allen Hoben, Ph.D., Author of "The Minister and the Boy"; Rev. W. J. Young, D.D., Professor of Homiletics and Pastoral Theology at Emory University.

Conference Course: In addition to the lectures given daily the Conference Course will be taught by capable instructors. Certificates will be issued to all undergraduates who make a grade of not less than 60 per cent.

Expenses: Tuition, $2.50; board and lodging, $1 per day.

For further information apply to Rev. Rob't Selby, Brookhaven, Miss.

Camp Meeting begins July 14.

The preaching will be done by Rev. B. F. Fraser, D.D., of Oxford, Ga. Dr. Fraser is one of Georgia's greatest Pastor-Evangelists.

What better place for the family could be found than the Seashore Campground during the Camp Meeting. All Methodist ministers are entertained free during this meeting.

Assembly for Christian Workers, July 22 to August 2.

A SCHOOL FOR TRAINING AND FITTING FOR BETTER SERVICE IN THE SUNDAY SCHOOL, THE EPWORTH LEAGUE, THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

For further information apply to Rev. Elmer C. Gunn, Longbeach, Miss.

For Particulars—With regard to accommodations, address P. B. Bell, manager of the Seashore Campground, Biloxi, Miss., or S. H. Meyer, 116 St. Charles St., New Orleans.

Rolling Fork, at R. F., Tuesday, August 24.
Mayersville, at ———, Thursday, August 26.
Silver City, at ———, August 23, 29.
Roxie, at Knoxville, September 4, 5.

T. W. ADAMS, P. E.
Fayette, Miss., May 27, 1915.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONF.

Winona Dist.—Third Round.

Greenwood, June 13, 14.
Indianola, June 20, 21.
Winona, June 26, 27.
Indianola Mission, at Case's Mill, July 3, 4.
Winona Ct., at Morgan City, July 4, 5.
Moorhead Ct., at Baird, July 10.
Itta Bena, July 11.
Tutwiler Ct., at Mattson, July 17, 18.
Dublin Ct., at Cherry Hill, July 18, 19.
North Carrollton Ct., at Colle, July 23.
Isola Ct., at Colle, July 24.
Belzoni Ct., at Swiftown, July 25, 26.
Mars Hill Ct., at Hopewell, July 31.
Carrollton Ct., at Marvin, Aug. 6.
Drew Ct., at Sandy Bayou, Aug. 7, 8.
Ruleville Ct., at Ruleville, Aug. 8, 9.
Webb Ct., at Webb, Aug. 14, 15.
Minter City Ct., at M. C., Aug. 21, 22.
Schlater Ct., at Schlater, Aug. 22, 23.
Lambert Ct., at Lambert, Aug. 28, 29.

BEN P. JACO, P. E.

Sardis Dist.—Third Round.

Batesville, May 30, 31.
Como, June 6, 7.
Arkabutla, at Harmony, June 12, 13.
Senatobia, June 13, 14.
Eudora, at Horn Lake, June 19, 20.
Hernando, June 20, 21.
Crenshaw, at Sledge, June 25.
Longtown, at Cypress Corner, June 26, 27.
Coldwater, at Love, July 1.
Courtland, at Shiloh, July 2.
Charleston, at Oak Grove, July 3, 4.
Oakland, at Tillatobia, July 6.
Pleasant Hill, at Lewisburg, July 9.
Olive Branch, at Mineral Wells, July 10, 11.
Eureka, at ———, July 16.
Sardis Circuit, at Shiloh, July 17, 18.
Sardis, July 16-18.
Cockrum, at Independence, July 23.
Wall Hill, at Grub Hill, July 24, 25.
Tyro, at Emery, July 31, Aug. 1.

J. W. DORMAN, P. E.

Jackson Dist.—Third Round.

Mendenhall, at Holly Grove, July 3, 4.
Fannin, at Andrew's Chapel, July10.
Brandon and Pelahatchie, at Brandon, July 11, 12.
Harrisville, at Poplar Springs, July 17, 18.
Jackson, Galloway Memorial, July 25.
Jackson, Capitol Street, July 25, p.m.
Satartia, at Wesley Chapel, July 28.
Benton, at Bethany, July 29.
Vaughan, at Union, July 31, Aug. 1.
Canton, August 8.
Sharon, at ———, August 9.
Lake City, at Crymes Chapel, August 13.
Eden, at Pleasant Hill, August 14, 15.
Yazoo City, August 15, 16.
Flora, at Livingston, August 22, 23.
Edwards, August 25.
Madison, at ———, August 28, 29.
Jackson, Rankin Street, August 29, p. m.
Camden, at ———, September 4, 5.
Jackson, Millsaps Memorial, September 8.
Terry, at———, September 11, 12.
Florence, at———, September 15.
Bolton, at———, September 18, 19.

P. D. HARDIN, P. E.

Pulpit Bibles Largest assortment, finest Bibles at lowest cost. Write to us for full description and prices.
PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO., Inc., LOUISVILLE, KY.

HOOPING-COUGH OR CROUP
The Celebrated Effectual Remedy
Without Internal Medicine.
Roche's Herbal Embrocation
will also be found very efficacious in cases of
BRONCHITIS, LUMBAGO AND RHEUMATISM
W. Edwards & Son, London, England
All Druggists, or E. Fougera & Co., Inc., 90 Beekman Street, N. Y.

No. 666

This is a prescription prepared especially for MALARIA or CHILLS & FEVER. Five or six doses will break any case, and if taken then as a tonic the Fever will not return. It acts on the liver better than Calomel and does not gripe or sicken. 25c

Woman's Missionary Work

Editor, by ..... Mrs. R. F. Harrell, Centreville, Miss.

Conference Publicity Superintendents:

Louisiana ..... Mrs. A. C. McKinney, Benton, La.
Mississippi ..... Mrs. J. L. Neill, Laurel, Miss.
North Mississippi ..... Mrs. Walter Campbell, Winona, Miss.

All communications for this department should be sent to the Editor at the address given above.

THE COOPERATIVE HOME IN CORINTH IN LARGER QUARTERS.

Miss Mary Z. Daniel, head resident of the Cooperative Home in Corinth, writes that she moved into larger quarters on the first of May. Twenty-one young women are now enjoying all the privileges of home at a minimum boarding rate and inquiries that keep coming in indicate that the new place will soon be taxed to its capacity.

PANAMA-PACIFIC EXPOSITION THE PRESENT RELIGIOUS CENTER OF THE WORLD.

By Lowell Otus Reese.

With nearly all the world at war, it is encouraging to note that of the 125 great conventions and congresses meeting in and about San Francisco during the year under the auspices of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, a large proportion are religious in character, revolving about the central idea of peace on earth. The great $2,000,000 Exposition Memorial Auditorium, built for the express purpose of housing the world gatherings, is, of course, the scene of the greater number of these activities. For various reasons this is so, chief among them being the fact that the structure is located in the heart of the city, within easy distance of the Exposition and all the hotels, and the added fact that the Auditorium is capable of accommodating 21 conventions at the same time, leaving many rooms to spare. Of the 21 halls, the largest has a seating capacity of 10,000.

Prominent among the great gatherings are those dealing with the religious activities of the Norwegian people. It probably is not generally known that there are as many Norwegians in the United States as there are in the whole of Norway itself—about 2,500,000. This fact gives one an idea of the significance of a religious occasion which involves the highest ideals of this hardy and industrious people who have come to make America their home.

The International Lord's Day Congress is, of course, based upon the idea of keeping holy one day of seven; but a still broader significance attaches, in that it bears upon the necessity for mankind to observe one day of complete cessation from labor in order that body and mind may have a season during which they may turn from work and contemplate other things. This congress contemplates the necessity for legislation that will protect the people in their right to a Sabbath Day. President Wilson is honorary chairman of this organization.

Inspiring will be the surroundings where these potential gatherings meet. The wonderful courts of the Exposition, spacious and filled with blossoms and trembling to the music of the world's best musicians, while over them impend structures mighty in their beauty and eloquent of man's desire to forsake war and rise steadily to the plane of Brotherhood, the spirit of which is in every man and cries continually to be emancipated from the ever-present menace of the disease of nations called War. The Panama-Pacific Exposition will lend dignity and inspiration and courage to the meetings, for it is the culminating touch placed upon the crown of human endeavor. Every line of beauty and every splendid dome rising heavenward plead with man to realize the great fact that now is the time for man to lift his hand against strife and to assert at last the power of Christian civilization to establish permanent peace. For war and un-Christian thought is futile, wasting and unprofitable.

Human service, the keynote of the Exposition, is the great theme which, after the awful fever across the sea has abated, will dominate the world. And it is the prayer of the great minds of the earth that a new mankind will be born on the Sunset Side of America, the one land which still temples peace, the one land toward which the nations turn weary eyes and find hope still alive.

TWENTY MILES ON FOOT.

While the autumn leaves were falling in America and the parched, sandy earth was being refreshed around Wembo-Nlama by the first showers at the beginning of the rainy season, I made a little exploration of the neighborhood north of our mission. Starting at 2 o'clock in the morning with an evangelist, a boy attendant, and a guide, we passed through Wembo-Nlama village, took a path on the right hand side, observed a nearby site of a former village depopulated by tribal wars in the past, became soaked with the heavy dew on the grass overhanging the narrow path, soon came to a woody ravine through which a wide stream of dark-colored water slowly coursed its way through the tangled jungle growth, crossed the stream by scrambling, crawling, and doing the pole-vaulting stunt over what was once probably a stick bridge, left the tsetse flies to molest the next sojourner as we descended a hill beyond the ravine, said "munayo" to the few people standing around a few houses huddled among a clump of banana and plantain stalks, branched off on a small path to the right, came to some woodland cleared for rice fields, removed shoes and socks and waded a small stream of water, and at 9 o'clock arrived at the little village of Dinjangu.

Dinjangu at Home.

On drawing near the village we saw the old man Dinjangu seated by the side of the little cluster of houses which bear his name. He was gnawing the yellow skin coating of the oily palm nuts which abound in this region. Arising from the chunk of wood in the midst of the peeled palm nuts he came forward with the apparent reluctance of an American boy who does not desire to be disturbed while engaged in hulling black walnuts. After the usual greeting his diffidence was overcome when I asked how many moons he had lived in the place. With a broad smile he replied that the moons had been too many to count. Becoming more friendly, he hunted up three hen eggs and presented them to me in appreciation of my visit.

Another Visit to Shamba.

Within half an hour we reached Shamba. This being our second visit, the children, having heard of our approach, came out half a mile and greeted us with welcome smiles. While seated on the chief's round stool, carved from a block of solid wood, we talked to the group for half an hour, and then followed the path southeastward. Our pocket lunches, eaten without halting, put spring into our steps for the march of one hour and a half to the next village.

Kindly Received at Court in Okitana's Palace.

On nearing Okitana the drummers of this large village announced our arrival, and the chief, surrounded by his court dignitaries, gave us a friendly reception in his large conference house which is in process of construction. Seated in the chief's own chair, made on the pattern of our ordinary desk chair, the missionary was evidently a subject of great curiosity to the many women and girls of the chief's harem who crowded about the rear of the house, peeping in at the door and between the poles of the unfinished walls. On departing, the chief, attended by his royal court, accompanied me to the edge of his village to wish me a good journey.—J. C. Bush, in Epworth Era.

To Drive Out Malaria
And Build Up The System
Take the Old Standard GROVE'S TASTELESS chill TONIC. You know what you are taking, as the formula is printed on every label, showing it is Quinine and Iron in a tasteless form. The Quinine drives out malaria, the Iron builds up the system. 50c.

WHEN WRITING OUR ADVERTISERS PLEASE MENTION THIS PUBLICATION

Methodist Benevolent Association

A Mutual Benefit Brotherhood for Southern Methodists. Issues Whole Life, 20-Premium Life, Term to 60, and Disability Certificates. Benefits payable at death, old age, or disability. Over $152,000.00 paid to widows, orphans, and disabled. Over $80,000.00 reserve fund. Write for rates, blanks, etc. J. H. Shumaker, Secretary, 810 Broadway, Nashville, Tenn.

Drink
Coca-Cola
NOTHING is so suggestive of Coca-Cola's own pure deliciousness as the picture of a beautiful, sweet, wholesome, womanly woman.
Demand the genuine by full name—nicknames encourage substitution.
THE COCA-COLA CO. ATLANTA, GA.

TWO IMPORTANT RESOLUTIONS PASSED BY THE HATTIESBURG DISTRICT CONFERENCE HELD AT SUMRALL, MISS., JUNE 1 TO 3.

Resolution on Sunday School Work.

Whereas, The Inter-Denominational Sunday School Association within the bounds of our Conference is maintained at a cost of approximately $11,000 yearly, or $916 per month, of which sum something like 60 or 70 per cent is contributed by Methodist people, many of whom do so, we suspect, under the impression that this organization is related to the work of the Church; and

Whereas, Our Sunday School Board is perplexed and financially embarrassed with the problem of financing our own Sunday school work, not being able to collect the 5 per cent assessment fixed by the Conference, from many Sunday schools that contribute regularly to the support of the inter-denominational work; and

Whereas, The presiding elders in the beginning of the year issued an appeal to the pastors and people to loyally support our Sunday school work; therefore be it resolved:

1. That as a District Conference we call the attention of our people to the fact that the inter-denominational work has no official connection with the Sunday school work of our Church.

2. That it is the sense of the Hattiesburg District Conference, while disclaiming any opposition to the inter-denominational work, that we hereby call upon our Methodist people to loyally support with their means and faithfully prosecute with all their energy their own denominational Sunday school work.

3. That we are in perfect accord with the address of our presiding elders, and that we extend the influence of their appeal for denominational loyalty to our own great Sunday school work in our respective charges.

4. That, since the inter-denominational workers do not, nor are they permitted to develop missionary territory or organize Sunday schools in destitute places, where such work is most needed; and, since it is the policy of our Conference Sunday School Board to develop these waste places by organizing and equipping Sunday schools, that we urge our people to turn their money into the channels of their Church, thereby meeting an urgent need and giving the Gospel to those among us who have it not.

5. That the secretary of this conference be requested to send a copy of these resolutions to the New Orleans Christian Advocate for publication.

Resolutions on Seashore Divinity School.

Whereas, The Seashore Divinity School at Seashore Campground, Biloxi, Miss., June 22 to July 1, next, affords our pastors that fellowship, instruction and inspiration needed to keep the thought and enterprising spirit of the pulpit ahead of that of the pew; therefore be it resolved:

1. That it is the sense of the Hattiesburg District Conference that every pastor who can possibly do so should avail himself of the advantages and opportunities afforded by the Divinity School.

2. That, since the pastor's attendance on this school means enlarged ability and increased efficiency for service in his charge, it will be greatly to its advantage for the layman to see that he is given the vacation and supplied with the necessary funds for meeting the expense of the trip, and that we, the laymen of the district conference, will do what we can to see that this matter is promptly attended to.

Signed: H. V. Waits, W. O. Tatum, John A. McLeod, Guy L. Aiisup, G. I. Pylant, D. R. Campbell, A. F. Oats, W. W. Cochran, W. J. Eaton, A. J. Brown.

REV. R. A. TUCKER COMMENDED.

(The following resolution was unanimously adopted at the recent session of the Holly Springs District Conference.)

Whereas, In the good providence of God and the economy of our beloved Church, the Rev. R. A. Tucker has served four years as Presiding Elder of the Holly Springs District; and

Whereas, The district has shown unusual growth and prosperity in all respects during his administration; and

Whereas, Brother Tucker has proven himself to be a man sent of God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, wise in making plans and faithful in their execution, helpful in his counsels and brotherly in his associations; earnest in his study and efficient in his preaching of the Word; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we hereby express our very great and sincere appreciation of Brother Tucker, both as a man and as a Christian minister and that we pray that the blessings of our heavenly Father may be upon him and his work wherever he may go.

ONE LITTLE 50 CENT BOX

of Tetterine will often cure cases of Eczema, Tetter, etc., of 10 and 15 years standing. It is because this salve embodies correct scientific principles in the treatment of skin diseases that it relieves Tetter, Eczema, Ringworm, Itch, Childblains, etc. It is the absolute master of skin diseases as thousands will testify. 50c at druggist's or by mail from Shuptrine Co., Savannah, Ga.

CITY PREACHERS' DIRECTORY.

Rev. W. W. Holmes, presiding elder; residence, 1014 Cambronne St.; 'phone Walnut 93.

Rev. R. M. Brown, pastor Algiers Methodist Church; residence, 505 Pelican Ave.

Rev. A. J. Gearheard, pastor Louisiana Avenue Methodist Church; residence, 3413 Laurel St.; 'phone Uptown 2805.

Rev. W. E. Thomas, pastor Second Methodist Church; residence, 815 St. Charles St.; 'phone Main 735.

Rev. W. L. Doss, Jr., pastor Epworth Methodist Church; residence, 232 S. Pierce St.

Dr. S. Halsey Werlein, pastor First Methodist Church; residence, 5830 Prytania St.; 'phone Uptown 329.

Rev. R. H. Harper, pastor Parker Memorial Methodist Church; residence, 734 Nashville Ave.; 'phone Uptown 447.

Dr. F. R. Hill, pastor Felicity Methodist Church; residence, 1818 Chestnut St.; 'phone Jackson 1753.

Rev. F. R. Hill, Jr., pastor Rayne Memorial Methodist Church; residence, 1421 Constantinople St.; 'phone Uptown 954.

Rev. W. W. Drake, pastor Carrollton Avenue Methodist Church; residence, 1125 Fern St.; 'phone Walnut 1238.

Rev. Hugh W. Jamieson, pastor Mary Werlein and St. Paul Methodist Churches; residence, 7821 Zimple St.; 'phone Walnut 1071.

Rev. T. V. Peters, pastor McDonoughville Methodist Church; residence, McDonoughville, La.; 'phone Algiers 305.

Rev. J. L. Sutton, Supt. Boys' Orphanage; residence, 5220 St. Charles Ave.; 'phone Uptown 128.

Dr. J. T. Sawyer, residence, 5655 Hawthorne Ave.; 'phone Galvez 610.

Rev. R. A. Davis, residence, 924 Lowerline St.

Dr. R. A. Meek, Editor Christian Advocate; residence, 5914 Coliseum St.; office 'phone Main 4373.

The Memphis Conference Female Institute and College has introduced as a feature of each session educational trips. For next session these trips will be taken to the cities of Memphis and St. Louis.

The school is located in the residence section of the beautiful little city of Jackson, Tenn., with 20,000 population—very convenient to Street Cars, Depots, fine Churches, Government Building, Carnegie Library, etc. The drinking water is considered among the purest of specimens in the world, and there is a wonderful Chalybeate Well within ten minutes walk. Special attention given to health and morals; a safe home boarding school with literary, music and other advantages. Address H. G. Hawkins, Pres., Jackson, Tenn.

THE GENUINE AND IMPORTED
DR BLAUD'S IRON PILLS
For General Debility, Anemia, Chlorosis, and in the Convalescent Period. Genuine has "Blaud" stamped on each Pill. All Druggists.
E. FOUGERA & CO., Inc., 90 Beekman St., New York.
No increase in Price

WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC
not only the old reliable remedy
FOR MALARIA but a fine general strengthening tonic and appetizer. For children as well as adults. Sold for 50 years. 50c and $1 bottles at drug stores.

RUB-MY-TISM
Will cure your Rheumatism Neuralgia, Headaches, Cramps, Colic, Sprains, Bruises, Cuts and Burns, Old Sores, Stings of Insects Etc. Antiseptic Anodyne, used internally and externally. Price 25c.

MORPHINE, Whiskey and TOBACCO
HABITS Treated successfully without shock, without restraint and NO FEE UNLESS CURED. Home or Sanitarium Treatment. "Ask our patients."
CEDARCROFT SANITARIUM
DR. POWER GRIBBLE, Supt.,
Sta. 5, Box 110 Nashville, Tenn. Tel. Main 1826.

Heart Disease Almost Fatal to Young Girl

"My daughter, when thirteen years old, was stricken with heart trouble. She was so bad we had to place her bed near a window so she could get her breath. One doctor said, 'Poor child, she is likely to fall dead any time.' A friend told me Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy had cured her father, so I tried it, and she began to improve. She took a great many bottles, but she is spared to me today, a fat, rosy cheeked girl. No one can imagine the confidence I have in Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy." A. R. CANON, Worth, Mo.

The unbounded confidence Mr. Canon has in Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is shared by thousands of others who know its value from experience. Many heart disorders yield to treatment, if the treatment is right. If you are bothered with short breath, fainting spells, swelling of feet or ankles, pains about the heart and shoulder blades, palpitation, weak and hungry spells, you should begin using Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy at once. Profit by the experience of others while you may.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is sold and guaranteed by all druggists.
MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

Learn Shorthand

By Mail in 30 Days at my Expense

Send no money. Get my free lessons. I do not claim to fit you for a position in thirty days. Nobody can do that. But with my system, you can learn to write in Shorthand with very little effort. That first instruction is absolutely free. Then, if you wish to take further instruction, I will give you a positive guarantee to refund your money at the end of a specified time if you are not entirely satisfied. Could anything be fairer?

I have taught shorthand for many years. I have taught a dozen different systems. These include nearly all the new and so-called "simple" systems. But I went back to the original Pitman System—and improved on it. I now teach the Pratt-Pitmanic System, and I want to prove to you, at my expense, that it is the best. My great success is due to a new and original method of instruction by mail.

Positions at Good Salaries

Shorthand is a great advantage to everybody. For a young man or woman there is nothing equal to it. It will give you a start in life and an opportunity for rapid advancement. Many of my students have secured splendid positions. The demand for stenographers is increasing. You are practically certain to get a satisfactory salary if you take my course in shorthand. Become a court stenographer or fit yourself for other high class positions.

Free Typewriter Instruction

Every one of my students can have a course in typewriting absolutely free. If you do not own a typewriter, I will rent you one for six months for $10; or for $30 I will sell you a rebuilt visible machine that I cannot tell from a new $100 machine.

If you are ambitious and in earnest and really want to learn shorthand, send at once for FREE Lessons. A postal card will do. Simply say: "Send free lessons."

E. D. PRATT 1006 Pratt Bldg. CHICAGO

TRINITY COLLEGE
FOUNDED 1838 CHARTERED 1859

A Christian college steadfast in its fidelity to its highest ideals and noblest traditions. Among the few well endowed Southern institutions of learning. A large faculty of thoroughly trained and wisely chosen teachers. Excellent new buildings, beautiful and large campus. Modern laboratories and fine library.

Classical and scientific courses leading to the bachelor's degree. Graduate courses in all departments. Schools of Engineering, Education and Law.

Special attention given in the Biblical Department to the wise training of young ministers.

For catalogue and illustrated booklet address
R. L. FLOWERS,
Secretary to the Corporation, Durham, North Carolina.

To the PASTORS of the LOUISIANA CONFERENCE

Please send me at once names of the young ladies graduating from your Parish High Schools.

Mansfield College FACULTY for next year double that of four years ago, and will cost as much as whole income of institution at that time. It will consist of fourteen members: one for every thirteen students. Next year's Senior class has TWENTY-TWO members. Domestic Science work in charge of A.B. graduate of splendid Southern University; Music Department has already won an enviable reputation and the ART work this year has been a constant source of delight and admiration to all who have seen it. A special TRAINING and CRITIC Teacher will have charge of TEACHER-TRAINING work and a PHYSICAL DIRECTOR is to be employed.

In our judgment, this has been the best year of our history, in quality of work, in ability of faculty, in unity of purpose, in student honor, in College loyalty, in ease of discipline, in Bible Study and religious tone and spiritual insight and growth, in size of patronage, and in actual money.

Your College and mine. It asks no favors, not an object of charity, not a reformatory, sets a high standard, not stingy with its faculty, teaches the Bible, has discipline, wins its patronage on its merit, expects good pay for good service, and thus far has paid every dollar of its obligations.

R. E. BOBBITT, President.

NEW ORLEANS DISTRICT NOTES.

Rev. W. W. Holmes recently held the quarterly conference of Epworth Church, and the people there were much pleased with his presidency.

The baptism of a number of infants is an encouraging feature of the work at St. Mark's Hall. Last year 20 babies were baptized. The Sunday school average is 40, and there are 24 on the Cradle Roll.

To date 17 persons have been received into our Church in Donaldsonville. Proportionate to the membership of 62 in the entire charge, reported to the last Conference, that is indeed a very large increase. Rev. T. D. Lipscomb is the enterprising pastor.

Rev. W. W. Drake attended the recent Commencement of his Alma Mater, Centenary College. He had a part in the services during Commencement, and attended the meetings of the Board of Trustees, of which he is a member. On the Sunday he was away, Rev. W. L. Doss preached at Carrollton in the morning, and Rev. F. R. Hill, Jr., preached at night.

Although he is not on the effective list of the Conference, Dr. John T. Sawyer is very effective in the pulpit. He has done a great deal of preaching this year, not only for his Methodist brethren, but also for the Presbyterians and the Baptists. As a preacher of the gospel, his spiritual eye is not dim, "nor his natural force abated."

After being absent two weeks, Dr. Werlein has returned and was in his pulpit last Sunday. The first Sunday during his absence the pulpit of First Church was occupied at the morning hour by Dr. R. A. Meek, and at the evening hour by Rev. W. W. Holmes. The remaining Sunday, Dr. A. O. Browne, of the Y. M. C. A., preached at both services. While he was away, Dr. Werlein preached the Baccalaureate Sermon at Martha Washington College, Abington, Va., and afterward visited Asheville, N. C., where he preached on Sunday, June 6.

The recent quarterly conference of the Louisiana Avenue Church authorized the building of a parsonage as soon as half the amount necessary for the work is in hand. The pastor, Rev. A. J. Gearheard, has worked faithfully to that end, and he believes that the amount will soon be secured and that the pastor's home, long needed by the congregation, will be speedily built. The house will be built upon a portion of the property already owned by the Church and will face Louisiana Avenue. The paving of the Avenue, now going on, will add very much to the situation of the parsonage and the Church.

On May 29 a Cradle Roll Reception took place at Second Church. The chief feature was a Mother Goose Cantata, in which 12 little tots of the Primary grade took part. Afterward refreshments were served to the 75 or more mothers and children who were present and the occasion was thoroughly enjoyed. The Cradle Roll of Second Church numbers 60. Those who are familiar with her work say that Miss Josephine Darsam, the Cradle Roll Superintendent of Second Church, is undoubtedly one of the best superintendents in the whole Conference. She is ably assisted by Misses Irma and Pauline Boench. In the work which they are doing, these consecrated young people are reaching their loving hands into the future. The pastor of Second Church reports that the attendance in all departments of the Sunday school is better than usual at this time of the year.

IMAGINE THE MISERY

of a 7 years' case of persistent eczema and then the joy of its final disappearance. This is the experience of I. S. Giddens, Tampa, Fla.: "For 7 years I had eczema on my ankle. I tried many remedies and doctors. I decided to try Tetterine and after 8 weeks am entirely free from the terrible eczema." If you suffer with Eczema, Tetter, Itch, Ringworm, Salt Rheum, or Piles, you know what to do. Tetterine, 50c at druggist's or by mail from Shuptrine Co., Savannah, Ga.

GOD HELPS TRUE MEN.

If we would endeavor, like men of courage, to stand in the battle, surely we should feel the favorable assistance of God from heaven. For He who giveth us occasion to fight to the end that we may get the victory is ready to succor those that fight manfully and do trust in His grace.—Thomas a Kempis.

Safe and Home like MERIDIAN COLLEGE Careful Supervision

In the Health-Giving Pine Hills of Mississippi

A select Private College with Preparatory and College courses. Commercial Course. Modern Buildings and equipments; beautiful 60-acre campus and recreation grounds; fish ponds, swimming pools. Fine Athletics. An ideal home school for boy or girl, where they are looked after morally, mentally and physically with the best of Christian home influence and care. A large well-equipped Conservatory of Music, Oratory and Art. Also Domestic Science and Teacher's Training, and Summer Course. Write for illustrated catalog No. 908

J. W. BEESON, A. M., LL. D., - - MERIDIAN, MISS.

Randolph-Macon Woman's College

Lynchburg, Va. One of the leading colleges for women in the United States, offering courses for A. B. and A. M.; also Music and Art. Four laboratories, library, astronomical observatory, new and modern residence halls. Scientific course in physical development. New $20,000 gymnasium with swimming pool, large athletic field. Fifty acres in college grounds. Healthful climate free from extremes of temperature. Endowment, recently increased by $250,000, makes possible the low rate of $300 for full literary course. Officers and instructors, 58; students, 576, from 40 states and foreign countries. For catalogue and book of views illustrating student life address

WILLIAM A. WEBB, President, Box 23.

PRICE-WEBB SCHOOL

LEWISBURG, TENN.

A Boy's Preparatory School located in one of the most healthful sections of Middle Tennessee. Stresses thoroughness in training. Possesses an excellent library and encourages pupils to use it freely. Non-denominational, but stands for the highest ideals of Christian character.

Fall term begins September 2.
Tuition $75.00. Board at reasonable rates.

For full information address
E. T. PRICE, Principal,
W. R. WEBB, Advisory Principal.

Martin College Pulaski, Tennessee.

A TIME HONORED AND IMPROVED COLLEGE FOR GIRLS AND YOUNG WOMEN. OPENS ITS 45TH YEAR SEPTEMBER 15, 1915.

A school devoted to the Cultural as well as the Practical Arts. A congeniality between faculty and student body that makes for ideal home life. Located in a college town of picturesque beauty and wholesome moral and physical influences.

Work arranged to fit the girl for home duties as well as advanced studies. Following departments: Preparatory; Junior College (two years); Piano; Stringed Instruments; Voice, Expression Art; Domestic Science and Art; Normal Course and Commercial. Practical and fundamental instruction in each.

New $40,000 dormitory. Campus covering an entire city block affording ample room for all out-door sports. Able faculty. High standards. Modern equipment.

Rates made low through endowment and outside income.

For Free Catalogue Write

W. T. WYNN, President,

Box J, - - - - Pulaski, Tenn.

NEW ORLEANS
CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE

Vol. 62—No. 25. Official Organ of the Louisiana, Mississippi, and North Mississippi Conferences, Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Whole No. 3096.

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor. NEW ORLEANS, LA., THURSDAY, JUNE 24, 1915. CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Editorial

"Half-hearted! Master, shall any who know thee
Grudge thee their lives, who laid down thine own?
Nay; we would offer the hearts that we owe thee,
Live for thy love and thy glory aloue."

* * *

A writer in the Baptist Record two or three weeks ago spoke of desiring to make the State of Mississippi a great Baptist empire. We had thought that our Baptist brethren were too democratic to want to establish empires.

* * *

Our hat is off to the Gospel Advocate of Nashville, Tenn., which recently issued "A Protracted Meeting Number." This is putting the emphasis where it rightly belongs. The most important work of the Church is that of soul-winning.

* * *

A query: If the rural preacher ought to teach the country people how to farm, raise stock, build roads, etc., why ought not the urban pastor to teach the residents of the city how to be successful merchants, bankers, manufacturers, etc.? We trust that some of the progressive social workers among us will enlighten us on this point.

* * *

Sir Robert Nicoll, the accomplished editor of the British Weekly, is said to believe that "England is now confronting the darkest three months in her history." This may possibly be true; but we have learned long since not to take fright at the predictions of men essaying the role of prophecy in this day. Though meaning to speak the truth, most of them are false prophets. Uninspired persons cannot with any degree of certainty foretell the future.

* * *

The Ten Commandments are not merely arbitrary enactments of the Divine will, but are rather interpretations of the laws of man's moral and physical well-being by his omniscient Maker. They are meant to keep us from bringing disaster and ruin upon ourselves. One's indulgence in evil-doing tends naturally toward self-destruction. Tremendous in their meaning are the words: "He that sinneth against Me wrongeth his own soul."

* * *

For what do our Church schools exist? To maintain standards, or to educate our Methodist young people? Some of our educators talk as if the former, and not the latter, were the great end to be accomplished. Any educational system that does not seek to reach the great body of our youth, no matter how splendid it may be when viewed from a theoretical standpoint, is a failure. One of the greatest glories of the Christian religion is that it seeks to save and uplift all men, and a like desire to scatter far and wide their blessings should characterize all the institutions of the Church of Christ.

KNOWLEDGE THAT IS INDISPENSABLE.

It was because of its power to save that Paul was not ashamed of the Gospel. He knew what it could do for men because of what he realized that it had done for him and because of what he had seen it do for others. He had no doubt what would invariably follow as a result of obedience to its precepts. Never did a workman go to his task with a sublimer confidence in the sufficiency of the agencies at his command to accomplish the end in view than did the great Apostle to the Gentiles proceed with his labors as an ambassador for Christ. He knew that the risen and living Lord who had sent him forth would never fail either him or those whom he might influence to accept and rely upon his promises.

Such a knowledge as this—vital, strong, and unwavering—is what we most need to-day to make us efficient workers in building up the Kingdom. And it can only come from a deep and rich experience in our own hearts and an unmistakable demonstration that God is with us in our labors. The old-time Methodist preachers used to make much of what they called "seals to their ministry." Such credentials are essential both to keep us inspired with confidence and to impress un-Christian men. The Divine power working through us and producing genuinely spiritual results, is what the world wants to see, and when that power is thus manifested it attracts attention to-day as it has ever done. Nothing draws like a really great revival, and nothing else is so effective as a cure for doubt and worldliness. The cry of burdened, struggling men is still, "Show us the Father, and it sufficeth us." God must be consciously in one's life and discernibly in one's ministry before they can be rich and fruitful in spiritual attainments and achievements.

A SOUND UTTERANCE.

Dr. H. M. Blair, the editor of the North Carolina Christian Advocate, in a recent issue of that journal, said:

"Recently we have read a vigorous discussion of the evils of denominationalism by a prominent layman. He takes the position that denominationalism is more in the way of the progress of the Kingdom of God than anything else. He also deplores the fact that denominationalism is about to destroy our work in the foreign field. This is all strange talk for a man who is himself largely the product of denominationalism, and who has been permitted to witness the most remarkable development of the Kingdom of God in the history of the Church under denominationalism. Why knock down the ladder upon which we have ascended? Why destroy a system which has demonstrated its efficiency? Denominationalism has afforded the opportunity for the normal and unhampered development of the Kingdom of God. In our opinion the least of the perils now confronting the Kingdom of God is denominationalism. Much that goes in the name of broadness is very thin and sleazy—absolutely superficial."

We heartily concur in the foregoing sentiments expressed by our worthy confrere. In our opinion, the weakening of its denominational spirit is fast becoming one of the perils of Methodism. Its many interdenominational entanglements are beginning to exert upon it a disintegrating influence that is quite noticeable. Some of our prominent ministers who secured their education in schools maintained by other latitudinarian Churches seem to be obsessed with the idea that the obliteration of the distinctive features of the Wesleyan bodies of the United States is a thing greatly to be desired and are bending their efforts largely in that direction. For our part, we do not believe that the spirit and teachings of Methodism in their full strength and purity were ever more urgently needed in the world than they are to-day, and we do not think that they can be thus preserved by entering into indiscriminate and compromising alliances with religious denominations with which we have little in common. At any rate, our leaders and connectional boards ought to deal openly with our Methodist people in regard to all such matters. If they want money to carry on interdenominational enterprises, they should in seeking to raise it so declare, and not thus use funds that our members thought that they were contributing for the maintenance and extension of the work of their own denomination.

As we see it, Southern Methodism needs few things more than she does the adoption of the principle having every officer and board in it directly and immediately responsible to the great body of the Church. We have sometimes wondered if such were the case, and the possibility of a recall existed in our Church as it does in some of the States, if many of the affairs of our denomination would not be conducted in a very different manner from that in which they are now being administered.

"GO-TO-SUNDAY-SCHOOL SUNDAY" A SUCCESS.

According to Rev. W. Fred Long, the Secretary of the Interdenominational Work in Mississippi, the observance of "Go-to-Sunday-School Sunday" in that State on June 13 was a marked success. He estimates that the attendance on that day was well above the half-million mark, which was a large increase over the regular enrollment of Sunday school pupils in that commonwealth, which is about 415,000. The following figures as to the attendance in some of the leading towns are interesting: Meridian, 4805; Hattiesburg, 2203; Jackson, 1900; Tupelo, 1058; Kosciusko, 659. The school having the largest attendance was that of the Central Methodist Church of Meridian—958; the next largest was that of the First Baptist Church of Meridian—792; the smallest was that of the Pass Christian Methodist Church—14.

The Jackson Daily News says: "The campaign for a larger attendance upon the Sunday schools of Mississippi attracted nation-wide attention, and many requests were received for copies of Gov. Brewer's proclamation designating the day."

NO UNBELIEF.

By Charles Kingsley.

There is no unbelief!
Whoever plants a seed beneath the sod,
And waits to see it pass away the clod,
He trusts in God.

Whoever says, when clouds are in the sky,
"Be patient, heart, light breaketh by and by,"
Trusts the Most High.

Whoever sees, 'neath winter's field of snow,
The silent harvest of the future grow,
God's power must know.

Whoever lies down on his couch to sleep
Content to lose each sense in slumber deep,
Knows God will keep.

Whoever says "to-morrow," "the unknown,"
"The future"—trusts unto that power alone
He dares disown.

The heart that looks on when the eyelids close,
And dares to live when life has only woes,
God's comfort knows.

There is no unbelief!
And still by day and night, unconsciously,
The heart lives by the faith the lips decry;
God knoweth why.

HONOR THE CHILD.

Honor the child. On this principle all good education rests. Never shall we learn to train up a child till we take it in our arms, as Jesus did, and feel distinctly that "of such is the kingdom of heaven."—William Ellery Channing.

THE BEST PREPARATION FOR THE FUTURE.

What God may hereafter require of you, you must not give yourself the least trouble about. Everything he gives you to do you must do as well as ever you can, and that is the best possible preparation for what he may want you to do next. If people would but do what they have to do, they would find themselves ready for what comes next.—George MacDonald.

EVERY MAN A MISSIONARY.

Every man is a missionary, now and forever, for good or for evil, whether he intends or designs it or not. He may be a blot, radiating his dark influence outward to the very circumference of society; or he may be a blessing, spreading benediction over the length and breadth of the world; but a blank he cannot be. There are no moral blanks; there are no neutral characters.....Being dead or alive, every man speaks.—Thomas Chalmers.

THE BIBLE.

What a wonderful book is the Bible! It is the living Word of God. Though the contents have been read over many times, yet we can continually see new beauties in it.

It is a spiritual looking-glass into which we can look and see ourselves as we are. The natural looking-glass shows us spots, but not how to get rid of them; but God's Word shows us the spots and wrinkles in our lives, and also how to get rid of them.

It gives us light along the way; for it is "a lamp unto our feet, and a light to our path" (Psa. 119:105). Therefore, there is no reason for us to walk in darkness when each one of us can have a Bible for himself and the blessed Spirit of God to teach him.

It gives us comfort (Rom. 15:4). What comfort we receive when we read of the love of God toward us, and the promised presence of our Lord and Savior with us, and of his coming again to receive us unto himself, that where he is we may be also!

As we need our temporal food to keep our bodies alive and make them strong, so we need to feed upon the Word of God to keep us alive in him and to make us strong. By reading it we also become better acquainted with him whom to know is life eternal (John 17:3).

When we study the Word of God by the help of the Holy Spirit we become workmen that need not be ashamed, and learn to rightly divide the Word of truth.

"Father of mercies, in thy Word
What endless glories shine,
Forever be thy name adored
For these celestial lines."

—Pittsburgh Christian Advocate.

UNITY VERSUS UNION.

In a recent issue of the New York Christian Advocate a correspondent from Iowa advised all the Northern Methodists living in the South to join the Southern Methodist Church. With the sentiments expressed, the editor, Dr. Eckman, disagreed. In a subsequent issue of the same paper a gentleman living in West Raleigh, N. C., endorsed the editorial and disagreed with the correspondent who had written from Iowa. This writer from North Carolina, in the course of his article, includes the following paragraphs:

"Now, I want to agree in toto with the sentiments of the editorial and to dissent most emphatically from the opinions of your correspondent. I do this in much fear and trembling, for I was born, reared and educated in the South; have never lived anywhere else, have never been north of the Mason and Dixon line. It is presumed that our friend and would-be helper, like many others who are bubbling over with good advice on Southern conditions in general and the work of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the South in particular, speaks from an intimate personal knowledge of Southern problems, gained by long personal contact from a seat on the observation car of some 'Dixie flyer,' bound for some Florida winter resort. Distance makes advice-giving extremely easy. I as an agriculturist could give some sage advice on agricultural operations in far-away Alaska, but those on the ground would say that I hail from the land of cotton and peanuts, and therefore know nothing of their frigid climate. Right they would be. My knowledge of Alaskan agriculture is only what I have read, and is therefore very general and extremely hazy.

"Our friend advises that we, Northern emigrants and all, go over in a body to the Southern Methodist Church, because in its restricted area it is larger than the Methodist Episcopal Church. If mere elephantine bulk is what he wants, why not advise them to join the Baptist Church? They are good Protestant Christians and by far the largest denomination in the South. If mere size is the chief thing to be desired, why not advise the Methodists of his home land to join the Roman Catholics in the large cities, where they are more numerous than the Methodists?

"Let advice come from those true, loyal souls on the ground. We few thousand loyal Methodist Episcopalians in Southern territory do not want to join the Southern Methodist Church. We could have done that a long time ago had we so desired. If our brother is over-anxious for our sister denomination to increase her membership from this source, let him come down and join them, but don't settle the question for us."

In this writer's utterances there is an important point for Southern Methodists to consider at this time, when some are talking concerning organic union without as careful a consideration of the subject as could be desired.

If the organic union which our Northern brethren call for were an accomplished fact, the only effect in the South would be the bringing together of their Southern members and the members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Now, if these Northern Methodists, living in the South, wish to have organic union with us, they have a very simple and easy way of accomplishing it. Let them join our Church. As this writer intimates, if they wanted to be in the same Church with us they could have joined us a good while ago and can do so now any day they desire that relation with sufficient earnestness to make the transfer. It seems to me perfectly clear that unqualified organic union without any limitations of territorial organization, means nothing more nor less than the accomplishment of the old scheme of "disintegration and absorption." It is really a proposal to swallow up our Church, efface its name, and put its history behind us. Do our people wish that?

The fact is that if the members of the two bodies of Episcopal Methodists love each other well enough to live in peace in the same organization, organic union is not necessary, and if they do not thus love one another, organic union is undesirable.

The erection of a great obese organization by the disintegration and absorption of Southern Methodism, could hardly promote any really Scriptural end. The Scriptures do not call for a world-wide organization of the Church, nor even a nation-wide organization. The Christian unity set forth in the New Testament is not a matter of mechanical union, but of a community of spiritual life. The Roman Catholic view of Christian unity is one solitary, compacted and controlling body, extending its authority over all the world. When Protestants identify the Christian unity set forth in the Scriptures with this false conception, they are Romanizing and not spiritualizing. Such an organization would be positively hurtful to Christianity.

Schism, as it is set forth and condemned in the New Testament, is strife within a Christian body, and not the division of Christianity into distinct bodies. In truth, the division of Christians into separate bodies is often one of the wisest methods for removing schism; for men often cease to strive with one another when they are not identified with the same organization.

UNITAS.

MARTHA WASHINGTON AND EMORY AND HENRY COLLEGES, ASHEVILLE, JUNALUSKA, ETC.

By Rev. S. H. Werlein, D. D.

An invitation from Dr. Long, President of Martha Washington College to deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon of that institution, gave me a delightful opportunity to visit, after a long interval, the beautiful Blue Ridge region where some of the happiest years of my early manhood were spent. The whole country thereabouts has taken on new life. The imense agricultural possibilities of that mountainous region have been discovered and developed, and now prosperity and industry are apparent where poverty and neglect were formerly so conspicuous. Every day of my brief visit gave pleasant surprise and larger prophecy of future greatness throughout that entire region.

But I was particularly pleased with the surprising improvements which have been made in the buildings and surroundings of these institutions. Both of these colleges have reached the classification of the first grade, and are doing work which is attracting the patronage of many of the brightest students in our Southland. Nowhere have I seen for years a student body so large and attractive as that of Martha Washington College. Through the energetic and persuasive work of Rev. John Ward, D. D., of the Blue Field District of the Holston Conference, a new building has been added which so increases the capacity of the school that 200 students can now be boarded. During the past year 160 students were matriculated, and of these 130 were boarders. This large family of beautiful and aspiring girls is presided over by Rev. S. D. Long, D. D., and his charming wife. Dr. Long is peculiarly fitted for this responsible position. He is firm, genial, and magnetic. The students are devoted to him.

The unusual healthfulness of this mountain climate, the pure, bubbling spring water which abounds, an elevation of more than 2000 feet above the level of the sea, are assets to which special attention is called. Abingdon itself is a typical Virginia town, with a population of about 4000. It counts among its residents some of the choicest people of Virginia. They take great pride in the college. The college building is steam-heated and supplied with electric lights and water, clean and sanitary. A sweeter place for our girls cannot be found within the length and breadth of the United States. It is not a cheap school, nor is it expensive. The student knows that she is getting the equivalent of her money. High ideals dominate the student body, and the girls are encouraged to do their best work.

Within fourteen miles of Abingdon is the thriving city of Bristol, Tenn., where Sullins Female College has been operating for many years. Only ten miles north of Abingdou on the same railroad Emory and Henry College, with a student body of 230, is forging to the front. These three colleges, located so eloscly together, have been separate and independent for all the years of their existence. They have agreed to a plan by which they shall be consolidated under one board of trustees and one charter. A wave of larger prosperity is manifestly visiting these institutions and their future is bright and promising.

Old students of Emory and Henry College would hardly recognize it. A magnificent new administration building has taken the place of the venerable old structure which once stood there, and new and commodious dormitories have been added. All this is largely the work of Bishop Waterhouse, who for seventeen years prior to his election to the bishopric was the president. The present president is Dr. Charles C. Weaver, a young man, but finely gifted and a very attractive gentleman. The students recognize his splendid leadership. Emory and Henry is to-day one of the finest colleges of the Church. More than 30 young preachers were in attendance last year, and this institution has perhaps made a larger contribution of preachers to the Church than any other under its jurisdiction. It is the Alma Mater of four of our living Bishops, viz.: Bishops Hoss, Atkins, Lambuth, and Waterhouse.

I met quite a number of the Holston preachers at the Martha Washington Commencement, and among them Rev. T. R. Handy, a supernumerary, who lives at Emory on a beautiful farm, and who graciously gave me a drive over to Washington Springs, now under the management of Mrs. Thomas Warren. It was good to be there and to partake freely of the splendid spring waters for which it is noted—such as the arsenic, chalybeate, iron and sulphur. Go there and try them for yourself, Mr. Editor.

A coveted opportunity to visit Asheville, North Carolina, I eagerly seized. The fame of this place has gone out all over the world, but one must go there in person in order to get any real conception of its beauty—yea, its magnificence. The great hotels, the parks, the drives, the scenery, the pleasant people, all cause one to exclaim: "Oh, to be there and stay there for sixty days!" Of course, I visited Biltmore, which reminds one of some great baronial estate in Europe, and saw cows there which tempt one to be guilty of the sin of coveting.

At Asheville I met two of my old college friends, Hon. Jack Campbell and Rev. Dan Atkins, D. D. I felt like a boy again. Dr. Atkins is the pastor of the North Asheville Methodist Church, where I had the privilege of preaching. A trip to Black Mountain was the next in order, and there I visited the great building and beautiful location of the Blue Ridge Association. Who would have imagined that away out there in the mountains, a building costing $75,000 had already been erected for the use of Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. college students and the Laymen's Missionary Movement? When I arrived there, four hundred college girls were on the ground pursuing extensive Bible study during the term of ten days. This conference was to be followed by another one composed of young men. Our own Dr. W. D. Weatherford is at the helm up there, and wants the people who are sweltering down here to come up there and enjoy the cool nights and the finest freestone soft water that ever leaped from the heart of the mountains. I was enraptured with the place. He expects a total attendance at the different conferences this year of 3500. A more delightful place for the young people cannot be conceived of. Swimming pool, tennis grounds, mountain walks, etc., form the principal amusements.

And what shall I say of Junaluska? The poor little pictures of the place which have been sent broadcast through the Advocates give no conception of it. The lake which has been created by the skill of master engineers is a thing of great beauty. When the water is perfectly calm it reflects, as though in a mirror, the outlines of the mountains and wooded hills which surround it. The hills around the lake have been terraced with a beautiful driveway. A number of charming little cottages and more pretentious buildings have already been constructed and the foundations of a hotel have been laid. Whichever way one looks a different view presents itself. The change of scenery is like a moving panorama. It is kaleidoscopic. It is beautiful; it is entrancing. One can never weary of contemplating the shifting scenery. The administration building will be finished by July. The management will soon be ready to accommodate the thousands of Methodists who it is believed will flock to this great assembly ground. It will undoubtedly be to the people of the South what the New York Chautauqua is to those of the North. In the not distant future it will be a city of summer residences, where many of the most charming and elect people of the Methodist Church will gather, and where some of the most pleasant acquaintances and most endearing friendships will be formed. What a rendezvous it will be for bright, cultured, religious people from every section of the South! What magnificent programs will be rendered! What great deliverances will be heard! The viewpoint on great issues of some of the greatest thinkers of the world will be given. It will be an education to spend from four to six weeks at Junaluska when all the plans and programs have been arranged, and when all the hotels and boarding houses are in working order. It will be a foretaste of heaven to mingle there with the great spirits of the world and come in touch with some of the divinely appointed leaders of the sons of men.

I believe Bishop Atkins is the author of the descriptive term of that section of North Carolina—"the land of the sky." That fairly describes this region. It is like a section of the mountainous region of Switzerland cut off and transplanted in America. The altitude and temperature are inhospitable to mosquitoes and insects. People sleep under a blanket at night the summer through.

I have not space to tell my readers of the great schemes which the management have for the comfort of those who shall be dwellers there. The great dam which they have built at the cost of $100,000 generates a force equal to 300 horsepower, and this will be ultimately converted into every conceivable utility. Already $375,000 have been expended on the purchase and improvements of the grounds, and those in control are still putting more money into it.

I discovered that the man who first caught the vision of a great assembly ground and the wonderful possibilities of Junaluska was Bishop James Atkins. I believe his dream will be realized, and that the great success which will ultimately crown his efforts will justify the toil and sacrifices which he has undergone.

COLLEGE-KILLING: THE SHAME OF IT.

By H. Walter Featherstun, D. D.

Bishop Hoss, in a late article in the Memphis Commercial Appeal, says:

"A recent decision of the learned Supreme Court of Tennessee (the decision that robbed the Church of Vanderbilt University) has stripped Mr. Jefferson of one of the claims to which he held most tenaciously; for while it is true that he conceived the whole plan of the University of Virginia, and gave it a vast amount of intelligent attention, it is not true that he furnished the money which made it a going institution; and he had, therefore, no right to call himself the 'founder' of it. The doctrine of the above-mentioned court, as set forth in the sole and only opinion of Mr. Justice Turner and endorsed by his worthy colleages, appears to be that neither brains nor energy, nor personal and ecclesiastical influence, nor religious faith and hope, nor anything except money can enter into the foundation of a great school."

We all join heartily with our great Bishop in this righteous, though severe condemnation, of this doctrine upheld by the Tennessee Supreme Court; but is not this the doctrine set forth by our own Educational Commission when it requires that no institution can be a college of our Church unless it has an annual income of $5000 exclusive of all fees, and has a library and a laboratory costing other thousands of dollars? Do they not say by this unauthorized additional requirement that "neither brains nor energy, nor personal and ecclesiastical influence, nor religious faith and hope, nor anything except money can enter into the foundation of a college?" Did not our General Board of Education at its meeting at Dallas in May, 1913, endorse the same repugnant doctrine? It accepted as bases of classification the Commission's additional requirements, and then ordered naively:

"That the institutions in said list of unclassified colleges which confer baccalaureate degrees but do not meet the additional requirements of the Commission for colleges within a year of the adjournment of said Commission, either take their places as junior colleges or raise their standards and enlarge their equipment and income so as to meet the additional requirements of college classification.

"That the Annual Conference Boards be advised that they are not at liberty, under the law of the Church, after the above readjustment shall have been consummated, to make appropriations to institutions which have not been properly classified by this Board."

When the Editor of the New Orleans Advocate asked Dr. Anderson to indicate the law of the Church under which the Board makes this very extraordinary demand, he answered "The Board of Education of the M. E. Church, South, has the general superintendency of all our schools." Our College of Bishops (or "General Superintendents") have the "general superintendency" of the whole Church; but never in our Church's history has this, the highest body of the Church, issued an edict comparable in autocratic assumption to this unwarranted decree of our General Board of Education. Presiding elders are also commissioned to superintend. Suppose one of these should decree that any church failing to pay as much as $300 for the pastor's salary shall at once be taken off its circuit, and either be put on a mission or killed—what would happen? Suppose a Methodist Sunday school superintendent should peremptorily order to be disbanded any class that should fail to raise $100 for the new organ—what then?

Dr. Anderson, as if aware that the word "superintendency" in the law could hardly cover the area of authority assumed by the Board in these very remarkable edicts, adds by way of explanation:

"You will notice that Par. 108 provides that the members of the Board shall be incorporated under the laws of Tennessee. * * * * You will notice that the duties of the Board, so far as its function of superintendency is concerned, are set forth more clearly in the charter than in any clause found in the Discipline. However, I take it that this must be a defect in the Discipline which the charter serves to correct."

Alas! Dr. Anderson. This is the old Vanderbilt stench that "smells to heaven" in the nostrils of every true Methodist. "A defect in the Discipline which the charter serves to correct." A Board created under a law of the Church assumes to do under a charter issued by the State of Tennessee that which the Church will not commission it to do—alas! alas! Remember, this letter was written May 12, 1913. A year later the General Conference is in session. It distinctly questions charters issued under the laws of Tennessee—compare allusion to this charter in Par. 455 with the action of the General Conference relative to charters reported on pp. 114 and 115 of the Journal of the last General Conference. It gives to the Board no additional authority in the matter. It was therefore with a delight in which Dr. Anderson felt that he might share in May, 1915, why is it that he not only was permitted to have that action rescinded in 1914 by the only body that could "correct such a blunder?" Why is it that we are not here in 1915 that in 1914 the Board was undertaken to enforce its remarkable decree of 1913. It cannot be urged that the matter was not brought to the attention of the Church; for the Editor of this Advocate earnestly discussed the matter in these columns and thereby called it to the Board's authority to make or seek to enforce such an edict. Under a questioned charter from a questioned source, we are told that the Board of Education will next year seek to do that which the General Conference declined to authorize it to do. Is that the situation? Is any college chartered under the laws of Mississippi and in harmony with the law of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, to be destroyed by a Board claiming its authority under a questioned charter loaned by Tennessee into committing harakiri? Is this the situation? Why is not a college charter under the laws of Mississippi just as sacred as a Board charter under the laws of Tennessee? What is a charter in these cases anyway? Only a State's protective sanction of the Church's course in the matter. And when a Board appeals to its charter to do what the Church creating the Board does not allow, it is simply the Board appealing to itself; for it frames its own charter—the State merely endorsing it.

I have just read in the Mississippi State law against trusts the definition of a trust forbidden by the law, and the policy indicated by the remarkable edict of the General Board at the Dallas meeting in 1913, and to be enforced in 1916, very nearly puts the Board into that much condemned and generally outlawed class of institutions. The principles are the same: the larger and wealthier institutions must crowd out the weaker and thus "gobble up" what patronage can be gotten out of the destruction of the weaker ones, with this additional feature, that if a pupil is too poor to pay his way through the larger and more expensive institution, let him go without a college education, rather than attend, and thus help to perpetuate, one of these weaker small colleges condemned to death by the unlawful policy of our General Board of Education as indicated by the Dallas edict.

This, in plain language, is the policy inaugurated by the remarkable decree of 1913. If it does not violate the letter of the civil law against monopolies, it is unquestionably opposed to the spirit of Methodism and the very genius of Christianity.

I am pleading for the poor boys and girls of Southern Methodism. I am demanding their rights; not charity, but rights. Their sacred rights as children of the Church include an opportunity to get education in the colleges of the Church; and they have a right to claim every possible facility that can be given. To kill out the small colleges of the Church is to rob these children of the Church of most sacred rights. I shall with all my powers resist any such an attempt. The law of the Church and I believe the majority of the preachers and lay members are with me.

SEASHORE DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

The Conference met May 25, 1915, at Bond, a little town about midway between Gulfport and Hattiesburg, on the Gulf and Ship Island Railroad. Under normal conditions it is a rather thriving little city, made so by the large-hearted and enterprising firm of the L. N. Dantzler Lumber Company. Almost within sight of this place, also, is a colony of splendid folk who are rapidly developing large farming interests on the cut-over lands from which all merchantable timber has been removed. There is one tract or field of this land of three hundred acres free from stumps and in a fine state of cultivation. Improved methods and modern tools are employed in thus making to blossom as a rose these barren lands. And such development of the lands in this District, of which there are thousands upon thousands of acres, promises to bring a large increase in the population of this section of the country, whose natural advantages and climate are not surpassed anywhere.

There was a very hearty welcome awaiting us on arrival among this good people and church folk, and no session of our Conference has had a more hospitable greeting. The regret was that the pastor, J. L. Sells, very popular among his people, was too unwell to be at his post till near the close, but his son James, with the help of that princely layman, W. J. Evans, and others, nobly responded to every need and wish of the members and visitors. The Conference passed suitable and sincere resolutions of regret because of the illness and absence of Brother Sells. All the preachers-in-charge were present, except three, two of whom were kept away by sickness. The attendance of the laymen, while not as good as might be desired, was fair.

The presiding elder, Dr. W. H. Hemley, always genial and happy in every expression of word and act, was at his best, and directed the affairs of the Conference with a master's hand and heart. No interest of the Church was allowed to suffer in his hands, or to be left unnoticed. He is popular with the preachers and people, and is filling a large and useful place in directing the affairs of this very important and large district.

The reports of the preachers-in-charge, while reflecting the financial depression, due to the European war now so fiercely waging, were indicative of earnestness, faithfulness and progress. Not a note of distress was sounded, but hopefulness was the ring in every report. There has been progress: some of the charges have been blessed with early revivals; from reports received 162 have been added to the Church by certificate during the year, and 199 on profession; 61 infants have been baptized.

It is with pleasure and is a cause for gratulation, that we note that the educational interest and work in our district is so pronounced and prosperous. The Seashore Campground School, ably represented at the Conference by its president, H. W. Van Hook, has just closed a fine session, at which a number received their certificates of graduation, and some will enter college this year, prepared for the Sophomore class. By suitable resolution this school was highly commended and our co-operation pledged in aiding to secure an adequate laboratory equipment. Emory University was strongly endorsed by resolution, the school commended to the patronage of the Church, and "we pledge to this institution our unfaltering and continued loyalty, not in word only, but in deed." Millsaps College was represented by its vice president, Dr. J. M. Sullivan, in a very effective way. The District takes pride in this great school, and pledged its hearty support financially and otherwise. Port Gibson Female College was represented by President T. J. O'Neil, who made a good impression for this important institution. Rev. Robert Selby, Conference Secretary of Education, was with us and very worthily presented the cause of education in a splendid address. Brother Selby is untiring in his efforts to get this great question in an adequate way before the minds and in the hearts of the people, and has doubtless contributed no small share to our educational development.

The Conference pledged the support by the district of at least one student in school who would not otherwise be able to go, and appointed a committee to secure the necessary funds and apply it to this end.

Rev. W. M. Williams was present, and at the close of the opening sermon, which was preached by N. B. Harmon, made a very interesting and helpful address on the work and needs of the Orphans' Home, and by resolution "we as preachers and laymen will keep these servants of God (Brother and Sister Williams) and these children in the Home on our hearts and in our prayers, and will urge our people to make monthly contributions for their support."

Besides the opening sermon by Brother Harmon, the preaching was done by Brothers Louis Fayard, Sharbrough, and Toile, and it was all good to the use of edifying.

A Sunday School Institute was conducted by Field Secretary, E. A. Maddox, at which a very helpful and suggestive program was carried out. A number of addresses on suggested topics were made by preachers and laymen, and two hours were spent with profit and pleasure to all.

The Conference had the pleasure of hearing Mrs. E. E. Johnson, of Gulfport, president of the Conference Missionary Society, and by resolution the hearty co-operation of this district was pledged to her work.

The Conference was called upon to mourn the loss by death of C. A. Grice, whose presence was sadly missed. He had been a member of this District Conference for seven years, and no man among us was more highly esteemed or loved than he. A memorial service was held for him at which tender and loving tributes were paid to his memory by a number of the brethren who spoke of him in the highest and most endearing terms. The committee on resolutions in its report introduced the following which was unanimously adopted by a rising vote: "Resolved 1. That while we bow in humble submission to the will of our Heavenly Father, we deeply deplore and mourn his going away, as we shall see his face no more; and from a human viewpoint we have sustained a great loss. 2. That we extend to the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy, and assure all of them that they are remembered in our prayers. 3. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family and to the New Orleans Christian Advocate for publication."

The Trustees of the district parsonage property, through their Secretary, reported a small amount of money on hand, and that nothing had been done towards improving the building; and the special committee to whom the matter was referred strongly urged that speedy action be taken to liquidate the debt and repair the property, and the Trustees were authorized to sell part of the property, if necessary, to meet these ends. It is not to our credit as a district to delay this matter so long. Steps are now being contemplated, however, which will doubtless result in repairing the parsonage so that it can be occupied again by the presiding elder. It is earnestly hoped that the money can be had soon with which to pay the debt, and thus relieve the embarrassment and humiliation which the Church is now suffering.

L. N. Dantzler and J. S. Otis were elected to succeed themselves for a period of three years as trustees of the Seashore Campground School.

H. W. Van Hook, N. B. Harmon, H. F. Toile, and W. T. Griffin were elected on the Licensing Committee.

The following were elected lay delegates to the Annual Conference: J. H. Miner, J. N. Worthy, J. M. Mashburn, J. B. Cain. Dr. J. C. Ballard, of Biloxi, was elected district lay leader. The next session of the Conference will meet at Mississippi City. W. B. JONES, Secretary.

LEON IRWIN & CO.

Fire and Casualty Insurance

736 UNION STREET. Phone, Main 585.

ENLARGE YOUR DAY

Thousands of people have already learned how to enlarge their days; how to increase the time they can devote to profitable recreation and pleasure without sacrificing work that must be done.

They first discovered that the quickest and most satisfactory way to go "down town" was by the telephone.

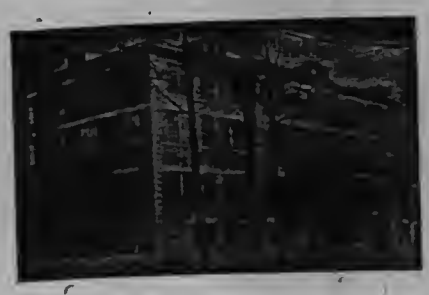
Next they applied the same principle to their "out of town" business and social trips, and found it was even more satisfactory and proportionately much cheaper.

Do you Travel by TELEPHONE?

Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co.

(Incorporated.)

The Louisiana Educational Campaign



LOUISIANA CONFERENCE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., President

Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Sec'y

Rev. C. A. Battle, Treas., Baton Rouge, La.

(This Department is conducted by Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Secretary of Education, and Rev. A. J. Gearheard, Publicity Commissioner.)

THE CENTENARY SPECIAL.

The reports of the treasurer up to date have shown that of the $6000 assessed for the Centenary Special, about one-third has been sent in to the treasurer. The time in which the Conference directed that it should be raised has passed, but that does not make the need for the funds any less pressing, nor the obligation to raise it, though late, any less binding. It is to be hoped that every pastor who has not already reported this important collection in full will secure it and turn it in at the earliest possible date.

PROVIDING FOR OUR OWN.

The severe condemnation pronounced on those who provide not for their own is too familiar to need repetition. It is the statement of a fundamental law of primary obligation. It applies to the home and condemns the parent who does not make adequate provision for his children, not only by furnishing supplies for their physical needs, but by securing their highest development in mind and character. This lays a heavy obligation upon every parent to consider the whole problem of the education of his children with reference to the training of them for the best and highest service to the Church and community. The question, What institution will give my son or daughter the training that will best conserve moral and Christian character, and best prepare for useful Christian service, is the primary question to be considered.

But the same kind of obligation to provide for her own, to secure the best training for Christian manhood and womanhood on behalf of her own sons and daughters, rests imperatively upon the Church, and can not be escaped. If it could be shown that the institutions supported by the State are prepared to inspire and train our young people for such Christian character and service, then it would be useless for the Church to expend money and energy on institutions of her own. But scarcely any one who believes in the primacy of Christ in our lives, who acknowledge Christ as the foundation of character, will contend that our State schools, from which all definite religious teaching is necessarily excluded, and into which naturally men of all faiths and no faith are admitted as teachers and trainers of youthful character, are in a position to give our sons and daughters the Christian ideals and inspirations which ought to enter into their education. This does not mean that there are not good Christian men in these institutions; nor that many young people with a strong Christian home influence, as well as the help of many personal influences of teachers and others, do not come from these institutions to lead real Christian lives; but it does mean that the secular institution is not able to furnish the dominant Christian atmosphere and definite training that are specially important in the formative years of college life. More and more in very recent years the tendency of educational thought is to perceive the necessity of the definitely religious element in education. A thoughtful man who has been teaching for some years in the State schools recently said to the writer that a few years ago he had decided that there was no demand for the Church college, but that more recently he had changed his view and saw the necessity for it. To sum up, if the Church is to meet the imperative obligation of providing for her own, she must make generous provision for the maintenance of her institutions of learning. To fail thus to put Christ in the center of the education of our youth, is in a real sense to deny the faith that he is supreme in all life.

A CHALLENGE TO IMMEDIATE DEFINITE ACTION.

The offer of Mr. Blair noted in our last issue puts before the Methodists of Louisiana a definite challenge. Are we sufficiently interested in the maintenance of Centenary to raise $12,500 for its support within the next six months? If not, it is not much use for us to try to do any big and worthy thing. If we do meet Mr. Blair's offer, and accept his challenge, a fund will be secured, subject to the use of the Board in maintaining and improving the college, which will avoid the necessity for years to come of such temporary expedients as the special assessment, which will enable the Board and the president to make permanent and far-reaching plans, and which will give us time to work out plans for the firm establishment of the college through endowment and adequate equipment. The question for Louisiana Methodists is, What shall we do about it? And we ought not to think of but one answer to the question. There are surely 125 Methodists in the State who are willing to give $100 apiece. There are thousands more who could give smaller amounts. Let us bring our offerings at once.

Church News

Dr. J. D. Hammond has tendered his resignation as President of Paine College, Augusta, Ga. He will not, however, sever his connection with that institution before Nov. 1, 1915.

* * *

Bishop E. D. Mouzon was due to sail for Brazil from New York on June 12. He will be accompanied by his daughter, Miss Harriet. During his absence the Baltimore Conference will be in charge of Bishop Denny.

* * *

Rev. J. A. Whitehurst, presiding elder of the Waco (Texas) District, who has been down with a long attack of typhoid fever, has recovered sufficiently to be up. This will be good news to his many friends in Mississippi.

* * *

Rev. J. B. Mitchell, formerly of the North Mississippi Conference and a Millsaps man, who is now stationed in Tampa, Fla., is president of the Board of Trustees of Southern College, our leading educational institution in Florida.

* * *

At the recent meeting of the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Des Moines, Iowa, Bishop Luccock was assigned to Alaska. Like trade, Methodism not only follows the Nation's flag, but has gone far beyond where it waves.

* * *

It has been officially announced that the College of Liberal Arts and the School of Theology of the Southern Methodist University at Dallas will open on September 22, 1915. We note that Dr. F. S. Parker, of Nashville, Tenn., is down for the Professorship of Christian Doctrine in the latter school. This was the chair to which Dr. F. M. Thomas was elected, but, as will be remembered, he asked to be excused from beginning his work until the fall of 1916.

* * *

The Wesleyan Christian Advocate states that Bishops Wilson, Hoss, Candler, and Lambuth have been secured for lectures during the next session of the Candler School of Theology in the new Department of Missions, of which Dr. W. J. Young will be the official head.

* * *

Dr. J. Ross Stevenson, President of the Princeton Theological Seminary, who was recently chosen Moderator of the General Assembly of the Northern Presbyterian Church, is classed as a conservative. Conservatism seems to be in the ascendency in that fast-growing denomination.

* * *

It is stated that of the population of San Francisco only 30½ per cent are connected with any Church; and that of this percentage 26 per cent are Roman Catholics and 4½ per cent are Protestants. Yet there are some people who want the Christian Churches to type themselves by the church patterns to be found in the Far West.

* * *

Bishop Collins Denny attended and assisted in conducting the obsequies of the late Mrs. Annie (Bradley) McCoy, the beloved wife of Bishop J. H. McCoy. A beautiful tribute was also paid the deceased by Dr. J. D. Simpson, president of Birmingham College, who had known her from childhood. The interment was made in Elmwood Cemetery, Birmingham.

* * *

On the occasion of his recent visit to Emory, Va., which is described elsewhere in this issue of the Advocate, Dr. S. H. Werlein had the pleasure of seeing Bishop Waterhouse. He reports that the Bishop's physical condition was thought to be considerably improved. This will be welcome news to Bishop Waterhouse's many friends in this section of the Church.

* * *

Dr. A. F. Smith, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. Church, South, preached on a recent Sunday to the Methodist students in attendance upon the Missouri State University at Columbia, Mo. Of the matriculates of that institution 911 are said to be Methodists in their Church affiliations, and of these 350 are said to attend our Sunday school and 172 to be members of the Epworth League.

ANOTHER FORWARD STEP TAKEN.

Rev. John S. Frazer, D.D., of Mobile, Ala., has been engaged by the Trustees of Emory University to serve as a Commissioner in securing funds for the Institution.

The time has come when we must begin to erect additional buildings and I commend Dr. Frazer to the brotherly co-operation of our preachers and people wherever he may go.

Our Church has before it a great opportunity and a great obligation. God and man expect all of us to do our duty.

The beginning of this great work has been most successful, and we are in sight of the greatest results. With united effort we shall not fall short of the most sanguine hopes which we have entertained concerning this enterprise.

Atlanta, Ga. W. A. CANDLER.

DR. THADDEUS P. BELL
Practice Limited to the Medical and Surgical Treatment of the
EYE, EAR, NOSE & THROAT
And the Correction of Errors of Vision.
814 Audubon Bldg., New Orleans, La.

BUY LUMBER FROM
W. W. CARRE CO., Ltd.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

[illegible]

[illegible] Conference [illegible] Methodist [illegible] Mississippi [illegible] Jackson [illegible] Mississippi [

The Home Circle

HOW DO YOU DO?

H. Bedford Jones.

"How can you, friend?" the Swedish say;
The Dutch, "How do you fare?"
"How do you have yourself to-day?"
Has quite a Polish air.
In Italy, "How do you stand?"
Will greet you every hour;
In Turkey when one takes your hand,
"Be under God's great power!"

"How do you carry you?" is heard
When Frenchmen so inquire;
While Egypt's friendly greeting word
Is "How do you perspire?"
"Thin may thy shadows never grow,"
The Persian's wish is true;
His Arab cousin, bowing low,
Says, "Praise God! How are you?"
But oddest of them all is when
Two Chinese meet, for thrice
They shake their own two hands, and then
Ask, "Have you eaten rice?"

—Weekly Witness.

A TWILIGHT STORY—THE EVENING STAR.

By Willie Conger Page.

"Bru'ver I see the Star"
"Sister I see the Star."

Little Sister had slipped and fallen down a long flight of stairs and seriously injured her spine. She lay moaning on a narrow bed near a window in an upper room of a tall tenement house in a great city.

Mother had to work all day to obtain money for shelter and sustenance for herself and two children. She arose early, prepared their simple breakfast, kissed the children and hurried away with a smile on her lips and anguish in her heart for having to leave them alone all day. Often she was compelled to work late at night. By denying herself food at noon she was able to save a few pennies to purchase fruit and little cakes, and occasionally a toy, to help to amuse Little Sister who suffered severely.

Little Boy did the rest. He kept their small room sweet and clean, cared for and entertained Little Sister, and prepared their mid-day meal, always giving her the nicest and best.

He had saved up some money by selling papers and running errands. One day while Little Sister slept he quietly slipped away. When she waked a pair of little shining crutches lay beside her on the bed. "Oh Bru'ver, did God send them to me? Can I walk now?" "You can try, dear." She did try, but the pain was so acute, the little back so weak, that she could not.

Little Boy told her all the stories he knew. Bible stories, The Legend of the South Wind, Why the Woodpecker's Head was Red, and so on. But one theme of unfailing interest to her was The Evening Star. They watched through their window each night, to see who would see it first. How happy she was when she could say first, "Oh Bru'ver I see the Star." He invariably replied, "Sister I see the Star."

When the tin soldiers, the broken doll and torn picture book ceased to interest her, Little Boy would invent games and compose stories to amuse her. "Go on," she would plead, "and tell some more; it don't hurt so when you tell me things. Tell me about the Star." "Stars," said Little Boy, "are angels' faces peeping through the sky to watch little children who are sick and crippled and can't walk. The ones who hurt and suffer so; if they suffer too much God sends the angels for them. The angels take them in their arms and fly away to heaven to live with God, where everything is so beautiful and all so happy they never suffer any more." "Bru'ver it sounds so sweet, I don't want to leave you and mother," sighed the little girl wistfully, "but if it hurts so bad, will God send our Star for me?" "Yes dear." The big doctor had told mother she could not get well. She smiled and fell softly asleep.

Once Little Sister moaned and cried so, Little Boy sat beside her on the bed trying to ease the throbbing pain by holding her in his arms, her head resting on his shoulder, watching for the Star. At last she whispered faintly, "Bru'ver I see the Star. I'se so tired and cold; hold me close."

Mother was late; she came in breathless, spent by the long walk and climbing the steep stair. There was no light in the room. She prayed while making a light; she trembled so she could hardly stand. She saw through her tears Little Boy holding Little Sister in his arms, one of her arms around his neck. The angels had come for her pure spirit and carried it back to the Beautiful City. She was at rest, would never feel any more pain.

Little Boy, exhausted from his long vigil in a cramped position, had fallen back on the pillow and was asleep. Tears glistened on his soft cheeks as he lay with the cold, still form of the Little Sister clasped in his arms. High above in the ethereal regions of the eternal heavens, their Star shone brightly, its sweet face turned earthward as if in sympathy with the little children who loved it so dearly.

Long years passed. Little Boy became a great and good man, honored and respected by all men. Wherever he went, whatever he did, the Star beckoned him on to higher and nobler things.

Whenever he saw "The Evening Star," he uncovered his head and whispered softly, "Little Sister I see the Star."

Lexington, Miss.

A POSTOFFICE STORY.

Jennie, Tillie, Mary, and Prue were little country girls, and each had a mother and father of her very own, but not a brother or sister. One day when the sisterless and brotherless little maidens were all at Tilly's house, Jennie suddenly exclaimed, "Oh!" then closed her lips and clasped her hands.

"Oh, what? Oh, do tell us!" asked Tilly, Mary, and Prue.

"Why not have a postoffice all our very own?" the lips opened themselves long enough to ask, while the hands unclasped and crosses themselves over Jennie's heart.

"Where?" questioned Prue.

"In the corner where the farms join," answered Jennie.

"What a beautiful idea!" exclaimed Tilly. "And I've got just the thing for the postoffice—a box with a cover we can lift, and a hole through its side for the letters to go through, and we can fasten it to the limb of that choke-cherry tree which hangs over the fence corners."

"How lovely!" said Mary.

Two weeks later four little girls, at the same time, arrived at the postoffice. Then three little girls crawled through the fence into the lot where Mary was standing. Then, for a moment they all sat down on a log to rest and talk and gaze admiringly at the postoffice, when—

"Oh, did you see that, Jennie?"

"I guess I did!" answered Jennie, jumping up.

"Who'd ever thought it?" ejaculated Tilly.

"To think of a wren popping out of our postoffice!" exclaimed Mary.

Then the little girls got on the fence, one raised the cover, and then they all peeped in, and saw a lot of fine twigs neatly arranged, in the corner of which were four tiny eggs.

"A wren's nest!" exclaimed Prue.

"And in our postoffice!" said Mary.

"Let's shut the cover down softly and go away, and then, by and by there'll be some little baby wrens," said Jennie.

Then they hurried home and told their delightful secret to their mothers and fathers.

"Oh!" said Jennie one Sunday afternoon when, with their mothers and fathers, they were looking at the baby wrens, "they are God's letters to us!"

"Living epistles!" suggested one little girl's father, "for us all to know and read."—Unidentified.

THE CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE "DIAMOND" ANNIVERSARY.

Why Was Dr. Ivey Not Among the Editors?

All, all were there, save only one,
And he stood bravely by—
A hero true, this Church's son,
For him the readers cry.
His clientele, they ask to know,
Why not his song is sung?
Why not his life on them bestow?
He's reached the topmost rung.

The list is all so incomplete
Without this Pilot's name,
When 'twould have been so very meet
To write it just the same.
No doubt he would not let it be,
For reasons all his own;
But brush away his modesty,
As this thing will be done.

His clientele, they fain would hear
Of how and where and when
His traveled road, both far and near,
From first unto the end.
They know he battled true and brave
Along earth's great highway;
The poor and simple fought to save,
Through dreary nights and day.

Now, some one must his lifework sing,
And let us have the lay;
And some one must his portrait bring—
Then we'll know what to say.
If 'tis not done, one thing is sure:
A "poet volunteer"
Will take the pen, in wrath most pure,
And sing his deeds right here.

EVELYN BAKER DODD.

—ARTIFICIAL LIMBS, ORTHOPEDIC—
APPARATUS, ELASTIC HOSIERY,
TRUSSES, CRUTCHES, ETC.
(Catalogues mailed on request)

The McDermott Surgical Instrument Company, Limited.

734-738 POYDRAS STREET
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

DOCTOR
Tichenor's
Antiseptic
UNDER A STRAIN
The muscles always become sore and stiff. Delightful and lasting relief is immediately had by applying
Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic
Its healing effect is truly wonderful. You can't well be without it. Take a bottle home today.
All druggists 25 and 50 cts.
ASK ANY ONE WHO HAS EVER USED IT!

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: No. 512 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor,
CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Entered at the Postoffice at New Orleans as Second-class Mail Matter.

TERMS:
One Copy, one year, $1.50; eight months, $1.00. To preachers of all denominations, $1.00

PUBLISHING COMMITTEE:
Louisiana Conference—Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., Rev. W. W. Drake, Rev. C. B. Carter.
Mississippi Conference—Rev. I. W. Cooper, D.D., Rev. C. W. Crisler, Rev. T. W. Adams.
North Mississippi Conference—Rev. W. W. Woollard, Rev. H. S. Spragins, Mr. J. D. Barbee.

Editorial

STILL WITH US.

Most of our 3000 delinquent subscribers are still on our books. We are mailing out notices to them and doing all that we can to secure their renewals. Both on account of the Advocate and the interests of the Church we shall regret to lose a single one of them; but we cannot carry their names much longer unless their arrearages are paid up. Have you taken up this important matter in your charge, brother pastor? If not, we urgently appeal to you to delay no longer in doing so. This is a matter well worth the attention of every pastor in Mississippi and Louisiana.

THE VANDERBILT COMMENCEMENT.

The Vanderbilt Commencement has come and gone. The numbers of the Nashville Banncr that we have seen devoted comparatively little space to it. From its issue of Monday afternoon, June 14, we take the following:

"Nothing but routine business came before the Vanderbilt Board of Trust, which met this morning in Wesley Hall in annual session. President W. C. Ratcliffe of Little Rock, Ark., was in the chair, with the other officers, Dr. G. B. Winton and W. T. Sanders, Vice Presidents.

"Chancellor Kirkland presented his annual report to the Board, and the various committees took sections of the report for investigation. Another session is to be held Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock in Wesley Hall, at which time several new members of the Board will be elected. A large attendance marked this morning's session, which was executive.

"Those who are here attending the board meeting are: Chas. N. Burch, Memphis; E. J. Buffington, Chicago; J. A. Robins, McKenzie; E. H. Jones, Kansas City, Mo.; J. R. Bingham, Carrollton, Miss.; M. M. Cullom, Nashville; Allen R. Carter, Louisville; Hon. W. C. Ratcliffe, Little Rock, Ark.; J. E. Washington, Cedar Hill, Tenn.; A. B. Ransom, Nashville; W. L. Moose, Little Rock; W. T. Sanders, Athens, Ala.; Wm. Hughes, Spring Hill, Tenn.; A. C. Ford, Holston, Tex.; R. F. Maddox, Atlanta; R. F. Jackson, Chancellor Kirkland, Whitefoord R. Cole, G. B. Winton, G. M. Neely, and Claude Waller, Nashville. Adjournment was taken at 12:30 o'clock."

From Tuesday's issue (June 15) of the same paper, we clip the following extract (nearly the whole utterance):

"Mr. Whitefoord R. Cole, of Nashville, was elected President of the Vanderbilt Board of Trust at the concluding session of the Board held this morning at Wesley Hall. Dr. G. B. Winton, of Nashville, and W. T. Sanders, of Athens, Ala., were elected Vice Presidents. Judge Claude Waller, of Nashville, was chosen Secretary.

"The Executive Committee of the Board was elected, with Whitefoord R. Cole, J. H. Kirkland, G. B. Winton, G. M. Neely, Judge Claude Waller, A. B. Ransom, and Robert F. Jackson, all of Nashville, members.

"One new trustee was elected, Morris Brandon, of Atlanta, Ga., who is to take the place on the Board made vacant by the resignation of Maj. R. W. Millsaps, of Jackson, Miss. The following trustees were re-elected: The Rev. Charles W. Byrd, Greenboro, N. C.; Hon. J. C. McReynolds, Washington, D. C.; Eugene J. Buffington, Chicago; Frank C. Rand, St. Louis; Chas. N. Burch, Memphis, and James A. Robins, McKenzie, Tenn.

"Considerable routine business was disposed of at this morning's session, which concluded the meeting for the year. The next session will be held next June. At the adjournment of the meeting the members retired to the Nashville Golf and Country Club for luncheon."

The Commencement Sermon was preached in the University Chapel by Dr. W. C. Bitting, of St. Louis, a Baptist minister, who, judging by the following excerpts from the brief report of his discourse, seems to have been a congenial spirit in a congenial atmosphere:

"Dr. Bitting in his sermon Sunday made a strong plea for a greater personal interest in religion by educated persons and a greater interest in education by church people. Sentimental love for God, without culture, is un-Christian, he said.

"Christianity and education are not in conflict. They are two streams mingling and mixing. The University says character and service are the aims of life and the Church says the same thing. The Christian school is not the one imbedded with ritual or frenzied ecclesiasticism. It may have all these and still not be Christian. In fact the shame of the Church to-day is her sectarianism. It is the prerogative of every man to interpret the eternal verities of life for himself and modern education helps us to do this.

"Speaking of the essentials of modern education, Dr. Bitting said that modern education demands, first, a passion for reality, and, second, an open mind.

"Continuing, Dr. Bitting said: The religion of the educated man is progressive. The chief end of the Church is not to save the anachronisms of the past or to start ecclesiastical museums."

From the foregoing it seems that the Vanderbilt Board only elected a successor to Major Millsaps. We know that Mr. J. R. Pepper had resigned and it is reported that Dr. E. B. Chappell and Dr. W. J. Young had done likewise. Why these vacancies were not filled we do not know. Possibly it was thought it would unduly emphasize the fact that the loyal trustees had abandoned the Board. The Alumni Address by Dr. W. A. Webb, President of the Randolph-Macon Woman's College, was a rare utterance. Perhaps we shall have more to say concerning it at some time in the future.

A reading of the Banner's report of the proceedings of the recent Vanderbilt Commencement stirs up memories of the past. There was a time when the roster of the Board of Trust of Vanderbilt University contained such names as H. N. McTeire, L. C. Gariand, R. K. Hargrove, G. D. Shands, R. W. Millsaps, J. R. Pepper, C. B. Galloway, W. W. Duncan, A. W. Wilson, E. E. Hoss, and all of our other living Methodist Bishops, and when from its chapel rostrum Southern Methodism's foremost pulpit men thundered forth the vital truth's of sound, evangelical Christianity. Alas! how is the mighty fallen.

PROTESTANT LEPERS' CHAPEL OPENED.

On Monday, June 14, the Protestant Lepers' Chapel at Carville, near New Orleans, was formally opened. Among those taking part in the exercises were Rev. W. W. Holmes, presiding elder of the New Orleans District and Presideut of the Protestant Ministers' Association of this city; Rev. F. C. Flowers, and Rev. Louis Voss. Mr. J. J. Proweil, President of the Board of Managers of the Home, made a speech of acceptance, and addresses were also made by Mr. A. W. Wilson, an inmate, and Mr. W. M. Danner, who is connected with the national Christian work among lepers.

Because of the interest shown in this chapel by Mr. Rodeheaver, one of Billy Sunday's singers and aids, the following telegram was sent to the famous evangelist: "Keep your corner bright, and come to see us when you can." After the exercises were over all the visitors were invitcd to dinner.

This chapel was built at a cost of about $1500, of which amount $400 yet remains to be securcd.

DR. F. N. PARKER HONORED.

The Baccalaureate Address of Trinity College, Durham, N. C., was delivered on Sunday evening, June 6, by Dr. Franklin N. Parker, who discoursed upon "Service as the Ideal of Life." For four years he had held the Chair of Biblical Literature at Trinity and as an expression of gratitude and love the student body of that institution presented him with a silver loving cup. In referring to Dr. Parker's acceptance of the Chair of Systematic Theology in Emory University and the fact that he would be no longer in the Trinity Faculty, President W. P. Few said: "The College bas never had a teacher who gave it a finer consecration of noble powers. As a preacher he has a most remarkable gift for making plain and attractive the real heart of the gospel of Jesus Christ; and he is a man and religious leader of towering strength. We surrender him at the call of the Church to go to an important post in a crisis in the Church's history, feeling sure that an ever-enlarging field of usefuiness will open before him as the years go on." The Louisiana Conference has good reason to be proud of Dr. Parker, and we predict that the day is not far distant when he will be summoned to the work of the episcopacy, as was his distinguished and lamented father.

RECEIPTS FOR SUPERANNUATE.

Two or three weeks ago we issued an appeal in behalf of a superannuate member of the North Mississippi Conference whose heaith is so impaired that he cannot work and who needs $60 to meet some very pressing debts. We stated at the same time that we should be giad to give by private correspondence any information desired concerning this worthy brother. So far, the following amounts have been received:

Rev. W. V. Shearer, Calhoun City, Miss.	$1
Mr. P. H. Enochs, Fernwood, Miss.	5
Rev. E. M. Shaw, Benoit, Miss.	1
Mrs. H. L. Sutberland, Benoit, Miss.	1
A Friend, Itta Bena, Miss.	1

Surely such a call for assistance as this will not be allowed to go unheeded.

PERSONAL AND OTHER NOTES.

From the far-away Pine Tree State, our esteemed friend, Rev. F. D. Van Valkenburgh, sends us a program of the Commencement exercises of the Kent Hill (Maine) Seminary. Evidently the occasion was one of much interest.

Our esteemed friend, Mr. L. P. Brown, of Meridian, Miss., in renewing his subscription to the Advocate, takes occasion to say some kindly things concerning our paper. Commendation from so worthy and useful a layman is much appreciated. Brother Brown is widely known for his consecration and good works.

We received some days ago a wedding announcement which reads as foiiows: "Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Turner announce the marriage of their daughter, Ward Ella, to Mr. Seaman Augustus Mayo on Wednesday, June 16, 1915, at Shreveport, La. At home at 519 Pujo Street, Lake Charles, La., after June 30." The Advocate extends congratulations and all good wishes to the happy couple.

Writing from Frisco, Texas, under date of June 16, Brother S. W. Miller says: "We got into our $10,000 new church last Sunday. Our pastor, Rev. Ira C. Kiker, preached an excellent sermon. The new structure is a beauty—the best piece of work that I ever saw done by a contractor. Both the material and workmanship are first-class. I enjoy my old home paper, the New Orleans Christian Advocate, more every week."

Rev. E. L. Cargill, of Campti, La., sends us the following note: "The church and Sunday school missionary committee at Davis Springs have arranged a program in the interest of missions which will be rendered on the 4th Sunday in June. A sermon on missions will be preached at 11 o'clock a. m. Everybody within reach of that place is cordially invited to attend and enjoy the services. We are expecting a great day."

The heat in New Orleans for the past few days has been well-nigh prostrating in effects. The thermometer last Monday registered 98 degrees in the shade—a temperature that is almost unendurable in an atmosphere that is so humid as is that of South Louisiana. Several persons were overcome by the heat and medical assistance bad to be quickly summoned. Good work of any kind is scarcely possible under such conditions. We trust that the readers of the Advocate will keep this fact in mind and make all due allowances.

Under date of June 10, a correspondent from Bayou Chicot, La., writes as follows: "Rev. H. B. Thomason, while here on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. J. H. Courtney, preached on the first Sunday night to a crowded house. Brother Thomason is always given a warm welcome when on rare occasions he visits us. He was once our pastor for two years and is held in the highest esteem by all of our people. Our present pastor, Rev. W. H. Long, will begin his protracted meeting at this place on the first Sunday in August. We are hoping that we shall have a gracious revival."

Rev. C. A. Battle, of Baton Rouge, La., was in New Orleans last Monday and favored the Advocate office with a call. The Editor counts it a distinct loss that he was out and missed seeing him.

Rev. W. W. Jones, our energetic pastor at Coahoma, Miss., has our thanks for a club of 5 subscriptions. He serves a good people, and is giving a good account of himself in his present field of labor.

We acknowledge our indebtedness to Mrs. Dr. Hollingsworth, of Colby, Miss., for $2 for our Advocate "Help Fund" and some generous words of appreciation. This money will go to a good cause.

Rev. T. L. Houston, of Slate Springs, Miss., reports that the work is making some progress in his charge in spite of the depressing times. He has lately received several persons into the Church.

Writing on June 17, Dr. H. F. Tolle, of Biloxi, Miss., says: "The work here is moving along very nicely. We are getting ready for the Divinity School which will open next week. The Camp Ground is filling up rapidly these days."

Among those announced as members of the Faculty of the Christian Training School (Presbyterian), which held its second annual session at Baton Rouge, June 16 to June 24, was Rev. C. A. Battle, the pastor of our leading church in that city.

Rev. W. H. Saunders began a meeting at Fernwood, Miss., on June 22 and will continue it for ten days. The preaching is being done by Rev. J. L. Decell, and the singing is being led by young Brother Kirby of Arkansas. A season of spiritual refreshing is expected.

Hon. G. T. Fitzhugh, of Memphis, Tenn., has given Major R. W. Millsaps $250 with which to have posts of Bedford stone erected at the main State Street entrance way to the Millsaps College grounds. This is a much needed improvement and will add greatly to the attractiveness of that part of the college campus.

Rev. T. D. Lipscomb, of Donaldsouville, La., passed through New Orleans last Tuesday en route to the Seashore Divinity School, and while in the city looked in on us in our sanctum. Brother Lipscomb's appreciative flock are giving him this trip. We regretted to learn that he has lately been somewhat unwell.

The following friends, to whom acknowledgment has not been made elsewhere, have our thanks for two or more subscriptions sent in within the past few days: Rev. A. M. Bennett, Sarah, Miss., 4; Rev. W. J. Wood, Sweatman, Miss., 2; Rev. D. E. Vickers, Mathervilie, Miss., 5; Rev. H. J. Moore, Lucedale, Miss., 2.

The following dispatch was sent to The Times-Picayune from Zwolle, La., on June 19: "The revival meeting now being held at the Methodist Church here by Rev. J. C. Rousseaux, assisted by Rev. John E. Green of Houston, Texas, will come to a close Friday night. The meeting has been very successful and there have been many additions to the Church."

Rev. J. R. Jones, pastor of our Central Church at Meridian, Miss., says: "If you could have seen our Sunday school yesterday (June 13) it would have done your heart good. We had 958 present." That was indeed a great showing. There are few better pastors in Southern Methodism than Brother Jones, and Central Church is prospering under his efficient ministry.

Writing from Greensburg, La., on June 21, Rev. R. V. Fulton says: "Our parsonage was burned last night at 11 o'clock. The origin of the fire is unknown; none of us were at home. Everything in the building was lost, but the church was saved." This means, of course, that Brother Fulton and his family lost all of their personal effects. We deeply sympathize with them.

Dr. A. M. Muckenfuss, Professor of Chemistry at the University of Mississippi, has been elected to the same Chair in Emory University, at Atlanta, Ga. Dr. Muckenfuss is a son-in-law of the lamented Bishop Charles B. Galloway and for a time taught chemistry at Millsaps College. He is regarded as a finely equipped instructor in the department of which he has made a specialty.

Mrs. Betty H. Summerlin, of Denison, Texas, sends us the renewal of her subscription and $1 for the Advocate's "Help Fund." We scarcely need to say that we appreciate this act of kindness and the generous words concerning our paper which came along with the remittance. This dollar will send the Advocate for one year into some needy home that it would not otherwise enter.

Rev. A. I. Townsley, of Rayville, La., has announced a series of "Summer Sermons" under the general head, "Studies in the Book of Job, the Epic of the Inner Life." The series began on June 13 and will be concluded on July 25. The Directors of the Rapides Camp Ground have engaged Brother Townsley as one of the preachers for their camp meeting this year, which will begin the fourth Sunday in July.

Because of the desire of the Woman's Missionary Council to have the editor of The Young Christian Worker to reside in Nashville, Tenn., Miss A. M. Barnes has resigned that position, and Miss Estelle Haskin, of Nashville, has been elected to succeed her. Miss Barnes' editorial work has been of a most superior order, and we have for years read with much interest the excellent young people's paper which has been issued under her guiding hand.

Rev. R. M. Evans, of Strong, Miss., is not only a faithful and consecrated pastor and an able expounder of the Word, but he also possesses in a marked degree the poetic gift. He finds much pleasure in writing religious verses, and some of his lines set forth the precious truths of the gospel in a very attractive and impressive manner. He has recently written a searching hymn of "The Sanctity of the Ministerial Call" and dedicated it to the Christian ministry.

Writing from Memphis, Tenn., on June 5, Rev. T. W. Lewis, the brilliant pastor of our St. John's Church of that city, says: "I read the Advocate with pleasure and profit, and I trust that you will come through this trying time in good shape. I never saw money matters quite so close; yet many of our people do not stint themselves, while the Church suffers. I have received 118 persons into the Church this Conference year, and our present membership numbers 645."

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Vic. T. Hoyle, of Tupelo, the accomplished President of the Woman's Missionary Society of the North Mississippi Conference, we have in hand a copy of the printed Minutes of the Third Annual Meeting of that organization, which was held in Corinth, Miss., March 25-29, 1915. The women missionary workers of North Mississippi have a most capable and efficient leader in the person of Mrs. Hoyle, and their work is evidently prospering and growing.

A note from Bishop E. E. Hoss states that he will start on his journey to the Orient from his home at Muskogee, Okla., on June 28, and that he will sail from San Francisco on the Steamship "Ventura" on July 6. The Church papers which have been stating that the Bishop would embark from New York have been in error. Let Southern Methodists everywhere remember our great leader at the throne of grace as he sets out on his long voyage in the interest of the Master's kingdom.

Mrs. Mary L. Hargrove, of the Scarritt Bible and Training School at Kansas City, and Miss Olive Lipscomb, a daughter of the late Rev. G. H. Lipscomb, of the North Mississippi Conference, have lately been visiting Prof. Dabney Lipscomb, and Dr. J. W. Lipscomb of Columbus, and Rev. T. H. Lipscomb of Starkville, Miss., who are brothers of Mrs. Hargrove and uncles of Miss Lipscomb. Miss Olive has been appointed to mission work in China by the Woman's Missionary Council and will sail for the Orient in August.

Brother Harold H. Gibson, of Algiers, this city, was a pleasant caller at our office Thursday of last week. He is the teacher of the Wesley Bible Class of the Algiers Sunday School, which now has an enrollment of approximately 125. This fine class celebrated its second anniversary on June 16. It has the enviable record of having averaged adding more than one person to its membership every week since its organization. All our Church work in Algiers is doing well under the leadership of Rev. R. M. Brown, the capable pastor.

Rev. G. D. Parker, of Brazil, who has been at home on a furlough for several months, a goodly portion of which time he has spent in New Orleans, called at the Advocate office last Monday to bid us good-by. He left this week for New York, by way of Florida, from which point he will embark for Brazil early in July. Brother Parker's many friends in Louisiana, his home State, have counted it a great pleasure to have him among them, and they will follow him with their prayers as he returns to his chosen field of labor.

The Abingdon Virginian, which is issued at the seat of Martha Washington College, for which institution Dr. Werlein was this year the Commencement preacher, printed his discourse in full, prefacing it with the following comment: "The baccalaureate sermon of Rev. S. H. Werlein, D.D., of New Orleans, delivered at the Abingdon M. E. Church, South, last Sunday, has been pronounced superior to anything on that order ever heard here. Dr. Werlein is a man with a message and the power to deliver it. Praise for the sermon is heard on every hand."

The Epworth Leaguers of Louisiana held their annual State meeting in the First Methodist Church of this city last week. The attendance from outside of New Orleans was not large, but the exercises were interesting and considerable enthusiasm was manifested in the work. Rev. W. W. Drake delivered an address on "Epworthians in the Mission Fields," and Rev. W. F. Quillian, of Nashville, was present and spoke a number of times with fine effect. Dr. S. H. Werlein delivered a special sermon to the Leaguers last Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m. We trust that the Secretary of the Conference will furnish the Advocate with a fuller account of its proceedings.

We regret to learn that Sister Dodds, the wife of Rev. W. N. Dodds, our pastor at Verona, Miss., has recently been critically ill for some weeks, so much so that at one time her life was despaired of; but we are pleased to be informed that she is now able to sit up, though she cannot yet walk. We deeply sympathize with Brother and Sister Dodds in their trials and we pray that the blessings of the Heavenly Father may rest richly upon them. Brother Dodds states that, all things considered, his work is progressing well and that his people have abounded in kindness during the time that his home has been afflicted.

Referring to the recent death and obsequies of her beloved mother at Corinth, Miss., Miss Elizabeth Kilpatrick in a note to the Editor says: "Bishop Atkins came for the service and he and Mr. Felts jointly officiated. Friends from far and near were here. Lovely flowers and kind words were showered upon us. My Sunday school class acted as pall-bearers and sang. Expressions of love and sympathy were received from all over the country. Mother had not been well for a long time, but her death was quite a shock." May our gracious Heavenly Father comfort and cheer with his presence in this time of loneliness and sorrow this faithful worker, who has done so much to brighten and bless the darkened lives of others!

We take the following from the Patterson (La.) Tribune of June 5: "A very meritorious movement among the boys of this community is that of the Boy Scouts which was started several weeks ago by young Harris Clifford, a son of Rev. T. B. Clifford pastor of the Methodist Church here. The undertaking is now meeting with marked success both as to the number and enthusiasm of its members. The principles of the organization are such as to be valuable to young and growing boys by imbuing them with a sense of patriotism and many other noble and manly traits and qualities. It is a non-sectarian organization and boys from 12 to 18 years of age are eligible to membership." We are pleased to learn of this good work at Patterson, under the leadership of the son of our esteemed friends, Brother and Sister Clifford.

The Corresponding Secretary of the Woman's Missionary Society at Brookhaven, Miss. (whose name is not given), writes: "Acting on the recommendation of the Woman's Missionary Council, the ladies of the Brookhaven Church held an all-day missionary meeting on Thursday, June 3. Mrs. LaPrade, our District Secretary, presided. Every department of church work in which women are actively engaged was given recognition. Discussions were led by Mrs. L. H. Bowen, Mrs. Flowers, Mrs. Meyer, Mrs. Proby, Mrs. B. F. Lewis of Crystal Springs, and Mrs. McCleskey of Hazlehurst. We were fortunate in having with us Miss Hallie Bule, our missionary to Korea, who talked to the children in the afternoon and addressed an appreciative audience of adults at night. At noon we adjourned to meet under the trees of the parsonage yard, where an old-fashioned 'dinner on the ground' was served."

MONROE DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

The Monroe District Conference will convene at West Monroe, on July 20, at 4 p. m. Organization will be effected at 8 p.m. The opening sermon will be preached by Rev. J. W. Lee.

The following Committees have been appointed:

License to Preach—A. I. Townsley, G. W. Purcell, O. L. Tucker.

Admission on Trial—C. C. Miller, J. W. Lee, L. C. Wilson.

Deacon's Orders—W. C. Barr, J. F. Waltman, R. H. Bamburg.

Elder's Orders—H. W. Ledbetter, V. D. Skipper, J. R. Roy.

On July 22 special attention will be given to the Laymen's Missionary Movement and to the Woman's Missionary Societies.

WM. SCHUHLE, P. E.

Monroe, La., June 19, 1915.

FOR SALE.

One new, unused set Southern Literature. Price $35.00. A. S. Raper, Bellefontaine, Miss.

COTTAGE COLONY, NEAR HAMMOND, LA.

FOR THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.

Pine forest, artesian water, hot and cold baths, no dust or noise. Physicians' attention, Graduate nurse's service and drugs furnished.

Rates, $10 per Week and Up.

Address Dr. E. L. McGehee, Hammond, La.

City Office, 923 Maison Blanche Bldg.

DR. H. B. BARTLETT
National Dental Parlors
Cor. Canal & Camp Sts.
ENTRANCE 108 CAMP
Phone Main 2193
NEW ORLEANS
Vitalized Air for Painless Extraction
Crown and Bridge Specialist
The Largest and Best Equipped Dental Parlors South.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE
DIRECT TRAINS TO
New York
Cincinnati
Birmingham
PULLMAN SLEEPERS, DINING CARS.
— The Scenic Route —
TICKET OFFICE:
211 ST. CHARLES STREET.
Depot, Terminal Station, Canal St.
Phone, Main 2939.

—THE—
Louisiana & Arkansas
RAILWAY
Announces the sale by its Ticket Agents at—
Alexandria, Shreveport, Winnfield, Minden, Sibley, Cotton Valley, Trout, Jena, and Jonesville, Louisiana,
—OF—
INTERCHANGEABLE THOUSAND MILE BOOKS
Good on All Roads in Louisiana.
Save Money by buying one of these Books.
B. S. ATKINSON,
General Passenger Agent.

FRECKLES
Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots
There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as the prescription othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.
Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from any druggist and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.
Be sure to ask for the double strength othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

BOHNE & WILT, Booksellers and Stationers, 1328 Dryades St., New Orleans, La. Baseball Goods, Religious Articles, Fishing Tackle, Periodicals, School Books.

Obituaries.

Obituaries not over 200 words in length will be published free of charge. All over 200 words will be charged at the rate of 1 cent a word. Count the words and send the amount necessary with the obituary. That will save trouble all around. Otherwise the obituaries will be edited down to 200 words.

Mrs. L. E. BOSTWICK died on June 12, 1915, at Collins, Miss. She was born in Copiah County, Miss., near Rockport. Her father was Isaac Bell. She was married to Frank Bostwick in 1900 and was a faithful and loving wife. She gave her life to God in early childhood. Her many friends will miss her and her loving family has the heartfelt sympathy of many who knew her. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for many years and lived a truly Christian life. Six children and a sorrowing husband are left behind to mourn her departure. The funeral service was conducted in a simple manner by the pastor of the Methodist Church, assisted by the pastor of the Baptist Church. The remains were laid to rest in the city cemetery at Collins, Miss. Sister Bostwick was ill for many long months, but though her suffering was severe her faith was strong and sure. It is sad to part with our loved ones here, but it will be sweet to meet them in the great hereafter. A FRIEND.

J. L. ANDREWS departed this life on June 3, 1915. I had known him since the year 1897, at the time when he gave himself to God. He had tried to live a life hid with Christ in God ever since. He always loved to talk of the things of the kingdom and was ready to help support the work of the Church. Our loss is his gain. He leaves a wife and six little girls and a host of friends to mourn their loss. Not long before he passed away he told his wife it was sweet to trust in Jesus, and on the last Sunday before his death he called his children around him and read the twenty-first chapter of John, dwelling upon the words, "Feed my lambs." In the presence of a large crowd the funeral service was conducted by Rev. Geo. P. White, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, the Order of the Woodmen of the World, of which he was a member, and the writer, who made a talk which resulted in many giving him their hands, thus signifying their desire to lead a better life. May God comfort the wife and children in their hour of grief and pain. His Uncle, WILL CURRIE.
Lottie, La.

Mrs. SOPHIA ALLEN PALFREY was born in Franklin, La., on May 15, 1842, and, after a lingering illness, died on May 30, 1915. She was twice married, on Oct. 26, 1881, to Mr. J. D. Redell, and on Mar. 24, 1890, to Mr. C. C. Palfrey. She was a sister of Judge A. C. Allen and Capt. R. W. Allen, honored citizens of St. Mary Parish. Sister Palfrey was identified with Methodism almost from the time of its organization in Franklin, and by her consecrated life contributed greatly to the success and usefulness of the Church at this place. She was endowed with a gentle, tender nature and was possessed of a simple, childlike faith which had been purified by trials and suffering; and she considered it a sacred privilege to visit the homes of the poor and afflicted. We shall miss her gracious and helpful presence, her words of cheer and her steadfast faith and fidelity to God which were an inspiration to her friends and co-workers. But those who loved her so tenderly will cherish her memory until that good day when we shall hope to meet her in "that home not made with hands, eternal in the heavens." FLOYD VAUGHAN.

The spirit of Mrs. EMMA GOODE, one of our noblest young women, took its flight to the realms above on May 21, 1915. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Whiteside and was born in Benton County, Miss., but moved some years ago into Union County, where she lived until her death. She joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at Ebenezer early in life, and was a faithful member until her death. It is hard thus to have the ties of friendship and love severed by the icy hand of death. Her place is vacant in the home and church, and none can fill it. She will be greatly missed. Though she expressed a willingness to meet her Savior, her friends and parents were deeply grieved at her departure. We feel that her eternity is now being spent in the care of a loving and omnipotent Father. Her remains were laid to rest in the Ebenezer Cemetery, in the presence of a large crowd of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the writer, assisted by Rev. N. N. Maxey. I would say, weep not, dear friends and loved ones, for "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord." W. B. BAKER.

Another veteran of the Confederacy and a soldier of the cross of Christ has passed from earth to the heavenly home. Mr. R. F. HUBBARD was born in Yazoo City on Jan. 30, 1832, and moved to Panola County with his parents when quite young, and resided there the remainder of his life with the exception of a few months at a time. He died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. T. F. Evans, near Pope, Miss., on May 11, 1915. He had been a member of the Methodist Church nearly fifty years. He always tried to do right and everybody loved him. He was sick only four days, and everything that loving hands could do was done; but the Master thought it best to take him home where all earthly troubles and trials are at an end. His body is at rest, and his soul is with God. While the children and grandchildren were gathered lovingly around father's bedside smoothing his pillow, caressing his brow, and doing all that fond hearts could do, he placed his hands across his breast, closed his eyes, and with a most peaceful and happy expression on his face, fell asleep in Jesus. His daughter,
LULU EVANS.

Mrs. RUTTA ORR PERRON was born on July 1, 1883, and departed this life on May 17, 1915. Sister Perron was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. and M. R. Orr. She joined the Methodist Episcopal Chuch, South, at Pearlington, Miss., in childhood, and throughout her entire life was a true Christian. During the last several months of her life she was sorely afflicted and was a great sufferer, but bore it with great patience and fortitude. Sister Perron was married on June 25, 1907, to M. B. Perron, who, with two little girls and other loved ones, is left to mourn her going away. Everyone who knew her held her in the highest esteem, to which she, no doubt, was thoroughly entitled. Her long suffering is past and now her weary body sleeps sweetly beneath the beautiful live-oaks in the cemetery at Pearlington, while her redeemed spirit is at home above. We can not understand why she was taken away at such an early age leaving the tender little girls to other hands, but since it is God's will we have no right to question the wisdom and justice of it all. We commend to the sorrowing loved ones left below the grace of our Lord, whose decrees are always tempered with mercy.
Her pastor,
J. EARLY GRAY.

THOMAS B. COGDELL, a brother of Revs. D. L. and David Cogdell, was born in Tennessee and when a child moved to Mississippi with his father and mother who settled near Corinth. There he spent his boyhood days. When quite young, he became soundly converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in which he lived a faithful, consistent member until the hour of his death, which occurred in Corinth on June 3, 1915. He departed with joy, saying that he was glad to go home. He was buried from the First Methodist Church, of Corinth, on June 4, and a large congregation assembled to pay a tribute of respect to him. The writer conducted the services. There has gone from us one of the best and most faithful men of this country, whom we all loved, and we shall greatly miss him. He served during the Civil War under General Forrest and was faithful as a soldier, as he was in all the work of life. He was in his 78th year when he responded to the Master's call, and he left many friends and loved ones behind to mourn for him and cherish his memory. No one has any doubt but that he has gone to be with his Lord and that he has met many of the dear ones gone before in heaven. May we all so live that we shall meet him there!
J. H. MITCHELL.

SHALL WE GO BACK TO THE BLUE BACK SPELLER?

Recently the argument has been made that our schools should adopt the Blue Back speller as the text book on this subject. This argument is based upon the contention that boys and girls trained in the old field school, where this renowned book was the text, were more efficient in spelling than those now being trained in the schools. It would be just as reasonable to argue that the farmer should discontinue the use of modern machines on the ground that the field does not yield as much grain as the same field did when simpler tools were used in its cultivation.

The lack of efficiency in the modern school is due to other causes. The old field school was in charge of a man who was usually the master of the situation, and required his pupils to master a few subjects thoroughly. Its modern successor is frequently in charge of a young girl who does her best to get her pupils to do something in two or three times as many subjects, and the result is that none are mastered. The pupils in this way acquire the habit of doing poor and careless work, and they are fortunate if they ever get such habits cured.

Our boys should be trained to master themselves first, and then to master thoroughly whatever subjects they study, and the school should not undertake to do more than it can do well. We need intensive cultivation in the school room as well as in the fields.

Parents wishing to place their boys where they can get such training should write to Jas. A. Peoples, Principal of the Peoples-Tucker School, Springfield, Tenn., for information.—Advertisement.

DAISY FLY KILLER

placed anywhere, attracts and kills all flies. Neat, clean, ornamental, convenient, cheap. Lasts all season. Made of metal, can't spill or tip over; will not soil or injure anything. Guaranteed effective. Sold by dealers, or 6 sent by express prepaid for $1.
HAROLD SOMERS, 150 DeKalb Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

LOOK UP the insurance and write us. Glad to furnish information. Glad to assist you in any way.
THE NATIONAL MUTUAL CHURCH INSURANCE CO.
CHICAGO
Serves and saves Methodism, and is now rendering a greater service than ever. Insures against fire, lightning and tornado on easy terms of payment.
Is your church participating in these benefits? If not, why not? Pastors protect your property on advantageous terms with us. Write for our calendar and pamphlet.
HENRY P. MAGILL, Sec. & Mgr., Insurance Exchange Bldg., Chicago.
MRS. ALICE HARGROVE BARCLAY, Agent, M. E. Church, South, 314 Norton Building, Fourth and Jefferson Louisville, Ky.

WHEN WRITING OUR ADVERSISERS PLEASE MENTION THIS PUBLICATION

From the Field.

Oloh, Miss.

We have recently had a meeting at Clyde, in which we were assisted by Brother H. Mellard, of Hattiesburg. Brother Mellard did good pastoral work as well as fine preaching. Between services he spent most of his time talking and praying in the homes of the people. Everyone was delighted with his plain way of preaching. He strikes sin squarely in the face. The people were very generous to us in every respect. We had 18 accessions to the Church who will be a great help to the Master's cause at Clyde. We also baptized three infants. Pray for me, that I may be successful in the other meetings that I am expecting to hold this summer. —S. C. Moody, P. C.

South Side, Meridian.

Mr. Editor: We have just closed the most spiritual meeting in the history of our church. The pastor, Rev. A. M. Broadfoot, has done all the preaching, and each sermon has been a feast of fat things. The Holy Spirit has manifested himself at each service and strong men and women have yielded to the Spirit's pleading and accepted Christ. There was no excitement at all—not a single altar service—but a quiet and deliberate surrendering to Jesus. We feel that the whole church has been strengthened, and we are profoundly grateful to our Heavenly Father for what he has done for us. We also thank him for sending to us Brother Broadfoot, for truly he is a man of God, and the desire of his heart is to win souls for Christ. No one can associate with him or listen to his preaching without at least having a desire to be a better man or woman.—A Member.

Clarksburg, Miss.

We recently observed Children's Day at the Lodebar Church and the occasion was quite a success. The work was carried forward under the guidance of our efficient Sunday school superintendent and the Ladies' Aid Society. The program was so good that I can not refrain from speaking of it through the columns of the Advocate. I have sometimes found that where it is impracticable to carry forward the enterprises and interests of the Church, it is expedient to select and give attention to those which are most feasible. We are planning to observe Children's Day at as many as three churches, anyway. The pastor should be deeply concerned about the Sunday school, the Missionary Society, the Ladies' Aid Society, etc. Take an inventory of your Sunday schools and note carefully those who teach in them and those who are being taught. Sometimes it is a good idea to do the same with a church and consider the fitness of its leaders for the work of which they have charge. In some cases you may find non-Christians and persons belonging to other denominations teaching and leading. Here is some good work for the rural pastor to do, if he will do it.—J. W. Evans.

Topisaw Ct., Miss. Conf.

Dear Advocate: June 11 was a "high day in Israel" at old Topisaw campground. In connection with the second quarterly meeting for Topisaw Circuit the Felder's Reunion was held there that day. Rev. M. L. Burton, of Crystal Springs, and Rev. J. L. Neill, of Laurel, were the invited speakers and each of them preached with unusual unction and power. Their preaching contributed much toward the spiritual uplift of the Lord's "chosen few" and to the conviction of some of the unsaved. I thank God for what their sermons were to me and to the work in general. May God abundantly bless them for coming over here and helping to "roll away some stones" that we had been pushing at for some time! We had the best report on the spiritual state of the Church at the quarterly meeting (so said the presiding elder) that we have had since we came on the work, and the report consisted "of facts rather than comments," for the Lord is unusually blessing the people all over the circuit. Many seem to be under deep conviction and are definitely seeking the Lord, while some of the stewards are helping them as Andrew helped Peter and as Philip helped Nathanael (Jno. 1:40-46), and some of these seekers have found "Him of whom Moses in the law and the prophets did write." Amen! There are a few person in the circuit who are praying definitely for the conversion of at least 100 souls this year and have promised, under God, to lead at least one soul to Christ during the year, and unless there is a "let-up" somewhere along the line in prayer and personal work this goal will be reached. Reader, couldn't you join us in this prayer? We must wage a more aggressive warfare for souls. So, do pray for us.—J. A. Wells, P. C.

Sallis, Miss.

Sunday, June 13, was a red-letter day for the Sallis Sunday School. We celebrated one of the most successful Children's Days that have ever been observed in Sallis. Eager hands had transformed our little church into a bower of beautiful flowers and foliage, in keeping with the happy occasion and with the happy young lives to whom the occasion was given. The most striking thing about the service was the fact that the entire program was rendered by the children, who numbered about fifty. The choir was composed of twelve young songsters of the teen age with a young girl also presiding at the organ. Their happy young voices filled the crowded church with sweet anthems, bringing gladness to the hearts of many proud parents. Thirty-two children were in the processional ranging from the ages of three to thirteen. It was a sight that the congregation will not soon forget—the eager little tots performing their parts in the march with a skill that would have done justice to adults. The entire program was excellently carried out. Speeches and songs were rendered with the natural grace with which children alone can render them. The spell-bound attitude of the audience was a silent tribute to their ability. A highly interesting part of the program was the participation in it of the cradle roll. The ages of those on it ranged from two to six months and they made a sweet picture in their decorated carts guided by the young boys. A collection of $8.50, and a very interesting short talk by Rev. G. W. Bachman, who gave reminiscences of his experiences as pastor of this charge forty years ago, closed the services. It was a day that we will not soon forget, for which we owe much to the children, and through which we hope to greatly increase the interest in our Sunday school.—Hyphene Rogers.

L&N Louisville & Nashville R. R.

THE DIRECT LINE NORTH AND EAST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED STEEL SLEEPERS
DINING CARS, OBSERVATION CARS, CHAIR CARS

Phone M. 4093. TICKET OFFICE 201 ST. CHARLES STREET

"EXPOSITION LINE"
SOUTHERN PACIFIC — SUNSET ROUTE

ONE FARE
FOR THE
ROUND TRIP
$57.50
TO
California AND THE Expositions
TICKETS ON SALE DAILY

Limited to return within 90 days. Stopover all points enroute. Shortest and quickest route. Two through Steel Trains daily. Oil burning Locomotives. Electric Block Signals. Observation Cars.

Best Dining Car in America

For full information and illustrated catalogue, ask any Southern Pacific Agent or write

W. H. STAKELUM, Div. Pass. Agent, Lake Charles, La.
J. H. R. PARSONS, Gen. Pass. Agent, New Orleans, La.

THE TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY

Make Your Vacation Count!

Two or Three Weeks at

MINERAL WELLS

would almost make a new man of you, and a jolly, pleasant three weeks they would be, too! Low Round Trip Rates Every Day.

CITY TICKET OFFICE, 207 St. Charles Street.

EDENBORN LINE
LOUISIANA RAILWAY & NAVIGATION CO.
THE SHORT LINE :: THE POPULAR ROUTE
BETWEEN
New Orleans :: Baton Rouge : : Alexandria : Shreveport
TICKETS ON SALE TO ALL POINTS NORTHWEST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS
Secure Reservations at City Ticket Office
709 GRAVIER STREET, ST. CHARLES HOTEL

LET US SEND YOU OUR RUPTURE APPLIANCE ON ONE WEEK'S TRIAL BEFORE ANY PAY. It is a "pain killer," soft, cool, comfortable. Holds rupture in place. Instant relief. Cures large per cent of cases. The wearer forgets he is ruptured. Nothing like it. No one should miss this great opportunity. If satisfactory remit 75c. Otherwise return and you own nothing. Write Us To-day.
JOS. TINDALL, MACON, GA.

You Look Prematurely Old

Because of those ugly, grizzly gray hairs. Use "LA CREOLE" HAIR DRESSING. Price $1.00, retail.

To the PASTORS of the LOUISIANA CONFERENCE

(Suppose all are dead but two, as I have only TWO cards in two weeks)

Please send me at once names of the young ladies graduating from your Parish High Schools.

Mansfield College FACULTY for next year double that of four years ago, and will cost as much as whole income of institution at that time. It will consist of fourteen members: one for every thirteen students. Next year's Senior class has TWENTY-TWO members. Domestic Science work in charge of A.B. graduate of splendid Southern University; Music Department has already won an enviable reputation and the ART work this year has been a constant source of delight and admiration to all who have seen it. A special TRAINING and CRITIC Teacher will have charge of TEACHER-TRAINING work and a PHYSICAL DIRECTOR is to be employed.

In our judgment, this has been the best year of our history, in quality of work, in ability of faculty, in unity of purpose, in student honor, in College loyalty, in ease of discipline, in Bible Study and religious tone and spiritual insight and growth, in size of patronage, and in actual money.

Your College and mine. It asks no favors, not an object of charity, not a reformatory, sets a high standard, not stingy with its faculty, teaches the Bible, has discipline, wins its patronage on its merit, expects good pay for good service, and thus far has paid every dollar of its obligations.

R. E. BOBBITT, Mansfield, La.

TENT MEETING AT BOYCE, LA.

A ten days' tent meeting, with "Charlie" Morris as singer and a large, cool tent to preach in, is a refreshing experience. When services are held in a hot church building, people won't attend; but when you are in a cool tent they won't stay away. I agree with Gypsy Smith, "that the churches, like tuberculosis, need open-air treatment." The tent was erected by the busy and skillful hands of the pastor—he is like St. Paul in more ways than one—and seated with the church pews and the chairs from Masonic Hall. The music was directed by the pastor, who led a large junior choir of boys and girls and also a chorus choir of adults. These voices were ably led and supported by a piona, an organ, and a violin. The Gospel solos of Brother Morris never failed to bring a message of hope and courage to every heart. He does not try to sing himself, but he sings the Gospel.

Among the visible and immediate results of the meeting were the hearty co-operation of all the Churches of the town; the increasing of the enrollment of the Sunday school; the many daily simultaneous cottage prayer meetings held by the women; the better observance of the Sunday law; the attendance and interest of the men in the church; and a large number uniting with the Methodist, Baptist, and Protestant Episcopal Churches.

An impressive and beautiful service was the "Old Folks'" meeting held under the auspices of the Woman's Society. Every person over 50 years in the town and community was brought to the tent in an auto, and was made comfortable in a rocking chair. Old-time hymns were "lined off" and sung, and an old-fashioned love feast was enjoyed by all.

Brother Morris is enjoying his usual success in the pastorate. He is the only resident pastor in Boyce, and he has the happy knack of being the pastor of Romanists, Episcopalians, Baptists and Methodists. To show their appreciation of their teacher, the Excelsior Bible Class gave a nice purse for a vacation trip to Mrs. Morris. Much of the success of the tent meeting was due to the splendid work done by Rev. H. T. Young for five days a week before.

A. INMAN TOWNSLEY.

A Despondent, Lazy Feeling

Shows your need of a good tonic. Get the time-proven Wintersmith's Tonic—stimulates the appetite and builds up a run-down system. 50 years success. At all Druggists.

FROM THE BATON ROUGE DISTRICT.

Well, the middle of the year has come, the second round of the quarterly conferences has been held, and the facts show a healthy spiritual condition. This has been a trying year on the preachers, but they are standing the test. Everything is moving along nicely in the Baton Rouge district. There is no hitch except in the Jackson charge, when he refuses to move, as he recently did when his master tried to coax him to pull the pastor and presiding elder over the road to hold a quarterly conference "across the creek."

The bright sands and cooling waves of the bewitching stream that divides the Felicianias seem to have a stopping tendency on "Don." Coaxing is of no avail, pouring sand in the ear, tying strings on the legs, and all other devices known have no effect when "Don" decides not to pull the elder. Well, the elder is supposed to be a leader, and he is, as with shoes and stockings off, pants rolled up on a bright, glorious Sunday afternoon in April, he presses the soft, easy sands of the flowing stream and gently and easily leads; and how delightful "Don" follows his leadership!

We have seen cranky "Fords" refusing to be cranked and balky horses refusing to go, but "Don" takes the prize. They tell me now that the Fords have electric starters, though I have not seen that combination, but "Don's" master decided that if an electric starter had an effect on a cranky Ford, it ought to be effective on "Don." He has the electric starter for "Don" and says it works. I have not seen it, but will soon try it out. We are getting things mixed these days anyhow. I rode with an elder once when he got his Ford, and as he had been used to "dobbin," when he turned on the gas he would cluck. I thought that strange. Now comes the preacher with the "dobbin," and he puts on the electric starter.

I have been wondering if that is not what is needed in some cases. Could we put an electric starter on some preachers?

I started to write some notes for the District, but got to thinking of my experience with "Don" and the electric starter. I will close by saying that the men are at their posts, faithful, and are moving things. Every man is making progress.

H. W. BOWMAN, P. C.

Our "JITNEY" Offer—This and 5 CENTS

DON'T MISS THIS. Cut out this slip enclose with 5c to Foley and Co., 2843 Sheffield Ave., Dept. R, Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for coughs, colds and croup; Foley Kidney Pills, for pain in sides and back, rheumatism, backache, kidney and bladder ailments; and Foley Cathartic Tablets; a wholesome and thoroughly cleansing cathartic; especially comforting to stout people.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

Monroe Dist.—Third Round.

Eros, at Village, July 11.
Mer Rouge, at Bon Ide, Wed., July 14.
Calhoun, July 18.
Bonita, at Bartholomew, July 25.
Bastrop, at Collinston, July 26.
Waterproof, at Wesley, Aug. 1.
Winnohow, at Boeuf Prairie, Aug. 8.
Brooklyn, at B., Aug. 10.
Mangham, at Little Creek, Aug. 14, 15.
Rayville, p. m., Aug. 15.
Sicily Island, at Clayton, Aug. 16.
Oak Grove, at Midway, Aug. 20.
Tallulah, at Bayou Videl, Aug. 22.
Gilbert, at Holly Grove, Aug. 29.
Farmerville, at F., Sept. 1.
Lake Providence, Sept. 5.
Monroe, Sept. 6.
West Monroe, Sept. 12.

WM. SCHUHLE, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Meridian Dist.—Third Round.

Meridian, Poplar Springs, July 4, 5.
Meridian, Fifth Street, July 4, 5.
Shubuta, July 10, 11.
Buckatunna, at State Line, July 11, 12.
Meridian, Central, July 18, 19.
Meridian, Seventh Avenue, July 18, 19.
Scooba, at Binnsville, July 24, 25.
De Soto, at Adams, July 31.
Pachuta and Quitman, at Porto Rico, August 1.
Matherville, at Poplar Springs, August 7, 8.
Lauderdale, at Marion, August 15, 16.
Meridian, East End, August 15, 16.
Waynesboro Circuit, at Winchester, August 21.
Waynesboro, at Hiroanu, August 22, 23.
Porterville, at Briggs Chapel, August 25.
Daleville, at Bethel, August 29, 30.
Moscow, at Mt. Zion, September 4.
De Kalb, at New Hope, September 5.
Clark, at Oak Grove, September 11.
Enterprise, at Basic City, September 12, 13.
Vimville, September 18, 19.
Meridian, South Side, September 19, 20.

J. T. LEGGETT, P. E.

Invigorating to the Pale and Sickly

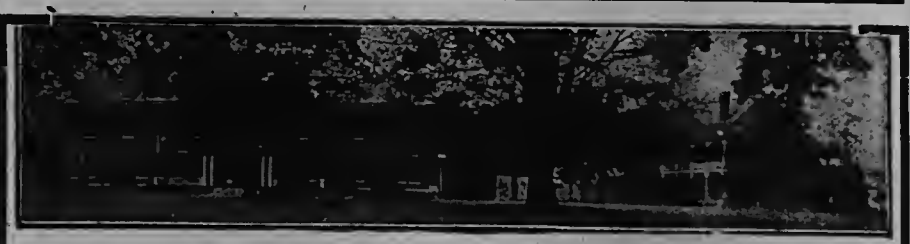
The Old Standard general strengthening tonic, GROVE'S TASTELESS chill TONIC, drives out Malaria, enriches the blood, and builds up the system. A true Tonic. For adults and children. 50c.

WHITWORTH COLLEGE
BROOKHAVEN, MISS.

A leading institution with a great past and a greater future.

Four Schools { College of Liberal Arts. Domestic Science. Academy Preparatory to College. Conservatory of Music, Art and Expression.

For Catalogue Address Whitworth College, Brookhaven, Miss.



Buford College, - - Nashville, Tenn.

Select Home College for Higher Culture of Women. Limited to One Hundred. Comfort, Character, Culture Combined. A Standard College offering a Christian home and personal care, with complete, comprehensive Curriculum—leading to A. B. and A. M. degrees. Ideal location and equipment. No death or casualty in 25 years. Athletics and physical culture emphasized. Bible Course, Language, Literature, Art, Music, Expression and Domestic Science. Experienced Faculty. Individual attention and character building. National patronage. Moral character must be certified before entering. Write for year book.

MR. E. G. BUFORD, Regent, MISS LOUISE CHAMBLISS BURGESS, Principal, MRS. E. G. BUFORD, President.

Bethel College

For Women

Chartered - - - 1855

Offers a limited number of girls splendid advantages at a very moderate cost. Delightfully situated. Seven acres of wooded campus. Distinctly Christian and homelike in atmosphere. Opportunity to hear notable musical attractions. Autumn trip to Mammoth Cave. Easily accessible. Seventy miles north of Nashville. Preparatory and College work, leading to B. S. and A. B. degrees with Junior College Arts Diploma. Music, Art, Expression and Domestic Science. All kinds of Athletics.

For full information, catalogue, and beautiful view book, address President W. S. Peterson, Box E, Hopkinsville, Ky.

WHEN WRITING OUR ADVERTISERS PLEASE MENTION THIS PUBLICATION

PRESIDENT COOK RE-ELECTED.

Dear Editor: At the Annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Mississippi Normal College on the 5th instant, the following resolution was introduced by Mr. F. W. Foote and was unanimously adopted. As this is a matter touching a great Institution in which the public generally is interested, we ask you to give space for its publication in your columns.

Thanking you for this favor and for other kindnesses you have done the College in its work, I am,

Yours very truly,
H. L. McCLESKEY.

The following are the resolutions referred to above:

Whereas Hon. Joe Cook, president of the Mississippi Normal College has served the public and this institution most efficiently; and,

Whereas, through his untiring energy, capacity, and zeal, results have been accomplished that have placed the Mississippi Normal College in the highest rank among the educational institutions of the South; and,

Whereas, the public interest, as well as the best interests of the college, demand his re-election to the presidency of this institution; therefore, be it

Resolved 1. That President Joe Cook be and is hereby re-elected president of the Mississippi Normal College.

2. That, inasmuch as this is a matter of public interest, the Secretary be and is hereby instructed to give these resolutions to the press.

THE DURANT DISTRICT CONFERENCE HELD AT EUPORA, MISS.

The 1915 session of the Durant District Conference was held in the enterprising town of Eupora, Miss., May 25-27. The Conference was well attended by both preachers and laymen. The doors of Eupora opened wide to the conference, the splendid homes abounded with hospitality, and their popular pastor, Rev. J. T. McCafferty, was untiring in his efforts to make the visit of the delegates a pleasant one. Bishop Waterhouse did not get to us but our genial presiding elder, Rev. W. S. Shipman, filled the chair with dignity and efficiency, dispatching business with rapidity and skill.

The presence of brethren from other parts of the Conference added much to the profit of the session. Among the visitors were: Rev. R. O. Brown, of the Columbus District, and Rev. J. M. Massey, Superannuate of the Mississippi Conference. Rev. T. H. Lipscomb ably represented the Conference Board of Education. Judge E. V. Hughston, Conference lay leader, delivered an able address on Lay Activities. Dr. A. F. Watkins, president of Millsaps College brought a strong message on The Relation of the College to the Church. The Conference made an offering of $75 to the equipment of the new administration building of the college. Miss Ethel Golding represented the Orphans' Home in a pleasing and effective way. Rev. H. M. Ellis, Field Secretary of the Hospital, was present and represented that important institution with enthusiasm, suggesting a plan that will work in every charge. No conference in North Mississippi seems complete without Rev. G. W. Bachman, who was on hand representing the Publishing House to the satisfaction of all. Rev. J. R. Countiss told of the good work, needs and growth of Grenada College, of which he is the president, and the conference responded with a substantial offering.

Rev. R. H. B. Gladney, Field Secretary of the Conference Sunday School Board, who belongs to the Durant District, was present, happy in the work and full of it. He delivered an inspiring address on the Standard Sunday School. The Durant District is leading in the Sunday school work.

Able and timely sermons were heard from Rev. G. W. Gordon, Rev. T. H. Lipscomb, and Rev. J. R. Countiss.

John Wiley Robertson, of Maben, was granted license to preach and S. W. Vowells was recommended for admission on trial into the Annual Conference.

J. L. Seawright, F. A. Howell, Rev. W. M. Commander, and N. C. Eudy were elected lay delegates to the Annual Conference with Dr. R. C. Elmore and Herbert Hall reserve delegates. J. L. Seawright was elected district lay leader.

The session was profitable and spiritual. The splendid new church, equipped with all modern appointments, added much to the efficiency of the Conference.

The reports of the pastors had the ring of zeal and progress. Special stress is being put on Sunday school work. Numbers have been added to the Church, and unusual progress has been made toward raising the Benevolent Assessments.

The conference voted to go to Durant for the 1916 session.

W. M. LANGLEY,
Secretary.

Woman Finally Recovers From Nervous Breakdown

Impoverished nerves destroy many people before their time. Often before a sufferer realizes what the trouble is, he is on the verge of a complete nervous breakdown. It is of the utmost importance to keep your nervous system in good condition, as the nerves are the source of all bodily power. Mrs. Rosa Bonner, 825 N. 18th St., Birmingham, Ala., says:

"I have been suffering with nervous prostration for nine or ten years. Have tried many of the best doctors in Birmingham, but they all failed to reach my case. I would feel as if I was smothering; finally I went into convulsions. My little girl saw advertised in the papers and I at once began to take it. I continued to take it for some time and now I am well."

Dr. Miles' Nervine

If you are troubled with loss of appetite, poor digestion, weakness, inability to sleep; if you are in a general run down condition and unable to bear your part of the daily grind of life, you need something to strengthen your nerves. You may not realize what is the matter with you, but that is no reason why you should delay treatment.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

has proven its value in nervous disorders for thirty years, and merits a trial, no matter how many other remedies have failed to help you.

Sold by all druggists. If first bottle fails to benefit your money is returned.

MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

SIXTEEN YEARS OF TROUBLE.

Ended for H. H. Jackson, Friar's Point, Miss., with the use of Gray's Ointment. "I am glad to report that it has made a permanent cure of a sore of sixteen years' standing," he writes. This is one of the numerous instances of the remarkable curative powers of Gray's Ointment. Since it was first prepared in 1820, it has been used year in and year out by American families for boils, sores, ulcers, wounds, burns, bruises and all abrasions and eruptions of the skin. It quickly heals the skin trouble and is a sure preventive of dangerous blood poison which often follows from a neglected skin wound. Only 25c a box at druggists. Get a free sample by writing W. F. Gray & Co., 806 Gray Bldg., Nashville, Tenn.

HATTIESBURG DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

Dear Doctor Meek: Please allow me to say through the columns of the Advocate that we have just closed a very interesting and profitable District Conference in the thriving little town of Sumrall, Miss. A few of the pastors were absent and some of the lay delegates, but the attendance was good, all things considered. The reports of the preachers showed that the work of the District was in a healthy and hopeful condition. Rev. Geo. H. Thompson, our presiding elder, though troubled somewhat with an inflamed throat, looked carefully after all the interests of the Church and work of the District Conference. He is a very brotherly, patient, and thoughtful man.

There were a few of our connectional brethren with us. Brother Robert Selby, Conference Secretary of Education, made a strong and helpful address on the important subject of higher education. Dr. J. M. Sullivan, of Millsaps College, was with us stressing the needs of that great institution. Rev. H. M. Ellis, agent of our Methodist tri-state hospital, was also present and made some telling remarks concerning the needs in that great work. Last, but not least, Rev. W. M. Williams, the efficient head of our Orphans' Home at Jackson, Miss., was with us and melted our hearts in a deeper love for him and his unsurpassable work of caring for the fatherless, motherless and homeless little ones who look up into his eyes with confidence, knowing that God through him will take care of them. May the Church help this noble man to do this heaven-born work of love! Rev. H. Mellard, Conference Missionary Secretary, addressed the Conference in behalf of his work. Mrs. Rawls, the District Secretary of the Woman's Missionary Society, spoke concerning her important sphere of labor. The preaching was done by Brothers H. J. Moore, H. L. Norton, H. M. Ellis, and W. M. Williams, each of whom acquitted himself creditably. Our entertainment was royal. Everybody had a good place to stay. The brethren of the town came out in an automobile rald one evening and captured the conference and carried us all out to see the sights of the town and surrounding country. Sumrall is a hustling milltown. We will hold our next district conference at Prentiss, Miss. Our Conference convened on June 1 and adjourned on June 3, and we all turned our faces toward our charges determined to make the remainder of the year count for more than that which has passed. P. H. HOWSE.

BAPTIST PASTOR'S WIFE IS CURED OF PELLAGRA

Battlefield, Miss.

A most remarkable case of recovery has been reported here by the Rev. T. E. Pinegar who says: "For two years my wife suffered with what is known as pellagra. Different doctors attended her, with absolutely no improvement in her condition. At last our family physician told friends of ours my wife must die."

"I was away from home most of the time, engaged in evangelistic work of the Baptist Missionary cause. At last we sent for Baugh's Pellagra Treatment. When she began to use it, her arms, face and hands were a sight to behold. After one month's treatment, to all appearances, she was well. I would advise all sufferers from that disease to give this remedy a trial. Use this testimonial as you see fit."

Here's a case where the family physician gave the patient up to die, and where Baughn's treatment saved her life. Don't hesitate longer. If you have pellagra, it is your duty to cure it.

The symptoms: Hands red like sunburn, skin peeling off, sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red, with much mucous and choking; indigestion and nausea; either diarrhoea or constipation.

There is hope; get Baughn's big Free book on Pellagra, and learn about the remedy for Pellagra that has at last been found. Address American Compounding Co., Box 587-X, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.

Note—This cure and other cures are personally known to the Advertising Manager of this paper, who did not accept this company's advertising until after an investigation that satisfied him that we had cured hundreds of cases of pellagra.—Adv.

EAT HARRIS' JERSEY ICE CREAM

The CREAM OF QUALITY. Quick Auto Delivery

1300, 1302 DRYADES ST.

Phones Jackson 1080, 1081

Whitworth College's Tour to California and the Expositions

EIGHTEEN DAYS. Expenses within $150. Will leave Brookhaven, Miss. (noon) July 6. Special care of young ladies. Write at once for information to Whitworth College, Brookhaven, Miss.

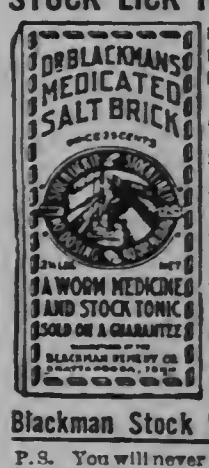
Do You Visit New York This Summer?

The Bible Teachers Training School, centrally located and convenient to transportation lines, can accommodate guests during June, July and August at the following rates:

	Day	Week	With meals, per week
Single Room—	$1.00	$6.00	$15.00
Double Room—
1 person	$1.25	$7.00	$14.00
2 persons, each..	$1.00	$5.00	$12.00
Double Room, Private Bath—
1 person	$1.50	$8.50	$15.50
2 persons, each .	$1.25	$6.00	$13.00

Address Bible Teachers Training School
541 Lexington Avenue, New York

STOCK LICK IT--STOCK LIKE IT



No Dosing—No Drenching
Every Animal Its Own Doctor
Drop Brick in Feed Box—
It Will Do The Rest
A Handy Medicine—
It Salts 'em Too
Saves Time, Labor and Veterinary Bills
You've tried the rest—
Now use the Best
Sold and Guaranteed by Best Dealers Everywhere
25c per brick; $3.50 for 15 brick; $8.75 per case of 30 brick. (We Pay The Freight)
Order from us if your dealer won't supply you
Best Worm Medicine and Tonic Ever Produced

Blackman Stock Remedy Co., Chattanooga Tennessee

P.S. You will never buy stock powders after trying our Medicated Salt Brick. Medicated Salt costs less but is not as convenient or economical. We sell it, but if you want it why not buy the medicine from us and make it for less than half? It's easy mixed—we tell you how. B. S. R. Co.

"Them Good Saw Mills"

$150.00 and upwards.

Timber is growing valuable. Saw for yourself and neighbors. A few good trees cut into lumber will pay for one.

Write for full information and guarantee.

CORINTH MACHINERY COMPANY.

Box 6. - - - - Corinth Miss.

Not Spring Fever, But Malaria

In mild form causes that lazy feeling and weakness. Wintersmith's Tonic, the time-proven strengthening tonic wards off malaria and restores strength. At all Druggists

LAFAYETTE DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

Parties who come by the way of Lafayette to attend the district conference at Bunkie should change trains at Eola. The delay will be a little over an hour, but one will arrive in Bunkie at 6 o'clock p. m. If one should go to Cheneyville to make connection, he will be delayed until two o'clock at night.

R. S. WALTON.

SENT FREE AND PREPAID

to every reader of the New Orleans Christian Advocate, who needs it and writes for it to the Vernal Remedy Company, Buffalo, N. Y., a trial bottle of Vernal Palmettona. Only one small dose a day perfectly and permanently relieves catarrh, flatulence, indigestion and constipation. It clears the liver and kidneys of all congestion and inflammation and takes all irritation from bladder and prostrate gland. Good men and women are wanted as agents for this and other high class articles. Write immediately.—Advertisement.

Woman's Missionary Work

Edited by .....Mrs. R. F. Harrell, Centerville, Miss.

Conference Publicity Superintendents:

Louisiana.....Mrs. A. C. McKinney, Ruston, La.
Mississippi .....Mrs. J. L. Neill, Laurel, Miss.
North Mississippi.....Mrs. Walter Campbell, Winona, Miss.

All communications for this department should be sent to the Editor at the address given above.

"Stir me, O stir me, Lord! I care not how;
But stir my heart in passion for the world.
Stir me to give, to go; stir me to pray;
Stir till the blood-red banner is unfurled
O'er lands that still in heathen darkness lie,
O'er deserts where no cross is lifted high."

MEALTIME IN AFRICA.

The native African is not very particular about what he eats. He eats what is at hand, prepared in the easiest manner possible. Very often there is no effort at preparation, and the food is eaten as found. Ants, caterpillars, grass-hoppers, bugs of various kinds, and even earth-worms are some of the delicacies displayed in African markets. Bishop Lambuth visited a market in Africa where two women were kept busy selling ants by the quart, while two others had hundreds of caterpillars on sale. Dog meat is considered a great delicacy, though monkey meat ranks higher.

In several sections of Africa cassava forms the chief article of food. The cassava is a root which produces a starchy food, much relished by the natives. Our tapioca is one form of it; so you may know how nice it is when temptingly prepared. We are sure, however, that you wouldn't fancy it as the native Africans have it served at their mealtime. In Africa the dried cassava roots are soaked in water, then dried and beaten in a mortar till a fine flour appears.

Such a pounding and beating as there is in an African village honrs before mealtime! The flour is sifted out, mixed with water, and cooked in an earthen pot, sometimes with cornmeal added. A sticky mass forms, which is rolled into balls. These balls are eaten at mealtime, dipped into palm oil, or with boiled greens of some kind, or with monkey meat—a dish over which little Africans smack their lips with delight.—Young Christian Worker.

BEQUEST FROM A FAITHFUL FRIEND.

At the meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions in Lexington in the spring of 1892, Miss Virginia Cloud, of Front Royal, Va., was made Treasurer of the Memorial Fund, which position she held until the union of the two woman's boards. Her work was faithfully done, and her interest and prayers for the work and workers were constant.

The Lord has recently called this faithful worker home. She left $5761.73 to the Board of Missions, of which amount $3630.86 is for the Foreign Department of Woman's Work. One thousand dollars is to be used for the work at Davidson Memorial School (for which Miss Cloud worked so long), $500 is for work in Korea, and the balance is undirected. —Missionary Voice.

A "GREATER" MISSISSIPPI WOMAN'S MISSIONARY CONFERENCE FOR 1915.

The call has gone throughout the Church for a campaign for increasing the membership of our missionary societies. Why? Because we believe the time has come when all of our women and girls should be enlisted in this great work of evangelizing the world. From the very beginning it has been our motto, "Missionary societies in every church and every woman and child a member." We have made several spasmodic efforts to put this slogan into effect, but we have failed because we have not realized the seriousness to the cause of Christ and to themselves of the fact that these women are not engaged in this work.

Miss Bennett has felt this great burden, and, as our leader, has planned for a Church-wide organization campaign. Council, conference and auxiliary officers have fallen in line with her plans, all realizing the deep significance of carrying them through. The Central Committee put the plans into practical working order, and the different conferences have adapted them to their use, always preserving the general outline.

In Mississippi the third Sunday in June was set apart as "Woman's Day," when, throughout the Conference, the work being accomplished by the Council was presented to the church at large. This marked the beginning of the campaign in this Conference.

We feel that after a wise presentation of the work some indifferent hearts will be stirred to action. But our campaign must not end here. Those already interested must vigilantly press the work. All-day meetings with near-by auxiliaries must be held; each member must try to win one other member, and "in season and out of season" this campaign must ever be upon our hearts and minds. Only through these efforts can we hope to attain a Greater Mississippi Woman's Missionary Conference for 1915.

The Committee for Mississippi has planned for an Honor Roll and the following points are required to place an auxiliary upon the same:

1. Increase of 50 per cent in membership.
2. One "All-Day Meeting."
3. Observance of "Woman's Day."
4. Observance of "Week of Prayer."
5. Assistance in organization of a new auxiliary in adjacent territory.
6. Auxiliary projecting Young People's and children's work in its own church.

These "points" to be reported to your District Secretary not later than Jan. 1, 1916. The district making the best report in these items will be known as the "Banner District" at our next Annual Meeting.

All adult, young people's, and children's auxiliaries making these "points" will receive special mention in the Missionary Voice, the Conference Minutes, and the New Orleans Christian Advocate.

Committee: Mrs. R. E. Johnson, chairman; Mrs. B. F. Lewis, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. L. Neill, publicity superintendent.

MISSION STUDY TEXT BOOKS, 1915-16.

FOR ADULTS.

Rising Churches in non-Christian Lands. By J. A. Brown. Price: paper, 40c; cloth, 60c.

The Churches at Work. By C. L. White. Price: paper, 40c; cioth, 60c.

The King's Highway. By Montgomery. Price: paper, 37c; cloth, 57c.

Home Missions in Action. By Mrs. John Allen. Price: paper, 37s; cloth, 57c.

WHEN WRITING OUR ADVERTISERS PLEASE MENTION THIS PUBLICATION

RHEUMATISM
For rheumatism, lumbago and similar diseasestry X-Ray liniment, the new, reliable external remedy. Internal remedies work slow and often derange the stomach. If X-Ray Liniment does not cure or give reasonable relief your money will be refonded. It is also an excellent family Liniment. By mail prepaid $1. a bottle. Bank reference and testimonials on request. CLARKSVILLE Medicine Co. Clarksville, Tenn.

ELIXIR DUCRO
ALIMENTAIRE
Sustains the Organism Without Nourishment. Recommended for Debility, Wasting diseases, Convalescence, Old age. All druggists. Agents: E. Fougera & Co., Inc., New York.
NO INCREASE IN PRICE

Church Furniture
State your church requirements and send floor plan for Free Estimate on cost of Pews, Pulpits, Pulpit Chairs, Communion Tables, Collection Plates, Bookracks, Envelope Holders, Communion Cup Holders.
Budde & Weis Mfg. Co.
Main Office & Factory
JACKSON, TENNESSEE
D. C. Worrell, Agent 714 Fern St., New Orleans, La.
Bank Fixtures

Safe and Home like MERIDIAN COLLEGE Careful Supervision
In the Health-Giving Pine Hills of Mississippi
A select Private College with Preparatory and College courses, Commercial Course, Modern Buildings and equipments; beautiful 60-acre campus and recreation grounds; fish ponds, swimming pools. Fine Athletics. An ideal home school for boy or girl, where they are looked after morally, mentally and physically with the best of Christian home influence and care. A large well equipped Conservatory of Music, Oratory and Art. Also Domestic Science and Teacher's Training, and Summer Course. Write for illustrated catalog No. 108
J. W. BEESON, A. M., LL. D., - - MERIDIAN, MISS.

MEMPHIS CONFERENCE FEMALE INSTITUTE
Historic College for Young Ladies of the South
Established in 1837, chartered in 1843. An honorable history of splendid achievement. All denominations attend. Located in Jackson, Tennessee, a town of 20,000, which boasts of never having had an epidemic. Offers a health record unsurpassed anywhere. In a community of beautiful homes, intelligent, refined people, deeply religious tendencies and a marked "school atmosphere." A safe home school in every respect, providing perfect conditions for thorough education.
Beautiful shaded grounds equipped with tennis courts, etc., in the heart of the city, affording every opportunity for healthful outdoor exercise together with the inspiring and cultural influences of the city. A completely equipped and well appointed brick building of size, electric lighted, hot and cold water, plenty of light and ventilation. A gymnasium. Wonderful chalybeate well near.
(A. B. and B. L. Literary Courses.) Thirteen competent instructors. A conservatory of music, conducted by artists of highest reputation, offering great opportunities in Piano, Voice, Violin and Harmony. Splendid Schools of Expression, Art and Dressmaking. Educational trips to Memphis and St. Louis a feature of next session. Terms moderate. Attendance doubled last two years.
For Descriptive Catalogue and 1915-16 announcement, Address
Rev. Henry G. Hawkins, A. B., President, Jackson, Tenn.

A NOTE OF APPRECIATION.

To the Editor and Publisher of the Advocate: I desire to express to you my appreciation of the work that you are doing in issuing the New Orleans Christian Advocate. It is with much regret that I have learned of the difficulties that you are having to face at this time. With 115,000 Methodists in Mississippi and 36,000 in Louisiana, to say nothing of your affiliated constituency, it is a reproach to us that such a condition of things should be allowed to exist.

In my judgment our Church has no other paper that excels the Advocate. The stands that you have taken on the various issues before the Church have been, I think, invariably correct, and in my opinion, your advocacy of your views has been strong and convincing. Your paper is read up this way with interest and delight.

I would like to make a suggestion to our pastors. Let every preacher get into touch with the lay leader at every appointment and arrange for him to take a few minutes of the preaching service in presenting the claims of the Advocate to the congregation. This would enable our lay leaders to render a helpful service, and I believe that much good would accrue to the Advocate.

All honor to Bishop Hoss, Bishop Candler, Dr. S. A. Steel, and you, Mr. Editor, for standing up for the cause of Christian Education and the Church! Yours fraternally,

L. T. CARPENTER.

Booneville, Miss.

MARRIED.

At Campti, La., on Feb. 3, 1915, by Rev. E. L. Cargill, Mr. THOMAS GOODSON and Miss PAULINE WILLIAMSON, both of Natchitoches Parish.

At Campti, La., on June 16, 1915, by Rev. E. L. Cargill, Mr. OWEN WEATHERSBY and Miss EVA WALLETT, both of Natchitoches Parish.

THE NATIONAL SPIRIT DEMANDS A NATIONAL DRINK.

The dominant characteristic of the American people is their remarkable energy and push. In labor, in business, in professional life, we have no place for the laggard. As nature abhors a vacuum so our modern civilization abhors the man or woman who is afraid of hard and prolonged effort, whether of muscle or mind.

There are those that decry the spirit of the times. They tell us that we are living too fast; that we are burning the candle at both ends. But if life is to be measured by accomplishment, as our greatest thinkers declare, it is evident that our moden civilization is worth the price we pay for it, and more.

The reward of our modern civilization is accomplishment; the price is physical and mental fatigue. The apostles of leisure complacently accept the fruits of our toil. They praise the great discoveries and inventions of our master minds; they laud the material conquests of our manufacturers and merchant princes; they appropriate the fruits of toil from our fields, our forests and mines. And they forget that the price of it all is physical and mental fatigue.

What shall we do with fatigue? Our scientists tell us that it kills. They say that work is good for us; that it exercises and develops our nerves and muscles, but that when work is carried to the point of fatigue our tissues begin to break down rapidly. As fatigue is the price of accomplishment, as it is universal and inevitable, we must face the problem of relieving it. To ignore it is to court disaster; to avoid it is impossible under modern conditions of life.

Like other great problems of modern life, the solution of the problem of fatigue is being worked out by the process of selection and elimination. Alcoholic beverages have been tried and found wanting, not that they do not relieve fatigue but that they relieve it by artificial stimulation which in turn is followed by a corresponding depression resulting in a tendency to increase the quantity daily until their use constitutes a habit.

Thus far only two strictly wholesome and efficient fatigue-relieving substances have been found, viz: xanthin, the refreshing agent in beef tea and meat extracts, and caffein, the refreshing agent in coffee, tea and Coca-Cola. Caffein and xanthin belong to the same physiological group, the former being of vegetable origin and the latter of animal origin. Both are xanthins, both relieve fatigue in the same manner and both may be used year after year for a lifetime with only the most pleasant and beneficial results. This statement requires modification in the case of coffee and tea, at least when carelessly prepared, for overboiling dissolves more or less of the tannic acid, an astringent substance which interferes with digestion. Those who have experienced unpleasant effects from the use of coffee or tea will find that by more careful attention to the preparation of these beverages all disagreeable effects will be avoided. Coffee and tea should never be boiled. Use the drip method and you will avoid the acrid taste and the unpleasant effect, both of which are due to an excess of tannic acid.

This leads us up to Coca-Cola, popularly known as the National Drink. in it we have the nearest approach to a perfect relief for fatigue. It is better than tea and coffee in that it contains no tannic acid; better than beef-tea and the meat extracts in that it is far more delicious and refreshing; better than all the fatigue-relieving beverages in that its universal sale makes it accessible at the time when you first feel the approach of fatigue rather than after it is too late, or before relief is needed, as in the case of beverages served at meal times.

The Coca-Cola Company wishes the public to know everything that is to be known about the National Drink. To this end it has prepared an exhaustive booklet describing its composition, its preparation and its effects in quenching the thirst, in relieving fatigue and in refreshing the mind and body. The booklet contains the scientific opinions of the world's leading authorities. Write for a copy. Read it carefully and understand why Coca-Cola is the nearest approach to a perfect solution of the problem of fatigue. Copies of this book may be had by addressing the Advertising Managers of this paper, Messrs. Jacobs & Company, Clinton, S. C.—Advertisement.

Seashore Camp Grounds

BILOXI, MISSISSIPPI

No lovelier place for an outing than Seashore Campground. Excellent board at the Campground, or near, at $1 a day. Twenty-five miles of trolley along the beach. Excursion to Ship Island at little cost. The prettiest trolley ride in America. Salt baths, safe and delightful. Boats at reasonable rates. Bathing privileges free. The fishing is great. Come and see!

Divinity School, June 22 (8 o'clock p. m.) to July 1, noon

Lecturers: Rev. George L. Robinson, D.D., Professor, American School of Archeology at Jerusalem; Rev. Allen Hoben, Ph.D., Author of "The Minister and the Boy"; Rev. W. J. Young, D.D., Professor of Homiletics and Pastoral Theology at Emory University.

Conference Course: In addition to the lectures given daily the Conference Course will be taught by capable instructors. Certificates will be issued to all undergraduates who make a grade of not less than 60 per cent.

Expenses: Tuition, $2.50; board and lodging, $1 per day.

For further information apply to Rev. Rob't Selby, Brookhaven, Miss.

Camp Meeting begins July 14.

The preaching will be done by Rev. B. F. Fraser, D.D., of Oxford, Ga. Dr. Fraser is one of Georgia's greatest Pastor-Evangelists.

What better place for the family could be found than the Seashore Campground during the Camp Meeting. All Methodist ministers are entertained free during this meeting.

Assembly for Christian Workers, July 22 to August 2.

A SCHOOL FOR TRAINING AND FITTING FOR BETTER SERVICE IN THE SUNDAY SCHOOL, THE EPWORTH LEAGUE, THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

For further information apply to Rev. Elmer C. Gunn, Longbeach, Miss.

For Particulars—With regard to accommodations, address P. B. Bell, manager of the Seashore Campground, Biloxi, Miss., or S. H. Meyer, 116 St. Charles St., New Orleans.

Wesleyan College

Macon, Georgia

Founded in 1836. Graduated its First Class in 1840. Seventy-nine Years of Eminent Success. Ranks Easily With the Best Colleges in the Country.

THE WESLEYAN, an "A" grade college in the truest sense, offers courses in the languages, literature, mathematics, the sciences, philosophy, education, history and economics, household arts and sciences, the Bible and religious education. The full four years of college work are credited by the best universities. Excellent equipment and a large faculty afford ample opportunity for election of preferred branches of study.

While supreme emphasis is laid upon the courses leading to the Bachelor's degree, the strongest possible departments of music, art and expression are maintained.

Fourteen eminent American artists and teachers are employed in the Conservatory of Music. The three men at the head of the departments of piano, voice and pipe organ, respectively, are unsurpassed on the continent, while the violin teacher is easily the South's greatest.

The departments of expression, painting and drawing and china painting are in charge of several teachers of rare qualifications.

The situation of Wesleyan is ideal, its health record practically perfect, its social and moral atmosphere delightful.

The Wesleyan diploma is the highest academic honor. The thousands of alumnae are leaders everywhere and in every realm of woman's influence.

Write

C. R. JENKINS, D. D., President.

Renew Your Health
At Nature's Fountain

Without the Expense and Loss of Time Necessary for a Visit to the Spring

THE CRISIS

There comes a time in the life of practically every man and woman when their digestive or eliminative organs, or both, fail to respond to drugs prepared by human skill. In fact drugs seem to do them about as much harm as good for their systems rebel against all drugs. These are the cases which physicians call "stubborn" and "chronic" for the reason that they persist in spite of drug treatment. I do not refer to incurable diseases such as cancer and consumption, but to that larger class of functional disorders which we meet every day, where the organs of digestion and elimination are impaired.

For this class of cases our best physicians and our big city specialists send their wealthy patients to the mineral springs where, in the great majority of cases they are permanently restored or decidedly benefited. But what about the poor man who has not the money or the busy man or woman who cannot spare the time to spend several weeks or possibly months at a health resort? Shall circumstances deny them the restoration to health which Nature has provided? Read my answer in the coupon at the bottom of this page.

I have the utmost confidence in the Shivar Mineral Spring Water for to it I owe my Restoration to Health and probably my Life. It has made me tens of thousands of friends in all parts of America and even in foreign countries, whose faces I have never seen. Yet I count them my friends for the Shivar Spring Water has bound them to me by lasting gratitude.

I ask you to read their letters, a few samples of which I publish below for your benefit, and if you find among them any encouragement as to your own health do not hesitate to accept my offer which has no limits or conditions except those shown on the coupon. If you could read the letters that come to me daily, numbering about ten thousand a year, and the vast majority of them similar to those printed below, you would not wonder that I make this offer displaying my absolute confidence in the restorative powers of Shivar Mineral Water.

INDIGESTION

Savannah, Georgia.
I was suffering with indigestion, stomach and liver disorders and all its train of horrifying phenomena for several months. I had lived on milk, soft eggs, shredded wheat, a very insufficient diet for an active working man, and, of course, from disease and starvation was in a very low state of nervous vitality and general debility. I ordered ten gallons of your Mineral Water which I used continuously, reordering when necessary, and in four months gained twenty-nine pounds, was strong and perfectly well, and have worked practically every day since. It acts as a general renovator of the system. I prescribe it in my practice, and it has in every instance had the desired effects. It is essential to use this water in as large quantities as possible, for its properties are so happily blended and in such proportion that they will not disturb the most delicate system. It is purely Nature's remedy.
A. L. R. AVANT, M. D.

La Grange, Ga., Nov. 25, 1914.
I feel it my duty to suffering humanity to make public announcement of the benefits I have derived from Shivar Spring Water. I have been a sufferer for the past twenty-five years from indigestion and dyspepsia. After one week's trial of Shivar Water I commenced to improve, and after drinking it for four weeks I gained fifteen pounds. I feel better and stronger than I have in twenty-five years. I strongly recommend this Water to any one with stomach trouble of any character, and truly believe it will cure nicer of the stomach. I am writing this voluntarily and trust it will fall in the hands of many who are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with indigestion and nervous dyspepsia.
C. V. TRUITT,
President Unity Cotton Mills.

Johnston, S. C.
I wish to add my testimony to the wonderful curative powers of the Shivar Mineral Water. For a number of years my wife has been a sufferer from indigestion and nervous debility, and her condition had reached such a stage as to baffle the skill of our most eminent physicians. Her extreme nervousness and heart troubles at times were alarming and she had become almost a nervous wreck. The latter part of last May she began using the Shivar Water, which she has continued to this date with most satisfactory results.
H. C. BAILEY,
Editor Johnston News-Monitor.

DYSPEPSIA

Blaney, S. C.
I have suffered for many years from gastric troubles, stomach puffed and food sour. I have tried many remedies and a good many waters. Some have helped, but none have given me such relief as your Spring Water. I use it and recommend it to my patients.
W. D. GRIGGSBY, M. D.

Baltimore, Md., April 30, 1914.
For many years I suffered with stomach trouble as a direct result of asthma. I consulted the very best specialist in this country, and spent quite a large sum of money in my endeavor to get relief. However, I had about come to the conclusion that my case was hopeless, but by accident I happened to get hold of one of your booklets, and decided to try Shivar Spring Water. After drinking the water for about three weeks I was entirely relieved, and since that time have suffered but little inconvenience from my trouble. I cheerfully recommend the use of your Water to any one that may be suffering from stomach trouble.
OSCAR T. SMITH,
Vice-Pres. Young & Selden Co., Bank Stationers.

RHEUMATISM

Leeds, S. C.
I have tested your Spring Water in several cases of rheumatism, chronic indigestion, kidney and bladder troubles, and in nervous and sick headaches, and find that it has acted nicely in each case, and I believe that if used continuously for a reasonable time will produce a permanent cure. It will purify the blood, relieve debility, stimulate the action of the liver, kidneys and bladder, aiding them in throwing off all poisonous matter.
C. A. CROSBY, M. D.

Fredericksburg, Va.
Mrs. Carter has had enlarged joints upon her hands, caused by rheumatism. Shivar Spring Water removed every trace of the enlargement.
WM. C. CARTER.

Roper, N. C., Oct. 30, 1914.
I am anxious to get more of the Water. It has done me more good than anything I have ever tried for rheumatism.
MRS. H. C. EDWARDS.

Florence, S. C., Dec. 1, 1911.
I suffered with indigestion and kidney trouble, and a year ago was stricken with acute articular rheumatism; was helpless for months, and since using your Spring Water I am walking without any crutch and improving daily. Indigestion much relieved. I wish I could write Shivar Spring Water in the sky so that the world could become acquainted with it.
MRS. THEO. KUKER.

Warrenton, Va., Nov. 24, 1914.
It is doing my rheumatism so much good. My limbs are beginning to feel like new ones.
MRS. JAMES R. CARTER.

BILIOUSNESS

Greenville, S. C., Feb. 26, 1914.
For over two years, following a nervous breakdown, I have suffered with a liver so torpid that ordinary remedies were absolutely powerless. Under such circumstances, I came to Shivar Spring, and began drinking the Water. Upon advice however, the first night I took a laxative; the second night a milder one. Since then I have taken none at all. The effect of the water has been remarkable—its action on my liver most marked, and my health and spirits greatly improved. I am satisfied that the laxative, followed by the Water, was the proper treatment in my case. My condition is now perfect.
S. A. DERIEUX.

Buena Vista, Va., Oct. 2, 1914.
It is a great pleasure to tell you that your Water has been a great benefit. I may say a great blessing, to me. My wife says it has helped me more than anything else I ever tried. I have been, for thirty years, a sufferer from stomach trouble.
REV. E. H. ROWE,
Co-President Southern Seminary.

LIVER AND KIDNEY

Ohoopee, Ga., Aug. 21, 1914.
I feel that it is due you that I should give my testimony, unsolicited, as to the benefits derived from the use of your Shivar Springs Water. I was unable to do my work, and had been under the treatment of physicians for six months for kidney and liver troubles when I decided to try your Spring Water, and now after using it for about thirty days I am able to do my work, feel good, and have gained about twenty pounds. I most heartily recommend its use to all who suffer from disorder of the liver and kidneys.
M. L. STEPHENS.

Carlisle, S. C.
It is fine for liver troubles, also for constipation. I cheerfully give you this information as to beneficial results in my case.
REV. A. McA. PITTMAN.

RENAL AND CYSTIC

Columbia, S. C.
I suffered for eight years with kidney trouble and inflammation of the bladder to the extent that I would have to get up during the night some five or six times. After using this water only a few days, I am entirely relieved and suffer no more effect of the trouble whatever.
J. P. D.

Virgilina, Va., March 28, 1914.
Your Water has done me more good than anything I ever tried for bladder trouble.
A. R. F.

Wesley, Ga., May 12, 1914.
I had been down with bladder trouble. Couldn't stand on my feet three minutes at a time. In three days after I commenced drinking your Mineral Water my pain was all gone, could walk where I pleased, and felt like a new man.
S. B. D.

High Point, N. C., Oct. 6, 1914.
My wife has had a bad kidney trouble for several years. She has been using the water only about three weeks and it has already made her a new woman. Her color is much improved her appetite is all that she could wish for, her digestion seems to be perfect. We give Shivar Springs credit for it all.
T. G. S.

GALLSTONES

Greenville, S. C.
Shivar Spring Water cured my mother of gallstones, or, I might say, it snatched her from the hospital door, as the doctors had said nothing short of an operation would do her any good. After drinking the Water she was able to get out of bed, and is today stout and healthy. I hope these few lines will be of help to some one suffering as my mother did.
W. J. STRAWN.

Williamston, N. C. Oct. 3, 1914
My doctor said I would have to be operated on for gallstones, but since I have been drinking your water I haven't had to have a doctor.
W. H. EDWARDS.

Columbia, S. C.
My wife was a chronic sufferer from gallstones. She was stricken critically ill, and nothing but morphine seemed to relieve her pain by rendering her unconscious. My physician, who is a good one, seemed to do very little good. Rev. A. J. Foster, pastor of Shandon Baptist Church of Columbia, S. C., advised me to take her immediately to Shivar Spring. On consulting my physician he agreed that it would be best to do so without delay. In about three days after arriving at the Spring she was apparently relieved and had regained her appetite. She has suffered no ill effect of the trouble since. Please publish this for the benefit of sufferers
J. P. DRAFFIN.

URIC ACID & DIABETES

Chancellor, Ala.
I have been for many years affected with uric acid and kidney trouble, and the Mineral Water has helped me more than anything I have ever done for them and therefore heartily recommend same to all who need a speedy relief and cure.
W. F. MATHENY, M. D.

Lexington, Va.
I can recommend your Mineral Water for disorders caused by uric poison. I suffered and have been relieved. It affords me pleasure to recommend this Water to all sufferers.
J. H. WHITMORE.

Roxboro, N. C.
I have used ten gallons of your Mineral Water, and it has done me worlds of good. My disease is diabetes. I lost two years out of three from my work, and your Water is putting me back on my feet again.
JOHN R. PETTIGREW.

Derma, Miss., May 8, 1914.
Have suffered for several years with diabetes. I feel almost cured. Have recommended the Water to others.
Mrs. J J.

Sanford, N. C., April 15, 1914.
Have been down eight weeks with diabetes. Ordered Shivar Spring Water, began drinking it, and keep improving. Showed my doctor the analysis and he said it was just what I needed, with a lithia tablet added.
Mrs. J. D. H.

Sanford, N. C.
Have been down eight weeks with diabetes. Ordered Shivar Spring Water began drinking it, and keep improving. Showed my doctor the analysis and he said it was just what I needed, with a lithia tablet added.
MRS. J. D. H.

Derma, Miss.
Have suffered for several years with diabetes. I feel almost cured. Have recommended the Water to others.
MRS. J. J.

Fill Out This Coupon and Mail It Today.

Shivar Spring,
Box 17T, Shelton, S. C.

Gentlemen:—I accept your offer and enclose herewith two dollars ($2.00) for ten gallons of Shivar Mineral Spring Water. I agree to give it a fair trial in accordance with the instructions which you will send, and if I derive no benefit therefrom you agree to refund the price in full, upon receipt of the two empty demijohns, which I agree to return promptly.

Name.....P. O.....

Express Office.....

☞ Please write distinctly.

NEW ORLEANS
CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE

Vol. 62—No. 26. Official Organ of the Louisiana, Mississippi, and North Mississippi Conferences, Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Whole No. 3097.

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor. NEW ORLEANS, LA., THURSDAY, JULY 1, 1915. CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Editorial

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY AND THE M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

We have long desired for the time to come when it would never again be necessary for us to write the name of Vanderbilt University and when we might dismiss to the irrevocable past, as far as such a thing is possible, the black record by which that institution was wrested from the Methodist Episcopal Church, South; and once or twice we have been led to indulge the fond hope that that happy day was at hand—only, however, to be rudely disillusioned a little later. But, anxious as we have been, and are, to see the final end of this regrettable controversy which has disturbed the peace and quiet of Southern Methodism for the past ten years, we have not the slightest notion of shirking our duty as one of the official editors of the Connection by lapsing into silence when the imperiled interests of the Church demand that we should speak out.

Vanderbilt University, under its present management, which has lately announced its future scheme of operation, is, as we see it, a grave menace to the welfare of our denomination—perhaps quite as much so as it has ever been. Nor are we by any means alone in this opinion. Dr. W. D. Bradfield, the capable editor of the Texas Christian Advocate, in discussing this subject in his paper of May 27, 1915, said: "The Board of Trust of Vanderbilt University is well aware that for every student sent them by Methodist preachers there will be one less for the Southern Methodist or Emory University. The sooner we realize, therefore, that Vanderbilt University is a dagger pointed at the heart of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and her institutions, the better it will be for our future as a Church. Having taken our property, the Board of Trust of Vanderbilt University has now set its hand to the task of our disintegration. And if it can keep within its walls our young men and young women for four years, the task is already accomplished." We could cite other statements from eminent sources that are in perfect harmony with this utterance if we cared to take the time and space to do so. In fact, we know that this view is fully shared by all of the ablest loyal leaders of the Church—the men who fought for the maintenance of her rights in Vanderbilt University and who have most heavily upon their hearts the upbuilding of her new educational enterprises. It is the gravity of this situation, therefore, that leads us to take up again for a somewhat extended discussion this unpleasant and irritating subject.

All Legal Ties Forever Destroyed.

What are the present relations of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, to Vanderbilt University? There are no ties whatever of a legal character. The Church has been absolutely ejected from the institution and there is no possibility of her ever regaining any of the rights therein which have been wrested from her. Upon this point all are agreed. The able attorneys who represented the Church in the lawsuit declared that no further litigation was possible, and the leading counselor for the trustees was dependably quoted as saying, after the decision of the Tennessee Supreme Court, that the Church had practically nothing left. The Vanderbilt Board of Trust, by formal action, has affirmed that the Church has forfeited all its claims in the University, and the Educational Commission, created by the last General Conference, after conferring with some of the most learned lawyers in the South, solemnly pronounced the case to be res adjudicata in every respect and went on record to the effect that the Church had been stripped of everything of any consequence. So there is not the faintest shadow of a hope that the Church by any future process can ever again legally assert any claim upon Vanderbilt University. Nothing could be more conclusively settled than this, and any notion to the contrary is utterly chimerical.

Still Connecting Links.

But while all legal relations between the Church and Vanderbilt University have been forever destroyed, there yet remain connecting links between the two. What are some of these? Some may expect us to mention as one nexus the fact that a number of the present Board of Trustees claim to be Methodists; but these gentlemen have indubitably shown that they cannot be trusted so to manage the affairs of the institution as to make it in any sense serviceable to the Church. On the contrary, it was they who betrayed, made war upon, and destroyed the rights of the Church in Vanderbilt University, invoking to do so methods which even they have never had the temerity to undertake to defend in the public prints. So these trustees may be set down as a negligible factor in summing up the Church influences that yet remain in the alienated institution.

A connecting link of far more importance—one that is vastly more hurtful in its influence to the Church—is that constituted by the Methodist preachers in the faculty of Vanderbilt University. Let us glance at the names of these men who in spite of the manner in which the Church has been outraged by the Vanderbilt Board of Trust are willing to accept positions in the University, as they are given in the April number of the Vanderbilt Bulletin. The following are set down therein as members of the faculty of the Theological Department of the institution:

Dr. W. F. Tillett, Dean—a member of the Tennessee Conference.

Dr. O. E. Brown, of the Missouri Conference.

Dr. J. H. Stevenson, of the Memphis Conference.

Dr. Thomas Carter, of the Louisiana Conference.

Dr. H. B. Carre, of the Louisiana Conference.

Rev. W. W. Alexander, Director in Student Social Service and Instructor in Y. M. C. A. work. (He is filling a Southern Methodist pastorate in Nashville).

Dr. A. M. Trawick, of the Tennessee Conference, Special Lecturer in Y. M. C. A. Course on Social Study, etc.

W. D. Weatherford, Lecturer of Y. M. C. A. Course. A Methodist and General Secretary of the Southern Student Work of the Y. M. C. A.

Bishop W. R. Lambuth, Cole Lecturer, 1915. (He has been given a conspicuous place in the list of the faculty. It is due Bishop Lambuth, however, to say that we have been told that he had agreed to deliver this course of lectures about two years before the Supreme Court of Tennessee had rendered its decision, but unfortunately this does not explain the Bishop's presence at the Alumni Banquet of the University in June, 1914, and the remarkable speech that he made on that occasion.)

The following gentlemen are set down in the Vanderbilt Bulletin (April) as having delivered during the last session "Special Lectures" to the Vanderbilt theological students, along with the announcement that similar lectures will be provided for during the next session:

Dr. G. B. Winton. (He is serving the Blakemore Methodist Church in Nashville, and if we mistake not, has been teaching Spanish in Vanderbilt University).

Dr. T. A. Kerley, pastor East End Methodist Church, Nashville.

Dr. Fitzgerald S. Parker, Editor of the Epworth Era, Nashville.

Dr. T. C. Ragsdale, pastor McKendree Church, Nashville.

Dr. John M. Moore, Secretary Home Missions, Nashville.

Dr. Gross Alexander, Editor of The Methodist Review, Nashville.

Dr. W. W. Pinson, Missionary Secretary, Nashville.

Dr. E. H. Rawlings, Educational Missionary Secretary.

Conspicuous among the lecturers in the Vanderbilt Summer School we note the name of Dr. H. N. Snyder, of Wofford College, who has for years been a Kirkland satellite.

Of course, we have only written down the names of the Methodist instructors and lecturers; of the beautiful array from other Churches we have made no mention.

Another Link.

Besides this faculty link, there is another, which might be termed the student link. It consists of the students who have been appointed to pursue courses of study at Vanderbilt, some of whom we have been told are partially supported by serving Methodist charges in proximity to Nashville. Evidently it is the expectation of the directors of "the Vanderbilt School of Religion" to keep up this connection, and possibly extend it, since on page 27 of the late Bulletin is contained the following statement: "Many of those who wish to defray their expenses in part will find opportunities for so doing in preaching in the vicinity of the University."

Remarkable Campaign Methods.

Such are some of the connections that the

(Continued on Page 5.)

TELL HIM.

The little sharp vexations,
And the briers that catch and fret
Why not take all to the Helper
Who has never failed us yet?
Tell him about the heartache,
And tell him the longings, too;
Tell him the baffled purpose,
When we scarce know what to do;
Then leaving all our weakness
With the one sublimely strong,
Forget that we bore the burden
And carry away the song.

—Phillips Brooks.

THE TRUE IDEAL.

Our Lord is not honored by insisting that his Church is a divided one, and by making outward uniformity the ideal—an ideal that will never be attained, so long as tastes differ and men are free to choose; but he is the rather honored and his cause advanced by proclaiming to the world that his Church is already one, a far grander ideal; and by co-operation, not among two or three, but among all the denominations in seeking to live up to that ideal.—Presbyterian Witness.

THE SECRET OF THEIR SUCCESS.

"Do you wonder that the apostles "turned the world upside down?" that the early disciples "went everywhere preaching the Word?" that St. Paul spent himself and was spent, became all things to all men that by all means he might save some? The first converts felt themselves to be new-born men. They had been delivered, and they had been delivered in order to deliver others. "Every Christian told his neighbor—the laborer to his fellow-slave, the servant to his master and mistress—the story of his conversion, as a mariner tells the story of his rescue from shipwreck."—Rev. John Y. Ewart, D. D.

A HUMILIATING TRUTH.

When Mr. Sherwood Eddy was in China he asked a former Chinese premier why he did not become a Christian, and the Chinaman replied: "Mr. Eddy, when I look at Europe, engaged in bloody and cruel war in the name of Christ; when I look at my own city, where we, by national decree, have closed every opium shop and stopped the sale of opium, voluntarily losing millions of dollars annually, and see in your foreign settlements 600 opium shops selling $600,000 worth of opium every week to debauch the men we are trying to save—when I see all this I do not like to put my foot into such a mess." This is pretty strong, and some of us may not think it quite fair, but the sting is in its truthfulness. The Christian nations are not Christian.—Southern Churchman.

A PILGRIM OF THE INFINITE.

Professor Upton, of Mansfield College, England, says that "the ideals of the soul are invitations;" and authentic invitations they are indeed from the Lord of a higher manor to be his guest above. Many years ago some stranger asked William Taylor in Australia, "What is your place of residence?" "I'm residing on the earth at present, but do not know how soon I shall change my residence," answered the world-wandering evangelist. He talked as if he thought he had somewhere else to go. Years later he went. He is there now. Was Abel Stevens a fool when he wrote to Zion's Herald, "Thank God, I am walking by faith and hoping for higher worlds?" "I should like," wrote Wordsworth to a young lady, "to visit Italy again before I move to another planet." A crippled boy sat in his wheeled chair on the ferry-boat and a sympathetic lady, pitying his helplessness, exclaimed to her friend, "Poor fellow! What has he to look forward to?" The cripple overheard it, and turning his head, said pleasantly, "Wings, some day."—Presbyterian of the South.

ONLY ONE GOSPEL.

By Bishop John C. Kilgo.

In his Epistle to the Galatians St. Paul, in the strongest terms, made it forever clear that there are not two or more gospels of the Lord Jesus Christ, but one gospel, and not even an angel from heaven dared to revise it. As well talk of two multiplication tables, or two straight lines between the same two points, or two different centers for the same circle as to talk of two gospels. Truth is always final. Spoken for one age it is truth for all ages. This is elemental. And in the light of it all attempts to set forth a new gospel is nothing less than a perversion of the one and only true gospel, and of all forms of infidelity or denials of Christ none is so deceptive, so baseless, and so fatal as perversions of the gospel once delivered unto the saints. It is against this type of infidelity the Church is called to battle in these times. Infidelity has ceased to blaspheme, to brazenly oppose and boldly deny Christianity. The former attitude has given place to a patronizing attitude, and with the credentials of human wisdom the doubter proposes amendments which will eliminate all the objectionable features of the gospel, and make it an easy religion for all types of mind and all kinds of consciences. Original Christianity, they affirm with condescending airs, lacks adaptation, though it contains certain elements which may be put in a shape to amply meet the well recognized demands of human nature for some sort of religion. Against all this every true saint must register St. Paul's vigorous protest.

In two widely differing journals, published in different sections of our country recently, appeared these statements. In giving an account of some religious services held in an institution of learning the reporter said:

"There were more than one hundred students who pledged themselves to better living and to definite stands for Christian ideals and conduct."

The second statement appeared in connection with a college program of religious meetings, and the methods of Mr. Sunday in his meetings. The report, speaking of the new way discovered by the leaders of this particular meeting, says:

"They have found that the old system of sensational evangelism, in which the appeal is made to the emotions, is not the proper way to reach the student mind. The new idea in religious meetings has caused the establishment of a new school of religious thought. In conducting campaigns similar to the one which is to be held at ———, the appeal to the sinners is made primarily to the intellect, and may be known as the scholarly method of evangelism."

These instances may be taken as illustrations of a perverted gospel which some are urging today with all the prestige which may be borrowed from pretended learning. They show a pitiable lack of any serious and deep knowledge of the dreadful issues Jesus came into the world to settle. In the light of these new ways, where is the justification of the Word becoming flesh, his outlay of miraculous powers, in pains of an advancing sacrifice, the tragedy of Calvary, the resurrection from the dead, the ascension into heaven, the advent of the Holy Ghost, and all the marvelous manifestations of his presence and power in the history of the Church? If these things have no other meaning than "ideals," "better living," and the intellectual approval of college students, the disproportion between Christ's history and his aims is a most startling enigma.

Nor are there any valid grounds for the assumption that human nature in the streets is one thing and human nature on a college campus is quite another thing. Or that the uneducated man has need of one kind of salvation and the educated man another kind of salvation. There is absolutely no evidence that sin among college teachers and college students is an insignificant affair, while among laborers it is a most dreadful thing. And certainly some recent scandals within academic circles bear horrible testimony that the carnality of the unconverted professor is entirely similar to the carnality of the unconverted heathen; while no intelligent person can see why a trip on a railroad from the country farm to the college campus marks such a radical change in a youth as to call for a revisal of the plan of salvation. It is no secret among men that the human nature in college faculties is of the common kind, and sometimes of the very common kind, and no men have deeper needs for an atonement for their sins, a repentance toward God and regeneration by the Holy Spirit than college teachers and students.

The dread of emotionalism in religion is an ancient form of disfavor. And assuredly the person who thinks the college community is so very intellectual that it is beyond emotional influences will find abundant grounds to change his views by attendance on a single game of foot ball or baseball. College people are the most emotional people on earth, and are liable to the most fanatical outbursts of emotionalism upon the slightest cause. But be this as it may, the Christian religion is a religion of emotion because it is a religion designed to save sinners, and human nature has its spiritual and moral forces not within the circle of intellectual conclusions, but in the deep moral affections. Faith, hope, love and their opposites are not judgments, but sentiments of the most potent kind. And these are the forces which give direction to life. To love God is the supreme command. Shall it be revised to read, Thou shalt have right notions about God? This dread of religious emotion belongs to the half-hearted who will not consent to yield themselves completely to the demands of the gospel.

Intellectualizing religion is not a new endeavor. Germany has devoted her energies to it. And if she had not so completely intellectualized her religion in the universities perhaps she would not now be reaping such a harvest of emotionalism in the trenches. In this country New England has made large boast of intellectual religion and it has been the center of religious fads and follies for America. Christian Science had its home under the shadow of Harvard University, Emanuelism is a Boston product, and Doctor Eliot is employing his last days in an effort to invent a new religion. And the popular suspicion of the religious leadership of colleges because of their coldness and lack of sympathy with mankind should be sufficient warning to them against putting religion on a purely intellectual basis. It is not unlikely that the most difficult missionary task ahead of the Church will be the overthrow of a perverted gospel taught the heathen world, for much of this kind of preaching is going abroad in the name of the Christian religion. The rise of new denominations have generally been the divine protest against perversions of the gospel as preached by the Apostles, and the next world revival may be the birth of a new branch of the Church. The history of the Church is ample proof that a Church unsound in doctrines is apostate in life and fruitless in labors.

STATEMENT OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE METHODIST HOSPITAL, OF MEMPHIS, TENN.

We, the Hospital Commissioners, elected as representatives of Memphis, North Arkansas, Mississippi, and North Mississippi Conferences in the building of a Methodist Hospital in the City of Memphis, Tenn., present the following statement of the progress and needs of the work:

Our financial agent, Rev. H. M. Ellis, of the Mississippi Conference, was elected Field Secretary about the middle of May, 1911, and put in the field to raise the necessary funds. He has secured subscriptions for more than $150,000, of which $39,605.84 has been paid.

We have purchased the W. B. Mallory home as our permanent hospital site. This property consists of eight and one-half acres of beautiful land in the heart of one of the best residential sections of Memphis and is several blocks nearer the new Union Depot than any other hospital. It faces 535½ feet on Lamar Boulevard, on which is one of the best street car lines of the city, and has a depth of 672 feet, amounting to nearly four city blocks.

On this property is a massive three-story brick and stone residence of beautiful architecture, having 22 rooms, which, by the installation of an elevator and the making of other improvements, can be of immediate service in our work. Those knowing the property express unqualified satisfaction with our purchase.

We paid $100,000 for this property. In making this trade we sold to Captain Mallory for $22,500 the lots on Union Avenue that we had formerly purchased. Our first cash payment was $5000, leaving us owing at the present time $72,500, which is to be liquidated in easy annual payments during the next ten years.

The need for our Methodist Hospital grows more evident and urgent every day. Memphis hospitals are crowded to their capacity all the time, and more of our people occupy their beds than those of almost any other denomination. We are occupying room that by right should be given to others, and we are thus crowding out those who have prior claim.

At the last session of each of our co-operating Annual Conferences, in response to our request, strong resolutions were passed without a dissenting vote, urging each church and Sunday school within its bounds to make an offering to our hospital. If every Sunday school and church in our four Conferences would make even a small offering we would have sufficient funds in hand to enable us to begin hospital work with a capacity for 75 patients.

With our present property, $30,000 will enable us to equip and open a thoroughly up-to-date hospital. This small amount could be easily and promptly raised by our Sunday schools and churches if only our capable presiding elders and pastors and superintendents could realize the urgent need and would put forth a hearty and enthusiastic effort.

It is our earnest desire to secure this $30,000 as soon as possible that we may make the necessary additions and alterations to our present building and be able to open the Methodist Hospital by the first of September next. And to this end we beg the co-operation of all our people. For a speedy and worthy success of the enterprise, send us as large a contribution as you can, and pray God to move others to contribute liberally of their means.

Signed by all the Commissioners, as follows:

North Mississippi Conference—W. S. Lagrone, J. W. Dorman, Jno. H. Sherard, J. D. Barbee, Mrs. Robt. Somerville.

North Arkansas Conference—Mrs. Ada L. Roussan, W. P. Jones, J. E. Little, J. K. Farris, F. S. H. Johnston, Ed. Hamilton.

Memphis Conference—Mrs. St. John Waddell, T. K. Riddick, L. M. Stratton, T. W. Lewis, H. B. Johnston, J. R. Pepper.

Mississippi Conference—J. R. Jones, J. T. Leggett, L. N. Dantzler, P. H. Enochs, W. E. Lampton, Mrs. Mollie McQueen.

NEWTON DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

The Newton District Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, met at Philadelphia, Miss., on Wednesday, June 8, and was presided over by the presiding elder, Rev. C. F. Emery. Numerically, this is the largest district within the bounds of Mississippi, and the Conference was largely attended. The host of the Conference was Rev. J. G. Galloway, a brother of the deceased Bshop Galloway. The opening prayer was led by Rev. Robert Selby, presiding elder of the Brookhaven District. A second prayer was led by Rev. O. G. Halliburton, of the Lake and Hickory charge. Prof. A. S. McLendon, of Newton, was elected secretary. A welcome address was delivered by H. L. Austin.

"Should the Conference Pay its Missionary Assessments?" was discussed by Rev. J. T. Abney, of Bay Springs, and by Dr. W. H. Mars, a layman, of Philadelphia. Rev. C. M. Crossley, of Forest, was on the program, but he was detained by the illness of his child. Rev. J. C. Arnett, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, was introduced and made a pleasing address, as did the Rev. Mr. Hammill, of the Memphis Conference. Rev. Robert Selby, presiding elder of the Brookhaven District, addressed the Conference on Education and Rev. T. J. O'Neil, president of Port Gibson Female College, spoke briefly of the institution over which he presides. Rev. W. W. Graves, of Newton, preached a most eloquent and forceful sermon from the text, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature."

Second Day.

The second day of the Conference was opened Thursday morning. The "Every-member Canvass" for missions was discussed by Rev. J. L. Neill, pastor of the First Church, Laurel. "How to Secure Collections in Full" was discussed by Rev. W. A. Hayes, of Decatur. "The New Layman" was discussed by Prof. A. S. McLendon, of Newton. Rev. J. L. Neill led in the discussion of the "Four Outstanding Objects of Our New Missionary Policy."

R. A. Maddox, Sunday School Field Secretary, delivered a very practical address on the conditions and needs of the Sunday school interests in the bounds of the Conference.

Rev. W. W. Graves, of Newton, spoke in behalf of the Montrose Training School and stated that the local citizens had kindly proposed to donate $100 toward repairs in case the Conference would provide $100. The required $100 was subscribed in a few minutes.

Rev. H. M. Ellis spoke in behalf of the Methodist Hospital at Memphis.

Rev. W. M. Williams spoke interestingly and inspirationally of the Orphans' Home. The presiding elder next called for pastors' reports. Only a few of these had reported when it became necessary, on account of the lateness of the hour, to adjourn.

Third Day.

The third and last day of the Conference was devoted chiefly to hearing reports of the pastors and of the usual committees. Part of the time was taken in hearing reports of local preachers and passing their characters.

The following were elected lay delegates to the Annual Conference: J. H. Bassett, Dr. R. B. Boykin, Dr. W. H. Mars, and Prof. J. M. Kennedy. Prof. Kennedy was also elected district lay leader.

Rose Hill, Jasper County, was selected as the place for the next district conference.

The 11 o'clock sermon was preached by Rev. C. M. Crossley, of Forest. The sermon was very earnest and impressive, being based upon Romans 13:1.

In the afternoon devotional exercises were led by Rev. B. H. Williams, of Rose Hill, pastor of the Garlandville charge.

The Conference ordered a message of sympathy sent to Bishop J. H. McCoy, of Birmingham, Ala., on account of the recent death of Mrs. McCoy.

Resolutions concerning Vanderbilt University were passed, advising that the institutions properly connected with the Church be patronized, rather than one which had shown lack of proper regard for the Church and its rights and officials. These resolutions were ordered published in the New Orleans Christian Advocate and the Christian Advocate at Nashville.

Mrs. J. C. Clark, of Laurel, spoke in the interest of the Woman's Missionary Society.

There was a breeze of amusement when Rev. Simpson Tubby, a Choctaw Indian preacher, in reporting for his people, said: "One thing you all will have to explain to me. What I mean is about insurance. We don't know what that is; but I see you all been cuttin' up about it—ask somebody tell me what you mean—what you want to get insured—the Church or me?"

Resolutions of thanks were adopted expressing gratitude to the people of Philadelphia for their hospitality; also thanking the Presbyterian brethren for the use of their church building, the Methodist Church there having been burned down some months ago. The pastor, Rev. J. G. Galloway, announced that the new church would be built in the near future.

The sessions of the Conference were characterized by harmony and brotherly feeling throughout.

A. S. McCLENDON, Secretary

COLUMBUS DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

Following the opening sermon on Thursday evening, June 10, preached by Rev. W. L. Duren, of Columbus First Church, the Columbus District Conference convened in annual session on Friday morning, June 11, in the delightful little town of Crawford, Miss., Rev. D. W. Babb being the Conference host.

Extensive and thorough preparation had been made by the pastor and his helpers for the entertainment of the Conference, and nothing was left undone to make our stay in their midst a very pleasant one.

Rev. W. W. Woollard, our capable and much loved presiding elder, was in the chair, and presided to the delight and entire satisfaction of all present.

Sixteen of the seventeen preachers in the district were present, as well as a goodly number of laymen and visitors.

From the opening sermon on Thursday evening to the close of the Conference on Sunday the pulpit ministrations were of the highest order. In addition to Brother Duren, the pulpit was filled from time to time by Revs. T. H. Lipscomb, W. W. Mitchell, R. H. B. Gladney, R. W. Evans, J. R. Countiss, and W. W. Woollard. All of the brethren preached to the delight and edification of all who were so fortunate as to hear them.

The love feast on Sunday morning, conducted by Rev. D. W. Babb, was indeed a gracious occasion, delighting the hearts and uplifting the souls of the many who were present.

It was a distinct disappointment to all not to be able to carry out the splendid program previously arranged by the presiding elder, but for lack of time many of the subjects previously assigned were left untouched. However, these will doubtless be taken up at an "Efficiency Conference" to be held in the near future, plans for which are now being made. This Conference is to be composed of the pastors, charge lay leaders, Sunday school superintendents, and presidents of official boards.

The pastors' reports, as well as the summary given by the presiding elder covering the work of the district for the past six months, were very gratifying and brought much encouragement during these trying times. The finances of the district are ahead of last year, in both the support of the ministry and the amount collected on the various conference claims. More than 225 members have been added to the Church in the district, with but four meetings held thus far. This also compares most favorably with last year. The several pastors, who have as yet held no revivals, are planning for thorough evangelistic campaigns, all of which gives promise of a glorious ingathering during the coming months.

The Conference was honored by several visitors, representing different interests of the Church.

Rev. W. M. Williams, of our Orphans' Home at Jackson, told us in his own inimitable way of conditions at that institution, and all were very much gratified to hear of the ready response with which his appeals have been met from time to time, and to know of the healthy financial condition of our Home.

Rev. R. H. B. Gladney, Sunday School Field Secretary, was present, and by his timely counsel and advice added much to the Conference. He is the right man in the right place, and is bringing things to pass in the great work of the Sunday school.

Rev. H. M. Ellis was also with us and presented the claims of the Methodist Hospital at Memphis in such a way as to leave no room for doubt as to the immediate need of funds to carry out the plans of the Commissioners.

THE BANE OF THE CHURCH (CITED).

Under the topic The Natural Vice Grows Up Directly and We Have Adopt a Habit) [illegible]

ROOMS AND BOARD ON SEASHORE CAMP-GROUND.

Delightful beach resort on the Gulf Coast. Boating, sailing, bathing and other beautiful amusements. Invigorating climate and breezes. Just the place to spend a profitable vacation. Write or address Miss Mary E. Bowers, Manager Mississippi Seashore Campground, Biloxi, Miss.

ENLARGE YOUR DAY

Thousands of people have already learned how to enlarge their days, how to increase the time they can devote to profitable recreation and pleasure without sacrificing work that must be done.

They first discovered that the quickest and most satisfactory way to go "down town" was by the telephone.

Next they applied the same principle to their "out of town" business and social trips, and found it was even more satisfactory and proportionately much cheaper.

Do you Travel by TELEPHONE?

Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co.
(Incorporated.)

MRS. ELLA WATSON DEAD.

[illegible]

THE VANDERBILT "SCHOOL OF RELIGION."

(Resolutions adopted by the Newton, Miss., District Conference, June 11, 1915.)

Whereas according to the decision of the Supreme Court of Tennessee, Vanderbilt University was taken from the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and is now in no sense the property of said Church; and

Whereas, the dominant sentiment of that institution has for some time been unfriendly to Church ownership of the University, expressing itself occasionally in coarse thrusts at certain of

STRENGTHENING GRENADA COLLEGE.

The past year was one of the most successful in the history of Grenada College. The enrollment was normal in spite of the disturbed financial conditions and the collections were the best made during the present administration. With the regular and special collections from the Church, we were able to pay $1200 on the new property and improvements. A number of subscriptions are still unpaid. This work must be pressed till the property is paid for. The Church must provide buildings and equipment for her schools. Students cannot be asked to pay for these. We deserve to receive the full value of every dollar they are required to pay for board and tuition. On no other basis can the Church enter or continue in the educational field. Popular education cannot be commercialized without violating the sacred rights of our youth.

The work done by the faculty deserves all praise. They are a fine body of Christian women doing a noble work for the training and development of our girls. Every member of the literary faculty has had the benefit of university training and all have been detained for another session. We have the teachers of voice, art, domestic science and one in piano. We shall have with us in the piano department Miss Elizabeth Duncan, who has recently returned from two years under Theodor Leschetizky of Vienna. She is an artist teacher of experience and will strengthen that department.

The student body for the session was made up of young women and girls from our very best homes. It is a great thing to feel that not a shadow rests upon the fair name of any student committed to one's care, or associated with one's daughter. There was no serious breach of discipline during the year and the Christian activities were numerous, wholesome and helpful. Only seven or eight students were not faithful members of the Church.

The commencement was the best in recent years. Bishop Morrah came to be two great sermons, preaching to packed congregations morning and evening. Dr. A. W. Milden, of the Chair of Greek, University of Mississippi, delivered an address on "Character Building," in which there was a delightful blending of the classic with the practical, of the cultural with the Christian. The [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[

The Louisiana Educational Campaign

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., President

Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Sec'y

Rev. C. A. Battle, Treas., Baton Rouge, La.

(This Department is conducted by Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Secretary of Education, and Rev. A. J. Gearheard, Publicity Commissioner.)

EXTERNAL OR ETERNAL.

There are many things that enter into the question, "Where shall I send my child to school?" When we talk with the man who measures life by externals, we hear a great deal about equipment, convenience, and standing. He estimates a college by the number of test tubes in the laboratory, or stuffed birds and animals in the museum; by the elegance of the dormitories, or the clubs and fraternities near the campus; by the reputed rank of the college in comparison with other colleges much larger.

There is but one thing that stands the test of time, and that is character. It is of far more importance to investigate the moral and religious tone of a school than it is to investigate the social standing of its patrons. If a boy or girl goes through a well-equipped college and returns home without respect for the Church, or the family altar, and with a special fancy for the latest dances and games of cards, then what has he or she gained? It is better to be piously ignorant of the branches of higher learning than to be sinfully wise in the things of this world.

We do not mean for a moment to single out any institution for criticism. The State has legislated the Bible out of its systems of instruction, but it does not belong out. If my boy or girl is at home then the State school can serve me, because my child will get religious training in my house, but when he has gone from me and is living in a boarding-house with other boys who may not be pious I want to know that he is kept under proper religious influences. I cannot have such assurance unless he is in a church college. A young man said to me the other day: "Mansfield College has had a most wonderful influence over my sister. She is full of happiness and is spiritually religious." A mother spoke to me about her Centenary boy and this is what she said: "He takes such a hearty interest in the Church." Can as much be said for other colleges that are not under the influence of the Church?

William McKinley, while President of the United States, spoke to the student body of the church school where I was a student. This remark of his has never left me: "It is the first work of a teacher to point his pupil to the fountain of learning, for 'the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom.'" No teacher can do that who has not first found Him whom to know aright is life eternal. Such teachers are always to be found in the church college.

Centenary College should have not less than 100 boarding pupils to enroll next September. The 100 pupils are planning to leave Methodist homes next September and go to college somewhere, and it largely depends on whether we measure the school by its external appearances or eternal consequences as to where these 100 boys will go. If external appearances are considered first, then some State school or large college will receive the boys; but if eternal consequences are considered, then Centenary College will have 100 boys this fall. The same argument holds for Mansfield College in relation to girls.

AN APPEAL.

Will all the preachers of the Louisiana Conference please remit to me any collections made upon the Educational Assessment so that we may be able to take care of the Mansfield obligations when they fall due? This is most urgent, and any remittances will be much appreciated.

C. A. BATTLE, Treasurer.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

Receipts for all purposes (previously acknowledged)		$2389.66
Receipts on Centenary Special Assessment of $6000—
W. R. Harvell, Leesville	$	25.00
R. W. Tucker, Noel Memorial, Shreveport		20.00
G. E. Cameron, Alexandria		64.75
C. A. Battle, Baton Rouge		3.00
A. S. J. Neill, Lecompte Charge		22.00
Total		$ 134.75
Grand total		$2524.41

LET THE EVANGELISTIC COMMITTEE HELP YOU.

In attempting to help the pastors of the Louisiana Conference in arranging for evangelistic services throughout the Conference, the Evangelistic Committee has secured the promise of the following brethren to hold meetings under the direction of the Committee in the sections and the times indicated. The only condition expected of pastors that desire the services of these brethren is that a free-will offering shall be taken by the congregation for which the meeting was held to pay the expenses of the visiting minister, and as much more as the congregation is disposed to give:

J. F. Foster—any time and place.

T. B. Clifford—any time near Patterson.

E. L. Cargill—two or three meetings during summer.

W. K. Dodson—ready.

T. H. Morris—ready.

T. V. Peters—in October.

George Fox—any time in North Louisiana.

C. V. Breithaupt—September or October.

H. N. Harrison—ready.

W. D. Kleinschmidt—September or October.

W. L. Doss—ready.

Paul M. Brown—August 15 to September 15.

R. W. Tucker—September 10 to October 15.

S. S. Bogan—July.

C. E. Fike—September 1.

C. A. Battle—during summer.

Several others have volunteered to help and their time is already taken. Let any pastor who desires to use any of these brethren write at once to Rev. Jno. G. Snelling of Homer, La., mentioning approximate date and place of meeting and first and second choice of men.

Let us use these men who are ready to serve.

W. WINANS DRAKE,
for Committee.

A STRIKING STATEMENT.

In his recent Convocation Day Address at the American University, in Washington, D. C., Chancellor J. R. Day, of Syracuse University, is reported to have made a plea for a return to Puritanism in our American homes, and to have declared, "I do not know how much I endorse Billy Sunday, but I would give more for four days of Billy Sunday's righteous-making than for four months of that done by the American Congress." Dr. Day's head is level about a great many things.

VANDERBILT AND THE CHURCH.

(Continued from Page 1.)

Vanderbilt Board of Trust have managed to establish and maintain with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. And they are now seeking to capitalize these connections and make them count for the utmost possible in the interest of Vanderbilt University. This is no doubt their reason for parading these lecturers and instructors in their Bulletin in the manner in which they have done. And let it be noted that, though it is now claimed that the new Vanderbilt School of Religion is non-sectarian, a majority of its principal instructors are the same Methodist brethren who have hitherto been teaching in the Theological Department of the University; and evidently these men expect to secure the patronage for the new school chiefly from among our Methodist people. And looking to this end, they have inaugurated among them a canvass for pupils which, so far as we know, is without a parallel for brazen effrontery. Let us notice two or three points in illustration of this statement.

1. Notwithstanding the disreputable manner in which the Methodist Church, South, has been robbed, and ignored and spurned, and repeatedly insulted by the Trustees of Vanderbilt University, literature is being mailed to Methodist preachers, asking them to co-operate with Vanderbilt workers in obtaining students. This has not been universally done; but it is going on to a considerable extent, and probably an effort is being made thus to enlist all our ministers who have attended Vanderbilt University. Do the Vanderbilt campaigners think that the solemn vows which Methodist itinerants have taken to support the institutions of their Church and the weighty obligations that are upon them to represent faithfully its interests, can thus be utterly disregarded and trampled underfoot? Apparently such is their view—such their conception of honor and fidelity.

2. As we have already shown, these Vanderbilt canvassers in their efforts to secure patronage are promising young ministers that they can in part pay their expenses by preaching near the University. Who has authorized these men to assure their theologues that near-by Methodist charges will be available for them?

3. But more amazing still is the following statement which we take verbatim from a circular letter which these gentlemen are scattering over the country: "Every student will be assigned to some pastor and church of his own denomination in the city and will be expected to engage in Church work under the direction of the pastor, for which practical work he may, at the discretion of the faculty, receive credit on his course of study." This means that an effort will be made to bring every Methodist Church in Nashville into league with Vanderbilt University as a teaching agency, and this announcement is evidently made beforehand with the hope that it will exercise a helpful influence in luring students to the University. Where did these campaigners get the right to issue any such statement? How do they know who will be the Methodist pastors in the city of Nashville next year, and whether such an arrangement can be effected? As an exhibition of monumental cheek we have never seen this declaration surpassed. In the light of the shameful history of the past, and in view of the action of the Methodist Church as a whole, we do not believe that there is a Bishop and Annual Conference in Southern Methodism that would stand sponsor for any such a scheme as this; and certainly we do not believe that Bishop Murrah and the old Jerusalem Conference will do so. Yet these men, apparently without the least warrant that they can inaugurate and carry out such a schedule, are making an unqualified representation to the public that it will be done. Surely their condition must be desperate when they are willing to resort to such uncertain and reprehensible tactics.

(This discussion will be concluded in our next issue.)

DR. THADDEUS P. BELL
Practice Limited to the Medical and Surgical Treatment of the
EYE, EAR, NOSE & THROAT
And the Correction of Errors of Vision.
814 Audubon Bldg. New Orleans, La.

BUY LUMBER FROM
W. W. CARRE CO., Ltd.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Secular News and Comment

LEWIS BROS. & CO.

Fire and Casualty Insurance

[illegible] UNION STREET, [illegible], Main 1[illegible]

The Home Circle

"A WORD TO THE WISE."

Virginia Guide.

Little owlet in the glen,
I'm ashamed of you;
You are ungrammatical
In speaking as you do.
You should say, "To whom! To whom!"
Not, "To who! To who!"
Your small friend, Miss Katy-did,
May be green, 'tis true,
But you never hear her say,
"Katy do! She do!"

—Southern Churchman.

WHAT A LITTLE FLOWER DID.

By Hubert Newcombe Alyea.

There was once a little white flower which was very unhappy. It was unhappy because it had no brothers or sisters, being in a meadow where only a few Jack-in-the-pulpits grew. But it was not unhappy long.

One day a boy and a girl passed by the flower. "Oh, what a beautiful flower," cried the girl, Ruth. "Let us take it to Jack," suggested the boy named Fred. Jack was a little boy who was so sick that it was thought he would never recover. So the pure white flower was taken to Jack. Jack's home was a poor one and also dirty and ill-kept.

And now the flower's helpfulness began. Jack's mother put it in a pitcher. The pitcher was so dirty that it was washed. Then the flower was put on the table. The tablecloth looked so dirty that Jack's mother cleaned it. Then the flower was put on the window-sill, which was also dirty. This was soon washed. And so, in this way, the house was finally cleaned. It soon was so clean looking that everyone liked it.

And now the best thing of all happened. One day while Fred was playing ball he felt a tap on his shoulder. Fred was the boy who had given Jack the flower. On turning around whom do you think he saw? There confronting him was Jack, whom he had thought was still sick. And instead of being a pale, sickly boy, he was strong, healthy, and had red cheeks. Jack said to Fred, "It was the flower which healed me." And it was the flower which had healed him, because all he had needed to become well was fresh air and a clean home.

Some weeks later the flower died, but it had done a great deed. Jack insisted on burying it because, he said, "It made me well." And if anyone passes Jack's home to-day he will still see a large flower bed in which the flower was buried.

"The heart is a garden, our thoughts the flowers
That spring into fruitful life;
Have care that in sowing there fall no seed
From the weeds of cruel strife.
Oh, loving words are not hard to say
If the heart be loving, too.
And the kinder the thoughts you give to others
The kinder they give to you."

—The Christian Intelligencer.

THE QUEER BOY.

When parents get discouraged over the lack of study and the frequent eccentricities that their boys manifest, or even over their physical misfortunes or poverty, they ought to find hope and consolation in the thought that Isaac Watts was constantly scolded for his absolute indifference to books and boys' sports; Charles Darwin showed such an eccentric tendency to absent-mindedness that on one of his lonely tramps he walked off an embankment and nearly lost his life; Ralph Waldo Emerson was a hopeless dreamer; Moses and Demosthenes were fearful stammerers; Abraham Lincoln, Elihu Burritt, Charles Dickens and Andrew Johnson were the poorest of poor children; Anthony Trollope, the writer, was hopelessly shy and the butt of his school; Audubon, of bird fame, was put down by all his elders as a fool; Caesar and Napoleon were epileptics; Oliver Goldsmith was a hopeless sloven, and Thoreau was adjudged by everyone to be a crank. The queer boy does not always grow to be the man of no worth—The Christian Guardian.

WHAT SOME BOY SCOUTS HAVE DONE.

All over the country the Boy Scouts are doing many helpful things. Some time ago a scoutmaster living in Pasadena, California, did some good work for the preservation of human lives by setting signs on the great Western Desert, which is often called the American Sahara.

The Boy Scouts of Pasadena helped this scoutmaster by furnishing the signs which he took with him on his trips to the desert. These signs were placed far out into the desert, where the traveler would have nothing else to guide him to nearby springs of water. They are made of wood, painted red and yellow, the colors that are seen farthest on the waste lands.

Many travelers have lost their lives in this great desert, for they have gone astray, and then while trying to find their way back to their starting point they have died of thirst, because they did not know where they could find water. Now, by the aid of the signs which the Boy Scouts have helped to put up, those who must travel through this desert will not so easily lose their way, and when they are thirsty they will find signs guiding them to a place where they may obtain water.—Apples of Gold.

PADEREWSKI'S PLIGHT.

Since art knows no nationality, neutrals of all shades of belief can unite in expressions of sympathy for Ignace Paderewski, the Polish pianist and composer, whose present plight epitomizes that of his unhappy beloved country. Broken in health, the savings of a lifetime swept away, his beautiful home laid waste, the artist whose consummate wizardry has charmed a world of music lovers for a generation has come to America in an endeavor to aid his afflicted fellow-countrymen. When it was first announced that Paderewski would seek to raise funds for the suffering Poles amid the scenes of his former triumphs, it was naturally assumed that his medium of appeal would be public performances, and an army of admirers were filled with pleasurable anticipations. But it seems that the effect on mind and body of Poland's calamities and his personal misfortunes has been to rob brain and fingers of their magic skill, and Mme. Paderewski says it is doubtful if he will ever touch a piano again.

The artist is a proverbially poor business man. Paderewski's enormous earnings, extending over a period of many years, were invested in a magnificent estate in Galicia. It was his object to give employment to as many of his neighbors as possible. Foresight would have suggested the placing of some of his funds in securities in the United States or other countries, as more than one member of European royalty is reputed to have done. The late Queen Victoria was an investor in American city real estate. The late King Edward put large sums into American railroad stocks. Caruso, Scotti and other grand opera stars, while owning splendid villas abroad, are known to have diversified their investments. What were press agents' stories, doubtless, used to relate the enormous insurance carried by Paderewski against accident to his hands and fingers. But he had no insurance against the fortunes of war. Genius and clodhopper alike are the victims of Mars' cruel caprices.—Philadelphia Gazette-Times.

GIVING MORAL VALUES THE RIGHT OF WAY.

As the very rock bottom for New York's new State Constitution, Professor Seager proposes a clause reading: "Nothing contained in this Constitution shall be construed to limit the power of the Legislature to enact laws to promote the health, safety, morals or welfare of the people of this State." What is this but another evidence of the spirit of Christ, which is pervading all avenues of life."—New York Christian Advocate.

JUST AN INFANT ROSE.

By W. F. Hamilton.

As I sat alone, thought and wondered,
Watching bees, wild birds, plants and flowers,
My gaze fell upon an infant rose.
Where, O precious beauty, where didst thou come from?
Thing of beauty, just for a single day the earth is thy dwelling;
Thy beauty fades—again into space thou goest to thy long home.

Infant rose, thy visit will be remembered;
Made to us in the early springtime, God's gift.
Before thou goest back to thy home, tell me thy color, do;
Soft, beautiful, pink and white, infant rose, how true;
Oh, thing of beauty, God's gift, how we love thee!
Is it wrong to wish thy visit would last the year through?

When the bleak north wind was blowing,
The vine on which thou grew, not even growing—
The earth, covered with frost, damp and wet—
God spoke and said: "For thy birth not ready yet;
Wait until the sun's rays fall direct on earth,
Spring showers will come, the nights grow warm—
Then is thy time, when the vine begins growing":
Here, now, I see thee with beauty overflowing.

Infant rose, thou art from God, we know;
Thy God, the Lord of all, is my God also—
Will thou to our Maker deliver this message for me?
Say to Him, King of kings, Lord of lords,
That I would like thee be, without spot or blemish;
Without a sin, my soul white as the driven snow;
My heart with love for my fellow-man overflow,
That I might see thy beauty again in God's garden, whither thou art going.

Water Valley, Miss.

—ARTIFICIAL LIMBS, ORTHOPEDIC—
APPARATUS, ELASTIC HOSIERY,
TRUSSES, CRUTCHES, ETC.
(Catalogues mailed on request)

The McDermott Surgical Instrument Company, Limited.

734-738 POYDRAS STREET
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic
WELCOME RELIEF

Follows the use of Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic on the face after shaving.
Mix with five parts water and bathe the face well each time—and your shaving troubles will all be over.
No more Chafing, Stinging, Chapping or Soreness if you will do this.
"It's soothing coolness is delightful."

ALL DRUGGISTS • 25 AND 50 CENTS

ASK ANY ONE WHO HAS EVER USED IT!

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: No. 512 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor,
CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Entered at the Postoffice at New Orleans as Second-class Mail Matter.

TERMS:
One Copy, one year, $1.50; eight months, $1.00. To preachers of all denominations, $1.00

PUBLISHING COMMITTEE:
Louisiana Conference—Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., Rev. W. W. Drake, Rev. C. B. Carter.
Mississippi Conference—Rev. I. W. Cooper, D.D., Rev. C. W. Crisler, Rev. T. W. Adams.
North Mississippi Conference—Rev. W. W. Woollard, Rev. H. S. Spragins, Mr. J. D. Barbee.

A GOOD-BY MESSAGE FROM BISHOP HOSS.

My Dear Dr. Meek: As I am getting ready to sail for Australia and the Orient, I write this brief note to say good-bye, and to tell you how profoundly I appreciate the service which you have rendered to the Church as Editor of the Christian Advocate. Your steadiness and faithfulness on all the ground has been worthy of the highest praise. Especially do you deserve to be thanked for the persistent courage with which you have spoken out in the matter of the Vanderbilt controversy. At a time when many men have shown a most amazing blindness and weakness of moral judgment, and have appeared willing to sacrifice the honor and the rights of the Church, you have never wavered for a single instant. The time is coming when everybody will see that your course has been entirely correct. When the history is written up in full, this fact will be so entirely apparent that it can not be doubted. Stand by your guns. It will cost you some effort to do so, and you will suffer some pain from the unjust criticisms of those whose twistings and turnings have left everybody in doubt as to what their real convictions have been. The good hand of God be upon you, and keep you from all ill and evil of every sort. Fraternally yours,

E. E. HOSS.

Muskogee, Oklahoma, June 15, 1915.

THE MASTER'S WORK GOING ON.

Satan and the forces of darkness were perhaps never more actively and strenuously at work on earth than they are to-day; but God and the forces of righteousness are also continuously at work among men. The planet-wide struggle is going on everywhere and will never stop until Christ is finally triumphant. As an illustration of how the quiet toilers for the upbuilding of the Kingdom are keeping at their tasks where the reign of evil has the most complete sway, we quote the following from a recent issue of "The Bible in the World":

"At Warsaw, threatened more than once by Von Hindenburg's armies, the Old Testament is being rendered into Esperanto by Dr. Zamenhof, the creator of this international language. Undisturbed by the proximity of hostile forces, Dr. Zamenhof has steadily labored at his version, and he now writes that the entire Old Testament has been translated and typewritten. Dr. Zamenhof, who writes in French, adds: 'Unfortunately, I cannot send the manuscript at present, as our post will not forward anything in Esperanto during the war.' This Old Testament will probably be published, as the New Testament has already been published for the Esperantists, by the British and Foreign Bible Society and the National Bible Society of Scotland conjointly, thus completing the Bible in Esperanto."

THE SITUATION IN CHINA.

The China Christian Advocate, published at Shanghai, stated in a recent issue that, though the situation has improved somewhat, the relations between China and Japan are yet very grave and that the future is still clouded with uncertainty. The following is the statement of that journal concerning the prospect for the work of the Christian Churches in the Chinese Empire:

"Not only is the situation critical politically, but the outcome of the political must determine the religious outlook in China. The Chinese government is in sympathy largely with the missionary work which is being done for its people. Should Japan get the upper hand in China, the experience of Korea is likely to be duplicated. The outlook for the advancement of missionary work in China was never better so far as the fertility of the field and the co-operation of the Chinese is concerned. It is a most opportune time right now for missionary endeavor. We must be most insistent, therefore, in our prayers that nothing may come to check the advance. But there is an embarrassment in the way for making the most of the present opportunities. We refer to the stringency of funds. The European War continues to affect the money market and our people at home are not and perhaps cannot give as heretofore. The field is ready for intensive and extensive work. For this there must be, first of all, a largely increased number of workers, and then funds to carry on the work. It looks as if the China appropriations may suffer if the gifts at home are not more abundant. Such a cut would be disastrous to the highest degree."

A MAN OF MORAL COURAGE.

How fickle is popular favor! But a little over two years ago, when Mr. Bryan by his firm stand and eloquent speeches secured the nomination of Woodrow Wilson for the Presidency after the tide seemed to have turned hopelessly against him, nearly the whole Democratic press of the country rang with his praises; but to-day he stands a discredited and deserted idol, ridiculed and abused from ocean to ocean. What has the famous commoner done to bring about this great change of the public mind toward him? Nothing, except that he has dared to differ from the Nation's head and stand resolutely and openly for his convictions. We are not at all in accord with Mr. Bryan's views concerning our troubles with Germany; but we do not think he has ever exhibited more moral courage than he has done in laying aside for the sake of principle his high office and adhering to a course which he must have known would arouse bitter opposition to him in bis own party and througbout the country. Doubtless the distinguished Nebraskan is actuated by a higher and noble purpose than that of seeking to win popularity and prefers the approval of his own conscience and of God to the endorsement of capricious public sentiment. While standing with Mr. Wilson on the issues involved, we would not withhold from Mr. Bryan the tribute which we feel is due him for so sublime an exhibition of splendid manhood. Of all our noted public men, he is probably the most consistently religious.

RECEIPTS FOR SUPERANNUATE.

Amount reported last week	$9.00
A Friend, Tupelo, Miss.	1.00
Mr. S. F. Jones, Greenwood, Miss.	5.00
Mr. R. V. Pollard, Greenwood, Miss.	5.00
Mr. R. T. Jones, Greenwood, Miss.	3.00
Mr. W. S. Craig, Greenwood, Miss.	3.00
Mr. Rowan Thayer, Greenwood, Miss.	1.00
Dr. W. T. Johnson, Greenwood, Miss.	5.00
Total	$32.00

For this generous contribution from the progressive city of Greenwood, we are largely indebted to Dr. W. T. Johnson, who brought the matter to the attention of the brethren. It is not yet too late for others to respond to this urgent call.

THE SEASHORE DIVINITY SCHOOL.

The late session of the Seashore Divinity School seems to have been one of the best in the history of that institution. In a note to the Editor, written on June 26, Rev. W. W. Holmes, presiding elder of the New Orleans District, stated that the enrollment would probably reach 100. While the school was in full blast, Rev. H. T. Carley, of Centenary College, wrote us as follows: "The lectures being given here are fine. Dr. Robinson's platform work is as good as it was when he was here three years ago. Dr. W. J. Young, of Emory University, has made an excellent impression." Dr. Hoben had not arrived at the time that Brother Carley wrote. We congratulate Rev. Robert Selby, Dr. McNeil, and the other directors upon the success achieved and the growing influence of this school.

SEASHORE CAMP MEETING.

July 14 will be the opening day of the Seashore Camp Meeting on the beautiful and historic Seashore Camp Ground, at Biloxi, Miss. The preaching will be done by Dr. Frank Fraser, of Oxford, Ga. Dr. Fraser is one of the greatest pastor-evangelists in the Church. He was recommended by Bishop Candler as the man for the Camp Meeting this year. He will do all of the preaching. The indications point to a large attendance and a gracious revival. All Methodist preachers in Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana are invited to attend the meeting. Lodging, but not meals, will be provided for them. Let prayer be made by every reader of the Advocate for God's blessings upon this meeting. W. W. HOLMES.

PERSONAL AND OTHER NOTES.

Dr. S. A. Steel, of Columbia, S. C., says: "You are making an excellent paper. I wish you had 50,000 subscribers."

We were favored with a brief call from Rev. P. F. Daniels, of Logansport, La., last Monday. He was on his way home from the Seashore Divinity School.

Rev. F. N. Sweeney has recently had some excellent meetings on the Franklinton (La.) Circuit. He will tell our readers about them in our "From the Field" Department next week.

According to a report in The Times-Picayune, Dr. F. N. Parker, of Emory University, has already been engaged to deliver a course of lectures at next year's session of the Seashore Divinity School.

Rev. John Sholars, the fortunate pastor at Kentwood, La., is bringing things to pass in his appointed field. The preseut year promises to be one of more than average progress in that developing charge.

Have you seen the new Catalogue of Centenary College? It has been gotten up in admirable form, is beautifully illustrated, and contains much interesting matter. Write Dr. R. H. Wynn, Shreveport, La., for a copy.

Rev. J. F. Foster, of Amite, La., passed through New Orleans last Monday en route to the Seashore Divinity School, and while in the city brightened our sanctum with his presence. He spoke hopefully of the work in his pastorate.

Rev. Francis R. Power, the pastor, began a meeting at Pelican, La., last week, with Rev. J. C. Rousseaux, of Zwolle, to assist him. We are grateful to Brother Power for some subscriptions to the Advocate, sent in on the 21st ult.

We regret to know that Rev. W. W. Woollard, presiding elder of the Columbus (Miss.) District, was ill with fever last week, but are pleased to be informed that he is now better. We trust that he will soon be quite himself again.

We extract the following from a letter from Rev. J. W. Ramsey, of Heidelberg, Miss.: "Things are moving along smoothly up this way. I shall soon begin my revival campaign. Rev. J. R. Jones, of Meridian, will assist me in my meeting at this place."

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. E. Cunningham, who was attending the Seashore Divinity School at Biloxi, the pulpit of the Methodist Church at Greenwood, Miss., was filled last Sunday by Dr. A. F. Watkins, President of Millsaps College.

Rev. A. L. Davenport, of Walnut, Miss., in referring to his work, says: "All the indications are that this will be the best of my four years in this delightful charge. There are reasons to believe that we are on the eve of a gracious spiritual awakening."

Rev. T. B. Cottrell, our capable pastor at Tylertown, Miss., passed through New Orleans last week on his way to the Seashore Divinity School, and favored the Advocate office with a call. The Editor regrets that he was not in and missed seeing Brother Cottrell.

We are informed that Rev. J. J. Kelly is in fine favor with his flock at Hammond, La., and that he is having a phenomenally successful pastorate in that city. All departments of his church are in good working order, and he has had a considerable increase in membership.

Bishop James Atkins has changed the date of the North Mississippi Conference from November 10 to December 1. No change was made in the dates of the Louisiana and Mississippi Conferences, the former of which will be held on November 17 and the latter on November 24.

Dr. J. T. Sawyer filled the pulpit of the Epworth Methodist Church of this city last Sunday, both in the morning and evening. Rev. W. L. Doss, the popular pastor of that congregation, was out of New Orleans, having gone to Biloxi to attend the Seashore Divinity School.

Rev. J. D. Boggs, of Dumas, Miss., gives us a most welcome club of 5 subscriptions, and adds: "Our work is moving on very well, and we hope to round out our fourth year in this charge with everything in good shape. The people are still continuing their kindnesses to us."

Brother W. M. Armstrong writes that a very fine revival meeting, in which the pastor, Rev. W. M. Langley, was assisted by Rev. J. J. Smylie, of Louisville, Miss., has recently been held at Valden. His account of this gracious season of refreshing and ingathering will be published next week.

Rev. W. D. Bass, of Corinth, Miss., will do some evangelistic work in Oklahoma during the month of July. He states that Rev. D. L. Cogdell is preaching the "old-time gospel" impressively at the South Side Church of Corinth, and that Rev. J. H. Feits' pulpit work in that city is much complimented by the people.

Mrs. Emma K. Townes, widow of the late Mr. J. A. Townes, died suddenly at her home near Minter City, Miss., on June 26. Mrs. Townes was the daughter of Dr. John Kennon and was born in Tuscaloosa, Ala., on May 28, 1844. She had been a life-long member of the Methodist Church and was greatly beloved for her noble traits of character and many kindly deeds.

At the parsonage in Flora, Miss., on June 18, Miss Ethel White and Mr. V. G. Clifford, of McComb, Miss., were united in marriage. The bride is a daughter of Rev. M. L. White, our pastor at Flora; and the groom is one of the teachers in the McComb City schools. After the ceremony, the happy couple left for Chicago, where Mr. Clifford will take a five weeks' course of study. Mr. Clifford is a son of the Rev. and Mrs. T. B. Clifford, of Patterson, La.

Rev. W. S. Shipman, presiding elder of the Durant (Miss.) District, has designated the second Sunday in July, the 11th inst., as Woman's Day in his "diocese." See what he has to say on the subject on another page of the Advocate. Brother Shipman believes in keeping step with the march of progress. We trust that the "Day" will be generally observed and that much good will result.

Brother J. H. Johnson, the dependable "standby" of our church at Clarksdale, Miss., reports encouragingly of the situation in that charge. In the person of Rev. W. S. Lagrone, Clarksdale has a really great pastor. Indeed, we know of no church anywhere that is being served by a minister who is more consecrated, industrious, and efficient. Much may be expected of our Clarksdale flock in the coming years.

The Durant (Miss.) News states that "Go-to-Sunday-School Sunday," June 13, was a great day with our Methodist congregation in that city. Every class showed up with an increased attendance and the school secured quite a number of new members. Rev. E. N. Broyles, our gifted young pastor at Durant, began a revival meeting on June 22, having with him that prince of evangelists, Rev. J. A. Bowen, of Birmingham, Ala.

We received some days ago a wedding announcement which reads as follows: "Mr. and Mrs. Cicero Lewis Dickerson have the honor of announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lula Upton Williams, to Mr. Joseph Kilpatrick Shrock on Sunday, June 20, 1915, at Shrock, Miss." The Advocate joins with their many friends in wishing the bride and groom much happiness and a long and useful career together.

Rev. A. C. Flowers, of Enterprise, Miss., writes: "I should like very much to secure a small school of not over 25 or 30 pupils in a community where I could have two or three appointments and do some mission work. I tried to teach nine grades last winter and came very near having a nervous breakdown." If any one knows of a field of work such as Brother Flowers desires, it is to be hoped that he will communicate with him on the subject.

Rev. L. W. Cain, of Leland, Miss., writes as follows: "I have been ably assisted in my meetings this year. Evangelist J. A. Bowen, of Birmingham, Ala., was with me at Leland, and Rev. T. J. Norsworthy, of Yazoo City, Miss., was with me at Hollandale. We had a successful revival at each of these places: 18 persons were added to the Church at Leland and 14 at Hollandale. This charge is in fine shape and the work moves grandly on."

We are indebted to the following friends, to whom acknowledgment has not been made elsewhere, for two or more subscriptions sent in within the past few days: "Rev. J. F. McClellan, DeKalb, Miss., 7; Rev. G. S. Harmon, Meridian, Miss., 6; Rev. D. R. McDougal, Kossuth, Miss., 4; Rev. Hugh K. McKee, 6; Rev. B. P. Fullilove, Rienzi, Miss., 4; Rev. F. N. Sweeney, Franklinton, La., 3; Rev. H. E. Carter, Leakesville, Miss., 2; Rev. H. N. McKibben, Camden, Miss., 6.

Rev. H. M. Ellis, Field Secretary of the Memphis Methodist Hospital, says: "In spite of the war the Hospital cause is making headway. It will not be long before Methodism will be ministering to the sufferers of this section through this fine plant. Join us in prayer for the hastening of that day." We trust that none of our readers will overlook the impressive statement of the Commissioners concerning this commendable enterprise which appears on another page.

Rev. C. M. Chapman, of Rolling Fork, Miss., has declined the Presidency of Weatherford College, at Weatherford, Texas, which was recently offered him at a large conditional salary. Brother Chapman has a fondness for educational work, but he does not think, in view of the present attitude of the Church toward them, that there is much of a future for secondary Methodist schools; hence his action in this case. We are pleased to know that Brother Chapman will not leave Mississippi.

After having been kept quite busy for several weeks attending District Conferences and Commencements, Rev. G. W. Bachman is quietly resting at his home at Winona, Miss., and states that he will try to take things easily during the hot weather of the summer months. It is difficult, however, for one who has been such a steady worker as Brother Bachman has for a half-century to keep out of the active ranks. May the Heavenly Father richly bless him; and may his path shine more and more unto the perfect day!

Writing under date of June 26, Rev. H. S. Spragins, presiding elder of the Greenville District, says: "Our church at Friar's Point was blown down in a storm last Tuesday afternoon. Considerable other damage was done to the town. Brother Bright, the pastor, and our congregation there are planning to rebuild their house of worship at once." We regret to be apprised of the disaster that has overtaken the citizens of Friar's Point and we sympathize with them in their misfortune. They are a high-minded and deserving people.

Rev. J. S. Duke, the new pastor of the Rankin Street Church of Jackson, Miss., writes: "This is a fine, loyal people to serve. There has been sickness (mostly measles) in almost every home, but we have been looked after, and even 'pounded.' I used to attend this church when a student at Millsaps College and learned to know and love its membership at that time. It is a joy to be with them as pastor now, and we hope for a good year. Brother Meigs had made a fine beginning before he was moved to Bay St. Louis, and we mean to try to keep things going without a slump."

Rev. H. G. Hawkins, President of the Memphis Conference Female Institute, at Jackson, Tenn., sends us the following note of interest: "Miss Stella McGehee, of Woodville, Miss., a daughter of Mr. Howard McGehee and a granddaughter of the late Bishop C. B. Galloway, has been elected to the Chair of English in the Memphis Conference Female Institute. Miss McGehee graduated at Millsaps College in 1914 and taught in the North Texas Female College during the session of that institution which has lately closed. She is now taking a summer course at the University of Chicago."

Just as we are about to close our forms, Rev. R. P. Neblett, of Ripley, Miss., sends us the following note: "Dr. J. Y. Murry has had a partial stroke of paralysis. He has no control of his left side. He rested fairly well last night, but we are very uneasy about him. He has been attending Sunday school and church all the winter and spring until now. His mind is clear and his heart is fixed." We regret to hear of the illness of this noble veteran in the Master's service. He has behind him a long and splendid record; and we do not doubt that there awaits him in the future a rich reward.

Both Brother L. K. Carlton, of New Albany, and Rev. J. E. Thomas, of Itta Bena, Miss., have written us concerning the great sorrow which has come to Brother and Sister S. L. Pope. Brother Thomas says: "Lewis W. Pope, a son of Rev. S. L. Pope, of New Albany, died at Vossburg, Miss., on June 24, 1915, and was buried in Greenwood yesterday. He was in his nineteenth year." Our heart goes out in tenderest sympathy to these bereaved friends, and we earnestly pray that the Heavenly Father may comfort and sustain them in this trying hour. We trust that some one will furnish the Advocate at an early date with a fitting memoir of the deceased.

Rev. J. H. Holder, our pastor at Pontotoc, Miss., has an interesting meeting in progress at that place. He is doing the preaching to the regular congregations himself, but he has Rev. R. P. Neblett, of Ripley, with him to lead the singing and conduct services for the children. Writing on the 26th ult., Brother Neblett says: "We took dinner yesterday with Rev. J. R. Roberson, who is remarkably strong and alert for one who has been so afflicted. He is not able to attend the revival services, but is with us in spirit and in his prayers. His children are developing beautifully religiously. One of his daughters is teaching in the Pontotoc High School, and the boys, though young yet, are looking after their father well."

In a business letter to the Advocate office, bringing us some subscriptions, Rev. W. M. Young, of Amory, Miss., who was one of the official visitors to Millsaps College appointed by the Board of Education of the North Mississippi Conference last spring, says: "I was much pleased and profited by my visit to the recent Millsaps Commencement. I was pleasantly entertained and was delighted with all the exercises incident to the closing of the College. Especially was I impressed with the religious tone of the institution, which was strikingly expressed in the speeches of the students. With a great dormitory, Millsaps College can hardly fail to exert a vast influence upon the Methodism of Mississippi and for the cause of Christian education in the coming years."

Sister Bowman, the wife of Rev. H. W. Bowman, the energetic presiding elder of the Baton Rouge District, has lately undergone a serious operation at a sanitarium in Homer, La. We are pleased to know that she stood the trying ordeal well and that the work of the surgeons seems to have been a success. Brother Bowman is with his wife and states that he will remain at Homer at least until July 6. Writing from there on June 25, Brother Bowman says: "I had the pleasure of preaching for Brother Snelling last Sunday. He is highly esteemed by his flock. They are a fine people, as I have had an opportunity of knowing, having served them for four happy years. Their kindness to us in our present affliction has abounded. Hands to help us have been stretched out on every side."

The Mobile (Ala.) Register speaks in high terms of Rev. J. S. Frazer, D.D., presiding elder of the Mobile District, who has lately been made Commissioner of Emory University, at Atlanta, Ga. It says: "Dr. Frazer has served important places in the Alabama Conference for the past thirty years, and is a man of large business capacity and an able advocate of all the interests of the Church. 'These qualifications,' declared one who knows him well, 'make him eminently fitted for the large responsibilities of his new position. Every interest of Emory University will be guarded and furthered by his labors.'" Dr. Frazer may feel assured that he will be given a cordial welcome when in carrying forward the great work that has been committed to his hands he sees fit to come this way.

The Board of Trustees of Millsaps College at their recent session in Jackson, Miss., adopted resolutions appreciatory of the character and services of the late Dr. W. C. Black, of the Mississippi Conference, and named Dr. W. H. Huntley and the Editor of the Advocate as a committee to secure an enlarged portrait of him and arrange to have it hung in the College Library. Dr. Black rendered large assistance in carrying forward the initial movement to establish Millsaps College, was a charter member of its Board of Trust, and served on that body for many years with noteworthy faithfulness and ability. When the resolution referred to was pending before the Board, Bishop Murrah, its President, paid Dr. Black a brief but beautiful tribute, and stated that he justly deserved to be honored by the Methodists of Mississippi.

We take the following from the Baltimore and Richmond Christian Advocate: "Northern Methodism has 182 churches with memberships of 1,000 or more. Our own branch of Methodism has 53 such churches. Our largest church is Centenary, St. Louis, with 2424 members, and the city having the greatest number of churches with more than 1000 members is Atlanta, with 4. Columbus, Ohio, in the territory of the Methodist Episcopal Church, has 7 such churches."

FOR SALE.

One new, unused set Southern Literature. Price $35.00. A. S. Raper, Bellefontaine, Miss.

COTTAGE COLONY, NEAR HAMMOND, LA.

FOR THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.

Pine forest, artesian water, hot and cold baths, no dust or noise. Physicians' attention, Graduate nurse's service and drugs furnished.

Rates, $10 per Week and Up.

Address Dr. E. L. McGehee, Hammond, La.
City Office, 923 Maison Blanche Bldg.

DR. H. B. BARTLETT
National Dental Parlors
Cor. Canal & Camp Sts.
ENTRANCE 106 CAMP
Phone Main 2193
NEW ORLEANS
Vitalized Air for Painless Extraction
Crown and Bridge Specialist
The Largest and Best Equipped Dental Parlors South.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE
DIRECT TRAINS TO
New York
Cincinnati
Birmingham
PULLMAN SLEEPERS, DINING CARS.
— The Scenic Route —
TICKET OFFICE:
211 ST. CHARLES STREET.
Depot, Terminal Station, Canal St.
Phone, Main 2939.

—THE—
Louisiana & Arkansas
RAILWAY
Announces the sale by its Ticket Agents at—
Alexandria, Shreveport, Winnfield, Minden, Sibley, Cotton Valley, Trout, Jena, and Jonesville, Louisiana,
—OF—
INTERCHANGEABLE THOUSAND MILE BOOKS
Good on All Roads in Louisiana.
Save Money by buying one of these Books.
B. S. ATKINSON,
General Passenger Agent.

FRECKLE-FACE
Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily
Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.
Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.
Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

BOHNE & WILT, Booksellers and Stationers, 1328 Dryades St., New Orleans, La. Baseball Goods, Religious Articles, Fishing Tackle, Periodicals, School Books.

Obituaries.

Obituaries not over 200 words in length will be published free of charge. All over 200 words will be charged at the rate of 1 cent a word. Count the words and send the amount necessary with the obituary. That will save trouble all around. Otherwise the obituaries will be edited down to 200 words.

IVON VIRTUE ROBERTS, infant daughter of Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Henrietta Roberts, was born on May 6, and died on June 16. Little Ivon had hardly made her appearance on her journey through this world when Jesus, who said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me," took the little one to a higher and better land. "For in that City there shall he children playing in the streets." May the God of all Grace sustain and comfort the bereaved family. Douhtless the little one rests in the arms of Jesus and on his gentle hreast.

W. L. BLACKWELL, Pastor.

MARTHA E. FIFE (nee McMurchy) was born near Lorman, Jefferson County, Miss., on November 18, 1844. She joined the M. E. Church, South, in early childhood. She was the mother of 15 children, of whom only 4 survive. She departed this life on May 29, 1915. The funeral service was held in the Methodist Church at 4 p. m., May 30, and was attended by a large throng of sorrowing friends and relatives. The Interment was made in the Hermanville Cemetery. It was the privilege of the writer to he her pastor for nearly two years, during which time she gave evidence of a strong, unfaltering faith in God. She was indeed a worthy Christian character, and was loved by all who knew her. "For her to live was Christ, and to die was gain." Her pastor,

G. G. YEAGER.

Mrs. G. W. LEE was born near Daisy, La., in 1846, and died on June 16, 1915. She married and reared her family, consisting of four hoys, near the old home. Mrs. Lee was a noble Christian woman and a memher of the M. E. Church, South. She taught for many years in the Sunday school of her church. She was untiring in her efforts for the Church and her neighhors. Mrs. Lee had often said that she would like to be called suddenly away, and God saw fit to grant her that desire. She was ill only a few days when he relieved her of pain and took her to himself. While she is absent in body, the noble spirit of service which she ever manifested still remains and will ever be with those who knew her. Let us not weep, but let us look for a Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ, who will fashion anew the body of our humiliation that it may be conformed to the body of his glory.

W. R. McPHEARSON.

WILLIAM ADOLPH HAVENS was born on February 4, 1897, and departed from this life on March 2, 1915. He was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Havens. He was laid to rest in the family graveyard. He leaves sad and broken-hearted loved ones to mourn over what seemed to be an untimely death of one whose life seemed to he filled with bright promises of success. Adolph joined the Church when about 7 years old and was converted at the age of 16 at Old Mount Pleasant Church about two years before his death. He lived a consistent Christian life, and when he realized that he had to leave his earthly tahernacle he expressed himself as having no fears, saying "that he was going to heaven," and hegging the family to try to meet him around the Heavenly Father's throne, where parting is no more and all tears are wiped away. May God's grace sustain the bereaved family in this hour of sadness. Peace to his ashes.

W. L. BLACKWELL, Pastor.

Mrs. EMMA BRADFORD was horn on Nov. 11, 1854, and died on June 7, 1915. Sister Bradford lived a good, quiet Christian life, and was known to he one of the most saintly women that ever resided in Pineville. She joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, when she was a child and had heen a great blessing to the community that she had lived in and to the Church that she loved. She was the mother of 11 children, eight of whom survive her. Three of them were taken to heaven when they were infants. Those who are living are: B. S. Bradford, J. I. Bradford, Robt. L. Bradford, Henry A. Bradford, J. P. Bradford, Mrs. I. I. Tarver, Mrs. W. E. Kees, and Mrs. S. R. Haden. Sister Bradford suffered for months with heart trouble, and many times her loved ones thought that the end was at hand, but at such times it seemed that strength was given her and she would revive again. In all of her suffering she never murmured or complained. God spared her a long time, and at last, after all that kind and loving hands could do had been done, he sent forth his messenger to bear her gentle spirit to its everlasting home above. She was laid to rest in the Methodist Cemetery at Pineville to await the call on the final day when the Master shall say, "Come ye blessed of my father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world." J. F. DRING.

Major HUGH McGEEHEE, one of the oldest memhers of our Church here at Como, after a long spell of sickness, has passed to his reward. A large concourse of people assembled in the Methodist Church to pay their last respects to our aged brother. Major McGeehee was horn in Elberta, Ga., in October, 1834. If he had lived till the coming October he would have been 81 years of age. He moved to this section of the country in 1838 when a child of only four years. His had heen a long pilgrimage covering an important historical period of our country. He was a Southerner to the manner born, an aristocrat of the old type who neither fawned before nor flattered anyone. He was a patriot, a law-abiding, just man, who was charitable with his means, having at one time supported a missionary in China. He was one of a family of twelve children, all of whom had preceded him to the other world. He lingered on this shore past his three-score years and ten, hut has at last joined his fathers. He joined the Methodist Church in 1880 and had ever since heen a firm heliever in its doctrines. He was a man of unusual intellectual ability, and had an investigating mind. Four children had gone on hefore. There remains behind to mourn his departure his noble wife, who with beautiful fidelity watched by his bedside during his long sickness and who had walked by his side as a loving companion for fifty years. A daughter and nohle grandson and other dear relatives also mourn for him. May God hless and keep them every day!

W. D. WENDEL.

The Memphis Conference Female Institute and College has introduced as a feature of each session educational trips. For next session these trips will be taken to the cities of Memphis and St. Louis.
The school is located in the residence section of the beautiful little city of Jackson, Tenn., with 20,000 population—very convenient to Street Cars, Depots, fine Churches, Government Building, Carnegie Library, etc. The drinking water is considered among the purest of specimens in the world, and there is a wonderful Chalybeate Well within ten minutes walk. Special attention given to health and morals; a safe home boarding school with literary, music and other advantages. Address H. G. Hawkins, Pres., Jackson, Tenn.

"It is the helief of the unseen things that makes possible the right use and enjoyment of the seen."

Pulpit Bibles Largest assortment, finest Bibles at lowest cost. Write to us for full description and prices.
PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO., Inc., LOUISVILLE, KY.

That Unpublished Book of Yours
We make a specialty of publishing books, pamphlets, sermons and can guarantee good work at reasonable prices. Can also suggest how to put your book on the market profitably. Write us today about it.
PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO., Louisville, Ky.

SHALL WE GO BACK TO THE BLUE BACK SPELLER?

Recently the argument has been made that our schools should adopt the Blue Back speller as the text book on this subject. This argument is hased upon the contention that boys and girls trained in the old field school, where this renowned book was the text, were more efficient in spelling than those now heing trained in the schools. It would be just as reasonable to argue that the farmer should discontinue the use of modern machines on the ground that the field does not yield as much grain as the same field did when simpler tools were used in its cultivation.

The lack of efficiency in the modern school is due to other causes. The old field school was in charge of a man who was usually the master of the situation, and required his pupils to master a few subjects thoroughly. Its modern successor is frequently in charge of a young girl who does her best to get her pupils to do something in two or three times as many subjects, and the result is that none are mastered. The pupils in this way acquire the habit of doing poor and careless work, and they are fortunate if they ever get such habits cured.

Our hoys should be trained to master themselves first, and then to master thoroughly whatever subjects they study, and the school should not undertake to do more than it can do well. We need intensive cultivation in the school room as well as in the fields.

Parents wishing to place their boys where they can get such training should write to Jas. A. Peoples, Principal of the Peoples-Tucker School, Springfield, Tenn., for information.—Advertisement.

AVAILABLE FOR SERVICE.

The hrethren of the Louisiana Conference, in which I was an itinerant for eight years, will remember that, on account of poor health, I asked for the local relation, and this is to inform them that I have regained my health and am at their service for meetings and else. I should like very much to do revival work in the months of July and August. If you can use me, write me at once at Jennings, La., Box 157.

A. R. HOFFPAUIR.

"MY DAUGHTER!"

In these words is reflected a mother's pride. In the joy behind them is her reward for the pain and sacrifice she so willingly gave and the loving forethought she so wisely exercised.

Her daughter—now a woman—noble in character, pure in heart, charming in personality, sensible in mind and cultured in her accomplishments.

Your daughter! Don't deny her the invaluahle years of boarding school life. Devclop her, polish her in mind, hody and character. Complete your life's work with the finished, cultural training that Martin College can impart. The years of experience of this institution, its wise administration and its splendid equipment place it in a high position among other colleges. By all means obtain a catalogue of Martin College. Clip and sign the note helow and mail.

Martin College, W. T. Wynn, Pres.,
Box J, Pulaski, Tenn.

Dear Sir: In the interest of my daughter, please send me full information about the following courses, (underscore those desired): Piano, Art, Expression, Voice Culture, Domestic Science, Literary Work. Give full details as to rates, etc.

Name .....

Address .....

From the Field.

Kossuth, Miss.

On Saturday and Sunday, June 19 and 20, our third quarterly conference convened at Wesley Chapel. Our much-loved and efficient presiding elder, Rev. J. H. Mitchell, as is his custom, brought to us two very inspiring messages. From the reports submitted, we feel that there is in the charge a spirit of development along all the lines of Church life. At the 11 o'clock hour Sunday the beautiful new church was presented by the officers, T. A. Dilworth and others, for dedication, and in an impressive service it was set apart to sacred uses by Rev. J. H. Mitchell. Our people at Wesley Chapel are a noble people. They love God and his Church, and are willing to make a sacrifice of time and means for the advancement of his kingdom. They are to be praised for their loyalty to God and their untiring efforts in the building of the new church. Our people on the Kossuth charge are willing to obey the laws of the Church, but they regret very much that they will have to give up this fall Rev. J. H. Mitchell, our presiding elder. He has wrought well in this field and is now rounding out his quadrennium. May I ask the readers of this paper to pray for us? We need your prayers. Pray that God may give us a gracious revival.—D. R. McDougal, P. C.

Natalbany, La.

Dear Dr. Meek: Please give me space to tell about the revival meeting at Natalbany, La. We began the meeting on Tuesday, May 25, and continued for 14 days. Brother John Kelley was with us from the beginning. He is a whole-souled Christian gentleman and plays the cornet excellently. We had in the choir three cornets, three violins, one trumbone, and one clarionet. All the instruments seemed to be consecrated to the Lord; therefore, under the direction of Brother John Kelley, the music was sublime and inspiring. Brother D. E. Kelley reached us Friday and did the rest of the preaching. Brother Dan is thoroughly consecrated to the work and preached with the power of the Holy Spirit. Our congregations increased from time to time until we scarcely had standing room. We received 43 into the Church on profession of faith and 4 by certificate, making 47 up to date; yet we have more to come. The revival spirit is on in Natalbany and they are asking to be made a half-station at once. Therefore, we are expecting greater things there in the near future. I have received up to date on profession of faith 48 members, and 4 by certificate. Brethren, pray that we may have a revival all over the work.—E. C. Grice, P. C.

Lula, Miss.

I cannot refrain from sending the Advocate a short account of our meetings, the last of which closed yesterday. We began our first meeting at Dubbs on the third Sunday in May with Brother W. S. Lagrone, of Clarksdale, to do the preaching. He did fine work, as is characteristic of him, and the results were very gratifying. On the fifth Sunday in May we held a meeting at Lula with Brother L. W. Cain, of Leland, to do the preaching. This turned out to be one of the best meetings that I have ever seen. Church members were reclaimed, sinners were converted, and several new members received into the Church. Lula seems like a new town and her motto is to take this country for Christ. Brother Cain is a very fine Gospel preacher and one of the best revivalists I ever saw. He knows how to hold a meeting—the fact is, this seems to be his special sphere of work. Our Conference would do well to use him as a Conference evangelist, if he would consent to take the work. On the second Sunday in June we began revival services at Rich with Brother J. A. Coleman, from Oxford, to do the preaching. We had a good meeting there. The membership was strengthened and there were several conversions and additions. Brother Coleman is a strong preacher and did us excellent service. Every church in this charge is in good condition. I am delighted with the situation and feel that God has done great things for us this year. To him we give all the praise.—T. J. Halfacre, P. C.

Wesson, Miss.

My Dear Editor: Our second quarterly conference has been held. We have baptized 63 infants this year and had 29 accessions to our Church. We have talked the Advocate from the pulpit, in church conferences, in families, and to individuals, but are sorry that we have not accomplished more than we have in the way of securing subscribers. We have a good presiding elder. He is spiritual, a good preacher, and a fine administrator. We have had much worry in the way of correcting Church Registers and Church Conference Records. To make them as perfect as possible we bought a new Register for each church and also a new Church Conference Record for each and a new Pastor's Register for the whole charge. It seems hard for some to learn that a Church Register is not to be kept alphabetically but chronologically, and, too, that a station should have monthly church conferences and circuits quarterly ones, and also that the minutes of each should be neatly entered in a Church Conference Record in black ink. This is my 38th year in the itinerancy, but I am forced to say that I have never found a single charge with properly kept Church Registers and Church Conference Records. It seems to me that proper instructions in these things in our training and divinity schools would be the right thing. At any rate, the right keeping of our Church Registers and Church Conference Records, including the Pastor's Register, are essential for reliable data concerning each charge.

Please pray for us in our efforts to glorify God with an abundant fruitage and thereby have tokens of discipleship; for Christ said: "Herein is my father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples." (John 15:8). God bless you all in your great work. Yours in Christ.—Isaac L. Peebles.

SENT FREE AND PREPAID

to every reader of the New Orleans Christian Advocate, who needs it and writes for it to the Vernal Remedy Company, Buffalo, N. Y., a trial bottle of Vernal Palmettona. Only one small dose a day perfectly and permanently relieves catarrh, flatulence, indigestion and constipation. It clears the liver and kidneys of all congestion and inflammation and takes all irritation from bladder and prostrate gland. Good men and women are wanted as agents for this and other high class articles. Write immediately.—Advertisement.

"Those to whom Christ means most are most likely to tell others about him. They cannot help it. it would be a hardship to have to remain silent."

Our object in life should not be so much to get through a great deal of work as to give perfect satisfaction to Him for whom we are doing the work.—Wm. Hay M. H. Aiten.

L&N Louisville & Nashville R. R.

THE DIRECT LINE NORTH AND EAST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED STEEL SLEEPERS
DINING CARS, OBSERVATION CARS, CHAIR CARS

Phone M. 4093. TICKET OFFICE 201 ST. CHARLES STREET

"EXPOSITION LINE"

SOUTHERN PACIFIC — SUNSET ROUTE

ONE FARE
FOR THE ROUND TRIP
$57.50
TO
California AND THE Expositions

TICKETS ON SALE DAILY

Limited to return within 90 days. Stopover all points enroute. Shortest and quickest route. Two through Steel Trains daily. Oil burning Locomotives. Electric Block Signals. Observation Cars.

Best Dining Car in America

For full information and illustrated catalogue, ask any Southern Pacific Agent or write

W. H. STAKELUM, Div. Pass. Agent, Lake Charles, La.
J. H. R. PARSONS, Gen. Pass. Agent, New Orleans, La.

TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY — THE TEXAS & PACIFIC — SUNSET-GULF — TEXARKANA — EL PASO — SAN ANTONIO

Make Your
Vacation Count!
Two or Three Weeks at
MINERAL WELLS
would almost make a new man of you, and a jolly, pleasant three weeks they would be, too! Low Round Trip Rates Every Day.

CITY TICKET OFFICE, 207 St. Charles Street.

EDENBORN LINE
LOUISIANA RAILWAY & NAVIGATION CO.
THE SHORT LINE :: THE POPULAR ROUTE
BETWEEN
New Orleans :: Baton Rouge : Alexandria : Shreveport
TICKETS ON SALE TO ALL POINTS NORTHWEST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS
Secure Reservations at City Ticket Office
709 GRAVIER STREET, ST. CHARLES HOTEL

LET US SEND YOU OUR RUPTURE APPLIANCE ON ONE WEEK'S TRIAL BEFORE ANY PAY. It is a "pain killer," soft, cool, comfortable. Holds rupture in place. instant relief. Cures large per cent of cases. The wearer forgets he is ruptured. Nothing like it. No one should miss this great opportunity. If satisfactory remit 75c. Otherwise return and you own nothing. Write Us To-day.
JOS. TINDALL, MACON, GA.

You Look Prematurely Old
Because of those ugly, grizzly gray hairs. Use "LA CREOLE" HAIR DRESSING. Price $1.00, retail.

Bethel College

FOR WOMEN

Chartered 1855.

OFFERS to a limited number of girls splendid advantages at a very moderate cost. Delightfully situated. Seven acres of wooded campus. Distinctly Christian and homelike in atmosphere. Opportunity to hear notable musical attractions. Autumn trip to Mammoth Cave. Easily accessible. Seventy miles north of Nashville. Preparatory and College work, leading to B. S. and A. B. degrees with Junior College Arts Diploma. Music, Art, Expression and Domestic Science. All kinds of Athletics.

For full information, catalogue, and beautiful view book, address

President W. S. Peterson,
Box E, Hopkinsville, Ky.

RANDOLPH-MACON ACADEMY
For Boys Bedford City, Va.

Offers prompt and thorough preparation for college, scientific school or business life. The liberal endowment of the Randolph-Macon System, of which this school is a branch, permits of unusually low terms. $255 covers all charges for the school year. No extras. Randolph-Macon boys succeed—465 graduates of this school have received full college degrees or entered professions in the past 18 years. For catalogue and further information, address

E. SUMTER SMITH, Principal

WHEN WRITING OUR ADVERTISERS PLEASE MENTION THIS PUBLICATION

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

Monroe Dist.—Third Round.

Eros, at Village, July 11.
Mer Rouge, at Bon Ide, Wed., July 14.
Calhoun, July 18.
Bonita, at Bartholomew, July 25.
Bastrop, at Collinston, July 26.
Waterproof, at Wesley, Aug. 1.
Winnohow, at Boeuf Prairie, Aug. 8.
Brooklyn, at B., Aug. 10.
Mangham, at Little Creek, Aug. 14, 15.
Rayville, p. m., Aug. 15.
Sicily Island, at Clayton, Aug. 16.
Oak Grove, at Midway, Aug. 20.
Tallulah, at Bayon Videl, Aug. 22.
Gilbert, at Holly Grove, Aug. 29.
Farmerville, at F., Sept. 1.
Lake Providence, Sept. 5.
Monroe, Sept. 6.
West Monroe, Sept. 12.

WM. SCHUHLE, P. E.

Lafayette Dist.—Third Round.

Jeanerette, July 4.
Morgan City, July 10, 11.
Patterson, July 11, 12.
Jennings, July 17, 18.
Lake Arthur, July 18, 19.
Houma, at Bourg, July 24, 25.
Lafourche, July 25, 26.
Gueydan and Abbeville, at Gueydan, July 31, August 1.
Eunice, at Iota, August 1, 2.
Crowley, August 7, 8.
Lafayette, August 8, 9.
New Iberia, August 14, 15.
Vermilion, at Perry, August 15, 16.
Lake Charles, August 21, 22.
Bell City, at West Lake, August 22, 23.
French Mission, at Port Barre, August 28, 29.
Rayne, September 4, 5.
Indian Bayou, September 5, 6.
Acadia, at Prudhomme, September 11, 12.
Sulphur and Vinton, at Vinton, September 18, 19.
Evangeline, at Ville Platte, September 25, 26.
Washington and Chicot, at Bethel, September 26, 27.
Franklin, Wednesday, September 29.

JAMES J. HOFFPAUIR, P. E.
Indian, Bayou, La.

Shreveport Dist.—Third Round.

Greenwood, at Summer Grove, July 17, 18.
Queensborough, July 18, 21.
Ida, at Hosston, July 24, 25.
Preach at Texas Avenue, 8 p. m., July 25.
Pelican, at Bethel, July 31, August 1.
Pleasant Hill, at Robeline, Aug. 1, 2.
Noble, at Bayou Scie, Aug. 7, 8.
Many, at New Hope, Aug. 8, 9.
Cedar Grove, Aug. 11.
Bossier City, Aug. 13.
Logansport, Aug. 14, 15.
Longstreet, at Longstreet, Aug. 15, 16.
Conference at Texas Avenue, Aug. 18.
Anacoco, at Hornbeck, Aug. 21, 22.
Zwolle, Aug. 22, 23.
Bayou Lachute, at Taylortown, Aug. 25.
South Mansfield, at South Mansfield, Aug. 28, 29.
Mansfield, Aug. 29, 30.
First Church, Shreveport, Sept. 1 and 5.
Grand Cane, at Keithville, Sept. 5, 6.
Leesville, Sept. 19.
Mooringsport, Sept. 21.
Vivian, Sept. 22.
Wesley, Sept. 25, 26.
Coushatta, Sept. 26, 27.
J. S. Noel, Jr., Memorial, Sept. 29.

WM. H. COLEMAN, P. E.

Ruston Dist.—Third Round.

Alberta, at Old Castor, June 26, 27.
Dubach, at Lisbon, July 3, 4.
Gibbsland, at Bethel, July 10, 11.
Athens, at Wesley, July 13.
Elmore, at Wesley, July 15.
Homer, July 17, 18.
Simsboro, at Salem, July 23.
Haughton, at Doyline, July 24, 25.
District Conf., at Plain Dealing, July 26, 29.
Bernice, at Alabama, July 31, Aug. 1.
Bienville, at Burk Place, Aug. 2.
Haynesville, at Colquitt, Aug. 4.
Ringgold, at Rocky Mount, Aug. 7, 8.
Cotton Valley, at Spring Hill, Aug. 9.
Sibley, at Evergreen, Aug. 14, 15.
Plain Dealing, at Walkers', Aug. 17.
Minden, Aug. 21, 22.
Winnfield, Aug. 23.
Arcadia, Aug. 25.
Jonesboro, Aug. 28, 29.
Rutson, Sept. 6.

BRISCOE CARTER, P. E.

Baton Rouge Dist.—Third Round.

Pine Grove, at Alford's, July 10, 11.
Denham Springs, at Live Oak, July 11, 12.
Jackson, at Concord, July 14.
Pride, at Bethel, July 16, 17.
Baker, at Blackwater, July 18.
Clinton, at Clinton, July 18, 19.
Hammond, July 25.
Ponchatoula, at Lee's Landing, July 26.
Springfield, at Huffs, July 28, 29.
Tangipahoa, at Chesbrough, July 31, Aug. 1.
Kentwood, Aug. 1, 2.
Greensburg, at Day's, Aug. 4.
Amite, Aug. 5.
Franklinton Ct., at Varnado, Aug. 7, 8.
Franklinton and Zona, Aug. 9.
Keener Memorial, Aug. 12.
Covington, at Mandeville, Aug. 14, 15.
St. Francisville, at Wilhelm, Aug. 21, 22.
Zachary, at Slaughter, Aug. 23.
Wilson, Aug. 28, 29.
Baton Rouge, First Church, Aug. 30.

To all the pastors in the district: This round of quarterly conferences will be crowded, as the elder has been kept out of the district some time owing to his wife's illness; but we trust that each charge will be well to the front with their work. Keep in mind that the year is shorter and that we have less time to put in.

H. W. BOWMAN, P. E.

For Weakness and Loss of Appetite
The Old Standard general strengthening tonic, GROVE'S TASTELESS chill TONIC, drives out Malaria and builds up the system. A true tonic and sure Appetizer. For adults and children. 50c.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Brookhaven Dist.—Third Round.

Gallman, at Old Crystal Springs, July 3, 4.
Crystal Springs, July 4, 5.
Fernwood, at Knoxo, July 9.
Magnolia, July 11, 12.
Bogue Chitto and Norfield, at Norfield, July 18, 19.
Monticello, at Oma, July 23.
Buford, at Sandy Hook, July 24, 25.
Adams, at Johnson Station, July 31, Aug. 1.
Topisaw Camp Meeting, Aug. 5, 12.
Summit and E. McComb, at Pizgah, Aug. 14, 15.
McComb, Centenary, Aug. 15, 16.
Meadville, at McCalls, Aug. 18.
Scotland, at New Hope, Aug. 21, 22.
Bayou Pierre, at Tabernacle, Aug. 26.
Pleasant Grove, at Tilton, Aug. 28, 29.
Tylertown, at Tylertown, Sept. 4, 5.
Topisaw, at Holmesville, Sept. 8.
Barlow, at Lebanon, Sept. 11, 12.
Hazlehurst, Sept. 17, 19.
Brookhaven, Sept. 19, 20.
Wesson, at Wesson, Sept. 22.
South McComb, at Muddy Springs, Sept. 25, 26.

ROBT. SELBY, P. E.
Brookhaven, Miss.

Port Gibson Dist.—Third Round.

Oak Ridge, at Porter's C., July 10, 11.
Vicksburg, Crawford Street, July 11, 12.
Centreville, at Macedonia, July 18.
Gloster and Liberty, at W., July 21.
Anguilla, at Murphy, July 25.
Rocky Springs, at H. R., Thursday, July 29.
Utica, at Cayuga, July 31, August 1.
Roxie, at H. R., August 4.
Hermanville, at Pisgah, Thursday, August 5.
Harriston, at Hamburg, August 7, 8.
Washington, at Washington, Friday, August 13.
Natchez, August 14, 15.
Vicksburg, Gibson Memorial, at Red Bone, August 20, 21.
Rolling Fork, at R. F., Tuesday, August 24.
Mayersville, at Mayersville, Thursday, August 26.
Silver City, at Louise, August 28, 29.

T. W. ADAMS, P. E.
Fayette, Miss., May 27, 1915.

Brookhaven Dist.—Third Round.

Crystal Springs, July 4, 5.
Fernwood, at Knoxo, July 9.
Magnolia, July 11, 12.
Bogue Chitto and Norfield, at Bogue Chitto, July 18, 19.
Buford, at Sandy Hook, July 24, 25.
Montlcello, at Oma, August 1, 2.
Summit and E. McComb, at Pizgah, August 14, 15.
McComb-Centenary, August 15, 16.
Adams, at Johnson Station, August 17.
Meadville, at McCalls, August 18.
Scotland, at New Hope, August 21, 22.
Bayou Pierre, at Tabernacle, August 26.
Pleasant Grove, at Tilton, August 28, 29.
Tylertown, at Tylertown, September 4, 5.
Topisaw, at Holmesville, September 8.
Barlow, at ———, September 11, 12.
Hazlehurst, September 17, 19.
Brookhaven, September 19, 20.
Wesson, at ———, September 22.
South McComb, at Muddy Springs, September 25, 26.

ROBT. SELBY, P. E.
Brookhaven, Miss.

YOU WOULDN'T BE SUFFERING from that painful skin trouble if you had tried Tetterine, because just a few boxes would have quickly soothed and healed it. Mrs. Thomas Thompson, Clarksville, Ga., says: "I suffered 15 years with tormenting eczema. Nothing did me any good until I got Tetterine. It cured me. Am so thankful." Tetterine is dependable for Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Acne, Salt Rheum, Itch, and all Scaly Patches, Piles, etc. 50c at druggist's or by mail from Shuptrine Co., Savannah, Ga.

New Cure for Pellagra Found.

Effingham, S. C.—Robert G. Hicks of this place writes: "Before my wife started taking your medicine she was a skeleton and only weighed 85 pounds. She had almost completely lost her mind and could not eat anything or do anything. Now she can eat anything and can walk three miles. I believe she would have been dead had it not been for your medicine. You have my prayers and best wishes."

There is no longer any doubt that pellagra can be cured. Don't delay until it is too late. It is your duty to consult the resourceful Baughn.

The symptoms: Hands red like sunburn; skin peeling off; sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red, with much mucous and choking, indigestion and nausea, either diarrhoea or constipation.

There is hope; get Baughn's big Free Book on Pellagra, and learn about the remedy for Pellagra that has at last been found. Address American Compounding Co., Box 587-X, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.

Note: In case you have any doubt as to the merit of this treatment you are at liberty to write to the Advertising Manager of this paper who did not accept this advertisement until an investigation was made that satisfied him that we had cured hundreds of cases of

TRY THE OLD RELIABLE
WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC
For MALARIA CHILLS & FEVER
A FINE GENERAL STRENGTHENING TONIC

National - Anti - Billious - Pills.

The kind our Fathers used for constipation and liver. Trial offer 25 cents for regular 50 cent size. Satisfactory results guaranteed or money refunded.

NATIONAL MEDICINE COMPANY
NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
A toilet preparation of merit. Helps to eradicate dandruff.
For Restoring Color and Beauty to Gray or Faded Hair.
50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

HINDERCORNS Removes Corns, Callouses, etc., stops all pain, ensures comfort to the feet, makes walking easy. 15c. by mail or at Druggists. Hiscox Chemical Works, Patchogue, N. Y.

No. 666

This is a prescription prepared especially for MALARIA or CHILLS & FEVER. Five or six doses will break any case, and if taken then as a tonic the Fever will not return. It acts on the liver better than Calomel and does not gripe or sicken. 25c

Sunday School

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONF. NOTES.

Rev. R. H. B. Gladney, Sardis, Miss.

West Point, Macon, Red Banks, are in that ever-growing class of schools that are not content to do the Lord's work by halves.

Sunday School Day, June 13, was a great success in the places that had the men behind the day. Let us keep everlastingly at it.

Miss Elie Willingham has visited Durant, High Point, White Hall, and Mathiston. Good seed were sown in each of these places, and the harvest will come sure and soon.

We must either make our own teachers, or else get some one to make them for us. One function of the Teacher-training Circle is to make teachers that teach the Word of God aright.

Macon has some high-class teachers. W. E. Stokes is not satisfied with the fact that his school has made the ten points in the standard, but he means to make each point standard in efficiency.

We can not please God by lowering the Church's standard of efficiency; neither can we please him with anything less than the New Testament standard of living, but he is well pleased when we permit him to lift us up into himself.

Longview and Steele's Chapel readily responded to every call. These schools will undertake the entire program. Bro. Owen is in touch with God and in touch with his people. Two fine boys professed faith in Christ at one of our services.

Starkville is blessed with one of our best Sunday Schools. The influences let loose there are greater than we can estimate. One man, Hon. W. W. Magruder, has been the leader of these forces for years, and he has ever led to the higher and better things of the kingdom.

Can we ever make progress as long as we call slipshod work good work? Ought we not to search out our imperfections, feel our limitations, confess our sins, and pray until we touch God and let him down in our midst to work through us? John R. Mott said, "Prayer releases the mighty energies of Jehovah." Then let us pray. How much, how long, how often? Until God hears and answers.

Mashulaville, Mount Hebron and Middleton were visited in company with Bro. McElroy, the pastor. We traveled a distance of seventy miles through the country, held six services and organized each of these schools up to the standard of efficiency. Mind you, they are not counted as standard until they actually do the work. These two days were filled with a gracious experience that will not fade from the memory in many years.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PERIOD

At Lake Junaluska, N. C.

A period of fifteen days, extending from July 22 to August 6, has been allotted to the Sunday school. The period is divided as follows: July 22-24, meeting of the General Sunday School Board; July 25-28, Conference of Chairmen of Sunday School Boards and Field Secretaries; July 29 to August 6, Institute for Sunday School Workers. All of these meetings will be open to the public, but general public interest will center chiefly about the third.

Daily Institute Sessions.

Each day of the Institute will be divided as follows:

9:00-9:25 a. m., Devotional service.

9:30-10:15 a. m., Study period. For this period the Conference will be separated into groups for the study of such special aspects of the work as may be of particular interest to those in attendance.

10:30-11:15 a. m., General discussion of organization and methods, each discussion led by some one selected on the ground of special fitness.

11:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., Bible lecture.

The afternoon hours will be left free for recreation.

The evening hours will be given to popular lectures upon themes vitally related to Sunday school work.

Speakers.

More than twenty prominent preachers and Sunday school workers will have part in the program. Among the numbers are the following: Bishop James Atkins, Bishop Warren A Candler, E. B. Chappell, W. J. Young, F. M. Thomas, F. J. Prettyman, H. P. Hamill, R. H. Bennett, L. F. Beaty, J. R. Pepper, Mrs. H. M. Hamill, Miss Elizabeth Kilpatrick, E. H. Rawlings, E. Hightower, J. M. Way, A. L. Dietrich, V. A. Godbey, W. J. Moore, C. H. Greer, W. G. Harbin, M. T. Haw, E. E. French, M. W. Brabham, and C. D. Bulla.

CHAS. D. BULLA.

Nashville, Tenn.

Learn Shorthand

By Mail in 30 Days at my Expense

Send no money. Get my free lessons. I do not claim to fit you for a position in thirty days. Nobody can do that. But with my system, you can learn to write in Shorthand with very little effort. That first instruction is absolutely free. Then, if you wish to take further instruction, I will give you a positive guarantee to refund your money at the end of a specified time if you are not entirely satisfied. Could anything be fairer?

I have taught shorthand for many years. I have taught a dozen different systems. These include nearly all the new and so-called "simple" systems. But I went back to the original Pitman System—and improved on it. I now teach the Pratt-Pitmanic System, and I want to prove to you, at my expense, that it is the best. My great success is due to a new and original method of instruction by mail.

Positions at Good Salaries

Shorthand is a great advantage to everybody. For a young man or woman there is nothing equal to it. It will give you a start in life and an opportunity for rapid advancement. Many of my students have secured splendid positions. The demand for stenographers is increasing. You are practically certain to get a satisfactory salary if you take my course in shorthand. Become a court stenographer or fit yourself for other high class positions.

Free Typewriter Instruction

Every one of my students can have a course in typewriting absolutely free. If you do not own a typewriter, I will rent you one for six months for $10; or for $30 I will sell you a rebuilt visible machine that I cannot tell from a new $100 machine.

If you are ambitious and in earnest and really want to learn shorthand, send at once for FREE Lessons. A postal card will do. Simply say: "Send free lessons."

E. D. PRATT 1008 Pratt Bldg. CHICAGO

Our "JITNEY" Offer---This and 5 CENTS

DON'T MISS THIS. Cut out this slip enclose with 5c to Foley and Co., 2843 Sheffield Ave., Dept. R, Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for coughs, colds and croup; Foley Kidney Pills, for pain in sides and back, rheumatism, backache, kidney and bladder ailments; and Foley Cathartic Tablets; a wholesome and thoroughly cleansing cathartic; especially comforting to stout people.

BE ON THE LOOK OUT.

Dear Dr. Meek: A light complexioned man about 55 years old has been traveling up and down the different railroad lines in the State of Mississippi and other States, fleecing the preachers of any and all denominations. He claims to be selling goods for the purpose of making suits of special quality. He makes a specialty of preachers. His plan is something like this:

He will show you a card indicating that some large firm in Liverpool, Elgland, has failed; the goods have been bought by some one and shipped to this country and are for sale at a greatly reduced price. He will then show you some very nice wash cotton goods for about 4 cents per yard and he will show you some very cheap silk goods at about 15 cents per yard, and samples of rugs and carpets so very cheap that you cannot see how he can sell them.

Then he comes to the real object of his visit and pulls out of his case two or three pieces of gentlemen's dress goods, one black and then one gray—the black made of wool grown on a black sheep's back and will not fade.

He will tell you of the preachers who have bought, some of them Bishops and the leading preachers in the Churches. He will tell you that in each piece there is a full suit and an extra pair of trousers and shows you a card from some place in New Orleans that seems to be from a tallor, saying that he will make the suits up for less than half that they can be made for. You buy the black at factory price and he will give the other piece of goods.

He promises to have the tallor to come to some place near-by and make the suits up in just a few days and he will bring the carpets, rugs, wash goods of both silk and cotton and sell your wife all she can take care of.

He insists that your wife should not order any of the goods that she might want as he will have thousands and she can pick from a large assortment which he is going to bring soon. You pay him and he leaves and you never hear of him again. You get one suit out of each piece and pay twice, or more than twice, as much as he said it would cost to have it made.

I want the preachers in Mississippi and Louisiana to watch out for this shyster, and if he comes along have some officer to nab him and telegraph me and I will do my part to have him put on the Greenfield plantation in Mississippi to work for some time in a suit of clothes that did not grow on a black sheep's back in far-off Australia.

This gentleman has visited Summit, Brookhaven, Jackson, and Hattiesburg, and some other points I have heard of, as well as my place. I am writing this in the interest of others.

W. H. SAUNDERS.

Fernwood, Miss.

When the Boy Grows Up

Will he look back from the vantage point of thirty and feel that you were a wise parent in the selection of a school for him, or will he think that if you had given his case more careful attention, you would have placed him in a school where he would have received better training?

The thoughtful, considerate parent feels that the school to which he sends his son must be equipped and its faculty chosen with the primary end of training the boy to become a man—to teach true Christian faith, to develop manly independence and self-confidence, to inspire high ideals of life and service, to strengthen and develop mind and body alike.

Such an institution is the Morgan school, of Fayetteville, Tenn., which has been built up around the Christian character and wholesome, inspiring personality of Mr. Robert K. Morgan, who has been principal for 25 years. Graduating from the Webb School, Bellbuckle, Tenn., and Vanderbilt University, Mr. Morgan has devoted his life to the training of boys. He is the man to train your boy. The close, personal instruction and association with clean, high-minded men will help him wonderfully. You can get a catalogue of this school upon request addressed to Mr. L. I. Mills, Secretary, Morgan School, Fayetteville, Tennessee.

EAT HARRIS' JERSEY ICE CREAM

The CREAM OF QUALITY. Quick Auto Delivery

1300, 1302 DRYADES ST.

Phones Jackson 1080, 1081

RUB-MY-TISM

Will cure your Rheumatism Neuralgia, Headaches, Cramps, Colic, Sprains, Bruises, Cuts and Burns, Old Sores, Stings of Insects Etc. Antiseptic Anodyne, used internally and externally. Price 25c.

THE GENUINE AND IMPORTED DR BLAUD'S IRON PILLS

For General Debility, Anemia, Chlorosis, and in the Convalescent Period. Genuine has "Blaud" stamped on each Pill. All Druggists. E. FOUGERA & CO., Inc., 90 Beekman St., New York.

No increase in Price

MORPHINE, Whiskey and TOBACCO

HABITS Treated successfully without shock, without restraint and NO FEE UNLESS CURED. Home or Sanitarium Treatment. "Ask our patients."

CEDARCROFT SANITARIUM

DR. POWER GRIBBLE, Supt.

Sta. 5, Box 110 Nashville, Tenn. Tel. Main 1258.

HOOPING-COUGH OR CROUP

The Celebrated Effectual Remedy without Internal Medicine.

ROCHE'S Herbal Embrocation

will also be found very efficacious in cases of

BRONCHITIS, LUMBAGO and RHEUMATISM

W. EDWARDS & SON, 157 Queen Victoria Street, London, Eng. All Druggists, or E. FOUGERA & CO., Inc., 90 Beekman St., N. Y.

No increase in Price.

Take One Pain Pill, then—Take it Easy.

For Neuralgia, nothing is better than

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills

Used by thousands for a generation

Those who have suffered from neuralgic pains need not be told how necessary it is to secure relief. The easiest way out of neuralgia is to use Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They have relieved sufferers for so many years that they have become a household necessity.

"I have taken Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for five years and they are the only thing that does me any good. They have relieved neuralgia in my head in fifteen minutes. I have also taken them for rheumatism, headache, pains in the breast, toothache, earache and pains in the bowels and limbs. I have found nothing to equal them and they are all that is claimed for them."

J. W. SEDGE, Blue Springs, Mo.

At all druggists—25 doses 25 cents. Never sold in bulk.

MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

Woman's Missionary Work

Edited by .....Mrs. R. F. Harrell, Centerville, Miss.

Conference Publicity Superintendents:

Louisiana.....Mrs. A. C. McKinney, Ruston, La.
Mississippi .....Mrs. J. L. Neill, Laurel, Miss.
North Mississippi.....Mrs. Walter Campbell, Winona, Miss.

All communications for this department should be sent to the Editor at the address given above.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI NOTES.

The Race of District Secretaries.

Mrs. D. B. High, Secretary of the Sardis District, led in her district conference, held at Senatobia on May 7 and 8, it being the first one held and a most enthusiastic one. There were 48 delegates and visitors and three Conference officers in attendance, and the organization of a Junior Division at Senatohia resulted therefrom. Mrs. High attended the District Conference at Batesville and presented our work there. She was most cordially received by the ministers, who pledged to her their co-operation, and when last heard from she was arranging to begin in earnest the work of organization, having made plans to organize at five different places.

Mrs. J. H. Haugbton, Secretary of the Aberdeen District, followed with her district conference at Shannon, June 3-4. There were 35 delegates and visitors, three Conference officers, Deaconess Mary Daniel from our Co-Operative Home at Corinth, and Miss Ethel Golding, our volunteer for 1915, in attendance. Large crowds attended every session of this body, and it was pronounced by many as the best district meeting they had ever attended. Rev. J. W. Bell, our presiding elder, attended its every session, and plans were formed for a most aggressive membership and organization campaign, eighteen women volunteering to assist in same. An all-day meeting was fixed for the first Friday in August at Amory, which is to he a grand rallying of our volunteer forces.

Miss Elle Willingham, Secretary of the Durant District, came next with her district meeting at Durant, June 10 and 11. Twenty-six delegates and visitors, five Conference officers, and six preachers, including the presiding elder, Rev. W. S. Shipman, were in attendance. Plans for an organization and membership campaign were discussed and eight volunteer workers secured. The presiding elder graciously granted to the district secretary the privilege of fixing Woman's Day in her district. Miss Willingham attended Brother Shipman's District Conference also and presented our cause and obtained promise of co-operation and assistance from the ministers in her work of organization.

Mrs. W. L. Duren, Secretary of the Columbus District, will come next with her district conference, to be held at Columbus June 24 and 25. Mrs. Duren has led in having July fixed as "Woman's Month" in the Columbus District, when we only asked for "Woman's Day." We make our most profound bow to Rev. W. W. Woollard, presiding elder of that district, and trust that great things may result from our Woman's Month in his District. Mrs. Duren also has in view volunteer women, whom she plans to use in her membership and organization campaign.

Mrs. Corinne Rogers, Secretary of the Corinth District, has inaugurated "Woman's Day" in our Conference, however, by having the Conference President present our work at the 11 o'clock service on Sunday, June 20, at New Albany. She has already begun the work of organization and plans to use volunteer workers also. Her district conference is to be held in July at Iuka, as it was postponed till Miss Mary Massey arrives home from her work at El Paso, Texas.

Mrs. A. M. Pond, of the Winona District, has been very busy with the work of organization since our annual meeting last March, and when last heard from reported four new organizations. She plans to use volunteer workers and to emphasize all-day meetings in her district. Mrs. Pond attended the district meeting of her presiding elder at Drew and reports that Brother B. P. Jaco has been most helpful to her in her work.

Mrs. E. T. Clark, of the Greenville District, writes that she is planning to enter actively into our organization and membership campaign at an early date, and while we have not heard directly from Miss Lizzie Horn, of Holly Springs District, yet we are expecting that she and Mrs. Clark will hold their own in the race of the district secretaries.

To the Secretaries who have not already held their district meetings, I would suggest that they make of them all-day meetings and urge that as many women as possible attend from all adjacent auxiliaries, going either by auto or train.

Then plan to hold another all-day meeting during the latter part of the summer, when all volunteer workers will he expected to report their work, thereby making of this second meeting a general rallying-place for our forces, where enthusiasm and new interest will he aroused hy an exchange of experiences and the joining of hearts and hands with earnest co-laborers.

Conference News.

We have learned with regret of the serious illness of Mr. Walter Trotter, the husband of our representative on the Hospital Board. We extend to Mrs. Trotter our sincere sympathy in this shadow that has fallen across her pathway, and we trust that it may he God's will to speedily restore her husband to health.

We regret also to report the continued illness of Mrs. M. C. Guerry, of Artesia, who, on account of same, resigned the secretaryship of the Columbus District. We understand that her husband left with her on June 13 for Toronto, Canada, with the hope that she may he fully restored in that delightful summer climate.

Mrs. W. W. Scales, Jr., of Starkville, our representative on the Orphans' Home Board, attended a meeting of that body at Jackson the second week in June. Mrs. Scales is much interested in our Orphanage, and we feel that she is the right woman in the right place as our representative on that Board.

Mrs. J. W. Conger, of Vaiden, our efficient First Vice President, is planning to hold a Girls' Missionary Conference at Durant some time in July, when she hopes to have Miss Mabel Howell, from our Scarritt Bible and Training School, present. Miss Howell was appointed at the last session of our Council to act as Field Secretary during the summer vacation, to visit all summer conferences and assemblies and present the claims of our Training School and make a call for volunteers. We predict that great good will result from such work. The hearts of children and young people are ever open to the impressions of God's truths and his call to them, and oftimes it remains only for older persons to interpret to them that call, as in the case of Samuel and Eli.

Mrs. T. W. Woodward, of Starkville, our Second Vice President, is most eminently fitted for the work with the children, inheriting as she does gifts along that line from her lamented father, Rev. Gilderoy Porter. Well do I recall his children's mass meetings I attended as a child, when lasting impressions were made upon my young heart and life. Mrs. Woodward has attended four of our recent district conferences and held institutes on her department of work and talked to the children in mass meetings.

We are pleased to know that Mrs. Walter Camphell, of Winona, our Superintendent of Mission Study and Publicity, will visit the Panama-Pacific Exposition during the months of July and August. We trust that her visit to our sunny Pacific Slope may prove hoth profitable and pleasant. She will announce her selection of hooks for Mission Study Classes in the September issue of the Conference Bulletin, which will be in time for the Mission Study Campaign in October.

Mrs. VIC THOMPSON HOYLE,
President.

Randolph-Macon Woman's College

Lynchburg, Va. One of the leading colleges for women in the United States, offering courses for A. B. and A. M.; also Music and Art. Four laboratories, library, astronomical observatory, new and modern residence halls. Scientific course in physical development. $20,000 gymnasium with swimming pool; large athletic field. Fifty acres in college grounds. Healthful climate free from extremes of temperature. Endowment, recently increased by $250,000, makes possible very moderate charges. Officers and instructors, 60; students, 610, from 35 states and foreign countries. For catalogue and book of views illustrating student life address

WILLIAM A. WEBB, President, Box

Safe and Home like MERIDIAN COLLEGE Careful Supervision

In the Health-Giving Pine Hills of Mississippi

A select Private College with Preparatory and College courses. Commercial Course. Modern Buildings and equipments; beautiful 60-acre campus and recreation grounds; fish ponds, swimming pools. Fine Athletics. An ideal home school for boy or girl, where they are looked after morally, mentally and physically with the best of Christian home influence and care. A large well equipped Conservatory of Music, Oratory and Art. Also Domestic Science and Teacher's Training, and Summer Course. Write for illustrated catalog No. 108

J. W. BEESON, A. M., LL. D., - - MERIDIAN, MISS.

Wesleyan College

Macon, Georgia

Founded in 1836. Graduated its First Class in 1840. Seventy-nine Years of Eminent Success. Ranks Easily With the Best Colleges in the Country.

THE WESLEYAN, an "A" grade college in the truest sense, offers courses in the languages, literature, mathematics, the sciences, philosophy, education, history and economics, household arts and sciences, the Bible and religious education. The full four years of college work are credited by the best universities. Excellent equipment and a large faculty afford ample opportunity for election of preferred branches of study.

While supreme emphasis is laid upon the courses leading to the Bachelor's degree, the strongest possible departments of music, art and expression are maintained.

Fourteen eminent American artists and teachers are employed in the Conservatory of Music. The three men at the head of the departments of piano, voice and pipe organ, respectively, are unsurpassed on the continent, while the violin teacher is easily the South's greatest.

The departments of expression, painting and drawing and china painting are in charge of several teachers of rare qualifications.

The situation of Wesleyan is ideal, its health record practically perfect, its social and moral atmosphere delightful.

The Wesleyan diploma is the highest academic honor. The thousands of alumnae are leaders everywhere and in every realm of woman's influence.

Write

C. R. JENKINS, D. D., President.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONF.

Columbus Dist.—Third Round.

Macon, June 20, 21.
West Point, p. m., July 4, 5.
Artesia, at Sessums, July 10, 11.
Cedar Bluff, at Pearsons, July 17, 18.
Brooksville, at New Bethel, July 20.
Shuqualak, at Center Valley, July 24, 25.
Cochrane, at Panola, July 27.
Crawford, July 29.
Starkville, August 1, 2.
Longview, at Bevills Hill, August 7, 8.
Columbus Circuit, at Flint Hill, August 14, 15.
Mayhew, at Lebanon, August 21, 22.
Sturgis, at Pleasant Hill, August 24.
Mashulaville, at———, August 28, 29.

W. W. WOOLLARD, P. E.

Holly Springs Dist.—Third Round.

Red Banks, at Mahon, July 3.
Oxford, July 4, 19.
Mt. Pleasant, at Marshall Institute, July 10, 11.
Waterford, at Soul's Chapel, July 16.
Abbeville, at Cambridge, July 17, 18.
Lamar, at Rice Chapel, July 23.
Ashland, at Union Hill, July 24, 25.
Potts Camp, at Cornersville, July 31, August 1.
Paris, at Shady Grove, August 14, 15.
Pine Valley, at Banner, August 15, 16.
Coffeeville, at Gray Rock, August 17.
Toccopola, at Liberty, August 21.
Randolph, at Hunter's Chapel, August 22, 23.
Byhalia, at Emory, August 28, 29.

R. A. TUCKER, P. E.

Corinth Dist.—Third Round.

Iuka Circuit, at Bethel, July 3.
Iuka, July 4, 5.
Marietta, at Ozark, July 9.
Wheelers, at Asbury, July 10, 11,
Sherman, at Liberty, July 17.
Guntown and Baldwyn, at Pleasant Valley, July 18, 19.
Mooresville, at Andrews Chapel, July 23.
Mantachie, at Center Star, July 24, 25.
New Albany Circuit, at Union Hill, July 31, August 1.
New Albany, July 30, August 1.
Hickory Flat, at Palestine, August 6.
Myrtle, at Pleasant Hill, August 7.
Ripley and Blue Mountain, at Blue Mountain, August 8, 9.
Dumas, at Wyatts Chapel, August 10.
Chalybeate, at Ebenezer, August 14, 15.
Ripley Circuit, at Falkner, August 15, 16.
Belmont, at New Hope, August 20.
Tishomingo, at Paradise, August 21, 22.

J. H. MITCHELL, P. E.

Durant Dist.—Third Round.

Black Hawk, at Shutes School House, July 3, 4.
Lexington, p. m., July 7, 8.
To dedicate White Hall Church, 11 a. m., July 9.
Noxapater, at Pleasant Hill, July 10.
High Point, at Rural Hill, July 11.
McCool, at Chapel Hill, July 17, 18.
Matheston, at Double Springs, July 31, August 1.
Ackerman, at Ackerman, 10 a. m., July 23.
Chester, at South Union, 3 p. m., July 23.
Hesterville, at Shady Grove, July 24, 25.
Durant, p. m., July 14.
Vaiden, at Vaiden, August 7, 8.
Pickens, at Ebenezer, August 14, 15.
West, at Bowling Green, August 21, 22.

W. S. SHIPMAN, P. E.

Aberdeen Dist.—Third Round.

Palestine, July 3, 4.
Pontotoc, July 5.
Shannon, at Troy, July 7.
Houlka, at Concord, July 8.
Nettleton, at Evergreen, July 10, 11.
Calhoun City, at Big Creek, July 16.
Vardaman, at Atlanta, July 17, 18.
Amory and Nettleton, at Nettleton, July 25, 26.
Aberdeen, August 1, 2.
Greenwood Springs, at Pleasant Grove, August 7, 8.
Smithville, at Paine Memorial, August 12.
Okolona Circuit, at Boone Chapel, August 14, 15.
Tremonte, at Mount Olive, August 21, 22.
Fulton, at New Salem, August 26.
Verona, at Plantersville, August 25-29.
Prairie, at Strong, September 4, 5.
Tupelo, September 6.
Montpelier, at Fosters Chapel, September 11, 12.
Buena Vista, September 13.

JNO. W. BELL, P. E.

Greenville Dist.—Third Round.

Rosedale and Hillhouse, at Rosedale, July 4, 5.
Glen Allan, at Leota, July 7.
Cleveland, July 10, 11.
Shaw and Merigold, at Shaw, July 11, 12.
Arcola, at Winterville, July 18, 19.
Benoit and Beulah, at Beulah, July 25, 26.
Clarksdale, August 1, 2.
Tunica and Robinsonville, at Hollywood, August 7, 8.
Jonestown and Belen, at Dundee, August 8, 9.
Boyle, at New Salem, August 14, 15.
Shelby, at Duncan, August 22, 23.
Gunnison, August 28, 29.
Friars Point, August 29, 30.

H. S. SPRAGINS, P. E.

Winona Dist.—Third Round.

Indianola Mission, at Case's Mill, July 3, 4.
Winona Ct., at Morgan City, July 4, 5.
Moorhead Ct., at Baird, July 10.
Itta Bena, July 11.
Tutwiler Ct., at Mattson, July 17, 18.
Dublin Ct., at Cherry Hill, July 18, 19.
North Carrollton Ct., at Coile, July 23.
Isola Ct., at Coile, July 24.
Belzoni Ct., at Swiftown, July 25, 26.
Mars Hill Ct., at Hopewell, July 31.
Carrollton Ct., at Marvin, Aug. 6.
Drew Ct., at Sandy Bayou, Aug. 7, 8.
Ruleville Ct., at Ruleville, Aug. 8, 9.
Webb Ct., at Webb, Aug. 14, 15.
Minter City Ct., at M. C., Aug. 21, 22.
Schlater Ct., at Schlater, Aug. 22, 23.
Lambert Ct., at Lambert, Aug. 28, 29.

BEN P. JACO, P. E.

Sardis Dist.—Third Round.

Charleston, at Oak Grove, July 3, 4.
Oakland, at Tillatobia, July 6.
Pleasant Hill, at Lewisburg, July 9.
Olive Branch, at Mineral Wells, July 10, 11.
Eureka, at ———, July 16.
Sardis Circuit, at Shiloh, July 17, 18.
Sardis, July 16-18.
Cockrum, at Independence, July 23.
Wall Hill, at Grub Hill, July 24, 25.
Tyro, at Emery, July 31, Aug. 1.

J. W. DORMAN, P. E.

Jackson Dist.—Third Round.

Mendenhall, at Holly Grove, July 3, 4.
Fannin, at Andrew's Chapel, July10.
Brandon and Pelahatchie, at Brandon, July 11, 12.
Harrisville, at Poplar Springs, July 17, 18.
Jackson, Galloway Memorial, July 25.
Jackson, Capitol Street, July 25, p.m.
Satartia, at Wesley Chapel, July 28.
Benton, at Bethany, July 29.
Vaughan, at Union, July 31, Aug. 1.
Canton, August 8.
Sharon, at Long Pine, August 9.
Lake City, at Crymes Chapel, August 13.
Eden, at Pleasant Hill, August 14, 15.
Yazoo City, August 15, 16.
Flora, at Livingston, August 22, 23.
Edwards, August 25.
Madison, at Pearl River, August 28, 29.
Jackson, Rankin Street, August 29, p. m.
Camden, at Thomastown, Sept. 4, 5.
Jackson, Millsaps Memorial, September 8.
Terry, at Forest Hill, Sept. 11, 12.
Florence, at Wesleyana, Sept. 15.
Bolton, at Brownsville, Sept. 18, 19.

P. D. HARDIN, P. E.

IT IS A SAD SIGHT

to see the face of a pretty girl made unsightly by scaly patches or ugly pimples. We would pity such, were it not so easy to rid the skin of these disorders. Tetterine quickly and permanently ends rough, scaly patches, pimples, eczema, tetter, ringworm, itch, etc., and all cutaneous affections. It is certain to result satisfactorily. 50c at druggist's or by mail from Shuptrine Co., Savannah, Ga.

The Fitzgerald and Clarke School.

Graduates enter every University in the United States (except five) without examination. The School is located on the edge of the Cumberland Mountains, 1070 feet above sea level. Excellent Dormitory, Gymnasium, and Library. All that we ask is that you write for our catalog. Address Box 343.

Seashore Camp Grounds

BILOXI, MISSISSIPPI

No loveller place for an outing than Seashore Campground. Excellent board at the Campground, or near, at $1 a day. Twenty-five miles of trolley along the beach. Excursion to Ship Island at little cost. The prettiest trolley ride in America. Salt baths, safe and delightful. Boats at reasonable rates. Bathing privileges free. The fishing is great. Come and see!

Camp Meeting begins July 14.

The preaching will be done by Rev. B. F. Fraser, D.D., of Oxford, Ga. Dr. Fraser is one of Georgia's greatest Pastor-Evangelists.

What better place for the family could be found than the Seashore Campground during the Camp Meeting. All Methodist ministers will be furnished lodging free of charge; meals can be had at reasonable rates.

Assembly for Christian Workers, July 22 to August 2.

A SCHOOL FOR TRAINING AND FITTING FOR BETTER SERVICE IN THE SUNDAY SCHOOL, THE EPWORTH LEAGUE, THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

For further information apply to Rev. Elmer C. Gunn, Longbeach, Miss.

For Particulars—With regard to accommodations, address P. B. Bell, manager of the Seashore Campground, Biloxi, Miss., or S. H. Meyer, 116 St. Charles St., New Orleans.

Methodist Benevolent Association

A Mutual Benefit Brotherhood for Southern Methodists. Issues Whole Life, 20-Premium Life, Term to 60, and Disability Certificates. Benefits payable at death, old age, or disability. Over $150,000.00 paid to widows, orphans, and disabled. Over $40,000.00 reserve fund. Write for rates, blanks, etc. J. H. Shumaker, Secretary, 810 Broadway, Nashville, Tenn.

Some time when you are tired drinking just ordinary Coffee and feel like drinking "A REAL GOOD CUP OF COFFEE," try a pound of

GUATEMALA BLEND

Just Phone Main 2196 and it will be delivered direct to your residence

GUATEMALA AMERICAN COFFEE CO.

617 CAMP STREET. PHONE MAIN 2196.

Chronic Diseases Cured Without Drugs

If you are afflicted with Paralysis, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Nervous Debility, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, or other diseases that medicine has failed to cure, write for our Free book which tells all about a new and better way.

Our natural methods and sanitarium appliances will restore your health. Liberal guarantee of satisfaction. Low charges. Write at once for names of physicians, ministers, lawyers, merchants, bankers, farmers, teachers, former patients, and others who endorse our treatment.

THE BIGGS SANITARIUM, - Asheville, N. C.

I chatter, chatter, as I flow,
To join the brimming river;
For men may come and men may go,
But I go on forever.

The Standard Beverage

Imitations of Coca-Cola come and go—none last more than a few seasons. This has been going on for 29 years—yet Coca-Cola, unchanged in name or self, keeps its old friends and makes new ones.

Demand the genuine by the full name that has inspired so many imitations.

THE COCA-COLA CO. Atlanta, Ga.

54-R

To the PASTORS of the LOUISIANA CONFERENCE

Not all dead. Received NINE replies in THREE WEEKS. 140 to hear from.

Please send me at once names of the young ladies graduating from your Parish High Schools.

Mansfield College FACULTY for next year double that of four years ago, and will cost as much as whole income of institution at that time. It will consist of fourteen members: one for every thirteen students. Next year's Senior class has TWENTY-TWO members. Domestic Science work in charge of A.B. graduate of splendid Southern University; Music Department has already won an enviable reputation and the ART work this year has been a constant source of delight and admiration to all who have seen it. A special TRAINING and CRITIC Teacher will have charge of TEACHER-TRAINING work and a PHYSICAL DIRECTOR is to be employed.

In our judgment, this has been the best year of our history, in quality of work, in ability of faculty, in unity of purpose, in student honor, in College loyalty, in ease of discipline, in Bible Study and religious tone and spiritual insight and growth, in size of patronage, and in actual money.

Your College and mine. It asks no favors, not an object of charity, not a reformatory, sets a high standard, not stingy with its faculty, teaches the Bible, has discipline, wins its patronage on its merit, expects good pay for good service, and thus far has paid every dollar of its obligations.

R. E. BOBBITT, Mansfield, La.

NEW ORLEANS DISTRICT NOTES.

Rev. R. M. Brown, of the Algiers church, reports that he has secured 45 new subscriptions to the Christian Advocate.

On June 20 the Sunday school of Parker Memorial Church had a very interesting Temperance Program, and a number signed the pledge.

Mr. J. D. Saint, a member of Carrollton Church, was elected president of the State Epworth League in its recent conference at First Church.

On Friday, June 25, the Carrollton Epworth League gave a musical entertainment, in which they had the services of a number of people of great talent and ability.

Felicity Church is doing substantial work along all lines. The attendance at prayer meeting has been especially good this year. The attendance upon the Sunday services is also good. A number of persons have been received into the church.

The pastor of Epworth Church was presented with a purse sufficient to defray his expenses to the Seashore Divinity School, and he appreciates the thoughtfulness and esteem of his people very much. Some of the ladies of the congregation interested themselves in the matter and secured the necessary amount from members and friends of the Church. During the absence of Brother Doss his pulpit on Sunday, June 27, was ably filled by Dr. John T. Sawyer.

The presiding elder was recently at Fitzgerald, on the St. Tammany charge, and he found the affairs of the Church there in a most flourishing condition. The people are planning to erect a new building at once. The spirit of co-operation and the deep interest are shown in the fact that some will donate the timber, that one man has offered to saw it into the proper lumber, and that a number have volunteered to give a part of their time to the work of construction.

During the recent State Epworth League Conference in First Church, Saturday night, June 19, a very fine children's service was held under the direction of Mrs. Harper. The well-arranged program beautifully illustrated the needs of the child in the kingdom of God and showed the valuable asset he is to the Church. The children's societies of the following Churches took part and each had a number on the program: Mary Werlein Mission, directed by Miss Lampard; St. Mark's Hall, by Miss Nutt; Carrollton, by Miss Jamieson; Parker Memorial, by Mrs. Kilbourne, and First Church, by Mrs. Root.

A NOTE FROM BROTHER DAVIES.

Dear Dr. Meek: We are getting on fairly well with the affairs of the Jackson charge; but there is much to be done between this date and Nov. 17, the announced time of the Louisiana Annual Conference. The late session of the Baton Rouge District Conference was a decided success. We still have Bowman for presiding elder and he works right well. Every preacher in this district is busy except one, and I am working some. Van Carter is awakening some interest in Sunday school work throughout the Florida parishes. He should have the hearty co-operation and sympathetic help of all our ministers and churches. The great Bible Class movement in the Sunday school to-day is a bulwark of defense for Christian truth and opens a new field for earnest, efficient activity. I consider it as second to no other movement in the Church to-day for crystallizing Christian effort into visible results. Let the good work go on.

Jackson, La. S. J. DAVIES.

CONCERNING SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK.

To the Preachers of the Mississippi Annual Conference.

Dear Brethren: For two days, August 12 and 13, during the Assembly at the Seashore Campground, the entire time will be given to Sunday school work. The management is doing all in its power to make these days both pleasant and profitable.

They have asked the Sunday School Board to help them in bringing this before the workers of the Conference, so we are asking you, Brother Pastor, to see each of your Sunday school superintendents and get them or some of their helpers to prepare to be in attendance on these two days.

Reasonable rates for board and rooms will be available—splendid fishing and bathing, delightful breezes and a most beautiful place to meet. Be sure to come and bring some from your Sunday school with you. Some of the best workers of our Church will be in charge. You can't afford to miss it. August 12 and 13 is the time. H. F. TOLLE, Pres. Board.

THE NORTH MISSISSIPPI LEAGUE MEETING.

The North Mississippi Epworth League Conference met in Grenada, Miss., on Monday, June 4, Prof. E. F. Puckett of Nettleton presiding. The first session on Monday night consisted of the addresses of welcome and response, special music by the choir, an address by the president, and an outdoor social feature which was very much enjoyed by everybody. The delegates were entertained in the homes of the people of Grenada and speak in the highest terms of the warm hospitality shown them. Among the speakers were the following: Dr. E. H. Rawlings and Rev. J. M. Culbreth of Nashville; Dr. H. G. Henderson, Rev. R. P. Nehlett, Rev. R. H. B. Gladney, Rev T. H. Dorsey, Rev. S. L. Pope, Rev. W. D. Wendel, Rev. J. R. Countiss, Rev. E. H. Cunningham, Rev. J. A. Hall, and Rev. B. P. Jaco. Others who took part in the program were: W. G. Comings, Miss Lillie Hartwell, Jim Cockrum, Miss Myrtle Furr, Miss Mabel Fulmer, Rev. J. H. Holder, and J. R. Bell.

The Conference lasted until Wednesday night, and although the number of visiting delegates was a little smaller than had been expected, the Conference was exceedingly profitable. The next Conference goes to Water Valley, Miss. E. F. PUCKETT.

WHITWORTH COLLEGE
BROOKHAVEN, MISS.

A leading institution with a great past and a greater future.

Four Schools
College of Liberal Arts.
Domestic Science.
Academy Preparatory to College.
Conservatory of Music, Art and Expression.

For Catalogue Address Whitworth College, Brookhaven, Miss.

GRENADA COLLEGE

A Christian School for Girls and Young Women.
Stands for Character, Health, Culture, Comfort.

Strong Faculty with University and Foreign Training. Buildings: Brick, Steam-heated throughout. Grounds: Ample and Beautiful.

Offers a Four-year PREPARATORY COURSE; College Courses of Four Years Leads to A. B. Degree. Diplomas in PIANO, VOICE, ART, EXPRESSION, and DOMESTIC SCIENCE. Total expense for Literary Course, $210 per session of Nine Months.

Grenada, Miss., Box C. J. R. COUNTISS, President.

PRICE-WEBB SCHOOL
LEWISBURG, TENN.

A Boy's Preparatory School located in one of the most healthful sections of Middle Tennessee. Stresses thoroughness in training. Possesses an excellent library and encourages pupils to use it freely. Non-denominational, but stands for the highest ideals of Christian character.

Fall term begins September 2.
Tuition $75.00. Board at reasonable rates.
For full information address
E. T. PRICE, Principal,
W. R. WEBB, Advisory Principal.

Ripley Circuit, North Miss. Conf.

Dear Brother Meek: Will you give space for a few words concerning the work of the Ripley (Miss.) Circuit? Our pastor, Rev. M. L. Ward, was compelled to miss two or three appointments early in the year on account of bad roads and the serious affliction of his wife, who suffered greatly for several weeks. However, we are proud to say that she has now fully recovered. Brother Ward has good Sunday schools at all his churches, as follows: Brownfield, Falkner, Bethlehem, near Cotton Plant, and Rainey's Chapel, at Shady Grove, where the parsonage is located. He has also organized and has running an interesting weekly prayer meeting at his home church. Children's Day was observed there on the first Sunday in June. Fully 60 per cent of the Conference collections has been provided for in cash and subscriptions, and at the last meeting of the board of stewards the pastor's salary was raised $125, which attests his popularity. He and his estimable family are greatly loved and appreciated, and the whole charge is flourishing under his ministry.

A MEMBER.

WOMAN'S DAY FOR THE DURANT DISTRICT.

Dear Brethren: I hope that you will observe the second Sunday in July (the 11th) as "Woman's Day," at which time you are expected to preach the greatest missionary sermon of your life, and organize a missionary society where you have none, and continue to preach these big sermons and organize societies until you have organized at every church. Do your best, my dear brethren, to do this. The Woman's Missionary Society is earnestly making this request; surely we will heed.

I appeal to the women of our district to help us to change the report we made at the last Annual Conference; it does not represent us in any way—at least, it should not.

My observation is that where the women are organized and at work that congregation takes on an air of prosperity, and the pastor makes a good report at Conference.

For all kinds of information, write the District Secretary, Miss Elie Willingham, Eupora, Miss.

Your Brother, W. S. SHIPMAN.
Durant, Miss., June 18, 1915.

NEW ORLEANS
CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE

Vol. 62—No. 27. Official Organ of the Louisiana, Mississippi, and North Mississippi Conferences, Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Whole No. 3098.

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor. NEW ORLEANS, LA., THURSDAY, JULY 8, 1915. CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Editorial

A FRIGHTFUL OUTCOME.

A single evil deed may lead to consequences that are immeasurable. The most striking illustration of this in the history of the world is, of course, what has followed from the disobedient act of Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden. But aside from that, the possible far-reaching influence of a wrong deed has never perhaps been more strikingly illustrated than in what has resulted from the murder of the heir apparent to the throne of Austria-Hungary about a year ago. The Brooklyn (New York) Daily Eagle of June 28 comments as follows upon the frightful outcome of that regrettable crime:

"A year ago to-day the Austrian Archduke, Francis Ferdinand, and his wife were assassinated by a student in Serajevo, Bosnia. About a month later an ultimatum was sent to Servia from Vienna and war followed. The two lives taken have proved to be expensive. The killed, wounded, and captured are said to number more than 6,000,000, and the number of ships destroyed exceed 600. Financially, the cost is reckoned in billions. Eleven nations are engaged in the struggle. That more will take a hand is altogether likely. That it will end this year seems to be impossible."

This summary says nothing of the ruin that has been wrought where mighty armies have contended, of broken hearts and desolated homes, of wailing widows and orphaned children, or of the fires of hatred that have been kilied that will burn for decades and curse future generations.

Nor is there yet any indication that the end of the fearful conflict is near at hand. Germany has been driven from the Far East, most of her colonies have been wrested from her, France holds a portion of Alsace and Italy a part of Austria, German commerce has been swept from the seas, and with the exception of communication through Holland and the Scandinavian nations, the Kaiser's empire is practically cut off from the rest of the world. But, on the other hand, Germany yet holds nearly the whole of Belgium, dominates one-eighth of France and is within fifty-six miles of Paris, and, in conjunction with Austria, has lately forced the Russians completely back into their own territory.

When and how this greatest war of the ages will terminate God alone can tell. Let us pray that our own nation may be kept out of this awful maelstrom of death and ruin, and that peace, righteous and enduring, may speedily come to the stricken peoples of the Old World.

NEGRO METHODISTS TO CO-OPERATE.

At a meeting held at Cincinnati, Ohio, on Wednesday, June 30, which was participated in by representatives of the Methodist Episcopal Church (white, but with a large colored membership), the African Methodist Episcopal Church, the African M. E. Zion Church, and the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church (which was established by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South), a broad scheme of co-operation was agreed upon. The plan adopted provides for a common hymnal, the use of the same ritual and catechism, the same standard in the course of study maintained for ministers, the standardizing of schools and colleges, the holding of inter-Methodist preachers' institutes and Christian workers' assemblies, united action in evangelism, education, home and foreign missions, and a division of missionary territory to stop waste.

We infer that this scheme of co-operation will have to be approved by the General Conferences of the four Churches represented in the Cincinnati meeting before it will become operative. If it is put into effect it will bring into closer relations in Christian work 1,600,000 Negro Methodists, and in the course of time it may exercise an appreciable influence upon the great problem of the unification of all the Methodist bodies of the United States. We are not sure, however, if the Northern and Southern Methodist Churches (white) should continue to remain apart that it would be wise for the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church to enter into the whole of this arrangement. It might result in largely "northernizing" the whole Negro Methodism of the country, which, we think, would be unfortunate.

ONLY THE OLD FAITH SUFFICIENT.

Rev. B. Fay Mills, who some years ago was a Congregational minister of good standing and an evangelist of national distinction, but who later "broadened out" and became a liberal in theology, breaking away entirely from the old standards, has publicly announced his return to the orthodox faith. He was caught in the widespread modern trend and was led to deny the Deity of Christ and the complete inspiration of the Holy Scriptures and founded a new cult in the Far West known as the "Los Angeles Fellowship." But Mr. Mills did not find the new teaching satisfying and adequate, and he now proclaims that the Christianity of Christ and the Apostles as the Church has always held and taught it is the only hope of humanity. He is not the first man who has followed an ignis fatuus out into darkness, only to grope his way finally back into the light. It is claimed that the great European war, which was precipitated by the nation in which the "New Thought" has most flourished, has had much to do with the disillusionment of Mr. Mills. That titanic conflict ought to serve to teach all Christendom that the simple, spiritual Christianity of our fathers—of Wesley, of Luther, and of Paul—alone has the vital power to regenerate the individual heart and to preserve the civilization of a people from wreck and ruin.

HOW DO THEY COMPARE?

Outward conduct lacks much of being a complete measure of character. If external morality were all that is required to constitute a man of the noblest type we would find the very flower of manhood in the Pharisees of our Lord's time. It is to one's principles, to the inner things of one's spirit, that we must chiefly look if we would take one's true measure. It is probable that, as a rule, the public men of this period in the observance of the outward moral proprieties surpass those of former decades; but how do they compare with them in devotion to principle, in courage, in unselfishness, in their conceptions of integrity and honor, and in the spirit of chivalry and self-sacrifice? Who, like Henry Clay, "would rather be right than President?" and who, like Robert E. Lee, would turn down an offer of $50,000 annually for the use of his name, because he doesn't want any money that he doesn't truly earn? The scramble to get on the Carnegie pension list would seem to indicate that the spirit of Lee in this respect is not much abroad in the land.

GO, IF YOU CAN.

The Seashore Camp Meeting, which has been held annually at the Seashore Camp Ground for decades, will begin on Wednesday, July 14, and continue for several days. The services, as has been announced in the Advocate, will be conducted by Dr. Frank Fraser, of Oxford, Ga., who is said to be a man of spiritual insight and power. It is to be hoped that there will be a large attendance and that the occasion will he one of great interest and religious profit. Wonderful scenes have been witnessed at this old camp ground in the days agone, and there is no reason why they should not be repeated in this day. Human need is the same; the Gospel has lost none of its power, and God is still ready to pour out the Holy Spirit upon the people if only the conditions laid down in his Word are properly met. Go to the Seashore Camp Meeting if you can and lend a helping hand there in the noble work of soul-winning. The Methodists of Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama do not make as much of this magnificent property on the Gulf Coast as they ought. It is easily the finest assembly ground in this section of the South. See the announcements concerning this camp meeting and other gatherings soon to be held there which are published elsewhere in this issue of the Advocate.

METHODIST NEWS BUREAU.

The Book Committee and Publishing Agents, acting under the instruction of the General Conference, have provided for a Methodist News Bureau. This Bureau will send out to all of the Church papers such items as will be of general interest. It is expected that these items will be sent by individuals in every part of the Church. Perhaps not all items sent will he used, hut our connectional officials, school representatives, evangelists, presiding elders, pastors and others will confer a favor on those having in charge this work by sending in items of general interest, to reach us not later than Friday of any week. Address Methodist News Bureau, 810 Broadway, Nashville, Tenn.

TAUGHT BY A CHILD.

"A little child walked by my side;
I had lost faith in God and man,
He prattled of his joys and hopes
As only little children can.
I did not try to blast his hopes,
I did not tell him of my pain,
And, somehow, when our walk was done,
My shattered faith was whole again."

A LAWYER'S PASSION.

"Ten years ago a lawyer was redeemed from a life of sin and joined the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Los Angeles. For some time now he has won nearly 600 souls for the Master each year. He spends the working days in his legal profession, devoting nights and Sundays to soul-winning. What can consecrated talent not do when it is on fire for the Kingdom of God?"

THE ONE WHO NEVER FAILS.

Dr. J. H. Jowett made a striking and dramatic picture as he stood in his pulpit before a congregation that crowded the great Fifth Avenue edifice to the doors on the last Sunday afternoon in May, and bade farewell to his congregation. Dr. Jowett is to spend the next three months in England, administering such comfort and solace as he may among his countrymen. As he concluded his sermon, he spoke in this familiar manner:

"Jesus has never betrayed my trust in Him. Jesus has never failed me in time of need. Jesus has at all times answered my call for rest and for strength in him. I want this to be my testimony, this last Sunday afternoon I stand in my pulpit before sailing for England. Glory to His name!"—New York Christian Advocate.

ENLARGED CONCEPTION OF CHRIST NEEDED.

It has been pointed out with great appropriateness that men need to-day a revived conception of the greatness of Jesus Christ. Men talk much of the "Prophet of Galilee" and the "Peasant of Galilee," and it is proper that we should always think of Jesus Christ as a great prophet or teacher, and as a real man who walked among men in Galilee; but we must never forget that Jesus is the Son of God, with all the power and prestige which that name implies. Dr. James A. Francis once said: "If you want to have backbone in your character, if you want a peace that cannot be shaken by anything in earth or hell, if you want a courage that will not quail before any task life will ever bring, the royal road to these things is to have behind you and within you the Christ of the New Testament, the Eternal, Changeless, Omnipotent Son of God."—The Presbyterian.

"YE ARE THE TEMPLE OF THE LIVING GOD."

"What is that building?" asked a missionary of a Mohammedan.

"That is the mosque," was the quick reply.

"What is it used for?"

"For the worship of God."

"Would you allow a dog or a pig to enter it?"

"No, indeed!"

"Why not?"

"Because it is God's house, and to allow anything unclean to enter would defile it."

"Then why do you permit sin in your heart, which is God's temple more than any other place," the missionary rejoined.

Likewise many people in America have great reverence for the church (building), but little concern with regard to the condition of their own hearts. Like the scribes and Pharisees, they "make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within are full of extortion."—Pittsburgh Christian Advocate.

THE PREACHER'S THEMES.

By Rev. S. J. Davies.

(Read before the recent session of the Baton Rouge District Conference and published by request of that body.)

In a careful and intelligent study of the New Testament one cannot fail to notice, among the various ministries therein mentioned, that the preaching of the gospel is a distinct work, related to other services, yet separate and apart. In the primary sense the preacher is not a servitor in the King's household—he is the King's ambassador, bearing his credentials from the throne. He declares the truth through his own personality, yet his message is the voice of the King. Other duties may at times engage his attention, but these must be co-ordinated to his sovereign work, and never made superior thereto. "The King's business requireth haste," and the messenger must be ready, swift and willing. The chief glory of this ministry lies in its loyal devotion.

In the subject assigned me for discussion at this hour, I refer to the greatness of the work, and advise that we select the great texts from the Bible in preparing sermons. The Word of God abounds with these. A man who is forever dealing with abstract principles, the mere mechanism of revealed truth, and never lets his soul swing out into the vast reaches of the empire of beauty, life and power in God's Word, can never be a real preacher; for a man must have imagination and vision to know and interpret his message aright. Perhaps I may emphasize this lesson by some concrete selections from the Word. Take the great drama of Creation as it is unfolded in all its majesty, grandeur, and meaning in the opening chapters of the Book of Genesis. What a sublime vista is here revealed—chaos and the vast illimitable sweep of unbounded space, light flashing from the great central source, a naked world clothed with verdure, mighty oceans and lengthened rivers teeming with fish, then forests and brakes alive with beasts and vocal with birds, then man in his Eden untainted by sin, in the image of his Maker, monarch of all this fair world.

Or take the Flood—a weird tragedy of a forsaken race and a drowning world. The heavens pour out their torrents in streams and sheets, the great deep breaks its barriers, and the waters underneath the earth join the mighty deluge. The thunders roar, and the earthquake groans. Lightning stabs the face of the darkened sky, and men are struggling in a swirl of waters. No wonder that Milton and Dante turned to the Bible for the grandest and most sublime poetry ever written, save perhaps the Book itself! The great preacher loses himself in the greatness of God. Sidney Lanier in that exquisite poem, "The Marches of Glynn," gives us a thought worth treasuring:

"As the marsh hen secretly builds on the watery sod,
Behold, I will build me a nest on the greatness of God;
I will fly in the greatness of God, as the marsh hen flies,
In the freedom that fills all the space 'twixt the marsh and the skies:
By so many roots as the marsh grass sends in the sod,
I will heartily lay me hold on the greatness of God:
O like to the greatness of God is the greatness within;
The range of the marshes, the liberal marshes of Glynn."

This brings me to the thought that great preaching must have great themes, and a wide range. Life studies of the leading Bible characters is a fruitful field for the preacher. Take Abraham and discuss the salient points of his life. His call and ready response; his obedience and close fellowship with the divine; his clear vision and invincible faith; his blessing and blessing others; his simple shepherd life, and yet a companion of kings and the friend of God. Moses, just here, not what Moses did, but what Moses was and is. Biographical themes, we might call these. One can gather around the heroic characters of the Old Testament lesson of life that are rich and rare. Patriarchs, prophets, priests and kings—it is a picture gallery of the early world.

Turning from the field of biography to that of history, which is the biography of nations, we find a veritable treasure-house of subject matter. As one has beautifully said, "Across brawling centuries filled with crime and war, we hear the bleating of Abraham's flocks and the tinkling of the bells of Rebekah's camels." To further enlarge the idea, we walk with Isaac under the evening calm of Syrian skies and follow his son on his weary pilgrimage, when lo! the gates of heaven are opened and angels climb on a stairway of light hearing his dreaming prayer to the God of his fathers. Or with open vision can see him wrestling with the angel of the covenant, at Jabbok's ford, then anon gathering the tribal fathers about his couch, as with fleeting breath he bestows, with prophetic insight, his parting benediction on each. The preacher should have the historic imagination and the historic scope of vision.

David's wars, and David's statesmanship, his black sin and his deep, poignant repentance; Elijah's miraculous life, the career of such faithful prophets as Samuel and Nathan, men whose lives were inseparably bound up with the welfare of the nation; Isaiah's princely preaching, sounding in notes as clear as a spring bird's call to its mate the mighty work of the coming Christ, and his sublime poems that still live and throb with pulsing life; Jeremiah's tears, as he weeps over the recreant daughter of Zion—surely in all this and these there is a vast wealth and world of subject matter for the minister of Jesus Christ. I need scarcely mention the so-called Minor Prophets and the historical setting of such men as Hosea, Amos, and the quaint wonderful imagery of Zechariah. The main point is to use wise judgment in selection.

Turning to the New Testament, we enter the secret place of the tabernacle of the Most High, John the Baptist and the stirring history of his day; Rome mistress of the world and Judea captive; men in eager expectation looking for the promised Deliverer; a lone cry in the wilderness, repent! repent! the day dawns, the kingdom is at hand. From center to circumference the land which gave birth to many prophets bears a note of hope, and vast multitudes seek Jordan's ford's for baptism. None born of women was greater than he in heroic courage, in faithfulness, in zeal, yet your opportunity is greater than was his.

Take the leading events in the life of our Lord—his advent and incarnation. Poor indeed in equipment and gifts must be the man who can not preach a Christmas sermon, with shepherds seeing heavenly visions of singing angels, and wise men laden with rich gifts seeking the manger cradle.

His baptism and the scene of this wonderful event—the supreme lesson of obedience and his coming down to humanity's plane. The Temptation—a sublime, true drama in which heaven, earth and hell take part, and the actors move from one sphere to another as though born to each.

The Transfiguration—its clear revelation of the glory of the unseen world and the wonder of the life beyond. It is not strange that Peter wanted to camp there. We should have liked to hold an institute amid such glorious surroundings. Then his sermons—so calm, so majestic, filled with life, truth, beauty, and the might of convincement that awakens the conscience and stirs the deep fountains of our nature.

Pass onward to the parables. Gems of truth, studded with stars of beauty. Earth, air and sea, mountain, field, and market-place, the shepherd with his flock, the woman in the home, the errant boy homeless and wandering, with a welcome from the father's heart—these and many more are mines of wealth for themes.

But while we are preachers of righteousness, much more should we be preachers of redemption and the saving grace of our Lord. Gethsemane's shadow and deep, mysterious tragedy of divine suffering and agony is the only remedy for the broken-hearted and over-burdened. The fellowship of that hour with him leaves an indelible imprint on every heart and life that has known it. Then the cross and the atonement made then once for all. Here is the theme of all themes. Preach it with all its mighty meaning, with its redeeming, saving power.

Jackson, La.

THE REPORT OF THE HOLLY SPRINGS DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

Dear Dr. Meek: I was very much disappointed and astonished at the contents of the report of the secretary of the Holly Springs District Conference held at Duck Hill, which report was published in the Advocate of June 17.

A careful analysis of the report would indicate that it was a conference of preachers and women. Aside from the election of lay delegates to the Annual Conference there is no reference to any part taken by the laymen, except perhaps that of giving some gratuitous advice to the preachers and telling them how they may become more efficient, which advice, the report indicates, will not be heeded; and in that connection the report uses the following language:

"One brother drew a concrete example from the bees. He said the working bees feed the drones on rough food for some time and finally let them die, and that many of the preachers were feeding the drones on rough food. This brother didn't take the time to say that a drone would just be a drone and nothing more regardless of what he had eaten, and if he had taken the time he might have figured out the reason he was being fed on rough food."

Having been present when this "Brother drew the concrete example" and being in a position to know positively what the "Brother" said and the point illustrated, I must say that this statement of the report altogether misrepresents what the "brother" said and the application made, and that the honorable secretary missed entirely the point and beauty of the illustration.

In the first place, the "brother" was not discussing the efficiency of the preacher, but was discussing the condition of the Church in connection with the Laymen's Movement; he made his talk, at the request of the presiding elder, when the report of the Committee on Lay Activities was before the Conference, and made the illustration apply to all church workers as well as to preachers.

First, the "brother" gave some church statistics found in "The Call of America," by John M. Moore, D. D.; he said that of the 93 millions of people in the United States, 22 millions are members of some Protestant Church, and that 55 millions adhered to no religious order; that of these 22 million church members nine-tenths do not work for Christ in teaching, public prayer, administrative or benevolent lines, or any work that means real service. He then applied this proportion to the Southern Methodist Church, and said of the two millions of Southern Methodists, at this rate there would be only 200,000 real workers and there would be 1,800,000 non-workers or drones. It was in this connection that he "drew the concrete example of bees," but not in the way nor in the language reported, but as follows:

The "brother" first stated that in every colony of bees there were three kinds: (1) The queen, which was the mother bee of the colony, the only one that has the power of reproduction; (2) the worker bee, that gathered the food product; and (3) the drone, the lazy fellow, that did nothing but eat of the stores laid up by the worker, and when the honey crop became short he was driven out of the hive and allowed to starve, because he had no power to gather his own food. The "brother" then described the process of rearing these different kinds of bees. He said that when a new queen was necessary the bees selected the most perfect larva in the worker cells and would feed that larva on a specially prepared food, which scientists say is almost predigested; this food is in the form of a jelly, and the bee-men call it the "royal jelly." The larva feeding on this "royal jelly" develops and grows so rapidly that it becomes necessary to enlarge the cell to accommodate the enlarged larva, and when the young queen emerges from this cell she is the highest development of the bee kingdom with her procreating powers fully developed, due to the food upon which she fed in her formative state. The worker larva is fed upon a good food, but not so good as the "royal jelly," and the larva is fed upon the coarsest food prepared by the bees. It was at this point that the "brother" made the application and said that he feared that the reason there were so many drones in the Church was because of the rough food on which they were fed.

It will be noticed that the reference was not to the preacher any more than the other church workers. The "brother" had said there were 200,000 church workers in the Methodist Church, and if the honorable secretary had taken the time to figure a little he would have discovered that the preachers of our Church constitute only about one-thirtieth of its working force, and if he had kept up with church work he would have known that the greatest food product of the Church is supplied by its Sunday schools, Epworth Leagues, educational institutions, and Missionary Societies, and he would have known further that the preachers of our Church do not constitute a great Standard Oil Trust, monopolizing the oil of salvation, as the Standard Oil Company has monopolized the oil fields of America, and are selling oil to the people at ten cents per gallon. The "brother" was careful in the beginning of his talk to say that he regarded the Methodist Church, in its organization, to be distinctively a layman's Church, and referred to the Wesleyan Church, where three-fourths of the services are held by the lay preachers, and to the class leaders of our early history. Had the honorable secretary and the displeased clerical brethren followed the entire trend of the "brother's" talk they would not have fallen into the error of supposing that the preacher was the only one referred to, but would have discovered that the entire address was an appeal to the entire Church to take a greater interest in the training of its young people for Christian service.

The secretary shows his absolute failure to grasp the point made by the "brother" when he says, "This brother didn't take the time to say that a drone would just be a drone and nothing more regardless of what he had eaten." It was not necessary for the "brother" to make the statement since he had reference to the larva before it became a drone. It is true that a drone will be a drone regardless of what he eats; it is also true that an old drone in the Church will always be a drone, and no human agency can make him anything else; the only thing that will change him is the Holy Spirit, that can make him a new creature, a babe in Christ, or, in the bee language, a larva, that needs to be fed by the worker in order that he may develop a Christian character. The "brother" was trying to impress on the Conference that it was necessary to take the embryo Christian and give him food suitable to his spiritual needs so that he would not become a drone—not to wait until his character is formed, when no human agency can change it; but to begin at the time when the Christian, co-laboring with God, can teach and direct the babe in Christ in such a way that this child will grow and develop into a strong laborer for Christ.

Besides, in the spiritual kingdom, as well as in the bee kingdom, there are certain immutable laws: the drone does not become a drone, the worker does not become a worker, nor the queen a queen, in either kingdom by accident; but in each kingdom this is governed by law and the law is somewhat similar in each.

To produce a queen or a worker among the bees three things are necessary: 1. The mother queen must have met her mate. The virgin queen can only produce a drone, since a drone is the product of an infertile egg. 2. The egg must be laid in a cell smaller than the body of the queen, so that some effort will be made by the queen in order to deposit the egg, which effort renders active the virile member within her, and fertilizes the egg. 3. Proper food must be given the larva to determine what it is to become, whether a queen or a worker. So in the spiritual life similar conditions must exist: 1. The Church, the great mother, must be mated; she must be imbued with the Holy Ghost—must have spiritual power. 2. She must put forth the proper effort; so that this spirit will become active and unite with the soul that is to be born. 3. The newborn babe in Christ must be fed on spiritual food suitable to its needs and condition, and if fed on a "royal jelly," prepared by a co-operation with the Holy Ghost, it will develop a royal priesthood, with the greatest reproductive power.

I concur with the "brother," in the fear that the Church is putting forth too little effort in feeding the child of God in its formative period, and in furnishing it with a properly prepared food, and that this lack of proper food causes a large number to die of starvation or of cholera infantum, leaving only the inactive body behind, which is only the drone life.

But the unkindest cut of all was when the secretary said of the "brother," "If he had taken the time he might have figured out the reason he was being fed on rough food." This remark, taken in connection with the statement "that many of the preachers are feeding the drones on rough food," can only have reference to this "brother's" pastor, and a charge that this pastor is one of those who are using rough food. I noticed, at the Conference, a disposition on the part of some to make this fling at this "brother's" pastor, since one of the preachers then and there said that he was sorry to learn that this "brother's" pastor was feeding him on shucks. I thought at the time that, considering the great spiritual leanness of the church, the "brother's" pastor is not the only preacher that is feeding his congregation on shucks. However, both remarks were altogether gratuitous and uncalled for, since the "brother" did not say that he was fed on shucks or a rough food; and if the "brother" is a drone he would need a manna that no preacher could give him, since this brother's character is formed and no food given him could change it. The "brother," from my own knowledge, has been a church worker for more than twenty years, and is not dependent on any other worker to furnish him with his food supply; he is amply able to draw it from original sources. He can enter the garden that the Lord has placed in his reach, and sip the nectar of joy from its flowers; he can draw his food supply from the revealed Word, from the great book of nature, from the lives of his fellow-men, and, kneeling at the throne of grace, he can receive sustenance and power from the Deity himself—from Him who says, "Ask and ye shall receive, knock and it shall be opened unto you." The worker is not fed by his fellow-man, but by God, and, co-laboring with God, he gathers up stores to feed those who are weak and unable to work.

I would not have paid the attention to this report that I have if I had not had reports from various sources throughout our Conference indicating that the ministers of the Conference are to a large extent indifferent to the Laymen's Movement, and that only a few of them are making any effort to develop it, and that some seem really hostile to it and discourage the efforts the laymen are making; but this is the first evidence that I have seen of an effort to ignore it. This report does not even give the information that Professor A. M. Muckenfuss, of Oxford, was elected district lay-leader.

In view of the foregoing, I will, in conclusion, say that the difference between bee culture and our workers is that the insect obeys the law of its nature, while we ignore the laws of our spiritual nature. The successful manager of an apiary, recognizing the laws governing the development of the various kinds of bees, and observing them, have reduced the number of drones in each of his colonies to a minimum, while we, failing to observe the laws of spiritual growth and development have allowed our Church drones to increase until they have reached almost the maximum.

E. V. HUGHSTON.

Greenwood, Miss., June 25, 1915.

A PLEA FOR THE NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE.

When I joined the Methodist Church in 1854, at the age of fifteen, my idea was that a church member should have his church paper, hymn book, and Discipline, in addition to the Bible, as necessary equipments for the Christian life and church service. Though a poor farmer boy, I was not long in procuring these requisites, which I have used to this day with great benefit personally and in the Lord's work.

Since my admission into the traveling ministry in 1860, I have been a continuous subscriber for every periodical published by our Publishing House and have the honor now by the unsolicted favor of the Agents of being on the mailing lists "for life" for the Christian Advocate, the Quarterly Review, and Sunday School Magazine.

I prize these publications more and more, as they keep me in constant touch with the religious thought, spirit and work of the age.

I have been a regular reader of the New Orleans Christian Advocate for forty years. It is in our home a longed-for and welcome visitor every week, and none is more eager for its coming than the 10-year-old grandchild, who at once finds and reads the "Home Circle" page. It is indeed a family religious newspaper worthy of all acceptation and commendation.

As the organ of Southern Methodism in Mississippi and Louisiana, it deserves and should have a much larger circulation among the people called Methodists in these States than it now enjoys. They need the paper for information and inspiration not obtainable elsewhere; and the peper needs their prompt and loyal support, without which it cannot run to fulfill its mission.

Surely the statements and appeals recently made by the Editor and Publisher are not in vain, but will result in the renewal of the 3000 delinquent subscriptions and the addition of many new ones. Let every pastor and friend see to this in his own charge or community. If you have not already the names, write at once for them, giving post-offices in your field.

The patronizing Conferences at their recent sessions declared by vote as follows: Louisiana Conference—"We wish to commend the editorial policy of the New Orleans Christian Advocate, and we earnestly request our pastors to represent this periodical to the Methodist people of Louisiana. The work of our Church cannot progress in a satisfactory manner unless the constituents of the Church continually inform themselves along the lines of church movements. The only consistent course to pursue is to endeavor to see that every Methodist family is supplied with the church paper."

Mississippi Conference: "We recommend renewed effort on the part of the pastors to put the Advocate in every home of the Church, and that as early in the year as is practicable a special Advocate day be held and that this cause be represented in every pulpit of the Conference."

North Mississippi Conference: "It affords us the keenest pleasure to again commend with all the force at our command the New Orleans Christian Advocate, which to-day is regarded as one of the most influential and authoritative journals in Southern Methodism. We commend this truly great publication to our people everywhere and urge our preachers to busy themselves in these times of stringency to maintain and advance its subscription list."

If members of the Conference, each and all, preachers and laymen, are faithful to their resolutions thus expressed, great results will follow.

Let Advocate Day be observed in every congregation by presenting explicitly and earnestly the merits and claims of the paper, this to be followed by a personal canvass. Let this be done as early as practicable, as the matter is urgent.

Pastors and presiding elders who are wont to plead the want of time because of the multiplicity of cares and duties should consider that they have less trouble and worry with the readers of the church paper than with those who are not in reference to the collections and other religious activities. Therefore, in circulating the papers they not only benefit the reader, but secure to themselves valuable aid in their pastoral work.

Surely with practically 150,000 church members, under the leadership of 32 presiding elders and 500 pastors, our time-honored and worthy New Orleans Christian Advocate will not be allowed to drag its way through the waters of adversity, but will soon be sailing on the high tide of prosperity.

C. W. BACHMAN.

Winona, Miss.

Secular News and Comment

By R. E. Meek.

In 1912 the world's cocoanut products were valued at $350,000.

* * *

Over one hundred cases of pellagra are being treated by physicians in Kearchie, La.

* * *

On June 12 a mild earthquake was felt at Los Angeles, Cal. Fortunately no damage was done.

* * *

Mexico recently threatened to fire on United States troops if they were landed on her soil.

* * *

Every day forty tons of letters and parcels are sent to the British troops stationed at the front.

* * *

There are 2000 department store girls in the State of New York who receive less than $3 per week.

* * *

June 18 was the 140th anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill. Upon that day business was suspended in Boston and its suburbs.

* * *

There are not less than 100 women, disguised in men's apparel, fighting in the Russian army. Most of them belong to Siberian regiments.

* * *

One of the highest honors that one serving in the English army or navy can win is to receive the Victoria Cross, which was created January 29, 1856.

* * *

Three nephews of the present Pope are serving in the Italian army, and another, who is a young artillery officer, is making preparation to rejoin his regiment.

* * *

The number of prisoners taken by Germany and Austria up to June 14 is estimated at 1,610,000. If the number is divided according to the nationality there are among the captives 1,240,000 Russians, 255,000 Frenchmen, 24,000 Englishmen, 41,000 Belgians, and 50,000 Serbians.

* * *

A national daily in the interest of nation-wide prohibition has been established in Westerville, Ohio, by the Anti-Saloon League of America. Other publications of this great temperance organization are a yearly handbook, a monthly magazine, and a weekly paper.

* * *

In Mississippi, the industrial high school occupies an important place among the secondary educational institutions of the State. It is doing for the masses what the ordinary high school and college are unable to accomplish. One of the many successful schools of this kind is the Bolivar County Industrial College, to which two new dormitories have recently been added.

* * *

In the Magnolia State a movement is being launched by Mrs. C. H. Alexander, of Jackson, for the purpose of raising funds for the education of needy boys and girls in the mountain districts of our country, in honor of the late Mrs. Ellen Wilson, the wife of President Woodrow Wilson. Mrs. Wilson possessed a noble Christian character which she exhibited in her deep concern for all poor and unfortunate people, and there could be no fitter way of keeping her memory green. A similar campaign has been started in Georgia, and it is hoped all the other Southern States will do likewise.

* * *

German women in Berlin are planting crops to help to supply the German army with food. No doubt this is going on throughout the entire empire, and if it is and these crops prosper, Germany can not be starved out. She will probably have to get out of ammunition and men before the Allies can overcome her and restore peace in Europe.

SUGGESTIVE.

Dear Dr. Meek: I am not a scribe but sometimes a thought gets into my head, and, believing in "passing it on" when you find a good thing, I wish to mention two good things that I have found and which I think would be advantageous to some of the brethren.

I read some, and having access to what I consider a really good library, I read some of the best books going, besides magazines and the two best papers to be had, to-wit, The New Orleans and Nashville Christian Advocates. I see the brethren are talking about the "Summer Revival Campaign." I am interested in this "campaign," and it is my desire to contribute to it.

Now, we all hear much preaching at this time of the year, and good preaching; but do we not hear much good preaching that does not convince and that does not result in conviction and conversion? I have been troubled with this same lack of success, and my personal experience moves me to suggest the following:

We preachers may be wanting in real conviction. We believe in the gospel we preach, but are we conscious of the religion of our Lord—Christianity—as a powerful force in the world? Do we feel the mighty power of it within our own lives? Do we stand as on a rock with all the powers of Heaven at our command when we take a text and begin to talk? Are we really preaching?

I wish to mention two books, if there is no objection, which have been of inestimable value to me and that I believe will help to prepare us for our "revival meetings." I have read them, and, as I am to do a little work this summer in revivals, am going to read them again. "Dynamic Christianity" (Gilbert) is one; "The Place of Prayer in the Christian Religion" (Campbell) is the other. I am sure that we could spend a few days to no better purpose than in a careful and prayerful study of these books. Yours faithfully,

I. A. READER.

GOING TO THE CAMP MEETING AT BILOXI?

You will find excellent rooms or board on the beach at Mrs. A. C. Brown's, No. 1736 West Beach, two blocks from the Camp Grounds.

ENLARGE YOUR DAY

Thousands of people have already learned how to enlarge their days; how to increase the time they can devote to profitable recreation and pleasure without sacrificing work that must be done.

They first discovered that the quickest and most satisfactory way to go "down town" was by the telephone.

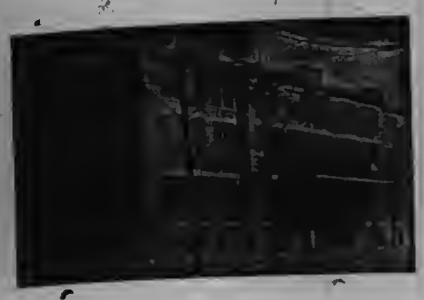
Next they applied the same principle to their "out of town" business and social trips, and found it was even more satisfactory and proportionately much cheaper.

Do you Travel by TELEPHONE?

Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co.

(Incorporated.)

The Louisiana Educational Campaign



LOUISIANA CONFERENCE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., President

Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Sec'y

Rev. C. A. Battle, Treas., Baton Rouge, La.

(This Department is conducted by Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Secretary of Education, and Rev. A. J. Gearheard, Publicity Commissioner.)

AN EXPERIENCED LEADER IN BISHOP ATKINS.

The educational interests of the Louisiana Conference, which are not less important than any other of its undertakings, and perhaps more urgent than any, are fortunate in the assignment of Bishop Atkins to the presidency of the Conference this year. As is well known, he has been active and successful in developing the educational work of the Church, having been president of both Emory and Henry College and the Asheville Female College. In a letter recently received from him he says: "I am deeply interested in your educational interests. I have given much of my life to that kind of work, and have lived to see the outcome of it, so that I know how extremely important it is to the welfare of the church." The Conference may well count upon wise leadership and helpful inspiration in its great work for Christian Education under the superintendency of this chief pastor. We hope to have some inspiring words from him in this department before long.

INSPIRATION FROM THE SUCCESS OF OTHERS.

Nearly every section of our Church has had a struggle similar to the one we are having for the adequate establishment of a greater Centenary before success was reached in the equipment of their institutions, to many of which we now look with envious eyes as fine examples of the Christian college. Those who are familiar with the history of Trinity College know that it had its discouraging days, when its friends were ready to say that it was useless to try to keep up a Church college. But Dr. Kilgo (now Bishop) preached the gospel of Christian education until friends were found to rally to its aid, and now with more than 500 students, and millions invested in plant and endowment, it is splendidly serving the Church and the nation. Some years ago Emory and Henry had its critical season when effort seemed to be in vain, but a strong man, who afterward became a Bishop also, Dr Waterhouse, took hold of the situation with persistent purpose, and Emory and Henry, in the midst of the Holston country, has become one of the strong institutions of Southern Methodism. Other instances might be given of like success. The fact that we face difficulties in accomplishing a great work for God and the Church is a challenge, the response to which will test the fiber of our Christian manhood. Meanwhile the success amid similar difficulties which has been wrought by others ought to inspire us to a courageous facing of the task that is ours.

"WE CAN DO IT IF WE WILL."

Such was the brave response of the Haystack Conference to the call of world-wide evangelism. Let us make it our response to the call of the most urgent and critical situation which now faces the Louisiana Conference. Let us but gain the vision that realizes that our young people must be given the opportunity of education under the definite influence of the Christian Church, in order to the preservation and development of the leadership of the Church; in short, let us have on our hearts the importance of Christian education, and we will not falter a moment, but answer with one voice, "We can do it, and we will."

Who can estimate the power of a body of Methodist preachers, scattered throughout nearly every parish in the State, when they are united for the accomplishment of a definite purpose? They have the ear of the people; they are by position and character leaders of the Church; they have access to the confidence and sympathy of 36,000 men and women of all classes and stations throughout the commonwealth. If this body, a hundred and fifty strong, organized for united effort, with this opportunity of leadership, are fully determined to establish the need for a Christian college, and with one voice lay the needs of Centenary before the Methodist people of Louisiana, they can secure the proposed $12,500 for present needs by December 1, and follow that success by raising $200,000 for permanent endowment and equipment within the next five years. If this body of earnest and efficient men are determined to fill the halls of Centenary and Mansfield Colleges with boys and girls to be trained under favorable auspices for efficient Christian manhood and womanhood, they can tax the capacity of both these institutions by the beginning of the next session. We can do it if we will. The question is, Will we burn this purpose into the hearts of the Methodists of Louisiana and get these results?

A broader application of this challenge may be made to the rank and file of Methodist people in our State, the laymen and women who vote or withhold the supplies for the maintenance of the Lord's work among us. Speaking as a whole Church, it may be emphatically said, "We can do it if we will." With the magnificent resources of one of the most richly endowed States in the Union, with much of these resources in Methodist hands, with our people owning and operating great oil and gas interests, lumber interests, farming and manufacturing enterprises, as well as other commercial interests, it is foolish to say that we can not richly endow and adequately equip our colleges. With the schools of the State full almost to overflowing with boys and girls, and hundreds of young people who are not getting any college education, it is absurd to think that we can not fill and overflow our colleges with the raw material of splendid manhood and womanhood. Let us stop for a little while, preachers and laymen, and think over this motto, "We can do it IF we will," until it is transformed in our thought and purpose to that other and better motto, "We can do it, AND we will."

TO THE PASTORS OF THE LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

Dear Brethren: In order that the Evangelistic Committee may be an effective agency in the promotion of revivals in our Conference, it will be necessary for those desiring help to report to the Committee the date and place for their meetings; a number of our pastors have offered their services in reply to the letters sent out by the Evangelistic Committee. We trust that we may be of service in bringing to your work the man you need. Yours faithfully,

Evangelistic Committee,
per J. G. Sneiling.

Homer, La.

NEW ORLEANS DISTRICT NOTES.

On Sunday, June 20, the Epworth League of Second Church was reorganized, with the prospect of successful work.

St. Paul's Church received an adult into its membership upon profession of faith the last Sunday in June.

The Young Ladies' Missionary Society of Rayne Memorial Church, on Friday, July 2, at the home of the Misses Doll, on State Street, had a very pleasant and profitable meeting.

On Tuesday, June 29, the Epworth League of Mary Werlein Mission, at an enthusiastic meeting, planned a special entertainment for the near future, the proceeds of which will be directed to League work.

The attendance at prayer meeting at Carrollton Avenue Church has increased, rather than diminished, during the hot weather. On Wednesday evening, June 30, the pastor held a missionary prayer meeting, using the theme, "The Challenge of a Great Task." One young man was received into the Church at a recent prayer meeting service, and several others are ready to be received shortly upon profession of faith. The pastor has sent in ten new subscriptions to the Advocate, and is continuing the canvass with the hope of greatly increasing the list from that church. A card is being given out as an invitation to the services, with a cut of the church on one side and on the other a list of sermon subjects for July, accompanied by statements of interesting and attractive features of the services. The evening congregations have increased recently, in spite of the summer weather, due in part probably to the popular song service with which the service begins, and also the invitation extended to parents by those in charge of the Junior League to leave their small children in charge of these Junior League workers while the parents attend the service.

On June 27, Parker Memorial Sunday School had a very instructive talk upon the mission stations of our Church by the Missionary Superintendent, Miss Godat. The children were greatly interested in seeing the cardboard churches, schools, etc., pinned in the proper places on a large map of the world, thus graphically designating the location of our various stations. On July 4 the Junior Department of the school had its first separate opening and closing services. This marks a distinct improvement in organization and efficiency.

Last Thursday the children of Parker Memorial Church enjoyed a penny party on the church grounds. A neat sum was realized by the Children's Society. On Friday evening, July 2, the Epworth League held its business meeting at the parsonage. Careful plans for future work were made.

"Only consistent giving keeps the soul from shrinking."

PORT GIBSON FEMALE COLLEGE
AND
Conservatory of Music, Art and Expression.
The Oldest College for Girls in Mississippi.
Healthful location. Curriculum high. Faculty all college graduates. Buildings commodious. Rooms comfortable. Dietary varied and wholesome. Attendance last session more than 50 per cent increase over the year before.
NEXT SESSION OPENS SEPT. 8, 1915.
For catalogue and special information, write
REV. T. J. O'NEIL, President.

BUY LUMBER FROM
W. W. CARRE CO., Ltd.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

SHREVEPORT DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

The Shreveport District Conference convened in Grand Cane, Thursday morning, June 9, with Presiding Elder Wm. H. Coleman in the chair.

With only six exceptions, all of the pastors in the district and several laymen answered to their names. S. H. Porter was elected secretary.

The District Lay Leader having resigned during the year, S. H. Porter was elected without opposition to fill the vacancy.

The pastors' reports were encouraging, showing a total of 361 accessions throughout the district since the Annual Conference.

A. C. Searcy, of Bossier City, Benjamin Nelson Andrews, of Noel Memorial, Shreveport, and Jabes Talmage Little, of Pleasant Hill, were licensed to preach, the two first named being also recommended to the Annual Conference for admission on trial.

President R. H. Wynn of Centenary College, President R. H. Bobbitt of Mansfield College, Superintendent R. W. Vaughan of the Orphanage, President K. W. Dodson of the Board of Church Extension, Mrs. R. E. Bobbitt, District Secretary of Woman's Missionary Society, and Mrs. Sudie Lingle, State Epworth League Secretary, were present and represented their different interests in an able manner.

The following resolution offered by Rev. W. B. Perritt was adopted:

"Whereas the Methodist people of Louisiana pay fifty per cent or more of the funds necessary for the maintenance of the interdenominational Sunday school work in the State, and furnish a very small per cent of the number of workers; and whereas the Methodist Sunday schools of the State of Louisiana have made such little progress under the management of the interdenominational movement, and have received such little results for the money expended; therefore be it resolved:

"First—That this District Conference pray the Louisiana Annual Conference of 1915 to consider prayerfully the matter of placing a Sunday school missionary of our own demnomination in the field.

"Second—That this District Conference pray the Louisiana Annual Conference of 1915 to instruct our Conference Sunday School Board to take this matter under consideration and arrange by assessment or otherwise to place in the field for the year 1916 a Sunday school missionary.

"Third—That we ask our people through the New Orleans Christian Advocate to make their contributions payable to our Conference Board; and be it further resolved that each pastor so instruct his people, and insist upon this being done."

The following District Board of Trustees was elected and by vote of the Conference authorized them to buy, build or rent a district parsonage: A. W. Baird, T. A. Jordan, J. C. Foster, A. J. Scott, F. T. Whited.

Mr. R. E. Bobbitt was appointed a committee of one (to associate with himself as many others as he may deem necessary), for the purpose of conferring with the proper authorities in regard to arranging for a course for ministers in the State University.

T. F. Sledge, H. A. McKennon, J. C. Foster, and T. T. Calhoun were elected delegates to the Annual Conference. Alternates: A. J. Scott, E. L. Joyner, S. H. Porter, B. F. Roberts.

A special feature of the Conference was a laymen's rally on Friday morning, Mr. W. S. Holmes, Conference Lay Leader, being present and delivering an instructive and inspiring address. The afternoon of the same day was largely given to the young people, stirring addresses on topics vital to their welfare being delivered by Jno. L. Williams, R. E. Bobbitt, J. C. Rousseaux, Paul F. Daniel, and Geo. S. Sexton.

By the adoption of the report of the Committee on Lay Activities the Conference committed itself to the following policy:

The every-member canvass to be made between the close of Annual Conference and the Christmas holidays. Monthly distribution of free literature on the various activities of the Church. The adoption by each church of the "Financial Method for Methodists."

Greenwood won over Logansport and Vivian as the seat of the next District Conference.

Gospel messages were brought by H. T. Young, Dr. R. H. Wynn, R. W. Tucker, and John L. Williams, and it is safe to say they measured up to their usual high standard in the ministration of the Word.

The Conference was wisely planned in every particular, embracing only two days, the attendance on the second day being largely increased on account of the special meetings for laymen and young people.

The presidency of Brother Coleman was eminently satisfactory to all. His thorough familiarity with the duties of his office, intimate knowledge of the laws of the Church, comprehensive grasp of the work in every particular, and strong executive ability, coupled with a complete consecration and deep spirituality, conspire to place him in the front rank of the presiding eldership.

Brother Price proved himself an ideal host, being untiring in his efforts to provide for the comfort of his guests.

The Conference was lavishly entertained by the hospitable people of Grand Cane, and the delegates departed feeling that this had been one of the very best district conferences ever held in the Shreveport District.

Zwolie, La. S. H. PORTER, Secretary.

LAFAYETTE DISTRICT CONFERENCE

The Lafayette District Conference convened in the Methodist Church, in Lafayette, La., from June 16 to 18. The opening sermon was preached by Rev. C. E. Fike on Wednesday night. There was a large attendance on the part of the preachers and laymen.

Every interest of the Church was looked after as the presiding elder, Rev. James I. Hoffpauir, had sent a series of questions for each pastor to render a report on. These reports were turned over to a committee who culled the main facts that appeared in the report on the general state of the Church.

The pastor's reports were all encouraging, some having had notable revivals. The pastor from Crowley reported having had one of the best revivals he has had in his four years at that charge. The pastor at Franklin reported having had 67 accessions from his meeting.

The laymen took an active part in the discussions, and addresses were made by W. S. Holmes, the Conference Lay Leader; H. G. Gilbert, the District Lay Leader, and E. P. Holmes, the Lay Leader from Lake Charles, on the various phases of the work of the Laymen's Missionary Movement.

The question of the District Parsonage was dealt with by a special committee who recommended a plan for the liquidation of the debt of $1000. A subscription of $307 was taken on this debt.

The interests of the Woman's Missionary Society were presented by means of addresses by Mrs. W. M. Buchanan, the District Secretary; Miss Kate Walker, Deaconess of Houma; Mrs. A. P. Holt, State Vice President, and Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, State Superintendent of Social Service.

The cause of the Orphanage was laid before the Conference by the Superintendent, Rev. R. W. Vaughan, who also preached a helpful sermon on "The Will of God."

The President of Centenary College, Rev. R. H. Wynn, presented the needs of that institution and preached a very strong sermon on "Christian Education."

Rev. W. H. Long was recommended for readmission into the travelling connection. Lake Charles was selected as the place to hold the next District Conference. The following delegates were elected to the Annual Conference: Rev. M. C. Holt, H. G. Gilbert, E. P. Holmes, and J. E. Ney. Alternates: A. P. Holt and J. L. Crandall. H. G. Gilbert was re-elected as District Lay Leader. Seven local preachers had their licenses renewed and eleven local preachers in orders had their characters passed.

The most comprehensive and illuminative report was the one presented by the Committee on the State of the Church, from which we gather the following facts: "Ten charges report an increase in the spiritual state of the Church. Eight show no indication either way. One a decrease. Received into the Church since Conference: On profession of faith, 146; by certificate, 84; making a total of 237. There are 3706 enrolled in the Sunday schools with an average attendance of 2063. There are 19 Epworth Leagues reported with an enrollment of 500 members. Most of these Leagues are at work and all are conducting regular devotional services.

There are 12 Woman's Missionary Societies, reporting a membership of 360. An effort is being made to turn all the Ladies' Aid Societies into Woman's Missionary Societies. Eight charges have made improvements to the amount of $5000. Two new churches have been built, one at Kaplan and the other at Eunice. Eleven charges reported that there was new territory contiguous to them that should be occupied by our Church. There are 136 New Orleans Christian Advocates reported to be taken and an earnest effort was urged to increase the circulation of the paper. Fifteen charges reported that their church registers were well kept.

From these facts it can easily be seen that there is activity in the district on every line and that the Church is prospering and looking forward to a still greater work in the future.

Others who preached besides those mentioned were: F. J. McCoy and C. V. Breithaupt.

Lafayette entertained the Conference hospitably, and the pastor, Rev. H. N. Harrison, who is closing out his fourth year, is in high favor with his people.

ALBERT S. LUTZ,
Secretary.

THE HOLMES STORE

OF NEW ORLEANS

is one of America's truly great department stores.

It has perfected a buying organization that reaches into every producing market of the world, maintaining offices in Berlin, London, Paris and Florence, as well as New York.

It never presents any merchandise that is not of good quality and equitably priced.

Its very efficient service to patrons in the city is supplemented by the largest and best-equipped mail order department of any store in the South. Ninety-eight per cent of all orders received are filled on date of receipt.

The aim of the store is to merit fully the confidence that has been manifested by the public during its seventy-two years of merchandising history.

D. H. HOLMES CO., Ltd.

DR. THADDEUS P. BELL

Practice Limited to the Medical and Surgical Treatment of the

EYE, EAR, NOSE & THROAT

And the Correction of Errors of Vision.

814 Audubon Bldg., New Orleans, La.

LEON IRWIN & CO.,

Fire and Casualty Insurance

736 UNION STREET. Phone, Main 585.

The Home Circle

MY LITTLE LAD.

By V. C. Castleman.

My little lad, with eyes of brown
So tender, steadfast, true;
I whisper softly, glancing down,
A prayer of love for you.

God keep you in the days to come,
Whose advent yet I dread;
From folly and from foolish fears
That oft with youth are wed.

That trustful smile, that earnest gaze
Where truth and pureness blend,
May they be yours, my little lad,
Till life's long perils end.

Whatever sorrows come to you,
May you courageous be;
Still tender, manly, honest, true,
The face to-day I see.

Should passion, pride or worldly gain
Your untried heart assail,
God keep you strong, my little lad,
May you o'er sin prevail.

The mirth that sparkles in your eyes,
So innocent and pure,
Would God for aye 'twould linger there,
While time and sense endure.

Ah! I would keep you ever thus,
My lad, with eyes of brown,
Whose dimpled mouth and joyous voice
Forbid a sign or frown.

Nay, it is better that you grow,
And reach your boyhood's goal;
I'll trust to God, my little lad,
The keeping of your soul.

—Southern Churchman.

LITTLE FAITHFUL.

Father was very proud of his little girl. "Just give Sylvia anything you choose to look after, and she'll see that it is done," he said.

Cousin Lelia came one spring for a visit, and the two girls had great fun together. Lelia wanted to gather wild flowers; she wanted to visit the mill, to see the head of the brook.

"Fact is," said Joe, the hired man, "she's allers a-wantin' to be somewhere else or do somethin' else—no more rest to her than there is to a gadfly."

One evening father went to town, and the next morning mother woke up with a sick headache. Sylvia hurried downstairs and got the breakfast for Joe, then carried up a cup of coffee to mother, and set about dishwashing and straightening up in good earnest.

Lelia fluttered about. She helped a little and hindered a good deal. Every little while she would say, "Aren't you most done?".

At last, when everything mother wished attended to was done, and the girls were ready for the brook trip, Sylvia declared, "There! I've forgotten the chickens."

"Oh, let 'em wait!" Lelia pouted. "Sylvia Dayre, I think you're real mean. You'd rather do anything than please me."

Joe was close by, and he waited to hear what "our girl" would do. But Sylvia only laughed as she ran back for the feed. "Guess the brook isn't as hungry as the chicks—why, Joe!"

"Go 'long there!" Joe said laughing; "I'll feed 'em. I've lots of time to-day."

Father heard all about it from mother and Joe, and the next time he came back from town he brought Sylvia two pairs of beautiful white pigeons. "For Little Faithful," was on the box. Wasn't Sylvia happy?—Children's Companion.

HOW WILLIE OBEYED.

Vivian Richards Shott.

It was a beautiful summer day. Willie wandered along the bank of the river.

"I wonder what the water is saying," he thought. "Doesn't it get tired travelling all day?"

Violets were growing on either side of the bank. Finally Willie's attention was called to a robin, who was chirping her merry song, as much as to say: "Cheer up! All's well with the world!"

"She must be happy," he said aloud, "right there in that tree, and surrounded by all these beautiful things. I must see her nest. What a queer home! How carefully she has woven the grass, leaves and cord together, and then plastered with mud!"

"Oh! here are three little birds with soft, downy feathers. I must take one home with me." He picked one little creature up very gently, but something seemed to check his little arm, and something whispered: "No! don't! That would be wrong."

Willie was startled. He put the bird in the nest and ran home to his mother. He told her all about it.

"Mamma," said Willie, "what was it that spoke to me?"

"Men, my son," said the good woman, as she laid her hand on the boy's head, "call it conscience, but I prefer to call it the voice of God within the soul of man. Always obey that voice, Willie. It is your best friend. Use it right."—Pittsburgh Christian Advocate.

WHY MARY WAS LIKED.

A queer old man once made a tea party for the little girls in town, and when they had all come and were gathered in his front yard, he offered a doll for the most popular little girl, and asked them to vote which should have the prize. But many of them did not know what "most popular" meant. So he told them it was the best-liked girl.

Then they all voted, and Mary was the one who had the most votes and received the doll, though no one could say that she was either the prettiest or the cleverest of them all.

"Now," said the queer old man, "I will give another doll to the one that first tells me why all like Mary the best."

Nobody answered at first. But presently one of them spoke up and said: "It's because Mary always finds out what the rest of us want to play, and then says, 'Let's play that.'"—Presbyterian of the South.

STREET NUMBERS.

People who keep track of such things say that 1912 was the four-hundredth anniversary of the numbering of houses. It was begun in Paris in 1512, but the idea took a long time to catch on, for the system did not become general till 1789. In Berlin the houses were numbered at first without any reference to the streets. It is still so in Yokohama. When a new house is built it is given the next number to the house built before—in, perhaps, an entirely different part of the town. Nos. 5 and 500 may be side by side. The only way to find a house is to drive in a jinrikisha. The jinrikisha men are infallible. In London some important streets are numbered up one side and down the other, and in Boston there are places where the two sides of the street have different names, one side, for instance, being Tremont Row, and the other Court Street. In Saint Petersburg (now Petrograd), the numbers are on little lanterns, lighted at night.—Unknown.

BE GLAD.

By Willie Conger Page.

We create our own happiness. We are arbiters of our own fate. Think glad things, joyous things, and expect them, and the very longing will bring them to pass.

If you are glad, you have the best secret of good health and long life, for "a merry heart doeth good like medicine." The possessor of a contin[illegible] glad and happy disposition requires little [illegible] icine.

The[illegible] who are glad and happy radiate an invisible [illegible]mosphere that attracts the sympathy of others. This atmosphere is composed of feeling, thoughts and imaginations, of which others partake and assimilate unconsciously. We are our brother's keeper. If we only believe and trust him he will rise to our faith.

If women of to-day would only adopt the comely fashion of gladness and cheerfulness as readily and eagerly as they do the fads and foibles of dress, what a change, not only in facial expression, but in a higher and clearer vision, would result!

Look up with joy, faith, and undaunted courage. In these militant, strenuous and financially depressing times, how many people have a real, deep, hungry-hearted need for some one of longer experience and wider knowledge, to listen to their confessions and confidences, to sympathize with and help lighten their burdens with a broader vision and charity—to make allowances for their failings, errors and mistakes of the past, and then, with true encouragement, help them rise to a higher and better life. Only those who have glad, cheerful hearts are capable of doing this. We all know how we are comforted and refreshed by the presence of cheerful, happy people. Let us make an earnest effort to bestow this same pleasure and let us sow only those seeds that will bring a glad harvest of kindly thoughts, kindly actions, deeds of mercy and love.

Unselfishness and the consideration of others is the foundation of all happiness. Do not let us become careless concerning the suffering of others—reaching a numb, atrophied mental condition, analogous to physical paralysis.

Those who live generously and nobly will spread joy and happiness. Every thought, every deed, bears its harvest of good or ill in this life, as well as in the life to come. Be glad.

Lexington, Miss.

John Burroughs, the noted naturalist, is said to be ill. Though 78 years of age, he is improving and nothing serious is anticipated.

—ARTIFICIAL LIMBS, ORTHOPEDIC—
APPARATUS, ELASTIC HOSIERY,
TRUSSES, CRUTCHES, ETC.
(Catalogues mailed on request)

The McDermott Surgical Instrument Company, Limited.

734-738 POYDRAS STREET
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

A SICK MULE
Needs Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic.
It relieves and cures COLIC and BOTS promptly and permanently.
At all Druggists.
25 and 50 Cents
Also in quart bottles.
Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: No. 512 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor,
CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Entered at the Postoffice at New Orleans as Second-class Mail. Matter.

TERMS:
One Copy, one year, $1.50; eight months, $1.00. To preachers of all denominations, $1.00

PUBLISHING COMMITTEE:
Louisiana Conference—Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., Rev. W. W. Drake, Rev. C. B. Carter.
Mississippi Conference—Rev. I. W. Cooper, D.D., Rev. C. W. Crisler, Rev. T. W. Adams.
North Mississippi Conference—Rev. W. W. Woollard, Rev. H. S. Spragins, Mr. J. D. Barbee.

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY AND THE M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

(In discussing this subject last week we called attention to the fact that, though it is now conceded on all sides that the Church no longer has any legal rights in Vanderhilt University, there are yet some connecting links hetween the two: 1. Certain professors have been appointed to places in its faculty by our Annual Conferences and Bishops. 2. There are Methodist preachers filling pastorates in Nashville and teaching in the University, being thus in part supported by the Church while serving Vanderbilt. 3. A number of Methodist preachers, including some of our connectional officers, in spite of the manner in which the Church has heen rohbed and insulted hy the Trustees of the University, have been serving the institution as lecturers, thus giving it recognition and the benefit of their influence. 4. Students have heen appointed to the University, some of whom, it is said, were in part supported hy serving near-by Methodist churches. 5. The Vanderbilt School of Religion has announced in its campaign literature that such near-hy churches will continue to he open to their students, and that every theologue will be assigned to some pastor and church of his own denomination in the city and may he given credit for the work done in that connection hy the Theological Faculty—an arrangement which, if carried out, would place the Methodist churches of Nashville in league with Vanderbilt University as teaching agencies. With this brief resume of the points made in the last issue of the Advocate, we will proceed with our discussion).

No Longer Any Excuse For it.

We helieved a year ago that it was a mistaken policy to appoint professors and students to Vanderbilt University, and it was then quite beyond our power to understand how any Methodist preacher, young or old, could gain his consent to accept such an appointment; hut at that time it was contended by some that the Church had not finally passed upon her relations to the institution and that the status quo should be maintained until that was done. This plea, however, cannot now be put forward any longer, for through the General Educational Commission the Church has spoken her final word and the independence of the University is acknowledged hy all to be unchallenged and complete. It still, of course, may be said that we appoint men to teach in other institutions which we do not own and control and permit students to attend them, and that we should pursue the same course toward Vanderhilt; but the logic of this contention we cannot accept. No other institution sustains the same relation to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, that Vanderhilt University does. Its trustees have in their possession, ohtained by disreputahle and indefensihle methods, millions of dollars worth of property, including sacred trust funds for the education of our ministry, which hy every consideration of justice, equity, and moral right are ours. It should never be forgotten that this assault upon the rights of the Church and movement to wrest her property from her originated in the Board of Trustees and was carried forward by them—there was no complaint from the Vanderbilts or any other party outside of that body. Can we afford to give recognition to an institution managed by men who have acted in such a manner and who have committed this foul wrong? Let us look somewhat more specifically at the course which they have pursued.

1. After telling the Church for nearly forty years in their official deliverances that she owned Vanderbilt University and that they held it in trust for her, these men came into court and solemnly denied, in effect, that the Church had founded the University, or that she owned it, or that they held it in trust for her, thus repudiating their own emphatic declarations for decades. What can he said in defense of such a shameless proceeding? Could honorable men be guilty of such action?

2. While this case was pending in the courts, these men opened up negotiations with Mr. Carnegie, a skeptic and the arch-enemy and great wrecker of Church schools, and when, with an impudence that was satanic, he declared in his communication to them, in substance, that the Church had no business in the field of higher education, not one of these so-called Methodists had the manliness or enough Church loyalty to resent the indignity. A more pitiable and humiliating spectacle than that which they presented as they sat there, willing to lick the iron-monger's hand for the sake of his money, cariug nothing for the honor of the Church which they had hitherto claimed to represent, cannot he found in all ecclesiastical history.

3. Nor is this yet all. They went further and agreed to accept Mr. Carnegie's gift of $1,000,000, with $800,000 of it virtually conditioned on a verdict against the Church in the lawsuit that was then on; and they were apparently perfectly willing for the conditions of this gift to be paraded again and again in the papers of Nashville, the city in which the Supreme Court sat, while the case was pending hefore that tribunal. This transaction was nothing short of a scandal. O shame, where was thy blush when men pretending to be morally decent could stoop to such methods?

4. When the Church hy a practically unanimous vote condemned and protested against this transaction, these men, who hefore had claimed to he her trustees and representatives, did not show the least consideration for her expressed will, but spurned and rejected it, and through the puhlic press heaped ridicule and ahuse upon her Bishops, through whom she had chosen to act, in a manner that is without a parallel in the annals of Methodism.

5. But it was when the Supreme Court finally dellvered its decision, completely destroying all the rights of the Church in the University, that the greatest outrage was perpetrated. A jollification meeting was held on the campus, the Bishops' squirm was danced, "Hoss" bones were burned in a honfire, there was a procession through the city headed by the Honorable (?) Chancellor, and rihald songs were sung, one of which is said to have had the following chorus.

"Hail! hail! The gang's all here;
What the hell do we care?"

Can the Church overlook these things when there has been no expression of regret, nor the slightest attempt at reparation made? Can she afford to co-operate in educational work with an institution managed by men who have shown that they are capable of acting in such a manner—men with such ideals and such a sense of honor? Mr. Carnegie's $800,000 which was so unfairly used to eject her from the institution, and against the acceptance of which she so vigorously protested, is now in it, and is there to stay. These men have in their custody ministerial educational funds whch they know full well were given by Methodist people under the impression that Vanderbilt University was an institution owned and controlled by the Methodist Church, and to which they have no moral right; but which they are clinging to and are now using to seduce students from her own institutions. In some instances the contributors to these funds are still living and are willing to bear testimony as to the object for which they gave their money; but this seems to count for nothing at all with the Vanderhilt Trustees. Add to the foregoing facts the undeniahle truths that the atmosphere at Vanderhilt University is hostile to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South; that its teaching is already unsound and unmethodistic, and is reasonahly certain to become increasingly so, and that no student who goes there can, under the existing conditions, be expected to come forth from its walls a loyal, orthodox, and useful Methodist minister, and we have a situation toward whlch our Church cannot afford to show the least degree of tolerance or to give the remotest semhlance of an endorsement.

And surely the time has now come when no Methodist minister who respects and loves his Church can properly permit himself to serve Vanderbilt University in any teaching function, or lend his influence to its upbuilding in any way whatever under its present management. And for our connectional officers to do this is especially hurtful to the Church, since the present campaign methods of the Vanderbilters have clearly shown that they will not leave such recognition of the University uncapitalized and unused in their efforts to secure the patronage of our people, to the detriment of our own schools.

A Weak Effort at Extenuation.

But may it not he said in extenuation of the course of the Vanderhilt Trustees that the courts sustained their contentions? To he sure, that argument has many times heen made; hut it should be remembered that the Vanderbilt case was before three trihunals of a judicial character, to wit: the Vanderbilt Commission which was composed of five able lawyers, headed by the man who was then the hrilliant Chief Justice of Kentucky; the Chancery Court of Davidson County, Tennessee, and the Supreme Court of that State; and that hefore the first two hodies the Church won, and that she did not lose the suit until Mr. Carnegie's million dollars was thrown into the scale against her. It should, furthermore, he kept in mind that the Supreme Court's decision was based very largely upon technicalities, and that it is generally admitted by competent judges to be one of the most illogical and astounding opinions ever handed down hy a judicial tribunal. But even this remarkable opinion did not approve of the contradictory statements, suspicious manipulations, and sinuous course of the majority of the Vanderbilt Trustees in dealing with the Church. Their conduct in this respect, so far as our knowledge extends, has been endorsed by no tribunal or body other than their own.

And, after all, what should be said of the spectacle of a hody of men who claim to he Christians seeking to evade their obvious moral ohligations in the handling of a great, sacred trust by taking shelter under a technical legal decision by a secular tribunal? Law and moral ohligation are not by any means always in accord. In many States a promissory note runs out of date after the expiration of seven years and is no longer a legal piece of paper; hut would an honest man be justifiable in declining to pay it on that account if he really owed it? If one should happen to keep unwittingly in his undisputed possession for ten years a strip of his neighbor's land, would he be justifiahle in appropriating it as his own simply because the law might permit him to do so? The Trustees of Vanderbilt University know perfectly well that while the Supreme Court of Tennessee has given them the legal possession of that institution, it morally and equitably belongs to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Their own solemn, official declarations to that effect for nearly 40 years stare them squarely in the face. Particularly is it true that the ministerial educational funds in their hands morally helong to the Church. Yet apparently none of these considerations have the least weight with these gentlemen. It is seemingly their purpose wholly to disregard them. How then can they expect honest and high-minded men to view them in any other light than as in reality spoliators who have a low and inadequate sense of integrity and honor? It is not one whit less culpable in the sight of God to wrong a Church by appropriating her rightful property, even though it he done by a resort to legal manipulation, than it is to strip by similar methods a private individual of possessions which are justly his. A man may be morally as well as legally guilty of theft, and the former offense in the day of the Great Assize will be pronounced to be as criminal as the latter.

A Concluding Word.

One other thing, and we are through. There is in nearly every Annual Conference a little Vanderbilt cabal which is stealthily seeking to promote the interests of Vanderbilt University. Those belonging to it dare not act in the open; their methods are indirect and secretive. They perhaps profess loyalty to our own schools, hut they are given to disparaging the leaders of the Church and insisting that they are too pugnacious and that there ought to he no further discussion of Vanderbilt matters. They prate much of peace and harmony and affirm that all the Church papers ought to hush up on the subject; hut they have never heen known to register a puhlic protest against the utterances that are continuing to appear in the Vanderbilt Bulletins and Quarterlies or the Vanderbilt campaign literature that is helng scattered ahroad. If there are any Vanderbilt trustees or professors in the Conference, they are active in working the sympathy racket in their behalf, and they inveigh much agalnst proscription on account of opinion; but they never mention as a striking illustration of such proscription the ejection from the Vanderbilt Board of Trust of Dr. Bradfield and others who stood up bravely for the interests of the Church. They are glib in magnifying the small service which Vanderbilt Trustees and representatives have rendered here and there in the Conference, even sometimes going to the extent of parading it like politicians in the newspapers; but they never have the frankness to set over against this the fact that they have done thousands of times more harm than they have ever done good by helping to rob the Church of more than $3,000,000 worth of property, and are still hanging on to Vanderhilt and lendiug their influence to an effort to disintegrate and disrupt the whole educational system of Southern Methodism.

It is to the true and loyal men who constitute the rank and file of the itinerancy that the Church must look to protect her interests in this crucial hour. Do not suffer yourself to he deceived hy any crafty cabal, hrethren. When you hear men beginning to disparage those whom you know have heen straightforward and fearless in the great contest which has so shaken and disturbed the Church, ask them to show you any clear and emphatic public utterance that they have made on the important issues that have been involved.

Beware of the man who has been too considerate of his own interests to take a definite and open stand in the matter. And guard against efforts to becloud your judgment and swerve you from the right course by appeals to your sympathies. Precisely just such appeals will be made in behalf of every man and student who wants to hang on to and serve Vanderbilt in other Conferences; and if you surrender to them, you cannot complain of others for doing likewise. We should love our Church more than we do any man. As we said in the outset of this discussion, Vanderbilt University is to-day the gravest peril that confronts Southern Methodism, and it is only by brushing aside the trimmers and compromisers and resolutely insisting that the Church shall in every respect be detached from that institution that we can avert the danger that now so seriously threatens her welfare. This is not making war on or persecuting anybody. If the men aligned with Vanderbilt University desire to hold positions of honor, trust, and influence in the Southern Methodist Church, let them sever their connections with that renegade school, so that it will be possible to confer such distinctions upon them without at the same time giving our enemies a leverage that will enable them to undermine and destroy our own educational institutions. The sacred law of self-preservation demands this much.

THE ADVOCATE IN YOUR CHARGE.

How about the Advocate in your charge? Do you know how many copies are taken, and how many subscriptions have expired and need to be renewed? This is a matter well worth your attention, brother pastor. The Church has emphatically so declared. John Wesley counted it a work of great importance to place wholesome reading matter in the hands of the people and energetically sought to do so. Will you not speak of the Advocate from your pulpit and urge those taking it to renew promptly their subscriptions? Read what Rev. G. W. Bachman, the honored ex-colporteur of the two Mississippi Conferences, has to say on this subject on another page.

PERSONAL AND OTHER NOTES.

Rev. J. L. Greenway, our pastor at Silver City, Miss., is conducting a meeting at that place. He is being assisted by Rev. J. C. Chambers, of Sumrall, Miss.

Rev. Aigie Oliver, of Eden, Miss., reports that the ladies of that charge have recently placed some nice furniture in the parsonage. Our Methodist women are given to abounding in good works.

We are informed that our congregation at Moselle, on the Ellisville (Miss.) charge, will soon be worshiping in a nice new church. Rev. J. E. J. Ferguson is the popular pastor of this enterprising flock.

Brother James H. Walker, of Pollock, La., writes us of two gracious meetings at that place: one conducted by the Baptists, and the other by the Methodist Protestants. He states that much good was accomplished.

A correspondent says: "Rev. J. L. Evans, of the Tangipahoa Circuit, who came to the Louisiana Conference last December, seems to be making good. We hear appreciative words concerning him and his work on all sides."

Rev. C. C. Griffin, of Carthage, Miss., has our thanks for some subscriptions. He states that Methodism is not as strong and alert as it ought to be in the good old county of Leake. Unfortunately, that is true of many places.

Rev. J. R. Jones, pastor of our Central Church at Meridian, Miss., brought us under obligations to him for 2 new and 5 renewal subscriptions a few days since. This efficient worker believes in taking care of all the interests of the Church.

Rev. R. A. Bozeman writes as follows: "We have recently had a gracious revival in Varnado, La. We began at the bottom and God led us to victory. Our altar services were most successful, and many precious souls entered the Canaan of a new life. Bless the Lord!"

Rev. A. M. Broadfoot, the pastor of the South Side Church at Meridian, Miss., has our thanks for a club of 7 subscriptions, forwarded on June 28. He is having a fruitful pastorate in his present field, of which he will tell our readers in next week's issue of the Advocate.

Rev. W. L. Duren, of Columbus, Miss., favored us with a club of 5 subscriptions to the Advocate a few days since. Brother Duren is serving one of the most historic appointments in the North Mississippi Conference, and is having his usual success in his present responsible field.

Rev. T. D. Lipscomb, of Donaldsonville, La., was in the Crescent City last week and paid the Advocate office an appreciated call. He has a large and difficult charge to serve, but he spoke hopefully of the outlook. Fortunately he has quite an efficient helper in the person of Sister Lipscomb.

At a "Country Life Conference" held at the Mississippi A. and M. College, near Starkville, Miss., last week, Rev. W. Fred Long, of Jackson, Miss., delivered a stirring address on "The Sunday School as a Factor in Community Service." The occasion seems to have been one of much interest.

On June 30, in the Methodist Church at Silver City, Miss., at high noon, Captain and Mrs. J. J. Denson celebrated their golden wedding. This excellent couple have spent all their married life in the small town in which they now reside and have been leaders in every good work. They have been life-long Methodists.

The press dispatches from Baltimore report Bishop A. W. Wilson as being very seriously ill. Though he has wrought grandly for the Master's cause and is doubtless ripe for the heavenly world, we pray that he may be spared to the Church still longer. The mere presence of such a man is a blessing and inspiration.

In a business letter to our office, bringing us some subscriptions, Rev. John L. Williams, of Greenwood, La., appends the following note: "We are in the midst of a meeting at Greenwood. Rev. A. S. Lutz, of New Iberia, is doing the preaching, and it is being well done. Both the attendance and interest at the services are increasing."

Dr. I. W. Cooper, the genial President of Whitworth College, was in New Orleans Wednesday of last week and the Editor had the pleasure of lunching with him. Dr. Cooper left last Tuesday for a visit to the Panama-Pacific Exposition, taking with him his family and a party of some sixty other persons from Louisiana and Mississippi.

Rev. T. J. O'Neil, the capable President of Port Gibson Female College, reports that the outlook for the next session of that institution is very encouraging. Port Gibson College has had an honorable history and has exerted a wide influence for good in the past, and we trust that it will continue to enjoy a good patronage. It deserves it.

Miss Harriet Ventress, daughter of the late Judge Ventress of Woodville, Miss., and a granddaughter of Bishop C. B. Galloway, will teach French and History at Whitworth College during the next session. Miss Ventress is an A.B. graduate of the Randolph-Macon Woman's College and taught last year in Soule College.

Mrs. D. A. Saunders and her son, Dero, Jr., of Starkville, Miss., have been in New Orleans for some days, having come here to secure medical treatment for the latter, who recently underwent an operation at the Presbyterian Hospital. He stood the ordeal well, and was thought when we last heard to be making satisfactory progress toward recovery.

Since the last issue of the Advocate, Mrs. Agnes Jones, of Coldwater, Miss., and Mrs. L. C. Short, of Como, Miss., have sent us $1 each for the superannuate member of the North Mississippi Conference who is ill in another State and has some pressing debts to meet, and for whom we have been trying to raise $60. We are grateful to these friends for their assistance.

Our sanctum was brightened on Wednesday, June 30, with the presence of Rev. C. C. Weir, of Morgan City, La., who had come to New Orleans to be with a sick friend who was in a hospital here. Brother Weir spoke hopefully of the work in his present field. He also stated that Rev. T. B. Clifford has made a fine impression at Patterson, La., and that our church there is active and taking on new life.

We are receiving considerably more acceptable copy for the Advocate than we can use these days. We trust that our friends sending us matter will await their time with patience. We cannot stretch our forms a single inch. In this connection, we also desire to say that the Advocate must try to serve all the interests of the Church, and that we cannot allow it to be made the special organ of any one cause.

Mrs. John Henry, of Laurel, Miss., came to New Orleans for medical treatment nearly three weeks ago, and on Monday, June 28, she submitted to a very serious operation at the Hotel Dieu. At first her condition was quite critical, but she has gradually improved until at this time her physicians and those attending her are much encouraged. This will be good news to her many friends both in South and North Mississippi.

At his request Rev. R. E. Selby, who has been serving the New Augusta (Miss.) Circuit, has been released from that charge by Bishop Atkins and has accepted the position of Principal of the public school at New Augusta. Rev. J. W. Chisholm has been appointed pastor of the work thus made vacant. Brother Chisholm has been a member of the Mississippi Conference for a number of years, but until recently has been a student in Millsaps College and Emory University.

Mrs. Hill, the wife of Rev. Felix R. Hill, Jr., pastor of the Rayne Memorial Church of this city, underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Touro Infirmary last Tuesday. She seemed to stand the operation very well, though it is said that some complications were discovered. Let the brethren remember Sister Hill and the anxious loved ones at the throne of grace in this trying hour.

In the Methodist Church at Duck Hill, Miss., on Wednesday, June 30, Mr. Fred Attneave, Jr., of Black Hawk, Miss., and Miss Octavia Rowell, of Duck Hill, were united in marriage, Rev. J. E. Stephens officiating. The church was beautifully decorated and the interesting event attracted much attention. The groom is a promising young business man, and the bride is a most superior young woman and has a wide circle of friends. After the ceremony the happy young couple left for an extensive tour through the North.

We are in debted to Mrs. L. B. Furman, of Buntyn, Tenn., for an attractive wedding announcement card, which reads as follows: "Mrs. Marjorie Harris De Bussey and Mr. Walter Chew Barton announce their marriage on Monday, June 21, 1915, at Christ Church Cathedral, New Orleans." Mr. Barton is a son of the late Rev. W. P. Barton, of the North Mississippi Conference. Mr. and Mrs. Barton are spending their honeymoon at the old family home in Tennessee. The Advocate extends congratulations and all good wishes.

Mr. S. M. Byrd, Principal of the city schools at Kosciusko, Miss., who is one of the instructors in the Summer School of Tulane University, favored our office with a call last Friday. Mr. Byrd has been teaching in Mississippi only about a year; prior to that he taught in Texas. He is an Emory College man and a well equipped educator, as well as a most agreeable gentleman. We regretted to learn from him that Prof. G. M. Boyd, his predecessor as Superintendent of the Kosciusko schools, is still in a precarious state of health.

Rev. George H. Thompson, the able presiding elder of the Hattiesburg District, sends us the following note: "Our congregation at Beaumont, Miss., a new town on the N. O. M. & C. Railroad, is now having services in a neat new church, which is a gift from two men who are not members of any Church. The only condition imposed was that the members of the church should put in all needed furnishings, and I understand that this has been done. Rev. C. W. Crisler, of Hattiesburg, assisted the pastor, Rev. P. H. Howse, in conducting a very helpful revival in this church soon after it was completed."

Brother S. M. Collins, of Ruston, La., who is a civil engineer, writes as follows: "I heartily agree with the position that you have taken concerning several matters within the last year or two. One of these is the position that you took and stoutly maintained in the Vanderbilt controversy. I am an alumnus of that institution. It is also a matter of gratification to me to note your firm stand in regard to orthodoxy, both in and out of the pulpit." While many of the Vanderbilt Alumni have followed Dr. James H. Kirkland and the glitter of Carnegie gold, there are some men among them who are true and loyal to the Church.

Mrs. A. M. Pond, Secretary of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Winona District of the North Mississippi Conference, writes: "In response to the strong appeal of the Council and our Conference leaders of the Woman's Missionary Society for a membership and organization campaign, Rev. B. P. Jaco, presiding elder of the Winona District, has requested all the preachers in his district to observe either the second or third Sunday in July as 'Woman's Day.' It is to be hoped that the work of the Council and of the Woman's Missionary Societies will be presented in such a way as to make every woman feel that she will be deprived of a great privilege if she does not join an Auxiliary and have a part in it."

NORTH MISSISSIPPI BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The Board of Education of the North Mississippi Conference is hereby called to meet in the First Methodist Church of Greenwood, Miss., at 10:30 o'clock a. m. on Wednesday, July 21, 1915. Various matters of interest will come before the Board and it is very important that there should be a full attendance of its members. Any of the instructors and trustees of our educational institutions and presiding elders of the Conference who may feel disposed to do so are cordially invited to be present. Let those who will attend and who may desire entertainment send their names at once to Rev. J. E. Cunningham, our pastor at Greenwood.

R. A. MEEK,
President of the Board.

COTTAGE COLONY, NEAR HAMMOND, LA.
FOR THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.
Pine forest, artesian water, hot and cold baths, no dust or noise. Physicians' attention. Graduate nurse's service and drugs furnished.
Rates, $10 per Week and Up.
Address Dr. E. L. McGehee, Hammond, La.
City Office, 323 Maison Blanche Bldg.

DR. H. B. BARTLETT
National Dental Parlors
Cor. Canal & Camp Sts.
ENTRANCE 108 CAMP
Phone Main 2193
NEW ORLEANS
Vitalized Air for Painless Extraction
Crown and Bridge Specialist
The Largest and Best Equipped Dental Parlors South.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE
DIRECT TRAINS TO
New York
Cincinnati
Birmingham
PULLMAN SLEEPERS, DINING CARS.
— The Scenic Route —
TICKET OFFICE:
211 ST. CHARLES STREET.
Depot, Terminal Station, Canal St.
Phone, Main 2939.

—THE—
Louisiana & Arkansas
RAILWAY
Announces the sale by its Ticket Agents at——
Alexandria, Shreveport, Winnfield, Minden, Sibley, Cotton Valley, Trout, Jena, and Jonesville, Louisiana.
——OF——
INTERCHANGEABLE THOUSAND MILE BOOKS
Good on All Roads in Louisiana.
Save Money by buying one of these Books.
B. S. ATKINSON,
General Passenger Agent.

FRECKLES
Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With The Othine Prescription
This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.
Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.
Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

BOOHNE & WILT, Booksellers and Stationers, 1328 Dryades St., New Orleans, La. Baseball Goods, Religious Articles, Fishing Tackle, Periodicals, School Books.

Obituaries.

CARRIE ELIZABETH GOZA, whose maiden name was Vickers, was born in Simpson County, Miss., near Rolla, on May 7, 1853, and died in Street's Sanitarium at Vicksburg, Miss., on March 5, 1915. She was married to C. C. Goza on July 21, 1870. To them were born four children—two sons, and two daughters. She was a true wife, a devoted mother, and a devout follower of Christ. Sweet shrinking modesty (woman's greatest adornment) characterized her. She lived well. May God's grace abound to her grieved loved ones left behind!

"Lo, the prisoner is released,
Lightened if her fleshly load;
Where the weary are at rest,
She is gathered unto God."

One who loved her,
IRA B. ROBERTSON.

Mrs. A. E. HARTMAN (nee Mary Sandefur) was born in Georgia, on August 9, 1843, and died while on a visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. M. E. Hamner, at Alberta, La., on May 23, 1915. Her father moved his family to this State while she was quite a child and almost all her long life was spent at Hartman, La. She was married to W. F. Crownover on May 15, 1859. Two children were born of this union, both of whom died in infancy. Later Mr. Crownover died. In February, 1892, she was married to William Wesley Hartman, who preceded her to the heavenly home by a little more than seven months. At the time of her death she was living with her nephew, J. B. Sandefur, at Minden, La. This nephew was to her as a devoted son, having lived with her since the death of his parents, who left him a tiny little orphan. Mrs. Hartman joined the Methodist Church while she was young; she lived a consistent Christian life and died a triumphant death. Her going was sudden but peaceful. By her death the loved ones, the Church, the community have all sustained a great loss. May the good Father bless and comfort all these sorrowing hearts!

A FRIEND.

A gloom came over the Arizona community when the death of CLYDE NICHOLSON was announced. Clyde was 18 years old, and was a son of A. B. and Mrs. Kittie Nicholson, of Arizona, La. He was also a great-nephew of Col. Nicholson of Baton Rouge and Rev. W. W. Nicholson of Doyline, La. Clyde was a good and obedient boy to his parents, industrious and truthful; and he added much sunshine and happiness to his home. He was well thought of in the community and will be greatly missed by his many friends. He was ambitious for an education and often talked with his uncle about his future plans for obtaining it. Doubtless, if Clyde could have lived, he would have made a splendid man and a strong character. Two years ago in a good revival meeting at Arizona he was gloriously converted and testified to the fact of his salvation through Christ. He had, however, been a member of the Methodist Church since quite a child. Toward the last his conversation with his brother and friends showed that he was ready for the Master's summons and he gently "fell on sleep," his spirit being borne away to Him who gave it. We would say to the bereaved to mourn not as those who have no hope, but put your trust in God, even in this crucial hour. The writer extends sympathy to the bereaved. His former pastor,

Grand Cane, La. J. C. PRICE.

On May 25, 1915, the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ware and took from them their loving daughter, MYRTLE. She had been bringing sunshine and happiness into the home for eighteen years. At the tender age of twelve years she was converted and joined the Methodist Church and remained a faithful and active member until the summons came to her "to come up higher." About seventeen months ago she was seized with that dread disease, tuberculosis, from which she suffered untold physical pain; but she endured her afflictions with great patience and Christian heroism. She spoke at different times of her approaching death with perfect composure, declaring that she had no fear of death. We cannot understand why one so young should be taken from us; hut we know that our Father is too wise to make a mistake and that he doeth all things for the best, so we must how in humhle suhmission to his divine will, for we know that she is safe in the arms of the one who said, "I go to prepare a place for you." Our hearts go out in tenderest sympathy to the heart-broken family. May their faith in God be made stronger in this their dark hour of sorrow. Her funeral service was conducted by her pastor, and she was laid to rest in the Abbeville cemetery in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends. Miss Myrtle will be greatly missed. This is one of the strange mysteries that we cannot understand now, hut we have God's promise that we shall know hereafter.

Mrs. C. T. FLOYD.

AN IDEAL HOME SCHOOL FOR YOUR DAUGHTER.

Parents seeking the best of moral and social surroundings and influences in a boarding school for their daughters should by all means be familiar with Martin College, Pulaski, Tenn.

For forty-four years Martin College has been located in one of the most cultured, morally wholesome towns in the State of Tennessee, and, throughout these years its aim has constantly been to surround the girl with the best Christian Home life—most refined and cultural influences — and every opportunity for true advancement in every line.

Martin College, while large enough to make the highest grade of work possible, is small enough to insure that important personal help and attention usually found lacking in the largest institutions. Full particulars of this time-honored and improved college can be had on application. Sign and mail the note below.

Martin College, W. T. Wynn, Pres.,
Box J, Pulaski, Tenn.

Dear Sir: In the interest of my daughter, please send me full information ahout the following courses: (underscore those desired) Piano, Art, Expression, Voice Cultivation, Domestic Science, Literary Work. Send catalog and full details as to rates.

Name .....
Town
and State .....

TO THE PASTORS OF THE CORINTH DISTRICT.

We are asked by the Woman's Missionary Society of the Conference to observe a Woman's Mission Day. This being one of the most important enterprises of the Church, I request that all the pastors of the district observe the fourth Sunday in August or as soon thereafter as possible until all the churches are reached, seeking to get the women to attend and to organize a society in every church if possihle. Miss Corinne Rogers, District Conference Secretary, of New Alhany, Miss., will be glad to be with as many of you as possible.

J. H. MITCHELL, P. E.
Corinth, Miss.

SENT FREE AND PREPAID
to every reader of the New Orleans Christian Advocate, who needs it and writes for it to the Vernal Remedy Company, Buffalo, N. Y., a trial bottle of Vernal Palmettona. Only one small dose a day perfectly and permanently relieves catarrh, flatulence, indigestion and constipation. It clears the liver and kidneys of all congestion and inflammation and takes all irritation from bladder and prostrate gland. Good men and women are wanted as agents for this and other high class articles. Write immediately.—Advertisement.

SHALL WE GO BACK TO THE BLUE BACK SPELLER?

Recently the argument has been made that our schools should adopt the Blue Back speller as the text book on this subject. This argument is based upon the contention that boys and girls trained in the old field school, where this renowned hook was the text, were more efficient in spelling than those now being trained in the schools. It would he just as reasonable to argue that the farmer should discontinue the use of modern machines on the ground that the field does not yield as much grain as the same field did when simpler tools were used in its cultivation.

The lack of efficiency in the modern school is due to other causes. The old field school was in charge of a man who was usually the master of the situation, and required his pupils to master a few subjects thoroughly. Its modern successor is frequently in charge of a young girl who does her best to get her pupils to do something in two or three times as many subjects, and the result is that none are mastered. The pupils in this way acquire the habit of doing poor and careless work, and they are fortunate if they ever get such habits cured.

Our boys should be trained to master themselves first, and then to master thoroughly whatever subjects they study, and the school should not undertake to do more than it can do well. We need intensive cultivation in the school room as well as in the fields.

Parents wishing to place their boys where they can get such training should write to Jas. A. Peoples, Principal of the Peoples-Tucker School, Springfield, Tenn., for information.—Advertisement.

RANDOLPH-MACON ACADEMY
For Boys Bedford City, Va.
Offers prompt and thorough preparation for college, scientific school or business life. The liberal endowment of the Randolph-Macon System, of which this school is a branch, permits of unusually low terms. $255 covers all charges for the school year. No extras. Randolph-Macon boys succeed—465 gradnates of this school have received full college degrees or entered professions in the past 18 years. For catalogue and further information, address
E. SUMTER SMITH, Principal

"Them Good Saw Mills"
Don't burn or waste your timber. Saw it for yourself and neighbors. A few good trees will pay for a small mill.
Prices—$150.00 and up.
Write for circular, price and guarantee
Corinth Machinery Co.
Box 14. - - - - Corinth, Miss.

WHEN IT COMES, BE PREPARED.

The SAFE and SAVING WAY of Insuring Church and Pastor's property is with
The National Mutual Church Insurance Co., of Chicago, Ill.
THE METHODIST MUTUAL.
Now in successful operation for years. Business at highest point ever attained, and constantly increasing. Protects against FIRE, LIGHTNING and TORNADO. No assessments. For particulars address
HENRY P. MAGILL, Secretary and Manager,
Insurance Exchange, Chicago, Ill.
Mrs. Alice Harcrove Barclay, Agent M. E. Church South,
214 Norton Building, Fourth and Jefferson, Louisville, Ky.

From the Field.

Brookhaven, Miss.

We have recently closed a series of meetings in the Brookhaven Church, with the pastor, Brother J. M. Morse, doing the preaching, assisted by Brother S. E. Kirby, singer and preacher of Little Rock, Ark., who assisted Brother Morse not only by having charge of the singing, but also by doing some of the preaching. We conducted a somewhat unusual service in the way of meetings in the afternoons for men in a Theatorium building in the business district, at which meetings different laymen were used as the principal speakers, and there is no doubt but that these services were worth while. The sermons of Brother Morse were forceful, interesting, helpful and spiritual, and as a result of the meeting there were 17 accessions to the membership of the Church. Brother Kirby is an attractive singer, and doubtless his work in assisting Brother Morse did its part in securing and holding the good attendance that continued throughout the meeting. W. D. DAVIS.

June 30, 1915.

Franklinton, La.

Dear Dr. Meek: We have held two meetings on the Franklinton circuit—one at Angie and another at Varnado. I was assisted at Angie by Brother Bennett, of Monticello, Miss., who did faithful work, and it resulted in 4 accessions and quite a number of conversions. Miss Fannie Larking, a blind lady of Monticello, rendered good service in leading the music. At Varnado I was assisted by Brother Bozeman, of Farmerville, La. We continued ten days and our labor resulted in 40 conversions and 10 accessions, with more to follow. There was a great outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon the people, and we could hardly accommodate the great crowds that attended. Brother Bozeman has not got away from the old way of calling penitents to the altar; and he got them there, and many were blessed. Our Sunday school at that point will no doubt almost double in numbers. The ladies organized a prayer meeting which was a great help. I can recommend this young man as good help in a meeting.—F. N. Sweeney, P. C.

St. Tammany Circuit, La. Conf.

This year is fast passing and we have not as yet reported much accomplished to the Advocate; but we are still moving on and I hope to succeed. We have some good things on our work. We have four Sunday schools and a prayer meeting. We have five congregations, but we have only three church buildings. We are hoping to build two more this year. We had the presiding elder, Rev. W. W. Holmes, with us last Saturday and Sunday. He preached a very fine sermon Saturday. Then we had one of those old time dinners on the ground. It was good to be there. Then followed the business session of the Conference. On Sunday morning the weather was fine, the congregation good, and Brother Holmes was perfectly at himself; so you know what that meant for us that morning. Then we went from Fitzgerald to Waldheim for afternoon services, where he gave us the "Gospel of the Good Samaritan." Our revival meetings will begin soon and we are hoping that great good will be done on the St. Tammany circuit. God bless you and your work.

J. S. RUTLEDGE, P. C.

Valden, Miss.

I ask space in your paper to tell you of the revival services that closed here on Wednesday evening, June 23. Brother W. M. Langley was assisted by Rev. J. J. Smylie, of Louisville, Miss. The meeting continued ten days. This community has rarely had a visitation of the power of the Holy Spirit to compare with that which fell upon the entire town of Valden during this series of meetings. Brother Smylie is truly a man of God, formed, as it were, in the similitude of a divine prophet, possessed with the gift of compelling men to hear him and forcing the truths of the gospel upon them. As an evangelist, Brother Smylie ranks at the very top; as a pulpit orator he has few equals; as a logician he is clear and powerful; as a theologian he is well-informed and able, and as a psychologist he possesses an unusual faculty of laying bare the common sins of life and exposing the innermost secrets of the soul. There were added to the kingdom 14 on profession of faith and 7 by letter. Thrice fortunate is the people who are led and counseled by a shepherd who cares so tenderly for his own, leading them always to fountains of ever-springing joy.—W. M. Armstrong.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolutions of appreciation were recently adopted by the Woman's Missionary Auxiliary of the Tylertown Methodist Church:

Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove from our midst Sister M. E. Ball, one of our beloved members; therefore, be it resolved:

1. That we, as a whole, miss her loyalty to the cause, and her beautiful life among us that we always found a sweet benediction; that our purpose shall be to emulate her lovely traits of character, as these gracious influences forever abide with us as incense of sweetness.

2. That we tenderly extend to our friends—her sorrowing loved ones—our deepest sympathy and pray that "the peace of God that passeth all understanding" may be theirs.

3. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the New Orleans Christian Advocate and to the town paper for publication, and that they be spread on the record of the Auxiliary, and a copy forwarded to the family.

Signed: Mrs. G. A. Brumfield, Mrs. J. W. Caraway, Mrs. T. B. Cottrell, Committee.

REV. B. E. MEIGS APPRECIATED.

(This resolution was unanimously adopted by the Board of Stewards of the Rankin Street M. E. Church, South, of Jackson, Miss.)

Whereas, Rev. B. E. Meigs, our beloved pastor, has been transferred to the Bay St. Louis Church, be it

Resolved, That we feel that we have lost a shepherd indeed—a faithful, efficient worker. But while we miss his gentle personality, his counsel and untiring efforts in behalf of our church and community, we commend him and his good wife to their new field of labor, trusting that they will meet with the loving esteem that was accorded them by Rankin Street Church.

Signed by: B. A. Hayes, R. A. Armstead, L. G. Goza, W. C. Davis.

L&N Louisville & Nashville R. R.

THE DIRECT LINE NORTH AND EAST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED STEEL SLEEPERS
DINING CARS, OBSERVATION CARS, CHAIR CARS

Phone M. 4093. TICKET OFFICE 201 ST. CHARLES STREET

"EXPOSITION LINE"

SOUTHERN PACIFIC — SUNSET ROUTE

ONE FARE
FOR THE ROUND TRIP
$57.50
TO
California AND THE Expositions

TICKETS ON SALE DAILY

Limited to return within 90 days. Stopover all points enroute. Shortest and quickest route. Two through Steel Trains daily. Oil burning Locomotives. Electric Block Signals. Observation Cars.

Best Dining Car in America

For full information and illustrated catalogue, ask any Southern Pacific Agent or write

W. H. STAKELUM, Div. Pass. Agent, Lake Charles, La.
J. H. R. PARSONS, Gen. Pass. Agent, New Orleans, La.

THE TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY — EL PASO — ST. LOUIS

Make Your
Vacation Count!
Two or Three Weeks at
MINERAL WELLS
would almost make a new man of you, and a jolly, pleasant three weeks they would be, too! Low Round Trip Rates Every Day.

CITY TICKET OFFICE, 207 St. Charles Street.

EDENBORN LINE
LOUISIANA RAILWAY & NAVIGATION CO.
THE SHORT LINE :: THE POPULAR ROUTE
BETWEEN
New Orleans :: Baton Rouge : Alexandria : Shreveport
TICKETS ON SALE TO ALL POINTS NORTHWEST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS
Secure Reservations at City Ticket Office
700 GRAVIER STREET, ST. CHARLES HOTEL

EAT HARRIS' JERSEY ICE CREAM
The CREAM OF QUALITY. Quick Auto Delivery
1300, 1302 DRYADES ST.
Phones Jackson 1080, 1081

You Look Prematurely Old
Because of those ugly, grizzly gray hairs. Use "LA CREOLE" HAIR DRESSING. Price $1.00, retail.

Bethel College

For Women

Chartered - - - 1855

Offers a limited number of girls splendid advantages at a very moderate cost. Delightfully situated. Seven acres of wooded campus. Distinctly Christian and homelike in atmosphere. Opportunity to hear notable musical attractions. Autumn trip to Mammoth Cave. Easily accessible. Seventy miles north of Nashville. Preparatory and College work, leading to B. S. and A. B. degrees with Junior College Arts Diploma. Music, Art, Expression and Domestic Science. All kinds of Athletics.

For full information, catalogue, and beautiful view book, address President W. S. Peterson, Box E, Hopkinsville, Ky.

"The moods of life are only the weather of the soul."

A HEALING SPRING AT YOUR DOOR.

Here is a very unusual and peculiar offer—one that you rarely meet with. It evidences the greatest faith on the part of its makers and inspires confidence. It is made hy an earnest and enthusiastic man who not only thinks but knows from personal experience that he is right. He proposes to give you the equivalent of a three weeks' visit to a Mineral Spring of most remarkahle restorative powers and make no charge if you are not henefited. His offer has been accepted by several thousands of sufferers in all parts of the U. S. and his records show that only two in a hundred, on the average, report no benefit.

If you suffer with dyspepsia, indigestion, rheumatism, gallstones, kidney, bladder or liver disease, uric acid poisoning, or other condition caused hy impure blood, take Mr. Shivar at his word and sign and mail the following letter:

Shivar Spring,
Box 17H, Shelton, S. C.
Gentlemen:

I accept your guarantee offer and enclose herewith two dollars for ten galions of Shivar Mineral Water. I agree to give it a falr trial, in accordance with instructions contained in booklet you will send, and if it fails to benefit my case you agree to refund the price in full upon receipt of the two empty demijohns which I agree to return promptly.

Name .....
Address .....
Shipping Point.....
(Please write distinctly).

Note: The Advertising Manager of the New Orleans Christian Advocate is personally acquainted with Mr. Shivar. You run no risk whatever in accepting his offer. I have personally witnessed the remarkable curative effects of this Water in a very serious case.

DAISY FLY KILLER

placed anywhere, attracts and kills all flies. Neat, clean, ornamental, convenient, cheap. Lasts all season. Made of metal, can't spill or tip over; will not soil or injure anything. Guaranteed effective. Sold by dealers, or 6 sent by express prepaid for $1.

HAROLD SOMERS, 150 DeKalb Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

SEASHORE ASSEMBLY FOR CHRISTIAN WORKERS.

PROGRAM FOR 1915.

July 22 to Aug. 2.

Thursday, July 22—8 p. m., Reception.

Friday, July 23—8:30 to 9:15 a.m., Bihie Study, Rev. W. F. Quillian; 9:25 to 10:05 a.m., Mission Study, Rev. Foster Gamhle; 10:15 to 10:45 a.m., Institute hour, Rev. J. M. Culbreth; 11 to 12 m., Address, Rev. J. M. Culbreth; 8 p.m., Address, Hon. Hugh N. Locke.

Saturday, July 24—8:30 to 9:15 a.m., Bihie Study, Rev. W. F. Quillian; 9:25 to 10:05 a.m., Mission Study, ———; 10:15 to 10:45 a.m., Institute hour, Rev. J. M. Culbreth; 11 a. m. to 12 m., Address, Hon. Hugh N. Locke; afternoon, sail to Ship Island, 75c for the round trip.

Sunday, July 25—11 a.m., Sermon, Rev. J. M. Culbreth; afternoon, Chiidren's Rally; 8 p.m., Sermon, Rev. W. F. Quillian.

Monday, July 26—8:30 to 9:15 a.m., Bible Study, Rev. W. F. Quillian; 9:25 to 10:05 a.m., Mission Study, Rev. Foster Gamble; 10:15 to 10:45 a.m., Institute hour, Rev. J. M. Culbreth; 11 a.m. to 12 m., Address, Miss Mary Moore; 8 p.m., Address, Miss Mary Moore.

Tuesday, July 27—8:30 to 9:15 a.m., Bible Study, Rev. W. F. Quillian; 9:25 to 10:05 a.m., Mission Study, Rev. Foster Gamble; 10:15 to 10:45 a.m., Institute hour, Rev. J. M. Cuibreth; 11 a.m. to 12 m., Address, Rev. J. M. Culbreth; 8 p.m., Address, Miss Mary Moore.

Wednesday, July 28—8:30 to 9:15 a.m., Bible Study, Rev. W. F. Quillian; 9:25 to 10:05 a.m., Mission Study, Rev. Foster Gamble; 10:15 to 10:45 a.m., Institute hour, Miss Mary Moore; 11 a.m. to 12 m., Address, Mrs. S. S. Harris; 2 p.m., Address, Mrs. Luke Johnson; 3 p.m., Address, Miss Limie Barcroft; 8 p.m., Address, Mrs. S. S. Harris.

Thursday, July 29—8:30 to 9:15 a.m., Bible Study, Rev. W. F. Quillian; 9:25 to 10:05 a.m., Mission Study, Mrs. Geo. S. Sexton; 10:15 to 10:45 a.m., Institute hour, Mrs. R. H. Harper; 11 a.m. to 12 m., Address, Mrs. Luke Johnson; 2 p.m., Address, Mrs. S. S. Harris; 3 p.m., Address, Miss Hasler; 8 p.m., Address, Mrs. Geo. S. Sexton.

Friday, July 30—8:30 to 9:15 a.m., Bible Study, Rev. W. F. Quillian; 9:25 to 10:05 a.m., Mission Study, Mrs. Geo. S. Sexton; 10:15 to 10:45 a.m., Institute hour, Rev. R. H. Glading; 11 a.m. to 12 m., Address, Rev. R. A. Maddux; 8 p.m., Address, Rev. E. C. Gunn.

Saturday, July 31—8:30 to 9:12 a.m., Bible Study, Rev. W. F. Quillian; 9:25 to 10:05 a.m., Mission in Sunday School, Mrs. R. H. Harper; 11 a.m. to 12 m., Address, Mr. Van Carter; afternoon, launch trip to Ship Island.

Sunday, Aug. 1—11 a.m., Sermon, Rev. F. S. Parker; 4 p.m., Assembly Rally; 8 p.m., Sermon, Rev. Foster Gamble.

Vesper services each evening by Rev. Foster Gamble, of Songdo, Korea.

Mrs. H. L. McCleskey will conduct Children's Hour each day.

BOILS NEEDN'T BOTHER YOU.

Gray's Ointment puts an end to them right away. This remarkable ointment was first prepared in 1820 by a North Carolina physician. For nearly a century the American people have found it the most effective preparation for all eruptions and abrasions of the skin, burns, cuts, wounds, bruises, boils, carbuncles, ulcers, sores, etc. It speedily heals the skin trouble, and prevents the development of blood poisoning, which not infrequently rises from a neglected sore or cut. "The best remedy I ever tried for risings, and all my friends who have tried it say it beats anything they ever used," writes Miss E. M. Manley, Auburndale, Fla. Keep a box in the house. 25c at druggists. Get a free sample by writing W. F. Gray & Co., 806 Gray Bldg., Nashville, Tenn.—Adv.

"No interest in missions? The only explanation is either inexcusable ignorance or willful disohedience."

"We need to save the world in order to save Americe spiritually."

Minister's Wife is Cured of Pellagra.

Lamar, Miss.—W. S. Selman, a Methodist minister of this place says: "I have advertised your remedy as far as I have been and have received several letters asking for your address. I wish you great success in your work. I believe it (Baughn's Pellagra Treatment) is THE treatment and I will advertise it wherever I go. Mrs. Selman is just fine. Will also state that her general health is better than it has been for years past."

This is the heartfelt word of a minister, grateful that his wife has been spared to him. There is no need to suffer from pellagra when a cure is at hand. Don't delay a minute.

The symptons—hands red like sunburn; skin peeling off; sore mouth; the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red, with much mucous and choking; indigestion and nausea; either diarrhoea or constipation.

There is hope; get Baughn's big Free book on pellagra, and learn about the remedy for Pellagra, that has at last been found. Address American Compounding Co., Box 587-X, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.

Note—In case you have any doubt as to the merit of this treatment you are at liberty to write the advertising manager of this paper, Jacobs & Co., who did not accept this advertisement until an investigation was made that satisfied him that we had cured hundreds of cases of pellagra.—Advertisement.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

Ruston Dist.—Third Round.

Gibbsland, at Bethel, July 10, 11.
Athens, at Wesley, July 13.
Homer, July 14.
Elmore, at Wesley, July 16.
Simsboro, at Salem, July 23.
Haughton, at Doyline, July 24, 25.
District Conf., at Plain Dealing, July 26, 29.
Bernice, at Alabama, July 31, Aug. 1.
Bienville, at Burk Place, Aug. 2.
Haynesville, at Colquitt, Aug. 4.
Ringgold, at Rocky Mount, Aug. 7, 8.
Cotton Valley, at Spring Hill, Aug. 9.
Sibley, at Evergreen, Aug. 14, 15.
Plain Dealing, at Walkers', Aug. 17.
Minden, Aug. 21, 22.
Winnfield, Aug. 23.
Arcadia, Aug. 25.
Jonesboro, Aug. 28, 29.
Rutson, Sept. 6.

BRISCOE CARTER, P. E.

Alexandria Dist.—Third Round.

DeRidder, June 29.
Oakdale, June 30.
LeCompte, July 2.
Columbia, July 4.
McNary, at Reaves, July 11.
Opelousas, 8 p. m., July 12, 13.
Trout, at Trout, 8 p. m., July 15.
Melville, at Melville, 11 a. m., July 17, 18.
Bunkie, at Bunkie, 8 p. m., July 18.
Campti, at Clarance, 8 p. m., July 21.
Colfax, at Mntogomery, 8 p. m., July 22.
Selma, 11 a. m., July 25.
Jena, 8 p. m., July 25.
Boyce, at Campground, July 31.
Longville, at Fields, August 5.
Merryville, August 6.
Bon Ami, at Carscn, August 8.
Pineville, August 12.
Hopewell, on DeRidder Mission, August 15.
Glenmora, at Oberlin, August 22.
Provincal, at Provincal, 8 p. m., August 24.
Harrisonburg, August 29.
Standard, 8 p. m., September 2.
Natchitoches, Septemher 5.
Preaching at Campti, 8 p. m., September 5.
Eden, 8 p. m., Setemher 9.
Alexandria, September 12.

H. W. MAY, P. E.

Lafayette Dist.—Third Round.

Morgan City, July 10, 11.
Patterson, July 11, 12.
Jennings, July 17, 18.
Lake Arthur, July 18, 19.
Houma, at Bourg, July 24, 25.
Lafourche, July 25, 26.
Gueydan and Ahheville, at Gueydan, July 31, August 1.
Eunice, at Iota, August 1, 2.
Crowley, August 7, 8.
Lafayette, August 8, 9.
New Iheria, August 14, 15.
Vermiilon, at Perry, August 15, 16.
Lake Charles, August 21, 22.
Bell City, at West Lake, August 22, 23.
French Mission, at Port Barre, August 28, 29.
Rayne, Septemher 4, 5.
Indian Bayou, September 5, 6.
Acadia, at Prudhomme, September 11, 12.
Suiphur and Vinton, at Vinton, Septemher 18, 19.
Evangeline, at Ville Platte, September 25, 26.
Washington and Chicot, at Bethel, September 26, 27.
Franklin, Wednesday, September 29.

JAMES J. HOFFPAUIR, P. E.
Indian, Bayou, La.

Shreveport Dist.—Third Round.

Greenwood, at Summer Grove, July 17, 18.
Queensborough, July 18, 21.
Ida, at Hosston, July 24, 25.
Preach at Texas Avenue, 8 p. m., July 25.
Pelican, at Bethel, July 31, August 1.
Pleasant Hill, at Robeline, Aug. 1, 2.
Noble, at Bayou Scic, Aug. 7, 8.
Many, at New Hope, Aug. 8, 9.
Cedar Grove, Aug. 11.
Bossier City, Aug. 13.
Logansport, Aug. 14, 15.
Longstreet, at Longstreet, Aug. 15, 16.
Conference at Texas Avenue, Aug. 18.
Anacoco, at Hornbeck, Aug. 21, 22.
Zwolle, Aug. 22, 23.
Bayou Lachute, at Taylortown, Aug. 25.
South Mansfield, at South Mansfield, Aug. 28, 29.
Mansfield, Aug. 29, 30.
First Church, Shreveport, Sept. 1 and 5.
Grand Cane, at Keithville, Sept. 5, 6.
Leesville, Sept. 19.
Mooringsport, Sept. 21.
Vivian, Sept. 22.
Wesley, Sept. 25, 26.
Coushatta, Sept. 26, 27.
J. S. Noel, Jr., Memorial, Sept. 29.

WM. H. COLEMAN, P. E.

Whole Family Benefited By Wonderful Remedy

There are many little things to annoy us, under present conditions of life. The hurry, hard work, noise and strain all tell on us and tend to provoke nervousness and irritability. We are frequently so worn out we can neither eat, sleep nor work with any comfort. We are out of line with ourselves and others as well.

A good thing to do under such circumstances is to take something like to relieve the strain on the nerves. Mrs. J. B. Hartsfield, 82 Plum St., Atlanta Ga., writes:

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills

"I have on several occasions been vastly relieved by the use of your medicines, especially the Anti-Pain Pills, which I keep constantly on hand for the use of myself, husband and two sons. Nothing in the world equals them as a headache remedy. Often I am enabled by the use of one or two of the Pills to continue my housework when otherwise I would be in bed. My husband joins me in my praise of the Anti-Pain Pills and Nervine."

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills

are relied upon to relieve pain, nervousness and irritability in thousands of households. Of proven merit after twenty years' use, you can have no reason for being longer without them.

At all Druggists, 25 doses 25 cents.
MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

WHEN WRITING OUR ADVERTISERS PLEASE MENTION THIS PUBLICATION

WINONA DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

(Reprinted from the Commercial-Appeal of Sunday, June 6.)

To The Commercial-Appeal:

No paper known to me gives so much space to the church as does your great journal. Your liberal policy in that respect and your aggressive warfare for righteousness deserves and has highest appreciation. I ask for space to give a brief account of the recent meeting of the above-named ecclesiastical assembly.

The conference held its session for the year 1907 in Drew, Sunflower County, Miss., which was then a small village. The people were so kind and hospitable and the conference so great a success that ever since that session has been remembered as having established a high ideal for such meetings. Hence the members were glad to return there for the 1915 session, May 27 to 30. Instead of the small village of 1907 we found numbers of elegant residences, rows of large brick business houses and miles of granolithic pavements.

Then the Methodists were worshiping in a small frame building and had no parsonage. Now they have an elegant parsonage and a large and substantial brick church valued at $20,000. There is great industrial development in all that section, and the church is not lagging behind.

All the pastors were present save one who was kept at home by sickness in his community. The preaching on Thursday, Friday and Saturday was by John Ritchey, H. M. Ellis, J. E. Thomas, J. W. Price and L. M. Brownlee, and all delivered edifying sermons.

The visitors were E. V. Hughston, Annual Conference Lay Leader; T. H. Lipscomb, Annual Conference Board of Education; W. M. Williams and Mrs. Williams, Orphans' Home; H. M. Ellis, Memphis Hospital; R. H. B. Gladney, Sunday School Board; Mrs. C. H. Pond, Woman's Missionary Society; J. R. Countiss, Grenada College; J. J. Brooks, pastor at Boyle. All these gave great joy to the members of the conference by their pleasing personalities and helpful ministrations, and materially aided the worthy interests so ably represented by them.

Much stress was placed on missions. The conference contributed $200 to place a preacher in an unoccupied field. W. F. Wilson gave five acres of land in Cane Lake for a church to be built there and guaranteed the salary of a pastor.

F. D. Alexander was recommended for elder's orders. I. F. Holland, J. H. Vance, and A. J. Beasley were recommended for deacon's orders.

Jesse Fielder Watson was granted license to preach.

J. R. Bingham, M. C. Smith, J. J. Beck, and J. A. Reeves were elected lay delegates to the Annual Conference to meet in New Albany the first week in December next. W. T. Johnson, R. L. Ward, and E. L. Dwiggins were elected reserve delegates.

The session of the district conference for 1916 will be held in Moorhead.

Sunday was the climax of interest and achievement for the conference. A spiritual love feast, two great Sunday school rallies, and able, searching sermons by J. R. Countiss and J. E. Cunningham resulted in 17 additions to the church on profession of faith. And there was the shout of a king in the camp. Amen! So it should always be.

The growth of this great delta is indicated by the fact that 20 years ago D. M. Miller, an honored local preacher for 40 years, at his own expense served a wide territory in which there was no church building of any kind, where now there are large towns and prosperous churches served by a score of pastors.

Reports from the 20 pastoral charges showed a healthy and growing condition in the churches. There have been revivals and many additions. * * *

E. L. Dwiggins was elected district lay leader.

The committee appointed at the 1914 session to remove the district parsonage to a more central place was continued with authority to act.

The interests of Grenada College and of Millsaps College, the pride of North Mississippi Methodism, were not neglected by the conference, as those in authority at these splendid schools will soon learn.

The growth of the churches and the success of this conference resulted in a large measure from the wise planning and skillful guidance of the Rev. B. P. Jaco, presiding elder. This being the fourth year of his incumbency, the conference adopted resolutions expressing deep and genuine affection for him and proper appreciation of his four years' work; asked him to take a needed vacation and gave him a purse sufficient to take Mrs. Jaco with him. Brother Jaco responded with deep feeling and all hearts were melted in love.

The debates of the conference revealed the fact that all did not always think alike in all the details of every subject, but all were of one heart always. There was no evidence of that vice of small minds and bane of bad hearts, proscription on account of opinion.

Having sat at the secretary's table of this conference for 32 years, I am prepared to pronounce the session of 1915 one of the most successful ever held. J. R. BINGHAM, Secty.

Our "JITNEY" Offer---This and 5 CENTS

DON'T MISS THIS. Cut out this slip enclose with 5c to Foley and Co., 2843 Sheffield Ave., Dept. R, Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for coughs, colds and croup; Foley Kidney Pills, for pain in sides and back, rheumatism, backache, kidney and bladder ailments; and Foley Cathartic Tablets; a wholesome and thoroughly cleansing cathartic; especially comforting to stout people.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Hattiesburg Dist.—Third Round.

Richton, June 19, 20.
Lucedale, at Shipman, June 20, 21.
Prentiss, at Bassfield, July 11, 12.
Leakesville, at Clarke's Chapel, July 18, 19.
Green County Mission, at Adams Church, July 23.
Hattiesburg, Broad Street, July 25, 26.
Hattiesburg, Court Street, July 25-27.
Blodgett, July 31, August 1.
Ellisville, August 1, 2.
Estabutchie, at P. Ridge, August 4.
Hattiesburg, Main St., August 8.
Seminary, at Lux, August 9.
Purvis, at Maple, August 11.
Eucutta, at Boyles Church, August 14, 15.
Heidelberg, at Philadelphia, August 17.
Williamsburg, at Good Hope, August 21, 22.
Collins, August 22, 23.
Silver Creek, at New Hebron, August 25.
Taylorsville, at Oakehay, August 28, 29.
Mount Olive, at Mize, August 29, 30.
McLain, at Crossroads, September 4, 5.
Magee, at Sharon, September 9.
Oloh, September 11, 12.
Sumrall, September 12, 13.

If any of these dates should conflict with any revival meeting engagement pastors will please write me.

GEO. H. THOMPSON, P. E.

Brookhaven Dist.—Third Round.

Magnolia, July 11, 12.
Bogue Chitto and Norfield, at Bogue Chitto, July 18, 19.
Buford, at Sandy Hook, July 24, 25.
Monticello, at Oma, August 1, 2.
Summit and E. McComb, at Pizgah, August 14, 15.
McComb-Centenary, August 15, 16.
Adams, at Johnson Station, August 17.
Meadville, at McCalls, August 18.
Scotland, at New Hope, August 21, 22.
Bayou Pierre, at Tabernacle, August 26.
Pleasant Grove, at Tilton, August 28, 29.
Tylertown, at Tylertown, September 4, 5.
Topisaw, at Holmesville, September 8.
Barlow, at ———, September 11, 12.
Hazlehurst, September 17, 19.
Brookhaven, September 19, 20.
Wesson, at ———, September 22.
South McComb, at Muddy Springs, September 25, 26.

ROBT. SELBY, P. E.
Brookhaven, Miss.

Brookhaven Dist.—Third Round.

Magnolia, July 11, 12.
Bogue Chitto and Norfield, at Bogue Chitto, July 18, 19.
Monticello, at Oma, July 23.
Buford, at Sandy Hook, July 24, 25.
Adams, at Johnson Station, July 31, Aug. 1.
Topisaw Camp Meeting, Aug. 5, 12.
Summit and E. McComb, at Pizgah, Aug. 14, 15.
McComb, Centenary, Aug. 15, 16.
Meadville, at McCalls, Aug. 18.
Scotland, at New Hope, Aug. 21, 22.
Bayou Pierre, at Tabernacle, Aug. 26.
Pleasant Grove, at Tilton, Aug. 28, 29.
Tylertown, at Tylertown, Sept. 4, 5.
Topisaw, at Holmesville, Sept. 8.
Barlow, at Lebanon, Sept. 11, 12.
Hazlehurst, Sept. 17, 19.
Brookhaven, Sept. 19, 20.
Wesson, at Wesson, Sept. 22.
South McComb, at Muddy Springs, Sept. 25, 26.

ROBT. SELBY, P. E.
Brookhaven, Miss.

Port Gibson Dist.—Third Round.

Oak Ridge, at Porter's C., July 10, 11.
Vicksburg, Crawford Street, July 11, 12.
Centreville, at Macedonia, July 18.
Gloster and Liberty, at W., July 21.
Angullla, at Murphy, July 25.
Utica, at Cayuga, July 31, August 1.
Rocky Springs, at H. R., August 4.
Hermanville, at Pisgah, Thursday, August 5.
Harriston, at Hamburg, August 7, 8.
Washington, at Washington, Friday, August 13.
Natchez, August 14, 15.
Vicksburg, Gibson Memorial, at Red Bone, August 20, 21.
Rolling Fork, at R. F., Tuesday, August 24.
Mayersville, at Mayersville, Thursday, August 26.
Silver City, at Louise, August 28, 29.
Roxie, at Hamburg, Sept. 4, 5.

T. W. ADAMS, P. E.
Fayette, Miss., May 27, 1915.

Seashore Dist.—Third Round.

Saucier, at S., Friday, July 23.
Biloxi, July 24, 25.
Americus, Tuesday, July 27.
Coalville, at White Plains, July 31, August 1.
Mississippi City and Handsboro, Wednesday, August 4.
Wiggins and Bond, August 7, 8.
Mentorum, Monday, August 9.
Brooklyn, at Stillmore, August 14, 15.
Vancleave, at New Chapel, August 21, 22.
Carriere and Picayune, Wednesday, August 25.
Longbeach, August 28, 29.
Gulfport, First Church, Wednesday, September 1.
Wolf River, at Beulah, September 4, 5.

W. H. HUNTLEY, P. E.

IS EPILEPSY CONQUERED?

New Jersey Physician Said to Have Many Cures to His Credit.

RED BANK, N. J.—Special—Advices from every direction fully confirm previous reports that the remarkable treatment for epilepsy being administered by the consulting physician of the Kline Laboratories, of this city, is achieving wonderful results. Old and stubborn cases have been greatly benefited and many patients claim to have been entirely cured.

Persons suffering from epilepsy should write at once to Kline Laboratories, Branch 230, Red Bank, N. J., for a supply of the remedy, which is being distributed gratuitiously.—Adv.

Don't be Thin --Scrawny

Have a Figure of Curves

No woman need be flat chested, thin or angular—my picture proves that. Yet for years I was a pack of bones, had absolutely no form, no bust. I couldn't help but feel that I was the laughing stock of my more fortunate friends. I was miserable, but determined that I should have what was rightfully mine—what every woman is entitled to—an attractive form, a full, perfectly proportioned bust and clear skin. Oh, the different things I tried, the nostrums I took, the time and money I wasted. But at last I found the way, and it was so simple.

Now I want to give you the benefit of my experience. You may have tried just as many unavailing methods as I did, but now success is yours. A womanly form, attractive face and the happiness of a full figure are now yours. You can't fail if you do as I did. A well proportioned figure, a beautiful bust, clear complexion, sparkling eyes and better health in general are assured you.

Yes, dear friend, I mean what I say. You can't afford to doubt and you won't. You want what I have found, what I struggled so hard for and what I now promise for you.

Write me today, enclosing a 2c stamp and I will gladly, willingly, tell you without further charge how I was able to do these things for myself. There is only one right way, and for your future good and happiness you must let me tell you about this method. Do not delay—you may lose this address. Just mail your letter to Mrs. Louise Ingram, Suite 365, 408 Adams St., Toledo, Ohio, and I will answer by return mail.

"The man who does not believe in missions had better burn up his New Testament, for it is a record of missions."

RHEUMATISM

for rheumatism, lumbago and similar diseases try X-Ray liniment, the new, reliable external remedy. Internal remedies work slow and often derange the stomach. If X-Ray Liniment does not cure or give reasonable relief your money will be refunded. It is also an excellent family Liniment. By mail prepaid $1. a bottle. Bank reference and testimonials on request. CLARKSVILLE Medicine Co. Clarksville, Tenn.

ELIXIR DUCRO
ALIMENTAIRE
Sustains the Organism Without Nourishment. Recommended for Debility, Wasting diseases, Convalescence, Old age. All druggists.
Agents, E. Fougera & Co., Inc., New York.
NO INCREASE IN PRICE

TRY THE OLD RELIABLE
WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC
For MALARIA CHILLS & FEVER
A FINE GENERAL STRENGTHENING TONIC

Woman's Missionary Work

Edited by .....Mrs. R. F. Harrell, Centerville, Miss.

Conference Publicity Superintendents:

Louisiana.....Mrs. A. C. McKinney, Ruston, La.
Mississippi .....Mrs. J. L. Neill, Laurel, Miss.
North Mississippi.....Mrs. Walter Campbell, Winona, Miss.

All communications for this department should be sent to the Editor at the address given above.

To know the awful need of the non-Christian world, to have available a gospel abundantly sufficient to meet that need, to be fully able to carry that gospel to those who are in need of it, and not to do so, will inevitably result in unreality and hypocrisy throughout the home Church.—John R. Mott.

OUR CAMPAIGN.

The following extracts from the letters of Conference officers and District Secretaries give full assurance of great results from the campaign:

Central Texas: "My heart is in our campaign, and I will gladly and willingly do all I can. We are planning a great campaign in Central Texas. Pray for us. The minimum for each district is nine new auxiliaries."

North Carolina: "The fourth Sunday in June is to be our Conference day. The issue of the Advocate just preceding that day is to be ours."

North Mississippi: "The plans received, and I have this week issued a letter to district secretaries and inclosed your plans. Have also written to presiding elders in our Conference and have had many assurances of help from them. The ministers are falling heartily into the organization campaign."

Mississippi: "Inclosed is one of our campaign cards. We had 1000 printed and will put them in every letter we write, so that we can keep the matter before the women."

Mississippi: "We will invite women from the country churches to meet us at Brookhaven, McComb, Fernwood, Magnolia, Meadville, Holmesville, Wesson, Hazlehurst, Crystal Springs, and Tylertown."

Kentucky: "We hope to be able to make this the very best year in new organizations and new members we have ever known."

THE PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS IN RIO DE JANEIRO.

"So far but two are in operation—one in our Church in Cattete; the other at the Jardim Botanico. The unprecedented financial crisis in Brazil, aggravated later by the European war, has hindered the growth of these schools very seriously. The extreme poverty of the people makes it almost impossible for them to pay even the small sum charged for tuition, especially as the public schools and those maintained by the cotton mills near which they live, offer free instruction.

"It has been my wish to open a school at our Church at Villa Isabel, where the people are very desirous of this being done. But so far, the hard times have made it impossible, as they tell me frankly that they cannot guarantee enough pupils to pay the actual living expenses of a teacher. Other hindrances have arisen there as well as in the places where work has been opened; but I am waiting patiently on the Lord, sure that in his own time he will provide for all our needs and solve all our problems.

"One of the large cotton mills in the Jardim section has shut down, throwing about 1600 employees out of work. That means very great distress for at least 5000 people. As you know, one of our parochial schools is located there; and in some visiting I was doing there recently I found a woman, a member of our Church, who had had nothing to eat the day before but some sweetened water and had no money to buy food. A neighbor, also a member of our Church, with all the family out of work, but with a little saved up, is giving her what is left from their table, and that is all she and her little boy have. She is a widow and supports herself by sewing, but in these hard times no one has any work to give her. And her work is not of a class that I can recommend her to my friends of better means. I helped a little, of course, and see where I can help more indirectly. I made a number of visits to all sorts and conditions of people there, including one to the mill itself, where I saw the manager and one of the directors and asked what could be done, but they said that the people knew nothing but the mill and did not seem able to earn a living at anything else. The national government is trying to colonize them in the interior, where labor is badly needed, but they know nothing about such work and seem afraid to undertake it."—Miss Mary T. Pescud.

ADDITIONAL NORTH MISSISSIPPI NOTES.

Mrs. G. M. Shaw, of Robinsonville, our new superintendent of Social Service, intends to present means for Community Clubs among colored women directly to each local Social Service superintendent, at an early date. I do trust that the women in our local auxiliaries will take hold of this most practical plan for the social uplift of the Negro race.

Work in our Co-operative home at Corinth progresses splendidly under the efficient management of Deaconess Mary Daniel. Her bright face and interesting report of her work at the Aberdeen District meeting brought forth a response, both in supplies and in dollars and cents.

Our volunteer girl also made a most favorable impression at this same District meeting as she presented the claims of our Orphanage. Miss Golden has re-organized the auxiliary at Benoit, her home town, and we trust that this society will prosper in good works, and thereby add stars to the crown of this faithful young woman, who only a few months ago was called of God to give definite service in the foreign field. May I not request that my Conference Cabinet observe the Morning Watch with me in the interest of this young woman, who begins training at Scarritt next fall?

We are glad to know that Mrs. T. J. Binford, of Water Valley, has somewhat improved in health, since we were in annual session last March in Corinth. We trust that this consecrated worker may long be spared to sustain our work and workers by her prayers in our behalf.

We learned with regret of the illness of Mrs. S. M. Thames during the latter part of May. We trust that ere this she has been fully restored to her usual health and that she, too, may long be spared to sustain us by her counsel and prayers.

Mrs. VIC THOMPSON HOYLE,
President North Mississippi Conference Missionary Society.

HOW CAN I HELP?

This question fills my mind and heart as I sit alone in my room, thinking of the great need for workers in our Lord's vineyard. The dear Lord knows my limitations and he also knows my heart. I live with him each day, and feel nearer to him, and far more quiet, not feeling that impatience and anxious struggling that has so distressed me. His promises—"I will be with thee," "I will not leave or forsake thee"—bring comfort and peace. Friends are so kind and helpful. Letters sweet and sympathetic, and friends and neighbors here when they cannot come to see me send flowers, sweet messengers of love and sympathy. Instead of thinking of my lonely, shut-in life and hard lot, I think of the love and care of my heavenly Father, and kindness of friends and neighbors, and I find it better for me. My desire to help somebody is even greater, and my inability to do so even more so. Yet I try to live as a Christian should and to be ready when God calls. I try to live nearer to God each day, and, with his help, am willing to do and suffer his will, with entire submission. Please remember me at the throne of grace. (Mrs.) S. G. WEEMS.

Newton, Miss., June 28, 1915.

Whenever You Need a General Tonic Take Grove's

The Old Standard Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic is equally valuable as a General Tonic because it contains the well known tonic properties of QUININE and IRON. It acts on the Liver, Drives out Malaria, Enriches the Blood and Builds up the Whole System. 50 cents.

Buford College, - Nashville, Tenn.

Select Home College For The Higher Culture Of Women. 25th Opening, Sept. 23, 1915

Ideal location, excellent equipment, splendid opportunities. Highland Park of 100 Acres, in twenty minutes of the "Athens of the South". Thoroughly Christian. Student Body 100. Patronage 32 States. Faculty 15. Two-Year Preparatory. Four-Year A.B. College Course. University Bible Course. Conservatory advantages in Language, Literature, Art, Music, Expression, Domestic Science. Sanitation practically perfect. Physical Culture and Character Building emphasized. $200. A.B. Post-Graduate Scholarship. $500. U. D. C. Scholarship. No death, elopement or casualty in history of institution. "Yearbook" free.

MR. E. G. BUFORD, Regent, MISS LOUISE CHAMBLISS BURGESS, Principal, MRS. E. G. BUFORD, President.

Safe and Home like MERIDIAN COLLEGE Careful Supervision

In the Health-Giving Pine Hills of Mississippi

A select Private College with Preparatory and College courses, Commercial Conrse. Modern Buildings and equipments; beautiful 60-acre campus and recreation grounds; fish ponds, swimming pools. Fine Athletics. An ideal home school for boy or girl, where they are looked after morally, mentally and physically with the best of Christian home influence and care. A large well equipped Conservatory of Music, Oratory and Art. Also Domestic Science and Teacher's Training, and Summer Course. Write for illustrated catalog No. 108

J. W. BEESON, A. M., LL. D., - - MERIDIAN, MISS.

MEMPHIS CONFERENCE FEMALE INSTITUTE

Historic College for Young Ladies of the South

Established in 1837, chartered in 1843. An honorable history of splendid achievement. All denominations attend. Located in Jackson, Tennessee, a town of 20,000, which boasts of never having had an epidemic. Offers a health record unsurpassed anywhere. In a community of beautiful homes, intelligent, refined people, deeply religious tendencies and a marked "school atmosphere." A safe home school in every respect, providing perfect conditions for thorough education.

Beautiful shaded grounds equipped with tennis courts, etc., in the heart of the city, affording every opportunity for healthful outdoor exercise together with the inspiring and cultural influences of the city. A completely equipped and well appointed brick building of size, electric lighted, hot and cold water, plenty of light and ventilation. A gymnasium. Wonderful chalybeate well near.

(A. B. and B. L. Literary Courses.) Thirteen competent instructors. A conservatory of music, conducted by artists of highest reputation, offering great opportunities in Piano, Voice, Violin and Harmony. Splendid Schools of Expression, Art and Dressmaking. Educational trips to Memphis and St. Louis a feature of next session. Terms moderate. Attendance doubled last two years.

For Descriptive Catalogue and 1915-16 announcement, Address

Rev. Henry G. Hawkins, A. B., President, Jackson, Tenn.

THE HUMAN HOT BOX.

Wherever there is motion there is friction; wherever there is friction there is heat. Excessive heat destroys the machine, whether human or mechanical.

The hot box of the railway train has its counterpart in the muscle and brain of man. Mental and physical fatigue are merely terms that we use to describe human hot boxes. Scientists tell us that work is good for us, that it exercises and develops our muscles and nerves, but that when work is carried beyond the point of fatigue it becomes injurious and results in the rapid destruction of our tissues.

As the car inspector examines the rolling stock of railway trains and repacks the boxes with fresh lubricant when he discovers excessive heat, so is it necessary that we look carefully to the protection of our human machinery against the ravages of physical fatigue and mental worry. When our minds and bodies become fatigued by excessive work we must either give them rest and sleep, which are often impracticable, or we must supply them with a natural lubricant to relieve the friction and refresh the nerves and muscles. Such lubricants have been provided by Nature in the form of xanthin and caffein. Xanthin (pronounced zanthin) is an animal product derived from fresh meats and may be taken in the form of beef tea or meat extracts, which are almost instantly refreshing. Caffein is a vegetable product found in coffee, tea and Coca-Cola. When caffein is digested it becomes a xanthin and possesses the same refreshing quality. As xanthin is a constant ingredient of the flesh of all animals and man, and as caffein is a form of xanthin, we may regard the xanthin and caffein beverages as natural lubricants for tired nerves and muscles, and, next to rest and sleep, the most efficient and wholesome means of preventing the injury of fatigue.

According to Dr. Hollingworth, of Columbia University, who has made exhaustive experiments with the caffein beverages, their fatigue relieving quality is due to the fact that the caffein acts in the nature of a lubricant in relation to the tired nerves and muscles, enabling them to respond more easily to the impulses of the will. This view is also expressed in different language by Dr. Schmiedeberg, the greatest living authority on such subjects. Discussing the action of coffee, tea and Coca-Cola, Dr. Schmiedeberg says: "Caffeiu is hence a means of refreshing bodily and mental activity, so that this may be prolonged when the condition of fatigue has already begun to produce restraint and to call for more severe exertion of the will, a state which, as is well known, is painful or disagreeable."

Discussing the wholesomeness of the caffein beverages Dr. Schmiedeberg says, "This character of caffein action makes plain that these food materials do not injure the organism by their caffein content, and especially do not by continued use cause any chronic form of illness." The Coca-Cola Company has accumulated a valuable and most interesting collection of scientific information furnished by the world's leading authorities and explaining the fatigue relieving qualities of Coca-Cola, tea and coffee. Desiring that the public shall know all that is to be known about their product they have published this information in a booklet for free distribution. A copy may be had by addressing the Advertising Managers of this paper, Messrs. Jacobs & Co., Clinton, S. C.—Advertisement.

"When we learn to let God use us as his instruments for the accomplishment of his work, we shall reach the highest point of efficiency."

I sought Thee at a distance, and did not know that Thou wast near. I sought Thee abroad, and behold, Thou wast within me.—St. Augustine.

STATEMENT OF

INTERSTATE TRUST & BANKING COMPANY

At Close of Business June 30th, 1915.

ASSETS:

Loans and Discounts	$3,345,116.78
Stocks and Bonds	1,332,475.17
Banking house, furniture and fixtures	334,000.00
Other real estate owned	99,591.10
Cash on hand and with banks	1,519,921.18
	$6,622,104.43

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock	750,000.00
Surplus	450,000.00
Undivided profits	146,929.86
Dividend for 1915 set aside and unpaid	37,500.00
Deposits	5,237,674.57
	$6,622,104.43

The dividend rate of this bank is 1 per cent monthly 2 Per cent interest paid on Checking Accounts. 4 Per cent interest paid on Savings Accounts.

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT

Whitney-Central National Bank

OF NEW ORLEANS

At the Close of Business Wednesday, June 30, 1915

RESOURCES
Loans and discounts		$11,272,483.48
Due by customers on account of acceptances		158,521.22
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		1,520,000.00
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits.		250,000.00
Other bonds to secure U. S. deposits.		136,500.00
Other bonds and securities		1,298,633.29
Banking house, furniture and fixtures		1,950,970.07
Due from banks and U. S. Treasurer.	2,514,671.83
Cash	2,372,763.38
		4,887,435.21
Total		$21,474,543.27

LIABILITIES
Capital Stock	$2,500,000.00
Surplus Fund	1,500,000.00
Undivided Profits	100,000.00
		1,100,000.00
Quarterly dividends of 3½ per cent now declared		87,500.00
Circulation		1,520,000.00
Deposits		15,567,792.99
Reserved for taxes		40,729.06
Acceptances for account of customers		158,521.22
Total		$21,474,543.27

OFFICERS

SOL WEXLER ..... President

John E. Bouden, Jr. ..... Vice President	Mauritz Pyk ..... Vice President
Frank B. Williams ..... Vice President	J. D. O'Keefe ..... Vice President
Harry T. Howard ..... Vice President	C. T. Baisley ..... Vice President
John B. Ferguson ..... Cashier	N. E. Bertel ..... Assistant Cashier
E. H. Keep ..... Assistant Cashier	N. M. Whitney ..... Assistant Cashier

S. J. McMain ..... Auditor

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT

Whitney-Central Trust and Savings Bank

NEW ORLEANS

At Close of Business Wednesday, June 30, 1915

RESOURCES
Loans and discounts	$3,766,265.53
Bonds, stocks, securities, etc.	1,086,584.14
Real estate	227,947.49
Cash on hand and with banks	1,340,566.87
Total	$6,421,364.03

LIABILITIES
Capital stock	$200,000.00
Surplus	200,000.00
Undivided profits	106,358.73
Deposits	5,915,005.30
Total	$6,421,364.03

OFFICERS

JOHN E. BOUDEN, JR. ..... President	H. L. FRANTZ ..... Vice President
SOL WEXLER ..... Vice President	W. W. BOUDEN ..... Cashier
HARRY T. HOWARD ..... Vice President	JNO. L. COUTURIER
FRANK B. WILLIAMS ..... Vice President	Assistant Cashier and Trust Officer
ALBERT BLOOM ..... Vice President

MORGAN STATE BRANCH

CORNER CHARTRES AND IBERVILLE STREETS

ALBERT BLOOM, Vice President

C. W. FOX, JR. ..... Cashier V. L. BERNARD ..... Assistant Cashier

THIRD DISTRICT BRANCH

CORNER DAUPHINE AND PIETY STREETS

H. L. FRANTZ, Vice President

H. A. S. BACKER ..... Cashier A. FORTIER ..... Assistant Cashier

CARROLLTON BRANCH

8132 OAK STREET. J. P. ST. MARTIN, Manager

Deposits Whitney-Central National Bank	$15,567,792.99
Deposits Whitney-Central Trust and Savings Bank	5,915,005.30
Total Deposits	$21,482,798.29

To the LAYMEN of the LOUISIANA CONFERENCE

Investigate your own College. A faculty of strong, efficient Christian women from the best Colleges, Universities and Conservatories. Every member of College Department has at least the B.S. Degree.

Graduates EXEMPT from examination except in Theory and Art of Teaching. Specially equipped TRAINING TEACHER in charge of Normal students. There are TWENTY-TWO in our SENIOR Class, and most of them come from the High Schools and expect to teach.

MUSIC—Piano, Pipe Organ, Violin, Voice, History of Music, Harmony, Theory. Faculty doubled in two years. Merit wins.

ART—China (our own large kiln for firing), Water Color, Pastel, Oil, Leather Craft, Handwrought Silver, Art History. Work of last year a revelation. In charge of a superior artist.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE—Department in charge of an A.B. graduate of Southern University and student of University of Chicago and Columbia, N. Y. A teacher of several years' experience in a great State school for girls.

Nine acres in Campus. Attractive buildings; gas heat. No more healthful location anywhere. Work demanded. Firm discipline. Prices reasonable. Not trying to be cheap.

The best place in all the South for a great College for Girls and Young Women. Investigate and use some discrimination.

MANSFIELD FEMALE COLLEGE,
Mansfield, La. R. E. BOBBITT, President.

EMORY UNIVERSITY

An institution Founded, Owned and Controlled by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

The University offers at present courses leading to degrees in the following departments:

1.—The School of Liberal Arts—Emory College—offers courses in English, Spanish, French, German, Greek, Latin, Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Biology, Mental and Moral Science, History, Political Economy and Bihlical Literature, leading to the usual literary degrees. This department has a library of 40,000 bound volumes.

2.—The School of Theology—The Candler School of Theology—offers full and varied courses leading to the degree of B. D. This is a school of theology, as definite in its teaching as it is definite in its aim to serve the church to which it belongs. The library of the School of Theology is rich and grows richer daily. To it helongs the famous "Thursfield-Smith Collection of Wesleyana," which includes hundreds of the autograph letters of the Wesleys and other Methodist celehrities.

3.—The School of Medicine—The Atlanta Medical College—a medical school of first grade which offers courses in medicine and surgery covering four years, and leading to the degree of M. D. By arrangement with the Grady Hospital, the Municipal Hospital of Atlanta, and the Wesley Memorial Hospital, which is a part of the University system, the School of Medicine is able to offer clinical advantages of great value to students.

For bulletins, giving full information concerning the University, and its several departments, write to,

WALKER WHITE, Secretary-Bursar.

Emory University Atlanta, Georgia.

GRENADA COLLEGE

A Christian School for Girls and Young Women.
Stands for Character, Health, Culture, Comfort.

Strong Faculty with University and Foreign Training. Buildings: Brick, Steam-heated throughout. Grounds: Ample and Beautiful.

Offers a Four-year PREPARATORY COURSE; College Course of Four Years Leads to A. B. Degree. Diplomas in PIANO, VOICE, ART, EXPRESSION, and DOMESTIC SCIENCE. Total expense for Literary Course, $210 per session of Nine Months.

Grenada, Miss., Box C. J. R. COUNTISS, President.

Seashore Camp Grounds

BILOXI, MISSISSIPPI

No lovelier place for an outing than Seashore Campground. Excellent board at the Campground, or near, at $1 a day. Twenty-five miles of trolley along the beach. Excursion to Ship Island at little cost. The prettiest trolley ride in America. Salt baths, safe and delightful. Boats at reasonable rates. Bathing privileges free. The fishing is great. Come and see!

Camp Meeting begins July 14.

The preaching will be done by Rev. B. F. Fraser, D.D., of Oxford, Ga. Dr. Fraser is one of Georgia's greatest Pastor-Evangelists.

What better place for the family could he found than the Seashore Campground during the Camp Meeting. All Methodist ministers will be furnished lodging free of charge; meals can be had at reasonable rates.

Assembly for Christian Workers, July 22 to August 2.

A School for Training and Fitting for better service in the Sunday School, the Epworth League, the Woman's Missionary Society. For further information apply to Rev. Elmer C. Gunn, Longbeach, Miss.

For Particulars—With regard to accommodations, address P. B. Bell, manager of the Seashore Campground, Biloxi, Miss., or S. H. Meyer, 116 St. Charles St., New Orleans.

Seashore Camp Ground School for Boys and Girls

Select. Rates Reasonable. School Opens SEPTEMBER 8, 1915.
Address REV. H. W. VAN HOOK, Biloxi, Miss.

WHITWORTH COLLEGE

BROOKHAVEN, MISS.

WHAT IS SAID ABOUT WHITWORTH:

Prof. B. T. Schumpert, Superintendent of Public Schools, Brookhaven, Miss.: "The people of Brookhaven appreciate Whitworth College. The best appreciation that ean be shown the splendid management of this College is home patronage; 100 per cent of our High School graduates of last year that remained in school are at Whitworth College. For real home making in after school life, this College excels."

Miss Bertha Baur, Directress of music, Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, Cincinnati, Ohio: "After the many excellent talents which have come to us from Whitworth College during the past ten years, I feel impelled to write to you of their superior studentship and splendid preparation, not only technically but musically, which has been on a par with the best schools of this country. I congratulate you on your splendid musle department and its high standard; in each case, students from Whitworth College nave been able to take their places in the front rank. It is always my pleasure to indorse Whitworth College."

From a Letter of Two Northern Gentlemen: "As we were sojourning in your city for a few days, it became our happy privilege to attend the graduating exercises of your advanced elass in Music and Elocution. We both, being graduates of Northern schools of Oratory and Eloeution and in intimate connection with the Boston and New York Conservatories of Music, aequainted with the results of their work, it is plain to see why we would be attracted to your entertainment. It is now with special pleasure that we express our delight and surprise at the excellency attained by the graduates of both classes; and we ean truthfully say that we eannot remember having seen better general graduates turned out of either of the above mentioned schools or conservatories."

G. W. Huddleston, President of the State Board of Examiners, Jackson, Miss.: "I am very much pleased to say that the work in examination for Professional License by students of Whitworth shows that their training has been thorough, accurate and broad. Most of your girls have submitted exeellent papers—and several very excellent. I am gratified, really proud, that our ehureh schools are doing sueh fine work, and I most heartily congratulate you for the part you have in it."

SESSION 1915-16 WILL OPEN SEPTEMBER 15th, 1915.
Opening Sermon by Rev. W. H. Saunders on September 19th, 1915.

OFFICERS AND TEACHERS 1915-1916

I. W. COOPER, A.M., D.D., President and Treasurer.
MISS JANIE H. DRAKE, A.M., Dean.

LITERARY DEPARTMENT

MISS JANIE HOWARD DRAKE (A.M. Whitworth College; two years student at Goueher College, Baltimore; nine years Chair of English, Whitworth; two years Lady Principal, Sullins College)—English and Bible.
MISS HARRIET VENTRISS (A.B. Randolph-Macon Woman s College)—French and History.
MISS MILDRED C. MITCHELL (Graduate Belmont Seminary and student of University of Virginia; nine years Chair of Mathematics, Synodical College, Fulton, Mo.)—Mathematics.
MISS MARY SHULER (B. S. Martha Washington College)—Science and Philosophy.
MISS IONE GREENE (A.B. Millsaps College)—Latin.
MISS SOPHIE LEE CAMERON—Presiding Teacher and Assistant in Preparatory Department.
MRS. T. E. POND—Chaperon.
MISSES MABEL POTTER AND RUTH KELLOGG—Librarians.

DEPARTMENT OF EXPRESSION AND PHYSICAL CULTURE

MISS LULAH RAGSDALE (New York College of Expression.)

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

MISS ELIZABETH McVOY (Graduate of Mrs. Harding from the New England Conservatory, also Pupil of Theodore Bohlman, Cineinnati)—Musieal Directress and Teacher of Piano.
MISS LOIS WADSWORTH COOPER (A.B., M.B., Whitworth College, Cineinnati Conservatory: Graduate Pupil of Theodore Bohlman)—Piano, Harmony and Musical History.
MRS. IALEEN DUNNING (M.B. Whitworth College)—Piano.
MISS LUCY IRWIN SHANNON (Pupil of M. Leftwich Rawlings, Nashville, and J. Harry Wheeler, New York City, and Chas. Washburn, Chautauqua, N. Y. Public Sehool of Music under Jessie S. Gaynor and Milton Cook)—Teacher of Voice and Piano.
MISS EDNA COOLEY—Tutor.
ROBERT COPLEY PITARD (Pupil Mark Keiser, New Orleans; pupil Emanuel uate Stern Conservatory of Musie, Berlin, Germany)—Violin.
Wirth, Berlin, Germany; pupil Alexander Fiederman, Berlin, Germany; grad-

ART DEPARTMENT

MISS MYRTIS SMITH (A.B. Mississippi Industrial Institute and College; studied in Chicago and New York City)—Drawing, Painting, and Art Crafts.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

MISS LILLIAN C. CLARK (Southwestern University and Technical Normal Sehool, Chicago).

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

MISS REVERE—Stenography, Typewriting and Bookkeeping.

DOMESTIC DEPARTMENT

MISS HANNAH MILLSAPS, A.B.—Superintendent.
J. T. BUTLER, M.D.—Physician.
A. L. MOORE—Night Watchman.

Forty Industrial Scholarships. Board, laundry, medical fee, literary tuition, may be reduced to $105.00, nine months.

The Fitzgerald and Clarke School.

TALLAHOMA, TENN.

Graduates enter every University in the United States (except five) without examination. The Sehool is located on the edge of the Cumberland Mountains, 1070 feet above sea level. Excellent Dormitory, Gynasium, and Library. All that we ask is that you write for our eatalog. Address Box 343.

NEW ORLEANS
CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE

Vol. 62—No. 28. Official Organ of the Louisiana, Mississippi, and North Mississippi Conferences, Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Whole No. 3099.

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor. NEW ORLEANS, LA., THURSDAY, JULY 15, 1915. CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Editorial

THE LOUISIANA CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

The proposal to hold a Constitutional Convention in Louisiana is a matter of profund and far-reaching importance and should have the careful consideration of all the people of the State. The organic law of a commonwealth is designed to define and safeguard the rights of its citizens and to prescribe the powers of the various corporations and agencies with which it has to do, and it exercises a restrictive and largely determinative influence upon all future legislation. If the Convention is to be held, it ought to be made up of the very best men that Louisiana can furnish, and it is the patriotic duty of every person in the State to do all that he can to see that such is the case.

Touching upon this point some time ago, The Times-Picayune impressively said: "Constitution-making is the most difficult of all legislative work, calling for broad-minded men of exceptional experience, who thoroughly know the needs of the State and city, who have studied the constitutional, economic, fiscal, and legal questions involved in the writing of the organic law. Never have there been so many problems of government before the American people as there are today." This utterance is, in our opinion, quite true. The more varied and complex a civilization becomes the more intricate and baffling is the task of governing wisely its affairs.

We also quote from the same distinguished contemporary the following statement concerning the Legislative Act making provision for the contemplated Convention: "Candidates must announce themselves by July 20. The primaries for the election of delegates occur July 27; the second primaries—of which there are not likely to be many—will come on August 10. Then will follow on August 31 the election to determine whether the Convention shall be held, and the Convention, if ordered by the people, will meet in New Orleans in September. It is allowed sixty days in which to complete its work, and it is authorized to fix the date when the people shall pass upon it."

We will not presume to express a decided opinion as to whether it is wise to vote for or against the holding of the Convention, since there are so many important interests involved and our information concerning them is not very definite. Elsewhere in this number of the Advocate we are carrying a portion of a statement lately given out by Hon. H. H. White, of Alexandria, which bears pertinently on this issue and which will doubtless prove interesting and informing to many of our readers. There are, however, two or three observations that we feel moved briefly to make concerning the proposed Convention:

1. We think that it is to be regretted that there is to be so much haste in determining whether the Convention is to be held, in the election of the delegates, and in getting through with the work that is to be done after the body assembles. We do not believe that such rapidity is apt to be conducive to the best results. The reason assigned for thus rushing matters is that all the State officers in Louisiana will have to be elected next year and that it is desirable to keep the Convention as much detached from party politics as is possible. This we regard as a worthy aim, but we are not convinced that it would not have been better to wait until after the end of the approaching political year and then to have taken up with greater deliberation the task of arranging for the Convention and the performance of the work that it is expected to do.

2. We feel that the tying of the hands of the Convention concerning the question of prohibition, to which Mr. White refers, is a very grave and uncalled for injustice to the temperance people of the State. That the liquor interests should be allowed in the very incipiency of this movement thus to reach into the future and grasp this great body that is to be by the throat and restrict its powers is, we think, an outrage which deserves to be severely rebuked. To see such an assembly so shackled before it has even had an opportunity to hear the question of constitutional prohibition discussed, is positively humiliating. Are our people such slaves to the rum traffic that they are to have their sovereign right to frame their organic law as they please wrested from them in advance in this high-handed and summary manner? Most startling in contrast is the spirit of this action with that reflected in the clause that a distinguished gentleman recently proposed to have incorporated into the New York Constitution, which is now being written in Albany: "Nothing contained in this Constitution shall be construed to limit the power of the Legislature to enact laws to promote the health, safety, morals, or welfare of the people of this State."

3. We consider it very unfortunate that the city of New Orleans has been named as the meeting-place of the prospective Convention. The power of the liquor interests and the ring influence will be at their maximum here and we fear that they will sway the assembly to an extent that they could not have done had it met in Baton Rouge, the capital of the State. We heard a distinguished citizen of Louisiana say before the Legislature had decided where the Convention should meet that it would be better not to hold it at all than to hold it in New Orleans.

Such are what we conceive to be some of the objectionable features of the Act providing for this responsible gathering. There may be advantages which more than offset them and which render it advisable to vote in favor of holding the Convention. If any one thinks so and will furnish us an article setting forth his views in a non-partisan, judicious, and not too lengthy a manner, we will take pleasure in publishing it. We desire to be entirely fair in dealing with an issue of such vast moment to the people of this growing commonwealth.

WAS IN THE FELLOWSHIP.

We take from an old publication the following very interesting account of Henry Ward Beecher's early experiences in the Christian ministry, which shows that he was not exempt from the hardships and trials which so many of Christ's ambassadors have had to undergo in pursuing their holy calling:

"Mr. Beecher's first regular pastorate was at Lawrenceburg, Indiana. Just previous to accepting it he had married Miss Eunice Bullard, a daughter of the Rev. Dr. Bullard, a Presbyterian clergyman. Old Dr. Beecher remonstrated with his son for marrying so young, and Henry replied, 'I will marry her if we have only the north side of a corn-cob to live on.' The young couple almost reached this point of geographical impecuniosity. Young Beecher's salary was less than $300, and part of that was paid in farm and garden produce. The pastor was sexton as well as preacher: he swept the church, made the fires, rang the bell, and, as he once said, did everything but come and hear himself preach. He hauled the logs with which to build his own house. Children were born in rapid succession and soon the health of his wife was broken down. Then the dominie assisted in the housework—peeled potatoes, cooked meals, washed dishes, attended to his sick wife, and washed the soiled clothes. He remained in Lawrenceburg two years, when he accepted a call to Indianapolis, where he lived for eight years. He worked hard, preaching twice on Sunday, and holding meetings five times a week. He made it a point to go among the people as much as possible, in stores, in places of public resort, to learn what the people were doing and talking about, in order that he might adapt his preachings to their peculiar needs. This custom he pursued in after-life."

We have seen the claim made that Mr. Beecher owed to his contact with the pioneer Methodist preachers in the Hoosier State his off-hand style of delivery and great fervor in preaching; and it seems from the foregoing account of his early years in the ministry that he had a general experience very much like that of many circuit riders. And who can say how much this discipline and training contributed to the making of the great preacher whose splendid eloquence subsequently thrilled vast audiences on both sides of the Atlantic, and whose fame became world-wide? God has wonderful schools for his prophets outside of the walls of universities.

SERIOUS WORKERS NEEDED.

The pleasure-loving spirit that is so widely prevalent in the Church bodes little good for her future. It is when Zion travails that sons and daughters are born unto the Lord Almighty. Life is a tremendously solemn thing, and people with serious purposes have been the world's great achievers. Not sport-makers, but hearts burdened for the salvation and spiritual upbuilding of souls are the kind of workers needed in our congregations.

TRUE SUCCESS.

"Before God's footstool to confess
A poor soul knelt and bowed his head.
'I failed,' he wailed. The Master said,
'Thou didst thy best—that is success.'"
—Henry Coyle.

PRAYER ESSENTIAL.

Had it not been for that little meeting in the upper chamber where they were all with one accord, in one place, there would have been, humanly speaking, no Pentecost, with its thousands of converts from which Christianity advanced until the banner of the Cross waved over the whole Roman Empire. The child of God is running awful risks of exposure to temptation, arrested development, and spiritual atrophy, if he neglects the place and weakens the habit of prayer.—M. M. King.

WORTH MEDITATING ON.

Organized church life may flourish where the kingdom of God is waning; hut the kingdom of God cannot he flourishing where organized church life is waning. Denominational success may be independent of the true spiritual progress of a community, but who ever saw a community making permanent spiritual progress where there was no denominational success? Moreover, the man worth most in his own Church is worth most in undenominational work. He who forms the habit of being good for nothing at home seldom recovers when he goes visiting. On the other hand, if a man has more than a perfunctory worth in his own Church, hidebound sectarianism can no more run a corner on his usefulness than it can dam the waters of a deep river.—Way of Faith.

IMPORTANCE OF PARENTAL EXAMPLE.

A little boy climbing the Alps with his father said: "Be careful where you tread, father; I am just bchind you." And the future of your hoy, you who are a father, depends in a very great measure upon you. He says to you unconsciously: "Be careful where you tread." If you are a godless man he will very likely be one also. It is an awful responsibility this thing of being a father. The very fact of the trust of your hoy, that he looks up to you and admires you and is proud of you makes him imitate you. Therefore, I put these words into your lips: "For their sake I sanctify myself; for my boy's sake I will address myself to earnest, regular prayer, not only in private but in my family; I will open again my Bihle; I will go to church; I will come to communion; and I will partake of the body and blood of Christ to strengthen me in the path of duty, and help me to be a worthy example to those 'who are just behind mc.'"—Author unknown.

"RAISING THE TUNE."

Time was when "raising the tune" was a very important function. One who could do it well was in great demand on puhlic occasions. Most of us can sing after some one sets us going. The song hums vaguely in our brain, hut we cannot start it. Or, we are unsure of the proper pitch. Hence we need a leader with a good ear and a clear voice.

So in life. Some one else must frequently "raise the tune" for us. In a general way we know how it ought to go. The song of dutifulness is in us. We are capable of high reaches of heroism and profundities of sympathy. But we lack initiative and confidence. We are half afraid to hear our own voices alone. We want a sense of fellowship in our ideals and in our sacrifices. But let some one else raise the tune for us, pitch it to loyalty and human service, and we easily catch the rhythm and carry the tune with joy. All honor, then, to the Christian who can "raise the tune." All joy to any of us who can do it for others. And a crown to our Lord who has "raised the tune" for us all.—New York Christian Advocate.

FROM THE CONGAREE.

By Rev. S. A. Steel, D. D.

A few years ago Dr. Ostler won a wide notoriety by what he probahly intended should he taken in a playful sense, the statement that when a man reached the age of sixty he should be given a quiet dismissal from life. The motion was laid on the tahle. The maximum of efficiency probably lies far below the sixty line for the average man. But there are many notable exceptions, where men and women are vigorous and active up to the eighties. But now comes President Lowell, of Harvard University, where they know everything, and tells us that a man reaches his maximum at twenty-three! That, too, when we are being told that science is leugthening out the average life and insists that a due regard for the laws of health ought to find a man active and efficient at one hundred years old. I believe this, too. But with the testimony of such eminent men as Ostler and Lowell on the side of abbreviated terms of active life, nothing remains for some of us except the chance to prove exceptions to the rule. I intend to be an exception.

Accepting all that the scientists claim for evolution as God's method of making the world, it ended with the ereation of man, in the material sphere. We are living in the age of spiritual evolution. As Natural Selection was one of the great laws of physical evolution, so Rational Selection is the great law of spiritual evolution. Progress depends on our intelligent choice of the conditions of life. When God finished makiug man he turned over to him the sovereignty of his being. The future of the universe depends now on spiritual evolution, and that depends on the rational choice of man. He can add nothing to the material world. Burbank may manipulate the laws of nature in a way to initiate great changes, introduce new forms of vegetation, and suhordinate vast regions of plant life to the use of man which before were practically useless, as in the ease of the spineless eactus. But all these magical effects are wrought in the lower departments of nature. After all the discoveries of science, man remains the final achievement of nature.

But evolution has not ceased. All the mighty energies of the universe are now engaged in carrying forward the work of evolution in the spiritual world. Bergson called his book, which eontains his philosophy of life, "Creative Evolution." It is as fascinating as it is elusive in its meaning. If there is such a thing as hrilliant obscurity the phrase is applicable to these sunlit fogbanks of metaphysical speculation. I never read its alluring pages that I do not wish I had the ability to write a book to match it, and call it Redemptive Evolution. Redemption is older than creation. "The purpose to redeem justified the purpose to ereate." Paul was the greatest philosopher that ever lived. As rational explanations of the universe, the Activism of Eucken, and the Vitalism of Bergson, and the Pragmatism of James, and all the rest of the tinkers at the task, dwindle into insignificance. The mighty grasp of his thought on the fundamental, underlying reality of all things; the deep insight into the truth of personality as constituting "the Primal Mystery" of creation, and affording the rational hasis for an intellectual world; the elear constructive intuitions of his faith that synthesized the infinite phenomena of life in an ordered world, and gave it a meaning worthy of the Eternal; the measureless sweep of his conceptions, comprehending in those cosmic phrases of his letters to the Ephesians and Colossiaus "the all things in heaven and in earth"—why, Meek, when it comes to explaining things Eucken and Bergson are to Paul as a tadpole to an archangel!

But what am I doing. This spurt is a reaction against a glance at Bergson. I must put his book somewhere else, so it will not divert me from what I set out to write about: my garden! Meek, you should see my corn. You can't beat it in the Delta. The stalks are twelve or fourteen feet high, and some of them have three and four silks to the stalk. My tomato stalks are as high as my shoulders, and hanging with the finest frult; while my cantaloupes would make your mouth water. I think I owe my vigorous health, which was never better, to my work in my garden. My study window opens on it, and even when I am busy with my books I can glance at my beauties. I am fortunate to have a garden right here in the heart of the city. If I did not have it here I would have to have one somewhere else; for I am like that mythical old fellow we read about—what was his name?—Antaeus, if I remember correctly, who got strong every time he touched the earth. Hercules overcame him at last by holding him up, and strangling him in the air.

Folks in office sometimes resign. Bryan, for instance, and Diocletian, Emperor of Rome. Diocletian retired to his estate in Nicomedia. Things did not go on smoothly when his master hand was withdrawn, and a delegation visited him to ask him to reascend the throne. He led them out to his garden, and leaning on the fence, said: "Gentlemen, did you ever see finer cabbages? I used some Antioch fertlizer on them"—"But your Majesty"—"Excuse me, gentlemen, but you must see my watermelons!" The thing was so unusual that the committee, as they entrained to return to Constantinople, whispered that a physician ought to see the ex-emperor.

Never mind, Meek, what Lowell and Ostler say; let us be exceptions.

Columbia, S. C.

THAT ALUMNI ADDRESS.

By J. F. H. Barbee.

I did not attend the meeting of the alumni of Vanderbilt University this year, although I am an alumnus of that institution, but I read with astonishment an account of it puhlished in The Tennessean, I think, which indicates that this meeting was remarkahle for several things.

If correctly reported, Dr. W. A. Webb's performance would turn Dan Rice's famous clown green with envy, if he were alive. The dexterous Doctor also was "first upon the heeltap and then upon the toe."

Dr. Webb is reported as saying: "Not agreeing with Dr. Kirkland and the Board in all of their contentions, I nevertheless accept the decision of the court of last appeal at its full facc valuc, and with all loyal alumni I pledge my devotion to the advancement of the University's best interests and assure its Board and its Chancellor that we stand ready to co-operate with them in carrying out in the spirit of the original donations the great trust that has been committed to their carc." (Italics mine.)

It will be noted that he speaks of "all loyal alumni" and of himself as among the number. Loyal to what? I, too, am a loyal son of Vanderbilt University, the university which lies buried in the grave of McTyeire, foully slain hy its unnatural guardians. But I am not loyal to the bastard brat of the canny Scot which seeks to usurp the place of "our Vanderbilt" in the house of the Methodists. He is loyal to the "new era," yet pledges himself and others to co-operate with the Board and Chancellor "in carrying out in the spirit of the original donations the great trust that has been committed to their care!"

Dr. Webb proceeded to say that the university is the "result of prayer," that "from the Methodist Church it received its life-belng," that "to a Methodist Bishop.....it owes its existence," and a number of similar sentiments, concluding as follows: "It is and it will remain a Christian institution, and it will hold fast to the deep underlying religious principles on which were laid the foundation stoucs of its glorious achievements. In this hour of its larger liberty it pledges anew its fealty to the highest idcals of Christian education and holdly affirms that its attitude toward the moral and religious problems of student life will be in harmony with the best Christian thought of the day." (Italics mine.) Christian institution indeed! That it was such all will agree. But where have the principles of Christ hecn displayed during the "new era?" The whole business is baldly pagan.

The distinguished speaker assured his fellow-banqueters and the public that, despite ecclesiastical interference "in this hour of its larger liberty, it (Vanderbilt University) pledges anew its fealty to the highest ideals of Christian education." If the theft of Vanderbilt University is an expression of the "highest ideals of Christian education" and those who despoil the Methodist Church are the guardians and exponents of those "highest ideals," then may God have pity on the South and its civilization!

During his remarks Dr. Webb "paid especial tribute to Dean Tillett and Chancellor Kirkland. A remarkable attestation of the love for the Dean of the Theological Department, Dr. Tillett, was shown at the mention of his name, when the audience cheered for several minutes, after which they arose to their feet and continued the demonstration by waving napkins in the air." Such is the newspaper account of the incident.

Now, this demonstration was enough to tickle the ribs of death. Think of the Dean being cheered by a Vanderbilt audience! The participants must have amazed themselves if they remembered the warmth (?) of their affection for the Dean during their undergraduate days. And what a price the Dean has paid for his belated academic popularity! How will he explain it all to St. Peter, whom he must shortly interview? The college yell cannot put it over that sophisticated saint.

Returning to Dr. Webb: he is the president of Randolph-Macon Woman's College, an institution that was rescued from Carnegie's clutches and saved to the Methodist Church as the result of a gallant fight made by the Virginia and Baltimore Conferences. What will those distinguished bodies think of Dr. Webb's alumni address, and what will they do about it? I would not have hesitated to answer before Oklahoma City, but since that date I would not venture to do so.

This is the peril of the Methodist Church: she has men holding the views and governed by the principles displayed in Dr. Webb's address in many of her chief positions and seems lacking in the energy necessary to displace them. How short-sighted, what folly, to allow the enemy to thus occupy the strongholds in our defenses! But it may be that Methodism has accomplished its mission and that God is ready to turn to some other agency to propagate his gospel. However, they cannot rob her of the past—that at least is secure. And I will venture to add that I do not want my sons educated where the Chancellor and the Dean hold sway, nor do I want Dr. Webb to educate my little daughter.

Memphis, Tenn.

THE SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY OF THE SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY.

Perhaps there are no questions more prominently in the minds of Methodist preachers west of the Mississippi River than those concerning the School of Theology of Southern Methodist University. To answer some of these questions is the purpose of this article.

1. To those who have an A. B. degree from an approved college, there are offered two alternatives, a three years' course of study leading to the B. D., or a one year's course of study leading to the A. M. degree. Students who have done a year's theological work which has already been counted toward the A. B. can, by the system of "Double Credits" now in vogue in leading schools of Law, Medicine and Theology, count this work also on the B. D., thus receiving the B. D., in two years.

2. To one who has not received the A. B., but who has finished the Sophomore year in an approved college or junior college, there are offered two alternatives. First, he may take half of the junior and senior year's work in Academic Courses and half in Theology and secure an A. B., in two years. Every one, especially those not of quite advanced age, are strongly urged to select this rather than the second alternative, which is as follows: He may take a three years' course in Theology and receive a diploma, without the degree. Neither Hebrew nor Greek is required in this course.

3. There are mature men who have never had college training and who feel that it is too late in life for them to take a college course. These may be admitted on "Individual Approval," and may secure in three years the diploma mentioned above, provided, however, that unless they have had the equivalent of Freshman and Sophomore English, they shall take these in the University's Academic Department in addition to the work prescribed for the diploma.

There are a limited number of pastorates in and around Dallas to which students may be assigned by the Conference authorities and in the securing of which experience in the pastorate is of perhaps even more advantage than previous academic training.

There are also other opportunities in the University and in the city of helping one to make his expenses. These positions must for the most part be secured by the student himself, his own push and energy being his chief recommendation for work of this character.

There is, further, a small loan fund, open first of all to those not receiving a scholarship or other financial aid through the University.

Now, the question arises why this preference is granted A. B. graduates in the matter of scholarships? The answer is that there are several reasons.

1. The various colleges of the Church and the Academic Department of Southern Methodist University are open for and are, in most cases, the place for the student who has not received his A. B. The School of Theology does not wish to compete with our Colleges, or with the Academic Department of the University.

2. The Church's only provision for the A. B. graduate is the Schools of Theology. He has usually by means of much pluck and sacrifice made his way through college and is now in debt for his previous schooling. All the experience of the past indicates that the Church and the world get larger net returns in service from the theological education of the academically trained than from that of the non-trained man; and this leads to the next point.

3. Men need the academic work, even to the A. B. degree, to enable them to get the most out of a course in theology. A short cut is dearly paid for; a course in theology is a poor substitute for academic training, and a substitute one should permit to himself only when mature age prevents his looking to academic preparation for his theological work, and when his life has been spent in such work as to furnish some basis of general culture. But while theological work is a poor foundation, it is a magnificent superstructure, and a young minister of our time can ill afford to undertake life without it.

For further information address the author of this article, as secretary of the Theological Faculty of Southern Methodist University.

Dallas, Texas. FRANK SEAY.

SOME THINGS THAT LOUISIANA METHODISTS MUST DO.

There are many things they ought to do, but some they MUST do, because it is almost, if not altogether, a life and death question. If we do them, we will as Methodists in the State of Louisiana live a larger, healthier life. Failing or refusing to do them, we will, if we live at all, live a narrow, struggling, weakened, and I fear an ever weakening, life.

We must rally to and maintain our educational institutions as we find them represented in Centenary and Mansfield Colleges. We can hardly think of these institutions and their interests separately, but just at this time Centenary College seems to demand our most earnest attention and unselfish co-operation. Centenary College is a vital, a necessary part of our Methodist Church life in Louisiana. The time has come when we as Methodists can no longer afford to refuse to give of our substance, even to the point of self denial, for the better equipment and future maintenance of this institution of our Church. This MUST be done as a necessary self-protective, self-defensive measure.

Then there is our French Mission work, which is of no less importance in its way than the above-mentioned great interests. Louisiana Methodism must maintain, strengthen, and enlarge its missionary operations among the French-speaking population of South and Southwest Louisiana, if we are not to lose ground, and perhaps in the near future lose out altogether. A decided forward movement is demanded right now.

Two things are necessary before this work can be done as it should be:

1. The Methodist congregations in the midst of this missionary territory must have more of the missionary spirit, and manifest that spirit by being willing to have their pastor give more of his time in working the adjacent missionary territory.

2. More money must be raised for Home and Conference Missions, and the Board of Missions must be more liberal in supplementing the salaries of men engaged in this kind of work. This French Mission work is vital and necessary to our life as a Methodist Church, especially in South and Southwest Louisiana; and the Methodism of the entire State should be willing to contribute liberally to its enlargement and support. This can be done best not by specials, but by paying in full the assessment for Home and Conference Missions, and increasing that assessment in the future.

This article is long enough, unless an abler man wielded the pen. Some men will tell you when advocating this cause, "I know what I am talking about. I have been connected with this work six (some ten) years." I was born in connection with it, and have been vitally and in some way actively associated with it all my life.

I think I speak only words of truth and soberness when I say Louisiana Methodism MUST in self-defense liberally sustain and vigorously prosecute its French Mission work.

Indian Bayou, La. J. IVEY HOFFPAUIR.

GOING TO THE CAMP MEETING AT BILOXI?

You will find excellent rooms or board on the beach at Mrs. A. C. Brown's, No. 1736 West Beach, two blocks from the Camp Grounds.

PORT GIBSON FEMALE COLLEGE
AND
Conservatory of Music, Art and Expression.
The Oldest College for Girls in Mississippi.
Healthful location. Curriculum high. Faculty all college graduates. Buildings commodious. Rooms comfortable. Dietary varied and wholesome. Attendance last session more than 50 per cent increase over the year before.
NEXT SESSION OPENS SEPT. 8, 1915.
For catalogue and special information, write
REV. T. J. O'NEIL, President.

BUY LUMBER FROM
W. W. CARRE CO., Ltd.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

COTTAGE COLONY, NEAR HAMMOND, LA.
FOR THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.
Pine forest, artesian water, hot and cold baths, no dust or noise. Physicians' attention, Graduate nurse's service and drugs furnished.
Rates, $10 per Week and Up.
Address Dr. E. L. McGehee, Hammond, La.
City Office, 923 Maison Blanche Bldg.

MRS. A. G. DRAKE.

A great and noble woman has recently been called to her heavenly reward.

Mrs. Alice Gorton Drake was horn in Waterproof, Tensas Parish, La., Jan. 11, 1847. She was of highly honorable English Puritan stock. Joseph Gorton, her father, came from New York in his young manhood, becoming thoroughly Southern in his sympathies and affiliations. Her mother, Olive Wilimarth, was a native of Massachusetts.

The parents were devoted Christians, and loyal members and supporters of the Methodist Church in its pioneer work in Louisiana and Mississippi. From this Christian home sprang a group of noble sons and daughters who have worthlly served the kingdom of God.

Alice, the subject of this sketch, on account of delicate health, was sent to Troy, N. Y., at tbe age of eleven, to live with an aunt and go to school, returning to Louisiana in two years much improved.

During the Civil War the family moved for safety to Natcbez, Miss., where tbey remained until after the surrender. This was in many ways an eventful period for Alice. Much of pure and tender sentiment may be read between the following lines from her pen: "During the last years of the War Winans Drake had been coming in from the country, bringing fruit and other things to sell and coming to see me also." In December, 1866, she was married to Rev. Wm. Winans Drake, one of the nohle sons of Dr. B. M. Drake, a familiar name to all students of Methodism in Mississippi.

After a happy married life of five years, during which she was a most valuahle belpmeet, the young itinerant laid down his life in heroic servlce and Mrs. Drake was left a young widow with three little sons, tbe youngest being born several months after the father's death.

The full story of courage and efficiency shown in rearing and educating these hoys would make a splendid chapter in the annals of consecrated womanhood. At an early age they had been introduced to a wide range of literature by their mother, who possessed unusual skill in reading aloud, and strong characters had already been formed by the impress of her own rare and well-balanced life. The quiet Sunday evening talks with her boys on personal religion made ineffaceable impressions on their young minds.

When the boys were still quite young she moved to Jackson, La., and kept a boarding house for Centenary students, thus enabling each one of her sons to obtain a college education. Tbis was a most fruitful period of her life, in tbat a large number of young men (some in the ministry and some in otber vocations) were at tbat time blessed by her influence, a number of these attributing their religious conversion to her. Tbe writer cannot find language to express his deep personal gratitude for benefits received from her at this time.

Another tragic cup was given her to drink when her second son, Walton, a young man of most unusual promise, brilliant and consecrated, valedictorian in his class, first honor man in bis law class in Mississippi, with whom she was preparing to make her permanent home, was suddenly taken away by death. But sorrow only made richer a life already abounding in spiritual graces.

For a number of years Mrs. Drake was matron in the Institute for the Blind in Baton Rouge, endearing herself to the unfortunate students and making splendid mental and spiritual contrihutions to their lives. There she remained until physical affliction made it necessary for her to retire.

Mrs. Drake was a woman of rare intellectual culture, being, notwithstanding the fact that her formal education was interrupted by the Civil War, well versed in literature and saturated with the history and biography of Metbodism.

While the home was her chosen sphere of service, yet her consecrated culture, aided hy practical good sense, made her an agent of power in the organized activlties of the Church, to which she was ever loyal and devoted, and among women a place of leadership was naturally accorded her.

Her great influence upon Christian womanhood, ennobling and conserving its highest ideals, was by no means the least of the results of a many-sided and useful life.

She had great independence and force of character, deep-seated convictions as to truth and duty, the power of which no one who knew her could fail to appreciate, and, withal, she was womanly, true to the purest instincts and aspirations of her sex.

Mrs. Drake was interested in religion from early childhood, joining the Church when ten years of age under the ministry of Rev. R. J. Harp. She attributed this mainly to parental instruction and to the influence of an efficient Sunday school. Sbe was disturbed at one time in her early life by tbe absence of any great emotional experience of conversion, and concerning tbis period she recently wrote as follows: "Praying for light, I opened my Bible and my eyes fell on words that had never been noticed before—'Now there are diversities of operations but the same Spirit.' This came to me as a message and I have often looked back to this time with a thankful heart. Fifty years have passed since tben; I can look hack on many blessed seasons of refreshment from the Lord and it has generally been my aim to serve Him, hut I see too often how I have let cares and selfish desires mar the work in my heart, as well as the outward manifestation of it. I see in my life much sinfulness and many wasted opportunities. I would be without hope but for the atonement of my Lord Jesus Christ, but I thank God I do trust in that hope for mercy."

For several years sbe had grown more and more helpless, her mental faculties meanwhile being unimpaired, and she had to endure much suffering. The same divine grace wiiich had enahled her to serve God and tiie world so efficiently now manifested itself in power to endure with forti tude and submission this last bitter trial.

These closing years were divided between her two sons, Rev. W. Winans Drake, an honored member of tbe Louisiana Conference, and Mr. B. M. Drake, of Turin, Ga., at whose home she passed away on Monday, June 14, in all the joy and peace of the Christian faith.

Two brothers, honored laymen in the Church in Waterproof, La., W. D. A. and J. G. Gorton, and two sisters, Mrs. J. F. Wynn, Crowley, La., and Mrs. Abbie Wailes, Augusta, Ga., survive.

R. H. WYNN.

HON. H. H. WHITE NOT A CANDIDATE.

Hon. H. H. White, of Alexandria, having been presented with a largely signed petition to become a candidate for the proposed Constitutional Convention in Louisiana, which is expected to be held in New Orleans next fall, while thanking his friends for the implied compliment, has declined to do so, and in the Alexandria Daily Town Talk of July 6 he gave publicly his reasons for refusing to stand for election as a delegate. These reasons may be briefly summarized as follows:

1. Four candidates are already in the field, one of whom Mr. White considers finely equipped to serve in tbe Convention, and he does not desire the office enough to make a campaign for it.

2. He does not believe that a Constitutional Convention is necessary or advisahle at this time. Touching on this point, Mr. White says:

"The present Constitution is said to be weak in two features, viz:

"(a) Those relative to revenue.

"(b) Those relative to the judiciary.

"While I know that the present Constitution is not a perfect document, that it has faults and weaknesses, I do not helieve that those faults or weaknesses are sufficiently grave to demand a Convention, wlth its attendant turmoil and cost.

"In my opinion the present Constitutional provisions and legislative statutes relative to revenue and taxation are perfectly sufficient to provide an ample revenue for the State if they are properly adminlstered and enforced. I do not care to go into a lengthy discussion of the matters of assessment, revenue and taxation at this time.

"In reference to the judiciary, I would say as a lawyer of nearly thirty years' experience in the courts of this State, of other States, and of the United States, that our present judicial system compares favorably with any otber system of which I bave any knowledge. There is no guarantee that a new Constitution will not, instead of lessening the number of judges and decreasing the cost of the judiciary, both increase tiie number of judges and increase tbe cost. The principal objection to our present system is that the dockets are congested and the appeliate courts are dilatory in giving decisions. In my opinion, much relief could be gotten by greater economy of time on the part of the higher courts. I gave my views extensively on thls matter when requested to do so and directly interrogated hy the Probe Commission when it was in session at Alexandria (and will repeat them here substantially), stating that I thought relief could be gotten by decreasing the vacation term, both of the Supreme Court and of the Circuit Court, one month, reducing tbe vacation from three to two months, by prolonging the sessions of the Supreme Court one hour eacb day, by omitting the reading of opinions, and by certain other savings of time which it is not necessary now to enumerate."

3. Mr. White objects strongly to the provision in the act of the Legislature preparing tbe way for the Constitutional Convention wbich forbids the placing of a prohibition article in tbe Constitution. We quote tbe foliowing from his utterance on this important point:

"What, however, amounts to a determining factor with me in declining to be a candidate for this Convention is the limitation placed on the Convention relative to prohibition. I do not know that if I were in the Convention I should favor any attempt to insert a constitutional prohibition article at this time, but I feel very keenly tbat no Convention should be held, gagged and hound on tbis question in advance by the liquor interests. I feel that an affront has heen offered to the State, and that that affront will not have been sufficiently resented if the people of Louisiana accept the gag and suhmit to the halter thus placed upon them by the liquor interests. Any other class of men have the same right to combine and say to the people of Louisiana, 'You shall not have a new Constitution unless you first give pledges that our particular interests and franchises shall not he disturbed.'"

The highest birth rate of any country in the world is found in tbat portion of Russia wbich lies in Europe, and tbe lowest is found in France. The former is regarded as one of the most uncivilized nations of Europe, and the latter one of the most civilized.

CENTENARY COLLEGE

Of Louisiana.

If you wish your son to receive a Literary College training in a moral and religious atmosphere, amid beautiful and healthful natural surroundings, under a faculty of competent Christian men, in a progressive city with great Protestant Cburcbes and many puhlic advantages, send him to

Centenary College.

If it is advisable that your son take his preparatory or high school training away from home, send hlm to Centenary, where, by good application, he may save one year in preparation for Freshman Class of any college.

Write for Catalogue and any Needed Information.

Rev. R. H. WYNN, President. Box 6, Shreveport, La.

The Louisiana Educational Campaign

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., President

Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Sec'y

Rev. C. A. Battle, Treas., Baton Rouge, La.

(This Department is conducted by Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Secretary of Education, and Rev. A. J. Gearheard, Publicity Commissioner.)

GOOD FOR LAKE CHARLES.

A communication from Dr. R. H. Wynn, President of Centenary College, states that he spent last Sunday at Lake Charles, La., and that $500 was secured there on the Blair proposition. This is, indeed, cheering news. Let the good work go on!

A LINK BETWEEN OUR SUNDAY SCHOOLS AND OUR COLLEGES.

Our Sunday schools ought to be constant feeders to our Church colleges. The best material for the intellectual, moral and religious training that our Church colleges are designed to give is to be found among the boys and girls who are in training in our Sunday schools. To the end that these two related institutions of the Church for Christian education may be brought together and properly related, the Sunday school ought to keep the thought of our Church colleges constantly in the minds of teachers and scholars. One method of doing this that has been effectively used by Dr. James Cannon, the energetic and able Conference Secretary of Education of the Virginia Conference, is to send to each Sunday school superintendent a blank asking for the names of boys and girls who may be available as students of the Church colleges, thus getting the educational workers in touch with the boys and girls of the Sunday schools.

Another plan that ought to be very effective is that planned by President Bobbitt of Mansfield Female College, who has recently had printed an attractive card, 14x24 inches, displaying tasteful pictures of the college and of scenes from the college life, with statements in large type about the college, suitable for display in every Sunday school room in Louisiana Methodism. It is suggested that a similar card be prepared representing Centenary College, and that these two displays of our Church colleges be kept in plain sight on the walls of all our Sunday school rooms. Will not every pastor and superintendent co-operate with this plan, not only giving space to such cards, but calling frequent attention to the educational work of the Church through these attractive displays?

RIGHTEOUS INDIGNATION.

President R. E. Bobbitt, of Mansfield Female College, has mailed out the new catalogue of our school for girls. It is a credit to the college and should stimulate new interest in the school among our people. The publisher delivered 2000 catalogues to President Bobbitt and he in turn mailed out 1500 to prospective students, preachers, and friends. He has 500 more that are of no use to him, but might bring to the school a new pupil. There is, perhaps, a girl in every pastoral charge who intends to go somewhere to college this fall, or at least would like to. If every pastor in Louisiana would send one name to President Bobbitt, he would have a hold on the girl whose name is sent, and maybe win her to school. Let us try it.

Along with the catalogue every preacher received a circular letter. The letter was written by President Bobbitt while in the throes of an attack of plain honesty. It contains the naked truth. He says in that letter: "Our patience is tried when you wont just drop us a card and we furnish the card." Mansfield College belongs to the Louisiana Conference. Every preacher when he joined the Church vowed before the altar to support the institutions of the Church. When he joined the Conference he entered into a covenant to be a leader in Christ's Church, teaching by precept and example the way of righteousness. When he ignores to the point of absolute neglect an institution of the Church, he not only violates his own holy vow, but by his example teaches his own congregation to be disregardful of other institutions of the Church.

The Presidents of Mansfield and Centenary Colleges are our representatives. By our vote we asked that they be confirmed as such, and we have no right to send them to do our work and then by our lack of sympathy and co-operation stand in the way of their progress.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO CENTENARY.

Announcement was made some weeks ago of the proposition of Mr. C. W. Blair, of Shreveport, to contribute $2500 to Centenary College on condition that $12,500 should be raised by January 1, 1916. The Board of Trustees accepted the proposition and $600 was subscribed in the meeting toward the required $12,500. The canvass for that amount will be actively carried on throughout the State during the remainder of the present year. Before the canvass has been fairly begun, however, two liberal contributions have already been volunteered: one from Crawford, Jenkins & Booth of Shreveport for $250, and one for $100 by Mr. W. S. Holmes of Baton Rouge. Dr. Wynn will do what he can, in justice to his other pressing duties, to canvass personally for subscriptions, and others representing the Conference Board and the Board of Trustees will give all the assistance possible, but much expense and effort will be saved and turned into other channels if friends of the college will write to Dr. Wynn or the Conference Secretary of Education, volunteering contributions as the above mentioned gentlemen have done. Are there not 125 men in Louisiana Methodism who will promptly subscribe $100 apiece to this fund, payable December 1? This does not mean that larger contributions will not be acceptable, or that numbers of smaller gifts will not be welcomed. Let us see how quickly and "hilariously" we can raise this small sum, which will mean very much to the future of the college. The raising of this amount will undoubtedly greatly increase the confidence of Louisiana Methodism in its own ability to do things, as well as assure the maintenance and improvement of the college work while we are securing larger sums for equipment and endowment. If we should fail, which is unthinkable, what would be the use of trying to do anything worthy of a great Church of 36,000 members?

Secular News and Comment

By R. E. Meek.

The density of the population, more than the severity of the shock, is said to determine the loss of life in a community disturbed by an earthquake.

* * *

An expert declares that rats cost the United States $100,000,000 a year. If this be true, the rat-proofing of which property owners complain so much is an economical as well as a sanitary measure.

* * *

The people of the United States spent $12,000,000 for Christian missions last year. Let those who look upon this as a good showing compare it with the sums that the Nation spends annually for alcoholic drinks, tobacco, etc.

* * *

An official announcement has been made by the English Premier, Mr. Asquith, to the effect that the English had lost 38,635 men in the Dardanelles up to May 31. This includes the losses resulting from both naval and land operations.

* * *

At its commencement on June 30, Amherst College, at Amherst, Mass., conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws upon Robert Lansing, the present Secretary of State. Mr. Lansing graduated from that institution in 1886.

* * *

The Liberty Bell is to take a trip to the San Francisco Exposition at a cost of $35,000. This is one of the most sacred relics connected with American liberty that have been handed down to us by the fathers, and it is to be hoped that those who handle it will deal gently with it.

* * *

The United States and England have entered into an agreement to reduce the postage on mail for the blind exchanged between the two countries. This is a wise course, and the blessings of many a poor, benighted being will rest upon those who have been instrumental in securing its adoption.

* * *

The wheat-growing States of the Union will need from now until the early part of fall 125,000 extra hands to harvest their crop. Every year at this season there is a great demand for laborers, and all classes of unsuccessful men flock to these States to make an honest living while they can. Sometimes the crops have been destroyed because of a scarcity of labor. The harvest is plenteous, but the laborers are few, unless they come from a distance.

Methodist Hotel

THE GREATEST INSTITUTION OF ITS KIND IN THE WORLD.

A Modern Fireproof Building, with Hotel, Auditorium, Church, Finest Organ on the Pacific Coast, and other Interesting Features under one Roof.

Owned and Controlled by Trinity M. E. Church, South, Los Angeles, Cal.

When you or your friends visit Los Angeles, stop at TRINITY, Ninth and Grand Avenue. Close to everywhere.

Over Three Hundred Comfortable Rooms, with or without Bath. One Dollar per Day and Up.

Write or Wire TRINITY Your Needs.

ENLARGE YOUR DAY

Thousands of people have already learned how to enlarge their days; how to increase the time they can devote to profitable recreation and pleasure without sacrificing work that must be done.

They first discovered that the quickest and most satisfactory way to go "down town" was by the telephone.

Next they applied the same principle to their "out of town" business and social trips, and found it was even more satisfactory and proportionately much cheaper.

Do you Travel by TELEPHONE?

Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co.

(Incorporated.)

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

If we desire religion taught in our public schools, we can have it done. In these days of co-operation, from the details of the household to that of the largest business firms, it has been successfully demonstrated that where individuals so determine they can carry to a laudable execution plans for doing any work collectively that can be done individually, and usually with greater success. This task is by no means impossible. We can make and execute some successful plan of having a majority of the children in our public schools given systematic instruction in the things of God through the whole of the public school career if we will.

We have no law prohibiting the use of our public school buildings for religious purposes, provided it does not interfere with the work of the school. We have a legal school day from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Any community can employ a teacher to give religious instruction before or after the regular school session. This would have many obstacles to overcome, and with a little legislation we could no doubt find better plans.

Several cities and some States are having religious instruction given in their public schools with satisfactory results. Various plans for doing so are in operation. The most vital point in this respect for us in Louisiana is to determine that we will no longer permit our public schools to be run in their present godless manner. This, fully determined, will be half the battle. Then some practical way of relieving the situation will soon be reached.

If we had a law permitting, or requiring, a definite period each day in our schools to be devoted to religious instruction under the auspices of the local churches—course of study, teachers, and necessary funds provided by the churches—making it optional with parents as to whether or not their children take such course, but allowing credits toward promotion in the grades, and toward graduation in the high schools and colleges, it would do much in the course of a generation to improve the morals of our citizenship, to say nothing of the souls that might be added to Christ's Kingdom. The Church and State must co-operate and give both secular and religious training for the highest efficiency.

Our State Normal School at Natchitoches is so dominated by the spirit of mere secular training that when teachers leave its halls for work in the school room very few of them have any conception of any responsibility for the development of the spirituality of their pupils. Our Methodist people, and even our preachers, send their boys and girls there by the hundreds every year—more than to Mansfield and Centenary combined. They become so imbued with the spirit that dominates the Normal that very few of them are real Christian teachers. If our Methodist people could build a dormitory where their daughters could board, and give them a course in the Bible, missions, Sunday school and church work, and emphasize our own church publications, surely there would be a yield of more spiritual teachers for our public schools. A dormitory for such a purpose might be a valuable investment at any of our State institutions doing college or university work.

Brother, sister, what shall we do? We must meet the responsibility of having some legal, laudable means of supplying our children with religious instruction during the whole of the school course. To give it only in our high schools and colleges would be insufficient for the building of a Christian character, for the earlier years are also needful, and only a very small percentage ever go as far as the high school, much less the college.

Merely reading the Bible in the public school without note or comment would be better than our present system, but would be far below the requirements necessary for a well rounded Christian life. Such a slipshod method of teaching would not be tolerated in any other subject. Let us strive for attainments that will present Christ in an urgent way to every child during his school days.

Surely our Woman's Missionary Society can find no greater mission than helping to unlock the door that shuts Christ away from so many hearts. Let us strive for this or some better plan of accomplishing this undertaking. Can you suggest a more advisable plan? What think ye?

(Mrs.) ELA BROWNE PURCELL.

Oak Ridge, La.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

Report of the Treasurer of the Board of Missions of the Mississippi Conference of amounts received on assessments:

	For. M.	H.& C.M.
Brookhaven District—
Buford	$4.00	$4.50
Topisaw	15.00	10.00
Hazlehurst	12.65	.....
Brookhaven	50.00	50.00
Adams	15.00	.....
Meadville	10.00	10.00
Wesson	16.45	10.00
Crystal Springs	50.00	50.00
Tylertown	.....	10.60
Scotland	.....	10.63
Total	$173.11	$165.13
Hattiesburg District—
Broad Street	$12.50	$7.50
Main Street	24.21	21.17
Williamsburg	2.68	6.50
Purvis	30.00	40.00
Sumrall	17.82	14.15
McLain	8.00	12.00
Magee	11.50	.....
Seminary	10.00	10.00
Court Street	16.30	1.50
Eucutta	5.00	5.00
Lucedale	7.50	15.00
Total	$142.47	$135.85
Jackson District—
Canton	$19.91	$14.00
Flora	5.00	5.00
Eden	35.00	22.50
Lake City	5.00	5.00
Benton	10.00	10.00
Brandon	25.00	25.00
Terry	10.00	15.00
Bolton	15.00	15.00
Vaughan's	7.00	8.00
Fanning	.....	15.00
Edwards	.....	10.00
Satartia	.....	14.00
Millsaps Memorial	.....	5.00
Totals	$131.91	$163.50
Meridian District—
Shubuta	$27.00	$27.00
Porterville	.....	5.00
Waynesboro Circuit	12.00	12.00
Central	32.84	.....
Totals	$71.84	$34.00
Newton District—
Fourteenth Avenue	$15.00	$15.00
Choctaw Mission	.25	.....
Bay Springs	10.15	4.55
Philadelphia	15.00	15.00
Leake	2.00	2.50
Rose Hill	.....	5.25
Total	$42.40	$42.30
Port Gibson District—
Jefferson Street	$50.00	$50.00
Utica	10.00	$10.00
Crawford Street	40.00	40.00
Harriston	17.50	5.00
Silver City	15.00	15.00
Anguilla	12.00	12.00
Centreville	5.00	15.00
Mayersville	25.00	56.00
Rocky Springs	22.50	10.00
Hermanville	27.50	.....
Fayette	10.00	30.00
Woodville	10.00	25.00
Roxie	12.50	.....
Gibson Memorial	.....	16.90
Woodville Circuit	.....	5.00
Totals	$257.00	$289.90
Seashore District—
Wiggins	$15.25	$15.50
Lumberton	20.00	20.00
Columbia	65.00	65.00
Escatawpa	15.00	15.00
Logtown	20.00	20.00
Pascagoula	.....	12.00
Totals	$135.25	$147.50

The Port Gibson District easily leads, both in number of charges represented and in amount paid.

CHARLES W. CRISLER, Treas.

Hattiesburg, Miss., June 30, 1915.

HAMILL MEMORIAL HALL OF SUNDAY SCHOOL PEDAGOGY.

During a visit to Japan Dr. Hamill conceived the idea of a building on the campus of the Kwansei Gakuin, Kobe, to be used as headquarters for Sunday school organizations and training. He offered to give $1000, and secured from Mr. H. J. Heinz the pledge of a like sum. Later, the Canadian Methodist Church and the Japanese Methodist Church joined in the plan with a pledge of $1000 each.

It is intended that the building shall cost $6000 (unfurnished), and it is estimated that for thorough equipment the cost will be $2000 more, making a total of $8000. It will be interdenominational in character, and will form part of the teaching equipment of the Kwansei Gakuin.

Friends and co-workers of Dr. Hamill, since his death, have decided that this shall be a memorial to him, and a building has been planned for that purpose. There could be no memorial more fitting to Dr. Hamill's life and work. A committee composed of Jno. R. Pepper, E. B. Chappell, B. M. Burgher, W. W. Millan, and A. J. Lamar will have charge of the enterprise.

We are sure that there are thousands of men, women, and children in the Sunday schools of our Church who have been blessed by the labors of Dr. Hamill and who hold the man in loving remembrance who will be glad to aid in erecting this memorial by giving from $1 to $100 each. It is better that this labor of love should be performed by the many in small contributions than by a few men in large amounts. It is important that this work be done quickly. Send your contributions, large or small, to Dr. A. J. Lamar, Treasurer, 810 Broadway, Nashville, Tenn.

Over a million dollars in pensions is paid by our Government annually to persons residing in foreign lands.

THE HOLMES STORE

OF NEW ORLEANS

is one of America's truly great department stores.

It has perfected a buying organization that reaches into every producing market of the world, maintaining offices in Berlin, London, Paris and Florence, as well as New York.

It never presents any merchandise that is not of good quality and equitably priced.

Its very efficient service to patrons in the city is supplemented by the largest and best-equipped mail order department of any store in the South. Ninety-eight per cent of all orders received are filled on date of receipt.

The aim of the store is to merit fully the confidence that has been manifested by the public during its seventy-two years of merchandising history.

D. H. HOLMES CO., Ltd.

DR. THADDEUS P. BELL

Practice Limited to the Medical and Surgical Treatment of the

EYE, EAR, NOSE & THROAT

And the Correction of Errors of Vision.

814 Audubon Bldg., New Orleans, La.

LEON IRWIN & CO.,

Fire and Casualty Insurance

736 UNION STREET. Phone, Main 585.

The Home Circle

HOW NICE 'TWOULD BE.

How nice 'twould be if knowledge grew
On bushes as the berries do;
Then we would plant our spelling seed,
And gather all the words we need.
And sums from off our slate we'd wipe
And wait for figures to be ripe.
And go into the fields and pick
Whole bushels of arithmetic.
Or, if we wish'd to learn Chinese,
We'd just go out and shake the trees.
And grammar then in all our towns
Would grow with proper verbs and nouns.
And in the garden there would be Great bunches of geography.
And all the passers-by would stop
And marvel at the knowledge crop.

—Zion's Herald.

THE LAST OF A BAD BOY.

By Susan Hubbard Martin.

The stone had made a clean-cut opening through the beautiful stained-glass window, whoever had thrown it had aimed true.

Mrs. Day turned to Mrs. Abbott that Sunday.

"Another window broken," she exclaimed.

"Isn't it dreadful that we have our church in such a bad neighborhood? We ought to move it."

The Rev. Stephen Best saw it, too, as he went up the aisle that Sunday, but all the comment he made was: "Brethren, we must redouble our missionary efforts. We have need of them in this community. Another of our beautiful windows has been broken."

The next day he saw a little round-faced boy playing in the sand near the church. "Do you know who broke that window, my lad?" he asked, pleasantly.

The small boy looked up. "Yes, sir," he answered. "Garth Raymond broke it; I saw him throw the stone." The boy paused. "He's an awful bad fellow," he added. "You wont tell him I told you, will you? He'll lick me if you do."

"No," replied Stephen Best, "I won't tell him. Do you know where he lives?"

"Yes, sir; in that house over there where the gate is down."

It was a small, dingy place, fast falling into wreckage. The back yard was full of old boards and tin cans. A pale-faced woman in a faded dress was just carrying in some wood.

"Thank you, my boy."

The next moment the Rev. Stephen Best had started toward it. Just before he got to the gate, however, the door opened and a tall boy sauntered out. His hat was on the back of his head; he wore no collar. He walked with something of a swagger. As he reached the space that once had been a gate, he stopped and lighted a cigarette.

Stephen Best went up to him. "Are you Garth Raymond?" he asked.

"I am," insolently replied the boy.

"Did you throw a stone through one of the stained-glass windows of my church?" The voice was still pleasant.

"I did." The boy's face was more insolent still. There was a scowl on the face. "Well, what are you going to do about it?" he sneered.

The Rev. Stephen Best laid a hand on the boy's shoulder. "I'm not going to do anything about it," he said gently. "The fact is, Garth, I think you need me."

"Need you?" cried the boy, his eyes blazing; "me need you? I haven't got any use for a preacher."

"So I suppose; nevertheless, a preacher has his uses. You see, my boy, I didn't go into the ministry to help the good boys. I went into it because I thought I might be of service to boys like you."

Garth stared. In all his life he had never heard any one speak like this. He wanted to get out of sight; still there was something very attractive to this boy about the big, broad-shouldered man with the kind eyes.

"What do you want with me, then," he asked sullenly.

"I want nothing, only to be your friend."

"My friend?" There was a catch in Garth's voice. "Do you really mean it?"

"I really do."

The boy dropped his head; then all at once he lifted it. "Then I'll tell you something," he cried. "I'm tired of being a bad boy—of being looked down on, with nobody to give me a kind word. I'm tired of living in a place like this. I'd like to be different, but there's never been any one to help me."

The Rev. Stephen Best laid his hand again on the boys shoulder. "There's your Savior, my lad, and me. My church is a very beautiful one, as you see, but I repeat it, I am not in it because of the good people there. I am working in that church, Garth, because of those outside. The good boy, the boy who does his best, doesn't need me."

Garth looked at him squarely. "But the boy—the bad boy who broke your window—does. Isn't that it?"

The minister smiled. "Very like it," he admitted.

Garth Raymond stood still. "And you'll be a friend to me?"

"The best I can be, my boy. We'll talk this matter over right now and see what we can do about bettering things for you, Garth."

"Yes, sir."

"Did you ever think that there won't be any churches in heaven?"

"Why, sir?"

"Because there won't be any need. 'The Lamb is the light thereof,' but in this world the Church has its work to do. Now I am sure that you see the necessity for them—the reason they are built and supported. All ministers do not do what is right, but most of them try to."

Garth nodded brightly. "I see, sir, already. I didn't know you, or the church you work in, had any use for a boy like me—a bad boy."

The Rev. Stephen Best laid his arm across the boy's shoulder. "You're the boy we are after," he said gently.

Such was the beginning of Garth Raymond's new life, a life destined to be full and useful, a blessing to the world; and all because of the great, loving heart of the minister of that church whose window he had broken.—Watchword.

GREAT BECAUSE FIRST GOOD.

One day Gerhardt, a German shepherd-boy, was watching his flock near a forest, when a hunter came out of the woods and asked: "How far is it to the nearest village?"

"Six miles, sir," answered the boy. "But the road is only a sheep-track and very easily missed."

The hunter looked at the crooked track, and said: "My lad, I am very hungry and thirsty. I have lost my companion and missed my way. Show me the road and I will pay you well."

"I can not leave my sheep, sir," rejoined Gerhardt. "They will stray into the woods and may be eaten by the wolves."

"Well, what of that?" queried the hunter. "They are not your sheep. The loss of one or two wouldn't be much to your master, and I'll give you more than you earn in a whole year."

"I can not go, sir," rejoined Gerhardt, very firmly. "My master pays me for my time and trusts me with his sheep."

"Well," said the hunter, "will you trust your sheep with me, while you go to the village and get me some food, drink, and a guide? I will take care of them for you."

The boy shook his head. "The sheep," he said, "do not know your voice, and—"

"What? Can't you trust me?" asked the hunter, angrily.

"Sir," said the boy, "you tried to make me false to my trust. How do I know that you would keep your word?"

The hunter laughed, for he felt that the lad had fairly cornered him. He said, "I see, my lad, that you are a faithful boy. I will not forget you. I will try to make out the road myself."

Gerhardt then offered the contents of his scrip to the hungry man, who ate it gladly. Presently his attendant came up; and then Gerhardt, to his surprise, found that the hunter was the Grand Duke, who owned all the country around.

The Duke was so pleased with the boy's honesty that he sent for him shortly after that and had him educated. In after years Gerhardt became a great and powerful man, but he remained honest and true to his dying day.—Our Dumb Animals.

A BOY'S WORST ENEMY.

A friend once said to General Philip Sheridan: "Phil, if you could choose for your little son from all the temptations which will beset him the one most to be feared, what would it be?" This great General leaned his head forward on his hand and said, thoughtfully: "It would be the curse of strong drink." Then he went on to state his reasons, and concluded by saying: "Oh, I would rather see my little son die to-day than to see him carried in to his mother, drunk." The General also referred to his own observations during his army career, and related this incident: One of his brave soldier boys was a strong, noble young fellow. Just as they were going into battle one hot day he said to General Sheridan: "If I should be killed to-day, please have this message sent to my mother: 'I have kept my promise. Not one drink have I tasted.'" He was killed, as he evidently anticipated. The General says: "I carried that message to his mother with my own lips. She said to me: 'General, that is more glory for my boy than if he had taken a city.'"—Zion's Herald.

In area, the rock of Gibraltar is less than two miles square.

—ARTIFICIAL LIMBS, ORTHOPEDIC—
APPARATUS, ELASTIC HOSIERY,
TRUSSES, CRUTCHES, ETC.
(Catalogues mailed on request)

The McDermott Surgical Instrument Company, Limited.

734-738 POYDRAS STREET
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

FLESH WOUNDS

Whether Cuts, Bruises or Burns cannot and will not inflame if treated promptly with

Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic

The cooling effect stops the pain at once—and a prompt cure, without swelling or suppuration, will follow in each instance.

A bottle in the house is your best safeguard against accidents.

All druggists 25 and 50 cts.

Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic.
ASK ANY ONE WHO HAS EVER USED IT.

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: No. 512 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor.

CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Entered at the Postoffice at New Orleans as Second-class Mail Matter.

TERMS:
One Copy, one year, $1.50; eight months, $1.00. To preachers of all denominations, $1.00

PUBLISHING COMMITTEE:
Louisiana Conference—Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., Rev. W. W. Drake, Rev. C. B. Carter.
Mississippi Conference—Rev. I. W. Cooper, D.D., Rev. C. W. Crisler, Rev. T. W. Adams.
North Mississippi Conference—Rev. W. W. Woollard, Rev. H. S. Spragins, Mr. J. D. Barbee.

A CHANCE FOR A GOOD INVESTMENT.

Other Churches may be threatened with a dearth of preachers, but most certainly this is not the case with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Hundreds of young men are entering the ministry of our Church, and most of them are anxious to prepare themselves well for the great work to which they feel called. But not many sons of rich men seem to be called; or, if many such are called, they do not respond. Most of the young men who are entering the ministry are young men of small means.

A great many of our young preachers desire to attend our School of Theology at Atlanta, and most of them need financial aid in order to take their courses in theology. Applications are received daily asking for such assistance. No worthy case should be denied help; but, if all such are given financial aid, a considerable sum of money will be required.

The collections made by the Board of Education last year were smaller than usual. The war in Europe and the consequent financial depression led to this result. Hence the Board's appropriation for theological education was cut short. Special help is, therefore, needed this year.

Men and women of means, whose sons do not preach, should esteem it a privilege to help some poor young man who does feel called to preach.

Churches should help this cause. Great buildings without strong preachers will avail nothing. A fine church with a weak preacher in its pulpit furnishes a discouraging contrast between the house and the sermon.

I hope many in our Church will be disposed to make generous contributions in aid of the young men who are now seeking help in order to enter our School of Theology. Money thus bestowed will be well invested. It will yield rich dividends of enduring good.

WARREN A. CANDLER.

Atlanta, Ga., July 1, 1915.

HIGHLY REPREHENSIBLE.

A Methodist educator in our territory complains of the unfair and misleading canvassing that is being done by the representatives of Methodist institutions located in other sections of the Church. He states that the authorities of one of these schools have actually gone so far as to employ a resident canvasser in an Annual Conference which has excellent educational institutions of its own, and that he is expected to take the field actively to induce students to attend a college in another State. And it is reported that some of these campaigners are quite unscrupulous in their methods of operation, even going to the extent of seeking to disaffect young people who have already entered upon their courses of study in our home institutions. Referring to one of these "poachers," our correspondent says: "He went to one of my patrons whose daughter had done well in our college for two years and offered her an $85 reduction in his effort to get her. He belittles our school, so I am told, in his canvass."

Such a condition of things as this is greatly to be deplored. It is natural that Methodist parents, for various considerations, should sometimes desire to educate their children in other States, and when of their own accord they place them in institutions outside of their own Conferences there is no legitimate ground for complaint. But this policy of one school of the Church trying to invade the territory of another and to wrest from it its legitimate patronage by improper methods is wholly unethical and indefensible. It would not for one moment be tolerated in other kinds of Church work, and it ought not to be endured in our educational operations. Though they like to be polite and obliging, our pastors ought not to give these "poachers" the least assistance of any kind; and if they are heard disparaging our home schools or are caught up with using unworthy tactics, they ought to be written up in the public prints. Louisiana and Mississippi Methodism has been regarded as a sort of educational commons where all the schools of the Church have equal rights long enough, and it is high time that we were insisting that our institutions shall be accorded by other Methodist colleges the courtesies and consideration which are due them. We hope that it will not be necessary for us to speak more pointedly on this subject, but we shall not hesitate to do so if it should become necessary.

FOR MISSISSIPPI PESSIMISTS.

Ever and anon some gentleman is heard uttering a wail over the condition of politics and public affairs in Mississippi, and it must be admitted that there has been much wthin recent years to discourage and depress one. As a means of cheering up those who are inclined to such a feeling of despondency, we quote from the Mississippi Official and Statistical Register of 1908 the following word-picture of a session of the Legislature in the first Capitol ever erected in Jackson—a comparatively small structure that passed out of existence in 1839:

"It is related that a plank walk led from the rear of the oid Capitol in the early days to a saloon situated about twenty-five feet away. It lacked brilliant fixtures, but it had the substantial attractions. During a long and drowsy discussion on some subject which did not evoke much interest, the members would glide out one by one to the saloon. When the time came for a vote it was invariably necessary to send out and summon them to return. The Sergeant-at-Arms had no difficulty in locating them. Sitting athwart a glass of peach brandy or some other ardent liquor, or leaning across the bar in amicable converse with the bartender, they were always to be found in that interesting little resort. The proximity of the saloon did not wholly dull the Legislators to a sense of their duty, however. Occasionally an act turns up in the records 'for the suppression and regulation of tippling houses.' In view of the circumstances, an inductive philosopher would be justified in suggesting the probability that the season of these restrictive measures was doubtless contemporaneous with the season of the bartender's most obstinate refusal of credit to the Legislators."

Evidently in some respects at least there has been some improvement in political conditions in Mississippi since the time so vividly described by the gifted pen of Dr. Dunbar Rowland. There were bad things in the past just as there are in the present. There was no millennium on earth in the days of our fathers.

MANSFIELD COLLEGE.

One of the most capable and energetic school men in this section is President R. E. Bobbitt, the official head of the Mansfield Female College, at Mansfield, La. The record which that institution has made since he took charge of it has in every respect been highly gratifying, and if the Methodist preachers and people of Louisiana will only give him their hearty co-operation yet larger things will be accomplished. From the late beautiful catalogue of this excellent school (a copy of which may be had by merely writing Brother Bobbitt for it), we take the following statement concerning its growth and outlook:

"In two years the College has grown from a boarding attendance of 21 to 61, and an income of $8,500 to one of $15,000.

"The total enrollment has grown from 98 two years ago to 158 now.

"More than $4,000 have been spent upon conveniences and improvements.

"The Mansfield Female College is no longer called an 'unclassified' college, but is a thorough junior college, accredited by our General Board of Education.

"For the first time, there are four music teachers. Domestic Science is a new department. Exceptional Art Course is now offered.

"Few institutions, if any, have ever had more than half of a junior class voluntarily to take two years to finish in order that the standard might be raised.

"A spirit of confidence and loyalty is in the hearts of pupils and patrons. The business and professional men of the town are loyal friends.

"The good old days are gone;
Better days are here;
The best are yet to be."

WE WISH HE HAD IT.

In the Central Methodist Advocate (Lexington, Ky.) of July 8, Dr. S. A. Steel, of Columbia, S. C., says: "I am writing this on the 26th of June. It is mid-summer. Yet we slept under cover last night. The climate of South Carolina is delightful. You know I have lived all around, in Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, Tennessee, Mississippi, and South Carolina; and for climate, I must give the palm to South Mississippi and South Carolina. The climate here in Columbia is almost ideal. Of course, we have some hot weather; but it is not enervating, and the season is punctuated with cool spells that give one relief. And the delightful mountain resorts of Western North Carolina are near by. Week-end trains empty our pews, carrying people to the heights for a Sunday rest. If I had a million, however, and wanted to enjoy it, I would get me a home on the Mississippi coast. I would not want a fine house, but I would want a wide veranda, well screened, and plenty of big rockers, one for Meek and one for Mann; then with a big watermelon from my garden, I think we could solve some problems!"

A more enticing picture than this which Dr. Steel here draws could scarcely be found this side of the gates of Paradise. Indeed, with such an environment and fellowship, Paradise would be well-nigh set up on earth. To contemplate this scene even in the realm of the imagination touches and stirs the heart with joy. The fanciful is not without its pleasures.

Dr. Steel is right in giving the primacy to the Mississippi Gulf Coast as a delightful place in which to live; and it should be remembered that so great a scholar as Bishop Keener located the Garden of Eden in South Carolina.

PERSONAL AND OTHER NOTES.

Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Perkins, of the West Texas Conference, are visiting relatives and friends in Holmes County, Miss., where they formerly resided. Brother Perkins was announced to preach at Acona, Miss., last Sunday.

Among those who have recently brought us under obligations for subscriptions to the Advocate is Rev. E. H. Cunningham, of Myrtle, Miss. Brother Cunningham may be depended upon to take care of all deserving causes in his field. He is a live wire.

In a recent letter to our office Rev. W. D. McCullough, of Iuka, Miss., stated that Sister McCullough, his wife, had been confined to her bed with neuraigia and fever for several days. We trust that ere this she is much better and that she will soon be entirely well.

Rev. C. F. Emery, presiding elder of the Newton (Miss.) District, writes: "Please announce that I have appointed Rev. L. E. Alford to the Lake and Hickory charge in place of Rev. O. G. Halliburton, who was released at his own request. Bishop Atkins has approved the appointment."

Rev. C. H. Strait, of Rocky Springs, Miss., reports that his work is making pretty good progress. We are grateful to Brother Strait for some subscriptions recently forwarded to the Advocate.

Rev. R. H. B. Gladney, North Mississippi's Sunday School Secretary, is spending this week in the good old county of Tippah. He expects to visit eight points in the county and talk to the people about up-to-date Sunday school methods.

In the absence of Rev. J. H. Smith, our pastor at Carrollton, Miss., who, with his family, is away on a vacation, his pulpit at McCarley was filled last Sunday by Rev. G. W. Bachman, who was greeted by a good congregation.

On June 20, at the home of the bride's parents at Shrock, Miss., Miss Lula Upton Williams and Mr. Joseph R. Shrock, of Goodman, were united in marriage, Rev. W. F. Rogers officiating. The Advocate extends congratulations and best wishes.

A correspondent informs us that a nine-pound baby boy has arrived in the home of Rev. and Mrs. I. F. Holland, at Lambert, Miss. We are pleased to know that both the mother and child are doing well. The Advocate extends congratulations to the happy parents.

As was announced in the Advocate last week, the Board of Education of the North Mississippi Conference will meet in Greenwood on July 21 at 10:30 o'clock a. m. Let all who will attend and who desire entertainment send their names at once to Rev. J. E. Cunningham, Greenwood, Miss.

Rev. B. P. Jaco, presiding elder of the Winona (Miss.) District, writes us that Rev. E. B. Sharp, our pastor at Webb, has lately found it necessary to undergo an operation at the Baptist Hospital in Memphis, but that he is doing well. We regret to hear of Brother Sharp's illness, and we trust that his recovery will be speedy and complete.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. A. J. Gearheard, Dr. J. T. Sawyer occupied the pulpit of the Louisiana Avenue Church of this city last Sunday at the morning hour. He reports having had a fair summer congregation. Dr. Sawyer preaches somewhere nearly every Sabbath and he never fails to give his auditors a helpful message.

In a business note to our office, Rev. G. W. Gordon, of Chester, Miss., says: "The South Union Camp Meeting will begin on Friday night before the fourth Sunday in this month. Come up and be with us." We wish that we could. We have long numbered Brother Gordon among our special friends, and it would indeed be a great pleasure to fellowship with him again for a season.

Rev. W. W. Graves, of Newton, Miss., writes that the work in his charge is making reasonably good progress, notwithstanding the great financial stringency prevailing as a result of two successive failures in truck farming. He hopes that, in spite of the discouragements, great things will be accomplished for the Master during the remaining months of the Conference year.

The Oxford (Miss.) Independent of July 2 stated that Rev. E. S. Lewis, our pastor at Oxford, had gone to Marble Falls, Texas, to assist in a protracted meeting, and that he would likely be absent two or three weeks. Our pulpit in that city was ably filled on Sunday, July 4, by Rev. R. A. Tucker, presiding elder of the Holly Springs District.

Rev. J. B. Williams, of Ponchatoula, La., in a business letter to our office, appends the following note: "I am getting along fairly well with my work. We have lately held our meeting at Lee's Landing; much good was accomplished and there were five accessions to the Church. Rev. H. C. Murphy assisted me in the meeting for two days, rendering very valuable service."

From a recent issue of The Choctaw Advocate, published at Butler, Ala., we take the following: "On Sunday the Methodist Church was filled to its seating capacity—many visitors being present—to hear the Commencement sermon of the Choctaw County High School by Dr. T. C. Wier of Starkville, Miss., which was appropriate in every particular and ably and earnestly delivered."

The Executive Committee of the Millsaps Board of Trustees has been called to meet in Jackson, Miss., on Thursday, July 24. This Committee consists of Bishop W. B. Murrah, Dr. A. F. Watkins, Rev. W. W. Woollard, Major R. W. Millsaps, and Mr. J. B. Streater. It is expected that at this meeting the Chair of Ancient Languages, made vacant by the resignation of Dr. M. W. Swartz, will be filled.

Through the courtesy of Rev. J. R. Countiss, the President of Grenada College, we have received an attractive and interesting catalogue of that worthy institution. The session lately closed was in every respect a gratifying one, and the outlook for the ensuing year is most encouraging. Let all our pastors in North Mississippi co-operate with Brother Countiss in filling every room in the dormitories of the College.

Under date of July 5, Rev. J. G. Snelling, of Homer, La., writes: "Rev. H. W. Bowman, presiding elder of the Baton Rouge District, has been here for some weeks with his wife, who is rapidly recovering from a serious operation which she was compelled to undergo. Brother Bowman has given us some splendid pulpit messages since he has been here. He is thoroughly interested in the work of his district."

We are pleased to state that Mrs. Hill, the accomplished wife of Rev. F. R. Hill, Jr., pastor of the Rayne Memorial Church of this city, who, as was stated in last week's issue of the Advocate, was recently operated on for appendicitis at the Touro Infirmary, continues to do well and has the prospect of a speedy recovery. This will be a gratifying announcement to Sister Hill's large circle of friends in Louisiana and elsewhere.

Rev. C. A. Battle, pastor of our First Church at Baton Rouge, is using his laymen in his mid-week prayer meetings. On Wednesday evening, July 7, Mr. W. S. Holmes gave a delightful short talk on "Personal Piety," and on last Wednesday evening Prof. C. A. Ives gave a discussion of "The Relation of Church and School in the Development of Character." These services are being well attended, more than 60 having been present at one of them a short time since.

Rev. W. A. Bowlin, of Sherman, Miss., under date of July 10, writes as follows concerning his charge: "My work is in good shape and the tendency is upward. I have arranged for my meetings and we are expecting a season of spiritual refreshing. We will begin the campaign here at Sherman next week, with Rev. I. D. Borders to assist in the services. There never was a finer prospect for crops in this section than we have now. Everybody is wearing a smile."

The Visitor (Nashville, Tenn.) of July 4 contained a charming true story of the American Revolution, entitled "William Clark," from the facile pen of Rev. B. F. Lewis, our pastor at Crystal Springs, Miss. In a recent note to the Editor Brother Lewis states that he expects to leave for Junaluska, N. C., on July 22. We trust that he will let the readers of the Advocate hear from him while he is seeing and hearing things at our great Southern Methodist Chautauqua.

In renewing his subscription to the Advocate, Brother J. W. McLean, of Darlington, La., says: "The paper has been coming to my home since 1855. The first paper that I ever remember taking out of the office for my father was the New Orleans Christian Advocate, and I am now in my 72d year. May God bless you in your work, and especially in the stand you have taken for the Church in the Vanderbilt fight." We are glad to have the approval of this long-time patron and friend of the Advocate.

Rev. H. T. Carley requests us to announce that his address for the remaining part of the summer will be Satartia, Miss. Brother Carley recently spent a Sabbath in Laurel, Miss., and occupied the pulpit of the First Methodist Church of that city, preaching to the great delight of a fine congregation. We regret to know that Brother Neill, the pastor of that growing flock, has lately been kept from his pulpit by a throat trouble, and we trust that he will soon be rid of the malady that has been annoying him.

On a postal card, Rev. W. J. Porter sends us the following good tidings from his field of labor: "Assisted by Rev. W. W. Perry, of Haynesville, we closed a successful meeting at Bryceland, La., last night. The church was revived, there were 6 baptisms, 13 accessions by vows, and 4 are to join by certificate. The pastor and his helper fared sumptuously, and their families were kindly remembered with material things at the close of the series of services. I will begin a meeting at Holder to-morrow, July 10."

Rev. W. F. Rogers, our faithful pastor at Sallis, Miss., writes encouragingly of his work in that charge. He reports that he has arranged for his coming protracted meetings as follows: At Spring Grove on the third Sunday in July, with Rev. W. J. O'Bryant to assist; at Salem on the fourth Sunday, with Rev. J. D. Simpson as a helper; at Pleasant Hill on the second Sunday in August, where Rev. J. T. McCafferty will be with him, and at Shrock on the Sunday following, where his co-worker will be Rev. E. B. Sharp.

Rev. C. D. Atkinson, of Crowley, La., was a pleasant caller at the Advocate office on Thursday of last week. He had been given a month's vacation by his congregation and was en route to the Seashore Campground, where he will attend the Camp Meeting and the Christian Workers' Conference. Sister Atkinson and his babe were with him. Brother Atkinson is in his fourth year at Crowley, where he has built one of the handsomest churches in Louisiana and has also accomplished a great work in many other respects.

Mr. John Ford House Barbee, of Memphis, Tenn., who this week discusses in the Advocate the recent remarkable Alumni Address of Dr. W. A. Webb at Vanderbilt University, is the youngest son of the late Dr. J. D. Barbee. He is an alumnus of Vanderbilt, and made a speech at an alumni banquet two or three years ago which was the hit of the occasion. As will be seen, he refuses to transfer his affections from the Vanderbilt of McTyeire and Garland to the Carnegiezed institution that bears the same name. Our young friend wields a trenchant and gifted pen.

Dr. W. T. Johnson, of Greenwood, Miss., has sent us the following additional amounts for the North Mississippi Superannuate whom we have been trying to help: J. F. Melton, $1; H. W. May, 50 cents; C. A. Weston, 25 cents. Dr. Johnson states that he visited his brother, Colonel J. M. Johnson, of Acona, Miss., who has been seriously ill for several weeks, on July 7, and found him suffering a good deal. We are sorry to be informed that this splendid Christian gentleman improves so slowly, and we hope that there will be a decided change for the better at an early date.

In a note written from Memphis, Tenn., on the 9th inst, Rev. J. H. Holder, of Pontotoc, Miss., says: "I am here on my way to visit Mrs. Holder, who is in the Cragmont Sanitarium, at Black Mountain, N. C. She is improving, and we are hopeful that she will be able to return home by October 1, with her health completely restored." It gives us much pleasure to chronicle this good news, which we feel sure Sister Holder's many friends will be delighted to receive. Brother Holder will tell our readers something about his work at Pontotoc, which is progressing finely, in the next issue of the Advocate.

Under date of July 12, Rev. C. M. Chapman writes as follows from Rolling Fork, Miss.: "We have closed one of the best revivals in the history of our church here. There were not many here to take into the Church, but up to the present 18 have joined on profession of faith. Rev. S. E. Kirby, of Little Rock, Ark., did the singing and preaching. He is the best help I have ever had in a revival. Our young people were inspired to do real service for the Church. Brother Kirby is available for revival work in Mississippi both as a singer and preacher. For references or dates write him at Brookhaven, Miss., in care of Rev. J. M. Morse."

Rev. R. P. Neblett, of Ripley, Miss., writes: "Dr. J. Y. Murry does not improve. While he is in no pain, he seems to be growing weaker. He rested well last night and upon hearing the bell ringing for Sunday school yesterday morning, he asked that his love be sent to the school and to all the brethren. He appreciates the messages received from friends and has each one read to him." It is with sorrow that we learn that this noble veteran continues to remain so ill, but we are glad to know that he is so beautifully exhibiting the spirit of the Master in the midst of his afflictions. May the richest blessings of the Lord abide with him!

Rev. J. L. Neill, pastor of the First M. E. Church, of Laurel, Miss., writes: "Our work continues to move forward. Especially are we glad that we have been able to make provision for the prompt liquidation of our church debt. Our laymen made a canvass of the church membership early in June and as a result the whole of the $5000 that we owe was made secure in cash and good subscriptions. We are very proud of this achievement in view of the stringency of the times in money matters. We have had new pupils reported in the Sunday school every Sunday since last October without exception. This is the finest continuous record for new pupils that I have ever seen."

Rev. E. N. Broyles, of Durant, Miss., writes: "We have just closed our meeting here. Rev. J. A. Bowen, of Birmingham, Ala., was with us, and I think that the meeting was the best that I have ever been in. Besides 34 accessions, many were converted, workers were developed, and the indications are that the revival will continue through the regular channels of church activity. We are glad that we were able to secure the services of Brother Bowen, for his work was so deep in its nature that we feel sure it will be permanent." Brother Broyles is having a remarkably successful pastorate at Durant, and our congregation there is being steadily strengthened in every way under his efficient ministry. He is one of the most promising young itinerants in Mississippi.

NO LONGER IN OUR CHURCH.

Rev. S. H. Frazier, Deacon, pastor of our church at Bernice for the past year, has withdrawn from the ministry and membership of the M. E. Church, South, and has surrendered his credentials. There is nothing against him. He changed as to his belief in certain ecclesiastical matters and as a necessary result he has changed his church relationship.

BRISCOE CARTER, P. E.,
Ruston Dist., La. Conf.

WANTED, POSITION AS TEACHER OR GOVERNESS.

A Christian young lady, competent and with untiring energy, is anxious to secure a position as teacher or governess. She was educated at Port Gibson Female College. Has had two years' experience with first-grade teacher's license. She is ambitious and would give faithful service. Any one interested may write Rev. J. R. Jones, Meridian, Miss.

DR. H. B. BARTLETT
National Dental Parlors
Cor. Canal & Camp Sts.
ENTRANCE 106 CAMP
Phone Main 2193
NEW ORLEANS
Vitalized Air for Painless Extraction
Crown and Bridge Specialist
The Largest and Best Equipped Dental Parlors South.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE
DIRECT TRAINS TO
New York
Cincinnati
Birmingham
PULLMAN SLEEPERS, DINING CARS.
The Scenic Route
TICKET OFFICE:
211 ST. CHARLES STREET.
Depot, Terminal Station, Canal St.
Phone, Main 2939.

—THE—
Louisiana & Arkansas
RAILWAY
Announces the sale by its Ticket Agents at——
Alexandria, Shreveport, Winnfield, Minden, Sibley, Cotton Valley, Trout, Jena, and Jonesville, Louisiana,
——OF——
INTERCHANGEABLE THOUSAND MILE BOOKS
Good on All Roads in Louisiana.
Save Money by buying one of these Books.
B. S. ATKINSON,
General Passenger Agent.

FRECKLES
Now Is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots
There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as the prescription othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.
Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from any druggist and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.
Be sure to ask for the double strength othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

BOHNE & WILT, Booksellers and Stationers, 1328 Dryades St., New Orleans, La. Baseball Goods, Religious Articles, Fishing Tackle, Periodicals, School Books.

HOW TO HOLD BOYS AND GIRLS OVER THIRTEEN.

Rev. B. F. Lewis.

Up to within the present decade, the one phase of Sunday school work which has occupied more attention than any other, has been, "How can we hold the boys and girls in the Sunday school after they reach the age of thirteen?" Pastors have written on it; Sunday school superintendents have deliberated on it; presiding elders have discoursed concerning it, and Bishops have pronounced upon it. Each has had his theory. In all that has been said something good has been found; yet there has been ever present an intuitive feeling that the great problem had not been satisfactorily solved. The present Sunday school movement, with its adapted equipment, comes nearer solving this vexing problem than anything yet said or offered. The most optimistic Sunday school worker is not prepared to say, however, that the last word has been uttered. They do say that they firmly believe they are on the trail of a solution. At least three things must be kept in mind in dealing with this situation.

1. Classification. Such pupils cannot be dropped into just any class, regardless of fitness. In our public schools one thing controls classification—scholarship. This condition is absolute. But in the Sunday school, while there are certain regulations governing the classifying of all pupils, and while the wise superintendent will not vary from these regulations except in cases of necessity, no wise superintendent will enforce them rigidly, especially among the older pupils, and more especially during the "critical age." If pupils have been in the school a year or more, the question of classification settles itself by promotion. But it is with the new pupil we have to deal gently. With them, two things must be considered:

(a) Companionship. "The gang spirit" is at its height at this age. Queer fancies and strange animosities control both boys and girls, but especially boys, at this age, and these may be real or imaginary. To the boy, they are one and the same. The girl is often unreasonable. It is folly to attempt to place a new boy in the same class with a boy with whom he has "had a falling out," whether the cause was reasonable or fancied. Prejudices are like cast-iron here. They cannot be ignored. I do not mean to intimate that the superintendent should be governed by the whims of every boy or girl who comes into the Sunday school. By no means. There are classification regulations, and it is better at times to adhere to these regulations strictly, though a boy is occasionally lost, than to lower the standard of the whole school, and possibly weaken its authority. The school should not be brought to the level of the boy, but the boy should be put in the line of development to the level of the school. Very few instances will be found during a long term of service, where the superintendent will be called upon to take such an arbitrary course. Some means can be found for considering the feelings of the boy, and yet maintaining the integrity of the school.

(b) Adaptability. Further, the pupil's intellectual and physical development and spiritual attainments must be considered. For illustration, it would be folly to place a very dull boy in a class composed of very bright ones, if it could be avoided. The dull boy would become embarrassed and quit. Likewise, it would be equally unwise to classify a bright pupil with those who are mentally sluggish. He would become disgusted and drop out.

Sometime since, in classifying students, a superintendent put a boy in a class where his size and age naturally placed him; it was not long before the fact was brought to the attention of the superintendent that mentally this boy was far ahead of all the pupils in the class and was restless under it. At once he was removed and placed in a class two years removed from that in which the age limit placed him. The action of the superintendent was universally approved.

MRS. M. F. LOVEJOY DEAD.

Dear Dr. Meek: On the morning of July 3, in Washington, D. C., my youngest sister, Mrs. M. F. Lovejoy, fell on sleep. Mildred was the youngest daughter of Rev. J. L. Forsyth, for fifty years a member of the Mississippi Conference. The passing of my sister leaves but two of a family of seven children living—Mrs. M. E. Melson, of Baton Rouge, and myself. Mrs. Lovejoy taught for a time in Whitworth College, under Dr. H. F. Johnson, and in the Wesleyan Female College at Macon, Ga. Later she was appointed to a position under the Civil Service of the U. S. Government in the free delivery department of the Post-Office, where for thirty years she wrought. Many friends, both in Mississippi and Louisiana will be interested in this announcement, for she had a large circle of friends in both States. She was laid to rest in Washington, D. C.

With a sad heart, your brother,
W. G. FORSYTH.
Edwards, Miss.

ONE BOX CURES THREE.
Jessie W. Scott, Milledgeville, Ga., writes: "I suffered with an eruption for years and one box of Tetterine cured me and two of my friends. It is worth its weight in gold." Tetterine quickly relieves skin diseases including Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Acne, Blackheads, also best remedy known for itching piles. 50c at druggists, or by mail from Shuptrine Co., Savannah, Ga.

NOTICE.

Rev. Thos. H. Mills, formerly of South Side Church at Corinth, Miss., is now located at Ruleville, Miss., from which place he is serving what we will call at present Quiver Mission, a considerable territory along Quiver River. Our district conference subscribed $200 for this work and asked the elder to put a man on the job. Brother Mills accepted the work and is there depending on the friends of Methodism to support him. All contributions should be sent to Mr. J. R. Bingham, Carrollton, Miss.,

BEN. P. JACO.

SHALL WE GO BACK TO THE BLUE BACK SPELLER?

Recently the argument has been made that our schools should adopt the Blue Back speller as the text book on this subject. This argument is based upon the contention that boys and girls trained in the old field school, where this renowned book was the text, were more efficient in spelling than those now being trained in the schools. It would be just as reasonable to argue that the farmer should discontinue the use of modern machines on the ground that the field does not yield as much grain as the same field did when simpler tools were used in its cultivation.

The lack of efficiency in the modern school is due to other causes. The old field school was in charge of a man who was usually the master of the situation, and required his pupils to master a few subjects thoroughly. Its modern successor is frequently in charge of a young girl who does her best to get her pupils to do something in two or three times as many subjects, and the result is that none are mastered. The pupils in this way acquire the habit of doing poor and careless work, and they are fortunate if they ever get such habits cured.

Our boys should be trained to master themselves first, and then to master thoroughly whatever subjects they study, and the school should not undertake to do more than it can do well. We need intensive cultivation in the school room as well as in the fields.

Parents wishing to place their boys where they can get such training should write to Jas. A. Peoples, Principal of the Peoples-Tucker School, Springfield, Tenn., for information.—Advertisement.

YOUR BOY'S TRAINING.

R. K. MORGAN,
Principal Morgan School, Fayetteville, Tenn.

A man to whom you may trust your boy with absolute confidence is Mr. Robert K. Morgan, principal of the Morgan School, Fayetteville, Tennessee.

During the past twenty-five years, Mr. Morgan has built up this training school for boys, around his own long experience, and his study of boy nature and of the problems of giving the boy the mental preparation, physical well-being and spiritual strength for an honorable, manly, successful life. He has chosen his faculty, equipped his school, and ordered its conduct, with this one purpose in view.

Mr. Morgan is a graduate of the Webb School, Bellbuckle, Tenn., and the Vanderbilt University. He is a man of strong, wholesome personality and deep Christian character—an inspiration to every boy who comes under his care. His close personal relations with his boy students, his attention to their work, their talents, their special needs, have given his school a position of high distinction. The citizens of Fayetteville have recently presented him with a $15,000 building as an addition to his school.

A request to Mr. L. I. Mills, Secretary, Morgan School, Fayetteville, Tenn., will bring a catalogue and full information of this school.

"It is the mission of the Church to give the whole gospel to the whole world."

"You can't take your money to heaven with you, but you can send it on ahead of you."

Learn Shorthand
By Mail in 30 Days at my Expense
Send no money. Get my free lessons. I do not claim to fit you for a position in thirty days. Nobody can do that. But with my system, you can learn to write in Shorthand with very little effort. That first instruction is absolutely free. Then, if you wish to take further instruction, I will give you a positive guarantee to refund your money at the end of a specified time if you are not entirely satisfied. Could anything be fairer?
I have taught shorthand for many years. I have taught a dozen different systems. These include nearly all the new and so-called "simple" systems. But I went back to the original Pitman System—and improved on it. I now teach the Pratt-Pitmanic System, and I want to prove to you, at my expense, that it is the best. My great success is due to a new and original method of instruction by mail.
Positions at Good Salaries
Shorthand is a great advantage to everybody. For a young man or woman there is nothing equal to it. It will give you a start in life and an opportunity for rapid advancement. Many of my students have secured splendid positions. The demand for stenographers is increasing. You are practically certain to get a satisfactory salary if you take my course in shorthand. Become a court stenographer or fit yourself for other high class positions.
Free Typewriter Instruction
Every one of my students can have a course in typewriting absolutely free. If you do not own a typewriter, I will rent you one for six months for $10; or for $30 I will sell you a rebuilt visible machine that I cannot tell from a new $100 machine.
If you are ambitious and in earnest and really want to learn shorthand, send at once for FREE Lessons. A postal card will do. Simply say: "Send free lessons."
E. D. PRATT 1008 Pratt Bldg. CHICAGO

From the Field.

South Side, Meridian.

Our church has made some advance recently in spiritual things, as I see it. In the meeting just closing some 20 accessions to the church, with a deepening of spiritual fervor and a quickened activity, are some of the visible results. The pastor did all the preaching and the congregation was very patient and gave him the best of help. The pastor and family were surprised the second week by a large and gracious shower of good things to eat—a full supply of groceries. The last night of the meeting we were very agreeably surprised by being presented on part of the congregation with a large purse as an offering from them, but the best thing I shall mention is that some hardened sinners were really saved and some boys and girls gave their lives to Jesus. To our blessed Lord be all the praise. Yours in Christ.—A. M. Broadfoot, P. C.

Iuka, Miss.

The work at Iuka moves on smoothly. Our Sunday school enrollment and attendance are more than one-third larger than formerly. Our Woman's Missionary Society has over 40 members, and is one of the best. The Ruth Neblett Missionary Society of 18 young women and our Juvenile Missionary Society of 15 members are both doing well. Iuka has a woman's weekly prayer-meeting forty years old. They have not failed to meet weekly in these forty years. Iuka is a summer resort, and people are coming and going daily. The managers of the Mineral Springs Hotel declare that there shall be no dancing or card playing there this year. This is an ideal resort for Christian people, and for the sick.....We began a revival meeting June 13, and closed on June 21. Rev. L. M. Lipscomb, of Booneville, did the preaching. Each of his sermons was great, and each succeeding one linked beautifully into the preceding one, leading up all the while toward the goal. They were profound, eloquent, yet beautifully simple. Brother Lipscomb understands the art of clothing great thoughts in simple terms in common use. He is apt in illustration and has tremendous driving power. This series of sermons, I am sure, was the greatest I ever heard. Lipscomb is a truly great preacher.....Rev. J. H. Mitchell, our presiding elder, came on July 4 to hold our third quarterly conference. He preached two strong, helpful sermons—one on Sunday at 11 a.m., and the other at night. This is the third time it has been my good fortune to serve in Brother Mitchell's district. He is a good presiding elder, careful, painstaking and thoughtful in the administration of the affairs of the Church. Nothing escapes him. He is as gentle as a woman and as firm as Gibraltar. The old-time power is still with him. Brother W. M. McIntosh returned home last Saturday from Texas, where he has spent several months in successful evangelistic services. He will rest a few days at home before he undertakes another campaign. He is full of fire and ready the instant the fire alarm sounds to go. He is an inspiration and help to the church here.—W. D. McCullough.

"You might as well try to cure smallpox by scenery as to save the world by improvement of environment."

"If we have not enough in our religion to drive us to share it with all the world, it is doomed here at home."

LOUISIANA EPWORTH LEAGUE CONFERENCE.

The Louisiana State Epworth League Conference held its annual session in the First Methodist Church of New Orleans, June 17-20. The Leaguers were welcomed to the city in a few well-chosen words by Dr. Edw. L. King. The response was given by Mr. B. J. Reomer of Shreveport. Rev. W. F. Quillan, of Nashville, Tenn., gave an inspiring message on "Our Conference Ideal," the elements of our ideal being as follows: Loyalty, Energy, Activity, Grit, Union, Enthusiasm. The summing up of the initial letters spell the word League, that which we really are.

The morning and afternoon sessions were devoted to institute work in the departments of the League, Brother Quillian leading. The Leaguers manifested their interest by asking questions and offering suggestions as to how to overcome difficulties that had been encountered in their Leagues.

A splendid feature of the Conference was the noonday lunches given by the local Leaguers in the social hall of First Church. These were immensely enjoyed by all.

The following officers were elected to serve for the year 1915-1916:

President, J. D. Saint, New Orleans; First Vice President, R. O. Coorpender, Alexandria; Second Vice President, Miriam Atkins, Shreveport; Third Vice President, Sophie Kuntz, New Orleans; Fourth Vice President, H. L. Johns, Baton Rouge; Treasurer, R. C. Feagin, Lake Charles; Epworth Era Agent, A. D. Carpenter, Slidell; Junior League Superintendent, Mrs. R. H. Harper, New Orleans; Superintendent Knights of Ezelah, J. O. Gibson, Shreveport; Field Secretary, Frances Brasher, Alexandria.

The new cabinet met in an informal session with Rev. W. E. Thomas our Conference President, and held a regular love feast and pledged themselves to work strenuously for the advancing of Epworth League work throughout the State during the year before them. Each member of the cabinet believes in the power of prayer and will attempt nothing without God's help. They want the cooperation of every pastor and Epworth Leaguer to make the State work prosper.

The outlook is fine for an advance along all lines of the work. May we meet in Alexandria next year with reports showing that we have lived up to our motto, "All For Christ!"

X. X.

EVERY MARRIED COUPLE

and all who contemplate marriage should own this complete book of Life—The "Common Sense Medical Adviser," by R. V. Pierce, M. D. It unfolds the secrets of married happiness, so often revealed too late. No book like it to be had at any price. Sold formerly for $1.50. We can only mention a few of the chapters here: The Mechanism of Life, History of Marriage, Advice for Mother and Babe, Nervous Troubles, Sex Hygiene, Anatomy, Physiology, Medicine, etc.

Special Offer—For a limited time we will send one copy for 3 dimes to pay for wrapping and mailing to any reader of this paper. Address 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

MARRIED.

At the home of the bride's parents, in Springfield, La., on May 26, 1915, by Rev. H. C. Murphy, Mr. ELMAN RIGGS and Miss ETTA THREETON.

L&N Louisville & Nashville R. R.

THE DIRECT LINE NORTH AND EAST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED STEEL SLEEPERS
DINING CARS, OBSERVATION CARS, CHAIR CARS

Phone M. 4093. TICKET OFFICE 201 ST. CHARLES STREET

"EXPOSITION LINE"
SOUTHERN PACIFIC — SUNSET ROUTE

ONE FARE
FOR THE
ROUND TRIP
$57.50
TO
California AND THE Expositions

TICKETS ON SALE DAILY

Limited to return within 90 days. Stopover all points enroute. Shortest and quickest route. Two through Steel Trains daily. Oil burning Locomotives. Electric Block Signals. Observation Cars.

Best Dining Car in America

For full information and illustrated catalogue, ask any Southern Pacific Agent or write

W. H. STAKELUM, Div. Pass. Agent, Lake Charles, La.
J. H. R. PARSONS, Gen. Pass. Agent, New Orleans, La.

THE TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY — EL PASO

Make Your Vacation Count!

Two or Three Weeks at

MINERAL WELLS

would almost make a new man of you, and a jolly, pleasant three weeks they would be, too! Low Round Trip Rates Every Day.

CITY TICKET OFFICE, 207 St. Charles Street.

EDENBORN LINE
LOUISIANA RAILWAY & NAVIGATION CO.
THE SHORT LINE :: THE POPULAR ROUTE
BETWEEN
New Orleans :: Baton Rouge : Alexandria : Shreveport
TICKETS ON SALE TO ALL POINTS NORTHWEST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS
Secure Reservations at City Ticket Office
709 GRAVIER STREET, ST. CHARLES HOTEL

Some time when you are tired drinking just ordinary Coffee and feel like drinking "A REAL GOOD CUP OF COFFEE," try a pound of
GUATEMALA BLEND
Just Phone Main 2196 and it will be delivered direct to your residence
GUATEMALA AMERICAN COFFEE CO.
617 CAMP STREET. PHONE MAIN 2196.

You Look Prematurely Old

Because of those ugly, grizzly gray hairs. Use "LA CREOLE" HAIR DRESSING. Price $1.00, retail.

Corns Are Out-of-Date

They Indicate Methods Which Are Obsolete Now

Folks who have corns are folks who pare them, or use liquids, or some other old-time treatment—ways not up-to-date.

Most folks don't keep corns now. When one appears they apply a Blue-jay plaster. The pain stops instantly. In 48 hours the corn disappears forever.

A famous chemist found this way to end corns without pain or soreness. Now millions use it. Fully half the corns that grow are ended as soon as they appear.

There is no excuse for corns. You can't prevent them, maybe, but you can remove them quickly. There will be no lasting corns on any feet when all folks know of Blue-jay.

Blue-jay
Plasters

15 and 25 cents—at Druggists
Samples Mailed Free

Bauer & Black, Chicago and New York
Makers of Physicians' Supplies

NATURALLY FOLLOWS.

Wickedness, unrepented of, estranges from God and fills the heart with despair. It needs no evangel to foretell the doom of the wicked. Science declares it in unmistakable terms. That the same destiny awaits a Nero and an Apostle Paul is not only against revelation, it is repugnant to reason. The gospel does not pronounce the doom of the hopelessly wicked; it only proclaims the destiny which follows the free choice of those "who love darkness rather than light, and because their deeds are evil." Jesus Christ came to save the wicked, not to condemn them.—J. R. Nichols, D. D.

SENT FREE AND PREPAID

to every reader of the New Orleans Christian Advocate, who needs it and writes for it to the Vernal Remedy Company, Buffalo, N. Y., a trial bottle of Vernal Palmettona. Only one small dose a day perfectly and permanently relieves catarrh, flatulence, indigestion and constipation. It clears the liver and kidneys of all congestion and inflammation and takes all irritation from bladder and prostrate gland. Good men and women are wanted as agents for this and other high class articles. Write immediately.—Advertisement.

Pulpit Bibles Largest assortment, finest Bibles at lowest cost. Write to us for full description and prices.
PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO., Inc., LOUISVILLE, KY.

THE GENUINE AND IMPORTED
DR BLAUD'S IRON PILLS
For General Debility, Anemia, Chlorosis, and in the Convalescent Period. Genuine has "Blaud" stamped on each Pill. All Druggists.
E. FOUGERA & CO., Inc., 90 Beekman St., New York.
No increase in Price

Sunday School

LOUISIANA NOTES.

By Rev. P. O. Lowrey.

The Bell City M. E. Church, South, Sunday School was host to a recent Ward Convention of the Calcasieu Parish Sunday School Association. Notwithstanding the meeting was on a week day, there were almost a hundred in attendance from the near-by schools and a good program was rendered. The Convention will be held next year in Hayes.

The Westlake Sunday school enjoyed a rare treat in a recent visit from Mrs. Ira L. Thomas and a group of her young people's Bible class of the Simpson Memorial M. E. Church of Lake Charles. The young people furnished vocal and orchestral music and Mrs. Thomas gave as an inspiring address a resume of the addresses made at the recent Sunday School Convention at Baton Rouge, touching on a number of lines of Sunday school work.

In a recent letter from Rev. T. M. Burgess, of Amite, a missionary in the American Sunday School Union, he says of his work: "I have organized twenty-two Sunday schools, opened three preaching places, held three protracted meetings, and received 48 into the Methodist Church, with 85 to go into the Baptist Church; and I have six meetings yet to be held in out-of-the-way places. We try to reach the heretofore unreached. I am very busy, going all the time, and the Lord is crowning our work with success." Brother Burgess' friends will be glad to know of the prosperity of his work, as he was for several years a traveling preacher in the Louisiana Conference.

The Lake Charles Pastors' Conference has put on foot a plan to observe the last week in September as Sunday school rally week, during which time each of the churches shall have its own program and make a thorough canvass of the town for new Sunday school scholars. During the first part of the week, however, there will be an interdenominational canvass of the town for a Sunday school census, and the information thus gained will be placed in the hands of the workers of each church; and it is planned that before the close of the week every non-Sunday school attendant shall have several invitations to join the school of his choice in some department, from the Cradle Roll to the Home Department. The present plan is for each church to have a week's Sunday school revival from the last Sunday in September to the first Sunday in October—regular rally day. Mr. Van Carter and Miss Susie Juden have been invited to spend as much time in Lake Charles as they can give that week, helping in the general campaign and in the several church programs, and no doubt other speakers of more or less prominence will be invited to help in the several denominational campaigns. Mr. A. M. Mayo, of our Church, was chosen superintendent of the interdenominational part of the work. It occurs to the writer that what Lake Charles is doing, other towns, both small and large, should do. Among the Christian public school and college teachers and successful Sunday school workers good speakers can be found almost everywhere for a program in any department of Sunday school work, and the expense and effort involved need not be very great. The programs with the addresses should include every phase of Sunday school work from the cradle roll to Sunday school management, and following the rally day Sunday a reception should be given to the new scholars enrolled during the week. The writer will be glad to send a suggestive program for such an occasion to any one who wishes it and who will enclose a stamped envelope.

EAT HARRIS' JERSEY ICE CREAM
The CREAM OF QUALITY. Quick Auto Delivery
1300, 1302 DRYADES ST.
Phones Jackson 1080, 1081

HELP YOUR CHURCH.
Write us for details of new plan to raise money for your church debt or current expenses, in dignified and legitimate way. No burden upon your own members. No investment required and no risk to be taken. Truly a co-operative proposition. Already in successful operation in scores of churches throughout the country. Address
CHALLENGE MILLS CORPORATION,
Dept. 6. Washington, D. C.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI NOTES.

Rev. R. H. B. Gladney, Sardis, Miss.

The greater part of July will be spent with the workers in the Aberdeen and Corinth districts.

No, it is not too late to hold Children's Day services. If you can not do all you would like to, do all you can.

Coffeeville has a preacher, superintendent, and teachers working together for a first-class school. In a few weeks they expect to be in the standard class.

Now is the time to get ready for Decision Day. This gives the preacher, the superintendent, the teachers, and each saved member of the church another opportunity to pray for and urge the unsaved to accept Christ.

This is the time of year to push the Home Department. Get it so well organized that it will keep going all the winter. One object of this department is to have Bible study at home; another is to have a family altar. Let us pray and push.

The Ruleville school, under the guiding hand of Mr. R. S. Parker, is making the finest kind of progress in every department. The Teacher-training class has 17 members. It is with joy that this school is registered as the 25th that comes up to the Standard of Efficiency. Who next?

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE NOTES.

By Rev. R. A. Maddox.

What about Children's Day? Did you have it? It is not yet too late.

The Field Secretary has finished his work in the Meridian District with pleasing results, and he has only two more weeks in the Newton District. Then the work will be transferred to the Brookhaven District. I have been away from home too much to write for the Advocate.

Did you get that Teacher-training Class organized for your young people? I think now would be a good time to start it. Everywhere I go I am met with this question, "How can we get teachers?" It seems to me that any one would know that the way is to train them. How does Mississippi get teachers for the public schools? Why, she trains them. What are you doing for the Church and the young people in that line? Please read James, 4th chapter, 17th verse.

I find only about 5 per cent of the Sunday schools using the missionary program given in The Missionary Messenger. The Mississippi Conf. Sunday School Board paid for this publication to be sent to each pastor and superintendent, that our people might have missionary information. Won't you please use this program? Every one says our people need to be "educated." How are they to be "educated" if we do not educate them? The Sunday school is the greatest educational institution the Southern Methodist Church has, and why not use it to educate? It is the place to teach systematic giving, etc. We can never remake or turn back into childhood the adult man that we may train him, but God has blessed us with young life coming on with a fresh crop to train each year; and fifty years from to-day we will still be crying "Our people need to be educated," unless we begin now to train our young people. What is your part in this great work?

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONF.

Durant Dist.—Third Round.

McCool, at Chapel Hill, July 17, 18.
Mathison, at Double Springs, July 31, August 1.
Ackerman, at Ackerman, 10 a. m., July 23.
Chester, at South Union, 3 p. m., July 23.
Hesterville, at Shady Grove, July 24, 25.
Durant, p. m., July 14.
Vaiden, at Vaiden, August 7, 8.
Pickens, at Ebenezer, August 14, 15.
West, at Bowling Green, August 21, 22.
Bellefontaine, at Long Branch, Sat., August 28.
Slate Springs, at Spring Hill, August 29.
Eupora and Maben, at Maben, August 31.
Sidon, at Abiaca, September 5.
Louisville and Rocky Hill, at Louisville, September 11, 12.
Kosciusko Circuit, at Salem, September 18, 19.
Kilmichael, at Salem, Friday, September 24.
Poplar Creek, at Friendship, September 26.

W. S. SHIPMAN, P. E.

No. 666

This is a prescription prepared especially for MALARIA or CHILLS & FEVER. Five or six doses will break any case, and if taken then as a tonic the Fever will not return. It acts on the liver better than Calomel and does not gripe or sicken. 25c

A Nervous Woman Finds Relief From Suffering.

Women who suffer from extreme nervousness, often endure much suffering before finding any relief. Mrs. Joseph Snyder, of Tiffin, O., had such an experience, regarding which she says:

"Six months I was bedfast with nervous prostration. I had sinking spells, a cold, clammy feeling,—could not stand the slightest noise. At times I would almost fly to pieces; stomach very weak. My husband insisted on my taking Dr. Miles' Nervine, and I began to improve before I had finished the first bottle until I was entirely cured."

MRS. JOSEPH SNYDER,
262 Hudson St., Tiffin, Ohio.

Many remedies are recommended for diseases of the nervous system that fail to produce results because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. Dr. Miles' Nervine has proven its value in such cases so many times that it is unnecessary to make claims for it. You can prove its merits for yourself by getting a bottle of your druggist, who will return the price if you receive no benefit.

MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

Ruston Dist.—Third Round.

Elmore, at Wesley, July 16.
Simsboro, at Salem, July 23.
Haughton, at Doyline, July 24, 25.
District Conf., at Plain Dealing, July 26, 29.
Bernice, at Alabama, July 31, Aug. 1.
Blenville, at Burk Place, Aug. 2.
Haynesville, at Colquitt, Aug. 4.
Ringgold, at Rocky Mount, Aug. 7, 8.
Cotton Valley, at Spring Hill, Aug. 9.
Sibley, at Evergreen, Aug. 14, 15.
Plain Dealing, at Walkers', Aug. 17.
Minden, Aug. 21, 22.
Winnfield, Aug. 23.
Arcadia, Aug. 25.
Jonesboro, Aug. 28, 29.
Rutson, Sept. 6.

BRISCOE CARTER, P. E.

Alexandria Dist.—Third Round.

Melville, at Melville, 11 a. m., July 17, 18.
Bunkie, at Bunkie, 8 p. m., July 18.
Campti, at Clarance, 8 p. m., July 21.
Colfax, at Mntogomery, 8 p. m., July 22.
Selma, 11 a. m., July 25.
Jena, 8 p. m., July 25.
Boyce, at Campground, July 31.
Longville, at Fields, August 5.
Merryville, August 6.
Bon Aml, at Carson, August 8.
Pineville, August 12.
Hopewell, on DeRidder Mission, August 15.
Glenmora, at Oberlin, August 22.
Provincal, at Provincal, 8 p. m., August 24.
Harrisonburg, August 29.
Standard, 8 p. m., September 2.
Natchitoches, September 5.
Preaching at Campti, 8 p. m., September 5.
Eden, 8 p. m., Setember 9.
Alexandria, September 12.

H. W. MAY, P. E.

Lafayette Dist.—Third Round.

Jennings, July 17, 18.
Lake Arthur, July 18, 19.
Houma, at Bourg, July 24, 25.
Lafourche, July 25, 26.
Gueydan and Abbeville, at Gueydan, July 31, August 1.
Eunice, at Iota, August 1, 2.
Crowley, August 7, 8.
Lafayette, August 8, 9.
New Iberia, August 14, 15.
Vermilion, at Perry, August 15, 16.
Lake Charles, August 21, 22.
Bell City, at West Lake, August 22, 23.
French Mission, at Port Barre, August 28, 29.
Rayne, September 4, 5.
Indian Bayou, September 5, 6.
Acadia, at Prudhomme, September 11, 12.
Sulphur and Vinton, at Vinton, September 18, 19.
Evangeline, at Ville Platte, September 25, 26.
Washington and Chicot, at Bethel, September 26, 27.
Franklin, Wednesday, September 29.

JAMES J. HOFFPAUIR, P. E.
Indian, Bayou, La.

Shreveport Dist.—Third Round.

Greenwood, at Summer Grove, July 17, 18.
Queensborough, July 18, 21.
Ida, at Hosston, July 24, 25.
Preach at Texas Avenue, 8 p. m., July 25.
Pelican, at Bethel, July 31, August 1.
Pleasant Hill, at Robelline, Aug. 1, 2.
Noble, at Bayou Scie, Aug. 7, 8.
Many, at New Hope, Aug. 8, 9.
Cedar Grove, Aug. 11.
Bossier City, Aug. 13.
Logansport, Aug. 14, 15.
Longstreet, at Longstreet, Aug. 15, 16.
Conference at Texas Avenue, Aug. 18.
Anacoco, at Hornbeck, Aug. 21, 22.
Zwolle, Aug. 22, 23.
Bayou Lachute, at Taylortown, Aug. 25.
South Mansfield, at South Mansfield, Aug. 28, 29.
Mansfield, Aug. 29, 30.
First Church, Shreveport, Sept. 1 and 5.
Grand Cane, at Kelthville, Sept. 5, 6.
Leesville, Sept. 19.
Mooringsport, Sept. 21.
Vivian, Sept. 22.
Wesley, Sept. 25, 26.
Coushatta, Sept. 26, 27.
J. S. Noel, Jr., Memorial, Sept. 29.

WM. H. COLEMAN, P. E.

Monroe Dist.—Third Round.

Calhoun, July 18.
Bonita, at Bartholomew, July 25.
Bastrop, at Collinston, July 26.
Waterproof, at Wesley, Aug. 1.
Winnohow, at Boeuf Prairie, Aug. 8.
Brooklyn, at B., Aug. 10.
Mangham, at Little Creek, Aug. 14, 15.
Rayville, p. m., Aug. 15.
Sicily Island, at Clayton, Aug. 16.
Oak Grove, at Midway, Aug. 20.
Tallulah, at Bayou Videl, Aug. 22.
Gilbert, at Holly Grove, Aug. 29.
Farmerville, at F., Sept. 1.
Lake Providence, Sept. 5.
Monroe, Sept. 6.
West Monroe, Sept. 12.

WM. SCHUHLE, P. E.

Baton Rouge Dist.—Third Round.

Baker, at Blackwater, July 18.
Clinton, at Clinton, July 18, 19.
Hammond, July 25.
Ponchatoula, at Lee's Landing, July 26.
Springfield, at Huffs, July 28, 29.
Tangipahoa, at Chesbrough, July 31, Aug. 1.
Kentwood, Aug. 1, 2.
Greensburg, at Day's, Aug. 4.
Amite, Aug. 5.
Franklinton Ct., at Varnado, Aug. 7, 8.
Franklinton and Zona, Aug. 9.
Keener Memorial, Aug. 12.
Covington, at Mandeville, Aug. 14, 15.
St. Francisville, at Wilhelm, Aug. 21, 22.
Zachary, at Slaughter, Aug. 23.
Wilson, Aug. 28, 29.
Baton Rouge, First Church, Aug. 30.

To all the pastors in the district: This round of quarterly conferences will be crowded, as the elder has been kept out of the district some time owing to his wife's illness; but we trust that each charge will be well to the front with their work. Keep in mind that the year is shorter and that we have less time to put in.

H. W. BOWMAN, P. E.

Religious Papers Look Into Pellagra Remedy.

J. B. Keough, a special investigator appointed by the Religious Press Advertising Syndicate to look into the merits of Baughn's Pellagra Treatment of Jasper, Ala., reports that there is no doubt this new treatment cures pellagra. He says he has satisfied himself that the company has cured hundreds of cases of pellagra and that in the few cases where the medicine has been taken too late to effect a cure, the money has been refunded.

This company has issued an important book on the treatment of pellagra in which they show that they can cure pellagra and also agree to refund every cent in case they do not cure the disease. If you have pellagra, why suffer longer when this real cure is at hand. Write for the booklet today. Address American Compounding Co., Box 587-X, Jasper, Ala.—Advertisement.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Newton Dist.—Third Round.

Newton and Montrose, at Montrose, July 17, 18.
Shiloh, at Thomasville, Tues., July 20.
Johns, at Puckett, Wed., July 21.
Trenton, at Boykin, Thur., July 22.
Raleigh, at Raleigh, Fri., July 23.
Laurel, Fourteenth Ave., Sat., July 24.
Laurel, 2nd Ave., July 25.
Laurel, First Church, July 25, 26.
Homewood, at High Hill, Sat., July 31.
Forest and Morton, at Forest, August 1, 2.
McDonald, at Hope, August 7, 8.
Leake, at High Hill, Mon., August 9.
Carthage, at Freeny, August 10.
Walnut Grove, at Oak Grove, August 11.
Chunky, at Chunky, August 14, 15.
Lena, at Forkville, Wed., August 18.
Clarkesburg, at Pulaski, August 19.
Harperville, at Conehatta, August 21, 22.
Choctaw Indian Mission, at Jackson's, Tues., August 24.

C. F. EMERY, P. E.

Meridian Dist.—Third Round.

Meridian, Central, July 18, 19.
Meridian, Seventh Avenue, July 18, 19.
Scooba, at Binnsville, July 24, 25.
De Soto, at Adams, July 31.
Pachuta and Quitman, at Porto Rico, August 1.
Matherville, at Poplar Springs, August 7, 8.
Lauderdale, at Marion, August 15, 16.
Meridian, East End, August 15, 16.
Waynesboro Circuit, at Winchester, August 21.
Waynesboro, at Hiroanu, August 22, 23.
Porterville, at Briggs Chapel, August 25.
Daleville, at Bethel, August 29, 30.
Moscow, at Mt. Zion, September 4.
De Kalb, at New Hope, September 5.
Clark, at Oak Grove, September 11.
Enterprise, at Basic City, September 12, 13.
Vimville, September 18, 19.
Meridian, South Side, September 19, 20.

J. T. LEGGETT, P. E.

Our "JITNEY" Offer---This and 5 CENTS

DON'T MISS THIS. Cut out this slip enclose with 5c to Foley and Co., 2843 Sheffield Ave., Dept. R, Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for coughs, colds and croup; Foley Kidney Pills, for pain in sides and back, rheumatism, backache, kidney and bladder ailments; and Foley Cathartic Tablets; a wholesome and thoroughly cleansing cathartic; especially comforting to stout people.

Solving Your Money Troubles.

There is an announcement elsewhere in our columns of the Challenge Mills Corporation of Washington, D. C., inviting correspondence from the Churches of our denomination upon the details of a new plan for raising money for church debts or current expenses.

It is always a problem how to raise the money needed for maintenance and extension, without laying a heavier burden upon those already contributing to the full extent of their ability. The plan of the Challenge Mills Corporation offers the way of accomplishing this, and we suggest to those invested with the task of raising money to write them for the details of their plan.

MILLSAPS COLLEGE, Jackson, Miss.

A. F. WATKINS, President.

A HIGH GRADE COLLEGE

Situated at the Capital of the State. Located high, dry and healthful. Entrance Requirements and Curriculum same as in other leading Colleges and Universities, North and South. The very finest Moral and Religious Influences. Courses leading to A.B., B.S., A.M., M.S. and LL.B. Degrees

MILLSAPS PREPARATORY SCHOOL

Under separate Faculty and Dormitory Management. Unsurpassed Training for College.

MILLSAPS LAW SCHOOL

Offering extraordinary advantages. Superior Faculty; Law Libraries; Accessible to all Courts.

TWENTY-FOURTH SESSION BEGINS SEPTEMBER 15, 1915.

For Catalogue and other Information address

J. REESE LIN, Secretary. Jackson, Miss.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE OF ALABAMA

An A-Grade College offering the special advantage of a beautiful suburban location in Montgomery—a city of rare health, culture and beauty. The health and freedom of the country combine the inspirational and educational incentives of a model city.

57 acres of beautiful campus. Recreation and out-door exercises in Golf, Tennis, Basket Ball, Swimming Pool. Splendid college buildings and equipment. Standard courses, A. B. degree. Home Economics a feature. Strong Conservatory of Music.

One girl from each high school in Ala. given scholarship, reducing cost of tuition. 10 Scholarships for honor graduates in adjoining states.

For Catalogue and View Book, write

M. W. SWARTZ, President, - - - MONTGOMERY, ALA.

RANDOLPH-MACON ACADEMY

For Boys Bedford City, Va.

Offers prompt and thorough preparation for college, scientific school or business life. The liberal endowment of the Randolph-Macon System, of which this school is a branch, permits of unusually low terms. $255 covers all charges for the school year. No extras. Randolph-Macon boys succeed—6th graduates of this school have received full college degrees or entered professions in the past 18 years. For catalogue and further information, address

E. SUMTER SMITH, Principal

The Memphis Conference Female Institute and College has introduced as a feature of each session educational trips. For next session these trips will be taken to the cities of Memphis and St. Louis.

The school is located in the residence section of the beautiful little city of Jackson, Tenn., with 20,000 population—very convenient to Street Cars, Depots, fine Churches, Government Building, Carnegie Library, etc. The drinking water is considered among the purest of specimens in the world, and there is a wonderful Chalybeate Well within ten minutes walk. Special attention given to health and morals; a safe home boarding school with literary, music and other advantages. Address M. G. Hawkins, Pres., Jackson, Tenn.

TETTERINE CURES PILES.

Every sufferer from Piles ought to read these words from H. S. Hood, Bellaire, Mich.: "For 16 years I had been a sufferer from itching piles. I got a box of Tetterine and less than half the box made a complete cure." Tetterine gives instant relief in all skin diseases such as Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Ground Itch, etc., and constitutes a permanent remedy. 50c at druggist's or by mail from Shuptrine Co., Savannah, Ga.

RUB-MY-TISM

Will cure your Rheumatism Neuralgia, Headaches, Cramps, Colic, Sprains, Bruises, Cuts and Burns, Old Sores, Stings of Insects Etc. Antiseptic Anodyne, used internally and externally. Price 25c.

MORPHINE, Whiskey and TOBACCO

HABITS Treated successfully without shock, without restraint and NO FEE UNLESS CURED. Home or Sanitarium Treatment. "Ask our patients."

CEDARCROFT SANITARIUM

DR. POWER GRIBBLE, Supt., Sta. 6, Box 110 Nashville, Tenn. Tel. Main 1286.

Woman's Missionary Work

Edited by .....Mrs. R. F. Harrell, Centerville, Miss.

Conference Publicity Superintendents:

Louisiana.....Mrs. A. C. McKinney, Ruston, La.
Mississippi .....Mrs. J. L. Neill, Laurel, Miss.
North Mississippi.....Mrs. Walter Campbell, Winona, Miss.

All communications for this department should be sent to the Editor at the address given above.

DURANT DISTRICT MEETING.

A most pleasant and profitable session of the Durant District (North Mississippi) Woman's Missionary Society was held in Durant June 10 and 11. Miss Ellie Willingham, of Eupora, the newly-appointed Secretary, who is both consecrated and capable, presided in a most satisfactory manner. The invitation from the Durant auxiliary was as unlimited as it was cordial, and twenty-two delegates, besides several Conference officers, availed themselves of this opportunity to talk over the work in general and plan for the special work launched at our last Council session—the campaign for increased organizations and membership.

The reports made by the representatives of the auxiliaries were encouraging. The women of this district are not a whit behind those of other districs in lending a helping hand whenever it is needed. All sorts of activities claim their attention, whether it is sending the Gospel to the far-off nations or social service to their own communities; so it was not surprising that eight women volunteered to help the Secretary organize auxiliaries in their adjacent territory. Some of the auxiliaries were not able to send delegates from their membership, but sent their pastors, who expressed in more ways than one their hearty sympathy with the woman's work and their promises of assistance were thankfully received.

Dr. Meek, of the Advocate, surprised us with a flying visit. Rev. W. S. Shipman, presiding elder of the Durant District; Rev. E. N. Broyles, pastor of the local church; Rev. V. C. Curtis, of Lexington; Rev. T. L. Oakes, of McCool; Rev. Mr. Simpson, of Pickens, and several of the local laymen were untiring in their attendance and attentions. Mrs. Vic Thompson Hoyle, the Conference President; Mrs. J. W. Conger, First Vice-President; Mrs. T. W. Woodward, Second Vice-President; Miss Louise Dunstan, Corresponding Secretary, and Mrs. Walter Campbell, Superintendent of Mission Study and Publicity, were present and conducted institutes on their respective departments, while Mrs. Conger addressed the young people on Thursday night, and Mrs. Hoyle on Friday night gave the most enjoyable and stirring address of the whole session, using for her subject the work of the Council, paying special attention to the rescue and preventive work and appealing to the young people to consecrate their time, talents and means to this work. All signs point to a wonderful advance in this district as a result of the two days' communion together.—Mrs. Walter Campbell.

"THE IRON CROSS."

The prize of $100 offered by the Christian Women's Peace Movement for the best short story embodying Christian ideals of peace has been awarded to a man—James Church Alvord, of Littleton, Mass. It will be issued immediately in popular form at ten cents a copy and may be ordered from M. H. Leavis, West Medford, Mass. The title is "The Iron Cross," and it is a real story, not a tract or a sermon. It has a powerful plot, life-like characters and dramatic incidents. The motive of the story is reminiscent of "The Servant in the House," but the originality in setting and plot places it in a class by itself. While it is a startling indictment of war, it furnishes the noblest motive for peace, and the author's keen sense of spiritual values gives an arresting power that grips the imagination and challenges the conscience.—Published by request of the Central Committee on the United Study of Foreign Missions.

SEASHORE ASSEMBLY FOR CHRISTIAN WORKERS, JULY 22-AUGUST 2.

Those who have attended this assembly during past years can testify to its instructiveness as well as to the wonderful inspiration gained from its sessions. This year special emphasis is being placed upon missions and two whole days will be devoted to discussions upon its many phases.

There will be addresses by several prominent women. Mrs. Luke Johnson, of Gainesville, Ga., who for so many years was untiring in her efforts to place the publicity work of our organization upon a sure foundation, will delight both young and old, for she is a woman so well versed in the affairs of our great missionary work that she is well fitted to speak upon any phase of it.

Mrs. S. S. Harris will be another distinguished guest. She is so filled with love and enthusiasm for her work that she holds the attention of her hearers and her words grip the hearts of her audiences so strongly that they are not soon forgotten. Her work in China has been eminently successful.

You will also have an opportunity of hearing Miss Linnie Barcroft, of our Mississippi Conference. From her you will gather valuable missionary information, for she was one of our representatives to Mexico City until the disturbed conditions there forced her to return home. Miss Mary Moore will conduct an Institute hour and Miss Hasler will tell of the work at the Biloxi Wesley House. You are sure to receive an invitation to visit her, and don't fail to accept it, for you will see for yourself what a splendid work she and her helpers are accomplishing in that cannery district.

Each evening the vesper services will be conducted by Rev. Foster Gambie, of Songdo, Korea. Mrs. Geo. S. Sexton, of Shreveport, and Mrs. R. H. Harper, of New Orleans, will also be on the program. These women need no introduction to our Louisiana membership, for their fame has spread throughout the State.

July 28 and 29 are the dates for this special feature of the Assembly. Make your plans to take your vacation at that time. If you cannot stay through the entire session, do not miss these two days. They will furnish you with spiritual food for the rest of the year and so fill you with enthusiasm for the work that you will be able to return to your homes and kindle fires there in hearts that have grown cold and indifferent.

This is a wonderful opportunity and we urge our women to grasp it. Those who cannot go should urge others to do so. Let us try to have a large crowd of consecrated women and young people present at this Workers' Conference and let us pray that God's spirit will be among them, so that the promoters of the Assembly may feel that this session is the very best ever held; and may many of the young people be led to volunteer for special service in the Master's vineyard.

To Drive Out Malaria
And Build Up The System
Take the Old Standard GROVE'S TASTELESS chill TONIC. You know what you are taking, as the formula is printed on every label, showing it is Quinine and Iron in a tasteless form. The Quinine drives out malaria, the Iron builds up the system. 50c.

TRINITY COLLEGE
FOUNDED 1838 CHARTERED 1859
A Christian college steadfast in its fidelity to its highest ideals and noblest traditions. Among the few well endowed Southern institutions of learning A large faculty of thoroughly trained and wisely chosen teachers. Excellent new buildings, beautiful and large campus. Modern laboratories and fine library.
Classical and scientific courses leading to the bachelor's degree. Graduate courses in all departments. Schools of Engineering, Education and Law.
Special attention given in the Biblical Department to the wise training of young ministers.
For catalogue and illustrated booklet address
R. L. FLOWERS,
Secretary to the Corporation, Durham, North Carolina.

ROCHE'S HERBAL EMBROCATION FOR HOOPING-COUGH
The Celebrated Effectual Remedy Without Internal Medicine. OR CROUP
For 120 years this Remedy has met with continued and growing popularity.
BRONCHITIS, LUMBAGO and RHEUMATISM
are also Quickly Relieved by a Few Applications.
W. Edwards & Son, 157 Queen Victoria St., London, England.
All Druggists, or E. FOUGERA & CO., Inc., 90 Beekman St., N. Y.

I chatter, chatter, as I flow,
To join the brimming river;
For men may come and men may go,
But I go on forever.

Drink Coca-Cola
The Standard Beverage
Imitations of COCA-COLA come and go—none last more than a few seasons. This has been going on for 29 years—yet COCA-COLA, unchanged in name or self, keeps its old friends and makes new ones.
Demand the genuine by the full name that has inspired so many imitations.
THE COCA-COLA CO.
ATLANTA, GA.
Whenever you see an Arrow, think of Coca-Cola
4-R

TRY THE OLD RELIABLE
WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC
For MALARIA CHILLS & FEVER
A FINE GENERAL STRENGTHENING TONIC

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
A toilet preparation of merit. Helps to eradicate dandruff.
For Restoring Color and Beauty to Gray or Faded Hair.
50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.
HINDERCORNS Removes Corns, Callouses, etc., stops all pain, ensures comfort to the feet, makes walking easy. 15c. by mail or at Druggists. Hiscox Chemical Works, Patchogue, N. Y.

EMORY UNIVERSITY NOTES.

A. Richard Bliss, Jr., Ph. D., M. D., of Birmingham, Ala., has been elected Professor of Pharmacology in the medical department of Emory University. Dr. Bliss is a man of thorough scholarship and successful experience. As an educator, he is a distinct acquisition to the teaching force of the Medical School. Heretofore he has been Dean of the School of Pharmacy in the Birmingham Medical College. He was educated in Columbia University and at the Johns Hopkins University. Writing to the Chancellor of Emory University, Bishop Candler, Dr. Wm. J. Gies of Columbia says: "Dr. Bliss is an earnest and able student, particularly interested in the subjects of Pharmacology and Chemistry. I have followed his professional career with interest and satisfaction, having noted his success in the University of Alabama both as a teacher and an author." Dr. B. F. Loveless says of him: "I was associated with Dr. Bliss for a time at the University of Alabama and know him to be a man of energy, enthusiasm and thoroughness, and of pleasing personal qualities." A leading physician of Birmingham writes: "We should regret exceedingly to lose him from Birmingham, but I believe he is just the kind of man you are looking for. Dr. Bliss is a man of pleasing address, inspires his students with a great deal of enthusiasm and I might say is the favorite and the hero of his faculty." Dr. Bliss is a member of our Highlands Church of Birmingham.

* * * *

Daily contributions of great value are made to the library and museum of the Candler School of Theology of Emory University. A few days ago a splendid specimen of Japanese armor was sent by a missionary recently returned from Japan. It is the most ancient form and illustrates the military life of the part of Japanese history to which it belongs.

On last Saturday Bishop Candler received from Bishop Key of Sherman, Texas, and extremely rare volume of steel engraved portraits of Methodist celebrities of the first fifty years of American Methodism. It is the gift of Mrs. O. A. Barry and is sent to the University through Bishop Key. On the fly-leaf of this rare and costly volume is this inscription by Mrs. Barry:

"This collection of portraits of the first Methodist divines has been in the Barry family since ante-bellum times. It was handed down to the present generation (to the late Osgood Andrew Barry, formerly of Cuthbert, Ga.,) by his father, Judge George La Vallon Barry, a native of Kent County, Maryland, and also a resident of Georgia. Judge Barry was a stanch old Southern gentleman and his patriotism evidently extended even to his religion. He looked over this collection of portraits, marked the abolitionists with a capital "A" and placed a cross by them. This collection is presented to the Methodist Memorial Collection by Mrs. O. A. Barry, wife of the late Osgood Andrew Barry, who spent the major portion of her life in Georgia, and who has been a Methodist, as was her husband, since childhood."

* * *

The Building Committee of the Board of Trustees of Emory University met in Atlanta on Thursday, July 8, to consider the lay-out of the grounds and the plans for buildings to be erected during the coming year. Work on the new buildings will begin at an early day. The grounds are said to be susceptible of the finest landscape treatment. The architect having it in charge, Mr. Henry Hornbostle of New York, says: "Nothing better in America. The campus can be made at comparatively small cost a paradise of beauty."

Bethel College
FOR WOMEN
Chartered 1855.

OFFERS to a limited number of girls splendid advantages at a very moderate cost. Delightfully situated. Seven acres of wooded campus. Distinctly Christian and homelike in atmosphere. Opportunity to hear notable musical attractions. Autumn trip to Mammoth Cave. Easily accessible. Seventy miles north of Nashville. Preparatory and College work, leading to B. S. and A. B. degrees with Junior College Arts Diploma. Music, Art, Expression and Domestic Science. All kinds of Athletics.

For full information, catalogue, and beautiful view book, address

President W. S. Peterson,
Box E, Hopkinsville, Ky.

The Fitzgerald and Clarke School.
TALLAHOMA, TENN.

Graduates enter every University in the United States (except five) without examination. The School is located on the edge of the Cumberland Mountains, 1070 feet above sea level. Excellent Dormitory, Gynasium, and Library. All that we ask is that you write for our catalog. Address Box 343.

Safe and Home like MERIDIAN COLLEGE Careful Supervision

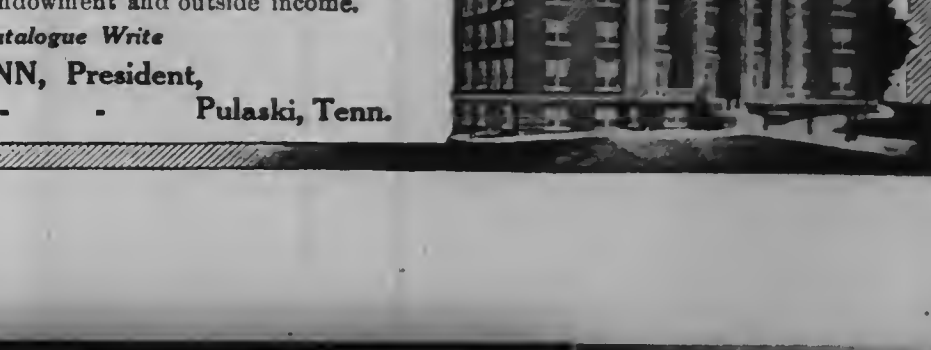
In the Health-Giving Pine Hills of Mississippi

A select Private College with Preparatory and College courses. Commercial Course. Modern Buildings and equipments; beautiful 60-acre campus and recreation grounds; fish ponds, swimming pools. Fine Athletics. An ideal home school for boy or girl, where they are looked after morally, mentally and physically with the best of Christian home influence and care. A large well equipped Conservatory of Music, Oratory and Art. Also Domestic Science and Teacher's Training, and Summer Course. Write for illustrated catalog No. 108

J. W. BEESON, A. M., LL. D., - - MERIDIAN, MISS.

Randolph-Macon Woman's College
Lynchburg, Va. One of the leading colleges for women in the United States, offering courses for A. B. and A. M.; also Music and Art. Four laboratories, library, astronomical observatory, new and modern residence halls. Scientific course in physical development. $20,000 gymnasium with swimming pool; large athletic field. Fifty acres in college grounds. Healthful climate free from extremes of temperature. Endowment, recently increased by $250,000, makes possible very moderate charges. Officers and instructors, 60; students, 610, from 35 states and foreign countries. For catalogue and book of views illustrating student life address

WILLIAM A. WEBB, President, Box



Established 1894

BLACKSTONE COLLEGE FOR GIRLS
JAMES CANNON, Jr., A. M., D. D., President.

Faculty of 33; 427 Students, from 20 States.
Accredited by Virginia State Board of Education. Hundreds of graduates now teaching.

$160 per year in Academic Dept.; $200 per year in College Dept.

The Leading Training School for Girls in Virginia

Where can parents find a College with as fine a record, with as experienced management, at such moderate cost? For catalogue address

E. P. ADAMS, Secretary, BLACKSTONE, VA.

Martin College Pulaski, Tennessee.

A TIME HONORED AND IMPROVED COLLEGE FOR GIRLS AND YOUNG WOMEN. OPENS ITS 45TH YEAR SEPTEMBER 15, 1915.

A school devoted to the Cultural as well as the Practical Arts. A congeniality between faculty and student body that makes for ideal home life. Located in a college town of picturesque beauty and wholesome moral and physical influences.

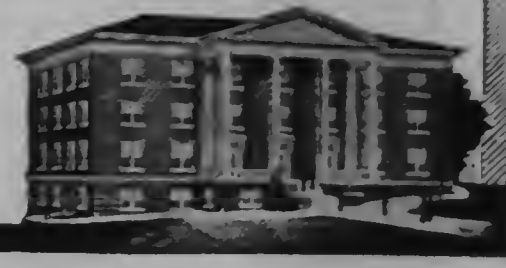
Work arranged to fit the girl for home duties as well as advanced studies. Following departments: Preparatory; Junior College (two years); Piano; Stringed Instruments; Voice, Expression Art; Domestic Science and Art; Normal Course and Commercial. Practical and fundamental instruction in each.

New $40,000 dormitory. Campus covering an entire city block affording ample room for all out-door sports. Able faculty. High standards. Modern equipment.

Rates made low through endowment and outside income.

For Free Catalogue Write

W. T. WYNN, President,
Box J, - - - - Pulaski, Tenn.



HOW EASY IT WAS TO INFLUENCE SIX GIRLS TO MANSFIELD COLLEGE!

BY A BUSY PASTOR IN LOUISIANA.

"Decided that Mansfield was the best college for girls in Louisiana. Boosted the College in my own charge and in holding revivals. Armed myself with lots of 'Bobbitt's Blarney' (catalogues). Went carefully through the Catalogue with parents and girls. Answered all objections. Phoned for President Bobbitt, who came at once and landed the students in a jiffy. I did no more than every pastor can do in the Louisiana Conference. Try it, brethren."

EMORY UNIVERSITY

An institution Founded, Owned and Controlled by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

The University offers at present courses leading to degrees in the following departments:

1.—The School of Liberal Arts—Emory College—offers courses in English, Spanish, French, German, Greek, Latin, Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Biology, Mental and Moral Science, History, Political Economy and Biblical Literature, leading to the usual literary degrees. This department has a library of 40,000 bound volumes.

2.—The School of Theology—The Candler School of Theology—offers full and varied courses leading to the degree of B. D. This is a school of theology, as definite in its teaching as it is definite in its aim to serve the church to which it belongs. The library of the School of Theology is rich and grows richer daily. To it belongs the famous "Thursfield-Smith Collection of Wesleyana," which includes hundreds of the autograph letters of the Wesleys and other Methodist celebrities.

3.—The School of Medicine—The Atlanta Medical College—a medical school of first grade which offers courses in medicine and surgery covering four years, and leading to the degree of M. D. By arrangement with the Grady Hospital, the Municipal Hospital of Atlanta, and the Wesley Memorial Hospital, which is a part of the University system, the School of Medicine is able to offer clinical advantages of great value to students.

For bulletins, giving full information concerning the University, and its several departments, write to,

WALKER WHITE, Secretary-Bursar.

Emory University. Atlanta, Georgia.

GRENADA COLLEGE

A Christian School for Girls and Young Women.

Stands for Character, Health, Culture, Comfort.

Strong Faculty with University and Foreign Training. Buildings: Brick, Steam-heated throughout. Grounds: Ample and Beautiful.

Offers a Four-year PREPARATORY COURSE; College Course of Four Years Leads to A. B. Degree. Diplomas in PIANO, VOICE, ART, EXPRESSION, and DOMESTIC SCIENCE. Total expense for Literary Course, $210 per session of Nine Months.

Grenada, Miss., Box C. J. R. COUNTISS, President.

Seashore Camp Grounds

BILOXI, MISSISSIPPI

No lovelier place for an outing than Seashore Campground. Excellent board at the Campground, or near, at $1 a day. Twenty-five miles of trolley along the beach. Excursion to Ship Island at little cost. The prettiest trolley ride in America. Salt baths, safe and delightful. Boats at reasonable rates. Bathing privileges free. The fishing is great. Come and see!

Assembly for Christian Workers, July 22 to August 2.

A School for Training and Fitting for better service in the Sunday School, the Epworth League, the Woman's Missionary Society. For further information apply to Rev. Elmer C. Gunn, Longbeach, Miss.

For Particulars—With regard to accommodations, address P. B. Bell, manager of the Seashore Campground, Biloxi, Miss., or S. H. Meyer, 116 St. Charles St., New Orleans.

Seashore Camp Ground School for Boys and Girls

Select. Rates Reasonable. School Opens SEPTEMBER 8, 1915.

Address REV. H. W. VAN HOOK, Biloxi, Miss.

Methodist Benevolent Association

A Mutual Benefit Brotherhood for Southern Methodists. Issues Whole Life, 20-Premium Life, Term to 60, and Disability Certificates. Benefits payable at death, old age, or disability. Over $152,000.00 paid to widows, orphans, and disabled. Over $40,000.00 reserve fund. Write for rates, blanks, etc. J. H. Shumaker, Secretary, 810 Broadway, Nashville, Tenn.

PRICE-WEBB SCHOOL

LEWISBURG, TENN.

A Boy's Preparatory School located in one of the most healthful sections of Middle Tennessee. Stresses thoroughness in training. Possesses an excellent library and encourages pupils to use it freely. Non-denominational, but stands for the highest ideals of Christian character.

Fall term begins September 2.
Tuition $75.00. Board at reasonable rates.

For full information address
E. T. PRICE, Principal,
W. R. WEBB, Advisory Principal.

Wesleyan College

Macon, Georgia

Founded in 1836. Graduated its First Class in 1840. Seventy-nine Years of Eminent Success. Ranks Easily With the Best Colleges in the Country.

THE WESLEYAN, an "A" grade college in the truest sense, offers courses in the languages, literature, mathematics, the sciences, philosophy, education, history and economics, household arts and sciences, the Bible and religious education. The full four years of college work are credited by the best universities. Excellent equipment and a large faculty afford ample opportunity for election of preferred branches of study.

While supreme emphasis is laid upon the courses leading to the Bachelor's degree, the strongest possible departments of music, art and expression are maintained.

Fourteen eminent American artists and teachers are employed in the Conservatory of Music. The three men at the head of the departments of piano, voice and pipe organ, respectively, are unsurpassed on the continent, while the violin teacher is easily the South's greatest.

The departments of expression, painting and drawing and china painting are in charge of several teachers of rare qualifications.

The situation of Wesleyan is ideal, its health record practically perfect, its social and moral atmosphere delightful.

The Wesleyan diploma is the highest academic honor. The thousands of alumnae are leaders everywhere and in every realm of woman's influence.

Write

C. R. JENKINS, D. D., President.

NEW ORLEANS
CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE

Vol. 62—No. 29. Official Organ of the Louisiana, Mississippi, and North Mississippi Conferences, Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Whole No. 3100

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor. NEW ORLEANS, LA., THURSDAY, JULY 22, 1915. CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Editorial

"When in our Father's happy land
We meet our own once more,
Then we shall scarcely understand
Why we have wept before."

* * *

A person who endorses the wrong-doing of another is, in the sight of God, equally as guilty as the actual offender. What we approve is a good index to what we are.

* * *

A man is not apt to succeed long in attempting "to run with the hare and hold with the hounds." Abraham Lincoln covered this point in that clause of his famous saying which affirms, "You can't fool all the people all the time."

* * *

The Independent says that as a result of the European war Maud Mullah is now not only raking, but also pitching the hay in England. What of that? Are not women in this age clamoring for wider spheres of work?

* * *

The man who stands for something is certain to be assailed with opposition. Nowhere in the Holy Scriptures is a smooth path promised as a reward for fidelity. Every true disciple will find life a battle that will often try his soul to its deepest depths. It was the recognition of this fact that influenced St. Paul to exhort Timothy to "war a good warfare."

* * *

To be truthful means a great deal more than many people imagine. One may create a false impression upon the public mind by presenting correctly one side of a situation and withholding another side that would make it appear quite differently. There is a great deal of this kind of misrepresentation going on in the world. An illustration of it may be seen in the case of a preacher parading the great material improvements he has made in his charge when it has all been done, or chiefly done, with borrowed money, which has not been paid back, but of which he says nothing. A truly worthy man does not want any credit to which he is not entitled when all the facts are understood.

* * *

The "peace-at-any-price man" in the Church is worse than his counterpart in the State. The neutral on moral questions is the worst type of neutral. The Master expressed his feeling toward this class of persons in his message to the Church at Laodicea. If a moral issue arises, it is the duty of every Christian to take a definite stand on the right side. It is better to have controversy than to leave the wrong dominant and unchallenged. The two mightiest religious movements of modern times—the Reformation and the Methodist revival—were cradled and carried forward in controversy. Martin Luther, especially, was vigorous and unsparing in the handling of his opponents. No great chapters in the history of the Christian Church have been made possible by namby-pambyists who insisted upon having everything let alone.

A GREAT GATHERING.

The Sixteenth National Convention of the Anti-Saloon League of America, which was held in Atlantic City, July 6-9, was a magnificent and inspiring assemblage. The attendance was large, representatives having come from every part of the United States, and public meetings were conducted in two large and spacious places at the same time. Eloquent and stirring addresses were made by temperance leaders of national prominence and enthusiasm was at high tide. The notes of hopefulness and confidence vibrated in every utterance and the feeling was general that the day is not far distant when the American flag will wave over a saloonless nation.

It is to us a matter of gratification that Methodism is having such a large and creditable part in this epochal movement. Though all the Churches, even the Roman Catholic to some extent, are participating in it, the Methodists perhaps have more conspicuous leaders connected with it than any other religious denomination. The truth is, no great moral cause has ever been carried forward to success in this vast Western Republic but that the followers of Wesley were in its forefront. Our people have been mighty reformers as well as powerful revivalists.

Our own branch of Methodism was represented on the program of the Atlantic City Convention by Dr. G. W. Young of Kentucky, Dr. H. M. Dubose of Georgia, and Rev. George R. Stuart of Tennessee, all of whom are reported to have acquitted themselves admirably.

The prohibition wave throughout the country seems to be mounting higher and higher, and there is yet nowhere any indication of a recession. May God speed the day when every foot of our soil will be immune from the awful reign of the rum traffic!

A LOSS TO THE CHURCH.

"Recently we had the pleasure of hearing one of the ablest sermons we have ever listened to. It was thoroughly Biblical, awakening, instructive, and in every way attractive, and held the audience's attention for about forty-five minutes. Its theme was, 'To Man With God All Things are Possible.' The preacher had a fine presence, a good voice, and a strong magnetism. The man, the voice, the sermon, and all the incidents, reminded us of Henry Ward Beecher. This man has a splendid record as a Christian gentleman, a good presbyter, a successful administrator, and most excellent pastor; yet, full of vigor and with a charming Christian wife, he is not preaching regularly, and has not a church. Why?

"Simply because he is a little over sixty years old. This man, of full health and strength, is good for ten years' successful work. Yet committees looking for ministers will pass him by, with all his ability, sympathy, wisdom and experience, for, possibly, some young athlete, who knows as yet very little of the Scriptures, and even less of modern life's principles and problems.

"Then people ask why the Church is not stronger. She has canned up her strength in her multitude of consecrated, able, sympathetic, trained men, who have been allowed to retire and become obscure, while her pulpits are compelled to depend upon raw recruits and experimentation. We have not a word to say in disparagement of our young ministers. But there is an abundance of opportunity for them in fields where youth is necessary and training is plenty, and by properly using the older men, we are simply providing for the talents of the young man when they have been developed.

"It is ever a bad policy along any line to first accumulate power, and then cast it away. Yet this is what the Church has been doing for some years, under the influence of faddists. She has been charging her batteries, and then cutting the connections."

This utterance is from The Presbyterian (Philadelphia), one of the great organs of the Northern Presbyterian Church. It is an admirable and timely discussion of a widespread tendency that is hurtful and much to be deplored. In our judgment, this disposition to shelve old ministers prevails in Methodism to an even larger extent than it does in the Churches that are congregational in their forms of government, due perhaps to the fact that changes in appointments occur more frequently. That the Church is a large loser as a result of this unwise policy, we do not think there is any doubt. The rich and ripe experiences of preachers who have borne the burden and heat of the day and who have learned more fully the truths that are spiritually discerned ought certainly to be counted among the most priceless treasures of the Church and should be made to contribute to its upbuilding to the largest extent possible. The inclination to dispense with such a ministry is not a wholesome indication as to the spirituality of the Church. On the contrary, it looks as if there exists among us an appetite for other things than the strong meat of the glorious Gospel of our Lord. But how to counteract effectively this regrettable tendency to lay aside our older and better seasoned pastors is a somewhat perplexing question. It is always easier to point out a problem than it is to furnish a solution for it. But we do not hesitate to say that we think that this trend should be combated in every reasonable and legitimate way.

Bishop McCoy says: "We can follow safely only him who walks with God."

Bible study is good, but Bible living is better. The two things, however, are not incompatible; on the contrary, oftener than otherwise they go together.

It is a fearful thing for any man to be a fraud; especially is this true of a man in the ministerial calling. A wolf in sheep's clothing is the worst kind of a wolf. There is no vice so bad that it is not made blacker by adding to it hypocrisy.

THE SANCTITY OF THE MINISTERIAL CALL.

(Written by the Rev. R. Manson Evans, Strong, Miss., April, 1915, and dedicated to the Ministry. Based on Acts 20:28.)

Servant of the most high God,
Hast thou heard the call divine?
Seen the path, the Master trod?
Felt the hand, the touch sublime?
Hast thou weighed its magnitude,
In the light of love supreme?
Let thy heart, with gratitude,
Overflow, e'en as a stream.

Honored of the King of kings,
Called, his word now to proclaim,
Thy glad heart should surely ring
With the notes of sweet acclaim;
Naught this side the throne above
Could thy heart more wisely claim;
Let it now be filled with love,
For his sake and in his name.

Placed upon the watchman's tower,
As a light against the night,
Thou shouldst shine through every hour,
As a beam of purest light.
If thou loiter by the way,
Count thy call an idle dream;
Canst thou find eternal day,
Cross, with faith, life's passing stream?

Purified in mind and soul,
Naught that stains should touch thy form;
Like the rest, it should be whole,
Lest there come to others harm;
Laymen, noble, brave and true,
Think thy thoughts and live them, too;
If thou fail, they suffer loss,
Fail to bear the Savior's cross.

In their homes, and in their hearts,
Make they room for thee apart,
From the shock of every storm,
Their strong arms preventeth harm;
They are often grieved at heart
Over ills they cannot help:
Sad must be the solemn thought,
If the Leader lead the ills.

Soon, at most, another call
From the throne of God on high,
Must be heard by one and all.
Wilt the Savior then be nigh?
Precious in the sight of God
Is the death of all his saints,
Sweet the path the Master trod,
Saved by grace from sin and stain.

Tune: "Watchman," Methodist Standard Hymnal No. 636.

ON ALL LIPS.

"Some of the Red Cross nurses tell us that the wounded soldiers in Europe are very patient, and they declare that it is a great surprise to hear so little groaning or outcry upon a field after a battle. The men have learned to suffer silently. But the nurses say also that there is one word they have learned to recognize in five languages, and that is 'mother.' And it is the heart of the far-off mother which feels the bitterest pang of this awful war."

NOW IS THE TIME.

My friend in sin: Our ears are too dull to hear life's clock every time it strikes. Many times has yours struck, measuring your march to the tomb and the judgment. I have a fear that it may not strike but once more, if at all, till your sun sets and your dear soul is enveloped in the shadows of doom which follow with grim certainty upon a life that is impenitent and Christless. O that today you would repent and be converted, that your sins might be blotted out!—Way of Faith.

THE THING THAT COUNTS.

You are a faithful layman in the church, and you are concerned about the sermons your pastor preaches. You have a right to be.

You may be worth more than many sermons. Your life counts. Putting it another way, You may kill the best sermons that ever were preached.

At a young people's meeting with which Rev. A. W. Arford was connected, the question was put to a number of people, "How were you led to Christ?" It was expected that a number would say that the sermon of some earnest pastor had been the means of leading them to Christ. Instead of sermons, every one attributed his definite steps toward Christ to the life or personal efforts of Christians.

One said that his Sunday school teacher had made a deep impression when, with tears of joy, she announced that the last of her pupils had been saved. The majority of those who reported how they had been won to Christ attributed it to the life of some layman in the community or to the Christian character of parents.

The kind of life you live counts.—The Watchword.

SOME CONCEPTIONS OF THE CHRISTIAN MINISTRY.

By Rev. W. L. Doss, Jr.

Several years ago a good lady said to the writer that a nephew of hers had made the remark that a preacher did not have anything to do. She defended the ministry by stating that the preacher had to prepare and deliver two sermons each week. She said that she did not believe this to be a very easy task. Here were two different conceptions of the preacher's work. One of these was that he did not have anything at all to do, and the other was that he had only to preach twice on Sunday. All this reminds one of something that the writer remembers having seen in the funny column of a popular magazine when still quite a boy. A little girl was boasting to the preacher's little daughter that her family had a good deal more of this world's goods than did the family of the preacher. The contemptuous reply of the preacher's daughter was, "Huh, your father works six days in the week, but mine works only one day."

A great many people believe this to be true. Then there are a great many who are like the young man and believe that the preacher does not work at all. Just how far, if at all, the preachers are responsible for these conceptions of the work of the ministry would be very hard to say. However, it is certainly entirely possible that preachers are somewhat responsible for these impressions in the minds of the people.

Somewhat akin to these notions is the idea that it is the preacher's business to be a kind of social adjunct to the life of the church and to the constituency of the church of which he is the pastor. The preacher calls at a home and tries to bring the conversation around to spiritual and religious matters. It is like steering a frail boat among the rocks of the rapids. There are people who seem to believe that the preacher's only object when he calls in the home is social. He almost has to fight sometimes to make his call otherwise. This notion among the people sometimes gives rise to disaffection because the preacher does not come as often and stay as long as the people think he ought to do for social visits. Some of them seem to think that he is slighting them and making better friends of others in the church. There seem to be a conception abroad that the first thing for a preacher to do is to be a jolly, good fellow—one who can be the center and life of every social group. Is this really the business of the preacher of the gospel? The writer does not know how far preachers are responsible for this conception of the people, but cannot but believe that we are somewhat responsible.

There is still another idea that some people have of the work of the Christian ministry. These have no higher conception of this very important work than to believe that the chief function of the preacher is to do all sorts of little odd jobs about the church. He is to be a kind of handy man and general flunkey—"a chef-in-charge," or something like that, when there are ice cream suppers, etc. The writer has had one or two experiences along this line since he has been in the ministry. It certainly does not show a very high conception of the high calling of the ministry when people thus want the preacher to degrade himself and his office.

It is good for the preacher to be interested in all the things going on in the church of which he is the pastor. He ought to see that the ventilation is right, that the fires are burning, and everything of that sort that will add to the effectiveness of the services of the church. When any of the people are interested in something to raise financial help for some organization of the Church, he ought to be interested in that, too, provided he can do so conscientiously. But it is degrading the man and the high calling to which he has been called to build fires, ring bells, open and shut up churches, be chief functionary at ice cream socials and all sorts of things like that. There is but one condition on which the preacher ought to be expected to do these things. That is when there is nobody else at all to do them. Then he ought to do these things.

Of course, a preacher ought to be approachable and he ought to enter to some degree into the social life of the church and the community where he is pastor. However, he ought never to forget that he is a preacher. The people will not forget this unless he deports himself in such a manner as is unbecoming a minister of Christ and a servant of the King. It is the writer's observation that much of the nonsense and many of the silly jokes that many of us indulge in could well be dispensed with to a beneficial effect. Men would not think any less of us. Departing from such talk would be more in keeping with the example of the Master. We might also be better fitted to conduct a conversation that is sound and profitable for those with whom we are engaged socially.

Then, is it not true that there are some preachers who just preach their sermons and then the people do not see anything more of them until the next time for them to appear in the pulpit? This being the case, the people have some ground for believing that the preacher has nothing to do except to prepare and to deliver sermons. Then there are those times and seasons when we all make our dismal failures in trying to preach the gospel. This almost gives the people some ground for believing that we have nothing at all to do.

It is true that there are times when the preacher tries to live up to the ideal that the people have of the ministry. In so far as this is true, the people make the preacher what he is. It is equally true that the people have come to have their ideals of the ministry from the men whom they have seen in that work. Not long ago at an Epworth League service in the church of which the writer is pastor a young girl was asked to make a short talk on the question: "Should a Christian ever be idle?" She merely read the question and then answered it by saying, "No; a Christian has no time to be idle." Has a preacher any time to be idle? What will be the answer? But one thing need be added to this answer when making its application to the work of the ministry. The preacher is called of God to preach the gospel and to be the shepherd of immortal souls. This is the great thing that should have the first place in his mind and in the minds of the people of whom he is the pastor. Everything else should be subordinate to this one chief business of the ministry.

New Orleans, La.,

BUY LUMBER FROM
W. W. CARRE CO., Ltd.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

COTTAGE COLONY, NEAR HAMMOND, LA.
FOR THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.
Pine forest, artesian water, hot and cold baths, no dust or noise. Physicians' attention, Graduate nurse's service and drugs furnished.
Rates, $10 per Week and Up.
Address Dr. E. L. McGehee, Hammond, La.
City Office, 923 Maison Blanche Bldg.

A CALL TO THE CHURCH WORKERS OF NORTH MISSISSIPPI.

The address of Rev. J. W. Dorman to the Sardis District furnishes considerable food for thought; it gives the conditions of the district, and we may presume that the Sardis District is a representative district of the North Mississippi Conference, and that the condition of the Church in that district is the condition throughout the Conference.

Brother Dorman stated that there were 6000 Methodists in the Sardis District and 12,000 members of other denominations out of a white population of 50,000, leaving 32,000 of the white population who owe allegiance to no denomination. Should these 18,000 church members be loyal to their obligations and filled with the Holy Ghost, and each exercising the gifts that have been given him, the outlook would be bright and promising, but Brother Dorman informs us that such is not the case. He tells us first that there were only 500 accessions to the Methodist Church in his district last year, and that the Church has lost 28 per cent of these through various causes, making a net gain of only 360 members. This is appalling. Six thousand members are only able to add to their number 360 persons in one year when there are 10,000 souls in the district, sad and hungry, waiting for some good Methodist to lead them to God! Three hundred and sixty is less than the natural increase of the Methodist proportion of the population of this district, and these 6000 Methodists are not able to take care of the incomers, much less to look after the needy fields away from home.

Brother Dorman readily admits that the Church is not doing its full duty, and sets about to look for the cause of the conditions he reports and mentions two conditions as contributing to the above results:

1. The Ministry does not see or feel the situation in all its gravity.

2. The laity are more concerned with money making and pleasure seeking than they are with Church work.

It is to be regretted that both these conditions are true, but there must be some underlying causes that produce these conditions. Why does not the ministry see or feel the situation in all its gravity? Have they eyes and see not, ears and hear not?

Why are the laity more concerned in money-making and pleasure-seeking than in Church work? And why do these conditions prevail throughout our country? It has been estimated that only one church member out of ten does any real service for the Kingdom. If such is the case we are carrying on our Church rolls a great dead weight that is embarrassing our progress in the work of uplifting mankind. Then why this great loss of vital force and power? We cannot believe that Christianity has the power to touch the lives of only one-tenth of those who are believers. Then we must conclude that the reason lies in the Church and its workers; that we have not done our entire duty.

Speaking from the standpoint of a layman, I will make a few suggestions as to what has produced the lack of interest in Church work among the laity.

1. The small concern of the laity in Church work is largely due to the fact that the Church does not put forth as much effort in training the laity in real service as it does in securing additions to the Church rolls. It lays greater stress on additions to the Church than on the efficiency of its members. No adequate means are used for keeping in touch with the new convert and keeping alive the fires that have been kindled within. If such means had been used in the Sardis District last year, 28 per cent of the ingathering would not have been lost. The new convert does not usually receive that fellowship, counsel, and sympathy that he is led to believe he will and that he has a right to expect. The church members have forgotten that he is only a babe in Christ, and needs constant care and attention, and looks to the Church, as to his mother, for spiritual food upon which to feed his soul, and cause it to grow. The average church organization too often fails to nourish him at all, and many die from neglect and starvation and even from the lack of the milk of human kindness. Is it not a fact that a vast majority of the laity of to-day have gone through that period of starvation and have lost all spiritual insight and power?

2. Why are the laity more concerned in money-making and pleasure-seeking than in Christian work? Are they not to a large extent taught that money is the chief object in life? Has not the Church of to-day become to a considerable extent commercialized, and does not the average Church worker think more and talk more of finances than of the spiritual uplift of man? Do not our Churches and Conferences discuss finances and financial systems, and the means of raising funds for the support of our institutions, more than they do the means of training the membership to efficient service? "Why will ye rob God in tithes and offerings" has been thundered into the ears of the laymen until the average layman thinks that all the Church wants with him is to give it his financial support, and feels that if he contributes liberally to the Church he has done his full duty; and in order to do this he turns his entire attention to money-making, and when the money has been made he naturally turns to pleasure-seeking.

The church member must be taught that he can rob God in other ways than in tithes and offerings; that he can rob Him by burying the talent with which he has been endowed; that he can rob Him by failing to use his effort and influence for the uplift of his fellowman; that he can rob Him by not attending upon his ordinances; that he can rob Him by failing to give Him his life and service; that he denies Christ when he fails to be a witness for Him; that he betrays Christ when he professes to be a disciple, and then covenants with the enemy; that he crucifies Christ when he worships Him on Sunday and adopts the evil ways of the world the rest of the week; that the Christian is one who is truly Christlike in life and character.

The Laymen's Missionary Movement was designed to meet the needs of the Church in the development of its latent force, and, if properly utilized, it will become an agency that will correct many of the evils that now confront us. I therefore call upon all of the Church workers of the North Mississippi Conference, especially all district, charge, and church lay leaders, to carefully study its plans and to assiduously put them into operation; to have each church select its committees on lay activities and to see to it that these committees are active in the performance of their duties, especially in the work of personal evangelism; so that every Methodist may be awakened to his responsibility and power, and be able to bring in a harvest of souls. If this is done, a different address would be forthcoming next year.

E. V. HUGHSTON.

Greenwood, Miss.

THREE MISTAKES.

Dear Brother Meek: Will you kindly allow me space in your columns to call the attention of our preachers and people to what I regard as mistakes too frequently made?

1. It is a mistake to omit preaching the doctrines of our Church during revivals. Our watchword should be "The sword of the Lord, and of Methodism." Too many of our people, and sometimes preachers, too, get the wrong idea when the matter of preaching upon our doctrines is mentioned; they think at once that it means to villify other denominations. If the doctrines of Methodism are contained all through the Bible, as we know they are, we should preach them to the people. Some preachers say: "I belong to the Methodist Church, but I had just as soon that a sinner converted in my meeting would join any other church as mine." I confess that I hadn't. I can but reluctantly consent for him to join some other church until after I have preached the doctrines of my own church to him. There is such a thing as being too liberal to be loyal, and that is a sin.

To preach a doctrinal sermon does not mean to abuse other Churches. Such discourses should always be preached in the spirit of meekness and love. We take it too much for granted in holding that our people do not need to be taught our doctrines. We are losing many young people connected with the families of our own Church, because of our doctrinal indifference. The Bible is so full of Methodist doctrine that I fail to find anything else in it to preach. To be interesting, instructive and convincing in preaching on the Bible mode of baptism, we should make free use of the words of eternal truth, without reference to other people, and without apologies. People will give undivided attention to a doctrinal discourse kindly delivered, and truth will prevail. Some of the most effective sermons the writer ever preached in revival meetings were on the Scriptural mode of baptism, at the request of pastors, and satisfied many who would have gone to another Church. Numbers of immersionists have given their hands at the conclusion of a sermon on baptism endorsing it as a Scriptural message. On one occasion eight adults came back to our Church, who had been proselyted away from us.

2. It is a mistake not to preach the teachings of the gospel concerning the support of the ministry and missions during revival meetings. It is claimed by some that we should first get sinners converted and that the church finances will then come up all right. A sinner may be soundly converted, but if not then Scripturally instructed with reference to his duties in the finances of religion he may lose sight of those matters almost entirely. At the time of his conversion is the proper time to introduce him to those good works essential to his development in the new relations of service upon which he has joyously entered. Also, during a revival is an opportune time to teach those already members of the Church who have neglected to keep their solemn vows with regard to the support of the ministry and missions. Some have the idea they are excused from their obligations, if the preacher happens not to suit them, or if they don't believe in missions. It was upon their vows to do these things they were received into the Church, and no one who lives in open violation of his or her church vows is right with God. Nor does poverty excuse any one from his obligations to the Church. We need only cite the example of Elijah, to whom God said: "I have commanded a widow woman to sustain thee." That was a very poor widow woman. When Elijah first asked her for "a morsel of bread," she said, "I have not a cake, but an handful of meal in a barrel, and a little oil in a cruse, and behold, I am gathering two sticks that I may go in and dress it for me and my son, that we may eat it and die." Instead of Elijah's accepting her excuse for denying him a cake of bread, he pressed the claim that God had ordered, and told her: "Make me a little cake first, and bring it to me, and after make for thee and thy son. For thus saith the Lord God of Israel, the barrel of meal shall not waste, neither shall the cruse of oil fail." She went and did according to the saying of Elijah, and she, and he, and her house did eat many days" (1 Kings, 17th chapter). The Lord's cause comes first, however scarce things may be. And there is always a blessing in store for those who give at the calls of God made upon them through his servants. A preacher should never sanction the excuses made by his people on the grounds of the scarcity of things, if God has issued the order. But press the claims. God will take care of the giver. The truth is, people cannot afford to withhold anything that God demands.

3. It is a mistake not to preach upon the importance of every Methodist family subscribing for our Church papers during a revival. It is unfair to criticise the preacher who assisted in the revival because young converts do not hold out, when the real cause often lies in their failure to feed the soul on those things that tend to the knowledge and love of God. I have never visited in a Methodist home where the inmates were readers of our church papers that they were not loyal supporters of the Church. It pays from every conceivable standpoint to circulate the Church paper among the people. Those who receive the greatest amount of good from such work are, of course, the readers of church papers themselves.

Finally, if I had the time and the proper opportunities to deliver three gospel messages, in lecture form, in our Churches, on the subjects suggested in this article, "The Bible Mode of Baptism," "Give me a Little Cake First," "And Weekly Visits of a Lonely Friend," multitudes of our people would be more loyal to our doctrines, and the support of the Church, and thousands of subscribers to our church papers would be secured.

Our pastors are in position to do these things better than I could. W. D. BASS.

Corinth, Miss.

ACTION OF COLUMBUS DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

(Part of report on Books and Periodicals read before the Columbus District Conference by Rev. W. W. Mitchell and furnished for publication in the New Orleans Christian Advocate by order of the Conference.)

We hail with delight the promise of Bishop Hoss to give us, at no distant day, a clear, complete and correct statement and account of the correspondence, controversy, and trial of the famous "Vanderbilt University" suit and decision.

It is peculiarly fitting that this timely service to the Church should be rendered by this astute thinker and able writer. Versatile and vigorous, just and generous, familiar with all the details of the lamentable controversy—in fact, the Church's conspicuous leader in the vigorous and prolonged fight for her own—his review and verdict must bear the stamp of truth, carry conviction, and stand the test of the most virulent criticism.

We deem it a matter of vital importance that our people keep themselves thoroughly informed as to the true facts in this case and hand them down to their children, that posterity may not soon forget the gross injustice done and shameful indignities heaped upon the Church of their fathers in the Vanderbilt University controversy, trial, and verdict.

We feel that it would not be easy to speak in too high praise of the New Orleans Christian Advocate. It is thoroughly awake to and jealously watchful of all the interests of our beloved Methodism. "Assuming no neutral attitude, yet with its columns open to a fair discussion of all subjects within the legitimate range of Christian controversy, its Editor stands squarely for that which all men recognize to be the fundamentals of Methodism, and against all he believes to be misleading and perilous to the Church. Such an editorial policy we can not but admire and heartily commend, and a Church journal, breathing such a spirit of aggressive conservatism, until fully convinced of the wisdom of a change, cannot but make a powerful and lasting impression upon the mind and heart of the Church."

We note with profound regret the meager financial support that is being accorded this excellent Christian journal. Through its own columns we learn that the paper is face to face with a serious crisis. "For several years prior to the outbreak of the European war it had been steadily gaining in its circulation, and resources and the outlook for its future was quite encouraging; but since last summer there has been a continuous decline in the number of its subscribers and volume of its income." Shall we turn a deaf ear, my brethren, to the Editor's earnest appeal and let the paper go down? Can we dispense with the New Orleans Christian Advocate when our land is rife with a hundred forms of hurtful heresies and subtle isms? When Mormonism, Eddyism, Russellism, and a score of other equally harmful heresies are challenging the attention of our people; when the leaders and teachers of these dangerous cults are up and doing—alert, energetic, and persistent in the circulation of their pernicious literature; can we, in the face of such conditions, afford to be indifferent, listless and idle? We answer, No! A hundred times, No! Therefore, be it resolved by this District Conference, that we will rally to the support of this valuable paper; that we will do what we can to bring it speedy and adequate relief. That when we return to our homes and charges, we will take up at once the work of securing the renewal of the expired subscriptions of those about us and add, if possible, many new subscribers to its depleted subscription list.

Respectfully submitted,

W. W. MITCHELL,
Chairman of Committee.

FROM THE HILL CITY.

Well, now, why should I write of Crawford Street, Vicksburg? Because the editor has called for gleanings from the field and possibly out of the many readers of the Advocate there might be some who would lend us an ear. And what have I to write worthy of the time and space allotted? Much of interest to the writer, but who of the readers will not pass it by?

Doctor, I ought to have a whole lot stored up, since for these six months I have threatened to break in upon your patience, but time and perseverance have both stood in the way—the truth is, I've been holding back going down these hills and going so slow climbing up them, that it has affected my mental as well as physical constitution. Our experiences have been in line with others who have had their burdens and responsibilities. The ups and downs have been about even; in fact, "a trouble's a ton or a trouble an ounce, or a trouble is what you make it." And it isn't the fact that you are hurt that counts, but only, how did you take it? So we are meeting the adverses and reverses and all other kind of verses conscious of the wisdom of the following utterance: "The harder you're thrown, why, the higher you bounce. Be proud of your blackened eye. It isn't the fact that you're licked that counts; it's how did you fight, and why?"

But Crawford Street is still on the list and doing some business at the same old stand. Some marked changes have taken place in these eight years; many familiar faces have gone and many new ones have come in their places. Father Time with his scythe has garnered some, but that same Father Time has brought forth other children, so that since my going there there has been an increase in the membership of Sunday school and Church—in the former nearly double.

After a strenuous three years to lift a debt of $8,000, and then one of relaxation, I bade goodby, leaving a clean sheet with a balance to credit. I returned to find a bonded debt of $10,000 and a struggling membership. I have been reminded of the adage; "All things come to those who wait," but not always as expected. Having sold the parsonage, the brethren promised to erect another on the lot at the Church, but instead decided to put up an Institutional Annex at a cost of $20,000, only one-half of which amount had been raised when the boll weevil came and the Kaiser descended (and great is our battle with the floods). Having remained in a condition of desuetude for more than four years, it was decided by the Church to convert the Annex into a home for the pastor, and now, like Titus Justus, we are living hard by the synagogue, and, I suppose, in the finest, most costly parsonage in the Conference, if not in the State. Think of it, Doctor, a Methodist preacher living in a $20,000 house furnished with sectional cases for his books, art squares on every floor, and furniture upholstered in leather! St. James says that the natural man looketh in the glass and beholdeth himself and goeth his way and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was; but not so here, for there are no less than ten mirrors, one of which is likely to catch him at any turn he may make, and deepen the impressions before he can forget; and they are a savor of joy unto joy or of sorrow unto sorrow just as the man may think himself handsome or otherwise. Neither is there any lack of time. We recall that great sermon of Mr. Wesley on Redeeming the Time" when we look up and see the faces and hear the ticks of the four clocks on the mantles. With plenty of space, time and mirrors we should be satisfied; but oh, that $10,000 calling for interest and the retirement of bonds! How it takes all the starch out of a fellow's pride!

Our diligent, presiding elder, Rev. T. W. Adams, was with us in our third quarterly conference yesterday and exclaimed, "Good," on hearing our reports; yet we are not in a position to boast—not having every cause up to date. Brother Adams gave us a good, thoughtful sermon (he usually does that, however) which heated the preacher more than it did the hearers. He has been accused in some quarters of beating the air (literally), but he said it was too hot yesterday to beat anything. Our people cry hard times, but somehow many of them have acquired the habit of having vacations abroad that has taken them to chautauquas, and watering places and other pleasure resorts, so that with the excuse of "so hot," "so convenient," etc., we are seeing the effect in the pews.

It's time to call off. Our greatest needs at Crawford Strect are grit, grace, and money. Come up, Doctor, and share our hospitality, enjoy our pride, and preach for us any Sunday. Yours,

T. B. HOLLOMAN.

WOMAN'S DAY APPOINTED.

Dear Dr. Meek: Please announce that the second Sunday in August has been set apart as "Woman's Day," in the Sardis District. All the pastors are expected to preach that day on the subject of the Woman's Work at the morning hour. I hope that no one of them will fail to do this. May the Lord's blessings crown the work with success! J. W. DORMAN.

July 13, 1915.

"The universal desire for happiness finds abundant warrant in the Bible, which might justly be called a guide-book to joy."

PORT GIBSON FEMALE COLLEGE
AND
Conservatory of Music, Art and Expression.

The Oldest College for Girls in Mississippi.

Healthful location. Curriculum high. Faculty all college graduates. Buildings commodious. Rooms comfortable. Dietary varied and wholesome. Attendance last session more than 50 per cent increase over the year before.

NEXT SESSION OPENS SEPT. 8, 1915.

For catalogue and special information, write
REV. T. J. O'NEIL, President.

CENTENARY COLLEGE
Of Louisiana.

If you wish your son to receive a Literary College training in a moral and religious atmosphere, amid beautiful and healthful natural surroundings, under a faculty of competent Christian men, in a progressive city with great Protestant Churches and many public advantages, send him to

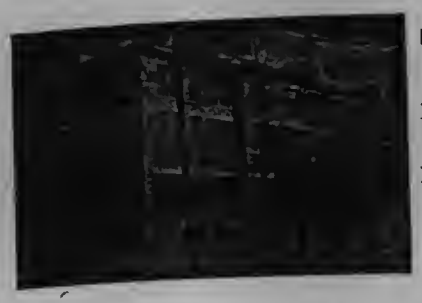
Centenary College.

If it is advisable that your son take his preparatory or high school training away from home, send him to Centenary, where, by good application, he may save one year in preparation for Freshman Class of any college.

Write for Catalogue and any Needed Information.

Rev. R. H. WYNN, President. Box 6, Shreveport, La.

The Louisiana Educational Campaign



LOUISIANA CONFERENCE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., President

Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Sec'y

Rev. C. A. Battie, Treas., Baton Rouge, La.

(This Department is conducted by Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Secretary of Education, and Rev. A. J. Gearheard, Publicity Commissioner.)

THINGS WE MUST DO.

Brother Hoffpauir's statement in last week's Advocate as to some things we must do as Methodists in Louisiana, is timely and true. If we do not thoroughly equip our educational institutions to meet the demands of the time; if we do uot immediately provide liberally for Centenary's pressing needs, we will surely handicap ourselves in the future. We heartiiy agree also with his piea for the French mission work, which has in it elements of great promise and usefulness for all Louisiana Methodism.

The statement of Dr. Wynn's successfui work for Centenary in Lake Charles, contained in our iast issue, indicates that Brother Hoffpauir's district is coming nobly into line for a "Greater Centenary." Knowing the noble and efficient leadership of the Lake Charles congregation, not only in the pulpit, but in the lay ranks, we are not surprised at the contribution reported last week.

THE NASHVILLE EDUCATIONAL NUMBER.

Last week's issue of the (Nashviiie) Christian Advocate is a special educational number and contains many excellent articies on different phases of our educational work. Some of them, which seem to fit particularly our own needs, we shaii take the liberty of using in these columns. An article from Dr. Wynn we shali reproduce in a future issue. Beiow we insert a convincing piea taken by the Advocate from the "Christian Observer" which every Methodist parent in Louisiana shouid read and ponder. In addition to these articies, an articie by Miss Janie H. Drake, Dean of Whitworth College, puts the question, "Shouid the Church Schooi Live?" so effectively that, though the entire articie is too long for insertion, we shaii quote some specially appropriate statements from it as follows:

"I would answer most emphaticaliy that the Church school should iive, because it is doing a work which is not being done, has never been done, and never wiii be done by State schools. This usefuiness entities it to have life and have it 'more abundantly.'

"What is the nature of the work being done by Church schools which is not done by secular educational institutions? To me it seems at least threefold in its nature.

"In the first place, the Church school is emphasizing the cultural rather than the merely practicai and materiaiistic side of iife. When I give this my unbounded sanction, I realize that hundreds of thinkers and educators are against me; for the almost universal tendency is to demand that every iota of knowledge must have its definite estimate of practical materiaiistic, monetary vaiue. Many cry ont against the 'useiessness' of requiring the young student to study the classics, to pass 'dull' hours with his Latin or Greek grammar, when in exchange for his dead language he might be learning skiiifully to manipuiate some manual training tool which wouid both 'entertain' and profit. Entertain, forsooth! Such people surely need to learn that 'aii is not gold that glitters.' And as for profit, have men no conception of a mental development which may be profitable per se? * * * *

"And this leads me to my second point—that the Church school should live because it cuitivates the ethicai and religious side of man. Secular education strives to develop only the mental and physical sides of man's nature. It ieaves out of count one portion of the trinity of man's nature —the spirit. And this we may truthfuiiy say is the major portion of man's account. * * * *

"Why is it that secular schools do not teach religion? Too many have called it 'narrow-gauged' aud argued to prove that man must not be 'hampered' by spiritual instruction. On the other hand, it seems to me to be a narrow, lop-sided development which provides physical and mental instructiou and disregards the needs of the spirit.

"The third advantage which the Church school has over the secular schooi is that it emphasizes individual development and needs rather than giving its attention to general claims. The tendency of the State schooi is to produce men and women who are types. They are good machines, good imitations of a generai modei. The Church school produces in its completed product the man who is a representation rather than an imitation. He is an individual who embodies principles and himseif becomes a model. His own iatent individuality or personaiity has been developed, pruned, and strengthened. He is often a leader because of this individuaiity. What should make such a difference? Both the mode of instruction and the manner of the daiiy school life. State schools, because of their cheaper rates, are often overcrowded with students, so that teachers are obliged to deal with their pupiis en masse rather than as individuals. No ciose association and few real friendships exist between teachers and pupiis."

WHICH COLLEGE SHALL I CHOOSE?

By all means choose a Christian coiiege. Infideiity, materiaiism, and other dangerous inteiiectual "fads" are found to-day in many coiieges that have no connection with the Church of God through control, supervision, or historical and traditional association. The only safe piace for your boy or your giri is in the college that stands for a distinctive type of Christian education.

The note of alarm has been sounded none too soon. Parents need to be put on their guard against the insidious inroads made by infidelity in many of the large coiieges and universities of our iand from which Christianity has been banished.

Parents should be far more insistent in their inquiries concerning the religious character of the faculty of the institution to which they send their sons and daughters than in regard to material and even inteiiectual equipment of the institution that they seiect.

Do not hesitate to demand that proof be furnished you that your boy or girl wiii be surrounded whiie in coiiege with wholesome Christian influences. This is far too vital a matter to leave uninvestigated. If parents wiii require that guarantees be given them that aii teachers under whose influence their children come are earnest, evangelical Christians, they wiii have done more for the future of their children than they can now understand.

When boys and giris go to coiiege, they are at the most impressionable age. The novelty of new surroundings, the inteiiectual attractiveness of some favorite teacher, the strong influence of some new-found friend wiii oftentimes prove a determining factor in their lives. The Christian college wiii give assurance that at least religious influences wiii be brought to bear upon them; and while, of course, the mere enrolling in a Christian college is no guarantee that they wiii escape all evii and all temptation, still it is a great safeguard to place boys and girls where religious influences are wholesome, strong and evangelical.—Christian Observer.

A VOICE FROM ALABAMA.

Mr. Editor: Please allow me to thank you heartiiy for your two recent editoriais anent the Vanderbiit Universiiy. Bishop McTyeire secured the money from Commodore Vanderbiit to build a schooi for the Southern Methodist Church. Chancelior Kirkland for many years and on various occasions, in addressing the North Alabama Conference sessions, said it was the property of the Southern Methodist Church. But he and those standing with him have taken our property without our consent. And I, for one, wiii never recommend any young men of my charge to attend that institution, and I do hope all our pastors will have enough respect for themselves and their Church to do likewise. Especiaiiy should we pursue this course now that we have two universities which are our very own.

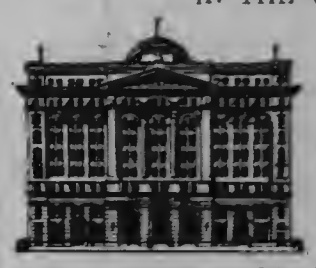
I am with you, too, Mr. Editor, in not wanting any Southern Methodist pastor appointed to Vanderbiit, either as a student or member of the faculty. It is hostiie to us. It has treated Bishop Hoss as uncivilly and in as un-Christian a manner as the leaders could devise. If nothing else can prevent, let us have a referendum on the question. The majority of Southern Methodists do not want any further dealings with Vanderbiit Universiiy. Let them go their way, and we will go ours. Respectfully,

Birmingham, Ala. L. F. WHITTEN.

Walter Baker & Co., whose cocoa and chocolate preparations are so extensively used throughout the country, received the grand prize at the San Francisco Exposition for the superiority of their products. This is the fifty-fifth time that this firm has been thus honored, both at American and European expositions.

Methodist Hotel

THE GREATEST INSTITUTION OF ITS KIND IN THE WORLD.



A Modern Fireproof Building, with Hotel, Auditorium, Church, Finest Organ on the Pacific Coast, and other Interesting Features under one Roof.

Owned and Controlled by Trinity M. E. Church, South, Los Angeles, Cal.

When you or your friends visit Los Angeles, stop at TRINITY, Ninth and Grand Avenue. Close to everywhere.

Over Three Hundred Comfortable Rooms, with or without Bath. One Dollar per Day and Up.

Write or Wire TRINITY Your Needs.

ENLARGE YOUR DAY

Thousands of people have already learned how to enlarge their days; how to increase the time they can devote to profitable recreation and pleasure without sacrificing work that must be done.

They first discovered that the quickest and most satisfactory way to go "down town" was by the telephone.

Next they applied the same principle to their "out of town" business and social trips, and found it was even more satisfactory and proportionately much cheaper.

Do you Travel by TELEPHONE?

Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co.

(Incorporated.)

A VACATION MEDITATION.

Dear Doctor Meek: I have just packed my "grip" and will be leaving to-morrow for the East. I will visit several points there before returning, and will conduct a revival in my old home Church at Moulton, Ala. What changes have taken place! How wonderful has God's providence been? Many of those of other days have joined the great white throng, having washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. With such scenes in mind, and thinking to-day of such men as Dr. Anson West, Dr. F. T. J. Brandon, Dr. Thos. Slaughter, Dr. Z. A. Parker, and Dr. R. A. Timmons, all of whom have crossed over the sea to the land beyond, we recall the following lines:

"The land beyond the sea,
When will our toil be done?
Slow-footed years more swiftly run
Into the gold of that unsettling sun:
Home-sick we are for thee,
Calm land beyond the sea."

But back to the living, I turn with hope, to my dear native land, our Southland, so romantic and so historic, whose brave, strong people dwelling in farm villages, surrounded by the cheerful scenes of a thrifty agriculture, their children learning in well-kept schools, their homes free from fears of rude assault, their churches glorified by simple faith and vocal with joyous songs, their social life sweet and pure. This Southern land of ours is surely the garden of the Lord. With such scenes in mind, I cannot make for my native Southland a better prayer than Bobbie Burn's in the Cotter's Saturday night:

"O Scotia, my dear, my native soil,
For whom my warmest wish to heaven is sent;
Long may the hardy sons of rustic toil
Be blessed with health, and peace, and sweet content;
And oh, may heaven their simple lives prevent
From luxury's contagion, weak and vile;
Then how'er crowns and coronets be rent,
A virtuous populace may rise the while,
And stand a wall of fire around their much loved Isle."

JOHN L. WILLIAMS.

Greenwood, La., July 13, 1915.

A WOMAN'S OPINION.

One woman's opinion does not count for much in a narrow realm, and naught in matters pertaining to the spiritual aggrandizement of a great nation. However this may be, we cannot withhold a "piece of our mind" in regard to the vital question discussed and assented to by the last General Conference, viz: "Uniting the two great bodies of Methodism."

If you will accept this community (which is only a drop in the ocean) as an example to prove the friction that must and will inevitably emanate from such a union, we feel that these few lines will not have been penned in vain.

While this is a Southern State, there are very few Southerners in this part of Arkansas, but emigrants from all parts of the North and West make up the population. On their arriving here they are met at the hotels and other places by the pastor and members of the Congregational Church, who admonish them to beware of the Methodist Church, and among many diabolical assertions made is the one that they could not be buried here when they die, etc. So, as a consequence of such statements, which should be confined to heathen lands, the Methodist Church is the weakest here.

On our first attendance at this Church we observed the oft-repeated reference to unity, and the singing of the old hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds," seemed to be an especial favorite of the pastor, but when we awakened to the real conditions of things we felt very much like severing that "tie." Of all curses, deliver us from the curse of a wrangling Christianity (so-called) where jealousy, envy, and prejudice dwell.

The loveliest Christian characters I ever knew were in the North, and when Christ has entire possession of the life there will be no friction; but until that time we would better steer clear of the breakers. FANNIE E. BURDINE.

Gentry, Arkansas.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION.

There is a very strong effort on the part of a few men to naturalize Christianity. They recognize the intutive sense of the existence of God and sin. And from these innate beginnings they would develop religion on a purely natural basis, along a purely natural line. Christianity is only one form of this development. It may be a little more advanced, but yet it is of the same general quality as all other religions. In this view Christ is just the same in kind as all other religious teachers; only a little higher in degree. Thus reducing all religion to a common basis, they lose sight of Christianity as a religion from heaven, and think only of general religious education. They are consistent, and go farther. All things are a part of this religious education. There is no division of the holy and the common. There is no natural and supernatural. There is no temporal and eternal. There are no arts and science as distinct from the ministry of the Word. All things are on a dead level, and the wisdom of these men is to exalt all through religious education. They count the Biblical idea of the minister as antiquated, and family prayers as stereotyped, the Sabbath school as inefficient, and so they go on. One hardly knows what they are talking about, but they have seen a vision, and are coming out somewhere. We apprehend that they will find that they have been sowing the wind and will reap the whirlwind. They have thrown the food to the swine, and are filling their bellies on the husks. Let them alone; they may yet come to themselves, and they will return to their Father's house where even the servants have enough and to spare. We have recently read a lengthy article on this scheme in one of our leading religious journals, and we have not for sometime read so long an article with so little meat. Let the Church stick to the Word of God, and the knowledge thereof, as it feeds the soul, directs the life, glorifies God, and blesses men.—The Presbyterian.

REV. W. A. CLARK.

Rev. William Albert Clark was born on December 15, 1858, in Prentiss County, Miss. He was reared on a farm and attended the country schools as a boy. Later he attended a high school at Marietta, Miss., and the Iuka Normal College for a while. He was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at the age of 13. He was licensed to preach in 1889, and served the Marietta Circuit as supply in the year 1890. He joined the North Mississippi Annual Conference in 1891.

He served the following appointments: Iuka Circuit, four years, 1891-95; Booneville Circuit, four years, 1896-99; Sturges, three years, 1900-03; Starkville Circuit, two years, 1904-05; Fern Springs, two years, 1906-07; Kosciusko Circuit, four years, 1908-11; Mathiston Circuit, two years, 1911-12; West Circuit, one year, 1913.

While at the last named place, he was thrown from his buggy, receiving injuries from which he never fully recovered. He was a superannuate member of the Conference for two years, most of which time he spent in a State hospital at Jackson, Miss.

In 1882 he was happily married to Miss Mary Elizabeth Moore, of Fulton, Miss. There were nine children born to them, eight of whom are still living—four boys and four girls: Adran and Paul, of Greenville, Miss.; Roderick, of Crenshaw, Miss.; Mrs. W. C. Galceran, of Caledonia, Miss.; Misses Lovie, Willie Moore, Elizabeth, and Embree are at home with their mother in Kosciusko, Miss.

Brother Clark was a good man and a faithful itinerant preacher. He was never heard to complain of his appointment, no matter how remote or how difficult. He was one of the most cheerful and optimistic persons I have ever known. It was in one of his meetings at Salem Church on the Iuka Circuit that I first tried to preach. He encouraged me very much.

He leaves a good name, a highly respected family, and a fruitful ministry. He passed to his heavenly home on May 26, 1915. We laid his remains to rest in the city cemetery at Kosciusko, Miss., after funeral services conducted by this writer, assisted by Rev. C. T. Thompson, of the Presbyterian Church here.

"Servant of God, well done,
Rest from thy loved employ;
The battle fought, the vict'ry won,
Enter thy Master's joy."

His brother servant,

JOSEPH B. RANDOLPH.

LOUISIANA ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE.

The Louisiana Anti-Saloon League will hold its annual convention in Alexandria, La., August 22-24. Dr. P. A. Baker, National Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America, will speak Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, and the convention will be called to order by Dr. E. O. Ware, State President, at 10 a.m. Monday, the 23d. Dr. M. E. Dodd, of Shreveport, La., will speak Monday at 8 p.m., and other speakers will be announced later. Business of importance to the temperance forces of Louisiana will be up for consideration.

Let every pastor see that every congregation in his charge is represented.

Every friend of our cause in Louisiana, without regard to denominational or political affiliation, is requested to be present.

E. O. WARE, President.
A. W. TURNER, State Sup't.

"Every one who puts up a fence, fences out more than he fences in."

THE HOLMES STORE

OF NEW ORLEANS

is one of America's truly great department stores.

It has perfected a buying organization that reaches into every producing market of the world, maintaining offices in Berlin, London, Paris and Florence, as well as New York.

It never presents any merchandise that is not of good quality and equitably priced.

Its very efficient service to patrons in the city is supplemented by the largest and best-equipped mail order department of any store in the South. Ninety-eight per cent of all orders received are filled on date of receipt.

The aim of the store is to merit fully the confidence that has been manifested by the public during its seventy-two years of merchandising history.

D. H. HOLMES CO., Ltd.

DR. THADDEUS P. BELL
Practice Limited to the Medical and Surgical Treatment of the
EYE, EAR, NOSE & THROAT
And the Correction of Errors of Vision.
814 Audubon Bldg., New Orleans, La.

LEON IRWIN & CO.,
Fire and Casualty Insurance
736 UNION STREET. Phone, Main 585.

The Home Circle

EVER-BLOOMING ROSE.

By Helen Elizabeth Coolidge.

"I wish, oh dear! how hard I wish,
I had a garden fair;
I'd never let the weeds grow tall,
I'd water it with eare;
I'd piek the lovely roses bright
And give them all away;
I'd be a butterfly and danee
Amid the blossoms gay—
Yet, here I live, in this old street,
And scarcely see the sky,
And 'tis so hard to do what's right,
That, often, I don't try."

"O little maid!" a falry speaks,
"Your heart's a garden fair,
And grumbly thoughts are ugly weeds
That, fast, are growing there;
There is a rose, well-named 'Content,'
That's always bright with dew,
And grows and grows more beautiful
If watered well by you—
With only just a patch of sky,
In some dark, narrow street,
I've seen it blooming all the year,
The sweetest of the sweet."

—Christian Intelligencer.

EARLY AND LATE.

By Mrs. J. B. Lummis.

It was a time of great religious interest in the little church at Easton; a wise and helpful Christian worker had been called to the aid of the earnest pastor and his faithful wife. The Church was deeply stirred; and as they listened to the words of Christ's messenger they consecrated themselves anew, and into hearts that had been burdened with anxiety and eare came peaee and rest and joy. The young were interested. The manliness of a Christlike characeter, brave, and strong, and true, appealed to them. Even the boys listened intently to every word of the speaker, while their young hearts were divinely stirred. There was a message for old and young, a message of love so strong and tender that every listener longed to be better for its sake; yet it urged for a decision of purpose with such intense earnestness that there was unrest in many a breast.

Mr. and Mrs. Alden, like many another father and mother, were anxious for their sons. Fred and Frank Alden were boys of whom any parent might be proud. They were handsome, studious, and full of life and spirit, but honorable and upright. They listened with interest and attention to the earnest words of the speaker, evening after evenlng; but they shrank from any personal appeals. The secrets of their hearts were known only to God. Even their mother was shut out from their confidence. Mrs. Alden looked on anxlously. Would they persist in walking alone life's dangerous way? and if they rejected a heavenly guide, what path might they not take? She thought with a sharp pang in her heart of the brother she had loved—a wanderer—lost to her, to heaven perhaps; and her heart turned to him with an intense love and longing. Was it too late for him? Might not some messenger speak to him once more? Might he not hear at last? The preclous days flew by—precious for the graclous influences that had won many hearts to Christ.

Among the morning's mail which Mr. Alden held in his hand was a letter which he handed to his wife. She glanced curiously at the address, written evidently with a feeble hand, and her look changed to surprise. She tore open the letter with trembling fingers. It was dated Sing Sing, N. Y., and read:

"My Dear Sister: I have turned the question over and over in my mind whether it is better for me to write you or to continue my long silence unbroken; but I am impelled by some strong impulse to write. This may be partly because I long more than I can ever tell you for some word from the ones that were once so dear—but that can never be.

"My heart goes back to the old home. I can not speak of the mother whose heart I broke. I often think of you, Molly. Do you remember the cabin we built under the old elm? the swing in the orchard? Do you ever go berrying or nutting now? Perhaps you have forgotten all about these things—it was so long ago—but when a man looks through grated windows he sees, not a glimpse of the grass and trees that are near him, but the green pastures and waving fields of the old home. Yes, Molly, I am in prison! I can see you crying for pity. You always felt every sorrow of mine, in the days that are gone. But don't cry! I have no one to blame but myself. Perhaps the disgraee of this will be more than you can bear. I have thought of that, and had almost decided that you should never know, and if this were all, I should still be silent. But, Molly, I am a Christian! Think of it! I am giving to God the last of a ruined life. Isn't it wonderful that he will take it?

"Are your boys living? They must be almost young men. Tell them for me, that a life of wickedness is a terrible mistake. For it I have lost home and friends, wealth and honor, happiness and character, liberty and life; for before this reaches you, I shall be shut in by bolts and bars no longer. My strength is fast ebbing. Death is beckoning to me, and his face is that of a friend. My life sentence is almost served, but before it is out release will be mine, and though my body be fettered, my spirit—thanks to a preeious Savior's love—will be freed.

"Tell your boys, Molly, to begin life arlght. Tell them not to be ashamed to do the manliest thing there is to do—serve God! It is easier to serve God than the devil. Beg them not to wait and offer him their last few feeble days, as I have done. Perhaps, Molly, this letter may help them if they are undecided. God is very kind and merciful; he may let me, even me, do this little thing for him.

"I love you, dear girl, and we shall meet in heaven. MARK."

This letter was read through blinding tears. Mr. Alden put his arm about his wife tenderly, while she shook with sobs. The boys bent over her anxiously, smoothing her hair with loving touches. "Mother," said Fred at last as she grew calmer, "Uncle Mark's letter shall help me decide: I have made up my mind now!" "We will begin together," said Frank, laying his arm around his brother's shoulders. "I had almost made up my mind to do what I knew was right, but now I should not dare to hesitate."

So a deep joy was mingled with Mrs. Alden's sorrow, and, though her tears would flow over the suffering, sorrow, and waste of the years that had been spent in sin, still praise filled her heart that bolts and bars and prison walls can not shut out God!

A LOCAL PREACHER IN THE BRITISH CABINET.

The Christian World, one of the leading religious journals of Great Britain, thus comments on the presence in the coalition cabinet of Hon. Arthur Henderson, the Wesleyan local preacher, who takes his place "on the plan" every Sunday in occupying pulpits: "One is apt to wonder what Mr. Henderson's cabinet colleagues think of having a Wesleyan local preacher in their midst. If only some of them would 'sit under' him on a Sunday they might be highly edified; certainly they would be treated with the utmost eandor, for the member for Barnard Castle is apt at speaking his mind. Picture the feelings of Sir Edward Carson, for instanee, at hearing sentiments like the following from the pulpit: 'Lawyers have a wonderful faculty for getting into the institution where law is supposed to be made, and the more there are of them the more difficult it is for us to understand the law that is turned out. When we have to be beholden to them for an explanation we get very little from them for six and eightpence.'"—Zion's Herald.

HAMILL MEMORIAL HALL OF SUNDAY SCHOOL PEDAGOGY.

During a visit to Japan Dr. Hamill conceived the idea of a building on the campus of the Kwansei Gakuin, Kohe, to be used as headquarters for Sunday school organizations and training. He offered to give $1000, and secured from Mr. H. J. Heinz the pledge of a like sum. Later, the Canadian Methodist Church and the Japanese Methodist Church joined in the plan with a pledge of $1000 each.

It is intended that the building shall cost $6000 (unfurnished), and it is estimated that for thorough equipment the cost will be $2000 more, making a total of $8000. It will be interdenominational in character, and will form part of the teaching equipment of the Kwansei Gakuin.

Friends and co-workers of Dr. Hamill, since his death, have decided that this shall be a memorial to him, and a building has been planned for that purpose. There could be no memorial more fitting to Dr. Hamill's life and work. A committee composed of Jno. R. Pepper, E. B. Chappell, B. M. Burgher, W. W. Millan, and A. J. Lamar will have charge of the enterprise.

We are sure that there are thousands of men, women, and children in the Sunday schools of our Church who have been blessed by the labors of Dr. Hamill and who hold the man in loving remembrance who will be glad to aid in erecting this memorial by giving from $1 to $100 each. It is better that this labor of love should be performed by the many in small contributions than by a few men in large amounts. It is important that this work be done quickly. Send your contributions, large or small, to Dr. A. J. Lamar, Treasurer, 810 Broadway, Nashville, Tenn.

—ARTIFICIAL LIMBS, ORTHOPEDIC—
APPARATUS, ELASTIC HOSIERY,
TRUSSES, CRUTCHES, ETC.
(Catalogues mailed on request)

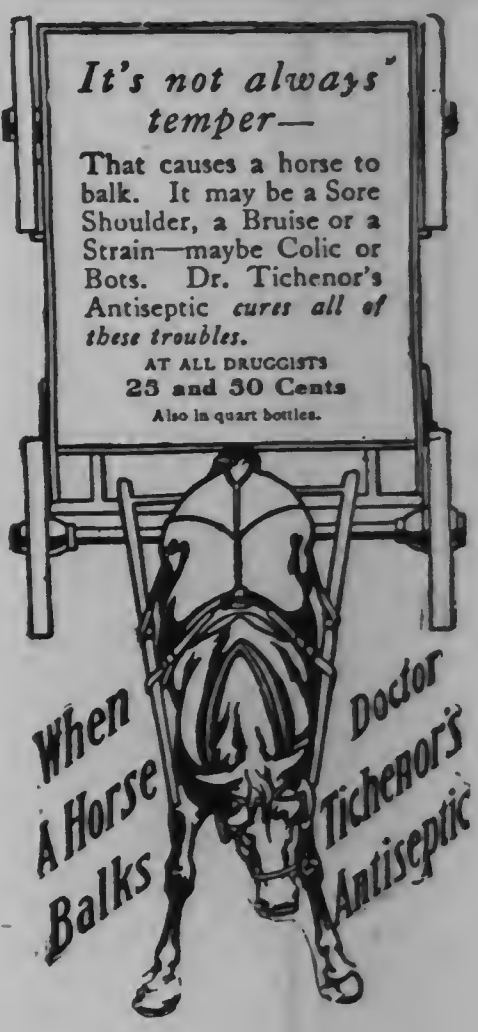
The McDermott Surgical Instrument Company, Limited.

734-738 POYDRAS STREET
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

It's not always temper—

That causes a horse to balk. It may be a Sore Shoulder, a Bruise or a Strain—maybe Colic or Bots. Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic cures all of these troubles.

AT ALL DRUGGISTS
25 and 50 Cents
Also in quart bottles.



Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: No. 512 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor,

CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Entered at the Postoffice at New Orleans as Second-class Mail Matter.

TERMS:
One Copy, one year, $1.50; eight months, $1.00. To preachers of all denominations, $1.00

PUBLISHING COMMITTEE:
Louisiana Conference—Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., Rev. W. W. Drake, Rev. C. B. Carter.
Mississippi Conference—Rev. I. W. Cooper, D.D., Rev. C. W. Crisler, Rev. T. W. Adams.
North Mississippi Conference—Rev. W. W. Woollard, Rev. H. S. Spragins, Mr. J. D. Barbee.

CHURCH PROPERTY AND THE STATE.

The attitude of the State toward Church property has long been a question of interest and in some instances of contention. It was out of this issue that the old mortmain laws of the European countries were developed, and in the United States the subject has at times been very much to the front. It has been because of legislation unfavorable to the Church as a property holder in a number of the States and the consequent necessity of having the charters for her schools taken out in the names of private members that it has been found possible in so many cases to wrest them from her. In most of the commonwealths of the American Union within recent years a more liberal policy towards the Church in this respect has been pursued, but the old feeling of suspicion or inappreciation has by no means everywhere disappeared. In Mississippi, for instance, the Constitution forbids the bequeathing of property to the Church or any institution owned by her, and in Georgia the laws are very illiberal as to the exemption from taxation of the property holdings of the Church. Movements are now under way in both of these States to bring about a different condition of things. On the other hand, in the New York Constitutional Convention, now in session, an effort is being made to require the taxation of Church property and the realty of benevolent and philanthropic institutions which hitherto have been exempt. So, it will be seen that this issue is yet a live one, and it may become increasingly so in the coming years.

Apropose of the present situation in New York, The Wall Street Journal recently contained a somewhat extended editorial utterance which was quite suggestive, and from which we quote as follows:

"Of the present exemption of real estate in the city totaling $1,800,000,000 in value, the Federal government, the State and the city own four-fifths. Taxation of the remainder would affect the tax rate imperceptibly. But it would work incalculable injury, not merely to religious and other societies, but to every section of the city.

"From the business point of view a church is a large asset for the value of property. The open aspect of a churchyard, the moral atmosphere predicating better living conditions and better surroundings for the rearing of a family, the development of artistic sense and its results in buildings old and new which are affected by the presence of moral or beneficial institutions, add greatly to the desirability of a neighborhood, and so to its real estate value. * * *

"Taxation means the sale of properties impossible to hold because of costs of taxation. Use of these spots for business purposes would destroy the spirit of a city and realty values built around these oases in the city rush. The churches would gain in material advantages, but other loss would be enormous. * * *

"Wall Street has some soul. It also has pride in the traditions of the district that it represents. It feels that it divides with Catholic and Protestant Churches a heritage above wealth or even taxes. It will oppose attempts to tax churches, to desecrate the surroundings of the graves of Alexander Hamilton, Lord Sterling, Albert Gallatin, James Lawrence, or the Revolutionary martyrs; and to injure in its midst shrines of spiritual significance."

A REAL SOURCE OF DANGER.

We clip from a distinguished contemporary the following letter of inquiry and the answer, which are well worth reading:

"'Mr. Editor: Should evangelical people patronize and support 'a Chautauqua' which has a Unitarian preacher on its program as one of its prominent lecturers? One of the traveling Chautauquas in our region has bulletined a Unitarian who is in the papers every week, attacking the fundamental doctrines of the evangelical faith.

"'A PRESBYTERIAN.'"

"II John 9-11 answers this question: 'He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son. If there come any unto you and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, neither bid him God-speed: For he that biddeth him God-speed is partaker of his evil deeds.'"

Unquestionably the Chautauquas and our various summer schools, though they may be made a great blessing, may easily become a source of evil. In this day when there is so much loose teaching, great care should be exercised in selecting the men who are to be the speakers and instructors on such occasions. If these organizations are owned and controlled by the Church, she should draw them close to her and exercise over them a careful supervision.

In this connection it may not be amiss to say that it seems to be the plan and hope of the pro-Vanderbilt men in the Church to win valuable recognition and prestige for the instructors in the new and "liberal" School of Religion at Vanderbilt University by getting them on the programs of our Church meetings and institutions of this kind, and they seem to be succeeding well in the attempt. Why permit these men to be brought into contact with our young people in such a capacity and give them the influence that they may thus acquire with them when we know that they will use every ounce of it to take them away from our own schools? If their liberal teachings are good for our preachers and young Methodists in summer religious schools, why are they not good for them on the Vanderbilt campus? Truly, "the children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light."

TWO SIDES TO THE QUESTION.

Very frequently one sees statements claiming great capacity for young men and disparaging the efficiency of persons beginning to grow old. Dr. Steel, our brilliant South Carolina correspondent, told us in the Advocate last week what some gentlemen of distinction had said on this subject. The cold, stubborn facts of history and current happenings, however, do not by any means uniformly support the view that men past sixty have lost their ability to serve effectively and achieve things of large consequence. Mr. Marion J. Pike, a correspondent of The Times-Picayune, in discussing in a recent issue of that journal the late remarkable military exploits of General Mackensen, the German commander who led the forces that drove the Russians out of Galicia, makes the following observation which bears suggestively on this point:

"Like most leaders in this war, Mackensen is an old man. Joffre is 63; his lieutenants, Foch, Castelinau, and Galiieni, are over 60; so is Kitchener; so is French. Hindenburg is 69. The man in whose hands lies Italy's fate—Count Cadorna—is 70. And Mackensen, the bulidog of Galicia, waited sixty-four long years for the crown of glory. It is an old man's war."

CHURCH EXTENSION HAND BOOK.

We have in hand the Church Extension Hand Book of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for 1915. It is a paper-bound volume of 463 pages and is up to the usual high standard of this annual publication. The first pages contain the proceedings of the Thirty-third Annual Meeting of the Board of Church Extension, held in St. Louis last May. Then follows a gist of the Report of the Corresponding Secretary, Dr. W. F. McMurry, which shows the far-reaching activities of this important work and how it is steadily growing. The book is illustrated, contains many impressive tables and exhibits, and is brimful of interesting information. No arm of service in our Church is contributing more to its upbuilding than that under Dr. McMurry's direction, and he is magnifying the great office to which his brethren have called him. Every pastor should give the Church Extension Hand Book a careful examination, and as he has opportunity he should bring the different phases of the work conducted by this department to the attention of his congregation. Dr. McMurry and his co-workers are adding some bright and inspiring chapters to the history of Southern Methodism.

PERSONALS AND OTHER NOTES.

Rev. W. W. Bruner, of the Wall Hill (Miss.) charge, sends us a club of 5 subscriptions, for which we extend him our thanks. He is a faithful worker and serves a good people.

Dr. T. B. Holloman, of Vicksburg, Miss., as will be seen elsewhere in this issue of the Advocate, states that he is dwelling in a manse with mirrors on every side. How can he stand it?

A baby girl, weighing ten pounds, was born to Rev. and Mrs. T. V. Peters, of Algiers, La., on Friday, July 16. Both the mother and babe are reported to be doing well. The Advocate heartily congratulates the happy parents.

Have you sent the names of the young people in your charge who are going off to school to the college that they ought to attend in your Conference? If not, sit down and do so at once. Our educators are entitled to our assistance in securing students.

Ex-Governor G. D. Shands, of New Orleans, according to The Sardis (Miss.) Reporter, recently spent a brief time in Sardis between trains. He was en route to Senatobia, where he formerly lived for a number of years. Ex-Governor Shands is held in high esteem throughout the Magnolia State.

The St. Helena Echo of Greensburg, La., Brother W. T. Holland's highly creditable weekly, stated last week that Rev. R. V. Fuiton was engaged in a protracted meeting at Day's Church, one of the appointments on the St. Helena Circuit. He was being assisted by Rev. J. A. McCormack, of Franklinton.

The Port Gibson (Miss.) District has been terribly scourged with disasters within recent years, but notwithstanding this fact Rev. T. W. Adams and his co-workers are making a fine record in carrying forward the interests of the Church in that part of the field. As a leader, Brother Adams is alert, resourceful, and efficient.

Dr. W. H. Huntley, of Biloxi, Miss., the genial and accomplished presiding elder of the Seashore District, was a recent visitor to New Orleans, and generously gave us a portion of his time while in the city. It is unnecessary for us to say that we greatly enjoyed that brief season of fellowship. Dr. Huntley has the work of the Church much on his heart.

Our "Church News Department" has not been discontinued—it has only been crowded out by the pressure that has been upon us for space. In this connection, we will also say that we are often asked to discuss subjects editorially which for the same reason we cannot take up. We hope that no such correspondent will think that we are indifferent to his request.

The forms for this issue of the Advocate are being closed a day earlier than is usual in order that the Editor may be able to meet the Board of Education of the North Mississippi Conference at Greenwood on Wednesday morning. We make this statement because it may be needed to explain why some things that perhaps were expected to get in the paper do not appear.

Rev. C. A. Battle, pastor of the First M. E. Church, South, of Baton Rouge, La., was in New Orleans last Friday and graciously looked on us in our sanctum. He spoke encouragingly of his work and stated that he has lately been doing a large amount of pastoral visiting. He has received 72 members into the Church since the Annual Conference, more than 20 of them on profession of faith.

Rev. J. H. Mitchell, who is winding up his quadrennium on the Corinth (Miss.) District, has wrought well for Methodism in that large and populous field. He is a man of sound judgment and untiring energy, and is much appreciated by both the pastors and people in the territory under his supervision. We dare say that he will make an excellent report to the Annual Conference at New Albany this fall.

Rev. J. B. Randolph, of Kosciusko, Miss., writes as follows: "Everything goes well with us here. We have received this year 49 members into the Church. I am getting up a directory and sketch of this historic charge. I will send you one when it is published." We dare say Brother Randolph's publication will be well worth a careful examinaton. It was in this charge that Bishop Charles B. Galloway, whose fame is as wide as universal Methodism, was born.

Rev. J. W. Dorman, presiding elder of the Sardis (Miss.) District, is rounding out four successful years of work in the responsible field under his care. Brother Dorman has the poise of a Bishop and may always be depended upon to give a good account of himself in any undertaking. As will be seen in this issue of the Advocate, he has provoked Judge Hughston, the lay leader of the North Mississippi Conference, into doing some good writing and exhorting.

We are printing this week a brief note from Rev. L. F. Whitten, of Birmingham, Ala., who is the pastor of Trinity Church in that city, which makes interesting reading. In a brief personal communication to the Editor, Brother Whitten says: "I have been a pastor in the North Alabama Conference for forty-six years without a break. Bishop McTyeire used to stay with me at Decatur in 1876 and 1877 and talked to me freely about how he got the money to establish Vanderbilt University. Now it has been taken from us." We are grateful to this noble veteran for his appreciative words concerning the service which the New Orleans Advocate is rendering the Church.

Brother C. P. Pond, of Crowley, La., who is connected with the Signal Publishing Company of that city, which publishes The Daily Signal, a weekly paper known as The Crowley Signal (every Saturday), and The Rice Journal and Southern Farmer, writes us as follows: "Having charge of the subscriptions of three publications, I know the trials and tribulations of those whose business it is to get renewals and induce delinquents to pay up. You will find my check for $3.10, which places my subscription in advance. We think the Advocate is an exceptionally good paper and always want it to continue its weekly visits to our home." Thank you, brother. And may your own publications enjoy increasing prosperity.

We take the following from the Western Christian Advocate (Little Rock, Ark.) of July 15: "Monday our office was honored with the presence of a saint in our Israel, Dr. T. C. Wier, of Starkville, Miss. He is eighty-seven years old, a superannuate member of the North Mississippi Conference, a veteran of many years of faithful and efficient service whose name is a household word in Mississippi. It is a blessing and a benediction to the younger men to meet such a man. He is spending a few days with his son in our city, and will journey westward to visit other children in Fort Smith and Oklahoma, Mrs. Dr. A. E. Bonnell of Muskogee, Okla., being one of his daughters. May his way grow brighter and brighter as he nears the setting sun."

In the death of Dr. John Y. Murry, of Ripley, Miss., an announcement of whose demise appears elsewhere in this issue of the Advocate, North Mississippi Methodism has lost one of its landmarks. He was a man of outstanding individuality, of a sound religious experience, and of strong and solid character. He was a Southern Methodist of the best type, who loved his Church, who was loyal to its teachings and institutions, and who was ever glad to spend his substance and strength to promote its progress. He was a physician of note, a useful and patriotic citizen, and a faithful disciple of the Lord Jesus. He has left behind a long and worthy record and the fragrance of a good name, and we doubt not that he has passed to a glorious reward. May the Heavenly Father bless his bereaved loved ones and give them a sufficiency of sustaining grace in this hour of loneliness and sorrow!

Mrs. F. A. Lyons, one of the best known and most highly esteemed Methodists of New Orleans, is reported to be critically ill at the Seashore Campground. It is stated that her children—Mr. Fred G. Lyons, Mrs. Lewis S. Clarke, Miss Susie Lyons, and Mrs. M. D. Lyons have been summoned by telegraph and are at the bedside of their mother. May the gracious Heavenly Father be consciously present with his faithful servant and her solicitous loved ones in this time of suffering and anxiety!

(Since this note was written, Mrs. Lyons died, and her body was brought to New Orleans and buried from the Rayne Memorial Church, with Dr. Hill, her pastor, and Rev. Felix R. Hill, Sr., officiating. New Orleans Methodism has sustained a great loss. We trust that some one in a position to do so will at an early date furnish the Advocate a fitting memoir of this splendid woman, who lived and wrought so worthily.)

A NOTABLE MAN GONE FROM US.

How true is the proverb, "The hoary head is a crown of glory, if it be found in the way of righteousness!" This can truly be said of our friend and brother, Dr. John Y. Murry, of Ripley, Miss., who fell on sleep at midnight, on July 13, 1915.

Dr. Murry was 86 years of age on the 6th day of May, 1915. He had been a faithful member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, since boyhood. He was a steward in the Church for forty-five years; superintendent of the Sunday school sixteen years; was a member of the Sunday School Board of the North Mississippi Conference, and had been president of the County Sunday School Convention since its organization, twenty-eight years ago.

During the past winter he had been attending Sunday school regularly, often going through inclement weather in order to be at his post of duty. For one of his years, Dr. Murry was remarkably strong both in body and mind.

Loved and respected by all, he has wielded an influence for good which has been felt not only in his home town, but elsewhere in the State and beyond its bounds.

The funeral was conducted from the church he loved, and to which he had given so many useful years of loyal service, on Wednesday morning, July 14. The body was tenderly placed in a vault, on the family lot, in the Ripley Cemetery, with Masonic honors. A more extended sketch will be furnished the Advocate later.

R. P. NEBLETT, Pastor.

WOMAN'S DAY FOR THE GREENVILLE DISTRICT.

Sunday, August 8, or as near thereto as practicable, has been selected as "Woman's Day" for the Greenville District. Let each pastor on this day bring to his congregation an earnest missionary message, emphasizing the great work which is being done by our women, and use his best efforts to enlist others in the work.

In the great missionary campaign which is now being made by the women of our Church to increase the number of Auxiliaries, and add to the membership of those already organized, I bespeak the co-operation of the preachers of the Greenville District. Their work is ours. The Discipline makes it the duty of the preacher in charge to see that Woman's Missionary Societies are organized in every church, where at all practicable. Let us lend a helping hand in this most worthy undertaking.

H. S. SPRAGINS.

Greenville, Miss.

Secular News and Comment

By R. E. Meek.

From the beginning of the war up to May 31 the British navy had had 13,547 officers and men to be killed, wounded or reported missing. Of this number 8,245 were killed.

• • •

In 1914 Italy produced 172,697,000 bushels of wheat. It is predicted that her yield for the year 1915 will amount to 202,093,000 bushels. Coming at a time when she is one of the nations engaged in the terrible war now raging, this large crop will be of great benefit both to her and to some of the other nations of Europe.

• • •

Porfirio Diaz, called by some "Mexico's Man of Destiny," died recently at the age of 85 years. Since 1911 he had been an exile from his native land. In lands other than his native Mexico he was as much out of his element as a caged eagle. He proved during the years that he served as President of his country that it can be ruled only by a hand of iron.

• • •

On July 3, J. P. Morgan, the well-known New York financier, was shot by Frank Holt, a university professor. The wounds inflicted by the bullets are not thought to be serious, and Mr. Morgan is expected to recover. Holt was placed in jail, where, while awaiting an examination by the court, he committed suicide by jumping from his cell to the courtyard below, a distance of some 30 feet.

• • •

The campaign in New Orleans against rats and for the purpose of making it a thoroughly rat-proof city has been a great success. Records show that 400,000 of the rodents have been killed, 40,000 houses made rat-proof, and 2,000 valueless shacks torn down. The work of rat killing is expected to continue, though the courts have called in question the legal right of the health authorities to force property owners to have their buildings made rat-proof.

• • •

The flag of the Chinese republic has five colors, namely, red, yellow, blue, white, and black. A native points out what they symbolize in the following language: "The colors represent the five races of our empire. The red stands for the Chinese, the yellow for the Manchus, the blue for the Mongolians, the white for the Mohammedans, and the black for the Tibetans. The colors also stand for the five cardinal virtues of the Chinese — benevolence, righteousness, politeness, wisdom, and faithfulness."

• • •

In San Francisco it has been discovered that by the payment of $10 in advance and the offering of larger salaries some of our soldiers and sailors have been induced to desert our army and navy in order to go to Europe and join the British army, where they are promised active service. Things must be in a pretty bad way when patriotism is at so low an ebb among the defenders of our country. Fortunately, we are able to entertain the hope that this is true of only a few of those that go to make up the army and navy of the United States.

• • •

In the German province in which Berlin is located orders have been issued by the military authorities prohibiting the manufacture of cotton into cloth. The reason for such a measure is supposed to be that Germany needs all the cotton she has for making explosives. The increasing demand for cotton for such purposes ought to encourage the Southern farmer. If Germany has to have cotton to carry on the war, evidently the Allies will have to have it, too. So indispensable is the fleecy staple in modern warfare that its price is not likely to go much lower while the war lasts, if the cotton acreage is reduced sufficiently and the crop is not too large.

TO OUR PREACHERS.

The management of this Advocate has decided to let our preachers and agents offer six months trial subscriptions at 50 cents during August, September and October. This offer will be withdrawn on the 10th of November, 1914. Subscriptions must be sent in in clubs and money orders used in making remittances so as to save expense.

In soliciting new subscribers, please explain to them that the six months' subscriptions are taken with the understanding that, after their expiration, the regular rate of $1.50 will be charged for annual subscriptions unless they are ordered canceled.

We are making this offer for a three-fold purpose:

First—To build up our subscription list before the annual meeting of the Publishing Committee.

Second—To get funds to help tide us over the summer and fall months.

Third—To induce our Methodist people to take the Conference Organ and read it.

WANTED, POSITION AS TEACHER OR GOVERNESS.

A Christian young lady, competent and with untiring energy, is anxious to secure a position as teacher or governess. She was educated at Port Gibson Female College. Has had two years' experience with first-grade teacher's license. She is ambitious and would give faithful service. Any one interested may write Rev. J. R. Jones, Meridian, Miss.

S. P. UNIVERSITY

Offers what increases a man's power to earn money, to become prominent in any sphere, to enlarge his infinence and his service to his fellows.

Offers as good educational value as some institutions where the cost is three times as great.

Has students whose character is a safeguard to their fellows.

Puts the emphasis on the college work, but encourages a reasonable amount of athletics and other activities. For information address

J. R. DOBYNS, President Clarksville, Tenn

DR. H. B. BARTLETT

National Dental Parlors

Cor. Canal & Camp Sts.

ENTRANCE 106 CAMP

Phone Main 2193

NEW ORLEANS

Vitalized Air for Painless Extraction

Crown and Bridge Specialist

The Largest and Best Equipped Dental Parlors South.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE

DIRECT TRAINS TO

New York

Cincinnati

Birmingham

PULLMAN SLEEPERS, DINING CARS.

— The Scenic Route —

TICKET OFFICE:
211 ST. CHARLES STREET.
Depot, Terminal Station, Canal St.
Phone, Main 2939.

—THE—

Louisiana & Arkansas

RAILWAY

L&A RAILWAY

Announces the sale by its Ticket Agents at—

Alexandria, Shreveport, Winnfield, Minden, Sibley, Cotton Valley, Trout, Jena, and Jonesville, Louisiana,

—OF—

INTERCHANGEABLE THOUSAND MILE BOOKS

Good on All Roads in Louisiana.

Save Money by buying one of these Books.

B. S. ATKINSON,
General Passenger Agent.

"Them Good Saw Mills"

$150.00 and upwards.

Timber is growing valnable. Saw for yonrself and neighbors. A few good trees cut into lnmber will pay for one.

Write for full information and guarantee.

CORINTH MACHINERY COMPANY.

Box 6. - - - - Corinth Miss.

Obituaries.

Obituaries not over 200 words in length will be published free of charge. All over 200 words will be charged at the rate of 1 cent a word. Count the words and send the amonnt necessary with the obituary. That will save trouble all around. Otherwise the obituaries will be edited down to 200 words.

Mr. A. P. WEBB passed peacefully to his eternal reward on May 27, 1915, at his father's home near Hanna, La. He was born on October 5, 1887. He gave his heart to God early this past spring. I sat with him and talked of the need of living right in order that we might prove a blessing to the people we associate with daily. I saw he was anxious to be taught the way of life and with a plain gospel message he accepted Christ and was saved. He joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at Coushatta. He married Miss Minnie Rainwater two years ago, and of this union were born one son, who, with a number of relatives and friends, are left to mourn their loss. His work on earth is done and victory is won. Bereft ones, be cheerful; he is not dead but gone to his heavenly home. You that are shorne look to God who is able to fill your souls with love and grace sufficient to the day of summons. All are glad that you weep not as those who have no hope. In the presence of friends and loved ones his body was laid to rest in the Springville Cemetery, at Coushatta, Louisiana.

T. J. HOLLADAY.

Mrs. ANNA BAKER SCOTT departed this life at the home of her father, Brother John Baker, on June 14, the interment following at Ebenezer Cemetery. Hundreds of friends were present and brought many beautiful flowers. She was 29 years of age, and the wife of Brother Marvin E. Scott, a local preacher, and the sister of Revs. W. B. and G. A. Baker of the North Mississippi Conference, who were present at the old home when their dear sister passed into the higher and better world. Two little children, besides the husband, and many other relatives are left to mourn their loss, but all have the assurance that "'tis well with her soul," as she so confidently expressed it just before the summons came. She joined the Methodist Church in early childhood and never knew what it meant to be other than a true Christian. During the last days of her life she suffered intensely, but bore it patiently and lovingly and died as she had lived in the full assurance of faith in her Redeemer. "To such death is not a descent, but a never-ending ascent into the higher and better spheres."

E. H. CUNNINGHAM, P. C.

MRS. MARY ELIZABETH BALL.

On Sunday afternoon, May 30, 1915, at four o'clock, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives, we laid to rest in the cemetery at Tylertown, Miss., all that was mortal of Sister M. E. Ball,

The funeral service from the Methodist Church was conducted by the writer, assisted by the Baptist pastors, Brothers Andrew Davis and J. B. Quinn. On the preceding day at 2:30 p. m., while her daughters, Misses Effie and Minnie, were faithfully ministering to her comfort, she calmly closed her eyes to the scenes of this world to open them in the world of light.

Sister Ball was the daughter of William G. and Mary Elizabeth Tyler, and was born on July 19, 1840. She was married to D. N. Ball on Aug. 30, 1855. Her husband was a loyal and consistent member of the Methodist Church, serving as a steward from early life to the time of his death.

Two of their daughters became wives of Methodist ministers, the late Rev. W. M. Stevens and Rev. E. L. Alford, now pastor of our church at Anguilla. Eight children survive to cherish her memory and miss her saintly presence: Dr. J. N. and Messrs. J. J. and R. T. Ball of Bogalusa, La., Mr. N. E. and Misses Effie and Minnie Ball of Tylertown, Miss., Mrs. E. L. Alford of Anguilla, Miss., and Mrs. S. D. Green of Memphis, Tenn. Besides these as near relatives are one brother and sister and 17 grandchildren. The little town of Tylertown was named for her father.

Sister Ball was converted in early life and joined the Methodist Church, but in 1885, when her daughter, Sophie, was converted at the old China Grove Camp Meeting. As a result of a complete consecration, there came into her life a new and deeper experience of joy and peace to which she often referred and testified that from that time till the end there was not the slightest doubt as to her acceptance with God.

It was the writer's privilege to be associated with her as pastor for one and a half years, and the impression made upon him by her patience, cheerfulness, and saintly character will ever abide. She loved the Word of God, felt a deep interest in the Church, and was her pastor's friend. The constant ministrations of friends during her illness of three weeks, the large attendance upon the funeral services, and the beautiful floral offerings upon the casket and grave gave strong evidence of the high appreciation and love in which she was held in the community in which she lived.

The devotion between mother and children was beautiful and the home was one of happiness. She will be greatly missed by the community and church, and her place in the home and hearts of loved ones cannot be filled. Earth was made better by her life and her influence remains as a benediction to others. Heaven is enriched by her presence. So quiet and peaceful was the end that the daughters who looked into her face thought her only sleeping. "She is not dead but sleepeth." Her last testimony was that her only anxiety was for the salvation of all her children; and her prayer was that they might meet her in the better world. May the God of all grace comfort the sad hearts and bring them all at last as one happy, reunited family to that bright home above. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord: Yea, sayeth the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them."

"Redeemed from earth and pain,
Ah, when shall we ascend,
And all in Jesus' presence reign
With our translated friend?

T. B. COTTRELL.

GREAT REVIVAL AT TCHULA.

Dear Mr. Editor: We have recently closed one of the best revivals ever held in Tchula or that it has ever been my pleasure to witness, and one of our older brethren said it was the best meeting he had ever seen. The result in part was the spiritual uplift of almost everybody in the town; 18 joined the Methodist Church, 10 the Presbyterian, 2 the Episcopal Church, and 4 or 5 the Baptist. Fifty strong, mature men volunteered to do any kind of service for the Church, and vied with each other as to who should be first to conduct the men's prayer meeting. It was truly a work of the Holy Spirit.

About a year ago the good women of the town began to pray for a great revival and the pastor began to look for some man sent of God to lead the meeting. He secured the services of Rev. D. E. Kelley, Conference evangelist of the Mississippi Conference, and his brother, John Kelley, a cornetest, who led the choir.

John Kelley plays the cornet excellently and does good work in the choir and in the meeting. Dan Kelley is a deeply pious, well educated, and a highly gifted gospel preacher. He will do good anywhere he goes. Any congregation would do well to secure his services as leader of a revival.

Tchula is a small town of good people, and I have no doubt that in a very short time it will be a station. It is situated in the Delta and made up of level-headed, large-hearted men and beautiful, intelligent, consecrated women.

After making a very liberal contribution to the evangelist and his singer, the pastor was given $40 as a present. Dear old Tchula has had a blessing that will do her good for generations to come. May God bless all the circuits, all the districts, and all our Conferences with an outpouring of his Holy Spirit!

We had as visitors and helpers our beloved presiding elder, W. S. Shipman, Rev. V. C. Curtis, our pastor at Lexington; Melvin Johnson, the pastor at West, and Brothers Gellespie and Wharton, pastor and student worker in the Presbyterian Church.

Sidon, Miss. J. A. POE, Pastor.

"MY DAUGHTER!"

In these words is reflected a mother's pride. In the joy behind them is her reward for the pain and sacrifice she so willingly gave and the loving forethought she so wisely exercised.

Her daughter—now a woman—noble in character, pure in heart, charming in personallty, sensible in mind and cultured in her accomplishments.

Your daughter! Don't deny her the invaluable years of boarding school life. Develop her, polish her in mind, body and character. Complete your life's work with the finished, cultural training that Martin College can impart. The years of experience of this institution, its wise administration and its splendid equipment place it in a high position among other colleges. By all means obtain a catalogue of Martin College. Clip and sign the note below and mail.

Martin College, W. T. Wynn, Pres.,
Box J, Pulaski, Tenn.

Dear Sir: In the interest of my daughter, please send me full information about the following courses, (underscore those desired): Piano, Art, Expression, Voice Culture, Domestic Science, Literary Work. Give full details as to rates, etc.

Name .....

Address .....

Bethel College

For Women

Chartered - - - 1855

Offers a limited number of girls splendid advantages at a very moderate cost. Delightfully situated. Seven acres of wooded campus. Distinctly Christian and homelike in atmosphere. Opportunity to hear notable musical attractions. Autumn trip to Mammoth Cave. Easily accessible. Seventy miles north of Nashville. Preparatory and College work, leading to B. S. and A. B. degrees with Junior College Arts Diploma. Music, Art, Expression and Domestic Science. All kinds of Athletics.

For full information, catalogue, and beautiful view book, address President W. S. Peterson, Box E, Hopkinsville, Ky.

From the Field.

Eucutta, Miss.

Dear Brother Meek: I am sending you a brief report from the Eucutta charge. At the four churches on the charge with two extra appointments, we observed Children's Day, completing the round on the third Sunday in June. The attendance and interest manifested generally exceeded our expectation. As a whole, we consider the offering liberal—$22. The first of our revival meetings closed on the 9th inst. at New Hope Church. Notwithstanding the fact of rain with the accustomed hindrances to travel for several days, the attendance was good. Brother Hilary Westbrook assisted us and the Spirit-filled messages which this consecrated man of God brought were cauculated to bring conviction to sinners and strengthen those already in the faith. There were four accessions by baptism and one by certificate; also, a general spiritual uplift to the membership and community. The prospects are encouraging on our work.—Chas. E. Downer, P. C.

Pontotoc, Miss.

Dear Dr. Meek: I notice that some of our Sunday schools are boasting of their attendance on the "Sunday School Day" that was named by the Governor. I have heard of none that equaled Pontotoc. We had about 85 per cent of the white population in our Sunday schools on that day. We have regularly over 60 per cent of our white people in attendance. We had in the Methodist School 33 1-3 per cent more than the church enrollment, with an all-day singing not far away. Our regular attendance nearly equals the church enrolment. We doubt if a station charge in Mississippi can equal this record. We have just closed a fine meeting in our Church here. Brother Neblett led the music for us and did it well. We have a fine orchestra and are planning to make it much better. Our attendance was large, the interest was good, and there were a number of conversions. We have received up to date 36, with some others to join. Great is Pontotoc.—J. H. Holder, P. C.

July 9, 1915.

Tchula, Miss.

Tchula is the happiest town in Mississippi, because God's Holy Spirit has been at work here as never before. He used Rev. Dan Kelly, as one man expressed it, to turn over old chunks that we thought could never be turned over. People who joined the Church in childhood, but who had grown cold and indifferent, were reclaimed and started right to work—were "gotten into harness again." Mr. Kelly has a wonderful way of drawing his crowd, then keeping them and causing them to bring others out to the big meeting. People thirty-five and forty years old say they never saw such meetings as the ones here on Wednesday, July 7, 1915. The ladies had been asked to bring little bouquets and a paper of pins; the altar rail was full, and after the sermon Brother Dan told us he wanted each one to take a bouquet and pin it on mother, father, sister or brother or whoever had been a help or blessing to him. He called Mr. Dan Foose, who has been our Sunday school superintendent and stand-by in the Church for years, to come up and he put a rose on him first of all. We all wanted to put one on him, but we had others also to be remembered; so in a few minutes nearly everyone in the house had a bouquet and Brother Kelly's coat was covered. It was the sweetest service of all, while the closing service that night was the grandest, most glorious because it showed greater demonstrations of victory. People testified for God that night who had never been able to get on their feet and say a word in Church before, and thirty-six men volunteered to lead in the men's prayer meeting which was organized; he had that band of men at the altar to join hands for service, and while they were united, every woman in that church was joined with them in spirit to stand by them; then we all stood and joined hands and hearts singing, "Blest be the tie that binds."

We also organized a woman's prayer meeting and a Bible class for men—all of these are to be union meetings, which shows the broadening influence of his work, all denominations working together in kingdom service. Our little town is so small that it is good that we can work together, and we will. The men with their cars went for people who could not go otherwise, making two and three trips to the Church three times a day. People came many miles to hear Brother Kelly tell of God and His power to save. All of us resolved to live closer to Him and let Him reign in our hearts.—From the Tchula People.

SOUTH MISSISSIPPI UNSURPASSED.

I am a minister of 38 years' actual service and connected with the California Conference.

I had expected to continue my chosen work, but because of abnormal heart action was warned by my physician that continued preaching would be fatal; hence I was forced to superannuate earlier in life than I had anticipated, thus cutting off my income. Like many others of like calling, I at no time in my career commanded a salary sufficiently large to lay by enough for the proverbial "rainy day." Consequently, it was incumbent on me to look around for a home and the wherewith to maintain it. During a tour of inspection some four years ago, while pastor of a church in Oakland, Calif., I had convinced myself of the delightful climate and healthful conditions in George County, Miss. Therefore, for various reasons, health considerations one of the principal ones, we came here and already we are finding it the mecca for health.

This is a splendid country for progressive, wide-awake people, as every species of fruit and vegetables usually raised in a semi-tropical country can be grown in great abundance. The truckers take three and four crops annually from the soil, vegetation continuing to grow for twelve months of the year; also all kinds of poultry—chickens, ducks and turkeys—thrive wonderfully on the virgin soil.

I have been so fortunate as to secure some free land for an orchard and home site, which is a great help. I am making a specialty of figs, which are particularly adapted to these parts. The trees produce enormous crops and continue to bear for one hundred years or more.

If any of the brethren desire to secure some free land, I will gladly give them the necessary information, render them every service in my power and warmly welcome them to this beautiful Southland, where any man can take a good living from the soil.

I am writing this letter for the benefit of clerymen and others, who, like myself, desire to secure a home of their own and moderate comforts in old age. Very truly yours,

(Rev.) SPRAGUE DAVIS.

Lucedale, Miss.

The Fitzgerald and Clarke School.

TALLAHOMA, TENN.

Graduates enter every University in the United States (except five) without examination. The School is located on the edge of the Cumberland Mountains, 1070 feet above sea level. Excellent Dormitory, Gynasium, and Library. All that we ask is that you write for our catalog. Address Box 343.

L&N Louisville & Nashville R. R.

THE DIRECT LINE NORTH AND EAST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED STEEL SLEEPERS
DINING CARS, OBSERVATION CARS, CHAIR CARS

Phone M. 4093. TICKET OFFICE 201 ST. CHARLES STREET

"EXPOSITION LINE"
SOUTHERN PACIFIC — SUNSET ROUTE

ONE FARE
FOR THE
ROUND TRIP
$57.50
TO
California AND THE Expositions

TICKETS ON SALE DAILY

Limited to return within 90 days. Stopover all points enroute. Shortest and quickest route. Two through Steel Trains daily. Oil burning Locomotives. Electric Block Signals. Observation Cars.

Best Dining Car in America

For full information and illustrated catalogue, ask any Southern Pacific Agent or write

W. H. STAKELUM, Div. Pass. Agent, Lake Charles, La.
J. H. R. PARSONS, Gen. Pass. Agent, New Orleans, La.

THE TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY — EL PASO

Make Your
Vacation Count!
Two or Three Weeks at
MINERAL WELLS

would almost make a new man of you, and a jolly, pleasant three weeks they would be, too! Low Round Trip Rates Every Day.

CITY TICKET OFFICE, 207 St. Charles Street.

EDENBORN LINE
LOUISIANA RAILWAY & NAVIGATION CO.
THE SHORT LINE :: THE POPULAR ROUTE
BETWEEN
New Orleans :: Baton Rouge : : Alexandria :: Shreveport

TICKETS ON SALE TO ALL POINTS NORTHWEST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS

Secure Reservations at City Ticket Office

709 GRAVIER STREET, ST. CHARLES HOTEL

You Look Prematurely Old

Because of those ugly, grizzly gray hairs. Use "LA CREOLE" HAIR DRESSING. Price $1.00, retail.

RANDOLPH-MACON ACADEMY
For Boys Bedford City, Va.
Offers prompt and thorough preparation for college, scientific school or business life. The liberal endowment of the Randolph-Macon System, of which this school is a branch, permits of unusually low terms. $255 covers all charges for the school year. No extras. Randolph-Macon boys succeed—465 graduates of this school have received full college degrees or entered professions in the past 18 years. For catalogue and further information, address
E. SUMTER SMITH, Principal

Sunday School

HOW TO HOLD BOYS AND GIRLS OVER THIRTEEN.

By Rev. B. F. Lewis.

II.

The second thing helpful in holding our boys and girls in the Sunday school and for Christ after the age of thirteen is

The Adapted Lesson.

1. The age from thirteen to seventeen is the transition period of life. Boys and girls begin to know themselves. It is a new experience and affects them greatly. It is the most critical of all periods, and in spite of heredity and environment, many a life is marred because elders do not stop and think. The boy puts his hands in his pocket and goes swaggering down the street as if he owned the town. He buys flashy neckties, puts his hat on the side of his head, and unceremoniously pushes the little fellow out of the way. It has dawned upon him that he is a boy—a boy. The girl will stand before the looking-glass an unreasonably long time powdering her face, smoothing her hair, seeing that every wrinkle in the shirtwaist is smoothed out. She wants jewelry, and as she walks down the street, sees to it that her parasol is held at exactly the correct angle. She has found out that she is a girl, and proposes that every one shall know it.

These young people do not mean any harm by this. They have simply "just found themselves out." We have all done it. We have "simply forgot." Shall the Sunday school in its organization and teaching ignore this changed life-view? If it does, none should be disappointed if it looses its hold on these young people.

2. Again, this is the period when our youth begin to idealize life. Pedagogues call it "the age of hero worship." So it is, and by a clearly recognized psychic law, we assimilate the moral image of him whom we worship. Who has not desired to be an engineer, a policeman, or even a prize fighter? This is the age when our boys read "Buffalo Bill," "Kit Carson," and "Jesse James." Too frequently efforts are made to emulate them. Shall we ignore this psychic metamorphosis? These youth will quietly slip from us if we do.

3. Yet again, this is the age when our boys and girls, and especially the boys, begin to think for themselves. This is not only a novel experience, but a most exhilarating one. They investigate and draw conclusions. As correct deductions depend upon correct premises, the majority of these youthful conclusions are erroneous. They are not so to them, and it is not always best to attempt to disprove their deductions by reasoning. The very best way is to place before them simple facts. They will see them soon enough if it is properly done.

Right here is where the modern Sunday school gets in some of its most effective work. The new Graded Lesson Series, now used by many thousands of our Sunday schools, recognize these mental and spirtual characteristics and provides for them. In this department of an organized and graded Sunday school—the Intermediate Department—the boys study the heroes of the Bible—Joseph, Moses, David, Daniel. The character of these men as men is taught. The youth get a different idea of what it means to be a man. It is the teacher's supreme opportunity. Joseph, Buffalo Bill; David, Kit Carson; Daniel, Jesse James. What real teacher would not revel in this rich field of opportunity?

Right here again, we meet that ever-present question-mark. Who has not heard the boy say, "O, that is an Old Testament character. Men don't live that way to-day?" In answer to this tendency toward polite skepticism, there is given in this same connection studies in the lives of our great men of to-day, as John Robinson, John Eliot, Alexander MacKay, David Livingstone, and Gladstone—men whose lives were as true as steel.

It does not take a philosopher to see even at a glance the inestimable superiority of this method of teaching over the old where these same boys would be urged to study "the nature and extent of the Messianic Kingdom," as portrayed by Isaiah.

SENT FREE AND PREPAID

to every reader of the New Orleans Christian Advocate, who needs it and writes for it to the Vernal Remedy Company, Buffalo, N. Y., a trial bottle of Vernal Palmettona. Only one small dose a day perfectly and permanently relieves catarrh, flatulence, indigestion and constipation. It clears the liver and kidneys of all congestion and inflammation and takes all irritation from bladder and prostrate gland. Good men and women are wanted as agents for this and other high class articles. Write immediately.—Advertisement.

"We cannot serve God and mammon, but we can serve God with mammon."

LETTERS THAT INSPIRE CONFIDENCE.

I wish very much that every reader of the New Orleans Christian Advocate could spend sufficient time in my office to read the thousands of letters which I have received from all parts of the country. I have printed several hundreds of them in a booklet, but I wish you could see the originals, for I would like for you to realize the wonderful results which they report in the relief of dyspepsia, indigestion, persistent headache, rheumatism, gall stones, kidney, bladder and liver diseases, uric acid poisoning and other conditions due to impure blood.

Before my own health was restored by Shivar Mineral Water and I purchased this Spring, and before I received all of these letters from sufferers, I didn't take very much stock in advertisements like this. I therefore cannot blame you if you doubt, but, my friend, I am absolutely convinced that the Shivar Spring is the greatest restorative mineral spring ever discovered, not excepting the famous Spas of Europe. I have shipped this water to thousands of sufferers in all parts of the U. S. and they almost invariably report either permanent restoration or beneficial results. That is why I make the guarantee offer contained in the following letter. Sign it now and mail it.

Shivar Spring,
Box 17J, Shelton, S. C.
Gentlemen:

I accept your guarantee offer and enclose herewith two dollars for ten gallons of Shivar Mineral Water. I agree to give it a fair trial, in accordance with instructions contained in booklet you will send, and if it fails to benefit my case you agree to refund the price in full upon receipt of the two empty demijohns which I agree to return promptly.

Name .....

Address .....

Shipping Point.....

(Please write distinctly).

Note: The Advertising Manager of the New Orleans Christian Advocate is personally acquainted with Mr. Shivar. You run no risk whatever in accepting his offer. I have personally witnessed the remarkable curative effects of this Water in a very serious case.

EAT HARRIS' JERSEY ICE CREAM
The CREAM OF QUALITY. Quick Auto Delivery
1300, 1302 DRYADES ST.
Phones Jackson 1080, 1081

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

Ruston Dist.—Third Round.

District Conf., at Plain Dealing, July 26, 29.
Bernice, at Alabama, July 31, Aug. 1.
Bienville, at Burk Place, Aug. 2.
Haynesville, at Colquitt, Aug. 4.
Ringgold, at Rocky Mount, Aug. 7, 8.
Cotton Valley, at Spring Hill, Aug. 9.
Sibley, at Evergreen, Aug. 14, 15.
Plain Dealing, at Walkers', Aug. 17.
Minden, Aug. 21, 22.
Winnfield, Aug. 23.
Arcadia, Aug. 25.
Jonesboro, Aug. 28, 29.
Rutson, Sept. 6.

BRISCOE CARTER, P. E.

Alexandria Dist.—Third Round.

Boyce, at Campground, July 31.
Longville, at Fields, August 5.
Merryville, August 6.
Bon Ami, at Carscn, August 8.
Pineville, August 12.
Hopewell, on DeRidder Mission, August 15.
Glenmora, at Oberlin, August 22.
Provincal, at Provincal, 8 p. m., August 24.
Harrisonburg, August 29.
Standard, 8 p. m., September 2.
Natchitoches, September 5.
Preaching at Campti, 8 p. m., September 5.
Eden, 8 p. m., Setember 9.
Alexandria, September 12.

H. W. MAY, P. E.

Lafayette Dist.—Third Round.

Lafourche, July 25, 26.
Gueydan and Abbeville, at Gueydan, July 31, August 1.
Ennice, at Iota, August 1, 2.
Crowley, August 7, 8.
Lafayette, August 8, 9.
New Iberia, August 14, 15.
Vermilion, at Perry, August 15, 16.
Lake Charles, August 21, 22.
Bell City, at West Lake, August 22, 23.
French Mission, at Port Barre, August 28, 29.
Rayne, September 4, 5.
Indian Bayou, September 5, 6.
Acadia, at Prudhomme, September 11, 12.
Sulphur and Vinton, at Vinton, September 18, 19.
Evangeline, at Ville Platte, September 25, 26.
Washington and Chicot, at Bethel, September 26, 27.
Franklin, Wednesday, September 29.

JAMES J. HOFFPAUIR, P. E.
Indian, Bayou, La.

Shreveport Dist.—Third Round.

Pelican, at Bethel; July 31, August 1.
Pleasant Hill, at Robeline, Aug. 1, 2.
Noble, at Bayou Scie, Aug. 7, 8.
Many, at New Hope, Aug. 8, 9.
Cedar Grove, Aug. 11.
Bossier City, Aug. 13.
Logansport, Aug. 14, 15.
Longstreet, at Longstreet, Aug. 15, 16.
Conference at Texas Avenue, Aug. 18.
Anacoco, at Hornbeck, Aug. 21, 22.
Zwolle, Aug. 22, 23.
Bayou Lachute, at Taylortown, Aug. 25.
South Mansfield, at South Mansfield, Aug. 28, 29.
Mansfield, Aug. 29, 30.
First Church, Shreveport, Sept. 1 and 5.
Grand Cane, at Keithville, Sept. 5, 6.
Leesville, Sept. 19.
Mooringsport, Sept. 21.
Vivian, Sept. 22.
Wesley, Sept. 25, 26.
Coushatta, Sept. 26, 27.
J. S. Noel, Jr., Memorial, Sept. 29.

WM. H. COLEMAN, P. E.

Monroe Dist.—Third Round.

Bastrop, at Collinston, July 26.
Waterproof, at Wesley, Aug. 1.
Winnohow, at Boeuf Prairie, Aug. 8.
Brooklyn, at B., Aug. 10.
Mangham, at Little Creek, Aug. 14, 15.
Rayville, p. m., Aug. 15.
Sicily Island, at Clayton, Aug. 16.
Oak Grove, at Midway, Aug. 20.
Tallulah, at Bayou Videl, Aug. 22.
Gilbert, at Holly Grove, Aug. 29.
Farmerville, at F., Sept. 1.
Lake Providence, Sept. 5.
Monroe, Sept. 6.
West Monroe, Sept. 12.

WM. SCHUHLE, P. E.

Baton Rouge Dist.—Third Round.

Ponchatoula, at Lee's Landing, July 26.
Springfield, at Huffs, July 28, 29.
Tangipahoa, at Chesbrough, July 31, Aug. 1.
Kentwood, Aug. 1, 2.
Greensburg, at Day's, Aug. 4.
Amite, Aug. 5.
Franklinton Ct., at Varnado, Aug. 7, 8.
Franklinton and Zona, Aug. 9.
Keener Memorial, Aug. 12.
Covington, at Mandeville, Aug. 14, 15.
St. Francisville, at Wilhelm, Aug. 21, 22.
Zachary, at Slaughter, Aug. 23.
Wilson, Aug. 28, 29.
Baton Rouge, First Church, Aug. 30.

To all the pastors in the district: This round of quarterly conferences will be crowded, as the elder has been kept out of the district some time owing to his wife's illness; but we trust that each charge will be well to the front with their work. Keep in mind that the year is shorter and that we have less time to put in.

H. W. BOWMAN, P. E.

Invigorating to the Pale and Sickly
The Old Standard general strengthening tonic, GROVE'S TASTELESS chill TONIC, drives out Malaria, enriches the blood, and builds up the system. A true Tonic. For adults and children. 50c.

ALL-DAY MEETING AT AMORY.

To the Preachers and Women of the Methodist Church in the Aberdeen (Miss.) District.

You are invited and expected to be present at an all-day missionary meeting to be held at Amory, Miss., on Friday, August 6. This is to be a great missionary rally day, according to Council and Conference plans. Reports from volunteer workers, instruction for further advancement, and testimony and consecration services, will be the features of the program. The meeting will be opened at 9:30 and close at 4 p. m. Lunch will be served in the dining-room of the beautiful new Methodist Church from 12 to 2 o'clock by the Amory Missionary Society.

Remember the date—August 6, 1915, and that you are expected to attend.

Mrs. J. H. HAUGHTON,
Secretary of Aberdeen District.

Our "JITNEY" Offer---This and 5 CENTS

DON'T MISS THIS. Cut out this slip enclose with 5c to Foley and Co., 2843 Sheffield Ave., Dept. R, Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for coughs, colds and croup; Foley Kidney Pills, for pain in sides and back, rheumatism, backache, kidney and bladder ailments; and Foley Cathartic Tablets; a wholesome and thoroughly cleansing cathartic; especially comforting to stout people.

MARRIED.

At the home of the bride's father at Springfield, La., on June 23, 1915, by Rev. H. C. Murphy, Mr. KENNITH PITCHER and Miss ALICE CULOM.

At Springfield, La., on June 24, 1915, by Rev. H. C. Murphy, Mr. LESLIE E. ROWND and Miss SALLIE E. SIBLEY, both of Springfield, La.

BOHNE & WILT, Booksellers and Stationers, 1328 Dryades St., New Orleans, La. Baseball Goods, Religious Articles, Fishing Tackle, Periodicals, School Books.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONF.

Durant Dist.—Third Round.

Ackerman, at Ackerman, 10 a. m., July 23.
Chester, at South Union, 3 p. m., July 23.
Hesterville, at Shady Grove, July 24, 25.
Durant, p. m., July 14.
Vaiden, at Vaiden, August 7, 8.
Pickens, at Ebenezer, August 14, 15.
West, at Bowling Green, August 21, 22.
Bellefontaine, at Long Branch, Sat., August 28.
Slate Springs, at Spring Hill, August 29.
Eupora and Maben, at Maben, August 31.
Sidon, at Ablaca, September 5.
Louisville and Rocky Hill, at Louisville, September 11, 12.
Kosciusko Circuit, at Salem, September 18, 19.
Kilmichael, at Salem, Friday, September 24.
Poplar Creek, at Friendship, September 26.

W. S. SHIPMAN, P. E.

Columbus Dist.—Third Round.

Shuqualak, at Center Valley, July 24, 25.
Cochrane, at Panola, July 27.
Crawford, July 29.
Starkville, August 1, 2.
Longview, at Bevills Hill, August 7, 8.
Columbus Circuit, at Flint Hill, August 14, 15.
Mayhew, at Lebanon, August 21, 22.
Sturgis, at Pleasant Hill, August 24.
Mashulaville, at———, August 28, 29.

W. W. WOOLLARD, P. E.

Holly Springs Dist.—Third Round.

Lamar, at Rice Chapel, July 23.
Ashland, at Union Hill, July 24, 25.
Potts Camp, at Cornersville, July 31, August 1.
Paris, at Shady Grove, August 14, 15.
Pine Valley, at Banner, August 15, 16.
Coffeeville, at Gray Rock, August 17.
Toccopola, at Liberty, August 21.
Randolph, at Hunter's Chapel, August 22, 23.
Byhalia, at Emory, August 28, 29.

R. A. TUCKER, P. E.

Corinth Dist.—Third Round.

Mooresville, at Andrews Chapel, July 23.
Mantachie, at Center Star, July 24, 25.
New Albany Circuit, at Union Hill, July 31, August 1.
New Albany, July 30, August 1.
Hickory Flat, at Palestine, August 6.
Myrtle, at Pleasant Hill, August 7.
Ripley and Blue Mountain, at Blue Mountain, August 8, 9.
Dumas, at Wyatts Chapel, August 10.
Chalybeate, at Ebenezer, August 14, 15.
Ripley Circuit, at Falkner, August 15, 16.
Belmont, at New Hope, August 20.
Tishomingo, at Paradise, August 21, 22.

J. H. MITCHELL, P. E.

Aberdeen Dist.—Third Round.

Amory and Nettleton, at Nettleton, July 25, 26.
Aberdeen, August 1, 2.
Greenwood Springs, at Pleasant Grove, August 7, 8.
Smithville, at Paine Memorial, August 12.
Okolona Circuit, at Boone Chapel, August 14, 15.
Tremonte, at Mount Olive, August 21, 22.
Fulton, at New Salem, August 26.
Verona, at Plantersville, August 25-29.
Prairie, at Strong, September 4, 5.
Tupelo, September 6.
Montpelier, at Fosters Chapel, September 11, 12.
Buena Vista, September 13.

JNO. W. BELL, P. E.

Greenville Dist.—Third Round.

Benoit and Beulah, at Beulah, July 25, 26.
Clarksdale, August 1, 2.
Tunica and Robinsonville, at Hollywood, August 7, 8.
Jonestown and Belen, at Dundee, August 8, 9.
Boyle, at New Salem, August 14, 15.
Shelby, at Duncan, August 22, 23.
Gunnison, August 28, 29.
Friars Point, August 29, 30.

H. S. SPRAGINS, P. E.

Winona Dist.—Third Round.

North Carrollton Ct., at Coile, July 23.
Isola Ct., at Coile, July 24.
Belzoni Ct., at Swiftown, July 25, 26.
Mars Hill Ct., at Hopewell, July 31.
Carrollton Ct., at Marvin, Aug. 6.
Drew Ct., at Sandy Bayou, Aug. 7, 8.
Ruleville Ct., at Ruleville, Aug. 8, 9.
Webb Ct., at Webb, Aug. 14, 15.
Minter City Ct., at M. C., Aug. 21, 22.
Schlater Ct., at Schlater, Aug. 22, 23.
Lambert Ct., at Lambert, Aug. 28, 29.

BEN P. JACO, P. E.

Sardis Dist.—Third Round.

Cockrum, at Independence, July 23.
Wall Hill, at Grub Hill, July 24, 25.
Tyro, at Emery, July 31, Aug. 1.

J. W. DORMAN, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Newton Dist.—Third Round.

Raleigh, at Raleigh, Frl., July 23.
Laurel, Fourteenth Ave., Sat., July 24.
Laurel, 2nd Ave., July 25.
Laurel, First Church, July 25, 26.
Homewood, at High Hill, Sat., July 31.
Forest and Morton, at Forest, August 1, 2.
McDonald, at Hope, August 7, 8.
Leake, at High Hill, Mon., August 9.
Carthage, at Freeny, August 10.
Walnut Grove, at Oak Grove, August 11.
Chunky, at Chunky, August 14, 15.
Lena, at Forkville, Wed., August 18.
Clarkesburg, at Pulaski, August 19.
Harperville, at Conehatta, August 21, 22.
Choctaw Indian Mission, at Jackson's, Tues., August 24.

C. F. EMERY, P. E.

Meridian Dist.—Third Round.

Scooba, at Binnsville, July 24, 25.
De Soto, at Adams, July 31.
Pachuta and Quitman, at Porto Rico, August 1.
Matherville, at Poplar Springs, August 7, 8.
Lauderdale, at Marion, August 15, 16.
Meridian, East End, August 15, 16.
Waynesboro Circuit, at Winchester, August 21.
Waynesboro, at Hiroanu, August 22, 23.
Porterville, at Briggs Chapel, August 25.
Daleville, at Bethel, August 29, 30.
Moscow, at Mt. Zion, September 4.
De Kalb, at New Hope, September 5.
Clark, at Oak Grove, September 11.
Enterprise, at Basic City, September 12, 13.
Vimville, September 18, 19.
Meridian, Soutn Side, September 19, 20.

J. T. LEGGETT, P. E.

Jackson Dist.—Third Round.

Jackson, Galloway Memorial, July 25.
Jackson, Capitol Street, July 25, p.m.
Satartia, at Wesley Chapel, July 28.
Benton, at Bethany, July 29.
Vaughan, at Union, July 31, Aug. 1.
Canton, August 8.
Sharon, at Long Pine, August 9.
Lake City, at Crymes Chapel, August 13.
Eden, at Pleasant Hill, August 14, 15.
Yazoo City, August 15, 16.
Flora, at Livingston, August 22, 23.
Edwards, August 25.
Madison, at Pearl River, August 28, 29.
Jackson, Rankin Street, August 29, p. m.
Camden, at Thomastown, Sept. 4, 5.
Jackson, Millsaps Memorial, September 8.
Terry, at Forest Hill, Sept. 11, 12.
Florence, at Wesleyana, Sept. 15.
Bolton, at Brownsville, Sept. 18, 19.

P. D. HARDIN, P. E.

Hattiesburg Dist.—Third Round.

Green County Mission, at Adams Church, July 23.
Hattiesburg, Broad Street, July 25, 26.
Hattiesburg, Court Street, July 25-27.
Blodgett, July 31, August 1.
Ellisville, August 1, 2.
Estabutchie, at P. Ridge, August 4.
Hattiesburg, Main St., August 8.
Seminary, at Lux, August 9.
Purvis, at Maple, August 11.
Eucutta, at Boyles Church, August 14, 15.
Heidelberg, at Philadelphia, August 17.
Williamsburg, at Good Hope, August 21, 22.
Collins, August 22, 23.
Silver Creek, at New Hebron, August 25.
Taylorsville, at Oakehay, August 28, 29.
Mount Olive, at Mize, August 29, 30.
McLain, at Crossroads, September 4, 5.
Magee, at Sharon, September 9.
Oloh, September 11, 12.
Sumrall, September 12, 13.

If any of these dates should conflict with any revival meeting engagement pastors will please write me.

GEO. H. THOMPSON, P. E.

Brookhaven Dist.—Third Round.

Monticello, at Oma, July 23.
Buford, at Sandy Hook, July 24, 25.
Adams, at Johnson Station, July 31, Aug. 1.
Topisaw Camp Meeting, Aug. 5, 12.
Summit and E. McComb, at Pizgah, Aug. 14, 15.
McComb, Centenary, Aug. 15, 16.
Meadville, at McCalls, Aug. 18.
Scotland, at New Hope, Aug. 21, 22.
Bayou Pierre, at Tabernacle, Aug. 26.
Pleasant Grove, at Tilton, Aug. 28, 29.
Tylertown, at Tylertown, Sept. 4, 5.
Topisaw, at Holmesville, Sept. 8.
Barlow, at Lebanon, Sept. 11, 12.
Hazlehurst, Sept. 17, 19.
Brookhaven, Sept. 19, 20.
Wesson, at Wesson, Sept. 22.
South McComb. at Muddy Springs, Sept. 25, 26.

ROBT. SELBY, P. E.
Brookhaven, Miss.

Port Gibson Dist.—Third Round.

Anguilla, at Murphy, July 25.
Utica, at Cayuga, July 31, August 1.
Rocky Springs, at H. R., August 4.
Hermanville, at Pisgah, Thursday, August 5.
Harriston, at Hamburg, August 7, 8.
Washington, at Washington, Friday, August 13.
Natchez, August 14, 15.
Vicksburg, Gibson Memorial, at Red Bone, August 20, 21.
Rolling Fork, at R. F., Tuesday, August 24.
Mayersville, at Mayersville, Thursday, August 26.
Silver City, at Louise, August 28, 29.
Roxie, at Hamburg, Sept. 4, 5.

T. W. ADAMS, P. E.
Fayette, Miss., May 27, 1915.

Seashore Dist.—Third Round.

Saucier, at S., Friday, July 23.
Biloxi, July 24, 25.
Americus, Tuesday, July 27.
Coalville, at White Plains, July 31, August 1.
Mississippi City and Handsboro, Wednesday, August 4.
Wiggins and Bond, August 7, 8.
Mentorum, Monday, August 9.
Brooklyn, at Stillmore, August 14, 15.
Vancleave, at New Chapel, August 21, 22.
Carriere and Picayune, Wednesday, August 25.
Longbeach, August 28, 29.
Gulfport, First Church, Wednesday, September 1.
Wolf River, at Beulah, September 4, 5.

W. H. HUNTLEY, P. E.

BAPTIST PASTOR'S WIFE IS CURED OF PELLAGRA

Battlefield, Miss.

A most remarkable case of recovery has been reported here by the Rev. T. E. Pinegar who says: "For two years my wife suffered with what is known as pellagra. Different doctors attended her, with absolutely no improvement in her condition. At last our family physician told friends of ours my wife must die."

"I was away from home most of the time, engaged in evangelistic work of the Baptist Missionary cause. At last we sent for Baugh's Pellagra Treatment. When she began to use it, her arms, face and hands were a sight to behold. After one month's treatment, to all appearances, she was well. I would advise all sufferers from that disease to give this remedy a trial. Use this testimonial as you see fit."

Here's a case where the family physician gave the patient up to die, and where Baughn's treatment saved her life. Don't hesitate longer. If you have pellagra, it is your duty to cure it.

The symptoms: Hands red like sunburn, skin peeling off, sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red, with much mucous and choking; indigestion and nausea; either diarrhoea or constipation.

There is hope; get Baughn's big Free book on Pellagra, and learn about the remedy for Pellagra that has at last been found. Address American Compounding Co., Box 587-X, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.

Note—This cure and other cures are personally known to the Advertising Manager of this paper, who did not accept this company's advertising until after an investigation that satisfied him that we had cured hundreds of cases of pellagra.—Adv.

ELIXIR DUCRO
ALIMENTAIRE
Sustains the Organism Without Nourishment. Recommended for Debility, Wasting diseases, Convalescence, Old age. All druggists. Agents: E. Fougera & Co., Inc., New York.
NO INCREASE IN PRICE

TRY THE OLD RELIABLE
WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC
For MALARIA CHILLS & FEVER
A FINE GENERAL STRENGTHENING TONIC

RHEUMATISM
For rheumatism, lumbago and similar diseases try X-Ray Liniment, the new, reliable external remedy. Internal remedies work slow and often derange the stomach. If X-Ray Liniment does not cure or give reasonable relief your money will be refunded. It is also an excellent family Liniment. By mail prepaid $1. a bottle. Bank reference and testimonials on request. CLARKSVILLE Medicine Co. Clarksville, Tenn.

Heart Disease Almost Fatal to Young Girl

"My daughter, when thirteen years old, was stricken with heart trouble. She was so bad we had to place her bed near a window so she could get her breath. One doctor said, 'Poor child, she is likely to fall dead any time.' A friend told me Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy had cured her father, so I tried it, and she began to improve. She took a great many bottles, but she is spared to me today, a fat, rosy cheeked girl. No one can imagine the confidence I have in Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy." A. R. CANON, Worth, Mo.

The unbounded confidence Mr. Canon has in Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is shared by thousands of others who know its value from experience. Many heart disorders yield to treatment, if the treatment is right. If you are bothered with short breath, fainting spells, swelling of feet or ankles, pains about the heart and shoulder blades, palpitation, weak and hungry spells, you should begin using Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy at once. Profit by the experience of others while you may.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is sold and guaranteed by all druggists.

MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

Woman's Missionary Work

Edited by .....Mrs. R. F. Harrell, Centerville, Miss.

Conference Publicity Superintendents:

Louisiana.....Mrs. A. C. McKinney, Ruston, La.
Mississippi .....Mrs. J. L. Neill, Laurel, Miss.
North Mississippi.....Mrs. Walter Campbell, Winona, Miss.

All communications for this department should be sent to the Editor at the address given above.

SEASHORE DISTRICT MEETING.

The district meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Seashore District, Mississippi Conference, convened in the hospitable little town of Saucier, June 23 and 24, the first session being on the afternoon of the 23d.

The opening song of the Conference was, "Publish Glad Tidings." After the singing, Rev. L. F. Alford, the pastor, led in prayer. Then our new District Secretary, Mrs. T. T. Ford, gave her opening address and conducted a round table discussion on the woman's missionary work.

At the evening session all were delighted to have Miss Hasler, our much loved deaconess from Biloxi, who, in her own sweet way presented the work of the Wesley House. We were also honored with special music by the children and mixed quartet of Saucier.

Thursday morning the devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. R. E. Johnson, our Conference President, whom to know is to love. After the welcome address by Miss Zora Saucier and the response by Mrs. Ford, our Conference First Vice-President, Mrs. Middleton, made a splendid talk on the young people's work. Mrs. Johnson then in a short time showed by the diagram of a "river" how the small auxiliaries go to make up the districts, the districts the conferences, and the conferences the great Woman's Missionary Council of our Methodist Church.

On Thursday afternoon the devotional exercises were conducted by Dr. Huntley, presiding elder of the Seashore District. Two interesting papers on "Missions" and "Mission Study" were read by Mrs. Smith of Gulfport, and Mrs. Alford of Saucier. After an inspiring address on "Missions" by Mrs. Middleton, Miss Hasler gave a good talk on "Social Service."

There were eighteen delegates present, all adult except three, who represented the young people's society of Bay St. Louis.

Every one seemed to enjoy the Conference, especially the "basket" dinner and social "chat" Thursday at noon. The ladies of the town threw open their doors to all the members and visitors of the Conference and spared no means to make the occasion a delightful one.

May the Lord bless and prosper the Woman's work in the Seashore District.

NOLA SAUCIER.

COLUMBUS DISTRICT MEETING.

The annual missionary meeting of the women of the Columbus District was held in the First Church, Columbus, Miss., June 24-25, at the call of the Secretary, Mrs. W. L. Duren.

The representatives from the various auxiliaries composing this district were most cordially welcomed by the ladies of the First and Central Churches, and were most royally entertained during their stay in the beautiful little city.

When we consider the fact that Mrs. Duren is but little more than a month old as a District Secretary, it seems marvelous the grasp that she has of the work, and the fine program prepared for this meeting. Not only is this true, but she presided with the grace and dignity of one long accustomed to the office. In the number of delegates and visitors to this meeting, West Point bore off all the honors. This is a habit that the good women of West Point have acquired along all lines of good work.

The reports from the delegates were good, and the ring of all that was said gave an intonation of hopefulness and encouragement. The institutes held, and all the discussions upon various departments of the work were as most helpful round tables, where all formality and embarrassment were laid aside and questions were asked and answered freely.

Arrangements were made for all-day meetings and intensive membership campaigns, many volunteering to assist in this work.

Mrs. Mary L. Hargrove, Bible teacher in the Scarritt Bible and Training School at Kansas City, was visiting her family in Columbus and it was quite a fortunate coincident for this meeting. It was a rare privilege to have her and to hear the two strong and uplifting talks that she brought us, one in the forenoon and one at the evening service.

Immediately following Mrs. Hargrove's evening message, Mrs. Vic Thompson Hoyle gave an account of the recent Council meeting which was held in Little Rock. Mrs. Hoyle is richly blessed in descriptive powers, and she easily carried her appreciative audience with her through the workings of the Council meeting—the business proceedings, the word-pictures of the presonnel of this body, the consecration service, setting aside the missionaries and deaconesses for their chosen work, the Bible talks by Dr. Gordon, and the "mountain top" experience of those days seem to be something in which we had enjoyed a real part.

Mrs. Hoyle, as President of the Woman's Missionary Society of the North Mississippi Conference, added much to the interest and heipfulness of every session of this district meeting.

The Second Vice President, Mrs. T. W. Woodward was present, and conducted an "institute" on the children's work, and also held a special children's service.

Miss Ethel Golding, our volunteer for work in the foreign field, came to tell us of her call to service, of her hopefulness, and to ask that we pray for her as she goes about the Master's business. Miss Golding represented the Orphans' Home, too. There is no other work closer to the hearts of these missionary women than the Orphans' Home.

"Mother Ervin" brought a greeting to the district meeting from the W. C. T. U., which was highly appreciated.

It was a good meeting and every one present enjoyed it, but even good things cannot last always, so, after selecting West Point as our next meeting place, we adjourned.

Rev. W. L. Duren, pastor of First Church and Rev. W. W. Woollard, presiding elder of the District, were in constant attendance and ever ready to help by their timely suggestions and encouraging words.

HELEN PORTER WOODWARD.

OLD SORES VANISH

Get rid of them with Gray's Ointment—for ninety-four years an indispensable family remedy for all abrasions and eruptions of the skin. It speedily heals cuts, wounds, burns, bruises, boils, carbuncles, sores, poison oak, etc., and effectively prevents blood poison, which frequently rises from a neglected cut or sore. "I have used Gray's Ointment for ten years or more, and for boils, carbuncles, and sores, there is nothing equal to it," writes Mrs. G. A. Bolick, Conover, N. C. Only 25c a box, and it will save you many an ache and much trouble. Get it at druggists, or try a free sample by writing to W.F. Gray & Co., 806 Gray Bldg., Nashville, Tenn.

Buford College, - Nashville, Tenn.

Select Home College For The Higher Culture Of Women. 25th Opening, Sept. 23, 1915

Ideal location, excellent equipment, splendid opportunities. Highland Park of 100 Acres, in twenty minutes of the "Athens of the South". Thoroughly Christian. Student Body 100. Patronage 32 States. Faculty 15. Two-Year Preparatory. Four-Year A.B. College Course. University Bible Course. Conservatory advantages in Language, Literature, Art, Music, Expression, Domestic Science. Sanitation practically perfect. Physical Culture and Character Building emphasized. $200. A.B. Post-Graduate Scholarship. $500. U. D. C. Scholarship. No death, elopement or casualty in history of Institution. "Yearbook" free.

MR. E. G. BUFORD, Regent, MISS LOUISE CHAMBLISS BURGESS, Principal, MRS. E. G. BUFORD, President.

Safe and Home like MERIDIAN COLLEGE Careful Supervision

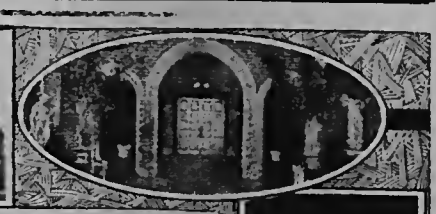
In the Health-Giving Pine Hills of Mississippi

A select Private College with Preparatory and College courses, Commercial Course, Modern Buildings and equipments; beautiful 60-acre campus and recreation grounds; fish ponds, swimming pools. Fine Athletics. An ideal home school for boy or girl, where they are looked after morally, mentally and physically with the best of Christian home influence and care. A large well equipped Conservatory of Music, Oratory and Art. Also Domestic Science and Teacher's Training, and Summer Course. Write for illustrated catalog No. 108

J. W. BEESON, A. M., LL. D., - - MERIDIAN, MISS.



WOMAN'S COLLEGE OF ALABAMA

An A-Grade College offering the special advantage of a beautiful suburban location in Montgomery—a city of rare health, culture and beauty. The health and freedom of the country combine the inspirational and educational incentives of a model city.

57 acres of beautiful campus. Recreation and out-door exercises in Golf, Tennis, Basket Ball. Swimming Pool. Splendid college buildings and equipment. Standard courses, A. B. degree. Home Economics a feature. Strong Conservatory of Music.

One girl from each high school in Ala. given scholarship, reducing cost of tuition. 10 Scholarships for honor graduates in adjoining states.

For Catalogue and View Book, write

M. W. SWARTZ, President, - - - MONTGOMERY, ALA.

MEMPHIS CONFERENCE FEMALE INSTITUTE

Historic College for Young Ladies of the South

Established in 1837, chartered in 1843. An honorable history of splendid achievement. All denominations attend. Located in Jackson, Tennessee, a town of 20,000, which boasts of never having had an epidemic. Offers a health record unsurpassed anywhere. In a community of beautiful homes, intelligent, refined people, deeply religious tendencies and a marked "school atmosphere." A safe home school in every respect, providing perfect conditions for thorough education.

Beautiful shaded grounds equipped with tennis courts, etc., in the heart of the city, affording every opportunity for healthful outdoor exercise together with the inspiring and cultural influences of the city. A completely equipped and well appointed brick building of size, electric lighted, hot and cold water, plenty of light and ventilation. A gymnasium. Wonderful chalybeate well near.

(A. B. and B. L. Literary Courses.) Thirteen competent instructors. A conservatory of music, conducted by artists of highest reputation, offering great opportunities in Piano, Voice, Violin and Harmony. Splendid Schools of Expression, Art and Dressmaking. Educational trips to Memphis and St. Louis a feature of next session. Terms moderate. Attendance doubled last two years.

For Descriptive Catalogue and 1915-16 announcement, Address

Rev. Henry G. Hawkins, A. B., President, Jackson, Tenn.

NEW ORLEANS DISTRICT NOTES.

Rev. A. J. Gearheard has been assisting Rev. S. D. Howard in a meeting at Many, La.

St. Mark's Hall had a fine attendance Sunday evening, July 11.

To date, 100 members have been received by First Church.

Forty were present at a recent prayer meeting at Mary Werlein. Two members have lately been received by letter by Mary Werlein, and one by profession of faith.

Epworth Church recently had a pleasant picnic at City Park. Notwithstanding the hot weather, the prayer meeting attendance at Epworth continues good.

Sunday evening, July 4, the McDonoghville laymen had charge of the service. The meeting resulted in a larger use of the duplex envelopes by the members of the Church. Mr. W. H. Black made the address.

Second Church had an "Old Acquaintance Social" Friday, July 9, at 8 o'clock. It was under the direction of the Social Service Commission and was arranged by Mrs. Arthur Haas. Old songs and shadow pictures were pleasing features. Cookies and red lemonade were served.

On July 10, the Carrollton Epworth League enjoyed a picnic at the home of Mr. Ahten at Shrewsbury. Three persons were received by profession of faith at a recent prayer meeting service at Carrollton. Altogether this Church has received 40 persons this year.

At the mid-week services at Algiers, Rev. R. M. Brown has been discussing "What it Takes to Make a Good Methodist." The meetings have been largely attended, especially by the young people, and great interest has been manifested. On July 15, the prayer meeting was in charge of the Epworth League. The mid-week services at Algiers are well-attended, the average attendance being 50. At the Sunday evening services, the pastor has been preaching a series of sermons on "Sunday Rest." Monday evening, July 5, a very interesting and profitable meeting was held by the Social Service Commission and much credit is due Mrs. J. Daniels, the superintendent. The speakers were Miss Nutt, of St. Mark's Hall, Mrs. Renicky, who is in charge of the milk station; Mrs. Hucking, President of the Algiers Civic League, and Mrs. Prisbale, who is interested in visiting prisons and other institutions. Special music added much to the program.

WHY MEN DRINK.

Scientists who have studied the problem of drink tell us that there are two underlying and unavoidable cases that are responsible for a large proportion of the causes of habitual intemperance. These are, 1. Mental fatigue, or worry; 2. Physical fatigue, or muscular exhaustion. When either the mind or the body becomes fatigued the system calls for help in the form of refreshment or stimulation. The scientists also tell us that the higher the degree of intellectual development we attain the greater is our demand for either refreshment or stimulation.

In his search for relief from fatigue man has sought out and pressed into service almost every vegetable and animal product that nature has endowed with refreshing or with stimulating qualities. As fatigue is universal and inevitable the problem of its relief is one that should engage our most careful and intelligent study. To ignore it is to court disaster for physiologists tell us that worry kills; that physical and mental fatigue lower our vital resistance and predispose to disease.

Nature has provided two essentially different groups of substances to overcome the injurious effects of toil. They are the alcholic beverages, including wines, beer and liquors, and the non-alcoholic beverages, including coffee, tea, cocoa and Coca-Cola, and the animal products—beef tea and meat extracts. Almost every mature person, especially those who are forced to perform arduous labor of mind or body, finds in one or the other of these beverages the relief his system requires.

Which is the most wholesome and efficient?

Scientists tell us that the alcholic beverages relieve fatigue by stimulation and are to be classed as artificial stimulants; whereas, the non-alcoholic beverages refresh the nerves and muscles by a process analogous to lubrication. In the case of beef tea and meat extracts the refreshing principle is xanthin (pronounced zanthin) a substance found in the flesh and blood of animals, including man, but especially abundant in the tissues of the young. Many scientists regard xanthin as the natural stimulant and as the explanation of the remarkable freshness, alertness and activity of children and young animals. As we grow older the quantity of xanthin in our bodies gradually diminishes and we become less alert and active.

In the case of coffee, tea, cocoa and Coca-Cola the refreshing principle is a substance called caffein, which is a vegetable xanthin. As xanthin is a normal ingredient of the human body, and as caffein when digested becomes a xanthin, some scientists class coffee, tea, cocoa, Coca-Cola and the meat extracts as natural stimulants, as opposed to the alcoholic or artificial stimulants. Others maintain that caffein and xanthin have no true stimulating qualities and should not be classed as stimulants for they relieve fatigue by refreshment, a process analogous to lubrication. Among the latter scientists are Dr. Schmiedeberg, the world's leading authority on such matters, and Dr. Hollingworth of Columbia University, a leading American scientist. In describing the effect of coffee, tea and Coca-Cola Dr. Schmiedeberg says, "Caffein is hence a means of refreshing bodily and mental activity, so that this may be prolonged when the condition of fatigue has already begun to produce restraint and to call for more severe exertion of the will, a state which, as is well known, is painful or disagreeable."

Coca-Cola is the same as tea and coffee except that it is carbonated, is flavored with ripe fruit extracts, and contains no tannic acid or caffeol. The carbonation and the fruit flavors combine with the caffein to give a most delicious and refreshing beverage that quenches the thirst and relieves fatigue more perfectly than tea and coffee, in spite of the fact that Coca-Cola contains only about one-half the quantity of caffein. In their desire to give the public a thorough understanding of their product, The Coca-Cola Company has issued a booklet containing the scientific opinions of the world's leading authorities explaining the composition and refreshing qualities of the drink. Write for a copy. Read it carefully and understand how and why Coca-Cola is the nearest approach to a perfect solution of the world's great problem of fatigue. A copy of this booklet may be had by addressing the Advertising Managers of this paper, Messrs. Jacobs & Company, Clinton, S. C.—Advertisement.

MILLSAPS COLLEGE, Jackson, Miss.

A. F. WATKINS, President.

A HIGH GRADE COLLEGE

Situated at the Capital of the State. Located high, dry and healthful. Entrance Requirements and Curriculum same as in other leading Colleges and Universities, North and South. The very finest Moral and Religious influences. Courses leading to A.B., B.S., A.M., M.S. and LL.B. Degrees

MILLSAPS PREPARATORY SCHOOL

Under separate Faculty and Dormitory Management. Unsurpassed Training for College.

MILLSAPS LAW SCHOOL

Offering extraordinary advantages. Superior Faculty; Law Libraries; Accessible to all Courts.

TWENTY-FOURTH SESSION BEGINS SEPTEMBER 15, 1915.

For Catalogue and other information address

J. REESE LIN, Secretary. Jackson, Miss.

GRENADA COLLEGE

A Christian School for Girls and Young Women.

Stands for Character, Health, Culture, Comfort.

Strong Faculty with University and Foreign Training. Buildings: Brick, Steam-heated throughout. Grounds: Ample and Beautiful.

Offers a Four-year PREPARATORY COURSE; College Course of Four Years Leads to A. B. Degree. Diplomas in PIANO, VOICE, ART, EXPRESSION, and DOMESTIC SCIENCE. Total expense for Literary Course, $210 per session of Nine Months.

Grenada, Miss., Box C. J. R. COUNTISS, President.

EMORY UNIVERSITY

An Institution Founded, Owned and Controlled by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

The University offers at present courses leading to degrees in the following departments:

1.—The School of Liberal Arts—Emory College—offers courses in English, Spanish, French, German, Greek, Latin, Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Biology, Mental and Moral Science, History, Political Economy and Biblical Literature, leading to the usual literary degrees. This department has a library of 40,000 bound volumes.

2.—The School of Theology—The Candler School of Theology—offers full and varied courses leading to the degree of B. D. This is a school of theology, as definite in its teaching as it is definite in its aim to serve the church to which it belongs. The library of the School of Theology is rich and grows richer daily. To it belongs the famous "Thursfield-Smith Collection of Wesleyana," which includes hundreds of the autograph letters of the Wesleys and other Methodist celebrities.

3.—The School of Medicine—The Atlanta Medical College—a medical school of first grade which offers courses in medicine and surgery covering four years, and leading to the degree of M. D. By arrangement with the Grady Hospital, the Municipal Hospital of Atlanta, and the Wesley Memorial Hospital, which is a part of the University system, the School of Medicine is able to offer clinical advantages of great value to students.

For bulletins, giving full information concerning the University, and its several departments, write to,

WALKER WHITE, Secretary-Bursar.

Emory University Atlanta, Georgia.

BLACKSTONE COLLEGE FOR GIRLS, Blackstone, Va.

JAMES CANNON, Jr., A. M., LL. D., President.

Established 1894

Faculty of 33; 427 Students, from 20 States. Accredited by Virginia State Board of Education. Hundreds of graduates now teaching. $160 pays charges in Academic Department; $200 in College Department.

The Leading Training School for Girls in Virginia

Where can parents find a college with as fine a record, with such experienced management, at such moderate cost? For catalogue and application blank address GEO. P. ADAMS, Secretary, Blackstone, Va.

Before and After the Fire

Nobody knows when fire or lightning or wind will rage and destroy.

Some church building is being harmed by one of these destroyers somewhere every day. Absolute protection against loss is furnished, and money saved the assured, and Methodism perpetuated, by

The National Mutual Church Insurance Co., of Chicago—The Methodist Mutual

No assessments. All that you have guessed about mutual insurance may be wrong. If you want to KNOW, write for information to HENRY P. MAGILL, Secretary and Manager, Insurance Exchange, Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Alice Hargrove Barclay, Agent M. E. Church South, 814 Norton Building, Fourth and Jefferson, Louisville, Ky.

A MANSFIELD FIRST CAMPAIGN.

For catalogue write MANSFIELD FIRST; for Music, investigate MANSFIELD FIRST; for Art, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Domestic Science, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Expression, MANSFIELD FIRST; for TEACHER-TRAINING, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Physical Development and Health, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Religious Teaching and Environment, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Home Life and not Dormitory, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Earnest Work, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Loyal Student Organizations, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Happy College Spirit, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Reasonable Expense, MANSFIELD FIRST;

In Thought put MANSFIELD FIRST; in Word, MANSFIELD FIRST; in Deed, MANSFIELD FIRST; in Thankfulness for a great past, MANSFIELD FIRST; in Thanksgiving for a greater present, MANSFIELD FIRST; in Hope for the greatest and best in the year to come, MANSFIELD FIRST.

When you have really and conscientiously made MANSFIELD FIRST, and you are not satisfied that MANSFIELD is FIRST, go or send elsewhere. Yours for MANSFIELD FIRST,

R. E. BOBBITT, President,
Mansfield, La.

P. S.—Names are coming and we are sowing catalogues.

A VANDERBILT CAMPAIGN LETTER.

(A Methodist minister, who is an alumnus of Vanderbilt University, sent us a few days ago the following circular letter, which had been sent to him, adding: "It seems that they want to flatter a fellow and gratify his vanity, and then get something out of him." He states that he was addressed as "Rev." The capitals in the opening sentence are Mr. Cason's.)

"Nashville, Tenn., June 30, 1915.

"Dear Sir: WE WANT YOUR PHOTOGRAPH FOR OUR ALUMNI OFFICE. If you will be good enough to mail us one right away, we shall be very grateful; an unmounted one will be better. Write on the back your address, name, and business. We want all clippings and information about yourself that you can send us now and later. We have an alphabetical filing system in which a large envelope 12x10 has been provided for you. Please attend to this or write us when you will. It will save the trouble and expense of writing you again.

"You will be interested in hearing that we plan the publication of a regular Alumni Magazine to will help us a great deal in that. This should be published monthly. The files referred to above contain the greatest news about Alumni everywhere and all University activities.

"The general opinion is that we have just closed the greatest year in the history of Vanderbilt with the greatest Commencement and the greatest Alumni reunion. The outlook for next year is more encouraging than ever.

"If there are prospective students in your community whom you are trying to interest in Vanderbilt, write us their names so that we can help you. We are doing a great deal of work like that and are making plans for publicity for the University and the Alumni organization. Are you with us?

"Don't forget the photograph, etc.

"Hoping to hear from you right away, I am

"Yours very truly,
CHAS. CASON."

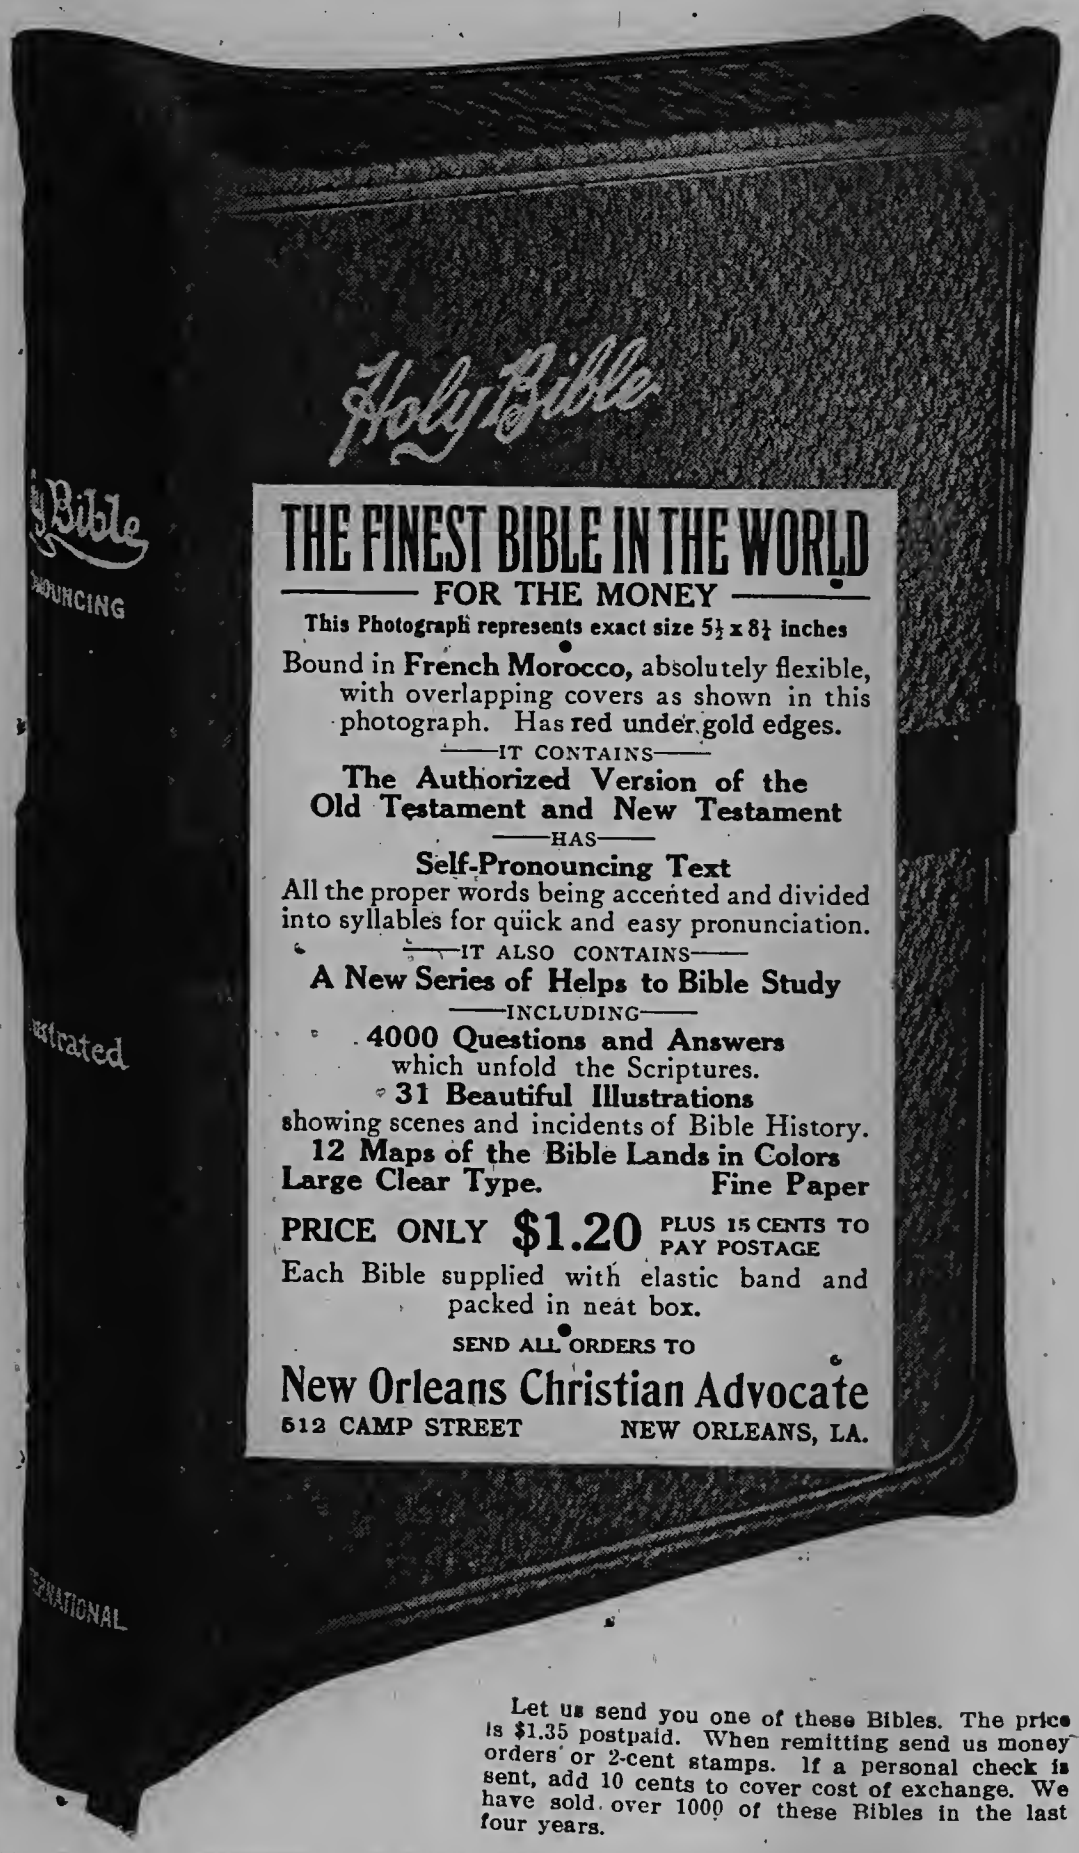
NORTH MISSISSIPPI WOMAN'S WORK.

Dear Brother Meek: Please announce the following dates fixed by the presiding elders for the observance of "Woman's Day:" Durant and Winona Districts, the third Sunday in July; Holly Springs District, the fourth Sunday in July; Columbus District, the month of July; Greenville District, the first Sunday in August; Aberdeen and Corinth Districts, the fourth Sunday in August. I trust that the preachers will present our woman's work for missions in such a way on the above-named dates that the women who are not members of our Missionary Society will be induced to join the same. The great majority of them do not attend our missionary meetings, and by this plan we purpose presenting our work to the entire church, hoping thereby to enlist a part of the 1,100,000 women in Southern Methodism who are not members of our Missionary Society.

Miss Corinne Rogers, Secretary of the Corinth District, will hold her district meeting at Iuka on July 22 and 23, and Miss Lizzie Horn, Secretary of the Holly Springs District, will hold her district meeting at Holly Springs July 27 and 28. I am sure that each of these meetings will prove profitable, and I trust they will be well attended.

Mrs. VIC THOMPSON HOYLE,
President Woman's Missionary Society of North Mississippi Conference.

Let us realize and magnify our blessings which are many, and minimize our complainings, lest we form the un-Christian habit of being ungrateful.—The Diocese.



Holy Bible
THE FINEST BIBLE IN THE WORLD
FOR THE MONEY
This Photograph represents exact size 5½ x 8¼ inches
Bound in French Morocco, absolutely flexible, with overlapping covers as shown in this photograph. Has red under gold edges.
IT CONTAINS
The Authorized Version of the Old Testament and New Testament
HAS
Self-Pronouncing Text
All the proper words being accented and divided into syllables for quick and easy pronunciation.
IT ALSO CONTAINS
A New Series of Helps to Bible Study
INCLUDING
4000 Questions and Answers
which unfold the Scriptures.
31 Beautiful Illustrations
showing scenes and incidents of Bible History.
12 Maps of the Bible Lands in Colors
Large Clear Type. Fine Paper
PRICE ONLY $1.20 PLUS 15 CENTS TO PAY POSTAGE
Each Bible supplied with elastic band and packed in neat box.
SEND ALL ORDERS TO
New Orleans Christian Advocate
512 CAMP STREET NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Let us send you one of these Bibles. The price is $1.35 postpaid. When remitting send us money orders or 2-cent stamps. If a personal check is sent, add 10 cents to cover cost of exchange. We have sold over 1000 of these Bibles in the last four years.

THEIR FIRST ALLEGIANCE.

Lloyd George is authority for the statement that many English workmen love their beer better than they do their country, and refuse to come to the support of England in her hour of need by abjuring the use of that which prevents them from turning out adequate supplies of munitions of war. Before Americans grow indignant over this attitude of these English workers, however, they should take note of the fact that in every city and State where the question of prohibition is an issue practically every defender of the saloon can be counted upon to abandon party leaders whom he has patriotically followed for years, and a party that represents every other principle in which he believes when the command to desert is given by John Barleycorn. Those who place booze above everything else as a campaign issue can not fairly call unpatriotic the British navy yard workman who refuses to abandon booze long enough to repel an invader.—The Commoner.

"To win others to Christ we must be like Christ."

NEW ORLEANS
CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE

Vol. 62—No. 30. Official Organ of the Louisiana, Mississippi, and North Mississippi Conferences, Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Whole No. 3101.

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor. NEW ORLEANS, LA., THURSDAY, JULY 29, 1915. CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Editorial

A GREAT LITERATURE.

There is such a thing as the rule of a minority in a republican land. A probable minority in this country have closed the schools to the Holy Bible by the assertion of "inalienable rights," and have denied the majority the right to have their children taught the greatest book of morals and religion in the world. They have also deprived the curricula of the schools of the one greatest Book of educational and cultural value.

A literary club, which has among its membership Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish women, among whom are several members of the faculty of a large State school, spent one year studying the Bible as literature. For the Bible is a great literatnre, and may well be studied as such. In the Bible there is a literature which touches all the chords of the human heart. And such is truly a great literature.

Where can be found a more poetic thing than the record of the dying Jacob? With a simple but perfect mastery, the ancient writer describes the last moments in the life of the old patriarch—how he calls all his sons about him, and tells them what shall befall them in the latter days. Where can be found a more eloquent thing than the curse Job pronounces upon the day of his birth? Some one has called it "The Elegy of a Broken Heart." Where can be found a finer piece of irony than stern old Elijah's mockery of the impotent priests of Baal and Ashtaroth? A writer of the present time says, in part: "When we examine the dramatic account of the 'Prodigal Son,' and the idyllic story of 'Ruth,' we must confess that modern art is powerless to approach their simple beauty and effectiveness. * * * It is a source of constant marvel that such venerable stories should have contained in large part the forecast of what writers are to-day striving after as standards. Undisputedly they take their place at the head of that small group of stories which, though they are the product of earlier centuries, remain to-day the best examples of their sort."

Also note the influence of the Bible upon other literature, and its place in the culture of the world. If education be, as some one has defined it, a preparation for reading, what man's education can be complete without the Bible? No other book will better fit a man for wide reading and contribute more to his culture. For two thousand years the Bible has dominated thought and art. Though Jesus never wrote anything so far as we know, he has largely influenced the world's literature. And the man who knows little of the Bible cannot read the poets far; for they are deeply indebted to the great Book. If the theme is not directly drawn from the Bible, as in many cases, numerous passage may be traced to it. In thirty-four pages of Browning, a reader marked seven direct Biblical references and quotations, and eight or more expressions which might be traced to Holy Writ.

The same is true of Tennyson and others. Some quote the Bible almost verbatim. There are strikingly similar passages in Thanatopsis and the third Chapter of Job. Perhaps the coming of Birman Wood to Dunsinane was suggested to Shakespeare by a like strategy of Abmilech, as told in the Book of Judges.

And the chaste and beautiful language of the King James Version has helped to mold the English speech. From children we have even known people to verify questions of grammar, as well as religion, from the Bible, while many of its beautiful sentences live on the ear like the strains of a music that can never be forgotten.

Though Jesus never took up the brush, he has inspired the art of the world. And the man who does not know the New Testament will find in a masterpiece only a picture of no meaning, only so much paint.

The history of the world for two thousand years cannot be read intelligently by a man who is ignorant of God's Word, for much of history during that time is inseparably connected with the great fact of Christianity.

Neither could such a man understand many passages from the speeches of our public men to-day on the political forum and in the halls of state. One of the greatest orators of the time rose to fame in a famous speech, the crowning passage of which was a figure drawn from the central truth of the Bible—"You shall not press down this crown of thorns upon the head of labor; you shall not crucify mankind upon a cross of gold."

This great Book of such educational value has been denied a place in our system of education. How consistent! But in this connection it is well to remember that this is more than a Book of wide educational and cultural value. The truth, set forth in beautiful literary forms, and on pages of deep human interest, will live and grow. Whether in the Psalms, or in the Prophets, whether in the Law, or in the Gospels, we do not read far without coming face to face with God. If we watch proud kings go forth to war, we do not fail to catch paeans of praise to the Lord of hosts. If we read of Abram emigrating from the east to the west, we also read of a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God. If we read the seldom-told story of the love of two women for each other, we also read of the God of Israel under whose wings Ruth had come to trust. And He will transcend all human error, and some day the knowledge of God will cover the earth as "the waters cover the sea."

R. H. H.

THE OUTLOOK BRIGHT.

It is stated that the Candler School of Theology at Atlanta has already booked 140 students for the next session. This is a great gain over the number of matriculates in this school last year, which was 69, and is a larger number than the Biblical Department of Vanderbilt University had before it passed from the supposed ownership and control of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. It should also be remembered that our School of Theology west of the Mississippi River will open its doors this fall. Truly, the work of educating and training our young ministers for the highest efficiency in the Master's service is progressing in a most gratifying manner.

We note that Rev. W. J. McCeoy, presiding elder of the Jackson District of the Memphis Conference, has secured a subscription of $100 which is to be nsed to help young ministers in attendance upon the Candler School of Theology. In raising such a fund Brother McCeoy has set an excellent example, which other presiding elders east of the Mississippi River would do well to follow. If every presiding elder's district would raise an equal amount and notify Bishop Candler of its availability for nse, a great service would be rendered to the Chnrch.

It is also to be hoped that every pastor and presiding elder will do all that he can to encourage onr young preachers to go to Atlanta and seek the best eqnipment for their life-work. This is a matter of great importance.

Any information that may be desired concerning the Candler School of Theology—its courses of study, terms, etc.—may be had by writing Bishop W. A. Candler, Chancellor of Emory University, Atlanta, Ga.

AGAINST PUBLIC HANGINGS.

The Daily News (Jackson, Miss.) contained in a recent issue the following utterance: "Six hangings are to take place in Mississippi during the first week in August. Five of the events will be in private, and the sixth ought to be. There is no justification for a public banging. It does not carry any object lesson to the criminally inclined, as many persons foolishly assert. It serves only to gratify the ever-present morbid curiosity of the human race. It is always gruesome to see a fellow-being hurled into eternity, no matter what the form of his taking off may be, and when he goes choking at the end of a rope it is about the most ghastly spectacle that the mind can conceive of. In a word, the public hanging is a relic of barbarism, and Mississippi is getting a great deal of unpleasant notoriety because of these events. They ought to be abolished by statute."

We heartily concur in the foregoing sentiments expressed by our contemporary. In our opinion, no good whatever is derived from a public execution of criminals. Instead of tending to exercise a deterring effect as to indulgence in crime, it brutalizes the finer sensibilities of the soul and exerts an infinence that is decidedly unwholesome. By a private administration of capital punishment all the benefits that could possibly accrue from such an act of government are attained, without any of the evil consequences that follow from putting men to death in an open and spectacular manner. It is to be hoped that the next Legislature of Mississippi will enact a law requiring in all cases that the death penalty shall be inflicted by officers within prison walls, with only enough witnesses present to attest that the orders of the courts have been faithfully carried out.

MY LORD AND I.

(Sung in the rocks and caves of France during the persecution of the Huguenots, three hundred years ago.).

I have a friend so precious,
So very dear to me!
He loves me with such tenderness,
He loves me so faithfully;
I could not live apart from him.
I love to feel him nigh;
And so we dwell together,
My Lord and I.

Sometimes I'm faint and weary,
He knows that I am weak
And so He bids me lean on Him,
His help I gladly seek.
He leads me in the paths of light,
Beneath a sunny sky;
And so we walk together,
My Lord and I.

He knows how much I love Him,
He knows I love Him well;
But with what love He loveth me,
My tongue could never tell.
It is an everlasting love,
In ever rich supply;
And so we love each other,
My Lord and I.

I tell Him all my sorrows,
I tell Him all my joys,
I tell Him all that pleases me,
I tell Him what annoys;
He tells me what I ought to do,
He tells me what to try,
And so we walk together,
My Lord and I.

He knows how I am longing
Some weary soul to win;
And so He bids me go and speak
A loving word for Him;
He bids me tell His wondrous love,
And why He came to die;
And so we walk together,
My Lord and I.

I have His yoke upon me,
And easy 'tis to bear;
In the burden that he carried,
I gladly take a share;
For then it is my happiness
To have Him always nigh;
We bear the yoke together,
My Lord and I.

GIVING.

Giving involves three principles: (1) Every Christian must give—the poor as well as the rich. (2) The amount must be proportionate to one's ability—a certain part of one's income. (3) It must be given regularly as an act of worship. We must recognize the fact that "no man brought anything into the world, no man can take anything out of it." We must remember that God asks one-tenth of our money; one-seventh of our time. "If thou hast much, give plenteously; if thou hast little, give gladly of that little; for so gatherest thou a good reward in the day of necessity. How is it, then, knowing this, there is always money for cigars, plays, clothes, etc., but no money for the Sabbath school, church or charity? God promise, he that soweth little shall reap little. He that soweth plenteously shall reap plenteously. There is

Only one life, 'twill soon be past,
Only what's done for Jesus will last.
—Richard Baxter.

THE MEANING OF THE CROSS.

Garibaldi, setting out to liberate Italy, saw some young men upon a street corner and summoned them to enlist in the cause. "What do you offer?" said they. "Offer?" replied Garibaldi, "I offer you hardship, hunger, rags, thirst, sleepless nights, footsores in the long marches; privations innumerable—and victory in the noblest cause that ever called to you for assistance." Young Italy followed him.

So was it, and in even more dramatic measure, in the manifesto of the Carpenter. It was a dangerous path, this to which he summoned his followers. He made no attempt to minimize the jeopardy of it. It was a desperate undertaking, and he said so. "If any one would come after me, let him take up his cross."—The Carpenter and the Rich Man, Bouck White.

WINNING SOULS FOR CHRIST.

Soul-saving is the chief business of the Church. Superficially, many things short of actual, personal salvation as the goal of Christian work may be worth while; but essentially our best efforts are a dismal failure unless they result in bringing the unsaved into the kingdom.

The work of the Church is many-sided and under modern conditions there must be diversity of operation in order to meet the needs of the hour. There is danger of devoting all interest and energy to a multiplicity of methods and measures without getting at the real kernel of things. It is possible to attract and engage the attention and interest of the general public and to get the crowd looking and coming our way without succeeding in getting real acceptance of Christ as a personal Savior. Yet this is the one thing needful.—Evangelical Messenger.

THE JOY THAT JESUS BRINGS.

By Henry T. Scholl, D.D.

The birth of Jesus was announced as good tidings of great joy. Shepherds went promptly to the place of his birth and thence returned "glorifying God for all the things they had heard and seen." The aged Simeon was ready to depart this life in peace when his eyes had seen the annointed Savior. Anna, the prophetess, a worshipful widow of four score and four, gave thanks unto Jehovah when assured of the birth of the Christ-child, and joyously spake of him to all them that looked for redemption in Jerusalem.

On the day of Pentecost three thousand sin-convicted auditors of Peter gladly received his word. And they, continuing steadfastly in the apostle's doctrine and fellowship and in the breaking of bread and in prayers, did eat their food with gladness and singleness of heart, praising God and having favor with all the people.

The Ethiopian eunuch believed in Christ, was promptly and publicly baptized, and "he went on his way rejoicing." Between midnight and morning the Philippian jailor listened savingly to the pointed and protracted preaching of Paul. Without needless delay he confessed Christ and was baptized. And when he had brought Paul and Silas into his house he set meat before them and rejoiced, believing in God with all his house. Philip went down to the city of Samaria and preached Christ unto them. And the people with one accord gave heed to these things which Philip spake, and "there was great joy in that city."

A story is told of a poor street little girl who was taken sick one Christmas and carried to the hospital. While there, she heard the story of Jesus coming into the world to save us. One day Little Broomstick (that was her street name) whispered to the nurse, "I'm havin' real good times here—ever such good times! S'pose I'll have to ga 'way from here just as soon as I get well; but I'll take the good time along—some of it anyhow. Did you know about Jesus bein' born?"

"Yes," replied the nurse; "I know. Sh-sh-sh. Don't talk any more."

"You did? I thought you looked as if you didn't, and I was going to tell you."

"Why, how do I look?" asked the nurse, forgetting her own order in her curiosity.

"Oh, just like most o' folks—kind o' glum. I shouldn't think you'd ever look glum if you knew about Jesus bein' born."

For you and for me there is great and abiding joy if we accept thankfully the tidings of the Savior's birth and lovingly make room for him in our hearts. There he would fain abide as King of our lives; and his Kingdom is "righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Spirit." He has spoken to us as prophet, that his joy might remain in us, and that our joy might be full.

Mark well the fact that the joy Christ brings is joy in the Holy Spirit, a joy that is independent of outward circumstances. Habakkuk, accordingly, could say: "Although the fig tree could not blossom, neither shall friut be in the vines; the labor of the olive shall fail, and the fields shall yied no food; the flock shall be cut off from the fold, and there shall be no herd in the stalls; yet I will rejoice in the Lord; I will joy in the God of my salvation."

Peter and his fellow-apostles were scourged for preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ, and they "departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his name."

Paul and Silas were flogged and imprisoned in Philippi while engaged there in evangelistic work; and at midnight, in spite of their lacerated backs and their cramped position in the stocks, they made the dungeon melodious with praiseful prayer.

Madame Guyon, bereft of her husband and two of her five children, shorn of her beauty by a severe attack of smallpox, a prisoner for conscience in the castle of Vincennes, was graced to write:

"A little bird I am,
Shut from the fields of air,
And in my songs I sit and sing
To Him who placed me there;
Well pleased a prisoner to be,
Because, my God, it pleaseth Thee."

Mark well the fact that the joy Christ brings is joy in the Holy Spirit, a joy independent of outward circumstances, a joy, moreover, that is not dissipated by death. The rich man of Luke xvi, clothed in princely attire and living luxuriously, rejoiced daily in his tangible good things that perished in the using; but from them all he was parted by death, and thenceforth has been in palpable torments. Lazarus has, meanwhile, entered upon satisfaction unending and unalloyed.—Christian Intelligencer.

THE CHILDREN'S AGE.

This is the children's age. More time, more thought, and more energy are in this generation given to the study, development and discipline of children than has ever been attempted systematically in any past century. The seed-thoughts on this subject scattered by Christ upon the soil of the first century are coming to blossom and fruitage now in the twentieth. Emerson quotes an old gentleman as saying that all his life had been spent in a most unlucky time of transitions; when he was a boy the greatest respect was paid to old age, and now that he was old the greatest respect was paid to the children.

The true father of to-day directs his energies to his children's advancement, physically and intellectually. The spiritual, in some cases, is as carefully fostered, but in the majority of homes the realization has still to dawn that the child who early learns the great fundamental truth of Christ's love has a power within which will mold and strengthen his whole career.—Homiletic Review.

BUY LUMBER FROM
W. W. CARRE CO., Ltd.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

COTTAGE COLONY, NEAR HAMMOND, LA.
FOR THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.
Pine forest, artesian water, hot and cold baths, no dust or noise. Physicians' attention, Graduate nurse's service and drugs furnished.
Rates, $10 per Week and Up.
Address Dr. E. L. McGehee, Hammond, La.
City Office, 923 Maison Blanche Bldg.

GRENADA COLLEGE AND LOYALTY.

In examining the catalogue just sent out by Grenada College, one can not but be impressed by the "Policy" of the institution as thus expressed on page eight: "While the College belongs to the North Mississippi Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and receives yearly contributions therefrom equivalent to the income from a $50,000 endowment, it has never asked for a pupil on the score of loyalty to said Church. It makes its appeal for patronage solely on the character of the work done, the accommodations afforded, and the kindly, Christian care and personal oversight given each individual pupil."

A recent visit to Grenada College so convinced me of the high ideals for which the institution stands and of the great work it is doing for our girls that I beg leave to emphasize certain facts concerning it through the columns of our Conference Organ.

The Property:

1. Did you know that there are five buildings on a campus of eight acres, the whole valued at $100,000?

2. Did you know that two acres and two buildings have been acquired during the past year at a cost of $14,150, though the price asked was $18,000, thus saving $3850?

The Faculty:

1. Did you know that all the faculty, without a single exception, aside from being especially adapted to the work of training immortal souls, are graduates of the most renowned universities in the country, or have studied in the same?

2. Did you know the teacher of modern languages is a graduate student of the University of Leipsic?

3. Did you know that the Director of Music has for two years studied with Theodore Leschetizky (the world's foremost pianoforte teacher) and with Malwine Bree, both of Vienna, Austria?

Religious Activities:

1. Did you know that at Grenada College girls receive individual attention and are developed individually along cultural, ethical, and religious lines?

2. Did you know that there is an active branch of the International Young Woman's Christian Association in operation there?

3. Did you know that the students in Grenada College each year give enough to the treasury of the Woman's Council of Southern Methodism to support a Bible Woman?

4. Did you know that there has been but one graduate in the five years of the present administration who is not a Church member?

Patronage:

1. Did you know that there are 58,000 Methodists in the North Mississippi Conference who should patronize the school they own and control?

2. Did you know that in face of this fact there were only 95 boarding pupils in attendance last year?

3. Did you know that since the acquirement of the new property there is now room for 150 boarders?

Standards:

1. Did you know that the curriculum of the school is on the basis of the A-Grade College, viz.: four years of high school work followed by four years of college work?

2. Did you know that the College is the most homelike school to be found among us, and the students are so cared for and disciplined that their conduct is above reproach?

Methodists of North Mississippi, since the institution is under splendid management, since the advantages offered our girls are unexcelled, should not our loyalty prompt us to see that every dormitory room is occupied at the opening of the session next September? Let us help Grenada College!

Mrs. W. N. DUNCAN.

Holly Springs, Miss.

"Christ alone can save the world, but Christ cannot save the world alone."

THE ALEXANDRIA DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

The Alexandria District Conference was held within the fifty-six hours between 4 o'clock p. m., July 6, and 12:30 a. m., July 9, 1915. The opening service of the Conference was scheduled for 8 p. m., but as a number of members had arrived on the noon trains the presiding elder called us together for a prayer service at 4 p. m. A group of Methodist preachers with a prayerful spirit engaged in the study of the Word of God and the past, present, and future of their work can hardly fail to be an inspiring occasion.

The preacher at the evening hour, mindful of the fact that it was the five-hundredth anniversary of the martyrdom of John Huss, tried to speak in memory of that distinguished Bohemian University professor and preaching-priest. None was more conscious than he of his utter failure to do justice either to the subject or the occasion. The most helpful part of this hour's service was the Communion Service led by Dr. Wynn of Centenary College. The young preachers in attendance upon this college are fortunate in being under the instruction of a man who is so skilled in the use of our much neglected and often abused ritual.

The devotion of eleven and a half out of twenty-three and a half hours of the Conference to religious services fully met the requirements of the Discipline at this point. Rev. T. I. Beck, Rev. G. E. Cameron, Rev. Briscoe Carter, and Rev. F M. Freeman ably and earnestly dispensed the Word.

Rev. H. W. May, the presiding elder, presided with the ease and dignity of the courtly Christian gentleman that he is. While watchful of the interests of the Church, at the same time he is tenderly considerate of those who work under and with him in the Kingdom of our Lord. His administration is marked by a diligent attention to the multitudinous duties of his thankless and onerous task. The district under his administration has advanced by almost leaps and bounds, until now in many points it stands at the top. To those of us who knew it a decade ago this progress is no less wonderful than gratifying. The reading during the devotional hours of the Conference from the Twentieth Century New Testament reminded us that, in the midst of the exacting cares of his official life, the presiding elder was endeavoring to keep abreast with the best of scholarship.

The reports of the preachers without exception sounded the note of victory and progress. If the success attained in the few revivals already held is maintained in the many to be held, we will go to Mansfield in November shouting over a wonderful harvest of souls. Many items were covered in the written reports of the preachers who used blanks furnished by the presiding elder. A summary of these yields the following interesting facts: Number of accessions by profession of faith, 295; by certificate, 185; Sunday school enrollment, 3897; Epworth Leagues, 10; members, 236; Church papers taken, 325; Woman's Missionary Societies 10, members 357; raised for Orphanage, $714.15.

A gratifying feature of the reports was the opening of work at a number of places hitherto unoccupied by our Church.

Presidents Bobbitt and Wynn represented Mansfield and Centenary Colleges. The Conference pledged its loyal support to these institutions and pledged earnest efforts to raise $1500 on the Blair proposition. The presiding elder was asked to appoint Mr. T. W. Holloman to assist Rev. G. E. Cameron, the District Commissioner of Education, to get this matter on the hearts of the people.

The Committee on Sunday Schools embodied in its report the following resolution, which was adopted after considerable discussions.

"Resolved, 1. That we hereby memorialize the Louisiana Conference of 1915 to instruct our Conference Sunday School Board to take this matter under consideration and arrange by assessment or otherwise to place in the field for the year 1916 a Sunday school missionary.

"2. That we call upon our people through the New Orleans Christian Advocate and from our pulpits to loyally support with their means our own denominational Sunday school work, and whereas it is the policy of our Sunday School Board to develop the missionary territory by organizing and equipping Sunday schools, we urge our people to put their subscriptions into the hands of our Sunday School Board, and their best efforts into the channels of their own Church, thereby meeting an urgent need and giving the Gospel to those among us who do not have it."

Hons. H. H. White, R. O. Randle, and T. W. Holloman addressed the Conference concerning the Adult Class Work, Church Extension, and Missions, respectively. What a great pity that so few of our laymen heard these inspiring addresses. The White succession gives promise of being as useful and as eminent in the profession of law as it has been in past days in the Methodist ministry. What a joy it must be to that "noblest Spartan of us all," Robert Randle, to see the Randle mantle of service and usefulness falling upon the shoulders of his son who is rapidly advancing to eminence, not only as a lawyer, but as a Methodist layman as well? Our own Wynn Holloman is true to the reputation for ability and sanctity suggested by both of his names—the one in Louisiana and the other in Mississippi.

The following delegates were elected to the Annual Conference: T. W. Holloman, H. H. White, A. C. Simmons, and Rev. E. G. Wood. Alternates: C. Hatfield, N. Norwood, C. Knoll, and W. G. Wadley. T. W. Holloman was elected district lay leader.

Wm. Kelly Parker was licensed to preach. E. G. Wood, J. F. Dring, A. A. Phillips, Wm. Kelly Parker, and A. L. Harper were recommended for admission on trial into the Annual Conference.

Recommendation was made for the recognition of orders of Rev. E. G. Wood and Rev. A. L. Harper. Rev. P. A. Swann was recommended for Elder's Orders.

Alexandria was chosen as the place for the next District Conference.

To say that Bunkie measured up to its usual standard of hospitable entertainment is enough for those who are acquainted with this delightful little city; to others, it would be in vain to attempt a description. The beloved pastor, Rev. R. S. Walton, was untiring in his attention to the convenience and comfort of his guests.

Last, but not least, we desire to say that the Woman's Missionary Society was represented at the Conference by our new District Secretary, Mrs. R. W. Winstead. To those of us who had learned to love and honor the former occupant of this office, Mrs. M. N. James, a new face may have been somewhat of a shock, but since Sister James saw fit to resign from the duties of this important position, we were glad to find them reposing in such competent hands. Surely, after the earnest words of Sister Winstead, none of us will ever be guilty again of failing to answer her letters or giving her all the encouragement and assistance in our power.

PAUL M. BROWN, Secretary.

Natchitoches, La., July 17, 1915.

"Anywhere, any time, anything, for the Son of God and the sons of men."

PORT GIBSON FEMALE COLLEGE

AND

Conservatory of Music, Art and Expression.

The Oldest College for Girls in Mississippi.

Healthful location. Curriculum high. Faculty all college graduates. Buildings commodious. Rooms comfortable. Dietary varied and wholesome. Attendance last session more than 50 per cent increase over the year before.

NEXT SESSION OPENS SEPT. 8, 1915.

For catalogue and special information, write

REV. T. J. O'NEIL, President.

Secular News and Comment

By R. E. Meek.

The United States exports apples and prunes to Norway.

* * *

The numher of Jews in the world is estimated at 14,000,000.

* * *

Switzerland has purchased about 15,000 oxen for food from Venezuela.

* * *

The average cocoanut tree does not begin bearing until it is eight years old.

* * *

Every year 20,000,000 pounds of salt are imported in the Philippine Islands.

* * *

In the London Hospital disabled soldiers spend their time making designs of bridges for military purposes.

* * *

It is estimated that the corn crop of the United States for the year 1915 will amount to 2,184,000,000 husheis.

* * *

The eldest daughter of Mr. Asquith, the English Premier, is engaged to be married to her father's principal Private Secretary.

* * *

The average temperature in New Orleans during the month of June was not greater than it was during the same month of the year 1914.

* * *

The island of Madagascar, which belongs to France, has a whole regiment mounted on oxen. Horses can not be used there on account of the climate.

* * *

In the Chinese provinces of Kwangtung and Kwangsi great loss of life has been occasioned by floods, which are said to have been greater than any ever known before.

* * *

Skilled workmen in England are showing their patriotism by voluntarily entering the arsenals and other manufacturing concerns where the Government needs their services.

* * *

The exports and imports of New Orleans for the week which ended on July 3 amounted to $4,819,306, which easily placed the Crescent City second among the ports of the United States.

* * *

In Greenland, upon the death of a child a live dog is buried with him, to be its guide in the next world. There must be a great work for the missionaries to do in that henighted land.

* * *

In the States of Montana and Nevada there is no law against usury. The lack of such legislation is doubtless a great disadvantage to the poor people in those States who have to borrow money.

* * *

The General Board of Trustees of the Mississippi State Colleges met at Jackson, Miss., in Gov. Brewer's office on June 12. The four colleges were found to be in a flourishing condition and the President of each was re-elected.

* * *

A shield has been made adaptable for use in modern warfare which will protect the wearer from bayonet and sword thrusts when hand-to-hand battles take place. It can not be penetrated by bullets, but the shock is such that the wearer is either killed or badly hurt.

* * *

The following are some interesting statistics concerning some of the members of the 1914 class of Harvard University: 246 smoked and 141 did not; 180 drank and 153 did not; 160 attended chapel often, 296 occasionally, and 74 never. From this it will be seen that the moral atmosphere at this school is not what it ought to be. Though in many respects it is America's greatest university, it is lacking at this most important point.

LOGICAL AND PROPER ACTION RELATIVE TO A RENEGADE.

Through the New Orleans Christian Advocate we learn that Major R. W. Millsaps, of Jackson, Miss., and Mr. John R. Pepper, of Memphis, Tenn., two stanch and loyal laymen, had tendered their resignations as members of the Vanderbilt University Board. This is pre-eminently appropriate. There could be no objection to the appointment of the most eminent laymen and ministers of our Church to positions on the boards of State universities and other institutions outside the Church; but our relation to Vanderbilt is different. It once was under the acknowledged ownership and control of our Church, but by a monstrous decision of the Tennessee Supreme Court it was taken from the Church, a majority of its trustees and faculty evidently approving. It is not simply heyond the control of the Church that fostered it, but its relation now is practically one of defiance. Its Theological Department, originally intended for the education of our ministers, is now a lIberal school of reiigion with men of various denominations in its facuity. It no longer stands for the things of Southern Methodism, hut in the very nature of the case, in order to vindicate its position, it must be in some degree antagonistic to the Church from whose care it is withdrawn. A man cannot now be loyal to Vanderbilt University and to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Propriety suggests that all loyal members of our Church should withdraw from its Board and its Faculty. This is logical and decent. That is the candid opinion of this editor, although he believes that neither our General Conference of 1910 nor of 1914 acted wisely, and that with more prudent action in those Conferences Vanderbilt Unlversity would to-day be ours, and every disloyal trustee and professor would have been eliminated. But we accept the situation. The University is no longer legally ours, and the events of its recent history necessarily array it against our Church. It now no longer deserves countenance or patronage from our Church or from any of our members, and we sincerely trust that our friends will sever their relations with it.—Western Methodist (Little Rock, Ark.)

WANTS A PLACE IN IT.

Dear Doctor Meek: I have just read the excerpt from Dr. Steel's late utterance as published in the Advocate and your comments thereon. I have for many years banked on your ability to wrlte what you think and say it straight from the shoulder. For a most part I have aiways agreed with your point of view, but in this instance I must demur.

Dr. Steel idealizes by wording a scene with the following utillties: a house on the Mississippi Coast; a wide veranda; a number of rockers, at least enough for Meek, Mann and Steel; and a big watermelon. Now, Doctor, you come along and tell your 10,000 readers that "indeed, with such an environment and fellowship, Paradise would be well-nigh set up on earth." Paradise! You and Mann and Steel with the watermelon, and your 10,000 readers sweltering in the sun with nary a bite!. I do not question but that you three might experience the thrills of Paradise for awhile, but most emphatically I join the majority in asking for more chairs and more watermelon.

Yours with hopes of Paradise,

July 16, 1915. A. J. GEARHEARD.

(It is not surprising to us that our esteemed brother should desire a rocker on Doctor Steel's gallery and a share of his home-raised watermelon. And it is quite characteristic also that he should think of others, since his heart is known to he with the masses of the people. If we had our way we would follow the example of Speaker Champ Clark at the recent wedding of his daughter and issue a "blanket" invitation to ali the Methodists of Louisiana and Mississippi to share in the blessings of this Gulf Coast "Paradise"—to get them into "Paradise" has been for nearly six years the chief end and aim of our lahors—but in this particular instance Dr. Steel, and not the Editor, seemed to be the host and carrier of the keys and we could not breach the common rules of courtesy. Knowing the generousness of the Doctor's heart, however, we dare say that he would be happy to see such homes as his multipiied and the whole coast country made an extended "Paradise," with a constant intermingling of all the good and pure. Why not? Are we not told that in the final "Paradise" there will be "many mansions?" At one point, however, our correspondent errs. The Advocate has less than 8000 subscribers, but its readers probably number between 30,000 and 40,000. We can not wiilingly consent to such a reduction of the Advocate's beloved family.—The Editor.)

A LAYMAN'S VIEW OF DESTRUCTIVE CRITICISM.

Layman H. W. R., just at the close of the General Assembly, in the Rochester Herald of May 29, gives his views on destructive criticism in an able articie of some length. The foilowing is the first paragraph of the article:

"Our high ideals, our new gospels, social service, new old paths and traditions are but tinkling cymbals, voices so many and confused that bellef in anything seems often difficult. Of them ali, the arrogant, patronizing claims and conceits of the higher critics are the most insoient. They claim the sum of ali wisdom and the last word; heside theirs, no thought or vision is worth the name. They have consigned to the scrap-heap ail who believe, without mental reservations, in the inspiration of the Scriptures, the divinity of Christ, the atoning blood, and justification hy faith. Ail such are ridicuied as hehind the age, lost in the pigeon-holes of a dead, discredited past. The lay mind grows weary of such egotism, such unfruitful teaching, treachery and conceits. First, who is the father of the higher critic? Whose child is he? Second, who are out of date, back numbers and blind? In Genesis, Satan is revealed as the father, source and inspirer of ali higher critical doctrines. Adam joined the cult and covered himself with shame. Caln went into the partnership of the new thought and waliowed out of sight in his brother's blood."

Let the laymen keep up the attack. Nothing more encourages error than the feeling that it is popular among intelligent laymen. It will he good for truth and the cause, if these laymen wiii boldly speak out their testimony.—The Preshyterlan.

I do not know which is the worse: to lavish upon an idol the worship due to God Almighty, or to comport one's self toward the Lord of hosts in a manner that would be offensive to a graven image.—G. W. Pepper.

WANTED!

A young lady with experience as a High Schooi music teacher, who has college and conservatory training, wishes a position. Best of references, etc. Address Rev. J. Early Gray, Logtown, Miss.

CENTENARY COLLEGE

Of Louisiana.

If you wish your son to receive a Literary College training in a moral and religious atmosphere, amid beautiful and healthful natural surroundings, under a faculty of competent Christian men, in a progressive city with great Protestant Churches and many public advantages, send him to

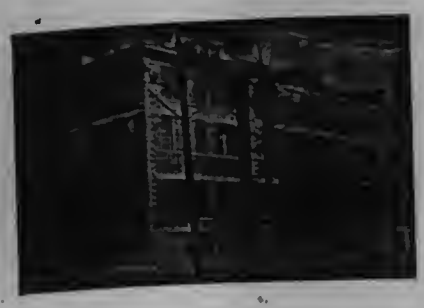
Centenary College.

If it is advisable that your son take his preparatory or high school training away from home, send him to Centenary, where, hy good application, he may save one year in preparation for Freshman Class of any college.

Write for Catalogue and any Needed Information.

Rev. R. H. WYNN, President. Box 6, Shreveport, La.

The Louisiana Educational Campaign



LOUISIANA CONFERENCE
BOARD OF EDUCATION

Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., President

Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Sec'y

Rev. C. A. Battle, Treas., Baton Rouge, La.

(This Department is conducted by Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Secretary of Education, and Rev. A. J. Gearheard, Publicity Commissioner.)

NOT WHAT, BUT WHO?

What Christ did in the world was valuabic because of who Christ was. Had another besides the Son of God preached even as he did, or served even as he did, or even died as he did, it would have been told as a fairy story or a story of heroic deeds. But Christ was and is the Son of God and his divinity made the value of his work eternai. This is an age of utilitarianism. We measure men by what they can do, and our sons and daughters are ambitious to do something. Their ambition is caught up in a vision of values. They can make a fortune in law, or medicine, or engineering, or surgery, or something else. They become something in order to get something. That is the cheapest kind of a iife. If a man is worth something because he can do something, then a machine that can add a column of figures in tens of thousands quicker than two men can is of more value than two men. We make too much out of doing things.

Christ healed thc sick because he was the Son of God. God is love and therefore the divine nature of the Christ was compassion. He had compassion on the unfortunate and healed them. The healing was the after-effect of the personality of the Christ. Holy ambition is an intense desire to be something. "Covet earnestly the best gifts." Some of the greatest lawyers never attended a law school, but read in some office. Some of the greatest preachers can read neither Latin, Greek, nor Hebrew, and never so much as attended a college. Some of the greatest civil engineers took their training carrying a chain for a surveyor, and are the Bacheior of Nothing. Their greatness is not in what they know, but in the character they possess that hurls them with vigor to the tasks they have to do.

Here, then, iies the secret of an education. Train yourseif to be something and not to do something. As a preacher, let me have in me the elements of Christianity, and I will do more than if I know ali the books in a course of study in a seminary. But if I can have in me the elements of Christianity and know the other also, I am the better equipped. Then my first duty is to become a Christian, alive with the presence and power of God through Jesus Christ. Then I may get as much education as I can, as long as I can get it and keep myself unspotted from the world. The one thing worth while in me is the character that becometh a Christian. If we have boys or girls to be educated, the one thing we must consider is a college atmosphere that will be religiously bracing and not religiously fatiguing. It is better to keep your boy at home and let him learn machinery at the roundhouse than to send him to a technical college where Christ is left out. Better to give your 18-year-old girl to some good man as a wife, and let her be content in a home with an aitar, than to send her to a finishing school where Christ is left out. Better send your son as a clerk to the store and permit him to do the best he can and be honest and pious than to trust him to the false intelligence of a professor who mocks at religion.

If, however, you can take that boy from the roundhouse and give him the better advantages of a school of technology and at the same time keep him under religious influences, then that is best. If that 18-year-old girl can have four years in a finishing school where Christ is held up and character is upbuilt, then send her there. Thank God, Mansfield College is just such a place. If that boy can be given training in the branches of a technical or literary course and be at the same time inspired to love God and serve Him, then take him from the clerk's desk and send him to college. Thank God, Centenary College offers such training. If your boy or girl enters college next fall, may that college be either Centenary or Mansfield!

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

Much of the credit for the generous subscription from the Lake Charles Church, reported recently, is due to the enthusiastic co-operation of Mr. J. A. Foster, one of thc choice laymen of that city, and a member of thc Conference Board of Education, who ably assisted Dr. Wynn in securing the contributions on the Blair Fund for Centenary.

The heipful aid of Rev. K. W. Dodson, pastor at Lake Charles, is an iiiustration of the value of hearty co-operation on the part of the pastor in the effort to secure aid for Centenary. The success of Dr. Wynn's effort there was in no small measure due to Brother Dodson's attitude, as well as the assistance of efficient laymen.

Another pastor who is co-operating heartily in the presenl campaign for a greater Centenary is Rev. C. A. Battle, Commissioner of Education for the Baton Rouge District. In his weekly Bulletin for Juiy 18, Brother Battle reports the progress of the campaign and appeals to his membership for assistance to thc coliege.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

Receipts for ail purposes (previously acknowledged)	$2524.41
Receipts on Centenary Special Assessment of $6000—
R. H. Harper, Parker Memorial, N. O.	$ 20.00
E. L. Cargiii, Campti Charge	5.00
J. G. Sloane, Gibsiand Charge	2.00
J. M. Alford, Columbia Charge	5.00
K. W. Dodson, Lake Charles	50.00
Total	$ 82.00
Receipts on Educational Assessment—
R. H. Harper, Parker Memorial, N. O.	$30.00
Total	$ 112.00
Grand Total	$2636.41

July 22, 1915. C. A. BATTLE, Treasurer.

A DELIGHTFUL DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

By Rev. G. E. Cameron.

Assuredly all who were present will at once assent to the fitness of the above caption. The Alexandria District Conference convened in the beautiful iittle city of Bunkie on the morning of Juiy 7. Most of the brethren arrived on the previous afternoon, and the opening sermon was preached that evening by the Rev. P. M. Brown, of Natchitoches. This was an able sermon, dealing in a considerable degree with the life, character and faith of John Huss. The next morning the Conference was duly and formally organized, after religious exercises conducted by the presiding elder, Rev. H. W. May. The business of the Conference was thoroughiy, rapidly, and without undue haste, transacted. The Presiding Elder directed the affairs of the Conference with a skilled and brotherly hand.

The most helpfui and inspiring features of the Conference were the addresses by some of our leading laymen. The Hon. H. H. White, of Alexandria, delivered a very timely address, which was highly enjoyed by the Conference, on "The Work of the Adult (Men's) Bible Class."

He introduced his address by remarking that he was again glad to light his candle by the good old fires of Methodism, but that he must say that he felt that in attending such conferences there was to him a tinge of sadness, for in looking over the audience he missed the faces of those strong, conspicuous characters who had had to do with the laying of the foundations of Methodism in this great State. Then, calling the names of perhaps a dozen of these sainted leaders, he most touchingly and beautifully stated that these had crossed over the river and were resting beneath the shade of the trees.

Able addresses were also made by Mr. T. W. Holloman, the Lay Leader of the Alexandria District, and by the Hon. Robert Randle, of Monroe, the latter very thoroughiy and effectively representing the Conference Board and the General Board of Church Extension.

A lively interest was taken in ali the proceedings of the Conference, and the reports showed that there had been about five hundred additions to the Church since Conference.

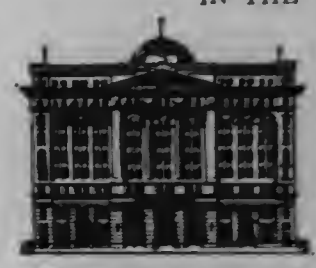
It is indeed a notable record that during the two years and a half in which Rev. H. W. May has presided over this district eleven churches have been built, and four parsonages, and through his able leadership a roomy and commodious district parsonage has also been secured, while the other interests of the district have prospered.

With one exception, the preaching of the Conference was of a high order. The sermon by Rev. C. B. Carter, of the Ruston District, was thoughtful, instructive, and remarkably edifying.

The hospitality of Bunkie abounded, and the entire occasion was one of pleasure and goodfellowship.

Methodist Hotel

THE GREATEST INSTITUTION OF ITS KIND IN THE WORLD.



A Modern Fireproof Building, with Hotel, Auditorium, Church, Finest Organ on the Pacific Coast, and other Interesting Features under one Roof.

Owned and Controlled by Trinity M. E. Church, South, Los Angeles, Cal.

When you or your friends visit Los Angeles, stop at TRINITY, Ninth and Grand Avenue. Close to everywhere.

Over Three Hundred Comfortable Rooms, with or without Bath. One Dollar per Day and Up.

Write or Wire TRINITY Your Needs.

ENLARGE YOUR DAY

Thousands of people have already learned how to enlarge their days; how to increase the time they can devote to profitable recreation and pleasure without sacrificing work that must be done.

They first discovered that the quickest and most satisfactory way to go "down town" was by the telephone.

Next they applied the same principle to their "out of town" business and social trips, and found it was even more satisfactory and proportionately much cheaper.

Do you Travel by TELEPHONE?

Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co.

(Incorporated.)

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON LAY ACTIVITIES.

(Read before the Durant District Conference and published by request of that body.)

As all reading, thinking members of our Church know, the great field of lay activities is to a certain extent in its infancy, and is yet to he developed, as far as the real work to he done is concerned. However, this does not mean that this field of usefulness in itself is new—on the contrary, the great need for this character of Christian work is as old as the Church we love so well. and at times, seemingly, serve so little. Primarily, it is said that the chief channel in which this work is to be carried on is in the missionary field, and the main reason, possibly, why more progress has not been made in the past is because those who are expected to take up and push the work in this pacticular line of Church advancement do not fully understand the duties and obligations required of them, and just how they are expected to carry out the wishes and desires of the Church. This Committee recalls that at the last session of our Annual Conference, held at Starkville, the Committee on Lay Activities then called upon that Conference to express itself on the duties and obligations of the Lay Leaders, and to give instructions in some way as to how this work was to be performed in cooperation and in conjunction with the presidlng elders and pastors throughout the Conference; but, so far as this Committee ls advised and believes, that Conference adjourned without glving heed to that request. It appears to this Committee, however, from the best information at hand, that the necessary organization has been perfected in the various charges throughout this dlstrict by the appointment of the committees and leaders, as is cotemplated and required by the Discipline; and while this Committee does not desire in any sense to sound a discordant note, yet when this is sald that about ends the chapter in so far as real work and results are concerned. Like some piece of perfect machinery that has been installed for the accomplishment of some great end, but which stands useless and idle because the steam has never been applied, so stands the great field of lay activities in the Durant District to-day. We have the necessary machinery at our command, and it has been properly installed; we have the men—the field is open, the opportunity is now at our door; yet, notwithstanding all thls, we seem impotent, inactive and inert; nothing, it seems, is being done, and we can see and feel no real results.

Thls should not be the case. As to just who is to blame for this seeming failure to brlng forth fruit in a great and inviting field of Christian experience and endeavor, we do not know that it is within the province of this Committee to determine, were that in our power. At the same time, without appearing in any sense crltlcal, we take the liberty of saying that it is possible that all of us, ministers as well as laymen, have been to some extent negligent and seemingly unconcerned, and we venture to suggest that none of us could truthfully have it said of and about him, in this particular at least, as was sald of a certain woman on one occasion, "She hath done what she could."

As heretofore suggested in this report, prlmarily, as we understand, this great work was intended to be directed along missionary lines, but in its broadest application we do not feel that the work and field of labor of the layman of our Church ls to be thus circumscribed, with certain limitations placed around and about his labor. We feel that our Church recognizes the field of the layman as being hedged in by no imaginary lines, and that the scope of his work is as boundless as the wants and needs of man. The layman has a certain work to do in looking after the financial interest of the Church, to be sure, and which in no wise should be discounted or minimlzed; but he is falling far short of his glorlous opportunities and privileges if he stops here and concludes that the spirltual part of Christianlty has been or is to be pre-empted by the ministry, and that he is to have no part in the great work of evangelizlng and Christianizing the world.

It is a great work for the layman to be engaged in the noble tasks of building churches, endowing colleges, and equlpping hospitals, all of which contribute to the wants of man and the betterment of the race; but greater than all this, and beyond all thls, is the sweet consciousness withln him that he ls a child of God, and his knowledge of sonship, coupled with the knowledge on his part that an obligation rests upon him in a spiritual sense, that he, too, must have a part in carrying the gospel of Christ to dying men, and that he is expected to demonstrate it by the life he lives.

Material things should be looked after, and in no sense should they be neglected, but in order to attain to the highest standard of success and happiness in the Christian life, the spiritual things must be placed first. "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God" should come home to the layman to-day as urgently and as forcibly as when the same words fell from the lips of the Christ more than nineteen centuries ago. When the layman's field has been fully developed and thoroughly understood, it will mean more than mere money-getting—it will mean the fittlng of men for more efficient service in the Christian life, and it involves the keeping of the great commandment—to love God with every faculty of our being and our fellowmen as ourselves. The call, "Follow Me," is as urgent to-day as when it rang through the Judean hills and fell upon the listenlng ears of the ignorant fishermen nineteen hundred years ago. Helping others and living an upright, blameless life should be the aim and deslre of all, and it is as much the duty (and it should be his pleasure) for the layman to do this as it is for the minister, and the world should be taught to know and understand that there is hut one standard of morality, virtue and righteousness, and that the layman is not only expected but is requlred to take his stand by the side of the preacher, march shoulder to shoulder with him in the great fight against evil and wrong, and never by any act of his should he cause reproach to come upon the cause in which he is enllsted, and under whose banner he is marching to a glorious victory.

Is it too much for thls Committee to ask here that we may all go from this Distrlct Conference with renewed determination and resolution to take up the work ln our different places over the distrlct, and under God's guiding hand, trusting in Hls promises, win a great victory during the comlng year for humanity, righteousness and Chrlstianity? Respectfully submitted,

J. LEM SEAWRIGHT,
Chairman.

A GIFTED YOUNG MINISTER.

Rev. John W. Frazer, pastor of the Methodist Church at Auburn, has been appointed by Bishop Kilgo to succeed his father, Rev. J. S. Frazer, D.D., as presldlng elder of the Mobile District of the Methodist Church. Dr. Frazer has recently been appointed financial agent of Emory University, the great Methodist school at Atlanta, and will take the field with Bishop Candler in the interest of that work.

The new presiding elder is only thirty years of age, and in point of years is perhaps the youngest presiding elder in Southern Methodism. He is sald to be very gifted. His literary education was acqulred at the Southern Universlty at Greensboro, Ala., and his degree in divinity at Vanderbilt University. He wlll come to Mobile at once to take up his new dutles.

Mr. Frazer is a poet as well as an orator, as the following beautiful lines, written by him and published in the Nashville Christlan Advocate, attest:

The Common Soldier.

Nigh the banks of Alsne, where foemen fell
And reeking death stood sentinel,
On the clotted ground a Prussian lay,
With ebbing llfe, at ebb of day.
A stoic's mien hls face had worn,
Though coat was rent and breast was torn;
But dry lips scorched by burning pain,
Flung out at last o'er ghastly plaln
A cry of thirst that must find slake:
"A drink, a drink, for Lord Chrlst's sake!"

A stricken dragoon—no more he'd ride,
Crawled from a trench to the Prusslan's slde.
Then heavens saw—would kings had seen!—
A Teuton drlnk from a French canteen.
And heavens watched—would kings might know!—
A foeman clasped the hand of foe
And heard him say, ere came the end
Upon them both: "I thank you, friend."

—Moblle Register.

THE HOLMES STORE

OF NEW ORLEANS

is one of America's truly great department stores.

It has perfected a buying organization that reaches into every producing market of the world, maintaining offices in Berlin, London, Paris and Florence, as well as New York.

It never presents any merchandise that is not of good quality and equitably priced.

Its very efficient service to patrons in the city is supplemented by the largest and best-equipped mail order department of any store in the South. Ninety-eight per cent of all orders received are filled on date of receipt.

The aim of the store is to merit fully the confidence that has been manifested by the public during its seventy-two years of merchandising history.

D. H. HOLMES CO., Ltd.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN WHO WORK.

The United States Census Bureau's Bulletin of occupations shows that, of the whole body of workers for galn, 21.2 per cent were females, as against 18.3 per cent in 1900. Of those employed in domestic and personal service, there were 2,620,000 females, an increase of 25 per cent over 1900. In professlonal service the number rose from 828,000 to 1,520,000, or nearly 40 per cent. Women physicians and surgeons number nearly 14,000, and 1300 women are lawyers. The number of children between ten and fifteen years of age engaged in gainful occupations is 1,900,225, or nearly 20 per cent of all the children of those ages. In 1900 the number was 1,750,178, the percentage of increase being practically the same as for the population gain. There was a marked decrease in the number of children engaged in non-agricultural pursuits, while the number employed on the farms increased 369,283.

If Christ called his chosen ones apart from the multitude, it was only that he might endow them with power and courage to go back again, if need be, as lambs among wolves.—E. H. Schlueter.

DR. THADDEUS P. BELL

Practice Limited to the Medical and Surgical Treatment of the

EYE, EAR, NOSE & THROAT

And the Correction of Errors of Vision.

814 Audubon Bldg., New Orleans, La.

LEON IRWIN & CO.,

Fire and Casualty Insurance

736 UNION STREET. Phone, Main 585.

The Home Circle

MY NEIGHBOR.

I have a new neighbor just over the way,
She was moving in on the first of May;
When she took in her household goods, I saw
They were nothing but rubbish and sticks and straw;
But when I made her a call just now
I found she had furnished her house somehow
All trim and tidy and nice and neat,
The prettiest cottage in all the street.
Of thistledown silk was her carpet fine,
A thousand times better and softer than mine;
Her curtains, to shut out the heat and light,
Were woven of blossoms pink and white;
And the dainty roof of her tiny home
Was a broad green leaf like an emerald dome.
'Tis the cosiest nook that you ever did see,
Mrs. Yellowbird's house in the apple tree.

—Youth's Companion.

A TELLTALE ROOM.

"I know who's been in this room," cried Aunt Sophy, looking around, as she stood in the doorway.

But she did not see Jimmie's hat, for it was on his head, and he was out on the pond skating. What she did see was a trail of disorder that he left behind him when he was hunting for hat and mittens and comforters and bag of skates—hunting in all the places where they shouldn't be, but where he usually left them. The table looked as if it had been in a hurricane. The sofa hadn't a pillow in place. The desk—well, nobody ever could write a letter there until it was straightened! And all because Jimmie had come in at one door and out at the other. A child is known by what he does. The very house you live in tells tales about you.—Christian Intelligencer.

COUSIN ESTELLE'S STORY.

When Mary Logan returned from school she laid her wraps on the table and hurried to get her new book. She curled up in the only easy chair in the room and was soon interested in the story. She didn't even look up when her grandmother came into the room, and she allowed her to take a straight-backed, hard chair.

"Mary," said her cousin, Estelle Rainer, who entered in time to see what took place, "I want to tell you about something I saw in China. When I went to China as a missionary, one of the first things that I especially noticed was the nice manners the children had. They were so polite and they had such a reverence and respect for old people. One day I was talking to a roomful of Chinese girls, and an old lady of eighty years entered. At once all of those children rose and stood until she had the best seat in the room. It was a beautiful sight, and I never forgot it. I saw the children in their homes do the same things many times. I think the American girls could copy after the Chinese girls in that, don't you?"

"I think we could," Mary replied in a low voice, and her face was red. Then she crossed over to her grandmother. "Grandmother, I want you to take my chair; it is easier than this one."

Mrs. Leonard's face beamed with pleasure. "Thank you, my dear, for being so thoughtful of me. That will be much easier for my aching back."

"I wouldn't have been so thoughtful if Cousin Estelle had not told me a story about the manners of Chinese children," Mary said, honestly. "I don't want the little Chinese girls to have better manners than I have."—Methodist Recorder.

A CHILD NURSE WHO BECAME FAMOUS.

Everybody who loves gentleness and noble deeds and a loving heart, loves the name and memory of Florence Nightingale. Probably you know that it was this English woman who first thought of the need of trained nurses to care for soldiers, sick or wounded, on the battlefields, and that it is because of her that we have trained army nurses now.

Perhaps you have heard how, when the story reached England of the sufferings of the troops in the Crimean war, she sailed from England and joined the soldiers. For she had taken a thorough course of training and was fully prepared as a nurse. She gave heroic service in her profession on the field and in the tents. So beloved was this gentlewoman, it is said that the sick and dying used to kiss her shadow as she passed their cots. They called her "Angel of Mercy," and "Lady with the Lamp," because of her nightly visits to the wards.

All this you may have heard, but do you know how Florence Nightingale came, in the first place, to be interested in the sick? No? Then you will like to know now, because the same interest might come, and in just the same way, to you.

Her first experiences as a nurse were with her dolls, whose broken limbs and bruised heads she bandaged and cared for with all the tenderness and gentleness of her nature.

As she grew older she became interested in caring for wounded or sick pets and other animals. Her first patient was a dog named Cap. The dog belonged to one of her father's shepherds, and one day she learned that Cap had been injured by some boys and that the shepherd was preparing to kill his beloved dog in order to save him from his suffering. In spite of the fact that she was still a little girl and very timid, she at once drove to the shepherd's home, and, with the aid of the clergyman of the parish, she nursed the injured animal, and soon he was well again.

Her love for pets and her skill in curing them soon became well known, and in a short time she had become the nurse of all the wounded animals in the neighborhood.—Apples of Gold.

BEING A COG.

"It's just the same, day after day," said Dorothy; "housework, and mending, and shopping, and marketing to make the money go as far as it can, and the reading club and church, and then all over again. I'm getting to feel just like one cog in a great big wheel. I don't count. What difference does it make what I do, or whether I do anything at all? Any one else could make father and the boys just about as comfortable as I do, for I haven't learned to be very much of a housekeeper yet."

Jane took up a pair of scissors and snipped out a clipping from the morning paper. "Here, catch!" she said, and tossed it over.

Dorothy caught it as it fluttered down. "Read it aloud," said Jane. She had just come to live next door, and Dorothy had taken a great fancy to her laughing, clever face.

"'Pride in Humility,'" read Dorothy. "Oh, it's one of those 'line-o'-cheer' things:

"'I'm but a cog in life's vast wheel
That daily makes the same old trip.
Yet what a joy it is to feel
That but for me the wheel might slip!
'Tis something, after all, to jog
Along and be a first-class cog!'"

"Just so," said Jane. "There's your answer in the daily paper for to-day. I noticed it, because I often feel the same way that you describe. I suppose every one does. Probably kings do."

Dorothy pondered. "I think I'll learn that by heart," she said; and she did.—Forward.

SHE DID.

Admiral Capps, in an address to a temperance society, told how drink had once caused the downfall of a brave soldier. In the course of the sad story he said:

"Sometimes, after a debauch, the man would be repentant, humble. He would promise his wife to do better. But, alas! the years taught her the barrenness of all such promises.

"One night, when he was getting to be an old man—a prematurely old man, thin-limbed, stoop-shouldered, with red-rimmed eyes—he said to his wife sadly:

"'You're a clever woman, Jenny; a courageous, active, good woman. You should have married a better man than I am, dear.'

"She looked at him and, thinking of what he had been, she answered in a quiet voice:

"'I did, James.'"—The Presbyterian.

WESLEY BIBLE CLASSES AT LAKE JUNALUSKA.

Eight study periods of forty-five minutes each will be given to conferences on Bible class organization and work during the Sunday School Conference at Lake Junaluska, N. C., July 29 to August 6. The following subjects will be considered: "The Present Status of the Bible Class Movement," "Advantages of Organization," "Advantages of Enrollment," "Advantages of Federation," "The Bible Class and the Local Church," "Bible Class Activities," "What Can an Adult Class Do for Boys and Girls?," "The Bible Class Outlook."

The several periods will be conducted by Rev. Emmett Hightower, Mr. J. M. Way, Mr. Arthur L. Dietrich, Miss Elizabeth Kilpatrick, and the Superintendent of the Wesley Bible Class Department.

It is expected that a large number of men and women will attend these meetings for fellowship and the interchange of views concerning Bible class work. Members of all Bible classes are urged to attend. Programs will be furnished upon application.

CHAS. D. BULLA.

810 Broadway, Nashville, Tenn.

—ARTIFICIAL LIMBS, ORTHOPEDIC—
APPARATUS, ELASTIC HOSIERY,
TRUSSES, CRUTCHES, ETC.
(Catalogues mailed on request)

The McDermott Surgical Instrument Company, Limited.

734-738 POYDRAS STREET
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic
Accidents Will Happen
You cannot prevent that—they "come when least expected."
A bottle of
Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic
kept near at hand is your best safeguard—the cheapest "Accident Insurance" in the world!
It affords immediate and permanent relief from Cuts, Bruises, Burns or Sprains.
Keep a bottle in the house—always.
All Druggists 25 and 50 cents.
ASK ANY ONE WHO HAS EVER USED IT!

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: No. 512 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor.

CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Entered at the Postoffice at New Orleans as Second-class Mail Matter.

TERMS:
One Copy, one year, $1.50; eight months, $1.00. To preachers of all denominations, $1.00

PUBLISHING COMMITTEE:
Louisiana Conference—Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., Rev. W. W. Drake, Rev. C. B. Carter.
Mississippi Conference—Rev. I. W. Cooper, D.D., Rev. C. W. Crisler, Rev. T. W. Adams.
North Mississippi Conference—Rev. W. W. Woollard, Rev. H. S. Spragins, Mr. J. D. Barbee.

Editorial

NOW IS THE TIME.

We are now sending out bills to all our subscribers who are in arrears; and we earnestly hope that they will at once remit the amounts due on their subscriptions. This is a matter of great importance; $1 or $1.50, when taken alone, is a small sum, but when there are thousands who owe a like amount the figures quickly mount up into hundreds and thousands of dollars. Every dollar paid to the Advocate in this time of great financial stringency helps appreciably. So, dear friend, if you are behind with your subscription, please forward a remittance to cover the amount due without further delay.

We desire also to call special attention to the offer of our Publisher to take "six months' trial subscriptions" for 50 cents from now until the 10th of next November—see what he has to say on another page. This gives our friends a fine chance to extend the circulation of the Advocate in their communities, and we trust that they will at once endeavor to do this. When the paper can be had upon such terms, every church in our patronizing territory ought to give us a good club of trial subscribers. Will you not take the matter up in your charge at once, brother pastor, and let us hear from you at an early date? The door of opportunity is now wide open to you to render a good service both to your flock and to your Conference organ.

ATLANTA WINS.

The following dispatch was sent out from Atlanta, Ga., on July 26: "The next General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will be held in Atlanta in May, 1918. This announcement was made here to-day as a result of canvassing a mail vote of the General Committee in whose hands this matter was placed by the General Conference at Oklahoma City last year."

We congratulate the "New Hub of Methodism" upon having secured the next meeting of our great law-making body. It does not need to be said that Atlanta will leave nothing undone to make our next General Conference a success, so far as providing every possible facility for doing its work is concerned.

ANOTHER INDICATION OF THEIR WORTH.

The Northwestern Christian Advocate says: "It is reported that of all the ministers of the Church of Scotland grown to military age, ninety per cent have already voluntarily enlisted in the war in Europe. Here is an indication of the sort of boys that are growing up in parsonage homes."

So it is. Every test that is made bears witness to the worth of the children of Christian ministers. The world owes them a mighty debt. The lesson taught by their success and achievements is that a truly religious home is an agency that may be depended upon to furnish men and women of the best and most useful type. The multiplication of such homes is the greatest need of society to-day. Nothing else can take their place.

POPULAR SONG BY MRS. G. E. CAMERON.

The Shreveport Times has the following complimentary notice of a song by Mrs. G. E. Cameron of Alexandria:

"'Dear Woodrow Wilson wants his men
To live and not to die;
He does not want them wounded, on
The battlefield to lie;
He says if war could triumph, or
Could prove a nation's gain,
It would not compensate at all
For death and grief and pain.'

"The above verse is from a charming little song, the words and music both being the work of Mrs. G. E. Cameron, who made so many friends during her residence in Shreveport when Dr. Cameron was pastor of the First Methodist Church here. The song, 'Play Soldier Man With Me,' has a fine sentiment and the musical accompaniment has a wonderfully attractive little lilt.

"This timely peace-song was suggested through the intense devotion of a little German-American lad to his fond father whom he heard discuss the war so much that the little fellow feared he might lose that parent. Consequently, he pleaded with his father not to leave home, but that if he wanted to fight at all, just 'Play Soldier Man' with his little son.

"The cover is the design of Miss Mary Belle McKellar, who has cleverly caught the spirit and beautifully worked out the idea. The cover is the flag of America, with a picture of President Wilson, beneath which is the dedication, 'To Our Peace-Loving President.' At the upper and lower edges of the page are a company of 'little tin soldiers,' and miniature connons, and in the field among the stars is a beautiful full length picture of Master G. E. Cameron, Jr., in soldier dress, 'the little bugler.' The artistic, splendid work of Miss McKellar places her high in the rank as an illustrator."

MAKING AN UGLY RECORD.

It is stated that during the first six months of the current year there have been in the United States thirty-four lynchings, thirteen more than took place during the same period last year. Of this number ten were white, nine more than were lynched during the first half of the year 1914.

This backward tendency in the matter of lawlessless is much to be deplored. And it is humiliating to know that the people of the Southern States are the greatest offenders in this respect. All good citizens should use the full measure of their influence to prevent the taking of human life without the proper legal process. Mobs are a reproach to any people—an impeachment of the character of their civilization. A way should be found to accomplish whatever is necessary to protect society without a resort to unauthorized and unreasoning violence, and that this can be done by any moral and intelligent popuiation there is not the slightest doubt.

AN EXACTING WORK.

A correspondent wrote the Editor a few days since suggesting a good place for him to spend his vacation. That is a thing that the Editor has known very little about within recent years. It seems difficult for people to realize that the work of making a paper is a grind that has to go continuously on, and that one cannot lay it down unless there is another to step into his place and keep it going. Everything has to be done with regularity and on time. When workmen are engaged to work at certain periods the materials must be ready for them. This makes newspaper work, unless one has assistants to whom he can shift his labors, exceedinly exacting in its demands. If one gets out one issue of a paper and wishes to be gone for as much as three or four days, he must leave a file of arranged copy for the next number, and matter that ought not to be delayed in its publication is perhaps coming in every day and requires to be gone over and passed upon. If those who think an editor of one of our Conference organs, with an inadequate office force, has an easy time could don the harness for a few days, they would be speedily disillusioned. But, anyhow, we had rather be an editor than a politician. In our opinion, politicians work harder and get less for their labor than any class of men that we know of.

PERSONAL AND OTHER NOTES.

Rev. F. B. Ormond, pastor of the South McComb M. E. Church, South, is conducting a meeting at Muddy Springs this week, in which he is being assisted by Rev. G. H. Galloway, of McComb, Miss.

Mrs. J. T. Abney, of Bay Springs, Miss., writes: "Mr. Abney is helping Brother J. W. Ramsey in a meeting this week. He has just closed a series of revival services at Louin, Miss., with good results."

Rev. T. B. Clifford, of Patterson, La., and Rev. C. C. Wier, of Morgan City, La., exchanged pulpits last Sunday. Brother Clifford served the Morgan City charge a number of years ago with great acceptability.

Rev. S. L. Pope, our capable pastor at New Albany, Miss., is this week assisting Rev. W. V. Shearer in a protracted meeting at Calhoun City, Miss. May the labors of these brethren be crowned with a large measure of success!

Mr. Frank Wier, of Starkville, Miss., is spending some days with his brother-in-law, Mr. J. W. Fox, at Scott, Miss. Brother Wier, who is an official and active worker in our Church, is a son of Rev. T. C. Wier, of the North Mississippi Conference.

Rev. W. H. Saunders, of Fernwood, Miss., has sent us a report of some good meetings lately held in his charge, which will be printed next week. Brother Saunders is serving a choice flock and the Lord is blessing his labors in his present delightful parish.

In a business note to our office, dated July 19 and bringing us two subscriptions to the Advocate, Rev. T. J. McCoy, of Jennings, La., says: "I have just returned from helping Rev. J. H. Hoffpauir in a revival at Hebron. There were 10 accessions to the Church."

Rev. W. D. Wendel, of Como, Miss., will spend his vacation in Tullahoma and Monteagle, Tenn. The former place, if we mistake not, is the girlhood home of Sister Wendel. We trust that these friends will find their season of rest pleasant and profitable in every respect.

Rev. W. S. Selman, of Mount Pleasant, Miss., says: "Our work is progressing nicely, and the prospects are quite encouraging for full collections this fall." We are grateful to this industrious pastor for looking faithfully after the interests of the Advocate in his field.

Writing under date of July 22, Rev. R. H. B. Gladney, of Sardis, Miss., Sunday School Field Secretary of the North Mississippi Conference, says: "To-morrow I leave for Lake Junaluska, where I go to study the Sunday school work under our leaders. I will be back in the field by August 8."

Rev. W. F. Quillian, formerly President of the Methodist Training School at Nashville, Tenn., which was discontinued at the close of the session of 1914-15, has been elected to the Presidency of Paine College, our school for Negroes at Augusta, Ga., in place of Dr. J. D. Hammond, who resigned.

A general primary election for the nomination of all the State officers will be held in Mississippi on August 3. We will offer no suggestion to our readers as to how they should vote, except to say that a Christian man ought to exercise the right of suffrage in a manner that is in harmony with his prayers.

Hon. J. Morgan Stevens, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Mississippi, in renewing his subscription to the Advocate, says: "You have my interest and good wishes at all times, and I congratulate you upon getting out a good church paper—one that is an improvement upon that given us in former years."

Mr. Ernest Lagrone, a son of Rev. W. S. Lagrone of the North Mississippi Conference, will represent Humphreys & Company, a firm of large cotton buyers at Greenwood, Miss., in New Orleans during the coming cotton season. Mr. Lagrone was in the Crescent City last week to get located and paid the Advocate office an appreciated call.

Rev. R. H. Harper, pastor of the Parker Memorial Church of New Orleans, is assisting his father, Rev. J. D. Harper, in a revival meeting at Zachary, La. In Brother Harper's absence, his pulpit was filled last Sunday at 11 a.m. by the Editor of the Advocate, and at the evening hour by Rev. H. H. Ahrens, Religious Editor of the New Orleans Times-Picayune.

The Wesleyan Christian Advocate of July 23 (Atlanta, Ga.) says: "Dr. W. H. LaPrade, our pastor at Hazlehurst, Miss., called to see us last week while in the city on a visit to his son, Rev. W. H. LaPrade, Jr., pastor of our Inman Park Church of this city. Dr. LaPrade was on his way to Junaluska, to attend the Missionary Conference to be held there."

The work of constructing the Fitzgerald Church on the St. Tammany (La.) charge is progressing favorably, and it is expected that it will be finished (including the painting and furnishing) and ready for dedication within the next sixty days. The pastor of this congregation is Rev. J. S. Rutledge, who is never so happy as when he is spending his strength to promote the Master's cause.

A card from Chaplain J. A. Randolph, of the United States Army, instructs us to change the address of his Advocate from the Presidio, at San Francisco, to El Paso, Texas, care of the Sixth Infantry. From this we infer that Brother Randolph expects to be at the latter place for some time. As most of our readers perhaps know, he is an honored member of the North Mississippi Conference.

Pastor R. M. Brown being absent at the Seashore Camp Ground, Dr. J. T. Sawyer filled the pulpit of our Algiers Church last Sunday, both in the morning and at night. He reports large congregations at both services, and he greatly enjoyed ministering to them. The Doctor thinks that Brother Brown has a live church and that he is doing a splendid year's work for this over-the-river flock.

In the haste with which our paper was brought out last week, a number of errors were made. Among these were the wrong spelling of the name "Maud Muller" and the adding of the letter "e" to the word "apropos." How such mistakes are overlooked is one of the mysteries of a printing office. The Advocate is usually freer from such errors than most journals with an equally limited office force.

We are pleased to state that Mrs. Hill, the wife of Rev. F. R. Hill, Jr., pastor of the Rayne Memorial Church of this city, who was operated on for appendicitis at the Touro Infirmary some two weeks ago, was able to return to the parsonage of that church last Saturday. Her condition is said to be satisfactory in every respect, and all the indications are that she will have a speedy and complete recovery.

We are indebted to the following friends, to whom acknowledgment has not been made elsewhere, for two or more subscriptions sent in within the past few days: Rev. J. W. Price, Benton, Miss., 3; Rev. W. S. Lagrone, Clarksdale, Miss., 2; Brother James M. Miller, Minden, La., 7 (5 of them new); Rev. D. L. Griffin, Slidell, La., 2; Rev. W. N. Duncan, Holly Springs, Miss., 2; Rev. J. M. Brown, Haughton, La., 3.

Mrs. May, the wife of Mr. H. W. May, Jr., a son of Brother May, presiding elder of the Alexandria District, came to New Orleans for surgical treatment some ten days ago and underwent last week a serious operation at the Hotel Dieu. She stood the trying ordeal well and her condition at the time of this writing is thought to be satisfactory. Mrs. Hunter, of Tensas Parish, the mother of Mrs. May, came to New Orleans with her.

Rev. W. W. Holmes, presiding elder of the New Orleans District, requests us to state that during the month of August correspondents should address him at New Orleans, La., in care of the Y. M. C. A. Building, 815 St. Charles Street. Brother Holmes' family are at the Seashore Camp Ground, and he will spend most of August assisting pastors at interior points in his district, giving practically a week each to the Plaquemine, Donaldsonville, and St. Tammany charges.

Work has been begun on the parsonage of the Louisiana Avenue Church of this city, and it is expected that the structure will be completed and ready for occupancy before October 1. We are informed that when the donations of lumber and other like contributions are taken into consideration, it will be about a $3000 house. Pastor Gearheard and his worthy flock deserve to be heartily congratulated upon having projected and made certain this substantial and needed enterprise.

Rev. A. C. Searcy writes as follows from Ringgold, La.: "I am preaching in 'the hy-ways and hedges,' and I am in need of some revival song books. Is there not some pastor who can send me 3 or 4 dozen 'Revival Praises' that he has thrown aside? The people that I usually work among are not able to buy song books; neither am I. If I had the number mentioned to take with me, it would meet the emergency. I have just closed a good meeting. I am with Brother Vandenburg now."

Rev. W. T. Currie, of Loveland, Oklahoma, who is well known in Louisiana, writes as follows concerning the work of his charge: "Everything is getting along very well with us. We have received 22 into the Church and we are expecting others to join. I think that our collections will be in full. We have a fine presiding elder—one who loves his preachers and stands by them."

Major R. W. Millsaps, of Jackson, Miss., is resting and recuperating at Battle Creek, Michigan. It will be remembered that Major Millsaps had quite a severe attack of illness the latter part of last May, and that he has not been as strong as usual this summer, though he is wonderfully well preserved for one of his advanced years. We trust that his stay in the North will prove both pleasant and beneficial to him.

Rev. T. D. Lipscomb, of Donaldsonville, La., reports as follows concerning a meeting which he has recently held: "I have just closed a revival at Meadow's Chapel, an appointment on my charge, but which is supplied by Rev. P. S. Carpenter, a local preacher. Our efforts were attended with some success. There were some professions of faith in Christ, two infants were baptized, and one subscriber to the Advocate was secured."

In a business letter bringing us several subscriptions, Rev. M. L. Ward appends the following note: "The work on the Ripley (Miss.) Circuit is moving on nicely. Brother Gladney was with me at Falkner on last Sunday (June 18) at 11 a. m., and at Brownfield at the evening hour of the same day, conducting services that were very profitable. I feel that he is the right man in the right place. In my judgment, our pastors everywhere would do well to give him the right of way and their hearty co-operation."

Miss Elie Willingham, the accomplished District Secretary of the Woman's Missionary Society in the Durant District, writes: "Will you kindly state for the good of the cause that our pastor at Eupora, Miss., Rev. J. T. McCafferty, preached a sermon on the Woman's Work, in accordance with the request of our presiding elder, and that some of the visible results were the organization of a Young People's Missionary Society in the afternoon and 100 per cent increase in the attendance upon the Adult Auxiliary on the following day." Good for Eupora and Brother McCafferty!

Rev. B. O. Lowrey, of Bell City, La., is in the midst of a tent meeting which began last Sunday, and in which he has the assistance of Rev. Martin Hebert. He has written for some copies of the Advocate, and will endeavor to introduce the Conference organ into some of the homes on his charge, within the bounds of which, he states, scarcely any religious periodicals are taken. Brother Lowrey will also begin a meeting at Hayes on August 8, where he will have Rev. A. A. Bernard with him, and on August 22 he will begin a series of revival services at Westlake, with Rev. P. M. Brown to do the preaching.

Since the last issue of the Advocate we have received from two generous Holmes County (Miss.) readers, E. H. J. and L. M. J., both ladies, $5 each for the needy North Mississippi superannuated minister who is unable to work, and who, because of the nature of his illness, is forced to reside in another State. These liberal contributions are much appreciated. Including these donations, the total amount raised is something over $46, which has been forwarded to our stricken brother. If others wish to contribute, they yet may do so. The amount asked for was $60, which sum was needed to meet a very pressing debt.

Mrs. J. D. Barbee, of Greenville, Miss., will leave in a few days for the mountains of North Carolina, where she will spend several weeks. Mr. Edmund Taylor, of the same city, has rented a house on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, where he and his family will spend the remaining weeks of the hot season. Mr. Taylor is a son of the Rev. R. V. Taylor of the Memphis Conference, and is perhaps the largest business man in North Mississippi. His wife, Mrs. Taylor, and Mrs. Barbee are sisters, being daughters of the late Rev. W. C. Johnson, D.D., of Memphis, who as a minister and writer was widely known in Southern Methodism.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of Millsaps College, held in Jackson on July 22, Prof. D. M. Key, of the Southern University at Greensboro, Ala., was chosen Professor of Ancient Languages at Millsaps College, to succeed Prof. M. W. Swartz. Prof. Key is said to be an accomplished Greek and Latin scholar who has had considerable postgraduate training, and is stated to be highly commended in every respect. The members of the Executive Committee present at this meeting were Bishop W. B. Murrah, Dr. A. F. Watkins, Rev. W. W. Woollard, and Mr. J. B. Streater. Major Millsaps was absent.

From a personal note from Rev. J. A. Bowen, of Birmingham, Ala., written from Flint Hill, Va., on July 17, we extract the following: "I came directly here from a fine revival at Durant, Miss. Brother E. N. Broyles is doing a great work at that place and his good people are helping him. I am here assisting a Mississippi friend, Rev. A. P. Williams, in some good meetings in this fine Blue Ridge country. The old-time power is with us. I have assisted in successful meetings this year in Alabama, Mississippi, Florida, South Carolina, and Virginia, and more are to follow. I expect to return to Alabama and Mississippi early in August to assist in revivals." The brethren are wise to keep Brother Bowen busy. As an evangelist, he ranks with the best.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Privett and Mr. John B. Reynolds, of Booneville, Miss., which took place in the home of the bride's father, Mr. D. J. Privett, in the classic little city of Jacksonville, Ala., on July 27, with Rev. Sam P. West officiating, was an event of more than local interest. The bride was born and reared in Jacksonville and for several years taught mathematics in the State Normal College at that place. She is possessed of brilliant intellectual gifts and is widely known and loved for her good works and superior traits of character. Mr. Reynolds is a courteous, refined Christian gentleman, who is engaged in the lumber business, having interests in Louisiana, Texas, and St. Louis. After the ceremony the happy couple left for Colorado and California, where they will spend several weeks.

The meeting of the Board of Education of the North Mississippi Conference held at Greenwood, July 21-22, was well attended, the following members of the Board being present: L. M. Lipscomb, J. R. Countiss, J. C. Park, S. L. Pope, T. H. Lipscomb, E. N. Broyles, O. W. Bradley, H. S. Spragins, R. A. Meek, J. B. Streater, W. W. Magruder, J. D. Barbee, and E. V. Hughston. We noted the following other brethren, not members, in attendance: Rev. B. P. Jaco, Rev. J. W. Bell, Rev. E. S. Lewis, Rev. W. L. Duren, Rev. J. T. McCafferty, Rev. J. E. Thomas, Dr. J. W. Price, Rev. W. M. Campbell, Rev. J. H. Ingram, Rev. J. W. Raper, Rev. R. H. Ruff, Rev. J. E. Cunningham, Dr. A. F. Watkins, Prof J. M. Sullivan, Rev. J. H. Brooks, Rev A. J. Beasley, and Rev. D. M. Miller. Various phases of our educational work were discussed and matters of much importance were considered. The sessions at times were animated, but the outcome of the meeting seemed to leave a spirit of harmony and good-will prevalent. The sessions of the Board were chiefly executive, though all visitors from outside of the city of Greenwood were allowed to witness the proceedings.

FUNDS URGENTLY NEEDED.

To the Presiding Elders and Preachers of the Mississippi Conference.

Dear Brethren: We are well into the second quarter and we have not received sufficient funds to pay our superannuate preachers for the first quarter. Some of our strongest churches have not paid anything this year. Who is to blame for this? Brother, will you not call your congregation's attention to the need of these worthy claimants? If you will send in $1000 within the next ten days we can relieve these veterans. Don't wait until they are dead and then stand on the Conference floor and tell how we loved them. Let's help them now.

J. M. MORSE.
President Joint Board of Finance.

TO OUR PREACHERS.

The management of this Advocate has decided to let our preachers and agents offer six months trial subscriptions at 50 cents during August, September and October. This offer will be withdrawn on the 10th of November, 1914. Subscriptions must be sent in in clubs and money orders used in making remittances so as to save expense.

In soliciting new subscribers, please explain to them that the six months' subscriptions are taken with the understanding that, after their expiration, the regular rate of $1.50 will be charged for annual subscriptions unless they are ordered canceled.

We are making this offer for a three-fold purpose:

First—To build up our subscription list before the annual meeting of the Publishing Committee.

Second—To get funds to help tide us over the summer and fall months.

Third—To induce our Methodist people to take the Conference Organ and read it.

DR. H. B. BARTLETT
National Dental Parlors
Cor. Canal & Camp Sts.
ENTRANCE 108 CAMP
Phone Main 2193
NEW ORLEANS
Vitalized Air for Painless Extraction
Crown and Bridge Specialist
The Largest and Best Equipped Dental Parlors South.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE
DIRECT TRAINS TO
New York
Cincinnati
Birmingham
PULLMAN SLEEPERS, DINING CARS.
— The Scenic Route —
TICKET OFFICE:
211 ST. CHARLES STREET.
Depot, Terminal Station, Canal St.
Phone, Main 2939.

—THE—
Louisiana & Arkansas
RAILWAY
L&A RAILWAY
Announces the sale by its Ticket Agents at——
Alexandria, Shreveport, Winnfield, Minden, Sibley, Cotton Valley, Trout, Jena, and Jonesville, Louisiana,
——OF——
INTERCHANGEABLE THOUSAND MILE BOOKS
Good on All Roads in Louisiana.
Save Money by buying one of these Books.
B. S. ATKINSON,
General Passenger Agent.

MORPHINE, Whiskey and TOBACCO
HABITS Treated successfully without shock, without restraint and NO FEE UNLESS CURED. Home or Sanitarium Treatment. "Ask our patients."
CEDARCROFT SANITARIUM
DR. POWER GRIBBLE, Supt.,
Sta. 5, Box 110 Nashville, Tenn. Tel. Main 1226.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
A toilet preparation of merit. Helps to eradicate dandruff.
For Restoring Color and Beauty to Gray or Faded Hair.
50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.
HINDERCORNS Removes Corns, Callouses, etc., stops all pain, ensures comfort to the feet, makes walking easy. 15c. by mail or at Druggists. Hiscox Chemical Works, Patchogue, N. Y.

Pulpit Bibles Largest assortment, finest Bibles at lowest cost. Write to us for full description and prices.
PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO., Inc., LOUISVILLE, KY.

BOHNE & WILT, Booksellers and Stationers, 1328 Dryades St., New Orleans, La. Baseball Goods, Religious Articles, Fishing Tackle, Periodicals, School Books.

Obituaries.

Obituaries not over 200 words in length will be published free of charge. All over 200 words will be charged at the rate of 1 cent a word. Count the words and send the amount necessary with the obituary. That will save trouble all around. Otherwise the obituaries will be edited down to 200 words.

Mrs. JOSEPH E. LANE (nee Miss Virginia Patrick) was born in Raleigh, North Carolina, on Sept. 1, 1833; was married to Mr. Joseph E. Lane in 1852, and died on June 11, 1915. Sister Lane had been a member of the Church ever since her early girlhood days. She was a beautiful Christian character. She loved her Lord with all her mind, soul, and strength. She loved the Church and loved to attend its services. She always had a special room in her home, that she called the preacher's room, and her pastor was always welcome at her home at any time. She was very much missed in Pocahontas when she moved to Jackson, Miss., a year and a half previous to her death. Sister Lane leaves three daughters and two sons to mourn her departure, and a number of grandchildren. If they live as she lived, they will meet her "some happy day," where partings will be no more.

Her pastor, W. A. TERRY.

Brother J. W. TRAXLER was born in South Carolina, Aug. 2, 1832, and died at Magee, Miss., April 15, 1915. When about twenty-five years old he married, immediately joined the M. E. Church, South, and set up a family altar. The habit of prayer was strong with him to the last. He loved for the preacher to come to see him, and if he came every day he wanted him to pray. He loved to attend church and did not excuse himself on account of age, feebleness, or poor eye-sight. The way from his home to the church was rather rough, but he attended church services, and frequently at night. In his last illness he suffered intensely and was frequently unconscious, but in a lucid moment before he became unconscious for the last time he gave his testimony, saying that he had tried to live right; that he was ready to die, and believed he was going to heaven. He leaves an aged wife and several children to mourn their loss.

His pastor, W. E. HARRISON.

On Friday, July 9, 1915, the soul of Mr. P. C. SMITH, took leave of its earthly tenement and went to claim a Christian man's reward. Brother Smith was born in Mississippi 58 years ago, and moved with his parents to Tensas Parish, Louisiana, when a boy. In his early manhood he united with the Methodist Church at Wesley's Chapel on the Waterproof (La.) charge and remained true to the vows then taken to the end of his life. For many years he had been a faithful steward in the Church. His was an exemplary life, honorable in all his relations with men, himself maintaining a strict probity, but charitable to the faults of others, attributing such faults to weakness rather than to wickedness. To him home was the dearest spot on earth, and his family the most desirable associates, and if there was a fault in his family life it was one of over-indulgence towards those he loved, and the example of his life inspired the members of his household to respect the right and to love and honor the Church and things of God. His character may be summed up in this: he was a good husband and father, a good Christian, and a good neighbor. He leaves to mourn him, besides his good wife, three children, the youngest of which is nearly grown. They have reached manhood and womanhood under the influence of this good father, and it is needless to predict that that influence will be manifested in their lives. Besides his family, the Church and community will miss him, but the loss is but for a while, for He that was dead and is alive hath promised, "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life," and he will surely keep his promise.

GEO. FOX.

"AUNT" POLLY HOLYFIELD was born in Wayne County, Mississippi, in 1833, and moved to Jasper County with her parents in 1836. She was married to Mr. Alex Davis in May, 1848. This union lasted only 14 years. She was married to N. Holyfield in 1867; he died in 1892. On June 2, 1915, Aunt Polly's soul took its flight to the beyond. Aunt Polly joined the M. E. Church, South, at about 8 years of age and was a consistent member until death. Oh, how we miss her! She wanted to be at work for God all the time. Even in her old age, when she was not able to go to Church, she worked and collected enough money to buy us a very nice individual communion service for the church at Rose Hill. A faithful and courageous worker she was. To know Aunt Polly was to love her, and to call to see her was to make her rejoice, for she loved company. She dreaded death awhile after she was taken sick; she wanted to stay here—not that she was afraid to die, but she loved her people so much and loved life so well that she could hardly give her consent to die. Her life was a pleasure to her because she seemed to love everybody. She loved to talk of Jesus and his love. She kept a hotel, and I have heard of many a traveling man going from her home under the power of conviction, with tears trickling down their cheeks. All traveling men loved her and she was known by them all as "Aunt Polly." Many preachers of the Conference will remember her, for when a pastor came to Rose Hill the first thing she did was to pay her quarterage for the whole ensuing year. Our loss is great, but it is heaven's gain. The funeral service was conducted by the writer in the Church at Rose Hill, after which her body was conveyed to Hickory Grove Cemetery and laid to rest in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives.

H. R. McKEE, P. C.

A WORD CONCERNING FANNY CROSBY.

Mr. Editor: While reading some copies of your paper that a friend gave me, I see that so much has been written about Miss Fanny Crosby that I feel it is almost useless for me to write even a few words about her, but I just can't help but write something. I never saw Miss Crosby, but I corresponded with her for a short while a few years ago and her kind words will ever be a green spot in my memory, and her sweet songs have cheered many lonely hours for me, for I am just another one of the world's many invalids, having never walked in my life. But I try to make the best of life, for I will never pass this way but once and no affliction so stirs my sympathy as to see any one that is blind. Never to see the light or the beauties of earth seems of all things the hardest to bear; however, we think of Miss Crosby as no longer blind, but as now beholding the King in this beauty, and as one of the great company of the redeemed that stand before the great white throne, and sing praises unto our God forever and ever.

MARY ADAIR.

McNair, Miss.

FOR JESUS' SAKE.

A missionary returned to his home city, where, as elsewhere also, he announced a collection for foreign missions. A good friend said to him: "Very well, Andrew, seeing it's you, I'll give 100 marks."

"No," said the missionary, "I cannot take the money since you give it seeing me." The man saw the point and said: "You are right, Andrew. Here are 200 marks, seeing it's for the Lord Jesus."—Presbyterian of the South.

The Memphis Conference Female Institute and College has introduced as a feature of each session educational trips. For next session these trips will be taken to the cities of Memphis and St. Louis.

The school is located in the residence section of the beautiful little city of Jackson, Tenn., with 20,000 population—very convenient to Street Cars, Depots, fine Churches, Government Building, Carnegie Library, etc. The drinking water is considered among the purest of specimens in the world, and there is a wonderful Chalybeate Well within ten minutes walk. Special attention given to health and morals; a safe home boarding school with literary, music and other advantages. Address H. G. Hawkins, Pres., Jackson, Tenn.

Bethel College
FOR WOMEN
Chartered 1855.

OFFERS to a limited number of girls splendid advantages at a very moderate cost. Delightfully situated. Seven acres of wooded campus. Distinctly Christian and homelike in atmosphere. Opportunity to hear notable musical attractions. Autumn trip to Mammoth Cave. Easily accessible. Seventy miles north of Nashville. Preparatory and College work, leading to B. S. and A. B. degrees with Junior College Arts Diploma. Music, Art, Expression and Domestic Science. All kinds of Athletics.

For full information, catalogue, and beautiful view book, address

President W. S. Peterson,
Box E, Hopkinsville, Ky.

WHEN WRITING OUR ADVERTISERS PLEASE MENTION THIS PUBLICATION

From the Field.

Waynesboro, Miss.

Dear Dr. Meek: Will you allow me space to express my opinion in regard to the church work in Wayne County? Although I am a member of the Baptist denomination, I feel a great interest in the Methodist Church and its work, for I love the cause of God; and I love the Methodist Church, for I graduated in Millsaps College and have many Methodist friends throughout Mississippi. Most all of the churches in Wayne County are in a healthy condition. I have observed very carefully the work of Brothers J. Lloyd Deceil and Hilary Westbrook in Waynesboro and the surrounding communities. These young preachers have a great future before them. Brother J. L. Deceil's people are rallying to him, and his work is a sweeping success. Brother Hilary Westbrook has put his soul into his work, and he has stormed the citadel of sin and forced the devil to retreat. This young man is an honor to his Church and his people. He has been on Waynesboro Circuit for four years and the people are grieved to give him up, but they are anxious to see him rise in the church work.—G. C. Clark, Principal Waynesboro School.

Acadia Circuit, Louisiana Conf.

Acadia circuit is still on the map and the work is progressing nicely. The circuit is composed of three churches this year, Branch, Maxie, and Prudhomme, the Church Point church having been placed with Opelousas. Maxie, a little church with 75 members, is receiving half time and meeting her obligations quarterly. This is one of the most wide-awake little appointments in the Louisiana Conference. Our revival meeting will begin there August 1, and we are expecting to have a glorious meeting. Brother C. E. Fike, of Rayne, La., will assist the pastor, and the meeting will be held at the Ellis tabernacle, near by. The revival meeting at Branch has just been brought to a close. It was a great meeting in many respects, and the spiritual condition of the church is better to-day than it has been in years. Indifferent church members have been awakened to their responsibilities, and thirteen new members have united with the church, two by certificate and eleven by vows, with two others to follow at an early date. Brother Louis Hoffpauir, of the Evangeline Mission, did the preaching, and proved himself to be a very energetic and forcible speaker. The crowds continually increased and great interest was shown throughout the meeting. Brother Fike and wife were with us on the third night of the meeting, and all enjoyed his scholarly sermon on "Awake, Thou that Sleepeth." Brother Martin Hebert, of the French Mission, will hold the Prudhomme meeting later. Brother Hebert is a general favorite in this section and the people of Prudhomme are looking forward to his visit with pleasure. The financial condition is far better than at this time last year, and the prospects are that we will have a "paid-in-full" report to carry to Mansfield. I still contend that I am serving the best work that I have ever served. Pray for us brethren, that we may have a great spiritual awekening all over the work.—T. L. Bryson, P. C.

REVIVAL AT CARPENTER, MISS.

We began our meeting at Carpenter on Sunday, July 11, with Rev. J. M. Smith, a local preacher in the employ of the Port Gibson Female College, to do the preaching. The weather was ideal, except that it was very warm, and conditions generally were favorable. The meeting continued six days, and the interest increased every day. The congregations were large, especially the night congregations. The tangible results were: twenty-four conversions and reclamations, six accessions to the Church, and a spiritual uplift of the Church. Brother Smith is very efficient help. He is a thoughtful, earnest, enthusiastic preacher, and has a passion for souls. He does not use any clap-trap methods, but just preaches the plain, simple gospel, with the power and demonstration of the Holy Spirit. His interpretation of the Scriptures is in perfect accord with Methodist doctrine. His presentation of the Word is convincing, and his personal appeals are almost irresistible. His condemnation of sin is merciless. His arguments for righteousness are unanswerable. The people at Carpenter pronounce the meeting one of the best they have ever had. I can unhesitatingly say, it is one of the best I have ever been in. I cheerfully recommend Brother Smith to any pastor in need of an earnest, orthodox preacher. C. H. STRAIT, P. C.

PERNICIOUS TEACHING.

Dear Dr. Meek: There lies before me a booklet claiming to have been written by a Christian minister—"Religion and Drink." In this booklet the writer says that drink is in accord with the Old Testament teachings—the teachings and examples of Christ and the Apostles and the Church up to 1800 A. D. He says that "John Wesley never condemned the use of wine or beer."

I understand this statement to misrepresent Mr. Wesley, as our Church "Rules" forbid the use of such except in case of necessity. He says, "the first act of Christ's public ministry was the making of alcoholic wine, and that his last act on the cross was the drinking of alcoholic wine." He uses Mark 15:36: "Gave him to drink"—and declares this was wine instead of vinegar—and that Jesus drank it. Luke says, they offered him vinegar (Chap. 23:36); and Mathew says, he refused to drink (Chap. 27:34).

We sit in judgment on no man, but would like to say that the devil himself could not put up a better "spiel" for the liquor traffic. To represent Jesus Christ going into Paradise intoxicated is the height of blasphemy. Such teaching is a snare of Satan, and attempts to tear down the Bible for the sake of satisfying the beastly appetites.

The writer objects to prohibition—because he says it does not prohibit. Shall we repeal the law forbidding murder because it is broken? Shall we repeal the law forbidding polygamy because it is not kept? This is the ground taken by "Religion and Drink," namely to repeal the liquor laws and let the demon of strong drink go unrestrained. May God save us from such teaching.

Yours for service,
J. H. MOORE.

"You can't take your money to heaven with you, but you can send it on ahead of you."

The Fitzgerald and Clarke School.
TALLAHOMA, TENN.
Graduates enter every University in the United States (except five) without examination. The School is located on the edge of the Cumberland Mountains, 1070 feet above sea level. Excellent Dormitory, Gymnasium, and Library. All that we ask is that you write for our catalog. Address Box 343

L&N Louisville & Nashville R. R.
THE DIRECT LINE NORTH AND EAST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED STEEL SLEEPERS
DINING CARS, OBSERVATION CARS, CHAIR CARS
Phone M. 4093. TICKET OFFICE 201 ST. CHARLES STREET

"EXPOSITION LINE"
SOUTHERN PACIFIC — SUNSET ROUTE
ONE FARE FOR THE ROUND TRIP
$57.50 TO
California AND THE Expositions
TICKETS ON SALE DAILY
Limited to return within 90 days. Stopover all points enroute. Shortest and quickest route. Two through Steel Trains daily. Oil burning Locomotives. Electric Block Signals. Observation Cars.
Best Dining Car in America
For full information and illustrated catalogue, ask any Southern Pacific Agent or write
W. H. STAKELUM, Div. Pass. Agent, Lake Charles, La.
J. H. R. PARSONS, Gen. Pass. Agent, New Orleans, La.

TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY
Make Your Vacation Count!
Two or Three Weeks at
MINERAL WELLS
would almost make a new man of you, and a jolly, pleasant three weeks they would be, too! Low Round Trip Rates Every Day.
CITY TICKET OFFICE, 207 St. Charles Street.

EDENBORN LINE
LOUISIANA RAILWAY & NAVIGATION CO.
THE SHORT LINE :: THE POPULAR ROUTE
BETWEEN
New Orleans :: Baton Rouge : Alexandria : Shreveport
TICKETS ON SALE TO ALL POINTS NORTHWEST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS
Secure Reservations at City Ticket Office
700 GRAVIER STREET, ST. CHARLES HOTEL

You Look Prematurely Old
Because of those ugly, grizzly gray hairs. Use "LA CREOLE" HAIR DRESSING. Price $1.00, retail.

Learn Shorthand

By Mail in 30 Days at my Expense

Send no money. Get my free lessons. I do not claim to fit you for a position in thirty days. Nobody can do that. But with my system, you can learn to write in Shorthand with very little effort. That first instruction is absolutely free. Then, if you wish to take further instruction, I will give you a positive guarantee to refund your money at the end of a specified time if you are not entirely satisfied. Could anything be fairer?

I have taught shorthand for many years. I have taught a dozen different systems. These include nearly all the new and so-called "simple" systems. But I went back to the original Pitman System—and improved on it. I now teach the Pratt-Pitmanic System, and I want to prove to you, at my expense, that it is the best. My great success is due to a new and original method of instruction by mail.

Positions at Good Salaries

Shorthand is a great advantage to everybody. For a young man or woman there is nothing equal to it. It will give you a start in life and an opportunity for rapid advancement. Many of my students have secured splendid positions. The demand for stenographers is increasing. You are practically certain to get a satisfactory salary if you take my course in shorthand. Become a court stenographer or fit yourself for other high class positions.

Free Typewriter Instruction

Every one of my students can have a course in typewriting absolutely free. If you do not own a typewriter, I will rent you one for six months for $10; or for $30 I will sell you a rebuilt visible machine that I cannot tell from a new $100 machine.

If you are ambitious and in earnest and really want to learn shorthand, send at once for FREE Lessons. A postal card will do. Simply say: "Send free lessons."

E. D. PRATT 1008 Pratt Bldg. CHICAGO

Drink

Coca-Cola

and as you lift the glass to your lips reflect that three million or more glasses of this wonderful beverage are consumed each day —making it indeed the great National drink.

Delicious and Refreshing

Demand the genuine by full name —all the wise do likewise.

THE COCA-COLA CO.
ATLANTA, GA.

Whenever you see an Arrow, think of Coca-Cola

B-2

WHEN WRITING OUR ADVERTISERS PLEASE MENTION THIS PUBLICATION

ECHOES FROM THE SEASHORE DIVINITY SCHOOL.

When the seventh session of the Seashore Divinity School closed on July 1 it was with regret that those remaining heard no more the Camp Ground bell ring out the hours for service. The later-date campers are told that it is the same bell that has pealed forth since the pioneer days of camp meetings on this historic Seashore Camp Ground. Forty years ago the bell tower stood just beyond the old thatched-roofed tabernacle, which was open on all sides to all the winds that blew. Now on the same spot stands an up-to-date tabernacle, beautiful in structure, which seats a thousand people. When the doors are thrown open, as the worshipers listen to the sermon, the gleaming water and the fragrance of the woods seem to breathe the essence of the Holy Spirit. After service is often heard the old-time phrase: "God's blessing rests on the Camp Ground."

Though the days have gone by that enfolded the Divinity School, still there lingers with us the remark made by Rev. Robert Selby, President of the Divinity School: "This is the most spiritual session held by the Divinity School since its beginning." The lecturers, the faculty, and the students seemed to have been imbued with joy, and the beauty of Christian companionship was constantly evident.

Too much praise cannot be given the President, Rev. Robert Selby, for the pleasure of hearing some of the most noted lecturers of the day, whose standing and honors are set forth in the Year Book.

On June 22, at 8 p. m., the opening service was held by Rev. Geo. L. Robinson, D.D., who took for his subject "The Companionship of the Risen Lord." By Scripture quotations and by word of mouth it was plainly shown that this companionship might be attained.

In all of Dr. Robinson's lectures—"The Epistles to the Hebrews," "The Book of Isaiah," "The Book of Jonah," "The Psalms," "Palestine," and "The War"—his familiarity with every portion of the Holy Land enabled him to place vividly before his hearers the ground trodden by Christ while on this earth. As Dr. Robinson had lectured to the Divinity School in 1912, he was cordially welcomed, and on the eve of his departure expressed his appreciation of the courtesies shown him and the pleasure derived from his sojourn on the Camp Ground, and his regret that his family could not come with him, as the health of Mrs. Robinson would not admit of her traveling.

Rev. W. J. Young, D.D., professor of Homiletics and Pastoral Theology in Emory University, held forth at 11 a. m. The tone of Dr. Young's voice revealed the master educator, and his lectures, giving the result of his experience as a pastor of large churches, were most serviceable to young ministers.

At the conclusion of the last lecture, Rev. H. M. Ellis, who presided, thanked Dr. Young for his splendid lectures. The reply given by Dr. Young elicited a round of applause.

The lectures of Rev. Allan Hoben, Ph.D., the author of the volume, "The Minister and The Boy," dealt entirely with the problems of childhood. In his lectures—"The Boy's Religious Life," "The Moral Value of Play," and "Choosing a Vocation"—it was often revealed that the boy was not at fault, and only the stupidity of his elders was responsible for his errors in youth. All the lectures were delivered with esprit, in great good-fellowship with the "boy," and imparted to the elders in the most elevated manner the value of child life to the child.

The concluding lecture, "Training For Citizenship," in conjunction with the question, "Will Democracy Survive?" came in touch with every one present.

In response to Rev. C. W. Crisler's words of appreciation, Dr. Hoben gave high praise to the pleasant companionship extended to him during his stay on the Camp Ground. The applause given evinced the high esteem won by Dr. Hoben from all who had listened to his lectures from day to day.

On Thursday, at 8 a. m., Rev. H. H. McNeill, Dean of the Divinity School, delivered to the students the farewell address in the most impressive manner before giving out the diplomas and certificates.

(Miss) BELLE D. PENNINGTON.
Seashore Camp Ground, Biloxi, Miss.

FORTUNATE FOR THE SOUTH.

Skin diseases seem most prevalent in the warmer climates, which makes it fortunate for the South that it has such an exceptionally fine remedy in Tetterine for Eczema, Tetter, Itch, Acne, Salt Rheum, etc. Every skin trouble from a simple chafe or insect bite to the worst case of Tetter is quickly relieved by Tetterine. Applied externally, harmless and fragrant. 50c at druggist's or by mail from Shuptrine Co., Savannah, Ga.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIP FOR LOUISIANA.

Announcement of the Rhodes scholarship examination which is to be held in Louisiana this fall has been received by President Boyd of the Louisiana State University, Chairman of the State Committee of Selection of Appointees. The successful applicant will begin his term at Oxford in October, 1917.

The announcement follows:

"A scholarship of the value of nearly $1500 tenable at the University of Oxford, England, for a period of three years, beginning from October, 1917, will be open for competition in the State of Louisiana during the year 1916. Similar scholarships will be awarded for the years 1918 and 1921.

"Competitors must be citizens of the United States, between the ages of 19 and 25 years, and must before the date of entry on residence at Oxford have completed at least their second year at some regular degree-granting American university or college. Candidates having their domicil in the State and those who have received any large part of their education there are alike eligible.

"A qualifying examination will be held in October of each year; and an election to the scholarship at the close of each year preceding that for which the scholarship is assigned.

"Candidates for the 1917 scholarship may take the examination on Tuesday the 5th and Wednesday the 6th of October, 1915 or 1916.

"A State Committee of Selection chooses the scholar from among those who have passed this examination. Application for examination should be made to the Chairman of this Committee, President Thomas D. Boyd, Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge.

"A memorandum giving further particulars may be obtained from the Chairman of the Committee of Selection."

New Cure for Pellagra Found.

Effingham, S. C.—Robert G. Hicks of this place writes: "Before my wife started taking your medicine she was a skeleton and only weighed 85 pounds. She had almost completely lost her mind and could not eat anything or do anything. Now she can eat anything and can walk three miles. I believe she would have been dead had it not been for your medicine. You have my prayers and best wishes."

There is no longer any doubt that pellagra can be cured. Don't delay until it is too late. It is your duty to consult the resourceful Baughn.

The symptoms: Hands red like sunburn; skin peeling off; sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red, with much mucous and choking, indigestion and nausea, either diarrhoea or constipation.

There is hope; get Baughn's big Free Book on Pellagra, and learn about the remedy for Pellagra that has at last been found. Address American Compounding Co., Box 557-X, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.

Note: In case you have any doubt as to the merit of this treatment you are at liberty to write to the Advertising Manager of this paper who did not accept this advertisement until an investigation was made that satisfied him that we had cured hundreds of cases of pellagra.—Advertisement.

EAT HARRIS' JERSEY ICE CREAM

The CREAM OF QUALITY. Quick Auto Delivery

1300, 1302 DRYADES ST.

Phones Jackson 1080, 1081

HOOPING-COUGH OR CROUP

The Celebrated Effectual Remedy
Without Internal Medicine.

Roche's Herbal Embrocation

will also be found very efficacious in cases of

BRONCHITIS, LUMBAGO AND RHEUMATISM

W. Edwards & Son, London, England;
All Druggists, or E. Fougera & Co., Inc., 90 Beekman Street, N. Y.

THE GENUINE AND IMPORTED

DR BLAUD'S IRON PILLS

For General Debility, Anemia, Chlorosis, and in the Convalescent Period. Genuine has "Blaud" stamped on each Pill. All Druggists.
E. FOUGERA & CO., Inc., 90 Beekman St., New York.
No increase in Price.

No. 666

This is a prescription prepared especially for MALARIA or CHILLS & FEVER. Five or six doses will break any case, and if taken then as a tonic the Fever will not return. It acts on the liver better than Calomel and does not gripe or sicken. 25c

Woman Finally Recovers From Nervous Breakdown

Impoverished nerves destroy many people before their time. Often before a sufferer realizes what the trouble is, he is on the verge of a complete nervous breakdown. It is of the utmost importance to keep your nervous system in good condition, as the nerves are the source of all bodily power. Mrs. Rosa Bonner, 825 N. 18th St., Birmingham, Ala., says:

"I have been suffering with nervous prostration for nine or ten years. Have tried many of the best doctors in Birmingham, but they all failed to reach my case. I would feel as if I was smothering; finally I went into convulsions. My little girl saw advertised in the papers and I at once began to take it. I continued to take it for some time and now I am well."

Dr. Miles' Nervine

If you are troubled with loss of appetite, poor digestion, weakness, inability to sleep; if you are in a general run down condition and unable to bear your part of the daily grind of life, you need something to strengthen your nerves. You may not realize what is the matter with you, but that is no reason why you should delay treatment.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

has proven its value in nervous disorders for thirty years, and merits a trial, no matter how many other remedies have failed to help you.

Sold by all druggists. If first bottle fails to benefit your money is returned.

MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

YOUR BOY'S ASSOCIATES.

Who are your boy's associates? From whom does he get his ideas of life, his views of the man's estate, his knowledge of the many things which he does not learn at home? The character of a boy's associates is a most powerful factor for good or evil in the shaping of his life. Robert K. Morgan, of Fayetteville, Tennessee, has given this question profound study during the 25 years in which he has built up the Morgan School, a training school for boys, of which he is principal. Mr. Morgan has devoted a long career to the training of boys. He knows boy nature. The close personal associations which he has fostered between his boy students and himself and his carefully chosen faculty, his careful attention to the boy's work, his thoughts, his talents, and his special needs are some of the features which have given his school its high standing.

Mr. Morgan is a man of inspiring, wholesome personality and deep Christian character. He has built his school to give the boy thorough mental, physical and spiritual preparation for an honorable, manly life. He is the proper man to train your boy.

A request to Mr. L. I. Mills, Secretary Morgan School, Fayetteville, Tenn., will bring a catalogue and full information of this school.—Adv.

MARRIED.

On June 16, 1915, at 8 p. m., at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Dear, Mr. R. E. CORE and Miss ANNA BELL DEAR, Rev. J. B. Fulton, of Baker, La., officiating.

At the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Wm. Hausey, in Baton Rouge, La., on June 20, 1915, at 2:30 p. m., Mr. W. F. STARNES and Miss EMMA HAUSEY, Rev. J. B. Fulton, of Baker, La., officiating.

For Weakness and Loss of Appetite

The Old Standard general strengthening tonic, GROVE'S TASTELESS chill TONIC, drives out Malaria and builds up the system. A true tonic and sure Appetizer. For adults and children. 50c.

AN IDEAL HOME SCHOOL FOR YOUR DAUGHTER.

Parents seeking the best of moral and social surroundings and influences in a boarding school for their daughters should by all means be familiar with Martin College, Pulaski, Tenn.

For forty-four years Martin College has been located in one of the most cultured, morally wholesome towns in the State of Tennessee, and, throughout these years its aim has constantly been to surround the girl with the best Christian Home life—most refined and cultural influences — and every opportunity for true advancement in every line.

Martin College, while large enough to make the highest grade of work possible, is small enough to insure that important personal help and attention usually found lacking in the largest institutions. Full particulars of this time-honored and improved college can be had on application. Sign and mail the note below.

Martin College, W. T. Wynn, Pres.,
Box J, Pulaski, Tenn.

Dear Sir: In the interest of my daughter, please send me full information about the following courses: (underscore those desired) Piano, Art, Expression, Voice Cultivation, Domestic Science, Literary Work. Send catalog and full details as to rates.

Name .....
Town
and State .....

MONROE DISTRICT CONFERENCE

By Rev. A. Inman Townsley, Sect'y.

A fine District Conference! But you could expect it with that big-hearted William Schuhle in the chair, and when the Conference was entertained by the good people of West Monroe, with Rev. H. W. Ledbetter as host, assisted by Rev. C. C. Miller, of First Church. In the reports from pastors there were few complaints of "hard times," "the European war," or of the "boll weevil," but everyone seemed to be "working at his job" and earnestly praying for victory. While there were no special demonstrations, yet there was a deep undercurrent of profound spirituality from the beginning to the end of the Conference. Moreover, the comradeship of the brethren and sisters was not the least of the benedictions enjoyed—old-fashioned Methodist fellowship is not often seen now-a-days.

Rev. B. H. Andrews was received ns a local preacher from the Methodist Episcopal Church. Brother Andrews recently graduated at Centenary College at Shreveport, and is a young man of ability and promise. Rev. E. N. Evans was recommended for re-admission into the Annual Conference. Mr. R. O. Randle, C. M. Noble, W. M. Hunt, and W. L. Calhoun were chosen as lay delegates to the Annual Conference, with C. W. Scates and R. W. Germany as alternates.

The report on the Monroe District parsonage as submitted by the treasurer, R. O. Randle, showed a $2100 debt, and the rich laymen and poor preachers raised in good subscriptions $430 of this amount. This doesn't look much like hard times, does it? The New Orleans Christian Advocate and the Missionary Voice were represented by the writer. We regretted that the Editor, Dr. Meek, was not there to speak for himself. The preaching was done by Rev. J. W. Lee, Rev. G. D. Purcell, Rev. George Fox, Dr. Thos. H. Morris of Mansfield, and by the writer.

The Conference will hold its 1916 session in Rayville. Among the visitors were Rev. B. H. Sheppard, Dr. R. H. Wynn, Rev. R. W. Vaughan, and Dr. Thos. H. Morris. The Ruston Methodist Orphanage was ably represented by the Superintendent, Rev. R. W. Vaughan. The interests of Mansfield College were put before us in a strong address by Dr. Thos. H. Morris.

Dr. R. H. Wynn, the gifted president of Centenary College, showed the fine work being done at that institution and the pressing need at this time. The Conference fixed $1200 as the share of the Monroe District of the $12,500 to be raised to meet the offer of Mr. C. W. Blair of $2500, and the presiding elder was asked to appoint a layman to co-operate with the Commissioner of Education in raising it.

The report on Sunday schools showed that they are well organized and growing in efficiency. The report on missions showed that the district is well occupied by the various pastors, and urged every pastor to pay in full the assessment this year.

A departure from the old order was the able and instructive papers and addresses by the good women on the work done by the Woman's Missionary Society. The relative value of Literature, Christian Education, and of the Missionary as an Evangelist, was represented by Miss May Faulk, Mrs. R. P. Benson, Jr., and Mrs. C. C. Miller, respectively. The fervent messages brought to the Conference by this trio of good women was a benediction to all. The cause of Church Extension was brought before us in an inspiring address by Mr. R. O. Randle, a member of the General Board of Church Extension. The Laymen's Movement was ably represented by Mr. Karl McHenry and by Dr. T. H. Morris.

Resolutions commending the administration of Rev. Wm. Schuhle, the presiding elder, were unanimously adopted. He is rounding out a most successful quadrennium and must obey the law of the Church and be sent to another appointment next year. He easily ranks with the greatest scholars in the Louisiana Conference, and is much beloved by the laymen and pastors of the district for his uniform courtesy, his high character, and his devotion to duty.

I had forgotten to tell you of the delightful reception tendered the Conference by Brother and Sister Schuhle at the district parsonage. It was a feast of luscious fruits, delicious viands and goodfellowship.

Our "JITNEY" Offer---This and 5 CENTS

DON'T MISS THIS. Cut out this slip enclose with 5c to Foley and Co., 2843 Sheffield Ave., Dept. B, Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for coughs, colds and croup; Foley Kidney Pills, for pain in sides and back, rheumatism, backache, kidney and bladder ailments; and Foley Cathartic Tablets; a wholesome and thoroughly cleansing cathartic; especially comforting to stout people.

"The dynamic that is to save the world is a heart motor."

"Unless Jesus Christ is Lord of all, he is not Lord at all."

"What I spent, I had; what I kept, I lost; what I gave, I have."

The School of Theology of The Southern Methodist University Opens September 22, 1915.

ANNOUNCEMENT BULLETIN READY.

For further information address Frank Seay, Secretary of Theological Faculty, Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas.

DEAF CHILDREN

Under our instruction, learn to speak and understand the oral word. Give us the care early of the little deaf children and speech and understanding shall be theirs; even the appearance of deficiency will not develop. Instruction is individual in the strictest sense. Every student masters lip-reading and speech; the use of signs is discouraged. Large commodious building with fine lawn. The atmosphere of the orderly Christian home pervades the school. Best results secured when parents place children with us as early in life as possible.

Write For Our Booklet

MISS ARBAUGH'S PRIVATE SCHOOL, - MACON, GEORGIA.

HOWARD COLLEGE

IN BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA

THE Alabama Baptist college for men. Located among foothills of beautiful suburb, on two electric lines. Beautiful grounds and modern buildings and equipment. Faculty of twenty-seven teachers. Fourteen units required for admission. Sixty hours work required for graduation.

THE CLASSICS: Seventeen departments are maintained, in which one hundred and twenty-eight courses are offered. Twenty-three points required. Thirty-seven points elective.

MUSIC: Howard College is the only primarily male college in the South with a standard School of Music. Faculty of five teachers, offering voice, piano, string and wind instruments and theory. Courses count toward college degree.

JOURNALISM: Howard College is the only institution in the South Atlantic States offering courses in Journalism. Theoretrical and practical work offered under successful newspaper man.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION: Howard College is the only institution in the Birmingham district with an approved Department of Education. Graduates may procure first grade certificate to teach in State.

ATHLETICS: College authorities encourage inter-class and inter-collegiate athletics. Institution is a member of the Southern Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association. Two coaches employed.

Seventy-fourth annual session begins September 8, 1915.

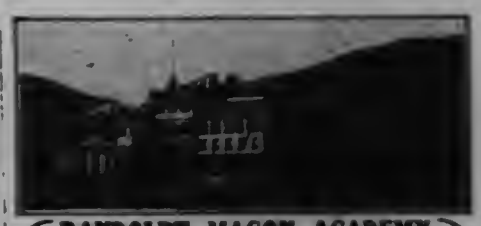
JAMES L. SHELBURNE, President.

Chronic Diseases Cured Without Drugs

If you are afflicted with Paralysis, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Nervous Debility, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, or other diseases that medicine has failed to cure, write for our Free book which tells all about a new and better way.

Our natural methods and sanitarium appliances will restore your health. Liberal guarantee of satisfaction. Low charges. Write at once for names of physicians, ministers, lawyers, merchants, bankers, farmers, teachers, former patients, and others who endorse our treatment.

THE BIGGS SANITARIUM, - Asheville, N. C.



RANDOLPH-MACON ACADEMY

For Boys Bedford City, Va.

Offers prompt and thorough preparation for college, scientific school or business life. The liberal endowment of the Randolph-Macon System, of which this school is a branch, permits of unusually low terms. $256 covers all charges for the school year. No extras. Randolph-Macon boys succeed—426 graduates of this school have received full college degrees or entered professions in the past 15 years. For catalogue and further information, address

E. SUMTER SMITH, Principal

RUB-MY-TISM

Will cure your Rheumatism Neuralgia, Headaches, Cramps, Colic, Sprains, Bruises, Cuts and Burns, Old Sores, Stings of Insects Etc. Antiseptic Anodyne, used internally and externally. Price 25c.

TRY THE OLD RELIABLE

WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC

For MALARIA CHILLS & FEVER

A FINE GENERAL STRENGTHENING TONIC

Woman's Missionary Work

Edited by .....Mrs. R. F. Harrell, Centerville, Miss.

Conference Publicity Superintendents:

Louisiana.....Mrs. A. C. McKinney, Ruston, La.
Mississippi .....Mrs. J. L. Neill, Laurel, Miss.
North Mississippi.....Mrs. Walter Campbell, Winona, Miss.

All communications for this department should be sent to the Editor at the address given above.

MISS OLIVE LIPSCOMB VISITS NATCHEZ.

On Sunday, July 4, our morning service was conducted by Rev. A. F. Watkins, D.D., of Jackson, Miss., whose masterly sermon was so characteristic of this good man one could not fail to exclaim, "It is good to be here!" Miss Lipscomb was also present at this service and gave a solo. At the evening service Rev. H. B. Watkins, our pastor, gave a short talk by way of introduction, which was followed by a short address by Rev. A. F. Watkins. After this came Miss Lipscomb, telling of her call from childhood to the foreign field. As she stood there with beaming countenance she seemed eagerly looking forward into the near future when she should "go tell the gospel to the heathen." Mrs. R. Lee Wood rendered most beautifully "Nobody Told Me of Jesus;" and Miss Lipscomb's clear, sweet, consecrated voice rang out in response, "Oh, Jesus, I Have Promised."

On Monday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. R. E. Bost, a reception was tendered Miss Lipscomb by the Woman's Missionary Society. After pleasant greetings, Miss Mabel Porter, in her own characteristic style, introduced Miss Lipscomb. Miss Porter's remarks were gracious, witty and touching. (She had been a former schoolmate of the honoree at Whitworth College). Miss Lipscomb responded as she only can, winning our hearts more fully than ever before. An original poem, "Sweet Olive," was rendered by Mrs. A. E. Wyatt. Then entered the parlor little Miss Martha Watkins and Roberta Bost, bearing a basket heavily laden with gifts for Miss Lipscomb. The capacity of the basket was not sufficient to carry all the tokens of love, so two young girls, Georgie Watkins and Annie Louise Bost, followed with their arms full of remembrances. Miss Lipscomb was showered in reality, and her real appreciation of these fifty or more gifts fully compensated us for the little we had done for her.

Wednesday afternoon Miss Lipscomb led the regular prayer meeting and Thursday morning left for her home in Nashville, Tenn. She was the guest while here of her uncles, Rev. H. B. and Dr. McDonald Watkins, her mother's brothers.

Miss Lipscomb's visit was indeed a benediction to all she met, and our love and prayers will follow her.—Mrs. A. E. Wyatt, Supt. of Publicity.

OUTGOING MISSIONARIES.

On July 31 the first of the new missionaries will sail for the Orient—Miss Kate Hackney of Asheville, N. C. Quite a party will go out on the Mongolia, sailing from San Francisco August 25: Miss Lelia J. Tuttle, China; Miss Hallie Buie and Miss Laura Edwards, Korea, who have been on furlough; Miss Olive Lipscomb and Miss Ruth Brittain, who are just going out to China; Miss Ellie Gray, to Korea; Misses Annette Gist and Charley Holland, to Japan. Miss Rebecca Toland, who has spent the greater part of the year in the Kennedy School of Missions at Hartford, returns to Matanzas in August. In July, in company with Bishop Mouzon and his daughter, four workers went to Brazil: Misses Trulie Richmond, Ethel Brown, Kate Coltrane, and Marjorie Alexander. The two last-named are missionary-teachers. On August 2 another party will sail for Brazil on the steamship Vaulan: Miss Helen Johnston, Miss Maud Mathis, and Miss Mary Sue Brown. Let us pray regularly for these young women.

THE YOUNG CHRISTIAN WORKER.

In September the Young Christian Worker will come out in an attractive new dress. Of course, all the children want to see it. Do not forget that during September, October, and November there is to be a campaign for new subscribers. The goal of this campaign is the Young Christian Worker in every Methodist home where there are children and young people.

VIRGINIA JOHNSON HOME AND SCHOOL.

The Virginia Johnson Home and School at Dalias, Texas, is having a change of administration. Mrs. O. M. Abbott, who has for four years so ably directed the work of this institution, has been forced to retire from the work on account of ill health. Mrs. Abbott will have a year's rest before entering upon any work. The Council has secured the services of Mrs. M. L. Stone, of Arkansas, as Principal of the school. Mrs. Stone served this institution most acceptably five years prior to Mrs. Abbott's administration. She brings a knowledge of conditions, experience in meeting the same, and an abiding love for the work. Miss Lulu Marsh has been appointed nurse for the institution, and other changes will be made in the faculty.

DR. CARRIE WEAVER SMITH RESIGNS.

Dr. Carrie Weaver Smith, medical adviser for the Virginia Johnson Home, has been called by the State of Texas to the principalship of a large home for delinquent girls to be established in Greenville, Texas. Dr. Smith has dedicated her life to the service of dependent and delinquent girls, and as head resident of this new institution she will have an opportunity to try out many theories concerning the reclamation and enlargement of the lives of these unfortunates. The Council regrets to lose Dr. Smith, but the larger opportunity warrants the change.

MISS BONNELL.

Miss Maud Bonnell has recently undergone a serious operation in Japan. Let us pray earnestly that this valuable woman may be restored to her work.

WHAT THE STATION PLAN IS DOING.

One of the districts in the Texas Conference last year gave on pledge $261.91. They decided recently to undertake the support of one of the missionaries who goes out from that Conference this year. When it was brought before the auxiliary they very soon pledged $750 for her salary.

TETTERINE WHEN OTHERS FAIL

That's the great thing about Tetterine skin remedy. It does insist upon relieving the severest cases of Tetter, Ringworm, Eczema, Itch, Acne, Pimples, etc., when others fall down. Mrs. S. E. Hart, Cross Trails, Ala., says: "I used Tetterine for tetter which has been running for 5 years. Nothing gave relief until I used your remedy and one box made a final cure." 50c at druggist's or by mail from Shuptrine Co., Savannah, Ga.

Wesleyan College

Macon, Georgia

Founded in 1836. Graduated its First Class in 1840. Seventy-nine Years of Eminent Success. Ranks Easily With the Best Colleges in the Country.

THE WESLEYAN, an "A" grade college in the truest sense, offers courses in the languages, literature, mathematics, the sciences, philosophy, education, history and economics, household arts and sciences, the Bible and religious education. The full four years of college work are credited by the best universities. Excellent equipment and a large faculty afford ample opportunity for election of preferred branches of study.

While supreme emphasis is laid upon the courses leading to the Bachelor's degree, the strongest possible departments of music, art and expression are maintained.

Fourteen eminent American artists and teachers are employed in the Conservatory of Music. The three men at the head of the departments of piano, voice and pipe organ, respectively, are unsurpassed on the continent, while the violin teacher is easily the South's greatest.

The departments of expression, painting and drawing and china painting are in charge of several teachers of rare qualifications.

The situation of Wesleyan is ideal, its health record practically perfect, its social and moral atmosphere delightful.

The Wesleyan diploma is the highest academic honor. The thousands of alumnae are leaders everywhere and in every realm of woman's influence.

Write

C. R. JENKINS, D. D., President.

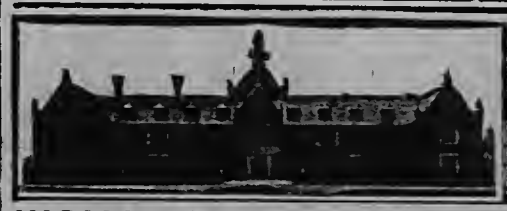
PRICE-WEBB SCHOOL

LEWISBURG, TENN.

A Boy's Preparatory School located in one of the most healthful sections of Middle Tennessee. Stresses thoroughness in training. Possesses an excellent library and encourages pupils to use it freely. Non-denominational, but stands for the highest ideals of Christian character.

Fall term begins September 2.
Tuition $75.00. Board at reasonable rates.

For full information address
E. T. PRICE, Principal,
W. R. WEBB, Advisory Principal.



WOMAN'S COLLEGE OF ALABAMA

An A-Grade College offering the special advantage of a beautiful suburban location in Montgomery—a city of rare health, culture and beauty. The health and freedom of the country combine the inspirational and educational incentives of a model city.

57 acres of beautiful campus. Recreation and out-door exercises in Golf, Tennis, Basket Ball, Swimming Pool. Splendid college buildings and equipment. Standard courses, A. B. degree. Home Economics a feature. Strong Conservatory of Music.

One girl from each high school in Ala. given scholarship, reducing cost of tuition. 10 Scholarships for honor graduates in adjoining states.

For Catalogue and View Book, write

M. W. SWARTZ, President, - - - MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Methodist Benevolent Association

A Mutual Benefit Brotherhood for Southern Methodists. Issues Whole Life, 20-Premium Life, Term to 60, and Disability Certificates. Benefits payable at death, old age, or disability. Over $152,000.00 paid to widows, orphans, and disabled. Over $40,000.00 reserve fund. Write for rates, blanks, etc. J. H. Shumaker, Secretary, 810 Broadway, Nashville, Tenn.

Sunday School

HOW TO HOLD BOYS AND GIRLS OVER THIRTEEN.

Rev. B. F. Lewis.

III.

A third thing needful to hold our boys and girls in the Sunday school is the Adapted Teacher.

Every one is not adapted to this work, even though he may be devout, nor even though he may be willing to do the work. We need

(1) Men for boys, and women for girls. The exceptions to this rule are rare. The reasons for it are great. Our youth are just finding themselves. Problems of a social, physical, and spiritual nature are daily arising. The boys will not, for they cannot, discuss these problems with a woman, nor can the girls discuss their problems with a man. Further, no woman, not even a mother, can understand the problems of a boy at this period, nor can the most devoted and observant father understand the problems of the girl. They must be helped by those who do understand. No place outside the home and no person other than the parent afford such an opportunity for helpfulness as the Sunday school and the Sunday school teacher. It will be recalled that the largest number of conversions in human life occur during this period, and since the introduction of the New Graded Lessons—the adapted lesson—the number of conversions from the Sunday school has increased about four hundred per cent.

(2) As teachers, men and women should be chosen who have good judgment. Everything wrong that a boy or girl does at this transitional period, is not necessarily vicious. It most generally results from a superabundance of vitality, or from that other element, timidity. Sometimes it comes from an ill-considered effort to do something to help. This should not be suppressed, but controlled. It will call for tact, and patience, and time.

Some one will ask here, "Where will such teachers be found?" I answer, as I did several months ago when discussing the Graded Sunday School, "The Church is full of them, and they are only waiting to be found." All the Sunday school superintendent has to do is to look for them.

(3) Again, the teacher should be as near as possible only a grown-up boy or grown-up girl. Sympathy is a good word to express the teacher's attitude toward the scholar. Boys love sports; why not let them have all the legitimate fun they want? Why not let them organize a baseball team. Why not go on a camp? If God gave to the boy this passion, can there be any possible harm in gratifying it?

A few years ago a class of thirteen and fourteen-year-old boys was in charge of a lady teacher. She saw that while the boys were respectful and seemed to love her, she was not doing for them what seemed needful, so she gave the class up. A young business man was then given the class.

Approaching his pastor, he asked: "What advice can you give me which will help me hold those boys?" The pastor answered, "Be a boy with them."

A few weeks later this young teacher again approached the pastor and asked, "Do you see any harm in me taking my boys on a possum hunt?"

"Why, no," said the pastor. "I will go with you."

"You?" asked the teacher.

"Why not?" replied the pastor.

So the possum hunt was planned. At the appointed time all the class met at the church, each boy with a loaf of bread and a few slices of uncooked bacon and some pickles. Going about two miles into the woods, they stopped by a beautiful stream and the boys were told to build fires and cook supper. The pastor and teacher went among the little bands, showed the boys how to make campfires and toast meat on a stick. When supper was ended, an immense fire was built, the boys were told to have a good time, and about ten o'clock the hunt began. It lasted till after midnight. They caught one possum. But that class more than doubled in membership and attendance in a few weeks.

Most of those boys are to-day in college, or are ready to go, and nearly every one of them is of sterling worth.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI NOTES.

By Rev. R. H. B. Gladney, Sardis, Miss.

Our people at Vardaman are at work on their Sunday school problems and they have good helpers in their preacher and his wife.

The little band of noble women at Derma are standing by their superintendent and they are determined to occupy higher ground in their Sunday school work.

Rev. W. V. Shearer is making a brave fight at Calhoun City and in the country round about his headquarters. He is sowing the seed of the Word wherever he goes.

The people of Amory think their preacher is one of the best as a leader, as a builder, and as an all-round wise man. Brother Young is not only a builder of churches, but he is a builder of character. Amory Methodists mean to have their Sunday school and all their Church work correspond to their splendid new church edifice. Great is Amory.

While in Ripley it was my privilege to attend the funeral of Dr. J. Y. Murry, long connected with the Sunday school work of the North Mississippi Conference in his county and home town, Ripley. His faith in God and his service for humanity will bear fruit for years to come. He was wise in training leaders to fill the place death compelled him to vacate.

One of the most remarkable meetings held this year was at Ellzey, on the afternoon of July 4. At the close of the conference there were 25 conversions and 18 of this number gave their names to Brother Rook for church membership. Back of this hour's work was a live prayer meeting. The lack of prayer delays the coming of the Kingdom of God.

Brother Burns carried the Field Secretary over the hills of a portion of Monroe, Lee, and Itawamba Counties to Carolina, Evergreen, and Shiloh churches, a distance of forty miles, when we returned to the railroad. The people in all these churches are eager to learn of better methods and to render more efficient service. Prof. Norbin Sumner has done excellent work in all the churches of this circuit.

Conferences were held at Blue Mountain, Palmer's schoolhouse, Dumas, Camp Ground, Chalybeate, Payne's Chapel, Falkner, and Brownsfield. Rev. R. P. Neblett rendered valuable service in making dates and assisting the programs at these different points. I am also indebted to Rev. C. G. Smith, Mr. T. E. Peagram, and Mr. Frank Smith for the part they took in the work of the week. Good was accomplished at each of these places.

VISITING THE SICK.

Pastor Clark once met a member of his church whom he had not seen for some time. His pleasant greeting was answered icily. He asked the cause. She replied: "I was ill three weeks and you did not visit me once." "Indeed," said he, "I am sorry you were ill. Did you have a physician?" "Of course, he came daily!" "But how did he know you were ill?" "Why, I sent for him." "Indeed," said the pastor, "and if you had sent for me, I assure you that I would have come, too." Any minister would!—Presbyterian of the South.

MILLSAPS COLLEGE, Jackson, Miss.

A. F. WATKINS, President.

A HIGH GRADE COLLEGE

Situated at the Capital of the State. Located high, dry and healthful. Entrance Requirements and Curriculum same as in other leading Colleges and Universities, North and South. The very finest Moral and Religious influences. Courses leading to A.B., B.S., A.M., M.S. and LL.B. Degrees

MILLSAPS PREPARATORY SCHOOL

Under separate Faculty and Dormitory Management. Unsurpassed Training for College.

MILLSAPS LAW SCHOOL

Offering extraordinary advantages. Superior Faculty; Law Libraries; Accessible to all Courts.

TWENTY-FOURTH SESSION BEGINS SEPTEMBER 15, 1915.

For Catalogue and other information address

J. REESE LIN, Secretary. Jackson, Miss.

GRENADA COLLEGE

A Christian School for Girls and Young Women.
Stands for Character, Health, Culture, Comfort.

Strong Faculty with University and Foreign Training. Buildings: Brick, Steam-heated throughout. Grounds: Ample and Beautiful.

Offers a Four-year PREPARATORY COURSE; College Course of Four Years Leads to A. B. Degree. Diplomas in PIANO, VOICE, ART, EXPRESSION, and DOMESTIC SCIENCE. Total expense for Literary Course, $210 per session of Nine Months.

Grenada, Miss., Box C. J. R. COUNTISS, President.

EMORY UNIVERSITY

An Institution Founded, Owned and Controlled by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

The University offers at present courses leading to degrees in the following departments:

1.—The School of Liberal Arts—Emory College—offers courses in English, Spanish, French, German, Greek, Latin, Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Biology, Mental and Moral Science, History, Political Economy and Biblical Literature, leading to the usual literary degrees. This department has a library of 40,000 bound volumes.

2.—The School of Theology—The Candler School of Theology—offers full and varied courses leading to the degree of B. D. This is a school of theology, as definite in its teaching as it is definite in its aim to serve the church to which it belongs. The library of the School of Theology is rich and grows richer daily. To it belongs the famous "Thursfield-Smith Collection of Wesleyana," which includes hundreds of the autograph letters of the Wesleys and other Methodist celebrities.

3.—The School of Medicine—The Atlanta Medical College—a medical school of first grade which offers courses in medicine and surgery covering four years, and leading to the degree of M. D. By arrangement with the Grady Hospital, the Municipal Hospital of Atlanta, and the Wesley Memorial Hospital, which is a part of the University system, the School of Medicine is able to offer clinical advantages of great value to students.

For bulletins, giving full information concerning the University, and its several departments, write to,

WALKER WHITE, Secretary-Bursar.

Emory University Atlanta, Georgia.

Established 1894

BLACKSTONE COLLEGE FOR GIRLS

JAMES CANNON, Jr., A.M., D.D., Pres.

Faculty of 33; 427 Students, from 20 States.
Accredited by Virginia State Board of Education. Hundreds of graduates now teaching.

$160 per year in Academic Dept.; $200 per year in College Dept.

The Leading Training School for Girls in Virginia

Where can parents find a College with as fine a record, with as experienced management, at such moderate cost? For catalogue address

S. P. ADAMS, Secretary, BLACKSTONE, VA.

HOW CAN WE EDUCATE THE MINISTRY OF THE SOUTHWEST?

The greatest problem before our Church is the education of her ministry, and for the first time perhaps in her history the Church is a unit in the belief that her ministry must he educated. The old idea that the way to learn to preach is to get a mustang, a pair of saddle-bags and a circuit, has become antiquated, not merely because of the coming of automobiles and good roads, but because of the increase of education among the people. One great good has come out of the Vanderbilt controversy—namely, that the whole Church has determined that both academic and theological preparation is necessary for her ministry. Our Bishops, presiding elders, preachers and people are agreed as never before on this point, and the Church has said through its highest legislative body, "All ministerial candidates are strongly urged before entering the traveling connection to secure, if possible, a thorough collegiate and theological training." (Discipline, paragraph 731.)

If we agreed that the ministry should be educated, the question arises, How can it be done? The answer is, Through the co-operation of the schools, presiding elders, wealthy laymen, stewards, congregations and prospective students, practically every young preacher can receive an education. If any of these parties fail, the work will be so far undone.

The ministerial student is usually poor. He was, is, and always will he poor. The poor boy looking to business or a profession can borrow with the hope of paying back at a comparatively early date; or at least can feel that the money invested in an education now will yield large financial returns later. He looks forward to a seven-passenger motor car and a brown stone front; the ministerial student cannot expect a salary materially beyond his annual expenses.

The upshot of the whole matter is that the student for the ministry must have financial aid or the means of working his way through school, or perhaps both.

There are four ways in which provisions can be made for enabling the ministerial student to work his way through school:

1. There are a number of charges in or near Dallas where a young preacher can live with his parishioners and can go daily to the University for his school work. He can usually so plan his work as to spend most of his time in his pastoral charge.

2. There are a number of charges in the districts near Dallas, too far for daily trips to the University, hut not too far for the preacher who lives near the University, to go out on Saturday afternoon for a Sunday service, returning to the University on Monday morning. Some visiting can be done at each week-end visit and for two weeks at Christmas and for three months during the summer the young preacher can live within the bounds of his charge.

The working of this scheme demands the co-operation of the stewards. In churches that call their pastors, the local church, after hearing the student-preacher's trial sermon, and after meeting and knowing him, often deliherately chooses him in preference to another man available for the same class of work who will live every day within the bounds of the charge; hut where the Bishop appoints a pastor, frequently objections are made. If our stewards will give the preacher-student a fair chance and banish our Methodist prejudice against him he will make good. The Baptists, Presbyterians and Congregationalists have worked this plan successfully; we Methodists can do it if we will. It is significant that the presiding elders near Dallas are taking up the matter with enthusiasm and are doing all in their power to help work the scheme. A charge one hundred and fifty miles from the city is not too far. With the liberal clergy rates given by the railroads of the Southwest, one can go 150 miles and hack for an outlay of $4.50; doing this for thirty-six weeks of the school year, one undergoes an outlay of $162. If the salary of the charge is $500 or $600, or more, the student has almost or quite enough left to support himself during the school year.

3. In the more distant districts and Conferences a relay system can he worked as follows: Two men can be appointed to the same appointment, one of them going to the charge and the other going to the University for the first six months. At the end of the six months they exchange places, the former going to the University and the latter to the charge for the remainder of the year—the two men dividing the salary equally. During the six months that the student is preaching in the charge, he can hy correspondence do ahout three months' work with the University, and in this way one can do a full session's work in the year and support himself hy preaching six months of the time. If the presiding elders of those more distant districts will throw themselves as heartily into this plan as those near the City of Dallas are doing into the other plans mentioned ahove, we shall be ahle to supply pastorates for most of our young preachers.

4. There will be a numher of opportunities in the city of Dallas for students to support themselves in part through some sort of secular work. We are planning to establish an employment bureau which will help students to find such work when they come to the University.

In addition to all these means of supporting oneself while in school, and for those who would rather devote their entire time to their studies, or who have families to support, or have had no previous experience in the pastorate, financial aid must be given; here we need the assistance of our wealthy laymen.

1. We have a small scholarship fund, in the awarding of which preference is given to A.B. graduates. This fund should be very largely increased.

2. We have a small loan fund from which we can help worthy students, preference being given those not serving a pastorate or receiving aid from a scholarship.

3. There are many young preachers who know personally laymen of wealth who do not care to give money outright to our loan fund, but who would gladly invest a few hundred dollars in a man whom they know and in whom they believe. By approaching such a man a ministerial student can secure at a small rate of interest money sufficient to put himself through school, and so leave our small loan fund free to help others less fortunate. All who can and who need a loan are urged to do this.

May we not expect that all parties mentioned above, the presiding elders, the wealthy laymen, the stewards and the congregations, and the prospective students shall co-operate with the School of Theology of Southern Methodist University in the great work of educating the ministry of the Southwest?

FRANK SEAY.
Southern Methodist University,
Dallas, Texas.

SOME RECOLLECTIONS OF MISSISSIPPI.

Dear Dr. Meek: I notice in the list of Quarterly Conferences that Brother J. W. Dorman is announced to hold a Conference at Independence, on the Cockrum Circuit, July 23, which causes my memory to run hack nearly forty-six years. I was licensed to preach at Ebenezer Church near Senatobia, and was recommended to the Annual Conference at the same time—Oct. 16, 1869; and on Tuesday following I went with Rev. R. A. Neblett to Independence, where Rev. T. W. Dye was the pastor. At the close of the service, Brother Brooks announced that Brother Miller would preach that night. Brother Neblett and I went to Sister Hawkins' for dinner. As we sat at the table, Sister Hawkins said, "Who is the Brother Miller who is to preach to-night?" And Brother Neblett said, "This is he." Sister Hawkins said, "Huh! I thought he was just a little hoy." This was a dagger driven deep. I went to the woods with my Bihle and buried myself in a canehrake till sundown. I went to Church and hegged Brother Neblett to preach, but to no avail. I took my text: "For the great day of his wrath is come, and who shall he able to stand?" But just in front of me were some skeptical Campbellite merchants whom I had heard mimic and ridicule young Methodist preachers often, and as I looked down at them sitting on the front seat, my confusion would become more confounded. Finally I shut my eyes and fired in.

I entered the Conference in November and was sent to Hickory Flat—a charge that embraced what is now New Albany, Myrtle, and Hickory Flat. Brother Dorman's father was my steward and either he or his hrother was converted and joined the Church under my ministry. At the close of the year, I thought I had made some improvement, so I sent an appointment to Independence. Brother Nehlett was now on that work. The day preceding was a delightful one, being spent in company with Brother H. C. Morehead, meeting friends and dining at Dr. Sandage's—then to Independence. Just about night I began to feel that my suhject was gone from me, and I pleaded with Morehead to preach, but he refused. So I announced my text: "The sacrifice of the Lord is a hroken spirit, a broken and contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise." Believe me, Doctor, right there I stuck. I floundered a few minutes and turned the service over to Brother Morehead who dismissed the congregation in short order. I have never been to Independence since except once after a runaway horse. That was the most humiliating failure I ever made in my long ministry.

While I am nearing the other shore, the memory of the past is sweet as well as sad. The fact is, the goodness of God which sweetens every bitter ill in this life to those who trust him often leads us through difficult paths and by our failures helps us to grow strong in the Lord.

Yours in Christ,
Frisco, Texas. S. W. MILLER.

WANTED, POSITION AS TEACHER OR GOVERNESS.

A Christian young lady, competent and with untiring energy, is anxious to secure a position as teacher or governess. She was educated at Port Gibson Female College. Has had two years' experience with first-grade teacher's license. She is ambitious and would give faithful service. Any one interested may write Rev. J. R. Jones, Meridian, Miss.

"It is the mission of the Church to give the whole gospel to the whole world."

A MANSFIELD FIRST CAMPAIGN.

For catalogue write MANSFIELD FIRST; for Music, investigate MANSFIELD FIRST; for Art, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Domestic Science, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Expression, MANSFIELD FIRST; for TEACHER-TRAINING, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Physical Development and Health, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Religious Teaching and Environment, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Home Life and not Dormitory, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Earnest Work, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Loyal Student Organizations, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Happy College Spirit, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Reasonable Expense, MANSFIELD FIRST;

In Thought put MANSFIELD FIRST; in Word, MANSFIELD FIRST; in Deed, MANSFIELD FIRST; in Thankfulness for a great past, MANSFIELD FIRST; in Thanksgiving for a greater present, MANSFIELD FIRST; in Hope for the greatest and best in the year to come, MANSFIELD FIRST.

When you have really and conscientiously made MANSFIELD FIRST, and you are not satisfied that MANSFIELD is FIRST, go or send elsewhere.

Yours for MANSFIELD FIRST,
R. E. BOBBITT, President,
Mansfield, La.

P. S.—Names are coming and we are sowing catalogues.

NEW ORLEANS
CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE

Vol. 62—No. 31. Official Organ of the Louisiana, Mississippi, and North Mississippi Conferences, Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Whole No. 3102.

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor. NEW ORLEANS, LA., THURSDAY, AUGUST 5, 1915. CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Editorial

He who with life makes sport
Can prosper never;
Who rules himself in naught,
Is a slave ever.

—Goethe.

* * *

Whatever tends to weaken a Christian's faith is hurtful to him. This is equally as true of the ministry as it is of the laity. A disciple of Jesus should beware of reading what does not deepen and strengthen his trust in the fundamental truths of Christianity. There is a vast amount of wisdom in that "General Rule" of our Church which warns against "the reading of those books which do not tend to the knowledge or love of God." The spiritual life needs all the nourishing that one can give it.

* * *

Col. Roosevelt has not by any means lost his power to say striking things. He is quoted as having made in a recent speech the following declaration: "Probably the worst feature of our national life is the habit of treating elocution as a substitute for action." This habit is not confined to those who figure in secular affairs; many church people are also addicted to the same practice. The great need of Christianity is more doing. Of conferences, speeches, and verbal resolutions, we have long had "a plenty and to spare."

* * *

The Commoner, Mr. Bryan's paper, says: "A professor has been dismissed from the Faculty of the University of Pennsylvania by the Board of Trustees because he assailed, in his lectures, faith in a high tariff. The professor may consider himself lucky. It was quite generally believed in the United States that a Pennsylvanian who did not believe in a high tariff was indictable for high treason." As a matter of fact, the much-boasted-of freedom of thought and inquiry in secular institutions of learning does not exist. On the contrary, those who create and maintain them are tolerant only within certain limits. Evidences of this are continually cropping out.

* * *

As we have more than once had occasion to say, it makes us a bit weary to see a Methodist in reporting a meeting stressing the point that the services were free from emotion and excitement. While the story of Pentecost remains in the Bible, there is no need for decrying exhibitions of feeling in a revival. When a soul passes from death into life it is not surprising that it should be deeply agitated. Nor is it strange that others should sometimes indulge in visible rejoicing over an event of such profound and far-reaching importance. Even Heaven is not calmly indifferent to such an occurrence; for the Master himself has told us that "there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth." We hope that the day will never come when the shouts of new converts, mingled with the praises of those who have led them to Jesus, will not be heard about the altars of Methodism.

A PATRIOTIC SERVICE.

The New York Tribune, one of the ablest of our American dailies, thinks that more people ought to go to Church and is devoting a quarter of a page every Saturday to trying to induce them to do so. This view of our distinguished contemporary is pre-eminently sound and the service which it is rendering in this respect is a highly patriotic one. The Church-going people of the Nation constitute its very bone and sinew; or, as President Wilson has expressed it, they are its "stabilizers." To enlarge the number of such citizens is to make life and property more secure and to add to the true strength and glory of the Republic. If the managers of our vast railroad systems, with their enormous property interests, were as far-sighted as they ought to be, they would be disposed to encourage the population of the country to become frequenters of its houses of worship on the holy Sabbath, instead of endeavoring to lure them away by much-advertised Sunday excursions. Everything really valuable in the civilization of a people is helped by an increase of religion; and, on the other hand, when religion declines everything of true worth in the social order is proportionately weakened. If the Christian Church fails, all else will go down with it. No truth is written more impressively than this upon the pages of the world's history.

ELIJAH'S IRONY.

Few scenes appeal more to the imagination than Elijah on Carmel's top. It is a scene of vivid and striking contrasts. On the one hand are the hundreds of priests of Baal and Ashtaroth, clad in their rich vestments of office, backed by the king and the silent, waiting thousands of Israel; over there, alone, unattended, except by his one faithful servant, the stern old Tishbite, with his wild, shaggy hair, his scanty garb, and sheepskin cloak: on the one hand, the loud cries and frenzied incantations of the priests, as they leaped upon the sacrifice, cutting their own flesh, to excite the pity and help of their god, and then the sullen fury of their disappointed hopes; on the other hand, the prophet, supremely confident of the outcome: on the one hand, the popular shrine of Baal; on the other, the broken, ruined altar of Jehovah, mute witness to the apostasy of the people, the decline of true religion, and the spiritual desolation of the land. But on one hand, a god of stone, which could neither hear, know, nor understand, and heavens as brass above; on the other, the only true and living God, and bending heavens, from which a speedy and decisive answer came.

Now it was in the course of the vain efforts of the priests of Baal and Ashtaroth that Elijah the Tishbite broke in upon their wild, frenzied cries, and their unavailing prayers with one of the finest examples of irony to be found in any language. Imagine the scene, if you can, when the strange man of the hills breaks his silence to mock the frenzied priests. For it came to pass at noon that Elijah said, "Cry aloud, for he is a god; either he is talking, or he is pursuing, or he is in a journey, or peradventure he sleepeth, and must be awaked." Thus did the fearless prophet mock the hosts of Baal, and taunt them with the futility of error, and the utter hopelessness of their cause.

Without dwelling further upon Elijah's irony, in its direct connection, let it call attention to the idea of God which many people apparently have during the summer months. Intelligent people would not seriously believe in a God, subject to limitations in the summer, or any other time of the year. But the logic of the inactivity of a great many members of the Church, during the summer, is that God is asleep, or gone on a journey. The inevitable conclusion, as drawn from appearances, is simply this: they do not feel their need of God in summer, or they believe God is subject to serious limitations in hot weather. For the reasons which are urged against attendance upon public worship in summer, and Christian activity, do not interfere with the business and the pleasure of church members.

But may not Elijah's words serve to warn us against discouragement in the face of summer apathy, or any other hard condition? In the time of discouragement, we may unconsciously measure God by our own limitations, we may unconsciously place upon him the same limitations which the Tishbite, in mockery, ascribed to the impotent image of Baal. Let us never forget that God is not such as we are. He transcends all the limitations of humanity, and of time and space. And if we hold such a belief, we should never lose heart.

R. H. H.

THE KIND NEEDED.

The kind of preaching that the world needs is not that with "the enticing words of men's wisdom," but that which is "in demonstration of the Spirit and of power." The latter alone can break the fetters of sin and give deliverance to the captives of Satan. Men through whom the might of God manifests itself to regenerate, save, and religiously uphuild the people are the type of men that we should have in our pulpits to-day, whether they come from college halls, or from communing with the Master in some obscure place apart. The essential thing is that they shall be Christ-made, and not man-made, ministers.

WAITING.

By Anna W. Allen.

How blessed it is to be old!
And to sit near the sunset gate
Ready to enter the portals,
But willing with patience to wait;
Knowing that safely garnered
Are all the sheaves of the years,
That ahead are the glad reunions,
And behind, all the struggles and tears.

"HE LIVES AND LOVES."

(Gal. 2:20.)

(A Committee of Alexandria (La.) Epworth Leaguers, through their visits to the parish jail, helped to lead to Christ a bright Catholic young man who still protests his innocence and grieves deeply over the fact that he must spend five years of his youth in the State prison. The Epworth League is in deep sympathy with him and presented him a Bible; hence the following comforting lines by Mrs. G. E. Cameron. An eminent composer has set the hymn to exquisite music and it has proven a great blessing to persons in prison.)

"I cannot feel that it is best
To walk this rugged way,
I cannot bear the thorns that tear
My bruised heart to-day,
I cannot feel that it is best
When grief and gloom I see;
But this I know He lives and loves,
And that's enough for me.

REFRAIN.

"He lives and loves....and that's enough for me!
He's near me when I'm tempted, and that's enough for me!
His hand beneath me....to hold me lest I fall,
I know that Jesus loves me, and that's the best of all!

"I cannot feel that it is best
Whene'er a human heart
Receives more wounds than seems its share
From sorrow's hurtful dart;
I cannot feel that it is best
When earth's sweet pleasures flee;
But this I know He lives and loves,
And that's enough for me.

"I cannot feel that it is best
When bitter dregs I drink,
When Innocence must wear the chains
And Justice does not think—
I cannot feel that it is right
When Guilt, instead, goes free;
But this I know He lives and loves,
And that's enough for me.

"I cannot think that it is best
When clouds the sun conceal,
And when in darkness I must grope
In vain His hand to feel—
I cannot think that it is right
When Mercy scorns my plea;
But this I know He lives and loves,
And that's enough for me.

"I need Thy love, dear Lord, when Faith
And Hope on wings have fled;
I need Thy love, dear Lord, when Joy
And Peace, to me, are dead;
I need Thy love when cold Deceit
With thorns doth pierce my brow—
I need Thy love, dear Lord, alway,
I need Thy love just now!"

HOW TO BUILD UP YOUR CHURCH.

Rev. W. Selner.

The Church, as a divine institution for the uplift and salvation of men, is ever near and dear to the devoted Christian heart. The true believer loves his wonted place of public worship as he loves no other place. He still sings with the Psalmist: "How amiable are Thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts." The heart and flesh still cry out for the living God, and a day in the courts of the Lord is still better than a thousand.

How is your local congregation to be built up? You are anxious for accessions and the building up of the faith of those who have been in the church for years. You desire to see an increased zeal in the Master's cause. Such a desire is laudable. It is Christian.

The building up of your church lies not exclusively with the pastor. Of course he has his part to perform, but the parishioners have no less their part to perform, and unless they are active, the pastor's work will be up-hill business. Whenever the pastor is allowed to be the sole worker the load becomes too heavy. In order that the church may build up and strengthen her cords it is highly necessary that the members attend all the services regularly and statedly. Irregular and careless attendance fails to add new life and energy to the church. It is helpless in the way of attracting the world to the sanctuary and to the gospel. It is enervating to the pastor and sets anything but a wholesome example to those in and outside of the church. Make church-going a matter of conscience and allow your religion the same vigor on a stormy day as on a calm day. Have a conscience concerning mid-week devotional meeting and the Sunday school. By all means attend them. Invite non-church goers to the sanctuary. Use your influence to get them there, and when they do come be sure to invite them back. Give the church your best financial support. See to it that peace and harmony reign supreme. Use tact and grace. Forbid strife and contention to dominate Zion. Always speak well of Zion, speak well of your pastor. Instead of finding fault with your pastor and your church, pray for them, and harness yourself to the work. —Lutheran Church Work.

THE BOOK OF DISCIPLINE.

By Rev. C. C. Miller.

(The following Round Table talk was delivered by the Rev. C. C. Miller, of the Louisiana Conference, at the recent session of the Seashore Divinity School. The Divinity School requested its publication in the Nashville Advocate, and the Advocates contiguous to the Divinity School).

The Discipline contains 372 pages. Seventy-six pages are devoted to the most splendid and superb piece of ritualism ever produced, handed to us by our father, John Wesley, from our grandmother, the Church of England. The body of the Discipline contains less than 300 pages. It is with the contents and with the comprehensiveness of the book that we deal. Our Book of Discipline is a library. It contains all the rules and regulations for the personal conduct of all the members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. It contains all the rules and regulations for the conduct and government of five deliberate bodies, as follows: One supreme legislative and judical body, the General Conference, three executive bodies, and one advisory body—the Church Conference.

There are 151 Episcopal decisions, covering a period of 57 years. This is an average of less than three supreme court decisions per annum. Paragraph 568 records a decision in full in one line, "No unrecorded decision of law is of any force." Paragraph 594 is equally terse and clear. "It is unlawful to elect a woman steward" is a decision which settles at once the whole suffrage question. The longest decision is less than three pages. Only fourteen of these decisions require that the facts be set forth in order to make clear the opinion rendered. The speaker is forced to conclude that this is a remarkable court, a remarkable system, or a remarkable body of men who are working under the system. In the whole book of Discipline there is no record of a hypothetical question, while in some of our courts of law hypothetical questions have been asked which contained 600 pages of typewritten matter, and, when categorically answered, affirmed or denied nothing. When we consider the brevity of our laws and compare them to the ninety thousand laws that have been ground out during the past three years by the Legislatures of the several States, there is something to our credit.

Our plan of itineracy is a complete system of exchange, not of commodities, but of men, and meets all the requirements of supply and demand. This little book, in its judicial capacity, is the most remarkable piece of jurisprudence to be found in any land. It contains a civil code, a criminal code, and a code of practice. The civil code contains a comprehensive body of laws that adjusts all financial questions as between the various Church boards, also as between the Church boards and the men that operate them, and composes all differences that may arise between the various officers of the Church and the members of the whole Church. The criminal code embraces everything, from misdemeanors, punishable by mild reproof, to high crimes, punishable by excommunication from membership in the Methodist Church.

The Discipline safeguards all the rights of franchise and embodies all election laws. The Methodist Church has never had need of the Australian ballot box; and, so far as the speaker is informed, there has never been a fraudulent election charged. The Discipline is sufficiently comprehensive to embrace all that is necessary in morals, religion, education, finances, and philanthrophy. In morals it is the exponent of the power. In religion it is the cable that "binds us back." In education it is the endowment of intellectuality with spiritual power. In philanthrophy it is the theory vitalized.

The Book of Discipline governs 2,000,000 men, with from 5,000,000 to 7,000,000 adherents, extending over a territory of 22 States amid all the varied conditions of life and races of people who make up its membership. It is operative in seven foreign missionary fields and touches at least two worlds, the green fields of earth and the paradise of God; and, if it be true that "the gates of hell shall not prevail against it," its influence shall be felt in Sheol, Gehenna, Hades, or Hell, as the word is best suited to the listener. In extension and intension—and I use the words in a semi-technical sense—the extension is sufficient to give every member of the Methodist Church latitude to do and perform whatever is right, and its intension is such as to hinder the doing of whatever is wrong. In other words, it is "liberty without license."

The question—How shall the Discipline be mutually most helpful to the pastor and laymen?—is submitted with this advice: (1) Avoid the necessity of its use by having your people properly instructed in it and by using ordinary tact; (2) be slow to "pull the book" on the offender; (3) do not use the Discipline as a straight-jacket.

Monroe, La.

A MATTER OF IMPORTANCE.

Dear Dr. Meek: Dr. McMurry writes me that there are many urgent calls being made on our General Board of Church Extension and that, as the collections of the Conferences are not coming in, it is impossible to meet these demands.

I am told that for many years it has been the custom to hold collections made during the year until Conference, and then to make settlements with the various treasurers. I know that that custom prevails to a large extent in our district. In my opinion, it would be better to have this money at work and, on the strength of Dr. McMurry's letter, I suggest that all our pastors who have funds on hand send forward such funds as will eventually be devoted to Church Extension, so that Dr. McMurry may make use of them.

A great portion of the appropriations made last May cannot be paid until the 1915 collections are in, and it is therefore desired that collections shall be made as early as possible and amounts realized immediately turned in to the treasurer.

Yours fraternally,
ROBERT O. RANDLE.

Monroe, La., July 24, 1915.

BUY LUMBER FROM
W. W. CARRE CO., Ltd.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

COTTAGE COLONY, NEAR HAMMOND, LA.
FOR THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.
Pine forest, artesian water, hot and cold baths, no dust or noise. Physicians' attention, Graduate nurse's service and drugs furnished.
Rates, $10 per Week and Up.
Address Dr. E. L. McGehee, Hammond, La.
City Office, 923 Maison Blanche Bldg.

"HOW WE FOUND THE MASTER IN PRISON."

By Mrs. G. E. Cameron.

If some one should tell you that Jesus was really in prison in your own city, you would hasten to Him, and offer your services, wouldn't you?

I believe that of the six details that he mentions in the last twelve verses of the twenty-fifth chapter of St. Matthew, one is as important as another, don't you?

If a parent told a child to do six things, wouldn't the child be disobedient if he left any undone? The parent wants "unquestioning" obedience. So does Jesus.

If the child left any of the six things undone, do you not believe his disobedience would make him unhappy?

Didn't you use to hate to face your old-fashioned father when you had been disobedient? I did, for we were taught to obey when we were children.

Do you know why you are an unhappy Christian? I do. It is because you are not altogether an obedient Christian.

It may sound very much like a paradox to say that the Lord of heaven and earth could be found in prison, in the common, ordinary parish jail, but if we, as his followers, are to interpret rightly the twenty-fifth chapter of St. Matthew we shall have to find him by visiting him in prison—or, sad to think—perhaps fail to find him.

The same followers of Jesus who so gladly "feed the hungry" and "clothe the naked," in many instances feel that they have done enough and never think for a moment that it is their duty to visit the jail and carry precious balm, the sweet promises of the Master.

I have heard some Christians suggest that their "talents did not lie in that direction," that they "could not be successful in that line of work," and one very devout mother "did not want her beautiful daughter to go there and sing because she was too sacred for the horrid prisoners to look at."

Do you think it "unquestioning obedience" when we argue with the Master about our "talents" and our "success?" Jesus has already specified our duty and we should not question but should be more anxious about simple obedience than success.

Strange to say, some of the Christians who said they could not be successful at the jail had never made one visit there; and as to the mother who did not want the prisoners to enjoy the voice of her beautiful daughter, I just wondered if she thought all criminals were behind the bars, and I wondered if she would not like for some one to sing the gospel to her boy some sad day if he should ever become so unfortunate as to pay a crime-penalty in prison. I fear they have only seen the question from one viewpoint.

Do you not think that if you were in prison, guilty or innocent, you would like for some kind-hearted human being to come to you with fresh flowers and fruits and an open Bible? You may suggest that if you were guilty you would not deserve such treatment and ought to be punished. But if you were guilty, would you not need more sympathy than if you were innocent? Are not we all more or less guilty? Are you quite sure that, considering your opportunities, you are less guilty in the Father's sight than those incarcerated not far from you? Is it not true that many who are "outside looking in" are just as guilty as those who are "inside looking out?" Is it not true that many cold-blooded murderers never go behind the bars, when many a thoughtless youth must pay an enormous penalty for a much smaller crime?

The prison must exist for the safety of mankind, but do you not believe that the Church should put forward a desperate effort to save those in prison if she fails to reach them before they are sentenced? Do you not believe this a great opportunity for the Church? Do you not believe that the number of criminals would have been much smaller had the great Church been thoroughly awake?

The Epworth League of Alexandria has a Committee composed of five gentlemen and five ladies whose duty it is to hold a service in jail once a month. I am glad that I belong to this Committee, for I believe that we have found our Master "in prison."

Our first visit was on Easter Sunday. It was cool then, and the very large crowd, fifty or more men, women and children, were not too uncomfortable in the hot, stuffy prison. Nearly every person carried fruits, flowers or books, and went joyously—glad of our opportunity to do an act of kindness.

A number of irreligious men near the jail saw the church crowd entering the prison and through curiosity joined the group, went inside and listened to the songs and gospel messages till they themselves were almost transformed.

We took along our little Bilhorn organ and had beautiful congregational singing, and after the sermon a number of prisoners gave their hands for prayers. They say that the jail has been quite different since then.

After the services the young ladies and little children passed refreshments around, and violets and roses were slipped in between the bars. When we knelt on the floor to roll the apples and oranges through that barbarously tiny passage where the food is placed, there were strong white hands by the dozens reaching for the fruit and the little gifts, and I breathed the prayer: "God pity and bless the poor misguided hands that should be producing hands!"

We placed open Bibles in those hands, and several of the prisoners said that they were Catholics and that they had never owned a Bible before.

Strong men in the prison broke down to tears when the little children who were with us slipped their soft fingers through the bars with rosebuds. When we started to the jail we felt that the throng of little children were in our way, but we saw that the Master needed them very much on that little journey.

All the week long after our visit to the jail "cards of thanks," expressing deepest gratitude from the prisoners appeared in the city papers.

The other young people's organizations of the city began to take up the work just because the Epworth League led the way. Beautiful harmony prevails in Alexandria between the young people's Christian organizations—so much so that they are known as a "City Union." They come together each month, socially, and once a quarter with a great devotional program. It is hoped that before long they will all join in the prison work.

Our Epworth League has gone again and again, each time with periodicals, gifts, good things to eat, and always the open hymn book and open Bible.

On last Sunday afternoon our pastor, Rev. G. E. Cameron, preached to them a most helpful message, and every white prisoner gave his hand for prayers, saying that he would surrender his life to the Master. The entire number of inmates testified that the saloon had been a bitter enemy to them. Isn't it too bad that our great, wise State will license a thing that will wreck our boys and blight young manhood and then build cruel iron cages to put those same boys in if they are not quite strong enough to resist the subtle temptations?

Our Committee has become deeply interested in a strong, manly-looking, open-faced lad of nineteen, who has even been to college, and writes a fine hand. He has been deeply moved by these visits from the Epworth Leaguers. He says that he is so glad that the prison has not been forgotten by every one. He was accused of breaking into a store, but he says he is not guilty, that it was circumstantial evidence. Be that as it may, the poor child must pay the penalty by five years in the State Penitentiary, and the saddest thought to me is that he will have to celebrate his twenty-first birthday in prison! However, he has promised us that he will try to lead others to the Master and that he will be an obedient prisoner. Sad to think, he is an only child! His mother died when he was only two months old. Don't you believe that if Louisiana Christian motherhood would be alert it could help to keep many a lad from prison? Don't you believe that if it would take the message to those who are in prison it could materially help to lessen the number of criminals by making better citizens of those who are already incarcerated?

Anyway, this Committee has pledged to write to this lad and try to encourage him through these long years, for he says that he will be a man and prove to his State that he is not a criminal.

A few days after this visit an intelligent, sad-faced, crippled man sought our home, and we knew him at once by the striking resemblance to the unfortunate boy. He had come all the way to thank us for our interest in and kindness to the son whom he loves better than all else. When we complimented his boy his eyes filled with tears and he answered, "I love him better than life. He has never given me trouble. He is a hard-working boy and I cannot believe him guilty."

I said to the sorrowful man: "I gave your boy a Bible, though I knew you were a Catholic and that your religion opposed the open Bible. I am sorry for you, and I feel that if ever you needed the comfort that God's Word can bring it is now." He wept bitterly and agreed with me.

I said, further, "I am sorry for your nuns and your priests, for they are deprived of the deep joys of home and children. Earthly fatherhood shows something of the relation of the heavenly Father. Can a priest love a child as well as you?" His profusion of tears and convulsive emotions meant even more than his words: "You are right. I'd give all and suffer all for him. I'm glad he has the Book."

During our fourth visit to the jail this lad heard one of our Committee remark, "When we come again next month—" but he broke the sentence, "Oh, will it be a whole month before you come again?"

Don't you wish our Governor could let the lad go free? Even if he be guilty, don't you believe that six months in a parish jail is enough punishment for an alleged forty dollars' worth of merchandise? I believe he would be a good citizen if he only had one more chance.

The last time we went to the prison it was very warm, and we took along enough ice cream for every inmate to have a cone or two, and oh! how happy they were! One of them remarked: "Oh, good people, you won't be bothered by any folks like us up yonder, for you are goin' there if anybody does! Surely you all are angels!"

One of our number, who had once been a Catholic, was very happy to give his Bible to a Catholic prisoner, telling him that he should not be ignorant, but should read his Bible like the priest.

The poor unfortunate nineteen-year-old lad will have to tell his father good-by and go to the penitentiary next month to begin his sentence, and our League will miss him, but he will go with our prayers. If he were your boy, wouldn't you be glad that we had cheered him and helped him to find the Master?

If you are an Epworth Leaguer, won't you do something for some one in prison? Won't you go as a helper with a loving, sympathetic spirit? Won't you read and sing and pray until you help those burdened souls to realize that Jesus can help them?

The great wealth of warmth and gratitude that comes from giving will flood your soul, and you will then discover how you can really find your Master in prison, for up through those darkened walls that shut out the very light of day can ascend the ladder of prayer where God's own angels may find their way to heaven.

Alexandria, La.

"When God bids us to watch and pray, He bids us use our strength, and His."

Secular News and Comment

By R. E. Meek.

The average amount of food consumed by a normal man per year is said to be one ton of solid and liquid nourishment.

* * *

There are 26,000 factories in New York City. They furnish employment to nearly 700,000 persons, who earn more than $350,000,000 a year.

* * *

The bodies of Herbert S. Stone, Lindon W. Bates, Jr., and Harry J. Keser, three of the Lusitania victims, have been washed ashore and identified.

* * *

With 60 per cent of her words of Teutonic origin, 30 per cent from Greek and Latin, and 10 per cent from other sources, English may be truly said to be one language from many.

* * *

On July 21 in Lancaster, Mass., occurred the death of Mrs. Richard H. Dana, wife of a prominent Boston lawyer and a daughter of Henry W. Longfellow, the poet, by his second wife.

* * *

There are in the Bible, which consists of the Old and New Testaments, 3,586,473 letters, 775,693 words, 31,378 verses, 1189 chapters, and 66 books. This information was doubtless ascertained by translators of the Holy Book.

* * *

It is estimated that between 80,000 and 100,000 lives have been destroyed by floods in the country surrounding Canton, China. Appeals are being made to our government and people for all the assistance that they can render.

* * *

On July 20 $10,000 was added to the conscience fund of $500,000 which is kept in the treasury at Washington, D. C. This contribution is said to be the second largest amount ever returned by those who find that it is not as easy to silence the accusing voice of a guilty conscience as they had expected it to be.

* * *

On July 20 the bank examiners of the State of Mississippi completed a summary of the condition of the 281 State banks. This statement shows their total resources to be $59,122,522. Since the new State banking law was put into operation 40 banks have found it necessary to go out of business because they could not meet its requirements.

* * *

Leo M. Frank whose fight for his life in the courts of Georgia and before the American public attracted attention throughout the entire country was stabbed by Wm. Green, a fellow prisoner at the State farm on the night of July 17. At first Frank's condition appeared to be critical, but he is now gradually improving. An investigation of the affair will be made.

* * *

The annual exports and imports of the farm products of all countries are valued as follows: cotton, $1,127,000,000; wheat and flour, $774,000,000; raw wool, $480,000,000; hides, $774,000,000; sugar, $382,000,000; rice, $278,000,000; barley and malt, $220,000,000; corn and meal, $210,000,000; unmanufactured tobacco, $192,000,000; butter, $173,000,000; tea, $143,000,000; rye and flour, $125,000,000; and oats, $102,000,000.

* * *

There are 300,000,000 people in China and the country's area is only 1,500,000 square miles. No wonder when the rice crop fails there is always a great famine. In most countries people are alarmed when the birth rate decreases or shows no gain, but this is not so in China. Already there are more people than the land can well support, and any decrease in the birth rate is considered advantageous to the interests of the people.

IN RESPONSE TO DR. STEEL.

Dear Dr. Meek: The recent letter from Dr. Steel in the Advocate and the extract taken from "The Central" found within me many responsive chords. Since hearing the Doctor lecture years ago on "The Pioneers of Methodism" and "Home Life in Dixie," I have read everything from his pen that has come before me, always with pleasure, and often with profit.

In the extract referred to, his praise of the Mississippi coast is in full accord with my sentiments, and I would include in the term the country nearly a hundred miles north of the coast line, and take in the adjoining parishes of Louisiana. I have never been in any of the places mentioned by the Doctor in his contrasts; but I have lived in the most choice sections of Southern California, and, everything considered, I prefer South Mississippi. While the climate here is not quite so even as the climate there, it is softer, and on an average will compare favorably. The land here is sufficiently fertile to enable one to make a good living, and so cheap that any one may own enough for a home, and it is well watered by the rains of heaven. For gardening it is as good as the best.

Like the Doctor, I am a devotee of the garden. I work mine, and gather its fruits with my own hands, and always have enough for use. As a result, I can compete with the Doctor as to health. Many a man leading a sedentary life fails in health, and dies before his time for lack of a garden, or the industry to cultivate one, besides missing the pleasure of the occupation. With such opportunities for homes as this pleasant land affords, the wonder is that so much of it is allowed to lie waste. It certainly cannot always remain so.

I have just spent a week near the place at which Doctor Steel started an agricultural college. What a pity that it was not continued; for the venture was in the right direction! Certainly, the Church should give more attention to industrial features in its institutions of learning, and especially to agriculture. The feet of the students should be kept on the earth. This would discount snobbery, make for manliness, and insure the success of many a one who fails for lack of physical and mental fiber. In this, the State is showing itself wiser than the Church. Hence the Church is losing patronage which it ought to have, and our sons who prefer, or who must have, industrial training in connection with scholarly development are driven to State institutions, and thus lose the needed impress of the Christian college upon their characters. It would seem that we need to readjust, if we would train the manliest men, and keep in touch with educated farmers and the changes of our country.

M. B. SHARBROUGH.

Columbia, Miss., July 20, 1915.

MANY, MANSFIELD AND A MEETING.

On July 7 I left New Orleans for Many, La., to assist Rev. S. D. Howard in a revival meeting. It was convenient for me to spend the morning of the 8th in Mansfield. I was permitted to spend some of that morning in the company of Rev. J. L. P. Sheppard and Dr. J. A. Parker, two of our most loved superannuates in the Louisiana Conference. Dr. Parker is in feeble health bodily, but the vitality of his spiritual life seems to be increasing. Brother Sheppard moves like a young man and is in the best of health and spirits. I sat with him at the dinner table and he did the talking. It is a privilege, indeed, to receive counsel from such a man as Brother Sheppard. I was permitted to visit Mansfield Female College for some time, and not only inspect the building, but meet and visit with the real "power behind the throne" in the College, Mrs. R. E. Bobbitt. President Bobbitt was not at home, but few women are more capable of caring for their husband's business than is Mrs. Bobbitt. Mansfield College is an institution to be proud of. After going over the building and inspecting the equipment, I tried to express my appreciation and in doing so, I gave the College about a half-dozen names of prospective students. I can cheerfully recommend Mansfield College to the Methodists of Louisiana.

But on to Many! Brother Howard still measures more than fifty inches round the waist and uses a palm-leaf fan seven days out of the week. But he is always in a good humor and shows outward signs of having religion. I'd rather associate with a man who is fat and good natured than with one who is grouchy and built on any scale. All was in readiness for our meeting. Brother and Sister O. E. Williams extended the hospitality of their home to me for nearly two weeks, and that means that I had all that any one could desire, including the New Orleans Christian Advocate. Do you know, I always feel more at home when I see the Advocate lying around, and Many Methodists are readers of the Advocate.

Brother Howard can tell the results of the meeting better than I can, but I will say that the people came to church, were attentive, and responsive. The time I spent in Many was like a vacation to me. We preachers here in New Orleans, with big, roomy churches and dinky little hot weather crowds, nearly preach ourselves hoarse when we get in front of one of those real up-State Protestant congregations where the late comers have to borrow the chairs from behind the pulpit or else stand up. Our Church at Many has in it a large number of substantial people. I shall not name all of them, but the preacher looks out into the faces of farmers, lawyers, doctors, bankers, office holders, and common laborers. If I should offer a criticism, it would be that not enough of the children attend the preaching services. I believe in bringing up a child in the way he should go, and that is never to go home after Sunday school. Some "experts" may suggest sermonettes to children at Sunday school and let them go home, but I believe the place for the boy and girl is by his mother and father's side in the pew until the morning sermon is finished. The child may not understand the sermon, but, as for that, oftentimes we preachers don't understand what we are talking about, but we believe it just the same.

A. J. GEARHEARD.

During the year 1913, 2785 men lost their lives in and about coal mines. Through their labors 570,048,125 tons of coal were unearthed that year and it is estimated that five men were killed for every million tons excavated. Nothing of value in this world is obtained without a sacrifice, but some things require greater sacrifices than others. Those who enjoy the apparently necessary things of life forget what they have cost others and often fail to value them rightly.

CENTENARY COLLEGE

Of Louisiana.

If you wish your son to receive a Literary College training in a moral and religious atmosphere, amid beautiful and healthful natural surroundings, under a faculty of competent Christian men, in a progressive city with great Protestant Churches and many public advantages, send him to

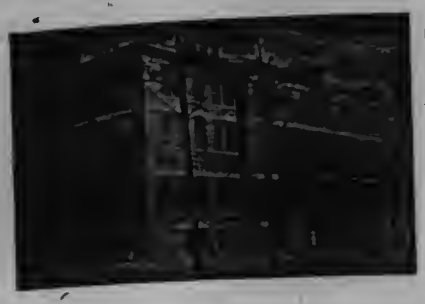
Centenary College.

If it is advisable that your son take his preparatory or high school training away from home, send him to Centenary, where, by good application, he may save one year in preparation for Freshman Class of any college.

Write for Catalogue and any Needed Information.

Rev. R. H. WYNN, President. Box 6, Shreveport, La.

The Louisiana Educational Campaign

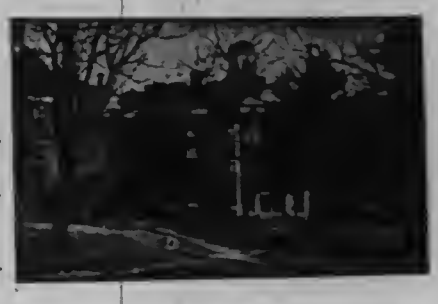


LOUISIANA CONFERENCE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., President

Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Sec'y

Rev. C. A. Battle, Treas., Baton Rouge, La.



(This Department is conducted by Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Secretary of Education, and Rev. A. J. Gearheard, Publicity Commissioner.)

PROGRESS OF THE CAMPAIGN.

In the campaign for raising the sum of $12,500 to meet the offer of Mr. C. W. Blair of Shreveport for Centenary College definite progress has been made in the last week or two. The following report, referred to by the Secretary in last week's Advocate, was adopted by the Alexandria District Conference:

"Resolved that we hail with pleasure the offer of Mr. C. W. Blair to give $2500 to Centenary College provided we raise $12,500 by Jauuary 1, 1916.

"Resolved, further, that as a district conference we adopt as a goal for our district the raising of $1500 of this amount and that we request the presiding elder to appoint Hon. T. W. Holloman to assist our district commissioner, Rev. G. E. Cameron, in getiug this matter upon the hearts of our people."

This action was further emphasized by the pledge of Rev. Paul M. Brown to be one of thirty to be responsible for $50 apiece on this amount. Earnestly undertaken by such leaders as Dr. Cameron and Brother Holloman, there can be no doubt of success in raising the amount proposed.

A similar actlon was taken by the Monroe District Conference, which set $1200 as its goal and provided for the appointment of a layman to assist tbe capable district commissioner, Rev. A. I. Townsley, in raising that amount.

The Ruston District Conference has also taken slmllar action, proposing to raise $1800 and appointing Mr. Sam Collins of Ruston, and a Centenary graduate, to assist the district Commissioner, Dr. J. M. Henry, in raising the amount.

A local committee in the city of Shreveport will sbortly be busy in that city which has already done such a large share of the work that has been done for the college, and will doubtless secure a good sum from local citizens. The matter will also be presented in some way in the early fall to the Methodists of New Orleans, who can be counted on to do their share in the interest of our educational work.

As this fund now stands in subscriptions from the several districts (there has been subscribed from the Shreveport district in definite personal promises about $750, from the Lafayette district about $500, from the Baton Rouge district $100, from the Ruston district $100, with some other small amounts, such as the personal subscriptions of a number of the preachers for this year which may be included in this fund, and the general subscriptions of the above district conferences), about $6000 is in sight. Let every district in the Conference make its contribution and it will be found that we can raise the amount without serious difficulty.

On the proposition previously reported in these columns, on which a number of the preachers have subscribed either definite sums or a per cent of their salaries for five years, repiies continue to come in occasionaliy. Rev. Paul M. Brown subscribes two per cent of bis salary for five years, and a cash contribution of $10 has been received from Rev. H. S. Johns. Both of these brethren are old Centenary boys and know the value and necessity of the Institution.

It may be well to announce so that all may understand that the cash contributions made by the preachers this year may be counted as part of the $12,500 being raised on the Blair proposition, without affecting the right of the contributor to direct his contribution to some specific end, as endowment, immediate maintenance, etc., if he should so desire.

AN INFORMING ARTICLE.

We reproduce the following from the special educational number recently issued by the Nashville Christian Advocate and commend it to our readers:

The Church College and Ministerial Supply.

By R. H. Wynn, D.D.

Eigbty-five per cent of our ministry comes from homes where there are family altars. This is a very large percentage from a proportion of Church members that is small and said to be growing smaller. It is certain, therefore, that home religion needs revivals.

It is also certain that tbe Church must furnish an atmosphere favorable to the ministry as a vocation. Young people's societies have been the means of leading numbers into the ministry and other definite forms of service by furnishing them channels of spiritual expression and thus enabling them to find themselves; but the Church college must always be an indispensable recruiting agency.

Twenty-four per cent of college students choose their vocations after entering college. The atmospbere of the State schools does not usually lead to the choice of the ministry; and this cannot be otherwise, inasmuch as the emphasis is on the things of this life. The call to the ministry, like the call to the Christian life, requires human instrumentality. The Conference of which the writer is a member has only one member within its bounds who is a graduate of the State university.

It is said that a great majority of our preachers come from the small farm and (however much preachers' sons have been maligned) the parsonage. These are the homes where family worship is more often found. This class of boys is usualiy in need of such financial assistance as is given by the Church school in the way of loan funds to enable them to secure an education.

A sad and abnormal situation is to be noted in the many prosperous urban churches that constantly demand a well-trained and efficient ministry to serve them, yet are dedicating none of their sons to the holy office and are giving very little of their money to the cause of ministerial education and college endowment. Are they not like the parasites in Proverbs xxx, 15, which cry, "Give, give," and are never satisfied? No Methodist who is not a generous contributor to the educational cause should complain against the Bishop for not sending a better preacher.

In the early days of our nation the need of an efficient ministry was the main determining cause in the establishment of educational foundations. The need still remains; and while there are many vital reasons for the Church to remain in the work of higher education, this cause alone should be sufficient to arouse the Church not only thoroughly to establish theological schools, but also "in each State at least one well-established college."

Pauperism is said to be increasing in London.

SOME SUGGESTIVE CORRESPONDENCE.

(From the Northwestern Christian Advocate.)

Such letters are seen in these days. What would be Paul's reply? It may appear soon.

Ephesus, Asia, March 22, 62.

Rev. Paul Tarsus, D. D.,
Supt. General, Churches of Christendom.

Dear Father: As conference is approaching I wish to say that I have been busy most of the time in the matter of extension of the work you committed to me at the last session. We have extended the stoop on the north side of the parsonage, and added a window to the main building of the church in memory of a rich man's wife who was one of the charter members of the congregation.

The parsonage grounds are in fine shape, and a successor, specially if he has a family, will find the property very attractive now, much more so than when I took it; it was in such a tumble-down condition. The improvements have cost considerable money and worry.

We have had great success this year, having taken in about thirty-one members, but almost all of them (29) were by letter, as there is a building boom on, and many new people are coming this way.

Now, dear father, I have had an ambition ever since I entered the ministry to achieve success. I had set as a standard to which to work the following plan: When I had reached thirty, I hoped to have a charge paying $1200 and house; at thirty-six, $1800, and at forty, $3000. What can you do for me at the next session? I do not wish to complain, but actually, my wife says to me occasionally that she believes I am not appreciated as I ought to be, and that I am kept down in the grade.

In making out your tentative plans for the coming session, please select for me a larger place.

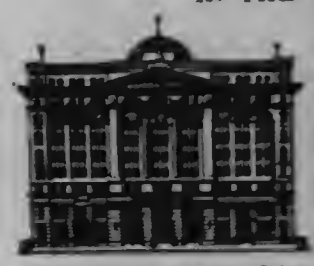
Yours loyally,

TIMOTHY.

Eight thousand leopard skins are annually exported by China.

Methodist Hotel

THE GREATEST INSTITUTION OF ITS KIND IN THE WORLD.



A Modern Fireproof Building, with Hotel, Auditorium, Church, Finest Organ on the Pacific Coast, and other Interesting Features under one Roof.

Owned and Controlled by Trinity M. E. Church, South, Los Angeles, Cal.

When you or your friends visit Los Angeles, stop at TRINITY, Ninth and Grand Avenue. Close to everywhere.

Over Three Hundred Comfortable Rooms, with or without Bath. One Dollar per Day and Up.

Write or Wire TRINITY Your Needs.

ENLARGE YOUR DAY

Thousands of people have already learned how to enlarge their days; how to increase the time they can devote to profitable recreation and pleasure without sacrificing work that must be done.

They first discovered that the quickest and most satisfactory way to go "down town" was by the telephone.

Next they applied the same principle to their "out of town" business and social trips, and found it was even more satisfactory and proportionately much cheaper.

Do you Travel by TELEPHONE?

Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co.

(Incorporated.)

FROM JUNALUSKA.

Dear Dr. Meek: After a day and night of continuous riding on tbe train, a day and night in Asheville, and another ride of an hour by rail, the Southern Assembly Grounds, at Lake Junaluska, were reached at five o'clock Saturday afternoon. The General Sunday School Board was in session, and at this writing—Monday morning—is still busy. In due time the results of their deliberations will be made public.

Several improvements have been made since last year. A number of new cottages have been erected, grass plots laid out, flowers and trees planted, and unfinished buildings completed. All this adds to the natural beauty of the place. One gentleman remarked in my presence this morning that be had travelled over the world, except the Orient, and that this place was unsurpassed for beauty.

I have heard one discordant note. Sitting at the same table with me in the dining room a day or two ago, a gentleman, whose name and address I will withhold, for I am sure he will some day be glad of this, stated that the Southern Assembly would not be a success for many a day. That many of those who had put money into the enterprise would be glad to get it out. At that time, I knew the stockholders had arranged to secure at least $300,000 for additional improvements and to complete the magnificent hotel already projected, and that it is now becoming difficult to secure desirable building lots.

The brethren are gathering for their meeting, and I must close. B. F. LEWIS.

Southern Assembly Grounds, North Carolina, July 26, 1915.

A LETTER FROM BROTHER WENDEL.

Dear Brother Meek: My good people have granted me a month's vacation and I am preparing to take my wife and son and go to the mountains somewhere and spend a good, quiet time. How hard it is to get away from the world these days! I have had a fine year among the finest people in tbe land—good congregations and everything up in full to date. This church is able to do great things for the Kingdom now. The building era has passed and we are now ready to take up some specials—as for example the education of a girl at Grenada, a young preacher at Millsaps, our own missionary in some foreign field, etc. These are my plans. I shall go at working them out September 1.

By the way, as I have remained silent on the Vanderbilt matter all these days, I would like to say a few words. The first is, I heartily endorse your recent editorials on the subject; also your position. I was delighted with Brother J. F. H. Barbee's article. He is a worthy son of a most worthy sire. I was a student at Vanderbilt when the conspiracy was born. I didn't understand then, but I do now. The originator of it has recently died and it does not behoove any one to say much now; but Dr. Steel squinted at the milk in the cocoanut a while back. Yes, all of the professors in our colleges and universities ought to be Christian men of the highest type.

The matter has reached an acute stage which calls for heroic treatment. I don't see how any Methodist preacher can enter the Vanderbilt campus and maintain his self-respect. If our Bishops are not recognized there, I don't think any of us ought to be found there. It seems to me that all who are aiding and abetting either within the University faculty or without ought to be dealt with summarily. We have a small book called tbe Methodist Discipline which was used in the days gone by. It has been shelved to some extent these days; yet, I doubt not it could be brought back into use for such special occasions as now exist. Why not summon the great Chancellor and his satellites before a court about as important as the august Supreme Court of the State of Tennessee and let that court pass on their actions in the matter at hand? Is there not sufficient ground for action? If not, then we ought never to exercise discipline on any member of our Church—no matter what may be the facts in the case, whether a member or a preacher. We would turn out a brotber for stealing a horse, and also any confederate he might have. How about the grandiloquent gentlemen who have stolen a University and those who are at present seeking to help the matter through to a great success at whatever cost to our beloved Methodism?

"We might lose a good many fine men!" I doubt it. No disloyal member is worth anything to the Church. Such enemies within the Church do it more harm than those without. Cost what it may, let discipline be rigorously applied, unless tbe parties involved repent and ask for mercy, and as an evidence of such, sever their connection with an institution which would gather up all of the young men of Southern Methodism, run them through their mill and turn them out the enemies of the Church.

I know this is high ground to take, but I sincerely believe the conditions demand it. We cannot afford to have a few men defy our Bishops and the entire Church and seek to destroy our magnificent educational system.

W. D. WENDEL.

Como, Miss., July 16, 1915.

FROM THE HILL CITY.

Number 2.

Seeing that you were so well pleased with Part One from the Hill City as to publish it with few strokes of the "blue pencil" I have decided, Doctor, to try my hand on Part Two. The truth of the matter is, I was afraid to tell all at once; as it was, I had a visitor (from out of the city) the very day after the Advocate came out looking over the situation, admiring my surroundings, commenting on my comforts, and suggesting the possibility of something happening when Jim Atkins comes in December. I said to that fellow, "Skiddoo;" and then I read again the 39th chapter of Isaiah, in which the prophet rebuked the boasting king, Hezekiah. That visitor actually inspected all four of my clocks and primped himself before all of those ten mirrors; he certainly didn't think himself "otherwise."

Now, Doctor, after that warning I'm admonished of the unwisdom in publishing Part Two; but then "the cat's out," for that brotber looked up and said, "How many lights have you got here?" "Eighteen from single bulbs to four in a group." No scarcity! Men may want "more light" in some things, but not in this preacher's home, and if he doesn't walk in the light it's his own fault, for there are buttons at every entrance which need only to be touched.

"Got any mosquitoes?" "Why, fellow, don't you see the whole thing's screened, and we laugh at those pests?" And when I turned the electric fan on he just looked like he wanted to hug the thing. And the way into my parlor is up a winding stair. And I have many pretty things to show you while you're there. So come up, Doctor, provided you will promise not to put in an application for a transfer.

Sam Steel may brag on his fine garden and big water-melons, but I've got him beat on the house—$20,000; can you meet me, Sam? He may write of sea breezes and mountain peaks, but I sit behind screens, enjoy electric fans and look down (literally) upon all my neighbors. We are built on the line in every direction. Who wants such a plebeian thing as a garden when one has such surroundings?

For exercise we have a bowling alley and a gymnasium where we may cut all sorts of antics, and when we wish to cool off there is close by the shower bath and the needle bath and such like—everything but a swimming pool. But who wants so useless a thing, with a big bath tub at hand and the big Mississippi close by to furnish wider fields for fun?

Right here, I recall a stanza of my childhood:

THE HOLMES STORE

OF NEW ORLEANS

is one of America's truly great department stores.

It has perfected a buying organization that reaches into every producing market of the world, maintaining offices in Berlin, London, Paris and Florence, as well as New York.

It never presents any merchandise that is not of good quality and equitably priced.

Its very efficient service to patrons in the city is supplemented by the largest and best-equipped mail order department of any store in the South. Ninety-eight per cent of all orders received are filled on date of receipt.

The aim of the store is to merit fully the confidence that has been manifested by the public during its seventy-two years of merchandising history.

D. H. HOLMES CO., Ltd.

"Turn, gentle hermit of the vale,
All earth-born cares are wrong;
Man wants but little here below,
Nor wants that little long?"

Was that Goldsmith, Doctor?

And then I am reminded of those $10,000 bonds, and the boll weevil and the Kaiser, and "Deep into the darkness peering, long I stand wondering, fearing, doubting, dreaming dreams I never dared to dream before." And I hear a whisper and an echo murmured back, "Ten thousand bonds—only this and nothing more."

Vicksburg, Miss. T. B. HOLLOMAN.

NOTICE TO PASTORS IN LOUISIANA.

Dear Brethren: Please see that your Church has two or more delegates to attend the Anti-Saloon Convention in Alexandria, August 22-24. Dr. P. A. Baker will be on hand for the Convention and will speak on Sunday at 8 p. m. Dr. Baker is our National Superintendent and you ought to hear him. Unless the pastors attend and bring delegates, the Convention will not be what it should.

Louisiana must be put in the Dry Column, and we need YOUR help. Will YOU allow the Convention to fail because you are indifferent as to results? I don't believe that you will.

Begin at once to arrange for a good delegation from your Church.

Yours for prohibition,

A. W. TURNER,
State Supt.

Shreveport, La.

How pure and absolute the mercy of God! He forgives all, hopes for all. How can we sin against such magnanimity?—W. L. Watkinson.

DR. THADDEUS P. BELL

Practice Limited to the Medical and Surgical Treatment of the

EYE, EAR, NOSE & THROAT

And the Correction of Errors of Vision.

814 Audubon Bldg., New Orleans, La.

LEON IRWIN & CO.,

Fire and Casualty Insurance

736 UNION STREET. Phone, Main 585.

The Home Circle

WEEDS AND DEEDS.

By Pauline Frances Camp.

A naughty little weed one day
Poked up its tiny head.
To-morrow I will pull you up,
Old Mr. Weed, I said.
But I put off the doing till
When next I passed that way
The hateful thing had spread abroad,
And laughed at my dismay.

A naughty little thought one day
Popped right into my mind.
Oh, I cried, I'll put you out
To-morrow, you will find!
But once again I put it off,
Till, like the little weed,
The ugly thing spread up apace
And grew into a deed.

So, boys and girls, heed what I say,
And learn it with your sums;
Don't put off till to-morrow, for
To-morrow never comes.
To-day pull up the little weeds,
The naughty thoughts subdue,
Or they may take the reins themselves,
And some day master you.

—The Presbyterian.

FREDDY'S HAIR TONIC.

Little Freddie was preparing to go out calling with his mother. Suddenly he called to her in a rather startled voice: "Mamma, is this bay rum in the brown bottle?"

"O, no, dear! That's mucilage."

"O," said Freddie then, after a pause, "Maybe that's why I can't get my hat off."—St. Louis Christian Advocate.

WHOSE DOG WAS IT?

A man was once treating a dog very cruelly. Mr. Robert Louis Stevenson, who has become famous as a great writer, interfered and rebuked the man for his cruelty.

"You have no right to interfere," said the man angrily; "it is not your dog."

"No," answered Mr. Stevenson. "But it is God's dog, and I am here to protect it."

Let us all remember that every living creature belongs to our heavenly Father, and let us be careful never to abuse cats or dogs or birds or any other of his creatures.—Christian Intelligencer.

THE BOY WHO LOVED MUSIC.

By Fred Myron Colby.

Do you know where Saxony is? If you will look in your atlas you will find it on the map of Central Europe; it constitutes a part of the empire of Germany. In the southern part of Saxony you will find the large and beautiful city of Halle. It was in this city that the boy who loved music was born more than 200 years ago.

His father was a famous surgeon who was in the service of the Elector of Brandenburg, and who destined his son for the same profession that he himself had become eminent in. But the boy from the first showed a wonderful taste and talent for music. He learned tunes readily and nothing pleased him so much as the sound of any musical instrument. In fact, the boy's whole instinct seemed to be bound up in a love for musical sounds and a desire to practice music.

This displeased his father very much, for he thought music only fit for Italian fiddlers, French clowns and organ-grinders. He would not let little Frederick go to public school lest he might learn to play or sing, but had him taught other studies by skillful teachers at home. In every way possible he repressed his son's inclination for a musical education.

But little Frederick did not give up his hope of being a musician. Some one—we hope it may have been his mother, although we are not sure—helped him to get a small spinet into the garret. The spinet looks something like a large harp laid flat on the floor, and also resembles somewhat our modern square piano. It was used before pianos were made. He practiced so faithfully upon this instrument that he soon taught himself how to read music well and to play with a proper position of his hands. Indeed, there seemed to be nothing that he could not do within all lines of music.

One day, when Frederick was about eight years old, his father was called to visit another son, who was in the service of the Duke of Saxe Weissenfels.

Weissenfels was a great center of art and music, and young Frederick knew he would find many musicians there; and he wanted very much to go with his father.

Dr. Handel started alone in his grand carriage. But he had not driven only about a mile when, looking back, who should he see following him but little Frederick, running as fast as his legs could carry him. The father's heart was touched and, as the eager child promised to be good, he took him into the carriage and drove on. The boy had not been so far away from home before, and the journey through a delightful country was a real treat and an inspiration to him.

They remained for a few days at the Duke's castle, and the boy quickly made friends with the members of the musical chapel. His musical talents were soon discovered and, once known, they were appreciated. One Sunday he was taken into the organ loft and at the close of the service he was placed in the organist's seat to play the voluntary. The Duke was present and heard him play, and he was so pleased with his efforts that he inquired who the boy was.

"It is little Handel from Halle, the youngest son of Dr. Handel."

"Your boy is a musical prodigy," said the Duke to the surgeon, "and you should provide him with the best teachers of music that Germany affords. He will be an honor to us some day."

The Duke's view of music and musicians and his arguments in their favor were such as to partially abate the father's prejudices, and on returning to Halle music was added to the other studies of the child. But such was the boy's eagerness for his favorite study that his great teacher, Zachan, could hardly keep pace with his earnest pupil. He was all music to the tips of his fingers, and never found anything too difficult to play. The boy was a wonder, for he played equally well upon the harpischord, the organ, the string quartet, the violin, the flute, and the oboe. Everybody predicted great things of him, and he felt that he should not disappoint them.

When young Handel was about eleven a friend of his father's took him to Berlin and presented him to the Elector, afterward Frederick the First of Prussia, who was so much pleased with his precocious talents that he offered to take charge of his education and send him to Italy to study with the great masters. The offer was, however, prudently declined by the elder Handel. During his stay in Berlin the young musician had opportunity to hear other and far better music than ever before, and he returned to Halle filled with the most glowing enthusiasm for the art.

A few more years of study at Halle and we find him at Hanover, where he entered upon a brilliant career that was to stir all Europe. Before he was twenty years of age he was more famous than any of his great teachers. He composed oratorios like The Messiah, Samson and Judas Maccabeus, which retain their popularity to-day.

When he died he was buried in Westminster Abbey, and his statue is conspicuous among the monuments of the "Poet's Corner" of that edifice. If you ever visit the great abbey you can see the tomb of the boy who loved music and who became the "Great Handel," as his contemporaries called him.—Congregationalist and Christian World.

WHY NATIONAL PROHIBITION?

By Clarence True Wilson.

We have tried high license, have tested it, and it has been found wanting.

We have tried government ownership and control. The State only befouled herself.

We have tried local option and as a temporary device it was good. But local option was found too local for a national problem and too optional for a moral question.

We have tried State-wide prohibition and the relief it gave was wonderful. But the liquor traffic is under the wing of the Federal Government and no State can reach it.

We want Federal prohibition because this is no local question. The governmental evil centers at Washington, and the trade evil centers in the distillery and the brewery. The American liquor traffic is defended by interstate commerce laws and operates under Federal protection. The national power which drove the lotteries from Louisiana and banished their ticket issues from the several States and closed the United States mails to their advertisements must be invoked to defend the American home from this un-American institution.—Pittsburg Christian Advocate.

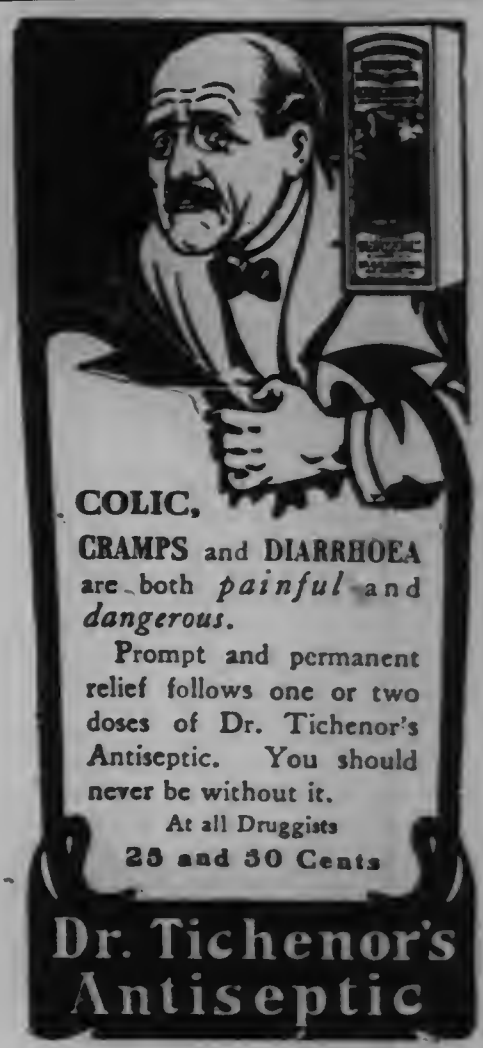
HIS THREE FRIENDS.

"Who complains that the world is against him? Let him consider Panin's golden saying: 'Three men are my friends—he that loves me, he that hates me, and he that is indifferent to me. Who loves me teaches me tenderness. Who hates me teaches me caution. Who is indifferent to me teaches me self-reliance.'"

—ARTIFICIAL LIMBS, ORTHOPEDIC—
APPARATUS, ELASTIC HOSIERY,
TRUSSES, CRUTCHES, ETC.
(Catalogues mailed on request)

The McDermott Surgical Instrument Company, Limited.

734-738 POYDRAS STREET
NEW ORLEANS, LA.



COLIC,
CRAMPS and DIARRHOEA are both painful and dangerous.
Prompt and permanent relief follows one or two doses of Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic. You should never be without it.
At all Druggists
25 and 50 Cents
Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: No. 512 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor.

CHAS. G. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Entered at the Postoffice at New Orleans as Second-class Mail Matter.

TERMS:

One Copy, one year, $1.50; eight months, $1.00. To preachers of all denominations, $1.00

PUBLISHING COMMITTEE:

Louisiana Conference—Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., Rev. W. W. Drake, Rev. C. B. Carter.

Mississippi Conference—Rev. I. W. Cooper, D.D., Rev. C. W. Crisler, Rev. T. W. Adams.

North Mississippi Conference—Rev. W. W. Woollard, Rev. H. S. Spragins, Mr. J. D. Barbee.

Editorial

SOME INTERESTING FIGURES.

The Annual Report of the Commissioner of Education of the United States Government for the year 1914 is an interesting and informing document. It shows that in round numbers there were last year 22,000,000 persons in the Nation's educational institutions of the various grades. Of these more than 19,000,000 were in elementary schools; 1,374,000 in secondary schools, public and private; and 216,000 in colleges and universities. Approximately 100,000 were in attendance upon normal schools equipping themselves to be teachers, 67,000 were in professional schools, and the remainder were scattered through other kinds of institutions. The instructors of this vast number of students numbered 700,000, of whom 566,000 were at work in the public schools. Scarcely any other department of our public school system has shown such growth as the high school, which enrolled 84,000 more students in 1914 than during the year preceding.

The amount of money expended upon the work of education last year was about $750,000,000. The Commissioner's Report, in discussing this expenditure, says:

"This three-fourths of a billion dollars is a relatively small amount when compared with other items in the public expense. It is less by $300,000,000 than the cost of running the Federal Government; it is less than one-third the Nation's expenditure for alcoholic liquors; it is only a little over three times the estimated cost of admissions to moving-picture theaters in the United States for the same year. Measured in terms of products of the soil, the United States spent somewhat more for education in 1914 than the value of its cotton crop, somewhat less than the value of its wheat crop, and less than half the value of the annual harvest of corn; while the Nation's bill for education was less by nearly a hundred millions than the value of the exports from the harbor of New York in the calendar year just passed."

That our public schools have been in many respects greatly improved within recent years is beyond question, but when the system is viewed as a whole the progress, it must be admitted, has been regrettably slow. For instance, the increase in the length of terms from 1910 to 1913 was only from 157.5 to 158.1—a gain of a little over half a day in three years. In point of the average attendance upon the part of each student, however, the gain is more satisfactory, having advanced from 113 days in 1910 to 115.6 in 1913.

This Report of the Commissioner gives considerable information concerning junior high schools, Montessori schools in the United States, denominational schools, vocational education, school surveys, and instruction provided for special classes of children.

The welfare of a people depends very largely upon the character and efficiency of their educational system, and nothing that is possible should be left undone to improve and perfect it. If this vast army of 22,000,000 students can be developed into moral and useful men and women of high ideals, they will make our Nation rich, great, and enduring. What its future is to be will be much more determined by its schools than by the strength and effectiveness of its Navy and Army.

GREAT BRITAIN'S PART.

The Literary Digest of July 31 quotes the Paris Matin as saying that of the western battle line in Europe, the French hold 544 miles, the British 32½, and the Belgians 17¼. It must not be inferred from this, however, that Great Britain is playing a small part in the great conflict. The French have undoubtedly borne the brunt of the tremendous fighting that has taken place in Belgium and on their own soil; but England is maintaining the supremacy of the Allies on the seas and is doing more to finance the war for that side than any other nation. Indeed, it would scarcely be claiming too much to affirm that she is the very backbone of the forces that are contending against the Teutons, and that if Germany and the powers standing with her are finally crushed, it will be due to her resolute will and resourcefulness.

August 1 was the anniversary of the outbreak of this terrible war, and peace has never seemed to be further away than at this time. So far, the honors of the titanic struggle on the mainland of Europe are nearly all with Germany, but she has been almost completely stripped of her colonial possessions, only Kamerun and a part of German East Africa now being in her possession. Other flags are waving over Togoland, Southwest Africa, German New Guinea, the Bismarck Archipeligo, the Caroline Islands, the Solomon Isiands, the Marshall and Samoan Islands, and the province of Kiaochau. And it is more evident to-day than it has ever been that the final victory in this mighty contest will go to the side that has the greatest power of endurance.

A DANGER TO BE GUARDED AGAINST.

For many years it has been the habit of many Methodists in this section to patronize the various boys' training schools in Tennessee; but there is a fact concerning these schools which they should not now overlook. Most of them are affiliated with Vanderbilt University and are considered "feeders" of that institution. Chancellor Kirkland, according to the Vanderbilt Quarterly, made special visits to a number of them last spring and was given "loyal" receptions. Note, for instance, the following statement: "In many instances they have, in addition to arranging for his address before the student body, requested him to meet informally with the senior class and discuss with them the problems and ideals of education." (Black letters ours.) The purpose is, furthermore, expressed in the Quarterly to keep Vanderbilt University in close touch with these schools in the future.

In view of the foregoing facts, would it not be well for loyal Methodists to send their sons to fitting schools somewhere else that are not in alignment with Vanderbilt? Boys in this day determine very largely what college they will attend, and if they are trained in an atmosphere that is shot through with Vanderbilt influences and are allowed to get their "ideals of education" from Chancellor Kirkland, they will not be apt to regard very highly our Church institutions.

In this connection, we will state that the authorities of Emory University have arranged to open this fall at Oxford, Ga. (about 30 or 40 miles from Atlanta), an academy that will be directly related to that growing institution. It will be under a separate management from Emory College and will have a strong faculty. Millsaps College also has a superior fitting school for boys. and there are others in Mississippi that are perhaps as good as any in Tennessee. The best advantages of this kind can also be had at Centenary College, at Shrevepart, La. Let us not place our sons where they are liable to be alienated from the Church that we love, or sustain with our patronage academies that are the underpinnings of Vanderbilt.

COMPLIMENTARY TO THE METHODISTS.

In discussing the missionary work of the Southern Baptist Church, the Baptist World says:

"We confess that our disappointment at the big debt of $100,000 on our Foreign Mission Board is made a bit keener by the fact that Southern Methodists gave $300,000 more than Southern Baptists did for foreign missions. We gave something over $500,000 and they gave over $800,000. We can think of a number of things by way of apology and explanation, but somehow it does not seem worth while to say them. Southern Methodists live in the South as we do. They have also felt the low price of cotton as a result of the war. They are largely a rural people, as we are. Besides, Southern Baptists number nearly half a million more members in the South than the Methodists. It is just as well for Southern Baptists to face the facts."

THE LOUISIANA ANTI-SALOON MEETING.

Elsewhere in this issue of the Advocate we are publishing an announcement of the annual meeting of the prohibitionists of Louisiana from the pen of Rev. A. W. Turner, the State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League. Let the brethren note what Brother Turner has to say and give him their hearty co-operation. The temperance forces of this commonwealth need to confer, to get together, and to become more active and aggressive. The rum traffic is Louisiana's greatest curse. It obeys no law, respects no obligation, and never ceases its work of wreck and ruin. Not until it is destroyed can the State make the progress in morals, in good government, and in material prosperity that it ought. Go to Alexandria at the time appointed, if you possibly can, and take others with you. It will give strength and inspiration to the cause for you to do so.

MRS. J. M. HUGGIN DEAD.

Rev. C. N. Terry, of Memphis, Tenn., an honored veteran of the North Mississippi Conference, sent us last week a notice of the death of Sister Huggin, the wife of Rev. J. M. Huggin, also a member of the North Mississippi Conference, which occurred at her home in Memphis several days ago. Brother Terry's message reached us after the last issue of the Advocate was on the press.

Sister Huggin was a woman of many excellent traits of character and filled faithfully the mission of a wife and mother. A large number of children were born to her, most of whom survive. We deeply sympathize with Brother Huggin and the other sorrowing members of the family in their sore bereavement, and we earnestly pray that the Heavenly Father may comfort and sustain them. We trust that some one will at an early date send to the Advocate a fitting memoir of the deceased.

HOW ABOUT IT?

We reproduce, without comment, the following from the last issue of the Wesleyan Christian Advocate:

"The Baptist Courier says that it has lost in two years $7500 from subscribers who ordered their paper stopped without paying the balance due the paper. Commenting on this fact, the Christian Index says it has lost in the same time more than the Courier has. Just what the Wesleyan Advocate has lost in that time we cannot say—the figures are not at hand—but it is considerable. In this respect, some Georgia Methodists are very like some Georgia and Tennessee Baptists. But the question in our mind is, is this way of doing fair or honest? Do people pay the banks that way? Or the grocers, or the dry goods merchants? What is religion worth if it does not make people honest and fair and righteous in their dealings?"

PERSONAL AND OTHER NOTES.

Rev. L. J. Jones, of the Mississippi Conference, requests us to state that his address is Hattiesburg, Miss., Route 4, Box 16.

Dr. L. G. Broughton, the noted Baptist minister, has lately accepted an invitation to supply the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church of New York City for four Sabbaths.

Bishop Candler has recently published the dates for the several Conferences connected with our Mexican work. The Church is fortunate in having this work under his capable supervision at this critical time.

A tent revival meeting is in progress at Homer, La. Rev. H. R. Singleton, pastor of the Scruggs Memorial Church of St. Louis, is assisting Rev. J. G. Snelling, our pastor at Homer, in conducting it.

Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Morse, of Brookhaven, Miss., left that city on Tuesday, July 27, for a visit to their old home in Kemper County, Mississippi. Brother Morse is having his usual success as a pastor in the Lincoln County Capital.

Rev. E. N. Evans, who for many years was a member of the Louisiana Conference, has moved to Arkadelphia, Ark., having accepted the position of Commissioner of Henderson-Brown College, which is situated at that place.

What about that club of 50-cent trial subscriptions from your charge? We ought to have a list of such subscribers from every community in our patronizing territory within the next thirty days. Will you not give us one from yours?

In the Democratic primary lately held in Louisiana to nominate delegates to the proposed Constitutional Convention, Judge R. R. Reed, of Amite City, was named as the Democratic candidate from Tangipahoa Parish. This was an admirable selection.

The following friends, to whom acknowledgment has not been made elsewhere, have our thanks for two or more subscriptions to the Advocate, sent in within the past few days: Rev. H. M. Cockrum, Noxapater, Miss., 5; Rev. V. C. Curtis, Lexington, Miss., 5.

The Methodists at Philadelphia, Miss., where Rev. J. G. Galloway is pastor, were expected to let the contract for a commodious frame church the early part of last week. The former house of worship of this congregation was destroyed by fire more than a year ago.

A postal card just received from Rev. J. H. Foreman, our pastor at Silver City, Miss., reads as follows: "We have just closed a fine meeting at Louise, Miss. There were 13 additions on profession of faith, and others will probably follow. The preaching was done by Rev. B. W. Lewis."

The Winnfield (La.) Sentinel of July 22 contained an extended report of an address delivered before the recent W. C. T. U. Institute at Winnfield by Mrs. A. C. McKinney, of Ruston. Mrs. McKinney's theme was "Laws—Past and Present," and her message was a vigorous and forceful one.

Near Anadarko, Oklahoma, a new church building has recently been completed for the Kiowa Indians. The Indians contributed liberally to this enterprise, which was also aided by our Boards of Missions and Church Extension. The Chief of the Kiowas and his wife are members of our Church.

The Editor of the Wesleyan Christian Advocate, in a recent issue of that excellent journal, spoke out strongly against the appointment of professors and students to Vanderbilt University. In our opinion, there is little doubt what the sentiment of the great body of our people is concerning that issue.

It was announced some weeks ago that Mrs. Ida R. Shipley, of Baltimore, had bequeathed to the Board of Missions of the M. E. Church, South, property to the amount of $100,000. A later estimate of the value of this bequest has raised the figures to $182,000. This gift is subject to a lifetime interest by one person.

Rev. O. P. Armour, our pastor on the Booneville(Miss.) Circuit, says: "The work in my charge is progressing nicely. We have good Sunday schools, a fine interest in the church services, and an admirable spirit of loyalty to the Master's cause. We are planning and praying for a gracious revival at each church."

Rev. T. D. Lipscomb, of Donaldsonville, La., was in New Orleans last Friday and paid our office an appreciated visit. Brother Lipscomb is in his fourth year in his present field of work, and he will leave the Church considerably stronger within its bounds. The charge that secures his services next year will be fortunate.

Rev. James A. McKee, formerly of Mississippi, is now winding up a successful quadrennium as pastor of the Southern Methodist Church at Walsenburg, Colo. During the four years that he has served that congregation he has received more than a hundred members and the church has in every way been greatly strengthened.

The following dispatch was sent to the New Orleans Times-Picayune from Palmetto, La., on July 31: "At the Bayou Waxia Methodist Church a meeting which had been in progress for a week closed last night. It was conducted by Rev. J. H. Montgomery of Melville, assisted by Rev. J. F. Dring, of Pineville. There were a number of accessions to the Church."

A Meridian (Miss.) press dispatch to the Memphis Commercial Appeal on July 28 reads as follows: "The contract to build the new East End Methodist Church, of which Rev. W. B. Hogg is pastor, has been let to Ford Hopkins of this city, and the work will be begun as soon as the materials can be secured. The new structure is expected to cost about $30,000."

Dr. J. H. Eakes, presiding elder of the Rome District of the North Georgia Conference, who was the chairman of the Committee to select the place for holding the next General Conference, has been made chairman of the Committee that will have in hand the work of perfecting the arrangements for that gathering. As we announced last week, that body will meet in Atlanta.

The pulpit of the Prytania Street Presbyterian Church of this city was filled last Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m. by Dr. J. T. Sawyer. Dr. Alexander, the pastor, was out of the city. Dr. Sawyer says that it was a great pleasure to him to preach to his Presbyterian brethren, many of whom he has known for years. He was greeted by a large congregation and close attention was given to his message.

At the recent Annual Meeting of the Sunday School Board of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at Lake Junaluska, N. C., Rev. John W. Shackleford, of the Virginia Conference, was elected Superintendent of our Teacher-training Sunday school work, the place made vacant by the death of Dr. H. M. Hamill. Those who know Mr. Shackleford predict that he will give a good account of himself in this new field of service.

In the absence of Dr. George Summey, the pastor, the pulpit of the Third Presbyterian Church of this city was filled last Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m. by the Editor of the Advocate, who was greeted by a good summer-time congregation. The Presbyterians are strong in New Orleans, and as a rule they exhibit a loyalty to their denomination that is most commendable. The influence of the great Dr. B. M. Palmer yet abides in the Crescent City.

Rev. T. H. Lipscomb, our efficient pastor at Starkville, Miss., has lately delighted the Publisher with a club of 12 subscriptions: 7 of them new, 5 of them renewals. Brother Lipscomb is having many demands made upon his time this summer. Two or three weeks ago he delivered a series of lectures on "Conscience" before the Summer Normal School at the Mississippi A. and M. College, and last week he assisted Brother W. J. Burt in a revival meeting at Kilgore's Chapel.

From the Livingston Times (published at Walker, La.) of July 29, we take the following: "Rev. W. A. Mangum, of Denham Springs, was in town the latter part of last week and delivered an interesting sermon at the Baptist Church on Thursday night, in the absence of the Rev. Mr. Carroll, the Baptist minister." Brother Mangum is keeping busy in revival work these days and still has a heavy schedule of engagements ahead of him. The Lord is richly blessing his evangelistic labors.

A contemporary states that five Annual Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church have by formal resolution endorsed woman suffrage, and expresses the hope that no Southern Methodist Conference will take similar action. Whatever may be one's view as to the desirableness of woman suffrage, it is a political question that Church gatherings can well afford to let alone. The disposition to dabble in politics has long been one of the most outstanding characteristics of the Northern Methodists.

Bishop Waterhouse has announced that the improvement of his health has not been as rapid as he had hoped it would be, and that Bishop Denny will preside at the approaching session of the Western Virginia Conference. He states, however, that he hopes to come East to begin looking actively after the work in his episcopal district in October. We greatly regret to know that Bishop Waterhouse continues to be unwell physically, and we trust that there will soon be a decided change for the better. He is one of our safest leaders, and the Church can ill afford to dispense with his services even temporarily.

Dr. F. N. Parker was in New Orleans last Saturday and favored the Advocate office with a call. He was en route to Baton Rouge, where Mrs. Parker's mother resides. Dr. Parker has lately spent several weeks in North Carolina visiting district conferences in the interest of the Candler School of Theology, with which he is now connected. He stated that the Church is greatly prospering in the Old North State and that the Methodists in that part of the connection are strongly loyal to Emory University. We never see and converse with Dr. Parker that we are not made increasingly happy to know that our young ministers attending our theological seminary east of the Mississippi River will come under his instruction and influence.

Mr. Robert O. Randle, of Monroe, La., in a personal note to the Editor a few days since, made the following kindly reference to our paper: "I enjoy the Advocate very much, and I find that I agree with you very generally in your positions. I think that the Advocate is a great power for good in its territory, and I have been endeavoring to do something toward the extension of its circulation in this part of the State. Our people need the Advocate, and the Advocate needs the support of our people." Brother Randle is a son of Rev. Robert Randle, who has long been an honored member of the Louisiana Conference. He was a delegate to the last General Conference and is a useful member of the General Board of Church Extension. He is a young lawyer of much promise, and our Church has no other layman in Louisiana from whom it has reason to expect a larger service in the coming years.

We clip the following note from the Pacific Methodist Advocate of July 22 (San Francisco): "Dr. Inman W. Cooper, President of Whitworth College, at Brookhaven, Miss., arrived on Tuesday of last week, in company with a party of sixty other Mississippians, conducted by him. They left for Los Angeles on Saturday. He who pens this note had not met his old friend for thirty-three years, and right glad was he to see him. Dr. Cooper was then a young, but very promising preacher. He is now a leader in his Conference, and has made Whitworth College one of the largest and best schools in the South." The Lincoln County Times of July 29 stated that the Whitworth College Exposition party had returned home, having had a most delightful trip to the Far West. Dr. Cooper was announced to preach at the Methodist Church in Brookhaven last Sunday, both in the morning and evening.

From the Beaumont (Texas) Enterprise of July 22, we take the following: "Mr. R. W. Wier, a prominent Houston lumberman, is to have full charge of the arrangements for the building of the new Bayland Orphans' Home, near Houston, and, though Mr. Wier is a man of large affairs, he is devoting a lot of time to this enterprise for humanity's sake, his interest being prompted by a strong love for children. He is planning to construct a mammoth barn in connection with the Orphanage, and for this he will ask Texas lumbermen to donate the lumber. While efforts to destroy humanity are so widely prevalent, it is refreshing to read of projects like this of Mr. Wier to conserve the welfare of the race." Mr. Wier is a brother of Rev. C. C. Wier of Morgan City. His many friends in the Pelican State will read this item of news concerning his work with interest and appreciation.

WANTED, POSITION AS TEACHER OR GOVERNESS.

A Christian young lady, competent and with untiring energy, is anxious to secure a position as teacher or governess. She was educated at Port Gibson Female College. Has had two years' experience with first-grade teacher's license. She is ambitious and would give faithful service. Any one interested may write Rev. J. R. Jones, Meridian, Miss.

TO OUR PREACHERS.

The management of this Advocate has decided to let our preachers and agents offer six months trial subscriptions at 50 cents during August, September and October. This offer will be withdrawn on the 10th of November, 1914. Subscriptions must be sent in in clubs and money orders used in making remittances so as to save expense.

In soliciting new subscribers, please explain to them that the six months' subscriptions are taken with the understanding that, after their expiration, the regular rate of $1.50 will be charged for annual subscriptions unless they are ordered canceled.

We are making this offer for a three-fold purpose:

First—To build up our subscription list before the annual meeting of the Publishing Committee.

Second—To get funds to help tide us over the summer and fall months.

Third—To induce our Methodist people to take the Conference Organ and read it.

DR. H. B. BARTLETT
National Dental Parlors
Cor. Canal & Camp Sts.
ENTRANCE 108 CAMP
Phone Main 2193
NEW ORLEANS
Vitalized Air for Painless Extraction
Crown and Bridge Specialist
The Largest and Best Equipped Dental Parlors South.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE
DIRECT TRAINS TO
New York
Cincinnati
Birmingham
PULLMAN SLEEPERS, DINING CARS.
— The Scenic Route —
TICKET OFFICE:
211 ST. CHARLES STREET.
Depot, Terminal Station, Canal St.
Phone, Main 2939.

—THE—
Louisiana & Arkansas
RAILWAY
Announces the sale by its Ticket Agents at—
Alexandria, Shreveport, Winnfield, Minden, Sibley, Cotton Valley, Trout, Jena, and Jonesville, Louisiana,
—OF—
INTERCHANGEABLE THOUSAND MILE BOOKS
Good on All Roads in Louisiana.
Save Money by buying one of these Books.
B. S. ATKINSON,
General Passenger Agent.

It Is a Burning Shame that so many Churches are without sufficient insurance, and not properly safe-guarded against fire.
The National Mutual Church Insurance Co., of Chicago—The Methodist Mutual

furnishes protection and assists in prevention. Also writes tornado insurance. Take part and you can save money.
Advantageous rates; easy payments; profits to policy holders. And your Church is entitled to share in these benefits. IT IS UP TO YOU.
For applications and particulars address
HENRY P. MAGILL, Sec. and Manager
Insurance Exchange, Chicago, Ill.
Mrs. Alice Hargrove Barclay, Agent M. E. Church South
314 Norton Building, Fourth and Jefferson, Louisville, Ky.

BOHNE & WILT, Booksellers and Stationers, 1328 Dryades St., New Orleans, La. Baseball Goods, Religious Articles, Fishing Tackle, Periodicals, School Books.

Obituaries.

Obituaries not over 200 words in length will be published free of charge. All over 200 words will be charged at the rate of 1 cent a word. Count the words and send the amount necessary with the obituary. That will save trouble all around. Otherwise the obituaries will be edited down to 200 words.

Mr. FISHER MIDDLETON, oldest son of Dr. Middleton, superintendent of our Sunday school at Many, La., died on July 27 after a critical operation in the Touro Infirmary in New Orleans. Fisher Middleton was an alumnus of both the Webb School for Boys in Bellbuckle, Tenn., and Vanderbilt University, and was in his third year in the Law Department of the State University at Baton Rouge. He was deeply religious and has repeatedly occupied the pulpit to the edification of his hearers. His death is a distinct loss to younger Methodism in Louisiana. His mother preceded him in death several years, but his father and six brothers and sisters mourn his going. A host of friends sorrow with the family.

A. J. GEARHEARD.

Mrs. SARAH GATES was born on Jan. 6, 1870, in Lawrenceville, Ga., and died at Langsdale, Miss., on June 12, 1915. Her father, George Gresham, and her grandfather, John Hall, were both Presbyterians ministers. Her mother's maiden name was Jane Hall. Sister Gates united with the Presbyterian Church in early life. Her father moved to Mississippi, where she married Dr. Cochram. There were born of this union two children—Elia and M. H. After Dr. Cochram's death, she moved to Texas, and later married Mr. R. G. Gates and they moved to Shubuta, Miss. One child, Lillian, was born to them. She leaves two children, Mrs. T. R. Gates and Mrs. A. P. Trotter, and several stepchildren—Mrs. J. W. Collins, Mrs. J. G. Case, Mrs. B. G. Shaw, and Mrs. J. J. Moody. Her husband died several years ago. Some years ago she united with the Liberty M. E. Church, South, there being no Presbyterian church near. She was loyal to the Church as long as she lived, and has left good evidence that she has gone to rest with the redeemed.

D. E. VICKERS, P. C.

On Monday, June 28, 1915, the sweet spirit of little MARGARET WINSTON, aged 5 years 1 month and 7 days, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Palmer, passed from earth to heaven. Margaret had been a patient sufferer three months before her death. Loved ones miss the patter of little feet that are cold in death and the sound of the voice that is hushed forever. The hearts of the father and mother are sad; but beyond this world of sorrow a happy little voice is singing with the angel choir. She spoke so much during her illness of the angels and how happy they were singing God's praises all the day long. A new bond is created between heaven and earth. A pair of baby hands are held out pleading to loved ones here.

Sweet little darling,
Light of the home;
Looking for some one,
Beckoning to come;
Bright as the sunbeam,
Pure as the dew,
Anxiously waiting,
Loved ones, for you.

One who loved her,
Mrs. W. D. TARPLEY.

On the afternoon of July 18, ROBERT EDWARD SLEDGE was drowned in the Sunflower River, near the town of Sunflower. Robert was the son of Sister S. M. Sledge of Sunflower and was the youngest of ten children. He was born on May 31, 1899; he leaves a mother, seven brothers and two sisters. He joined the Methodist Church at Sunflower in August, 1911, and since then he had been a devoted worker in the Church, and also a most loyal worker and attendant upon Sunday school. Robert was a bright, genial young Christian, one who carried sunshine and laughter wherever he went. The writer has never known a finer, sweeter young life. The body was laid to rest the following Monday in the family burying-ground out from Carrollton. The services were conducted by Rev. Ben P. Jaco and the pastor. Many were the friends who came to the side of the family in the hour of their grief. Truly, it could be said that loving hands ministered to the bereaved ones. To sister Sledge and the family, we say that Robert's young life, with its sweetness and radiance, has been removed from our midst, but taken to a fairer and brighter place, where some day may the family circle be unbroken!

ROBT. H. RUFF, P. C.

Miss SALLIE ANN, the fifteen year old, and only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert X. Williams, of Taylor, Miss., was born on Sept. 6, 1899, and passed to her golden reward on July 13, 1915. She was born into this world of affliction to suffer two attacks of typhoid fever—the first at the age of two years, which left her a cripple, the last called her home. After she entered school she led her classes until she left her class-mates to be the only one in her grade. She was a worthy member of the Methodist Church, and had been for sometime a successful teacher in the Sunday school. She was a favorite in her community among both young and old. Why didn't God take some one less worthy? Everywhere we look or go we see something that was hers, something she had done, or see where she had been. But now she has gone to God. This pure flower bloomed into this world and was plucked to show us the beauties of heaven. So cheer up, dear bereaved ones, for when the ransomed throng goes marching home we will again see her with her same kind words and loving smiles, making glad her friends there as she always did here. As we have such a noble little saint to beckon us home, surely we shall be faithful to Christ until the end.

RUTHERFORD B. BURKS.

Mrs. CLYDE HUGHES was born on July 6, 1886, and passed from this life into the life beyond on April 14, 1915. Sister Hughes was born at Forman, Ark., in Little River County, and early in life became a member of the Missionary Baptist Church. She was the mother of two small children and the step-mother of two. She was a loving wife and a kind and indulgent mother. She lived a very quiet life scarcely ever going beyond the gates of her own home, but devoting herself to the needs of her small family. Her life was such as to command the confidence and respect of all who knew her. She was stricken with pneumonia some time in March and suffered greatly for several weeks; she was then carried away to the Sanitarium in Alexandria, La., and was there only a few days when the end came. Before the last hour came she said, "I am not afraid to die; I only hate to leave my children." All that money, kind hands, and loving hearts could do was done to make her suffering less. She leaves a grief-stricken husband and the four little ones to mourn her untimely end. We would comfort them if we could; but, we can only point them to the loving Savior who is able to bind up the broken heart and heal all wounds. Her remains were laid to rest in the Georgetown Cemetery to await the resurrection morn. May the sorrowing loved ones look to the God of all comfort for sustaining grace!

H. BROOKS PERRITT.
Selma, La.

"Anywhere, any time, anything, for the Son of God and the sons of men."

"The best remedy for a sick church is to put it on a missionary diet."

CORINTH DISTRICT WOMAN'S MEETING.

Dear Dr. Meek: I have just returned from the Woman's Missionary Conference of the Corinth District which was held in the beautiful little City of Iuka, July 22-23. The unstinted hospitality of the people combined with the fine health-giving spring water and beautiful natural scenery, made our stay pleasant indeed.

The efficient District Secretary, Miss Corinne Rogers, presided with dignity and ease. The programme was interesting from beginning to end. Mrs. Vic Thompson Hoyle, of Tupelo, delivered a masterly address on Missions, Thursday evening, which I am sure, gave us all a broader vision of our Master's command, "To Preach the Gospel to every creature." Miss Mary Massey, formerly from Iuka, now in the service of our Board of Missions, gave a fine address on "Our Work in Mexico;" Miss Olivia Pegram spoke to the Conference on "What Scarritt Has Meant to Me;" Miss Mary Daniel delivered two fine addresses—one on "Social Service" and the other on "Our Work in the Home Fields." Other prominent speakers were Mrs. Nash of Corinth and Mrs. Copeland of Iuka.

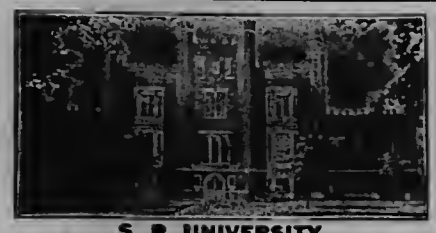
On Friday afternoon Mrs. Hoyle, of Tupelo, conducted a praise service which was both inspiring and uplifting. We felt indeed and in truth that we sat together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus. I have often heard of men of vision, but this Missionary Conference impressed me as a body of women with a broad vision of the needs of man.

I am sure that great good will come from this conference to the Corinth District and to the entire North Mississippi Conference. May God bless and lead in the great work that our women are doing for lost humanity!

Before I close, I must speak of my visit to our Young Women's Co-operative Home in Corinth. This Home is presided over by our own beloved deaconess, Miss Mary Daniel, and I found there an ideal Home and Miss Daniel in great favor. I observed that the good people from several towns were responding to Miss Daniels' call for "Linens," owing to our loss in the fire that destroyed the laundry. If our people more fully knew just what our Co-operative Home is, they would give it a more liberal support.

O. P. ARMOUR.
Booneville, Miss., July 24.

Our "JITNEY" Offer---This and 5 CENTS
DON'T MISS THIS. Cut out this slip enclose with 5c to Foley and Co., 2843 Sheffield Ave., Dept. R, Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for coughs, colds and croup; Foley Kidney Pills, for pain in sides and back, rheumatism, backache, kidney and bladder ailments; and Foley Cathartic Tablets; a wholesome and thoroughly cleansing cathartic; especially comforting to stout people.



S. P. UNIVERSITY
Offers what increases a man's power to earn money, to become prominent in any sphere, to enlarge his influence and his service to his fellows.
Offers as good educational value as some institutions where the cost is three times as great.
Has students whose character is a safeguard to their fellows,
Puts the emphasis on the college work, but encourages a reasonable amount of athletics and other activities. For information address
J. R. DOBYNS, President Clarksville, Tenn.

From the Field.

Vancleave, Miss.

The third Sunday in July found us at Mt. Pleasant Church to listen to a service rendered by the Sunday school in the way of a Children's Day service, which was well done. This service was the introduction to our revival, which I think was quite a success, as you'll see from the following. The preaching was done by Brothers Jeff Havens, Randel Roberts, John Lovett Carter, and the pastor. The three first-named preachers are in the local ranks on the Vancleave charge. Two of them—the last two named—are members where they preached. It would do you good to see how the people responded to these brethren whom they know so well. The Spirit of the Lord seemed to be with us from the very first service. There was a feeling of victory in the air. The meeting kept growing in interest, until on Wednesday night the Lord came in answer to prayer and there were 11 converted and reclaimed and there was a shout in the camp. At the last service there were about 42 who stood up and testified to the blessings that had come to them during the service. Many of them praised God that their prayers had been answered. Some of these were those that were saved from sin the night before. The meeting was closed with shouting and singing and praising God for salvation in Christ Jesus. Six new family altars were promised, the Church was graciously revived, and all were happy in the love of the Lord. To God be all the praise and glory for his pardoning mercies.—W. L. Blackwell, Pastor.

Fernwood, Miss.

The protracted meeting season is over in my charge, the third and last one having closed on Sunday evening June 18, at Knoxo. On the 23d of June we started at Fernwood, with Brother J. L. Decell of our own Conference to do the preaching. Brother Decell delighted everybody in the community with his clear, strong, forceful sermons. The whole community was moved to a higher level of spirituality and religious activity, and 14 joined the Church at the close of the meeting. Brother Kirby, of Little Rock, Ark., conducted the singing and did some of the preaching and the service which he rendered was very satisfactory. Any preacher needing help in protracted meetings would do well to secure Brother Kirby's assistance. He is especially good with the children, as well as with the singers. Brother Decell and Brother Kirby make a good team, and will prove a blessing to any community... Brother J. V. Bennett, our pastor at Monticello, did good service at Kokomo and the whole community was very much moved by his preaching. The meeting continued for eight days and would have gone on longer if Brother Bennett could have remained with us. As a result of his strong and uplifting preaching, 5 were added to the Church and there was a real revival in the life of the membership... At Knoxo, the place where we recently finished our beautiful new church, we had Brother C. A. Schultz, our pastor on the Daleville charge. Brother Schultz went into the ministry from this community four years ago. He had been in the employ of the Fernwood Lumber Company for several years prior to entering the ministry and had done much for the cause as a layman in the Church, and everybody had the highest respect for and confidence in Brother Schultz, and, of course, he met with a warm welcome. Brother Schultz's preaching surprised and delighted everyone. The services took good hold from the start and when the meeting closed we all regretted that we could not continue for a week longer. The community has just cause to feel proud of Brother Schultz and they call him "our preacher." Eight were added to the Church and the whole life of the community was purified and made stronger in moral and spiritual sentiment.....I want to say for these three young pastors that they are strong, growing preachers, that they are earnest, consecrated, and have a sound, deep religious experience, and that by their fruits you can judge them. They are young men who know and walk with God.—W. H. Saunders.

A NOTE FROM A FRIEND.

Dear Mr. Editor: After two sorrowful years, I heard my first sermon last Sunday. I have gone to church whenever able, but have not been able to hear. Last Sunday our presiding elder, Brother Emery, preached from that sublime text, "Eye hath not seen, ear heard, neither hath entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love Him." O what a comfort it was to my poor heart! I felt impelled to tell the preacher that I heard him and appreciated the sermon, but my heart was so full I could scarcely speak. It has been a comfort to me ever since. If we could all realize that day by day we are building for eternity, how different our lives in many ways would be. Every gentle word and thought and unselfish deed would become a pillar of eternal beauty in the life to come; for we cannot be gentle and loving in one life and different in the other. When I was in the enjoyment of greater privileges than now, I have listened as do many others to the preached word, but with what avidity I listen now, and feel so thankful for the blessings of the Sabbath. The Lord has not forsaken me. My sister lives with me, and looks after me so kindly and helps me in every way, and friends are so kind and thoughtful. My heart is filled with gratitude for all this loving kindness, and I pray that, if I can do nothing else, I may help some one by my life.

I saw in this week's Advocate the announcement of the death of Mrs. Lyons. She was such a good friend to me when my husband and I went out to Mexico as missionaries—not only showing us social attentions, but helping us in many ways. Every week or so, I see that some friend has gone. It makes me feel very lonely. The dear old Advocate has been the friend of my whole life. I remember how my brother (Bishop Galloway) and myself, when little children, wrote a little letter for the children's column which was published and we felt that we were joint owners of the paper. I always feel interested in it, and the workers, and pray for the editor—that the usefulness of his paper may grow and increase with each passing year. May God bless you more and more!

MRS. S. G. WEEMS.

Newton, July 24, 1915.

Disappointment should be taken as a stimulant, and never viewed as a discouragement.—C. B. Newcomb.

EAT HARRIS' JERSEY ICE CREAM
The CREAM OF QUALITY. Quick Auto Delivery
1300, 1302 DRYADES ST.
Phones Jackson 1080, 1081

L&N Louisville & Nashville R. R.
THE DIRECT LINE NORTH AND EAST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED STEEL SLEEPERS
DINING CARS, OBSERVATION CARS, CHAIR CARS
Phone M. 4093. TICKET OFFICE 201 ST. CHARLES STREET

"EXPOSITION LINE"
SOUTHERN PACIFIC — SUNSET ROUTE
ONE FARE FOR THE ROUND TRIP
$57.50
TO
California AND THE Expositions
TICKETS ON SALE DAILY
Limited to return within 90 days. Stopover all points enroute. Shortest and quickest route. Two through Steel Trains daily. Oil burning Locomotives. Electric Block Signals. Observation Cars.
Best Dining Car in America
For full information and illustrated catalogue, ask any Southern Pacific Agent or write
W. H. STAKELUM, Div. Pass. Agent, Lake Charles, La.
J. H. R. PARSONS, Gen. Pass. Agent, New Orleans, La.

THE TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY — EL PASO
Make Your Vacation Count!
Two or Three Weeks at
MINERAL WELLS
would almost make a new man of you, and a jolly, pleasant three weeks they would be, too! Low Round Trip Rates Every Day.
CITY TICKET OFFICE, 207 St. Charles Street.

EDENBORN LINE
LOUISIANA RAILWAY & NAVIGATION CO.
THE SHORT LINE :: THE POPULAR ROUTE
BETWEEN
New Orleans :: Baton Rouge : Alexandria : Shreveport
TICKETS ON SALE TO ALL POINTS NORTHWEST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS
Secure Reservations at City Ticket Office
700 GRAVIER STREET, ST. CHARLES HOTEL

You Look Prematurely Old
Because of those ugly, grizzly gray hairs. Use "LA CREOLE" HAIR DRESSING. Price $1.00, retail.

A NOTE FROM OKLAHOMA.

Dear Brother Meek: We have just closed a truly great revival at Mill Creek, Okla. Brother J. H. Rogers, the pastor, is a transfer to this Conference from the North Mississippi Conference. He has a nice appointment, composed of Roff and Mill Creek. He thinks, taking everything into consideration, we had the most powerful meeting that he has known in Oklahoma. The town of Mill Creek was a very wicked place and widely known as such. Our church there had only a few godly people who had become so discouraged that they were about ready to disband until Brother Rogers became their pastor; and then pastor and people began praying and planning for a revival and the Lord heard their prayers. Fathers, mothers, sons, and daughters were converted and joined our Church. Bank officials and their wives, merchants, a fine doctor and family, and many others were among those added to the Church.

Roff is a nice little town of about 2000 people and had been the main point in the charge until the recent meeting, which will make Mill Creek a good half-station church.

Brother Rogers is very much loved by the people of his charge and he is doing a fine work. I am resting a few days at the parsonage with Brother and Sister Rogers, who have one of the finest families of sons and daughters I have ever known. I have an engagement to begin a meeting at Hickory, Okla., on the first Sunday in August with Pastor Forrest, of the West Oklahoma Conference.

W. D. BASS.

Roff, Okla., July 29, 1915.

SIGN YOUR NAME HERE.

If you suffer with any chronic disease that does not seem to be benefited by drugs, such as dyspepsia, indigestion, sick headache, neuralgia, rheumatism, gall stones, liver or kidney diseases, or any other chronic ailment involving impure blood, you are cordially invited to accept the liberal offer made below. It is a grave mistake to assume that your case is incurable simply because remedies prepared by human skill have not seemed to benefit you. Put your faith in nature, accept this offer, and you will never have cause to regret it.

I believe this is the most wonderful Mineral Springs that has ever been discovered, for its waters have either restored or benefited nearly everyone who has accepted my offer. Match your faith in this Spring against my pocketbook and if the water does not relieve your case I will make no charge for it. Clip this notice, sign your name, enclose the amount and let this wonderful water begin its healing work in you as it has in thousands of others.

Shivar Spring,
Box 17A, Shelton, S. C.

Gentlemen:

I accept your guarantee offer and enclose herewith two dollars for ten gallons of Shivar Mineral Water. I agree to give it a fair trial, in accordance with instructions contained in booklet you will send, and if it fails to benefit my case you agree to refund the price in full upon receipt of the two empty demijohns which I agree to return promptly.

Name .....

Address .....

Shipping Point.....

(Please write distinctly).

Note: The Advertising Manager of the New Orleans Christian Advocate is personally acquainted with Mr. Shivar. You run no risk whatever in accepting his offer. I have personally witnessed the remarkable curative effects of this Water in a very serious case.

ST. TAMMANY CIRCUIT (LA. CONF.).

Dear Dr. Meek: We held our first meeting on this circuit last week at Bush Church. Rev. D. L. Griffin, of Slidell, did the preaching and it was well done. We had good crowds and much interest was manifested. Dear old Brother Alford, a local preacher from Mississippi, was with us also. We had 4 accessions to the church, baptized 2 infants, and got a batch of subscribers to the Advocate; so you see, all the interests of the Church were looked after. At the close of the meeting we asked the men to meet us on the following Thursday night. There were about 35 men and boys present at the service. We talked to them a little while from Isaiah 13:12: "I will make a man more precious than fine gold," and tried to show man's worth and his relation to heaven, and then called on everyone for an expression of his desire and hope of heaven, and we went away feeling it was good to be there. Success to the Advocate.

J. S. RUTLEDGE, P. C.

NOT WORK, BUT WORRY THAT KILLS.

Work is the natural, or, as physicians say, the physiological means for the development of our nerves and muscles. It is absolutely essential to their health and growth, but when work is carried to an extreme and the nerves and muscles become exhausted, then worry sets in, and it is the worry that kills.

Physicians tell us that the human body is like a delicate machine. If the oil on the bearings is exhausted friction develops, which, if not promptly relieved, will soon wear out the working parts and wreck the machine. So when you find that your physical or mental work is becoming burdensome, when you are worrying more than you are working, it is a good sign that your nerves and muscles need a little more lubricant.

According to Dr. Hollingworth of Columbia University, the caffein contained in coffee, tea and Coca-Cola acts in the nature of a lubricant in relation to the nerves and muscles, enabling them to respond more easily to the will. A similar view is expressed by Dr. Schmiedeberg, who is generally regarded as the world's leading authority on such matters. Speaking with special reference to the refreshing qualities of Coca-Cola, Dr. Schmiedeberg says: "Caffein is hence a means of refreshing bodily and mental activity so that this may be prolonged when the condition of fatigue has already begun to produce restraint and to call for more severe exertion of the will, a state which, as is well known, is painful or disagreeable."

Discussing the wholesomeness of the caffein beverages, coffee, tea and Coca-Cola, Dr. Schmiedeberg says: "This character of caffein action makes plain that these food materials do not injure the organisms by their caffein content and especially do not, by continued use, cause any form of illness."

Coca-Cola is a modified and improved form of coffee and tea. It resembles them in that it owes its refreshing qualities to the presence of caffein which it contains in approximately one-half the quantity that is contained in tea and coffee. It differs from these beverages in that it is carbonated, is flavored by a combination of ripe fruit extracts and is free from tannic acid. In the latter particular it is distinctly superior to the other caffein beverages, especially when they are improperly prepared, for the acrid taste and objectionable effects that are sometimes noted by those who use tea and coffee are due to tannic acid.

Desiring that the public shall know and understand the composition and quality of their product, the Coca-Cola Company has published a booklet containing the expert opinions of the world's leading authorities. Write for a copy. Read it carefully and understand how and why Coca-Cola is the nearest approach to a perfect solution of the world's great problem of fatigue. A copy may be had free by addressing the Advertising Managers of this paper, Messrs. Jacobs & Company, Clinton, S. C.—Adv.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE EPWORTH LEAGUE.

The Thirteenth Annual Session of the Mississippi Conference Epworth League was held in the Capitol Street Church at Jackson. The opening session of June 10 was presided over by Miss Vida Gillylen, President of the Local Chapter. The Epworth Leaguers were welcomed by all the Epworth Leagues and other young people's societies of the city. The response to these welcome addresses was made by Sam W. Kendall of Meridian, after which a "get-acquainted social" was held.

Devotional exercises for the Conference were conducted by Rev. W. N. Thomas, his theme being "Service." These devotional periods proved to be very helpful.

The reports of the officers and local chapters showed the Epworth League to be in a more flourishing condition than for a number of years.

We had with us Dr. E. H. Rawlings and Rev. J. M. Culbreth from the General Office, who rendered very valuable service. The papers and addresses at this Conference were pronounced by Dr. Rawlings and Brother Culbreth to be of the highest order. Dr. Rawlings said: "It was one of the finest groups of young people that it has ever been my pleasure to speak to."

The Leagues again assumed $500 for the African Special, and the Fourth Vice-President was instructed to collect it. About $300 of the amount was subscribed at the Conference.

There were 67 registered Leaguers in attendance. Sunday was a great day. The Leaguers attended Sunday school in the morning. The Annual sermon was preached at 11 a.m. by Rev. J. M. Culbreth. There was a rally of the local chapters at 6 p. m., and the final sermon was delivered by Rev. J. M. Culbreth in the evening.

The next session of the Conference will be held at the Seashore Camp Ground, and Biloxi will entertain the delegates. The plan is to hold it during the Seashore Assembly.

The following officers were elected: President, W. D. Hawkins, Meridian; First Vice-President, J. B. Ricketts, Jackson; Second Vice-President, Miss Laura Rankin, Gulfport; Third Vice-President, C. H. Poythress, Meridian; Fourth Vice-President, Miss Harriett Leech, Hattiesburg; Secretary, W. D. Demarchi, Meridian; Treasurer, Rev. L. F. Alford, Saucier; Junior Superintendent, Miss Vida Gillylen, Jackson; Era Agent, Miss Elsie Tucker, Vicksburg.

The following are the District Secretaries: Brookhaven, Hugh Slater, McComb; Jackson, Miss Corinne Avery, Jackson; Meridian, Miss Ada Holliday, Meridian; Port Gibson, W. W. Bouie, Vicksburg; Newton, Mrs. J. S. Purcell, Montrose; Hattiesburg, A. R. Campbell, Sumrall; Seashore, Clarence Collins, Howison.

District Junior Superintendents were chosen as follows: Brookhaven, Miss Mary Flowers, Brookhaven; Newton, Mrs. J. L. Neill, Laurel; Jackson, Miss Alma Marshall, Jackson; Hattiesburg, Miss Agnes Arnold, Hattiesburg; Meridian, Mrs. J. 1. Hunnicutt, Meridian; Port Gibson, Miss Katie Drake, Port Gibson; Seashore, Mrs. S. P. Smith, Gulfport.

W. D. HAWKINS, President

July 31, 1915.

WHAT GRANDMOTHER USED.

Ninety-four years' use will certainly prove whether or not a remedy is what it is claimed to be. That is the test that Gray's Ointment has stood—successfully. The old folks all found it the most effective cure for sores, cuts, wounds, burns, boils, carbuncles and all eruptions and abrasions of the skin. "Please send me by return mail one box of the old Gray's Ointment," writes N. B. Hoofman, Stewart, Miss. "My father used it in his family 50 years ago, and for the purpose you recommend it there is nothing in the world equal to it." Keep a box in the house. It will save you many an ache and prevent serious blood troubles. 25c a box at druggists. Get free a sample by writing W. F. Gray & Co., 806 Gray Bldg., Nashville, Tenn.

WHEN WRITING OUR ADVERTISERS PLEASE MENTION THIS PUBLICATION

ELIXIR DUCRO
ALIMENTAIRE
Sustains the Organism Without Nourishment.
Recommended for Debility, Wasting diseases, Convalescence, Old age. All druggists.
Agents: E. Fougera & Co., Inc., New York.
NO INCREASE IN PRICE

Take One Pain Pill, then—Take it Easy.

To Head-Off a Headache

Nothing is Better than

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills

They Give Relief Without Bad After-Effects.

"I can say that Dr. Miles' Remedies have been a godsend to me and my family. I used to have such terrible headaches I would almost be wild for days at a time. I began using Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and never have those headaches any more. I can speak highly of Dr. Miles' Nervine also for it cured one of my children of a terrible nervous disorder. I can always speak a good word for your Remedies and have recommended them to a good many of my friends who have been well pleased with them."

MRS. GEO. H. BRYAN,
Janesville, Iowa.

For Sale by All Druggists.
25 Doses, 25 Cents.
MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

Ruston Dist.—Third Round.

Ringgold, at Rocky Mount, Aug. 7, 8.
Cotton Valley, at Spring Hill, Aug. 9.
Sibley, at Evergreen, Aug. 14, 15.
Plain Dealing, at Walkers', Aug. 17.
Minden, Aug. 21, 22.
Winnfield, Aug. 23.
Arcadia, Aug. 25.
Jonesboro, Aug. 28, 29.
Rutson, Sept. 6.
BRISCOE CARTER, P. E.

Alexandria Dist.—Third Round.

Merryville, August 6.
Bon Ami, at Carson, August 8.
Pineville, August 12.
Hopewell, on DeRidder Mission, August 15.
Glenmora, at Oberlin, August 22.
Provincal, at Provincal, 8 p. m., August 24.
Harrisonburg, August 29.
Standard, 8 p. m., September 2.
Natchitoches, September 5.
Preaching at Campti, 8 p. m., September 5.
Eden, 8 p. m., Setember 9.
Alexandria, September 12.
H. W. MAY, P. E.

Lafayette Dist.—Third Round.

Crowley, August 7, 8.
Lafayette, August 8, 9.
New Iberia, August 14, 15.
Vermilion, at Perry, August 15, 16.
Lake Charles, August 21, 22.
Bell City, at West Lake, August 22, 23.
French Mission, at Port Barre, August 28, 29.
Rayne, September 4, 5.
Indian Bayou, September 5, 6.
Acadia, at Prudhomme, September 11, 12.
Sulphur and Vinton, at Vinton, September 18, 19.
Evangeline, at Ville Platte, September 25, 26.
Washington and Chicot, at Bethel, September 26, 27.
Franklin, Wednesday, September 29.
JAMES J. HOFFPAUIR, P. E.
Indian, Bayou, La.

Shreveport Dist.—Third Round.

Noble, at Bayou Scie, Aug. 7, 8.
Many, at New Hope, Aug. 8, 9.
Cedar Grove, Aug. 11.
Bossier City, Aug. 13.
Logansport, Aug. 14, 15.
Longstreet, at Longstreet, Aug. 15, 16.
Conference at Texas Avenue, Aug. 18.
Anacoco, at Hornbeck, Aug. 21, 22.
Zwolle, Aug. 22, 23.
Bayou Lachute, at Taylortown, Aug. 25.
South Mansfield, at South Mansfield, Aug. 28, 29.
Mansfield, Aug. 29, 30.
First Church, Shreveport, Sept. 1 and 5.
Grand Cane, at Keithville, Sept. 5, 6.
Leesville, Sept. 19.
Mooringsport, Sept. 21.
Vivian, Sept. 22.
Wesley, Sept. 25, 26.
Coushatta, Sept. 26, 27.
J. S. Noel, Jr., Memorial, Sept. 29.
WM. H. COLEMAN, P. E.

Monroe Dist.—Third Round.

Winnohow, at Boeuf Prairie, Aug. 8.
Brooklyn, at B., Aug. 10.
Mangham, at Little Creek, Aug. 14, 15.
Rayville, p. m., Aug. 15.
Sicily Island, at Clayton, Aug. 16.
Oak Grove, at Midway, Aug. 20.
Taliulah, at Bayou Videi, Aug. 22.
Gilbert, at Holly Grove, Aug. 29.
Farmerville, at F., Sept. 1.
Lake Providence, Sept. 5.
Monroe, Sept. 6.
West Monroe, Sept. 12.
WM. SCHUHLER, P. E.

Baton Rouge Dist.—Third Round.

Amite, Aug. 5.
Franklinton Ct., at Varnado, Aug. 7, 8.
Franklinton and Zona, Aug. 9.
Keener Memorial, Aug. 12.
Covington, at Mandeville, Aug. 14, 15.
St. Francisville, at Wilhelm, Aug. 21, 22.
Zachary, at Slaughter, Aug. 23.
Wilson, Aug. 28, 29.
Baton Rouge, First Church, Aug. 30.
H. W. BOWMAN, P. E.

Whenever You Need a General Tonic Take Grove's

The Old Standard Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic is equally valuable as a General Tonic because it contains the well known tonic properties of QUININE and IRON. It acts on the Liver, Drives out Malaria, Enriches the Blood and Builds up the Whole System. 50 cents.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONF.

Durant Dist.—Third Round.

Vaiden, at Vaiden, August 7, 8.
Pickens, at Ebenezer, August 14, 15.
West, at Bowling Green, August 21, 22.
Bellefontaine, at Long Branch, Sat., August 28.
Slate Springs, at Spring Hill, August 29.
Eupora and Maben, at Maben, August 31.
Sidon, at Abiaca, September 5.
Louisville and Rocky Hill, at Louisville, September 11, 12.
Kosclusko Circuit, at Salem, September 18, 19.
Kilmichael, at Salem, Friday, September 24.
Poplar Creek, at Friendship, September 26.
W. S. SHIPMAN, P. E.

Holly Springs Dist.—Third Round.

Paris, at Shady Grove, August 14, 15.
Pine Valley, at Banner, August 15, 16.
Coffeeville, at Gray Rock, August 17.
Toccopola, at Liberty, August 21.
Randolph, at Hunter's Chapel, August 22, 23.
Byhalia, at Emory, August 28, 29.
R. A. TUCKER, P. E.

Corinth Dist.—Third Round.

Hickory Flat, at Palestine, August 6.
Myrtle, at Pleasant Hill, August 7.
Ripley and Blue Mountain, at Blue Mountain, August 8, 9.
Dumas, at Wyatts Chapel, August 10.
Chalybeate, at Ebenezer, August 14, 15.
Ripley Circuit, at Falkner, August 15, 16.
Belmont, at New Hope, August 20.
Tishomingo, at Paradise, August 21, 22.
J. H. MITCHELL, P. E.

Aberdeen Dist.—Third Round.

Greenwood Springs, at Pleasant Grove, August 7, 8.
Smithville, at Paine Memorial, August 12.
Okolona Circuit, at Boone Chapel, August 14, 15.
Tremonte, at Mount Olive, August 21, 22.
Fulton, at New Salem, August 26.
Verona, at Plantersville, August 25-29.
Prairie, at Strong, September 4, 5.
Tupelo, September 6.
Montpeiler, at Fosters Chapel, September 11, 12.
Buena Vista, September 13.
JNO. W. BELL, P. E.

Religious Papers Look Into Pellagra Remedy.

J. B. Keough, a special investigator appointed by the Religious Press Advertising Syndicate to look into the merits of Baughn's Pellagra Treatment of Jasper, Ala., reports that there is no doubt this new treatment cures pellagra. He says he has satisfied himself that the company has cured hundreds of cases of pellagra and that in the few cases where the medicine has been taken too late to effect a cure, the money has been refunded.

This company has issued an important book on the treatment of pellagra in which they show that they can cure pellagra and also agree to refund every cent in case they do not cure the disease. If you have pellagra, why suffer longer when this real cure is at hand. Write for the booklet today. Address American Compounding Co., Box 587-X, Jasper, Ala.—Advertisement.

MILLSAPS COLLEGE, Jackson, Miss.

A. F. WATKINS, President.

A HIGH GRADE COLLEGE

Situated at the Capital of the State. Location high, dry and healthful. Entrance requirements and curriculum same as in other leading Colleges and Universities, North and South. The very finest moral and religious influences. Courses leading to A.B., B.S., A.M., M.S. and LL.B. degrees.

MILLSAPS PREPARATORY SCHOOL.—Under separate Faculty and Dormitory Management. Unsurpassed training for College.

MILLSAPS LAW SCHOOL.—Offering extraordinary advantages. Superior Faculty; Law Libraries; accessible to all Courts.

TWENTY-FOURTH SESSION BEGINS SEPTEMBER 15, 1915.

For Catalogue and other information address

J. REESE LIN, Secretary. Jackson, Miss.

HOWARD COLLEGE

IN BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA

THE Alabama Baptist college for men. Located among foothills of beautiful suburb, on two electric lines. Beautiful grounds and modern buildings and equipment. Faculty of twenty-seven teachers. Fourteen units required for admission. Sixty hours work required for graduation.

THE CLASSICS: Seventeen departments are maintained, in which one hundred and twenty-eight courses are offered. Twenty-three points required. Thirty-seven points elective.

MUSIC: Howard College is the only primarily male college in the South with a standard School of Music. Faculty of five teachers, offering voice, piano, string and wind instruments and theory. Courses count toward college degree.

JOURNALISM: Howard College is the only institution in the South Atlantic States offering courses in Journalism. Theoretrical and practical work offered under successful newspaper man.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION: Howard College is the only institution in the Birmingham district with an approved Department of Education. Graduates may procure first grade certificate to teach in State.

ATHLETICS: College authorities encourage inter-class and inter-collegiate athletics. Institution is a member of the Southern Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association. Two coaches employed.

Seventy-fourth annual session begins September 8, 1915.

JAMES M. SHELBURNE, President.

"He is most like to Christ who, like him, holds all the world in his heart."

WHEN THE BOY GROWS UP.

Will he look back from the vantage point of thirty and feel that you were a wise parent in the selection of a school for him, or will he think that if you had given his case more careful attention you would have placed him in a school where he would have received better training?

Morgan School, Fayetteville, Tenn.
R. K. MORGAN, Principal

The thoughtful, considerate parent feels that the school to which he sends his son must be equipped and its faculty chosen with the primary end of training the boy to become a man—to teach true Christian faith, to develop manly independence and self-confidence, to inspire high ideals of life and service, to strengthen and develop mind and body alike.

Such an institution is the Morgan School, of Fayetteville, Tenn., which has been built up around the Christian character and wholesome, inspiring personality of Mr. Robert K. Morgan, who has been principal for 25 years. Graduating from the Webb School, Belibuckle, Tenn., and Vanderbilt University, Mr. Morgan has devoted his life to the training of boys. He is the man to train your boy. The close, personal instruction and association with clean, high-minded men will help him wonderfully. You can get a catalogue of this school upon request addressed to Mr. L. I. Mills, Secretary Morgan School, Fayetteville, Tenn.—Adv.

MAY STILL BE A SPARK WITHIN.

One ought never go by a human being with the gospel of grace "because he is outcast and deep in sin." Jesus came to seek and save the lost! Above the entrance of a hospital in London is a significant symbol. An angel before an ash heap blowing into the embers. Below, the words: "Fositan scinti lula latet": "There may still be a spark therein." That is why we should work without ceasing and not despair of the salvation of the deeply fallen. Think of the immortal soul, of its powers in the light of eternity!—Presbyterian of the South.

Lime Medication In Tuberculosis

In the New York Medical Record of December 5, 1914, Dr. John North, of Toledo, says: "I have come to the conclusion that one of the most prominent causes (of tuberculosis) is 'lime starvation.' In all cases of incipient tuberculosis there is a deficiency of calcium. Many do not eat food containing enough lime. In such cases we must resort to lime medication."

Eckman's Alterative should be given a fair trial in such cases, because one of its chief ingredients is calcium (lime), in such combination with other remedial agents as to be easily assimilated by the average person.

Where its use is combined with proper diet, fresh air and hygienic living conditions, we believe it will prove beneficial in any case of tuberculosis.

It contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, so is safe to try. Price $1 and $2 per bottle. Sold by leading druggists or sent direct from the Laboratory. We would like to send you a booklet containing information of value and references.

ECKMAN LABORATORY,
23 N. Seventh St. Philadelphia.

It's easy to lift or move it with this—A boy becomes a giant, and lifts or pulls tons.

Cotton, Cattle, Hogs, Logs, Freight, Buildings, Machinery, Anything Heavy. Make the Windlass do the work.

Costs Little, Worth Lots

Corinth Machinery Co.,
HERCULES WINDLASS Box 6, Corinth, Miss.

TRY THE OLD RELIABLE

WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC

For MALARIA CHILLS & FEVER

A FINE GENERAL STRENGTHENING TONIC

Woman's Missionary Work

Edited by .....Mrs. R. F. Harrell, Centerville, Miss.

Conference Publicity Superintendents:

Louisiana.....Mrs. A. C. McKinney, Ruston, La.
Mississippi .....Mrs. J. L. Neill, Laurel, Miss.
North Mississippi.....Mrs. Walter Campbell, Winona, Miss.

All communications for this department should be sent to the Editor at the address given above.

THE RACE OF DISTRICT SECRETARIES IN THE NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Miss Lizzie Horn, Seretary of the Holly Springs District, at this writing is busy with her plans for Woman's Day, on July 25, and for her District Conference at Holly Springs, July 27 and 28. She writes as follows:

"With my district meeting and Woman's Day all the same month, I am indeed bnsy but I do not mind that if my efforts will only mean something to the cause. Brother Tucker has addressed a letter to each of his preachers with reference to Woman's Day, and I have mailed them campaign literature. Pray that many women may be enlisted on that day."

Miss Horn plans to go out from her district meeting with her volunteer women to every part of her unorganized territory, and she expects a number of women from her unorganized territory to attend her District Conference. She writes also, "Pray much for me on the days of my district meeting. My own strength is entirely insufficient, but my trust is in Jesus, my Savior, and I am so thankful that He never fails me."

Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, Secretary of the Greenville District, will hold her district meeting at Alligator, some time about October 1. Local conditions, and other causes, made it impossible for this meeting to be held earlier. Brother Spragins has given notice through the Advocate that Woman's Day will be observed in that district on the first Sunday in August, and Mrs. Clark writes that she has assurance of his heartiest co-operation in her work of organization. She reports a new Junior Division for her district at Benoit, and plans to do a great deal of visiting and organizing during the next two months.

Mrs. A. M. Pond, Secretary of the Winona District, spent a week in attendance upon the Interdenominational Missionary Conference at Monteagle, July 14-18. She writes: "I had a profitahie time at Monteagle, and wish that every woman in our church could have the same opportunity to hear what is being done all along the line in ali the world."

She plans to hold an all-day meeting at Itta Bena about September 12, when a picnic dinner will be served on the ground, or in the Church. She visited churches at the following places in the interest of our work before going to Monteagle: Baird, Tutwiler, Sunflower, Lambert, Dublin, and Rome, and she succeeded in organizing at several of these places, and reports a new Junior Division at Wehb and a Young People's Society at Moorhead; while she promises a Junior Division aiso at Moorhead soon. She writes on July 11: "Our pastor, Brother Ruff, heid a fine Woman's Day service yesterday. One woman who has resisted our appeals for six years was converted through and through. I wish every woman in our Conference couid hear such a sermon. The trouble is they will not come to our meetings and must therefore be taken unawares."

We hope that much good wiii result from having our preachers present our work to their congregations on Sunday at 11 a. m. As Mrs. Pond says, the great majority of our women will not attend our missionary meetings, and for that reason we are attempting to take our work to them on Woman's Day.

Miss Corinne Rogers, Secretary of the Corinth District, has just closed a most successful District Conference. Miss Mary Massey, missionary to Mexico, and who recently returned from work at El Paso, Texas; Miss Olivia Pegram, formeriy a student at the Scarritt Bible and Training School, and Deaconess Mary Daniel, from our Co-operative Home at Corinth, were in attendance upon this meeting; while a numher of young women and one preacher from the unorganized territory came to iearn how to organize in their own churches, Miss Rogers anticipated Conference and Councii plans in having enlisted volunteers and put them to work previous to the Council Meeting. In company with some of her volunteers, she went from her district meeting to organize at Tishomingo, and she had in view six new societies as a result of that district meeting. In her home church, New Albany, the missionary society is growing by leaps and bounds, and her pastor, Rev. S. L. Pope, when called away from his pulpit on Sunday at 11 a. m., gives the Missionary Society charge of that service.

Mrs. W. L. Duren, Secretary of the Columbus District, secured the largest number of voiunteer women at her District Conference recently held that has been reported to me, and she is now busy with the work of organization, and her plans for an all-day meeting to be held at West Point some time during the month of August. The plan is to hoid these aii-day meetings at a piace centraiiy located, which can be reached hy all auxiliaries in the district, either hy auto or train; then have a picnic dinner served in the church or on the ground, and make of the day a grand raiiying of our forces, from which our women wiii go out with renewed efforts for the work of organizing and rounding up our work during the fali and winter months.

Miss Eliie Willingham, Secretary of the Durant District, has put her hest efforts into her pians for the organization of her district. Literature was sent to the preachers for the observance of Woman's Day on the second Sunday in July, and voiunteers have been assigned to each church in her district without missionary societies. She writes: "Many invitations from churches in the district, saying, 'Come over and heip us,' have come to me. In fact there'd not he a church ieft if we could reach them ali. Our women and young people are anxious to help when appealed to and toid how they may."

She gives news of splendid results from visits to Noxapater, Louisville, Rocky Hill and Ackerman, and has pians for organizing at Weir, and reorganizing at Maben and Mathiston. She reports a new society out from Vaiden, and a Young People's society with 25 members as a result from her pastor's sermon on Woman's Day at Eupora.

Mrs. J. H. Haughton, Secretary of the Aberdeen District, is enthusiastic over the outlook for her all-day meeting to be held at Amory on August 6. The Amory people have extended a most cordial invitation and wiii serve dinner in the dining room of their elegant new church. Announcements in regard to the meeting have been sent to all local newspapers in the district, to the New Orleans Christian Advocate, and to the Commercial Appeal. The main feature of the program for the day will be reports from volunteer workers, and praise, testimony, and consecration services. We have promise that a great crowd will attend this meeting, and we are praying for a fresh anointing for service.

Mrs. D. B. High, Secretary of the Sardis District, visited quite a number of auxiliaries early in the summer, and she is now busy with her plans for organizing at a number of churches, immediately following the observance of Woman's Day in her district, on the first Friday in August. She is also using volunteer women and reports several new organizations and a Junior Division at Senatohia, as a result from her enthusiastic District Conference, which was the first heid and the best attended of any yet held. She plans to hold an all-day meeting some time in the early fall.

The District Secretaries have been so faithful, the women of the auxiliaries have so readily volunteered when appealed to, the presiding elders have so gladly responded to our plans for Woman's Day and so many preachers are also nobly responding, that my heart is filled with praise and adoration to the Giver of every good and perfect gift.

Mrs. VIC THOMPSON HOYLE,
President Woman's Missionary Society of North Mississippi Conference.

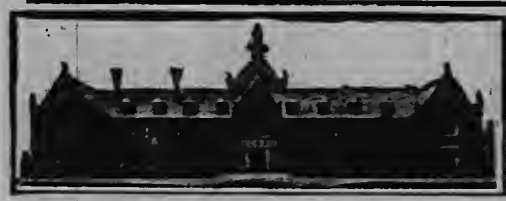
BLACKSTONE COLLEGE FOR GIRLS, Blackstone, Va.
JAMES CANNON Jr. A. M. D. D. President

Established 1894

Faculty of 33; 427 Students, from 20 States. Accredited by Virginia State Board of Education. Hundreds of graduates now teaching. $160 pays charges in Academic Department; $200 in College Department.

The Leading Training School for Girls in Virginia

Where can parents find a college with as fine a record, with such experienced management, at such moderate cost? For catalogue and application blank address GEO. P. ADAMS, Secretary, Blackstone, Va.



WOMAN'S COLLEGE OF ALABAMA

An A-Grade College offering the special advantage of a beautiful suburban location in Montgomery—a city of rare health, culture and beauty. The health and freedom of the country combine the inspirational and educational incentives of a model city.

87 acres of beautiful campus. Recreation and out-door exercises in Golf, Tennis, Basket Ball. Swimming Pool. Splendid college buildings and equipment. Standard courses, A. B. degree. Home Economics a feature. Strong Conservatory of Music.

One girl from each high school in Ala. given scholarship, reducing cost of tuition. 10 Scholarships for honor graduates in adjoining states.

For Catalogue and View Book, write

M. W. SWARTZ, President, . . . MONTGOMERY, ALA.

MEMPHIS CONFERENCE FEMALE INSTITUTE

Historic College for Young Ladies of the South

Established in 1837, chartered in 1843. An honorable history of splendid achievement. All denominations attend. Located in Jackson, Tennessee, a town of 20,000, which boasts of never having had an epidemic. Offers a health record unsurpassed anywhere. In a community of beautiful homes, intelligent, refined people, deeply religious tendencies and a marked "school atmosphere." A safe home school in every respect, providing perfect conditions for thorough education.

Beautiful shaded grounds equipped with tennis courts, etc., in the heart of the city, affording every opportunity for healthful outdoor exercise together with the inspiring and cultural influences of the city. A completely equipped and well appointed brick building of size, electric lighted, hot and cold water, plenty of light and ventilation. A gymnasium. Wonderful chalybeate well near.

(A. B. and B. L. Literary Courses.) Thirteen competent instructors. A conservatory of music, conducted by artists of highest reputation, offering great opportunities in Piano, Voice, Violin and Harmony. Splendid Schools of Expression, Art and Dressmaking. Educational trips to Memphis and St. Louis a feature of next session. Terms moderate. Attendance doubled last two years.

For Descriptive Catalogue and 1915-16 announcement, Address

Rev. Henry G. Hawkins, A. B., President, Jackson, Tenn.

THE SEASHORE CAMP MEETING.

The Seashore Camp Meeting of 1915 has been a season of the most enjoyable revival of Christian faith. There was no undue excitement during the services, but there was fixed attention during the sermons by intelligent, appreciative congregations.

The camp meeting was under the leadership of three presiding elders: Dr. W. H. Hnntley (Miss.), Rev. W. W. Holmes (La.). Dr. Frazer (Ala.)

Rev. W. F. Fraser of Georgia, who is the presiding elder of Oxford District, and who has been a member of the North Georgia Conference for thirty years, did the preaching.

For the information of those not present, it may be known that Dr. Fraser is a preacher of the old school, a man of stalwart mien, who has a splendid voice, good delivery, and an ideal temperament which is always evident. Dr. Fraser took texts, and then expounded them as Bible pictures, on a homely basis; yet, oftimes throwing a glamor over the scene, as if it were a vision depicted on the plain boards of the tabernacle; while never hesitating to denounce sin with just vigor, in loud, resonant tones calling on God, or giving forth halleiujahs.

Perhaps the most powerful sermon Dr. Fraser preached was from the text, "Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye first believed?" It was a question put with stirring fervor, and produced a marked effect. Though all present were members of the Church, many went to the altar and renewed their vows. Every morning and evening, Dr. Fraser asked those who desired prayers or wished to renew their covenants with God to come to the aitar, and there kneit thereabout a contrite crowd, and often deep feeling found expression in tearful eyes. The closing service was held on Tuesday evening, on which occasion Dr. Fraser preached as one inspired, using as his text, II Timothy, 4:6 and 7. He spoke as a Christian warrior, strong in the faith.

After the sermon there was a short experience meeting in which quite a number testified that they had been greatly uplifted by the sermons during the meeting. Dr. W. H. Huntley and Rev. W. W. Holmes spoke fervently of the benefit the camp meeting had been to them, and Dr. Fraser testified that during his week's ministry he had been revived and would return to his peopie in Georgia with renewed strength and faith.

Nor should we negiect to mention the sweet children's meeting heid at 3 p. m. All the chiidren were much interested and several little ones answered questions promptly, thereby showing their home training. Dr. Fraser aiso preached at Beauvoir.

It may be said that camp meetings are not going out of date, but are receiving a spiritual impetus.

Miss BELLE D. PENNINGTON.
Seashore Camp Ground, Biloxi, Miss.

THE AFRICAN SPECIAL.

Dear Feilow-Leaguers: As you know, our pledge from the Mississippi Conference Epworth League to the "Africa Special" is $500 and it is due Sept. 1, 1915. We must have the money in hand by that time and I write to urge that you put forth every effort to pay your piedge by September 1, if you have made one; and I beseech you, if you have not made a piedge to this great work, to make a piedge NOW and see that it is paid by September 1. It is a privilege to have a share in the Master's work; and, since the Epworth Leagues of Southern Methodism have undertaken the responsibility of raising the budget for Africa, known as the "Africa Special," we must be equal to our responsibiiity and pay our pledge of $500 in fuil by the time that it is due. Send the amount of your pledge to Rev. L. F. Alford, Saucier, Miss., who is our Conference League Treasurer, and send the record of your pledge to the writer.

The following is a statement of the pledges paid in thus far:

Central Methodist Lcague, Meridian	$23.50
Miss Rosalie Edwards, Meridian	5.00
South Side League, Meridian	10.00
Capitol St. League, Jackson	22.00
Broad St. League, Hattiesburg	20.00
Popiar Springs League, Meridian	20.00
Jefferson St. League, Natchez	10.00
Miss Kate Brown, Normai Coiiege, Hattiesburg	5.00
Brookhaven Leagne	22.00
Rankin St. League, Jackson	10.00
Galloway Mem. League, Jackson	20.00
Crawford St. League, Vicksburg	20.00
Moss Point League	10.00
Saucier League	10.00
Port Gibson League	4.00
Totai	$211.50

Only $211.50 of our pledge of $500 has been paid. So you see we must get to work in dead earnest in order to raise the remaining $288.50 by September 1, 1915.

Wiii you as a Leaguer do your part, and see to it that your League does its part? Yours in the work,

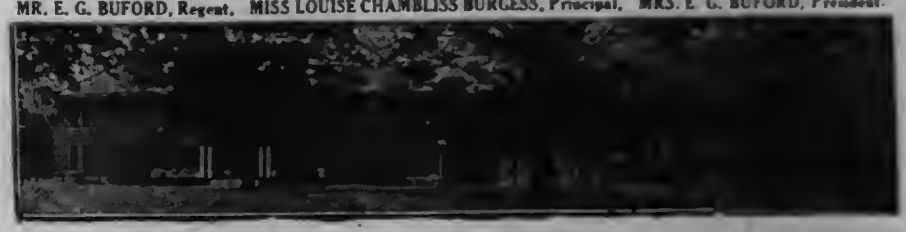
HARRIET LEECH,
Fourth Vice President Mississippi Conference Epworth League.
Hattiesburg, Miss., Station A.

Buford College, - Nashville, Tenn.

Select Home College For The Higher Culture Of Women. 25th Opening, Sept. 23, 1915

Ideal location, excellent equipment, splendid opportunities. Highland Park of 140 Acres, in twenty minutes of the "Athens of the South". Thoroughly Christian. Student Body 160. Patronage 32 States. Faculty 15. Two-Year Preparatory. Four-Year A. B. College Course. University Equip Course. Conservatory advantages in Language, Literature, Art, Music, Expression, Domestic Science. Sanitation practically perfect. Physical Culture and Character Building emphasized. $300. A. B. Post Graduate Scholarship. $500. U. D. C. Scholarship. No death, elopement or casualty in history of Institution. Yearbook free.

MR. E. G. BUFORD, Regent. MISS LOUISE CHAMBLISS BURGESS, Principal. MRS. E. G. BUFORD, President.



GRENADA COLLEGE

A Christian School for Girls and Young Women.
Stands for Character, Health, Culture, Comfort.

Strong Faculty with University and Foreign Training. Buildings: Brick, Steam-heated throughout. Grounds: Ample and Beautiful.

Offers a Four-year PREPARATORY COURSE; College Course of Four Years Leads to A. B. Degree. Diplomas in PIANO, VOICE, ART, EXPRESSION, and DOMESTIC SCIENCE. Total expense for Literary Course, $210 per session of Nine Months.

Grenada, Miss., Box C. J. R. COUNTISS, President.

Martin College Pulaski, Tennessee.

A TIME HONORED AND IMPROVED COLLEGE FOR GIRLS AND YOUNG WOMEN. OPENS ITS 45TH YEAR SEPTEMBER 15, 1915.

A school devoted to the Cultural as well as the Practical Arts. A congeniality between faculty and student body that makes for ideal home life. Located in a college town of picturesque beauty and wholesome moral and physical influences.

Work arranged to fit the girl for home duties as well as advanced studies. Following departments: Preparatory; Junior College (two years); Piano; Stringed Instruments; Voice, Expression Art; Domestic Science and Art; Normal Course and Commercial. Practical and fundamental instruction in each.

New $40,000 dormitory. Campus covering an entire city block affording ample room for all out-door sports. Able faculty. High standards. Modern equipment.

Rates made low through endowment and outside income.

For Free Catalogue Write

W. T. WYNN, President,
Box J, - - - - Pulaski, Tenn.

TRINITY COLLEGE

FOUNDED 1838 CHARTERED 1859

A Christian college steadfast in its fidelity to its highest ideals and noblest traditions. Among the few well endowed Southern institutions of learning. A large faculty of thoroughly trained and wisely chosen teachers. Excellent new buildings, beautiful and large campus. Modern laboratories and fine library.

Classical and scientific courses leading to the bachelor's degree. Graduate courses in all departments. Schools of Engineering, Education and Law.

Special attention given in the Biblical Department to the wise training of young ministers.

For catalogue and illustrated booklet address

R. L. FLOWERS,
Secretary to the Corporation, Durham, North Carolina.

A MANSFIELD FIRST CAMPAIGN.

For catalogue write MANSFIELD FIRST; for Music, investigate MANSFIELD FIRST; for Art, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Domestic Science, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Expression, MANSFIELD FIRST; for TEACHER-TRAINING, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Physical Development and Health, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Religious Teaching and Environment, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Home Life and not Dormitory, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Earnest Work, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Loyal Student Organizations, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Happy College Spirit, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Reasonable Expense, MANSFIELD FIRST;

In Thought put MANSFIELD FIRST; in Word, MANSFIELD FIRST; in Deed, MANSFIELD FIRST; in Thankfulness for a great past, MANSFIELD FIRST; in Thanksgiving for a greater present, MANSFIELD FIRST; in Hope for the greatest and best in the year to come, MANSFIELD FIRST.

When you have really and conscientiously made MANSFIELD FIRST, and you are not satisfied that MANSFIELD is FIRST, go or send elsewhere. Yours for MANSFIELD FIRST,

R. E. BOBBITT, President,
Mansfield, La.

P. S.—Names are coming and we are sowing catalogues.

A RICH MINE.

By D. B. Price.

The establishment of a regular system of birthday offerings for our Sunday schools had in view the fostering of the spirit of gratitude in the young, and the improvement of Sunday school architecture by accumulating through these offerings a great Sunday School Loan Fund, to be administered in the interest of the modern and well-equipped Sunday school building. One of the beautiful and inspiring features of a well-conducted Sunday school program is the birthday offering. This offering should be accompanied by some ceremony. The Board of Church Extension, upon request, furnishes without charge to the Sunday schools an especially designed birthday jar to be used in receiving the offerings; also copies of the "Birthday Greeting" and other publications calculated to make this feature of the program interesting and impressive.

No other division of the Church responds as readily and cheerfully to instruction and leadership as the children, and the church that in any wise neglects them will fail in the long run, whatever other virtues it may possess. The children have a right to a share in the work of the Church. The Church through its official boards should supply the literature for the school and the children should be taught and permitted to contribute to the support of the pastor, to the Superannuate Endowment Fund, to Church Extension and to Missions each one Sunday in the month, using fifth Sundays for "specials." The general custom of using the offerings of the children to meet the current expenses of the Sunday school is most reprehensible. The time has come when it should be discontinued and that without delay.

According to the General Minutes there are sixteen thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight Sunday schools in our Church. The number exclusive of schools in mission fields is sixteen thousand or more. If one-half of them would use the birthday jar and give an average of $2.50 annually, it would amount to $20,000 a year. If we were just starting the Sunday School Loan Fund, in ten years it would amount to $240,122.13, and in twenty years to $595,683.21. Think what a fund the children of to-day would have to work with as they come to maturity and to leadership in the Church! They would honor the memory of those who had so wisely directed them and made possible this great asset with which they could advance the cause of religion in this and other lands. This is the best field open to the Church's cultivation to-day, and if its leaders are sensible of it they will cultivate it thoroughly and begin at once and continue until the largest measure of success possible crowns their efforts. This is a lead that all Conferences, Sunday School Boards, Secretaries, field workers, etc., should follow. It is our duty to the children to do it, and is the surest way of supplying our denomination with churches well equipped for Sunday school work.

An exhibit of the Church's present interest in the Sunday School Loan Fund shows that sixteen Conferences are not using a single birthday jar; four only one each; four, two each; five, five each; two, six each; two, seven each; three, eight each; three, nine each; and one, ten; one, twelve; one, thirty-six, and one, seventy-four. The Conferences contributing to this fund this year ranged in amounts from $2.50 to $543.99.

The banner Conference in our connection is the West Oklahoma, which has seventy-four schools out of a total of two hundred and thirty-nine using the birthday jar, which is thirty-one per cent, and they contributed this year $543.99, or an average of $7.35 each. Now, if the same percentage of all the sixteen thousand schools in our great Church were contributing equally with the schools of the West Oklahoma Conference, the annual amount would be $35,796.00, which in ten years would amount to $428,825.51, and in twenty years to $982,015.87. These figures are so large as to stagger one and to create a doubt as to the possibility of accomplishment. Concerted and well directed, purposeful effort would accomplish it. One thing is very apparent and that is this, that if our Church does not accumulate a Sunday School Loan Fund capital of $1,000,000.00 in the next twenty-five years the dereliction will then be regarded as a reproach.

It is an opportunity to do a two-fold service—train workers and at the same time provide them with material to work with.

The prospect thrills me like a trumpet blast! May our Church see its day of opportunity, the opportunity of presenting the young life of the Church to Jesus Christ with an endowment sufficient to guarantee its perpetual training and efficiency.

The birthday jar and literature may be secured from the office of the Board of Church Extension, 1025 Brook Street, Louisville, Kentucky, on request, and without charge.

Holy Bible
THE FINEST BIBLE IN THE WORLD
FOR THE MONEY
This Photograph represents exact size 5½ x 8½ inches
Bound in French Morocco, absolutely flexible, with overlapping covers as shown in this photograph. Has red under gold edges.
IT CONTAINS
The Authorized Version of the Old Testament and New Testament
HAS
Self-Pronouncing Text
All the proper words being accented and divided into syllables for quick and easy pronunciation.
IT ALSO CONTAINS
A New Series of Helps to Bible Study
INCLUDING
4000 Questions and Answers
which unfold the Scriptures.
31 Beautiful Illustrations
showing scenes and incidents of Bible History.
12 Maps of the Bible Lands in Colors
Large Clear Type. Fine Paper
PRICE ONLY $1.20 PLUS 15 CENTS TO PAY POSTAGE
Each Bible supplied with elastic band and packed in neat box.
SEND ALL ORDERS TO
New Orleans Christian Advocate
512 CAMP STREET NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Let us send you one of these Bibles. The price is $1.35 postpaid. When remitting send us money orders or 2-cent stamps. If a personal check is sent, add 10 cents to cover cost of exchange. We have sold over 1000 of these Bibles in the last four years.

NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE

Vol. 62.—No. 32. Official Organ of the Louisiana, Mississippi, and North Mississippi Conferences, Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Whole No. 3103.

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor. NEW ORLEANS, LA., THURSDAY, AUGUST 12, 1915. CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Editorial

"The highest duties oft are found Lying upon the lowest ground."

* * *

Men who can be depended upon to stand firm after they bave taken a position are none too plentiful. They are far outnumbered by the wobblers. Standing grace is much needed in the world.

* * *

The New York Independent, speaking of what a man dares not to do in Germany, among other things, says: "He will not a second time yell and bowl where and when his howling is a public nuisance." Oh, that some of our American cities could in this respect he Germanized!

* * *

It is the Church's duty to seek to save all men; but she should not make the mistake of imagining that her true strength is in mere numbers. On the contrary, the weakness of many a flock lies in the fact tbat too many worldly people have heen gathered into it. The lesson taught in the story of Gideon and his band of three hundred has not yet by any means lost its significance. It ought to mean something for one to be a member of the Church.

* * *

It is stated that a man out of work who had gone to the Chicago River to commit suicide rescued nine persons who were about to drown when the steamsbip "Eastland" went down on July 24. Instead of a self-destroyer, who would have wrecked himself for both time and eternity, he became a hero and an instrument of blessing to others, and we dare say that he has since been a better and happier man. If people generally would live less for self and spend their strengtb and means more largely in a ministry of helpfulness to their fellow-beings, life would take on a new meaning for them and this would he a far brighter world. It is only by saving others that, in the highest sense, we can save ourselves.

* * *

The majority of the people in every age have heen inclined to he boastful. Perhaps there has never heen a generation that did not count itself superior to those that had preceded it and whicb did not insist that its future path would be ever upward; but the past is strewn with the mighty wrecks of nations and civilizations. The Dark Ages were in the Christian era. Many persons in this day are much given to a superficial prating about being optimists. Such talk is popular; but the important question is, What is there to justify it? Where is tbe proof that civilization will never again take a backward swing? No state of human society is too well established and enlightened to decay and go down in ruins if the principles of true, spiritual Christianity he forsaken. The discerning man cannot help but see tendencies in our own country that are far from reassuring.

AUSTRALASIAN METHODISTS CELEBRATING.

The Methodists of Australasia are this week celebrating the centennial of the planting of Methodism in that part of the world. The exercises were expected to begin last Sunday, and on Tuesday, August 10, "Centenary Day," Dr. W. H. Fitchett, the eminent minister, educator, and author, was scheduled to deliver tbe commemorative sermon in the Town Hall of Sydney, a city with a population of perhaps 700,000. The celebration will continue through next Sunday. Our Church is being represented on this interesting occasion hy Bisbop E. E. Hoss.

Methodism made its entrance into this far-away land in 1815, its pioneer propagandist being the Rev. Samuel Leigb, a Wesleyan preacher, who landed at Sydney on August 10 of that year. The Methodists in Australasia now number 1020 ministers, 149,767 members, 260,500 Sunday school scholars, and 630,970 attendants upon their services. An effort is being made to secure $250,000 as a centenary offering.

Methodism, under the blessings of God, is becoming increasingly a world force as the years pass.

A SUGGESTIVE INCIDENT.

The following is from a recent issue of The Lutheran:

"A young lady of the Russian nobility, and hence belonging to the Greek Churcb, has spent the best part of a year at an American seaside resort. She speaks hroken English, and is an interesting and intelligent conversationalist. Her fondness for gaiety and amusement is quite pronounced, and one would hardly suppose her to he in any sense religious. And yet she regards herself as a devout and loyal member of the Greek Church, and reveals at times an inner spiritual longing which does not always come to the surface. A long absence from her own Church made her feel tbe need of some spiritual message, and sbe requested a friend to take her to one of the Protestant seashore churches. As was natural, the barren service, and the free and easy manner of conducting it, did not appeal to her. The people seemed to her to act very much as they do in a public hall, and there seemed to her to he a woeful lack of real reverence. When the service was over, her friend asked her how sbe liked the sermon. 'Sermon,' said she. 'I no like that kind.' He talk too much of the world. I go to church to hear preacher talk God to me. We need not the world; we need God.' Here is a voice from far-off Russia, benighted Russia, cold and formal and dead religiously. It tells us wbat is wrong with much of our Protestant (or more correctly, un-Protestant) preaching."

What a message is this to Christian ministers! Oh, brethren, we could scarcely make a greater mistake than to turn aside from the mighty issues that cluster about God, the deathless human soul, and eternity, to discuss the superficial and ephemeral happenings that are going on about us. The people in the pews are far more hungry for spiritual instruction and comfort than many imagine. And too often it is the case that when they come desiring bread, they are given stones. The glorious truths of the Gospel never needed to be preached in their purity, simplicity, and full meaning more than they do to-day. Men are perishing for the want of such messages. A secularized pulpit is a shame and a reproach, when there are those everywhere who are saying, "Sirs, we would see Jesus." And even if they did not desire to see him, for one of his ambassadors not to lift him up and point to him as humanity's only and all-sufficient Savior would be an awful betrayal of a sacred trust. The Day of Judgment will disclose no more pathetic and pitiable figure than the faithless preacher who from the sacred desk sought to glorify himself, forgetting alike his Lord and the true needs of his immortal fellow-beings, who there will confront him and hear witness against him. It is a tremendous responsibility to stand as God's spokesman to fallen men, and woe be unto him who trifles with it!

THE LAMAR LAW SCHOOL.

The Methodist News Bureau, at Nashville, Tenn., has sent out the following statement:

"'Bishop Candler has lately received several donations for the foundation of the L. Q. C. Lamar Law School, the law department of Emory University. From a prominent lawyer came a gift of $2000, and other donations have heen received. The Methodist lawyers of the eastern section of our Church's territory could easily provide the foundation for a law school at Emory University that will rank with the best of the country. And the name 'L. Q. C. Lamar' should appeal to many who are not Methodists.'

Mississippians should have a large part in the establishment of this school. Though a Georgian by birth, Mr. Lamar lived and wrought chiefly in Mississippi. It is with her history that his great fame is most inseparably linked, and it is beneath her soil that he sleeps the last long sleep. There are many worthy and distinguished Methodist lawyers in the Magnolia State, and we trust that some of them will speedily give this movement their active assistance. For this School of Law to be endowed and opened at Emory University, unaided hy the people of the commonwealth that Mr. Lamar loved so devotedly and served so nobly, would he to them a lasting reproach.

MARCHING TO THE TOMB.

It is stated that last year every twenty-five minutes an old grog shop passed by on the way to the boneyard (57 a day); that every three days a brewery or distillery was driven out of business, and that nine States joined the prohibition column. Thus is John Barleycorn swiftly marcbing to the tomb.

A LITTLE THING.

By B. F. Kidder, S. T. D.

It seems a little thing
For Night from out her misty bower
To tiny cup of wayside flower
A drop of dew to bring,
Then softly steal away;
And yet the little flower will sing
The praises of Night's offering
The happy, livelong day.

It seems a little thing
For some unknown Samaritan
To have compassion on a man,
A stranger, suffering
From wounds and left to die;
And yet angelic choirs will sing
The praises of that little thing
To all eternity.

'Tis not a little thing
That He who dwells within the veil
Of highest heaven should never fail
To grieve o'er broken wing
Of sparrow, or to share
The deep heart-throbs of those who cling
To hopes and loved ones perishing,
And hold all in His care.

Then why say "little thing"
Of any good that may be done,
Of any race that may be run,
To cause one heart to sing,
By act of kindness shown?
With praises of such little thing
Will heaven's arches some time ring,
When Christ shall claim his own.

—Northwestern Christian Advocate.

WHAT WE LIVE ON.

In the corner of a coal-merchant's office was a small book shelf and on the shelf a few worn volumes—a story by Scott, books of poetry, selections from Tyndall and some histories. "Do you read those books here?" asked a caller. "Yes," replied the merchant, "I try to find some time for them. I sell coal for a living, but I cannot live on coal." One high use of the Church is to remind us of certain needs we commonly forget. Business is so engrossing as to obscure the fact that business is but a means to an end. And the good bread and butter, with accessories, which business success provides, are still merely means to an end. The great business of life is to live. And it still remains true that "man cannot live by bread alone." The Church stands for some of the things without which man cannot live his whole life. Sometimes the din of business and the clamor of social life put the soul to sleep. But a soul asleep is still a soul. Its first need is an awakening. One use of the Church is to achieve that.—George Clarke Peck.

RELIGION IN THE HOME.

The famous John Randolph said: "I should have been an atheist had it not been for the recollection and memory of the time when my mother used to take my little hand in hers and cause me on my knees to say, 'Our Father who art in heaven.'"

The most essential element in the development of ideal home life is religion. Its absence is the certain mark of weakness and decay.

What is termed home may be a magnificent pile of stone, situated on a commanding eminence, facing the finest street in the great city, with all the advantages and luxuries that wealth can furnish, but it is a poor sort of place if its doors are closed in the face of Jesus Christ and its walls never echo to the sound of prayer.

We need not worry concerning the future of our country if we shall have an ever-increasing number of homes where moral ideals are high, where true love reigns in the hearts of fathers and mothers and children, where the sacred fire of heaven burns upon the altar, where God is honored and worshiped.

In the family circle of prayer the lasting foundations of character are laid and eternal destinies are determined. How many a person is profoundly thankful to God for a father and a mother who believed with all their hearts in prayer and who would allow nothing to interfere with seasons for worship in the home! There are thousands who will testify that the unquenchable influence of the old home religion is supreme among all the factors that have shaped their careers.

Favored indeed is the young man who has been reared in a home of prayer; who, year after year, even from the early days of childhood, was accustomed to the reverent assembling of the family, morning and evening, for prayer and the reading of God's Word; who, during all the years, listened to the daily accents of prayer from the lips of father or mother; who was himself trained to read the Bible and to pray, and to place highest values upon spiritual things. It is possible that such a young man, when he is separated from the blessed influence of the old home, may depart in considerable measure from the paths he was taught to tread. But the ties that unite him to the old home altar are mighty and strong, so strong that the devil himself cannot break them. In time the cheap blandishments and soul-wrecking pleasures of the far country lose their charm, the "mystic chords of memory" are swept by unseen hands, and the wanderer returns to his Father. There is nothing that so baffles the prince of darkness as a home from which the incense of daily prayer ascends to God.

Is there anything so much like heaven as the ideal home? We cannot think of heaven without picturing the home folks coming together again. Jesus says that in the Father's house are many mansions, and the saying suggests the thought that heaven must be a very homelike place.—The United Presbyterian.

AFTER THE RAIN, SUNSHINE.

By Dr. John T. Sawyer.

After the rain came the sunshine. For weeks the waters of the upper deep had been falling, with an occasional brief stoppage. The last night all went to sleep, with the rain, as before, pattering on the roof, expecting that in the morning, as a matter of course, the liquid drops would still be falling. Instead, the glorious old sun of creation's morn was shedding his cheerful beams on the wet earth and into the heart of every thankful child of God. How happy we are to write that after the rain has come the sunshine! Since God set the sun to run his appointed course, how often, through the centuries and in all lands, has his coming after the rain been the joy of human hearts! How Noah must have rejoiced when the floods were stayed and, safe in the God-provided ark, he floated on the waters, he and they enfolded in God's blessed sunshine!

So, in the lives of men and nations, after floods of disaster there has come the shining of the sun, brimful of cheer, and filling with hope the men or the nation at the point of despair. Battle after battle has been lost, and then it has been that the last effort of freedom has brought the blessed sunshine, the glorious light of a complete victory, deciding the war. The inventor, seeking to bring before the world the ideal in his mind, had seemingly no end of difficulties in his way; but at last the persistent thinking and tireless experimenting crowned his efforts with success. For him the rain had ceased and the sun was shining. Some reformer has proposed a course of action, unwelcome it may be, but greatly needed by his fellow-men. How much careful nursing there must be, and how much defending and pushing of it straight on, until at last it wins its way, growing and developing until it rises before the eye in its full power! How flooded with sunshine is the heart of that stubborn reformer as he beholds his thought molding a government or changing the habits and life-currents of a nation!

Well, it seems that for us all there must be rain, and plenty of it, and I am sure it helps to make the sun's shining the more welcome when it comes. How with an eternal brightness did the long, rainy night of man's woe and the black clouds of God's wrath give way at the cross of Calvary, for then and there that other God-given Sun, the Sun of righteousness, arose "with healing in his wings." Looked at in his beams, how full of light is the passage, "Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted." See that one mourning over his sins, bewailing his guilt, his very soul drenched with heartfelt penitence, and the driving storm of divine wrath holding him at its mercy. There is no light and no hope in him, nor for him in any other mere man; but, "feeling after God if happy he may find him," he nears the cross where "God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself." He there finds light and hope: for as he looks in faith on the crucified One the healing beams lovingly find their way into his soul and he is all light within, "the love of God" being "shed abroad in his heart by the Holy Ghost." After the drenching rains, there has come to him the Sun of Righteousness, healing his soul.

The mother surrenders to death her precious babe. She feels that her own life has gone with her child. The pitiless rains of her grief know no stopping until she remembers her sympathizing Lord, and that he said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." She remembers, too, that he was "a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief," and so she draws nigh to him with her great sorrow, telling Jesus of it. How full of blessed light and comfort is her heart as she talks the matter over with her Lord! She will soon be thanking God, as by faith and taught of Christ, she beholds her babe nestled in the Savior's arms, folded to the breast of infinite love. Ah! how the rain did beat upon her! But then the blessed sunshine came stealing into her poor heart, and, sweetly submissive, you can hear her say from the very depths of her being: "The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord."

As the day follows the night, so does the sun shine out after the rain. The writer is reveling in the sun's warmth and brightness to-day, and, taking the lesson for his own comfort, he would say to all who will listen: never despair, but trust God to the end; for the rains of difficulty, disappointment, and affliction are followed in this life by the cheerful sunshine. And this, should it happen that we scarcely ever see the sun of prosperity while on our way thither, if we live the life that is "hid with Christ in God," we shall in eternity enjoy the high noon of God's immediate presence and enfolding love. We must not forget that "our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory."

"Dark though the way, yet the Lord will provide Light that will shine at the calm eventide;
Portals of glory wide open will stand.
Beautiful gates of the bright Morning Land."

Verily, after the rain, the sun shines.

New Orleans, La.

BUY LUMBER FROM
W. W. CARRE CO., Ltd.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

COTTAGE COLONY, NEAR HAMMOND, LA.
FOR THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.
Pine forest, artesian water, hot and cold baths, no dust or noise. Physicians' attention, Graduate nurse's service and drugs furnished.
Rates, $10 per Week and Up.
Address Dr. E. L. McGehee, Hammond, La.
City Office, 923 Maison Blanche Bldg.

A MOST DISTRESSING SITUATION.

Rev. Robt. C. Elliot, our heroic missionary in Mexico City, has stood at his post during all the trying times of the last year in Mexico. At times it has been impossible to communicate with him, but he has not faltered with all the perils and privations around him.

I have just received a letter from him under date of June 17 from which I extract the following:

"The misery and want we witness here daily is appalling. The cry of the poor is for bread. Some of our own members have been trying to keep body and soul together on three tortillas a day. I have begged and borrowed some money and bought corn and beans at wholesale, when it has been possible to get these precious articles. These I retail at the same price to our poor people. Some are so poor that they are unable to pay anything. A great number of families are now depending entirely upon us. The Municipal Authorities and the Charitable Committees are not able to cope with the enormous crowds who clamor for food. I have appealed to some of our Sunday schools and Leagues in the States for small contributions for food, but have not yet received any answers. I certainly hope the situation will change for the better before I have to leave."

In another letter of a little later date he writes that the distress has increased. He says coffee is selling at $4 a pound, tea at $16 a pound, and eggs at 25 cents each, while other articles are proportionately high. He goes on to say, "For several days there has been no corn to be had for our poor people, so I borrowed $180 and invested it in corn meal, and $175 in beans. I wish I had $500 to invest in food."

Within the last few days communication has been established with Brother Elliot and if money were in hand much might be done to help him to relieve the hungry multitudes by which he is surrounded. Money sent to me or to Mr. J. D. Hamilton, Treasurer of our Board of Missions at Nashville, Tenn., will be forwarded to Brother Elliott as speedily as conditions will permit.

Atlanta, Ga. W. A. CANDLER.

"A CALL TO THE CHURCH WORKERS OF NORTH MISSISSIPPI."

In the very able and timely article under this heading, by Judge E. V. Hughston, in the Advocate of July 22, there is much to commend. In one particular I think a little different viewpoint might be wisely taken. It is a review of Rev. J. W. Dorman's address to the Sardis District Conference. The statistical figures, no doubt correct, are so stated, we think, as to be misleading. For instance, it is affirmed that there are 6000 white Methodists in the district, and 12,000 in the other denominations, making 18,000 white church members in a total white population of 50,000, leaving 32,000 non-church people. The reader is led to believe that there are 32,000 people in that district subjects of gospel grace, who have given no heed to gospel claims.

This is clearly misleading. Now, there are certainly as many Methodist children under 5 years old as there are Methodist members. That makes 12,000 people, presumably just where they should be—in and under the guardianship of the Church. A parity of conditions in the other Churches makes 24,000 under Church influence. Altogether, then, we have in the Sardis district 36,000 people properly under Church influence out of the total white population of 50,000, leaving 14,000 not under Church control. Of this non-church population, there must be at least 4000 children not yet subjects of gospel call. That leaves 10,000 in the district to be classed as outsiders. The conditions no doubt are approximately the same in all the districts.

It is a matter of general lament that the Church is lagging, that both pulpit and pew are failing to live and work up to the high privileges we have. Discussing the why of this, Brother Hughston, with fine discrimination and good force, points out some of the principal defects in our work. He says: "The small concern of the laity in Church work is largely due to the fact that the Church does not put forth as much effort in training the laity in real service as it does in securing additions to the Church rolls. It lays greater stress on additions to the Church than on the efficiency of its members. No adequate means are used for keeping in touch with the new convert and keeping alive the fires that have been kindled within."

This is splendid. We have stressed the duty of joining the Church until the average hearer thinks this is the main thing to be done. Consequently, when he joins the Church he thinks he has about done his duty. Evangelists have for twenty years been exploiting the forces of the Church to secure additions as the main gage of their efficiency.

It is now time for pastors, lay leaders, and all spiritually-minded workers to take up in the spirit of the Master the work of personal training. He spent four years in training the twelve to "be fishers of men," and, in consequence, turned into proper channels a force the like of which the world had never before felt. To secure the highest efficiency of each member of the Church is what we need above all else. With this accomplished, the world would witness another Pentecostal era.

But hear Brother Hughston again: "Why are the laity more concerned in money-making and pleasure-seeking than in Christian work? Are they not to a large extent taught that money is the chief object in life? Has not the Church of to-day become to a considerable extent commercialized, and does not the average Church worker think more and talk more of finances than of the spiritual uplift of man? Do not our Churches and Conferences discuss finances and financial systems, and the means of raising funds for the support of our institutions, more than they do the means of training the membership to efficient service?"

The mistake at this point is not in trying to make our people liberal, but in losing sight of the power which, above all else, makes men truly and conscientiously liberal, the power of the Holy Spirit. By proper training, lead our people to become truly spiritual, truly enlightened under spiritual influences, and the money problem will take care of itself.

One more quotation: "The church member must be taught that he can rob God in other ways than in tithes and offerings; that he can rob him by burying the talent with which he has been endowed; that he can rob him by failing to use his effort and influence for the uplift of his fellow-man; that he can rob him by not attending upon his ordinances; that he can rob him by failing to give him his life and service."

The proper development of efficiency in our dormant members is the most needed work of the hour, the work that would bring the most precious results. If the Editor deems this worthy of publication, we may present some practical suggestions as to methods of increasing the efficiency of our membership.

Starkville, Miss. W. S. HARRISON.

COLLEGE KILLING—WHAT SHALL WE DO ABOUT IT?

By H. Walter Featherstun, D.D.

At the Divinity School I met nearly a hundred of our preachers. But one of them dissented from the contention set forth in these articles, and he confessed that he had not read them but was only guessing at what they contained. His objections, therefore, were not weighty.

I learned also what I had already suspected—that the General Board of Education sought at the last General Conference to get the Church committed by General Conference action to the Board's policy of college-killing promulgated at its Dallas session in 1913. This brings us face to face with the ugly fact that the Board in its edict that no college failing to meet the additional conditions—the financial conditions illegally imposed by the Board, shall confer any baccalaureate degrees. That which the General Conference positively refused to do by its negative vote, declared should not be done, is now sought to be forced on the Church by a bureaucratic process. This is the situation ugly and painful as it is, it stares us in the face. It reminds us of the Vanderbilt business. It suggests that somebody on that Board has been taught the Machiavellian methods and the Jesuistic casuistry of the now dishonored Vanderbilt Board. I cannot believe it of some of the fine Christian men on that Board, whom I know and love and honor. Surely "they know not what they do." Have they been hoodwinked by some secret discipline of the Kirkland combine? Have they not some word of defense in the matter? Do they know—have they really thought of the meaning of this policy?

Well, what are we to do?

1. Let us obey the law as it is written—the expressed will of the General Conference. Let us see to it that all of our colleges meet fully the educational requirements set by "the commission of ten practical educators," provided for in Par. 469 of the Discipline.

2. Let us, as rapidly as we can, increase the general equipment of all our colleges and secure as we can their liberal endowment; but where these are wanting, and yet the college maintains a high standard in its courses of study, meeting thus the legal requirements of the "Commission," let us protect the college from the destructive policy of the Board of Education. This means: Let us obey the law of the Church and resist the illegal edicts of the Board.

3. Let us appropriate the money for education to be disbursed by the Annual Conference equitably among the colleges, permitting no discrimination against the smaller colleges which are doing the work for which the educational collection is taken. If a small college has attending it as many candidates for the ministry and mission fields and as many children of traveling preachers as has the large college, and if its needs are as great, let it share equally with the large college in the appropriations. Let the ratio be thus equitably maintained. Par. 461 of the Discipline protects us in this policy. The Annual Conference, whose colleges have boards of trustees created according to the law of the Church may appropriate its educational fund (having turned over to the General Board its pro rata) just as it sees fit. Let us guard this right and use it justly and righteously. There can be no righteous objection to this program.

Others are also pleading for the small colleges. President Blackwell, of Randolph-Macon College, in the Sunday School Magazine, July, 1915, says: "Have colleges accomplished any good in the world? If so, small colleges have done almost all of it. For, till quite recently, there were none but small colleges. All the great men of the past who were college bred came out of small colleges. Even those now in middle life who are college bred came from what would now be called small colleges. * * * Even now all the English colleges are small. Only one college at Oxford has as many as 300 students, and the college average is only 174. Evidently the English, at least, still believe in the small college. There are others who agree with the English in this particular."

Surely we should be very careful to protect and maintain our small colleges. As already shown, those who must depend upon them, the poor boys and girls are the needier and generally the best of our youth, and must be cared for. Let us ponder well these considerations.

Secular News and Comment

By R. E. Meek.

The number of gipsies in Europe is estimated at more than 900,000.

* * *

Shipbuilding is a flourishing occupation in Sweden at the present time.

* * *

New Orleans has recently strengthened her police force by adding to it a police-woman.

* * *

The tax collections on personal incomes have increased from $28,000,000 in 1914 to $41,000,000 in 1915.

* * *

Inbabitants of Mexico City are on the point of starving and food is being sent to them by our Government.

* * *

Mr. Asquith, the English Premier, is reported to be of the opinion that the present great war will be a test of the enduring power of the nations engaged in it.

* * *

The United States Federal Reserve banks have a surplus reserve of $736,000,000. Their lending resources are estimated at about three and one-half billion dollars.

* * *

On July 26 Sir James Augustus Henry Murray, editor of the Oxford English Dictionary and author of a number of historical works, died. He was born in 1837 and was knighted in 1908.

* * *

The Texas Cattle Raisers' Association has a membership of 3200 persons, who own 3,000,000 head of cattle and 30,000,000 acres of land. Their combined wealth amounts to about $700,000,000.

* * *

President Guillaume, of the Island of Haiti, has been assassinated by a mob of infuriated natives. American marines have been landed to protect the lives and property of Americans and other foreigners.

* * *

The members of the Japanese Cabinet have resigned. Their action is supposed to have been caused by the charges of bribery in the parliamentary election in March that had been made against them.

* * *

Louisiana ranks fifth among the petroleum producing States of the Union. The number of barrels of oil which she produced in 1914 is estimated at 14,309,435. This was an increase of 14.49 per cent, or about two million barrels, over her output for the year 1913.

* * *

Much of Germany's future success in the war will depend upon her ability to supply herself from time to time with the metals which are recognized as indispensable in modern warfare. The British government is alive to this fact and allows no food sent to prisoners of war in Germany to be packed in tin boxes or cans. Exports of tin to Holland and the Scandinavian countries bave also been stopped.

* * *

A third note has been sent by our government to Germany. Washington authorities think that this will be the last diplomatic effort that our government will make to get Germany to answer satisfactorily her demands. Our Government probably possesses more patience than any other nation on the globe. In fact, in this respect she seems to rival the proverbial Job. If the European nations had possessed half as much patience there would have been no war. However, should Germany fail to give a satisfactory reply to this third remonstrance of our Government, patience will cease to be a virtue and we ought at least to sever diplomatic relations with her, if nothing else is done.

Church News

Billy Sunday has made an engagement to spend seven weeks in a revival campaign in Dallas, Texas, in the fall of 1916.

* * *

Dr. W. P. Few, of Trinity College, was recently honored with the degree of LL.D. by Allegbeny College, Meadville, Pa. This distinction was well merited.

* * *

A report from Rome, Italy, states that Pope Benedict is expected to make Archbishop Irelaud, of St. Paul, Minn., a Cardinal in the near future.

* * *

The New York Christian Advocate has absorbed the Methodist Times, of Philadelphia, a well-known publication that had been in existence for about 40 years.

* * *

Bishop Murrab has been kept quite busy meeting engagements in his episcopal district through the summer. It seems to be his habit to look closely after the work committed to his bands.

* * *

Dr. W. D. Bradfield, Editor of the Texas Christian Advocate, is taking a brief vacation in Southwest Texas. It is stated that while off duty he will try his band at the fine art of angling.

* * *

Rev. Y. Kondo, a Japanese Methodist minister, has come to the United States to prosecute further his theological studies and will enter the Candler School of Theology at Atlanta this fall.

* * *

Our central congregation in Hot Springs, Ark., of which Dr. Theo. Copeland is pastor, was expected to worship in the basement of the handsome new church which they are constructing last Sunday. The entire edifice will be completed in the near future.

* * *

Bishop Bashford, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, whose work is in China, is quoted as having affirmed, in a recent missionary address at Lake Junaluska, that war between the white and yellow races is ultimately inevitable, unless more territory is given the latter.

* * *

According to Dr. John R. Stewart, who has charge of our connectional Superannuate Endowment Fund, our Church now has in hand for this cause, in cash and in various kinds of property (including that held by some of the Annual Conferences), a total of $965,588.55.

* * *

Mr. E. S. Candler, Sr., a brother of Bishop W. A. Candler, died at his home in Corinth, Miss., a few days since. He was a prominent lawyer, an esteemed and useful citizen, and a devoted member of the Baptist Church. His son, Hon. E. S. Candler, Jr., has represented the First Mississippi District in Congress for a number of years.

* * *

Atlanta, which is to be the meeting-place of the next General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, has not had the honor of entertaining our great law-making assembly since 1878, when the membership of our Church was less than 775,000. The number of Southern Methodists is now well past the two million mark.

* * *

The magnificent new Administration Building of the Southern Methodist University at Dallas, Texas, which cost $300,000, has been completed, and a spacious fire-proof dormitory, which will accommodate 180 students, is expected to he finished by September 1. The outlook for the approaching session of this institution is said to be very encouraging.

* * *

Rev. T. W. Lewis, pastor of St. John's M. E. Church, South, of Memphis, Tenn., preached the opening sermon in the new Southern Methodist Church at Union City, Tenn., on July 25. A collection for the church debt, amounting to $6587, was taken. Rev. W. W. Armstrong is the pastor of this enterprising congregation.

* * *

It is claimed that Dr. J. W. Lee, presiding elder of the St. Louis District, in the course of his ministerial career, has raised approximately $2,000,000 for various purposes, about half of this amount being for church buildings. Dr. Lee is said to have recently secured privately $10,000 from one man to meet a debt on a new church in St. Louis. It is not often the case that so scholarly a man as this distinguished minister is so successful in taking care of the material interests of the Church.

THE PERIL OF PROPHECY.

The battle of Borodino—fought on September 7, 1812—put Moscow at Napoleon's mercy. Writing a week after that decisive triumph, the wonderful Corsican said: "We are following the enemy, who has withdrawn beyond the Volga. Russia will not recover from this blow in two hundred years." Two years, not two centuries, later the Allied Armies entered Paris, with the Czar at their head.

Moscow lies about seven hundred miles east of Warsaw, which the Teutons captured last week. The mere figures suffice to show how marvelous a feat Napoleon performed and they also enable us to see that his prophecy was not so rash as it seems. Having swept the opposing host back for nearly a thousand miles, the Emperor might well think that his giant foe was out of the game.

But Russia is not a small, compact country like Germany and France. Possession of Moscow consequently gave the French no fatal hold upon the realm of the Slav. On the other hand, German control of Paris and similar strategic points would render resistance futile, just as possession of Berlin, Leipsic and Mainz made Napoleon master of the Fatherland.

The Russians burned Napoleon out of Moscow and patiently awaited the opportunity to "come back." The retreat of the Grand Army is, perhaps, the most tragic episode in the annals of war. And, in truth, Waterloo did but complete that disaster. The splendid legions lost in Russia could not be duplicated in the hour of supreme need.

The present war is unprecedented in many respects. Yet the principles of strategy are unchanged and the difficulty of subduing Russia is precisely what it was in the Corsican's day. Not only so, but the peril of prophecy is precisely what it has been from the beginning of time. "Never prophesy, unless you know," is the one safe rule for the children of men.—Times-Picayune.

CENTENARY COLLEGE

Of Louisiana.

If you wish your son to receive a Literary College training in a moral and religious atmosphere, amid beautiful and healthful natural surroundings, under a faculty of competent Christian men, in a progressive city with great Protestant Churches and many public advantages, send him to

Centenary College.

If it is advisable that your son take his preparatory or high school training away from home, send bim to Centenary, where, by good application, he may save one year in preparation for Freshman Class of any college.

Write for Catalogue and any Needed Information.

Rev. R. H. WYNN, President. Box 6, Shreveport, La.

The Louisiana Educational Campaign

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., President

Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Sec'y

Rev. C. A. Battle, Treas., Baton Rouge, La.

(This Department is conducted by Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Secretary of Education, and Rev. A. J. Gearheard, Publicity Commissioner.)

PERSONALITY IN EDUCATION.

The largest factor in education is personality. If the chief end in education is character, there can be no doubt that the main element in the process of developing character is the personal influence of the teacher upon the student. This thought may help us to see more clearly the value and need for distinctively Christian education. The school that is not definitely based upon the Christian ideal, and that does not seek to develop Christian character, can not choose its teachers with primary reference to their decidedly Christian principles. And so, while it is true that in our State schools many men of fine character and Christian influence are often to be found, and the State is to be congratulated upon their presence and influence there, it is necessarily true that the principle of selection is primarily something other than personal character. In fact, one of the dangers of our educational life to-day is in the tendency to seek for specialists who are thoroughly scholarly in their particular line, with scant regard for the qualities of well-balanced manhood. This tendency has to be guarded against by our Church schools, which, like all other colleges, want the best scholarship available. In our Church colleges the main emphasis is upon the development of character, and, with this end in view, the selection of teachers is made to depend largely upon the definite and effective Christian manhood of the teacher, as well as upon fitness to instruct in certain branches of knowledge. As a matter of fact, it is not uncommon to find in our State and other non-denominational colleges men of brilliant minds and thorough scholarship who are free-thinkers on religious questions, and even sometimes men of questionable morals. On the other hand, the standard of men employed in our Church colleges demands that they be men whose influence is actively Christian.

It is certainly a dangerous risk for any parent to commit the training of young boys and girls, in the period of hero-worship, when ideals are being formed, and formed from living human models, to the leadership of teachers who, however brilliant and well equipped, are not definitely helpful to Christian character in their teachings and personal influence. An undermining of the foundations of Christian living is too great a price to pay for even the most brilliant intellectual equipment. This situation emphasizes the necessity for maintaining efficient colleges by the Church—colleges manned by strong Christian men and women. It emphasizes likewise the urgent obligation on the part of Christian parents to choose for their children, not primarily what sort of buildings and other equipment they shall have as the accessories and aids of their college life, but what sort of men and women shall put the impress of personality upon their growing lives.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

Mr. Jno. T. Henning, of Sulphur, La., has subscribed $100 toward the Blair fund. Mr. Henning is one of those loyal Methodists who is vitally interested in every movement of the Church.

On last Sunday, August 8, Dr. Wynn was under appointment to preach at Colfax, and it is safe to say that the people of that community had a clear and impressive presentation of the value and necessity of Christian education.

Dr. Wynn preached on Sunday, August 1, at Morgan City and Berwick three times, presenting the cause of Christian education in a manner that impressed his audiences with the importance of that branch of the Church's work. He also visited Franklin, New Iberia, Lafayette, Crowley, Lake Charles, and Sulphur in his itinerary.

Rev. R. M. Brown, of Algiers, who is doing an excellent work in all lines of pastoral effort across the river, planned an educational rally on last Sunday for the purpose of laying the burden of the educational work of the Church upon the hearts of his people. He was assisted by the Conference Secretary, who occupied the pulpit at the morning hour.

Dr. Wynn has been spending the summer vacation months in making an active canvass of the Conference in the interest of Centenary College. His work has met with an encouraging response, both in the matter of prospective new students, and in the securing of the subscriptions needed to meet the offer of Mr. Blair. In this canvass he has visited five out of the seven district conferences, presenting the claims of the College and proposing definite plans for meeting its needs. During the past few days he has made a tour of the Lafayette District, in which he has assurance of the active co-operation of the capable District Commissioner, Rev. A. S. Lutz, as well of a number of the most energetic pastors and laymen of the district in the effort to secure contributions to the Blair fund. There is no doubt that this district, although the district conference was held too early to take definite action on the Blair proposition, will measure fully up to its share in the returns.

ARE WE LOYAL CITIZENS?

A citizen of a country, if loyal, obeys the laws of the land. He may cast his ballot against certain laws, but if the majority favor the legislation under consideration, he falls in line and becomes obedient to the new law. He does so because he is a law-abiding citizen. In a sense, every Annual Conference is a separate State in the Union of Southern Methodism. It embraces new undertakings, and passes rules for the regulation of its work from year to year. Every new enterprise and rule is introduced in open conference and is offered as a proper subject for discussion, and is finally voted on by all the ministers and laymen who are members of the Conference. If the new enterprises and rules are adopted by a majority, there rests a moral obligation on every member of the Conference to support the will of the majority.

Centenary College is the child of the Louisiana Conference. Time and again its condition has been aired before the Annual Conference, and every preacher has had opportunity to express himself regarding the running of its affairs. The will of the majority of the members of the last session of the Louisiana Conference was that this year should be devoted to securing special money for Centenary College. The preacher who wilfully ignores the claims of Centenary is to that extent disloyal to his Conference. If all of the members of our Conference would sound a certain note in favor of our colleges, it would be short work to fill them with boys and girls and provide them with ample funds. As preachers, let us preach church colleges from our pulpits and promote their interests in our visits, and the result will be greatly in favor of our Methodism in Louisiana.

A TESTIMONY FOR MANSFIELD.

A member of one of the New Orleans churches who has a daughter in Mansfield College said to her pastor recently that she was delighted with the work of that institution, particularly in its effect upon the development of the student's character. She particularly mentioned the fact that it had helped her to develop the power of holding opinions of her own on questions of right and wrong.

THE KAISER AND ROME.

A rumor is growing in intensity and widens to the effect that the Pope and the Kaiser are in collusion in this present war. This is more and more confirmed by recent events.

A Te Deum was sung in the Church of Santa Maria del Amma, in Rome, in honor of the Kaiser's birthday, while, in connection with the celebration of the funeral of the Belgian priests killed by the Germans, but one Cardinal was present—Mgr. Billot, of France. Mgr. Perrin, rector of the Canadian Seminary at Rome, invited the Pope's chamberlain, Mgr. de Bianchi, to a banquet in honor of Sir Henry Howard, the English representative at the Vatican. The invitation was declined, and Mgr. Perrin wrote Mgr. de Bianchi as follows:

"Monseigneur: Allow me to express my astonishment at your refusal. I had invited, together with you, two other prelates of the Curia, but obtained the same reply. This stupefies me all the more in that you all three found time to assist at a Te Deum in honor of a prince who is not even a Catholic."

This must indeed be very humiliating to England, after her pains in sending a representative to the Vatican. It is of more than passing significance that in this desperate struggle for her life, Germany should have associated with her the two old and fast fading powers of Europe—the Porte and the Papacy. It is also worthy of note that Italy, who was formerly a colleague of Germany, has become her foe, and hence the government of Italy and the Vatican are lining up on opposite sides of this controversy. It is well worth watching the issue of these combinations. —The Presbyterian.

WANTED, POSITION AS TEACHER OR GOVERNESS.

A Christian young lady, competent and with untiring energy, is anxious to secure a position as teacher or governess. She was educated at Meridian Woman's College. Has had one year's experience, and is well prepared to teach Expression. She is ambitious and would give faithful service. Any one interested may write Rev. J. R. Jones, Meridian, Miss.

ENLARGE YOUR DAY

Thousands of people have already learned how to enlarge their days; how to increase the time they can devote to profitable recreation and pleasure without sacrificing work that must be done.

They first discovered that the quickest and most satisfactory way to go "down town" was by the telephone.

Next they applied the same principle to their "out of town" business and social trips, and found it was even more satisfactory and proportionately much cheaper.

Do you Travel by TELEPHONE?

Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co.

(Incorporated.)

ON EVANGELISM.

This is the season of the year for revivals in the South, especially in the country districts. This custom of summer revivals has prevailed in the South because of the farming interests and the small preparation necessary to accommodate the people. Surely we should begin to learn that winter and early spring are better in every way for such work, and now with good roads and better church buildings, we certainly ought to be able to do away largely with this old custom of holding revivals in the heat of summer. But until then, we Methodists must do our duty by the people. The country places must be cared for better. It is in the country that the Methodist Church is suffering and has been for the past fifteen years. An emphasis placed on the financial strength of the charges to the belittlement of conversions and additions has resulted in throwing out churches that failed to pay, in cutting down the number of the churches to the charge, in magnifying our material interests, and to-day we are made conscious of the fact that Methodism is not growing as a great Church should in the country districts.

The young minister of the Church finds such emphasis placed upon finances that, whether he is capable or otherwise, the facts recited remain. He is often not a good evangelist, and fails to have confidence in himself and great faith in God. Personal assertion of character in the leadership of the Church is just as essential as faith, for even faith is largely dependent upon the personality of the man. But a great faith setting on fire a vigorous personality will bring fruit in saving the people. Education never made a man, but develops and re-enforces the man. So faith in God, with a determined personality, does the work that will be approved of God in the salvation of sinners. There are many good things in our Church that have been given special emphasis in relation to the ministry that have perhaps quite unconsciously worked to the detriment of the evangelistic spirit and effort of the Church. We could hardly name them here without being misunderstood, but it is undeniable that our Church is suffering in the country districts.

On the train the other day I met an energetic, enthusiastic Baptist minister whose father was a Methodist. I knew the family when this minister was a mere boy. They were poor people. Two of the brothers became Baptist ministers and one a Methodist minister. The one of whom I speak was led by some friends to believe that he could never preach in the Methodist Church, since he had had no educational advantages. So he went to the Baptist Church. He told me that last year God honored his ministry with 92 accessions on profession of faith, and in all one hundred and fifty additions. He calls himself a country preacher.

A hint to the wise is sufficient. The Church that has conversions will get the accessions. This will be the Church that will grow. Oh, how we need the fire of personal enthusiasm and faith in God in all the men that do the work of the Church, and especially in those in the country, for the present need! I admonish the brethren in the stations and smaller charges, gird up your loins and go out and help the brethren who have large circuits, that we may save sinners from death and our great Church from reproach and loss.

W. M. YOUNG,
Secretary of the Committee on Evangelism.
Amory, Miss.

"There is only one sure and easy way to insure the habit of Church attendance, and that is to make it a regular habit—as regular as going to business or eating one's breakfast. As soon as it is allowed to become an intermittent or occasional habit it is but a short step to the time when it is practically given up."—St. Paul's Guide.

IT CAN BE DONE.

All who know the conditions are rejoicing because of the excellent record of our official periodicals shown by the reports to the Book Committee recently. Our neighbor Advocates are to be congratulated. Many of our people have felt that a One-Dollar Advocate was a possibility; now our general publishing agents concede such to be so, and the present showing promises that another year may prove it to their satisfaction.

Demonstration is a stubborn witness. The Pittsburgh Christian Advocate has maintained its one-dollar policy successfully for seventeen years. Notwithstanding this item of common knowledge the Thomas of Incredulity appears to abide in the land. Not long since it came to us that an otherwise well-informed journalist declared: "If there is any one-dollar church paper paying its way we do not know about it." "The One-Dollar Advocate has come to stay," said a man of high official standing, not many days since.

In order to make a one dollar thirty-two-page paper succeed financially, two items are essential, namely, a circulation of 30,000, or more, and a rigid economy in all its departments. Cost production decreases with increased circulation. When we were sending out 10,000 copies a week it cost $1.82 to produce fifty-two numbers—a year's issue to a subscriber; when our list was 20,000 it cost $1.43 to meet our contract with each subscriber; when our number was 30,000 it cost $1.13; when we reached 40,000 it cost $1.04; with 50,000 it will cost us $1 to produce fifty-two numbers.

No firm can use reputable stock, allowing 36 by 52 inches to each copy, crowded full of rich material and sell for $1 for fifty-two numbers with a circulation of twelve or fifteen thousand. It is perfectly tenable to say that any firm can do it if its mailing list reaches 30,000, or more.

One-Dollar Advocates.

"The One-Dollar Advocate has come to stay," because our restricted areas tried out the $2 price, and met defeat by the voice of the highest earthly court—the people. The subscriptions decreased and the deficits increased until some other policy was imperative. The one-dollar price was chosen, and the people have indorsed it by trebling the subscription lists.

The desired end of a church paper is the largest service to the greatest number of its constituency. List the denominational papers that sell for $2, and more, and you will discover that any one of our four leading $1 Advocates has a larger number of subscriptions than any one of the two, three, or four dollar denominational papers of the United States. Service is the standard of to-day. The one-dollar policy is vindicated by the service which it gives the people called Methodists. So far from being "suicidal" it thus is shown to be vital and eminently successful.—Business Manager, Pittsburgh (Penn.) Advocate.

A LETTER WORTH READING.

(The liquor dealers of New Orleans are issuing a periodical called "Facts," which, it seems, is being sent very generally over this section of the country. The following letter shows that it has been reaching one gentleman who does not appreciate this publication very highly.—Editor of the Advocate.)

"Ruston, La., July 22, 1915.

"Facts Publishing Co., New Orleans, La.

"Dear Sirs: It seems that some good friend of mine, solicitous of my moral and mental welfare, sent in my name to you, thinking that I needed the enlightening influences of your little sheet entitled 'Facts.' He might have thought I was a pauper unable to pay for the literature I read. I am not rich, but thus far in the journey of life I have not had to call upon my friends to furnish me such literature.

"I do not intend to take up your valuable time with a long letter, but only wish to say to you, in order that you may understand who I am and where I stand, that you are sending this misnomer to a rabid, dyed-in-the-wool prohibitionist. I have fought the traffic you uphold since I was a child. I despise the liquor traffic with such a degree of hatred and indignation that it has become a mania with me. I feel about it as did that old Roman Senator about Carthage, "It must be destroyed." I say about the liquor traffic, it must and shall be destroyed.

"Any intelligent man knows that you cannot run a paper on a subscription price of 12 cents a year. He also knows that somebody has to pay for all those papers you send out free. We all know who is paying that bill. The working man, the widows, orphans and paupers of this State are paying that bill, through the channel of the liquor dealers of this State. Personally, I object to being an object of this kind of charity. It looks too much like robbing the dead and the dying.

"It is a consolation to know that this little sheet you are scattering around over this State free, will not stay the doom of the liquor traffic. You might as well be casting straws into a cyclone. The liquor traffic is DOOMED in this State. It is DOOMED in the United States. I take pleasure in announcing to you that I am one of the men who is helping by my money and all the energy I possess in this world to doom this infernal traffic in the souls and bodies of men.

"Finally, I wish to say that I object, further, to having my intelligence insulted by such articles as the one in your last number, entitled "Country Church Ruined by Prohibition." You yourselves know that you could not get any man to believe this unless he be either a sot drunkard or one whose soul, mind and body are under the awful sway of this infernal traffic, dissolute and given over to wild delusions, whose mental and moral faculties are in total eclipse.

"Yours truly,
S. M. COLLINS."

THE HOLMES STORE

OF NEW ORLEANS

is one of America's truly great department stores.

It has perfected a buying organization that reaches into every producing market of the world, maintaining offices in Berlin, London, Paris and Florence, as well as New York.

It never presents any merchandise that is not of good quality and equitably priced.

Its very efficient service to patrons in the city is supplemented by the largest and best-equipped mail order department of any store in the South. Ninety-eight per cent of all orders received are filled on date of receipt.

The aim of the store is to merit fully the confidence that has been manifested by the public during its seventy-two years of merchandising history.

D. H. HOLMES CO., Ltd.

DR. THADDEUS P. BELL
Practice Limited to the Medical and Surgical Treatment of the
EYE, EAR, NOSE & THROAT
And the Correction of Errors of Vision.
814 Audubon Bldg., New Orleans, La.

LEON IRWIN & CO.,
Fire and Casualty Insurance
736 UNION STREET. Phone, Main 585.

The Home Circle

CARL'S GIFT.

Is there some little boy who wants to make a gift for his mother?

This is what one boy did. Carl's mother is very fond of plants, and when she needed to tie a plant to a stick because its stalk was not strong enough to hold it up straight, she used to go into the woodshed and get an old shingle, and split off a piece with the carving knife. This gave Carl his idea.

He got a piece of soft wood, and split it carefully into slender sticks, some a foot long, some longer, and a few very long for tall plants.

With his jackknife he sharpened one end to a long point, so that it would go into the ground easily, and rounded off all the corners the whole length of the stick as well as he could with his knife.

Then his patient little fingers rubbed each stick with sandpaper until every splinter was gone and the sticks were as smooth as glass.

When they were all done, Carl sorted the sticks into three little bundles, according to their length, wrapped each bundle in white tissue paper, and tied a bright ribbon round it.

All through the year his mother said that no present she had was more useful or gave greater pleasure than her plant sticks.—Christian Intelligencer.

A PEACE-MAKER.

A story has been told of a little girl who said to her mother one evening: "I was a peace-maker to-day."

"How was that?" asked her mother.

"I knew something that I didn't tell," was the unexpected reply.

Do we not all have frequent opportunities to make peace in this way? Perhaps we have thought of the work of the peace-makers as the stopping of quarrels rather than their prevention, but comparatively few of us will have occasion actively to separate those who are quarreling, and induce them to be friends, and how much better that they should not quarrel at all!

Let no one think that the negative virtue of a discreet silence is an easy matter. The bit of gossip that would fill an awkward pause in the conversation is on the tip of the tongue—the secret weighs heavily on our minds, and it would be a relief to talk it over with some one—but is it going to make trouble for anybody? Is it not possible that the words we speak could be misunderstood and distorted and repeated where they would rankle? "Blessed are the peace-makers," even those peace-makers who work only by refraining from doing harm with their tongues.

And what is this blessing that the peace-makers receive? "They shall be called sons of God." Yes, children of the great God, who knows and guards the secrets of all hearts—children who are like their Father.—New Guide.

WHAT A CHILDREN'S DAY CHICKEN DID.

It looked funny to see a chicken at church, but there it was, in an old bird-cage right up by the platform.

You see it was Children's Day. The previous Sunday the minister asked all the children who had birds at home to bring them to the Children's Day service. So many girls brought their sweet songsters. But can you imagine how surprised the minister felt when Mary Klein came with a little yellow chicken in her cage.

"Why, Mary, that isn't a canary!" whispered the minister to her.

"I know it," she replied, looking as if she wanted to cry, "but you said everybody who had a bird must bring it, and this is the only kind of a bird I've got."

When he heard this the minister took the cage with thanks and hung it near the pulpit. All through the singing and speaking he kept looking at the chicken as if he were thinking. When he finally arose to give his Children's Day address he put the chicken's cage right up on the pulpit and took it for his theme.

Now I will tell you a secret about this church. The building was old and shabby, besides being too small. But the people did not seem to care. They were not rich, and so thought they could not afford a new church.

The minister had tried in vain to persuade them. Now he was going to let Mary's chicken try. So he took for his text: "She hath done what she could."

He told how Mary had done her very best to carry out his plan, and that she was like that other Mary of Bethany, who gave Jesus what she had. He assured the people that if they would only show the same loyal spirit and give what they could, before another Children's Day they might honor God with a new house of worship. Would they do it?

Yes. The sight of Mary's chicken touched their hearts, and before the service closed they had pledged enough to build a church complete. You may be sure the people were glad, but the gladdest of all was Mary.—Rev. William O. Rogers, in Western Christian Advocate.

"THE FIRST CITIZEN."

At the dinner given by the Union League Club of Philadelphia Tuesday night in honor of Mr. Root, Senator Oliver, in lauding the guest, said: "I hesitate not to proclaim him the first citizen of the republic."

There are to-day four men for whom this distinction is claimed. Mr. Wilson is one. His friends so characterize him, and base the case not alone on the office he holds, but also on his gifts and fame as a writer, and his assertion of leadership in politics. They liken him to Jackson in action.

Mr. Bryan is seldom introduced to an audience without receiving the compliment. It is said of him that he is not only great himself, but the cause of greatness in others; that men have come to distinction by simply studying his views and adopting his methods. Who else has occupied so prominent a place in politics for so long a time against such opposition and despite so many defeats?

And there, of course, is Mr. Roosevelt, who manages to keep in the picture. He appears and disappears. Just now he is out of office, but not inactive. He still finds something for his busy hands to do. His personal popularity, notwithstanding his recent political shifts and twists, continues. On the streets his appearance explains the gathering of a crowd. At the picture shows when his face is thrown on the screen it gets a hearty round of applause.

Mr. Root is unlike any one of those men. While Mr. Wilson is inexperienced in politics, he is a veteran with bays on his brow. While Mr. Bryan is oratorical, he is a master of unornamented statement; and while Mr. Roosevelt is emotional, to the point sometimes of eccentricity, Mr. Root is all calculation and consistency, looking at all sides of a question, and resolute after taking a side.

Necessarily, the question must remain undecided. All these men are stars, but, as in the case of stars of the other order, one star differs from another star in glory. If either one, besides his own qualities, could absorb the most shining qualities of the other three, he would not only be "the first citizen of the republic," but a world wonder.

In our public life the guest of honor at a banquet is a temptation to the toastmaster, and at a political meeting the chairman, in introducing a distinguished speaker, is forbidden by custom to keep his head. In both cases extravagance is a sort of law and duty.—Washington Star.

DIVISIONAL SECRETARIES NAMED.

The General Sunday School Board, at its recent meeting at Lake Junaluska, N. C., provided for the secretarial supervision of the whole field of our Church in the United States by the election of three additional Divisional Secretaries, making six in all. The States of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas constitute the Gulf Division and the secretary for this Division is Mr. A. L. Dietrich, a layman who for a quarter of a century was prominent in church and Sunday school work in Washington City. He served for seven months as Field Secretary for the Baltimore Conference and then was elected Divisional Secretary and assigned to the Middle Division on June 1 of this year, being transferred to the Gulf Division by the General Board at Junaluska. Mr. Dietrich's headquarters will be established at Meridian, Miss. He expects to attend all the Annual Conferences in his Division this fall. The other Divisional Secretaries are as follows: Mr. J. M. Way for the Atlantic, Mr. C. J. Nugent, Jr., for the Middle, Rev. E. Hightower for the Southwest, Rev. J. E. Squiers for the Northwest, and Rev. C. P. Moore for the Western.

Sardis, Miss. R. H. B. GLADNEY.

Constant use is the only means of holding fast what we have. If in our heart there is some measure of love, we must study constantly the means to manifest it toward others; if we have a measure of joy, we must continue to rejoice, and no day must be without its spiritual joy; if we have a measure of peace, we must rest ourselves each day in the quietness and confidence of that peace.—Christian Observer.

—ARTIFICIAL LIMBS, ORTHOPEDIC—
APPARATUS, ELASTIC HOSIERY,
TRUSSES, CRUTCHES, ETC.
(Catalogues mailed on request)

The McDermott Surgical Instrument Company, Limited.

734-738 POYDRAS STREET
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

THE GO-BETWEEN

whether it be a Burn, Bruise or Scald—

DR. TICHENOR'S ANTISEPTIC

affords instant relief. Its cooling effect prevents congestion and the antiseptic qualities prevent swelling, blistering and superation afterwards.

"It draws the fever"—you cannot afford to be without it at home.

All druggists 25 and 50 cts.

ASK ANY ONE WHO HAS EVER USED IT.

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: No. 512 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor,

CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Entered at the Postoffice at New Orleans as Second-class Mail Matter.

TERMS:
One Copy, one year, $1.50; eight months, $1.00. To preachers of all denominations, $1.00

PUBLISHING COMMITTEE:
Louisiana Conference—Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., Rev. W. W. Drake, Rev. C. B. Carter.
Mississippi Conference—Rev. I. W. Cooper, D.D., Rev. C. W. Crisler, Rev. T. W. Adams.
North Mississippi Conference—Rev. W. W. Woollard, Rev. H. S. Spragins, Mr. J. D. Barbee.

Editorial

AN OPPORTUNITY WORTH SEIZING.

There ought to be a Church paper in every Methodist home. With the Advocate offered for six months for 50 cents, our pastors have an excellent opportunity to place it within the reach of the members of every family in their charges. Some of the brethren are awake to this opportunity and are sending in trial subscriptions. Why not mention the matter from your pulpit, brother pastor; offer to receive such subscriptions, and see what you can do? The circle of the Advocate's readers ought to be vastly widened between now and November 10, when this offer will be withdrawn. The Methodism of Louisiana and Mississippi will never be what it ought until our people in these States are reading the news concerning the various movements of the Master's Kingdom. Thus only can they be made intelligent, loyal, and generous.

BRITISH WESLEYAN LEADERS.

At the late session of the British Wesleyan Conference the term of Dr. Dinsdale T. Young as President expired, and he was succeeded by Dr. R. Waddy Moss, who is connected with the famous Didsbury College. Dr. Moss was fraternal messenger to the General Coference of the Methodist Episcopal Church some years ago. The new President-designate is Dr. John Greenwood Tasker, Principal of the Wesleyan College, Handsworth, Birmingham. He was a member of the last Ecumenical Conference, held in Toronto, Canada, in 1911, was a contributor to Hastings' Dictionary of the Bible, and has delivered the Fernley Lectures on "Spiritual Religion." The past year among the British Wesleyans has been characterized as "one of decline, but not of decay." Necessarily, their work has been much hindered by the great European war.

OUR CHURCH PAPER PROBLEM.

The maintenance of a vigorous press and the placing of a Church paper in the homes of its members is one of the most vital problems that confront Southern Methodism to-day. The last General Conference took cognizance of this urgent need and ordered a division of the territory of the Church into districts with a view to lessening the number of religious weeklies issued and giving to each of them an adequate constituency. The duty of indicating these districts (in a purely advisory way) was committed to the Book Committee, and at its recent meeting in Richmond, Va., that body took the matter up and has publicly made its suggestions to the Church. This question may, therefore, be said to be before the Methodists of the South more definitely for consideration now than it has ever been at any former time, and it is a matter of vast importance that wise conclusions shall be reached in its settlement.

What is the chief objective that we need to keep in view in planning for our Church papers? Is it merely to see that they have ample funds to enable them to maintain a high standard of excellence? If that is the principal thing desired, the problem is easy of solution. All that is necessary is to reduce the number of journals sufficiently to give each of them a large patronizing territory and fix the subscription price at $2 or more. Such an arrangement would give us a few high-class weekly periodicals and secure the money required to purchase choice articles and fine pictures and pay the editors and publishers good salaries. But, in all probability, fewer Methodist homes would be reached by such publications than are now receiving our struggling Church papers. This would not be meeting the real task that we have before us, namely, that of getting into the hands of the great masses of our people a periodical literature that would acquaint them with our doctrines, polity, and work, that would anchor them and safeguard them from being led astray by false teachings, and that would broaden their vision and inspire them to undertake to do larger things in the service of the Master. In other words, the imperative duty that is upon us is not merely to take care of papers and the men who make them (though that must be done), but to reach and develop the millions of our unreading, uninterested, and unworking membership and constituency.

We are printing on another page a striking utterance from the Publisher of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate (Northern Methodist), made some weeks ago, which bears pertinently on this question and which is worthy of the attention of our leaders, publishing committees, and Conferences. The writer squarely challenges the oft-heard statement that a one-dollar church paper is an impossibility, and affirms that, on the contrary, it is the only paper that can be made to circulate largely among the people. He, furthermore, declares that a 32-page paper, 36 by 52 inches in size, can be made to meet all its expenses if it has a circulation of 30,000 or more. Nor is this mere speculation; this statement is based on actual experience. The Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, which is of the dimensions mentioned, which is printed on good paper, and which is usually filled with excellent reading matter, is thus paying its way and keeping its head well above water. Especially worthy of being noted is the following statement:

"The desired end of a church paper is the largest service to the greatest number of its constituency. List the denominational papers that sell for $2, and more, and you will discover that any one of our four leading $1 Advocates has a larger number of subscriptions than any one of the two, three, or four dollar denominational papers in the United States. Service is the standard of to-day."

If this representation is true, would we not do well to meditate carefully upon it at this time when we are contemplating some readjustment of our various Conference organs? It certainly seems so to us. We do not desire to see anything done that would be rash and which might result in disaster to our press; but we are inclined to think that perhaps it would be a wise policy to district the Church judiciously and equitably, reduce considerably the number of our Advocates, adopt as our ultimate goal the one-dollar paper, and work cautiously toward it as rapidly as possible. We would not include the Nashville Christian Advocate, our general organ, in this arrangement. Should it be desired to issue in any district a 16 or 24-page one-dollar paper, of course it could be brought to a self-sustaining basis with a less circulation than that fixed as a minimum for one having 32 pages.

Let us think on these things. If we adopt the plan of making fine, high-priced papers to serve a few of our better-to-do people, as we see it, the Church will thereby be seriously crippled and hindered in the coming years. All such aristocratic tendencies are hurtful to the progress of Methodism. We must get hold of the great body of our people and teach and train them and enlist them in our Lord's work if we would continue to hold our place in the forefront of the Protestant evangelical denominations.

MILLSAPS COLLEGE.

In the July Bulletin of our Board of Education the endowments of our nine colleges in Class A for the education of young men are set down as follows: Central College, Missouri, $231,000; Hendrix College, Arkansas, $305,000; Millsaps College, Mississippi, $472,533; Randolph-Macon College, Virginia, $386,374; Soochow University, China, $210,350; Southwestern University, Texas, $291,490; Trinity College, North Carolina, $1,492,344; Wofford College, $194,179. (Emory College, having become a part of Emory University, is not included in this list.)

From the foregoing, it will be seen that the endowment of Millsaps College is larger than that of any other college in Southern Methodism except Trinity College. Besides this, Millsaps has grounds and buildings valued at $228,500, and an equipment valued at $23,000. All of these resources are actually in hand and the property of the College is figured in at a low estimate. In the entire history of the institution it has never owed a dollar that it was not ready to pay.

It is doubtful whether the Methodists of Mississippi appreciate anything like they ought the magnificent plant that they have in Millsaps College. They ought to rally enthusiastically to its support, fill its halls to overflowing with students, and seek to strengthen its influence in every possible way. If they will do this, it will accomplish great things for Methodism in the Magnolia State and for the citizenship of that commonwealth in the coming years.

NONE SHOULD BE SPARED.

The battle against the grosser forms of evil seems to wax fiercer as the years pass; but is there not rather a cessation of the warfare against what Mr. Wesley termed sins in believers—against pride, self-will, envy, improper ambition, fondness for applause, various forms of worldliness, the love of ease, irritable temper, impatience, selfishness, distrust of providence, and fretfulness? The passion for holiness is not as much in evidence among Christians as we should like to see it. "The mind that was in Christ Jesus" is the great goal toward which every child of God should zealously and unceasingly press. Nothing else can take the place of true sainthood as the crowning possession of the followers of Him whose purity was unsullied and whose exalted character was unmarred by a single defect. "'Tis only noble to be good."

PERSONAL AND OTHER NOTES.

Bishop Collins Denny will be one of the speakers at the Northfield (Mass.) Conference of Christian Workers.

Rev. W. J. Walters, of Chunky, Miss., reports that his work is progressing nicely. We are grateful to him for some subscriptions to the Advocate, sent in a few days since.

Rev. W. W. Perry, of Haynesville, La., says: "We closed a splendid meeting at Colquitt, one of the appointments of this charge, on August 5. Our people there are on higher ground."

Mr. R. A. Maddox, Sunday School Field Secretary for the Mississippi Conference, spent last Saturday and Sunday at Fernwood, Miss. His work there is reported to have been quite helpful.

Dr. W. A. Shelton has been granted a year's leave of absence from Emory University, and the Chair of Hebrew in the Candler School of Theology will be filled during his absence by Prof. Julius Magath.

Help to circulate the Advocate, and thus aid in strengthening all the work of the Church in Louisiana and Mississippi. Let every reader of the paper induce one of his neighbors to give us a six-months' trial subscription.

The Methodist Churches of Meridian, Miss., are planning for a great union revival meeting, which is to begin on September 6. It is expected to last six weeks and will be led by Evangelist G. A.

Klein, of Nashville, Tenn. A tabernacle that will seat 3000 people will be erected for the occasion.

After a month's vacation, during which he visited Lake Junaluska, N. C., and Emory University, at Atlanta, Dr. H. F. Tolle was again in his pulpit at Biloxi last Sunday.

We are indebted to Rev. G. P. White, of Plaquemine, La., for a club of 8 trial subscriptions. This energetic pastor is sparing no effort to carry all the interests of the Church forward in his responsible field.

Rev. L. E. Crooks, of Glenmora, assisted Rev. J. H. Montgomery in a meeting at Melville, La., last week. The interest was reported to be good in the beginning of the services, but we are not informed as to the final results.

In a recent issue, the Presbyterian of the South said: "The bones of McTyeire surely ought to be moved away from the (Vanderbilt) University grounds. It is hard to believe that, lifeless as they are, they can rest easy there."

We have in hand, from the facile pen of Rev. A. I. Townsley, a report of the Rapides Camp Meeting, near Boyce, La., which reached us too late for this issue of the Advocate, but which will appear next week. It was an occasion of much interest.

Rev. J. F. Owen, of Longview, Miss., gives us a club of 8 subscriptions, and appends the following note concerning his work: "Our meetings will start to-morrow, July 31. Pray for our success. We are expecting great things. We have already had 10 accessions to the Church."

Rev. A. C. McCorkle, of Tunica, Miss., says: "Things are going well with us. I have received 21 persons (all adults—some beyond three score years of age) into the Church this year, and I am expecting others to follow." Brother McCorkle's letter brought us 4 subscriptions to the Advocate.

One of the results of the good meeting recently held at Westlake, La., by Rev. P. O. Lowrey, was the securing of several subscriptions to the Advocate. We are grateful to Brother Lowrey for this good work. He says: "This campaign for the paper will be kept up through all of our revivals."

The following friends, to whom acknowledgment has not been made elsewhere, have our thanks for two or more subscriptions, sent in within the past few days: "Rev. E. H. Cooley, Walnut Grove, Miss., 2; Rev. J. C. Chambers, Sumrall, Miss., 2; Rev. J. V. Bennett, Monticello, Miss., 4; Rev. J. S. Rutledge, Bush, La., 8.

A recent gift to the Candler School of Theology is $1000 from an "unknown friend," this amount to be used as a loan fund to aid young preachers. Mrs. Sue F. Mooney, widow of Rev. Welborn D. Mooney, long an honored member of the Tennessee Conference, has donated a selection of choice volumes from the library of her husband.

It is reported that Rev. N. E. Joyner, who is summering at the Seashore Campground with his family, caught a 30-pound redfish one day last week. Brother Joyner is said to fish with as much energy as he preaches and does the work of the pastorate. Should Dr. Steel's eye fall upon this note, we doubt whether all the blandishments of the Palmetto State can keep him away from the Mississippi Coast any longer.

A note from Dr. T. C. Wier, written from Broken Arrow, Okla., a few days ago, stated that he was there on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Summers Rowe, the wife of Mr. K. M. Rowe, who is cashier of the Arkansas Valley State Bank at that place. We trust that Dr. Wier will have a pleasant visit in the West and that he will return to his home in North Mississippi strengthened physically by his journeyings.

Rev. F. D. Van Valkenburgh, who is well known in Louisiana and South Mississippi, has lately brought out a publication, entitled "Why We Have Four Gospels." It was issued by the Pentecostal Publishing Company, of Louisville, Ky., is cloth bound, and contains 100 pages. It may be had of either the Publishers, or the author, whose summer address is Kent Hill, Maine. The price is 50 cents.

A correspondent informs us that Rev. A. B. Barry, pastor of the Pachuta and Quitman charge, has lately been taking a vacation, during which he has been doing some evangelistic work. In his absence, Rev. Leland Clegg, a local preacher, has been filling his pulpit. This young man, who is only 17 years old, is stated to be remarkably gifted for one of his age. He is expected soon to assist his brother, Rev. R. H. Clegg, in a revival meeting at Tamola, Miss.

Under date of August 2, Rev. S. A. Brown, of Okolona, Miss., writes us as follows: "Our daughter, Louise, eight years old, has a genuine case of typhoid fever, which is in the third week now. She has gotten along nicely, and her temperature to-day is only 99 degrees. I think that the worst is over." We regret to be informed of this case of serious illness in Brother Brown's family, and we earnestly pray that the stricken one may soon be perfectly restored to health.

Rev. L. C. Marsh, of Washington, Miss., writes as follows: "Please state that I stand ready to help any pastor in Mississippi or Louisiana, near Natchez, to hold a revival meeting, without remuneration. This offer is made to pastors on weak charges who may feel the need of assistance, but who are holding back on account of 'the expected purse' for the visiting minister. The Master has graciously saved my soul, and I love to tell the old, sweet story of Jesus and his love."

Brother O. E. Townsend, of Oaknolia, La., requests us to announce the Bluff Creek Camp-meeting, which will begin on Friday, August 20, and the leading preacher of which will be Evangelist R. J. Smith, of Atlanta, Texas. This camp-ground is located 4 miles from Grangeville and 11 miles from Clinton, La., and conveyance may be had at either place. All Methodist ministers will be entertained by the Association. The preachers in the Baton Rouge District are specially invited.

Rev. S. E. Kirby, of Arkansas, who has lately been assisting some of the Mississippi brethren in meetings, sends us a card which reads as follows: "Please state that I am in a union meeting at Lexington, Miss. Any of the brethren who may desire to use me in singing or preaching in revivals may reach me there for the next three weeks." It is our information that the meeting at Lexington is being conducted in a tent, and that nearly all the denominations represented there are participating in it.

Mrs. T. J. Porter, of St. Louis, in renewing her subscription to the Advocate, says: "I have been reading it for about 55 years. Well do I remember how my mother used to file the copies, and woe unto the child that tore one of those papers. And what a treat it was to pore over them! I thank you for the paper that you are giving us. I expect to read the New Orleans Advocate as long as I live and have the eyesight to do so." Blessings on this long-time friend of the Advocate; and may her path grow brighter with every passing day!

Rev. W. S. Shipman, presiding elder of the Durant District, writes: "Please state that Bishop Atkins has made the following appointments: Rev. J. E. Stephens, who had been serving the Duck Hill charge, has been assigned to Louisville and Rocky Hill, and Rev. R. G. Moore has been named to succeed him at Duck Hill. Rev. J. J. Smylie, who had been in charge at Louisville for the past eighteen or twenty months, desired to be released from the pastorate, that he might be able to meet the many demands that the brethren are making upon him for evangelistic work."

Rev. Marvin T. Haw, of St. Louis, in writing in the St. Louis Christian Advocate of a trip which he recently made to Lake Junaluska, N. C., makes the following reference to our popular pastor at Sardis, Miss.: "It was a great pleasure to fall in with Dr. and Mrs. Harry G. Henderson on our way to Lake Junaluska and to complete the journey with them. Dr. and Mrs. Henderson will be well remembered by a host of St. Louis friends and are known to a great number of your readers. They are enjoying Junaluska, and we are enjoying their fellowship equally as well."

A card from Dr. W. G. Henry, of Jackson, Miss., orders his Advocate sent to Trinity, Ala., until further notice. We infer from this that Dr. Henry has gone to his home State for a season of rest. He has a large and taxing pastorate of about 1500 members, and, as he has had on hand for nearly two years the work of completing the new Galloway Memorial Church, we dare say that he has justly earned a vacation. This congregation, which is now worshiping in the Sunday school room of the new church, expects the main auditorium, which will be one of the finest in the South, to be ready for use about October 1.

Rev. J. H. Hoffpauir, of Indian Bayou, La., says: "The work in this charge is progressing favorably. We have had some good meetings, and are still having large congregations. You may also state that my father, Abel Hoffpauir, aged 72 years, passed peacefully away on July 28, 1915. He was a local preacher in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South." We deeply sympathize with Brother Hoffpauir in his great loss, and pray that the Heavenly Father may be consciously with him and the other sorrowing loved ones in their bereavement. (Brother Hoffpauir's letter brought us a club of 6 subscriptions to the Advocate, for which we extend to him our thanks.)

From the Morgan City (La.) Outlook of August 5, we take the following: "Dr. Robert Wynn preached in the Methodist Church here last Sunday. He is the President of Centenary College, located at Shreveport. His subject was 'Education.' It is pleasing to remark that he discarded the purely utilitarian conceptions of education, and held that its aim is to fit the pupil for realizing all that is possible in the higher conception of life. He did not indicate how much of this training can be accomplished through experience by the manifold influences that play upon youth outside of the pale of direct control. It was left to be understood by implication that he considered schools merely as one set of agencies in the education of youth."

We have in hand a little volume, entitled "Directory and Brief History of the Kosciusko Charge, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, 1915." It is paper-bound, contains 56 pages, is illustrated, and abounds in interesting historical information. Kosciusko is situated near the center of Mississippi and is one of the old towns of that State. The planting and growth of Methodism there makes a fascinating story. From this pamphlet we take the following statement: "The Bishop (Galloway) was born in the old house that stood on the present parsonage lot; part of the same material was used in constructing the present parsonage. One room of the old house still stands, said to be the very room in which the Bishop and the late Hon. C. H. Alexander were both born. It is now a part of the parsonage barn." We have not seen a better book of the kind than this which Pastor J. B. Randolph has brought out. It is well worth reading and preserving.

It is stated that the St. Mark's Hall congregation, of this city, will in the near future erect an institutional church somewhere in the Third District. According to report, about $4000 is already in sight to carry forward this enterprise, which is not designed to take the place of St. Mark's Hall, but to be supplemental to it. The work of the Southern Methodists among the Italians in New Orleans is said to be prospering; especially so among the children. The average attendance on the services at St. Mark's Hall last year was 40, and there were about 50 children in the Sunday school. About 175 children attended the school, and the three classes in cooking were well attended. A Child's Welfare Association is located in the Hall, and there are 350 infants under observation. A baby clinic, a general clinic for all classes, and a special clinic for diseases of the eye, ear, nose, and throat are maintained. The Commissioners of the Sickels Fund have also established a free dispensary and over 1000 prescriptions have been filled already. The Boy Scouts and a club for women and girls have also been organized and are flourishing.

We are indebted to a Georgetown (Texas) paper for the following interesting item of news: "A quiet and beautiful home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eldrige W. Hodges on last Monday afternoon, in which Miss Lucile Darby and Dr. Vivien P. Randolph became husband and wife. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. H. Booth, pastor of the Methodist Church. The wedding was a surprise, but a genuinely friendly interest was soon shown in the future of the popular and deserving young people by their host of Georgetown friends who showered upon them congratulations and good wishes. Dr. Randolph is a son of Chaplain J. A. Randolph, of the United States Army, who is now stationed at El Paso, Texas. He is an A.B. graduate of Randolph-Macon College and an M.D. graduate of Tulane University. He was, until recently, house surgeon in Scott & White's Sanitarium at Temple. Miss Lucile Darby is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Darby and a sister of Mrs. E. W. Hodges. She graduated with 'first honors' and has been teaching for several years in the Georgetown High School. After a few days' visit to their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Randolph will live at Walburg, where Dr. Randolph is engaged in the practice of medicine."

TO OUR PREACHERS.

The management of this Advocate has decided to let our preachers and agents offer six months trial subscriptions at 50 cents during August, September and October. This offer will be withdrawn on the 10th of November, 1915. Subscriptions must be sent in in clubs and money orders used in making remittances so as to save expense.

In soliciting new subscribers, please explain to them that the six months' subscriptions are taken with the understanding that, after their expiration, the regular rate of $1.50 will be charged for annual subscriptions unless they are ordered canceled.

We are making this offer for a three-fold purpose:

First—To build up our subscription list before the annual meeting of the Publishing Committee.

Second—To get funds to help tide us over the summer and fall months.

Third—To induce our Methodist people to take the Conference Organ and read it.

"That's My Corn"

What a Confession!

Something hits a shoe. There's a flash of pain, and the victim says, "That's my corn."

"My corn," pared and coddled for years, perhaps. It's as needless as dirty hands.

A Blue-jay plaster, applied in a jiffy, would end that pain instantly. And the B & B wax that's in it would terminate the corn in two days.

No pain, no soreness, no inconvenience. The corn loosens and comes out. It disappears forever.

It's hard to prevent corns while having dainty feet. But it isn't hard to end them. A million corns a month are ended in this easy Blue-jay way. You do yourself injustice when you suffer from a corn.

Half your friends have proved this.

Blue-jay
Ends Corns

15 and 25 cents—at Druggists
Samples Mailed Free

Bauer & Black, Chicago and New York
Makers of Physicians' Supplies

DR. H. B. BARTLETT
National Dental Parlors
Cor. Canal & Camp Sts.
ENTRANCE 100 CAMP
Phone Main 2193
NEW ORLEANS
Vitalized Air for Painless Extraction
Crown and Bridge Specialist
The Largest and Best Equipped Dental Parlors South.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE

DIRECT TRAINS TO

New York
Cincinnati
Birmingham

PULLMAN SLEEPERS, DINING CARS.

— The Scenic Route —

TICKET OFFICE:
211 ST. CHARLES STREET.
Depot, Terminal Station, Canal St.
Phone, Main 2939.

WHEN WRITING OUR ADVERTISERS PLEASE MENTION THIS PUBLICATION

Obituaries.

Obituaries not over 200 words in length will be published free of charge. All over 200 words will be charged at the rate of 1 cent a word. Count the words and send the amount necessary with the obituary. That will save trouble all around. Otherwise the obituaries will be edited down to 200 words.

THOMAS MARION CLARK was born in Barber County, Alabama, Jan. 8, 1887, and departed this life in Shreveport, La., on June 26, 1915. He was converted and joined the Methodist Church in the summer of 1914. A brighter conversion than his is seldom, if ever, seen. Our hearts were deeply saddened when the news came, "Marion is dead." Oh, how sad to think he died away from home, without mother, father, or hrother, or sister; hut there is one consolation: he had Jesus with him. To know Mr. Clark was to love him. His funeral took place at Zion Cemetery on July 27, being conducted hy Brother E. L. Cargill, with a host of friends and loved ones in attendance. We all miss him more than words can tell. May God bless and comfort the sorrowing loved ones in this sad hour, and may they all so live as to meet their dear Marion in the sweet hy and hy!

(Mrs.) J. A. WAFER.

The death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Thornton on July 9, 1915, and took from their midst their daughter, ETHEL, aged 13 years 7 months and 7 days. She was a child whom every one loved—was always ready to smile. Her Sunday school superintendent said she always had perfect lessons and that she would he greatly missed. She had planned to join the Church during the meeting, hut that dread disease, pellagra, fastened itself upon her. She suffered greatly, hut she seemed ready to die and said that she was going home. Her place is vacant, but heaven is much hrighter hecause she awaits us there. Let us strive to meet her there, where partings are no more. She was laid to rest in the Siloam Cemetery on July 10, the funeral service heing conducted by Rev. Z. R. Causey, a large number of relatives and friends heing present. May God strengthen us wherein we are weak, and may we he ahle to say, "Thy will he done!"

Her aunt, EMMA STEELE.

On August 1, 1915, at 6 p. m., at the residence of her son, Lew Washburn, Jr., in Colfax, La., SUSAN MULHOLLAND WASHBURN, wife of Luther W. Washburn, Sr., passed away from earth. Mrs. Washburn was born on Dec. 12, 1841, heing 73 years 7 months and 19 days old. She was a native of Ontario, Canada, emigrated to North Carolina in 1872, and removed to Pollock, La., in 1899, where she had lived since. Mrs. Washhurn was the mother of ten children—seven sons and three daughters. One daughter, Mrs. W. A. Christal, of Eugene, Oregon, and four sons, W. J., Chas. H., S. H., and L. W., Jr., survive her. She had 51 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren at her death. Mrs. Washhurn was a consistent member of the Methodist Church, having been a church memher for over sixty years, and she died as she had lived in its full faith and with a hope of an eternal reward. A loving wife and mother and an affectionate grandmother has gone to her rest. The interment was made in the Pollock Cemetery, the services being conducted hy the Rev. Mr. Mouser.

ROGER M. WASHBURN.

The Missionary Society of the Byhalia (Miss.) Methodist Church sustained a great loss when Mrs. C. R. ROSS was called to her heavenly home. The summons came at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. P. Ford, of San Antonio, Texas. Of all Mrs. Ross' friends of the past years, those of Byhalia knew and loved her hest, because it was here that she spent so many happy and useful days. She gave the best years of her life to directing the youth of Mississippi and Arkansas in the school room. She was a member of our Church 48 years and an active co-worker in our missionary society. We love to recall this nohle woman in her strength and helpfulness; hut some of us remember her hest, as we have known her in her last years, with strength gone and her body racked with pain, yet ever cheerful and ready to help all who sought her counsel. We shall miss her, but God doeth all things well. We are better women for having known her; and may we all meet at last where there is no sorrow. May the God of all grace sustain and comfort the hereaved heart of her daughter, Floy, in this sad hour!

Signed: Mrs. E. B. Horn, Mrs. Henry French, Mrs. T. D. Burrow, Committee.

RESOLUTIONS OF APPRECIATION.

At 5 o'clock on the morning of July 6, 1915, Mrs. FANNIE M. GRAY died at her residence in Jackson, Miss. Her death was a shock to relatives and friends, hut she died in the faith with the full assurance of her personal salvation. While our hearts are grieved at the passing away of one who was so dear to us, we feel that our loss is her gain, and we bow in humhle suhmission to Him who doeth all things well.

As an expression of our appreciation and sympathy, therefore he it resolved hy us, the "Daughters of the King," of the Galloway Memorial Sunday school:

1. That we will ever hold in fond remembrance one whom we loved so well, and to whom the Church and Sunday school were so dear.

2. That in her death we have lost a loyal friend and a loving counselor. May the Good Shepherd help us to live a life as beautiful as that of our deceased sister!

3. That we extend to the hereaved sisters and other relatives our heartfelt sympathy in their loss and pray that God's grace may sustain them.

4. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family and one to the New Orleans Christian Advocate for puhlication, and that a copy he spread on the minutes of the class.

Signed: Mrs. Matt Kennedy, Mrs. M. C. Moore, Mrs. J. H. Fraiser, teacher, Committee.

OUR AMORY REVIVAL AND OTHERS.

We held our revival services here at Amory in June. We had no revival meeting last year, as we were huilding our new church, but we kept the revival spirit and work hefore the people so that when the meeting came they were ready, and we had a really spiritual season of grace, with 38 accessions. We had Rev. S. A. Brown, of Okolona, with us, who did the preaching, and he did it well. Our people were greatly pleased and stimulated by his earnest sermons.

Our meeting at Nettleton came in the second week of July. Dr. Wear, of Huntsville, Ala., did the preaching. He is a Presbyterian. We have four denominations here who unite in an annual revival meeting and have heen doing so for five years. Each denomination furnishes the preacher once in four years. I had a net gain of 47 the past quarter, and haptized 12 infants.

I went to Duck Hill to help Brother J. E. Stephens in his meeting there, foliowing the first Sunday in June. I was pastor there sixteen years ago. We struck a had period for the meeting. It so happened that the people were exceedingly husy with their crops, and then there were other things against the meeting that could not well he helped. So the outcome was not what we hoped for. Still, the Church was helped and a very bright little boy joined the Church. There was one feature of special interest. On Sunday the Baptists who had heartily co-operated with us throughout, together with their pastor, Brother Bacon, came in and joined forces with us and it was a great day spiritually for Duck Hill. Brother Stephens had heen handicapped somewhat by teaching school and had not been ahle to do the pastoral work needed; but now he has an open field and I am sure he will make good use of his time. He is well equipped with a splendid education and has a most excellent wife for a Methodist itinerant. We hope great things for him.

Following the fourth Sunday in July, I went to Chesterville to help Brother W. A. Bowlin, who is on the Sherman charge. Brother Bowlin is doing a splendid work. He has a fine people at Chesterville, and the pastor is in great favor with his people, and I feel sure that this church will meet all its financial obligations. We had a good meeting, but the results were hy no means what were promised hy the great crowds in attendance and the seeming interest. The meeting should have continued some days longer. W. M. YOUNG.

Amory, Miss.

The Memphis Conference Female Institute and College has introduced as a feature of each session educational trips. For next session these trips will be taken to the cities of Memphis and St. Louis.

The school is located in the residence section of the beautiful little city of Jackson, Tenn., with 20,000 population—very convenient to Street Cars, Depots, fine Churches, Government Building, Carnegie Library, etc. The drinking water is considered among the purest of specimens in the world, and there is a wonderful Chalybeate Well within ten minutes walk. Special attention given to health and morals; a safe home boarding school with literary, music and other advantages. Address H. G. Hawkins, Pres., Jackson, Tenn.

— THE —
Louisiana & Arkansas
RAILWAY

L&A RAILWAY

Announces the sale by its Ticket Agents at—

Alexandria, Shreveport, Winnfield, Minden, Sihley, Cotton Valley, Trout, Jena, and Jonesville, Louisiana,

—OF—

INTERCHANGEABLE THOUSAND MILE BOOKS

Good on All Roads in Louisiana.

Save Money hy buying one of these Books.

B. S. ATKINSON,
General Passenger Agent.

RANDOLPH-MACON ACADEMY
For Boys Bedford City, Va.
Offers prompt and thorough preparation for college, scientific school or business life. The liberal endowment of the Randolph-Macon System, of which this school is a branch, permits of unusually low terms, $255 covers all charges for the school year. No extras. Randolph-Macon boys succeed—465 graduates of this school have received full college degrees or entered professions in the past 18 years. For catalogue and further information, address
E. SUMTER SMITH, Principal

Pulpit Bibles Largest assortment, finest Bibles at lowest cost. Write to us for full description and prices.
PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO., Inc., LOUISVILLE, KY.

BOHNE & WILT, Booksellers and Stationers, 1328 Dryades St., New Orleans, La. Basehall Goods, Religious Articles, Fishing Tackle, Periodicals, School Books.

From the Field.

Bell City, La.

Our meeting at Bell City, in which Rev. Martin Hebert assisted, was reckoned to be the best that has been held there for years. At almost all of the night services a Scripture lesson, a prayer, or an exhortation was given in French, which language is spoken by many and understood by practically all of the congregation. Four sermons were preached in French, and some who have never been known to attend our Church before, so we were informed, came to hear these messages in their own tongue, though some could understand English as well. At times many were not able to get into the house, and the attendance was at all times good. Some of the results that promise to abide in the spiritual and active life of the church are the formation of a woman's missionary society, now in the process of organization, and the plan to begin a home department in the Sunday school, and a Junior Epworth League. Up to date, nine have been received into the membership of the Church. When it is remembered that not a religious perlodical of any kind has been taken and read in this territory, including this whole circuit, except one Christian Herald (taken by a Presbyterian), and but a limited supply of our Sunday school literature, it is not hard to explain the weak condition of the Church life. However, it must be remembered that many of the adults, inciuding our most saintly members, cannot read either English or French. Fraternally.—P. O. Lowrey.

Mendenhall, Miss.

We have just closed a very successful revival at this place. We had with us Rev. Thos. J. Norsworthy, of Yazoo City. Brother Norsworthy is a charming man to associate with. I found him to be very congenial. He preached some very strong sermons, and they went home to the hearts of the people. A good many things resulted in this meeting that any pastor should appreciate. The first was that Brother Norsworthy magnified the pastor, instead of minifying him. I did not hear a single word in critlcism of pastors fall from his lips; on the contrary, he defended them in their important work. He left the people and pastor closer together. The next good feature was that he was not abusive of the Church. He preached a gospel that was of a high order and told the people they must stick to the Church. If he preaches always as he did for me, no church will be hurt by his evangelistic services. If any pastor can use him he will do well to get him, and the chances are that he (the pastor) will be surprised with a pounding. Such was our experience. We were pounded good and hard, and I understand Brother Norsworthy was the leader in it. My people at Mendenhall stuck to the preachers faithfuliy, and as a result 14 were added to our Church.....We held our meeting at Braxton, beginning on the first Sunday in July, Brother J. E. J. Ferguson helping us there. He is a most congenial man to work with. He is an earnest preacher and has only one object, namely, to make men love God. I am glad that I had him. We had a very spiritual meeting. Brother Ferguson did some excellent preaching, and we were made better thereby.—W. B. Waldrop, P. C.

Benoit, Miss.

We have just closed a gracious meeting at Pace, Miss., one of the appointments of this charge. We have no church building at this appointment, but held our services—as we hold all of them—in the Baptist Church. Rev. A. T. McIlwain, our pastor at Glen Allan, Miss., assisted us, and to this earnest, strong young minister and to God we give praise for this very successful meeting. As to results, we had a revival that inspired all who attended it, and only those who came occasionally or not at all were not filled with a desire for a more godly life. We took 13 persons into the Church: 11 by baptism, 2 by vows, and 2 being baptized for the Christian or Campbellite Church. The Lord has greatly blessed the Benoit and Beulah charge this year in point of an increased membership. We have received into the Church ninety-one members—28 by certificate and 63 by vows and baptism. Rev. J. A. Poe, our pastor at Sidon, Miss., assisted at Shipman's Chapel, and to his able work we give credit for most of our success there, where 66 members were received as a result of a two weeks' meeting. There are seven good Sunday schools on our charge, but four of them are union schools. The enrollment in all of them is about 400. We have five prayer meetings, including the one organized at the close of the meeting, at Pace. About thirty have pledged themselves to erect family altars. All of our churches, except one, make a monthly contribution to the Orphans' Home. We have about $1400 subscribed to add six Sunday school rooms to our church at Shipman's Chapel, which will give us a spacious building in that splendid rural community. We have collected $51 on Home Missions and $18 from Children's Day. The programs at Beulah, Pace, and Shipman Chapel were fine. We feel encouraged, realizing as we do that God is with us. Praise His holy name!—E. M. Shaw, P. C.

AN ACTIVE CHILDREN'S SOCIETY.

Dear Dr. Meek: About two months ago, Mrs. J. W. Mason and Mrs. H. L. Sutherland called the children of Benoit together and organized a Children's Missionary Society, having ten charter members, including themselves, and truly they are children, too, when it comes to a children's missionary society's work. There are now nineteen members. This society has already accomplished much and will do still greater things. They have about $15 in their treasury, which they have made paying dues and by working otherwise.

This little band of workers is now planning to help re-furnish the "Helen Finlay" room in the Scarritt Bible and Training School. As I understand it, this room belongs to the North Mississippi Conference. We think it very kind and generous, indeed, in these dear people to make such a liberal donation to this cause.

The society meets twice each month—once in a business session, and once for a regular program, as suggested by the Annual Conference, for worship and study of actual conditions. There has been one social meeting held with Sister Mason. After the children had enjoyed several innocent games, delicious cakes of various forms and sizes and lemonade were served. The afternoon in this pleasant home was enjoyed by every one present.

We wish that there could be a missionary society with a children's department organized in every church in our State. Sincerely,

Benoit, Miss. ETHEL GOLDING.

EAT HARRIS' JERSEY ICE CREAM
The CREAM OF QUALITY. Quick Auto Delivery
1300, 1302 DRYADES ST.
Phones Jackson 1080, 1081

L&N Louisville & Nashville R. R.
THE DIRECT LINE NORTH AND EAST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED STEEL SLEEPERS
DINING CARS, OBSERVATION CARS, CHAIR CARS
Phone M. 4093. TICKET OFFICE 201 ST. CHARLES STREET

"EXPOSITION LINE"
SOUTHERN PACIFIC — SUNSET ROUTE
ONE FARE FOR THE ROUND TRIP
$57.50
TO
California AND THE Expositions
TICKETS ON SALE DAILY
Limited to return within 90 days. Stopover all points enroute. Shortest and quickest route. Two through Steel Trains daily. Oil burning Locomotives. Electric Block Signals. Observation Cars.
Best Dining Car in America
For full information and illustrated catalogue, ask any Southern Pacific Agent or write
W. H. STAKELUM, Div. Pass. Agent, Lake Charles, La.
J. H. R. PARSONS, Gen. Pass. Agent, New Orleans, La.

THE TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY
Make Your Vacation Count!
Two or Three Weeks at
MINERAL WELLS
would almost make a new man of you, and a jolly, pleasant three weeks they would be, too! Low Round Trip Rates Every Day.
CITY TICKET OFFICE, 207 St. Charles Street.

EDENBORN LINE
LOUISIANA RAILWAY & NAVIGATION CO.
THE SHORT LINE :: THE POPULAR ROUTE
BETWEEN
New Orleans :: Baton Rouge : : Alexandria : Shreveport
TICKETS ON SALE TO ALL POINTS NORTHWEST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS
Secure Reservations at City Ticket Office
709 GRAVIER STREET, ST. CHARLES HOTEL

You Look Prematurely Old
Because of these ugly, grizzly gray hairs, Use "LA CREOLE" HAIR DRESSING. Price $1.00, retail.

Learn Shorthand

By Mail in 30 Days at my Expense

Send no money. Get my free lessons. I do not claim to fit you for a position in thirty days. Nobody can do that. But with my system, you can learn to write in Shorthand with very little effort. That first instruction is absolutely free. Then, if you wish to take further instruction, I will give you a positive guarantee to refund your money at the end of a specified time if you are not entirely satisfied. Could anything be fairer?

I have taught shorthand for many years. I have taught a dozen different systems. These include nearly all the new and so-called "simple" systems. But I went back to the original Pitman System—and improved on it. I now teach the Pratt-Pitmanic System, and I want to prove to you, at my expense, that it is the best. My great success is due to a new and original method of instruction by mail.

Positions at Good Salaries

Shorthand is a great advantage to everybody. For a young man or woman there is nothing equal to it. It will give you a start in life and an opportunity for rapid advancement. Many of my students have secured splendid positions. The demand for stenographers is increasing. You are practically certain to get a satisfactory salary if you take my course in shorthand. Become a court stenographer or fit yourself for other high class positions.

Free Typewriter Instruction

Every one of my students can have a course in typewriting absolutely free. If you do not own a typewriter, I will rent you one for six months for $10; or for $30 I will sell you a rebuilt visible machine that I cannot tell from a new $100 machine.

If you are ambitious and in earnest and really want to learn shorthand, send at once for FREE Lessons. A postal card will do. Simply say: "Send free lessons."

E. D. PRATT 1008 Pratt Bldg. CHICAGO

SOME RECENT JOURNEYINGS.

On the fourth of May, I left Starkville for Quitman, Miss., stopping over for a day, at Meridian. While at Meridian, I had the pleasure of meeting Dr. A. F. Watkins, President of Millsaps College, and Brother Tolle of Biloxi, both of whom, if I mistake not, were en route to the Meridian District Conference at Waynesboro.

I arrived at Quitman on May 5. I was taken in charge and most kindly entertained at the home of my niece, Mrs. Bettie (Wier) Kirkland and her husband, Mr. J. K. Kirkland. Their daughter, Miss "Sunshine" Kirkland, was married on the evening of the next day to Mr. Edgar Holcomb, at the home of the bride. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Holcomb, a Baptist minister and the father of the bridegroom, assisted by the writer.

Besides my niece, Mrs. Kirkland, her brother, Mr. Coke B. Wier, with his family, resides in Quitman. He has long been postmaster for the town, and is a faithful and successful Sunday school teacher.

I spent several days in Quitman, including Sunday, May 9. On the morning of that day it was my high privilege to preach at the Methodist Church, of which Rev. N. B. Barry is the faithful pastor. He occupied the pupit at night and gave us an earnest and edifying gospel message. Brother Barry is reported to be doing a good work. Besides Quitman, he has one or more additional appointments. Brother J. T. Leggett, presiding elder of the district, was present at the evening service. It was a pleasure to take by the hand and meet in the fellowship of worship this laborious representative of Mississippi Methodism. At Quitman it was my pleasure to meet also one or two members of the 37th Mississippi Regiment, of which I was for some time Chaplain during the Civil War.

After several days at Quitman, I went to Butler, Choctaw County, Alabama. Choctaw County borders on Mississippi, and Butler is its County Seat.

My only sister, Mrs. Sue J. F. Parker, lives at Butler, kindly cared for in the home of her son-in-law and her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wilcox. She was in a low state of health at the time of my visit, resulting, perhaps, from a fall several months before and a recent spell of cold or la grippe. But she was up most of the time during the day and was making a brave effort against the inroads of disease and the burden of advancing years.

Butler, I was told, is a Methodist town. Our Methodist people there have a neat brick-veneered house of worship, of which Rev. Mr. Harrison is pastor. He has a good parsonage there and serves other congregations beside the one at Butler. Brother Harrison is a grandson of the late Rev. W. P. Harrison, D.D., for some time Book Editor of the M. E. Church, South. He is a good preacher and in favor with his people, especially with the young people.

An excellent High School is located at Butler. It is separate from the public school, and is conducted in a different building. My niece, Mrs. Wilcox, besides the care of her sick mother, was quite busy getting her seventeen year old daughter, Josie Bell, ready for the approaching Commencement exercises of the High School. I was gratified to learn that my great-niece, Josie Bell, was a high grade student and had a place in the front rank of the graduating class of nine young ladies and gentlemen who received their diplomas on Wednesday, June 2.

Sunday, May 30, was Commencement Sunday, and it was my privilege to preach the Annual Sermon, to a good and attentive congregation, the services being held in the Methodist Church. This was my third sermon during my present visit to Butler, as I had preached on each of the two preceding Sabbaths.

On Thursday morning, June 3, I bade adieu to the dear ones at Butler and turned my face homeward. Spending the night at Meridian, I took a north bound M. & O. train, and changing cars at Artesia, I reached Starkville in time for dinner. A short time after dinner, a telephone message from Longview said that I was expected to be present and make a talk during Children's Day service on the approaching Sabbath. So I had the pleasure of spending the first Sabbath in June with Brother Owen, pastor of the charge, and other friends at Longview, witnessing a well planned and well rendered children's service, and making "a talk." At night I preached to a good congregation, glad to render some active service in the cause of our Lord and Master.

Starkville, Miss. T. C. WIER.

BAPTIST PASTOR'S WIFE IS CURED OF PELLAGRA

Battlefield, Miss.

A most remarkable case of recovery has been reported here by the Rev. T. E. Pinegar who says: "For two years my wife suffered with what is known as pellagra. Different doctors attended her, with absolutely no improvement in her condition. At last our family physician told friends of ours my wife must die."

"I was away from home most of the time, engaged in evangelistic work of the Baptist Missionary cause. At last we sent for Baugh's Pellagra Treatment. When she began to use it, her arms, face and hands were a sight to behold. After one month's treatment, to all appearances, she was well. I would advise all sufferers from that disease to give this remedy a trial. Use this testimonial as you see fit."

Here's a case where the family physician gave the patient up to die, and where Baughn's treatment saved her life. Don't hesitate longer. If you have pellagra, it is your duty to cure it.

The symptoms: Hands red like sunburn, skin peeling off, sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red, with much mucous and choking; indigestion and nausea; either diarrhoea or constipation.

There is hope; get Baughn's big Free book on Pellagra, and learn about the remedy for Pellagra that has at last been found. Address American Compounding Co., Box 587-X, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.

Note—This cure and other cures are personally known to the Advertising Manager of this paper, who did not accept this company's advertising until after an investigation that satisfied him that we had cured hundreds of cases of pellagra.—Adv.

That Unpublished Book of Yours

We make a specialty of publishing books, pamphlets, sermons and can guarantee good work a t reasonable prices. Can also suggest how to put your book on the market profitably. Write us today about it.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO., Louisville, Ky.

THAT BOY OF YOURS.

What kind of a man will he be ten, twenty, thirty years from now? You know, every parent knows, that it depends entirely upon the training he is getting right now, his associations, his ideals, his inspirations.

Morgan School, Fayetteville, Tenn.
R. K. MORGAN, Principal

Mr. Robert K. Morgan's School, Fayetteville, Tenn., has been training boys for twenty-five years. He wants your boy. He recognizes in him one of the men who may some day manage big affairs, and he wants to train him for that end. His school has been built and equipped, and his instructors chosen with the first and only consideration of giving the boy the mental and physical training, the associations with clean, high-minded men, the ideals of character, the inspirations to ambition, which the world expects in men to whom it entrusts its greatest affairs, be they business, professional, religious or social.

Robert K. Morgan is a Christian gentleman, of strong, wholesome, inspiring personality, and his school is the material projection of that character. He is a graduate of Webb School, Belibuckle, Tenn., and of Vanderbilt University.

The boy deserves your most careful thought. Write Mr. L. I. Mills, Secretary Morgan School, Fayetteville, Tenn., to-day, and let him send you a catalogue and tell you what this school can do for your boy.—Adv.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONF.

Winona Dist.—Third Round.

Webb Ct., at Webb, Aug. 14, 15.
Minter City Ct., at M. C., Aug. 21, 22.
Schlater Ct., at Schlater, Aug. 22, 23.
Lambert Ct., at Lambert, Aug. 28, 29.

BEN P. JACO, P. E.

Durant Dist.—Third Round.

Pickens, at Ebenezer, August 14, 15.
West, at Bowling Green, August 21, 22.
Bellefontaine, at Long Branch, Sat., August 28.
Siate Springs, at Spring Hill, August 29.
Eupora and Maben, at Maben, August 31.
Sidon, at Abiaca, September 5.
Louisville and Rocky Hill, at Louisville, September 11, 12.
Kosciusko Circuit, at Salem, September 18, 19.
Kilmichael, at Salem, Friday, September 24.
Poplar Creek, at Friendship, September 26.

W. S. SHIPMAN, P. E.

Holly Springs Dist.—Third Round.

Paris, at Shady Grove, August 14, 15.
Pine Valley, at Banner, August 15, 16.
Coffeeville, at Gray Rock, August 17.
Toccopoia, at Liberty, August 21.
Randoiph, at Hunter's Chapel, August 22, 23.
Byhalia, at Emory, August 28, 29.

R. A. TUCKER, P. E.

Corinth Dist.—Third Round.

Chalybeate, at Ebenezer, August 14, 15.
Ripley Circuit, at Falkner, August 15, 16.
Belmont, at New Hope, August 20.
Tishomingo, at Paradise, August 21, 22.

J. H. MITCHELL, P. E.

Aberdeen Dist.—Third Round.

Okolona Circuit, at Boone Chapel, August 14, 15.
Tremonte, at Mount Olive, August 21, 22.
Fulton, at New Saiem, August 26.
Verona, at Plantersviiie, August 25-29.
Prairie, at Strong, September 4, 5.
Tupelo, September 6.
Montpelier, at Fosters Chapel, September 11, 12.
Buena Vista, September 13.

JNO. W. BELL, P. E.

A Foe to Tuberculosis

The Journal of the American Medical Association (August 9, 1914), reviewing an article on "The Influence of Calcium Salts on Constitution and Health," said: "They (the authors) report numbers of concrete instances in which patients gained in vitality and energy after taking calcium."

Doctors agree that in tuberculosis lowered vitality and lost energy must be overcome.

One of the constituents of Eckman's Alterative is calcium (lime), in such combination with other valuable ingredients as to be easily assimilated by the average person. To this, in part, is due its success in the treatment of tuberculosis—a service which even some ethical practitioners have acknowledged to their patients. We make no wholesale claims for it but since it contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, a trial is safe. Price $1 and $2 per bottle. Sold by leading druggists or sent direct from the Laboratory. We would like to send you a booklet containing information of value and references.

ECKMAN LABORATORY,
23 N. Seventh St. Philadelphia.

THE GENUINE AND IMPORTED
DR BLAUD'S IRON PILLS

For General Debility, Anemia, Chlorosis, and in the Convalescent Period. Genuine has "Blaud" stamped on each Pill. All Druggists, E. FOUGERA & CO., Inc., 90 Beekman St., New York.

No increase in Price

No. 666

This is a prescription prepsred especially for MALARIA or CHILLS & FEVER. Five or six doses will break any case, and if taken then as a tonic the Fever will not return. It acts on the liver better than Calomel and does not gripe or sicken. 25c

Whole Family Benefited By Wonderful Remedy

There are many little things to annoy us, under present conditions of life. The hurry, hard work, noise and strain all tell on us and tend to provoke nervousness and irritability.. We are frequently so worn out we can neither eat, sleep nor work with any comfort. We are out of line with ourselves and others as well.

A good thing to do under such circumstances is to take something like to relieve the strain on the nerves. Mrs. J. B. Hartsfield, 82 Plum St., Atianta Ga., writes:

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills

"I have on several occasions been vastly relieved by the use of your medicines, especially the Anti-Paln Pills, which I keep constantly on hand for the use of myself, husband and two sons. Nothing in the world equals them as a headache remedy. Often I am enabled by the use of one or two of the Pills to continue my housework when otherwise I would be in bed. My husband joins me in my praise of the Anti-Pain Pills and Nervine."

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills

are relied upon to relieve pain, nervousness and irritability in thousands of households. Of proven merit after twenty years' use, you can have no reason for being longer without them.

At all Druggists, 25 doses 25 cents.

MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

NEW ORLEANS DISTRICT NOTES.

Rev. T. V. Peters will take a month's vacation in his native Tennessee.

Rev. J. E. Gray, of Logtown, Miss., spent Monday, August 2, with Rev. A. J. Gearheard.

Rev. W. R. McPherson, who has been serving our Lower Coast work, will soon leave for the Candler School of Theology.

The Presiding elder, Rev. W. W. Holmes, is holding an arhor meeting this week at Gonzales, with Rev. T. D. Lipscomb, the pastor of the Donaldsonville charge.

Work on the Louisiana Avenue Methodist parsonage is progressing satisfactorily and rapidly. The framework is completed, and by this writing the weather-boarding should be done and the painters at work. The Committee have made good use of a large space in the northwest corner of their church lot, and have so situated a roomy, two-story house that it will get an abundanee of light and air—in fact, more than the average city residence. The building will soon be ready for occupaney, and its erection will greatly strengthen our Louisiana Avenue Church.

FROM BROTHER NORSWORTHY.

Dear Dr. Meek: On last Sunday night we closed a most successful revival campaign in Mendenhall, Miss., with Brother Waldrop. The deep agitation of the public mind, growing out of the campaign excitement, made it very dificult to hold the attention of the people, but a great victory was achieved, notwithstanding. We found Brother W. B. Waldrop doing well at Mendenhall. He is deeply fixed in the confidence and affections of the people. I heard only words of commendation and praise of this promising young man.

As a result of the meeting, some of the strongest men of the community were converted and received into our Church.

Much of my time during the present year has been given to the work in Florida, but I am at work again in Mississippi and hope to give the rest of the year to this field.

I am now in a meeting, which begins well, with Brother M. L. White at Bentonia. Later I will be with Brother Timothy V. Peters at McDonoghville, La. My address is still Yazoo City, Miss.

Yours sincerely,
THOS. J. NORSWORTHY.
Bentonia, Miss., August 6, 1915.

To Drive Out Malaria
And Build Up The System
Take the Old Standard GROVE'S TASTELESS chill TONIC. You know what you are taking, as the formula is printed on every label, showing it is Quinine and Iron in a tasteless form. The Quinine drives out malaria, the Iron builds up the system. 50c.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Newton Dist.—Third Round.

Chunky, at Chunky, August 14, 15.
Lena, at Forkville, Wed., August 18.
Clarkesburg, at Pulaski, August 19.
Harperville, at Conehatta, August 21, 22.
Choctaw Indian Mission, at Jackson's, Tues., August 24.
C. F. EMERY, P. E.

Meridian Dist.—Third Round.

Lauderdale, at Marlon, August 15, 16.
Meridian, East End, August 15, 16.
Waynesboro Circuit, at Winchester, August 21.
Waynesboro, at Hiroanu, August 22, 23.
Porterville, at Briggs Chapel, August 25.
Daleville, at Bethel, August 29, 30.
Moscow, at Mt. Zion, September 4.
De Kalb, at New Hope, September 5.
Clark, at Oak Grove, September 11.
Enterprise, at Basic City, September 12, 13.
Vimville, September 18, 19.
Meridian, South Side, September 19, 20.
J. T. LEGGETT, P. E.

Jackson Dist.—Third Round.

Lake City, at Crymes Chapel, August 13.
Eden, at Pleasant Hill, August 14, 15.
Yazoo City, August 15, 16.
Flora, at Livingston, August 22, 23.
Edwards, August 25.
Madison, at Pearl River, August 28, 29.
Jackson, Rankin Street, August 29, p. m.
Camden, at Thomastown, Sept. 4, 5.
Jackson, Millsaps Memorial, September 8.
Terry, at Forest Hill, Sept. 11, 12.
Florence, at Wesleyana, Sept. 15.
Bolton, at Brownsville, Sept. 18, 19.
P. D. HARDIN, P. E.

Hattiesburg Dist.—Third Round.

Eucutta, at Boyles Church, August 14, 15.
Heidelberg, at Philadelphia, August 17.
Williamshurg, at Good Hope, August 21, 22.
Collins, August 22, 23.
Silver Creek, at New Hebron, August 25.
Taylorsville, at Oakehay, August 28, 29.
Mount Olive, at Mize, August 29, 30.
McLain, at Crossroads, September 4, 5.
Magee, at Sharon, September 9.
Oloh, September 11, 12.
Sumrall, September 12, 13.

If any of these dates should conflict with any revival meeting engagement pastors will please write me.
GEO. H. THOMPSON, P. E.

Brookhaven Dist.—Third Round.

Summit and E. McComb, at Pizgah, Aug. 14, 15.
McComb, Centenary, Aug. 15, 16.
Meadville, at McCalls, Aug. 18.
Seotland, at New Hope, Aug. 21, 22.
Bayou Pierre, at Tabernacle, Aug. 26.
Pleasant Grove, at Tilton, Aug. 28, 29.
Tylertown, at Tylertown, Sept. 4, 5.
Topisaw, at Holmesville, Sept. 8.
Barlow, at Lebanon, Sept. 11, 12.
Hazlehurst, Sept. 17, 19.
Brookhaven, Sept. 19, 20.
Wesson, at Wesson, Sept. 22.
South McComb. at Muddy Springs, Sept. 25, 26.
ROBT. SELBY, P. E.
Brookhaven, Miss.

Port Gibson Dist.—Third Round.

Washington, at Washington, Friday, August 13.
Natchez, August 14, 15.
Vicksburg, Gibson Memorial, at Red Bone, August 20, 21.
Rolling Fork, at R. F., Tuesday, August 24.
Mayersville, at Mayersville, Thursday, August 26.
Silver City, at Louise, August 28, 29.
Roxie, at Hamburg, Sept. 4, 5.
T. W. ADAMS, P. E.
Fayette, Miss., May 27, 1915.

Seashore Dist.—Third Round.

Brooklyn, at Stillmore, August 14, 15.
Vancleave, at New Chapel, August 21, 22.
Carriere and Picayune, Wednesday, August 25.
Longbeach, August 28, 29.
Gulfport, First Church, Wednesday, September 1.
Wolf River, at Beulah, September 4, 5.
W. H. HUNTLEY, P. E.

ERUPTIONS CAN BE STOPPED
by internal blood purifiers because they are caused by blood disorders. However, Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Itch, Scaly Patches, etc., cannot because they are parasitic skin diseases. It takes a positive skin remedy like Tetterine to destroy the germs and heal the surface. Dr. W. S. Fielder, Electric, Ala., says: "I never use anything else but Tetterine in all skin troubles." 50c at druggist or by mail from Shuptrine Co., Savannah, Ga.

GRENADA COLLEGE
A Christian School for Girls and Young Women.
Stands for Character, Health, Culture, Comfort.

Strong Faculty with University and Foreign Training. Buildings: Brick, Steam-heated throughout. Grounds: Ample and Beautiful.

Offers a Four-year PREPARATORY COURSE; College Course of Four Years Leads to A. B. Degree. Diplomas in PIANO, VOICE, ART, EXPRESSION, and DOMESTIC SCIENCE. Total expense for Literary Course, $210 per session of Nine Months.

Grenada, Miss., Box C. J. R. COUNTISS, President.

MILLSAPS COLLEGE, Jackson, Miss.
A. F. WATKINS, President.
A HIGH GRADE COLLEGE

Situated at the Capital of the State. Location high, dry and healthful. Entrance requirements and curriculum same as in other leading Colleges and Universities, North and South. The very finest moral and religious influences. Courses leading to A.B., B.S., A.M., M.S. and LL.B. degrees.

MILLSAPS PREPARATORY SCHOOL.—Under separate Faculty and Dormitory Management. Unsurpassed training for College.

MILLSAPS LAW SCHOOL.—Offering extraordinary advantages. Superior Faculty; Law Libraries; accessible to all Courts.

TWENTY-FOURTH SESSION BEGINS SEPTEMBER 15, 1915.

For Catalogue and other information address
J. REESE LIN, Secretary. Jackson, Miss.

HOWARD COLLEGE
IN BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA

THE Alabama Baptist college for men. Located among foothills of beautiful suburb, on two electric lines. Beautiful grounds and modern buildings and equipment. Faculty of twenty-seven teachers. Fourteen units required for admission. Sixty hours work required for graduation.

THE CLASSICS: Seventeen departments are maintained, in which one hundred and twenty-eight courses are offered. Twenty-three points required. Thirty-seven points elective.

MUSIC: Howard College is the only primarily male college in the South with a standard School of Music. Faculty of five teachers, offering voice, piano, string and wind instruments and theory. Courses count toward college degree.

JOURNALISM: Howard College is the only institution in the South Atlantic States offering courses in Journalism. Theoretrical and practical work offered under successful newspaper man.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION: Howard College is the only institution in the Birmingham district with an approved Department of Education. Graduates may procure first grade certificate to teach in State.

ATHLETICS: College authorities encourage inter-class and inter-collegiate athletics. Institution is a member of the Southern Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association. Two coaches employed.

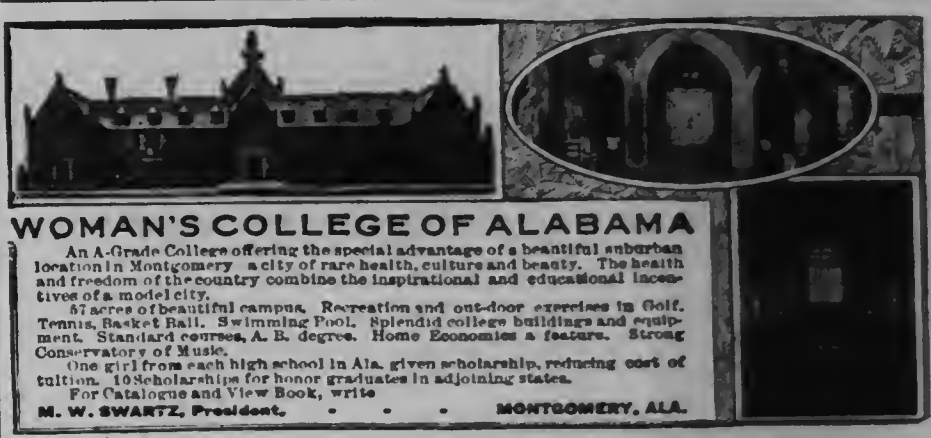
Seventy-fourth annual session begins September 8, 1915.

JAMES M. SHELBURNE, President.

PRICE-WEBB SCHOOL
LEWISBURG, TENN.

A Boy's Preparatory School located in one of the most healthful sections of Middle Tennessee. Stresses thoroughness in training. Possesses an excellent library and encourages pupils to use it freely. Non-denominational, but stands for the highest ideals of Christian character.

Fall term begins September 2.
Tuition $75.00. Board at reasonable rates.
For full information address
E. T. PRICE, Principal,
W. R. WEBB, Advisory Principal.



WOMAN'S COLLEGE OF ALABAMA

An A-Grade College offering the special advantage of a beautiful suburban location in Montgomery a city of rare health, culture and beauty. The health and freedom of the country combine the inspirational and educational incentives of a model city.

57 acres of beautiful campus. Recreation and out-door exercises in Golf, Tennis, Basket Ball, Swimming Pool. Splendid college buildings and equipment. Standard courses, A. B. degree. Home Economics a feature. Strong Conservatory of Music.

One girl from each high school in Ala. given scholarship, reducing cost of tuition. 10 Scholarships for honor graduates in adjoining states.

For Catalogue and View Book, write
M. W. SWARTZ, President. MONTGOMERY, ALA.

TRY THE OLD RELIABLE
WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC
For MALARIA CHILLS & FEVER
A FINE GENERAL STRENGTHENING TONIC

RUB-MY-TISM
Will cure your Rheumatism Neuralgia, Headaches, Cramps, Colic, Sprains, Bruises, Cuts and Burns, Old Sores, Stings of Insects Etc. Antiseptic Anodyne, used internally and externally. Price 25c.

Woman's Missionary Work

Edited by .....Mrs. R. F. Harrell, Centerville, Miss.

Conference Publicity Superintendents:

Louisiana.....Mrs. A. C. McKinney, Ruston, La.
Mississippi .....Mrs. J. L. Neill, Laurel, Miss.
North Mississippi.....Mrs. Walter Campbell, Winona, Miss.

All communications for this department should be sent to the Editor at the address given above.

VALUE OF CHILD LIFE.

Christianity has made us prize human life. All the gold in all the world could not purchase your child nor mine, even if he were only a day old. It is not necessary to enlarge on this line of thought. "How much do you love the baby?" You cannot express it. You have whispered it over and over into baby ears; you have used every kind of measurement known; you have run your figures into millions; you have used every superlative known to the English language, and still you have never found words that could in any way express the unalterable love you bear to that precious child.

But oh, how cheap child life is in non-Christian lands! In some parts of Africa twins are regarded with such horror that they are destroyed. The unfortunate little beings are stuffed into a pot and thrown into the woods to die, and their mother is disgraced for life.—Mrs. J. P. White in The Young Christian Worker.

EXTRACTS FROM A LETTER FROM MRS. R. W. MacDONELL.

"Success in increase of membership and the organization of new auxiliaries the past quarter brings greater responsibility to every missionary leader. We must make our meetings instructive that these new people may learn about the work, and we must go in the power of Him who has commissioned us; otherwise the end will be failure. We have been ready in the office to help as you have needed.

"In the three months since the Council the Home Work has had its successes and perplexities and your Secretary has in no sense been idle. You will be interested to know that the new building at Brevard was dedicated on May 26. The building is fine, but unfurnished. Money for this is much needed, and there is no appropriation for the same.

"The Executive Committee granted a year's leave of absence to Professor and Mrs. Lewis, of the Sue Bennett School, and instructed the President and Secretary of the Council to secure a supply for the vacancy thus caused. We were fortunate to secure Rev. Mr. Savage, the pastor of our Church at London, as Registrar, and Dr. Katherine French, as Dean of the Faculty. Mrs. French is a kinswoman of our own Mrs. Spillman. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will leave their five children at the school while they either go to England or take a course of study at Columbia.

"Our dear Miss Adams leaves the Wolff Mission at Ybor City, Tampa, Fla., as she desires to place a different environment about her niece, who has become her ward. Miss Lillie Fox will follow her.

"We have been most fortunate in securing a desirable matron for Paine Annex, Augusta, Ga. She had training for this work at Hampton Institute, and comes to us with the endorsement of the Dean of Women of that School, whose judgment is most worth while.

"We have an opportunity to purchase a house and lot adjacent to Ruth Hargrove Institute, at Key West, at a reasonable price. You will recall that there has been a great need for a boys' dormitory there, and the purchase of this place will help meet this need. Its proximity to our property makes it imperative that we own it, as it is possible for a tobacco factory or saloon to be built at this place, which would be ruinous to us. We owe $4500 to this school from the money collected during the Week of Prayer of 1912, and this purchase would cover the purpose for which the collection was made. The Executive Committee have instructed that investigation be made concerning the real value of this property."

TREASURER'S REPORT FOR SECOND QUARTER, LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

Baton Rouge District: Adult dues, $94.95; Junior dues, $2.50; Baby Division, 50c; Adult pledge, $37.90; Junior pledge, 52c; Day school, $50; Week of Prayer, $2.50; total, $188.87.

Lafayette District: Adult dues, $86.10; Young People's dues, $1.50; Junior dues, $2.40; Adult pledge, $30.10; total, $120.10.

Monroe District: Adult dues, $95.02; Young People's dues, $1.50; Junior dues, $8.95; Adult pledge, $24.95; Young People's pledge, $5; Junior pledge, 90c; Baby Division pledge, $1.14; total, $137.46.

New Orleans District: Adult dues, $144.45; Young People's dues, $2.35; Junior dues, $2.98; Baby Division dues, $4.60; Adult pledge, $135.25; Junior pledge, $20.14; Baby Division pledge, $1.05; total, $310.82.

Ruston District: Adult dues, $130.30; Young People's dues, $3.10; Junior dues, $2.20; Adult pledge, $90.90; Young People's pledge, $2.10; Junior pledge, $17; Scarritt fund, 25c; total, $245.85.

Shreveport District: Home Special, $50; Adult dues, $269.20; Junior dues, $6.25; Baby Division dues, 25c; Adult pledge, $237.73; Junior pledge, $3.11; Day schools, $150; Bible Women, $60; Scholarship, $40; total, $816.54.

Alexandria District: Adult dues, $115.85; Young People's dues, $2.55; Adult pledge, $44.25; Young People's pledge, $4.50; Junior pledge, $2; Day school, $150; Scholarship, $60; Scarritt fund, $2; total, $381.15.

Recapitulation: Home Special, $50; Adult dues, $935.87; Young People's dues, $11; Junior dues, $25.28; Baby Division dues, $5.35; Adult pledge, $601.08; Young People's pledge, $11.60; Junior pledge, $43.67; Baby Division pledge, $2.19; Day schools, $350; Bible Women, $60; Scholarships, $100; Week of Prayer, $2.50; Scarritt fund, $2.25; total, $2200.79.

Adult pledge, 1st quarter.....$ 521.10
Adult pledge, 2nd quarter..... 601.08

$1122.18

Mrs. J. J. HOLMES, Treas.

CORINTH DISTRICT MEETING.

On July 22-23 the Woman's Missionary Society of the Corinth District held its meeting in Iuka. The three sessions in which institutes were held on the different departments of the work were especially helpful to all present.

The Conference President, Mrs. Vic Thompson Hoyle, was a great inspiration and help in the discussions of the work, but especially did she bring a blessing to all in her devotional meetings and her splendid address, in which she drew the entire congregation nearer the Master, as she brought messages from the last Council meeting and appealed to the young people to consecrate their lives to the Master's service.

It was the privilege of the Conference to have present two of its workers, Miss Mary Daniel, Conference Deaconess, and Miss Mary Massey, missionary to Mexico. Each of these young women brought a message concerning her work.

The Conference was a splendid success because of the faithful, earnest work of the consecrated young woman who is Secretary of the District, Miss Corinne Rogers, who wins the love and admiration of all who meet her.

There were twenty-seven delegates present, and all who attended declared this to be one of the best meetings that the Corinth District has ever held.

Mrs. LAURA COPELAND.

EMORY UNIVERSITY

An institution Founded, Owned and Controlled by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

The University offers at present courses leading to degrees in the following departments:

1.—The School of Liberal Arts—Emory College—offers courses in English, Spanish, French, German, Greek, Latin, Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Biology, Mental and Moral Science, History, Political Economy and Biblical Literature, leading to the usual literary degrees. This department has a library of 40,000 bound volumes.

2.—The School of Theology—The Candler School of Theology—offers full and varied courses leading to the degree of B. D. This is a school of theology, as definite in its teaching as it is definite in its aim to serve the church to which it belongs. The library of the School of Theology is rich and grows richer daily. To it belongs the famous "Thursfield-Smith Collection of Wesleyana," which includes hundreds of the autograph letters of the Wesleys and other Methodist celebrities.

3.—The School of Medicine—The Atlanta Medical College—a medical school of first grade which offers courses in medicine and surgery covering four years, and leading to the degree of M. D. By arrangement with the Grady Hospital, the Municipal Hospital of Atlanta, and the Wesley Memorial Hospital, which is a part of the University system, the School of Medicine is able to offer clinical advantages of great value to students.

For bulletins, giving full information concerning the University, and its several departments, write to,

WALKER WHITE, Secretary-Bursar.

Emory University Atlanta, Georgia.

Wesleyan College

Macon, Georgia

Founded in 1836. Graduated its First Class in 1840. Seventy-nine Years of Eminent Success. Ranks Easily With the Best Colleges in the Country.

THE WESLEYAN, an "A" grade college in the truest sense, offers courses in the languages, literature, mathematics, the sciences, philosophy, education, history and economics, household arts and sciences, the Bible and religious education. The full four years of college work are credited by the best universities. Excellent equipment and a large faculty afford ample opportunity for election of preferred branches of study.

While supreme emphasis is laid upon the courses leading to the Bachelor's degree, the strongest possible departments of music, art and expression are maintained.

Fourteen eminent American artists and teachers are employed in the Conservatory of Music. The three men at the head of the departments of piano, voice and pipe organ, respectively, are unsurpassed on the continent, while the violin teacher is easily the South's greatest.

The departments of expression, painting and drawing and china painting are in charge of several teachers of rare qualifications.

The situation of Wesleyan is ideal, its health record practically perfect, its social and moral atmosphere delightful.

The Wesleyan diploma is the highest academic honor. The thousands of alumnae are leaders everywhere and in every realm of woman's influence.

Write

C. R. JENKINS, D. D., President.

Sunday School

HOW TO HOLD BOYS AND GIRLS OVER THIRTEEN.

By Rev. B. F. Lewis.

IV.

The last thing to be mentioned at this time as helpful in holding our boys and girls over thirteen is

The Adapted Pastor.

In the Intermedlate Department of the Sunday School, the pastor is almost as essential as the teacher. In fact, it is hard to see how the teacher can do his or her best work without sympathetic pastoral co-operation. To be heipful

(1) The pastor should at least make a sufficiently careful study of modern Sunday school methods, and of youthful nature, to aid the teacher with practical suggestions and advice. Offhand, haphazard solutions of problems will as often miss the case as fit. Harm is as likely to result as good. This cannot be afforded. Further, the pastor's knowledge of Sunday school work should be of such a general and accurate nature as to inspire confidence in pupils and teachers. No teacher will come to a pastor for help in trouble, unless that teacher believes the pastor capable of rendering efficient help. No pupil will submit to authority where there is the slightest idea that the leader is not sure of himself. It is not natural for them to do so.

A pastor's library which does not contain at least a few up-to-date Sunday school books, which have been read and digested, is sadly deficient. He gets 85 per cent of his conversions and church members from the Sunday school, and 95 per cent of all his church workers have come to him from this source, and all those who will co-operate with his successors will receive training at his hands in this same department. Why should not he carefully study it?

(2) Again, wherever practicable, the pastor can with profit to himself co-operate with the teacher in the social and fun-making spirit of the class. It will help him not only to keep a hold on the class, but aid him in keeping in touch with the young life of his church.

(3) The last thing to be mentioned is, The pastor can do his best work from the pulpit by adapted preaching.

In a certain Sunday school the teachers in the Intermediate Department, with those of the Junior Department, began a systematic effort to get all their pupils to attend Church regularly. These teachers, with the Sunday school superintendent, met the pastor in conference. After careful consideration, the following policy was agreed upon. The teachers were not only to urge regular attendance upon the scholars, but were to grade the pupils on church attendance. These grades were to enter into their quarterly and annual averages, and figure in their promotions, with or without honor. The superintendent, on his part, was to keep before the school announcements of church services. On his part, the pastor agreed to preach a short sermon to the pupils each Sabbath. Gradually, the Sunday school pupils gravitated to a certain set of seats which the older members as gradually left to them, and thus all the pupils sat together. After the usual opening exercises the pastor addressed the pupils, giving them a short, pointed outline of the sermon he intended preaching to the general congregation with some interesting story, after which any pupil so desiring was at liberty to go home. One Sunday one pupil left the church. But this occurred but once.

Result: The lowest number of Sunday school pupils present at any service after the agreement was seventy-five, under the age of fifteen. During the pastorate of this preacher, over eighty Sunday school pupils under sixteen united with the Church on profession of faith.

SOME THINGS HEARD AT THE LAKE JUNALUSKA CONFERENCE FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL FIELD SECRETARIES.

By Rev. R. H. B. Gladney,
Sardis, Miss.

We now have twenty Field Secretaries in the Methodist Church. Some of these men have been in training several years, but most of them are learning to be specialists.

Dr. J. W. Shackford has been elected Superintendent of Teacher-training to fill the place made vacant by the death of Dr. H. M. Hamill. Dr. Shackford will announce the course of study for teachers early in September.

The school can not be better than the teacher. The teacher is the hinge on which the Sunday school door opens; therefore the trained teacher is our greatest asset and our greatest need. We must discover and make our teachers. What others have done we can do. Every class in every church in three counties in Illinois has trained teachers who hold diplomas in teacher-training work.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK OF SOUTH CAROLINA METHODISM.

The South Carolina Conference (now two Conferences) began work in 1910 with J. M. Way as its first Sunday School Field Secretary. He is now Field Secretary of the Atlantic Division, which is composed of ten Annual Conferences.

In the five years Mr. Way was Field Secretary in South Carolina the Sunday school enrollment increased 28,480. During the preceding twenty years, from 1890 to 1910, the enrollment grew only 13,533. From 1910 to 1915 the Church membership increased 10,889.

In that five years of active Sunday school effort the value of houses of worship increased nearly $200,000 a year, this growth in value growing out of the desire of an aroused people to provide modern equipment for Sunday schools. In 1910 there were no Wesley Bible classes, and few organized Bible classes of any kind, but there are at present more than 600 classes registered with the Wesley Bible Class Department at Nashville.

In 1913 the South Carolina Conference Wesley Bible Class Federation was formed. More than four hundred delegates came to that meeting. At the second annual meeting, held March 17-19, 1914, a still larger number attended, while at the third meeting, on July 19-21, 1915, the total attendance was about two thousand, twelve hundred of whom traveled by rail to the place of meeting. Several hundred more came in from near-by communities over the trolley lines.

The best thing about the South Carolina work is that it has placed the Sunday school interests on the hearts of the people, and they are thinking about it and giving attention to it as to no other Church activity. The schools are being properly organized, the Graded Lessons are largely used, and the Church is receiving a fine increase in membership directly from the Sunday school.

Rev. W. C. Owen, Mr. Way's successor, is a strong man and is doing a great work. South Carolina Methodists claim that they have only begun their work.

R. H. B. GLADNEY.

THE TROUBLE IS NOT INSIDE.

The myriads of parasitic germs which cause Tetter, Eczema, Ringworm, Itch, Acne, Salt Rheum, etc., cannot be killed internally. They live and feed on the surface and must there be treated. Tetterine is the common sense treatment that has scientific principles to back it up. E. A. Kennedy, druggist of Brooklyn, Fla., says: "Tetterine has cured quickly and permanently several stubborn cases of letter that came under my personal knowledge. One of 15 years standing." 50c at druggist's or by mail from Shuptrine Co., Atlanta, Ga

"It is the mission of the Church to give the whole gospel to the whole world."

Methodist Benevolent Association

A Mutual Benefit Brotherhood for Southern Methodists. Issues Whole Life, 20 Premium Life, Term to 60, and Disability Certificates. Benefits payable at death, old age, or disability. Over $152,000.00 paid to widows, orphans, and disabled. Over $40,000.00 reserve fund. Write for rates, blanks, etc. J. H. Shumaker, Secretary, 810 Broadway, Nashville, Tenn.

Some time when you are tired drinking just ordinary Coffee and feel like drinking "A REAL GOOD CUP OF COFFEE," try a pound of

GUATEMALA BLEND

Just Phone Main 2196 and it will be delivered direct to your residence

GUATEMALA AMERICAN COFFEE CO.

617 CAMP STREET. PHONE MAIN 2196.

ROCHE'S HERBAL EMBROCATION FOR

HOOPING-COUGH OR CROUP

The Celebrated Effectual Remedy Without Internal Medicine.

For 120 years this Remedy has met with continued and growing popularity.

BRONCHITIS, LUMBAGO and RHEUMATISM are also Quickly Relieved by a Few Applications.

W. Edwards & Son, 157 Queen Victoria St., London, England. All Druggists, or E. FOUGERA & Co., Inc., 90 Beekman St., N. Y.

DEAF CHILDREN

Under our instruction, learn to speak and understand the oral word. Give us the care early of the little deaf children and speech and understanding shall be theirs; even the appearance of deficiency will not develop. Instruction is individual in the strictest sense. Every student masters lip-reading and speech; the use of signs is discouraged. Large commodious building with fine lawn. The atmosphere of the orderly Christian home pervades the school. Best results secured when parents place children with us as early in life as possible.

Write For Our Booklet

MISS ARBAUGH'S PRIVATE SCHOOL. MACON, GEORGIA.

Drink Coca-Cola

and as you lift the glass to your lips reflect that three million or more glasses of this wonderful beverage are consumed each day—making it indeed the great National drink.

Delicious and Refreshing

Demand the genuine by full name
—all the wise do likewise

THE COCA-COLA CO.
ATLANTA, GA.

Whenever you see an Arrow, think of Coca-Cola

A MANSFIELD FIRST CAMPAIGN.

For catalogue write MANSFIELD FIRST; for Music, investigate MANSFIELD FIRST; for Art, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Domestic Science, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Expression, MANSFIELD FIRST; for TEACHER-TRAINING, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Physical Development and Health, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Religious Teaching and Environment, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Home Life and not Dormitory, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Earnest Work, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Loyal Student Organizations, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Happy College Spirit, MANSFIELD FIRST; for Reasonable Expense, MANSFIELD FIRST;

In Thought put MANSFIELD FIRST; in Word, MANSFIELD FIRST; in Deed, MANSFIELD FIRST; in Thankfulness for a great past, MANSFIELD FIRST; in Thanksgiving for a greater present, MANSFIELD FIRST; in Hope for the greatest and best in the year to come, MANSFIELD FIRST.

When you have really and conscientiously made MANSFIELD FIRST, and you are not satisfied that MANSFIELD is FIRST, go or send elsewhere. Yours for MANSFIELD FIRST,

R. E. BOBBITT, President,
Mansfield, La.

P. S.—Names are coming and we are sowing catalogues.

OUR NEW UNIVERSITIES.

In the Southern Christian Advocate (South Carolina) some time since, Rev. W. C. Kirkland, the editor, discussed at some length the establishment and progress of Emory University. The following is an extract from his strong and timely utterance:

"We suppose that many are agreeably surprised that Emory University has met with so much good fortune and has been able to make such substantial progress so early in its career.

"It required stout hearts and a strong faith to begin again the building of an institution of such a character after the loss of Vanderbilt. We have always been led to believe and do still believe that Vanderbilt was founded by The Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Bishop H. N. McTyeire, acting as its chief agent at the time, and securing the financial assistance of the citizens of Nashville in buying the site and of Mr. Vanderbilt in erecting the buildings and in starting the endowment; and that Vanderbilt was intended to be a Church-owned and a Church-controlled institution. We believe that should either Bishop McTyeire or Mr. Vanderbilt arise from the dead to-day any other contention would be very astonishing to them.

"Its alienation from the Church has been accomplished, we think, not in obedience to the spirit, intent, or desire of its founders, but by taking advantage of technicalities. But our Church is one that would not long be contented without a University that would be all its own. The Methodist Episcopal Church, South, is too firmly established in the life of the South, has too many men to be educated for the many vocations, and has too abundant financial resources, to be satisfied without institutions adequate to all its needs.

"And the sentiment that the Church bestowed for a generation on Vanderbilt is being effectually transferred to Emory.

"The Methodism on this side of the Mississippi is able to build and maintain a University at Atlanta and the Methodism on the other side of the Mississippi is able to build and maintain a University at Dallas. And with our resources, they are bound to become great institutions."

WHEN DOCTORS DIFFER.

Just now there is a very frequent expression of very decided and antagonistic views in regard to woman. Writers of equal strength of conviction and definiteness take very opposite positions.

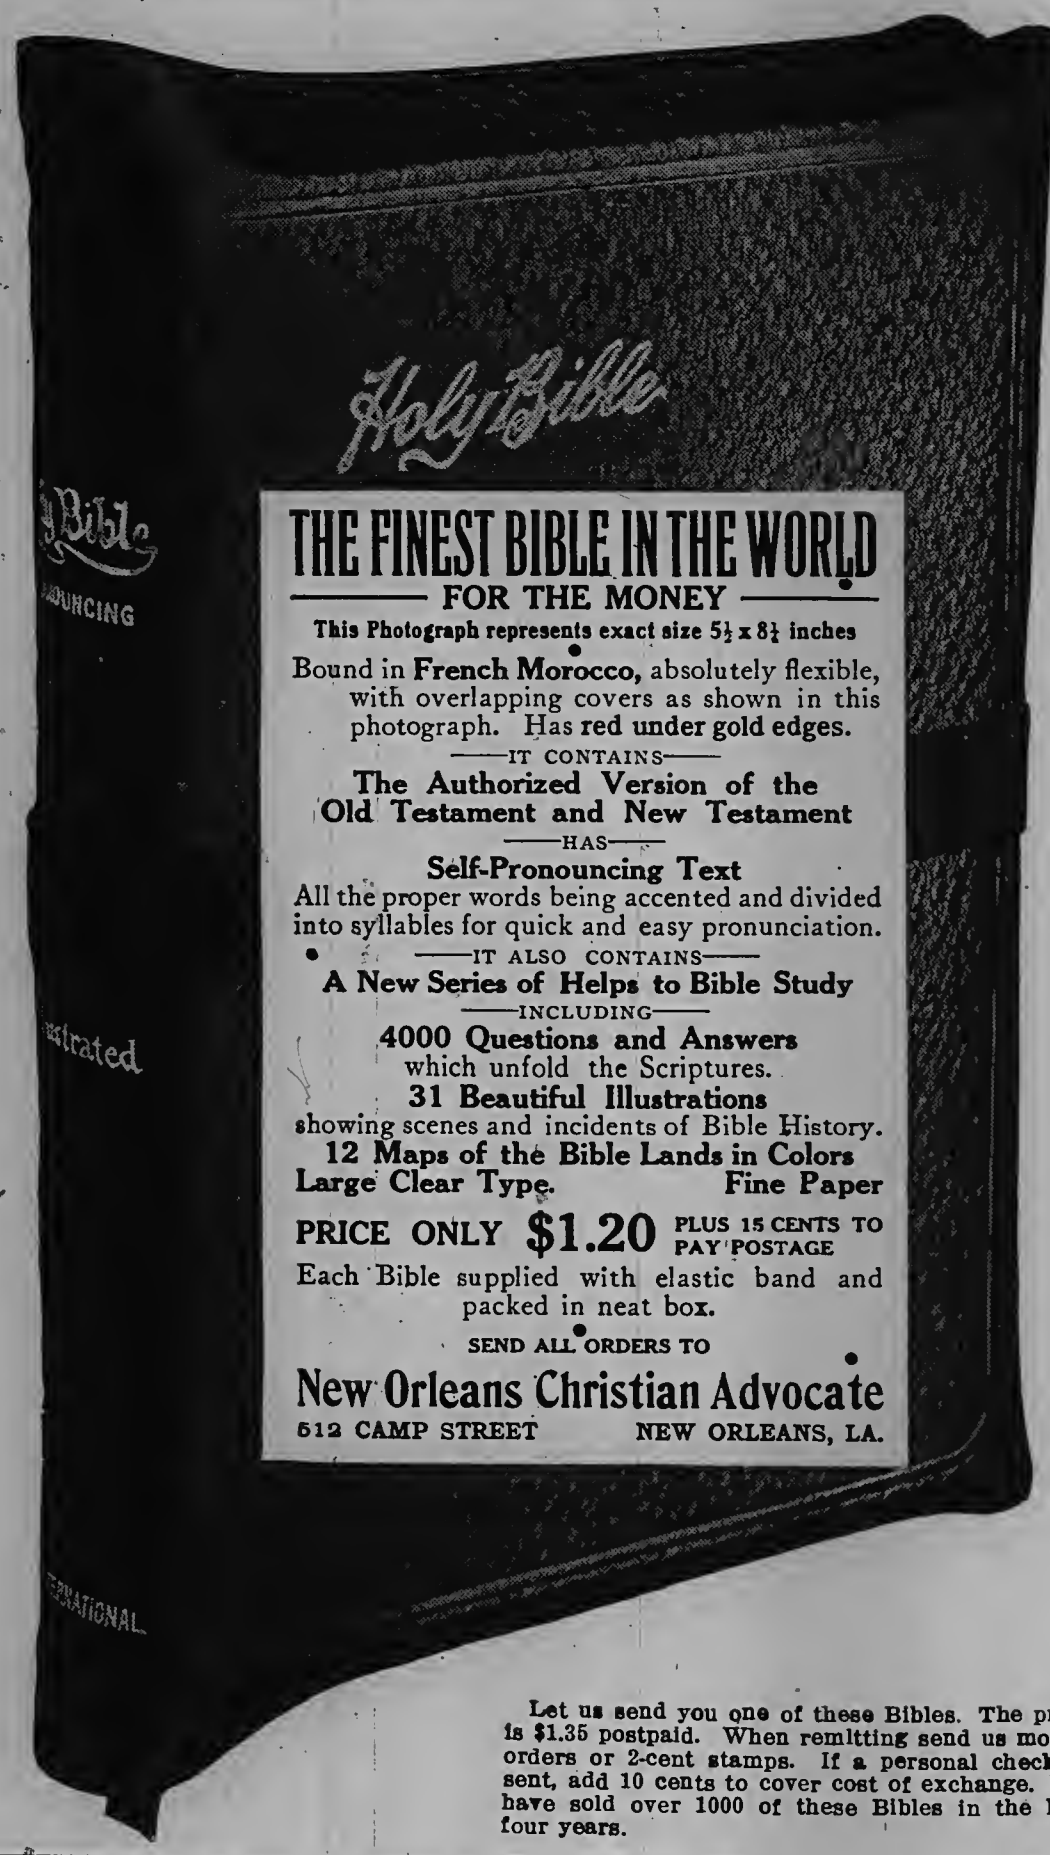
Ida Tarbell writes: "Celibacy is the aristocracy of the future, is the preaching of one European feminist. * * * The ranks of the women cellbates are not full. Many a candidate falls out by the way, confronted by something she has not reckoned with—the eternal command to be a woman. She compromises grudgingly. She will be a woman on condition that she is guaranteed economic freedom, opportunity for self-expressive work, political recognition. What this amounts to is that she does not see in the woman's life a satisfying and permanent end."

Anna Rogers, in the Atlantic Monthly, in just the opposite strain, speaks of "the present false and demoralizing deification of women, especially in this country, an idolatry of which we as a people are so inordinately proud. One of the evil effects of this attitude is shown in the intolerance and selfishness of young wives, which is largely responsible for the scandalous slackening of marriage ties in the United States. * * * The sacredness and mystery of womanhood are fast passing away."

Such antagonism between writers, speakers and thinkers, both in private and public discussions, might be repeated without end. These utterances are marked not only for their antagonism, but also for their serious and intense strain. It is evident that not among women themselves is there anything like unanimity of conviction, and that the difference in conviction is intense. In one thing all will agree, the position of woman in human society is normally high, and her influence great.

She must therefore be a factor to be reckoned with either for good or evil, and since there is such decided antagonism on the question in human judgment, would it not be well, wise and safe to appeal to the teachings of God's Word, and so secure his conception of woman and womanhood, her power, position and function, before we disturb the social edifice by a rash shifting of its foundations?—The Presbyterian.

In proportion as we forget ourselves in ministering to others, do we foster that character which most nearly resembles heaven.—Bishop Boyd Carpenter.



Holy Bible
THE FINEST BIBLE IN THE WORLD
FOR THE MONEY
This Photograph represents exact size 5½ x 8¼ inches
Bound in French Morocco, absolutely flexible, with overlapping covers as shown in this photograph. Has red under gold edges.
IT CONTAINS
The Authorized Version of the Old Testament and New Testament
HAS
Self-Pronouncing Text
All the proper words being accented and divided into syllables for quick and easy pronunciation.
IT ALSO CONTAINS
A New Series of Helps to Bible Study
INCLUDING
4000 Questions and Answers
which unfold the Scriptures.
31 Beautiful Illustrations
showing scenes and incidents of Bible History.
12 Maps of the Bible Lands in Colors
Large Clear Type. Fine Paper
PRICE ONLY $1.20 PLUS 15 CENTS TO PAY POSTAGE
Each Bible supplied with elastic band and packed in neat box.
SEND ALL ORDERS TO
New Orleans Christian Advocate
512 CAMP STREET NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Let us send you one of these Bibles. The price is $1.35 postpaid. When remitting send us money orders or 2-cent stamps. If a personal check is sent, add 10 cents to cover cost of exchange. We have sold over 1000 of these Bibles in the last four years.

NEW ORLEANS
CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE

Vol. 62.—No. 33. Official Organ of the Louisiana, Mississippi, and North Mississippi Conferences, Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Whole No. 3101.

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor. NEW ORLEANS, LA., THURSDAY, AUGUST 19, 1915. CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Editorial

"Heaven above is softer blue,
Earth around is sweeter green,
Something lives in every hue
Christless eyes have never seen.
Birds with golden songs o'erflow,
Flowers with deeper beauties shine,
Since I knew, as now I know,
I am His, and He is mine."

* * *

The Hon. Elihu Root, of New York, in a public address, said: "Not only is eternal vigilance the price of liberty; eternal struggle is the price of liberty." This is quite true. The fight between right and wrong is a perpetual one, and it takes an unceasing battle to maintain any good cause. Its champions can never without disaster lay down their arms. The reason that Satan wins in so many contests is that he is such a persistent contender.

* * *

In his recent speech at San Francisco, Col. Roosevelt spoke of the work of the "peace-at-any-price" propagandists as an effort to "Chinafy this country." To some extent, we sympathize with Mr. Roosevelt's point of view. Peace, based on justice and equity, is always greatly to be desired; but not so a peace that results from a compromise with entrenched evil and a docile submission to enthroned wrong. The best way to usher in the reign of peace amongst men is to labor to establish the reign of righteousness on earth.

* * *

Senator Ollie James, of Kentucky, is reported as claiming to see a great bugbear in the movement for State-wide prohibition in the Blue Grass Commonwealth. He fears that it will hurt prosperity, President Wilson, the Democratic cause, etc. Yet we saw it stated two or three years ago that Mr. James was a camp-meeting Methodist. But when a churchman gets into politics there is little telling what sort of queer notions he will turn up with, especially when the liquor interests become involved. When politics are purified, doubtless the Millennium will be at hand. Still, good citizens should take part in civic affairs; but while so doing they need to keep a close watch upon themselves.

* * *

When clothing begins to get a little old it is well to watch the loose threads; if neglected, there soon results the incurable rent. So it is with men when they begin to march down the western side of life's hill. Loose threads of character then need to be specially guarded against. When the realization that many of the aims that one has cherished can never be attained begins to dawn upon one, it is a perilous period. Degeneration is almost certain to follow unless one at such a time resolutely adheres to the plan of keeping up, as best one can, to what one conceives the highest standard still possible. The failure to do this explains why so many men, who hitherto had done fairly well, go to pieces between the ages of forty and fifty.

A NOBLE BENEFACTION.

We are publishing on another page Bishop Kilgo's admirable statement announcing the gift by Mr. J. B. Duke of $35,000 annually for the promotion of the work of our Church in North Carolina: $15,000 for Church Extension, $10,000 for Domestic Missions, and $10,000 for superannuated preachers. As will be noted, both the donation for Church Extension work and that for Home Mission work are to be administered by the General Board of Church Extension. Considering the extraordinary business ability and sagacity of Mr. Duke, this action is a great compliment to Dr. McMurry and his co-workers who have in hand the management of this great arm of service. The fund for retired ministers is to be operated by the Trustees of Trinity College, which no doubt is a guarantee that it will be wisely handled.

Though this gift of Mr. Duke is restricted to the Old North State, it is such a noble exhibition of philanthropy that we have deemed it proper to let our readers see the whole of Bishop Kilgo's utterance concerning it. The Duke family have for decades been princely givers to the Southern Methodist Church and their names are written imperishably in its annals along with those of others who have helped to make it strong and great. To their munificence we largely owe Trinity, the foremost college in our educational system—an institution which has already accomplished a vast amount of good for our Church and the South, and which will continue to bless richly future generations. It is indeed a happy circumstance when men who have had the genius to make money also have the goodness to apply it to high purposes, thus constituting humanity jointly with themselves its beneficiaries. Such men are far rarer than they ought to be in this twentieth century of the Christian era.

Though they appear in the Bishop's statement, we cannot resist the temptation to quote for the purpose of emphasis the following golden words spoken by Mr. Duke in connection with his splendid benefaction:

"I wish to do some good and I feel that this is the best way to do it. I have no other purpose. The Church is the only institution that lasts. Other institutions change and pass away, but the Church abides, and the good I try to do I wish to do it through the Church. And I have great faith and interest in the country church. From it comes the best we have in the Church, State, or business. It should be strong and active. I have thought much about our country churches and wish to help them some."

This view is in marked contrast with that of a certain other noted millionaire who has used his millions to wrest from the Christian Church its institutions, apparently seeking thereby to weaken and contract its influence. The confidence here expressed in the stability of the Church and its capacity to achieve results is also a welcome relief from the superficial twaddle about the Church being narrow and unprogressive, of which we hear so much in this day.

What Mr. Duke says about the country church is, in our opinion, not in the least exaggerated, and is well worth laying to heart. The Nation has no mightier prop than the rural house of worship, and it is also Zion's most dependable source of strength. Southern Methodism has no more imperative duty than that of caring for and developing her interior appointments, and should she lose out in the country, it will not be long before she begins to lose out everywhere else. Indications are not lacking that things are going alarmingly wrong in our social order because the Church is not reaching and uplifting the people in the more out-of-the-way communities. The masses of our widely extended land must be made moral, enlightened, and inspired with high ideals, or they will drag everything else down.

THE SITUATION IN THE ORIENT.

Last week we printed a paragraph from Bishop Bashford, a representative of the Methodist Episcopal Church in China, which contained the statement that unless more territory is given the yellow race, war between it and the white race will finally be inevitable. The following more extended utterance by a distinguished Christian minister, who also has had a fine opportunity to study conditions in the Far East, is quite interesting and is confirmatory of Bishop Bashford's view:

"Dr. Henry Haigh, of the Wesleyan Mission House, and formerly of China, speaking recently, said that one of the most highly-placed Chinamen had said that China needed a new civilization. Was it to be of the German type? That was a question of practical politics. Japan was also in great danger of imbibing the German spirit of militarism. Her recent action with regard to China was not difficult to understand. She was insisting on a controlling voice in mining matters and the construction of railways in China because of their strategical importance. She was not unfriendly to China, but was seeking to consolidate the interests of the yellow races and prepare the way for a Monroe Doctrine in the Far East. Any financial embarrassment existing in China was only temporary. Potentially, she was the richest empire in the world. She had untold mineral wealth. Her coal fields would supply the world for 1000 years. The yellow races had what they considered a genuine grievance. There were 50,000,000 square miles of habitable land in the world. Of these, 45,000,000 were under the control of the white races, who did not want the yellow races among them. Yet there were only 500,000,000 white people on the globe as against 600,000,000 yellow. This could not last, for the yellow races were the most prolific in the world. Australia, which is the next-door neighbor of Japan, geographically, has only about 6,000,000 people, and could easily hold 150,000,000 or 200,000,000, and still have plenty of room. Japan was asking why her people and those of China could not go there."

THE LORD OF THE ROAD.

By Joy Van Cleve.

Sometimes when the way is lonely,
Sometimes when heavy the load,
I forget 'neath the weight of my burdens
That my Master is Lord of the road.

Need I then to fear in my journey
The dangers I see in my way?
And need I to dread as I travel
The trials that assail me each day?

No, I will forget all the dangers,
Forget, too, the weight of my load;
For I know I am safe when I journey
Where my Master is Lord of the road.

—Northwestern Christian Advocate.

WHAT HIS CONVERSION BROUGHT.

One of the most eminent ministers in Japan, in describing his conversion, said: "Behind the Sermon on the Mount I found the living God. My conscience was enlivened, and henceforth I could do nothing wrong." A similar testimony might be given by many converts in the Billy Sunday revivals. One proof is in the large returns of "conscience money" to certain corporations following the wake of the revival. Another proof is in John Wanamaker's statement that he could have financed the Philadelphia Sunday campaign out of bad bills paid up by trail hitters.—New York Christian Advocate.

CHARACTER BUILDING.

Rev. S. E. Martin.

Our beautiful church building is almost complete, and I notice the workmen have torn down the scaffolding. In life, character is the structure which we are building and the body is the scaffold from which we build. Character is as much more important than the body as the building is more important than the scaffold. When our work of character-building is completed the body will be torn down and laid away in the grave. After the scaffolding is torn down it is difficult to make changes in wall, cupola or spire. So, when the body is laid away in the grave, there will be no opportunity to make any changes in the builded temple of character. "He that is unjust, let him be unjust still" (Rev. 22.11).

WHAT CHRIST TAUGHT.

Christ did not teach that the only question at the Judgment will be whether or not one has been benevolent; were that the case, then the rich man who gives liberally to the poor, cares for the sick, helps the stranger, would have eternal life, no matter how evil his own life might have been. Nor did he teach that only actions count. "Inasmuch as ye did it not unto one of these my brethren, even these least, ye did it not unto me," he explains. The deeds mentioned are done "unto Christ;" they show that the doer has a vital personal relationship with Christ, and "it is personal relation to Christ as acted out in the life that will fix eternal destiny." It is the spirit that lies back of what you do or what you say that counts. Lives of unselfishness indicate the possession of the Spirit of God—they are the hall-mark of the Christian.—Pittsburgh Christian Advocate.

WHAT IS WRONG WITH OUR PREACHING?

By a Layman.

A Bishop once said to David Garrick, the actor: "Can you tell me, sir, why it is that you players who deal with romance can yet profoundly move an audience, while we preachers who deal with reality fail to do so?" "Yes, my lord, I can," replied David Garrick. "It is because we players act fiction as if it were the truth, while you preachers too often speak of truth as though it were but fiction."

That was considerably more than a hundred years ago, but no one who knows anything of preaching and preachers will deny that it is too true to-day. There is a great lack of powerful, overwhelming, burning conviction in our pulpits to-day and it is a lack which will have to be reinstated before any great revival of religion in our midst can take place and before there is a great forward movement in the conversion of the world.

When we think of Wesley, Whitefield, Knox, and Luther, we think of them chiefly as men who said what they meant and meant what they said, of men who never allowed anyone to imagine that they were in the least doubt as to the supreme importance and urgency of the message they were delivering. In our own day Spurgeon and Moody are shining examples of the same whole-hearted earnestness and burning zeal.

What we call dry preaching—a dull sermon—is generally another way of saying that the sermon lacked conviction, that it did not come from the heart, although it might have come from the head, and therefore it did not reach the heart. Have you ever read Wesley's Sermons? Do they not make very dry reading? Of course they do. They are very difficult to wade through—almost as difficult as a book of Euclid. Yet those same dry sermons moved multitudes to cry out in strong agony: "What must we do to be saved?" Some of the driest of them were preached in the open air to congregations of three, four, and five thousand people who listened with strained attention, sometimes for an hour and a half at a stretch. Those sermons, which are so dry to read, were transformed by the strong conviction and burning zeal of Wesley into soul-moving, powerful deliverances and were used by God as the means of the conversion of tens of thousands of men and women.

Nowadays many clergymen and ministers read even the Word of God in a perfunctory manner, as if it were just a task to be got through. I have heard clergymen read that wonderful dramatic chapter which tells of the death of Absalom and ends with David's Lament: "Absalom, my son, my son, would God that I had died for thee," with just as little expression and pathos as they would read the notices of the week's meetings, and who would make the dramatic scene on Carmel or the prodigal's return no more moving to the heart and conscience than a paragraph from the money market column in the newspaper.

On the other hand, I have known a few preachers—alas, too few—who could almost have made what the little girl called "The Begats," namely, the first chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel, pathetic. I remember hearing a well-known minister, now gone to his rest, read that psalm, every verse of which has the refrain, "For His Mercy endureth forever." What a difficult psalm it is to read! Yet he made it a thing of beauty, as it rightly is. He rang the changes upon the words, "For His mercy endureth forever," as practiced bell-ringers ring the changes upon a peal of silvery bells in the silence of a Sabbath evening in the country. I heard the same minister read a chapter from that wonderful story of Joseph and his brethren and I might never have heard it before, so interested was I. The congregation was spellbound. They were hearing a great piece of literature finely read and they appreciated it.

It is the same with preaching as with reading the Scriptures. Both are inclined to be done in a slipshod fashion. They lack soul, conviction, earnestness. I agree with Thackeray who wrote: "There is an examiner of plays and, indeed, there ought to be an examiner of sermons," for there can be no doubt that a bad preacher will empty a church quicker than a good preacher will fill it. Every candidate for the ministry ought to pass an examination in preaching and reading before he is allowed to go into the pulpit and inflict himself on the public. Believe me, it is not learning, culture, skill in theology which is going to convert the world, but hearts on fire with love to God and man. Many a preacher who puts the cart before the horse, who says "was" for "were" and "were" for "was" will bring more sheaves with him when he stands before the Master than many a preacher with a hundred times his learning, but who lacks that burning sincerity and deep conviction which is at the root of great preaching.—Northwestern Christian Advocate.

TO THE METHODISTS OF MISSISSIPPI.

Dear Brethren and Friends: The authorities of Millsaps College earnestly desire that the institution shall accomplish the purpose for which it was established. They realize that this purpose was not merely the addition of another institution of college grade to those already existing in the State, but the maintenance of a Methodist college that, under the ownership of the Church and the control of the Conferences, would present literary advantages equal to the best, accompanied by moral and religious influences that would result as far as possible in scholarship animated by the spirit of Christian doctrine and Christian service. They strive to make religion the most important element of education, believing the character of the workman to be more important than his skill. While not presuming that the ideal has been attained in the actual accomplishments of the college, they feel that they can point with humble pride to the culture and Christian character of the preachers, teachers, and business and professional men who claim Millsaps College as their Alma Mater. They appreciate the interest in the college entertained by our preachers and the corresponding claims that the college has upon our ministry for their active and loyal support.

Of the many co-operating agencies that make for its success and highest usefulness, two are influential above all others. They are the worthiness of its ideals and the consecration of those entrusted with its government to the promotion of those ideals; and, second only in importance to this, the active and hearty support of our traveling ministry. Our own boys should be found within its halls, our neighbors' boys should be told of its advantages, and within our hearts and the hearts of our people there should dwell a sense of proprietorship in the institution with all that such a sense of proprietorship implies.

We confidently depend upon your interest and ask that during the vacation, when hundreds of young people are planning to go to College, you will direct their thoughts toward Millsaps College. Your brother and fellow worker,

A. F. WATKINS.

LEON IRWIN & CO.,
Fire and Casualty Insurance
736 UNION STREET. Phone, Main 585.

DR. THADDEUS P. BELL
Practice Limited to the Medical and Surgical Treatment of the
EYE, EAR, NOSE & THROAT
And the Correction of Errors of Vision.
814 Audubon Bldg., New Orleans, La.

BUY LUMBER FROM
W. W. CARRE CO., Ltd.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

COTTAGE COLONY, NEAR HAMMOND, LA.
FOR THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.
Pine forest, artesian water, hot and cold baths, no dust or noise. Physicians' attention, Graduate nurse's service and drugs furnished.
Rates, $10 per Week and Up.
Address Dr. E. L. McGehee, Hammond, La.
City Office, 923 Maison Blanche Bldg.

AN APPEAL TO THE SUNDAY SCHOOLS OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

A movement is on foot to erect on the campus of our Methodist College in Kobe, Japan, a building that is to be a center for the training of Sunday school leaders. The building will be furnished with a complete assortment of Sunday school supplies and a large Sunday school library and in it will be conducted classes in child study, religious pedagogy, and Sunday school organization.

When Dr. H. M. Hamill visited Japan a few years ago he became greatly interested in the evangelization of the Japanese people and offered $1000 towards the erection of a building to be dedicated to the training of Sunday school teachers and pastors. This offer has been made good since his death by his wife.

In view of the peculiar relation which he thus sustains to the enterprise and in view of his great contribution through personal service to Sunday school work in the Island Empire, it has been decided to name the proposed building the Hamill Memorial Building.

The building will cost, when completed, $8000. Of this sum, $6000 has already been provided. It is deemed fitting, on account of Dr. Hamill's peculiar relation to the Sunday school work of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, that our Sunday schools and Sunday school leaders should show their appreciation of his long and faithful service by raising the balance of $2000. The matter of bringing this to the attention of our people has been placed in the hands of a Committee composed of John R. Pepper, A. J. Lamar, E. B. Chappell, B. M. Burgher, and W. W. Milan. Through this Committee the matter was brought before the General Sunday School Board at its recent meeting at Lake Junaluska. The Board unanimously passed a resolution approving the enterprise and the plan to ask our schools to help in furthering it and suggesting that the third Sunday in September be set apart as Hamill Memorial Day and that on that day each of our schools take a voluntary offering for the fund.

Surely one who has given such eminently useful and fruitful service to our great Sunday school work richly deserves a memorial that will continue the splendid labor wrought by him for so many years. We believe the response will be widespread and liberal. Send offerings to Rev. A. J. Lamar, D. D., Treasurer, 510 Broadway, Nashville, Tennessee.

J. R. PEPPER,
Chairman Hamill Memorial Committee.

BOMBASTIC BAPTIST BIGOTRY.

By Rev. P. O. Lowrey.

Both by individual ideals and denominational training our ethical code would not allow us to talk about a brother "household of faith" any more than about a neighbor's family, and to criticise one's religious belief and practice has always seemed to us bad manners; but at the same time "self-preservation is the first law of nature," and in Church, as in State, to fight in one's own defense is sometimes the only honorable thing thing to do.

Like the eel which the boys caught and skinned, and threw back into the creek so many times that it came up at regular intervals to be skinned, the Methodists in some sections are so accustomed to hearing themselves unchurched by the Baptists that they take it as a matter of necessity, and sometimes let their good manners go so far as to demand that their pastors shall not answer back; and the Baptists that hear their pastors constantly ridiculing the Methodists as not having been baptized, and their Church as not being a Church at all, seem to think the Methodist preacher who dares to defend his flock has almost committed the unpardonable sin. Both sides seem to consider a Methodist above talking about other folks and bound by some kind of precedent to keep quiet and sweet while his ecclesiastical family is being maligned. In the meantime, many Methodist children and others who otherwise would be Methodists are being imbued with the "one true Church" and immersion doctrines of the Baptists and are uniting with them instead of their own Church in spite of the recognized objectionable tenets of their faith. This rule has been followed in some communities in the South where "much water" and warm weather make the immersion dogma practical until the Methodists are being absorbed by the Baptists. To one who believes that religious bigotry should be rebuked and "strange doctrines" banished, and that Methodism has a mission in the world that makes her need the adherents that naturally belong to her, the way of duty is plain. "Fighting the devil with fire" may be a questionable doctrine, but for one we believe that "enough's enough" and that self-respect and self-existence demand that Methodists begin anew to preach their distinctive doctrines and thus make impossible this exodus from our church fold; and we submit this study of the bigotry of the Baptists as suggestive of what should be taught our people who have heard from them so much that they are the "IT," and that Methodists are only members of a human organization established by John Wesley, without true baptism and with no right to the sacrament of the Lord's supper, that many would-be Methodists believe it—in some sections. This study has been made at first hand, and as much more could be said in keeping with the truth.

Since from the standpoint of the number of adherents, at least, the Baptist and the Roman Catholic are the two strongest of the ecclesiasticisms in our country that lay claim to being "the only true Church," and since, laying claim to practically the same origin, authority, and exclusiveness, there is considerable antagonism between them, we make the following comparative study of the two that it may be used by our preachers as part of their sermonic material as needs may require, or as a note of warning to our people:

1. To begin with, both the Romanists and Baptists claim to have originated with and to have a direct and unbroken succession from Christ, both claiming to be the Church that Christ had reference to when he said in Matt. 16:18: "I will build," etc., the Apostle Peter being the patron saint of the one and John the Baptist that of the other. This claim gives each of these ecclesiasticisms the right to the exclusive use of the sacraments and lays the foundation for their narrow and pompous bigotry.

To show with what vehemence the Baptists maintain this dogma, we quote the following extracts from a recent article by Rev. Isaiah Watson, in the Alexandria (La.) Baptist Chronicle: "The Baptist Church started with Christ and the Apostles.....God sent a Baptist preacher to baptize Christ and the people.....The Son of God himself said that John was a Baptist (Matt. 11:11).....If a Baptist preacher baptized Jesus, then that made Jesus a Baptist..... There is only one kind of gospel church, and that is the Baptist Church, and Jesus lived and died a member of it.....There is no other way to do your duty to God in being baptized except to receive it at the hands of those in authority..... If the Baptists were sent to do all things, then other so-called Churches are authorized to do nothing—they have no God-given work on earth.....God will never change his plan to give a pure gospel to the world by us; then if we will not do this for our Lord it must remain undone."

The writer recently heard practically all of these claims emphasized in a series of sermons by a Baptist evangelist. And while it may be claimed that Baptist scholars do not make such claims, and that these bigots do not represent the better class of Baptists, we reply that there is a wonderful unanimity among them as to the dogma itself, and the scholars for the most part are keeping quiet or else are encouraging the field force in its propagation; and when Dr Whitsitt of the Louisville Theological Seminary, so we are informed, dared to give a true historical statement of the origin and growth of the Church, he became persona non grata to the leaders and had to find a more congenial field than that of teaching Baptist Church history to Baptists.

2. While the Baptists are aggressive in teaching the Bible and make great claims of having no creed but the New Testament, like the Romanists, the preacher reserves the right to its final interpretation. While the Methodists allow their candidates for church membership some right of choosing for themselves their mode of baptism, it is not so with the Baptists. Nor are their members allowed to interpret the Scriptures as to whether or not they should have their children baptized—the preacher would not allow that. Neither would a member be allowed to commune with a member of another Church, though the member might be his own mother—that is settled by the ecclesiastical heirarchy, whose interpretation of the Scriptures is final in the Baptist Church.

3. As the Romanists make the priesthood necessary to salvation in direct mediation and in absolving from sin, so the Baptists maintain that the only way to be saved is by obeying Christ, and Christ can't be obeyed without submission to immersion baptism at the hands of a Baptist preacher. So the claims of each amount to practically the same thing—that the ritualistic priesthood is necessary to salvation.

4. The Romanists and the Baptists alike guarantee salvation to their communicants: the one on the ground of obedience to the Church and confession to the priest; the other on the ground that they only baptize saved people, and if one is "once saved, one is always saved," no matter how much the adherent may sin: The Romanists' claim is that he will absolve the sin, the Baptists' is that after baptism (which follows regeneration), all sin is in the flesh and not in the spirit, and therefore absolution is not needed. Consistent with this system, Baptists are practically without recourse to Church discipline in case of immorality in a member, since in the flesh their members sin all the time and can't help it, and the spirit of the regenerate does not sin. So about the only consistent ground of discipline would be the sin of communing with other Churches, or a failure to pay their church dues. Unless the viciousness of this doctrine is showed up, it makes a wonderful appeal to the masses of depraved humanity.

5. In her ritualism the Church of Rome has nothing that she stresses more vigorously than the Baptists do water baptism. It is water, water, water, from the first to the last of a revival meeting, and scarcely in anything do their proselyting preachers and members interest themselves more than in getting unestablished Methodists to believe that they can never get to heaven unless they renounce their baptism and are led "down into the water and straightway up out of the water" by a Baptist preacher. And in some communities the number who are infected with this bigoted bombast is surprisingly large, they perhaps never having heard as much as one sermon to the contrary. This could never be possible if our preachers and teachers would first instruct themselves in these facts, and then those whom they are set to lead.

6. The Baptists, like the Catholics, hold all besides themselves heretics, and do not receive members from other Churches until they first renounce their membership and come into their Church just as would a publican and a heathen. And for this same reason they do not allow the members of other Churches to commune with them, and consistently with this position are they more and more withdrawing from all interdenominational affiliations.

What a pitiable spectacle, by the way, to see a Methodist renounce his Church and baptism and stand up before the world and be treated as a publican, saying that he had never been baptized and virtually promising that he will never again commune with the Church that brought the gospel to him and his father before him, for the glorious privilege of being immersed by a Baptist preacher! In this, however, the Baptists are, or seem to be, more generous to us than the Catholics, the latter maintaining that our people are neither baptized nor married, while the Baptists do allow, so far as we know, that those married by Methodist ministers are not adulterers. This generous allowance by the Baptists, however, might be on the ground of a civil and not an ecclesiastical ceremony, since they allow a civil marriage, while the Romanists do not.

7. As the Romanists make spectacular their "first communion" reception of members into the Church, so do the Baptists their gala day baptisms and "right hand of fellowship" receptions. To a recent boast that "people do not go for miles to a Methodist sprinkling," we replied that the negro Baptists have bigger baptizings than the whites, and that a hanging would draw more people together than either.

8. Both communions reject the Bible of scholarship and substitute sectarian Bibles, that they may translate "baptize" "immerse," etc., as best suits their purpose. Most Baptists, however, are so ashamed of theirs that they have pigeonholed it and they use the standard versions.

9. Like the Romanists, the Baptists claim that they never change, that they take the sacrament, baptize, and run the Church just like Christ and the Apostles did.

10. It is claimed by some who think they know that the Baptists are more and more becoming like the Romanists in being clannish in promoting the secular interests of their members, and are moving in the direction of rivaling the Knights of Columbus in making their Church a political and business machine, thus holding out inducements to the world to become members of their faith.

11. Like the Romanists, the Baptists are wily in appearing in a false light in a non-orthodox atmosphere, not showing their true colors until they get things their way. Thus a Baptist minister will begin a revival meeting with such liberality that the Methodists are led to believe that he is a broad gauged Christian brother and the finest preacher going; but no sooner has he used the Methodists to help him get hold of the people, including the Methodist children, than he excommunicates, and sometimes almost villifies, the whole bunch! And yet he expects the good-natured Methodists to be back at the next service for another "skinning."

It will be noticed, by the way, that the present-day Baptists, in perfecting the completest proselyting machine that has ever existed as a branch of the Church of God, give the penitent the opportunity to make a confession in no other way than by joining the Baptist Church. Thus they capture the child of many a guileless Methodist.

In view of these and other such things, we are profoundly thankful that "we believe in the 'holy Catholic Church,'" and that the confession is in the Methodist creed. To keep down such sectarian bigotry as these "one-only-true-church" ecclesiasticisms foster is now, as it has always been, a part of the mission of Methodism. Let her be true to that mission ever; but at the same time let her protect her own existence in hindering a great proselyting machine from stealing those that are hers and that she needs in the work of propagating the truth. And it is often true that when a Methodist preacher shows up this system of bigotry in a town the Baptists get busy attending to their own business and that for years peace and brotherly love prevail, and both they and the world at large have some genuine respect for the Methodists.

Westlake, La.

A GREAT GIFT TO NORTH CAROLINA METHODISM.

(This statement, taken from the Raleigh Christian Advocate, is of such importance and interest that we are reproducing it for the benefit of our readers.—Editor of the Advocate.)

It was my good fortune recently to spend a day and night with Mr. J. B. Duke, and his brother, Mr. B. N. Duke, at the "Duke Farm" in New Jersey. Twenty years ago Mr. J. B. Duke went out into New Jersey and bought a tract of land which from time to time he has increased till now it contains more than twenty-three hundred acres. He has developed it into a place of such magnificence that one would not dare even a modest attempt to describe it. It is a complete encyclopedia of landscape architecture. It has been my privilege to see much of the world's greatest and most famous landscape work, but this work stands without anything in its class. He undertook it as a matter of taste, and truly he has given trees, grass, flowers, shrubbery, rocks, water, mountains, sculpture, colors, shades, lines, and forms their best chance, all of which stand as a monument to the taste of this industrial master.

But I did not intend to write of the "Duke Farm." Sitting on the porch of his great residence after dinner he and his brother asked me many things about our Church and its work. They grew up in a strong and loyal Methodist home, and while free from every tinge of exclusiveness, they are strongly attached to the Church of their father and childhood. Several months previous Mr. J. B. Duke had said that he wished to have such a talk with me, and the surroundings made it a rare place and time to discuss such questions. After considerable talk on various phases of our work, he said in the quiet tones so characteristic of his great father, "I have determined to give you annually thirty-five thousand dollars to be used in North Carolina in our Church enterprises—fifteen thousand to be used for Church Extension, ten thousand for Domestic Missions, and ten thousand for the worn-out preachers." This is equivalent to five per cent on a $700,000 endowment, a sum the equal of which our Church never before received for such purposes. But as great as the amount is, frankness requires me to say I was more impressed by the serious, interested, and gracious spirit in which he gave it. To my inadequate efforts to properly thank him, he simply replied: "I wish to do some good and I feel that this is the best way to do it. I have no other purpose. The Church is the only institution that lasts. Other institutions change and pass away, but the Church abides, and the good I try to do I wish to do through the Church. And I have great faith and interest in the country church. From it comes the best we have in Church, State, or business. It should be kept strong and active. I have thought much about our country churches and wish to help them some." The conversation drifted with much freedom into many lines of thought and I am strongly tempted for many reasons to repeat many things these two brothers said that night.

In the direction of these gifts he turns over the fifteen thousand dollars for Church Extension and the ten thousand for Domestic Missions to the General Board of Church Extension to be administered through it; and the ten thousand dollars for worn-out preachers to the Trustees of Trinity College to be administered by them. In selecting this plan I was deeply impressed with the great care with which his genius for business went over every possible detail in the various relations and complications and with what delicacy he discussed them. The worn-out preacher has a strong place in his sympathies and concern. He wishes me to distinctly understand that he did not make this gift to lessen the gifts of the Conferences to these causes, but simply to increase them, and this was one of the considerations in deciding the policy of administering his gifts. He was much interested in the work of the Board of Church Extension, and especially the management of it under Doctor McMurry, and expressed an earnest desire to meet the Secretary of this Board. Of this Board's work and methods he made close inquiry and manifested distinct approval of its policies.

I am sure all our Church will welcome with hearty thanks this munificent act of Mr. Duke. It should, as he desires, not lessen any of our efforts, but on the contrary it should greatly increase them. Here in North Carolina he wishes to see what may be done to enlarge all our work, especially our work on the circuits. From his father he inherited a marked esteem for the circuit preacher and his work, and this interest abides. It gives me peculiar pleasure to bear to our Church this gift of Mr. Duke. On the same occasion Mr. B. N. Duke gave to Trinity College funds to place a rock fence around the campus, a distance of fifteen hundred yards. For more than twenty years I have known this family, the father and the sons. I should write of them, but I know they do not like to be written of, especially in connection with any act of benevolence. I shall say, however, that during all my intimate association with them I have never known them to entertain a small view of anything, to show any sort of a spirit of obstruction, or to be lacking in the most genuine interest in every good cause. I take this method to bear to our Church this gift of Mr. J. B. Duke, and call on all our people to make it a great blessing as it is desired to be by the giver. JOHN C. KILGO.

CHURCH NEWS.

Dr. Francis E Clark, head of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, has been for some time seriously ill with typhoid fever.

* * *

Dr. J. H. Jowett, the noted pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church of New York City, is now in England, his native country, on his annual visit.

* * *

Rev. W. A. Davis, of Kyoto, Japan, states that the Methodists administered the largest number of baptisms during the year 1914 of any Church working in the Mikado's Empire.

* * *

Dr. Matt S. Hughes, of Pasadena, Calif., has been made chairman of the special committee of thirty that will direct the campaign for State-wide prohibition in California in 1916.

* * *

The late Prof. W. M. Cundiff, of North Carolina, provided in his will for the erection of a $10,000 building at the Children's Home, one of the Southern Methodist orphanages in that State. It has been announced that this money will be available for use at an early date.

CENTENARY COLLEGE

Of Louisiana.

If you wish your son to receive a Literary College training in a moral and religious atmosphere, amid beautiful and healthful natural surroundings, under a faculty of competent Christian men, in a progressive city with great Protestant Churches and many public advantages, send him to

Centenary College.

If it is advisable that your son take his preparatory or high school training away from home, send him to Centenary, where, by good application, he may save one year in preparation for Freshman Class of any college.

Write for Catalogue and any Needed Information.

Rev. R. H. WYNN, President. Box 6, Shreveport, La.

The Louisiana Educational Campaign

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., President

Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Sec'y

Rev. C. A. Battle, Treas., Baton Rouge, La.

(This Department is conducted by Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Secretary of Education, and Rev. A. J. Gearheard, Publicity Commissioner.)

CONCERNING CENTENARY COLLEGE.

A recent issue of the Shreveport (La.) Journal contained the following statement concerning the Faculty at Centenary College and the outlook for the next session of that institution:

"Professor J. G. Sawyer, a Virginian, who comes directly from Portland, Ark., where last year he held the position of principal of the public schools, and who comes highly recommended, will be dean of Centenary College next session. He will also teach science and philosophy. Professor Sawyer has a B. A. degree from Randolph-Macon and an M. A. and B. D. from Vanderbilt, and his engagement by Centenary promises to prove a valuable acquisition to the faculty.

"Another new member of the Centenary faculty, whose presence is expected to prove a strong factor in the advancement of the work of that institution, is Professor Hodgle Henderson, who will fill the chair of English and History. Professor Henderson last year taught at Millsaps College, Jackson, Miss. He holds a B. A. degree from Millsaps and an M.A. from Vanderbilt, and is highly recommended. His father is a well known Louisiana minister, now located at Mooringsport, and Professor Henderson has spent much of his life in this State. That experience promises to aid him in the work here.

"Other faculty appointments announced by Dr. R. H. Wynn, the President of Centenary, for the next session, opening September 15, are:

"Mathematics—Professor B. D. Battle, last year a member of the Centenary faculty, who holds an M. A. degree from Emory College, and who is very active in athletics.

"Latin and Greek—Prof. W. W. Moore, Jr., who was also with the Centenary faculty last session, and who holds a B. A. degree from Millsaps.

"Preparatory Department Instructor—L. A. Sims, graduate of Centenary two years ago with a B. S. degree.

"Grade Departments—Mrs. T. F. Wilbanks (nee Miss Ruth Kessenger), who has a degree from Centenary and was last year with that institution.

"Dr. Wynn has been quite active during the summer in the interest of the college, and it is hoped that there will be a large and encouraging enrollment. A number of encouraging messages have been received. The curriculum is high and splendid educational advantages are offered, the faculty as just announced being composed of a corps of teachers and instructors of high standing, with splendid recommendations. Dr. Wynn in making the selections had the interest of the college foremost in mind; and it is believed that the faculty will do a splendid work.

"An effort is being made to raise $12,500 among friends of Centenary by January 1, in which event the college has been promised $2500 as a gift from a local capitalist for general improvement and advancement."

AN EDITORIAL COMMENDATION.

In the same issue of the Journal that the above statement was published, there appeared the following editorial comment:

"In this issue The Journal publishes a list of the members of the Faculty of Centenary College for the approaching scholastic year. President Wynn announces that all members of the teaching force are highly recommended and fully qualified, most of them having served Centenary before. The prospects are encouraging for another year of progress. A community is honored by having educational institutions located therein. When Centenary was removed here Shreveport was complimented, and its citizenship should show their appreciation of this recognition, especially by boosting the advantages of the college and lending encouragement to those in charge of its good work. May the ensuing year be the most successful in the history of Centenary."

BISHOP CANDLER'S PLEA FOR EDUCATION THAT WILL HELP MISSION WORK.

In a thoughtful article by Bishop Candler, appearing in the Nashville Advocate of August 13, after a review of the new conditions resulting from the European war which have shifted the educational center of the world to America, thus bringing students from every quarter of the world to American colleges, the following statement is made:

"Unfortunately, most of these students are attending institutions the atmosphere of which is distinctly unfriendly to evangelical Christianity. Liberalistic educational establishments have been more richly endowed and perfectly equipped than have the colleges and universities of the churches. Hence these foreign students flock to the schools of liberalism. When they have returned to their own lands, they will be obstacles in the way of our missionaries. The power of our investments in missions will be greatly reduced unless more of these foreign students are drawn into evangelical institutions, and this cannot be done if the institutions of the evangelical Churches are not made speedily as strong as the strongest of the secular institutions. It is impossible to have colleges and universities that will serve the needs of evangelical Christianity unless the churches erect, endow, own, and control such institutions. States cannot make the educational establishments required for this purpose, and irresponsible boards (miscalled independent) will not. Only the Churches can and will."

The thought is suggested that if our colleges, under the influence of evangelical Christianity in the South are prepared to invite and train the students from Latin American countries, a far-reaching work for the promotion of evangelical Christianity can be done, a truly missionary work, instead of these students being turned toward liberalism by the influence of secular institutions.

The Bishop's conclusion from this situation is one that is peculiarly pertinent from various points of view in Louisiana. Urging the preachers by all means to bring up their educational collections in full, he says: "THE EDUCATIONAL QUESTION, THEREFORE, IS, FOR THE PRESENT AT LEAST, THE SUPREME ISSUE BEFORE OUR CHURCH."

WANTED, POSITION AS TEACHER OR GOVERNESS.

A Christian young lady, competent and with untiring energy, is anxious to secure a position as teacher or governess. She was educated at Meridian Woman's College. Has had one year's experience, and is well prepared to teach Expression. She is ambitious and would give faithful service. Any one interested may write Rev. J. R. Jones, Meridian, Miss.

Secular News and Comment

By R. E. Meek.

President Wilson has set aside a part of the Big Lake District in Arkansas as a reserve for native birds.

• • •

On August 6 Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria was reported to be ill, having had a severe chill and being confined to his bed. It was said that his condition was not serious.

• • •

The Sultan of Turkey was recently operated on for gallstones and chronic affection of the kidneys and prostate gland by Prof. James Israel, a Berlin surgeon. The operation is said to have been a success.

• • •

It is predicted that the South's cotton crop for the season of 1914-15 will amount to 15,108,011 bales. This will be an increase of 225,518 bales over the crop for 1913-14, and of 1,000,078 bales over that for 1912-13.

• • •

Secretary Daniels will send Dr. Archibald M. Fauntleroy, who is attached to the naval hospital at Washington in the capacity of a surgeon, on a tour to examine the war hospitals of France, England, and Belgium.

• • •

Ignace Jan Paderewski, the great pianist, is making a lecture tour in the United States in behalf of Poland, his native land. The baneful effects of the war upon this dismembered kingdom are not generally known in the United States.

• • •

England and France have appointed a joint agent to buy war supplies for them in this country. The employment of one agent instead of two will prevent competition between the two nations, and each is to receive an equal portion of the goods purchased.

• • •

Theodore G. Bilbo has been elected governor of the State of Mississippi and Lee M. Russell lieutenant-governor. Mr. Bilbo's majority over his opponents was much smaller in the present race than it was four years ago when he was the successful candidate for the office of lieutenant-governor, which he now holds.

• • •

The use of cotton in war is denied by W. F. Reid, the inventor of a process for making smokeless powder. At a meeting of the Society of Chemical Industry held in London on July 16 Mr. Reid declared: "There is virtually no cotton used in the manufacture of high explosives. The whole thing is a great fraud. There may be some trace of cotton in the explosive, but the bulk of it is coal products. Eminent scientists have made erroneous statements on this subject." This startling declaration is not likely to be accepted by the general public unless backed by indisputable proof.

ENLARGE YOUR DAY

Thousands of people have already learned how to enlarge their days; how to increase the time they can devote to profitable recreation and pleasure without sacrificing work that must be done.

They first discovered that the quickest and most satisfactory way to go "down town" was by the telephone.

Next they applied the same principle to their "out of town" business and social trips, and found it was even more satisfactory and proportionately much cheaper.

Do you Travel by TELEPHONE?

Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co.

(Incorporated.)

CONCERNING MILLSAPS COLLEGE.

The friends and logical supporters of Millsaps College, preachers and laymen, have reason to feel encouraged, not only in contemplation of what has already been achieved hy this great institution, but in the outlook for the future. The writer has assisted the President of the College in the summer canvassing for nearly fourteen years and never has there seemed to he a brighter prospect for new students than now. It is certainly to be expected that every one who can aid in turning a student this way will do so. There should be a hearty co-operation of all concerned in an effort to make the session of 1915-16 the best in the history of the College.

There is reason that the people of Mississippi, and especially Methodists, should feel proud of Millsaps College. Providence has seemed to favor its foundation and its progress. The Church has felt its need and profited by its achievements. High ideals of scholastic attainment have heen held and encouraged, and sincere effort is made to safeguard and develop the three-fold nature of every student. Efficient men have heen sent out into the ministry and into almost every profession and honorahle avocation. The cost is moderate and many hoys hring all of their college expenses for the session within $200 or less.

There are various means of employment, and a large number of young men, some of them among our best students, have worked their own way through the four years of college, holding all along the high esteem of the faculty and student body. Many students also take advantage of loan funds and a few ohtain scholarships; hut the various means of employment and self-support whiie in college are limited. Every summer stirring appeals come from worthy and ambitious young men who desire to work their way, and such appeals are multiplying during the present summer. Recently an Epworth League estahlished a loan fund to cover tuition for one student, and the young man has been selected. In addition to the loan fund estahlished by nearly every district within the hounds of the two patronizing Conferences, several pastors have suggested to their congregations the raising of a student loan fund as a home mission "special." This is a splendid example for otbers to follow, and some of the results already manifest, as well as the many worthy applicants, justify an appeal for action on the part of those interested.

J. M. SULLIVAN.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 7, 1915.

THE ART AND SCIENCE OF EATING.

By Rev. S. J. Davies.

Robert Reade, the English novelist and essayist, in his masterpiece, "The Cloister and The Hearth," gives a dismal picture of the hunger and lack of food incident to medieval times. Tbe main energy of people in that age was to keep the supply of food ahove the famine point and in this effort they frequently failed. Tbanks to improved facilities for transportation and better methods of agriculture, such harrowing scenes are now practically unknown in civilized lands. But "knowledge comes and wisdom lingers," sings the poet, and hoth enlarge the field of human fears and responsibiiities. There comes to us through the press and in hulletins from bodies of wise men, learned in all tbe science and theory of physiology, hygiene, food nutrition, disease, danger and death, giving us lessons and warnings for health and life.

"What shall we eat to live?" That's the question. Cereals contain too much starch. So rice and grits, corn and wheat, potatoes, and the vast army of breakfast foods, must he eliminated. These induce pellagra, that gaunt specter whose unwelcome presence now dwells in our midst. Eat beans, peas, and other legumes, and you are safe from pellagra; but too much protein and maltrition will result with consequent ioss of flesh and strength. A meat diet will result in various forms of epitheieal diseases, and the little bugs "will get you if you don't watch out." Fruit contains too much sugar or too much acid, and the liver and kidneys will be overworked or stagnated.

Nuts of various kinds contain too much essential oil and are an over-stimulus to the entire digestive tract. Vegetables such as turnips, carrots, lettuce, and other esculents are so lacking in the elements of nutrition, containing more water than anything else, as to he of little or no value. Coffee, tea, and chocolate are all nerve-racking and heart-weakening. Milk is fine for infants—bad for adults. A fish diet will give one beri-heri, or ptomaine poisoning if one is not careful.

Yet amid it all we continue to "live, move and have our being." It's wonderful! I suppose the reason is that Nature knows how and does combine the discordant elements into a harmony all her own and so perpetuates life. Sweat we must, and eat we shall, of carbohydrates, proteins, starches, and the mineral constituents of these to the end. A good dinner still appeals to us and we wield the knife and fork right dexterously despite the warning, "There is death in the pot."

Right proportion and rigbt relation will give health and vigor.

Jackson, La.

RAPIDES CAMP MEETING.

Some time ago I heard a doctor of divinity remark that the present social and religious conditions have made it unnecessary and impossible to hold a successful "camp meeting." If that gentleman had attended the Rapides Camp Meeting, near Boyce, La., July 25 to August 1, he would have revised his opinion. The camp meeting was a success, if one counts the conversion of penitents, the reclamation of backsliders, and the sanctification of the saints, a success. Why should not hardened sinners he converted at a camp meeting as well as little children in the Sunday school? The Son of Man still hath power to forgive sins, no matter where tbe penitent may repent and turn to him for salvation.

Much of the success of the meeting was due to the careful preparation of the energetic and prudent directors, who provided every comfort for the preachers and the people. The meeting was under the direction of Rev. Chas. M. Morris, the pastor, and Rev. H. W. May, the presiding elder of the district. The singing was led by Brother Morris and the gospei messages, as interpreted by his sweet solos, were blessed hy the Holy Spirit in the conviction of sinners and the comfort of the saints. The preaching of the presiding elder was of the old camp-meeting order. But it is as an exhorter that he excels. His stirring and fervent appeals are well-nigh irresistible.

Tbe preaching was done by Rev. Robert Randle, Rev. A. S. J. Neil, Rev. H. W. May, and Rev. A. Inman Townsley. Rev. Rohert Randie surpassed himself in his two great sermons on the "Cburch" and "Infant Baptism." If Methodism has a stronger preacher of her doctrines than this veteran of the cross, I do not know him. After hearing his convincing logic, his Scriptural expositions, and his fervent appeals, the presiding elder exclaimed, "This is not only a camp meeing, hut a "divinity school." Although Brother Randle has heen preaching forty-seven years and is past three score and ten, yet his "eye is not dimmed and his natural strength is not abated." Long may he live to bless the world and to adorn his Cburch!

Rev. A. S. J. Neill, a former pastor of the camp ground, did excellent work hoth in and out of the pulpit. He carries only well-heaten oil into the sanctuary and hurns no strange fire upon the altar. He possesses the happy faculty of saying the right word at the right time when leading penitents to Christ.

For more than a quarter of a century this old camp ground has been the Bethel of many searching souls. From its altar there have gone out men and women with pure hearts and of mighty mould to bless the world. This is the childhood home of Rev. H. Wade Cudd, now pastor of the Keener Memorial Church of Baton Rouge, and many other useful preachers and laymen.

As to the visible results of tbe meeting, what shall I say? I am glad to say that there was plenty of MOTION and EMOTION. At times the feeling was intense and profound. I have observed that wiiere the Holy Spirit manifests his presence the emotions are always deeply stirred. I do not mean that those who are thus moved need always make loud demonstrations, though of course they may do so if they desire with perfect propriety. Strong men and women knelt at the altar in the sawdust and were happily converted. Many heads of families received pardon and peace. Moreover, the iittle children were not neglected, for in a special service for them on Sunday morning several testified to a Christian experience and gave their names to the pastor for church membership.

Whiie on the Camp Ground, the third quarterly conference was held by the presiding elder, and the reports of the pastor, Rev. C. M. Morris, showed the entire charge to be in fine sbape. Several weeks ago he held a successful revival at Boyce; about 50 members have been received into the Church, and the finances are in good condition.

A. INMAN TOWNSLEY.

THE HOLMES STORE

OF NEW ORLEANS

is one of America's truly great department stores.

It has perfected a buying organization that reaches into every producing market of the world, maintaining offices in Berlin, London, Paris and Florence, as well as New York.

It never presents any merchandise that is not of good quality and equitably priced.

Its very efficient service to patrons in the city is supplemented by the largest and best-equipped mail order department of any store in the South. Ninety-eight per cent of all orders received are filled on date of receipt.

The aim of the store is to merit fully the confidence that has been manifested by the public during its seventy-two years of merchandising history.

D. H. HOLMES CO., Ltd.

EXALTS PERSONALITY.

"The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want." Religion emphasizes personality. A criminal becomes a numher. A number sleeps in a cell, a number sits by the table, a number works at tbe bench, a numher walks out when the punishment is ended, or a number drops into the grave if he dies before he is free. Crime degrades men into numbers. Christ lifts men into a higher personality. Religion emphasizes the personal element. "Ye must be born again," and the new birth is an elevation of personality. The shepherd calls his sheep by name, and those who are redeemed are to have a new name, not a numher.—Unidentified.

Culture is well enough in its place, hut the Christian Church has a loftier mission than its promotion. It is to spread Scriptural holiness over the earth. It is a nobler achievement to make men good than it is to make them wise.

The Home Circle

"WHERE'S MOTHER?"

Bursting in from school or play,
This is what the children say,
Trooping, crowding, big or small,
On the threshold, in the hall—
Joining in the constant cry,
Ever as the days go by:
"Where's mother?"

From the weary bed of pain
This same question comes again;
From the boy with sparkling eyes,
Bearing home his earliest prize;
From the bronzed and bearded son,
Perils past and honors won:
"Where's mother?"

Burdened with a lonely task,
One day we may vainly ask
For the comfort of her face,
For the rest of her embrace;
Let us love her while we may,
Well for us that we can say:
"Where's mother?"

—Zion's Herald.

GRANDPA'S BIBLE.

Little Mary wanted to learn her Sabbath school lesson. It was Saturday afternoon, and the time was passing; but she had been busy with her doll's dress, and the lesson was yet unlearned. At length her older sister took a Bible from the bureau, and said:

"Come, Mary, I will help you to learn your lesson, and you can then go back to your play." Mary came to her sister's side, ready to begin her lesson, when she suddenly began:

"Sister, let us study it out of grandpa's Bible."

"But what difference does it make?"

"Why, grandpa's Bible is so much more interesting than yours."

"Oh, no, Mary, they are just the same exactly."

"Well," replied the observing child, "I really think grandpa's must be more interesting than yours; he reads it so much more."

There are a good many young persons who would do well to get a look at grandpa's Bible. Possibly if they would scrutinize it carefully they would find something in it that they have never found in their own; and if they would pray as the Psalmist, "Open thou mine eyes that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law," they would find readings never discovered.—Little Christian.

HOW CARLO GAVE THE FIRE ALARM.

A little boy named Morris Barclay had taught his dog some clever tricks, one of which was to "talk" at the telephone. When the telephone rang Carlo would run into the hall, and if it was Mr. Barclay or any of Morris' friends, he was allowed to "speak" to them. He would bark, just as if he were trying to say, "How are you?"

One day a call came to the telephone office, and when the telephone girl said "Hello," the only reply was the excited barking of a dog. She knew at once that it was Carlo, but she could not understand why Morris did not answer her. She was so puzzled that she called up Mr. Barclay at his office.

"A call came from your house," she told him, "and I can get no reply, but Carlo is at the phone, barking wildly and excitedly."

"Carlo at the telephone!" Mr. Barclay exclaimed. "Why, that is strange, for there is nobody at home. I cannot understand it. Something may be wrong. I will go right up and see. Thank you for telling me."

Mr. Barclay hurried home as fast as he could, and when he opened the door a rush of smoke greeted him. Carlo was on a chair in front of the telephone, scratching and barking excitedly. Then he knew that the dog had realized that something was wrong when the room filled with smoke, and he had gone to the telephone, where he had "talked" with his master. In his excitement he had knocked the receiver down and in that way had given the alarm which led to the discovery of the fire.

When the fire was out and the excitement over, Mr. Barclay told how Carlo gave the fire alarm. Then Morris threw his arms around Carlo's neck, exclaiming: "You good old dog! If it had not been for you we might have been without a home this cold winter night, instead of having only one room hurt by the fire. I think it is lucky that I taught you to talk at the telephone."

A week later Mr. Barclay delighted Morris by bringing a collar for Carlo, with a silver medal attached, which said: "A reward to Carlo, because he saved the Barclay home from burning."

"He surely earned the medal," said Morris. And Mr. and Mrs. Barclay agreed that he did.—Apples of Gold.

WHAT HE LEFT.

News of the accident had reached the little town by telegraph an hour before. Both the men had known Philip Hastings from boyhood. An expression of shocked surprise was in their faces, and they talked in undertones. "It'll be a terrible blow to the family," said one. "Two of the girls are away from home, and Ralph took that clerkship in Adams last spring. They thought the world of their father."

"It'll be hard for Agnes to keep up the house," said the other. "The other children are 'launched,' but they're not earning much yet. And Philip never had the faculty of getting ahead. There are such people, you know. I doubt if what he's left will more than cover the funeral expenses."

In the little house in Elm Street the question of money had come up on the very next morning. A relative had suggested sending to the city for flowers.

"I don't think father would want us to do that," the older son replied, soberly. "He would say that it was beyond our means, and that the money had better be used for mother's comfort. We must remember that there are going to be other days after this is all over."

A sob broke from the youngest daughter. Some word of Ralph's had stirred her sore heart with a fresh reminder of her loss.

"Angie, dear!" Clara threw her arms round the younger girl's quivering shoulders. "We must remember mamma, Angie. That's what papa would say if he were here. We've got to be brave, dear, for her sake."

Twenty times that day the unselfish spirit of the dead man spoke in the words and actions of his children. They consulted his wishes as if he were still alive.

And in the weeks that followed the silent lips continued to give wise and brave counsel.

Clara went back to her school. She would have liked to stay at home; but her father had taken so much pride in her position in Hempstead that her duty was plain.

Ralph declined what shrewd people called a "better job;" and, indeed, it offered more in salary and in chances of promotion, but the concern wasn't managed with his father's high ideals of honesty. "He wouldn't have 'gone in there," said the boy.

Most of Elsie's earnings in an office "went into the house." She had a girl's love of pretty dresses and becoming hats, and had hoped to have them when she began earning for herself; but she had learned well the lesson of "doing for others."

"It was father's whole life," she said softly, not once, but many times. "I'm glad I can do it—in his place."

Yet the neighbors said that when Philip Hastings was taken away he "left next to nothing."—Youth's Companion.

CONCERNING REVIVALS.

Dear Brother Meek: The revival season is at hand—at least the time that is principally given to special revival efforts by the pastors. "My people shall be willing in the day of my power." God cannot use or bless the unwilling. What a privilege to be used of God! Doubtless angels covet opportunities and privileges that mortals fail to improve.

Yes, to be used of God we must be willing to sacrifice personal self-indulgence. "He that would save his life must lose it." "How can ye believe which receive honor one of another and seek not the honor which cometh from God only?" Paul counted all but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ. If reproached, opposed and forsaken of friends, this should not embitter, weaken or discourage one, for whom the Lord loveth, he chasteneth. The fruit-bearing branch is purged that it may bring forth more fruit.

"Nearer my God to thee, nearer to thee,
E'en though it be a cross that raiseth me."

Yes, willing to go to the cross, if need be!

There must be prayer—earnest, persevering and believing. God alone can save, and prayer brings God into the life. Conviction is the work of the Holy Spirit and comes in answer to the prayer of faith. The great revival of 1858 was a prayer revival. So it was in Wales, only a few years ago.

Distinguished divines failed to find any adequate visible agency, but an unseen arm led the movement, while the people, being willing, sent up earnest prayer to God in the name of Christ for the salvation of those who were out of Christ. The Jerusalem revival came after ten days of waiting in the upper room prayer meeting.

If in 1915 God can get the preachers and people to be willing to meet the conditions of a revival sent from heaven, it will certainly come. "I am the Lord; I change not—'the same yesterday, today and forever.'"

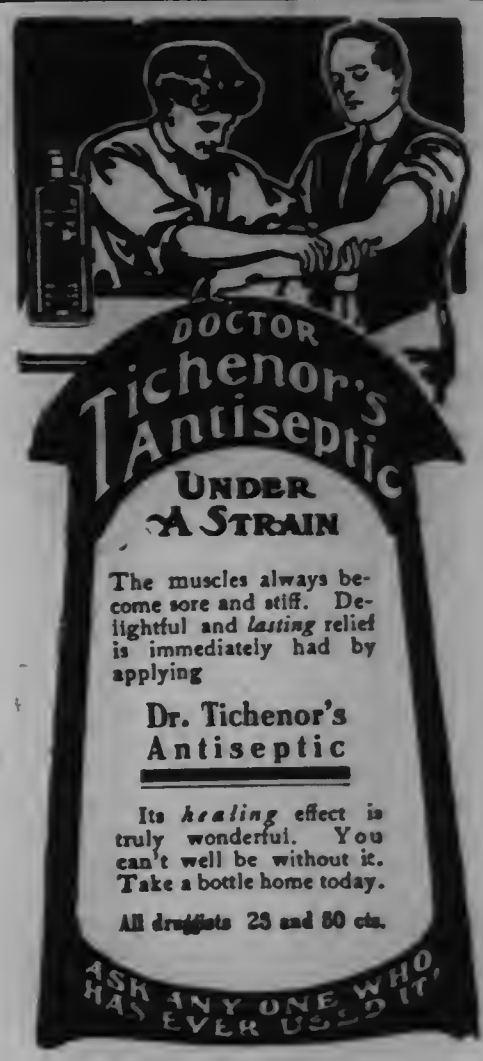
Yours for the kingdom,

Camden, Miss. C. H. ELLIS.

—ARTIFICIAL LIMBS, ORTHOPEDIC—
APPARATUS, ELASTIC HOSIERY,
TRUSSES, CRUTCHES, ETC.
(Catalogues mailed on request)

The McDermott Surgical Instrument Company, Limited.

734-738 POYDRAS STREET
NEW ORLEANS, LA.



DOCTOR
Tichenor's
Antiseptic
UNDER A STRAIN
The muscles always become sore and stiff. Delightful and lasting relief is immediately had by applying
Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic
Its healing effect is truly wonderful. You can't well be without it. Take a bottle home today.
All druggists 25 and 50 cts.
ASK ANY ONE WHO HAS EVER USED IT

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: No. 512 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor,

CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Entered at the Postoffice at New Orleans as Second-class Mail Matter.

TERMS:
One Copy, one year, $1.50; eight months, $1.00. To preachers of all denominations, $1.00

PUBLISHING COMMITTEE:
Louisiana Conference—Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., Rev. W. W. Drake, Rev. C. B. Carter.
Mississippi Conference—Rev. I. W. Cooper, D.D., Rev. C. W. Crisler, Rev. T. W. Adams.
North Mississippi Conference—Rev. W. W. Woollard, Rev. H. S. Spragins, Mr. J. D. Barbee.

Editorial

A STATEMENT BY A FELLOW-EDITOR.

The following is the major portion of a statement made hy Dr. E. G. B. Mann, the chief editor and publisher of the Central Methodist Advocate, of Lexington, Ky., in a recent issue of that paper:

"Marked 'Refused.'

"Every editorial and business office connected with a Church paper is familiar with a little official 'slip of paper' used by the postal authorities to give notice to the paper office of any trouble with a subscriber concerning the delivery of his paper. He may have moved and wants the address of his paper changed, or moved away and left no address, but the coldest and most disheartening information ever conveyed on that official card is expressed in that one word 'Refused.'

Why 'refused?' Nearly always because the paper has been received and read for one or two years without being paid for, and when a bill is sent for it, the subscriber 'refuses' it, and also refuses to pay the back subscription.

"'Only Signed for a Year.'

"Some try to pay off the amount of arrearage hy writing the office curtly that they 'only signed for a year.' This response will not help pay the printer, or the office force, or postage, nor does it tend to increase the joy of the proprietor or poorly paid editors.

* * * * * * * * * *

"A Better Plan Needed.

"To depend upon solicitation, or the voluntary plan of circulating the Conference organs is largely a failure, and the haphazard method of collections is worse. Every family connected with the Church should have a Church paper in the home, and it should not depend on annual solicitations and campaigns for the subscription price, hut it should he done systematically, and paid for annually, like the benevolent collections are paid. The money for it should he assessed against the Church as one of the legitimate and necessary expenses. Publicity, like leadership, should be of the right kind, and cheerfully supported. The money spent hy the Church for proper publicity and competent leadership will yield better results than any other money spent by the Church. The Church will one day look better after its publicity department, we hope."

The foregoing utterance by our worthy confrere finds a responsive echo in our heart, for our experiences in the office of the New Orleans Christian Advocate are quite similar to those which he has described. How any person can justify his action in continuing to read a paper for weeks, months, and even years, and finally, when the publisher will send it no longer without a settlement of the arrearages, ignoring his appeals, or refusing upon some mere pretext to pay up his back dues and curtly telling him to stop sending his periodical, is quite beyond us. Nor is it only poor people with whom money is scarce that do this. It is sometimes done by people of considerable means. We dare say that if the books of any of our Church journals were made puhlic there would be some startling disclosures in this respect.

OUR NEW MEDICAL COLLEGE.

We have in hand Bulletin Number 2 of Emory Univcrsity, a publication of about ninety pages, which is devoted to the School of Medicine of that institution. The past history of this school, which has developed into a department of our University, is quite interesting. It began in 1854 with the establishment of the "Atlanta Medical College; in 1878 "The Southern Medical College "was organized and chartered in the same city and continued in successful operation for twenty years; in 1898 these two institutions were united under the name of the "Atlanta College of Physicians and Surgeons," which did an excellent work until 1913, when another merger was effected with the "Atlanta School of Medicine," which had been established in 1905, the college thus combined re-assuming the old historic name, "Atlanta Medical College."

This school was legally transferred to the Trustees of Emory University on June 1, 1915, bringing with it buildings and equipment valued at more than $250,000, and an endowment of $20,000, to which the Trustees of the University added $250,000. The number of students in attendance during the last session was 370, distributed geographically as follows: Georgia, 236; Alahama, 38; Florida, 16; South Carolina, 23; Mississippi, 13; North Carolina, 16; New York, 1; Tennessee, 8; Texas, 2; Louisiana, 1; Vermont, 1; Pennsylvania, 1; Virginia, 2; West Virginia, 2; Rhode Island, 1; Washington, 1; Kentucky, 1; Indiana, 1; Cuba, 2; Porto Rico, 2; Spain, 1; Turkey, 1.

We take the following from the Bulletin referred to above:

"This Medical School has given sixty annual courses, and has graduated 3671 men. It now enters upon a new era of increased endowment and improved facilities as the Medical Department of Emory University.

"This is the only medical school in Atlanta and a large surrounding territory, giving it enormous clinical facilities.

"The clinical opportunities comprise all the material of the Grady Hospital, Hospital for Infectious Diseases, Battle Hill Sanitarium (Tuberculosis Hospital), all municipal, and the Wesley Memorial Hospital, which will at once huild a $200,000 hospital building, and many other hospitals in Atlanta by courtesy of their staffs.

"Fifty-one of this year's graduates secured positions as interncs in twenty-nine hospitals in New York, Boston, Pittsburgh, Richmond, San Francisco, Ancon, C. Z., and other points.

"Two of our Alumni graduated in June from the U. S. Army School in Washington."

Being under the direct supervision of a Board of Trustees representing the Church, this School of Medicine may be expected to be kept upon a high moral and ethical plane and to exert a wholesome influence upon the students attending it. The physician, if a man of God, has perhaps a larger opportunity to do good than is open to one in any other calling, except that of the Christian ministry. It is, therefore, a matter of much importance to provide for persons who have chosen this profession the very best medical instruction in an atmosphere that is thoroughly clean and religiously helpful.

Any one desiring fuller information concerning this School of Medicine would do well to send for a copy of this Bulletin, which may be had by writing Mr. Walker White, Secretary-Bursar of Emory University, Atlanta, Ga.

"COATLESS CONGREGATIONS."

Under the above caption, the Florida Christian Advocate of July 29 contained a vigorous editorial utterance, from which we extract the following:

"We confess that we do not admire the custom, now being introduced in some of our churches, of having the men doff their coats in church and sit in their shirt sleeves. They do not look well, even when no suspenders are worn; with suspenders they look worse. Our dress is often a token of our estimate of the place or person we approach. When royalty receives, the style of clothes to be worn is a matter of prime importance. When we approach divinity we believe it should be also. Of course, it is true that we can draw near to God, in our hearts, dressed in any clothes, or none at all; and God, who regardeth the heart, will not spurn our approaches. But the public worship of God is a more formal occasion. We assemble, not for our entertainment, but to do honor to God, in an act of worship; and to obtain audience with him. We are steadfastly of the opinion that it is best to do this fully clothed and in our right mind. Our clothes, our manner, our faces, and our speech ought all to be governed hy this ruling idea and give expression to it."

We heartily endorse the foregoing sentiments. The manner in which one dresses is not unimportant. The common proprieties in this respect need to be observed. This is particularly true when persons are in the house of God, where a due sense of reverence should be manifested. But this disposition to take liberties in the matter of dressing is not by any means confined to the churches. In most any of our towns young men and nearly grown boys may be seen in the presence of ladies without coats on, with their arms bare up to their elbows, with their necks exposed, and with their shirts fluffily protruding from their trousers at their waists. To express it mildly, such attire is not very refined; nor does it evince much respect for womanhood. To be sure, it is warm in this section in the summer; hut it has not just become so. We are often told that the Old South is forever gone, and we suppose it is; but we wish that it could have left as an abiding legacy the fine womanliness of its women and the unsurpassed gentlemanliness of its men. Good manners are a possession well worth having and highly prizing.

THEY DON'T DIE THAT WAY.

The quaint and homely but sound philosophy of the American Negro is often happily invoked to illustrate or impress some important truth. One of the latest instances of this that we have noted is the following story published in The Lutheran, which is said to have come from Old Virginia:

"A devout colored preacher, whose heart was aglow with missionary zeal, gave notice to his congregation that in the evening an offertory would be taken for missions, and asked for liberal gifts. A selfish, well-to-do man in the congregation said to him before the service: 'Yer gwine ter kill dis church ef yer goes on sayin', Give! No church can stan' it. Yer gwine ter kill it.'

"After the sermon the colored minister said to the people: 'Brother Jones told me I was gwine to kill this church if I kep' a askin' yer to give; but, my brethren, churches doesn't die dat way. Ef anybody knows of a church that died 'cause it's been givin' too much to de Lord, I'll be very much obliged ef my brother will tell me whar dat church is, for I'se gwine to visit it, and I'll climh on de walls of dat church, under de light of de moon, and cry, 'Blessed am de dead dat die in de Lord.'"

FOR MAINTENANCE OF THE CHURCHES.

Though somewhat belated (such information is not usually to be had quickly), the following statistics gathered and recently published by The Watchman-Examiner are quite suggestive:

"The running expenses of all the Churches in America in 1900 were $158,000,000. In that year the Protestant Episcopal Church spent $14,006,000 for running expenses; the Presbyterian Church, $20,375,000; Baptists, $12,348,000; Methodists, $28,269,000; Roman Catholics, $31,185,000; Disciples, $10,000,000. In general, the American Churches spent 94 cents at home for every 6 cents they spent for evangelization of the non-Christian world."

PERSONAL AND OTHER NOTES.

A note from Rev. O. G. Halliburton instructs us to send his Advocate to 1324 Fountain Head, Birmingham, Ala. This evidently will be Brother Halliburton's address for some time.

Dr. S. H. Werlein made a trip to Amite City, La., the first part of this week. Dr. Werlein reports that the work of the First Methodist Church of New Orleans is progressing favorably for the summer season.

Rev. J. E. Stephens reports that he is in place in his new charge at Louisville, Miss., and that he has been given a kindly reception. He is pleased with the outlook. Brother Stephens' letter brought us two new subscriptions, for which we extend to him our thanks.

Rev. W. H. Saunders, of Fernwood, Miss., states that he will spend the fourth and fifth Sundays of this month with Brother S. N. Young at Brandywine Church, on the Barlow charge. Brother Saunders is a strong gospel preacher and an effective helper in a meeting.

The Magnolia (Miss.) Gazette of August 14 says: "Rev. J. A. Moore and family, who have been visiting the Topisaw Camp Ground, returned home Friday. Mr. Moore frequently occupied the pulpit during the meeting there, preaching with his usual power and earnestness."

A note from W. D. Wendel, our pastor at Como, Miss., written a few days ago from Tullahoma, Tenn., where he had been resting for a couple of weeks, stated that he expected to return home this week. We trust that he has been refreshed and strengthened by his vacation.

Dr. I. W. Cooper, President of Whitworth College, is assisting Rev. J. V. Bennett in a meeting at Monticello, Miss., this week. Dr. Cooper was announced to deliver a lecture on "The Panama-Pacific Exposition," from which he has lately returned, at Monticello last Tuesday afternoon.

Union Church, on the Vaughan Charge, Mississippi Conference, of which Rev. J. B. King is the popular pastor, has lately been blessed with a gracious season of spiritual refreshing. The preaching was effectively done by Rev. T. H. King, of Bogue Chitto, and much good was accomplished.

Rev. W. V. Shearer, of Calhoun City, Miss., writes us of some good meetings lately held in North Mississippi. His report reached us too late for this issue of the Advocate, but will appear next week. There are few more earnest workers to extend the Kingdom than Brother Shearer.

Dr. Isaac L. Peebles is having a fruitful pastorate at Wesson, Miss. Up to the present he has received 43 persons into the Church and has baptized 82 infants. We dare say that this record in administering the baptismal rite to infants cannot be equaled in the Advocate's patronizing territory, if indeed it can in the entire connection.

We regret to learn that the health of Rev. N. B. Harmon, our pastor at Gulfport, Miss., has not been good for the past few weeks, but are pleased to know that it has been improving lately. We trust that he will soon be quite himself again. Brother Harmon is one of our most efficient pastors, and his present field of labor is a very important one.

In a personal note to the Editor, Dr. S. A. Steel, of Columbia S. C., referring to the former picture that he drew of an ideal home on the Mississippi Coast, says: "It seems that I will need a good many rockers on that screened veranda and several watermelons. All right! The more the merrier, and when I get my million I will set 'em up."

In Dr. H. W. Featherstun's article, entitled, "College-Killing—What Shall We Do About It?" which appeared in last week's issue of the Advocate, a regrettable typographical error occurred toward the close of the second paragraph, the word "discipline" being substituted for the word "disciple." Fortunately, however, the writer's meaning was obvious.

A dispatch from Carriere, Miss., on August 12, to the Times-Picayune reads as follows: "The revival which has been in progress at the Methodist Church here for the last ten days closed last night. The sermons were strong, and as a result there were several conversions. The pastor, Rev. J. M. Lewis, was ably assisted by his brother, Rev. J. Tillery Lewis, of Greenville, Miss."

The International Federation of Christian Workers met in Siloam Springs, Ark., on August 4, with a large attendance of workers from various States. Among the principal speakers were Dr. Munhall, of Philadelphia, Dr. Paige, of Canada, Dr. Haudenscheld, of Los Angeles, and Rev. W. M. McIntosh, of Iuka, Miss. The services of Brother McIntosh seem to be much in demand in the West.

We are indebted to the following friends, to whom acknowledgment has not been made elsewhere, for two or more subscriptions to the Advocate, sent in within the past few days: Rev. C. W. Crisler, Main Street Church, Hattiesburg, 2; Rev. W. J. Dawson, Bolton, Miss., 4; Rev. J. W. Evans, Clarksburg, Miss., 6; Rev. G. W. McLain, Cedar Bluff, Miss., 2; Rev. T. D. Lipscomb, Donaldsonville, La., 6.

Rev. M. L. White, under date of August 11, writes as follows from Bentonia, Miss.: "We are in the midst of a good meeting here. The preaching is being done by Rev. T. J. Norsworthy, of Yazoo City, and it is of a high order. He is splendid help in a revival. Our congregations are large for Bentonia; everybody seems interested in the meeting. We are looking for a great spiritual awakening. May God grant us this desire."

We reproduce the following dispatch to the Times-Picayune from Gonzales, La., on August 16: "The Methodist revival which has been going on in the Baptist Church during the past few days came to a close last night. It was conducted by Rev. W. W. Holmes, of New Orleans, who favorably impressed the large audiences in attendance. The regular pastor, Rev. T. D. Lipscomb, was much pleased with the results."

In a brief note to the Editor, Rev. R. H. B. Gladney, of Sardis, Miss., says: "Mr. A. L. Dietrich, our Divisional Sunday School Secretary, is a most capable leader and I feel sure that he will help to lift our needy field to a higher plane." Brother Dietrich will doubtless be given a hearty welcome by the Methodists of this section, and we trust that he may indeed be able to incite our people to a larger degree of efficiency in this most important work.

Though he has no regular pastorate of his own, Dr. J. T. Sawyer preaches somewhere nearly every Sabbath. He filled the pulpit of the St. Charles Avenue Baptist Church last Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m., and Rev. T. V. Peters has engaged him to preach for him at McDonoghville during his vacation, which he will spend in Tennessee. Dr. Sawyer will occupy the McDonoghville pulpit for the next three Sundays—August 22, August 29, and September 5.

Mr. J. D. Barbee, Jr., of Greenville, Miss., was in New Orleans last Friday and paid the Advocate office an appreciated call. He was en route to Pass Christian, where he expected to spend a few days as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Taylor, also of Greenville, who, with their family, are summering on the Mississippi Coast. Before returning home, Mr. Barbee will probably visit his brother, Mr. D. R. Barbee, of Mobile, who is the Managing Editor of the Mobile Register.

According to Rev. A. W. Turner, Superintendent of the Louisiana Anti-Saloon League, who has been spending some days in this city, New Orleans has been put in nomination as the place for holding the National Convention of the Anti-Saloon League in 1916. It is said that the only other city in contemplation as a meeting-place for this great body is Denver, Colorado. We hope that the Crescent City will be selected, as the influence of this gathering would doubtless prove highly beneficial to the prohibition cause in this section.

From the St. Helena Echo of August 13, we clip the following: "Rev. R. V. Fulton is assisting the pastor, Rev. E. C. Grice, in a meeting at Montpelier this week. He will go from there to Ethel, La., where he has an engagement to help in a meeting." From the same issue of the Echo we also learned that a very fine meeting has recently been conducted at Pine Grove by Rev. Bennett D. Watson and Rev. W. A. Mangum, of Denham Springs, La., resulting in 25 additions on profession of faith and a general spiritual quickening of the membership of the church.

Rev. G. W. Gordon, of Chester, Miss., writes: "The South Union Camp Meeting closed on the night of July 28, with 25 accessions to the Methodist Church. Rev. W. L. Graves did most of the preaching and did it well. Rev. W. S. Shipman, our genial and wide-awake presiding elder, came on Monday and held our third quarterly meeting for the Chester charge. He preached two excellent sermons while he was with us. Brother Bullard, of the Sturges work, was with us most of the time and rendered faithful service both in the pulpit and out of it. We have three other meetings to hold."

Rev. J. W. Ramsey, of Heidelberg, Miss., writes as follows: "I have just closed my revival campaign on the Heidelberg charge, which resulted in 36 accessions to the Church. My helpers were Rev. H. A. Gatlin, Rev. J. R. Jones, Rev. J. T. Abney, and Rev. H. Meliard, all of whom rendered efficient service. You may also state that I have recently assisted Rev. W. E. Dickens in a splendid revival at Vimville, which resulted in securing 12 new members and in toning up the life of the Church. I will go next to Rev. T. A. Ferguson for a ten days' meeting at Williamsburg, Miss."

Rev. A. D. Martin, writing from Raceland, La., on August 14, says: "About three weeks ago we held a meeting at Lockport, having with us Brother Robert Martin to do the preaching and Rev. A. J. Martin to lead the singing. The people there are mostly Roman Catholics. The services continued for five days, and the Spirit of the Lord was with the preachers and also the other workers. The good done seemed to be chiefly among the young people. Eight persons were added to the Church, giving us 20 members on the Bayou Lafourche Mission. We ask the readers of the Advocate to pray for our work."

Rev. H. N. Brown, of Lake Arthur, La., accompanied by Sister Brown, was in New Orleans last week, both of them having come to the Crescent City to secure medical advice. While here Brother Brown favored our office with a pleasant call.

(Since the above note was written, we have learned that Sister Brown underwent an operation at the Touro Infirmary this—Tuesday—morning and that she stood the trying ordeal well. Her physicians take a hopeful view of her case).

By request of the W. C. T. U. ladies of New Orleans, Dr. J. T. Sawyer addressed their meeting, held in Parlor E of the Grunewald Hotel, on the afternoon of Thursday, August 12. The Doctor states that he was given excellent attention by "the white ribboners" and that he thoroughly enjoyed talking to them concerning the splendid record that they have made in the temperance work and the cheering prospect of having our entire country freed from the curse of the liquor traffic in the near future. He assured them that the women of the United States will be largely responsible for this glorious result when it comes to pass, having been in the war from the first, and being determined to stand by their guns to the end.

We are indebted to Miss Belle D. Pennington, of the Seashore Camp Ground, for the following note: "Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, of Lafayette, La., has lately been spending a few days at the Seashore Camp Ground with her daughter, Mrs. Davidson. Mrs. Kennedy is well known to the workers in the Woman's Missionary Society in Louisiana, having been State President of the Home Mission Society for five years before the Home and Foreign work were united, and of the joint State organization for one year after the union of the two was effected. Later she was made the official head of the Social Service work in Louisiana. Mrs. Kennedy expects to spend the next few weeks visiting her daughter who resides in New York City."

Rev. J. B. King, of Vaughan, Miss., writes: "We have just closed one of the greatest revivals ever held at Deasonville, one of the appointments of this charge. Rev. P. D. Hardin, our presiding elder, preached two days, the pastor one day, and Rev. D. E. Kelly, our Conference evangelist, eight days, making eleven days in all. The congregations were good, and I believe that every soul was touched by the power of the meeting. Many, both young and old, were brought into the Kingdom. Fourteen family altars were pledged, and the entire membership of the church was brought closer to God. All denominations worked together in harmony. Seven were received into the Church (most of the people were already members). Brother Kelly is a great man, a great preacher, and a great revivalist. I do not hesitate to commend him to all who want the Gospel faithfully and effectively preached. Brother John Kelly was also with us and led the choir. He contributed much to the success of the meeting."

TO OUR PREACHERS.

The management of this Advocate has decided to let our preachers and agents offer six months trial subscriptions at 50 cents during August, September and October. This offer will be withdrawn on the 10th of November, 1915. Subscriptions must be sent in in clubs and money orders used in making remittances so as to save expense.

In soliciting new subscribers, please explain to them that the six months' subscriptions are taken with the understanding that, after their expiration, the regular rate of $1.50 will be charged for annual subscriptions unless they are ordered canceled.

We are making this offer for a three-fold purpose:

First—To build up our subscription list before the annual meeting of the Publishing Committee.

Second—To get funds to help tide us over the summer and fall months.

Third—To induce our Methodist people to take the Conference Organ and read it.

DR. H. B. BARTLETT
National Dental Parlors
Cor. Canal & Camp Sts.
ENTRANCE 106 CAMP
Phone Main 2193
NEW ORLEANS
Vitalized Air for Painless Extraction
Crown and Bridge Specialist
The Largest and Best Equipped Dental Parlors South.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE
DIRECT TRAINS TO
New York
Cincinnati
Birmingham
PULLMAN SLEEPERS, DINING CARS.
— The Scenic Route —
TICKET OFFICE:
211 ST. CHARLES STREET.
Depot, Terminal Station, Canal St.
Phone, Main 2939.

—THE—
Louisiana & Arkansas
RAILWAY
Announces the sale by its Ticket Agents at——
Alexandria, Shreveport, Winnfield, Minden, Sibley, Cotton Valley, Trout, Jena, and Jonesville, Louisiana,
——OF——
INTERCHANGEABLE THOUSAND MILE BOOKS
Good on All Roads in Louisiana.
Save Money by buying one of these Books.
B. S. ATKINSON,
General Passenger Agent.

LOOK UP the insurance and write us. Glad to furnish information. Glad to assist you in any way.
THE NATIONAL MUTUAL CHURCH INSURANCE CO.
CHICAGO
Serves and saves Methodism, and is now rendering a greater service than ever. Insures against fire, lightning and tornado on easy terms of payment.
Is your church participating in these benefits? If not, why not? Pastors protect your property on advantageous terms with us. Write for our calendar and pamphlet.
HENRY P. MAGILL, Sec. & Mgr., Insurance Exchange Bldg., Chicago.
MRS. ALICE HARGROVE BARCLAY, Agent, M. E. Church, South, 314 Norton Building, Fourth and Jefferson Louisville, Ky.

BOHNE & WILT, Booksellers and Stationers, 1328 Dryades St., New Orleans, La. Baseball Goods, Religious Articles, Fishing Tackle, Periodicals, School Books.

Obituaries.

Obituaries not over 200 words in length will be published free of charge. All over 200 words will be charged at the rate of 1 cent a word. Count the words and send the amount necessary with the obituary. That will save trouble all around. Otherwise the obituaries will be edited down to 200 words.

On Sunday, Aug. 8, 1915, the soul of J. D. ROBBINS, Jr., departed from earth and went to live with God and the angels. J. D. was born on April 2, 1902, and so when he died was aged 13 years 4 months and 6 days. He united with the Methodist Church, South, at Shiloh when 8 years old and had been a bright and shining light ever since. He loved the Sunday school and attended regularly, having been absent only three Sundays this year. To know J. D. was to love him. His Sunday school teacher was very much devoted to him and will never cease to miss him. Grieve not, fond parents, brothers, and sisters, as those who have no hope, for J. D. is safe in the arms of Jesus, basking in the sunlight of God's love. May God's grace sustain you all in this trying ordeal. Trust and look to the blessed Savior who doeth all things well, and one day you will meet the loved one in that beautiful home above.

His SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER.

It hath pleased our Heavenly Father to send a messenger into our midst to call one of his children home. A great summons is this—one that we must all answer. Mrs. J. C. PATTEN was born in Pontotoc County, Miss., and died on July 28, 1915, at Atlanta, La. In the year 1879 she was married to Mr. J. C. Patten, who, with eight children, survives her. In early childhood Sister Patten became a Christian and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and remained a consistent member until she was called up higher. Her loved ones and friends who so faithfully ministered to her during her illness learned to know her sweet resignation to the Father's will, and wonder not at the calmness with which she fell asleep in Jesus. A home has been made desolate because the sunlight of a mother's love and presence has vanished. The loving voice is heard no more and her wise counsel is no longer given. Not again shall loving hands minister to her feeble calls or arrest her faltering footsteps—and for this we mourn. But oh! our souls rejoice in the glory that shall be hers in the home not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. We catch a glimpse of the mystical city and the great heavenly host beyond as we listen to the last words of our loved ones and watch their souls take flight in the arms of Jesus. We can only point the bereaved ones to the Heavenly Father's home. There we shall have no sorrow or pain, but everlasting love with the redeemed in glory. Children, mother is there and is waiting and watching for you.

A FRIEND.

IN FAVOR OF A LOUISIANA SUNDAY SCHOOL FIELD SECRETARY.

Dear Mr. Editor: I am very much in favor of the resolution passed by the Alexandria District Conference recently held at Bunkie, La., relative to the Sunday school work in our State. I have just finished reading the Advocate Friday. I had just read the Louisiana Sunday Association Monthly. In it I noticed that in quite a number of our parishes the men and women who make it a success are leading members of our Church. It is our people that are making this nondenominational society go. Now, these men and women who are such good workers in that Sunday school field are loyal Methodists, and I believe that they are ready to do just as good work in their beloved Church as they are to work in an outside organization. This is true in my field and other places where I am acquainted, I am quite sure.

Some one may say that we have tried that before and failed. I believe that was due to the course pursued by our man. I do not say this to reflect on Brother Lowrey, for I love him and he knows that I am his friend. The same mistake was made by our Conference evangelist when we tried that project—namely, they went to the best equipped schools and churches in our State where we have our best talent, both as to our pastors and Sunday school superintendents, and you know it is hard to give them anything that they haven't already. Consequently, our man, however good and pure his motives and desires might have been, realized nothing much in the way of a support. What we need in that line is a man who will go into our smaller towns and country appointments and give our people something they need in the way of new methods and assist to perfect the organization of these schools into active bodies. We had a fine man in the field in the person of Rev. P. O. Lowrey—a man who has the Sunday school on his heart; but he did not succeed for the reason given above. The Baptists are succeeding because they are doing the very thing I am recommending. Let us have a Sunday school field man. P. O. Lowrey will suit me.

Yours truly,
W. T. WOODWARD.

CITY PREACHERS' DIRECTORY.

Rev. W. W. Holmes, presiding elder; residence, 1014 Cambronne St.; 'phone Walnut 93.

Rev. R. M. Brown, pastor Algiers Methodist Church; residence, 220 Pelican Ave.

Rev. A. J. Gearheard, pastor Louisiana Avenue Methodist Church; residence, 3418 Laurel St.; 'phone Uptown 2805.

Rev. W. E. Thomas, pastor Second Methodist Church; residence, 815 St. Charles St.; 'phone Main 735.

Rev. W. L. Doss, Jr., pastor Epworth Methodist Church; residence, 232 S. Pierce St.

Dr. S. Halsey Werlein, pastor First Methodist Church; residence, 5830 Prytania St.; 'phone Uptown 329.

Rev. R. H. Harper, pastor Parker Memorial Methodist Church; residence, 734 Nashville Ave.; 'phone Uptown 447.

Dr. F. R. Hill, pastor Felicity Methodist Church; residence, 1818 Chestnut St.; 'phone Jackson 1753.

Rev. F. R. Hill, Jr., pastor Rayne Memorial Methodist Church; residence, 1421 Constantinople St.; 'phone Uptown 954.

Rev. W. W. Drake, pastor Carrollton Avenue Methodist Church; residence, 1125 Fern St.; 'phone Walnut 1238.

Rev. Hugh W. Jamieson, pastor Mary Werlein and St. Paul Methodist Churches; residence, 7821 Zimple St.; 'phone Walnut 1071.

Rev. T. V. Peters, pastor McDonoughville Methodist Church; residence, McDonoughville, La.; 'phone Algiers 305.

Rev. J. L. Sutton, Supt. Boys' Orphanage; residence, 5220 St. Charles Ave.; 'phone Uptown 128.

Dr. J. T. Sawyer, residence, 5655 Hawtborne Ave.; 'phone Galvez 640.

Rev. R. A. Davis, residence, 924 Lowerline St.

Dr. R. A. Meek, Editor Christian Advocate; residence, 5914 Coliseum St.; office 'phone Main 4373.

YOUR BOY'S TRAINING.

A man to whom you can trust your boy with absolute confidence is Mr. Robert K. Morgan, Principal of the Morgan School, Fayetteville, Tenn.

Morgan School, Fayetteville, Tenn.
R. K. MORGAN, Principal

During the past twenty-five years Mr. Morgan has built up this training school for boys around his own long experience, and his study of boy nature and of the problems of giving the boy the mental preparation, physical well-being, and spiritual strength for an honorable, manly, successful life. He has chosen his faculty, equipped his school, and ordered its conduct with this one purpose in view.

Mr. Morgan is a graduate of the Webb School, Bellbuckle, Tenn., and the Vanderbilt University. He is a man of strong, wholesome personality, and deep Christian character—an inspiration to every boy who comes under his care. His close, personal relations with his boy students, his attention to their work, their talents, their special needs, have given his school a position of high distinction. The citizens of Fayetteville have recently presented him with a $15,000 building as an addition to his school.

A request to Mr. L. I. Mills, Secretary Morgan School, Fayetteville, Tenn., will bring a catalogue and full information of this school.—Adv.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
A toilet preparation of merit. Helps to eradicate dandruff.
For Restoring Color and Beauty to Gray or Faded Hair.
50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.
HINDERCORNS Removes Corns, Callouses, etc., stops all pain, ensures comfort to the feet, makes walking easy. 15c. by mail or at Druggists. Hiscox Chemical Works, Patchogue, N. Y.

It's easy to lift or move it with this—
A boy becomes a giant, and lifts or pulls tons.
Cotton, Cattle, Hogs, Logs, Freight, Buildings, Machinery, Anything Heavy. Make the Windlass do the work.
Costs Little, Worth Lots
HERCULES WINDLASS
Corinth Machinery Co., Box 6, Corinth, Miss.

S. P. UNIVERSITY
Offers what increases a man's power to earn money, to become prominent in any sphere, to enlarge his influence and his service to his fellows.
Offers as good educational value as some institutions where the cost is three times as great.
Has students whose character is a safeguard to their fellows.
Puts the emphasis on the college work, but encourages a reasonable amount of athletics and other activities. For information address
J. R. DOBYNS, President Clarksville, Tenn.

WHEN WRITING OUR ADVERTISERS PLEASE MENTION THIS PUBLICATION

From the Field.

Clarksburg, Miss.

Dear Editor: This week we have just closed our meeting at Piney Grove Church, in Smith County. We had a great revival. There were 11 accessions to the Chureh, 10 on profession of faith, and 1 by certificate. On the last night of the meeting I gave a few moments' talk on why we as church members should read the Christian Advocate. At the conclusion, I asked for subscriptions for this Church paper, and seeured 6. We are making arrangements now to remodel the old church building and paint it. The Church has been torn asunder from come-outism, but the people are waking up. One man told me he came very near going astray from hearing these people, but that now he was unmovable, and expected to stand by his Chureh to the end. I must close. Our meeting begins at Pulaski to-morrow night, and we are praying for a great awakening there. —J. W. Evans, Pastor.

Waynesboro, Miss.

Dear Brother Meek: Will you allow me space in the eolumns of the Advocate to give the public a brief report from the Wayneshoro circuit? The first of our revival meetings elosed on July 27. Rev. J. Loyd Deceil assisted me, and I want to say that this man of God, whose faith in the God of Israel is unfeigned, did his work well. He came to us with the mind of the Master, and the messages that he gave us from day to day flowed with the milk of full salvation; and not a few of us after having heard these soul-stirring sermons are mueh more determined, under God, to wage war against the archfiend of our souls than we were previous to the meeting. Thank God for such men as "Loyd," who are not ashamed to preach a well-rounded gospel. Had it been possible for us to protract the meeting longer we would have had a glorious revival. It is a fact that in many instances we close our meetings too soon in our rural churches to have the greatest results attainable..... Permit me to say at this juncture that I am having a good year in service for my Lord. My congregations are holding up admirably, and the interest is very good. I am trying hard to stamp indelihly upon the minds of my people that the time for us to use opportunity is to-day. For as sure as the water that runs down through the race to-day and turns the wheel that moves the mili will never turn the wheel again, so it will be with us. if we fail to use the golden opportunities whlch come our way to-day we need not talk and say I'll use my opportunities to-morrow. May we not procrastinate, hut use our opportunities. Victory is God's to give, and ours for the asking. My people are cheerful and happy, and I have the victory in my soui daily. Praise his name forever.—Hilary Westbrook, P. C.

SEVERAL ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Dear Advoeate: We have just closed a most deiightful meeting at the Oxford Camp Ground. Despite the excitement incident to the primary election, there were good crowds and a fine interest. Seventeen were received on profession of faith and three or four others gave their names. Among those who joined were two sets of twins—hright, fine young people they are.

Rev. O. W. Bradley, of Winona, and Rev. E. Nash Broyles, of Durant, did most of the preaching, and dld it well. The people were delighted with these choice young men and they prediet a briiiiant future for each of them. Rev. W. L. Broom, of Oklahoma, and his family were with us and were valuabie help. When the men all went off to vote Sister Broom held a service for the women and did it so well that in the estimation of some honors were about even between her and the other preachers. By the way, Broom is doing weil in Oklahoma. He would have done weil here, but Oklahoma will be cleaner and hetter because of the Brooms Mississippi sent her.

Eleven people were present at this camp meeting who attended the first one 43 years ago. Rev. J. W. Poston founded this camp ground, seeuring 18 acres of land in a beautiful spot with hills and springs surrounding, and for all these years the throngs have eome to hear the word of life. This is one of Brother Poston's monuments. Thousands have been converted here. Many great preachers have been heard upon this platform. Possibly the name most frequently mentioned by the old people out there who have been at all the meetlngs ls that of Dr. J. J. Wheat, of precious memory.

The writer recently enjoyed the great pleasure of a ten days' stay ln the home of Rev. R. E. Duke, who some years ago went to Texas for health reasons. He had a very annoying bronchlal trouble, but since going to Southwest Texas he seems to be entirely weil. He is robust-looking, can do the work of a heavy pastorate, and is ln high favor with his people. His present appointment is Marbie Fails, Texas, where he has a splendid new church and a royal people. He has a salary of $1300 and a eomfortable parsonage. He has made good, and more. We had a good meeting, and the writer was most kindly treated.

Whlle passing through Austin I had the opportunity of looking in upon the great Universlty Church, of which Dr. R. P. Shuler is the popular pastor. This Church stands just across the street from the university campus where 1300 of the choice young people of Texas were ln attendance last session. Our Methodism is wide awake in Texas and the report is that Dr. Shuler is doing a great work at the Universlty Church. One of his admirers told me that the young men of the other churches enroii with their own denomination when they come to Austin, hut that they go to hear Dr. Shuler preach.

Our church work here in Oxford is duli enough this summer, but everything will take on new life ln September. We are losing Dr. Muckenfuss and family, and Professor Hurst and family. Mr. Hurst goes to the State Normal at Hattiesburg, and Dr. Muckenfuss to Emory University. These are both splendid men and have elegant families. We lost hy death recently one of our best men, Brother Jno. N. Slough. He was a brave Confederate soldier and for more than forty years a brave soldier of the eross.

Among those who toiled with us at the camp meeting, none rendered better service than Rev. C. T. Floyd, the Abbeville pastor. He ls one of the sweet singers of Israel, and his people esteem him very highly for his work's sake. He ls doing a splendid work and is not making any noise about it. E. S. LEWIS.

Oxford, Miss., Aug. 11, 1915.

EAT HARRIS' JERSEY ICE CREAM
The CREAM OF QUALITY. Quick Auto Delivery
1300, 1302 DRYADES ST.
Phones Jackson 1080, 1081

L&N Louisville & Nashville R. R.
THE DIRECT LINE NORTH AND EAST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED STEEL SLEEPERS
DINING CARS, OBSERVATION CARS, CHAIR CARS
Phone M 1093. TICKET OFFICE 201 ST. CHARLES STREET

"EXPOSITION LINE"
SOUTHERN PACIFIC — SUNSET ROUTE
ONE FARE FOR THE ROUND TRIP
$57.50 TO
California AND THE Expositions
TICKETS ON SALE DAILY
Limited to return within 90 days. Stopover all points enroute. Shortest and quickest route. Two through Steel Trains daily. Oil burning Locomotives. Electric Block Signals. Observation Cars.
Best Dining Car in America
For full information and illustrated catalogue, ask any Southern Pacific Agent or write
W. H. STAKELUM, Div. Pass. Agent, Lake Charles, La.
J. H. R. PARSONS, Gen. Pass. Agent, New Orleans, La.

THE TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY
Make Your Vacation Count!
Two or Three Weeks at
MINERAL WELLS
would almost make a new man of you, and a jolly, pleasant three weeks they would be, too! Low Round Trip Rates Every Day.
CITY TICKET OFFICE, 207 St. Charles Street.

EDENBORN LINE
LOUISIANA RAILWAY & NAVIGATION CO.
THE SHORT LINE :: THE POPULAR ROUTE
BETWEEN
New Orleans :: Baton Rouge : Alexandria : Shreveport
TICKETS ON SALE TO ALL POINTS NORTHWEST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS
Secure Reservations at City Ticket Office
709 GRAVIER STREET, ST. CHARLES HOTEL

You Look Prematurely Old
Because of those ugly, grizzly gray hairs, Use "LA CREOLE" HAIR DRESSING. Price $1.00, retail.

Gail Borden
EAGLE BRAND
CONDENSED
MILK
THE ORIGINAL
Save your baby from disease and sickness that come from wrong feeding. Give him that pure, safe food that will make him well and happy—Gail Borden Eagle Brand Condensed Milk. In every can of "Eagle Brand" there is health and strength for your baby. Made from pure, rich, cows' milk. All you do is add freshly boiled water and give it to your baby.
EAGLE BRAND
BORDEN'S CONDENSED MILK CO.

Sunday School

NORTH MISSISSIPPI NOTES.

Rev. R. H. B. Gladney,
Sardis, Miss.

During September, October, and November we must hold one or more Sunday school and Bible study conferences in each of our eight districts. These conferences will be a great blessing to the Church where they are held, a blessing that will grow larger as the years go by.

Rev. W. S. Lagrone, of Clarksdale, has made a request for 3 days early in October. Not only is he anxious for his people to receive the benefit to be derived from such instruction and fellowship, but he is anxious that representatives from the neighboring charges shall likewise be blessed. This is the right kind of co-operation, and permanent good will be sure to follow such efforts.

Our needs are many and great, but our greatest need is trained teachers. It is the business of each church to train its new teachers. The day we begin preparing teachers will mark a new era in the life of our Church. The conferences the Church has directed us to hold in the districts will do much toward creating a desire on the part of the teachers to make more definite preparation for this great work.

The General Sunday School Board has appointed Dr. J. W. Shackford Superintendent of Teacher-training. The day he announces the course of study for teachers our teachers in the North Mississippi Conference ought to order a thousand copies. Would it not be wise for every preacher to order a copy and set the pace for his teachers? And if we preachers will read the book we can get others to do likewise.

Miss Annie Harlowe, a primary teacher in Wannamaker's school, spends two hours every Sunday morning in prayer before she goes before the tender, impressionable children who look to her for guidance. The secret of this teacher's winsomeness is that she has the habit of meeting with God before she meets with her class. "A teacher begins to teach the minute the child enters the door." "A teacher's life is the life of her teaching." The teacher in the pulpit or out of the pulpit is God's method of making Christ known to the world. Let us pray the Lord to make us efficient teachers, and pray that he may raise up more teachers.

How can I become a successful teacher? I would say, read the Bible with an open mind, read it until the presence of God is realized. Read "The Making of a Teacher," by Brumbaugh, price one dollar. If you have read that, get "The Teacher and the Pupil," by Weigel. Read these books over three or four times until your mind is saturated with their great thoughts. Visit the day school and observe the methods of the best teachers. Visit a Sunday school that is doing better work than your own, and then go to one that may not be doing so well and lend it a helping hand. Attend every institute that is within your reach. You will hear some things you already know and you may get inspiration to do the things that you have learned. The habit that makes all these things valuable is meeting with God in prayer. Before going to the class to teach, go to the Master Teacher and learn of him what he would have you teach. After all, the secret of success is in God.

THE FIRE OF YOUTH.

What is it that gives to young people and to all young animals their characteristic vivacity, energy and enthusiasm? Is there some chemical substance—an elixir of life, so to speak, which our bodies gradually lose as we grow older, and the absence of which leaves us sedate, conservative, and even morose? These questions seem to be nearing solution, for the scientists have already discovered an essential and significant difference in the chemical make-up of the human body in youth and in old age. They find a much larger percentage of xanthin (pronounced zan-thin) in the bodies of the young, and the quantity diminishes steadily with the advancing of age.

In this connection, it is interesting to note that xanthin belongs to the same family or chemical group as caffein. Both are known to chemists as dioxypurins. Xanthin is found in the bodies of animals, including man, while caffein is found only in plants, such as coffee, tea, cocoa, mate, and in Coca-Cola. To make this family relationship closer and more interesting, the scientists now tell us that caffein, after being digested, is converted into a substance called paraxanthin, which is a twin brother of xanthin. But more interesting still is the similarity between the twins, xanthin and caffein, in their effects upon the human body. If xanthin is in reality the substance which gives to youth its vivacity and alertness, then caffein, its twin brother, may be regarded as a vegetable substitute for xanthin, and we thus have a logical explanation of why the caffein-containing beverages refresh and invigorate the body. In old age, when the fire of youth is burning low and the supply of xanthin is diminished, the caffein beverages, such as coffee, tea, and Coca-Cola, find their greatest usefulness as a means of refreshing nerves and muscles and renewing the vitality as well as the sensation of youth. Coca-Cola, therefore, belongs to the same class of food products as tea and coffee. Though they differ in flavor, they are identical in effect, for caffein is their common and only active principle. It is the caffein that relieves fatigue and refreshes mind and body, not by artificial stimulation, but by a natural process analogous to that of xanthin, the natural physiological stimulant. When caffein enters the body it becomes a xanthin, and caffein beverages, therefore, have their counterpart in the normal human body.

Desiring that the general public shall thoroughly understand the composition and character of their product, The Coca-Cola Company has published a booklet containing the scientific opinions of the world's leading authorities bearing on Coca-Cola, tea, and coffee. If you would like to understand how and why Coca-Cola is the nearest approach to a perfect solution of the world's great problem of fatigue, write for a copy of this booklet. Address the Advertising Managers of this paper, Messrs. Jacobs & Company, Clinton, S. C.—Adv.

QUITE AS REASONABLE.

The great California scientist, Luther Burbank, takes a tree that has been going to the bad for some reason or other for hundreds of years, and at last has become altogether ugly and noxious, and by the shock of a new creation he breaks up all its old habits, turns its energies into fresh channels, and makes it a lovely and fruitful thing. And if your magician can work that miracle, and break up the habits of the tree, and make of it a new thing, beautiful and fruitful, why should it be thought a thing incredible that God can break a man off from his past, and re-create him in the image of righteousness and true holiness?—W. L. Watkinson.

Take One Pain Pill, then—Take it Easy.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills

will help you, as they have helped others.

Good for all kinds of pain. Used to relieve Neuralgia, Headache, Nervousness, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Kidney Pains, Lumbago, Locomotor Ataxia, Backache, Stomachache, Carsickness, Irritability and for pain in any part of the body.

"I have used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills when troubled with headache, and find that one pill infallibly effects relief in a very short time. I am considerably affected with neuralgia in the head at times, and find the Anti-Pain Pills of much benefit. The Dr. Miles' Remedies are beyond comparison and I recommend them to all my friends."
GEORGE COLGATE.
219 Oakland St., San Antonio, Tex

At all druggists. 25 doses 25c.

MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind

YOU WILL WRITE A LETTER LIKE THIS.

I wish that I knew which one of the thousands of letters I receive would have the most weight with you, my friend. I can't quote all of them here, but I am going to ask you to read these carefully and then give me a chance to renew your health and make you write me one very much like them:

701 Barnard Street,
Savannah, Ga., Dec. 28, 1910.

Mr. N. F. Shivar, Shelton, S. C.: Dear Sir: As you are aware, in 1909 I was suffering with indigestion, stomach and liver disorders and all its train of horrifying phenomena for several months. I had lived on milk, soft eggs, shredded wheat, a very insufficient diet for an active working man, and, of course, from disease and starvation was in a very low state of nervous vitality and general debility. I ordered ten gallons of your Mineral Water, which I used continuously, reordering when necessary, and in four months gained twenty-nine pounds, was strong and perfectly well and have worked practically every day since. It acts as a general renovator of the system. I prescribe it in my practice, and it has in every instance had the desired effects. It is essential to use this water in as large quantities as possible, for its properties are so happily blended and in such proportion that they will not disturb the most delicate system. It is purely Nature's remedy.
A. L. R. AVANT, M.D.

Leeds, S. C., March 2, 1911.

I have tested your Spring Water in several cases of rheumatism, chronic indigestion, kidney and bladder troubles, and in nervous and sick headaches, and find that it has acted nicely in each case, and I believe that if used continuously for a reasonable time will produce a permanent cure. It will purify the blood, relieve debility, stimulate the action of the liver, kidneys and bladder, aiding them in throwing off all poisonous matter.
C. A. CROSBY, M.D.

These are not selected cases nor are the results unusual. I receive thousands like them from physicians, ministers, lawyers, merchants, farmers, manufacturers and every conceivable profession. I want the satisfaction of receiving such a letter from you. No matter what your compiaint may be, dyspepsia, indigestion, nervous headache, rheumatism, gall stones, kidney or liver disease, or any chronic ailment that has not responded to drugs. I invite you to match your faith in the Spring against my pocketbook. If the water fails to benefit you simply say so, return the empty demijohns and I will promptly and willingly refund your money—every cent. Sign below:

Shivar Spring,
Box 17B, Shelton, S. C.
Gentlemen:

I accept your guarantee offer and enclose herewith two dollars for ten gallons of Shivar Mineral Water. I agree to give it a fair trial, in accordance with instructions contained in booklet you will send, and if it fails to benefit my case you agree to refund the price in full upon receipt of the two empty demijohns which I agree to return promptly.

Name .....
Address .....
Shipping Point.....
(Please write distinctly).

Note: The Advertising Manager of the New Orleans Christian Advocate is personally acquainted with Mr. Shivar. You run no risk whatever in accepting his offer. I have personally witnessed the remarkable curative effects of this Water in a very serious case.

ELIXIR DUCRO
ALIMENTAIRE
Sustains the Organism Without Nourishment.
Recommended for Debility, Wasting diseases, Convalescence, Old age. All druggists.
Agents: E. Fougera & Co., Inc., New York.
NO INCREASE IN PRICE.

TRY THE OLD RELIABLE
WINTERSMITH'S
CHILL TONIC
For MALARIA CHILLS & FEVER
A FINE GENERAL STRENGTHENING TONIC

WHEN WRITING OUR ADVERTISERS PLEASE MENTION THIS PUBLICATION

NOTES FROM THE SEASHORE ASSEMBLY FOR CHRISTIAN WORKERS.

On the Seashore Camp Ground, on July 22, the opening exercises of the Seashore Assembly were held in the tabernacle at 8 p. m., which were followed by a pleasant social hour. The largest delegation in attendance was sent by the Carrollton Avenue Church of New Orleans, of which Rev. W. W. Drake, is pastor.

The Bible study, conducted by Rev. W. F. Quillian, was held at 8:30 a.m. every morning and was well attended. Mr. Quillian spoke upon "The Joy of Our Master," "The Magnanimity of Our Master," "The Indignation of Our Master," and the "Loyalty of Jesus to His Cause," the object of these studies being to incite Christians to live nearer to Christ.

Rev. Foster Gamble, of Songdo, Korea, conducted the mission studies, using as a text-book, "New Home Missions," by Paul Douglas. For the benefit of those who have not seen the Rev. Foster Gamble, it may be stated that he is still treading youth's pathway in spiritual touch with the Master.

The Institute Hour was conducted by Miss Ada Trawick, President of the Junior Epworth League, and a member of the Board.

The Children's Hour each morning was in charge of Mrs. McCleskey, who happily instructed forty-five children.

The addresses given each evening were most interesting. Rev. W. W. Drake was unexpectedly called upon to fill the place of Rev. J. M. Culbreth. The theme of his address was on "Conservation," in which was made patent the fact that while the material resources of the earth were conserved, the spiritual forces embraced in youth were largely wasted. Only in late years had the conservation of youth found expression in the "Young Men's Christian Association," which at a later date had taken form in the "Epworth League."

The address given by Hon. Hugh N. Locke—"All For Christ"—placed before us the value of the Epworth League to the youth of the land.

On Sunday, at 11 a. m., Rev. Foster Gamble preached from the text, "Ye shall receive power when the Holy Ghost has come upon you."

In the afternoon, a children's meeting was held by Mrs. S. S. Harris, a returned missionary from China, and now a member of the Board of Missions. On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Harris delivered an address on Japan, and in the evening one on China, with the zeal of a missionary. These addresses were stirring supplements to the one given by Rev. Foster Gamble on "The Christian Conquest of Korea."

Miss Hasler, the deaconess in charge of the Wesley House, at Biloxi, spoke of the great work being done among the foreigners employed in the canning factories at Point Cadet.

Miss Mary N. Moore, President of Athen's College, at Athens, Ala., and a member of the General Board of Missions, gave three addresses which seemed in touch with the marvel of inspiration.

At the meeting of the Faculty and Officers, it was decided to enlarge the scope of the Christian Assembly, making the Seashore Camp Ground a meeting place for the young people of the three States of Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana.

The officers elected for the ensuing year 1916 were:

Rev. W. E. Thomas, pastor Second M. E. Church, South, of New Orleans, President; Rev. J. L. Neill, pastor, of the First M. E. Church, South, of Laurel, Miss., Vice President; Mrs. L. H. McCleskey, Hazlehurst, Miss., Secretary; Miss Ellen Jackson, Montgomery, Ala., Treasurer.

The counselors elected were: Miss Mary N. Moore, President Athens College, Athens, Ala.; Rev. E. C. Gunn, pastor M. E. Church, South, Long Beach, Miss.; Rev. R. M. Brown, pastor M. E. Church, South, Algiers, La.

CHRISTIAN ASSURANCE.

By J. M. Pilcher.

My soul is filled with rapturous joy,
When I think of Christ's saving blood.
Temptations can't my heart annoy,
Because I'm full of Cristian love.

When I think of all the unsaved,
Of all those who know not my God,
I feel like giving up my life
For those who have not Christ's path trod.

I know that my Redeemer lives.
And I know that when I shall die,
My soul shall find that peace He gives
To those who in His bosom lie.
Marksville, La.

"Only consistent giving keeps the soul from shrinking."

THE DIVINE GOAD.

Doctor Brown smiled gently as he heard the boy talk. "Did you ever hear," he asked, "of the woman who meant to take a dose of quinine, but swallowed a large does of morphine instead? Her appearance soon became so alarming that a physician was called. He tried to rouse her from the lethargy in which she lay.

"'If only I could go to sleep, I'd be all right,' she drowsily insisted.

"'Unless she is roused, she will die,' the physisian answered—which is an allegory. How often in life we face the same danger! We cry, 'I want life to be easier!' 'If only I didn't have this unending financial strain!' 'If only I were not compelled to work so doggedly!' 'If only I were relieved of this anxiety and that burden!' which is our way of saying, 'If only I could sleep, I'd be all right!'

"But the Great Physician sees our need more clearly. Sometimes the doing of the thing so hard to do is exactly the thing upon which the life of our souls depends. The nerve-racking strain is given us. The heavy burden is laid upon our shoulders. The difficult task confronts us. The Physician plies us with the goad of necessity. We face the hard task only because we must. We plod on our hard way, and slowly, instead of lethargy and torpor, energy is ours. Slowly our eyes open to a new understanding of the meaning of life. Our souls are wakened and we really live. The Great Physician has saved us."—The Youth's Companion.

STILL NEEDED.

Ours is an age of work when everyone is expected to have his brain teeming with schemes for the improvement of the world, and his hands full of philanthropic and missionary activities. But the Church of Christ, in spite of the services of such adherents, would soon sink into spiritual poverty unless her Great Head bestowed on her some servants who, though ill-fitted for the glare of publicity and the management of public affairs, delight to brood on the mysteries of the faith, and are compelled by an inner necessity to think out his beliefs in the face of the advancing knowledge of the ages. Such work takes place in the depths; it makes no noise; its results are long coming to fruition; but it is indispensable. Christianity needs her St. Johns as well as her St. Pauls, her Luthers as well as her Melancthons, her Cowpers as well as her Wesleys, her Dantes and Miltons as well as her Moodys and Booths.—Stalker.

New Cure for Pellagra Found.

Effingham, S. C.—Robert G. Hicks of this place writes: "Before my wife started taking your medicine she was a skeleton and only weighed 85 pounds. She had almost completely lost her mind and could not eat anything or do anything. Now she can eat anything and can walk three miles. I believe she would have been dead had it not been for your medicine. You have my prayers and best wishes."

There is no longer any doubt that pellagra can be cured. Don't delay until it is too late. It is your duty to consult the resourceful Baughn.

The symptoms: Hands red like sunburn; skin peeling off; sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red, with much mucous and choking, indigestion and nausea, either diarrhoea or constipation.

There is hope; get Baughn's big Free Book on Pellagra, and learn about the remedy for Pellagra that has at last been found. Address American Compounding Co., Box 557-X, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.

Note: In case you have any doubt as to the merit of this treatment you are at liberty to write to the Advertising Manager of this paper who did not accept this advertisement until an investigation was made that satisfied him that we had cured hundreds of cases of pellagra.—Advertisement.

Murine is prepared by our Physicians, as used for many years in their practice, now dedicated to the Public and sold by Your Druggist. Try Murine to Refresh, Cleanse, and Strengthen Eyes after exposure to Strong Sunlight, Wind and Dust and to restore healthful tone to Eyes Reddened and made Sore by Overwork and Eye Strain.

Some broadminded Physicians use and recommend Murine while others perhaps jealous of its Success, talk and rush into print in opposition; those whose Eyes need care can guess why, as there is no Prescription fee in Murine. Just hand your Druggist 50c and you have a Complete Pkg. Eye Book—Murine—Dropper—and Cork Screw—ready for use. Try it in your Eyes and in Baby's Eyes for Eye Troubles—No Smarting—Just Eye Comfort. Write for Book of the Eye Free.

Murine Eye Remedy Company, Chicago

Lime-Loss in Tuberculosis

In the Journal of the American Medical Association (January 17, 1913), was the following: "It has been many times stated that in tuberculosis or in the pretuberculosis stage an increased amount of calcium (lime) is lost both in the urine and feces. In fact, a demineralization has been thought to be a forerunner of the development of tuberculosis."

If tuberculosis is due to lime loss, the success of Eckman's Alterative in its treatment may be due, in part, to its content of a lime salt so combined with other valuable ingredients as to be easily assimilated.

Always we have urged consumptives to attend strictly to matters of food, but often some effective remedial agent is needed. In many cases of apparent recovery Eckman's Alterative seems to have supplied this need. It contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, so is safe to try. Price $1 and $2 per bottle. Sold by leading druggists or sent direct from the Laboratory. We would like to send you a booklet containing information of value and references.

ECKMAN LABORATORY,
23 N. Seventh St. Philadelphia.

"Be what you wish to make others become. Let your life, not your words, be a sermon."

It must needs be that those who look much into His face will become like Him.—Charles H. Brent.

"He that serves God with gladness in the morning, will find in God his peace when the day is far spent."

The Memphis Conference Female Institute and College has introduced as a feature of each session educational trips. For next session these trips will be taken to the cities of Memphis and St. Louis.

The school is located in the residence section of the beautiful little city of Jackson, Tenn., with 20,000 population—very convenient to Street Cars, Depots, fine Churches, Government Building, Carnegie Library, etc. The drinking water is considered among the purest of specimens in the world, and there is a wonderful Chalybeate Well within ten minutes walk. Special attention given to health and morals; a safe home boarding school with literary, music and other advantages. Address E. G. Hawkins, Pres., Jackson, Tenn.

"Truth is truth, and justifies itself by undreamed ways."

In the deepest night of trouble and sorrow God gives us so much to be thankful for that we need never cease our singing.—Coleridge.

Jung & Sons Co.

ALECTO COAL
—THE BEST—

RED ASH

THE COAL DELIVERED WITH SWORN CERTIFICATE OF WEIGHT

621 Whitney-Central Bld'g.

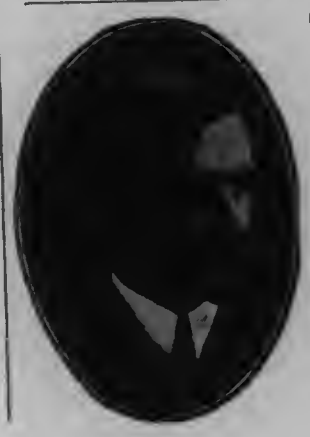
WHEN WRITING OUR ADVERSISERS PLEASE MENTION THIS PUBLICATION



Chronic Diseases
Cured Without Drugs

If you are afflicted with Paralysis, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Nervous Debility, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, or other diseases that medicine has failed to cure, write for our Free book which tells all about a new and better way.

Our natural methods and sanitarium appliances will restore your health. Liberal guarantee of satisfaction. Low charges. Write at once for names of physicians, ministers, lawyers, merchants, bankers, farmers, teachers, former patients, and others who endorse our treatment.

THE BIGGS SANITARIUM, - Asheville, N. C.

Woman's Missionary Work

Edited by .....Mrs. R. F. Harrell, Centerville, Miss.

Conference Publicity Superintendents:

Louisiana.....Mrs. A. C. McKinney, Ruston, La.
Mississippi .....Mrs. J. L. Neill, Laurel, Miss.
North Mississippi.....Mrs. Walter Campbell, Winona, Miss.

All communications for this department should be sent to the Editor at the address given above.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE NEWS.

It gives us pleasure to announce that the $130 for refurnishing the Mary Koger Stone room at the Scarritt Bible and Training School has been sent to Mrs. Ross. I wish to express my appreciation to each auxiliary and individual who has contributed to this fund. Miss Gibson writes that the month of August is the time for house-cleaning at Scarritt, and so our room will be ready for our Ethel Golding by the time school opens. In this connection, I wish to say that credit is due Miss Olivia Pegram, of the Corinth District, who spent the session of 1914 at Scarritt, for bringing our attention to the fact that our room was badly in need of new furniture. Just here, too, I wish to say that it was suggested to me hy Mrs. Woodward that our women could make dainty scarfs and other things that would add mucb to the attractiveness of a girl's room. I am quite sure such gifts would be much appreciated by Miss Gibson and trust that some of our women or girls well respond to this call.

We regret to say that Mr. Walter Trotter, the hushand of our own Mrs. Trotter, is still very ill, and we request the prayers of our women throughout the bounds of our Conference for this consecrated woman, as she watches daily at the bedside of her husband.

Human sympathy was sweet, you know, to our Savior himself, and let us not fail in our attention to our co-workers who are passing under the rod.

We regret to announce also that dear Mrs. Binford is at present very seriously ill, and has been for some weeks. Let us not fail to remember this patient sufferer daily at the throne of grace, together with the aged mother in the home, the devoted sister, and the niece, Miss Lily L. Hartwell, one of our Conference officers.

Our most faithful treasurer, Mrs. W. W. Wilburn, has also been far from well during all the summer, hut we do trust that she will soon be her usual self again. In suffering and pain, however, she has kept up with her laborious duties as our Treasurer, and she sends out a note of praise and thanksgiving because of the fact that the collections for one-half the year 1915 are $1000 more than the collections for one half the year 1914.

A post card from Alaska reveals to us the fact that Mrs. Walter Scales, Jr., is touring the West. One also from Mrs. W. W. Jack, on the sunny Pacific Slope, tells that she is enjoying the climate and scenery of that delightful place. We trust these co-laborers and friends may enjoy to the utmost their tour out West and return home with the desire to serve more faithfully than ever in the Master's cause.

Mrs. VIC THOMPSON HOYLE,
Conference President.

REPORT OF LOUISIANA CONFERENCE CORRESPONDING SECRETARY, SECOND QUARTER.

Adult auxillaries, 82; new adult auxillaries, 3; adult members, 1978; new adult members, 120; number of Young People's auxiliaries, 19; members in same, 323; number of new Young People's auxillaries, 3; new members, 33; number of Junior Divisions 45, with 1081 members; 2 new Junior Divisions, with 76 new members; number of Baby Divisions 16, with 142 members; new Baby Divisions 2, with 19 new members; subscribers to Missionary Voice, 698; to Young Christian Worker, 150; number of auxiliaries presenting Stewardship, 17; number of scholarships, 9; Bible Women, 6; Day schools supported, 2; number of auxiliaries observing Week of Prayer this quarter, 1; number of auxiliaries on Roll of Honor, 1—Alexandria; amount sent to Conference Treasurer, $2200.79.

Mrs. A. P. HOLT,
Corresponding Secretary.

"OPEN DAY" AT BILOXI, MISS.

Interesting exercises were recently held at the Wesley House in Biloxi, with an attendance of about 250. The Maypole exercises, in charge of the members of the sewing department, were very much enjoyed, as were the exhibitions by the kindergarten class. Wesley House looked very pretty, having been decorated with an abundance of Easter lillies and other flowers. The day nursery mothers and babies had a reserved place in the chapel, and the day nursery was represented by twenty-five babies. In the evening Rev. W. T. Griffin, of Gulfport, gave an interesting address dealing with the transactions of the Seamen's Bethel, of which he is in charge, during the past year.

A NEW MISSIONARY.

At the Council meeting the women were asked to pray for the two nurses who were needed for Korea. One of them has answered the call and been accepted—Miss Rosa May Lowder, who has served as nurse in the Louisville Wesley House for two years past. She is taking a post-graduate course in Johns Hopkins University.

THE CONGRESS OF MISSIONS.

The Congress of Missions, held in San Francisco in June, represented nearly all the home and foreign missionary societies of the Protestant Churches of this country. The enrolled delegation was over two thousand. Two workers from the Council were present and took part in the program—Miss Mahel Head and Miss Estelle Haskin.

Miss Head writes of her trip as follows:

"The Congress was held in the First Congregational Church, which is centrally located. The mornings were given to methods, mission study and Bible study; the afternoons to short addresses, and the night services to inspirational addresses, except two. The Home Mission Pageant was given on one of these, and the other was a trip to Chinatown and a visit to the Chinese missions.

"Mrs. Montgomery, in her usual attractive way, presented 'The King's Highway,' giving many illuminating incidents of her trip around the world. Mrs. Wade gave 'Home Missions in Action.'

"The addresses were given largely by Board officers and missionaries. The day that the missionaries were introduced there were thirty-three present. I am not sure of the actual number attending throughout.

"Monday was Congress of Missions Day at the Exposition. We assembled at 9:45 and marched to the great auditorium. We were joined by members of the Committee of 100 of the Federal Council of Churches. We all wished that the number had been larger, but were gratified when we learned that it was the largest gathering that had met on any similar occasion. We marched from the Festival Hall to the Educational Building, where the religious exhibit is, a distance of two and a half blocks, and the people were still coming out of the Festival Hall when the first ones entered the Educational Building. The Day was well announced and we felt that good was done. At the luncheon given by the California women we were privileged to hear Mrs. Philip Sanborn, President of the Woman's Board of the Exposition. She told of the formation of the Woman's Auxiliary, of the furnishing of the reception rooms, etc. The item of greatest interest was the care of young girls and women. She established a Travelers' Aid Bureau; they have employed thirty-five women workers, and have carefully investigated and listed a large number of boarding houses, hotels, etc. These they visit regularly. Mrs. Sanborn asked the Board of Commissioners to let the Y. W. C. A. assist in making the Tone (the amusement part of the Exposition), a clean place. We have been told many times that they have been the strong force to keep out gambling and all questionable forms of amusement. It is the cleanest place of its kind that any Exposition has had.

"One of the largest and best exhibits on the ground is in the Educational Building and the most popular part of it is the Religions Work Exhibit.

"Our visits to the Oriental and Mexican Missions on the Coast have been an inspiration. I shall hope to pass on some of the good things through the Voice and Bulletin.

"I close in the words of a large motto in the religious exhibit: 'Fervent prayer and persistent push will bring the kingdom of God.' This is for YOU NOW."

DANGER FROM LITTLE WOUNDS.

A little cut or wound that looks trivial frequently develops into a serious and possibly fatal case of blood poisoning. Don't take any risk. Apply a little Gray's Ointment—it speedily heals the wound and leaves you safe and sound. Gray's Ointment is the time-tested cure for sores, boils, carbuncles, cuts, bruises, burns, and all skin abrasions and eruptions. It was discovered in 1820—for nearly a century an indispensable household remedy the country over. Keep a box in the house. It heals the little troubles and prevents the big ones. Only 25c a box—at druggists—and it will save you many an ache and possibly a life. Get a free sample by writing W. F. Gray & Co., 806 Gray Bldg., Nashville, Tenn.

MILLSAPS COLLEGE, Jackson, Miss.

A. F. WATKINS, President.

A HIGH GRADE COLLEGE

Situated at the Capital of the State. Location high, dry and healthful. Entrance requirements and curriculum same as in other leading Colleges and Universities, North and South. The very finest moral and religious influences. Courses leading to A.B., B.S., A.M., M.S. and LL.B. degrees.

MILLSAPS PREPARATORY SCHOOL.—Under separate Faculty and Dormitory Management. Unsurpassed training for College.

MILLSAPS LAW SCHOOL.—Offering extraordinary advantages. Superior Faculty; Law Libraries; accessible to all Courts.

TWENTY-FOURTH SESSION BEGINS SEPTEMBER 15, 1915.

For Catalogue and other information address

J. REESE LIN, Secretary. Jackson, Miss.

MEMPHIS CONFERENCE FEMALE INSTITUTE

Historic College for Young Ladies of the South

Established in 1837, chartered in 1843. An honorable history of splendid achievement. All denominations attend. Located in Jackson, Tennessee, a town of 20,000, which boasts of never having had an epidemic. Offers a health record unsurpassed anywhere. In a community of beautiful homes, intelligent, refined people, deeply religious tendencies and a marked "school atmosphere." A safe home school in every respect, providing perfect conditions for thorough education.

Beautiful shaded grounds equipped with tennis courts, etc., in the heart of the city, affording every opportunity for healthful outdoor exercise together with the inspiring and cultural influences of the city. A completely equipped and well appointed brick building of size, electric lighted, hot and cold water, plenty of light and ventilation. A gymnasium. Wonderful chalybeate well near.

(A. B. and B. L. Literary Courses.) Thirteen competent instructors. A conservatory of music, conducted by artists of highest reputation, offering great opportunities in Piano, Voice, Violin and Harmony. Splendid Schools of Expression, Art and Dressmaking. Educational trips to Memphis and St. Louis a feature of next session. Terms moderate. Attendance doubled last two years.

For Descriptive Catalogue and 1915-16 announcement, Address

Rev. Henry G. Hawkins, A. B., President, Jackson, Tenn.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

Ruston Dist.—Third Round.

Minden, Aug. 21, 22.
Winnfield, Aug. 23.
Arcadia, Aug. 25.
Jonesboro, Aug. 28, 29.
Rutson, Sept. 6.
BRISCOE CARTER, P. E.

Alexandria Dist.—Third Round.

Glenmora, at Oberlin, August 22.
Provincal, at Provincal, 8 p. m., August 24.
Harrisonburg, August 29.
Standard, 8 p. m., September 2.
Natchitoches, September 5.
Preaching at Campti, 8 p. m., September 5.
Eden, 8 p. m., Setember 9.
Alexandria, September 12.
H. W. MAY, P. E.

Lafayette Dist.—Third Round.

Lake Charles, August 21, 22.
Bell City, at West Lake, August 22, 23.
French Mission, at Port Barre, August 28, 29.
Rayne, September 4, 5.
Indian Bayou, September 5, 6.
Acadia, at Prudbomme, September 11, 12.
Sulpbur and Vinton, at Vinton, September 18, 19.
Evangeline, at Ville Platte, September 25, 26.
Washington and Chicot, at Bethel, September 26, 27.
Franklin, Wednesday, September 29.
JAMES J. HOFFPAUIR, P. E.
Indian, Bayou, La.

Shreveport Dist.—Third Round.

Anacoco, at Hornbeck, Aug. 21, 22.
Zwolle, Aug. 22, 23.
Bayou Lacbute, at Taylortown, Aug. 25.
South Mansfield, at South Mansfield, Aug. 28, 29.
Mansfield, Aug. 29, 30.
First Church, Shreveport, Sept. 1 and 5.
Grand Cane, at Keitbville, Sept. 5, 6.
Leesville, Sept. 19.
Mooringsport, Sept. 21.
Vivian, Sept. 22.
Wesley, Sept. 25, 26.
Coushatta, Sept. 26, 27.
J. S. Noel, Jr., Memorial, Sept. 29.
WM. H. COLEMAN, P. E.

Monroe Dist.—Third Round.

Oak Grove, at Midway, Aug. 20.
Tallulah, at Bayou Videl, Aug. 22.
Gilbert, at Holly Grove, Aug. 29.
Farmerville, at F., Sept. 1.
Lake Providence, Sept. 5.
Monroe, Sept. 6.
West Monroe, Sept. 12.
WM. SCHUHLE, P. E.

Baton Rouge Dist.—Third Round.

St. Francisville, at Wilhelm, Aug. 21, 22.
Zachary, at Slaughter, Aug. 23.
Wilson, Aug. 28, 29.
Baton Rouge, First Church, Aug. 30.
H. W. BOWMAN, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Newton Dist.—Third Round.

Clarkesburg, at Pulaski, August 19.
Harperville, at Conebatta, August 21, 22.
Choctaw Indian Mission, at Jackson's, Tues., August 24.
C. F. EMERY, P. E.

Meridian Dist.—Third Round.

Waynesboro Circuit, at Winchester, August 21.
Waynesboro, at Hiroanu, August 22, 23.
Porterville, at Briggs Chapel, August 25.
Daleville, at Bethel, August 29, 30.
Moscow, at Mt. Zion, September 4.
De Kalb, at New Hope, September 5.
Clark, at Oak Grove, September 11.
Enterprise, at Basic City, September 12, 13.
Vimville, September 18, 19.
Meridian, South Side, September 19, 20. J. T. LEGGETT, P. E.

Jackson Dist.—Third Round.

Flora; at Livingston, August 22, 23.
Edwards, August 25.
Madison, at Pearl River, August 28, 29.
Jackson, Rankin Street, August 29, p. m.
Camden, at Thomastown, Sept. 4, 5.
Jackson, Millsaps Memorial, September 8.
Terry, at Forest Hill, Sept. 11, 12.
Florence, at Wesleyana, Sept. 15.
Bolton, at Brownsville, Sept. 18, 19.
P. D. HARDIN, P. E.

Hattiesburg Dist.—Third Round.

Williamsburg, at Good Hope, August 21, 22.
Collins, August 22, 23.
Silver Creek, at New Hebron, August 25.
Taylorsville, at Oakehay, August 28, 29.
Mount Olive, at Mize, August 29, 30.
McLain, at Crossroads, September 4, 5.
Magee, at Sharon, September 9.
Oiob, September 11, 12.
Sumrall, September 12, 13.
If any of these dates should conflict with any revival meeting engagement pastors will please write me.
GEO. H. THOMPSON, P. E.

Brookhaven Dist.—Third Round.

Scotland, at New Hope, Aug. 21, 22.
Bayou Pierre, at Tabernacle, Aug. 26.
Pleasant Grove, at Tilton, Aug. 28, 29.
Tylertown, at Tylertown, Sept. 4, 5.
Topisaw, at Holmesville, Sept. 8.
Barlow, at Lebanon, Sept. 11, 12.
Hazlehurst, Sept. 17, 19.
Brookhaven, Sept. 19, 20.
Wesson, at Wesson, Sept. 22.
South McComb, at Muddy Springs, Sept. 25, 26.
ROBT. SELBY, P. E.
Brookhaven, Miss.

Port Gibson Dist.—Third Round.

Vicksburg, Gibson Memorial, at Red Bone, August 20, 21.
Rolling Fork, at R. F., Tuesday, August 24.
Mayersville, at Mayersville, Thursday, August 26.
Silver City, at Louise, August 28, 29.
Roxie, at Hamburg, Sept. 4, 5.
T. W. ADAMS, P. E.
Fayette, Miss., May 27, 1915.

Seashore Dist.—Third Round.

Vancleave, at New Chapel, August 21, 22.
Carriere and Picayune, Wednesday, August 25.
Longbeach, August 28, 29.
Gulfport, First Church, Wednesday, September 1.
Wolf River, at Beulah, September 4, 5.
W. H. HUNTLEY, P. E.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONF.

Winona Dist.—Third Round.

Minter City Ct., at M. C., Aug. 21, 22.
Schlater Ct., at Schlater, Aug. 22, 23.
Lambert Ct., at Lambert, Aug. 28, 29.
BEN P. JACO, P. E.

Durant Dist.—Third Round.

West, at Bowling Green, August 21, 22.
Bellefontaine, at Long Branch, Sat., August 28.
Slate Springs, at Spring Hill, August 29.
Eupora and Maben, at Maben, August 31.
Sidon, at Abiaca, September 5.
Louisville and Rocky Hill, at Louisville, September 11, 12.
Kosciusko Circuit, at Salem, Septem-

Aberdeen Dist.—Third Round.

Tremonte, at Mount Olive, August 21, 22.
Fulton, at New Salem, August 26.
Verona, at Plantersville, August 25-29.
Prairie, at Strong, September 4, 5.
Tupelo, September 6.
Montpelier, at Fosters Chapel, September 11, 12.
Buena Vista, September 13.
JNO. W. BELL, P. E.

Invigorating to the Pale and Sickly

The Old Standard general strengthening tonic. GROVE'S TASTELESS chill TONIC, drives out Malaria, enriches the blood, and builds up the system. A true Tonic. For adults and children. 50c.

FACULTY

Mansfield Female College

1915-16

MANSFIELD, LA.

R. E. BOBBITT, President
Mathematics, Latin, Pedagogy

PEARL HOGREFE, A.B., A.M., Southwestern and U of K
English

EDITH L. GRAY, A.B., A.M., Central College
French and History

MINNA T. GROTE, A.B., Southern University
Science and Domestic Science

JENNIE LOYALL, A.B., Wesleyan College and Student Teachers College, N. Y.
Special Critic and Training Teacher

MRS. R. E. BOBBITT, B. S., Southern Normal
Beginning Latin and Algebra

JENNIE NORTH, Student University of Tennessee
Lady Principal and Intermediate Department

MARY HOFFMAN, Kindergarden Training School, Louisville, Ky.
Primary Department

LENA L. McCOPPIN, B. Mus. Ohio Wesleyan
Director of Music
Pipe Organ, Piano, Harmony, Theory

ELIZABETH ILER, Chicago Conservatory
Violin, Piano, History of Music

RUBY GAFFNEY, Atlanta Conservatory
Voice, Piano

MAY CARPENTER, Hardin College
Art (China, Oil, Water Color, Pastel, Leather Craft, Hand Wrought Silver)

ADELE MILLER, Graduate Curry School, Boston
Expression and Physical Director

OFFICERS

R. T. MOORE, Chairman Board of Trustees
R. E. BOBBITT, Secretary and Treasurer
MRS. R. E. BOBBITT, Bookkeeper
MRS. W. J. SHARP, Matron
MISS JENNIE NORTH, Lady Principal
TEE WOODS, Practice Monitor
BYRNICE PATTON, Librarian
ALICE STEWART, Pres. Y. W. C. A.
FRANCES TULL, Sec. Y. W. C. A.

A faculty of trained, experienced, tested, cultured, positively religious teachers from the best institutions of the land, capable of doing the BEST work in the BEST way and for the HIGHEST ends.

The School of Theology of The Southern Methodist University Opens September 22, 1915.

ANNOUNCEMENT BULLETIN READY.

For further information address Frank Seay, Secretary of Theological Faculty, Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas.

GRENADA COLLEGE

A Christian School for Girls and Young Women.
Stands for Character, Health, Culture, Comfort.

Strong Faculty with University and Foreign Training. Buildings: Brick, Steam-heated throughout. Grounds: Ample and Beautiful.

Offers a Four-year PREPARATORY COURSE: College Course of Four Years Leads to A. B. Degree. Diplomas in PIANO, VOICE, ART, EXPRESSION, and DOMESTIC SCIENCE. Total expense for Literary Course, $210 per session of Nine Months.

Grenada, Miss., Box C. J. R. COUNTISS, President.

HOWARD COLLEGE

IN BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA

THE Alabama Baptist college for men. Located among foothills of beautiful suburb, on two electric lines. Beautiful grounds and modern buildings and equipment. Faculty of twenty-seven teachers. Fourteen units required for admission. Sixty hours work required for graduation.

THE CLASSICS: Seventeen departments are maintained, in which one hundred and twenty-eight courses are offered. Twenty-three points required. Thirty-seven points elective.

MUSIC: Howard College is the only primarily male college in the South with a standard School of Music. Faculty of five teachers, offering voice, piano, string and wind instruments and theory. Courses count toward college degree.

JOURNALISM: Howard College is the only institution in the South Atlantic States offering courses in Journalism. Theoretical and practical work offered under successful newspaper man.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION: Howard College is the only institution in the Birmingham district with an approved Department of Education. Graduates may procure first grade certificate to teach in State.

ATHLETICS: College authorities encourage inter-class and inter-collegiate athletics. Institution is a member of the Southern Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association. Two coaches employed.

Seventy-fourth annual session begins September 8, 1915.

JAMES M. SHELBURNE, President.

Board of Church Extension

1. Its Aim

(1) An Adequate church building for every congregation.

(2) A comfortable parsonage for every itinerant preacher.

2. Its Achievements

(1) Aided in housing 9,235 of our 19,735 congregations.

(2) Aided in building parsonages for 2,458 itinerant preachers.

3. Its Present Task

(1) A roof over 2,593 homeless congregations and modern buildings for thousands inadequately housed.

(2) Parsonages for 1,155 homeless itinerant preachers and better homes for thousands of others.

4. Its Resources

(1) Annual assessment on the Church of $300,000.

(2) Loan Fund Capital of $671,436.19.

5. Its Appeal

(1) That pastors and churches everywhere make special effort to secure the Conference Collections in full, and that in case of failure to secure full payment on total connectional claims, the Church Extension assessment and all others be given a "square deal" in the division of receipts.

(2) That borrowers from the Loan Fund Capital of the Board pay installments of interest and principal promptly when due, that others may receive needed and promised aid.

(3) That pastors, presiding elders, lay leaders, and others be on the lookout for contributions of money, land, notes, or other securities to the Loan Fund Capital of the Board, either as absolute gifts or on the annuity plan, and to be used in creating Memorial or other Loan Funds.

6. "Finally, Brethren"

(1) Appropriations already made cannot be paid in full if there is a decrease in receipts on assessments.

(2) In almost every community may be found those willing to increase the efficiency of the Board and their own income by the purchase of the Annuity Bonds of the Board. The security is absolute. The office wants their names.

(3) Send for six-page folder describing more than three score free publications, and pick out what you want for personal use, Sunday school, Epworth League, and congregation.

(4) Is your Sunday school using the Birthday Sunday School Loan Fund Jar? If not, why not? Write for booklet.

Board of Church Extension
of the
Methodist Episcopal Church, South
(Incorporated)

Address W. F. McMURRY,
Corresponding Secretary,
Louisville, Kentucky

NEW ORLEANS
CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE

Vol. 62.—No. 34. Official Organ of the Louisiana, Mississippi, and North Mississippi Conferences, Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Whole No. 3195.

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor. NEW ORLEANS, LA., THURSDAY, AUGUST 26, 1915. CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

WILL GRENADA COLLEGE DO?

Course of Study—It offers the high school graduate four full years of college work in a well-balanced course of study leading to the degree of bachelor of arts. This course is strictly up to the requirements of the Board of Education for an "A Grade" college in each and every particular. Diplomas are awarded those who complete two years of college work and comply with the requirements in piano, voice, art, domestic economy, or expression. This should meet every demand for the junior college. To those who are not prepared for college it offers four years of high school work with full fourteen units of credit, meeting the entrance requirements for any standard college, either for men or women.

Faculty—The faculty is composed of teachers of superior training and tested worth. The literary faculty bring to our students the training and educational ideals of such schools as Millsaps, the University of Mississippi, Vanderbilt, the University of Chicago, Wellesley, Trinity, Peabody, Goucher, Michigan, Wisconsin, and the University of Leipsic. Each one has done graduate work.

Fine Arts and Domestic Economy—The course in these are up to standard for thoroughness and comprehensiveness. The teachers represent such schools as Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Athens, Cottey, Stephens, Howard Payne, the Columbia Conservatory, Berlin (Germany) Conservatory, Leschetizky's School in Vienna, Austria, and others.

Religious Influences—The influences and atmosphere of a school are very much more important than the texts it uses or the courses it offers. The former measure, to some degree, the fullness of information; the latter make or mar character. Grenada College has its own Sunday school, Y. W. C. A., mission study classes, student prayer-meetings, etc., and incorporates Bible study as a part of its required course. Only one graduate under my administration of five years is not a church member, and she is the only one that dances. All the others are active Christian workers, as is each and every member of the faculty.

Alumnae—The final test of any institution is its product. Grenada College courts investigation of its output. Her recent graduates have made good in the high schools of Oxford, Batesville, Charleston, Vaiden, Maben, Grenada, Okolona, Ripley, Pontotoc, Holly Springs, Eupora, Corinth, and in schools in Alabama, Arkansas, Virginia, and Texas. Where one has married, you will find a Christian home, and that is to-day the profoundest need of human society.

In General—The Methodist Church owns and operates Grenada College. Church contributions keep up the property and enable the management to return to patrons one hundred cents on the dollar in good board and thorough tuition. The installation of steam heat in Senior Hall now gives us room for twenty-five more girls than we have heretofore taken. Let us have them. It is the Christian duty of every Methodist in the North Mississippi Conference, before placing a daughter in school, to ask the question at the head of these notes—WILL GRENADA COLLEGE DO? Your daughter deserves the best. I am trying to give it to her. WILL YOU HELP ME? IF SO, SEND THE GIRL.

Fraternally,

Grenada, Miss. J. R. COUNTISS.

LIFT THE BASE LINE.

By Rev. W. W. Pinson, D.D.

That is, raise the assessment and go a step beyond. The assessment is the minimum. It is the least we can get on with. To fall below it is to dig under the foundations. The assessment is not what is really needed. It is the measure of what we can, with fairness, expect of the poorest churches. To fall below it is to fall of this lowest standard. It is the only basis of appeal to the entire Church. The Board of Missions asks of our two million members an average of less than a penny a week, less than even three cents a month for Home and Foreign Missions. Could less be asked with self-respect? Wouldn't it wound our pride and be altogether undignified to ask less? There is not much margin downward; there is a lot of room upward. Which way are you headed, you and your Church, and what are you going to do about it? You can just do nothing. (That is unthinkable, and since I am in a thinking mood, I dismiss it.)

You will do one of three things: 1. You will fall short of the assessment. By so much you will tell the Church and the Mission Board to lower the flag and sound a retreat. If all the others did that way we should have to retire from many a hard-won field and sadly close the door to eager souls begging for the bread of life.

2. Or you will pay out. You will stop at the base line. You will reach the complacent minimum, the satisfying goal of the average church. Yet if every church did that, it would break the record. It would lift the Board of Missions above embarrassment, and usher in a new era. Does it not seem a pity we should have to plead for a thing so simple, so obvious and so potential?

3. Or you will pay out and over. You will go the second mile. You will take your eye off the assessment and fix it on the cause. You will say: "Here is a big thing to be done for God," and you will do it in a big way. You will not give just to pay out, but to help a loving Christ win a suffering world. You will find with joy that you have swept past the rear rank. To mix the metaphors, you will not only reach the base line, but you will give it a tug and lift it a little, and you will do it, not because you have to, but because you want to. Then you will lift your head and your preacher will lift his head and report "a surplus for missions," and the rest will lift their heads and say: "We can do it, too," and so it will be a lift all around.

Which do you prefer? Under which "or" will you enlist? It is a question you can help answer. You are helping; you have helped already.

But it is not a question of assessments, of Boards and reports. If it were it would be far less serious. It is a small thing to be judged of men. But shall we disappoint our Lord? In this dark hour when His world trembles on the verge of its supreme crisis, shall we fail him? Shall we eat and drink our fill and spend and spend, then toss him a few left-over pennies? Or shall we face duty like Christian men and women and measure our giving by his love and longing? This is a question of eternal significance. What proportions it will assume in the white light, after it has been fatally and finally answered!

If missions never had a right to the first place before, that right cannot be disputed now. Half a world at war. Only one missionary nation free from war's blight and blood. The whole responsibility for an unclouded testimony and unhindered service shifted to American Churches. The whole non-Christian world opening its doors wide, and we, forced to cut our appropriations and mark time while the great hour sweeps by. Shall this continue, or shall we awake from Savannah to San Francisco and from Baltimore to Galveston? For once, let the whole line advance. At least let us pay out. It is not much to ask, but it means much. Will you help, and do it now? Help your pastor and help your brethren do the square thing and make 1915 a red-letter year for missions.

Conference is approaching. Do not let it find you without a full report for missions. These are extraordinary times and they call for extraordinary effort. An easy-going, spineless Christianity will not stand the test of this hour.

DR. JOWETT ON MR. BRYAN'S RESIGNATION.

We are indebted to the Brooklyn Eagle for the following reported utterance of Dr. J. H. Jowett, the noted pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church of New York, who is now spending his vacation in England, his native country, and who had been asked by a representative of a religious journal for an expression of his views concerning Mr. Bryan's resignation as Secretary of State of the United States Government:

"It rather puzzles me to explain why the Secretary of State should have resigned in the light of the comparative moderation and restraint of the second American note. The truth is, I suppose, that Mr. Bryan knew that President Wilson was bent on carrying out every word of his notes if Germany did not give way. The President does not use words that he does not mean. He weighs everything carefully before he speaks, and when he speaks it means that he has made up his mind. Mr. Bryan, knowing that the President's policy is fixed, may have felt that his own strong pacific opinions could not influence the course of events, and that his resignation would be a sort of moral manifesto against war generally, rather than against President Wilson's policy particularly. I do not think it will have much effect in changing the mind of the American people about the rights and wrongs of this war, or about the strength and wisdom of the President's policy."

THE DRUNKARD'S DAUGHTER.

(Written by a young lady who had been accused of being a maniac on the subject of temperance because her writings were so full of pathos).

Go, feel what I have felt;
  Go, bear what I have borne—
Sink 'neath a blow a father dealt,
  And the cold world's proud scorn;
Then suffer on from year to year—
Thy sole relief the scorching tear.

Go, kneel as I have knelt;
  Implore, beseech and pray—
Strive the besotted heart to melt,
  The downward course to stay;
Be dashed, with bitter curse, aside;
  Your prayers burlesqued, your tears defied.

Go, weep as I have wept,
  O'er a loved father's fall—
See every promised blessing swept,
  Youth's sweetness turned to gall;
Life's fading flowers strewed all the way,
That brought me up to woman's day.

Go, see what I have seen,
  Behold the strong man bow,
With gnashing teeth, lips bathed in blood,
  And cold and livid brow;
Go, catch his withering glance, and see
There mirrored, his soul's misery.

Go, to thy mother's side,
  And her crushed bosom cheer;
Thy own deep anguish hide;
  Wipe from her cheek the bitter tear,
Mark her worn frame and withered brow,
The gray that streaks her dark hair now;
With fading frame and trembling limb,
And trace the ruin back to him
Whose plighted faith, in early youth,
Promised eternal love and truth;

But who, forsworn, has yielded up
That promise to the cursed cup,
And led her down through love and light,
And all that made her promise bright,
And chained her there, 'mid want and strife,
That lowly thing—a drunkard's wife!
And stamped on childhood's brow so mild
That withering blight, the drunkard's child.

Go, hear, and feel, and see, and know,
  All that my soul hath felt and known,
Then look upon the wine cup's glow,
  See if its beauty can atone;
Think if its flavors you will try,
When all proclaim, "'Tis drink, and die."

Tell me I hate the bowl—
  Hate is a feeble word;
I loathe—abhor—my very soul
  With strong disgust is stirred,
Whene'er I see, or hear, or tell
Of the dark beverage of Hell.

THE COLOSSUS.

By Louis Watson.

The other day as I passed along I saw a man sitting upon a platform to be admired by the crowd. They said he was the largest man in the world, and perhaps he was. There he loomed, nearly eight feet in height, and broad of girth—a colossus. His shoulders were the broadest I ever saw—perhaps the broadest in the world—but in a world of burdened shoulders, and many of the shoulders frail, unspeakably frail and burdened beyond their strength, these great hulking shoulders were without a burden, or a load of any kind. The hands of this giant, also, were great and strong—it may be the largest pair of human hands—but they were not doing anything. In a world of tasks suited to the strength of any hands, folded upon his lap, they were idle. They held neither pen, nor pick, nor tool, nor instrument of any kind; and there were no callouses upon them, no print of nails, no scars of toil. And his feet, the biggest feet in the world, were silent. They were not running upon any errands, nor pressing into the forefront of the foreward march of the race, nor treading down the rough places for lesser feet to step in. With eyes heavy lidded and without luster, he sat and dreamed and dreamed as the ox may dream, and nothing more. Thus he sat day after day, the largest man in the world, and his the glory of unladen shoulders, of empty hands, and idle feet.

And then I thought of the Church for which Christ died—his body. How large it is in size, how great in strength! How broad are its shoulders; what burdens they might bear! How large are its hands; what tasks they might do! And its feet, how swift they might be, and how beautiful, to run with the glad tidings of the gospel's peace! And, as I thought, I prayed this little prayer: O Christ, grant that thy Church may not be as an idle colossus that dreams and forgets the dream, but grant, O Lord, that thy Church, like a mighty man, swift in action with a flame of zeal, may go forth and labor with full-orbed strength for the building up of thy Kingdom, and the bringing of men to the Cross where thy blood trickles down.—Northwestern Christian Advocate.

EFFICIENCY IN RELIGION.

This may be called the age of efficiency— not because this excellent quality is so abundant, but because it is so generally demanded. In all departments of business and labor efficiency is everywhere called for. Everywhere efficiency has the right of way. It goes right through the ranks of the unemployed and finds abundant work to do. We hear much of industrial education these days, because that fits people to do something. The world wants people who can do something. Even in machinery the great aim is to turn all energy into effectiveness—to have no lost motion, no avoidable friction. When the mind and hands, the body and soul, are so trained that all the energy is used in the accomplishment of some useful work, that person is educated.

Why not work for efficiency in religion? Is there anything more worthy of our efforts? Really, then, do we have to learn the art of godliness; learn how to be religious? Certainly. The one thing in which we should be perfect is how best to serve God. Jesus must have had this view, since he gave all the years of his public ministry to the training of the twelve to be fishers of men.

But they were ministers, and they should be trained. So they should, and if possible it is more important that the laity should be trained. "Like people, like priest." Using this as a proverb, we have reversed the order, and say, "Like priest, like people," as if the priest rather than the people set the standard of public opinion. The Book is right; the people are of more importance than the preacher. In any congregation it is better that the members be intelligent and deeply pious, than that the pastor should be so, important as that is. They are many; he is only one. The members give character to the Church. The preacher is easily removed; the members remain. If all our congregations were really intelligent and truly pious, the inefficient preacher would soon be without a charge. It is therefore of the very first importance that our laity have the very best religious efficiency.

I live near the Mississippi A. and M. College, and have been pleased to see how that institution is extending its agricultural teaching into every part of the State. It is becoming the Agricultural College of all the people. It has long been sending out bulletins of useful information to farmers. And more and more by its institutes, held throughout the State, it is bringing the most effective knowledge home to those who till the soil. The instructions get down to the very first principles in the art of farming. They analyze the soil, and tell the kind of food it needs for the best service. They show how to locate hillside ditches, and stress the importance of drainage, the right preparation of the land for the seeds, the importance of good seeds, and the best cultivation for the various crops.

Why should the children of this world always be wiser than the children of light? These men are teaching efficiency in farming; why should not we teach efficiency in religion? Suppose we hold institutes for this very purpose—to emphasize the importance of personal piety, of living in constant touch with the heavenly Father, the great need of secret devotions, the importance of family religion, efficiency in our Sunday schools, the conservation of our young people to the Church, a more general attendance upon public worship, and the best use to make of our institutions.

Then, having their own minds properly enthused, let our pastors, sustained and aided by their most spiritual members, hold meetings, protracted meetings, for the express purpose of securing better religious efficiency in the membership, to seek a deeper work of grace in each soul, a more complete consecration to God, and greater ability for usefulness to man. From day to day let sermon after sermon, prayer after prayer, and song after song, be directed to these vital points. The purpose is to train those we already have, rather than to seek new members. If sinners should be impressed with our zeal, and knock at our doors for instruction, that would be an admissible by-product of the meeting. If any of our pastors are impressed with the need of this great work, they should not wait for an institute to stir them into action, but begin work at once.

In seeking to produce a deeper spiritual life in our people, we shall deal in new problems. Old things, many of them, have passed away. New methods must be employed. In the one item of family religion we find many difficulties. Of course, there are no conditions to prevent an earnest man from gathering the members of his family together for prayer as of old. But that is not our problem. We have a constituency of untrained men who have little inclination to religious duties, and still less for family worship. To induce such men to begin some form of worship in their families is our problem.

All the conditions of modern life must be considered. We live in an age of sharp competition, and exacting methods in business. An age, too, when young life was never more exuberant. Young people insist upon pleasure, and older ones, because of the exactions of life, are in a constant strain. We have to deal with people as we find them, restless, nervous, moving and unduly anxious.

In these conditions when is the best time for family worship? In all our towns our lighted streets invite people into the open. It is a time to promenade, to visit, to get together for social chat. These things are not conducive to family prayer. Perhaps, all things considered, the breakfast meal is the best time to make a beginning. It is so appropriate to begin the day with religious worship. Many might be persuaded to begin by repeating the Lord's prayer, either by the husband, the wife, or by all the family together. In order to vary this worship, we might print on leaflets some prayers suitable to our conditions, but none longer than the Lord's prayer. Selection then could be made according to varying circumstances.

Now this seems to be a simple thing, but it is important. It is an act of worship, a recognition of God and his claim upon us. The children in the home would realize that God is their Father, and holds supremacy in their family. Our task is to train "babes in Christ" to be strong and efficient men in the service of God and man.

Starkville, Miss. W. S. HARRISON.

DR. THADDEUS P. BELL
Practice Limited to the Medical and Surgical Treatment of the
EYE, EAR, NOSE & THROAT
And the Correction of Errors of Vision.
814 Audubon Bldg., New Orleans, La.

BUY LUMBER FROM
W. W. CARRE CO., Ltd.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

OUR NEW CHURCH EXTENSION OFFICE BUILDING

The building proper is 44 by 103 feet, with portico in front, 10 by 32 feet, the Ionic columns of which are monolithic and the proportions true in every respect. The material is of best quality of Bedford stone and fire-proof construction has been the aim. The lot is 63 by 180 feet and located on the south side of Fourth Avenue near St. Catherine, in walking distance of the hotels. The Board of Church Extension, which has never had a permanent habitation through all its history, expects to occupy this building by the first of the new year.

CHURCH EXTENSION.

We have been told that Solomon was the wisest man. Though we may have wondered at this statement, we still speak of him as the "wise man." We have made comparisons and possibly decided that he did not know more about the invisible atoms than Democritus, nor more about invisible lines than Euclid, nor more about the invisible force called gravity than Newton, nor more about the invisible law that sweeps suns and stars forward to an unseen goal than La Place. He did not know as much about steam as Watt, neither did he know as much about electricity as Edison. His wisdom consisted in his proper conception of God; and this was expressed in the house which he erected for God. Dr. Joseph Parker says: "Our conception of God controls everything; a little God means a little life, a little morality, a little service—a little petty miserable service altogether; but a great conception of God means a great life—great loving, great service for others."

Everything in this world has its concrete sign. In a way, we look at the things that are invisible by the things that are visible, and in this way we attach eternal values to the things of earth. The church house stands for God—a silent sentinel, reminding us of God. In massiveness and splendor the house of God should outstrip every other building to the same degree, comparatively speaking, as God outstrips every other intelligent being in power and greatness. His house should be the one house of the community around which all wealth, honor, intelligence, and social events should circle.

A Masonic temple represents masonry; and that building tells to the outside world something of the interest in masonry in that town or city, by its magnificence or insignificance. This may be said of any brotherhood. This is true also of the Church. The building in every respect should, as nearly as possible, represent God. While this may be said of the local church and town, it is as true of the denomination. What is our conception of God? May we as Southern Methodists have great conceptions of God!

We are nearing the close of our Conference year, and in the rush of the many calls for collections let us not forget the Church Extension fund. We need it to assist in our mission work, foreign and home; our French mission, and the newly organized congregations in sawmill towns. We need it in the poorer congregations, in city, town and country, where they are not able to erect just the kind of building they need.

There have been in our denomination 9235 churches aided by this Church Extension fund. Just how many of these churches never would have been built had it not been for the encouragement and aid given them by the Church Extension Board, no one will ever know; but no doubt thousands of these congregations would have been lost to Southern Methodism had it not been for this fund. Is it a good investment?

There is a pamphlet sent out by the Church Extension Board which you should read. I shall not try to tell the story in this limited space. In this pamphlet Uncle John Shores tells a bit of his personal experience. Uncle John had a son, George, who was a wanderer of whom they had not heard for years. The Church Extension Secretary came around and asked for a collection to help to erect a church in the Far West. Uncle John and his good wife talked it over and decided to give $1000, which they had intended to use in George's education, to this enterprise, that they might, perchance, save some other boy. Uncle John finishes the story as follows:

"It happened, however, as the weeks went by, that my poor, prodigal boy, whom we had long since given up as dead, was still alive and went to this town. He was walking along its streets moneyless, friendless and godless, when he heard singing in the church and went in. Thus shielded from the cold, for it was in the winter, he sat down to listen to the sermon. He was led to repentance and gave himself to Christ. From that day on he has led a devoted, Christian life. He soon secured a paying position with a large firm, made money, and to-day is one of the leading business men of that western town. Later he was made superintendent of the Sunday school in that little church. He often visits us, and mother and I visit him. A good Christian wife presides over his home. I helped to build a church to save the boys of other men and as a result my own boy was saved."

K. W. DODSON.

Lake Charles, La., Aug. 10, 1915.

In Paris cabmen are not allowed to smoke while they are on duty.

ENLARGE YOUR DAY

Thousands of people have already learned how to enlarge their days; how to increase the time they can devote to profitable recreation and pleasure without sacrificing work that must be done.

They first discovered that the quickest and most satisfactory way to go "down town" was by the telephoue.

Next they applied the same principle to their "out of town" business and social trips, and found it was even more satisfactory and proportionately much cheaper.

Do you Travel by TELEPHONE?

Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co.

(Incorporated.)

ST. MARK'S HALL—ITS SPLENDID WORK AMONG THE FOREIGN BORN BELOW CANAL STREET.

By Mrs. Catherine C. Van Meter.

Down in one section of cosmopolitan New Orleans thirty thousand Italians and many Sicilians, as well as others of foreign birth, are contributing to the great melting pot of American civilization, and in the midst of this scene, where great changes are being wrought in members of the same families, stands St. Mark's Hall.

St. Mark's Hall is under the supervision of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, but its mission is institutional as well as religious, and through sympathetic interest and practical assistance, friendliness and persistence, it is reaching thousands of people annually and fitting them for good citizenship, paving the way for future happiness as well as usefulness.

The spirit of American thrift has reached some of the younger patrons of St. Mark's already, and the boys and girls who frequent the place and hobnob with the residents have become congenial friends. They are given many privileges redounding to their good. They are taught numerous occupations, and they are finer and wiser for companionship. The workers of St. Mark's do not content themselves with the problems that come to them, however, but they go into the homes, canvass the blocks for opportunities to serve. They get acquainted with the mothers and fathers and learn the home life of these foreigners.

In the photograph shown (It is not practicable for us to reproduce this picture.—Ed. Ad.) seventy persons were housed, the court yard doing service as playgrounds for the children, washroom for the families, and meeting all other demands of a domestic or social nature. The only piece of nature visible is the bit of blue dome above their heads, and many of them are not in the habit of looking up. Housing conditions are deplorable. A house that was formally used for one family serves a number of families—all of them blessed with offspring.

Through the welfare work at St. Mark's last year 267 babies were enrolled, and out of this number only four died. The mothers are advised and instructed when in ill health. An average of 400 pounds of ice a day is distributed to those who need it. Two hundred visits were made each month, and seventy-five children daily received fresh milk.

The religious activities of St. Mark's are most commendable. The children are brought into the Sunday schools and taught the Word, the parents are taken into the French or Italian Churches, if they prefer these to those where English is spoken, and in every way the settlement workers are indefatigable.

Miss Martha Nutt, the resident superintendent, is especially interested in girls, and no place is too far beyond society for Miss Nutt to visit if the hope of saving a young soul bids her go forward. Four girls were sent to Vashti, the Industrial Home for Young Women at Thomasville, Ga., during the past year, and innumerable others have been sent on their ways better women through the kindness of Miss Nutt.

Story-telling hour is a regular pastime offered the children of the vicinity, and it is not unusual to find one hundred little ones sitting round awaiting the arrival of the man or woman who is to begin a talk with "Once upon a time."

While this institution has only been established about six years its usefulness has been incalculable, and its influence has permeated every home for a radius of several blocks. There are about one thousand families represented constantly in the work of St. Mark's, whether through the children, parent, family as church members, or through the various clubs and departments appealing to different ones of varying ages.

The Camp-fire girls, under the guardianship of Miss Iles, number fourteen. They consist of girls of various nationalities and religious faiths, but meet at the hall as one band of sisters. The law of the Camp Fire is to seek beauty, give service, pursue knowledge, be trustworthy, hold on to health, glorify work and be happy, and each member strives in her every-day life to keep this law. They are awarded honors in the form of different colored beads for home craft, such as cooking, sewing, marketing, learning food values, etc. Health craft, which consists in keeping free from colds, taking part in outdoor games and other forms of athletics, through hand craft, camp craft, nature lore, business and patriotism.

CAMP-FIRE GIRLS, ST. MARK'S HALL

They meet once a week at the hall, and tired though they be from the day's work, their young lives are bubbling over with energy and enthusiasm as they meet to count "honors" or to enter into a game of basketball or some parlor game. The guardian is planning a series of lectures for the winter season to be given by nurses, physicians and teachers—lectures that will enable these girls to better meet the problems of life. One cannot mingle with these light-hearted, fun-loving girls without entering into the spirit of good will and fellowship that prevails, and one feels a thrill of pride at the priceless privilege of touching their young lives, and in some measure molding them into home makers of the future.

The Boy Scouts number thirty-seven boys, between the ages of twelve and twenty. They are a splendid body of boys, well organized under the supervision of Mr. William Beer. To be a member, a boy is not allowed to smoke while on the grounds, neither can he use bad language. They are taught to strive for honors in right living, and at the monthly business meeting are awarded these honors. One of their chief summer amusements is the "hike" when they go camping for two or three days, taking their tents and cooking utensils out into the country, and living after a boy's own heart. Just to look into their sunburned faces and shining eyes upon their return and hear them exclaim: "Boys, didn't we have a big time!" makes one truly wish to be a boy again. Their evenings at the hall are equally filled with pleasure and profit. Their athletics consist of basketball, Indian clubs, etc., after which the treat of the evening comes in the form of shower baths. How they enjoy them, and how refreshed and happy they look as they reluctantly leave the hall at ten p. m., after an evening of wholesome pleasure! And only eternity can unfold the worth of one such evening with these men of to-morrow.

The Mothers' Club, with Mrs. William McHugh as President, has a membership of twenty-two. They meet at the hall once a month to devise ways and means of helping toward community uplift. With their dues and other contributions they help the poor, and sometimes contribute toward some institution. The evenings at the hall are always pleasant occasions for them when they can meet and discuss their problems, and often for an hour or more fold away their home cares and enter some social activity.

The clinic meets a great need and ministers to many who are afflicted and without means to pay for medical aid. Dr. E. L. King has charge of the general clinic; Dr. J. R. Hume is the eye, ear, nose, and throat specialist; Miss Kathron Wilson is the nurse in charge. Dr. Signorelli, with Mrs. Seibrecht as nurse, has charge of the baby clinic. A great number of cases are followed up by the nurses, not only to give material aid, but many times a spiritual quickening is effected and better, brighter homes and a higher standard of living are results of these friendly visits.

It would be difficult to convey an adequate impression of the good accomplished by St. Mark's without resorting to statistics, but the improvement wrought in this uninviting section of New Orleans is traceable invariably to this settlement. Its workers are known to the Juvenile Court in reporting cases and furnishing evidence, they are not strangers to the Charity Organization, nor to the Board of Health, nor to the School Board. The Anti-tuberculosis League is consulted by them relative to cases in this section, and in many ways the heart throb of this foreign colony is felt by the whole city of New Orleans. The work is institutional rather than charitable, and therefore is a vital factor in the upbuilding of character and the improvement of conditions, as its service is preventive rather than reformative.

The officers of the Methodist City Board of Missions, under whose jurisdiction the work is carried forward, are: Mrs. S. A. Montgomery, president; Mrs. W. W. Holmes, vice president; Mrs. J. B. Parker, corresponding secretary; Mrs. D. B. Carre, treasurer; Mrs. A. A. Bartells, recording secretary. Miss Nutt is head resident; Miss Eliza Iles, deaconess; Miss Kathron Wilson, nurse; Miss Margaret Siebrecht, welfare nurse; C. A. Allison, druggist; Dr. Ed. L. King, Dr. J. R. Hume and Dr. John Signorelli, visiting doctors; Rev. J. V. Romano is the Italian pastor, and Rev. W. E. Thomas, the resident pastor. Mrs. R. H. Harper is chairman of the religious committee, Mrs. John Mumford, of the sewing committee, and Miss Lyla Steele, of the finance committee. Mrs. W. W. Carre is chairman of the building committee.—Times-Picayune.

Of the more than 4,000,000 people who constitute the population of the island of Ceylon, 6000 are Europeans.

WANTED, POSITION AS TEACHER OR GOVERNESS.

A Christian young lady, competent and with untiring energy, is anxious to secure a position as teacher or governess. She was educated at Meridian Woman's College. Has had one year's experience, and is well prepared to teach Expression. She is ambitious and would give faithful service. Any one interested may write Rev. J. R. Jones, Meridian, Miss.

LEON IRWIN & CO.,
Fire and Casualty Insurance
736 UNION STREET. Phone, Main 585.

The Louisiana Educational Campaign

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., President

Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Sec'y

Rev. C. A. Battle, Treas., Baton Rouge, La.

(This Department is conducted by Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Secretary of Education, and Rev. A. J. Gearheard, Publicity Commissioner.)

KEEP BOOKS WITH GOD.

Within a few weeks the boys and girls will be off to college. Every year a large number of boys write letters to the heads of our colleges asking for information regarding work for part or all of their expenses. It would be a fine thing if it were possible to provide enough work for every young man to do in order to put himself through school, but this cannot be done. The result is that many young men, poorly equipped for the work they hope to do, begin and run constantly behind the others in their profession. It is sad that poverty throws a shadow across the hopes of so many ambitious young men.

But there is another picture worth painting. Scores of Methodist men and women are growing old and there are thousands of dollars in cash and property to their credit. They will never be able to consume their income and their immediate relatives are not in want. They have lived their life and do not need any further preparation, and while they approach the grave holding onto their money this group of ambitious young men without means is slowly passing over the proper period of preparation and are about to enter life's battle poorly equipped. The older men and women who have money that they are not using, and will never be able to use, should step in and make an education possible for these young men, who can not pay or work their way through school.

There are two ways in which help could be rendered: First, a letter to Dr. R. H. Wynn, of Shreveport, La., stating that you will bear the expenses of a worthy young man in school this year, if received within the next three weeks, would accomplish great good. Second, a letter to Dr. Wynn offering from $250 to $1000 as a permanent loan fund to students would make possible the education of a number of boys and at the same time start a fund that in the end would help scores of boys.

It may be that you are able right now to write one of the above-mentioned letters. If so, sit down and write it. It may be that you know of some person who is not a reader of the Advocate, but who could render this service. If so, then take this article over to him and let him read it and use your personal influence to get him to put up enough money at the right time to help some one who needs help. Now, we would not for one moment confine this privilege to help others to old people. There are young men whose incomes make it possible for them to step in and lend a hand to their less fortunate brothers. The writer knows of one comparatively young man who has made nearly a million dollars selling provisions to the warring nations during the last twelve months. Our readers may not have so much, but many of them do not need all that they have made and could easily spare enough to send one boy through college. Not long ago a certain church member was approached and asked to aid a very worthy enterprise. He declined on the ground that it was a very hard year and he did not have anything to spare. In less than a week he purchased a second expensive automobile as a pleasure car for himself and family. It is no trouble to spend large earnings on luxuries, but Christians ought to keep books with God.

Another reason why such gifts would mean much just now: If you give enough to send a boy through college this year, it means that that money will count on the $12,500 fund we are now trying to raise for Centenary College in order to get $2500 that will be given by Mr. Blair of Shreveport. Thus, your gift would aid the boy and the college in a two-fold way; so why not write one of the two aforementioned letters right now?

A RIGHT VIEW.

The Nashville Advocate of August 13, recording a recent generous donation by Messrs. B. N. and J. B. Duke to Trinity College, quotes in connection with it the following message which accompanied the gift:

"What we want to see Trinity College do is to make young men of high character and true worth. We have little concern about the number of students at Trinity. Sometimes we fear that you have too many. We want Trinity to send out men of force. Better to make a few great men than many mediocre men. Don't let Trinity get a craze for numbers. Be careful to do sound and good work. Our interest is in doing the best, not doing the most, unless it is first the best."

These words, expressing the conviction of two of the most successful business men in America, are well worth considering as a wise statement of the ideals and methods of Christian education. They emphasize the value of just such institutions as we are trying to make of our Conference colleges, and the necessity of such financial support as we are seeking to secure for them.

Secular News and Comment

By R. E. Meek.

The total amount of real estate in New York City owned by religious institutions is valued at $188,921,725.

* * *

It was found that in one block of the city of Chicago there were 538 families which furnished a total of 1597 persons. Every two hundred persons had to use one bathtub.

* * *

Rudyard Kipland, the well known English writer, has become a convert to the cause of prohibition and laments the stand that he had hitherto taken upon this question.

* * *

The last edition of the telephone directory of New York City consisted of 610,000 copies. The size of each copy is nine and one-half by eleven and a half inches. The book is two inches thick and weighs three and a half pounds.

* * *

At the close of business on June 23 the 26 national banks in Louisiana had on deposit $13,431,370.02. Loans and discounts amounted to $15,891,965.94, which was an increase of one million dollars over the report for May 1. Only one bank had gone out of business.

* * *

Since the establishment of national prohibition in Russia by an edict of the Czar there has been less bodily and mental illness, the number of suicides has decreased, and the deposits in savings banks are rapidly increasing. We predict that this will be the case in every country where prohibition is given a fair trial

* * *

Four million dollars is to be appropriated this year by the Federal Government for the purpose of aiding the organized militia in 47 States of the Union. Nevada is the State which will receive no part of this sum, owing to the fact that she alone of all the States in the Union possesses no militia.

* * *

The following is a bit of interesting information concerning one of the many little insects which are so common in our section of the country during warm weather: "An ant can carry a grain of corn ten times the weight of its own body, while a horse and a man can carry a burden only about equal to their own weight."

* * *

Mississippi figs are declared to be excellent. A canning outfit has been installed at Clinton, Miss., and a great many gallons of figs have been put up for the boarding houses of the Mississippi A. and M. College, near Starkville. There is no reason why the canning of figs should not become one of the great industries of the Magnolia State.

* * *

The sum of $5,500,000 was left Harvard University by the late Gordon McKay for the purpose of maintaining a school for instruction in the industrial arts and sciences, but, believing that the Massachusetts Institute of Technology can carry out the wishes of the donor more satisfactorily and having found out that the transfer can be legally made, the Harvard authorities will turn this money over to that institution.

* * *

Newspapers are always great sufferers in times of financial stringency. In Germany the number of daily newspapers and periodicals has been reduced to less than 1200 since the beginning of the war. English papers are suffering from a decrease in the amount of revenue brought in by advertising, and, as there is a scarcity of the chemicals used in the manufacture of white paper, London newspapers have all agreed to reduce their size.

A NOTE OF THANKS.

To our friends whose letters of sympathy came to us in our great sorrow, we take this means of expressing our sincere appreciation. To attempt to write a personal letter in reply to so many, with our hearts so full, would be too much for our strength at this time. The sudden death of our son, at the age of 21, with such a bright future, came as a great shock and bereavement to us. With crushed hearts, we bow to the will of Him "whose we are" and whom we trust.

Sincerely,
J. T. LEGGETT AND FAMILY.

CENTENARY COLLEGE

Of Louisiana.

If you wish your son to receive a Literary College training in a moral and religious atmosphere, amid beautiful and healthful natural surroundings, under a faculty of competent Christian men, in a progressive city with great Protestant Churches and many public advantages, send him to

Centenary College.

If it is advisable that your son take his preparatory or high school training away from home, send him to Centenary, where, by good application, he may save one year in preparation for Freshman Class of any college.

Write for Catalogue and any Needed Information.

Rev. R. H. WYNN, President. Box 6, Shreveport, La.

TOBACCO AND ITS EFFECTS.

By Mr. James H. Walker.

Mr. Editor: Owing to my conviction that we need to push forward the great reformations which are beginning to engage the attention of our nation to-day, I send you the following information for publication, which I have gathered up for God's glory and for the good of my fellow-creatures:

The Tobacco Habit and its Results.

The information here gained relates to three points: First, the ingredients; second, its manufacture, and third, its tendency to alcoholism.

Not only is the plant itself obnoxious to the taste and smell and its use exceedingly filthy, but the process of the manufacture of tobacco and some of the ingredients incorporated, are vile and loathsome beyond description. It is a well known fact that the business of collecting stumps of cigars, which have been thrown into the gutters is a lucrative branch of the home manufacture of "REAL HAVANAS," and from the practice which cigar makers have of wetting the wrapper with their saliva, and hiting the end of the cigar into shape, a most loathsome disease is spread, as many of these cigar-makers have diseased mouths. Because of this every man who smokes a cigar is liable to the infection.

The New York Tribune states that five-eighths of the cigars sold in that city are made in east side tenements amid all the dirt and squalor of such surroundings. In Bellevue Hospital upon one occasion there were "fifty patients suffering from one of the most fearful and incurable maladies, contracted from cigars manufactured in tenement houses by diseased persons, the finishing touches being given by the teeth and tongue." At one time, just after thousands of cigars had been turned loose upon the world, their makers were found to be pitted with small pox. Cigarette smokers run an equal risk. Many of the cigarettes, in fancy wrappers and smoked by nobby young bloods, are made in reeking tenements from cigar stumps fished out of gutters, and office spittoons, or picked up from floors of saloons. In San Francisco 195 cases of leprosy were traced by the physicians of that city to the smoking of cigarettes made by Chinese lepers.

Much of the cut tobacco is manufactured in large cities, and a good part of the material used is gathered from the sweepings of barrooms, streets and sewers, consisting mainly of cigar stumps and old cuds of tobacco which have been chewed and cast away. Cheap tobacco is a mixture of burdock, lampblack, saw dust, colt's foot, plantain leaves, fuller's earth, lime, salt, alum and a little tobacco. Dextine gum, saltpeter, green vitrol, salammoniac, yellow ochre, rosin sand, dye woods, fustic, peat, red lead, starch, bark, and other substances are added to give pungency and weight. Chewing tobacco is thoroughly soaked in a solution of rum. Liquorice, opiates, laudanum, and Santa Cruz rum are among the ingredients used in the manufacture of cigars. The representative of a large tobacco house in the South asserts that the extent to which drugs are used in cigarettes is appalling. "Havana flavoring" is used extensively, and is sold by the thousand barrels. This is prepared from the tonka bean which contains a deadly poison, seven grains of which will kill a dog. Cigarette wrappers are often made from the filthy scrappings of rag pickers. The lime and other substances used in bleaching have a very harmful influence upon the membranes of the mouth, throat and nose. Arsenic is used in bleaching most cigarette papers, while combustion develops the oil of creosote, which is said to hasten the development of consumption in any one predisposed to that disease.

The next objection to the use of tobacco is that it is an unnatural and growing appetite which leads to strong drinks, opium and other narcotics. One artificial appetite produces another, and tobacco by wasting the saliva, parching the tongue and inflaming the chest creates a morbid thirst which finds temporary relief in alcohol. Tobacco requires a compensating stimulant to overcome its sedative effects, and by vitiating the taste and making common, wholesome food insipid and flat, it directly promotes intemperance. Most of reformers assert that tobacco tends to drunkenness. Jerry McAuley, the converted thief and drunkard, declared that he could not refrain from liquor until he gave up tobacco, and that in nearly every case where men who had reformed have fallen again, it was tobacco which led them back to strong drink. Dr. Talmage said, "The broad avenue leading down to the drunkard's grave and drunkard's hell is strewn thick with tobacco leaves." Out of 600 convicts in the Auburn (N. Y.) State Prison sent there for crimes committed when drunk, 500 testified that tobacco led them to intemperance. The venerable Dr. Beecher estimated that of all the young men who now use, and continue to use, this narcotic, it is fair to predict that one out of five must die as a drunkard. Mr. Trask is right when he pronounces the weed "Satan's fuel for the drinking appetite."

And not only does tobacco arouse a craving for strong drink, but it also leads to the use of opiates. Dr. Broughton, in charge of the Drug Patients at a Keeley Institute, says more young men are led to the opium habit by cigarette smoking than by patent and proprietary medicines. Sixty per cent of all males under forty years of age, treated at Dwight, Ill., for opium, morphine, or cocaine using in one year, had been smokers of cigarettes, and 60 per cent of these had no other excuse than that they needed more stimulation than the cigarette furnished them. In view of these facts, it is not surprising to hear Dr. Brewer of St. Vincent Insane Asylum, give the following testimony: "There is an alarming increase of juvenile smokers, and, basing my assertion on the experience gained in private practice and at the St. Vincent's institution, I will broadly state that the boy who smokes at seven will drink whiskey at fourteen, take to morphine at twenty-five, and wind up with cocaine and the rest of the parcotics at thirty and later on."

I am praying and trusting that you, having the matter in your hands will condescend to publish this article, which I sincerely believe is beyond contradiction, and furnishes strong evidence why we ought to make a fight against the use of tobacco.

Pollock, La.

TEACHER TRAINING IN MANSFIELD COLLEGE.

An A.B. graduate of Southern University who is working for her degree at Teachers' College, N. Y., will be our Training and Critic teacher next session. She will have charge of Practice Teaching, Observation work, Critiques, and will have the assistance of an A.M. graduate of Kansas University and of the President, who has had 22 years experience in nearly every kind of school work.

In our Primary and Intermediate departments we have teachers of large experience and of tested ability whose work in the class will be open to observation of student teachers. Practice teaching for one-half year is required for all who graduate.

High School graduates complete the course in two years and receive the L. I. degree. Twenty-five graduated in this course in the last three years. Twenty-two are now in our Senior class and most all are taking the Teachers' course.

The State offers Mansfield and other institutions the privilege of assisting in the training of the 1500 or more new teachers needed each year in the public schools. Our graduates are made exempt from all the examinations except in the Theory and Art of teaching. But, instead of giving the bare subject matter of usual College branches and spending a few weeks in the study of a text on teaching, Mansfield has laid out a complete normal course of two years and requires the study of Psychology, Pedagogy, History of Education, and Methods, and also Practice teaching, Observation, attendance upon Critiques and faithful work in Literary Societies and athletics.

The State is liberal and we would merit the privilege granted by offering our girls a full normal course under teachers of special training, of wide experience, and who are University graduates, and positively religious.

Our graduates should prove and are now proving their superior worth to Sunday schools, Leagues, B. Y. P. U.'s and all other organizations connected with the social and religious life of the community in which they live or teach for a while.

We confidently believe our girls can serve the State as efficiently as those trained elsewhere; and can serve more efficiently the Church, whatever the denomination.

Out of experience and special training, and with an honest desire to educate wisely, faithfully, and completely each girl committed to our care, we ask the patronage of the thoughtful, discriminating people of Louisiana, and on our merit we would win. R. E. BOBBITT, President.

CHRISTIANITY IN THE HOME.

"There are two kinds of Christianity in the home," said Dr. Cuyler, in writing on this important subject. "There are two kinds of piety in the home. One is a pious sham; the other is a solid reality. One parent prays for the conversion of his family, and then sets them an example of money worshiping or fast-living—and even cracks jokes, talks politics, and gives Sunday dinners after the most solemn sermons in the sanctuary. The other parent not only prays for the conversion for his or her children, but aims to lift them towards Christ. The conversation of the fireside, the books selected for their reading, the amusements chosen for their recreation, the society that is invited and the aims set before them, all bear in one and the right way. It is in the power of every parent to help, or to sadly hinder, the salvation of their offspring. May God help all parents to fulfill their high and holy trusteeship!"

THE HOLMES STORE

OF NEW ORLEANS

is one of America's truly great department stores.

It has perfected a buying organization that reaches into every producing market of the world, maintaining offices in Berlin, London, Paris and Florence, as well as New York.

It never presents any merchandise that is not of good quality and equitably priced.

Its very efficient service to patrons in the city is supplemented by the largest and best-equipped mail order department of any store in the South. Ninety-eight per cent of all orders received are filled on date of receipt.

The aim of the store is to merit fully the confidence that has been manifested by the public during its seventy-two years of merchandising history.

D. H. HOLMES CO., Ltd.

COTTAGE COLONY, NEAR HAMMOND, LA.

FOR THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.

Pine forest, arteslan water, hot and cold baths, no dust or noise. Physicians' attention, Graduate nurse's service and drugs furnished.

Rates, $10 per Week and Up.

Address Dr. E. L. McGehee, Hammond, La.

City Office, 923 Maison Blanche Bldg.

The Home Circle

THE CLEVER KITTENS.

"My cat speaks French," said little Jeanne,
As plainly as can be;
Says 'sil vois plait' (that's 'if you please'),
And thanks me with 'merci!'
I know, because I understand
Each word she says to me."

"And mine speaks German," with a nod,
Said Lisa from the Rhine;
"Says 'bitte' when she wants to drink,
And 'ja,' of course, and 'nein.'
I wouldn't have a cat that spoke
A different tongue from mine!"

"That's thrue for you!" sweet Nora said,
With merry look demure.
"Me own shpakes Oirish! When I set
A saucer on the flure,
An' ask her would she like some milk,
The darlint tells me 'Sure!'"

I met those kittens afterward,
No matter where nor how;
I listened well to what they said—
Would you believe it, now?
They spoke in English, every one,
And all they said was "Miaow!"

—Farm and Fireside.

NOT ON THE SABBATH.

"Hello, there, over the fence; get your fishin' tackle!" And Tom Joliet—Jolly Tom, as the boys called him, good-natured, generous, and friendly with everybody—placed one foot on the lower stringer of the front gate and shook his own pole invitingly.

Freddy Wilbur had just come from the bathroom and stopped for a moment at the front door to look out. His face was shining and curiously suggestive of vigorous scrubbing with hot water and soap; his clothing was neat and carefully brushed, and his shoes were shining. But as he saw the motherless, careless, happy figure outside the gate, jacketless, barefooted, and with tousled hair, unfamiliar with comb and brush, something of his own irreproachableness seemed to oppress him, for his shoulders drooped a little and his eyes sank. But only for an instant; then his form straightened and his gaze rose squarely to meet the quizzical look of his particular friend and chum.

"Can't, Tommy," he answered. "It's the wrong day of the week for fishing. I'm just getting ready for Sunday school."

"Oh, huh!" expostulated Tom. "Sunday school ain't nothin' to-day. The preacher's off on his vacation, an' our teacher an' your pa an' ma have gone to the Convention. The school won't be half open, an' our class will be crowded into some other or maybe it won't be teached at all. What's the use to waste the day that way? I've seen most of the boys, an' they're goin' to stay home or go off somewhere."

"Why don't they go with you?"

"Didn't ask 'em," shortly; "don't want 'em. I want you. You're the best feller of the whole lot, an' more fun; an' you're my chum: An' there's another thing," lowering his voice a little, "they're goin' to start on a new dam over to Back River Monday mornin,' an' they drawed the water off last night. Where the river was deepest an' widest is only just puddles between the rocks, an' they're jumpin' with fish. I wa'nt goin' to tell you till we got there, so you'd be surprised. Why," with a long breath, "we can catch all we can bring home, an' more. Oh, Fred, won't you come?"

Fred's eyes were shining, but he shook his head.

"Can't, Tommy," he repeated. "It's Sunday. And if most all the classes stays away that's no reason why we should. Some of us ought to go all the more, I think. It would look funny for the whole class to be absent."

"Did your pa and ma order you to go?" sourly.

"No, they never mentioned the subject," frankly. "I suppose they feel that they can trust me. But why don't you ask some of the other boys just this once?"

"Don't want 'em. They're not like you."

"Well, look here!" cried Fred, suddenly; "why can't you come with me to Sunday school, then, and leave the fishing till to-morrow morning? The bathtub is all ready for you, and I can let you have a suit of my clothes. We're the same size, you know. Then you'll come back with me and stay all night, and we'll wake up early and start for Back River by four o'clock. It's plenty light then, and we can fish till eight. That will give us four hours, and we'll be back as early as we generally get up. And you know morning fishing is always the best. What do you say?"

Tom hesitated a moment, then opened the gate and entered the yard.

"Well," he answered, I'm willin,'- long's you promised to go with me." Then he added, as they started toward the bath room, "An' I guess we'd better tell all the other boys after all. They ain't like you, but there'll be a lot of fish, an' we may as well share 'em 'round."—Frank Smart, in The Lutheran.

BOBBY AND BETH.

"Girls don't have to do anything!" declared Bobby, as he sat down with a thump on the shoe box in grandmother's room. "Girls don't have to feed hens or fill the wood box. I wish I was a girl, so I do."

"Girls don't have to do anything!" exclaimed Grandmother Stone in surprise. "Well, well, well! You come with me a minute, Bobby, and we'll see if you are right."

Bobby followed grandmother into the sitting room. But when they got there both were surprised, for, sitting in the big rocker was Beth, her eyes full of tears.

"I wish I was a boy, same as Bobby," she said sorrowfully. "I'm tired as anything dusting rooms. Boys don't have to dust or mend stockings or do anything. Oh, dear, dear, dear!" and Beth hid her curly head in the duster and sobbed.

"Well, I never did'" exclaimed grandmother. "Suppose you do Bobby's work to-day and he will do yours? I know that he will be delighted to exchange work with you."

But would you believe it? Grandmother was mistaken, for Bobby shook his head.

"I'm going to feed the hens myself," he said, decidedly.

Beth wiped her eyes in a hurry. "Girls never fill wood boxes," she murmured.

Then they both laughed and stopped grumbling for that day.—Our Sunday Afternoon.

THE HORNBILL.

Mary and James were looking at the pictures of birds of many countries, and when they came to that of the hornbill both decided that the bird which carried that great bill with a hump like a horn growing out from the middle of it must have a heavy load. But Uncle Tom explained that the great growth was full of air-cells, and was not nearly so heavy as it looked.

"But this bird has a habit more curious than its bill," he continued. "The nest is built in some hollow tree, and then the mother bird goes in and the male brings mud and plasters up the entrance, leaving only a hole large enough for him to hand in food to her and to her little ones."

"I think it's a great way, to shut the mother up in prison while she is taking care of the nest," exclaimed Mary.

"Just as if she did not want a little rest once in a while," added James, "and a chance to stretch her wings."

"Not so fast," explained Uncle Tom. "In the countries where the hornbill lives there are snakes, and monkeys, and various things ready to eat the eggs or kill the young birds. I think this is a very neat way to keep them away from danger until they are large enough to fly and take care of themselves."

"Why e!" exclaimed both children at once. "It seems as if there is always some good reason for the strange things birds and animals do!"—Bessie L. Putnam.

TWENTY REASONS.

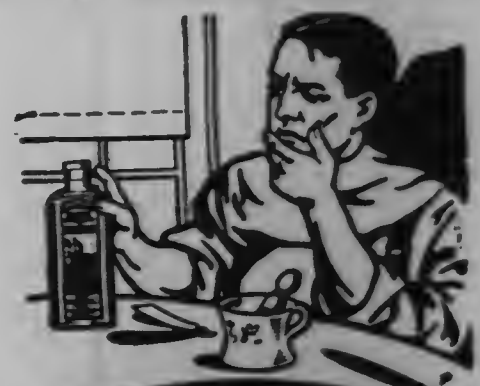
The following twenty reasons have been given for supporting the denominational paper:

1. A religious paper makes Christians more intelligent.
2. It makes them more useful.
3. It secures better pay for the pastor.
4. It secures better teachers for the Sunday school.
5. It secures better attendance at the prayer meeting.
6. It leads to a better understanding of the Scriptures.
7. It increases interest in the spread of the gospel.
8. It promotes unity of faith and practice in the denomination.
9. It exposes error.
10. It places weapons in the hands of all to defend the truth.
11. It affords a channel of communication between brethren.
12. It gives the news from the churches.
13. It awakens the talent of the denomination and makes it more useful.
14. It throws light upon obscure questions of practical interest.
15. It is a great aid in the study of the Bible.
16. It cultivates a taste for reading.
17. It makes the children more intelligent.
18. It makes better children.
19. It creates interest in the salvation of others.
20. It gives the current news of general interest.—Pittsburgh Christian Advocate.

—ARTIFICIAL LIMBS, ORTHOPEDIC—
APPARATUS, ELASTIC HOSIERY,
TRUSSES, CRUTCHES, ETC.
(Catalogues mailed on request)

The McDermott Surgical Instrument Company, Limited.

734-738 POYDRAS STREET
NEW ORLEANS, LA.



Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic
WELCOME RELIEF

Follows the use of Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic on the face after shaving.
Mix with five parts water and bathe the face well each time—and your shaving troubles will all be over.
No more Chafing, Stinging, Chapping or Soreness if you will do this.
"It's soothing coolness is delightful."

ALL DRUGGISTS - 25 AND 50 CENTS

ASK ANY ONE WHO HAS EVER USED IT!

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: No. 512 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor.
CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Entered at the Postoffice at New Orleans as Second-class Mail Matter.

TERMS:
One Copy, one year, $1.50; eight months, $1.00. To preachers of all denominations, $1.00

PUBLISHING COMMITTEE:
Louisiana Conference—Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., Rev. W. W. Drake, Rev. C. B. Carter.
Mississippi Conference—Rev. I. W. Cooper, D.D., Rev. C. W. Crisler, Rev. T. W. Adams.
North Mississippi Conference—Rev. W. W. Woollard, Rev. H. S. Spragins, Mr. J. D. Barbee.

Editorial

ACARDIAC.

Only two letters omitted from the above word would spell the name of that peaceful land, from which Mr. Longfellow learned a story of the heart but its meaning is quite different. Its figurative meaning was learned recently by the writer through a conversation which he could not but overhear. For the conversation was loud, and seemingly engaged in with no sense of shame.

The chief speaker informs two acquaintances that he is now "In the saloon business." And all during the conversation he dwells upon the amount of money he is making. Some kind of weekly revels he promotes are "good for $125 to $130 a night." He uses 110 cases of beer every week during the summer. In winter he uses two barrels of whiskey a month. "Well, that really means four barrels to you, don't it Joe?" an acquaintance asks. Joe smiles and says nothing definite, but intimates that one has to be careful in diluting such goods to make them go further. People living in the neighborhood object to the Saturday night orgies, and have made some trouble for Joe. "Would they object if you'd close at 12 o'clock?" one acquaintance asks. Joe replies that they would object if he should close, mind you, even at midnight. He has had a great deal of trouble with one man in the neighborhood. He has sent over cases of beer to his house to "try to get in good with him," but has not succeeded. One of the men inquires, "Can't you make it too unpleasant for him, Joe?" Joe says he is afraid that would not do. "I mean on the quiet, so he wouldn't know it was you." Joe intimates that he might know how, but that he is afraid to try it. Then Joe tells his friends that he may move his family out, possibly, from over the saloon, "and get some of them women, and turn it into a cabaret."

The writer, who could not but hear, did not learn the name of this shameless saloonkeeper, who, on a crowded car, loudly talked of his so-called "business" of ruining men's bodies, and their souls as well, who practically admitted adulterating his goods, who named with satisfaction the monetary return of the mad revels he promotes at his place every Saturday night, who silently admitted that he would not be above some dark design upon the objecting resident if he thought it practicable, and who plans to enlarge his loot by turning his drink shop into a cabaret, with scarlet women as the attraction. The writer did not learn the name upon the municipal license which allows this man to trade upon the foibles and weaknesses of his fellow-men, the name by which he is commonly known. But the writer is sure he has found the man's name in Webster's Dictionary. It is Acardiac. Look and see. It means, "Without a heart." R. H. H.

PREACHING MERELY TO PLEASE.

The minister in his pulpit work needs to be careful as to the motives by which he is actuated. He is not sent to please the people, but to save, instruct, and build them up spiritually. His aspiration should not be to be popular, hut to be faithful. Fidelity and popularity do not hy any means always go together; not infrequently the very reverse is true.

Is not the fact that the favor of the people is now so generally accepted as the measure of ministerial success an indication that the ideals of the Church have been secularized and lowered? We fear that to some extent, at least, this is true. Some of our Lord's discourses were such that they brought him anything else hut commendation from his hearers. Mr. Wesley was once one of the stated preachers at Oxford University (England), hut after he had delivered one sermon he was not allowed to come again. This was very unlike some of the much heralded university preachers of this day. But if the messages of these pulpit stars were as searching as was that of Wesley on "Scriptural Christianity," we wonder if their praises would be so loudly sung? We very much doubt it.

Henry Ward Beecher, in a sermon delivered in the famous Plymouth Church of Brooklyn, on June 6, 1869, touched upon this subject in the following impressive manner:

"There is a class of ministers who preach to please. That is all they preach for. A man that preaches to please is a poor fellow. He may fare well in this world, but I think he is drawing on his capital, and will not have much in the other. I do not know of anything that seems more degrading. If a man wants to indulge in levities, or fantasies, or imaginations, let him do it; I am not beset with superstitions. But still, if a child of God would play mumblety-peg, I would not advise him to go to the graveyard and play it on his father's and mother's graves. There are proprieties and adaptations; and if a man is called merely to please, if he is to he a pleasure-monger, even of ideas, let him take the lecture-room or the theater; let him go where pleasure is the normal end. But to take the Church, to take the crucified Savior, to take the everlasting issues of human life, and in the midst of these tremendous verities, to think of nothing but soft sentences, and sweet figures, and sentimental graces, and preaching short sermons that please everybody, and particularly the closing passages of them—this I do not think is salutary. * * * But such ministers are said to be refined. Yes, they are refined. Oh! but they are said to be eloquent. Yes, they are eloquent. Oh! but they are said to he attractive. Yes, they are attractive. But when they stand on that awful, final day, hetween the living and the dead, hefore God Almighty's judgment, and all God's angels are gathered together, and there is nothing to stand between them and damnation except elegancy, and refinement, and pleasant voices, and words, and gestures—in that hour, will it seem to them to have been worth their while to have purchased their destruction at such a price?"

ANOTHER INNOVATION.

We take the following from the Western Methodist (Little Rock, Ark.,) of August 5:

"In the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate (Northern Methodist), under the caption, 'Candidate for Delegate to General Conference,' appears the following announcement: 'H. W. Dunlap, of Beverly Place, Pittsburgh, Pa., life-long member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and now a member of Emory Methodist Episcopal Church, Pittsburgh District. Teacher in Sunday school and president of Laymen's Association of Pittsburgh Conference.' That looks strange in a Methodist paper. However, it does not seem so had for a layman, hut what would we think of a preacher who would thus announce? Is it ever done indirectly? Do we ever have avowed candidates among us?"

Mr. Dunlap's announcement of his candidacy is somewhat shocking, and we scarcely feel inclined to say anything that might encourage such a practice, having always heen a heliever in the Pauline view that in honor Christians should prefer one another. But if some way could he found to ascertain definitely how persons who are likely to he chosen delegates to a General Conference stand on the various important issues that are before the Church, we think a good service would thereby be rendered. Far too often it is the case that after delegates have been elected they lose sight of their representative character and seem to think that they are entirely free from any such obligation and are at perfect liberty to act for themselves alone. The Church has suffered a good deal in the past, and is liable to suffer still more in the future, as a result of the restraint that she feels that propriety imposes upon her in this respect. A more direct responsihility upon the part of every official and representative to the great hody of the Church is, in our opinion, one of the imperative needs of Southern Methodism to-day.

THE FEATURE THAT COUNTS.

A member of the Dallas (Texas) Committee that had gone to San Francisco to book Billy Sunday for a meeting, after hearing the famous evangelist, wired hack: "He preaches the fundamental principles of Christianity with thunder and lightning effect." It must be the latter feature of Mr. Sunday's preaching that makes his ministry so outstanding and unusual. We have known brethren all our life who abounded in the "thunder effect," and no committees waited on them to secure their services.

HOW IT HURTS.

When bad men triumph the worst result is not the evil that they can directly do, but the indirect effect that is exerted upon the ideals of a people. Nothing is more hlighting in its influence than the prevalence of the notion that he who would win public honors and position must not be too scrupulous as to the methods employed. Charles Sumner was not wrong when he said: "More than the loss of forts and arsenals, I fear the loss of our public principles."

PERSONAL AND OTHER NOTES.

Rev. W. L. Duren, pastor of the First M. E. Church, South, of Columhus, Miss., has been spending a few days on the Mississippi Coast.

The General Educational Commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, has been called to meet in Dallas, Texas, to-day—August 26.

Hon. John M. Allen and family and Mr. and Mrs. S. J. High, of Tupelo, Miss., have for some weeks been at their summer home at Lake Junaluska, N. C.

Rev. P. O. Lowrey began a meeting at Westlake, La., last Sunday. He has with him Rev. P. M. Brown, of Natchitoches, La., who as a pastor-evangelist ranks with the hest.

The cards of Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Thomas, of Itta Bena, Miss., were left on our desk last week. The Editor regrets that he was out and did not have the pleasure of meeting these esteemed friends.

It is probable that Rev. Hugh Jamieson, the assistant pastor of the First M. E. Church, South, of New Orleans, will enter the Theological School of the Southern Methodist University, at Dallas, Texas, this fall.

The Louisiana Conference will this year convene at Mansfield on November 17, about a month earlier than usual. This means that the brethren will have to hustle, since they will be expected to do 12 months' work in 11 months.

Prof. G. L. Leal, of the Laurens Institute of Monterey, Mexico, was in New Orleans this week and called at the Advocate office last Tuesday, in company with Rev. W. W. Holmes. The Editor regrets having missed seeing this worthy worker and educator.

Rev. W. W. Woollard, presiding elder of the Columbus District; Rev. J. M. Carpenter, pastor of our Central Church of Columbus, Miss., and Rev. J. J. Baird, of Brooksville, have recently spent a few days at Junaluska and other points in North Carolina.

Rev. H. W. Bowman, presiding elder of the Baton Rouge District, and Rev. R. H. Harper, of New Orleans, have heen assisting Rev. J. D. Harper in a meeting at Slaughter, La., this week. We are not at this writing informed as to the results of these services

The Editor was out of his office from Wednesday of last week until Monday, August 23, having found it necessary to go to Central Mississippi to look after some urgent personal business. This will explain why some of the departments in this issue of the Advocate are not as full as usual.

We acknowledge our indebtedness to Rev. F. L. Applewhite for several subscriptions recently forwarded to the Advocate from the Fernwood (Miss.) charge. Rev. W. H. Saunders, the pastor, has appointed him agent for the Advocate and he has been looking faithfully after its interests.

Rev. J. G. Johnson, of Black Hawk, Miss., is conducting a meeting at Elliott's School House, one of his preaching places, this week. He is doing the preaching himself. The people of that community have lately purchased a nice new organ, which is largely increasing the interest in the services.

Mr. J. B. Streater, of Black Hawk, Miss., who every year has to go North at this season in order to escape hay fever, left some days ago for Chicago and other near-by points. Brother Streater has long been recognized as one of the most useful laymen within the bounds of the North Mississippi Conference.

Zachary, La., was recently blessed with a good revival meeting, in which the pastor, Rev. J. D. Harper, was assisted by his son, Rev. R. H. Harper, pastor of the Parker Memorial Church of New Orleans. The services were well attended, the interest was good, and there were 9 accessions to the Church.

Rev. A. H. Williams, our pastor on the Shannon (Miss.) charge, sends us a report of a good meeting at Troy, one of his appointments, which reached us too late for this issue of the Advocate, but which will be published next week. He had with him in this series of services Rev. T. H. Lipscomb, of Starkville, Miss.

Rev. E. G. Wood, of Standard, La., has our thanks for 4 trial subscriptions to the Advocate. Referring to his charge, Brother Wood says: "I will begin a meeting here to-morrow night (August 17), with Rev. J. J. Smylie to do the preaching. My work is in an excellent condition. We have about 60 praying members."

It grieves us to state that Miss Nellie, the only daughter of Mrs. Lily Meekins, died last Wednesday, August 18. The funeral service was conducted at the Mary Werlein Mission and the interment of the body was made at Covington, La. Sister Meekins will have the sympathy of a host of friends in her great sorrow. The Advocate is promised a more extended memoir of the deceased for our next issue.

Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Wyatt, of the North Mississippi Conference, have lately been spending some time in the mountains of North Carolina. We regret to learn that Sister Wyatt's health is not robust and that on this account she may not teach in the Mississippi Industrial Institute and College, at Columbus, during the next session. She is a sister of United States Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, and is a woman of unusual brilliancy.

Miss Elizabeth Kilpatrick, of Corinth, Miss., is keeping quite busy in the Sunday school work. She is not one of the Divisional Secretaries, but her services belong to the entire Church. She has recently returned home from a long swing, having met engagements in South Carolina, North Carolina, and Texas. She will spend next Sabbath at the Madison Heights Church of Memphis, where they will have "Elizabeth Kilpatrick Sunday."

Rev. R. G. Moore, who has succeeded Rev. J. E. Stephens on the Duckhill (Miss.) charge, in a business note to our office, makes the following reference to his work: "I deem it a great privilege to register my first experience as a 'circuit rider' among so many true and loyal Methodists. I most heartily appreciate their genuine kindness and old-time hospitality." Brother Moore seems to have made a good beginning in his present field of labor.

Rev. J. W. Ramsey, of Heidelberg, Miss., writes: "I have just closed an eight days' meeting at Williamsburg, Miss., which the people there pronounced the best meeting that they have had in years. There were very few persons not already connected with the Church in that community; but there were a number of reclamations and 6 additions to our membership. The pastor, Rev. T. A. Ferguson, is in good favor with his parishioners."

A card from C. J. Stapp, our pastor on the Scotland Circuit of the Mississippi Conference, mailed at Hazlehurst on August 19, reads as follows: "My dear mother went to her heavenly reward this morning at 2 o'clock. Remember her father, sister, and me at the throne of grace." We deeply sympathize with Brother Stapp and the other sorrowing loved ones in their sore bereavement, and pray that the gracious Heavenly Father may be consciously with them in comforting and sustaining power.

Dr. A. F. Watkins, President of Millsaps College, is mailing a catalogue of that institution to the preachers of the two Mississippi Conferences, and requesting that it be placed in the hands of some boy who is going off to school this fall. The names of young men in every community who will attend college are also solicited, that Dr. Watkins and his co-workers may get directly into touch with them. Let every pastor give the Millsaps management his immediate co-operation in this important matter.

In a personal note to the Editor, Rev. J. R. Countiss, President of Grenada College, says: "I am in fine physical trim. I have preached every Sunday except the last, August 14. The week before I preached seven times, here and there." Brother Countiss has been keeping busy since the close of school presenting the claims of Grenada College to our people in North Mississippi. It is to be hoped that every room will be taken at this excellent institution when it opens its doors in September. Do not fail to read President Countiss' statement on the first page of this issue of the Advocate.

The tent meeting at Lexington, Miss., which began some two weeks ago, is still in progress. The attendance has been large and much good has been accomplished. The preaching has been done by Brothers Curtis, Gillespie, and Mobberly, the Methodist, Presbyterian, and Baptist pastors at that place, and a fine spirit of co-operation has prevailed. The singing has been led by Rev. S. E. Kirby, of Arkansas. Brother Kirby is a good chorister and any pastor needing his services would do well to write him at Brookhaven, Miss., in care of Rev. J. M. Morse. He will have some time open to engagements immediately following this meeting.

Dr. W. H. Huntley, the genial and active presiding elder of the Seashore District, Mississippi Conference, after having resided at the Seashore Campground for nearly two years, is again occupying the district parsonage at Gulfport. Dr. Huntley reports that he had several members of his family with him during August, which he observed as a vacation month as largely as he could. It was a great pleasure to him to have his scattered loved ones with him again and he will not soon forget the joy which their presence gave him. Let Dr. Huntley's correspondents note that Gulfport, Miss., will hereafter be his address.

From last week's issue of the Perry County News (New Augusta, Miss.), we take the following: "The meeting in progress at the Methodist Church this week is increasing in interest and attendance. The pastor, Rev. J. W. Chisholm, is doing the preaching and is delivering some deep and earnest sermons." The stores in new Augusta, including the bank and drug store, closed at the 11 o'clock hour for the services. Brother Chisholm seems to be making full proof of his call to the ministry this summer. He is a Millsaps man and was a student in the Candler School of Theology, at Atlanta, during the last session.

Rev. W. W. Jones, of Coahoma, Miss., under date of August 17, writes: "Our church at Coahoma has just suffered a great loss in the death of Brother R. J. Howard, who was esteemed and loved by all who knew him. He was a great friend to his pastor and was devoted to his Church. The bereaved family, consisting of the faithful wife, one noble daughter and three fine boys, may be assured of the love, sympathy, and prayers of their many friends as they assume the responsibilities of life without the husband and father. The funeral service was conducted at the home by Brother H. M. Young, of Gunnison, who formerly was pastor of this charge."

Rev. T. W. Adams, of the Port Gibson (Miss.) District, who, as a presiding elder, ranks with the best to be found anywhere, says: "We are having gracious meetings in our territory. The Delta has been especially blessed. I stepped aside from the grind of a presiding elder's work and played evangelist for a few days. We had a rich season of spiritual refreshing. There were many bright conversions and 24 persons were added to the Church. I was with Rev. E. L. Alford, of the Anguilla charge." Though his district lies in that portion of Mississippi which has suffered most severely from the ravages of the boll weevils within the past few years, Brother Adams and his co-workers are leading in their financial reports to the various Conference Boards, and are much to be commended for their diligence and success.

Rev. J. S. Rutledge, pastor of the St. Tammany (La.) Circuit, says: "We have lately closed a most profitable meeting at Talisheek, which increased in interest from the first day until the last. We had with us Rev. J. A. McCormack, of Franklinton, who did us excellent service. We were forced to close sooner than we had expected on account of illness in Brother McCormack's family. During the meeting we were given a most delightful 'pounding,' which brought us a great variety of nice things. The little whiskey sheet called 'Facts,' which is published in New Orleans, is circulating some in my charge. I think that the preachers ought to gather them up and return them to the editor. I find that most of the people are willing to give them to me and this is what I intend to do with them."

From a personal letter to the Editor from Rev. J. T. Leggett, presiding elder of the Meridian District, we extract the following: "Our son, James, died suddenly with acute indigestion on August 4. He graduated two years ago at Hiwassee College, and taught last year in Cooper's institute at Daleville, Miss., and had been elected to the same position for another year. He had felt the call to preach and was preparing to enter the ministry. His friends predicted a bright future for him. His going from us is almost more than we can bear. Pray for us." Our heart goes out in tenderest sympathy to Brother Leggett and his family in their great sorrow. May the Heavenly Father bless and keep them in their well-nigh overwhelming bereavement. How unspeakably precious at such a time are the hopes born of the teachings of God's holy Word!

President H. G. Hawkins, of the Memphis Conference Female Institute of Jackson, Tenn., announces the following as the completed Faculty of teachers and officers for the 72d session of that institution, which will begin on Sept. 15: H. G. Hawkins, President, French and Moral Philosophy; Katherine H. Mitchell, Presiding Teacher, Latin and Bible; Mamie Richardson, Mathematics, Science and German; Stella Galloway McGehee, English and History; Sarah H. Rogers, Primary Department; Melissa Curtiss and Myriam Griffin, Literary Tutoresses; Maud Mann, Piano, Harmony, Musical History; Eula Bradford, Voice and Piano; Mrs. J. T. Barbee, Violin; Kathleen Yokley, Practice Supervisor; Ethel Mae King, Expression and Physical Culture; Mrs. Emma Grove, Dressmaking; Mrs. Annie G. Hawkins, Lady Principal and Stewardess; Mrs. Evora Phillips, Matron; Mrs. D. C. Caldwell, Art; Miss Jessie Bailey, Stenography.

From Trinity, Ala., under date of August 17, Dr. W. G. Henry, of Jackson, Miss., writes as follows: "The editorial on 'Millsaps College' in the Advocate of August 12 set forth the truth concerning that school and was none too strong. Mississippi Methodism is most fortunate in the possession of such an institution. It would not be a bad idea if every pastor throughout the entire State would preach a sermon on some phase of Christian education and urge parents to send their sons to Millsaps College. Many students have not yet made up their minds fully on the choice of a college, and a sermon, strong and earnest, on that subject on September 5 would help them in making a wise decision. Mississippi for Millsaps, and Millsaps for Mississippi!" Dr. Henry's suggestion is an admirable one. And it would also be a good idea to direct attention specifically to our schools for the education of young women on that day.

Rev. R. H. Bamburg sounds a note of victory from the Eros charge. He says: "We have just closed at Indian Village one of the greatest revivals it has ever been my privilege to attend. The Lord was with us from the beginning to the end, and on the last day and night the Holy Spirit was present in great power. We had some old-time Methodist shouting and at the last service 22 persons—all adults—joined the Church. This is the largest number of accessions that we have ever witnessed at one time; it beat the class of 18 that we had to join at one service at Wilhite last year. This makes 40 that we have had to join at two of the services in meetings in which we did all of our own preaching. The total number of additions at Indian Village was 38, of which 36 were on profession of faith. We baptized 32. So we are getting along very well, and we thank God and take courage. I was with Brother Akin at Vienna last week."

TO OUR PREACHERS.

The management of this Advocate has decided to let our preachers and agents offer six months trial subscriptions at 50 cents during August, September and October. This offer will be withdrawn on the 10th of November, 1915. Subscriptions must be sent in in clubs and money orders used in making remittances so as to save expense.

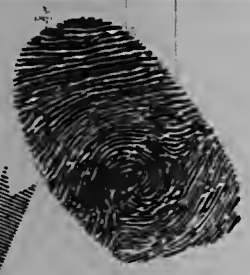
In soliciting new subscribers, please explain to them that the six months' subscriptions are taken with the understanding that, after their expiration, the regular rate of $1.50 will be charged for annual subscriptions unless they are ordered canceled.

We are making this offer for a three-fold purpose:

First—To build up our subscription list before the annual meeting of the Publishing Committee.

Second—To get funds to help tide us over the summer and fall months.

Third—To induce our Methodist people to take the Conference Organ and read it.



IN all the world there's no other thumb that can make this print.

There may be thumbs that look like it—but there is no thumb that can make the same impression.

In all the world there is no beverage that can successfully imitate

Coca-Cola

There may be beverages that are made to look like it—but there is no beverage that can make the same delightful impression on your palate.

Delicious

Whenever you see an Arrow, think of Coca-Cola

52-R

Demand the genuine by full name—and avoid disappointment.

THE COCA-COLA COMPANY
ATLANTA, GA.

DR. H. B. BARTLETT
National Dental Parlors
Cor. Canal & Camp Sts.
ENTRANCE 108 CAMP
Phone Main 2193
NEW ORLEANS
Vitalized Air for Painless Extraction
Crown and Bridge Specialist
The Largest and Best Equipped Dental Parlors South.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE

DIRECT TRAINS TO
New York
Cincinnati
Birmingham

PULLMAN SLEEPERS, DINING CARS.

— The Scenic Route —

TICKET OFFICE:
211 ST. CHARLES STREET.
Depot, Terminal Station, Canal St.
Phone, Main 2939.

Obituaries.

Obituaries not over 200 words in length will be published free of charge. All over 200 words will be charged at the rate of 1 cent a word. Count the words and send the amount necessary with the obituary. That will save trouble all around. Otherwise the obituaries will be edited down to 200 words.

On the night of August 2, 1915, the death angel entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Richardson, of Grand Cane, La., and claimed CLYDE, their youngest son, who had just passed his seventeenth birthday. He was sick only two or three days and everything that skilled physicians and gentle nursing could do was done for him. His life had been a model one. He joined the Methodist Church several years ago, and had always taken an active part in Sunday school and Epworth League work.

C. B. HICKS.

AARON CHARTER HARPER and GEORGE WASHINGTON HARPER, brothers, were born in Shelby County, Ala., the former on July 6, 1839, and the latter on Oct. 8, 1841. Their parents were Henry W. and Julianna Pierce Harper. The family, accompanied by a number of other people, moved to Louisiana in 1849 and settled in Union and Claiborne parishes, where they soon established a church of the M. E. Church, South, which they named "Alabama." These brothers were converted in and united with this church in early life, and for more than sixty years were faithful and devoted members, letting their lights shine and thus influencing others to lead Christian lives.

Brother A. C. Harper lived near the church and for many years was its leading member, filling all the positions of a layman. An old pastor said to me: "Uncle Charter was the best man I ever knew."

Brother G. W. Harper's life was less prominent as a public man, but in visiting and nursing the sick and ministering to those in need, he surpassed all others. In these labors of helpfuiness and love he literally wore himself out.

None can fill the places left vacant by these two good men. Their homes were places of rest and cheer to the many pastors who so often partook of their unstinted and kindly hospitality. They were my brothers and I can say with brotherly pride and affection, and yet in truth, no truer, better men have lived and labored in the community and Church and for the glory of the Lord. They served in the Confederate Army from 1861 to 1865, proving themselves brave, loyal soldiers in the defense of their beloved Southland.

A. C. Harper was married in 1866, and his wife died five years before his death, leaving one son.

G. W. Harper was married twice, his last wife preceding him to the grave by six months. Three children survive him. The wives of the two brothers were worthy companions of such good men.

A. C. Harper died near Jena, La Salle Parish, La., on June 19, 1915, and G. W. Harper in the Schumpert Sanitarium, at Shreveport, La., on March 12, 1915. Their remains were interred in the cemetery of the old home church, where they had worshiped since childhood, to rest in peace until the resurrection of the good. "They rest from their labors and their works do follow them."

Their brother,
J. D. HARPER.

IN MEMORIAM.

I want to write a few lines in memory of three of our dear old friends in Louisiana.

Mrs. M. E. Carr, of Oak Ridge, La., was a true Christian. She was for years District Secretary of the Woman's Missonary Society of the Monroe District; she often served as Sunday school superintendent and as Bible class teacher until too feebie to attend Sunday school. She was President of the Woman's Missionary Society and lady-manager of the Juvenile Society. She was given to hospitality, her home being always the preachers' home; everybody was welcome there. But God called, and although her daughter and granddaughter were kind and loving and did all that could be done, she went from them. She was ready to go. Her son-in-law, Brother Moore, had preceded her into eternity a short while before, and only last night we received the news of the home-going of two more relatives, Mrs. Ceila and Margarette Higginbotham, who died within a few days of each other. They were both ready and both devoted to the Church. "Aunt Mag," as everybody called her, lived near the church, and her home was always open to entertain preachers, delegates and all Church workers. Her husband was one of our stewards years ago and a truer one never lived, and at his death she took up the work with her daughters' help and collected for her pastor, attended the quarterly conference, and did all she could for the Church she loved.

I copy the following from her home paper: "Her going away has left a vacant place in our church. She was always in her place unless physical infirmities kept her away. Her sincere love for God was the source of her devotion to all the interests of the Church." She leaves one daughter, Mollie, who is well known to the New Orleans Christian Advocate, and whom none know but to love.

"Aunt Celia," as she loved to be called, was the soul of hospitality. Her children and neighbors rise up and call her blessed. She was a member of the Woman's Missionary Society from the time of its organization; she always went to church when possible, loved all Church work, and was a liberal giver. I will reproduce a few lines from the resolutions adopted by the Woman's Missionary Society concerning her:

"We know that she willingly obeyed God's summons home; she thought of her going merely as a short separation from her dear ones left behind, and a glad reunion with the many loved ones gone before. She delighted in doing the Master's work; she was devoted to her family. She was 83 years old, but still loved her old friends and wrote us just a few weeks ago telling us of Aunt Mag's illness and of how she loved us, saying that she wished she could hear my husband preach once more. That God may bless all the loved ones of these departed friends, and that we will all meet again some sweet day, is the earnest prayer of one who loved them."

(Sister) T. S. RANDLE.

CITY PREACHERS' DIRECTORY.

Rev. W. W. Holmes, presiding elder; residence, 1014 Cambronne St.; 'phone Walnut 93.

Rev. R. M. Brown, pastor Algiers Methodist Church; residence, 220 Pelican Ave.

Rev. A. J. Gearheard, pastor Louisiana Avenue Methodist Church; residence, 3418 Laurel St.; 'phone Uptown 2805.

Rev. W. E. Thomas, pastor Second Methodist Church; residence, 815 St. Charles St.; 'phone Main 735.

Rev. W. L. Doss, Jr., pastor Epworth Methodist Church; residence, 232 S. Pierce St.

Dr. S. Halsey Werlein, pastor First Methodist Church; residence, 5830 Prytania St.; 'phone Uptown 329.

Rev. R. H. Harper, pastor Parker Memorial Methodist Church; residence, 734 Nashville Ave.; 'phone Uptown 447.

Dr. F. R. Hill, pastor Felicity Methodist Church; residence, 1818 Chestnut St.; 'phone Jackson 1753.

Rev. F. R. Hill, Jr., pastor Rayne Memorial Methodist Church; residence, 1421 Constantinople St.; 'phone Uptown 954.

Rev. W. W. Drake, pastor Carrollton Avenue Methodist Church; residence, 1125 Fern St.; 'phone Walnut 1238.

Rev. Hugh W. Jamieson, pastor Mary Werlein and St. Paul Methodist Churches; residence, 7821 Zimple St.; 'phone Walnut 1071.

Rev. T. V. Peters, pastor McDonoughville Methodist Church; residence, McDonoughvilie, La.; 'phone Algiers 305.

Rev. J. L. Sutton, Supt. Boys' Orphanage; residence, 5220 St. Charles Ave.; 'phone Uptown 128.

Dr. J. T. Sawyer, residence, 5655 Hawthorne Ave.; 'phone Galvez 640.

Rev. R. A. Davis, residence, 924 Lowerline St.

Dr. R. A. Meek, Editor Christian Advocate; residence, 5914 Coliseum St.; office 'phone Main 4373.

Learn Shorthand

By Mail in 30 Days at my Expense

Send no money. Get my free lessons. I do not claim to fit you for a position in thirty days. Nobody can do that. But with my system you can learn to write in Shorthand with very little effort. That first instruction is absolutely free. Then, if you wish to take further instruction, I will give you a positive guarantee to refund your money at the end of a specified time if you are not entirely satisfied. Could anything be fairer?

I have taught shorthand for many years. I have taught a dozen different systems. These include nearly all the new and so-called "simple" systems. But I went back to the original Pitman System—and improved on it. I now teach the Pratt-Pitmanic System, and I want to prove to you, at my expense, that it is the best. My great success is due to a new and original method of instruction by mail.

Positions at Good Salaries

Shorthand is a great advantage to everybody. For a young man or woman there is nothing equal to it. It will give you a start in life and an opportunity for rapid advancement. Many of my students have secured splendid positions. The demand for stenographers is increasing. You are practically certain to get a satisfactory salary if you take my course in shorthand. Become a court stenographer or fit yourself for other high class positions.

Free Typewriter Instruction

Every one of my students can have a course in typewriting absolutely free. If you do not own a typewriter, I will rent you one for six months for $10; or for $50 I will sell you a rebuilt visible machine that I cannot tell from a new $100 machine.

If you are ambitious and in earnest and really want to learn shorthand, send at once for FREE Lessons. A postal card will do. Simply say: "Send free lessons."

E. D. PRATT 1008 Pratt Bldg. CHICAGO

—THE—
Louisiana & Arkansas
RAILWAY

L&A RAILWAY

Announces the sale by its Ticket Agents at——

Alexandria, Shreveport, Winnfield, Minden, Sibley, Cotton Valley, Trout, Jena, and Jonesville, Louisiana,

——OF——

INTERCHANGEABLE THOUSAND MILE BOOKS

Good on All Roads in Louisiana.

Save Money by buying one of these Books.

B. S. ATKINSON,
General Passenger Agent.

Pulpit Bibles

Largest assortment, finest Bibles at lowest cost. Write to us for full description and prices.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO., Inc., LOUISVILLE, KY.

BOHNE & WILT, Bookseliers and Stationers, 1328 Dryades St., New Orleans, La. Baseball Goods, Religious Articles, Fishing Tackle, Periodicals, School Books.

From the Field.

Myrtle, Miss.

Dear Dr. Meek: We have just closed a great meetlng here. The preaching was done by our mutual friend, Rev. J. A. Bowen, of Birmingham, Ala. His discourses were of a true and solidly evangelistic nature, reaching the heart and life and inspiring the best within us, deepening and widening at each service. Brother Bowen helps the pastor and people and does a work which in its thoroughness penetrates every department of the Church, toning it up in a most substantial and enduring manner. He is helping the work of the Church in a much needed way, and while here received more calls for meetings than three men could fill—these communications coming from different parts of Southern Methodism. Eternal spring is in his heart and he is as active and strong as many preachers much younger. Our prayers accompany him, for he rendered a service here that counts for much.—E. H. Cunningham, P. C.

Olive Branch, Miss.

Dear Dr. Meek: We have just finished our round of protracted meetings on the Olive Branch charge for the summer. As a result our people are upon a higher plane spiritually. We had twenty-seven accessions on profession of faith and six by certificate, with probably more to follow.

The pastor was ably assisted by Rev. S. L. Pope at Olive Branch, Rev. L. W. Cain at Mineral Wells, Rev. D. M. Floyd at Center Hill and Miller, and Rev. L. H. Estes at Oak Grove. All of these brethren are good, earnest preachers and gave us excellent service. I think we had the greatest revivals at Olive Branch and Mineral Wells that I have attended in ten years. The old-time power of the Spirit was manifested. And at each of the other churches they probably had the best revival they have had for several years. Truly we can say, "Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless his holy name."—T. H. Porter, P. C.

New Augusta Charge, Miss. Conf.

Dear Dr. Meek: We have just closed the greatest revival that the Batson Church, of the New Augusta charge, has ever known. Rev. John W. Chisholm, our pastor, did the preaching, and he preached with such clearness and power as only those can who are filled with God's Holy Spirit. Souls were reclaimed and brought to Christ. The whole community was stirred as never before and the people were made to feel a desire for a closer walk with God. This is a small church, which was organized about six years ago with only 9 members, and since then it has never had on its roll over 15 members, and at the beginning of this meeting numbered only 14. During the meeting 13 new members were added to our roll, 7 by vows, 5 by certificate, and one by baptism, and 5 infants were also baptized. With these new accessions, we are able and intend to organize a Woman's Missionary Society. On account of a lack of means we have never been able to fully complete our church building; consequently it has never been dedicated. This needed work we have now planned to do and have the Church dedicated in October. Surely, God has been with us. We are rejoicing and praising his Holy Name for making possible to us all these good things.—(Mrs.) L. W. Batson.

Coushatta, La.

Dear Mr. Editor: One of the best revivals ever held at the Holly Springs Church, on the "Wesley Circuit," in Red River Parish, near Coushatta, La., ended Sunday night, August 8. The preaching was done by Rev. W. B. Perritt, of Shreveport, La. His sermons were among the most forceful and impressive that were ever heard at Holly Springs. They went right home to the hearts of the listeners, being so clear and simple that even a child could understand them. Men were seen shedding tears and yielding and responding to propositions who had never been known to do such a thing before. They listened not with impatience, but with steady, undisturbed minds and anxious hearts as the gospel was expounded from time to time. Some of the most appealing sermons were from such texts as "Prepare to meet thy God," "What shall it profit a man to gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?" and, "What will you do with Jesus?" Any town or community that desires an efficient, able minister would do well to secure the services of Brother Perritt. He is well qualified in every way to do effective work. He has an exceptionally good delivery, a good voice, and sings well.—A Member.

Grand Cane, La.

Dear Mr. Editor: I am serving the Grand Cane charge which takes in Grand Cane, Stonewall, and Keithville. My meetings are all over, so I wish to have something to say in regard to them and about the brethren who helped me. Rev. R. W. Tucker, of Shreveport, La., did the preaching at Grand Cane. He made a great impression upon those of us who were fortunate enough to hear him. The Church was strengthened in the doctrines of Methodism. The doctrine of once in grace, always in grace, suffered severely under Brother Tucker's preaching; but he preached in the old time Methodist way and did not bring this about by throwing stones. He said that we needed a progressive religious life and that we had to be up and doing or we would soon grow cold and indifferent.

Rev. A. H. Parker, of Colfax, La., did the preaching at Stonewall in a very acceptable manner. Brother Parker preaches a gospel that in my judgment will stand the test. I feel sure that those led to Christ by him will make substantial members. His preaching did us all good; it was a feast to my soul to listen to him. He is safe, sane, and sound.

At Keithville the preaching was done by Rev. J. L. Lay, from Simshoro, La. Brother Lay reminds me of what Bishop Hendrix said in his book, "Skilled Labor for the Master." He said that no preacher should dare go into the pulpit before he had prayed himself into a subject, then he could preach it out, and that preaching was prayer turned around. I told a brother that John Lay could not keep from preaching and that the preacher that puts as much prayer and thought into his sermon as Brother Lay does will always have a thrilling message for his people. Brother Lay is a forceful gospel preacher and is a splendid helper in revival work.

My people have been well fed by these splendid brethren and are spiritually stronger than they were before the meetings began. We are getting along very nicely.—J. C. Price, P. C.

EAT HARRIS' JERSEY ICE CREAM
The CREAM OF QUALITY. Quick Auto Delivery
1300, 1302 DRYADES ST.
Phones Jackson 1080. 1081

L&N Louisville & Nashville R. R.
THE DIRECT LINE NORTH AND EAST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED STEEL SLEEPERS
DINING CARS, OBSERVATION CARS, CHAIR CARS
Phone M 1083. TICKET OFFICE 201 ST. CHARLES STREET

"EXPOSITION LINE"
SOUTHERN PACIFIC — SUNSET ROUTE
ONE FARE FOR THE ROUND TRIP
$57.50 TO
California AND THE Expositions
TICKETS ON SALE DAILY
Limited to return within 90 days. Stopover all points enroute. Shortest and quickest route. Two through Steel Trains daily. Oil burning Locomotives. Electric Block Signals. Observation Cars.
Best Dining Car in America
For full information and illustrated catalogue, ask any Southern Pacific Agent or write
W. H. STAKELUM, Div. Pass. Agent, Lake Charles, La.
J. H. R. PARSONS, Gen. Pass. Agent, New Orleans, La.

THE TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY
Make Your Vacation Count!
Two or Three Weeks at
MINERAL WELLS
would almost make a new man of you, and a jolly, pleasant three weeks they would be, too! Low Round Trip Rates Every Day.
CITY TICKET OFFICE, 207 St. Charles Street.

EDENBORN LINE
LOUISIANA RAILWAY & NAVIGATION CO.
THE SHORT LINE :: THE POPULAR ROUTE
BETWEEN
New Orleans :: Baton Rouge : Alexandria : Shreveport
TICKETS ON SALE TO ALL POINTS NORTHWEST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS
Secure Reservations at City Ticket Office
700 GRAVIER STREET, ST. CHARLES HOTEL

You Look Prematurely Old
Because of these ugly, grizzly gray hairs, Use "LA CREOLE" HAIR DRESSING. Price $1.00, retail.

Sunday School

NORTH MISSISSIPPI NOTES.

By Rev. R. H. B. Gladney,
Sardis, Miss.

Tbe following places have been suggested by the presiding elders as being ready to have Sunday school institutes: Ackerman, Greenwood, Itta Bena, Lula, Leland, Gunnison, Clarksdale, and Sardis. As soon as help can he secured the dates will be announced. Let the superintendents call a meeting of the Workers' Council and pray that God may be with us In saving power.

Recently a Sunday school was organized at Shiloh, on the Sardis circuit. The membership is small, and most of the people live a long distance from the church. Six families subscribed for the Home Department Magazine Quarterly and the Primary Teacher, the former periodical to be studied by the older people and the latter to be used by tbe children. We shall watch with interest the results that will follow the study of the Bible in these homes and make a report later.

Four days were given to the Eureka circuit in teaching, organizing, and preaching. Two teacher-training classes were started, two home departments, two cradle rolls, and two Wesley Bible classes. The people at Lovejoy and Magee's schoolhouse seem eager to do effective work. There were nine young people added to the Church and there was a general awakening to the importance of Bible study and prayer. Brother T. L. Porter has a great field and he sees his opportunity.

Why have we so few conversions and a still smaller number trained to do effective work?

Why do our people take so little interest in making the church building comfortable and the grounds about it more beautiful?

Why is not every department of the efficient Sunday school organized and each department brought up to a high standard?

Why do not all our schools use the graded lessons?

Why do our people fail to contribute tbe amount of money needed to finance the Kingdom of God?

Why do our people earn so little money and have so few of the comforts of life?

Why are thousands of people untouched by the Church of God?

The prophet Hosea has answered tbe above questions: "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge." Teach the Word, and the mind is informed, the heart stirred, and the man acts. Information, impression, expression, follow in turn. This is the law, and when we obey it as a Church the Kingdom will speedily come.

ONE LITTLE 50 CENT BOX

of Tetterine will often cure cases of Eczema, Tetter, etc., of 10 and 15 years standing. It is because this salve embodies correct scientific principles in the treatment of skin diseases that it relieves Tetter, Eczema, Ringworm, Itch, Childblains, etc. It is the absolute master of skin diseases as thousands will testify. 50c at druggist's or by mail from Shuptrine Co., Savannah, Ga.

FLORA, MISS.

Dear Dr. Meek: The third Sunday in July we commenced our meeting at Flora. Rev. W. M. Sullivan, of Yazoo City, Miss., did the preaching. Brother Sullivan proved himself to be a strong preacher. Our congregations were large and attentive. As a result of the meeting much good was accomplished.....Our meeting at Bentonia began on August 5 and lasted ten days. Rev. J. T. Norsworthy did the preaching. Nine persons were received into the Church, 7 by baptism and 2 by vows. This was without doubt one of the best meetings ever held in Bentonia. Brother Norsworthy won my admiration as a preacher. He holds strictly a Methodist meeting and places such emphasis on Methodist doctrines that he stimulates the preacher and the church members and moves them to greater things. He has nothing but kind things to say about preachers, and he magnifies his Church. Indeed, we found no fault at all with his preaching. He proved to he one of the best, if not the best, men I have ever had to hold a meeting for me. I commend him heartily to any preacher who needs help. I was glad to hear him say that he would give his time and service to Mississippi from now on. Brother Norsworthy is certainly a great preacher. God bless him! Brother William Henry McRaven, a young man 20 years of age, rendered good service as an organist..... Brother C. J. Stapp was expected to hold my meeting at Balfour or Old Verman, but for some reason he failed to come; so I conducted the meeting until last night, when Brother Norsworthy came. Eight had already joined the Church. A large brush arbor has been erected and great crowds are attending the meeting. God is with us in great power and we are looking for wonderful things. At the close of this meeting I will give a full account of the results.—M. L. White, P. C.

"There will never be a world harvest until there has been a world seed-sowing."

Religious Papers Look Into Pellagra Remedy.

J. B. Keough, a special investigator appointed by the Religious Press Advertising Syndicate to look into the merits of Baughn's Pellagra Treatment of Jasper, Ala., reports that there is no douht this new treatment cures pellagra. He says he has satisfied himself that the company has cured hundreds of cases of pellagra and that in the few cases where the medicine has been taken too late to effect a cure, the money has been refunded.

This company has issued an important book on the treatment of pellagra in which they show that they can cure pellagra and also agree to refund every cent in case they do not cure the disease. If you have pellagra, why suffer longer when this real cure is at hand. Write for the booklet today. Address American Compounding Co., Box 587-X, Jasper, Ala.—Advertisement.

BOY SCOUTS, ST. MARK'S HALL, NEW ORLEANS.

WESSON CHARGE (MISS. CONF.)

Dear Mr. Editor: We held a meeting at Wesson, Miss., assisted hy Rev. W. N. Thomas, whose preaching was good—indeed, better than we had expected. Our meeting was during the packing and shipping season and hence there were no accessions.

The North Wesson meeting has been held. I was assisted by Rev. J. L. Smith, who also preached well, but it was during the voting week, and, of course, we were much hindered and hence had only two accessions.

The Beauregard meeting has just closed. We were assisted by Rev. F. A. Lane and had 16 accessions. Brother Lane is a local preacher, hut few preachers are more familiar with the Bible than he is. He is 75 years of age.

We have bad 61 accessions this year: 26 by vows, 12 by baptism, and 23 by certificate. We have haptized 83 infants. We are praying, working, and hoping for hetter results. Had I not been limited as I have been hy my wound, I would have done hetter.

ISAAC L. PEEBLES, P. C.

The work of schools and teachers is to a great extent accomplished when there is aroused in the student two great and life-long desires: (1) A life-long desire for knowledge; (2) a life-long desire to be nobler and better. During the session of 1915-16 we are going to do our very best to accomplish this for the students in the MEMPHIS CONFERENCE FEMALE INSTITUTE, Jackson, Tenn.

In proportion as we forget ourselves in ministering to others, do we foster that character which most nearly resembles heaven.—Bishop Boyd Carpenter.

For Weakness and Loss of Appetite

The Old Standard general strengthening tonic, GROVE'S TASTELESS chill TONIC, drives out Malaria and builds up the system. A true tonic and sure Appetizer. For adults and children. 50c.

"Jesus chose humble fishermen to be his first followers, and God, through all the ages, is calling ordinary men to he his witness-bearers and to tell to others the story of his love and grace."

PASTOR'S SON RELIEVED FROM EPILEPSY.

Epilepsy has long been a bugaboo among American mothers.

There are two forms of this disease, one which is accompanied by unconsciousness and falling fits, and the other where the spasm is so fleeting that it is hardly recognizable. Both of these forms will yield to persistent treatment with Dr. Miles' Nervine.

The Rev. J. A. Schuler of Severy, Kan., had a little boy who suffered from epilepsy. After three years of fruitless treatment it was decided to give Dr. Miles' Nervine a fair trial and the result was this letter:—

"I want to thank you for the inestimable benefit Dr. Miles' Nervine has been to my son who was afflicted with epilepsy. He had suffered for three years prior to taking treatment with this remedy. He has never had an attack since the first dose he took of Dr. Miles' Nervine. He has so improved in general appearance and looks that you would not know he was the same boy. The medicine is everything that it is claimed to be. We had tried everything else we could think of but failed to benefit my son until we used Dr. Miles' Nervine."

Parents who have children who suffer from epilepsy, St. Vitus' Dance and other like ailments should avail themselves of this remedy which has been successfully before the public for the past thirty years.

If the first bottle does not prove the remedy up to your expectation your druggist will refund your money.
MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

THE GENUINE AND IMPORTED
DR BLAUD'S IRON PILLS
For General Debility, Anemia, Chlorosis, and in the Convalescent Period. Genuine has "Bland" stamped on each Pill. All Druggists, E. FOUGERA & CO., Inc., 90 Beekman St., New York.
No increase in Price

RUB-MY-TISM

Will cure your Rheumatism Neuralgia, Headaches, Cramps, Colic, Sprains, Bruises, Cuts and Burns, Old Sores, Stings of Insects Etc. Antiseptic Anodyne, used internally and externally. Price 25c.

CLARKSBUURG, MISS.

In response to an invitation from the pastor, Brother Will Evans, I assisted in a meeting at Clarksburg, Miss., beginning on July 29 and running through August 2. From the very beginning great interest was manifest in the meeting and I feel sure that much real good was accomplished. It was the first meeting held there in several years and the time was all too short for the great work needed to be done. There were a number of things which stood in the way of having a good meeting. The primary election was at hand, which more and more attracted the attention of the people, though not as much as I had feared. But the greatest trouble was in the faiiure of some of the leading Methodists to co-operate in the meeting, though living near at hand. This was due to dissatisfaction over changing the location of the church. In spite of these things, the Lord blessed us in the meeting and a better day is dawning for Clarkshurg. The pastor, who is a grandson of Brother Jack Evans, an honored superannuate, has done a remarkable year's work on the charge, especiaiiy at Clarksburg. When he was assigned to the work there was no church building and no parsonage. With wonderful "stick-to-it-iveness," he has stuck to his job in the face of tremendous odds, because he feels the Lord's call to that field and sees so much need. He has had to spend more than $200 of his own hard-earned money for the privilege of preaching the gospel this year, having received less than $50 in the way of salary up to the time of the meeting. But not a murmur did I hear from him. Somehow he feels that God is with him and that therefore all wiil come out weli. He is succeeding, too. A neat littie parsonage has been provided, so that he and his family can live right in the midst of the work. A new church has been very nearly completed. The meeting was held in the new building. Money is being raised to paint the inside of the church, the outside having had one coat already. All this has been done in spite of discouraging statements that no church could be buiit. As for possibilities of future work, I do not know of a more promising fieid for a country church, nor a more needy one. The devil has held sway too long already at Clarksburg, and the better class of people are determined that better conditions shall prevail. Many Northern people have moved to that section of the country, and they are improving the farm lands. Many of them are actively engaged in the work of the Church. Many of the older inhabitants who have condoned evils in the past now want a change and gladly welcome the new church with its wholesome influence. The new church building is right where it belongs and should have the loyal support of every one who loves God and desires to save souls and destroy the works of the devil. Brother Evans has gained the confidence and love of the people at Clarksburg, and his influence for good is apparent to all. He and his family deserve a better support than they have been having, and I believe they wiil get it. May God's blessings be upon the people and pastor of Clarksburg!—Osmond Lewis.

THE FINEST BIBLE IN THE WORLD
FOR THE MONEY

This Photograph represents exact size 5½ x 8¼ inches

Bound in French Morocco, absolutely flexible, with overlapping covers as shown in this photograph. Has red under gold edges.

—IT CONTAINS—

The Authorized Version of the Old Testament and New Testament

—HAS—

Self-Pronouncing Text

All the proper words being accented and divided into syllables for quick and easy pronunciation.

—IT ALSO CONTAINS—

A New Series of Helps to Bible Study

—INCLUDING—

4000 Questions and Answers which unfold the Scriptures.

31 Beautiful Illustrations showing scenes and incidents of Bible History.

12 Maps of the Bible Lands in Colors

Large Clear Type. Fine Paper

PRICE ONLY $1.20 PLUS 15 CENTS TO PAY POSTAGE

Each Bible supplied with elastic band and packed in neat box.

SEND ALL ORDERS TO

New Orleans Christian Advocate

512 CAMP STREET NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Let us send you one of these Bibles. The price is $1.35 postpaid. When remitting send us money orders or 2-cent stamps. If a personal check is sent, add 10 cents to cover cost of exchange. We have sold over 1000 of these Bibles in the last four years.

No. 666

This is a prescription prepared especially for MALARIA or CHILLS & FEVER. Five or six doses will break any case, and if taken then as a tonic the Fever will not return. It acts on the liver better than Calomel and does not gripe or sicken. 25c

MURINE For YOUR EYES

Murine is prepared by our Physicians, as used for many years in their practice, now dedicated to the Public and sold by Your Druggist. Try Murine to Refresh, Cleanse, and Strengthen Eyes after exposure to Strong Sunlight, Wind and Dust and to restore healthful tone to Eyes Reddened and made Sore by Overwork and Eye Strain.

Some broadminded Physicians use and recommend Murine while others perhaps jealous of its Success, talk and rush into print in opposition; those whose Eyes need care can guess why, as there is no Prescription fee in Murine. Just hand your Druggist 50c and you have a Complete Pkg. Eye Book—Murine—Dropper—and Cork Screw—ready for use. Try it in your Eyes and in Baby's Eyes for Eye Troubles—No Smarting—Just Eye Comfort. Write for Book of the Eye Free.

Murine Eye Remedy Company, Chicago

THE WORD OF LIFE.

A barber in Japan, who used to be a drunkard, told our colporteur that he had found copies of three Gospels on the seashore, where they had been washed in by the tide. He recognized them as "Jesus books," and took them to his shop, thinking that they might interest his customers. When trade was slack, he began to read them himself. As a result, he gave up his drunken habits, believed, and has been baptized. These Gospels, he considered, were sent specially for him.—Sunday School Times.

Take Lime for Tuberculosis

In the Journal of the American Medical Association (July 27, 1912. Page 308), Dr. C. F. Disen, of Minneapolis, holds that a "deficiency of calcium" (lime) is responsible for the physical conditions which lead to tuberculosis, "and the therapy he advocates rests on this basis."

One of the reasons for the wide-spread success of Eckman's Alterative in the treatment of tuberculosis is its ability to supply this deficiency. It contains a lime salt in such combination with other valuable ingredients as to be easily assimilated by the average person. Many cases seem to have yielded to it.

We make no exaggerated claims for it, but prefer that it be tried on the same basis as any other prescription, and since it contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, it is safe. Price $1 and $2 per bottle. Sold by leading druggists or sent direct from the Laboratory. We would like to send you a booklet containing information of value and references.

ECKMAN LABORATORY,
23 N. Seventh St. Philadelphia.

Prejudice, more than anything else, robs life of its educational value.—Van Dyke.

TRY THE OLD RELIABLE

WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC

For MALARIA CHILLS & FEVER

A FINE GENERAL STRENGTHENING TONIC

HOOPING-COUGH OR CROUP

The Celebrated Effectual Remedy Without Internal Medicine.

Roche's Herbal Embrocation

will also be found very efficacious in cases of

BRONCHITIS, LUMBAGO AND RHEUMATISM

W. Edwards & Son, London, England
All Druggists, or E. Fougera & Co., Inc., 90 Beekman Street, N. Y.

Woman's Missionary Work

Edited by .....Mrs. R. F. Harrell, Centerville, Miss.

Conference Publicity Superintendents:

Louisiana.....Mrs. A. C. McKinney, Ruston, La.
Mississippi .....Mrs. J. L. Neill, Laurel, Miss.
North Mississippi.....Mrs. Walter Campbell, Winona, Miss.

All communications for this department should be sent to the Editor at the address given above.

OUR CO-OPERATIVE HOME.

The Corinth Co-operative Home suffered a serious loss through the burning of the Corinth laundry recently. The loss includes 12 sheets, 53 towels, 40 napkins, 19 pillow cases, 2 spreads, 4 tablecloths, and 9 scarfs. Miss Daniel writes that she has 22 girls in the Home and not enough linen to make the necessary changes. Housekeepers will understand the extremity and will gladly comply with Miss Daniel's request to send some of the above articles as soon as possible. Starkville, the home of the Superintendent of Supplies, is the first place to report a "shower," and we hope that a fine collection was taken up there.

Later Miss Daniel writes that the response to her call for household linen to take the place of that which was lost in the fire at the laundry has been so generous that she has all the Home needs for some time to come. The suggestion to have "showers" was so well received that a veritable "downpour" was the result. The linen closet is full and running over, but the pantry shelves are empty of canned goods, jellies, jams, and preserves, so Miss Daniel asks auxiliaries that were contemplating sending linen to send canned goods of all kinds instead. If each woman would put aside one can for the Home it would mean a great saving in the grocery bill this winter, when lunches will have to be fixed daily for 25 hungry girls, and there will be that number in the Home when the girls all get back from their short vacations. Let us remember Miss Daniel and her noble work among our little sisters when we are filling our own pantry shelves.—North Mississippi Bulletin.

ECHOES FROM WOMAN'S DAY AT THE SEASHORE ASSEMBLY.

Mrs. R. E. Johnson, of Gulfport, Miss., President of the Mississippi Conference Missionary Society, writes as follows: "We enjoyed Woman's Day at the Assembly. It was decided to close the Assembly on Wednesday night, so we only had one day, but it was 'full of good things.' After Dr. Quillian's Bible hour, Miss Trawick, of Nashville, Tenn., gave a fine talk on children and young people, and their training in Christian work. Miss Trawick showed that she had studied young life and is thoroughly familiar with its training.

Rev. Foster Gamble, of Korea, told of the conditions and needs over there, and made it so real that each one felt it was a message to us to do more for that country, which is so eager for the gospel of our Lord Jesus.

"Dr. Gamble was followed by our own Mrs. Harris, who, in her sweet, Christian spirit, gave a masterly address on Japan and the Orient. She has studied the Orient from every standpoint, and handled the political side of the question with as much ease as the educational and religious side. Every one who heard Mrs. Harris was perfectly charmed by her quick wit and ready speech. Mrs. Harris spoke at 11 o'clock and again at 2 p. m., when every one was eager for her second address, which was just as interesting as the first.

"At 3 o'clock Miss Linnie Barcroft touched a tender chord when she asked if 'we cared' for the Master's lost ones, for those who know him not, or did we try not 'to care.' She was filled with the Spirit and her message brought conviction to our hearts that we had not been as diligent as our Father wants us to be. Miss Barcroft's subject was Mexico, where she has spent the physical strength of a young life, and, though now at home trying to regain her health, she is going about doing all she can for the Master's kingdom.

"The last talk of the day was by our own Miss Hasler, her subject, our Biloxi Wesley House, being one of vast interest to each one present. No one will ever know of the good done by these hand-maidens of the Lord as they go in and out among these foreigners in our midst.

"The ladies from the neighboring coast towns brought regular picnic lunches, and the ladies on the Camp Ground 'treated' us to iced tea and ice water. All of us enjoyed the basket dinner and the social hour, and felt refreshed for the afternoon session.

"Gulfport, First Church, had the largest representation, thirty of the auxiliary members and visitors going for the day. As they returned home late in the afternoon every one agreed that it had been a most delightful day and profitable beyond expression."

AN APPEAL FOR ST. MARK'S HALL.

St. Mark's Hall is situated in the most densely populated part of the city of New Orleans, in the midst of thirty thousand Italians. It is a section of the city where housing conditions are deplorable; many families live in one house, which was formerly just big enough for one well-to-do family. This section has miserable, open gutters throughout it and no playgrounds for its twenty thousand children. St. Mark's Hall is a Christian, social settlement, open all day to these people.

Through mothers' clubs, boys' clubs, girls' clubs, sewing school, story hour, child welfare, milk station, and free clinic, we are extending open hands and hearts for the betterment of every family.

From the religious side of our work we have a Sunday school with classes in English, Spanish, and Italian, where all who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity for Bible study may do so. Connected with this is the Italian service held every Sunday afternoon, which is led by an able, intelligent Christian Italian.

The work is greatly hindered because of inadequate quarters. The City Board of Missions has planned an active campaign for securing funds looking toward the building of a large plant that can take care of the needs of this section. We ask your co-operation and active support.

City Board of Missions.

From the Report of 1914.—St. Mark's Hall.

Visits made, 4965; patients treated at Clinic, 2533; prescriptions filled gratis, 6004. Twenty-two children were placed in homes.

We co-operate with charity organizations, reporting cases, investigating cases, etc.; Juvenile Court, reporting cases, furnishing evidence, handling offenders and families; Anti-Tuberculosis League, reporting such as need special care; public schools, reporting absentees and giving the services of the Clinic; City Board of Health, reporting contagious diseases, securing ambulance service, etc.

THE SUSAN B. WILSON CHAPEL.

The contract for the chapel for the Susan B. Wilson School at Sungkiang, China, was made in the spring. Miss Waters, Secretary of the Shanghai District, will spend most of the summer there superintending the building, which will add much to the efficiency of the school. This building was made possible by gifts from the Baltimore and Florida Conferences.

Another Gift.

From Mississippi comes a gift of $100 from a woman, who says: "I began my little self-denial because I felt that in these hard times all of us ought to do something. O such a blessing as it has brought to me! Of course, He had the blessing for me all along, but I would not let Him give it to me."

IMAGINE THE MISERY

of a 7 years' case of persistent eczema and then the joy of its final disappearance. This is the experience of I. S. Giddens, Tampa, Fla.: "For 7 years I had eczema on my ankle. I tried many remedies and doctors. I decided to try Tetterine and after 8 weeks am entirely free from the terrible eczema." If you suffer with Eczema, Tetter, Itch, Ringworm, Salt Rheum, or Piles, you know what to do. Tetterine, 50c at druggist's or by mail from Shuptrine Co., Savannah, Ga.

Methodist Benevolent Association

A Mutual Benefit Brotherhood for Southern Methodists. Issues Whole Life, 20-Premium Life, Term to 60, and Disability Certificates. Benefits payable at death, old age, or disability. Over $152,000.00 paid to widows, orphans, and disabled. Over $40,000.00 reserve fund. Write for rates, blanks, etc. J. H. Shumaker, Secretary, 810 Broadway, Nashville, Tenn.

MILLSAPS COLLEGE, Jackson, Miss.

A. F. WATKINS, President.

A HIGH GRADE COLLEGE

Situated at the Capital of the State. Location high, dry and healthful. Entrance requirements and curriculum same as in other leading Colleges and Universities, North and South. The very finest moral and religious influences. Courses leading to A.B., B.S., A.M., M.S. and LL.B. degrees.

MILLSAPS PREPARATORY SCHOOL.—Under separate Faculty and Dormitory Management. Unsurpassed training for College.

MILLSAPS LAW SCHOOL.—Offering extraordinary advantages. Superior Faculty; Law Libraries; accessible to all Courts.

TWENTY-FOURTH SESSION BEGINS SEPTEMBER 15, 1915.

For Catalogue and other information address

J. REESE LIN, Secretary. Jackson, Miss.

Wesleyan College

Macon, Georgia

Founded In 1836. Graduated Its First Class In 1840. Seventy-nine Years of Eminent Success. Ranks Easily With the Best Colleges In the Country.

THE WESLEYAN, an "A" grade college in the truest sense, offers courses in the languages, literature, mathematics, the sciences, philosophy, education, history and economics, household arts and sciences, the Bible and religious education. The full four years of college work are credited by the best universities. Excellent equipment and a large faculty afford ample opportunity for election of preferred branches of study.

While supreme emphasis is laid upon the courses leading to the Bachelor's degree, the strongest possible departments of music, art and expression are maintained.

Fourteen eminent American artists and teachers are employed in the Conservatory of Music. The three men at the head of the departments of piano, voice and pipe organ, respectively, are unsurpassed on the continent, while the violin teacher is easily the South's greatest.

The departments of expression, painting and drawing and china painting are in charge of several teachers of rare qualifications.

The situation of Wesleyan is ideal, its health record practically perfect, its social and moral atmosphere delightful.

The Wesleyan diploma is the highest academic honor. The thousands of alumnae are leaders everywhere and in every realm of woman's influence.

Write

C. R. JENKINS, D. D., President.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

Alexandria Dist.—Third Round.

Harrisonburg, August 29.
Standard, 8 p. m., September 2.
Natchitoches, September 5.
Preaching at Campti, 8 p. m., September 5.
Eden, 8 p. m., Setember 9.
Alexandria, September 12.
H. W. MAY, P. E.

Lafayette Dist.—Third Round.

French Mission, at Port Barre, August 28, 29.
Rayne, September 4, 5.
Indian Bayou, September 5, 6.
Acadia, at Prudhomme, September 11, 12.
Sulphur and Vinton, at Vinton, September 18, 19.
Evangeline, at Ville Platte, September 25, 26.
Washington and Chicot, at Bethel, September 26, 27.
Franklin, Wednesday, September 29.
JAMES J. HOFFPAUIR, P. E.
Indian, Bayou, La.

Shreveport Dist.—Third Round.

Bayou Lachute, at Taylortown, Aug. 25.
South Mansfield, at South Mansfield, Aug. 28, 29.
Mansfield, Aug. 29, 30.
First Church, Shreveport, Sept. 1 and 5.
Grand Cane, at Keithville, Sept. 5, 6.
Leesville, Sept. 19.
Mooringsport, Sept. 21.
Vivian, Sept. 22.
Wesley, Sept. 25, 26.
Coushatta, Sept. 26, 27.
J. S. Noel, Jr., Memorial, Sept. 29.
WM. H. COLEMAN, P. E.

Monroe Dist.—Third Round.

Gilbert, at Holly Grove, Aug. 29.
Farmerville, at F., Sept. 1.
Lake Providence, Sept. 5.
Monroe, Sept. 6.
West Monroe, Sept. 12.
WM. SCHUHLE, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Port Gibson Dist.—Fourth Round.

Nebo, at Ebenezer, Sept. 11, 12.
Fayette, at Fayette, Sept. 19.
Woodville Station, Sept. 26, 27.
Woodville Circuit, at F., Wednesday, Sept. 29.
Centerville, at C., Oct. 2, 3.
Gloster and Liberty, at G., Oct. 2, 4.
Crawford Street, Vicksburg, 11 a. m., Oct. 10.
Gibson Memorial, Vicksburg, 7:30 p. m., Oct. 10.
Oak Ridge, at O. R., Oct. 17.
Rocky Springs, at Carpenter, Oct. 23, 24.
Utica, at Utica., Oct. 31.
Hermanville, at H., Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.
Port Gibson, Tuesday, Nov. 2.
Roxie, at ———, Wednesday, Nov. 3.
Mayersville, at M., Nov. 7.
Rolling Fork, at R. F., Nov. 14.
Anguilla, at A., Nov. 14.
Silver City, at ———, Tuesday, Nov. 16.
Natchez, Jefferson Street, Thursday, Nov. 18.
Washington, at W., Friday, Nov. 19.
Harriston, at Cane Ridge, Nov. 21.

Jackson District—Fourth Round.

Mendenhall, at Bethany, Sept. 25, 26.
Flora, Oct. 3.
Yazoo City, Oct. 10.
Fannin, Oct. 16, 17.
Brandon and Pelahatchie, at Pelabatchie, Oct. 17, 18.
Lake City, at Anding, Oct. 23, 24.
Satartia, at Wesley Chapel, Oct. 30, 31.
Edwards, at Clinton, Nov. 3.
Eden, at Phillips' Chapel, Nov. 5.
Benton, Nov. 6, 7.
Vaughan, at Fletcher's Chapel, Nov. 8.
Rankin Street, Jackson, Nov. 10.
Terry, at ———, Nov. 11.
Florence, at ———, Nov. 13, 14.
Harrisville, at Sinal, Nov. 14, 15.
Galloway Memorial, Jackson, p. m., Nov. 15.
Bolton, Nov. 17.
Millsaps Memorial, Jackson, p. m., Nov. 17.
Madison, Nov. 18.
Camden, at ———, Nov. 19.
Sharon, Nov. 20, 21.
Canton, p. m., Nov. 21.
Capitol Street, Jackson, Nov. 22.
PAUL D. HARDIN, P. E.

Durant Dist.—Third Round.

Slate Springs, at Spring Hill, August 29.
Eupora and Maben, at Maben, August 31.
Sidon, at Abiaca, September 5.
Louisville and Rocky Hill, at Louisville, September 11, 12.
Kosciusko Circuit, at Salem, Septem-

Meridian Dist.—Third Round.

Daleville, at Bethel, August 29, 30.
Moscow, at Mt. Zion, September 4.
De Kalb, at New Hope, September 5.
Clark, at Oak Grove, September 11.
Enterprise, at Basic City, September 12, 13.
Vimville, September 18, 19.
Meridian, South Side, September 19, 20.
J. T. LEGGETT, P. E.

Hattiesburg Dist.—Third Round.

Taylorsville, at Oakehay, August 28, 29.
Mount Olive, at Mize, August 29, 30.
McLain, at Crossroads, September 4, 5.
Magee, at Sharon, September 9.
Oloh, September 11, 12.
Sumrall, September 12, 13.

If any of these dates should conflict with any revival meeting engagement pastors will please write me.
GEO. H. THOMPSON, P. E.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONF.

Sardis Dist.—Fourth Round.

Batesville, Aug. 21, 22.
Como, Aug. 22, 23.
Arkabutla, Arkabutla, Aug. 28, 29.
Senatobia, Sept. 4, 5.
Hernando, Sept. 11, 12.
Coldwater, Sept. 12, 13.
Tyro, at Free Springs, Sept. 18, 19.
Longtown, at Longtown, Sept. 25, 26.
Eudora, at Eudora, Oct. 2, 3.
Crenshaw, at Sledge, Oct. 3, 4.
Courtland, at Pope, Oct. 9, 10.
Oakland, at Oakland, Oct. 10, 11.
Charleston, Oct. 11.
Olive Branch, at Miller, Oct. 15.
Pleasant Hill, at Pleasant Hill, Oct. 16, 17.
Eureka, at Pisgah, Oct. 23, 24.
Sardis Circuit, at McGee, Oct. 30, 31.
Sardis, Nov. 6, 7.
Wall Hill, at Chulahoma, Nov. 13, 14.
Cochran, at Greenleaf, Nov. 20, 21.
J. W. DORMAN, P. E.

CAMP MEETING NOTICE.

On July 24, the New Prospect Camp Ground Association met in answer to the call of its President and after some discussion as to the practicability of holding the camp meeting this year, a motion was made and carried in favor of said meeting.

The time? The meeting will begin on October 13, at 7:30 p. m.

All preachers will be entertained free of charge. All former pastors desiring to attend are cordially invited to be present.

We especially desire an interest in the prayers of all Christian people that our camp meeting may be a great success.

W. L. BLACKWELL, Pastor.

NOTICE.

Let the pastors and officials of the Port Gibson District give careful attention to all the questions that are to be brought up at this round of quarterly conference, and be fully prepared to report on the same. Especial attention will be given to Questions 12, 13, 14, 15, 21, 22, 23, and 24. As the district leader, I shall expect full reports under questions twenty-three and twenty-four, as these are of prime importance in the winding up of our work for the year. Brethren, let us do something worth while, and show ourselves to be workmen who need not be ashamed.

T. W. ADAMS, P. E.

TWO GRACIOUS REVIVALS.

Dear Dr. Meek: I have been in a glorious meeting with Brother T. J. Hopper at Tocopola, Miss., the past week. The Church was greatly revived and some few sinners made peace with God. On Tuesday afternoon we had one of the largest bodies of men gathered together, in a service for men only, that I have faced in a long time; and oh, what a glorious meeting we had! Scores of the men took a decided stand for a clean, righteous life. Brother Hopper is in great favor with his people. He is a good man and deserves their favor... Last week I had Brother W. L. Graves with me at my Pleasant Hill Church and we experienced a Pentecostal time. God did indeed pour out his Spirit upon us. The Church was revived. Men and women talked for God who had never been known to speak in public before. On Wednesday we could hardly get the folks away from the Church at twelve o'clock at night. I saw on this occasion more young men and women completely overcome by the Spirit than ever before in my life. It was indeed a glorious sight to behold. The old members of the church there say they had never seen the like before. Brother Graves is a most effective Gospel preacher. I heartily recommend him to the brethren. We need more such Holy Ghost preaching. Pray for us.

W. V. SHEARER, P. C.

EMORY UNIVERSITY

An institution Founded, Owned and Controlled by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

The University offers at present courses leading to degrees in the following departments:

1.—The School of Liberal Arts—Emory College—offers courses in English, Spanish, French, German, Greek, Latin, Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Biology, Mental and Moral Science, History, Political Economy and Biblical Literature, leading to the usual literary degrees. This department has a library of 40,000 bound volumes.

2.—The School of Theology—The Candler School of Theology—offers full and varied courses leading to the degree of B. D. This is a school of theology, as definite in its teaching as it is definite in its aim to serve the church to which it belongs. The library of the School of Theology is rich and grows richer daily. To it belongs the famous "Thursfield-Smith Collection of Wesleyana," which includes hundreds of the autograph letters of the Wesleys and other Methodist celebrities.

3.—The School of Medicine—The Atlanta Medical College—a medical school of first grade which offers courses in medicine and surgery covering four years, and leading to the degree of M. D. By arrangement with the Grady Hospital, the Municipal Hospital of Atlanta, and the Wesley Memorial Hospital, which is a part of the University system, the School of Medicine is able to offer clinical advantages of great value to students.

For bulletins, giving full information concerning the University, and its several departments, write to,

WALKER WHITE, Secretary-Bursar.

Emory University Atlanta, Georgia.

GRENADA COLLEGE

A Christian School for Girls and Young Women.
Stands for Character, Health, Culture, Comfort.

Strong Faculty with University and Foreign Training. Buildings: Brick, Steam-heated throughout. Grounds: Ample and Beautiful.

Offers a Four-year PREPARATORY COURSE; College Course of Four Years Leads to A. B. Degree. Diplomas in PIANO, VOICE, ART, EXPRESSION, and DOMESTIC SCIENCE. Total expense for Literary Course, $210 per session of Nine Months.

Grenada, Miss., Box C. J. R. COUNTISS, President.

HOWARD COLLEGE
IN BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA

THE Alabama Baptist college for men. Located among foothills of beautiful suburb, on two electric lines. Beautiful grounds and modern buildings and equipment. Faculty of twenty-seven teachers. Fourteen units required for admission. Sixty hours work required for graduation.

THE CLASSICS: Seventeen departments are maintained, in which one hundred and twenty-eight courses are offered. Twenty-three points required. Thirty-seven points elective.

MUSIC: Howard College is the only primarily male college in the South with a standard School of Music. Faculty of five teachers, offering voice, piano, string and wind instruments and theory. Courses count toward college degree.

JOURNALISM: Howard College is the only institution in the South Atlantic States offering courses in Journalism. Theoretrical and practical work offered under successful newspaper man.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION: Howard College is the only institution in the Birmingham district with an approved Department of Education. Graduates may procure first grade certificate to teach in State.

ATHLETICS: College authorities encourage inter-class and inter-collegiate athletics. Institution is a member of the Southern Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association. Two coaches employed.

Seventy-fourth annual session begins September 8, 1915.

JAMES M. SHELBURNE, President.

Some time when you are tired drinking just ordinary Coffee and feel like drinking "A REAL GOOD CUP OF COFFEE," try a pound of

GUATEMALA BLEND

Just Phone Main 2196 and it will be delivered direct to your residence

GUATEMALA AMERICAN COFFEE CO.

617 CAMP STREET. PHONE MAIN 2196.

Board of Church Extension

1. Its Aim

(1) An Adequate church building for every congregation.

(2) A comfortable parsonage for every itinerant preacher.

2. Its Achievements

(1) Aided in housing 9,235 of our 19,735 congregations.

(2) Aided in building parsonages for 2,458 itinerant preachers.

3. Its Present Task

(1) A roof over 2,593 homeless congregations and modern buildings for thousands inadequately housed.

(2) Parsonages for 1,155 homeless itinerant preachers and better homes for thousands of others.

4. Its Resources

(1) Annual assessment on the Church of $300,000.

(2) Loan Fund Capital of $671,436.19.

5. Its Appeal

(1) That pastors and churches everywhere make special effort to secure the Conference Collections in full, and that in case of failure to secure full payment on total connectional claims, the Church Extension assessment and all others be given a "square deal" in the division of receipts.

(2) That borrowers from the Loan Fund Capital of the Board pay installments of interest and principal promptly when due, that others may receive needed and promised aid.

(3) That pastors, presiding elders, lay leaders, and others be on the lookout for contributions of money, land, notes, or other securities to the Loan Fund Capital of the Board, either as absolute gifts or on the annuity plan, and to be used in creating Memorial or other Loan Funds.

6. "Finally, Brethren"

(1) Appropriations already made cannot be paid in full if there is a decrease in receipts on assessments.

(2) In almost every community may be found those willing to increase the efficiency of the Board and their own income by the purchase of the Annuity Bonds of the Board. The security is absolute. The office wants their names.

(3) Send for six-page folder describing more than three score free publications, and pick out what you want for personal use, Sunday school, Epworth League, and congregation.

(4) Is your Sunday school using the Birthday Sunday School Loan Fund Jar? If not, why not? Write for booklet.

Board of Church Extension
of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South
(Incorporated)

Address W. F. McMURRY,
Corresponding Secretary,
Louisville, Kentucky

Whitworth College Number

NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE

Vol. 62—No. 35 Official Organ of the Louisiana, Mississippi, and North Mississippi Conferences, Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Whole No. 3106.

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor. NEW ORLEANS, LA., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1915. CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

AN HISTORICAL SKETCH OF WHITWORTH COLLEGE.

Mrs. E. M. Bee.

When Brookhaven was scarcely more than a village, Whitworth College was founded by him whose name it bears, and in memory of whose philanthropy and interest in the cause of education it will ever be a monument.

The Rev. Milton J. Whitworth, a local minister of the Methodist faith, realizing the very limited opportunities for the higher education of young women at that time, especially in our Southland, conceived the establishment of a girls' college under the supervision of the Methodist Church, and as an evidence of his interest and zeal donated to the Conference the site and first college building, which stands upon the campus to-day. "Whitworth Hall," therefore, is the one building of the group that is held in memory by every student and teacher who was ever affiliated with the college. This building was not ready for occupancy when Rev. John P. Lee opened the first session of the Institution in the fall of 1859; so another building in town was secured for the temporary home of the college; but the term was concluded in the completed building, and the records show that Miss Mollie Noble, of Smith County, was the one recipient of a diploma on the first Commencement occasion in June, 1860. The second session of the institution's career was carried to a successful conclusion with a graduating class of four young ladies, despite the unsettled conditions and excitement incident to that memorable period in our national history—the Civil War. Immediately after the close of this session, however, Rev. Mr. Lee resigned the Presidency and returned to his home in Canada.

On the left, the "Mary Jane Lampton Auditorium"; on the right, "Cooper Hall."

The Rev. Mr. Crosby was chosen to succeed Mr. Lee, and the session of '61-'62 was opened with a fair attendance under the then existing conditions, but was discontinued after the first half-term, and the building erected for higher culture and Christian development was transformed into a haven of mercy and relief as a hospital for sick and wounded soldiers.

As soon as that great conflict was over, preparations were begun for the re-opening of the college, and in September, '65, with Rev. G. F. Thompson as President, the work was resumed. The Rev. Mr. Thompson was succeeded in '67 by Rev. H. F. Johnson, who remained at the head of the institution until his death in '87. His twenty years of service was filled with unceasing toil for the upbuilding of the college, and the influence of these years of his life and that of his beloved wife, who stood shoulder to shoulder with her husband in his efforts in behalf of Whitworth—herself the self-appointed guardian-mother of every girl who came within the college walls—is more far-reaching, even to-day, than words of mouth or pen can tell. So steady was the growth in attendance under his management that additional accommodations were in demand, and he erected "Calisthenics Hall" in 1869 for a chapel and classrooms. Soon afterward the Music and Art Hall was added. Dr. Johnson's ambition was to extend the college property eastward through another block, but funds were lacking. About this time, a former client of his younger days when he was a practicing lawyer, came forward with a belated fee, with which he purchased from Mrs. Whitworth, the widow of the founder of the college, the larger portion of the coveted property. The remaining portion was purchased later. In '77 the "Brown House" was built on this acquisition. Later, "Margaret Hall," for dormitory accommodations, and still later "Johnson Institute," with up-to-date library and laboratory equipment and ample provision for the art and music departments, which had grown to the proportions of a conservatory under Dr. Johnson's corps of efficient instructors, were erected. Hand in hand with these improvements were many others of civic and sanitary natures, while Dr. Johnson's altruistic impulses found expression in numerous benefits worthily bestowed on ambitious and deserving girls, all of which contributed to the glorious success of his administration. In one of the last catalogues issued during his presidency we find a cut of "Margaret Hall" and "The Institute," with the proposed center building between. This was the object of his ambition when overtaken by the fatal illness which culminated in his death in 1887. In the words of another, "When death touched him and he slept, we all realized that one of the foremost educators of his day had gone the way of all the earth."

Dr. L. T. Fitzhugh, of the Faculty of the University of Mississippi, was elected President and Rev. W. B. Murrah, Vice President, after Dr. Johnson's death, and for eight years maintained the high standard to which the college had been brought. Especial attention was given the music department, the scope of which was extended. Dr. Fitzhugh resigned in '95 and was succeeded by Rev. John C. Chambers, who raised the course of study to conform to that of other progressive colleges and labored faithfully through six terms to bring the standard of the literary department up to the highest mark.

"Whitworth Hall," the Oldest Building at Whitworth College.

In 1900, the Board of Trustees called Dr. A. F. Watkins to the Presidency and Rev. M. L. Burton to the Vice-Presidency; and these two guided the affairs of the college through two successful years.

In 1902, Dr. I. W. Cooper was chosen President, and Rev. H. G. Hawkins Vice President, and during the past 13 years Dr. Cooper has given the best of his time and talents to the further development of the institution, materially, culturally, and aesthetically.

Material progress has attended every year of Dr. Cooper's incumbency, and the attendance yearly grows larger and larger.

The "Mary Jane Lampton Auditorium," one of the handsomest buildings of its kind to be found on a college campus in the South, stands to the credit of his unceasing efforts, as does also the beautiful center building, "Cooper Hall," which stands in the place of the "Brown House" of earlier days, and fulfills the ambitious plan of Dr. H. F. Johnson. Thus has Fate decreed that this building should be the connecting link between these two splendid administrations. The one saw a vision; the other has realized its fulfillment. On the site of the old "Calisthenics Hall" we see to-day the handsome residence of the President. Concrete walks have supplanted the graveled ones of many years, and everything for the comfort and convenience of the college family is a matter of deep concern to the President.

Dr. Cooper is a man of strong Christian character, firm and steady purpose, and untiring energy to accomplish a desired end. He is a splendid manager—a strict disciplinarian; in fact, is a combination of all the qualifications necessary for a successful college president; and his position is always fortified by a corps of thoroughly-trained teachers. The standard of Whitworth to-day is second to no school of its class, and, in its music department, it offers advantages that few colleges can equal.

The future outlook under the present administration can but point to greater achievements as the years go by, and, as one deeply interested in the continued prosperity of her Alma Mater, the writer hopes that Dr. Cooper may continue in his noble work through many years, and that his every effort may be crowned with the success which he so richly deserves.

LEON IRWIN & CO.,
Fire and Casualty Insurance
736 UNION STREET. Phone, Main 585.

THE SMALL COLLEGE.

There has been much talk in recent years of co-operative housekeeping. That this method does away with drudgery, no one questions, but it will never result in true home-making, although it might go hand in hand with the spirit of the home. And no thinking creature would suggest co-operative child-raising in preference to the time-honored one. Who among us would dream of sending a child to an orphans' asylum unless there is no other refuge? Who of us does not admire the orphan with his institutional training, who has forged ahead and succeeded, despite his handicaps? In other words, both the "world and his wife" agree that the place for the child is the home, where the finest opportunities are given for development of manly principles.

And why? For the same reasons that the home school is the best place for the boy and girl. First, the successful home has a head—a wise father, or a loving mother, who endeavors to develop the highest form of character in their offspring. The successful college, by which we mean one that best fits its students for living, has just such a head—not a mere name, a passing glimpse, as in the case of the large school—but a vivid personality, a comrade, and a chief adviser. That very point is a great one. If we are a part of all we meet, how infinitely important it is that the boys and girls associate with people of firm ideals—with those who can contribute something toward their philosophy of life. Just as the home inculcates precepts by which the child will be guided through life, so the small college, which is a home on a large scale, takes the place of the home by keeping the students in close touch with those men and women who take the place of father and mother.

Then, again, your child and mine are but one in hundreds in the large institutions, a figure-head, a unit. Because of the "greatest good to the greatest number," individuality has no consideration, and he is perforce put through the same machine, and ground along with the neighbor whose gifts are in direct opposition to his. Not that great men are not thereby produced, but that the chance for efficiency is doubled when individuality is studied, and the waste of talents reduced to a minimum. Should our children be patterned to education, or should education be suited to the needs in the case? In an atmosphere of kindly regard, where each person is given personal attention, the student forgets to remember his weaknesses, and, in the forgetting, remembers to concentrate on his strong points. Personal attention is to character what the touch of the master hand is to the empty photograph. Red Tape is non-existent in the home school; its substitute is Heart.

And, best of all, this attention is not concentrated on the mental life, but reaches out and touches the soul and the heart. Religion is usually a living thing in a small college, for there is a chance to watch the person live his professions. What a marvelous debt humanity owes to any factor which produces well-rounded character!

Truly, the small college is doing many good things—not the least of which is the manufacturing of democracy in its essence. In a huge institution, with its magnificent enrollment, the students can not know each other. All they can hope to do is to move in a limited circle, and this exclusiveness leads to cliques, and cliques to snobbishness. And snobbishness—what is worse? What brings about narrower conceptions of life? As the small college is in reality a home, and the students members thereof, it is as if one big family were working and striving together, with no pesky little "Better-Than-Thou" code, but with a constant regard for the rights of others, which regard is, after all, the foundation of all human intercourse.

B. C. H.

CENTENARY COLLEGE
Of Louisiana.

If you wish your son to receive a Literary College training in a moral and religious atmosphere, amid beautiful and healthful natural surroundings, under a faculty of competent Christian men, in a progressive city with great Protestant Churches and many public advantages, send him to

Centenary College.

If it is advisable that your son take his preparatory or high school training away from home, send him to Centenary, where, by good application, he may save one year in preparation for Freshman Class of any college.

Write for Catalogue and any Needed Information.

Rev. R. H. WYNN, President. Box 6, Shreveport, La.

CLASSIFICATION AND ITS BENEFITS.

In this article I wish to say it is the profound conviction of those who have given the matter of classification any definite and impartial study that this is what we should have for all our schools of all grades. This is necessary in setting the schools of our Church in their proper light before the world. It is strange to me that any man who has had the opportunity of informing himself regarding this important phase of our work can be opposed to it, since it makes it possible for us to live up to our claims in advertising the standards of any given school.

The fact that the General Board of Education has announced the policy regarding classification, and emphasizes the demands of the General Conference as authorized in the Educational Commission requiring all our schools to be classified, should have the approval of those who stand for the highest standards educationally.

There is not a denomination of any strength which does not adhere to the standards fixed for the classification of its schools of the several grades for which we, as a Church, stand. The difficulty with us in some quarters is that there is a passion for the name of college to be given every school where there is provision for hoarders and music advantages. The fact is, I am the person to whom Dr. H. W. Featherstun refers in his last article on "Killing Colleges," when he said that a man did not agree with him, notwithstanding this man had not read his article. It was not necessary for me to read the article in question after I had discovered from the first paragraph or two what his contention was. Not only that, but I have heard him talk, and I have read from his pen in other days; and not only that: his policy is to give any school, regardless of the character of work done, the dignity of being called a college. This was demonstrated in his success in getting the Trustees of the Mississippi Conference Training School at Montrose to apply for a change of the charter, whereby the name of the institution might be changed to Montrose College. And this without any application to the Conference to which the school belongs. Why should I have to read his articles on this subject when I have known his position for the past fifteen or twenty years? The principle involved in this question is too broad and deep for there to be any question as to the propriety or righteousness in the standards as fixed by the Educational Commission. Furthermore, the General Board has only to do its work on the basis of what it is authorized to do by the General Conference.

The Church cannot afford to be less conscientious than the State in the matter of classification, but it should be more so, if anything. If a school is nothing more than an academy in the class of work done, how can it hope to have its work accepted on a par with a college in fact? Certain qualifications are required for each class in the advancing scale, and so it should be. Why not claim that an academy is doing university work? It is just the same so far as the principle is concerned.

Classification makes it possible for each school of the Church to work on a safe, and sane, and legitimate foundation. More than this, it prevents any misrepresentation on the part of its friends or opponents. If the standards of the Church are recognized our preachers and people are in position to say what any given school does in providing an education, and what degrees or certificates are granted. This is as it should be. A degree is worth just as much as it stands for in the estimation of the Board of Education which authorizes it under certain restrictions, and no more. Let the agitation of the subject of "Killing Colleges" be dispensed with, and let all the preachers and school men of the Church do what they can to build up all our institutions upon the basis that is fixed by the authority of our law-making body—the General Conference. We cannot afford to do anything against the policy that has been decided upon, but by loyalty to it we can make good our claims to doing what we stand for educationally.

It is very gratifying to note in this connection that most of our schools are more than glad to classify since this gives them the unqualified endorsement of the General Board of Education. Not only so, but this indicates the disposition of our people to fall in line with the general policy of the Church in conducting our educational work.

The Trustees of Whitworth College have made application for classification as a "B" grade college, and there will be no difficulty in this application going through at the Annual Conference at Laurel in November of this year. With the improvements that have been made in the past three years, and a larger conception on the part of the administration, there is a great future for Whitworth. It will not be long until this will be a college of "A" grade, when we may give assurance to the membership of our Church in Mississippi of the advantages here that are equal to other schools of like grade.

Of course, it is known by all the people who are interested that Millsaps occupies the very highest grade as to classification—that of class "A". This has been so for quite a number of years, and with the increased equipment, etc., there is every reason to have great confidence in the growth and prosperity of this institution.

It is the purpose of Port Gibson Female College to classify within the time that remains by the authority of the Educational Commission. Those who are interested in this worthy institution of many years' faithful work for the Church that has given its moral and financial support will see to it that it will be placed where it can measure up to its possibilities.

The Mississippi Conference Training School, Montrose, and the Seashore Campground School, near Biloxi, are classed as academies of "A" grade, and they are doing faithful work. So it remains for just two schools to be classified—Whitworth and Port Gibson.

In conclusion, I would exhort all the brethren to follow the Discipline as nearly as possible in preaching on Christian Education, the Call to Preach, and to take care of the collection for Education, not forgetting the needs of the young men who are struggling for an education.

I am more and more convinced that our preachers should be educated in our schools and theological seminaries. They need this for the proper training they will get in doctrine, discipline, and loyalty to the institutions of the Church.

ROB'T SELBY,
Conference Sec'y of Education.

Brookhaven, Miss., Aug. 23, 1915.

"No self-absorbed person was ever joyful. Gladness is not a solitary growth."

ENLARGE YOUR DAY

Thousands of people have already learned how to enlarge their days; how to increase the time they can devote to profitable recreation and pleasure without sacrificing work that must be done.

They first discovered that the quickest and most satisfactory way to go "down town" was by the telephone.

Next they applied the same principle to their "out of town" business and social trips, and found it was even more satisfactory and proportionately much cheaper.

Do you Travel by TELEPHONE?

Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co.

(Incorporated.)

"The Institute," Whitworth College.

Secular News and Comment

By R. E. Meek.

The exports of Ceylon in 1912 were valued at $64,540,970.

* * *

The value of the mineral production of Canada in 1914 is estimated at $128,475,499.

* * *

The importation of imitation brandy has been prohibited by the Australian Government.

* * *

A damage of $5,000,000 is caused by insects and tree diseases in the United States every year.

* * *

Since her entrance into the war, Italy's income from tourists has been lessened by $20,000,000.

* * *

Five thousand carloads of canteloupes were produced in the Imperial valley of California this year.

* * *

Over $10,000,000 worth of millinery supplies are imported annually from France for the use of American women.

* * *

A woolen mill, said to be the first established there in the history of the State, is being operated in Southern California.

* * *

One hundred and twenty-five thousand women are employed as operators by telephone companies in the United States.

* * *

On August 12 representatives of the Allies cancelled contracts for 2,000,000 bushels of wheat which were to have been shipped in September.

* * *

On August 13 Col. John M. Clem, the last Civil War officer of the United States Army in active service, was retired at the age of 64 years with the rank of brigadier-general.

* * *

The issuance of an 11-cent parcel post stamp has been authorized by the Postmaster-General. It is to be dark green in color and will bear the profile head of Benjamin Franklin upon it.

* * *

The Nobel prizes for the year 1915 will amount to $38,000 each, but it is not certain that they will be awarded. Next year the new Swedish defense tax will reduce them by nearly $5000.

* * *

There has been an unusually great shortage in the amount of salmon caught off the Pacific Coast States and Alaska, and as a result the price of this canned product in the United States is likely to rise.

* * *

Opium to the amount of $20,000 was discovered and seized by officers in San Francisco's Chinatown on the night of August 12 when they made a raid upon that district of the city.

* * *

The rat-proofing campaign in New Orleans from its beginning in August, 1914, to July, 1915, cost the Federal Government $350,204.57. The fight will continue until the rodents are destroyed and the city made thoroughly rat-proof.

* * *

The Germans have chosen Archduke Charles Stephen of Austria to be king of Poland and he will be crowned in Warsaw. It is expected that a proclamation naming the new ruler on the authority of the Teutons will soon be issued. A united and self-governed Poland, under the protection of Germany, may not be exactly what the Poles would have chosen, but it may be better than their previous state of dismemberment.

* * *

Secretary Daniels, of the Navy, has created a Board of Inventions and Development which will enable our Government to get hold of and use any great inventions that Americans of inventive genius may make for increasing our efficiency in war. Thomas A. Edison is to be placed at the head of the Board. Other men likely to become members are Orville Wright, the aviation authority; Alexander Graham Bell, telephone inventor; Simon Lake, perfecter of the submarine; and Henry Ford, the automobile manufacturer. Mr. Daniels has also invited eight well known scientific societies to recommend two members each for membership.

* * *

Speaking of the number of warless years that the world has seen and of the destruction of human life occasioned by war the Christian Herald says: "From the Christian Era till the present time, as statists and historians tell us, there have been less than 240 warless years. Up to the middle of the Nineteenth Century it was roughly computed that nearly 7,000,000,000 men had died in battle since the beginning of recorded history, a number equal to almost five times the present estimated population of the globe." As great as the number of lives destroyed in war is, we dare say it is not equal to that innumerable host who have fallen victims to the excessive use of alcohol and other deadly drugs.

LOUISIANA ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE.

The Louisiana Anti-Saloon League held its annual meeting in Alexandria, August 23 and 24. Strong addresses were made by Dr. P. A. Baker, of the National Anti-Saloon League, Dr. Barton, of Texas, and others. The attendance was encouraging and much interest was manifested in the proceedings. The following officers were chosen: President, Rev. E. O. Ware of Alexandria; Secretary and Treasurer, Dr. C. P. Munday of Shreveport. The Vice-Presidents from the various congressional Districts were re-elected, as were also the members of the Board of Trustees.

The following were elected members of the National Executive Committee: H. H. White of Alexandria, O. B. Morton of Monroe, and Crow Girard of Lafayette.

The work of Rev. A. W. Turner, the State Superintendent, was highly commended.

A strong address was issued to the people of Louisiana, which we hope to have the privilege of printing in full at an early date.

PORT GIBSON FEMALE COLLEGE.

The 1915-16 session of the Port Gibson Female College will open Wednesday, September 8, 1915. The opening sermon will be preached Sunday, September 12, by Rev. J. M. Morse, pastor of the Methodist Church at Brookhaven, Miss.

We have a strong faculty—all college graduates—and have promise of a larger enrollment of pupils than we had last session.

Respectfully,

T. J. O'NEIL, President.

EMORY UNIVERSITY NOTES.

The following notes concerning Emory University, which appeared in the Wesleyan Christian Advocate of August 27, are so gratifyingly encouraging that we take pleasure in reproducing them:

"Work on the campus of Emory University is going forward with encouraging strides. Within a year it is planned to have four buildings ready for occupancy.

"A large house on Peachtree Street, next door to the Governor's mansion, and which has been used as the 'University Club' house, has been rented to accommodate the increased number who will enter the Candler School of Theology. The enrollment in this branch of the University could easily be carried to several hundred if the means were in hand to take care of them. All parts of the country will be represented in the student body next term—some coming from as far as California.

"It is hoped that the law school of the University can be opened by the fall of 1916. Already several donations have been made to the law school library.

"Additions continue to be made to the library of the University. Everything connected with the University is moving as rapidly and as hopefully as could have been expected.

"The University Academy at Oxford has a fine prospect for a good attendance, and this is also true of the College."

THE HOLMES STORE

OF NEW ORLEANS

is one of America's truly great department stores.

It has perfected a buying organization that reaches into every producing market of the world, maintaining offices in Berlin, London, Paris and Florence, as well as New York.

It never presents any merchandise that is not of good quality and equitably priced.

Its very efficient service to patrons in the city is supplemented by the largest and best-equipped mail order department of any store in the South. Ninety-eight per cent of all orders received are filled on date of receipt.

The aim of the store is to merit fully the confidence that has been manifested by the public during its seventy-two years of merchandising history.

D. H. HOLMES CO., Ltd.

TO THE PASTORS OF THE MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Dear Brethren: I have been receiving appeals from some of our old preachers that are really pathetic. One says, "I have nothing with which to pay rent; what shall I do?" Another says, "I have been sick for six weeks, my wife is in bed, and I have borrowed about all I can, but not one thing has been received from the Joint Board yet," etc. Brethren, does not this appeal to us? If not, what will?

W. M. SULLIVAN,
Sec. Joint Board of Finance.

Yazoo City, Miss.

THE WANDERING GIRL.

The old song, "Where is My Wandering Boy To-night?" can be changed a little and made to fit the wandering girl. She is quite as much the solicitude of the day as the boy is. There are so many blandishments from home that attract the girl that it is sometimes difficult to tell where she is. The papers are full of her exploits. She manages to get into company of some kind, and sometimes of a very poor kind. Her path is full of danger when away from home and from those she loves. Getting out into the world for the excitement of it proves the pitfall of many a girl. We suggest for home singing the song, "Where Is My Wandering Girl To-nigbt?"—Columbus Journal.

SORELY BEREAVED.

Rev. C. A. Battle, of Baton Rouge, La., writes: "G. P., the eleven-year old son of Rev. and Mrs. George P. White, of Plaquemine, La., was buried here this morning (August 30) at 9 o'clock. He was recovering from diphtheria when pneumonia was contracted, which proved fatal. His death occurred in Plaquemine yesterday afternoon. He was a fine little fellow, and his parents, brothers and sisters have been prostrated with grief by his sudden decease."

The Louisiana Educational Campaign

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., President

Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Sec'y

Rev. C. A. Battle, Treas., Baton Rouge, La.

(This Department is conducted by Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Secretary of Educatlon, and Rev. A. J. Gearheard, Publicity Commissioner.)

PROVE YOUR METTLE.

The offer of Mr. Blair, of Shreveport, to add $2500 to a gift of $12,500 secured hy the Conference Board of Education and the Trustees of Centenary College, on condition that that amount be ln hand by January 1, 1916, has been mentioned in these columns many times. This gift is worth obtalning. It is not so attractive as a dollar-for-dollar offer, and it does not excite us so much as does a straight gift with no conditions to meet. But it remains true that $2500 are not picked up every day, and $12,500 is no small amount to find before getting the $2500 gift. The task looks big to a body of men who are busy with pastoral duties, but the goal ls so attractive. With $15,000 in the treasury, we could safely make plans that would ultimately materialize ln large things.

The real need of Centenary College is endowment. To secure endowment is difficult when at every turn of the road you meet hills due for present running expenses. When members of the Board of Educatlon get together to plan a campaign, at once the matter of expense looms up. When we would inform the Methodists of the State as to our plans or our needs, up bobs the need of money. If we would employ a field secretary to finance a great forward movement we are compelled to send him forth with the responsibility of raising his own salary, and he faces every man of means knowing that the man knows that his gift must needs be milked in order to pay the secretary. All these and many other things are aggravating facts.

Now let us turn over another leaf. There are 35,000 Methodists in Louisiana. Methodists are worth more than a million dollars ln many instances. Methodists are heavy stockholders ln large lumber concerns, oil companies, railroads, sulphur mines, and steamship companies. Methodists run big farms, marble-floored banks, mahogany-countered mercantile businesses, and great publishing enterprises. Methodists are doctors, lawyers, dentists, officers ln high places, and editors of leading journals. Ours ls not a poor Church. Our members are up to the standard of any Conference. Our preachers are men of learning and capable of aggressive leadership. As a group, there ls scarcely a stronger aggregation of men found anywhere than assemble every year in the sessions of the Louisiana Conference. With such a credit of assets and the task of raising $12,000 before us, what manner of men are we if we lay down or fail?

If a little city with 2000 population finds itself needing a new school house it ls a matter of short work for its citizens to vote $15,000 for the new building. If a township needs a big drainage ditch run across it a drainage district ls soon organized and $50,000 worth of bonds are floated with but little trouble. And so it ls ln all other things that are of material consequence. If every Methodist would give 40 cents, we would have the amount and to spare. Another "if," please: If every pastor in Louisiana will just buckle ln for one week and make a thorough search of his field, we will meet the terms laid down by Mr. Blair and none will feel the pinch.

We wonder if our preachers are ready to prove their mettle ln this emergency. We wonder if they will open the door of their charges to a representative of the Board of Education and pave the way by preaching in favor of the giving of this money. We wonder if our preachers will take the lead aggressively enough to write to our Secretary, Rev. W. W. Drake, or President Wynn, and state that their charges are ready for a Centenary Campaign at any time. Now, for a real test of what our Church in Louisiana thinks of her own college and how willing she is to do the right thing for her future welfare.

THE CHURUCH COLLEGE AND LAY EFFICIENCY.

By Rev. R. H. Wynn, D.D.

The need of the Church school for the purpose of ministerial supply and training and for the creating of missionary volunteers is perhaps better realized than the need of the Church school to produce efficient lay leadership. I have recently made some observations in Louisiana, and if the case is as strong in other States as here, it ls strong indeed. Notwithstanding the fact that Louisiana Methodists have not been specially loyal in patronizing Church schools, that our college for men ls not yet well endowed and that our State schools have more Methodists than any other single denomination, yet when inquiry ls made concerning the leading laymen in our churches who have had higher educational advantages, it is found that the percentage which attended religious schools is almost as great as that of the ministry. Among the leading Methodist Sunday school superintendents, adult class leaders, and other Church officials, one looks ln vain for any considerable number who attended our Louisiana State colleges. A few are found who attended non-denominational colleges ln other States, while it ls safe to say that at least 85 per cent attended religious institutions under the direction of the Church. A few instances may be given. In First Church, Shreveport, the Sunday school superintendent, the teacher of a great men's class and the teacher of a splendid class of boys in the "teen" age are all Church school men. In First Church, Alexandria, the same thing ls true of the superintendent and teacher of men's class. The leading layman in Monroe ls a Church school graduate. Similar statements with variations may he given of the churches ln Ruston, Baton Rouge, Rayne Memorial (New Orleans), Morgan City, New Iberia, Lafayette, Lake Charles, and others.

Judson's saying that "the Church school ls the seed corn of the Church" has a larger application than to the production of missionaries.

The Church ls crying out not only for trained ministers, but also for laymen who can organize, teach, inspire, as well as support with money, and to her schools must she look for the supply. In the past our schools have not done much ln the way of providing definite religious courses ln their curricula, but merely by means of the Christian atmosphere they have sent out men with church loyalty and enthusiasm for religious service. How much greater results may we expect from them when these special courses are developed.—From the Western Methodist (Little Rock, Ark.).

Bishop J. C. Kilgo has been made President Emeritus of Trinity College.

MEETING OF THE EDUCATIONAL COMMISSION.

The Educational Commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, held a meeting in Dallas, Texas, August 26-27. The following members were present: Bishop W. A. Candler, Bishop W. B. Murrah, Bishop J. H. McCoy, Dr. A. J. Lamar, of Nashville, Dr. P. T. Durham of Atlanta, Dr. F. J. Prettyman of Baltimore, Dr. W. D. Bradfield of Dallas, Mr. Asa G. Candler and Mr. W. D. Thomson of Atlanta, Mr. G. T. Fitzhugh of Memphis, Mr. W. M. G. Thomas of Chattanooga, and Judge J. E. Cockrell of Dallas. Bishop J. C. Kilgo, Dr. John P. Scott of Shreveport, Mr. T. T. Fishburne of Roanoke and Mr. H. R. Fitzgerald of Danville, Va., were not in attendance. The sessions of the Commission were executive and its proceedings have not yet been made public. We take the following from The Dallas Morning News of Friday, August 27:

"The purpose of the Dallas Conference is to discuss in detail the affairs of the Southern Methodist University located in this city and to promulgate such policies and principles as will contribute to the realization of the plan for a great educational institution in Dallas, where all the educational forces of the Church west of the Mississippi River, at least, can be centered. Bishop W. A. Candler said yesterday. 'We are here to give this institution such a connectional character as will extend its constituency.'"

While the members of the Commission were in Dallas, much attention and many courtesies were shown them. They were given a luncheon by the Rotary Club at the Oriental Hotel, at which there was special music and short talks by Bishops Candler, Murrah, and McCoy, Dr. Prettyman, and others. We quote again from The Dallas News:

"The speakers stressed the great importance to Dallas, to Texas, and to all the South of the educational plans typified by the Southern Methodist University. The gathering was informal and the Rotarians, in a personal way, assured the members of the Educational Commission that all Dallas citizens appreciate the fact that the Southern Methodist University is one of the most valuable assets of the city and that their organization was honored at entertaining those at the head of the Educational affairs of the Church.

"After a visit to the University yesterday afternoon, members of the Commission expressed satisfaction with the present condition of that institution and great confidence in its future prospects."

A 'phone message from Rev. R. M. Brown, of this city, last Tuesday, just as we were closing our forms, brought the welcome news that Brother and Sister H. N. Brown, of Lake Arthur, La., who came to New Orleans for medical treatment some two weeks ago, were at his house and that both were rapidly improving. They expect to return home this week.

COTTAGE COLONY, NEAR HAMMOND, LA.
FOR THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.
Pine forest, artesian water, hot and cold baths, no dust or noise. Physicians' attention, Graduate nurse's service and drugs furnished.
Rates, $10 per Week and Up.
Address Dr. E. L. McGehee, Hammond, La.
City Office, 923 Maison Blanche Bldg.

DR. THADDEUS P. BELL
Practice Limited to the Medical and Surgical Treatment of the
EYE, EAR, NOSE & THROAT
And the Correction of Errors of Vision.
814 Audubon Bldg., New Orleans, La.

BUY LUMBER FROM
W. W. CARRE CO., Ltd.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

WHITWORTH COLLEGE COMMENDED.

Dear Mr. Editor: The season of the year is at hand when parents are anxious as to where to send their daughters to school, because they all realize that the school life of a young lady means much to her future success, both literary and religious. A mistake made in the selection of a school for your daughter is irrevocable.

For years I have been acquainted with Whitworth College, but for the past eight months I have been pastor of the Methodist Church in Brookhaven and during the scholastic term I had the young ladies with me every Sunday. I have studied very closely the President and Faculty and wish to commend them most highly to the Christian public. Dr. Cooper and his able Faculty look closely after the interests of each pupil. The students are cared for as if they were members of the same family. As much interest is shown in their religious as in their literary development. No one need be uneasy about either if their daughters attend Whitworth College.

The health of the school is unsurpassed. The fine artesian water, the high and dry climate, and the splendid buildings and campus make it a most desirable place for any young lady who wishes an ideal college life. Sincerely yours,

J. M. MORSE.

WANTED—A housekeeper, middle aged; my wife is in bad health; we want a good woman to care for the baby, which is eighteen months old. Address H. L. Bridges, Minden, La.

"Jesus choose humble fishermen to be his first followers, and God, through all the ages, is calling ordinary men to be his witness-bearers and to tell to others the story of his love and grace."

—ARTIFICIAL LIMBS, ORTHOPEDIC—
APPARATUS, ELASTIC HOSIERY,
TRUSSES, CRUTCHES, ETC.
(Catalogues mailed on request)

The McDermott Surgical Instrument Company, Limited.

734-738 POYDRAS STREET
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Church News

Dr. Shailer Mathews, Dean of the Divinity School of the University of Chicago, has been elected President of the National Convention of Northern Baptists.

* * *

It is stated that the late Bishop McIntyre, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who was a remarkably brilliant man in the pulpit and on the platform, did not leave a single manuscript of any sermon or lecture delivered by him.

* * *

The circulation of the Scriptures is said to be steadily increasing in Korea. The sale of Bibles was more than twice as large in 1913 as it was in 1912, and two and a half times as large in 1914 as it was in 1913.

* * *

The Wesleyan Christian Advocate says: "Mr. Asa G. Candler was a few days ago elected President of the Atlanta and St. Andrews' Bay Railroad, which runs from Dothan, Ala., to Panama City, on the Gulf Coast of Florida, a distance of 82 miles."

* * *

Ex-Governor Frank J. Hanly, of Indiana, who has been doing so much to promote the cause of National prohibition, is soon to become the editor of a paper. We dare say that the journal through which he speaks will sound a clear and definite note on all moral questions.

* * *

The St. Louis Christian Advocate refers to Bishop Roberts as "the first married man ever elected to the episcopacy in Methodism." One respect, at least, in which Methodism has improved is that bachelors are no longer to the fore, as they were in the days agone.

* * *

Zion's Herald of August 11 carried an excellent picture of Bishop Collins Denny on the cover-page, and printed in full his sermon delivered at Northfield, Mass., on August 1. The Bishop's theme on that occasion was "Mary Magdalene, the Power of Love," and his message was a strong and scholarly one.

* * *

It is stated that at Chautauqua, New York, the largest "assembly" in the United States, the old-fashioned Sunday still has sway. No Sunday papers are sold, no steamboats or trolley cars stop, and there is no automobile or boat riding. No one is allowed to pass through the gate without special permission, and this is said to be given only in cases of necessity. We suspect that this is largely due to the influence of Bishop J. H. Vincent, who lately has resigned as the Chancellor of Chautauqua and has been succeeded by his son, Mr. George E. Vincent, President of the University of Minnessota.

* * *

Mr. C. J. Nugent, Jr., who lately has been elected one of the Divisional Sunday School Secretaries of the M. E. Church, South, is a son of Rev. C. J. Nugent, of the Kentucky Conference, and a nephew of the late Col. W. L. Nugent, of Jackson, Miss., who was one of the most eminent lawyers in this section of the South. He is a layman.

* * *

Ralph Connor, the well known writer, who some months ago went to France as the chaplain of a Canadian regiment, has recently returned home with some of the wounded. He says that the present struggle is a war of weapons rather than a war of men, and that the gravity of the situation seems to be becoming increasingly apparent to discerning Englishmen.

* * *

The relation between the Independent Methodists and the Wesleyan Reform Union Conference, both in England, is said to be very close and there is talk of their uniting. Each of these bodies has over 8000 members, and they are the only branches of Methodism in the British Isles that had a numerical increase during the past year.

* * *

All who go to Lake Junaluska, N. C., bear witness to the fact that the leading spirit in the development of that promising Southern Methodist Chautauqua is Bishop James Atkins; but he has been fortunate in having as his active coworker that prince of Methodist laymen, Mr. J. R. Pepper, of Memphis, Tenn. This extensive enterprise now seems to be an assured success.

* * *

The Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas, has lately been the recipient of several generous gifts. Among these were $12,000 from the brother of a prominent Texas preacher, and lands valued at $10,000 by a citizen of Oklahoma. A Dallas Methodist lady recently, after looking over the University grounds, left her check for $1000 to aid in improving them, and pledged $1500 more for the same purpose.

MARGARET HALL (WHITWORTH COLLEGE).

President's Home, at Whitworth College.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT?

By E. H. Rawlings.

In 1890, 25 years ago, the per capita foreign mission assessment upon the Church was 29 cents. From 1890 to 1914 the aggregate assessment increased from $350,000 to $400,000 only. But since the membership of the Church was increasing so much more rapidly all the time, of course the per capita assessment was decreasing, till in 1914 the per capita assessment was less than 20 cents. Now, in the twenty-four years intervening from 1890 to 1914 the assessment for every other claim of the Church had been increased, going forward for superannuates an aggregate of 100 per cent, for Conference missions 200 per cent, and for Church Extension 218 per cent. But since, as we have seen above, the assessment for foreign missions in the same twenty-four years had increased in the aggregate so little, just 15 per cent—the per capita had decreased 30 per cent.

To be sure, the income of the Mission Board has greatly increased, and from two causes: (1) The Woman's Missionary Society has developed its work very largely in twenty-five years and makes a good offering; and (2) a few churches, disregarding the assessment, maybe 700 in all, are paying liberal Specials. But the Woman's Missionary Society reaches only a very small section of the Church's membership, and while 700 churches are paying Specials, about 16,000 that do not pay Specials are still working at the assessment, and only at the assessment.

This, then, is what the present situation in the Church with reference to the missionary assessment means: Over against the greatest missionary opportunity the world ever saw, nine-tenths of our churches pay, and only try to pay, the assessment as the ultimate goal of their missionary endeavor—at the end of the greatest missionary generation the world ever saw, in 1914 nine-tenths of our loved Southern Methodism were not only doing less per member, but doing 25 per cent less for the world's evangelization than at its beginning.

That is why in 1914 the Foreign Mission assessment was increased to 25 cents per member, and why, since that 25 cents a member is 4 cents less than it was 25 years ago, little or no complaint has been made through the Church against the little raise of 5 cents a member; and why, mainly, at the present moment it begins to look as if the membership of the Church, awakening to the real situation, will meet without grudging this small advance, and we are hoping that the largest percentage on the assessment, even in this war year, will be paid that was ever paid in our history.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 18, 1915.

JUGGLING WITH FIGURES.

In the August issue of "Facts," a liquor paper published in New Orleans, that paper so juggles with figures as to make it appear that there is more crime committed in dry than in wet parishes of Louisiana.

Every one who believes that there is more yellow fever in New Orleans than before its cause was removed, please stand up.

Every one who believes that there are more rats in New Orleans than before war was made on them and rat-proofing was inaugurated, please tell Dr. Oscar Dowling.

All those who believe that there are more mosquitoes in the Panama zone than there was before the breeding cause was removed, tell it to Surgeon-General Gorgas, the man who conquered the mosquitoes in Panama.

Everybody who believes that there is more crime committed in dry than in wet territory since the prolific cause of crime has been removed, please hurry to the asylum for the insane.

I would like for some one to explain the philosophy of how removing the cause eradicates all evil created by that cause, except in the case of liquor drinking, when, according to the opinion of some, the evil is magnified two-fold. Will "Facts" please explain?

It is said that figures never lie, but they can be so juggled with as to make them tell most anything. Now, one can so juggle with figures as to subtract 15 from 45 and the remainder will still be 45.

I guarantee that a prohibitionist can take these same figures used by this whiskey paper and reverse the order.

There is only one item of real crime mentioned in the tabulation of these figures, and it is: two hanged in dry and six hanged in wet parishes—one to three in favor of the dry.

The other items are simply offenses, and I venture to say they were for illegal sales of liquor, all of which was furnished by brewers and liquor dealers in order to discredit prohibition.

Nine hundred and sixty-one sentenced to jail, and fines imposed on 2305 indicates that the authorities are quite active against the liquor dealers' proteges, which must net a good amount that the brewers are still paying into the treasury, and at the same time there is less serious crime than with open saloons.

Meridian, Miss. D. S. HARMON.

The New York Christian Advocate calls attention to the fact that the Moravian Church, which spiritually represents John Huss, the martyr, leads all other Christian bodies in its devotion to missions, and affirms that if the Methodist Episcopal Church were to give proportionately to that cause its contributions, instead of being $3,000,000 a year, would amount to more than $50,000,000 per annum.

A SICK MULE
A SICK MULE
Needs Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic.
It relieves and cures COLIC and BOTS promptly and permanently.
At all Druggists.
25 and 50 Cents
Also in quart bottles.
Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: No. 512 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor.
CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Entered at the Postoffice at New Orleans as Second-class Mail Matter.

TERMS:
One Copy, one year, $1.50; eight months, $1.00. To preachers of all denominations, $1.00

PUBLISHING COMMITTEE:
Louisiana Conference—Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., Rev. W. W. Drake, Rev. C. B. Carter.
Mississippi Conference—Rev. I. W. Cooper, D.D., Rev. C. W. Crisler, Rev. T. W. Adams.
North Mississippi Conference—Rev. W. W. Woollard, Rev. H. S. Spragins, Mr. J. D. Barbee.

Editorial

OUR SCHOOLS.

The following is a list of the Methodist Schools in our patronizing territory: Louisiana Conference—Centenary College, at Shreveport, and Mansfield College, at Mansfield. Mississippi Conference — Whitworth College, at Brookhaven; Port Gibson Female College, at Port Gibson, and the Mississippi Conference Training School, at Montrose. North Mississippi Conference — Grenada College, at Grenada.

Millsaps College, at Jackson, Miss., is owned and operated jointly by the two Mississippi Conferences; the Seashore Campground School, near Biloxi, is maintained by the Conferences interested in the Seashore Campground property, and Louisiana and Mississippi are, furthermore, a part of the patronizing territory of our two new Universities in Dallas and Atlanta, which now also have a claim upon our people for support.

All of these institutions will he opening in a few days, and we trust that each of them will have a large attendance of students. We do not believe that our people, when all things are considered, can do as well for their sons and daughters hy sending them elsewhere as they can by placing them in these schools. They have comfortable buildings, capable instructors, and the moral and religious influences about them are the best to be found anywhere. The development of right principles and a sound character is the most essential thing in the work of education, and this undoubtedly can best he done in institutions that are uncompromisingly and avowedly Christian. Let all our pastors do everything in their power during the few remaining days of the vacation season to send our young people to our own colleges. And, by all means, let them direct attention specifically to them from their pulpits next Sunday, Sept. 5, as was recently suggested by Dr. W. G. Henry, of Jackson, Miss.

FROM SELFISHNESS TO SELFISHNESS.

In distant California lives a wonderful man, who has been called "The Wizard of the West." He is not an evil genius, changing men under his baleful eye into horrid and grotesque shapes hy the waving of a wand, or weird incantations over a seething caldron. But he is a wizard of nature, who has learned the secrets of the flowers, and developed rare and lovely things from inferior forms. When a boy, back among the eastern hills of his birth, it is said that Luther Burhank was passionately fond of the common field daisy. It seemed to him a kind of outcast, for every passing heel trod it down into its mother earth. And an achievement of real love, after he had become the great "Wizard," was the development of the beautiful daisy, which may now he seen blooming profusely everywhere in the springtime.

Certainly the field daisy was growing before Mr. Burhank was horn. It sprang up in a thousand meadows far and wide, hut it lived a small, inconspicuous and insignificant life. It lived a narrow life. It grew so close to earth that it was often unseen by the man whose heel crushed it, broken and dead, into the soil.

When the "Wizard" touched it with magic hand, it was transformed into a thing of beauty. For there was a richer life for it to live, not hy any real magic, after all; hut hy the best use of its native powers and possihilities, under the control of a higher power which had come that it might have life, and that it might have it more ahundantly.

So there is a higher life for man to live. Even upon the plane of the daisy, there is a larger life for man. The wreck of midnight debauch and revelry still exists, but disease has fastened upon his frame, and death is following hard after. For nature will not pardon—her laws are as unalterahle as the decree which cast Daniel into the den of lions. There is a larger life for men to live—hy obedience to the laws of their physical being.

The same is true of the larger life of the intellect. And science, music, art, literature and philosophy have greatly enriched the life of man.

But the loftiest achievements of men have ever had in them a sense of the incomplete, and this sense of the incomplete gives to such achievements their real value. The genius of poetry, the spell of music, and the beauty of art, lie in the charm of the incomplete. True art, music and poetry are infinite in their appeal. They never grow old, because they delineate, even though with dim and shadowy outlines, pictures not actually seen on the canvass, because they set men to "reading between the lines," and because they give men, even in a vague way, a sense of that harmony which should exist between all things, and especially between man and God. Their worth lies in their power of directing men's thoughts toward the complete. They are the longings of men for heaven. They teach us that there is a life beyond art itself, hut they can not reveal that life in its fullness.

How beautiful, then, that revelation which brings to us that life in its fullness! How precious the revealed One, who came that we might have life, and that we might have it more ahundantly! He is one who knows the laws of our being, and all our possihilities and powers. Under his control, we can, hy the best use of our own native faculties and powers, live the larger life.

This word life refers to more than the independent existence which hegins with the cry of the new-horn hahe. It refers to more than the round of human activities which begins with the cradle, and ends with the grave. Otherwise the mission of Jesus might have been to the heasts of the jungle, and to "the cattle upon the thousand hills." Instead of drawing from the sheep of the pasture an illustration of his mission, he might have confined his ministry to the sheep.

The empty tomh means more to us than the mere hope of eternal existence. Without a Savior, eternal life would be a greater tragedy than eternal death. Life is an unending thing. It is uninterrupted hy the hour of physical dissolution. But the empty tomh proclaims more than a mere unending existence—it proclaims to all men the possihility of an unending existence of righteousness. Jesus comes to give men a larger life here, and through all eternity. It is a life of love, the fullest life, the richest life, a life in which man fulfills the law of his heing, and attains his true destiny.

Jesus invites men to come after him by denying themselves, by taking up their crosses and following him. Perhaps we often wrongly interpret this crucifixion of self, perhaps we sometimes believe that to follow Christ means the complete crushing of self. Is there not an old hymn which runs, "O to he nothing?" Whether there he or not, this seems to be the burden of some messages, and the hurden of some confessions. We must strive to he nothing— a kind of Hindu doctrine—that hy the negation of self, and the crushing of personality, we may sink at last into the one great soul of things.

But, in thus doing, we wrongly interpret the Lord's invitation to discipleship. He does not invite us to he nothing, hut to he something. True, he demands that we deny ourselves, but that means the denial of the old, wicked and sinful selves. But he does this to develop in us a larger self. For said he, "Whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the Gospel's, the same shall save it." He demands that we deny a narrow and wicked selfishness, that we come into a large and nohle selfishness. "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more ahundantly." He came to hring us to the right kind of selfishness, to a higger self, to a nobler self.

In the Middle Ages, a large Austrian army invaded Switzerland. As they advanced to battle, their lines "looked like a solid wall of steel." How could the few heroic men of the mountains hope to hreak through such a deadly phalanx? But one man rushed forward, wildly crying, "Make way for liherty!" and threw himself upon the gleaming spears. With widely-extended arms, he gathered twelve of those hristling lances into his grasp, and alas! drew more than one into his own devoted heart. But in that hour Arnold of Winkelried waxed into a colossal self, big as all Switzerland. For the hreach thus made gave his countrymen the victory.

On the cross, Jesus of Nazareth waxed into a mighty self, that of all humanity. And through him we may rise from a narrow, mean, and sordid selfishness, into a hig and nohle selfishness. Complete unselfishness is the only way to a saving selfishness.

"Who seeks for heaven alone to save his soul
May keep the path, hut will not reach the goal;
While he who walks in love may wander far,
But God will bring him where the Blessed are."

R. H. H.

OBVIOUSLY ALARMED.

The fact that the liquor forces in the United States are hecoming alarmed at the growing strength of the prohibition movement is clearly attested by the extensive and extraordinary propaganda that they are carrying on throughout the country. Periodicals are heing estahlished at strategic points, a large amount of space is being purchased in the great dailies and used to set forth their contentions, and manuals and pamphlets designed to combat the views of those who are advocating the abolishment of the saloon are heing issued and scattered broadcast among the people. The men engaged in the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors are keenly alive to the situation and know full well that they have a tremendous battle on their hands if they are to avert the destruction of the nefarious business in which they are engaged and which has so long cursed the American Nation, and they are swiftly bringing into requisition all the resources at their command and are making a desperate struggle to stem the rising temperance tide.

We scarcely need to say that the literature which they are producing and sending out is illogical, specious, and utterly untrustworthy. It would be unreasonable to expect it to he otherwise, hecause the liquor traffic is not susceptible of fair and legitimate defense. To tell the truth concerning it is to draw an overwhelming and unanswerable indictment against it. But while anything written in favor of the open saloon may be depended upon to he sophistical and more or less misleading, two things that its champions have lately been doing are to an unusual degree offensively objectionable. One of them is the manner in which they have been taking the eminent statesmen of our early history, such as Washington, Jackson, Jefferson, Madison, and others, and, after printing portraits of them and recounting a few of the salient facts of their careers, proclaiming that they were defenders of individual liherty, stating that the liquor business was launched with a firm reliance upon the principles for which they stood, and affirming that if they were living to-day they would be unyieldingly opposed to prohibition. This is taking liberties with the Nation's illustrious dead that ought not to be permitted. The best interpreter of the principles adhered to by these great men as they were embodied in the Federal Constitution is the Supreme Court of the United States, and when the so-called rights of the liquor traffic under that remarkable instrument have been brought before that august tribunal they usually have been swept aside and declared to be non-existent. There is no warrant or justification for any living man to affirm that these celebrities if now upon the stage of action would be against all legislation designed to rid our country of the awful curse of the rum traffic. What their position would be, no one, of course, can state with absolute certainty, but the probabilities are that with the evils of intemperance having grown incomparably worse and with the increased information of this day, they would, if now among us, stand fully abreast with the better element of our citizenship in the promotion of this urgently needed reform. To have their honored names invoked as endorsers of the disreputable business that regards no law and which is destroying hundreds of thousands of our people annually, and in favor of which they never spoke a word or wrote a line, does them a rank injustice; and it is somewhat surprising that newspapers claiming to be respectable would even for money become parties to such a reprehensible course of procedure. When they do this they lend color to the oft-heard charge that the secular press has become so thoroughly commercialized that it now has little patriotism or adherence to principle.

The other specially objectionable thing that the liquor traffic proponents have been undertaking to do is to pervert the Holy Scriptures and make it appear that they encourage the use of strong drink. Books garbling the utterances of the sacred writers have been prepared, printed, and given a wide circulation. Not even our Lord himself has been spared from these misrepresentations. Of course, people of intelligence will not be impressed by these weak perversions of God's Word—the liquor men themselves, we dare say, do not hope for that. These appeals doubtless are intended to influence the ignorant and unthinking part of our population, which unhappily is a considerable percentage of it. Such teaching cannot be ignored as not worth taking account of without hurtful consequences. It needs to be exposed and combated. The light should be turned on every phase of the liquor traffic in such a manner that all the people can see it as it really is. When this is done, the days of its existence will be numbered. The saloon advocates know this, and that is the reason they are so energetically endeavoring to confuse the facts and mislead the public. They are badly frightened and they are to-day showing an uneasiness such as they have never before exhibited. These frantic efforts should be met with increased activity upon the part of the prohibitionists. No greater triumph for humanity is possible in these opening decades of the twentieth century than the complete obliteration of this most gigantic evil of the ages.

PERSONAL AND OTHER NOTES.

Rev. L. E. Crooks began a series of revival services at Forrest Hill, La., last Saturday night.

Rev. W. H. Saunders, of Fernwood, Miss., assisted in a revival meeting at Brandywine, in Copiah County, last week.

Dr. H. G. Henderson will begin a revival campaign at Sardis, Miss., on October 24. He will have with him Evangelist J. O. Haines, of Birmingham, Ala.

This number of the Advocate bears the date of September 2. Our Annual Conferences are almost in sight. The work that remains to be done this year must be done quickly.

How about that club of six months' trial subscriptions from your charge? The time during which you may use this offer to introduce the Advocate into the homes of your people is rapidly passing.

According to the Magnolia (Miss.) Gazette, Dr. I. W. Cooper, President of Whitworth College, was scheduled to preach at Fernwood last Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m. and at Magnolia at the evening hour.

We are grateful to Rev. W. W. Mitchell, our diligent pastor at West Point, Miss., for some subscriptions to the Advocate, sent in a few days since. Brother Mitchell is having a successful pastorate in his present field.

Rev. D. R. McDougal sounds an optimistic note from Kossuth, Miss. He says: "God has been good to us in this charge. He has blessed us with great revivals, such as have not been had in this field in years. The outlook is promising."

Dr. Sawyer left Tuesday for Sun, La., to help Rev. J. S. Rutledge in a revival meeting at that place. The Doctor has engaged Rev. John Stafford to fill for him his preaching engagement next Sunday at the McDonoghville Methodist Church.

The following friends, to whom acknowledgment has not been made elsewhere, have our thanks for two or more subscriptions to the Advocate, sent in within the past few days: Rev. L. M. Lipscomb, Booneville, Miss., 2; Dr. H. F. Tolle, Biloxi, Miss., 5.

Recently while J. M. Cooley, of the Enterprise and Stonewall charge (Miss. Conf.), was away from home engaged in evangelistic work, his pulpit was acceptably filled by Rev. Leland Clegg, a promising young local preacher of the Pachuta and Quitman work. He was greeted by large and attentive congregations.

Rev. C. R. A. Brantley, who is in charge of the Indianola Mission of the North Mississippi Conference, sends us a report of some good meetings in his field which reached us too late for this issue of the Advocate, but which will be printed next week. Brother Brantley's labors are being rewarded by a good measure of success.

Rev. J. A. Hall, of Grenada, Miss., who is in his fourth year in his present responsible pastorate, reports that his work is progressing well. We are sorry to learn that Brother Hall's son, Ray, has for some weeks been wrestling with a case of typhoid fever, but we are happy to state that he is now thought to be convalescent.

Rev. A. W. O'Bryant, of Moscow, Miss., writes: "We have just closed a good meeting at Mellen Church, with 12 additions and more to follow. The pastor did all the preaching. Rev. J. R. Jones, of Meridian, assisted me at Hopewell, where we had 2 accessions. Rev. J. F. McLeiland is with me now in a revival meeting at Shiloh."

Brother H. R. Thompson and his wife, of Carrollton, Miss., have been in New Orleans for some days, having come here to secure medical treatment for the latter. Sister Thompson has undergone a serious operation at the Touro Infirmary, which she is said to have stood reasonably well. We trust that she will soon be much improved.

Rev. W. T. Woodward, of Sicily Island, La., says: "I know a splendid Christian physician, who is a member of the M. E. Church, South, and whose family would be an addition to any community, who is available for a new location. Any one who knows of a locality that needs his services may communicate with me in regard to the matter."

In a personal note to the Editor, Rev. Briscoe Carter, presiding elder of the Ruston District, appends the following items of interest: "Rev. J. G. Snelling recently closed a fine meeting at Homer, in which he was assisted by Rev. H. R. Singleton of St. Louis. There were 40 accessions to the Church. Brother Faulk at Sibley has had 97 additions this year. The prospects are encouraging."

Rev. J. R. Jones, pastor of the Central M. E. Church, South, of Meridian, Miss., writes: "We are to begin a revival here on September 5. All the Methodist Churches here are united in the movement. Rev. G. A. Klein, of Nashville, Tenn., will do the preaching. He will have Mr. and Mrs. Boyd with him to lead the music. We have built a great tabernacle and will continue the services for five or six weeks."

We are informed that Rev. and Sister R. A. Davis, of the Louisiana Conference, who have been residing in New Orleans, are now living with their son and daughter, Mr. Robert B. Davis and Miss May Davis, at York Place, a suburb of Houston, Texas. They have lately suffered a misfortune, in that their home was seriously damaged by the severe storm that recently swept over that section. Their many friends in this State will regret to learn this.

Writing from Clarksburg, Miss., on August 26, Rev. J. W. Evans says: "We have recently closed our meetings at Pulaski and Independence. The Lord was with us and we had two gracious revivals. There were 14 additions to the Church on profession of faith and two by certificate, and 3 infants were baptized. Rev. J. F. Williams, of Gloster, did the preaching. We will begin our meeting at Lodebar to-night and we are praying for a great spiritual awakening."

Rev. F. N. Sweeney, under date of August 20, writes as follows: "Our meeting at Fisher, on the Franklinton Circuit, closed last night. There were 10 accessions on profession of faith, the Church was greatly revived, and one worthy young man, Brother George St. Cry, was called to preach. He expects to attend Centenary College. Rev. R. A. Bozeman assisted me. His preaching was good, and the Lord blessed it to the good of those in attendance."

Rev. W. W. Woollard, presiding elder of the Columbus (Miss.) District, writes: "Rev. B. F. M. Bullard, our pastor on the Sturgis Circuit, is in bed with an attack of typhoid fever. He has been ill for a month, but is now improving and will probably be up in a short while. Rev. O. L. Savage and Rev. W. L. Graves have held two of his meetings, and Rev. W. M. Young and I will hold the others." We regret to be informed of Brother Bullard's illness, but are pleased to know that the indications now point to his early recovery.

President R. E. Bobbitt, of Mansfield College, says: "Our Faculty is by far the largest that we have ever had at Mansfield and is much the best paid. They have obtained their training at the best equipped institutions in the country, and, in my judgment, they are in point of efficiency the peers of any instructors to be found in State institutions; and in addition to this they are intent upon maintaining the very highest ideals of Christian life and character." Mansfield College is undoubtedly prepared to do a high grade of work and it is to be hoped that it will open with the largest attendance in its history.

A letter from Rev. G. P. White, of Plaquemine, La., written last week, but which reached us too late to be mentioned in the last issue of the Advocate, brought the alarming information that a malignant type of diphtheria had broken out in his family, and that one of his children was thought to be convalescent and another at death's door. Since then the press dispatches have announced the death of G. P. White, Jr., which occurred on the night of August 29. We deeply sympathize with Brother White and the other sorrowing loved ones in their sore bereavement. Let them be earnestly remembered at the throne of grace in this trying hour.

Rev. R. W. Vaughan, Manager of the Louisiana Orphans' Home at Ruston, was in New Orleans Thursday of last week and paid the Advocate office an appreciated call. Brother Vaughan stated that the 103 children now in the Home were all well and that all the affairs of the institution were progressing favorably. He desired us to announce that the third Saturday in October will be observed throughout the Conference as "Work Day" and that a campaign will be conducted to make that occasion a success in every respect. Brother Vaughan is doing a great work, but with the facilities at his command he cannot begin to meet the many demands that are made upon him to take children from all parts of the State. More room is urgently needed.

Rev. R. C. Elliott, one of our missionaries, who has remained faithfully at his post in Mexico City all through the present ruinous war, reached New Orleans by boat last Friday and left that night over the Southern Pacific Railroad for San Antonio, where his family has been for some time. Brother Elliott was far from well and clearly showed that he was in need of rest. We are pleased to know that he has been granted a leave of absence and will now have an opportunity to try to recuperate physically. He is an interesting man and a most capable and consecrated worker.

TO OUR PREACHERS.

The management of this Advocate has decided to let our preachers and agents offer six months trial subscriptions at 50 cents during August, September and October. This offer will be withdrawn on the 10th of November, 1915. Subscriptions must be sent in in clubs and money orders used in making remittances so as to save expense.

In soliciting new subscribers, please explain to them that the six months' subscriptions are taken with the understanding that, after their expiration, the regular rate of $1.50 will be charged for annual subscriptions unless they are ordered canceled.

We are making this offer for a three-fold purpose:

First—To build up our subscription list before the annual meeting of the Publishing Committee.

Second—To get funds to help tide us over the summer and fall months.

Third—To induce our Methodist people to take the Conference Organ and read it.

DR. H. B. BARTLETT
National Dental Parlors
Cor. Canal & Camp Sts.
ENTRANCE 108 CAMP
Phone Main 2193
NEW ORLEANS
Vitalized Air for Painless Extraction
Crown and Bridge Specialist
The Largest and Best Equipped Dental Parlors South.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE
DIRECT TRAINS TO
New York
Cincinnati
Birmingham
PULLMAN SLEEPERS, DINING CARS.
— The Scenic Route —
TICKET OFFICE:
211 ST. CHARLES STREET.
Depot, Terminal Station, Canal St.
Phone, Main 2939.

—THE—
Louisiana & Arkansas
RAILWAY
Announces the sale by its Ticket Agents at——
Alexandria, Shreveport, Winnfield, Minden, Sibley, Cotton Valley, Trout, Jena, and Jonesville, Louisiana,
——OF——
INTERCHANGEABLE THOUSAND MILE BOOKS
Good on All Roads in Louisiana.
Save Money by buying one of these Books.
B. S. ATKINSON, General Passenger Agent.

WHEN IT COMES, BE PREPARED.

The SAFE and SAVING WAY of Insuring Church and Pastor's property is with
The National Mutual Church Insurance Co., of Chicago, Ill.
THE METHODIST MUTUAL.
Now in successful operation for years. Business at highest point ever attained, and constantly increasing. Protects against FIRE, LIGHTNING and TORNADO. No assessments. For particulars address
HENRY P. MAGILL, Secretary and Manager, Insurance Exchange, Chicago, Ill.
Mrs. Allen Harrerve Barclay, Agent M. E. Church South, 314 Norton Building, Fourth and Jefferson, Louisville, Ky.

BOHNE & WILT, Booksellers and Stationers, 1328 Dryades St., New Orleans, La. Baseball Goods, Religious Articles, Fishing Tackle, Periodicals, School Books.

Obituaries.

Obituaries not over 200 words in length will be published free of charge. All over 200 words will be charged at the rate of 1 cent a word. Count the words and send the amount necessary with the obituary. That will save trouble all around. Otherwise the obituaries will be edited down to 200 words.

MARY ALICE, infant daughter of Rev. and Mrs. F. O. Bell of Goodwater, Miss., was born on July 15, 1914, and died on July 15, 1915, after a very brief illness with "colitis." Medical skill having been exhausted, in addition to constant nursing of loved ones, without avail, her spirit ascended to God, who permitted it to bud on earth only to bloom in heaven. As these parents with loved ones weep, may they as never before realize the truthfulness of the scripture, "A little child shall lead them;" and may this new interest in heaven continually draw them into greater and more determined service for their Master until the crowning day, when they, as an unbroken family, may gather around the Father's throne to live throughout eternity.

"Ere sin could blight or sorrow fade
Death came with friendly care,
The opening bud to heaven conveyed,
And bade it blossom there."

CHAS. E. DOWNER, Pastor.

MISS NELLIE MEEKINS.

The Mary Werlein Mission in New Orleans and the church people throughout the city were shocked and grieved to hear of the sudden death of Miss Nellie Meekins which occurred on the early morning of August 18. She was the only child of Mrs. Lily Meekins, who for many years has been a city missionary in New Orleans, rendering a service of love and untold good to an ever increasing number.

Miss Nellie was an invalid from infancy—a cripple—a child in her thinking; but what a beautiful life was hers, full of sunshine, radiant with faith in God, and patient in the midst of great suffering! For more than twenty years she lived in the Mission. Being a cripple, she could not visit, yet lonely children found their way to her door. She shared her playthings and the sunshine of her life with them. When it became known that she had passed away the children congregated in groups to talk of their sorrow. From every group could be heard the expression, "We have lost our best friend."

Her faith in Christ was strong and beautiful. She became a Christian in early childhood and grew in grace as she grew in years. She not only trusted Christ for salvation, but trusted Him for everything. If she had a good night's sleep or a good meal she would say, "Jesus gave it to me." If she was suffering intense pain, she would say, "Jesus will take the pain away." She never complained—even in the midst of suffering she always looked on the bright side. The kindness of her friends was a source of constant delight to her. She was deeply appreciative of the smallest favors. Greatly handicapped by a frail, sick body, she yet lived a truly grand life.

The funeral service was held at the Mission Wednesday night, August 18, Rev. H. W. Jamieson, her pastor, and Dr. J. T. Sawyer, officiating. On the following day the body was laid to rest in the cemetery in Covington, La., to await the resurrection of the children of God. W. W. HOLMES.

A NOTE FROM DR. HUNTLEY.

The year has borne hard upon this district, sickness and death both breaking in upon the order of the Conference appointments. In Brother Guice's untimely death the church universal sustains a loss—for his life shone like a beacon lighting all about him. The people of the Roman city of Bay St. Louis felt and spoke aloud their sense of loss.

J. L. Sells, one of our pastors, has been sadly troubled with illness, almost to the point of resigning further effort to continue. In the appreciation of his churches, Wiggins and Bond, he has been furnished a month's advance salary, and has gone to look for health. From Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, he writes of being investigated generally, all the experts having a try at some anatomical protuberance—from the total of which they are to show him to himself as he never saw before. His uneasiness over what the X-ray specialist should find present or lacking, in the views of his head which were to be taken, was quite manifest in a note received a day or two ago.

(Mem.—What would come to some more of us from an honest picture of that interior? Would we advertise at once for furniture which showed lacking? Would we offer excess baggage, in over confidence, in little vanities and conceits, to such as might be short of such qualities? An averaging up might produce more of a level, bringing everybody up higher).

The closing of mills and reduction in wages have wrought hard upon many of the people of this section. It has been realized that Seashore District was to grow poor. Workers in saw mills live up to their wages, and have limited opportunity for real development. Families suffer from frequent shifting, and religious settlement is not deep. Farms scarcely deserve the name—and young men have left them, not because the farm is a failure but because the farmer has been one. Revolution has been foreseen, when the trees were gone, and labor's hands were empty. The pinch was expected to be acute, almost reaching the vitals of many whose sense of initiative was confined to what the whistle of the sawmill would command. So, the hands of many are idle, and the whistle sounds no more as it used to do. Necessity has begun to speak, however, with a whistle louder than the sawmill—and people even this season have planted more corn than ever before. Pigs begin to show, and cattle here and there are mixed with a Hereford and Jersey. Even hay begins to loom up as an article valuable for winter feeding—and the velvet bean is being put in more extensively. The war in Europe has belittled the lumber and the crossties—some of our manufacturers would close promptly but for contract obligations to remove timber in certain limits of time.

And the war has hastened the troubles, bringing them to a quick head. People have less money than ever, and where it is it goes in hiding. Pastors must sympathize with conditions, but to sympathize beyond a given measure is to transfer a very full measure unto themselves, since their salaries go into hiding, too—and they mournfully wonder how it will end with them and their collections. We have a few large-hearted men among us whose pockets are supplied and whose disposition is to do more than ever for the health of the community and the Church. It is a providence of God that they are here. May He prosper them more and more, that they may have to give to such as lack! W. H. HUNTLEY.

Gulfport, Miss., August 19.

The work of schools and teachers is to a great extent accomplished when there is aroused in the student two great and life-long desires: (1) A life-long desire for knowledge; (2) a life-long desire to be nobler and better. During the session of 1915-16 we are going to do our very best to accomplish this for the students in the MEMPHIS CONFERENCE FEMALE INSTITUTE, Jackson, Tenn.

CITY PREACHERS' DIRECTORY.

Rev. W. W. Holmes, presiding elder; residence, 1014 Cambronne St.; 'phone Walnut 93.

Rev. R. M. Brown, pastor Algiers Methodist Church; residence, 220 Pelican Ave.

Rev. A. J. Gearheard, pastor Louisiana Avenue Methodist Church; residence, 3418 Laurel St.; 'phone Uptown 2805.

Rev. W. E. Thomas, pastor Second Methodist Church; residence, 815 St. Charles St.; 'phone Main 735.

Rev. W. L. Doss, Jr., pastor Epworth Methodist Church; residence, 232 S. Pierce St.

Dr. S. Halsey Werlein, pastor First Methodist Church; residence, 5830 Prytania St.; 'phone Uptown 329.

Rev. R. H. Harper, pastor Parker Memorial Methodist Church; residence, 734 Nashville Ave.; 'phone Uptown 447.

Dr. F. R. Hill, pastor Felicity Methodist Church; residence, 1818 Chestnut St.; 'phone Jackson 1753.

Rev. F. R. Hill, Jr., pastor Rayne Memorial Methodist Church; residence, 1421 Constantinople St.; 'phone Uptown 954.

Rev. W. W. Drake, pastor Carrollton Avenue Methodist Church; residence, 1125 Fern St.; 'phone Walnut 1238.

Rev. Hugh W. Jamieson, pastor Mary Werlein and St. Paul Methodist Churches; residence, 7821 Zimple St.; 'phone Walnut 1071.

Rev. T. V. Peters, pastor McDonoughville Methodist Church; residence, McDonoughville, La.; 'phone Algiers 305.

Rev. J. L. Sutton, Supt. Boys' Orphanage; residence, 5220 St. Charles Ave.; 'phone Uptown 128.

Dr. J. T. Sawyer, residence, 5655 Hawthorne Ave.; 'phone Galvez 640.

Rev. R. A. Davis, residence, 924 Lowerline St.

Dr. R. A. Meek, Editor Christian Advocate; residence, 5914 Coliseum St.; office 'phone Main 4373.

That Unpublished Book of Yours
We make a specialty of publishing books, pamphlets, sermons and can guarantee good work a t reasonable prices. Can also suggest how to put your book on the market profitably. Write us today about it.
PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO., Louisville, Ky.

FLORIDA Reclaimed upper Everglades, richest land in the world; level prairie; saw-grass muck soil ten feet deep; best location for general farming, tropical fruits and winter vegetables; pure water; good health; easy terms; free booklet; sample of soil; near new railway; agents wanted. J. Bare, Box 107, Rita, Fla.

LIQUIDINE A LIQUID FACE POWDER
A GREAT NOVELTY! Healing! Beautifying! Powder STAYS ON — no more shiny faces! Guaranteed Pure and Harmless. Colors White and Flesh. 50c per Bottle, Postpaid. Agents Wanted. Easy to sell and Customers ALWAYS BUY AGAIN. Write for Terms. LIQUIDINE CHEMICAL CO., Chattanooga, Tenn.

It's easy to lift or move it with this—
A boy becomes a giant, and lifts or pulls tons.
Cotton, Cattle, Hogs, Logs, Freight, Buildings, Machinery, Anything Heavy. Make the Windlass do the work.
Costs Little, Worth Lots
Corinth Machinery Co., Box 6, Corinth, Miss.
HERCULES WINDLASS

Good Money is being made daily by Opticians who have been trained to Fit Eyeglasses Right
If you are ambitious, intelligent and thrifty we can teach you how—You can do the rest.
Attendance and Correspondence Courses. Write for Catalogue.
NORTHERN ILLINOIS COLLEGE OF OPHTHALMOLOGY,
G. W. McFATRICH, M. D., President,
Masonic Temple, Chicago, Ill.

From the Field.

Shannon, Miss.

Dear Doctor Meek: We have just finished a deilghtful meetlng at Troy on the Shannon charge. Seven were received by profession of faith and baptism, all of whom were important and valuable additions to the Church. The congregations and interest grew until the final service, and the general good to the community was great—much beyond ordinary. The Starkville pastor greatly pleased the people of Troy. He dealt unmercifully with his Satanic Majesty and sincerely with all questions and concerns whatsoever. One interested and highly competent hearer remarked last night, "That was the best sermon I ever heard." And all said to Brother Lipscomb, "Come again."—A. H. Williams, P. C.

Read's Chapel, Miss. Conf.

Dear Editor: We have just closed a meeting at Read's Chapel, in Jasper County, on the Garlandsville circuit. Rev. W. J. Walters of the Chunky circuit, assisted me and I must say that he did some able preaching. We did exceedingly well to be laboring under the hindrances of an election season. We had no accessions, but the general state of the church was greatly built up by the enthusiastic efforts of Brother Walters. He came to us with his mind fixed on God and heavenly things, and delivered his messages without fear of the criticism of man. We managed to hold on about two days longer than it has been the custom to do. The people showed their appreciation of Brother Walters by inviting him to visit them again. May God bless him in his efforts to build up the Kingdom!—B. H. Williams, P. C.

Topisaw Camp-meeting.

Dear Advocate: Allow me space for a few lines relative to the Topisaw Camp-meeting for this year. Brother Galloway, from Centenary, McComb; Brother Ormond, from South Side, McComb; Brother Moore, from Magnolia; and Brother Thomas, from Summit were the preachers called upon for assistance by Rev. Robert Selby, who had charge of the meeting. Dr. A. F. Watkins, who came by for a service or two, Rev. H. W. Van Hook, who also came by, and the Rev. Mr. Bell, a Presbyterian pastor from McComb, were visitors. Rev. W. H. Saunders, from Fernwood, Miss., and Rev. W. W. Nelson, from Pleasant Grove, were with us a service or two, but did not find it convenient to preach for us. Everything considered, we had a good meeting. The preaching especially was good and inspiring and the visible results were 7 or 8 conversions and accession to the Church on profession of faith. The crowds were larger than had been in attendance for several years; so said those who were in a position to know. It was a treat to this little preacher to sit at the feet of these preachers and learn of Him who saves unto the uttermost, and many others shared the same feelings with him. May God abundantly bless them all.

I have just returned from a meeting on the Pleasant Grove charge, where I had my whole family with me. The visible results were 10 conversions and as many sanctified, 12 accessions on profession of faith, and 12 babies baptized. Forty people were at the altar when the last altar call was made. The Lord was with us in marvelous power. Amen!—J. A. Wells.

Sherman Charge (North Miss. Conf.)

Dear Doctor Meek: Please allow me space in the Advocate to say a few words concerning the Sherman charge. I have just closed a meeting at Old Bethel where the church life was greatly quickened. Four were added to the church on profession of faith and one infant was baptized. The power of the Holy Ghost was manifest from the beginning. Rev. R. P. Neblett, of Ripley, Miss., came to us on Monday and preached two helpful sermons, but was called away for a funeral and could not get back. .....My first meeting, which was held at Sherman, began on the third Sunday in July. Rev. I. D. Borders, of Aberdeen, Miss., assisted me in the preaching. His sermons were of a high order and the Church was greatly quickened.....My second meeting was at Chesterville, where Rev. W. M. Young, of Amory, Miss., was with me and rendered efficient service. The entire community was greatly benefited....My next meeting was at Beldon where I was assisted by Rev. W. N. Dodds, of Verona, Miss. Brother Dodds is a forceful speaker and stirs the people. A number of people were added to the Church and two children were baptized.....The week following I was in a meeting at Liberty, with Rev. W. L. Graves, of Pace, Fla., to assist me. We probably had the greatest meeting ever known in that community. Congregations numbered as high as 800 people. The power of the Holy Ghost was manifest and everybody was blessed. There were 29 accessions, 3 children were baptized, and a number joined other Churches. Brother Graves is a hard worker; he is a good evangelist and fine help in a revival. Any pastor having a run-down church would do well to secure his services. He is available for engagements to help anywhere after the fourth week in September. Those who need help for meetings in October should write him at once at Calhoun City, Miss.—W. A. Bowlin, P. C.

THE CLEVELAND (MISS.) CAMP MEETING.

The Cleveland Holiness Camp Meeting closed on Sunday night, August 15. A large crowd was in attendance at nearly every service. I suppose that several times there were as many as 25 "autos" on the ground. Hundreds of people turned out on Sunday. Rev. C. K. Spell, of Mt. Olive, Ky., preached some great sermons, some of his themes being "Repentance," "Regeneration," and "Sanctification." Rev. A. S. Clark, of Topeka, Kansas, led the singing and preached in the afternoons. His sermons were forceful and convincing. Both of these men are Methodist pastors and are Spirit-filled ministers. They preach sanctification as a second work of grace. About 75 persons were at the altar for prayer and most of them were blessed. Old-time conviction made them weep their way to Calvary.

We had splendid music. Miss Cynthia Lagrone presided at the organ; Miss Ruth Beevers and Solomon Sealbinder played cornets, and these, with a choir led by Brother Clark, made music that filled our hearts with joy. The finances came up all right, for which we were truly thankful.

There is a great future for our camp, if we will only keep filled with the Spirit and walk uprightly before the Lord, honoring him at all times. He will be sure to honor us by saving the people if we are faithful to him.

(Mrs.) S. C. TAYLOR.

EAT HARRIS' JERSEY ICE CREAM
The CREAM OF QUALITY. Quick Auto Delivery
1300, 1302 DRYADES ST.
Phones Jackson 1080, 1081

L&N Louisville & Nashville R. R.
THE DIRECT LINE NORTH AND EAST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED STEEL SLEEPERS
DINING CARS, OBSERVATION CARS, CHAIR CARS
Phone M. 1093. TICKET OFFICE 201 ST. CHARLES STREET

"EXPOSITION LINE"
SOUTHERN PACIFIC — SUNSET ROUTE
ONE FARE FOR THE ROUND TRIP
$57.50 TO
California AND THE Expositions
TICKETS ON SALE DAILY
Limited to return within 90 days. Stopover all points enroute. Shortest and quickest route. Two through Steel Trains daily. Oil burning Locomotives. Electric Block Signals. Observation Cars.
Best Dining Car in America
For full information and illustrated catalogue, ask any Southern Pacific Agent or write
W. H. STAKELUM, Div. Pass. Agent, Lake Charles, La.
J. H. R. PARSONS, Gen. Pass. Agent, New Orleans, La.

THE TEXAS AND P PACIFIC RAILWAY
Make Your Vacation Count!
Two or Three Weeks at
MINERAL WELLS
would almost make a new man of you, and a jolly, pleasant three weeks they would be, too! Low Round Trip Rates Every Day.
CITY TICKET OFFICE, 207 St. Charles Street.

EDENBORN LINE
LOUISIANA RAILWAY & NAVIGATION CO.
THE SHORT LINE :: THE POPULAR ROUTE BETWEEN
New Orleans :: Baton Rouge : Alexandria : Shreveport
TICKETS ON SALE TO ALL POINTS NORTHWEST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS
Secure Reservations at City Ticket Office
709 GRAVIER STREET, ST. CHARLES HOTEL

You Look Prematurely Old
Because of those ugly, grizzly gray hairs, Use "LA CREOLE" HAIR DRESSING. Price $1.00, retail.

Sunday School

NORTH MISSISSIPPI NOTES.

Rev. R. H. B. Gladney,
Sardis, Miss.

Miss Elie Willingham, District Secretary of the Durant District, has been doing work that counts in her field. Before the meeting of our Annual Conference we must have a working Secretary in each district.

See's Chapel, on the Longtown circuit, lacks only two points of being a standard school. The Secretary held a service Monday morning at which thirteen young people accepted Christ. Back of this day of reaping there was a great deal of good seed-sowing.

The four services held at Crenshaw resulted in a forward movement in Sunday school activities. We organized a Teacher-training class, Wesley Bible class, Cradle Roll, and Home Department. This church can and will do great things under the leadership of Brother Goudelock.

One reason good teachers are so scarce is that we need so many more than we have. The very flower of our land is engaged in teaching the Bible in our Sunday schools without money and without price. Many of these people could not be induced to teach in the grammar schools for a large salary. We just need more like our best ones.

One can secure a liberal education by teaching a Sunday school class for a few years; for to become a teacher one must read, digest, and practice the Bible and other good books pertaining to it. Then let the heart be drawn out in prayer for the salvation of the class and such a teacher will grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

It is as easy to have a Teacher-training class in every school as it is to have a Bible class. Let the superintendent select a teacher, have her to read the pamphlet on Teacher-training until she is able to tell the main facts to the class, get the class committed to follow out the instructions in this little book, have the class recite during the Sunday school hour, and keep this class going until the course is finished and the class graduated. What about the teachers engaged in teaching? Have them to read the advanced course at home.

The Methodist Episcopal Church began its forward movement in Sunday school work after the General Conference of 1908. During the past six years there has been an unparalleled growth in that Church. More than two thousand Sunday schools have been organized, the Sunday school membership has been increased more than a million, over twenty thousand persons have been enrolled in Teacher-training classes, and twelve thousand Bible classes have received certificates of registration. Along with this phenomenal development of the Sunday school there has been a corresponding increase in the number of conversions and additions to the Church. Up to the time when this aggressive movement began there had been a steady decrease in the growth of Church membership extending through more than two decades. But during the last four years the growth was greater than for any other quadrennium in the history of the denomination. The total increase for this period was 472,620, the high-water mark having been reached last year, when the net increase amounted to 187,487. The six Conferences showing the largest relative growth in Sunday school enrollment also had the largest growth in church membership. The thirty-six Field Secretaries were the leaders in this wonderful growth.

A NOTE FROM BROTHER PORTER.

We had Dr. H. G. Henderson, of Sardis, Miss., with us in a meeting at Enid, and after hearing him we think it is safe to say that he is one of the great preachers of our Church. His sermons are full of great truths. They are delivered in the very best English and in a splendid spirit. I do not know when I have heard any sermon that was equal to his discourse on the "Bright Side of Suffering." We have also recently read, "When Sainthood Was in Flower," by Dr. Henderson. This is a book that is well worth reading. It is full of beautiful thoughts, and is so chaste and well written that you wish for more. Many lives will be made better by this book.

Rev. O. L. Savage was with us at Tillatoba, and we had a meeting of great value to the Church. Brother Savage held three services each day, and it seemed that each one was the best. His prayers and sermons will not soon be forgotten by the people of that town. We had three additions to the Church and baptized three children. JAMES PORTER, P. C.

Whenever You Need a General Tonic Take Grove's

The Old Standard Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic is equally valuable as a General Tonic because it contains the well known tonic properties of QUININE and IRON. It acts on the Liver, Drives out Malaria, Enriches the Blood and Builds up the Whole System. 50 cents.

WHY MEAT KEEPS CHILDREN AWAKE.

Almost every one is familiar with the fact that infants and very young children should not be allowed fresh meat for supper. We have all noted that it disturbs their sleep, but few of us, probably, have stopped to inquire the physiological reason.

According to scientific authorities, the explanation lies in the fact that fresh meats contain a stimulating or refreshing substance known as xanthin (pronounced zan-thin), which is the refreshing principle of tea and the meat extracts that we sometimes use to relieve fatigue. The bodies of young children and of all young animals also contain a large proportion of this xanthin and when more is added in the form of meat for supper the rest of the child is disturbed and dreams come to break the restfulness of sleep. The bodies of older children and of adults also contain more or less xanthin, but as age advances the quantity grows smaller and in old age there is little xanthin left. This interesting information in regard to xanthin also explains the characteristic vivacity, alertness and energy of childhood and the soberness or moroseness of old age. Metaphorically speaking, xanthin is the fire of youth, and as we grow older we gradually lose our vivacity with our xanthin.

This leads to another explanation, viz: why infants and very young children should not be allowed coffee, tea and Coca-Cola, for these beverages contain a form of xanthin known as caffein, which refreshes the tired nerves and muscles and, therefore, keeps the child awake. Like meat, they are good for adults and are the most efficient and wholesome means of refreshing mind and body, but, like meat, they disturb the rest of children, for the body of the chlid already possesses a sufficient supply of xanthin.

This, in turn, leads to still another explanation, for we can now understand why beef tea, coffee, tea, and Coca-Cola have the same effect in the relief of fatigue, though they differ so widely in flavor and appearance. We can understand why the human race has come to depend upon these refreshing beverages as the most wholesome and efficient means of combating the injurious effects of physical and mental fatigue.

Desiring that the public shall fully understand the composition and character of their product, The Coca-Cola Company has issued a booklet containing the expert opinions of the world's leading scientists, explaining the wholesomeness and refreshing qualities of this popular temperance drink. A copy may be had by addressing the Advertising Managers of this paper, Messrs. Jacobs & Company, Clinton, S. C.—Adv.

EUCUTTA CHARGE, MISS. CONF.

On July 30 we closed our meeting at Goodwater Church. The attendance was very gratifying considering the fact that we had several cases of illness in the community and three political picnics during the time. We have a new organ at this church, and with the assistance of Miss Pearl Sanders as organist and Rev. F. O. Bell, our local preacher there, who did some good preaching, we had a very good meeting. The visible results were 3 accessions by profession and several reclamations. Three or four young ladies will respond now when called on to pray.....At Boyle's Chapel we had our third quarterly conference on the 14th inst. with a splendid attendance. As Brother J. E. J. Ferguson drove through with our presiding elder, Brother Thompson, from Ellisville, he consented to preach Saturday night, and Brother Thompson preached on Sunday at 11 a. m. Both sermons were inspiring and appropriate for the beginning of our meeting, which continued until Thursday night. Rev. J. M. Corley assisted us and his gospel messages, while delivered under a physical strain owing to a severe cold, were to the point, winning the attention and confidence of the people from the first. (Brother Corley was instrumental in establishing this building and organizing the church here seventeen years ago.) There were 5 accessions: 3 by baptism and 2 by vows. We feel confident that much good will result from this meeting.

CHAS. E. DOWNER, Pastor.

Murine is prepared by our Physicians, as used for many years in their practice, now dedicated to the Public and sold by Your Druggist. Try Murine to Refresh, Cleanse, and Strengthen Eyes after exposure to Strong Sunlight, Wind and Dust and to restore healthful tone to Eyes Reddened and made Sore by Overwork and Eye Strain.

Some broadminded Physicians use and recommend Murine while others perhaps jealous of its Success, talk and rush into print in opposition; those whose Eyes need care can guess why, as there is no Prescription fee in Murine. Just hand your Druggist 50c and you have a Complete Pkg. Eye Book—Murine—Dropper—and Cork Screw—ready for use. Try it in your Eyes and in Baby's Eyes for Eye Troubles—No Smarting—Just Eye Comfort. Write for Book of the Eye Free.

Murine Eye Remedy Company, Chicago

TRY THIS FOR YOUR HEALTH.

For diseases which do not readily yield to drug treatment, such as chronic dyspepsia, indigestion, rheumatism, Bright's disease, gall stones, uric acid poisoning, and diseases of the kidney and liver, the best physicians send their wealthy patients to the famous mineral springs. Some even spent months at the Spas of Europe and were almost invariably cured or greatly benefited.

I believe that the Shivar Spring is the greatest mineral spring ever discovered and I believe it so firmly that I offer to send you enough water for a three weeks' treatment (two five-gallon demijohns) on my guarantee that if it fails to benefit your case I will refund the price. You would hardly believe me if I told you that only about two out of a hundred, on the average, say that they have received no benefit. The water is restoring thousands. It restored my health when my friends and physicians thought my case was incurable and I am willing and anxious for you to match your faith in the Spring against my pocketbook. If I win you become a life-friend of the Spring. If I lose I will be sorry for you, but I will appreciate your courtesy in giving the water a trial and will gladly refund your money on request. Sign the following letter:

Shivar Spring,
Box 17C Shelton, S. C.
Gentlemen:

I accept your guarantee offer and enclose herewith two dollars for ten gallons of Shivar Mineral Water. I agree to give it a fair trial, in accordance with instructions contained in booklet you will send, and if it fails to benefit my case you agree to refund the price in full upon receipt of the two empty demijohns which I agree to return promptly.

Name .....
Address .....
Shipping Point.....
(Please write distinctly).

Note: The Advertising Manager of the New Orleans Christian Advocate is personally acquainted with Mr. Shivar. You run no risk whatever in accepting his offer. I have personally witnessed the remarkable curative effects of this Water in a very serious case.

How to Fight Tuberculosis

Dr. J. W. Carhart, of San Antonio, Texas, says: "Since lime salts constitute three-fourths of all the mineral substances of the human body, they must be supplied in the foods or supplemented in mineral preparations, or natural starvation ensues, with tuberculosis unchecked. The spread of tuberculosis and other preventable diseases is due largely to decalcified (lime lacking) conditions of multitudes throughout the civilized world."

Since lime is one of the ingredients of Eckman's Alterative, much of its success doubtless is due to its combination in such a way as to render it easily assimilable.

Eckman's Alterative has effected remarkable results in tuberculosis, which in many instances, apparently has yielded to it, and since it contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, it is safe to try. Price $1 and $2 per bottle. Sold by leading druggists or sent direct from the Laboratory. We would like to send you a booklet containing information of value and references.

ECKMAN LABORATORY,
23 N. Seventh St. Philadelphia.

ELIXIR DUCRO
ALIMENTAIRE
Sustains the Organism Without Nourishment.
Recommended for Debility, Wasting diseases, Convalescence, Old age. All druggists.
Agents: E. Fougera & Co., Inc., New York.
NO INCREASE IN PRICE

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
A toilet preparation of merit.
Helps to eradicate dandruff.
For Restoring Color and Beauty to Gray or Faded Hair.
50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

HINDERCORNS Removes Corns, Callouses, etc., stops all pain, ensures comfort to the feet, makes walking easy. 15c. by mail or at Druggists. Hiscox Chemical Works, Patchogue, N. Y.

WHEN WRITING OUR ADVERTISERS PLEASE MENTION THIS PUBLICATION

"THE ANNUAL TUG."

To the Pastors and Laymen of the Mississippi Conference.

Dear Brethren: Only three months remain until the session of our Annual Conference, and in order that our assessments for home and foreign missions may be met in full, it is of the utmost importance that the missionary campaign be prosecuted with vigor in every pastoral charge. In this hour when the nations of Europe are pouring out blood and treasure without stint in the present terrible war, America occupies a place of leadership in commerce, diplomacy, and missionary enterprise such as no nation has ever had before, and "every voice of Providence calls upon us to go forward." In our own Church the demands of mission work are growing with astonishing rapidity; but alas, the response of Southern Methodists is far short of the needs and opportunities of the hour. It is estimated that the Church in North America spends $300,000,000 upon itself annually in home work, and approximately $17,000,000 in foreign missionary enterprises; or for every ninety-four cents it expends upon itself, it gives six cents for the evangelization of the heathen. As to men, "For every missionary the Church sends abroad it holds fifty-four at home."

While the Southern Presbyterians are contributing about $2.50 per member per annum for missions, our great Church with its two million members is contributing an average of only 48 cents per capita for the world's evangelization, or less than a one-cent postage stamp a week for the salvation of the Christless at home and abroad. Many church members even in war times spend more than that in a single week at the picture show or at the soda fountain.

Sad to tell, there is more than one strong city church in the Mississippi Conference that pays a goodly sum each month for current expenses, including music, but does nothing till Conference to relieve the needs of our domestic missionaries and of our worthy superannuates. Surely this is not giving these brethren a square deal. If every pastoral charge pursued the same dilatory and unfair policy, what would become of our domestic missionaries in the interim between Conferences? In our own Conference fifty-six men are serving missionary appointments on salaries pitiably small, and a shortage in the missionary collection will work a great hardship upon them and their families. Let us make a strong pull, and pull all together to raise every dollar assessed for missions. Wide-awake business men do not wait for trade to turn up, but they turn it their way even in dull times by special effort. Pastors and church officials may profit by their example.

Yours in the Master's cause,
M. M. BLACK,
Secretary Board of Missions, Mississippi Conference.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

Ruston Dist.—Fourth Round.

Alberta and Castor, at Old Castor, September 22.
Gibsland, at Oak Grove, September 24.
Athens, at Athens, September 25, 26.
Homer, September 26, 27.
Haynesville, September 28.
Simsboro, at Pine Grove, October 2, 3.
Elmore, at Vienna, October 3, 4.
Dubach, October 5.
Bernice, October 6.
Bienville, October 9, 10.
Plain Dealing, October 16, 17.
Haughton, October 19.
Ringgold, October 20 (p.m.)
Cotton Valley, October 23, 24.
Winnfield, October 30, 31.
Jonesboro, November 1.
Minden, November 5.
Sibley, November 6.
Arcadia, November 6, 7.
Ruston, November 8.

Preachers, please give particular attention to questions 15, 21, 22, and be ready to answer same. Let the Trustees be sure to have their reports.

BRISCOE CARTER, P. E.

Baton Rouge Dist.—Fourth Round.

Denham Springs, at Walker, September 11, 12.
Clinton, at Clinton, September 18, 19.
Jackson, at Pine Grove, September 25, 26.
Pine Grove, at Pine Grove, October 2, 3.
Natalbany, October 3, 4.
Pride, at Olive Branch, October 9, 10.
Baker, at Baker, October 10, 11.
Franklinton Ct., at Hackley, October 16, 17.
Franklinton and Zona, at Franklinton, October 17.
Covington, at Covington, October 18.
Tangipahoa, at Mt. Herman, October 23, 24.
Kentwood, October 24.
Amite, October 25.
Greensburg, at Greensburg, October 30, 31.
Baton Rouge, First Church, November 1.
St. Francisville, at St. Francisville, November 3.
Springfield, at Springfield, November 6, 7.
Ponchatoula, at Wesley, November 7, 8.
Hammond, November 8.
Keener Memorial, November 11.
Zachary, at Ethel, November 12.
Wilson, at Wilson, November 13.

Let each pastor acquaint himself with Par. 261 and 262 of the Discipline relative to the Sunday school and the Advisory Committee, and Par. 264 relative to the missionary offering. Have your lists of trustees in hand and their report in harmony with the blank form in the Quarterly Conference Record.

Note, that while we have heretofore held what was called the Fifth Quarter" it is now known as, and blanks provided for, the "Adjourned Quarterly Conference." At the fourth quarterly conference a written report from the Missionary Society is required. H. W. BOWMAN, P. E.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONF.

Winona Dist.—Fourth Round.

Greenwood Sta., September 12.
Winona Ct., at Bethlehem, September 18.
Winona Sta., September 19.
Itta Bena Sta., September 26 (a.m.)
Carrollton Ct., at N. Carrollton, September 26 (p.m.)
Indianola Sta., October 3 (a.m.)
Moorhead Ct., at Sunflower, October 3 (p.m.)
North Carrollton Ct., at Smith's Chapel, October 9.
Belzoni Ct., at Belzoni, October 10.
Indianola Mission, at Fairview, October 16.
Isola Ct., at Inverness, October 17.
Webb Ct., at Sumner, October 24.
Mars Hill Ct., at Gore's Springs, October 30.
Tutwiler Ct., at Tutwiler, October 31 (a.m.)
Lambert Ct., at Lambert, October 31 (p.m.)
Dublin Ct., at Cherry Hill, November 6, 7.
Drew Ct., at Drew, November 7 (p.m.)
Quiver Mission, at Campbell's Chapel, November 13.
Minter City Sta., at Minter City, November 14 (a.m.)
Schlater Ct., at Schlater, November 14 (p.m.)
Ruleville Ct., at Doddsville, November 20, 21.

BEN P. JACO, P. E.

Had Pellagra; Is Now Cured.

Hillsboro, Ala.—J. W. Turner, of this place, says: "I ought to have written you two weeks ago, but failed to do so. I got well and then forgot to write you. I can get about like a 10-year-old boy; you ought to see me run around and tend to my farm. I can go all day just like I used to. I am so thankful to know there is such a good remedy to cure people of pellagra.

There is no longer any doubt that pellagra can be cured. Don't delay until it is too late. It is your duty to consult the resourceful Baughn.

The symptoms—hands red like sunburn, skin peeling off, sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red, with much mucus and choking; indigestion and nausea, either diarrhoea or constipation.

There is hope; get Baughn's big Free book on Pellagra and learn about the remedy for Pellagra that has at last been found. Address American Compounding Co., box 587-X, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.—Adv.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE.

Don't let a wound or bruise or sore go neglected. A neglected skin wound often leads to blood poisoning, a disease hard to cure and sometimes fatal. Treat the afflicted spot with Gray's Ointment; it quickly allays the pain, heals the wound, and frees you from all danger of troublesome after-effects. For nearly a century Gray's Ointment has been an indispensable remedy for all abrasions or eruptions of the skin; boils, ulcers, sores, burns, cuts, bruises, etc. "I have used it in my family for more than fifteen years and have not found any ointment equal to it," writes Mrs. E. E. Coleman, Mt. Jackson, Va. Only 25c a box, at druggists. For free sample, write W. F. Gray & Co., 806 Gray Building, Nashville, Tenn.

TRY THE OLD RELIABLE
WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC
For MALARIA CHILLS & FEVER
A FINE GENERAL STRENGTHENING TONIC

WATCH YOUR HEART IF YOU WISH HEALTH.

Weak hearts are more common than weak stomachs, lungs, eyes, backs, or kidneys. Every time your heart misses a beat your life is being shortened. Heart disease, taken in its early stages, is quite easy to relieve; but every day that treatment is delayed the relief becomes more difficult.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy taken in conjunction with the Nervine, or alone, has proven very efficient in relieving heart disorders.

The Rev. Geo. W. Kiracofe, of Keller, Va., in this connection stated as follows:—

"It has been many years since I was cured of heat trouble by Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy and Nervine. I am just as sound as a dollar in that organ today. Before I took these remedies my breathing had been short and at times difficult; there were sharp pains about my hear, accompanied by fluttering, which would make me feel faint and languid. The least excitement or worry would unnerve me. The trouble grew steadily worse. Doctors' prescriptions did me no good. But since using Dr. Miles' Remedies all symptoms were removed and have never returned since."

If you suspect that you have heart trouble avoid all dangerous delays.

It costs you nothing to try these remedies if you are not benefited. All you have to do is to return the empty bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money.

MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

WHEN WRITING OUR ADVERTISERS PLEASE MENTION THIS PUBLICATION

KELLY & ZOELLER
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN
Provisions, Dairy Products, &c.
Corner Tchoupitoulas & Natchez Sts.
Phone 569 Main. NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Established 1859
W. B. THOMPSON & CO.
COTTON FACTORS
AND
Commission Merchants
No. 808 PERDIDO STREET,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

C. A. Tessier C. A. Tessier, Jr.
C. A. Tessier & Son
Auctioneers
Real Estate, Stocks, Bonds.
134 Carondelet Street
Telephone Main 204 NEW ORLEANS

Woman's Missionary Work

Edited by .....Mrs. R. F. Harrell, Centerville, Miss.

Conference Publicity Superintendents:

Louisiana.....Mrs. A. C. McKinney, Ruston, La.
Mississippi .....Mrs. J. L. Neill, Laurel, Miss.
North Mississippi.....Mrs. Walter Campbell, Winona, Miss.

All communications for this department should be sent to the Editor at the address given above.

THE MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN IN LOUISIANA.

The new auxlliaries for the quarter are as follows:

Alexandria District—Adult auxiliary at Columbia, with 15 members; Young People's at Colfax, 40 members; Junior at De Ridder, 15 members.

Baton Rouge District—Young People's auxiliary at Wilson, with 10 members.

Lafayette District—Adult auxlliary at Hayes, with 5 members.

New Orleans District—Adult auxillary at Vacherie, with 13 members; Junior at Rayne, 15 members.

Shreveport District—Young People's auxiliary at First Church, Shreveport, with 20 members.

New members in old organizations by districts:

Alexandria District—40 adult members and 1 in Young People's auxlliary.

Baton Rouge District—19 adult members.

Lafayette District—3 adult members.

Monroe District—62 adult members.

New Orleans District—6 adult members.

Shreveport District—32 members in Young People's auxiliaries.

Total, 120 adult members, and 33 Young People's members.

Mrs. Bliss has appointed Mrs. W. T. Cunningham and Mrs. R. H. Harper as the other two members of the Conference Committee on organization. All new organizations and progress of the campaign are to be reported to me. I am glad to tell you that Mrs. T. B. Clifford is the first volunteer worker whose name has come to me. I feel that we are fortunate to have so valuable a member from the Mississippi Conference within our borders and particularly within my own district. Mrs. A. P. HOLT, Cor. Sec.

WANTED

More Interested First Vice Presidents in our Mississippi Conference.

To meet the demands they must be consecrated, zealous, wide-awake and capable.

They must still remember the days of their youth when they, too, had dreams of being useful and had aspirations of letting their lives count for something.

They must remember the many lonely hours when they, too, longed to do something for some one, but did not know what to do nor how to do it.

They must remember that it is a happy boy or girl who finds a wide-awake, consecrated woman ready to help them demonstrate the longings of the heart.

They will work with twenty-nine other First Vice Presidents who are already busy in this division of our Lord's vineyard.

They will find the young people waiting, and the work ready and waiting, and the Master waiting, for he has need of them.

Mrs. H. O. MIDDLETON,
First Vice President.

Mrs. Middleton writes of her work: "I have certainly been very busy since being in office, but it has been such a joy to serve Him ever so little. I thank God for giving me the work to do. I have fallen in love with so many young girls, as well as the First Vice Presidents. Over 200 girls have joined our ranks this year. Nine new auxiliaries have been organized. The work is going forward steadily. We wish that more of our elected First Vice Presidents would awake to their duty and privilege; they are missing a great pleasure in not organizing our young people."

Every "Want Ad" is placed in our papers for some special purpose, and the above "ad" is placed in our department hoping it will reach the 113 uninterested First Vice Presidents in the Mississippi Conference.

NOTICE TO LOUISIANA PUBLICITY SUPERINTENDENTS.

A new ruling passed at the Conference in New Orleans last spring makes it the duty of the Publicity Superintendent to send all literature, Bulletin and all, to the District Secretaries; they in turn are to send it to local women; I am getting requests and complaints from various quarters, due to the fact that this new order of things is not generally understood. If the proper woman is not getting the leaflets and Bulletin, make your complaints to your District Secretary and not to me. It is my duty to obey, and I cannot go beyond the law.

A REQUEST.

Please report all organized Study circles, Bible or Prayer circles, telling what books are used, and the number enrolled in classes, to me at the earliest date posible. Mrs. Lipscomb is very anxious for correct data concerning these things, and I can only report to her what you report to me.

Mrs. A. C. McKINNEY.

REPORT OF NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE TREASURER—SECOND QUARTER.

Adult dues, $1061.47; Young People's dues, $41.66; Junior dues, $64.55; Baby Division dues, $5.25; Adult pledge, $604.47; Young People's pledge, $28.65; Junior pledge, $42.62; Mite boxes, $17.30; Mite boxes, Baby Division, $3.35; Scholarships, $53.75; Bible Women, $180; Specials, $90; Relief and Retirement funds, $13.13; Scarritt Endowment, $14.10; Mary K. Stone room in Scarritt, $58.63; Rio school, $2; Mary Black Hospital, Soochow, $18; City Missions, $1.15; total sent to Council Treasurer, $2300.08; amount sent to Orphans' Home, $59; amount sent to Co-operative Home, $25; amount sent to Mission Preacher, $10; amount reported spent on local relief, $2585.07; value of supplies sent off and reported to superintendent, $705.51.

Mrs. W. W. WILBURN,
Treasurer.

FACTS GATHERED HERE AND THERE.

The Foreign Mission Journal, published by the Southern Baptists, states that there is one rich man who lives on one-tenth of his income and gives nine-tenths to the support of the gospel. His income is about $100,000 a year.

The Edinburgh Conference Report says that there are 119,000,000 people in Asia and Africa who are not even included in the plans of any missionary society on earth. There are many more millions—no one knows accurately how many—who are included in plans which have not yet been carried out.

One thousand cities in China have been demanding the organization of Young Men's Christian Associations, but there are no trained men to be had to organize them.

The Churches of America and Great Britain have 20,480 missionaries in the foreign field.

The American Tract Society, which celebrated recently its ninetieth anniversary, reports that during the past year the circulation of its periodicals reached a total of 2,047,000 copies. The number of tracts published was 915,000.

When Mr. Eddy was preaching in Peking and spoke of the Bible as the very Word of God, containing the message of salvation, a rich Chinaman in the audience was so impressed with what he heard that he said: "I will buy 2000 of these Bibles and send them to my friends." And he did so, though they cost him nearly $2000.—Epworth Era.

"Doubt is not something to be proud of. It is an enemy to be fought."

S. P. UNIVERSITY

Offers what increases a man's power to earn money, to become prominent in any sphere, to enlarge his influence and his service to his fellows.

Offers as good educational value as some institutions where the cost is three times as great.

Has students whose character is a safeguard to their fellows.

Puts the emphasis on the college work, but encourages a reasonable amount of athletics and other activities. For information address

J. R. DOBYNS, President Clarksville, Texas

WHEN WRITING OUR ADVERSISERS PLEASE MENTION THIS PUBLICATION

Some time when you are tired drinking just ordinary Coffee and feel like drinking "A REAL GOOD CUP OF COFFEE," try a pound of

GUATEMALA BLEND

Just Phone Main 2196 and it will be delivered direct to your residence

GUATEMALA AMERICAN COFFEE CO.

617 CAMP STREET. PHONE MAIN 2196.

Mrs. Deborah A. Milliken. Chas. A. Farwell. Henry B. Farwell.

MILLIKEN & FARWELL

Commission Merchants

620 CANAL STREET.....NEW ORLEANS, LA.

The School of Theology of The Southern Methodist University Opens September 22, 1915.

ANNOUNCEMENT BULLETIN READY.

For further information address Frank Seay, Secretary of Theological Faculty, Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas.

MILLSAPS COLLEGE, Jackson, Miss.

A. F. WATKINS, President.

A HIGH GRADE COLLEGE

Situated at the Capital of the State. Location high, dry and healthful. Entrance requirements and curriculum same as in other leading Colleges and Universities, North and South. The very finest moral and religious influences. Courses leading to A.B., B.S., A.M., M.S. and LL.B. degrees.

MILLSAPS PREPARATORY SCHOOL.—Under separate Faculty and Dormitory Management. Unsurpassed training for College.

MILLSAPS LAW SCHOOL.—Offering extraordinary advantages. Superior Faculty; Law Libraries; accessible to all Courts.

TWENTY-FOURTH SESSION BEGINS SEPTEMBER 15, 1915.

For Catalogue and other information address

J. REESE LIN, Secretary. Jackson, Miss.

HOWARD COLLEGE

IN BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA

THE Alabama Baptist college for men. Located among foothills of beautiful suburb, on two electric lines. Beautiful grounds and modern buildings and equipment. Faculty of twenty-seven teachers. Fourteen units required for admission. Sixty hours work required for graduation.

THE CLASSICS: Seventeen departments are maintained, in which one hundred and twenty-eight courses are offered. Twenty-three points required. Thirty-seven points elective.

MUSIC: Howard College is the only primarily male college in the South with a standard School of Music. Faculty of five teachers, offering voice, piano, string and wind instruments and theory. Courses count toward college degree.

JOURNALISM: Howard College is the only institution in the South Atlantic States offering courses in Journalism. Theoretical and practical work offered under successful newspaper man.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION: Howard College is the only institution in the Birmingham district with an approved Department of Education. Graduates may procure first grade certificate to teach in State.

ATHLETICS: College authorities encourage inter-class and inter-collegiate athletics. Institution is a member of the Southern Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association. Two coaches employed.

Seventy-fourth annual session begins September 8, 1915.

JAMES M. SHELBURNE, President.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Port Gibson Dist.—Fourth Round.

Nebo, at Ebenezer, Sept. 11, 12.
Fayette, at Fayette, Sept. 19.
Woodville Station, Sept. 26, 27.
Woodville Circuit, at F., Wednesday, Sept. 29.
Centerville, at C., Oct. 2, 3.
Gloster and Liberty, at G., Oct. 2, 4.
Crawford Street, Vicksburg, 11 a. m., Oct. 10.
Gibson Memorial, Vicksburg, 7:30 p. m., Oct. 10.
Oak Ridge, at O. R., Oct. 17.
Rocky Springs, at Carpenter, Oct. 23, 24.
Utica, at Utica., Oct. 31.
Hermanville, at H., Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.
Port Gibson, Tuesday, Nov. 2.
Roxie, at ———, Wednesday, Nov. 3.
Mayersville, at M., Nov. 7.
Rolling Fork, at R. F., Nov. 14.
Anguilla, at A., Nov. 14.
Silver City, at ———, Tuesday, Nov. 16.
Natchez, Jefferson Street, Thursday, Nov. 18.
Washington, at W., Friday, Nov. 19.
Harriston, at Cane Ridge, Nov. 21.

Let the pastors and officials of the Port Gibson District give careful attention to all the questions that are to be brought up at this round of quarterly conference, and be fully prepared to report on the same. Especial attention will be given to Questions 12, 13, 14, 15, 21, 22, 23, and 24. As the district leader, I shall expect full reports under questions twenty-three and twenty-four, as these are of prime importance in the winding up of our work for the year. Brethren, let us do something worth while, and show ourselves to be workmen who need not be ashamed.

T. W. ADAMS, P. E.

Jackson District—Fourth Round.

Mendenhall, at Bethany, Sept. 25, 26.
Flora, Oct. 3.
Yazoo City, Oct. 10.
Fannin, Oct. 16, 17.
Brandon and Pelahatchie, at Pelahatchie, Oct. 17, 18.
Lake City, at Anding, Oct. 23, 24.
Satartia, at Wesley Chapel, Oct. 30, 31.
Edwards, at Clinton, Nov. 3.
Eden, at Phillips' Chapel, Nov. 5.
Benton, Nov. 6, 7.
Vaughan, at Fletcher's Chapel, Nov. 8.
Rankin Street, Jackson, Nov. 10.
Terry, at ———, Nov. 11.
Florence, at ———, Nov. 13, 14.
Harrisville, at Sinai, Nov. 14, 15.
Galloway Memorial, Jackson, p. m., Nov. 15.
Bolton, Nov. 17.
Millsaps Memorial, Jackson, p. m., Nov. 17.
Madison, Nov. 18.
Camden, at ———, Nov. 19.
Sharon, Nov. 20, 21.
Canton, p. m., Nov. 21.
Capitol Street, Jackson, Nov. 22.

PAUL D. HARDIN, P. E.

Seashore District—Fourth Round.

Logtown, September 11, 12.
Moss Point, September 18 (a.m.), 19.
Escatawpa, at E., September, p.m.,19.
Pascagoula and Ocean Springs, at S., September, p.m., 20.
Saucier, at Camp Ground, September 24.
Coalville, at Camp Ground, September 25, 26.
Poplarville, October 2 (a.m.), 3.
Lumberton, September, p.m., 3, 4.
Americus, at Salem Camp Ground, October 9, 10.
Vancleave, at New Prospect Camp Ground, October 16, 17.
N. Gulfport and Lyman, at L., October 23 (a.m.), 24.
Bay St. Louis, p.m., October 24, 25.
Wiggins and Bond, at Bond, October 30 (a.m.), 31.
Brooklyn, at Brooklyn, p.m., October 31 and November 1.
Columbia, November 6, 7.
Hub, November 8.
Biloxi, November 13 (a.m.), 14.
Mississippi City and Handsboro, at Handsboro, p.m., November 14, 15.
Carriere and Picayune, at Picayune, November 16.
Mentorum, at Alexander Memorial, November 18.
Longbeach, November 20 (a.m.), 21.
Wolf River Mission, at Beulah, p.m., November 21.
Gulfport, First Church, p.m., November 22.

Points for pastors: Our District led in practically all points during 1913; and with a single station meeting assessments, would have led for 1914. Readjustment by Boards placed more than a thousand dollars more upon us than we had been allotted before, for this year. The District is not so well able to pay last year's allotment even, with lumber, our chief product, barred from so much of the world. Boll weevil districts are recovered largely from troubles beginning more than ten years ago. The war of half the world has hastened what we would have met in this section a little later through the closing of the pine industry—a confusion of the labor and some distress. I mention these facts for one reason: to cheer our people to continued leading of the Conference districts, with the large added allotment from the Boards. And for one anxious signal, also—that we have two weeks' time in which to round up the heavlest financial obligation in the history of the District in its present form. We can do it. Let us do it. W. H. HUNTLEY, P. E.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONF.

Sardis Dist.—Fourth Round.

Batesville, Aug. 21, 22.
Como, Aug. 22, 23.
Arkabutla, Arkabutla, Aug. 28, 29.
Senatobia, Sept. 4, 5.
Hernando, Sept. 11, 12.
Coldwater, Sept. 12, 13.
Tyro, at Free Springs, Sept. 18, 19.
Longtown, at Longtown, Sept. 25, 26.
Eudora, at Eudora, Oct. 2, 3.
Crenshaw, at Sledge, Oct. 3, 4.
Courtland, at Pope, Oct. 9, 10.
Oakland, at Oakland, Oct. 10, 11.
Charleston, Oct. 11.
Olive Branch, at Miller, Oct. 15.
Pleasant Hill, at Pleasant Hill, Oct. 16, 17.
Eureka, at Pisgah, Oct. 23, 24.
Sardis Circuit, at McGee, Oct. 30, 31.
Sardis, Nov. 6, 7.
Wall Hill, at Chulahoma, Nov. 13, 14.
Cochran, at Greenleaf, Nov. 20, 21.

J. W. DORMAN, P. E.

Columbus Dist.—Fourth Round.

Macon, Sept. 5, 6.
Columbus, First Church, a. m., Sept. 11, 12.
Columbus, Central, p. m., Sept. 12, 13.
Artesia, a. m., Sept. 18, 19.
Starkville, p. m., Sept. 19, 20.
Macon Ct., at Center Point, a. m. Sept. 25, 26.
West Point, p. m., Sept. 26, 27.
Brooksville, Oct. 3, 4.
Crawford, at Shafer's Chapel, Oct. 9, 10.
Cedar Bluff, Oct. 16, 17.
Shuqualak, Oct. 23, 24.
Longview Ct., at Pugh's Mill, Oct. 30, 31.
Sturgis, Nov. 6, 7.
Mayhew, Nov. 10.
Mashulaville, Nov. 13, 14.
Cochrane, Nov. 20, 21.
Columbus Ct., at Andrew's, Nov. 27, 28.

W. W. WOOLLARD, P. E.

CAMP MEETING NOTICE.

On July 24, the New Prospect Camp Ground Association met in answer to the call of its President and after some discussion as to the practicability of holding the camp meeting this year, a motion was made and carried in favor of said meeting.

The time? The meeting will begin on October 13, at 7:30 p. m.

All preachers will be entertained free of charge. All former pastors desiring to attend are cordially invited to be present.

We especially desire an interest in the prayers of all Christian people that our camp meeting may be a great success.

W. L. BLACKWELL, Pastor.

Whitworth College

BROOKHAVEN, MISS.

WHAT IS SAID ABOUT WHITWORTH:

Prof. B. T. Schumpert, Superintendent of Public Schools, Brookhaven, Miss.: "The people of Brookhaven appreciate Whitworth College. The best appreciation that can be shown the splendid management of this College is home patronage; 100 per cent of our High School graduates of last year that remained in school are at Whitworth College. For real home making in after school life, this College excels."

Miss Bertha Baur, Directress of music, Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, Cincinnati, Ohio: "After the many excellent talents which have come to us from Whitworth College during the past ten years, I feel impelled to write to you of their superior studentship and splendid preparation, not only technically but musically, which has been on a par with the best schools of this country. I congratulate you on your splendid music department and its high standard; in each case, students from Whitworth College have been able to take their places in the front rank. It is always my pleasure to indorse Whitworth College."

From a Letter of Two Northern Gentlemen: "As we were sojourning in your city for a few days, it became our happy privilege to attend the graduating exercises of your advanced class in Music and Elocution. We both, being graduates of Northern schools of Oratory and Elocution and in intimate connection with the Boston and New York Conservatories of Music, acquainted with the results of their work, it is plain to see why we would be attracted to your entertainment. It is now with special pleasure that we express our delight and surprise at the excellency attained by the graduates of both classes, and we can truthfully say that we cannot remember having seen better general graduates turned out of either of the above mentioned schools or conservatories."

G. W. Huddleston, President of the State Board of Examiners, Jackson, Miss.: "I am very much pleased to say that the work in examination for Professional License by students of Whitworth shows that their training has been thorough, accurate and broad. Most of your girls have submitted excellent papers—and several very excellent. I am gratified, really proud, that our church schools are doing such fine work, and I most heartily congratulate you for the part you have in it."

Session 1915-16 will open September 15, 1915.
Students are expected to reach the College Sept. 14.

Opening Sermon by Rev. W. H. Saunders on September 19th, 1915.

Fifty Thousand Dollars worth of improvements made in the last four years. Every modern Convenience. A Superintendent of Education writes July 8, 1915: "I have been Superintendent of Public Schools for ten years. Several of my teachers have received their education at Whitworth and I found them all efficient. I hope to be able to have my daughter finish there."

OFFICERS AND TEACHERS 1915-1916

I. W. COOPER, A.M., D.D., President and Treasurer.
MISS JANIE H. DRAKE, A.M., Dean.

LITERARY DEPARTMENT

MISS JANIE HOWARD DRAKE (A.M. Whitworth College; two years student at Goucher College, Baltimore; nine years Chair of English, Whitworth; two years Lady Principal, Sullins College)—English and Bible.

MISS HARRIET VENTRISS (A.B. Randolph-Macon Woman's College)—French and History.

MISS MILDRED C. MITCHELL (Graduate Belmont Seminary and student of University of Virginia; nine years Chair of Mathematics, Synodical College, Fulton, Mo.)—Mathematics.

MISS MARY SHULER (B. S. Martha Washington College)—Science and Philosophy.

MISS IONE GREENE (A.B. Millsaps College)—Latin.

MISS SOPHIE LEE CAMERON—Presiding Teacher and Assistant in Preparatory Department.

MRS. T. E. POND—Chaperon.

MISSES MABEL POTTER AND RUTH KELLOGG—Librarians.

DEPARTMENT OF EXPRESSION AND PHYSICAL CULTURE

MISS LULAH RAGSDALE (New York College of Expression.)

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

MISS ELIZABETH McVOY (Graduate of Mrs. Harding from the New England Conservatory, also Pupil of Theodore Bohlman, Cincinnati)—Musical Directress and Teacher of Piano.

MISS LOIS WADSWORTH COOPER (A.B., M.B., Whitworth College, Cincinnati Conservatory; Graduate Pupil of Theodore Bohlman)—Piano, Harmony and Musical History.

MRS. IALEEN DUNNING (M.B. Whitworth College)—Piano.

MISS LUCY IRWIN SHANNON (Pupil of M. Leftwich Rawlings, Nashville, and J. Harry Wheeler, New York City, and Chas. Washburn, Chautauqua, N. Y. Public School of Music under Jessie S. Gaynor and Milton Cook)—Teacher of Voice and Piano.

MISS EDNA COOLEY—Tutor.

ROBERT COPLEY FITARD (Pupil Mark Keiser, New Orleans; pupil Emanuel Wirth, Berlin, Germany; pupil Alexander Fiederman, Berlin, Germany; graduate Stern Conservatory of Music, Berlin, Germany)—Violin.

ART DEPARTMENT

MISS MYRTIS SMITH (A.B. Mississippi Industrial Institute and College; studied in Chicago and New York City)—Drawing, Painting, and Art Crafts.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

MISS LILLIAN C. CLARK (Southwestern University and Technical Normal School, Chicago).

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

MISS REVERE—Stenography, Typewriting and Bookkeeping.

DOMESTIC DEPARTMENT

MISS HANNAH MILLSAPS, A.B.—Superintendent.
J. T. BUTLER, M.D.—Physician.
A. L. MOORE—Night Watchman.

Forty Industrial Scholarships. Board, laundry, medical fee, literary tuition, may be reduced to $105.00, nine months.

Board of Church Extension

1. Its Aim

(1) An Adequate church building for every congregation.

(2) A comfortable parsonage for every itinerant preacher.

2. Its Achievements

(1) Aided in housing 9,235 of our 19,735 congregations.

(2) Aided in building parsonages for 2,458 itinerant preachers.

3. Its Present Task

(1) A roof over 2,593 homeless congregations and modern buildings for thousands inadequately housed.

(2) Parsonages for 1,155 homeless itinerant preachers and better homes for thousands of others.

4. Its Resources

(1) Annual assessment on the Church of $300,000.

(2) Loan Fund Capital of $671,436.19.

5. Its Appeal

(1) That pastors and churches everywhere make special effort to secure the Conference Collections in full, and that in case of failure to secure full payment on total connectional claims, the Church Extension assessment and all others be given a "square deal" in the division of receipts.

(2) That borrowers from the Loan Fund Capital of the Board pay installments of interest and principal promptly when due, that others may receive needed and promised aid.

(3) That pastors, presiding elders, lay leaders, and others be on the lookout for contributions of money, land, notes, or other securities to the Loan Fund Capital of the Board, either as absolute gifts or on the annuity plan, and to be used in creating Memorial or other Loan Funds.

6. "Finally, Brethren"

(1) Appropriations already made cannot be paid in full if there is a decrease in receipts on assessments.

(2) In almost every community may be found those willing to increase the efficiency of the Board and their own income by the purchase of the Annuity Bonds of the Board. The security is absolute. The office wants their names.

(3) Send for six-page folder describing more than three score free publications, and pick out what you want for personal use, Sunday school, Epworth League, and congregation.

(4) Is your Sunday school using the Birthday Sunday School Loan Fund Jar? If not, why not? Write for booklet.

Board of Church Extension
of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South
(Incorporated)

Address W. F. McMURRY,
Corresponding Secretary,
Louisville, Kentucky

NEW ORLEANS
CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE

Vol. 62—No. 36. Official Organ of the Louisiana, Mississippi, and North Mississippi Conferences, Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Whole No. 3107.

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor. NEW ORLEANS, LA., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1915. CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Editorial

THE CALL TO SAINTHOOD.

In both his Epistles to the Churches at Rome and Corinth Paul reminds those composing them that they are "called to be saints." Such undoubtedly is Christ's ideal for every Christian. The whole teaching of the New Testament Scriptures shows this to be true.

But what are some of the elements of sainthood? Among these must first be set down purity of heart—holiness. This is the great end and consummation of all spiritual development. It is the supreme thing to which every disciple of Jesus should ardently and unceasingly aspire, and for the attainment of which he should bring into faithful use all the means and powers at his command. Nothing else can take its place. Without it, all other acquirements and possessions are but as "sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal." In proportion as they have the "mind that was in Christ Jesus," do men approach the glorious goal that God has in view for them.

To be a saint is also to live in conscious fellowship with the risen Lord—to walk, as Enoch did in the dim long-ago, with God. The world does not understand the meaning of such language as this, but the illuminating Book of Holy Writ amply warrants its use. The Master in the beginning of his wonderful ministry said, "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God"; and when he neared its marvelous end and Calvary was in sight and he was speaking his farewell message to the faithful few, he declared, "If a man love me he will keep my words; and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him and make our abode with him." The obedient disciple does not grope his way through life alone. The Heavenly Father speaks to him and guides him by the Holy Spirit. Out of this mystical union with his living Lord come his spiritual vitality and fruitfulness. Did not Jesus say to those who followed him, "I am the vine; ye are the branches; he that abideth in me and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit; for without me ye can do nothing?"

To be a saint, however, is not to be an ascetic. That is a total misconception. Jesus was the one ideal saint that the world has known, and he mixed with the people and "went about doing good." To be sure, he had his seasons of devotion and sometimes spent whole nights in prayer; but by far the larger portion of his time was given to busy ministries to the needy sons of men. The place to look for sainthood is not in the cloister, but out in the wide-reaching fields of service. The Great Commission was to go and preach the gospel to others—not to leave the sinful world alone and endeavor to tread a solitary path to heaven. The true saint has the seeking spirit of his Lord—a passion to save the lost. Of admiration for his own virtues he has none; his attitude is one of beautiful humility. He wars against sin in his own inner being and everywhere else, and, knowing its subtlety, fears its insidious approach. He is watchful, prayerful, and busy in the work of the Lord, ever endeavoring to keep the faith and so to use his time and talents as to have the approval of both his own conscience and the Master.

Such are some of the characteristics of the true saint. To be such, God calls all his children. Shall we not endeavor to become what he desires us to be? If we do not, great will be our loss both in time and in eternity.

LOYAL TO THEIR CHURCH.

The following letter sent us by the president of one of our Methodist schools is self-explanatory, names being omitted for obvious reasons:

"Dear Mr. ———: Your letter stating that you had reserved a room for me and my sister, as requested, came some time ago and we certainly do appreciate it, but we have decided to go to ——— College, which belongs to our own Church. I am sure we should have liked your school very much, but the family have talked and thought the matter over and have decided that we should patronize the schools of the Church to which we belong.

"Hoping that you will have a successful and pleasant year, and thanking you again for your kindness. Sincerely yours,

"Miss ———."

While this cancellation of room-reservation comes rather late in the season, the spirit of loyalty thus manifested is rather to be commended than condemned. If our Methodist people would show their loyalty to our schools in the same manner, we are sure that every one of our colleges would be crowded to the limit. Our schools are not only rendering the best of service to the Church in an educational way, but they are training our future leaders for religious activity and enterprise. Besides this, it is to them, not to outside schools, that we make our appeals for the education of our orphans and worthy but needy young people. It is not fair to ask them to care for all the charity pupils and then direct the patronage of affluence to outside schools. We happen to know a case where a lady who is a leader in her home church made a most pathetic appeal to the President of one of our colleges to take a poor girl at half price, when she was sending her own daughter to a school whose charges for one year would have paid all expenses both for her own daughter and her needy neighbor for two years.

If our people would give their patronage to the schools of our Church, these institutions would not only prosper, but would increase their usefulness many fold. The sender of the above letter says that he has thus far enrolled only one girl belonging to another Church. That shows how loyal others are to their own denominations. Away with the idea that it is narrow for Methodists to insist upon patronizing their own schools, the character and efficiency of which are beyond doubt!

TWO IMPORTANT ELEMENTS OF STRENGTH.

Dr. A. M. Fairbairn, the distinguished English minister, educator, and author, according to the New York Christian Advocate, was a great toiler. That journal quotes his biographer as describing his schedule of work at Bathgate, an industrial town which was his first pastorate, as follows:

"It was his habit to rise at half past five in the morning, when he made himself a cup of coffee and worked till breakfast, at 8:30. For some time he held a young men's weekly Bible class at 6 a. m. After breakfast he sat down to work again till his dinner hour at 2 o'clock. After a short rest, on three afternoons in the week he visited among his people, and spent the evenings in classes, meetings, or other engagements. On the other three afternoons he rode or walked and devoted the evenings to further study. The hour from eleven to twelve every night he reserved for desultory reading."

It is not surprising that with a fine native endowment and such habits of industry Dr. Fairbairn attained to real greatness and achieved so much. There are few obstacles that persistent diligence cannot surmount. Nor is there anything else that can lift one to the heights and bring the richest acquirements. The slothful man cannot escape mediocrity and a life lacking in fruitfulness.

Our contemporary also quotes one who knew Dr. Fairbairn long and well as having said: "To me he will always remain the friend who tried to enter into the sufferings and joys of the poor, who, sprung from the people, understood the people, and felt that no encouragement was too great to give to the man who would be willing to go to the assistance of those whom he loved."

The fact that this accomplished student and thinker kept alive his sympathies with the people and sought to live in touch and fellowship with them is a point well worth stressing. Books alone cannot develop one harmoniously and fully. One must live as a man amongst men if all the potentialities of being are to be unfolded and one is to grow symmetrically to the largest proportions. A genuine and active interest in humanity, whatever may be its condition, is one of the essential things for a Christian minister.

PASTORS ONLY CAN DO IT.

If we desire to bring our Sunday schools to a high standard of effectiveness and keep them upon that plane, we must have pastors who are informed as to the best methods in that branch of Christian work and who will give themselves faithfully to its promotion. The touch of any other official is too intermittent to accomplish the best results in this important department of service. We may as well set it down that our Sunday schools will never be what they ought to be until our preachers in charge are prepared to make them such. Our leaders would, we think, do well to recognize this fact.

A LESSON FROM THE PINES.

By Edna Abels Salassi.

I strolled among the pines at eventide;
My thoughts were saddened by adversity,
Sorrow and care and pain, and naught beside,
Seemed sweeping o'er me like an angry sea.

Then, from the forest depths there seemed to come
A low, sweet sigh, as if of sympathy;
As, stirred by zephyrs, rose a gentle hum,
And gently swayed each slender, graceful tree.

"Tall, tow'ring pines, within whose magic breath
God placed a healing balm for earthly ill,
How have ye stood erect 'mid threatened death
Thro' many years, in storms and winds so chill?

"Thou, monarch of thy kind, canst thou impart
To me thy secret, that I, too, may be
Unhurt by storms that tear and rend the heart,
And tower higher, year by year, like thee?"

The answer came: "Deep in the gloom of night
Hast thou not heard a moan, a sob of pain,
As stormy elements, with furious might,
Strove to uproot or rend us quite in twain?

"Yet ever comes the sun with loving light,
And, cleansed and purified by Heaven's rain,
We smile, our tears all turned to diamonds bright,
As each reflects his radiance again.

"'Tis ever thus, O child of earthly cares;
Behind the darkest cloud awaits the sun;
So, cleansed and purified by pain and tears,
Learn but to smile and say, 'Thy will be done.'"

Springfield, La.

THE BIBLE AND THE "TONGUE PEOPLE."

By Rev. J. C. Rousseaux.

I.

The sect to which I shall refer in this article style themselves the "Apostolics;" to others they are sometimes known as the "Holy Rollers," the "Tongue People," or the "Unknown Tongue Talkers."

After careful study and earnest and honest comparison of these people, and the way they sing, preach, and pray with the teaching of the Scriptures, I am bound to admit that they seem to be tremendously in earnest, and that if they are insincere, they are the best corps of actors one ever saw. But really they can scarcely be said to be insincere. They preach against sin and urge a holy life. This is truly Biblical, and no one can honestly object to it. Close observers of the sect claim that they are much given to prayer, song, and reading their Bibles. They spend their time largely apart from the people, except in their services, and will not even drink lemonade at a soda fount. The chief leader of the movement here refused such an invitation from me, and that night at the meeting took me for a text, and said that he could not afford to thus mix with the world. Whether this was for show or for conscience, I know not certainly; but I am willing to give the defendant the benefit of the doubt and call it sincerity. I make this admission candidly, and chiefly, because I desire the reader to appreciate my own honesty when I shall, at a later stage, make other statements of note.

But sincerity and outward form are not always insurance against error. An insincere man, in my opinion, can not be led off into anything because he is not honest enough to try to inquire into it. Hundreds of the prophets of Baal cut themselves and cried aloud, either out of sincerity or to make a show. Let us say they did it out of sincerity. They prayed mightily all together, and afflicted themselves before their gods. Yet in their sincerity they were grossly in the wrong. No one can deny it. Elijah, however, the man of God, prayed to the God who answers by fire. This mighty God gave the sign of his presence there, as he did later, on Pentecost. Fire came down, consumed the sacrifice and even the water in the trench about the altar. God had heard and answered, yet only one man of faith who was right had prayed to him. Great was the confusion of the false gods and their sincere followers!

Find Fault With the Churches.

These "Tongue People" claim that the Churches and the preachers in general have not the real article of religion, because they did not get it in the "tongue way." Has not God been in the Church? Is it not proof that God has been at work in the world, because through his people in the different denominations good has been accomplished and mighty strongholds of vice and sin have been pulled down? The saloon, as it now lies in this country, crowded to the ropes and gasping for life, alone is sufficient to prove that God has blessed these Churches.

Would God have passed by the men who died at the stake, as martyrs for freedom of thought and religious liberty, refusing to them a revelation that these people now claim to have? These people have never died for anything and know not the meaning of constituted authority. They discredit the Church in its mighty history; they seem to discredit ministers and the fact of joining the Church and taking an open stand for Christ. They circulate false reports about the ministry. At a near-by town they claimed that the preachers had been supported by women selling fried chicken and lemonade. And they intimated that now the women were supporting them by their immorality; for which cause, desperate men ran them out of town.

Those whom they do win lose confidence immediately in their own pastor and church. When they go off into this error, they say they have not joined anything; they simply got religion, and henceforth they regard their pastor as one who would fight them. In another town near-by some of our people went off after this delusion, and when the pastor noted their withdrawal on the register, they said he had put them out of the Church because they had "got religion."

It is a fact sorely to be decried that there are many who get into the Church and do not live up to their professions. Even in denominations that make regeneration a requisite to membership, or a condition of admission, there are many unconverted, many backslidden people. Can you blame the preachers and the Church with what people are themselves responsible for? I, for one, preach holiness and a definite experience of salvation from all sin.

Disorderly Methods.

These "Tongue People" claim to pray you through to God. They do not let a penitent pray by himself, but they say that without their all praying together so that nobody can understand, not even the poor, confused penitent himself, he can not find God. They tell him he can not get salvation with his mouth shut. Then they tell him to say "glory." They make him say this word faster and faster until he does not know what he is saying, and then he has found God. But no matter how many times he says "glory," no matter how long he says it, and no matter how fast he says it, he has not found a pardoning God until he manages to get his tongue all twisted up and say he knows not what—gets the "unknown tongue"—and then he has found God. What a travesity on the intelligence of the great, wise Father!

If it is God making these people do this unknown thing, if it is God talking through them, then I do submit that God seems not to have any intelligence.

Salvation is an individual matter between the soul and God. Ten thousand people might claim to have the power to pray a person through, but if the penitent did not pray and exercise faith for himself he would not find relief. I would not discount praying for one another. I believe in the altar. It is the dearest place in my memory, and I am going to use it as long as I preach the Word. But God never fails to hear the earnest prayer of the penitent, when he cries, "God, be merciful to me a sinner!" Jesus taught us that when a man finds God he will not need any one to tell him to praise God. He will do that as soon as the light comes. He may shout aloud, but not necessarily so. He may simply have a new light burning in his eyes, or an inward inexpressible "peace that passeth all understanding." There are many times when we need to "stand still and see the salvation of the Lord."

The altar is a most sacred place, a place of perfect harmony, and everything done at the altar must be done "decently and in order." I can not enjoy being in that crowd around the altar, when all of them are shrieking, squalling, and practically yelling at God, all at the same time, and at the top of their voices, many of them so hoarse that they have really done injury to their throats, and ruined that part of the "temple of the Holy Ghost." Is not God right there? Will he hear any more readily by all popping their hands in his face and yelling at him as if he were afar off and were deaf? The prophets of Baal did this. At least God is not deaf, and he is gentleman enough to be courteous and to expect common politeness and decency and a sense of propriety in those who approach him. Even a delegation of negroes has sense enough to appoint a spokesman when they visit the President to lay out their matter before him. Is the Almighty and merciful God entitled to less respect then Mr. Wilson? The President could not understand even a body of white men, would not tolerate them, were they to go into his presence and all yell at him at the same time. He, like Paul, would have everything done decently and in order. As for that matter, God hears the prayers of his people around the world day and night. He is by no means limited. But in an altar service, when all pray at the same time, no one can understand, the people regard it as a show, and the practice gives rise to the wildest delusions, and really aids these people in their efforts to use the "unknown tongue," because of the confusion it creates, and because it removes embarrassment from the more timid, who do not mind saying anything because they know they will not be understood.

Much Shouting a Necessity.

The "Unknown Tongue Talkers" say that no man can get religion without shouting—a theory they have invented no doubt to support their practice of making penitents say "glory" until they are out of breath and fall from sheer exhaustion. Some people have said that they put a spell upon the penitents. They make them say "glory," and keep on making them say it faster and faster, until they do not know what they are saying, and sometimes they fall down from mere fatigue and dizziness. That is the case plainly. And for that, there is no word of Scripture anywhere. They make little children, of whom Jesus said, "Of such is the kingdom of heaven," say the same thing until, after yelling and "carrying on" over them, the children are frenzied; and they say that the reason why it is hard for the children to find the Lord is because God is taking his Spirit away from the Gentiles and directing it to the Jews. The most pitiful sight in the world is to see a little seven-year-old child, squalled at almost every night for two weeks, and after she had prayed and said "glory" for all this time, and often half hours at the time, then to end up in utter exhaustion, fall over in tears, with this brilliant preacher and "apostle" of this new fanaticism affirming that the child had not yet found God because she could not talk in the "Unknown Tongue." This happened to my certain knowledge here in Zwolle.

To my mind, the religious persecutor is the most despicable being on earth. I would not persecute any one, or drive out any one. But I can and will lift my voice to help banish this awful form of delusion, this fanaticism, for it is truly unscriptural. Great interpreters, these! Great masters of the "Unknown Tongue!" To them the English tongue is almost an unknown quantity, and they could not, if they tried, write or speak a correct sentence.

The people go to see it because they say it is a show. And well might they. But I have had one of the "Tongue People" to admit to me, after he had talked in this tongue, that there was nothing to it. And that from a man who had once talked it. "What was it?" I asked. "Nothing to it," was his answer. All around people who were once professors of the art, are turning their backs upon it, and they are saying, "There is nothing to it."

Some Other Unwarranted Claims.

Another thing. Everywhere you will find sick people whom these "latter reign apostles" have anointed. This is another class of the torn-down monuments to their success. They claim that their failure is due to the fact that the sick persons did not "pay the price," that is, exercise faith. I judge that some of them had as much faith, as much trust, as those who were healed through Peter and John, and the others. The lame man at the Beautiful Gate was healed on the faith of the men who were talking to him. He asked them for money, and they, having none, gave him that which he did not have the faith to expect, namely, healing in the name of Jesus. Before the man knew what was happening, Peter had him by the hand, saying, "Silver and gold have I none, but such as I have give I thee. In the name of Jesus of Narazeth, rise up and walk." Now, whose faith was that? The man did not have any faith until after he was healed, and then he praised God. Here Peter began to tell him and the people that Jesus whom they supposed to be dead, but who had risen and ascended to heaven, had done this mighty work. Now, I ask, that if these people are really Apostolic, as they claim, why can not they heal as did Peter and John in the name of Jesus? They claim they can, but when they fail they blame it not upon themselves, but upon the poor person whom they have deluded into driving the faithful doctor from the door. Why do they not take the blame themselves? The truth is, though they may sincerely think they are Apostles, they are not; they are wrong; they seek to bolster up their false claims by the fact that some people whom they have succeeded in deluding, have fortunately outlived their sickness, or have grown better. Any one may occasionally do that. The devil, who has the power to put disease upon the people, as we learn in the case of Job, also has the power to remove the malady, if he can succeed in getting people to believe a lie, and thus confuse them, and finally damn them. Paul says the devil has the power to transform himself into an angel of light, and his ministers into the ministers of righteousness (2 Cor. 11:14, 15). Eddyism, falsely called Christian Science, has had some apparent miracles. But the Devil can easily perform miracles, if he sees by so doing that he can get men to believe that there is no such thing as matter, or disease, or death, or sin. If there is no such thing as sin, Christ Jesus is voted out of the world; we do not need a Savior.

Zwolle, La.

SCARRITT BIBLE AND TRAINING SCHOOL.

Miss Maria Layng Gibson.

Nearly a quarter of a century has passed since this Training School was added to the educational equipment of the M. E. Church, South, in order to test and train its young womanhood for the service of Christ and the Church, and the results achieved through its trained workers in this country and in foreign mission fields prove the value and success of the investment.

The twenty-fourth session will begin on Thursday, September 9, and the opening service will be held in the Memorial Chapel, which is now unusually attractive, as it has been newly painted and its beauty appeals to the aesthetic sense. Bishop E. R. Hendrix, Senior Bishop of the Church and President of the Board of Managers, will give the opening message to the students.

A new feature has been added this year. For several years a Six Weeks' Course has been held in January and February for the benefit of women, especially church workers who could not enter for the session or even for a term. This year another Six Weeks' Course will be introduced beginning September 14 and closing November 1. This course will, if possible, be more interesting than the mid winter course, as it will deal largely with the beginnings in Bible history, and the foundation principles of Sociology, Teacher training, and other subjects. During this course, a series of lectures in Sunday school methods will be given by Mr. E. E. French, Superintendent of Sunday School Supplies, Nashville, which will be highly instructive as well as inspiring to students. Autumn weather in Kansas City is beautiful, and some who may be deterred from enrolling in the January course for fear of wintry weather, may take advantage of the Fall Course at the opening.

An attractive leaflet entitled "Do You Know?" has lately been published giving much valuable information about the school. It aims also to make clear a point which has perplexed some applicants, as it shows the distinction between the requirements of the Training School and the requirements of the Woman's Missionary Council, for students who are entered on scholarships to be trained for work under the Council at home or abroad. This leaflet will be sent free on application to the Principal. Women who enter at their own expense desiring self-improvement are not required to meet the Council requirements.

The Scarritt Bible and Training School combines the thorough instruction of a high grade school with the refining influences of a Christian home, and "her daughters rise up and call her blessed." Missionaries trained here are at work in the principal mission fields under our own Board and Boards of other denominations, while numbers of deaconesses, city missionaries, pastors' assistants, and Travelers' Aids are consecrating their trained powers to the service of Christ in this country. Still others are "the noble mistress of the manse" aiding their husbands in pastoral work that adds greatly to their ministerial efficiency.

The Church and the world needs the ministry of trained, consecrated women. Knowledge of a need is a call to service, and this school, devoted to the training of women for such service, affords the needed opportunity for preparation. Write to the Principal, Miss M. L. Gibson, for full information. Remember the date: September the ninth, and act quickly.

Kansas City, Mo.

LET ALL SUNDAY SCHOOLS HELP RAISE IT.

By Miss Elizabeth Kilpatrick.

Sunday, Sept. 19, is Hamill Memorial Day. Our great and good Dr. H. M. Hamill, whose teacher-training plans and books have meant much to the world, whose love for the old South and his beloved mother glorified his every utterance, whose flawless vocabulary of the most polished English, and whose genial friendliness, added to other notable qualities, made him an outstanding figure over all our great country, has passed away.

During a visit to Japan he gave $1000 to a Teacher-training building on our school grounds at Kobe; many friends have added $5000 and our own Church means to add the $2000 needed to complete it, and it is to be raised on Sept. 19.

I'm believing every Sunday school, great and small, will have a memorial program and send in the money to Nashville, in order that this useful, needed building may be completed before the World's Sunday School Association meeting in Tokyo, 1916.

Dr. Hamill gave $360 toward an ideal playground in Monteagle, and on a recent Sunday several hundred children and many interested grown-ups dedicated this playground giving it Dr. Hamill's name. A beautiful tablet will be placed there to his memory.

The International Sunday School Association laid the corner-stone for a splendid Teacher-training building to his memory at Lake Geneva, Wis., this summer.

Auburn, Ala., will have a similar memorial of this educative, helpful type, and all of us want to have a big part in this Japan [illegible] He left sweet memories in the [illegible] and closed to God on the love of [illegible]

Mr. John R. Pepper, our [illegible] superintendent, has gotten out [illegible] program for the day which he will [illegible] His address is Memphis, Tenn.

SOME DEDUCTIONS FROM "FACTS."

A new publication, whose misnomer is "FACTS," has been coming to our desk with some degree of regularity, the past few months. We are assured by a note contained in said paper, that if we have not ordered it, some friend [illegible] has done so for us. Small favors are highly appreciated, even from an unknown source.

The most striking and unique feature about this paper, barring the fictitiousness of the facts it contains, is that it has no particular editor, and, therefore, that no one is responsible for its contents. It is published monthly, in four different cities, entered as second class matter (which is far too high a rate) at the Post Office in New Orleans, all names are withheld, and only numbers used, as in a certain institution with which its promoters are doubtless in partnership.

Anonymous letters, whether written or printed, bear unmistakable "ear marks" which brand them as being unworthy of consideration, and this is no exception.

"The trade" must indeed be driven to desperation, and realize that their "craft is in danger." It is bad enough when they slander our American heroes, Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, and others, extending their research back to Noah, but I believe that they are going a bit further than his Satanic majesty would have them, when they dare drag the name of our Heavenly Father and Elder Brother into disrepute. This act will disgust even their own friends who still retain a spark of decency and respect for sacred things.

We take it that "Facts" is a sort of "swan's last song," sung by inferior musicians.

Ruston, La. Mrs. A. C. McKINNEY.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

The Licensing Committee of the Lafayette District, Louisiana Conference, will meet at New Iberia, La., at 1 a. m., Thursday, Sept. 30, 1915. Those desiring license to preach, recommendation for admission on trial, or for readmission, are requested to meet with the committee at that time. JAMES I. HOFFPAUIR, P. E.

Indian Bayou, La., Sept. 2, 1915.

The New York Constitutional Convention proposes to have the Governor make the budget to cover the expenses of the State instead of the Legislature.

COTTAGE COLONY, NEAR HAMMOND, LA.
FOR THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.
Pine forest, artesian water, hot and cold baths, no dust or noise. Physicians' attention, Graduate nurse's service and drugs furnished.
Rates, $10 per Week and Up.
Address Dr. E. L. McGehee, Hammond, La.
City Office, 923 Maison Blanche Bldg.

DR. THADDEUS P. BELL
Practice Limited to the Medical and Surgical Treatment of the
EYE, EAR, NOSE & THROAT
And the Correction of Errors of Vision.
814 Audubon Bldg., New Orleans, La.

BUY LUMBER FROM
W. W. CARRE CO., Ltd.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Church News

The Western Christian Advocate (Cincinnati) remarks: "Self-starters are all right; but what most of us need is a self-stopper."

* * *

The Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church has in hand $309,000 of the $400,000 "Emergency Fund" for which a call was issued.

* * *

The Kentucky Conference has just closed its annual session at Millerburg, Ky., having met on Wednesday, September 1. It was presided over by Bishop Atkins.

* * *

The Rev. Gertrude von Petzoid, said to be the first woman preacher that appeared in England, has been banished by the War Department, under the charge of being a German spy.

* * *

Sunday, September 12, has been designated by a number of organizations as the day for special prayer for the public schools of the Nation. There were in 1913 more than nineteen million students in these schools.

* * *

Prof. E. C. Wilm, an instructor in Bryn Mawr College, has been elected to the Chair of Philosophy in Boston University, made famous by the late Prof. Borden P. Bowne. He is said to be a thinker of extraordinary ability.

* * *

Dr. C. F. Reid, Secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement of the M. E. Church, South, who had been in feebie health for some months, is again at his desk in Nashville. It is to be hoped that he will soon completely regain his strength.

* * *

Bishop W. F. McDowell, who has been engaged to deliver the Lyman Beecher Lectures on Preaching at Yale University, is said to be the second Methodist minister ever invited to perform that service. The other was Bishop Matthew Simpson.

* * *

Soochow University (Southern Methodist) has established a law school in Shanghai. Nine American lawyers and two Chinese lawyers at present compose the faculty. These lawyers, for the most part, are in active practice at the Shanghai bar.

* * *

Zion's Herald a few weeks ago commended the Southern Methodist Church for having held on to the historic designation of "presiding elder." The Herald thinks it is preferable to the new name, "district superintendent," adopted by the Northern Methodists.

* * *

The sixth volume of the Standard Edition of John Wesley's Journal, by Nehemiah Curnock, has recently come from the press. It was originally intended to limit this edition to six volumes, but it is now stated that one or two more will be needed to finish the work satisfactorily.

* * *

The Laymen's Missionary Movement has planned a national missionary campaign which includes conferences in about seventy-five cities in the United States. These meetings will begin in Chicago, October 14-17, 1915, and will close in Brooklyn, April 12-14, 1916. A National Missionary Congress will be held in Washington, D. C., from April 26 to 30, 1916.

* * *

We take the following from the Pacific Methodist Advocate: "Bishop R. G. Waterhouse, who, as our readers know, is taking a much needed rest at his home in Los Angeles, is faithfully following the advice of his physicians as to diet, rest, and recreation. He goes out riding in an auto nearly every afternoon, and feels that he is, though slowly, surely gaining strength as the days go by."

THE RUSTON DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

The work in the Ruston District is prospering in the hands of faithful ministers and a tireless presiding elder. The reports at the district conference showed a good, healthy growth in membership, and increased activity in the work of the Sunday school. (Reports since Conference show that good meetings have been held in many of the charges.) The district conference was well attended and unusually interesting. There was not a dull moment during the session, due largely to the presiding officer.

Rev. H. W. May, presiding elder of the Alexandria District; Rev. W. H. Coleman, presiding elder of the Shreveport District; Dr. R. H. Wynn, President of Centenary College; Rev. T. H. Morris, representative of Mansfield College, and Rev. R. W. Vaughan of the Orphaange, were visitors, and added to the interest of the Conference by private conversation and public addresses.

The Educational interests of the Conference were given the right of way, and much interest was aroused on the subject. The secret of success in the educational work of the Conference is with the preachers. They can do what they want to do. It will take time to do the work the Conference has in hand, but it can be done, if the preachers make up their minds to do it. The Louisiana Conference must take care of her colleges and give to her young men and young women the opportunities they are justly entitled to in an educational way.

Attention was given to the Sunday school work. There was an encouraging note in the reports of the preachers. A feeling pervaded the Conference that this department of church work must be made more efficient with a view to furnishing the requisite religious training of the children, which is being neglected to a great extent in the homes, and which cannot be done in the public schools.

It was brought to the notice of the Conference that there is not a licensed saloon in the district. However the Conference felt that it was not enough to keep our own territory dry, but that we should go to the help of those laboring to deliver other parts of the State and Nation from this curse. Resolutions expressive of this feeling were passed.

Plain Dealing is a delightful town, located about thirty miles above Shreveport on the Cotton Belt Railroad. Our stay was most delightful, and we will long remember our visit and the Conference.

H.

THE SCENT OF THE ROSES: PALMER CREEK CAMP MEETING.

Many years ago, in the pine country of Harrison County, twenty miles north of the Gulf of Mexico, devoted Christian men founded this property for the worship of God. Forty acres of virgin forest were donated and Tabernacle and tents constructed. Palmer Creek, limpid, curving, flows about the western edge of the grounds. Many are the stories attesting divine acceptance of the donation and of the humble sacrifice, annually, of prayer and consecration from the community. Waves of vitality, spiritually enriched, went forth from the focus of power—from a diameter of 50 miles the wholesome influence was felt.

The timber surrounding the Camp Ground has been taken away, but the whispering, high-plumed pines on the original forty acres still stand unmolested.

This year's session opens on the 18th of this month, continuing over two Sundays. Rev. D. E. Kelly, Mississippi Conference Evangelist, will have charge of the preaching services. Rev. H. J. Maddox, pastor of the Coalville charge, is pastor of the Camp Ground.

The Christian Advocate, if it went, as it should, into all the homes of our people, could and would diffuse this needed publicity over a large area in the next two issues. Many could be arranging to attend the camp meeting, tent part or all the while, and hold in mind things dear to those who pray—pardon, new life and peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ.

So, let your readers pass this information on; and may more readers come, from the remarkable offer you are making now to subscribers, of 50 cents for 6 months.

All preachers will be welcome, and provided for in warm hospitality. How honored and pleased we would be to have you there, Mr. Editor. Please accept the invitation to attend and put it to the best uses possible. Fraternally,

W. H. HUNTLEY.

P. S.—The caption of this notice grows from the fact that the old glories of the Camp Ground have been—like perfumed things, tinting and toning and sweetening the land far round it. Age has modified the early powers of camp meetings—they do not appeal as they have done; their place seems trembling in balance. But the children of the fathers live about the Tabernacle, and revivals are needed now as before. Suppose the pillars have been shaken, the roses have dropped, the vase broken wherein once was the flourishing camp meeting season. The cry to-day is what was cried by the fathers to God half a century ago—"sinners needing a Savior we raise this temple for thy praise—we gather with our children to our annual sacrifice, hear us O Lord, as Thou didst listen to our fathers; Thy grace is as of old, our sins grow heavy on us; visit us again, in the old Tabernacle; make bare Thine Arm."

Gulfport, Miss.

NORTH LOUISIANA ITEMS.

(Reported by Rev. A. Inman Townsley, of Rayville, La.)

Rev. J. W. Lee, of Lake Providence, recently assisted Rev. D. C. Barr in a successful series of revival services.

Rev. Rob't Randle, the pastor at Harrisonburg, La., had Rev. S. S. Bogan, of Winnfield, with him in a good meeting last week.

Rev. S. W. B. Colvin, of Rayville, held a fine meeting for Rev. W. E. Akin, of Elmore, La., recently.

Rev. A. G. George, of Mangham, was lately assisted in a successful revival by Rev. F. R. Power.

Rev. Geo. Fox, of the Waterproof charge, recently held a fruitful meeting at Waterproof, doing his own preaching. Professor R. N. Jeffery, of Shreveport, led the singing.

THE HOLMES STORE

OF NEW ORLEANS

is one of America's truly great department stores.

It has perfected a buying organization that reaches into every producing market of the world, maintaining offices in Berlin, London, Paris and Florence, as well as New York.

It never presents any merchandise that is not of good quality and equitably priced.

Its very efficient service to patrons in the city is supplemented by the largest and best-equipped mail order department of any store in the South. Ninety-eight per cent of all orders received are filled on date of receipt.

The aim of the store is to merit fully the confidence that has been manifested by the public during its seventy-two years of merchandising history.

D. H. HOLMES CO., Ltd.

The Louisiana Educational Campaign

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE
BOARD OF EDUCATION

Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., President

Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Sec'y

Rev. C. A. Battle, Treas., Baton Rouge, La.

(This Department is conducted by Rev. W. W. Drake, Conference Secretary of Education, and Rev. A. J. Gearheard, Publicity Commissioner.)

NEVER SAY "IT CAN'T BE DONE."

"It can't be done!" Ten of the spies who went to Caanan came back bearing the immense cluster of grapes, talking in glowing terms of the land that flowed with milk and honey, but shuddering at the fact that the sons of Anak dwelt there. Giants infested the land of Caanan. The land was all that the fondest dreams of the strongest imagination could picture, but giants disputed its possession and the ten spies said, "It can't be done."

Those ten spies might have recalled the fact that God promised that land to Abraham and his seed forever. They might have remembered that the promise was renewed to Isaac and Jacob. They could easily remember how Moses had come to them and by the power of God confounded the Egytian King, stayed the rushing currents of a mighty sea while they escaped from a pursuing army, and was blessed with God's presence in a pillar of cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night. But with these wonderful facts bright in their mind, their darkened hearts clouded their vision of God and they looked at the giants of Caanan and said, "We are by them as grasshoppers." You and I can't understand how they could have doubted under such circumstances. We condemn, and God condemned the ten spies for their lack of faith.

There is need of a great college for boys in Louisiana. Centenary is ideally located, and, aside from the fact that it is a rightcous thing to provide religious education for youth, and that God is ever with those who are zealous in good works, our Methodism has in Louisiana enough material wealth to amply equip and endow Centenary College and make it one of the truly great schools of the South. In spite of our knowledge that we can do this if we will only stand together and make a united effort, there are men (and some of them ministers) who lift the cry that it can't be done. Let us utter no word of doubt, but by united effort put $15,000 into the treasury of Centenary College by January 1, 1916.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

Receipts for all purposes (previously acknowledged)		$2636.11
Receipts on the Centenary Special of $6000—
F. S. Parker, credited to First Church, New Orleans	$25.00
H. W. Cudd, Keener Memorial, Baton Rouge	1.00
H. S. Johns on Blair proposition, credited to First Church, Baton Rouge	10.00
A. G. Shankle, Minden	2.00
R. W. Tucker, Noel Memorial, Shreveport	1.00
T. J. Holladay, Coushatta Charge.	3.75
Total	$42.75	$ 42.75
Total receipts Board of Education for Year		$2679.16

Aug. 30, 1915. C. A. BATTLE, Treasurer.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

Dr. Wynn is busily engaged with the various duties involved in the preparations for the opening of the new session, securing new students and promoting the movement to raise the $12,500 needed to secure Mr. Blair's proffered donation of $2500. He occupies some pulpit nearly every Sunday and presents the claims of Christian Education.

The present prospect is that the session to open on September 15 will have a more favorable beginning than that of last year.

Plans are being laid for a thorough canvass in the city of Shreveport in the interest of the Blair fund. Mr. Clanton, of that city, a friend of the college, recently voluntcered a contribution of $100 on this fund. So far about ten individual contributions of $100 each have been promised on this proposition, of which about half are from Shreveport.

ORPHANAGE WORK DAY.

To Louisiana Methodists:

Our annual "Work Day" for the benefit of the Louisiana Methodist Orphanage will be Saturday, October 9, and collections will be taken in the churches and Sunday schools on Sunday, October 10.

By Conference action, every church and Sunday school in the State is obligated to observe "Work Day." We would remind our people again that there is no assessment for the Orphanage; our treasury is now empty; and "Work Day" will be the only chance our people will have to help this cause. We are entirely dependent on this occasion for raising the funds necessary to carry us through the approaching winter. We now have 106 children under our care—to be fed, clothed, and schooled. We still owe $2000, with interest, which will be due on January 1, and unless all our people help, our cause must suffer and our work be impeded. Please do not forget the date, but prepare to observe "Work Day" on Saturday, October 9, and make a great success of the occasion.

Sincerely,

ROBT. W. VAUGHAN,
Supt. La. Methodist Orphanage.

LAYMENS' CONFERENCE, COLUMBUS DISTRICT.

West Point, Sept. 15-16, 1915.

In compliance with a resolution of the District Conference, a conference of the laymen of the Columbus District is hereby called to meet in West Point, Miss., Sept. 15th next. Lay leaders, Sunday school superintendents, and chairmen of Boards of Stewards throughout the district are especially urged to attend the conference. Pastors of the charges are cordially invited to be present and participate freely in the deliberations. The West Point Church will welcome and entertain all laymen and preachers who come. Plan to be there and drop a card to Mr. S. B. White, telling on what train you will arrive.

The purpose of the conference is to organize the laymen's work more thoroughly and efficiently both in the country and the town charges. A carefully planned program has been prepared. Three meetings will be held, Wednesday afternoon, Wednesday night, and Thursday morning. Information, inspiration, and determination to be and attempt more for God and the Church will, we hope and pray, result from this conference.

DABNEY LIPSCOMB,
District Lay Leader.

Columbus, Miss., Sept. 4, 1915.

Secular News and Comment

By R. E. Meek.

A California horticulturist has succeeded in raising a seedless tomato of large size.

• • •

The next meeting of the Southern Sociological congress will be held in New Orleans, March 27-30, 1916.

• • •

American investments in Canada, which were valued at $636,904,000 in 1913, are now estimated at nearly a billion dollars.

• • •

Storms within the past month, chiefly along the gulf coast, resulted in the destruction of a number of lives and much property.

• • •

The lumber exports of the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1915, were reduced to 47 per cent of those for the previous year.

• • •

According to the last Federal census, there are 3,948,722 farms in cultivation in the United States. 58,101 are operated by managers and 2,351,676 by tenants.

• • •

A formal inquiry into the recent examination irregularities at the United States Naval Academy resulted in the dismissal of two midshipmen and the punishment of twelve others.

• • •

Experts of the Japanese government have succeeded in raising tobacco in Koren from American seed. We are of the opinion that the cultivation of this product will be a curse, rather than a blessing, to that country in particular and to the world in general.

• • •

One of the latest devices in use in the European war is green barbed wire, the value of which over the wire which had previously been used is that it so resembles grass in color that when placed in the midst of a growth of vegetation it is hid from the view of the advancing foe.

• • •

The population of England in 1815 was 19,000,000, and her public debt, which had been greatly increased by the part which she had so recently played in the Napoleonic wars, amounted to $4,750,000,000, or about $250 per head. In the year 1914, when the present war broke out, her population was 46,000,000 and her national debt amounted to $3,500,000,000, or $75 per head.

• • •

Italians born in the United States are no longer regarded as subjects by the Italian government if they or their parents received naturalization papers previous to the commencement of the war. Up to the present time Italians that were born in this country and who had become naturalized American citizens were conscripted and forced to serve in Italy's army when they happened to visit the native land of their parents; but, as a result of the decision of the Italian government regarding dual citizenship, those now serving in the army will be dismissed and freed from further military service.

• • •

Cotton has been declared contraband by England. This act of the English government seems bound to be hurtful to the interests of the South, which center so largely in her cotton crop, though British sympathizers claim that it has been in reality contraband all the time and that the official act of England in declaring it so will not change matters much. If the Federal government comes to the Southern farmers' assistance, as Secretary McAdoo proposes, by making a loan of $30,000,000 in gold at 6 per cent interest, the tide of financial disaster may be stemmed. We fear, however, that despite such a glowing promise, the Federal government will fail the South in this trying hour as it did in the matter of helping to establish cotton warehouses.

LEON ERWIN & CO.

Fire and Casualty Insurance

[illegible] UNION STREET Phone, Main 365.

— ARTIFICIAL LIMBS. ORTHOPEDIC —
APPARATUS. ELASTIC HOSIERY
TRUSSES. CRUTCHES. ETC.
Catalogues mailed on request.

The McDermott Surgical Instrument Company, Limited.

734-738 POYDRAS STREET
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

The Home Circle

THE QUEST OF LAZY-LAD.

Have you heard of the tale of Lazy-Lad
  Who dearly loved to shirk,
  For he "hated" his lessons and "hated" his tasks
  And he "hated" to have to work?
So he sailed away on a summer day
  Over the ocean blue;
Said Lazy-Lad, "I will seek till I find
  The Land of Nothing-to-do.

"For that is a jolly land I know,
  With never a lesson to learn,
And never an errand to bother a fellow
  Till he doesn't know where to turn.
And I'm told the folks in that splendid place
  May frolic the whole year through,
So everybody good-by—I'm off
  For the Land of Nothing-to-do!"

So Lazy-Lad he went to the West
  And then to the East sailed he,
And he sailed north and he sailed south
  Over many a league of sea.
And many a country fair and bright
  And busy came into view;
But never, alas, could he find the coast
  Of the Land of Nothing-to-do.

Then Lazy-Lad sailed back again,
  And a wiser lad was he,
For he said, "I've wandered to every land
  That is in the geography,
And in each and all I've found that folks
  Are busy the whole year through,
And everybody in every place
  Seemed to have something to do.

"So it must be the best way after all,
  And I mean to stay on shore
And learn my lessons and do my tasks
  And be Lazy-Lad no more.
The busiest folk are the happiest,
  And what mother said was true,
For I've found out there is no such place
  As the Land of Nothing-to-do."

—L. M. Montgomery.

NOT TO BE BALKED.

A comparison made by an old carpenter twenty years ago may be applied in a much wider sense than he had in mind. He was speaking of two boys, brothers, who had been sent to him to learn the trade. They were bright boys, and their father, in telling the carpenter of his pleasure at their progress in their work, said he could not see but one had done just as well as the other.

"Um-m!" said the carpenter. "I presume to say their work looks about of a piece, but I'll tell you the difference between those boys: You give Ed just the right tools and he'll do a real good job; but Cy, if he hasn't got what he needs, will make his own tools and say nothing.

"If I was cast on a desert island and wanted a box opened I should know there'd be no uso asking Ed to do it, without I could point to a hammer.

"But Cy," said the old carpenter, with a snap of his fingers, "the lack of a hammer wouldn't stump that boy! He'd have something rigged up and that box opened, if there was any way to open it! I expect Cy's going to march ahead of Ed all his life."

Twenty years have proved the truth of the words, for while the boy who "made his own tools" is rich, his brother is still an ordinary workman.—Youth's Companion.

THE GIFT.

"This," said a proud father, addressing a gentleman visitor, and directing his glance towards his 10-year-old son just entering the room, "is the boy whose picture you admire so much. The little fellow really has a wonderful talent for drawing."

"And what has this little lady a talent for?" asked the gentleman, turning kindly toward a modest-looking little girl who had entered the room in the rear of her brother, and now stood quietly by her mother's side.

The father hesitated as his eyes rested upon his less-gifted child; but the mother, drawing her fondly towards her, replied: "This little girl has a talent for doing the best that she can."

The most slenderly endowed among us may do this much. The most gifted cannot do more. Our Blessed Lord is not a hard master, "reaping where he has not sown, and gathering where he has not strewed," but he does require that the service which we render shall be in proportion to the capacity with which he has endowed us; the servant in the parable who received five talents gained beside them five talents more. Higher praise was never given to man or angel than that bestowed upon the woman who anointed his head with ointment—"She hath done what she could."

Grace Willoughby.

TAUGHT BY A KITTEN.

"Why, kitty, what are you running around so for?" asked Ethel. "Do you want me to let you out? Oh, I see; your mother has brought you a mouse."

The little girl opened the screen door for the excited gray kitten to rush out. On the doorstep sat the mother puss, with a mouse beside her. The kitten snatched the mouse eagerly, but dropped it again and rubbed her head caressingly against the mother cat. Then she once more caught up the mouse and ran off for a delicious feast.

"You stopped to thank your mother, didn't you?" Ethel addressed the kitten. "You are a good kitty." Here she stopped. Her conscience pricked her a little, for she was constantly forgetting to express thanks.

That afternoon Ethel's mother went shopping. When she returned she brought the little girl some pretty gingham for a new dress. Ethel was about to receive it in the old matter-of-course way, but remembered the kitten's show of gratitude.

"Thank you, mamma, for my pretty dress," she cried. She was repaid by the pleased look which came over her mother's face.

At night her father brought her a basket of grapes, of which she was very fond. She reached eagerly for one of the large, purple clusters, then stopped. "Thank you ever so much, papa. It was so good of you to bring me the grapes."

That evening she thanked her grandmother, who opened the door for her when her arms were full of playthings, and she freely expressed her appreciation when Uncle Ben brought her a big, sweet apple. For the next few weeks she continued to surprise her parents by her ready thanks for every favor done her.

"What a change has come over you!" her mother remarked one day. "I haven't had to remind you to say 'Thank you' for a long time."

Ethel was silent for a moment. "Kitty did it," she replied. Then she related the incident of the kitten and the mouse. "I wasn't going to let a kitten be more polite than I was."—The Child's Hour.

SELF-RESPECT.

Self-respect literally means respect for one's self. Real self-respect was intended for each and every individual when our Holy Father created the first couple. It is a commendable virtue. To be without it wholly, or even partially, means abnormality. One is not as God purposed originally even when there is a partial lack of self-respect. Self-respect should be prominent in each and every relation of one's life. It is quite difficult for any one to defend himself as being truly religious when he is inexcusably lacking in self-respect in any part of his life. Indeed one is not ordinarily decent, much less religious, when devoid of self-respect. Not to have self-respect means no proper respect for others, and hence not to have proper respect for others and their rights means no self-respect.

Self-respect manifests itself in promptness whether in payment of debts, meeting promises otherwise, the answering of religious, business or social letters that should be answered, reciprocating kindnesses, etc. One of the [illegible] evils of this day is in [illegible] intentional loss of self respect.

It is no infrequent thing [illegible] apparently with silent contempt [illegible] all from him to whom he wrote [illegible] mediate reply. How one's interest [illegible] can become so lacking as for him [illegible] ordinarily decent towards his brethren, friends or even his enemies, is passing strange. What daring impudence on the part of any one who is not decent to claim to be a Christian, or truly religious. Self-respect obtains in a degree even with nice sinners, but its divine degree is with the truly religious.

No one should dread him who has proper self respect unless he himself wishes to do wrong, for it is then that it manifests itself in its real strength and beauty.

ISAAC LOCKHART PEEBLES

Wesson, Miss.

The Florida Christian Advocate says that Bishop Morrison "continues to lead in subscriptions" to it. He has always been a democratic chief pastor, ready to lend a helping hand in any work that needs to be done. And in concerning himself with placing Christian literature in the hands of the people he is following in the footsteps of the great Wesley.

ENLARGE YOUR DAY

Thousands of people have already learned how to enlarge their days; how to increase the time they can devote to profitable recreation and pleasure without sacrificing work that must be done.

They first discovered that the quickest and most satisfactory way to go "down town" was by the telephone.

Next they applied the same principle to their "out of town" business and social trips, and found it was even more satisfactory and proportionately much cheaper.

Do you Travel by TELEPHONE?

Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co.

(Incorporated.)

FLESH WOUNDS

Whether Cuts, Bruises or Burns cannot and will not inflame if treated promptly with

Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic

The cooling effect stops the pain at once—and a prompt cure, without swelling or suppuration, will follow in each instance.

A bottle in the house is your best safeguard against accidents.

All druggists 25 and 50 cts.

Dr. Tichenor's Antiseptic.
ASK ANY ONE WHO HAS EVER USED IT.

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: No. 512 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS

ROBERT A. MEEK, Editor,
CHAS. O. CHALMERS, Publisher.

Entered at the Postoffice at New Orleans as Second-class Mail Matter.

TERMS:
One Copy, one year, $1.50; eight months, $1.00. To preachers of all denominations, $1.00

PUBLISHING COMMITTEE:
Louisiana Conference—Rev. J. M. Henry, D.D., Rev. W. W. Drake, Rev. C. B. Carter.
Mississippi Conference—Rev. I. W. Cooper, D.D., Rev. C. W. Crisler, Rev. T. W. Adams.
North Mississippi Conference—Rev. W. W. Woollard, Rev. H. S. Spragins, Mr. J. D. Barbee.

Editorial

GRENADA COLLEGE.

Every room in this excellent institution ought to he taken hy the opening day of the approaching session. This is the only college for the education of young women that is maintained hy the North Mississippi Conference, which has a church membership of approximately 60,000, and in this respect it has the advantage of any similar school in the Advocate's patronizing territory. The Mississippi Conference, with about equal numerical strength, operates two colleges for young ladies—Whitworth and Port Gibson; and the Louisiana Conference which sustains Mansfield College has within its bounds only ahout 36,000 Methodists. There is no doubt that Grenada College would overflow with students if our people in North Mississippi would rally to its support as they ought. With such a constituency, it is a reproach to us that its dormitory facilities are not always taxed to their utmost.

Rev. John R. Countiss, the President of this school, in point of scholastic equipment, is not surpassed by the official head of any educational institution in Mississippi. We are not personally acquainted with many of the faculty associated with him, but they carry the imprimaturs of some of the best colleges and universities in the Nation. In referring to them President Countiss says: "All our faculty remain as indicated in the catalogue, and I think that it is far the best that we have had. All but two of its members have been with us from two to twelve years."

Grenada College is much better equipped for work to-day than it has ever been in its history. It gives us great pleasure to commend it heartily to the Methodists of North Mississippi. We believe that their daughters would he perfectly safe there in every respect and given the hest of training. Why should they send them away to other institutions—often to be cheated by the character of instruction given—when such superior advantages may he had in their own Conference? Such a policy is most unwise, to say the least of it. It is high time that our people were getting their eyes open and learning better than this. They are suffering a great loss by not doing so.

OVERSTOCKED.

We desire to state that, while we are pleased to have our friends write for the Advocate, we have on hand more lengthy communications than we can use for some time. As we have before said to our contrihutors, it is a mistake to write articles that it will take a page, or nearly that amount of space, to publish. We know of no weekly religious journal that wants long-drawn out discussions. There are too many interesting matters that need to he written ahout in these stirring times to exhaust a whole issue of a paper on two or three topics. The prolix writer is usually the one that goes unread. Three or four pages of doubly-spaced typewritten letter-size paper furnishes quite enough copy for one contribution to a Church paper. Of course, in handling matters of very great importance one may sometimes be forced to consume more space than that, but such cases are rare.

Boil down what you have to say, brethren. Learn the valuable art of condensation. And a paper the size of the New Orleans Advocate cannot handle a series of articles with much satisfaction, especially if they must appear in consecutive order. Were we to give the Publisher the amount of space to which he is entitled under his contract (however, he never claims it all), we would have left to take care of all the varied interests of the Church, including all departments of the paper, only eight pages. So it means a good deal for us to surrender one of these pages to a single person. Yet there are those who seem to think that they ought to be allowed to write at will in the Advocate and who are disposed to take offense if the Editor finds it impracticable to let them do so. But we have a demand for twice as much space as is at our disposal, and somebody must be shut out, as the Editor himself often is. It is in order that all who so desire may have a better chance to be heard that we plead for hriefer contributions. They would also, of course, enahle us to carry a greater variety of reading matter and our paper would in consequence be more interesting to the general public. The finest of all the senses is the sense of proportion.

THE STARKVILLE PROTEST.

We are publishing on another page a protest made by the citizens of Starkville, Miss., against the misrepresentations of them that appeared in a number of periodicals in connection with the public hanging of two legally sentenced criminals which recently took place in their community. This well-written and vigorous utterance speaks for itself, and the names attached to it are a guarantee that every statement made therein is accurate and thoroughly trustworthy. The Editor of the Advocate lived for a number of years in and near Starkville and is well acquainted there, and he has no hesitancy in affirming that a choicer people, intellectually and morally, can he found nowhere in Mississippi or the South. As will be noted in their report of what took place, they did everything in their power to avert a public execution of the two condemned negroes, and that when they failed in this, their further deportment toward them was up to the highest standard of Christian conduct. If they left anything undoue that a cultivated, refined, and religious people could do, we are at a loss to know what it was.

That they should under such circumstances have been slandered by sensational newspaper men and placed in a false light before the public, is nothing short of an outrage. And it was surprising, indeed, that a journal that affects respectability to the extent that The Literary Digest does, without any inquiry as to their dependableness, should have caught up and compiled these unreasonable stories and have scattered them hroadcast over the country. Such yellow journalism is a reproach to the secular press, and the more worthy periodicals of the land, of which there are many, ought to do their utmost to stamp it out. Disreputable and mendacious reporters ought to he blacklisted and put out of commission hy the decent newspapers. They are disturbers of the public peace and a curse to human society.

These unjust and wholly unwarranted misrepresentations of a high-minded and orderly Southern community brought, we regret to say, not a few sneers at the South in general from across the Ohio. It is much to be deplored that fifty years after the close of the great Civil War there are still many in the North who maintain a pharisaical and critical attitude toward the people of the South. We believe, however, that their number is steadily growing less. Both sections have too many evils of their own for either of them to essay the role of a harsh censor and arraigner of the other. On the contrary, in a spirit of mutual sympathy and trustfulness they should strive to co-operate in the work of correcting their social disorders and of lifting the civilization of our common country to a higher level in every part of the Union. Thus only can true progress be made and the Nation given the solidarity that it needs.

Sectionalism has written the blackest chapters in American history, and it is yet responsible for many of the worst things that are going on about us. Surely, its baleful reign has continued long enough, hoth in the North and in the South.

DOES NOT NEED TO TAG THEM.

The following is from a recent issue of The Youth's Companion:

"Each of the armies in this great war, says the Christian Herald, has a system that enables it to identify the dead. The Russian soldier wears a numbered badge; the French soldier has an identification card stitched into his tunic; the German soldier has a little metal disk that bears his name; the British soldier has an aluminum disk, with identification marks and church affiliations; the Japanese soldier has three disks, all alike, one round his neck, another in his helt, and another in his boot; and the Austrian soldier has a gun-metal badge, with his name on a tiny parchment leaf within.

"The Turk is the only soldier so lightly valued that he carries no hadge. Identification is evidently regarded as unnecessary in his case."

The Lord Jesus Christ does vastly hetter than any of these nations for those enlisted in his mighty army. He knows every soldier—the very hairs of his head being numbered; his eye is ever upon each of them, and when one falls upon the field he gathers him to himself, that where he is, there his follower may be also, to share his glory and reign with him evermore. "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life," is the promise of our invincible King to all who follow the standard of the Cross. Not even the grave of the Christian warrior is forgotten. On the contrary, he can confidently sing as he goes forth into the battle:

"God, my Redeemer, lives,
And ever from the skies
Will look down and watch o'er my dust,
Till he shall bid it rise."

GIVING TROUBLE IN CHINA ALSO.

Cigarette smoking has long been regarded as a grave evil in the United States and various agencies have been put to work to combat it; but, notwithstanding, it continues not only to flourish in this country, but also to extend its baleful sway into other lands that have been comparatively exempt from it. Referring to the energetic work of the British-American Tobacco Company to extend the sale and use of cigarettes in China, the China Christian Advocate, of August, 1915, among other things, says:

"China has with great effort almost ridded herself of the terrible curse of opium forced upon her by the British government years ago, and now she is being attacked by the forces of the cigarette interest which threaten to cause devastation and destruction, second only to that caused by opium. It is refreshing to hear of Anti-Cigarette Societies springing up throughout the country. * * * One of the biggest pieces of missionary work that the missionaries in China can do now is to combat the work of those who are trying to spread the cigarette among the hundreds of millions of the Chinese Republic."

It is truly a pitiable spectacle to see a heathen people thus endeavoring to protect themselves from the evils that representatives of so-called Christian nations are seeking to transplant among them. Satan, as well as the Church, has his missionaries, and they are surpassed by none in their activity.

PERSONAL AND OTHER NOTES.

The Holly Springs (Miss.) Reporter, of September 2, says: "Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Tucker and family returned home last Friday, after a delightful visit to relatives in Aberdeen."

Rev. W. W. Hopper, of Terry, Miss., has our thanks for a club of 16 trial subscriptions to the Advocate. This experienced and faithful pastor knows the importance of having the Church paper in the homes of his people.

Rev. Robert Selby, presiding elder of the Brookhaven District, takes a hopeful view of the work in his "diocese." He says: "The preachers are busy, and we are expecting to make a strong and successful pull on the home stretch."

Rev. C. B. Powell, of Clinton, La., closed a few days since a very successful meeting in the Clear Creek community, in which there were a number of accessions to the Church. His report will appear in our "From the Field Department" next week.

We make grateful acknowledgement to Rev. J. O. Bennett, of Jonesboro, La., for a club of 1 regular and 5 trial subscriptions to the Advocate. He is bringing things to pass in his field and wants his flock to be informed concerning Church matters.

According to the press dispatches, Dr. E. B. Craighead, formerly President of Tulane University, will no longer he the official head of the University of Montana, hut will edit a paper in Missoula, Montana, the town in which that institution is situated.

The opening sermon of Whitworth College, Brookhaven, Miss., will he preached on Sunday, September 19, by Rev. W. H. Saunders, of Fernwood, Miss. Brother Saunders may be depended upon to give the faculty and students of that historic institution a helpful message.

The Jackson (Miss.) Daily News recently carried an earnest appeal from the pen of Mr. Thad B. Lampton, of Jackson, in hehalf of the Mississippi Methodist Orphanage. The 125,000 Methodists of Mississippi ought not to allow that splendid institution to lack any needful thing.

Rev. R. W. Vaughan states that it has heen decided to observe the second Saturday in Octoher —the 9th inst.—as "Work Day" for the Louisiana Orphanage, instead of the third Saturday, as was announced last week. See Brother Vaughan's statement elsewhere in this issue of the Advocate.

Mr. James Z. George, a son of the iate Mr. A. H. George, of Carrollton, Miss., and a grandson of the lamented United States Senator J. Z. George, has been made the Assistant General Manager of the New Orleans Association of Commerce. He will have charge of the industrial department of that organization.

Rev. J. T. Cafferty writes: "We are in the midst of a good meeting at Eupora, Miss. Rev. J. H. Bell is doing the preaching. Ten have joined the Methodist Church at this writing. Recently Rev. J. B. Randolph of Kosciusko assisted me in our Mahen meeting, in which 27 joined our Church. These two worthy pastors are in high favor with my people."

Rev. H. S. Spragins, the capahle presiding elder of the Greenville (Miss.) District, has iately spent a few days at the old family homestead, near Okolona, Miss. The work in the Greenville District is prospering under Brother Spragins' ieadership. Some excellent meetings have been held, which resulted in a gratifyingiy large number of additions to the Church.

We have in hand a wedding invitation, which reads as follows: "Dr. and Mrs. Harry Given Henderson will give in marriage their daughter, Russell, to Mr. Wiiiiam F. Carter, on Wednesday afternoon, September 8, 1915, at 5:30 o'clock, at their home in Sardis, Miss. Your presence is requested." We extend congratuiations and all good wishes to the happy hride and groom.

Rev. W. L. Duren, pastor of our First Church at Columbus, Miss., states that the work in his charge is progressing favorably. Brother Duren is in a great succession in his present pastorate, his church in the years agone having heen served by such men as R. K. Hargrove, P. P. Neely, T. B. Cottreil, S. A. Steel, J. S. Oakley, T. W. Lewis, and others scarcely iess gifted and effective.

Writing from Walensburg, Colo., Rev. J. A. McKee says: "Our Annual Conference has just closed, having had one of the hest sessions in its history. After four years in this good charge, I have heen moved to our First Church in Pueblo, one of the leading appointments in our Western work. I will soon be 'at home,' and I shall be giad to see any friends from the South who may come our way."

Rev. H. M. Ellis, Field Secretary of the Memphis Methodist Hospital, is keeping husy pressing the claims of that worthy enterprise. The stringency of the times financially has rendered Brother Ellis' task doubly difficult, but he has succeeded surprisingly well. All the brethren in Mississippi should lend him a helpiug hand. That hospital needs to be opened with the ieast possihle delay.

Prof. G. L. Harrell, of Milisaps College, says: "Things are moving along well with us. The prospect is bright for a good opening, according to those who have been canvassing." Prof. Harrell sent us some notes anent the College and its work, which becausc of tbe crowded condition of our coiumns we conid not publish this week, but which we hope to iet our readers see in the next issue of the Advocate.

Our genial and energetic pastor at Columbia, Miss., Rev. M. B. Sharbrough, has lately been doing some painstaking work in bebaif of the Advocate, for which we are most grateful to him. A communication from him on Sept. 4 brought us 7 regular and 4 trial subscriptions. If ali our pastors would show as much intcrest in this important work as Brother Sharbrough does, the Advocate would soon be on a boom.

It was the Editor's pleasure to worship with our Felicity Street congregation of this city last Sunday morning. The attendance was good for the season and the sermon by the pastor, Dr. Felix R. Hiii, was a most suggestive and helpful message. Dr. Hill has heen at his post ail the summer and is now gathering his forces together for active and aggressive work this fall. He is one of the grand old men of Southern Methodism.

Dr. Beverly Carradine, who is well known in New Orleans and Louisiana, has started in Washington City, D. C., a bright and attractively printed monthly paper, which he proposes to change to a weekly as soon as he finds it practicable to do so. The name of this publication is "The Gospel Herald." Dr. Carradine aiso preaches in Washington every Sunday at Lewis Hall, 1302 Fourteenth Street, Northwest. We wish him success in the new work which he has taken up.

In forwarding to the office his fourth round of appointments, Rev. H. W. May, of the Alexandria (La.) District, says: "The outlook is hright and hopeful for the hest year in the history of this district. We have had the largest increase in membership that we have had since I have been serving it, and the various coiiections are now receiving diiigent attention. The preachers have all toiled faithfully and many glorious meetings have been heid."

Under date of Sept. 3, Rev. T. J. Norsworthy, of Yazoo City, Miss., writes: "Our meeting at Old Vernon on the Flora (Miss.) charge ciosed gloriously last Sunday night. There were 32 accessions to our Church, most of them strong men, well advanced in years." Brother Norsworthy is an evangelist who usualiy finds an opportunity to speak a word for the Advocate in his meetings, and his letter brought us several subscriptions, for which he has our thanks.

Rev. B. P. Jaco, presiding eider of the Winona (Miss.) District, in sending in his list of appointments for the fourth round, adds the following statement: "We are having some fine revivais in the district. Our gospel tent, under the direction of Rev. W. M. Campbell, has been very useful. The finances at some places have been surprisingly good. While the times are stringent, our people, in the main, are loyai, and we hope to close out the year creditably."

Dr. J. W. Price, writing from Rome, Miss., on August 30, says: "A good meeting has just been ciosed at the Cherry Hill Church, on the Dublin work. Rev. J. H. Bell did the preaching, and did it weil. Rev. John W. Robertson, of Maben, led the singing. He is a tip-top choroister. I will begin my meeting here at Rome on Sept. 1. The tent is here already. Rohertson will help me." Dr. Price stated that Sister Price, his wife, was visiting their son at Haziehurst, Miss., at the time that he wrote.

Rev. Hilary Westhrook, pastor of the Waynesboro (Miss.) Circuit, writes that, though his third quarteriy conference, held on August 21, was not well attended, the reports were fairly good. He states that Rev. J. T. Leggett, the presiding elder, preached a remarkably impressive sermon from Deuteronomy 33:25. The Pleasant Grove Church, one of the appointments of this charge, has recently lost hy death two highly esteemed members, who are greatly missed—Mrs. J. M. Whitney and Mrs. P. T. McIlwain.

Mr. James H. Allen, an esteemed and useful citizen of St. Louis, Mo., who was a hrother of the Hon. John M. Allen and Mrs. A. D. Rohins of Tupelo, Miss., died in St. Louis on September 29, 1915. Referring to his decease in an appreciatory editoriai, the Mobile (Ala.) Register said: "Full of years, and honored by ail who knew him for his kindness of heart, his charity to the poor, and his high and manly character, he has gone to his rest: and the last tribute wiii be paid him at his burial here to-day. Mr. Allen fulfilled the hest traditions of the Old South. He made a clean and good record."

The Seashore Campground School, at Biloxi, Miss., opened its third session on Wednesday of this week. This institution has made, all things considered, an unusually fine record during the two antecedent years of its history. It is an "A" Grade Academy, and its students are admitted into a number of leading colleges and universities without examination. It is fortunate in having at its head Rev. H. W. Van Hook, A.B., who has associated with him a most superior corps of instructors. The winter climate of the Mississippi Coast is ideal, and there is no more beautiful spot anywhere on it than the Seashore Campground. We predict large things for this school.

The Merkel (Texas) Mail of August 20 contained an extended account of a great meeting which was in progress at Merkel under the direction of Rev. W. M. McIntosh, of Iuka, Miss., with Mr. J. L. Anderson to do the singing. Large crowds were in attendance and the interest was stated to be deep and widespread. Referring to Brother McIntosh, the writer said: "He is small of stature, but, with a strong brain and big heart, he is chuck full of energy. He has seen about 40,000 persons brought into the different Churches during his ministry. His earnestness catches the attention of the most careless, his consecration draws men to him as if by magic, while his soul-stirring sermons move men to God and the right."

Dr. J. T. Sawyer, of New Orleans, reports that the recent revival meeting at Sun, La., which continued for five days, was well attended and was quite a success, many souls heing blessed and the Church greatly revived. The first service was held in the Hall of the Woodmen of the World, but all the rest (twice each day) were conducted in the spiendid new schoolhouse, just erected at a cost of ahout $5000. This building is admirably arranged for school work, stands for a noble cause, and is an honor to the people of the community. Dr. Sawyer says that Pastor Rutledge is held in high esteem by his parishioners and that he is doing a good work. We are pleased to learn that he expects a church to be erected in Sun in the near future.

We extract the following from the Jackson Daily News of September 2: "The union tent meeting which has been in progress here (Lexington, Miss.) for the past three weeks will probably close to-night. * * The stores of the town closed for one hour each day during the meeting, and the attendance at the services was the largest ever witnessed here. On many nights the crowds numbered 900 or 1000 people. Hundreds have been converted, and scores who took no interest in church matters have promised to do their full duty. The enroilments of the different Sunday schools have been largely increased as a result of the revival." The Methodist Church in Lexington has never had a more efficient and generally loved pastor than the present incumbent, Rev. V. C. Curtis, who gives promise of large usefuiness in his Conference in the coming years.

DR. GROSS ALEXANDER DEAD.

Just as we are closing our forms (on Tuesday), we are in receipt of a telegram from the Methodist News Bureau at Nashviiie, which states that Dr. Gross Alexander died at Longbeach, Cal., with apoplexy on last Monday, Sept. 6. None of the particulars attending his iiiness and decease are at hand.

Dr. Alexander was the Book Editor of the Methodist Episcopai Church, South, and the Editor of the Methodist Review, and he had lately accepted the Chair of Church History in the Theoiogical School of the Southern Methodist University, at Dailas, Texas, which is to open its initial session in a few days. As an accompiished schoiar, he scarcely had a superior in the entire Connection. The whole Church will mourn the departure of this distinguished minister and widely known worker. We extend sympathy to his bereaved family.

TO OUR PREACHERS.

The management of this Advocate has decided to let our preachers and agents offer six months trial subscriptions at 50 cents during August, September and October. This offer wiii he withdrawn on the 10th of November, 1915. Suhscriptions must be sent in in clubs and money orders used in making remittances so as to save expense.

In soliciting new subscribers, please explain to them that the six months' suhscriptions are taken with the understanding that, after their expiration, the regular rate of $1.50 will he charged for annual subscriptions unless they are ordered canceled.

We are making this offer for a three-fold purpose:

First—To buiid up our subscription iist hefore the annual meeting of the Puhiishing Committee.

Second—To get funds to help tide us over the summer and fall months.

Third—To induce our Methodist people to take the Conference Organ and read it.

DR. H. B. BARTLETT
National Dental Parlors
Cor. Canal & Camp Sts.
ENTRANCE 108 CAMP
Phone Main 2193
NEW ORLEANS
Vitalized Air for Painless Extraction
Crown and Bridge Specialist
The Largest and Best Equipped Dental Parlors South.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE
DIRECT TRAINS TO
New York
Cincinnati
Birmingham
PULLMAN SLEEPERS, DINING CARS.
— The Scenic Route —
TICKET OFFICE:
211 ST. CHARLES STREET.
Depot, Terminal Station, Canal St.
Phone, Main 2939.

—THE—
Louisiana & Arkansas
RAILWAY
L&A RAILWAY
Announces the sale by its Ticket Agents at——
Alexandria, Shreveport, Winnfield, Minden, Sibley, Cotton Valley, Trout, Jena, and Jonesville, Louisiana,
——OF——
INTERCHANGEABLE THOUSAND MILE BOOKS
Good on All Roads in Louisiana.
Save Money by buying one of these Books.
B. S. ATKINSON,
General Passenger Agent.

FITTING GLASSES RIGHT
IS EASY, CLEAN AND PROFITABLE WORK.
As a Profession it is known as OPTOMETRY.
We Teach Optometry in All its Branches.
Wake up and learn to Fit Glasses better than the other fellow. Business today demands Trained Men.
Write for Catalogue.
Correspondence and Attendance Courses.
Northern Illinois College of Ophthalmology,
G. W. McFATRICH, M. D., Pres.,
Masonic Temple. CHICAGO, ILL.

Pulpit Bibles Largest assortment, finest Bibles at lowest cost. Write to us for full description and prices.
PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO., Inc., LOUISVILLE, KY.

BOHNE & WILT, Booksellers and Stationers, 1328 Dryades St., New Orleans, La. Baseball Goods, Religious Articles, Fishing Tackle, Periodicals, School Books.

WHEN WRITING OUR ADVERTISERS PLEASE MENTION THIS PUBLICATION

Obituaries.

Obituaries not over 200 words in length will be published free of charge. All over 200 words will be charged at the rate of 1 cent a word. Count the words and send the amount necessary with the obituary. That will save trouble all around. Otherwise the obituaries will be edited down to 200 words.

Mrs. JULIA MARION MITCHEL, wife of Brother J. H. Mitchel, was born in Jackson County, Miss., on Jan. 21, 1860, and died on July 27, 1915, at the age of 55 years 6 months and 6 days. Her maiden name was Cowart. Sister Mitchel was married to J. H. Mitchel on Nov. 16, 1893. She joined the M. E. Church, South, at an early age and remained a faithful member until death. She was a very spiritually-minded woman and loved the Lord with her whole heart. She had been in bad health for a long time, but bore her affliction with Christian fortitude. She was fond of reading her Bible and other good books and papers. She was a good wife. Though she had no children of her own, she was a mother to her step-children; she made the world better by being in it. Her influence for good still lives. Her husband and other relatives and friends survive to mourn her departure. Their loss is her eternal gain. Good-by, kind friend. We will meet again on the eternal shore amid the blood-washed throng.

Yours in Christ,
S. D. HOWARD.

MRS. A. M. STAPP.

Mrs. ADA MILLER STAPP was born in Lawrence County, Miss., on Oct. 13, 1842. She was married to Mr. Charles Coleby Stapp on Sept. 17, 1865, by Rev. H. P. Lewis. Two or three years later the young couple removed to Copiah County, Miss., and settled about ten miles east of Hazlehurst, where they have since resided. Two children were born to them—Charles J., now a member of the Mississippi Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and Euperta, now Mrs. B. M. Brown. Her husband and children, together with three sisters and four brothers, survive to mourn her departure.

In August, 1865, about one month before her marriage, Mrs. Stapp, then Miss Ada Miller, was converted to Christ and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, near Mt. Carmel, Lawrence County, Miss., under the ministry of Rev. H. P. Lewis, now an honored superannuate of the Mississippi Conference. From that day until her death, August 19, 1915, she was an earnest, consecrated Christian, full of faith and of good works.

Amongst many other excellencies of character perhaps the most marked was her large and never-failing charity. Loving her fellowmen, she was slow to see their faults, and slower still to sit in judgment on them. The reputation of all was safe in her hands. She was deaf to censorious gossip, or, when forced to hear it, it went no further. Words of kindness were ever on her lips. She saw the good in every one, and was quick to appreciate and mention it.

Always patient and trustful, it was not at all strange that she should be so at the last. When the end came, she was ready—had been ready for many years. She assured her loved ones, just before her death, that she was ready to go, that her faith was strong, her hopes bright. And why not? Had she not lived for years in communion with her Lord? Why should she fear to meet Him, her Savior and life-long friend? And so she "fell on sleep," as God's own have done throughout all the ages, and is "forever with the Lord."

WM. H. LaPRADE.

A WORKING EPWORTH LEAGUE.

The night of August 27, as you no doubt recall, was hot and sultry, but that fact did not deter the officers of our Tchoupitoulas League, of the Mary Werlein Mission, from attending our monthly Council Meeting. They turned out in full force with just one exception. The meeting was held at the home of our President, and was opened with a very earnest prayer by our pastor, Brother H. W. Jamieson, for guidance in our deliberations of the evening and all our undertakings.

Several new plans were discussed and adopted by the Council, as follows: Looking after lax and frequently absent members, dividing the League membership into bands of five or six members in charge of a captain, with the idea of having the various individuals of the several bands available for leaders of our Sunday night devotional services or other special work when called upon, and the distribution of literature of all kinds to the people in our immediate neighborhood and in other parts of the city where needed and wanted. While we have a fairly good source of supply, we will say to any one reading this who has any good books or old magazines that he wishes to put to some good use, that they will be distributed to the very best advantage if sent to the Mary Werlein Mission, 1026 Tchoupitoulas Street, care of Mrs. L. Meekins, Resident Missionary.

It was decided to start a vigorous temperance campaign in the Mission neighborhood by securing suitable posters and posting them in conspicuous places, and the League is to augment this phase of the work by holding monthly temperance meetings and distributing various kinds of temperance literature as the same can be secured. Any help in this connection will be very much appreciated, for as many of you readers know our finances are very limited, and our immediate community is very much in need of a systematic campaign of this character. Temperance literature or contributions of any kind should be sent to the address given in the preceding paragraph.

About 33 1-3 per cent of our membership have so far pledged themselves to the "Quiet Hour Covenant" and the "Fellow Workers Covenant" of the League, with our First Department Superintendent endeavoring valiantly to bring in the rest of the membership, all of which has not yet been canvassed. We are expecting big things from this during the coming months, as a "Praying League" is invincible.

L. R. BOCK.

A CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. Editor: Please allow us space in the Advocate to express to our friends who wrote us letters of sympathy in our recent great sorrow our sincere appreciation of their kindness. We can not at this time, when our hearts are so full, undertake the task of writing each of them a personal letter. The sudden death of our daughter, Ollie Mai, at the age of 13, when her life seemed so bright with promise, greatly shocked and well-nigh overwhelmed us with grief. With sad hearts we bow to the will of the Heavenly Father, trusting him even in this trying hour.

Sincerely,
M. L. CHILDRESS and family.

CITY PREACHERS' DIRECTORY.

Rev. W. W. Holmes, presiding elder; residence, 1014 Cambronne St.; 'phone Walnut 93.

Rev. R. M. Brown, pastor Algiers Methodist Church; residence, 220 Pelican Ave.

Rev. A. J. Gearheard, pastor Louisiana Avenue Methodist Church; residence, 3418 Laurel St.; 'phone Uptown 2805.

Rev. W. E. Thomas, pastor Second Methodist Church; residence, 815 St. Charles St.; 'phone Main 735.

Rev. W. L. Doss, Jr., pastor Epworth Methodist Church; residence, 232 S. Pierce St.

Dr. S. Halsey Werlein, pastor First Methodist Church; residence, 5830 Prytania St.; 'phone Uptown 329.

Rev. R. H. Harper, pastor Parker Memorial Methodist Church; residence, 734 Nashville Ave.; 'phone Uptown 447.

Dr. F. R. Hill, pastor Felicity Methodist Church; residence, 1818 Chestnut St.; 'phone Jackson 1753.

Rev. F. R. Hill, Jr., pastor Rayne Memorial Methodist Church; residence, 1421 Constantinople St.; 'phone Uptown 954.

Rev. W. W. Drake, pastor Carrollton Avenue Methodist Church; residence, 1125 Fern St.; 'phone Walnut 1238.

Rev. Hugh W. Jamieson, pastor Mary Werlein and St. Paul Methodist Churches; residence, 7821 Zimple St.; 'phone Walnut 1071.

Rev. T. V. Peters, pastor McDonoughville Methodist Church; residence, McDonoughville, La.; 'phone Algiers 305.

Rev. J. L. Sutton, Supt. Boys' Orphanage; residence, 5220 St. Charles Ave.; 'phone Uptown 128.

Dr. J. T. Sawyer, residence, 5655 Hawthorne Ave.; 'phone Galvez 640.

Rev. R. A. Davis, residence, 924 Lowerline St.

Dr. R. A. Meek, Editor Christian Advocate; residence, 5914 Coliseum St.; office 'phone Main 4373.

Don't be Thin
--Scrawny

Have a Figure of Curves

No woman need be flat chested, thin or angular—my picture proves that. Yet for years I was a pack of bones, had absolutely no form, no bust. I couldn't help but feel that I was the laughing stock of my more fortunate friends. I was miserable, but determined that I should have what was rightfully mine—what every woman is entitled to—an attractive form, a full, perfectly proportioned bust and clear skin. Oh, the different things I tried, the nostrums I took, the time and money I wasted. But at last I found the way, and it was so simple.

Now I want to give you the benefit of my experience. You may have tried just as many unavailing methods as I did, but now success is yours. A womanly form, attractive face and the happiness of a full figure are now yours. You can't fail if you do as I did. A well proportioned figure, a beautiful bust, clear complexion, sparkling eyes and better health in general are assured you.

Yes, dear friend, I mean what I say. You can't afford to doubt and you won't. You want what I have found, what I struggled so hard for and what I now promise for you.

Write me today, enclosing a 2c stamp and I will gladly, willingly, tell you without further charge how I was able to do these things for myself. There is only one right way, and for your future good and happiness you must let me tell you about this method. Do not delay—you may lose this address. Just mail your letter to Mrs. Louise Ingram, Suite 365, 408 Adams St., Toledo, Ohio, and I will answer by return mail.

From the Field.

Coushatta, Miss.

Dear Mr. Editor: We have just had a glorious meeting here. Our pastor was assisted by Brother Smith whose sermons were splendid. Brother Smith conducted services from Sunday until Friday night. Our presiding elder held quarterly conference Saturday afternoon and preached in the forenoon and on Sunday at 11 a. m. His sermons were fine and were greatly enjoyed by those who were so fortunate as to be able to hear them.—An Advocate Reader.

Pelican (La.) Charge.

We closed one of the best meetings in the history of the Mitchell Methodist Church on Sunday August 29. The preaching was done by our pastor, Brother F. R. Power, and a large number of souls were saved. Thirty-six persons joined the Church and the membership was revived spiritually. The meeting was attended by a goodly number of our Baptist friends who helped with their prayers. Brother Power is doing a great work on the Pelican charge and we hope that the coming Conference will return him to us.—A Member.

St. Tammany Circuit (La. Conf.)

Dear Dr. Meek: Our third revival meeting has been held. Rev. W. W. Holmes, presiding elder of the New Orleans District, did the preaching. It was a delight to the people of Waldheim to have Brother Holmes spend several days with them, hut best of all to enjoy his able preaching. He is not only a presiding elder hut an effective revival preacher. The weather was good, the roads were fine, the people were in fairly good health, and we had a good time. Our quarterly conference was held Saturday with a very good attendance of the officials. God bless the Advocate! —J. S. Rutledge, P. C.

Shannon, Miss.

Dear Doctor Meek: A good meeting is just finished at my Pleasant Grove Church—"finest ever," all things considered. The conditions of the weather were fearful, but packed audiences gathered at intervals. Five new members were added hy profession of falth and baptism and one by certificate (there were four additions previous to the beginning of the meeting). Two infants were baptized. Rev. I. D. Borders, of Aberdeen, Miss., was present from Tuesday to Friday night and preached to the delight and profit of the congregation. The effect of the meeting was greatly beyond ordinary and the results will abide. The Aberdeen minister grades high, and his presence and ministrations, under the favor of Him who helps, were a constant and splendid benediction to the people.—A. H. Williams, P. C.

Many, La.

Dear Mr. Editor: Rev. A. J. Gearheard held an eleven days' meeting at Many for me in July. The people enjoyed his preaching very much. We had 3 additions to the Church..... Rev. G. D. Anders was with me in a week's meeting at New Hope, which was a great success—11 accessions to the Church. Brother Anders is a great revivalist.....Rev. W. H. Coleman, presiding elder of the Shreveport District, held my third quarterly conference at New Hope during the revival meeting, and preached a very fine sermon. He is a fine man, a splendid presiding elder.....I held a six days' meeting for Rev. G. D. Anders at Bellhower, La., and we had a very good meeting, considering everything. The rain interfered very much. The work on the Many charge shows some improvement along all lines.—S. D. Howard, P. C.

Kossuth Ct. (North Miss. Conf.)

We began our tour of revivals for the Kossuth charge on the first Sunday in August at Pleasant Hill Church, and closed it on the evening of the fourth Sunday in August at Wesley's Chapel.....At Pleasant Hill and Kossuth Rev. J. C. Nelson, of Tocopola, Miss., did the preaching and did it well. So faithful and forcefully did he expound the Word that our people were greatly revived, and the work has taken on new life.....At Wesley's Chapel our efficient and much beloved pastor, Rev. H. M. Young, of Gunnison, Miss., met us and brought to us a message of love. Brother Young's preaching was of the highest type; so helpful were his messages that our people were greatly revived and are now living on higher ground. One of the greatest visions our people now have is that "the king's business requires haste.".....God came again to the Kossuth charge with the old-time power and gave us a gracious revival. Souls were born into the kingdom, family altars were erected, and we are happy on the way. There were in all 38 conversions, and 17 additions, with others to he received later. To God be all the glory! This pastor is living on the hallelujah side. Pray for us.—D. R. McDougal, P. C.

Flora, Miss.

Dear Dr. Meek: We closed a good meeting at Bentonia on Sunday, August 15. Rev. T. J. Norsworthy, of Yazoo City, Miss., did the preaching. Near the close of the meeting the good people of Bentonia surprised their pastor with a huge hox which they had filled and which weighed 240 pounds. When the contents were disclosed at the parsonage we found coffee, sugar, rice, flour, breakfast bacon, hams, preserves, jelly, pickles, and many other good things. There was a bushel of fine sweet potatoes which especially pleased us, being the first we have seen this season. There was also a pig given by one of the finest young ladies of Bentonia..... Brother Norsworthy is holding another meeting for us, at Kearney's Schoolhouse, with great success. There have been 29 accessions up to this time. They built a brush arbor and large crowds are attending. Brother Norsworthy captures the people from the start; all seem to like him. Last night the preacher came home from the meeting with his buggy loaded with packages, and the "end is not yet." They said that was about one-third of it. Surely these people do not intend for us to buy any more groceries for many months. We feel unable to express our gratitude and appreciation in words, but if it is possible for us to give them better service in the future we will surely make an effort to do so, and our recollection of them will always be brightened by these deeds of love toward us.....Brother Norsworthy is one of the finest preachers I have ever worked with. He not only works for the Church, hut also in the interest of the Advocate, having secured several subscribers for it in the last few weeks. He also looks carefully after the welfare of the preacher in charge. The meeting has not closed yet. I may write you more about it when it closes.—M. L. White, P. C.

Methodist Benevolent Association

A Mutual Benefit Brotherhood for Southern Methodists. Issues Whole Life, 20 Premium Life, Term to 60, and Disability Certificates. Benefits payable at death, old age, or disability Over $152,000.00 paid to widows, orphans, and disabled. Over $40,000.00 reserve fund. Write for rates, blanks, etc. J. H. Shumaker, Secretary, 810 Broadway, Nashville, Tenn.

DEAF CHILDREN

Under our instruction, learn to speak and understand the oral word. Give us the care early of the little deaf children and speech and understanding shall be theirs; even the appearance of deficiency will not develop. Instruction is individual in the strictest sense. Every student masters lip-reading and speech; the use of signs is discouraged. Large commodious building with fine lawn. The atmosphere of the orderly Christian home pervades the school. Best results secured when parents place children with us as early in life as possible.

Write For Our Booklet

MISS ARBAUGH'S PRIVATE SCHOOL, - MACON, GEORGIA.

"EXPOSITION LINE"

SOUTHERN PACIFIC — SUNSET ROUTE

ONE FARE FOR THE ROUND TRIP

$57.50

TO

California AND THE Expositions

TICKETS ON SALE DAILY

Limited to return within 90 days. Stopover all points enroute. Shortest and quickest route. Two through Steel Trains daily. Oil burning Locomotives. Electric Block Signals. Observation Cars.

Best Dining Car in America

For full information and illustrated catalogue, ask any Southern Pacific Agent or write

W. H. STAKELUM, Div. Pass. Agent, Lake Charles, La.

J. H. R. PARSONS, Gen. Pass. Agent, New Orleans, La.

THE TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY — TEXARKANA, SHREVEPORT, EL PASO, NEW ORLEANS

Make Your Vacation Count!

Two or Three Weeks at

MINERAL WELLS

would almost make a new man of you, and a jolly, pleasant three weeks they would be, too! Low Round Trip Rates Every Day.

CITY TICKET OFFICE, 207 St. Charles Street.

EDENBORN LINE

LOUISIANA RAILWAY & NAVIGATION CO.

THE SHORT LINE :: THE POPULAR ROUTE BETWEEN

New Orleans :: Baton Rouge : : Alexandria : Shreveport

TICKETS ON SALE TO ALL POINTS NORTHWEST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS

Secure Reservations at City Ticket Office

709 GRAVIER STREET, ST. CHARLES HOTEL

You Look Prematurely Old

Because of those ugly, grizzly gray hairs, Use "LA CREOLE" HAIR DRESSING. Price $1.00, retail.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONF.

Sardis Dist.—Fourth Round.

Hernando, Sept. 11, 12.
Coldwater, Sept. 12, 13.
Tyro, at Free Springs, Sept. 18, 19.
Longtown, at Longtown, Sept. 25, 26.
Eudora, at Eudora, Oct. 2, 3.
Crenshaw, at Sledge, Oct. 3. 4.
Courtland, at Pope, Oct. 9, 10.
Oakland, at Oakland, Oct. 10, 11.
Charleston, Oct. 11.
Olive Branch, at Miller, Oct. 15.
Pleasant Hill, at Pleasant Hill, Oct. 16, 17.
Eureka, at Pisgah, Oct. 23, 24.
Sardis Circuit, at McGee, Oct. 30, 31.
Sardis, Nov. 6, 7.
Wall Hill, at Chulahoma, Nov. 13, 14.
Cochran, at Greenleaf, Nov. 20, 21.

J. W. DORMAN, P. E.

Columbus Dist.—Fourth Round.

Columbus, First Church, a. m., Sept. 11, 12.
Columbus, Central, p. m., Sept. 12, 13.
Artesia, a. m., Sept. 18, 19.
Starkville, p. m., Sept. 19, 20.
Macon Ct., at Center Point, a. m., Sept. 25, 26.
West Point, p. m., Sept. 26, 27.
Brooksville, Oct. 3, 4.
Crawford, at Shafer's Chapel, Oct. 9, 10.
Cedar Bluff, Oct. 16, 17.
Shuqualak, Oct. 23, 24.
Longview Ct., at Pugh's Mill, Oct. 30, 31.
Sturgis, Nov. 6, 7.
Mayhew, Nov. 10.
Mashulaville, Nov. 13, 14.
Cochrane, Nov. 20, 21.
Columbus Ct., at Andrew's, Nov. 27, 28.

W. W. WOOLLARD, P. E.

Winona Dist.—Fourth Round.

Greenwood Sta., September 12.
Winona Ct., at Bethlehem, September 18.
Winona Sta., September 19.
Itta Bena Sta., September 26 (a.m.)
Carrollton Ct., at N. Carrollton, September 26 (p.m.)
Indianola Sta., October 3 (a.m.)
Moorhead Ct., at Sunflower, October 3 (p.m.)
North Carrollton Ct., at Smith's Chapel, October 9.
Belzoni Ct., at Belzoni, October 10.
Indianola Mission, at Fairview, October 16.
Isola Ct., at Inverness, October 17.
Webb Ct., at Sumner, October 24.
Mars Hill Ct., at Gore's Springs, October 30.
Tutwiler Ct., at Tutwiler, October 31 (a.m.)
Lambert Ct., at Lambert, October 31 (p.m.)
Dublin Ct., at Cherry Hill, November 6, 7.
Drew Ct., at Drew, November 7 (p.m.)
Quiver Mission, at Campbell's Chapel, November 13.
Minter City Sta., at Minter City, November 14 (a.m.)
Schlater Ct., at Schlater, November 14 (p.m.)
Ruleville Ct., at Doddsville, November 20, 21.

BEN P. JACO, P. E.

Greenville Dist.—Fourth Round.

Greenville, Sept. 11, 12.
Leland and Hollandale, at Hollandale, Sept. 12, 13.
Arcola, at Wintersville, Sept. 18, 19.
Rosedale and Hillhouse, at Rosedale, Sept. 19, 20.
Glen Allan, Sept. 26, 27.
Lula and Dubbs, at Lula, Oct. 2, 3.
Coahoma and Lyon, at Lyon, Oct. 3, 4.
Boyle, Oct. 9, 10.
Cleveland, Oct. 10, 11.
Shelby and Alligator, at Ducan, Oct. 16, 17.
Shaw and Merigold, at Merigold, Oct. 17, 18.
Friar's Point, Oct. 24, 25.
Clarksdale, Oct. 31, Nov. 1.
Jonestown and Belen, at Jonestown, Nov. 7, 8.
Tunica and Robinsonville, at Robinsonville, Nov. 14, 15.
Benoit and Bulah, at Benoit, Nov. 21, 22.
Gunnison, Nov. 28, 29.

H. S. SPRAGINS, P. C.

Aberdeen Dist.—Fourth Round.

Palestine, at Ebenezer, Sept. 25, 26.
Pontotoc, Sept. 26, 27.
Shannon, at Pleasant Grove, Oct. 2, 3.
Okolona, Oct. 3, 4.
Nettleton Ct., at Shiloh, Oct. 9, 10.
Amory and Nettleton, at Amory, Oct. 10, 11.
Calhoun City, at Pine Ridge, Oct. 16, 17.
Vardaman, at Elizey, Oct. 16, 17.
Smithville, at Greenbrier, Oct. 23, 24.
Houlka, at Houlka, Oct. 30, 31.
Houston, Nov. 1.
Verona, at Verona, Nov. 6, 7.
Tremont, at Mount Pleasant, Nov. 11.
Fulton, at Van Buren, Nov. 13, 14.
Greenwood Springs, at New Hope, Nov. 16.
Tupelo, Nov. 17.
Montpelier, Nov. 19.
Buena Vista, at Ebenezer, Nov. 20, 21.
Okolona Ct., at Tranquil, Nov. 23.
Aberdeen, Nov. 28, 29.

JNO. W. BELL, P. E.

Holly Springs Dist.—Fourth Round.

Red Banks, at Wesley, Sept. 4, 5.
Grenada Ct., at Sparta, Sept. 11, 12.
Grenada, Sept. 12, 13.
Taylor, at Burgess, Sept. 18, 19.
Water Valley, N. Main St., Sept. 19, 20.
Abbeville, at Mt. Zion, Sept. 25, 26.
Oxford, Sept. 26, 27.
Duck Hill, at D. H., Oct. 2, 3.
Water Valley, First Church, Oct. 3, 4.
Lamar, at Harris Chapel, Oct. 9, 10.
Mt. Pleasant, at Salem, Oct. 16, 17.
Holly Springs, Oct. 17, 18.
Potts Camp, at Bethlehem, Oct. 22.
Waterford, at Asbury, Oct. 23, 24.
Paris, at Pine Flat, Oct. 30, 31.
Ashland, at Ashland, Nov. 6, 7.
Randolph, at Spring Hill, Nov. 12.
Toccopola, at Toccopola, Nov. 13, 14.
Pine Valley, at Salem, Nov. 20, 21.
Coffeeville, at Coffeeville, Nov. 21, 22.
Byhalia, at Byhalia, Nov. 27.

R. A. TUCKER, P. E.
Holly Springs, Miss.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and ¼ oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Full directions for making and use come in each box of Barbo Compound. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and removes dandruff. It is excellent for failing hair and will make harsh hair soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.

CAMP MEETING NOTICE.

The Salem Camp Meeting (Americus Charge, Miss. Conf.) will begin on Wednesday, October 6, 1915. Ministers and the general public are invited to be with us. There will be a tent on the camp ground for the convenience of visitors.

M. W. DAVID, P. C.
Americus, Miss.

ONE LITTLE 50 CENT BOX

of Tetterine will often cure cases of Eczema, Tetter, etc., of 10 and 15 years standing. It is because this salve embodies correct scientific principles in the treatment of skin diseases that it relieves Tetter, Eczema, Ringworm, Itch, Chiidblains, etc. It is the absolute master of skin diseases as thousands will testify. 50c at druggist's or by mail from Shuptrine Co., Savannah, Ga.

MISSION GIFTS INCREASE.

War conditions do not appear to have seriously disturbed the work of the churches in Scotland. Recent statistics show creditable gains in membership and a favorable showing financially. The Established Church of Scotland had an increase in membership of 5,000 for the past year and a decrease in money raised of only $55,000. The United Free Church shows an increase in the amount raised of $360,000, and the English Presbyterian Church gained in members 613, while losing in contributions about $75,000.

It is stated authoritatively that, "in spite of depression and financial stringency, accentuated by the war, the missionary and benevolent boards of the Methodist Episcopal Church will report unprecedented returns, the Foreign Mission Board showing a gain of more than $100,000, while the Board of Home Missions will report the most encouraging financial year in its history."

Mansfield Female College
MANSFIELD, LA.

Offers the following for the DISCRIMINATING:

A FACULTY of cultured, refined, efficient, CHRISTIAN women.
A RELIGOUS atmosphere, not simply moral.
A HOMELIKE life, not Dormitory.
INDIVIDUAL care, rather than MASS consideration.
CULTURAL IDEALS, and not Vocational only.
SPIRITUAL values put above physical and mental.
Small classes, not crowds.
UNIVERSITY and CONSERVATORY teachers of large experience in Departments of TEACHING, ENGLISH, MUSIC, ART, EXPRESSION, DOMESTIC SCIENCE.
PHYSICAL DIRECTOR in charge of athletics.
Active Y. W. C. A. in its own Hall on campus.
Three ACTIVE LITERARY SOCIETIES.
PIPE ORGAN study.
Where the BEST MUSIC and ART are heard and enjoyed.
EXPENSES neither cheap nor extravagant—REASONABLE.
GAS heat. City water. Commodious brick buildings. Fire escapes.
Large campus and play grounds.
Girls taken from Twelve years up.

SIXTY-SECOND YEAR BEGINS SEPTEMBER 8.

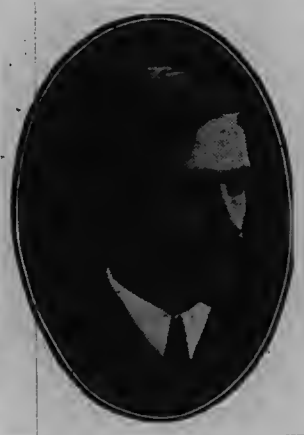
Faculty nearly doubled in three years, boarding students trebled in last three years, should MERIT your loyalty.

R. E. BOBBITT, President.

L&N Louisville & Nashville R. R.

THE DIRECT LINE NORTH AND EAST
ELECTRIC LIGHTED STEEL SLEEPERS
DINING CARS, OBSERVATION CARS, CHAIR CARS

Phone M. 1093. TICKET OFFICE 201 ST. CHARLES STREET



Chronic Diseases
Cured Without Drugs

If you are afflicted with Paralysis, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Nervous Debility, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, or other diseases that medicine has failed to cure, write for our Free book which tells all about a new and better way.

Our natural methods and sanitarium appliances will restore your health. Liberal guarantee of satisfaction. Low charges. Write at once for names of physicians, ministers, lawyers, merchants, bankers, farmers, teachers, former patients, and others who endorse our treatment.

THE BIGGS SANITARIUM, - Asheville, N. C.

FREE TO ASTHMA SUFFERERS

A New Home Cure That Anyone Can Use Without Discomfort or Loss of Time.

We have a New Method that cures Asthma, and we want you to try it at our expense. No matter whether your case is of long standing or recent development, whether it is present as Hay Fever or chronic Asthma, you should send for a free trial of our method. No matter in what climate you live, no matter what your age or occupation, if you are troubled with asthma, our method should relieve you promptly.

We especially want to send it to those apparently hopeless cases, where all forms of inhalers, douches, opium preparations, fumes, "patent smokes," etc., have failed. We want to show everyone at our own expense that this new method is designed to end all difficult breathing, all wheezing, and all those terrible paroxysms at once and for all time.

This free offer is too important to neglect a single day. Write to-day and begin the method at once. Send no money. Simply mail coupon below. Do it Today.

FREE ASTHMA COUPON

FRONTIER ASTHMA CO., Room 390M
Niagara and Hudson Sts., Buffalo, N.Y.
Send free trial of your method to:

.....

.....

.....

MARRIED.

On Aug. 24, 1915, at Vernon, Miss., by Rev. M. L. White, Mr. PERCY C. ALLEN, of Hamburg, Miss., and Miss MAGGIE BELLE CAMPBELL, of Flora, Miss.

WE WILL PAY YOU $120.00
to distribute religious literature and take orders in your community. 60 days' work. Man or woman. Experience not required. Spare time may be used. International Bible Press, 835 Winston Bldg., Philadelphia, Pa.

TRY THE OLD RELIABLE
WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC
For MALARIA CHILLS & FEVER
A FINE GENERAL STRENGTHENING TONIC

HOOPING-COUGH OR CROUP

The Celebrated Effectual Remedy without Internal Medicine.

ROCHE'S
Herbal Embrocation
will also be found very efficacious in cases of
BRONCHITIS, LUMBAGO and RHEUMATISM

W. EDWARDS & SON, 157 Queen Victoria Street, London, Eng. All Druggists, or
E. FOUGERA & CO., Inc., 90 Beekman St., N. Y.
No increase in Price.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

Ruston Dist.—Fourth Round.

Alberta and Castor, at Old Castor, September 22.
Gibsland, at Oak Grove, September 24.
Athens, at Athens, September 25, 26.
Homer, September 26, 27.
Haynesville, September 28.
Simsboro, at Pine Grove, October 2, 3.
Elmore, at Vienna, October 3, 4.
Dubach, October 5.
Bernice, October 6.
Bienville, October 9, 10.
Plain Dealing, October 16, 17.
Haughton, October 19.
Ringgoid, October 20 (p.m.)
Cotton Valley, October 23, 24.
Winnfield, October 30, 31.
Jonesboro, November 1.
Minden, November 5.
Sibley, November 6.
Arcadia, November 6, 7.
Ruston, November 8.

Preachers, please give particular attention to questions 15, 21, 22, and be ready to answer same. Let the Trustees be sure to have their reports.

BRISCOE CARTER, P. E.

Baton Rouge Dist.—Fourth Round.

Denham Springs, at Walker, September 11, 12.
Clinton, at Clinton, September 18, 19.
Jackson, at Pine Grove, September 25, 26.
Pine Grove, at Pine Grove, October 2, 3.
Natalbany, October 3, 4.
Pride, at Olive Branch, October 9, 10.
Baker, at Baker, October 10, 11.
Franklinton Ct., at Hackley, October 16, 17.
Franklinton and Zona, at Franklinton, October 17.
Covington, at Covington, October 18.
Tangipahoa, at Mt. Herman, October 23, 24.
Kentwood, October 24.
Amite, October 25.
Greensburg, at Greensburg, October 30, 31.
Baton Rouge, First Church, November 1.
St. Francisville, at St. Francisville, November 3.
Springfield, at Springfield, November 6, 7.
Ponchatoula, at Wesley, November 7, 8.
Hammond, November 8.
Keener Memorial, November 11.
Zachary, at Ethel, November 12.
Wilson, at Wilson, November 13.

Let each pastor acquaint himself with Par. 261 and 262 of the Discipline relative to the Sunday school and the Advisory Committee, and Par. 264 relative to the missionary offering. Have your lists of trustees in hand and their report in harmony with the blank form in the Quarterly Conference Record.

Note, that while we have heretofore held what was called the Fifth Quarter" it is now known as, and blanks provided for, the "Adjourned Quarterly Conference." At the fourth quarterly conference a written report from the Missionary Society is required.

H. W. BOWMAN, P. E.

Shreveport Dist.—Fourth Round.

Pelican, at Pelican, Oct. 2, 3.
Pleasant Hill, at P. H., Oct. 3, 4.
Queensboro, Oct. 6.
Ida, at Ida, Oct. 9, 10.
Grand Cane, at G. C., Oct. 14.
Noble, at Benson, Oct. 16, 17.
Greenwood, at Greenwood, Oct. 23, 24.
Many, at Many, Oct. 25.
Zwolie, Oct. 26.
Cedar Grove, Oct. 28.
Bossier City, Oct. 29.
Logansport, Oct. 30, 31.
Longstreet, at L., Oct. 31, Nov. 1.
Vivian, at Vivian, Nov. 3.
Bayou Lachute, at Lachute, Nov. 6, 7.
Texas Avenue, Shreveport, Nov. 7, 8.
J. S. Noel, Jr., Memorial, Nov. 9.
Leesville, Nov. 10.
Anacoco, Nov. 11.
Wesley, Nov. 13.
Coushatta, Nov. 13, 14.
Mooringsport, 10 a.m., Nov. 15.
First Church, Shreveport, 8 p.m., Nov. 15.
South Mansfield, 10 a.m., Nov. 16.
Mansfield, 3 p.m., Nov. 16.

WM. H. COLEMAN, P. E.

Alexandria Dist.—Fourth Round.

Columbia, Sept. 14.
McNary and Reaves, at R., Sept. 17.
Oakdale, Sept. 18, 19.
Glenmora, 8 p.m., Sept. 19.
Opelousas, Sept. 22.
Melville, 11 a.m., Sept. 23.
Bunkie, Sept. 25 and 26.
Campti, 8 p.m., Sept. 29.
Colfax, 8 p.m., Sept. 30.
Lecompte, Oct. 2 and 3.
Boyce and Eden, Oct. 5.
Jena, 8 p.m., Oct. 8.
Standard and Rocheie, Oct. 10.
Longville, 8 p.m., Oct. 14.
DeRidder and Mission, Oct. 16 and 17.
Bon Ami and Carson, at Bon Ami, 8 p.m., Oct. 17.
Harrisonburg, Oct. 21.
Oak Grove and Hineston, at Gardner, Oct. 24.
Pineville, 8 p.m., Oct. 27.
Natchitoches, 11 a.m., Oct. 31.
Provencal, 8 p.m., Oct. 31.
Selma, 11 a.m., Nov. 7.
Trout and Goodpine, 8 p.m., Nov. 7.
Alexandria, Nov. 14 and 15.

The pastors will please be prepared with answers to all questions to be called at the fourth quarterly conference. The trustees will please be prepared to report in answer to question 15. The Woman's Missionary Society will please be ready to report in answer to question 12.

H. W. MAY, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Hattiesburg Dist.—Fourth Round.

New Augusta, Sept. 18, 19.
Richton, Sept. 19, 20.
Blodgett, Sept. 20.
Green Co. Mission, at Winborn Church, Sept. 25 and 26.
Leakesville, Sept. 26 and 27.
Williamsburg, at Oakvale, Oct. 2 and 3.
Seminary, Oct. 3 and 4.
Eucutta, at Goodwater, Oct. 9, 10.
Heidelberg, Oct. 10, 11.
Oloh, at Clyde, Oct. 16, 17.
Prentiss, at Carson, Oct. 17, 18.
Lucedale, Oct. 23, 24.
McLain, at Beaumont, Oct. 24, 25.
Taylorsville, at Soso, Oct. 30, 31.
Mt. Olive, Oct. 31, Nov. 1.
Silver Creek, Nov. 6, 7.
Sumrall, Nov. 7, 8.
Ellisville, Nov. 10.
Hattlesburg, Broad Street, Nov. 14.
Purvis, Nov. 14, 15.
Hattiesburg, Court Street, Nov. 18.
Magee, Nov. 19.
Estabutchie, at Bethel, Nov. 20, 21.
Collins, Nov. 21, 22.
Hattiesburg, Main Street, Nov. 22.

GEO. H. THOMPSON, P. E.

Brookhaven Dist.—Fourth Round.

Summit and E. McComb, at Summit, Oct. 2, 3.
South McComb, at South McComb, Oct. 3, Nov. 18.
Fernwood, at Fernwood, Oct. 4.
Gailman, at Gailman, Oct. 9, 10.
Crystal Springs, Oct. 10, 11.
Buford, at Foxworth, Oct. 16, 17.
Adams, at Adams, Oct. 23, 24.
McComb, Centenary, Oct. 24, Nov. 17.
Meadville, at Meadville, Oct. 27.
Bogue Chitto and Norfield, at Norfield, Oct. 30, 31.
Monticello, at Georgetown, Nov. 3.
Scotland, at Bethel, Nov. 5.
Pleasant Grove, at P. G., Nov. 6, 7.
Tylertown, at Tylertown, Nov. 9.
Topisaw, at Topisaw, Nov. 10.
Barlow, at Brandywine, Nov. 13, 14.
Bayou Pierre, at Pleasant Valley, Nov. 14, 15.
Hazlehurst, Nov. 15.
Magnolia, Nov. 16.
Brookhaven, Nov. 19.
Wesson, at N. Wesson, Nov. 20, 21.

ROB'T SELBY, P. E.
Brookhaven, Miss.

Port Gibson Dist.—Fourth Round.

Nebo, at Ebenezer, Sept. 11, 12.
Fayette, at Fayette, Sept. 19.
Woodville Station, Sept. 26, 27.
Woodville Circuit, at F., Wednesday, Sept. 29.
Centerville, at C., Oct. 2, 3.
Gloster and Liberty, at G., Oct. 2, 4.
Crawford Street, Vicksburg, 11 a. m., Oct. 10.
Gibson Memorial, Vicksburg, 7:30 p. m., Oct. 10.
Oak Ridge, at O. R., Oct. 17.
Rocky Springs, at Carpenter, Oct. 23, 24.
Utica, at Utica., Oct. 31.
Hermanville, at H., Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.
Port Gibson, Tuesday, Nov. 2.
Roxie, at ———, Wednesday, Nov. 3.
Mayersville, at M., Nov. 7.
Rolling Fork, at R. F., Nov. 14.
Anguilla, at A., Nov. 14.
Silver City, at ———, Tuesday, Nov. 16.
Natchez, Jefferson Street, Thursday, Nov. 18.
Washington, at W., Friday, Nov. 19.
Harriston, at Cane Ridge, Nov. 21.

Let the pastors and officials of the Port Gibson District give careful attention to all the questions that are to be brought up at this round of quarterly conference, and be fully prepared to report on the same. Especial attention will be given to Questions 12, 13, 14, 15, 21, 22, 23, and 24. As the district leader, I shall expect full reports under questions twenty-three and twenty-four, as these are of prime importance in the winding up of our work for the year. Brethren, let us do something worth while, and show ourselves to be workmen who need not be ashamed.

T. W. ADAMS, P. E.

Jackson District—Fourth Round.

Mendenhall, at Bethany, Sept. 25, 26.
Flora, Oct. 3.
Yazoo City, Oct. 10.
Fannin, Oct. 16, 17.
Brandon and Pelahatchie, at Pelahatchie, Oct. 17, 18.
Lake City, at Anding, Oct. 23, 24.
Satartia, at Wesley Chapel, Oct. 30, 31.
Edwards, at Clinton, Nov. 3.
Eden, at Phillips' Chapel, Nov. 5.
Benton, Nov. 6, 7.
Vaughan, at Fletcher's Chapel, Nov. 8.
Rankin Street, Jackson, Nov. 10.
Terry, at ———, Nov. 11.
Florence, at ———, Nov. 13, 14.
Harrisville, at Sinai, Nov. 14, 15.
Galloway Memorial, Jackson, p. m., Nov. 15.
Bolton, Nov. 17.
Millsaps Memorial, Jackson, p. m., Nov. 17.
Madison, Nov. 18.
Camden, at ———, Nov. 19.
Sharon, Nov. 20, 21.
Canton, p. m., Nov. 21.
Capitol Street, Jackson, Nov. 22.

PAUL D. HARDIN, P. E.

Seashore District—Fourth Round.

Logtown, September 11, 12.
Moss Point, September 18 (a.m.), 19.
Escatawpa, at E., September, p.m., 19.
Pascagoula and Ocean Springs, at S., September, p.m., 20.
Saucier, at Camp Ground, September 24.
Coalville, at Camp Ground, September 25, 26.
Popiarville, October 2 (a.m.); 3.
Lumberton, September, p.m., 3, 4.
Americus, at Salem Camp Ground, October 9, 10.
Vancleave, at New Prospect Camp Ground, October 16, 17.
N. Gulfport and Lyman, at L., October 23 (a.m.), 24.
Bay St. Louis, p.m., October 24, 25.
Wiggins and Bond, at Bond, October 30 (a.m.), 31.
Brooklyn, at Brooklyn, p m., October 31 and November 1.
Columbia, November 6, 7.
Hub, November 8.
Biloxi, November 13 (a.m.), 14.
Mississippi City and Handsboro, at Handsboro, p.m., November 14, 15.
Carriere and Picayune, at Picayune, November 16.
Mentorum, at Alexander Memorial, November 18.
Longbeach, November 20 (a.m.), 21.
Wolf River Mission, at Beulah, p.m., November 21.
Gulfport, First Church, p.m., November 22.

W. H. HUNTLEY, P. E.

Newton Dist.—Fourth Round.

Bay Springs, at Louin, Sept. 18, 19.
North Bend, at Coy, Sept. 24.
Philadelphia Ct., at Sand Town, Sept. 25, 26.
Philadelphia, Sept. 26 (p.m.), 27.
Suqualena, at Suqualena, Sept. 28.
Garlandsville, at Garlandsville, Oct. 2.
Rose Hill, at R. H., Oct. 3, 4.
Clarksburg, at C., Oct. 7.
Shiloh, at S., Oct. 8.
Johns, at J., Oct. 9, 10.
Trenton, at Burns, Oct. 11.
Raleigh, at R., Oct. 12.
Laurel, Second Ave., Oct. 13.
Laurel, Fourteenth Ave., Oct. 14.
Homewood, at Carr's, Oct. 16, 17.
Decatur and Union, at Decatur, Sept. 20.
Forest and Morton, at M., Oct. 24, 25.
Carthage, at C., Oct. 31, Nov. 1.
Leake, at Conway, Nov. 2.
Walnut Grove, at Zion, Nov. 3.
Lena, at L., Nov. 4.
Harperville, at H., Nov. 5.
Lake and Hickory, at H., Nov. 6, 7.
McDonald, at Neshoba, Nov. 9.
Choctaw Indian Mission, at Union, Nov. 10.
Chunky, at Lawrence, Nov. 13, 14.
Newton and Montrose, at N., Nov. 20, 21.
Laurel, First Church, Nov. 22.

C. F. EMERY, P. E.

Murine is prepared by our Physicians, as used for many years in their practice, now dedicated to the Public and sold by Your Druggist. Try Murine to Refresh, Cleanse, and Strengthen Eyes after exposure to Strong Sunlight, Wind and Dust and to restore healthful tone to Eyes Reddened and made Sore by Overwork and Eye Strain.

Some broadminded Physicians use and recommend Murine while others perhaps jealous of its Success, talk and rush into print in opposition; those whose Eyes need care can guess why, as there is no Prescription fee in Murine. Just hand your Druggist 50c and you have a Complete Pkg. Eye Book—Murine—Dropper—and Cork Screw—ready for use. Try it in your Eyes and in Baby's Eyes for Eye Troubles—No Smarting—Just Eye Comfort. Write for Book of the Eye Free.

Murine Eye Remedy Company, Chicago

"DEATH CANCELS THE DEBT."

Werlein Piano Club Member Dies in Lake Charles.

This clause in the "club" contract has saved many a family the struggle with debt which comes after the "provider" has gone.

(Mrs. Hunter's Letter)

Lake Charles, Aug. 19, 1915.

Philip Werlein, Ltd..
New Orleans,

Sirs: This comes to notify you of the death of my husband, which occurred Aug. 16, 1915. According to your contract all payments for the piano ceased at his death, as his account had never been in arrears.

Hoping to hear from you,

MRS. JOSIE L. HUNTER.

(Our Reply.)

New Orleans, Aug. 24, 1915.

Mrs. Geo. M. Hunter,
Lake Charles, La.

Dear Madam:

We are in receipt of your letter of August 19th advising us of the death of the Rev. Geo. M. Hunter.

We have looked up his account and find that the Rev. Mr. Hunter joined the Werlein Piano Club on June 6th, 1913, and that he paid his dues at all times punctually, never having gone behind a single month.

We agree with the members of our Piano Club that where they make their payments promptly every month that we will voluntarily make a present of the unpaid portion of the Piano to the family in the event of death.

We now take very great pleasure in handing you a receipted bill for this Piano which we hope you will appreciate, as a further indication of the loving care shown by your departed husband whose foresight even after his death relieves you of this considerable debt.

Yours very truly,

PHILIP WERLEIN, LTD.

A NEW CLUB IS NOW FORMING.

The $400 Werlein is $292. The payments are $6. monthly. We will be pleased to have the applications of those interested in providing the home with a good, dependable piano sold on the most liberal contract ever offered. Write or call on

Philip Werlein, Ltd.
605 CANAL

Woman's Missionary Work

Edited by .....Mrs. R. F. Harrell, Centerville, Miss.

Conference Publicity Superintendents:

Louisiana.....Mrs. A. C. McKinney, Ruston, La.
Mississippi .....Mrs. J. L. Neill, Laurel, Miss.
North Mississippi.....Mrs. Walter Campbell, Winona, Miss.

All communications for this department should be sent to the Editor at the address given above.

A SISTER IN SORROW.

I read with deep regret the notice of the death of Hon. Walter Trotter of Winona, busband of our own Mrs. Trotter, which occurred on August 16. Through many days, weeks, and months, this devoted wife has patiently watched at the bedside of her husband, realizing that the end was approaching and never knowing what a day would bring forth. Well do I understand what it means to minister at the bedside of a loved one, and watch as the end slowly approaches. Yes, I understand what the long, weary hours of watching has meant, and I understand, too, after the first bitter agony of parting is over, what a quiet and calm fills the soul when we consider what a sweet release it was for the spirit to wing its flight from the frail earthly tenement of clay to that City of Immortal Youth, where there is no more pain, or suffering, or sorrow, and where God shall wipe away all tears from our eyes. After all, my friends, it will be only a sweet release to cast aside our mortal bodies like worn-out garments, and assume celestial robes.

It would seem a mockery for me to attempt to comfort my dear friend who understands so well how to seek the only source of comfort and strength at such times. So I only wish to assure her that I sympathize with her, and love her most tenderly.

May our Father in heaven bind up her bruised and broken heart and give her strength to take up again the broken threads of her life, and adjust herself to the changed conditions in the same.

Mrs. VIC THOMPSON HOYLE.

RACE OF DISTRICT SECRETARIES, NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Mrs. W. L. Duren, of the Columbus District, has organized a new society at New Bethel Church on the Brooksville Circuit, and says that she has promise of others on Cedar Bluff, Mayhew and Macon Circuits, as the volunteer women from West Point and Macon are looking after those circuits. Her all-day meeting at West Point was postponed till the month of September, as she and Brother Duren and the children are spending the month of August on our Mississippi Gulf Coast. We trust that Mrs. Duren will gather much fresh enthusiasm during her outing for the all-day missionary rally at West Point, and that the occasion will prove one of great inspiration and profit.

Miss Corinne Rogers, of the Corinth District, in company with Mrs. Laura Copeland, and Miss Mary Massey of Iuka, went out to Tishomingo and organized a society. Miss Massey gave the new society a most helpful and tender talk. Fortunate indeed is any new society which enjoys the privilege of having our own Miss Massey give to them their first address on missions. Miss Rogers is planning to organize a Colored Woman's Community Club at New Albany, in the Negro church near her home. We trust that many auxiliaries will have this work undertaken, and would suggest to every auxiliary president to order the literature from Mrs. Lipscomb, and look over the splendid programs and plans for this work, and make an effort to have it undertaken during the month of October.

Mrs. J. H. Haughton, of the Aberdeen District, is happy over the success of her all-day missionary rally at Amory. The organization of six new societies in a period of two months of time is a good record to make, and I trust that this record will be kept up during the remaining months of the year.

Miss Lizzie Horn, of the Holly Springs District, writes: "I am so happy to tell you of our profitable district conference. I feel that God blessed us with the presence of the Holy Spirit and I am so grateful." She reports that fourteen new volunteer women have been assigned to organize at churches nearest them, and that she has in view five prospective places for new organizations, while she had heard of five preachers who had observed Woman's Day on the third Sunday in July, which was the time appointed in her district.

Mrs. D. B. High, of the Sardis District, writes as follows: "We made the long-talked-of visit to Love on August 1, and perfected an organization with eight members. God was there, as we were trying to carry out his plans. Mrs. A. M. Bennett has recently organized an adult society at Sarah, and we are grateful that Mrs. Bennett has volunteered to organize in all her husband's churches. Mrs. Myrtle Pollard has recently organized a Junior Division with seven members and a Baby Roll with seventeen members at Batesville, and she gives splendid plans for work. We appreciate the help this young woman is giving her pastor and her church. May God put it into the hearts of many of our young people to offer their help along the line of organizing the children in the missionary work."

Mrs. Elizabeth Clark of the Greenville District is planning to hold her district conference at Alligator, October 6-7, and the people of that town purpose opening their hearts and homes to the missionary women upon that occasion. Delegates' names should be sent to Mrs. W. P. Burbridge at as early a date as possible. It is ever a pleasure for the writer to enjoy the hospitality of the people in our delta towns, and we are looking forward with pleasure to our annual meeting to be held at Clarksdale next February, when we will be made to feel as if we were back in the ante-bellum days of the South, before war had laid its devastating hand upon the palatial homes and proud people of our Southland who extended unbounded hospitality to even the stranger within their gates. I am told, too, that no one ever dispensed this hospitality with more queenly grace than does the Secretary of the Greenville District.

We have not heard recently from Mrs. A. M. Pond, of the Winona District, but feel sure she is busy with her plan for her all-day missionary meeting to be held at Itta Bena in September. We are satisfied that with such an efficient and consecrated leader in charge that the meeting will prove a profitable and deeply spiritual one.

We are glad to say that a recent letter from Miss Elie Willingham, of the Durant District, informs us that her brother is rapidly recovering from his recent illness. She reports that the Junior Division at Eupora now numbers 35 members, while the adult and young peoples' organizations there are very active. She reports a new Junior Division at Durant, and says the volunteer women at Durant are "doing things." Then, too, she reports that Mrs. Conger, in company with her pastor, went out and organized a society at a country church near Vaiden.

Mrs. VIC THOMPSON HOYLE,
Conference President.

EMORY UNIVERSITY

An institution Founded, Owned and Controlled by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

The University offers at present courses leading to degrees in the following departments:

1.—The School of Liberal Arts—Emory College—offers courses in English, Spanish, French, German, Greek, Latin, Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Biology, Mental and Moral Science, History, Political Economy and Biblical Literature, leading to the usual literary degrees. This department has a library of 40,000 bound volumes.

2.—The School of Theology—The Candler School of Theology—offers full and varied courses leading to the degree of B. D. This is a school of theology, as definite in its teaching as it is definite in its aim to serve the church to which it belongs. The library of the School of Theology is rich and grows richer daily. To it belongs the famous "Thursfield-Smith Collection of Wesleyana," which includes hundreds of the autograph letters of the Wesleys and other Methodist celebrities.

3.—The School of Medicine—The Atlanta Medical College—a medical school of first grade which offers courses in medicine and surgery covering four years, and leading to the degree of M. D. By arrangement with the Grady Hospital, the Municipal Hospital of Atlanta, and the Wesley Memorial Hospital, which is a part of the University system, the School of Medicine is able to offer clinical advantages of great value to students.

For bulletins, giving full information concerning the University, and its several departments, write to,

WALKER WHITE, Secretary-Bursar.

Emory University Atlanta, Georgia.

IN ALL THE WORLD there's no other thumb that can make this print.

There may be thumbs that look like it—but there's no thumb that can make the same impression.

In all the world there is no beverage that can successfully imitate

Coca-Cola

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

There may be beverages that are made to look like it—but there is no beverage that can make the same delightful impression on your palate.

Demand the genuine by full name—and avoid disappointment.

THE COCA-COLA CO. ATLANTA, GA.

Whenever you see an Arrow, think of Coca-Cola

2-R

THE GENUINE AND IMPORTED

DR BLAUD'S IRON PILLS

For General Debility, Anemia, Chlorosis, and in the Convalescent Period. Genuine has "Blaud" stamped on each Pill. All Druggists.
F. FOUGERA & CO., Inc., 90 Beekman St., New York.
No increase in Price.

No. 666

This is a prescription prepared especially for MALARIA or CHILLS & FEVER. Five or six doses will break any case, and if taken then as a tonic the Fever will not return. It acts on the liver better than Calomel and does not gripe or sicken. 25c

From the Field

Indianola Mission, North Miss.

I have closed two of my meetings on the Indianola Mission. The first was at Falsonia, with Brother J. T. Lewis, of Greenville, to help me. He did some strong preaching. The Church was greatly revived and there were 2 additions to the Church, a Sunday school was organized, and a live interest manifested in it and the church work generally.....The meeting at Fairview closed the fourth Sunday night in August with Brothers W. M. Campbell, of Minter City, and J. W. Robertson, of Maben, Miss., with us. Brother Robertson opened on the third Sunday and did some good preaching until Wednesday, when Brother Campbell came and took charge. With Brother Robertson in charge of the singing and Brother Campbell doing the preaching, we could hardly keep from having a fine meeting. The Church was greatly revived. There were 8 additions to the Church and a good many were reclaimed. I earnestly solicit the prayers of the brethren that in this part of the field I may see great good accomplished.....On the 27th of May, one of my churches (Fairview) was completely wrecked by a storm and we have made a start toward replacing it. For any help rendered us in this work, we tender our deepest gratitude.—C. R. A. Brantley, P. C.

Rayne, La.

Dear Editor: Perhaps it will not be amiss to let you hear from the Rayne people. This is our first year at Rayne. It is an excellent business town in the very center of the rice section of the State. We have the only Protestant Church in town. The population of Rayne is about 3000. We have just closed our protracted meeting. Rev. C. C. Wier, of Morgan City, was with us. He seemed to bring the storm with him, as it began on his arrival. Notwithstanding the fact that the weather conditions were very unfavorable, we had a good meeting. The church was strengthened and there were several accessions. Brother Wier, by his association and his preaching, has endeared himself to the people of Rayne. He knows everybody or some one that they know. At any rate he makes them think so. Our church has a bright outlook here. Our Sunday school is really good, Brother R. C. Hall is the superintendent. The Woman's Missionary Society, the Junior Missionary Society, and our Prayer-meetings are all doing good work. We have our problems here—all through our ministerial life we expect to have them. I, for one, believe in the final triumph of righteousness over sin. It may not be in the near future, but a glorious day for the Church is coming, when "The knowledge of the Lord shall cover the earth as the waters cover the sea." We hope to have a good report at Conference. Let us all pray for one another, as we are engaged in our Master's work.—C. E. Fike.

Waynesboro, Miss.

The second of our revival meetings, which was held at Old Pleasant Grove Church, closed on the 26th inst. Our congregations were excellent, and the interest in the meeting grew daily. And on the last day, not a few of the people both in and out of our church came to me and declared that we had had the best meeting that this church had ever experienced. They also said that they were going to repair to their respective homes to live better lives, and do much more for the Church than they had been doing heretofore. The Church was greatly revived. Brother W. F. Baggett, the pastor of our Second Avenue Church at Laurel, Miss., assisted me. This man of God's preaching while he was in our midst, was of a lucid type. And the heart-searching messages which were brought to us from day to day were calculated to stimulate the Church Militant, and to show sin up in all of its odiousness.

We have been "doing exploits" in our work at Pleasant Grove Church these four years that I have been on this charge, and it is due to the fact that the people are not spiritual bigots, but are endowed with that unbiased spirit which prompts them to be true to their pastor and loyal to the Church of God. Truly, I am glad that I can say that our work has been pleasant at this church (Pleasant Grove) and I want to add this one fact, that if a pastor is to do the best work in his ministry the Church must take hold of the pastor's hands and covenant together to do three things for him: (1) Pray him up; (2) love him up; (3) pay him up. Failure to do these three things for the pastor contracts his usefulness, and keeps the Church from getting out of him the best service that is possible. We have just recently installed an organ at Pleasant Grove, this being the first organ ever owned by that congregation, and we have ceiled and put a new roof on the church. "And, best of all, in a measure we have put the loons to flight, and have killed all the snakes." Who can beat that? We are on the way, and happy every day. Praise the Lord!

HILARY WESTBROOK, P. C.

To Drive Out Malaria And Build Up The System

Take the Old Standard GROVE'S TASTELESS chill TONIC. You know what you are taking, as the formula is printed on every label, showing it is Quinine and Iron in a tasteless form. The Quinine drives out malaria, the Iron builds up the system. 50c.

SUNDAY SCHOOL NOTES.

By Miss Elizabeth Kilpatrick.

"Student Standards of Action," by Elliott-Cutler, is a splendid text for College Voluntary Study Courses, for High School Bible study, and often for that class in Sunday school where the Uniform Lessons do not prove practical.

There have been registered for each Sunday during the last quarter 195 Adult Bible Classes. Of these classes 273 came from our own Church. This mighty army is being quietly mobilized. It is greatly effective because it gives every officer and every private an unusual opportunity to plan and accomplish great things for Christ.

Many calls come for books on the women of the Bible—here are some unusually good ones: "The Women of the Old Testament," Horton; "Representative Women of the Bible," Matheson; "The Woman of Tact," Markay; "Women of Ancient Israel," Adams. Anne Morgan's "The American Girl," is well worth while.

The American Bible Society gets out all the books of the Bible in pocket size with a neat, pocketbook shaped case, in which each one can be placed as needed. How fine a chance to re-read your Bible, the one needed book, in the odd minutes and day's ends and while waiting for trains! What a boom it is to busy, Bible-hungry people and just 57 cents for all the books and the case! Smith & Lamar will furnish it to you.

South Carolina celebrated her third Wesley Class Federation, with 1200 out-of-town and 500 in-town delegates. Central Texas, despite floods and washouts, had between 500 and 600 in Waco in March. Florida means to excel them all at Orlando in October. North Carolina will federate her classes in January, the Texas Conference in the early spring, and old Mississippi must some soon day prove her worth in this great arm of usefulness.

The "Carry Bright Things" Class stands for a group of splendid, high-souled women who verify their name in all class activities.

Rev. R. H. B. Gladney is planning some interesting and helpful institutes for his Conference—the North Mississippi—and everybody must lend a hand and make them successful.

Remember Hamill Memorial Day (September 19), Promotion Day, Rally Day, Thanksgiving. All these are red-letter days for Sunday schools.

IMAGINE THE MISERY

of a 7 years' case of persistent eczema and then the joy of its final disappearance. This is the experience of t. S. Giddens, Tampa, Fla.: "For 7 years I had eczema on my ankle. I tried many remedies and doctors. I decided to try Tetterine and after 8 weeks am entirely free from the terrible eczema." If you suffer with Eczema, Tetter, Itch, Ringworm, Salt Rheum, or Piles, you know what to do. Tetterine, 50c at druggist's or by mail from Shruptrine Co., Savannah, Ga.

THE BLUFF CREEK (LA.) CAMP MEETING.

The Bluff Creek Camp Meeting, which continued ten days, closed on Sunday, August 29. It was one of the most successful meetings ever held at this camp-ground and was greatly enjoyed by all. The attendance was large and the interest was deep and increased to the end. The preaching was done by Evangelist R. J. Smith, of Atlanta, Texas, Rev. Edward Craig, of Pride, La., Rev. C. B. Powell, of Clinton, and the writer. Six services were held daily and people were blessed in each of them. The Holy Spirit came in answer to prayer and many accepted Jesus as their personal Savior. Methodists, Baptists, and others worked together and the spirit of harmony prevailed. It was a gracious season of spiritual refreshing and uplift, for which God should be praised. O. J. TROUPS.

New Orleans, La.

RUB-MY-TISM

Will cure your Rheumatism Neuralgia, Headaches, Cramps, Colic, Sprains, Bruises, Cuts and Burns, Old Sores, Stings of Insects Etc. Antiseptic Anodyne, used internally and externally. Price 25c.

10¢ for MEN WOMEN and CHILDREN

Whit-Leather

GUARANTEED HOSIERY

Tough as Whit-Leather

IT'S folly to spend a quarter, when a dime will do the work, and leave 15c in your pocket besides. Here is what you get:

(1) Guaranteed to show no holes in four months.
(2) Elastic top.
(3) Snug ankle-fitting.
(4) Pure dye, fast-color.
(5) Soft, strong, foot-shaped.

